START

The Quincy Sun

Historic Quincy's Hometown Weekly Newspaper

Quincy, MA

JANUARY THRU JUNE

2015

MICROFILMED 2016

FILMED BY:

New England Micrographics, inc.

40 Hudson Street - Suite C
Marlboro, Ma. 01752

1-800-433-4065

15X

250 mm

28

ABCDEFGHIJKLMNOPQRSTUVWXYZ
abcdefghijklmnopqrstuvwxyz
1234567890

ABCDEFGHIJKLMNOPQRSTUVWXYZ
abcdefghijklmnopqrstuvwxyz1234567890

ABCDEFGHIJKLMNOPQRSTUVWXYZ
abcdefghijklmnopqrstuvwxyz1234567890

200 mm

150 mm

100 mm

4 Inch

6 Inch

8 Inch

10 Inch

A3

A4

A5

PRECISION℠ RESOLUTION TARGETS

A & P INTERNATIONAL
715 262-5788 FAX 262-3823
577 LOCUST ST
PRESCOTT WI 54021

ABCDEFGHIJKLMNOPQRSTUVWXYZ
abcdefghijklmnopqrstuvwxyz
1234567890

ABCDEFGHIJKLMNOPQRSTUVWXYZ
abcdefghijklmnopqrstuvwxyz1234567890

ABCDEFGHIJKLMNOPQRSTUVWXYZ
abcdefghijklmnopqrstuvwxyz1234567890

PM-MRD
22x31
General Purpose Photographic Target

PM-MRD For larger Kodak MRD-2 camera copy boards.

Not Published

Holiday

Salvation Army Surpasses Fundraising Goal
Pages 14, 15
Employees Bid Quincy Medical Center Farewell
Pages 2, 35

The Quincy Sun

Historic Quincy's Hometown Weekly Newspaper Since 1968

VOL. 47 No. 16 Thursday, January 8, 2015

POLAR PLUNGERS – Some 50 brave souls – including Ward 1 Councillor Margaret Laforest (wearing black hat) participated in Saturday's "Polar Plunge" at the Houghs Neck Maritime Center. Sponsored by the Atherton Hough School PTO, the very quick dip into the 39-degee Quincy Bay raised more than $1,100 for the school. Story, other photos on Pages 12 and 36.

Quincy Sun Photo/Robert Bosworth

Koch Ta
Substa
Abus

Other Mid-Term Hig
• New Infrastructure
• To Unveil Parking,
Plan For Center De

By SCOTT JACKSON

Mayor Thomas Koch, delivering his fourth mid-term address, called for a renewed sense of purpose in the fight against substance abuse as Quincy and communities across the South Shore and beyond see an increase in opiate overdoses.

The mayor gave his mid-term address Monday night inside the Thomas Crane Public son Roo 200. D speech, plans f spendi downto project news appeal maps, would

Fire Causes $600,000 Damage

By SCOTT JACKSON

Investigators are still determining the exact cause of a three-alarm fire that caused $600,000 in damage to a multi-family home early Sunday morning, but officials believe it started in a second floor kitchen accidentally.

The fire at 12 Bent Terrace, located off Washington Street in Quincy Point, was called in just after 12:30 a.m. on Sunday, according to Fire Chief Joseph Barron. When the first firefighters arrived on scene at 12:37 a.m., there was a heavy fire on the second floor of the three-story house. Capt. Stephen Bayliss called in a second alarm five minutes after the firefighters arrived on scene, as the fire extended out of the third floor.

Initially, firefighters attempted to put out the fire from inside the building, Barron said. After about 30 minutes, Bayliss ordered firefighters out of the home because of excess heat and the inability to reach void spaces where the fire was raging. Bayliss struck a third alarm at that time.

After the third alarm was struck, nearly 40 firefighters using all of the department's apparatus – eight engines and three ladders – attacked the fire from the outside using aerial hoses and high pressure hoses on the ground. One hose was even brought to the roof of a nearby building to attack the fire.

Barron said access to the house was made difficult because Bent Terrace is a narrow, dead end street.

"Our guys did an outstanding job," he said.

The fire took several hours to put out; the last firefighters left the scene just before 6 a.m. on Sunday.

Occupants of the building's four units were able to escape without injury; the Red Cross provided shelter for at least two of the families. No firefighters were injured, though several slipped on ice and declined to go to the hospital.

Damage to the building was estimated at $600,000, Barron said, and Inspectional Services Director Jay Duca posted notice that the house is too dangerous for entry.

Investigators, including the state's fire marshal, continue to investigate the fire as of Monday afternoon. Barron said it appears the fire was accidentally started in the second floor kitchen.

"It appears accidentally," he explained. "It started in the second floor kitchen, but we haven't pinned down the exact cause yet."

A THREE-ALARM fire at 12 Bent Terra ed $600,000 in damage early Sunday mo of the four-family home were able to esca fighters were injured. The fire is under i cials believe it started in a second-floor ki

Photo Co

Fire Chief Issues Cold Weather Warning

By MICHAEL SLADE
Fire Prevention Officer
Quincy Fire Department

Quincy Fire Chief Joseph Barron has issued a fire safety warning to Quincy residents as we enter the first period of extremely cold weather this winter. Sub-freezing temperatures will dip this week and will tax our heating and electrical systems as we try to stay warm, so a little caution can help you make it safely through the extreme weather.

Make Sure Smoke Alarms And CO Alarms Are Working Properly

One of the simplest steps for safety that Quincy residents can take is to make sure your smoke and carbon monoxide alarms are working properly. They will give you the earliest possible warning that something is wrong so you can escape safely when there is an emergency.

Keep thermostats set at the lowest comfortable temperature as furnaces may struggle to keep the house warm; wear warm clothes and put an extra blanket on the bed. If you run out of oil, or lose power, consider going to the home of a friend or relative who has heat rather than relying on alternative heating sources.

Space Heaters

Cold snaps like this is when we tend to see space heater fires and one of every four space heater fires in the past five years has caused a fire injury. Space heaters need space, so use them in

Cont'd On Page 10

28 Apply For New Housing Authority Position - Page 25
Mike Rowland An Inspiration On, Off Court - Page 19

For more Quincy ne

The Quincy S

Salvation Army Surpasses Fundraising Goal
Pages 14, 15
Employees Bid Quincy Medical Center Farewell
Pages 2, 35

The Quincy Sun

Historic Quincy's Hometown Weekly Newspaper Since 1968

VOL. 47 No. 16 | Thursday, January 8, 2015 | 75¢

POLAR PLUNGERS – Some 50 brave souls – including Ward 1 Councillor Margaret Laforest (wearing black hat) participated in Saturday's "Polar Plunge" at the Houghs Neck Maritime Center. Sponsored by the Atherton Hough School PTO, the very quick dip into the 39-degee Quincy Bay raised more than $1,100 for the school. Story, other photos on Pages 12 and 36.

Quincy Sun Photo/Robert Bosworth

Koch Targets Substance Abuse

Other Mid-Term Highlights:
• New Infrastructure Spending
• To Unveil Parking, Traffic Plan For Center Development

By SCOTT JACKSON

Mayor Thomas Koch, delivering his fourth mid-term address, called for a renewed sense of purpose in the fight against substance abuse as Quincy and communities across the South Shore and beyond see an increase in opiate overdoses.

The mayor gave his mid-term address Monday night inside the Thomas Crane Public Library's Richardson Room before a crowd of 200. During his 15-minute speech, Koch also outlined plans for new infrastructure spending, hinted at future downtown redevelopment projects, promised positive news related to the city's appeal of new federal flood maps, and said the city would not relinquish any of

Cont'd On Page 3

Fire Causes $600,000 Damage

By SCOTT JACKSON

Investigators are still determining the exact cause of a three-alarm fire that caused $600,000 in damage to a multi-family home early Sunday morning, but officials believe it started in a second floor kitchen accidentally.

The fire at 12 Bent Terrace, located off Washington Street in Quincy Point, was called in just after 12:30 a.m. on Sunday, according to Fire Chief Joseph Barron. When the first firefighters arrived on scene at 12:37 a.m., there was a heavy fire on the second floor of the three-story house. Capt. Stephen Bayliss called in a second alarm five minutes after the firefighters arrived on scene, as the fire extended out of the third floor.

Initially, firefighters attempted to put out the fire from inside the building, Barron said. After about 30 minutes, Bayliss ordered firefighters out of the home because of excess heat and the inability to reach void spaces where the fire was raging. Bayliss struck a third alarm at that time.

After the third alarm was struck, nearly 40 firefighters using all of the department's apparatus – eight engines and three ladders – attacked the fire from the outside using aerial hoses and high pressure hoses on the ground. One hose was even brought to the roof of a nearby building to attack the fire.

Barron said access to the house was made difficult because Bent Terrace is a narrow, dead end street.

"Our guys did an outstanding job," he said.

The fire took several hours to put out; the last firefighters left the scene just before 6 a.m. on Sunday.

Occupants of the building's four units were able to escape without injury; the Red Cross provided shelter for at least two of the families. No firefighters were injured, though several slipped on ice and declined to go to the hospital.

Damage to the building was estimated at $600,000, Barron said, and Inspectional Services Director Jay Duca posted notice that the house is too dangerous for entry.

Investigators, including the state's fire marshal, continue to investigate the fire as of Monday afternoon. Barron said it appears the fire was accidentally started in the second floor kitchen.

"It appears accidentally," he explained. "It started in the second floor kitchen, but we haven't pinned down the exact cause yet."

A THREE-ALARM fire at 12 Bent Terrace caused an estimated $600,000 in damage early Sunday morning. The occupants of the four-family home were able to escape safely and no firefighters were injured. The fire is under investigation but officials believe it started in a second-floor kitchen accidentally.

Photo Courtesy Michael Worley

Fire Chief Issues Cold Weather Warning

By MICHAEL SLADE
Fire Prevention Officer
Quincy Fire Department

Quincy Fire Chief Joseph Barron has issued a fire safety warning to Quincy residents as we enter the first period of extremely cold weather this winter. Sub-freezing temperatures will dip this week and will tax our heating and electrical systems as we try to stay warm, so a little caution can help you make it safely through the extreme weather.

Make Sure Smoke Alarms And CO Alarms Are Working Properly

One of the simplest steps for safety that Quincy residents can take is to make sure your smoke and carbon monoxide alarms are working properly. They will give you the earliest possible warning that something is wrong so you can escape safely when there is an emergency.

Keep thermostats set at the lowest comfortable temperature as furnaces may struggle to keep the house warm; wear warm clothes and put an extra blanket on the bed. If you run out of oil, or lose power, consider going to the home of a friend or relative who has heat rather than relying on alternative heating sources.

Space Heaters

Cold snaps like this is when we tend to see space heater fires and one of every four space heater fires in the past five years has caused a fire injury. Space heaters need space, so use them in

Cont'd On Page 10

28 Apply For New Housing Authority Position - Page 25
Mike Rowland An Inspiration On, Off Court - Page 19

For more Quincy news, visit:
The Quincy Sun.com

PAST AND PRESENT Quincy Medical Center employees wave as a drone equipped with a camera hovers over the lawn in front of the old Administration building on Whitwell Street. Over 200 employees gathered at the now-closed QMC building Dec. 31 for one final group photo. Steward Health Care closed the 124-year-old hospital Dec. 26 and reopened a satellite emergency facility at the site of the former ER Dec. 27.

Quincy Sun Photos/Robert Bosworth

Full Page Keepsake Group Photo On Page 35

SUSAN PAQUETTE, who worked at Quincy Medical Center for 24 years, holds the pink "onesie" with a picture of a stork and the words "Life Begins at Quincy City Hospital" her daughter Courtney was given after her birth at Quincy Medical Center on Dec. 31, 1980. Thirty-four years later, Paquette was among the 200 former employees who gathered for a group photo in front of the former Administration Building on Whitwell Street last Wednesday. All past and present employees from all departments were invited to take part in the group photo to remember all of the dedicated service and exceptional care provided to patients through the years. Paquette, her mother and both of her children were all born at Quincy Medical Center.

Over 200 Employees Bid Quincy Medical Center Farewell

Commemorate Moment With Group Photo

By KRIS KALABOKAS

Employees past and present gathered at Quincy Medical Center last Wednesday to bid their final farewells and commemorate the moment with a group photo on the steps of the hospital's former administration building.

Over 200 former nurses, lab technicians, and cafeteria staff members stood shoulder to shoulder while waving and cheering at passersby who honked their horns or cheered back in a show of support for those affected by Steward Health Care's announcement on Nov. 6 to close the hospital, leaving 650 hospital staff members unemployed.

News of the staff photo was posted to Facebook on Dec. 27.

Many were hugging and some were crying as they fondly recalled their years working at the hospital.

"I'm the oldest one in this whole joint," said Nancy Miller proudly. She worked in the food service department for 50 years starting in 1965. "I always said 20 years ago I will not leave this place until they close the door and they did."

Alyssa Webster worked as a nurse in the surgical-medical telemetry unit for over five years. She luckily has found work in Norwood but worries that her former coworkers are having a more difficult time securing employment.

"A lot of the other nurses did not have that same opportunity," she said. "They had a list of open positions in all the hospitals but a lot of them were per diem. Not a lot of fully benefitted positions."

While many have found positions at other facilities within the Steward network, some are still struggling to find full-time work, she said.

Nicole Maher worked for 12 years in the telemetry unit as well. "It was devastating. It was very sad," she said. "Part of me is missing now."

Things seemed good when Steward first acquired QMC, she added. She felt the company was making positive and beneficial changes to the struggling hospital and saw herself employed there for several more years. "Things then took a turn for the worst," she said.

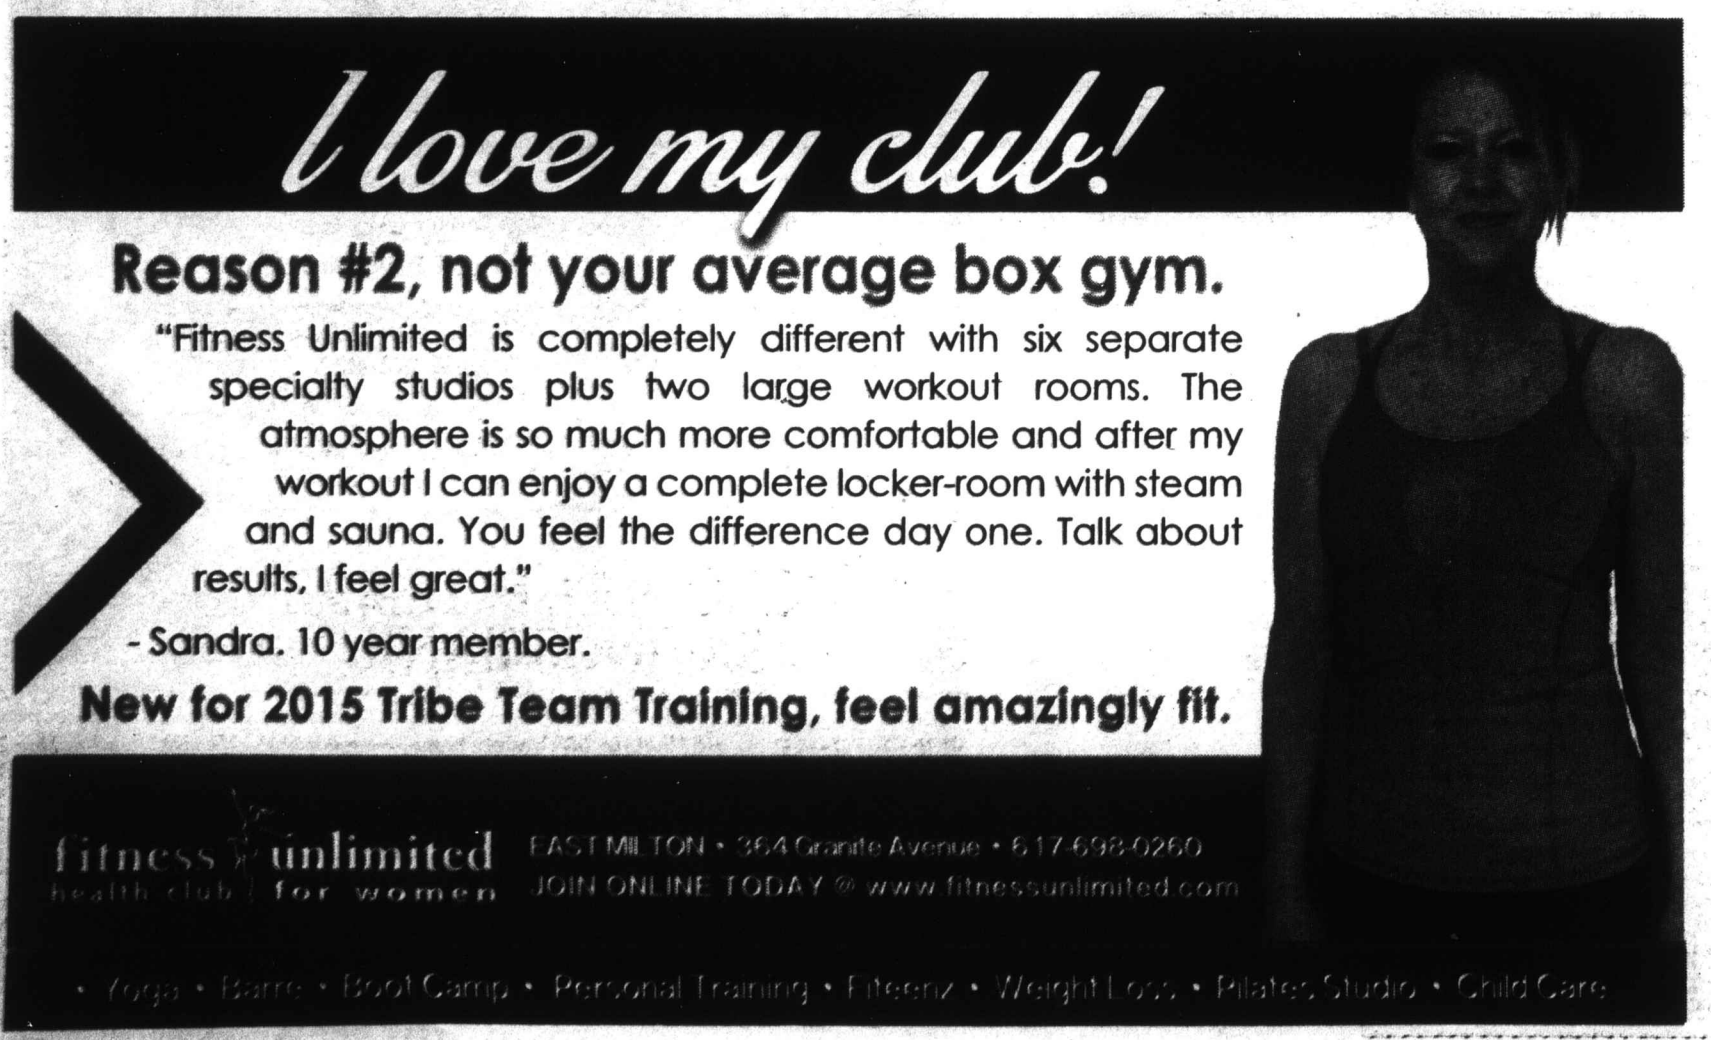
Maher, like many others, made her way to the now-closed QMC building not just to pose for the photograph but to see her friends and former coworkers, many who worked at the hospital for decades.

Susan Anderson was a member of the food service department for 11 years until 2002 along with her friend Barbara Bouzan who worked for 16 and a half years in food service as well.

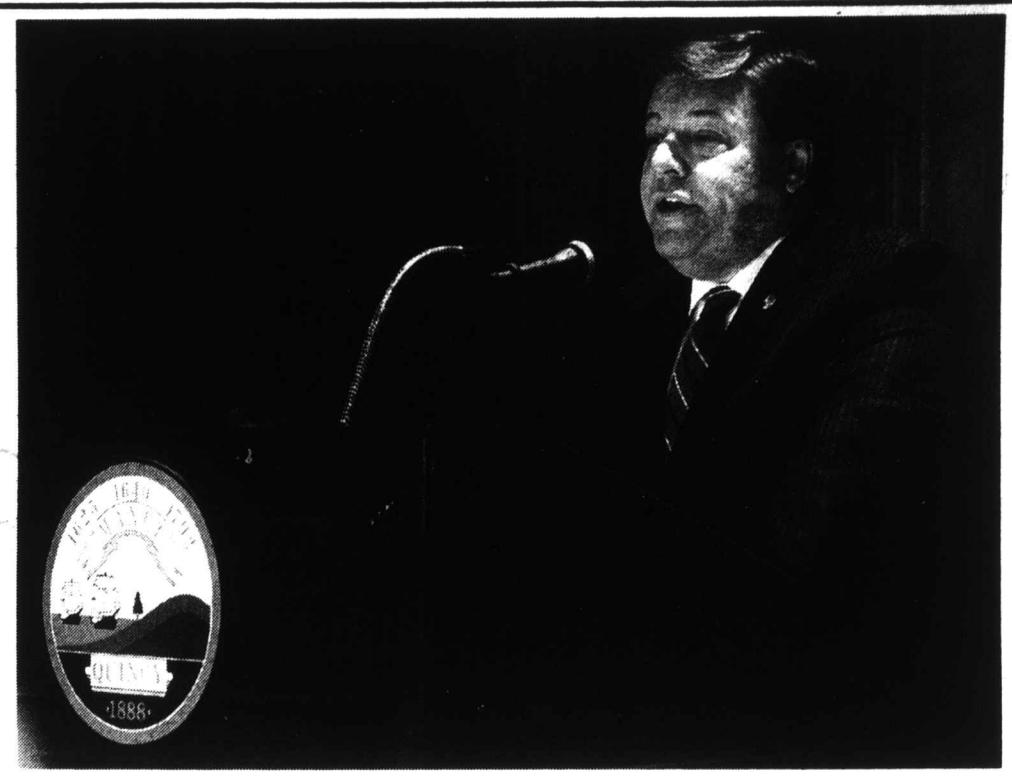
Bouzan said she was worried that the city's hospital was closing as she lives just down the street and had relied on it over the years for medical emergencies.

"I've lived up here for 51 years and I never thought

Cont'd On Page 12



FAMILY, DEPARTMENT HEADS, elected officials and other guests applaud Mayor Thomas Koch after the mayor delivered his Mid-Term address at the Thomas Crane Library's Richardson Room Monday evening. In the front row (from left) are the mayor's wife, Christine Koch, his sisters Simone and Deb, and seated at the end, his mother, Simone Koch.



MAYOR THOMAS KOCH delivers his Mid-Term address at the Richardson Room of the Thomas Crane Public Library Monday night. In his "state of the city" remarks, Koch advocated for a "renewed sense of purpose in our fight against substance abuse."

Quincy Sun Photos/Robert Bosworth

Koch: 'We Need To Do More' On Substance Abuse

Cont'd From Page 1

its rights relative to Quincy Medical Center and its property. .

On substance abuse, Koch noted the city and its Police Department have taken proactive measures, such as doubling the size of the narcotics unit and equipping all officers with Narcan, a nasal spray that can reverse overdoses caused by opiates – a class of drugs that includes prescription painkillers and heroin. Going forward, Koch said he plans to work with the mayors of Braintree and Weymouth, Joseph Sullivan and Susan Kay, respectively, and U.S. Rep. Stephen F. Lynch to call for national action on substance abuse. Koch also hopes to enlist the help of Gov.-Elect Charlie Baker, who will be sworn in today (Thursday) at noon.

"Tonight, I am calling for a renewed sense of purpose in our fight against substance abuse. Through our task force, we will be making a new series of recommendations for expanded education programs and enforcement and treatment strategies. And because this epidemic knows no boundaries, either locally or nationally, I will be joined by fellow Mayors Joe Sullivan of Braintree, Sue Kay

Cont'd On Page 9

High School Equivalency Test Prep Begins Jan. 26

Quincy Community Action Programs, Inc. is accepting enrollments for the semester beginning Jan. 26 for individuals preparing to take the high school equivalency test.

Counseling and practice testing is available.

Classes meet Monday and Wednesday evenings from 6 to 9 p.m. at Quincy Community Action Programs, Inc., 1509 Hancock St., Quincy,.

To register, contact Margaret Doherty at: mdoherty@qcap.org or (617) 479-8181 ext. 387.

KING OPTICAL

BRIGHT SUNSHINE AND GLARE A PROBLEM?

TRY PRESCRIPTION POLARIZED SUNGLASSES

(781) 843-2133

20 School Street West • Braintree

(Off Washington Street)

www.kingoptical.net

Ask the GEMOLOGIST

BY JEFFREY M. BERTMAN

GRADUATE GEMOLOGIST

BIGGER IS BETTER

If there is an all-encompassing trend looming on the fine-jewelry horizon, it is a move toward larger pieces and more of them. The most obvious step in this direction will be the unmistakable appearance of large, chunky necklaces. Not only are the chokers of the 1990s coming back, but gold jewelry with tribal elements is taking center stage. Hanging above these magnificent pieces are dangling earrings that look just as extravagant. Particularly popular is the one-earring look that trades in two subtle earrings for one large one. Then, there are the bold cuff bracelets worn in tandem with equally audacious multiple rings. Don't be surprised to see a set of similar-looking gemstone rings on each finger of one hand.

Some estate jewelry is known to consist of larger pieces. Our store at 1402 Hancock St. in Quincy Center features a constantly changing assortment of estate and pre-owned jewelry and other items. This category makes unusual treasures available at very attractive pricing to the public. Included at any time may be watches or gems from the 1800's along with items as recent as the 1990's. Contact us at 617-773-3636 to learn more.

Don't Forget: We pay cash for Gold - Platinum - Diamonds... highest prices paid.

Rogers Diamonds...Watches...Jewelry

www.rogersjewelry.com

Homeowners with equity:

Roll all your debt into one new loan

You have a mortgage. And a decent amount of equity. You also have high-rate credit card debt, maybe an equity loan payment, auto loan, student loans or other debts you'd love to combine into one loan at today's still low rates... fixed and guaranteed for the next 15 years. That's what you get with a 15-Year Mortgage from Colonial Federal Savings Bank. Some people like this idea because it makes life simple and streamlined. For others, it's a fresh start and a real weight off their back. Either way, it can be a very smart idea. Is it right for you? Come see us or call Angela Blanchard, Vice President/Retail Lending, at 617-471-0750. Or apply online at colonialfed.com. Have another loan or term in mind? Call us. We may be able to help.

15-YEAR FIXED

NO POINTS!

3.39% APR

COLONIAL FEDERAL SAVINGS BANK

"Your neighborhood bank!"

QUINCY: 15 Beach Street 617-471-0750 • 1000 Southern Artery (Residents only) 617-479-1430

HOLBROOK: 802 South Franklin Street 781-767-1776

EAST WEYMOUTH: Middle & Washington Streets 781-331-1776

ONLINE: colonialfed.com

Some additional facts: Annual Percentage Rate (APR) effective as of 12/29/14 and may change. Applies to 1-2 family owner-occupied homes. Assumes a maximum 80% loan-to-value and first mortgage position. Subject to credit approval. A 15-Year Loan would be repaid in 180 equal monthly principal plus interest payments of $7.03 per $1000 borrowed, which do not include taxes or insurance premiums, if applicable. So your actual monthly payment will be greater.

EQUAL HOUSING LENDER

Insured FDIC

The Quincy Sun

(USPS 453-060)
Published Weekly on Thursday by
The Quincy Sun Publishing Co., Inc.
1372 Hancock St., Quincy, MA 02169

Robert H. Bosworth
Publisher and Editor

Henry W. Bosworth, Jr.
Founder
1968 - 2009

75¢ per copy newsstand • $27 per year by mail in Quincy
$32 per year by mail outside Quincy • $40 out-of-state

Telephone: 617-471-3100 Fax: 617-472-3963

online at: www.thequincysun.com

email address: thequincysun@verizon.net

rbosworth@thequincysun.com

Periodicals postage paid at Boston, MA
Postmaster Send address change to:
The Quincy Sun, 1372 Hancock St., Quincy, MA 02169

The Quincy Sun assumes no financial responsibility for typographical errors in advertisements but will reprint that part of an advertisement in which the typographical error occurs.

Moments in time

THE HISTORY CHANNEL.

• On Jan. 23, 1775, London merchants petition Parliament for relief from the financial hardship put upon them by the curtailment of trade with the North American colonies. Most critical to the merchants' concerns were the 2 million pounds sterling in outstanding debts owed to them.

• On Jan. 19, 1915, during World War I, Britain suffers its first casualties from an air attack when two German zeppelins drop bombs on Great Yarmouth and King's Lynn on the eastern coast of England.

• On Jan. 20, 1937, President Franklin D. Roosevelt is inaugurated for the second time as president. The Constitution had originally set March 4 as the presidential inauguration date to allow the winner time to travel to the nation's capital.

• On Jan. 25, 1949, the Academy of Television Arts & Sciences holds its first annual awards ceremony in Los Angeles. The now-famous award statuette "Emmy" was a feminized version of "immy," the shorthand term for the image orthicon tube that was used in TV cameras until the 1960s.

• On Jan. 24, 1956, Look magazine publishes the confessions of J.W. Milam and Roy Bryant, two white men from Mississippi who were acquitted in the 1955 kidnapping and murder of black teenager Emmett Till. In August 1955, on a visit to relatives, the 14-year-old Till had allegedly whistled at a white woman who ran a store.

• On Jan. 21, 1977, President Jimmy Carter grants an unconditional pardon to hundreds of thousands of men who evaded the draft during the Vietnam War. Some 100,000 young Americans went abroad, with 90 percent going to Canada. The Canadian government had instructed border guards not to ask too many questions.

• On Jan. 22, 1981, the final portrait of John Lennon and wife, Yoko, appears on the cover of Rolling Stone. The photo, taken 12 hours before Lennon was assassinated, shows a naked Lennon curled up in a fetal embrace with a fully clothed Yoko. Photographer Annie Liebowitz had been told by a Rolling Stone editor, "Please get me some pictures without [Yoko]."

(c) 2015 King Features Synd., Inc.

Son Beams

By ROBERT BOSWORTH

Hospital's Legacy: People

There were hugs and handshakes, laughs and tears.

They came alone and with colleagues. Some brought their children and grandchildren.

They exchanged emails, home addresses and cell phone numbers.

It was one last chance to be together at the site that had meant as much to them as it has for this community.

More than 200 past and present Quincy Medical Center employees gathered for a photo Dec. 31 - New Year's Eve - to share a moment for the ages. To underscore one last time all the dedicated service and exceptional care provided to patients throughout the years.

After 124 years of serving the city and surrounding community, Steward Health Care closed Quincy Medical Center Dec. 26 due to millions in red ink attributed in large part to low Medicare reimbursements rates.

"It's sad and heart-breaking but understandable," one longtime worker said of the hospital closing. "The figures don't lie."

The reimbursement issue is something that has to be addressed or other community hospitals may face the same fate as QMC.

But QMC's legacy is not finances.

It's people.

Specifically, all the doctors, nurses, technicians and staff and others who worked collectively as a team on the behalf of the patients. It's been that way since the institution was founded in 1890 by physicians treating granite workers.

I asked one of the workers after the group photo what she hopes the community understands about QMC.

"We cared about them," she said without hesitation. "We cared about the people and we cared about our population."

Another former worker, Art Milmore of Weymouth, worked 28 years in the x-ray and ultrasound departments. He expressed hope that some other hospital entity would purchase QMC and reopen it as a full-fledged hospital again.

"Quincy needs a hospital with the amount of people who live here and the number of condos they keep building. . . . The folks I worked with were some of the best in the business. We were like family. We were a team and it was always the success of the team that was most important, not any one individual.

"I'd rather be the grunt and do the work and let someone else take the bows."

It is sad that Quincy Medical Center is virtually no more. The only function it currently serves is as a satellite emergency facility in the same location as the former ER on Whitwell Street. Steward has pledged to keep the emergency facility open through the end of this year.

But perhaps what we are witnessing is the passing of another industry that had defined Quincy for generations. Has the community hospital concept run its course just like shipbuilding and granite quarrying? Perhaps but only time will truly tell.

Certainly the closing of QMC didn't occur overnight. And there were signs the facility was struggling in recent decades. Closing the maternity ward in 1998 is one example. Even removing the name "City" from Quincy City Hospital years ago was done in an effort to change public perceptions about community hospitals and retain its viability in the competitive health care field and arena of mega hospital mergers.

But the only way to shape a perception is to experience it. And you can count me among the tens of thousands of patients who received outstanding medical attention and care at Quincy Hospital. During my high school years, I was hospitalized there three different times for a broken jaw, broken shoulder and mono. I spent so much time there, my friends used to say, that they bequeathed Quincy Hospital to me in our class will.

No one likes spending time in a hospital but when you needed it, there was always a sense of comfort and calmness knowing you were in good hands.

As the employees lined up on the steps of the former Administration Building for the group photo, I thought back to another photo opportunity at the very same spot some 15 years ago.

It was October, 1999 and federal, state and city officials gathered in front of those steps under brilliant blue skies and a bright, sunny afternoon. Then Gov. Paul Cellucci and Lt. Gov. Jane Swift signed legislation that changed the hospital from a municipal institution to a private, not-for-profit community hospital renamed Quincy Medical Center. The legislation also created an affiliation with Boston Medical Center and approved a $12.1 million interest-free loan to help keep the facility afloat.

Among those present was Sen. Ted Kennedy who remarked as a throng of hospital employees encircled the front lawn:

"This has been a community facility. This has been a family serving facility. This has served children, the workers and senior citizens and now this great facility provides a combination of those services . . . It serves the people in Quincy and that's what we want to continue. That's what this is all about."

The headline over the front page hospital story that week read: "Quincy Medical Center – A New Era."

In that story was a quote by then Mayor James Sheets who said without the $12.1 million loan, the hospital would have had to shut down and 1,100 workers laid off. He also noted that had it closed, it would have left Quincy as the only major city in Massachusetts without its own hospital.

Which is where we are today.

Call me a dreamer but I am hoping there is one more photo opportunity and/or press event at 114 Whitwell St. and that it happens this year.

The announcement that Steward has secured a buyer for Quincy Medical Center and some other hospital entity will reopen the medical facility to provide what Quincy deserves. A community hospital that can admit and treat patients like any other hospital in Massachusetts.

Let's hope another hospital era can commence in Quincy in 2015.

This community deserves nothing less.

City Selling Dawes Estate At Auction; Bids Due Jan. 16

The city held an open house Jan. 4 at the Dawes Estate, located at 657 Quincy Shore Drive, for parties interested in purchasing the house.

The Dawes Estate, which is on the corner of Channing Street and Quincy Shore Drive opposite Wollaston Beach, was donated to the city by the Dawes family. It was previously used by the city's Recreation Department as office space and as a senior center before the Kennedy Center in Squantum opened.

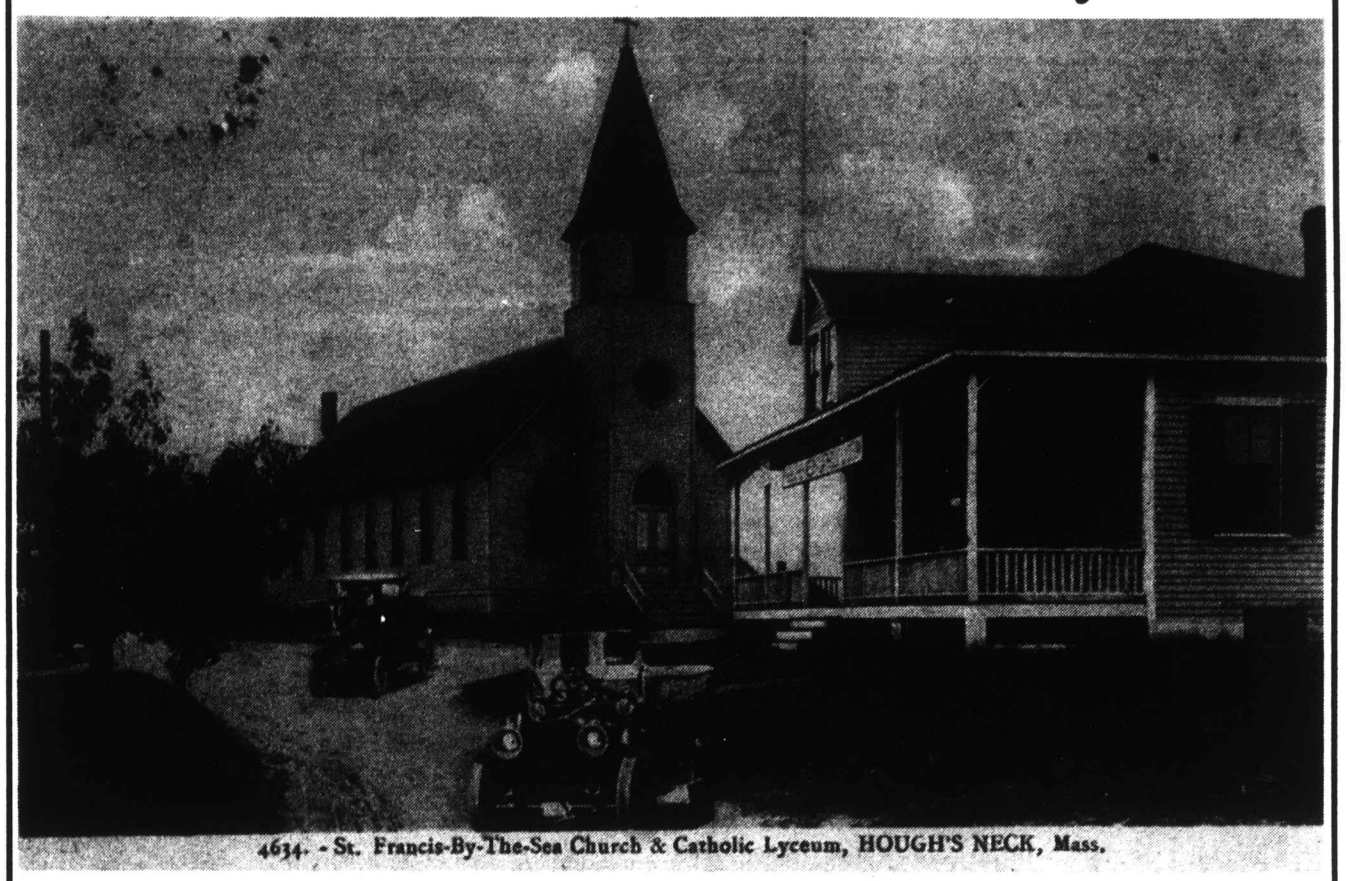
The property includes 8,459 square feet of land. The two 1.5-story house on site includes 3,764 square feet of gross area and 1,742 square feet of living space. The whole property has an assessed value of $320,400, according to the city assessor's online database. The property is in a Residential B zoning district; it is also located in a floodplain.

The city's Purchasing Department is accepting bids for the property through 11 a.m. on Friday, Jan. 16. All bids must include a signed price proposal form, a certificate of tax compliance, a non-collusion affidavit, a disclosure form mandated by Massachusetts General Law Chapter 7, Section 40J. Bidders must also provide a $15,000 deposit to the city, refundable to non-winning bidders, and proof of their ability to pay the full price of the property.

The purchaser will be responsible for any broker's fees they incurred and the cost of recording the conveyance documents.

The city will award the property to the person or corporation who submits the highest responsible bid.

Scenes From Yesterday



4634. - St. Francis-By-The-Sea Church & Catholic Lyceum, HOUGH'S NECK, Mass.

THIS 1915 postcard is a view of the first Catholic Church in Houghs' Neck: St. Francis-by-the-Sea, which was established in 1893 as a mission church of St. John's in Quincy Center. The Rev. Francis A. Friguglietti, pastor of St. John's, also established two other mission churches: Sacred Heart in North Quincy and St. Francis of Assisi in Braintree. Fr. Francis, as he was widely known, went on to also become pastor of St. Mary's in West Quincy and was known by all to be "Quincy's Pastor." This Hough's Neck church was located near the corner of Winthrop Street and Manet Avenue. It was across from the Catholic Lyceum, the bungalow shown here on the right with the sign over the porch. In 1915, Cardinal O'Connell renamed this The Most Blessed Sacrament Church when he established a separate parish for Hough's Neck. The church building was demolished a few years later in 1919 when the present church with that name was built on Sea Street. The hand-drawn automobiles were added by the postcard's publisher. To contact Tom Galvin, e-mail tmgalvin@verizon.net.

From the Collection of City Historian Tom Galvin

Special Education Subcommittee Meeting Jan. 21

The Special Education Subcommittee will meet Wednesday, Jan. 21 at 6 p.m. in the Coddington Building, 34 Coddington St., Quincy.

The purpose of the Subcommittee is to provide the School Committee direction on the issues and programs that affect special education students within Quincy Public Schools.

Meetings are held in conjunction with the Quincy Parent Advisory Council to Special Education (QPAC) and Quincy Public Schools administration. Parents are encouraged to attend.

For more information, contact Debby Nabstedt, QPAC President at 617-947-2521 or president@quincypac.org.

Readers Forum

Wear Light-Colored Clothing For Pedestrian Safety

I am very concerned about the increasing numbers of pedestrians being injured or killed by drivers.

I know that I, sometimes, have a difficult time seeing pedestrians, especially at night and when it is raining

I have a simple suggestion that will hopefully alleviate these situations: Pedestrians can wear lighter clothing (hats, scarves, gloves, boots, materials that reflect on-coming lights) so they can be more easily seen, especially at night.

Both drivers and pedestrians can exercise more caution during the dark time of the year.

Ann Yeomans
Winthrop Avenue
Quincy

Quincy Could Use A Stand Alone Emergency Room

Quincy Medical Center is now history. Several attempts over the past decade failed in the long run and Steward Health Care System felt it had no options left but to close the facility. In the end, Steward did eventually agree to keep emergency room services opened through 2015.

A VA clinic will still remain on site until a new location is found and all Quincy residents will still have Steward's Carney Hospital open to them as well as a number of other hospitals in the surrounding area.

It is unfortunate that the City of Quincy with over 100,000 residents have no in-city hospital but in this day and age, smaller community hospitals are finding it difficult to stay open without a partnership with a large medical entity, such as Milton Hospital with Beth Israel Deaconess hospital in Boston.

The idea of a 24/7 emergency room remaining in Quincy is a win-win for city residents and if it can be a successful idea as it is over in East Boston with the East Boston Neighborhood Health Center in Maverick Square, it can work in Quincy. The East Boston facility has a 24/7 stand alone emergency room, one of only three in the state and it also happens to be the third busiest emergency room in the state, too.

Rather than assign blame for the hospital's closing, the important thing is that an emergency room is guaranteed by Steward for the next year. Quincy can use this time working for a permanent emergency room like the one that East Boston enjoys today.

As we enter a new year, let us use this time as an opportunity to create a stand alone emergency room in the city like the one that the East Boston community enjoys right now.

Sal Giarratani
Prince Street
East Boston

SUBSCRIPTION FORM

FILL OUT THIS SUBSCRIPTION BLANK AND MAIL TO

The Quincy Sun

Historic Quincy's Hometown Weekly Newspaper Since 1968

1372 HANCOCK STREET, QUINCY, MA 02169

NAME _____

STREET _____

CITY_____ STATE _____ ZIP _____

CHECK ONE BOX IN EACH COLUMN

[ ] 1 YEAR IN QUINCY $27.00
[ ] 1 YEAR OUTSIDE QUINCY $32.00 [ ] CHECK ENCLOSED
[ ] 1 YEAR OUT OF STATE $40.00

Quincy's Yesterdays

This Week
1982
33 Years Ago

McCauley: 'We'll Face Problems, Solve Them'

By SCOTT JACKSON

Mayor Francis X. McCauley was sworn in as the city's 27th chief executive, and pledged he would not try to blame the current ills of the city on previous administrations.

"It has been customary in recent years for the incoming mayor to spend some of his time laying a little criticism on his predecessors. I do not plan to take that approach this morning," McCauley told a crowd of 700 inside the Vocational Technical School Gym.

"We're going to approach the problems, we're going to define them, and then we're going to solve them. I think that's the best thing to do in the years ahead."

Among the pledges McCauley made during his off the cuff remarks, the new mayor said he would meet with municipal finance experts to seek an analysis of Quincy's finances and recommendations for moving forward.

"I've been in the banking business for 25 years and I know it's easier to get into financial difficulties than it is to get out, but we're going to make a beginning this year," he stated.

McCauley also said Arthur Foley, his administrative assistant, would act as a liaison to the Norfolk Country Advisory Board, which had responsibility for the county budget; Paul N. Anderson, incoming public works commissioner, would be McCauley's representative on the MBTA advisory board; Michael Kitchen, the director of Quincy City Hospital, was given permission to file a certificate of need, the first step toward building a $99 million hospital; and Foley and Planning Director James Lydon would be responsible for economic development projects and working with developers planning to move to Quincy.

Ward 3 Councillor John J. Lydon, Jr., was elected the City Council new president following McCauley's swearing in. Lydon told his colleagues and the assembled crowd that voters at the national, state, and local level delivered the message "government has become unwieldy and they want that trend to stop."

"As consumers we have been restricting our patterns of consumption," he said. "It is now time for government to do likewise.

"No longer can we rationalize the seemingly endless growth of government. No longer can we allow management practices which foster waste. No longer can we make the mistake that bigger is better."

School Committee member Mary Collins was chosen by her colleagues to be the board's new vice chairwoman. She appealed city councillors, asking them not to make harsh cuts to the school budget in the wake of Proposition 2 ½.

"Should the School Committee be forced to cut the required 15 percent per year for the next two years, the result would be a system that is unrecognizable," she said. "The picture could be grim.

"We will be dealing with painful situations in preparing the budgets for the coming fiscal year. Nothing less than total commitment to working together on this will suffice. There should be no sacred cows in the city budget."

QUINCY-ISMS

David B. MacIntosh was re-appointed to a five-year term on the hospital's board of managers. Rosemary Wahlberg and John W. Kane were also appointed to five-year terms, replacing Ruth Janis and Simon Fireman... Urban Associates, a group hired by the Planning Department, was set to present their recommendations for Quincy's waterways during an upcoming meeting of the Ward 2 Civic Association, with Robert Allison presiding...A meeting to discuss the Planning Department's Brewers Corner revitalization study was scheduled...Bonnie, a Shetland sheepdog owned by Helen and Russell Metcalfe, was found safe and sound after disappearing from an Oxford, Maine, cottage in August...Roberta M. Crowley, a retired city treasurer, passed away at the age of 73...U.S. Sen. Paul Tsongas planned to hold a town meeting for Quincy and other area residents at Quincy City Hall...Quincy High's boys basketball team beat North Weymouth to win the squad's second straight Hingham Christmas Tournament. Jim DePietro was named tournament MVP after scoring 17 points in the title came. Peter Papile had 14 points...Keith Smith had two goals for North Quincy's hockey team in a 3-2 win over Waltham. Scott Messina recorded the winning goal...Pvt. Steven H. Knudsen of Northfield Road completed basic training at Fort Knox, Ky.

Arts & Entertainment

Ukulele Concert At Hancock Park Adult Day Health Center

The Rhode Island Strummers brought the unique sounds of the ukulele to the members of Hancock Park Adult Day Health Center in Quincy.

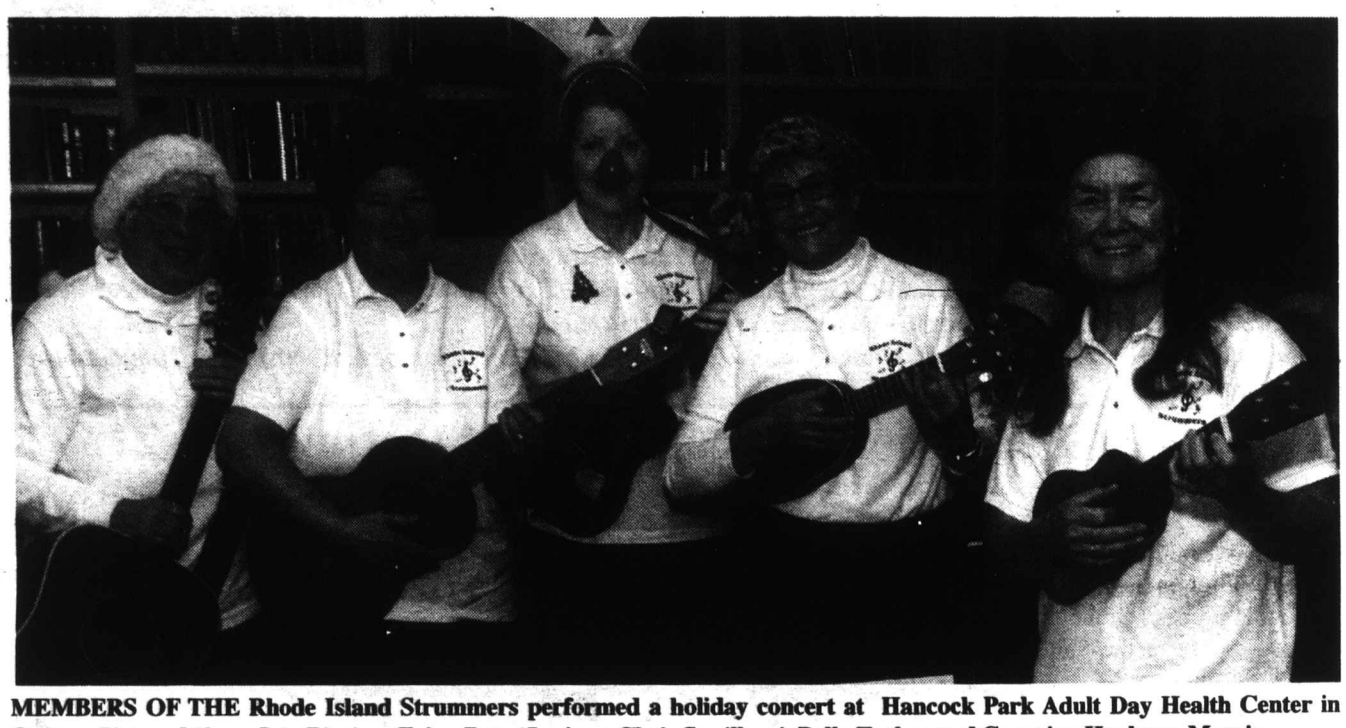
The 17-member ukulele band from Rhode Island, led by group founder Georgina Hepburn-Morris, performed holiday favorites as well as popular standards including "Darktown Strutters Ball" and "Sentimental Journey" during the center's recent Christmas Concert.

Photos Courtesy Welch Healthcare

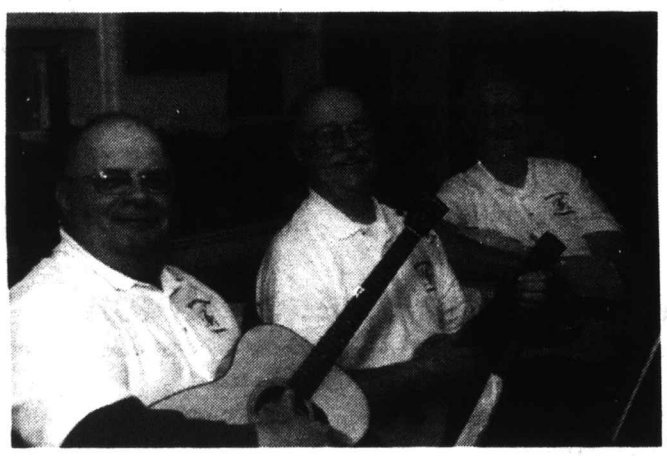
CAROL SMITH (left) and Jeanie Pertain (right) spread some holiday cheer through the unique sounds of the ukulele during a Christmas concert at Hancock Park Adult Day Health Center in Quincy.

KATE WHOOLEY (left) of Quincy, and Olive Shattuck (center) and her sister Marjorie Overell (right), both of Braintree, enjoy the holiday concert as guests of the Adult Day Health Center at Hancock Park in Quincy.

THE SMILE on the faces of Hancock Park Adult Day Health members Gloria Brennion (left) and Lorrice Iavicoli (right), says it all. The Quincy residents recently enjoyed a unique ukulele concert at Hancock Park Adult Day Health Center in Quincy.



MEMBERS OF THE Rhode Island Strummers performed a holiday concert at Hancock Park Adult Day Health Center in Quincy. Pictured (from L to R): Ann Foisy, Betsy Lesieur, Chris Squillacci, Polly Tucker and Georgina Hepburn-Morris.



RHODE ISLAND STRUMMERS entertain members and guests of Hancock Park in Quincy's Adult Day Health Center with traditional holiday songs. From left: Joe Mello, Larry Graveline and Roger Lepine.

AN IMPRESSIVE Bob Paris, 97-years old, plays the ukulele as a member of the Rhode Island Strummers, during a holiday concert at Hancock Park in Quincy's Adult Day Health Center.

CAPTAIN FISHBONES
SEAFOOD STEAKS AND MORE
332 Victory Road,
Marina Bay, MA 02171
617 471-3511
www.captainfishbones.com

SUNDAY BRUNCH BUFFET
10am-2pm
$12.99
children under 12 $6.49

WINTER SPECIAL
January 3 - March 15
Mimosa Cocktail, House Bloody Mary or Domestic Bottle of Beer included in the price of brunch children under 12 milk or juice included with brunch

"Waffle and Pancake Bar"
Fresh cooked with your choice of toppings
• French Toast
• Assorted Muffins & Bagels
• Greek Salad
• Fresh Seasonal Fruit
• Chicken Broccoli Alfredo
• Home Fries
• Sausage & American Bacon
• Eggs Benedict
"Omelette Station"
Dessert Du Jour

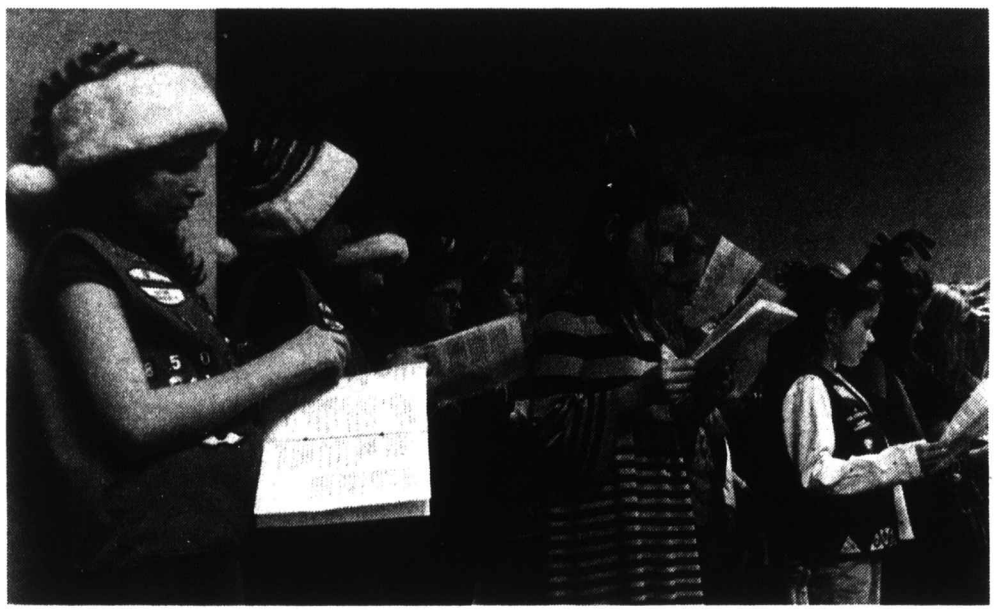
Adams Montessori School
OPEN HOUSE
Saturday, January 10 • 10am-12pm
■ Toddler, pre-school & elementary programs
■ Morning or full day sessions
■ Before and after school care
Call us at 617-773-8200
to schedule an appointment
Come visit us in the historic Adams district
310 Adams Street, Quincy
www.adamsmontessori.org

JOAN'S OLYMPIC GYM
GYMNASTICS & DANCE SCHOOL
WAS VOTED #1 ON THE SOUTH SHORE
Ages 2 – Adult
NOW ACCEPTING REGISTRATIONS!
781-843-9624
"An Excellent Education Environment For Your Child"
197 Quincy Avenue, Braintree • www.joansolympicgym.com

Joyce & Gendreau
Jewelers
Fine Jewelry at Honest Values
Home of the "You want it when? No problem and done right!" service!
52 Billings Road No. Quincy
617.328.0084
www.joycejlrs.com

Social

Quincy Girl Scouts Spread Holiday Cheer With Christmas Carols



QUINCY GIRL SCOUTS recently spread some holiday cheer making ornaments and singing Christmas carols for seniors in Quincy. Some 35 girl scouts got together at the Atria Marina Place where they made ornaments which they passed out to the residents and sang Christmas Carols in front of the fire place for the residents to enjoy. The next day, 26 girl scouts got together at 1000 Southern Artery. Again they made ornaments which they passed out to the residents and sang Christmas Carols for the residents to enjoy. Photos Courtesy Joseph Carinci

Mite Box Thrift Shop Re-Opens

The Mite Box Thrift Shop re-opened Jan. 7 and Christmas items are selling at 50 percent off the rest of this week.

The shop is open Wednesday, Thursday and Fridays from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m.

It is located at St. Chrysostom's Church, 1 Linden St., Quincy.

Parkinson's Support Group

The Quincy Parkinson's Support Group will meet Wednesday, Jan. 14 at 7 p.m. in the Ward 4 Community Room, 100 Brooks Ave.

The topic will be: "Practical Pointers: Caring for a Person with Parkinson's.

For more information, call 617-770-2090.

Neighborhood Club of Quincy

Nestled in a quiet neighborhood in historic Quincy, the Neighborhood Club has been creating unforgettable memories since 1917.

We take pride in making each and every wedding or event unique and memorable.

Whether you are looking for a spacious ballroom for up to 200, or a setting for a smaller group of guests, the Neighborhood Club has the perfect place to hold your event.

Book Your Wedding and Enjoy a Complimentary Champagne Toast
(Mention this ad)

617.773.9300

27 Glendale Road, Quincy, MA 02169 www.ncquincy.com

Find us on Facebook

Highlights of Local Programming found on . . . QATV

Quincy Access Television
88 Washington Street
Quincy, MA 02169
617-376-1440

Public Access Channel 8

Thursday, January 8th:
7:00pm: Mayoral Midterm Address
8:00pm: QHS vs. Hanover Girls Basketball

Friday, January 9th:
11:30am: LIVE: Curently in Quincy
5:30pm: Sound Advice with Tom Williams

Saturday, January 10th:
12:00pm: QHS vs. NQHS Boys Basketball
7:00pm: Update: DPW: Winter Season

Sunday, January 11th:
10:00am: Bethany Congregational Church
7:00pm: QHS vs. NQHS Girls Basketball

Monday, January 12th:
6:00am: LIVE: AM Quincy (audio only)
11:30am: LIVE: Currently in Quincy

Tuesday, January 13th:
6:00pm: Eye on Quincy (replay)
7:00pm: Taiwan Programming

Wednesday, January 14th:
6:00pm: Good News
10:00pm: The Constitution: Then & Now

Government Access Channel 11

Thursday, January 8th:
12:00pm: Mayoral Midterm Address
8:30pm: At the Library: January Happenings

Friday, January 9th:
6:00pm: City View with Mayor Koch
7:00pm: License Board (1/6/15)
8:00pm: Update: DPW: Winter Season

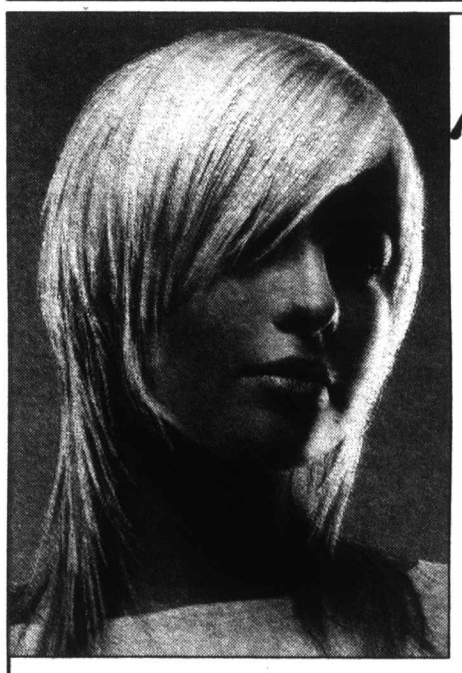
Saturday/Sunday, January 10th/11th:
11:00am: At the Library: January Happenings
12:00pm: Mayoral Midterm Address
3:00pm: At the Library Concert: Scott Sanchez
4:00pm: License Board (1/6/15)
5:30pm: Update: DPW: Winter Season
7:00pm: Mayoral Midterm Address
11:00pm: License Board (1/6/15)

Monday, January 12th:
6:00pm: Crime Watch: Scams Revisited

Tuesday, January 13th:
6:00pm: Health Links: Fitness Centers

Wednesday, January 14th:
6:30pm: FYI:QHD: Seasonal Flu
7:00pm: A Look Bac: The QFD in the 1960s

Programming is subject to change. For a complete list of programs, please consult our website at www.qatv.org



New Year!!!

NEW COLOR!!!

NEW STYLE!!!

HAIRPLACE ONE
85 QUINCY AVENUE

Call for Appt. 617-472-1060

www.hairplaceone.com

WHAT'S COOKING
with
Marie & Suzie
By MARIE D'OLIMPIO and SUZIE FALCO

Stuffed Red Pepper With Cabbage, Rice

By MARIE

Every once in awhile, I cook stuffed peppers using green and red peppers. This time I just used the red peppers. I cut them in halves making it easier to serve.

I also stuffed them different from the norm, and used cabbage and rice and everyone seemed to enjoy them as I did.

Stuffed Peppers With Cabbage and Rice
3 red peppers (cut in half)
2 cups cabbage
1 cup brown rice (or white if you prefer)
2 tablespoons tomato sauce
Parmesan cheese for topping
2 garlic cloves
salt and pepper to taste
2 tablespoons olive oil for sautéing

In the hot oil, saute the cabbage for 15-20 minutes. Set aside.

Cook the rice according to directions.

In a bowl mix the cabbage, rice and tomato sauce together. Stuff each pepper with the mixture and sprinkle the parmesan cheese and a little bit of olive oil over them. On the bottom of a slightly greased baking pan, add a bit of water and oil, cover with foil and bake in a 350 degree oven for about 30 minutes, or until peppers are tender.

Suzie's Famous Black Bean Chocolake Cake

By SUZIE

I entered a contest on Ziggy Marly's website a couple of years back.. And I won! My recipe is featured on his coconut oil website, and I got a letter to me from him stating how much he loves the cake! So I am pretty excited. Hope it is a winner in your home as well! You can use any brand of virgin coconut oil if you prefer. The results are the same. Just don't tell Ziggy!

Suzie's Famous Black Bean Chocolate Cake

Ingredients

1 can organic black beans, drained and rinsed until water runs clear
1/3 cup Ziggy Marley's Coco'Mon Coconut Oil
1/3 cup raw cocoa powder.
1 cup organic sugar or coconut sap crystals
4 large organic eggs
1 tsp vanilla
1 ½ tsp. baking powder
1 tsp. baking soda
½ tsp. almond extract
½ tsp. cinnamon
1/2 teaspoon organic instant coffee (optional)
Dash sea salt

Directions

1. Mix in blender all together in high speed until smooth and creamy with no bits or lumps

2. Spoon into an 8" or 9" cake pan greased with coconut oil and dusted with cocoa powder

3. Bake at 350 degrees for 20-25 minutes or until toothpick comes out and clean and finger bounces back. Allow to cool, then frost.

Frosting:
¾ cup coconut milk/ coconut creamer
10oz organic dark chocolate chips
6 tbsp Ziggy Marley's Coco'Mon oil
1 tsp vanilla
1/2 tsp organic coffee (optional)

1. Place all together in a small sauce pan and stir until chips are melted

2. Pour into container and set aside to cool

3. Slice cake and drizzle sauce over individual slices.

Yum! Enjoy!!

REGGIE'S OIL CO., INC.
Heating & Air Conditioning Service
Joseph P. Reggiannini
92-94 (Rear) Franklin St.
Quincy, MA 02169
Office Hours:
M-F 7:30 am - 5:00 pm
(617) 471-2095
(24 Hour Emergency Service)
www.reggiesoil.com
We are a local, family-owned & operated oil company located right here in Quincy. We've been providing a quality product & superior service to our customers here in Quincy & throughout Southeastern MA for more than 50 years....and we always will!

QUINT'S
House of Flowers
Family Owned & Operated Since 1919
761 Southern Artery
QUINCY
617-773-7620

FREE PERSONAL TRAINING
(1 30 minute session with ad. New clients only)
- Brand New Personal/Private Training Center
- Nutritional Counseling
- One on One Exercise & Cardiovascular Training
- Individual Custom Tailored Fitness Programs
CALL FOR YOUR FREE SESSION (781)843-0087
30 Minute Personal Training Session
30 Minute Cardiovascular Workout
Designed by Your Trainer $50.00
(60 min. total)
SPARTAN TRAINING CENTER
11 School Street, Quincy • www.spartantrainingcenter.com

Houghs Neck Resident Wants First Night Quincy Revived

John McCone Served As Celebration Coordinator

John McCone, a long time Houghs Neck resident, says he is working with several other Quincy residents on developing a plan to revive First Night Quincy.

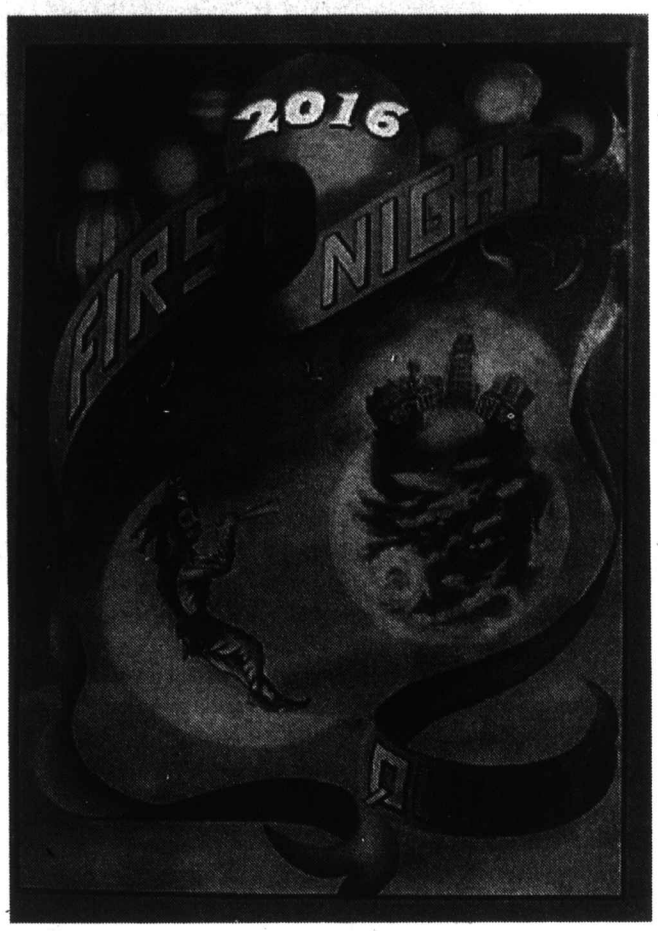
McCone and his wife Pat enjoyed serving as First Night Coordinators for six years.

"My wife, Pat, and I loved watching as thousands of families enjoyed a New Year's celebration of the arts. First Night Quincy had something for everyone. Kids and adults would get their faces painted, make New Year's hats, make their own funny masks just in time to watch the Festival of Lights Parade and a spectacular Laser Light Show that lit up every building in the square. The light show was concluded by lighting up over 12 ice sculptures placed in and around City Hall Plaza," he said.

The McCones expressed how much they enjoyed eating at the international Food Festival that featured cuisine from around the world. The event was a drug and alcohol free safe family night with a admission rate of $5.

"It is a shame they let it shrink and then disappear," John McCone said. "This isn't just a celebration of the arts; it's a celebration of the community."

Over the past months, McCone said he has met with several former organizers of First Night Quincy including former City Councillor and the founder of First Night Quincy, Mike Cheney. He also has met with Mike Berry who served as the head of event logistics and Paula Curry Clark event coordinator.



DRAWING OF a what a First Night Quincy poster promoting the event for New Year's Dec. 31, 2015 might resemble. Houghs Neck resident John McCone wants to revive the New Year's celelebration in Quincy. Image Courtesy John McCone

"We are all excited at the possibility of bringing First Night Quincy back to our city," Mike Cheney said.

First Night Quincy was held in downtown Quincy for 16 years. Founded in 1993, the event was run by a non profit called First Night Quincy for 10 years. Cheney turned over the event to the City of Quincy along with over $125,000 in equipment and enough money and resources to run that year's event.

First Night Quincy was a large, single-day arts festival, providing an accessible and affordable New Year's Eve celebration to thousands of people in the community. McCone said a good percentage of the funding came from sponsors, tax-deductible donations and grants. First Night encouraged folks to participate in the festival in a variety of ways, from volunteering and creating art to making individual donations.

"Fist Night was a vital part of Quincy's renaissance, and it still can bring value especially now that we are trying to bring attention to our downtown," John McCone said. "This family event demonstrates our commitment to community, family and the arts."

McCone said he will be working with community leaders in the next few months toward the goal of bringing back this important Quincy family tradition.

READERS FORUM

Sterling Veterans' Day Tribute A Special Salute

On Nov. 11th I attended Sterling Middle School's annual Veterans' Day Celebration which this year was a special tribute to Bill Draicchio.

To say it was wonderful would be the understatement of the century. The children who presented the tribute were outstanding but so also were the students who were all seated quietly and respectfully throughout the entire program.

The speakers were great and to see the relationship between the teachers and students was enlightening and wonderful to see.

I was so surprised when they asked all of the veterans in the audience to stand. Students came forward and presented us with cards and a C.D. with American songs. I was overwhelmed by how beautiful the cards were and the respect each and every student showed. You will never know how much this celebration meant to me.

Sterling has excellent teachers and most importantly they also have wonderful students. Thank you for all of your hard work teaching students the respect veterans are so entitled to.

John Boyle
Korean War Veteran

Koch Critic Running For Mayor?

I see that Tom Koch is at it again. Koch wants to raise property taxes to pay for road repair, but he can't explain what happened to the funds he lost on his other projects. He removes businesses from down town, tears down a structure (high school) that could have been turned into condos or office space for a parking lot and green space. Sad part about it is the city council approved his projects.

I think the taxpayer needs a person in that office that has a conscience as well as common sense, like me for example. Nomination papers aren't that far away.

Charles Dennehey Jr.
Willard Street
Quincy

Mayor To Present 5-Year Capital Improvement Plan To Update Infrastructure

Cont'd From Page 3

of Weymouth, and Congressman Lynch and will ask Governor Baker for his support in a national call to action to confront this tragedy," Koch said, prompting the audience to break out into applause.

"Think about it, this year in our country there was a scare with Ebola. There were three cases confirmed in our country and it dominated the news each and every night, night after night, week after week. Yet, everyday across this country we lose 115 young people to drugs. Every day. Where is the outcry? Where is the outrage? It's accepted. It's a shame.

"I don't accept it. I don't think we should accept it as a community. And I look forward to working with my colleagues in all levels of government to make a difference for our city. We need to do more."

Lynch and Sullivan both attended Monday's mid-term. Lynch said Congress has been working to secure federal resources to deal with the epidemic.

"Recently we've been trying to link up some federal resources through the DEA – the Drug Enforcement Agency – as well as use state resources and city resources to try and deal with that. It's an epidemic, no question about it," Lynch stated.

"The mayor has been very keen on trying to address it. I know he's spending a lot of time on it. I was glad he made that a focal point of the address tonight."

Sullivan said combining the efforts of the three communities would allow for additional education and outreach on substance abuse.

"Mayor Koch had called me last week and indicated he would be proposing this idea. I thought it was really an important statement for him to make and for all of us to make in terms of a regional approach," Sullivan said.

"In Braintree, we've been addressing this issue now for about four to five years with a community partnership program that includes police, parents, educators, the district attorney's office. We put together a good program, but I think combining our work with Quincy and with Weymouth can only make us stronger in our defense of this issue, but also give us the ability to go on offense and really try to educate and make people aware of the epidemic situation.

"Hopefully we can save lives and protect generations to come. I think Mayor Koch's remarks were spot on and this is an issue all communities will confront. If we do it together, we'll perform in an aggressive manner and an appropriate manner to do the work that needs to be done."

Lynch and Sullivan were among a number of current and former officials who attended the mayor's speech, which was followed by the City Council's organizational meeting. Those in attendance included state Auditor Suzanne Bump; former state Treasurer Tim Cahill; former U.S. Rep. William Delahunt; former Mayors Joseph LaRaia and William Phelan; state Sen. John Keenan and Reps. Bruce Ayers, Tackey Chan, and Walter Timilty; each of Quincy's six School Committee members and Superintendent Dr. Richard DeCristofaro; Norfolk County Sheriff Michael Bellotti, District Attorney Mi-

Cont'd On Page 11

MAYOR THOMAS KOCH (center) with several past and present elected officials who attended his Mid-Term Address Monday at the Richardson Room of the Thomas Crane Public Library. With the mayor (from left) are former Cong. William Delahunt, Braintree Mayor Joseph Sullivan, Cong. Steven Lynch and Councillor Joseph Finn who was re-elected to a second one-year term as council president. Quincy Sun Photos/Robert Bosworth

MAYOR THOMAS KOCH addresses city councillors and other officials at the council's Mid-Term meeting Monday night at the Thomas Crane Library's Richardson Room. Listening (clockwise from left): Ward 2 Councillor Brad Croall, Ward 3 Councillor Kevin Coughlin, City Auditor Susan O'Connor, Assistant City Clerk Nicole Crispo, City Council President Joseph Finn, City Clerk Joseph Shea, Councillor Michael McFarland, Councillor Doug Gutro and Ward 5 Councillor Kirsten Hughes.

QCAP To Host Presentation On Educational Evaluations

The Quincy Parent Advisory Council to Special Education (QPAC) will host "Understanding Educational Evaluations" on Thursday, Jan. 29 at 6:30 p.m. in the QPAC Resource Center at Quincy High School, 100 Coddington St., Quincy.

The presentation will provide an introduction to understanding evaluation within the special education process. Participants will learn when and why an evaluation is conducted, different types of assessments that may be conducted, and how to read and understand evaluation reports. An opportunity to handle testing materials will also be provided.

"Understanding Educational Evaluations" will be presented by Donna Cunningham, Special Education Administrator, and Erin Perkins, Coordinator for Elementary Curriculum and Programs for Quincy Public Schools. Parents, teachers, and others are invited to attend, and questions and participation are encouraged.

"Understanding Educational Evaluations" is a free presentation. Pre-registration is requested, and may be completed online at www.quincypac.org/events.html.

QPAC is a state-mandated advisory organization that works with Quincy School Committee and Quincy Public Schools to improve educational outcomes for students with disabilities, as well as disseminate information about special education and related topics. Other upcoming presentation topics include understanding the Individualized Education Program (IEP) and accessing community supports and services.

For more information visit www.quincypac.org.

21 locations

Eastern insurance

AUTO • HOME • BUSINESS
LIFE & EMPLOYEE BENEFITS
WORKERS COMPENSATION • UMBRELLA
MARINE • BONDS • PROFESSIONAL LIABILITY

DONALD UVANITTE
Sr. Vice President,
CIC, ARM AAI, AU, AIS, CRIS, LIA

(617) 328-8300
(508) 270-5317
382 Quincy Ave.
Quincy, MA 02169
DUvanitte@easterninsurance.com

21 locations
21 locations
21 locations

With the Commercial Real Estate Lending Team at East Boston Savings Bank anything is possible. No matter how big you're thinking, we have your back with quick, local decisions on loans up to $50 million. No one will work harder to help you build something great.

Get a look at our latest projects at EBSB.com/BIG.
Or call 800-657-3272.

East Boston Savings Bank
Mt. Washington Bank
MW
Partners in Community Banking

Member FDIC. Member DIF.

Fire Chief Issues Cold Weather Warning

Cont'd From Page 1

a 3-foot circle of safety, free of anything that can catch fire. Space heaters are not designed to replace your central heating system, they are only designed to provide a little extra heat on a temporary basis. So be sure to turn them off when you leave the room or go to bed at night.

It is best to plug space heaters and other heat-generating appliances directly into the outlet. Overloaded extension cords cause many space-heater fires. If you must use an extension cord, make sure it is rated for the same wattage as the appliance and use only one.

Wood, Coal and Pellet Stoves

Already this winter heating season, Massachusetts has seen numerous serious fires from the improper disposal of ashes from fireplaces, wood and pellet stoves. A single ember can remain hot for days, so put ashes in a metal container with a lid away from the house, the garage, the deck. Several recent fires started with ashes put into plastic bags, cardboard boxes, and plastic trash bins, in the garage, or under the deck.

Don't over fire your woodstove. An overtaxed woodstove can easily start a chimney fire taking advantage of creosote build-up or minor cracks in the flue or causing a breakdown in the chimney liner. Heating appliances are the leading cause of carbon monoxide poisoning in the home and the risk increases when they are working harder.

Preventive Maintenance

It's never too late to have a licensed professional clean and inspect your furnace or chimney. A professional can clean the chimney of creosote, and check for cracked or broken mortar. An efficiently running furnace is cheaper to run. Heating equipment is the leading cause of carbon monoxide in the home.

Prevent Carbon Monoxide Poisoning

Carbon monoxide (CO) poisoning is a great risk at times like these. Using propane or charcoal grills or generators inside the garage – even with the door open – poses a serious risk of CO poisoning. For the same reason, never use a gas oven for heat.

Generator Safety

Use generators outdoors away from windows, doors and vents with the exhaust pointed away from the home. Do not use them inside the garage, basement or partially enclosed areas no matter how well ventilated. Never plug a generator into a wall outlet. This practice known as "backfeeding" can cause an electrocution risk to utility workers and others served by the same transformer. Plug appliances directly into the generator or use a heavy-duty outdoor-rated extension cord. Make sure the entire cord is free of cuts or tears and the plug has all three prongs including the grounding pin. Fire officials recommend placing the container on the ground to avoid any static electrical charge that could ignite vapors.

Gasoline should be stored outside the home in small quantities in approved containers. Remember to allow equipment to cool before refueling, as this will help to prevent vapors from igniting.

Clear Snow from Furnace and Dryer Vents

Keep outside furnace, hot water and dryer vents clear of drifting snow, to prevent flue gases from backing up into the home and creating a carbon monoxide hazard.

Clear Snow from Vehicle Tailpipes

Two winters ago, two children from Boston died from carbon monoxide while sitting inside running vehicles where the tailpipe was clogged with snow. Doctors from the Boston Public Health Commission have created an educational video on CO poisoning that addresses this particular risk. (http://youtu.be/7Yy9zXsaeCA).

Use Flashlights and Battery-Operated Candles

Use flashlights and battery-operated candles for safety. If you must use flame candles, remember to burn them inside a one-foot circle of safety free of anything that can burn. Place them on a non-combustible surface or in the sink; blow them out when you leave the room or go to bed; and use jar candles or place a globe over stick candles. Keep pets and children away from candles.

Consider Going to a Shelter to Charge Cell Phones for Emergency Calls

Many people may lose the ability to make emergency calls when cell phone batteries and the battery-backup for fiber optic telephone/cable/Internet services become depleted. The Quincy Fire Department asks Quincy residents without lights and heat to consider staying with friends and family that have power, or go to an emergency shelter for a short while, even if it's just to charge up cell phones, get a hot meal and warm up.

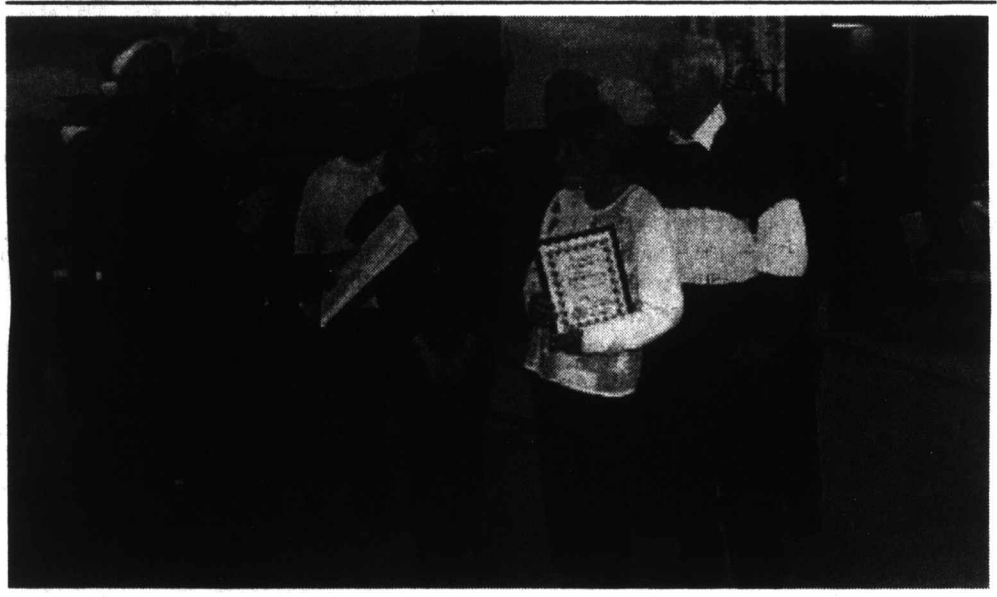
Prevent Freezing Pipes

Let water drip a trickle to prevent pipes from freezing and open cupboards under sinks to let heat circulate around the pipes.

If you should have any additional concerns or questions, please do not hesitate to call us.

We are here to serve the residents of the City of Quincy.

Michael Slade
Fire Prevention Officer
Quincy Fire Department
617-376-1015



TOM AND BARBARA CHENEY received the Community Service Award from the O'Brien Towers Residents Committee for their volunteer service to the residents at the O'Brien Towers. At the young age of 90 years old, Tom Cheney accompanies his wife of 65 years, Barbara, to volunteer at the facility each week. The residents committee honored two other individuals Frank Poon and John Chen for their work with seniors as well. Photo Courtesy Michael Cheney

Geographer To Speak On Climate Change Jan. 13 At Library

Stephen S. Young, a geography professor from Salem State University, will give a talk on climate change Tuesday, Jan. 13 at 7 p.m. at the Thomas Crane Public Library, 40 Washington St.

The talk, cosponsored by the library and Quincy Climate Action Network, will be pitched to a general audience, including those who are unconvinced that the climate is really changing.

In his talk, Young will review recent changes in temperature, weather, plant life, and sea levels in the northeastern U.S. Because of its extensive coastline, Quincy is especially vulnerable to rising sea levels, Young pointed out in a phone interview, adding that the northeast will see more unpredictable and violent weather as major storms move to higher latitudes.

Young's talk will also address common misconceptions about climate change, including the tendency to confuse weather with climate, and the local with the global. "People will say, 'It's cold here today, so there can't be climate change,'" said Young, who has a master's degree from Yale and a doctorate from Clark University.

Young studies the climate using satellite data and historical records. His original research has appeared in scholarly journals and anthologies, and he has co-edited two books on climate change, as well as a special climate change issue of The Northeastern Geographer.

'Dawn Of The Planet Of The Apes' Tonight

The film "Dawn of the Planet of the Apes" will be featured tonight (Thursday) at 6:30 p.m. at the Thomas Crane Public Library, 40 Washington St., Quincy.

The Thursday Night Feature Film screenings are sponsored by the Friends of the Thomas Crane Public Library.

Directed by Matt Reeves, "Dawn of the Planet of the Apes" stars Andy Serkis, Gary Oldman, Jason Clarke, Judy Greer, Keri Russell, and Kodi Smit-McPhee. Theatrically released in 2014, the 130-minute film is rated rated PG-13 for intense sequences of sci-fi violence and action, and brief strong language.

Other films scheduled this month:

- Jan. 15 at 6:30 p.m.: "The Equalizer."
- Jan. 22 at 7 p.m.: "Love is Strange."
- Jan. 29 at 7 p.m.: "The Drop."

For more information, visit thomascranelibrary.org or call 617-376-1316.

SALES. SERVICE. INSTALLATION
LOCKSMITH SERVICES
GRANITE LOCK Co. INC.
www.granitelock.com
617-472-2177
617-479-3341(Fax)
MA Sys. Con. Lic. 7025-C
•COMMERCIAL•
- Access Control
- Wireless Locks
- Electric Strikes
- Exit Hardware
- Door Openers/Closers
- Commercial Mailboxes
- High Security Key Systems
- Master Key Systems
- Handicap Access Hardware
•AUTOMOTIVE•
- Fit Keys to Autos/Rekeying
- Lockouts/Repairs
- Cloned/Transponder Keys
•SAFES•
- Sales/Repairs/Installations
- Combinations Changed
- Fire & Burglary Resistant Safes
•RESIDENTIAL•
- Deadbolts Installed
- Baldwin/Emtek Hardware
- Rekeying/Lockouts
755 Southern Artery, Rte. 3A Quincy, MA 02169
"Rock Solid Security"

WINE Copeland LIQUOR
PACKAGE STORE
COPELAND
The Best in Spirits
Dennis Carson
SERVING NEIGHBORS SINCE 1958
273 Copeland St. Quincy, MA 02169
(617)471-5418
www.copelandpackage.com

Looking for me?
Esthetica Hair Salon
Welcomes
Hair Stylist CAITLIN BAKER
ENJOY 20% OFF expires March 2015
your first service with Caitlin
Call for your appointment today!
(617) 786-8444
126 Franklin St. Quincy

Voted Best of the Best 10 Times!
BALDUCCI'S Pizza HOUSE OF PIZZA
35 Billings Road., N. Quincy
617-328-0448 • 617-328-9842
www.Balduccis-Online.com
DOUBLE DEAL
2 Lg. Cheese Pizzas
$13.95 +tax
(toppings extra • Expires 1/31/15)
or
$3.00 OFF
Order of $20.00 or more
(Expires 1/31/15)
(coupons cannot be combined)
WE DELIVER (limited area)

Mayor Expects 'Positive Results' On Flood Maps Appeal; To Unveil Downtown Development Parking, Traffic Plan

Cont'd From Page 9

chael Morrissey, Register of Probate Patrick McDermott, and Register of Deeds William O'Donnell; and Mark Coven, first justice of the Quincy District Court.

On infrastructure, Koch said he would present a five-year capital improvement plan in the coming weeks to address streets and sidewalks, public utilities, and city buildings. Additionally, a planning committee will be formed to study the feasibility of a new public safety headquarters and a separate committee to review a new animal shelter and dog park.

"I will be proposing a 5-year capital improvement plan in the coming months that will continue to address a number of long-standing needs of our public infrastructure. Specifically, that will mean increased investment in our streets and sidewalks, sewer, water and drainage projects, and a focus on our public buildings that need serious attention," Koch said.

"Our police officers and firefighters make a great commitment to our city on a daily basis, and we owe them and the public that relies on them no less than safe and functional buildings. In the coming weeks, we will be proposing major improvements to our neighborhood firehouses as part of that capital plan, and I am announcing tonight the creation of a planning committee to begin studying the feasibility of a public safety headquarters – with the help of a $1 million planning grant secured by our state delegation. Both the police and fire headquarters are showing the serious strains of age, and these are conditions that simply cannot be ignored.

TWO MAYORS – Former Mayor William Phelan (left) with Mayor Thomas Koch after the conclusion of the City Council's Mid-Term Meeting held Monday night in the Richardson Room of the Thomas Crane Public Library. Phelan was among a host of past and present federal, state and city officials who attended the meeting. Another former mayor - Joseph LaRaia - was also on hand to hear Koch give his fourth "State of the City" address.

WARD 5 COUNCILLOR Kirsten Hughes - who is expecting her second child in April - leads the gathering at Monday's Mid-Term Meeting in the singing of the Star Spangled Banner. At left is Councillor Joseph Finn who was uanimously elected to a second one-year term as Council President.

Quincy Sun Photos/Robert Bosworth

"This effort will include a separate planning committee to study the needs for a new animal shelter – with the expectation to dovetail with a plan to locate a dog park at an appropriate location in the city."

On the issue of downtown redevelopment, Koch intends to come forward with new development plans in the coming weeks. The mayor said he would draft a plan this year to tackle challenges, including parking and traffic, caused by new projects in Quincy Center and elsewhere.

"We've made great progress in our collective effort to redevelop our downtown. And while we hit a roadblock at this time last year, our resolve remains steadfast and our commitment is producing results. Construction will begin this year on the first phase of development in downtown and interest has never been higher. I expect to be discussing with you in the coming weeks a number of additional development plans for many areas in Quincy Center. Folks, if this was easy, it would've been done a long time ago," Koch said.

"This surge in private investment and growth in the community presents its own series of challenges – down to the neighborhood level. We have made tremendous progress in rebuilding a number of major intersections, roads and bridges. This year, we will develop a broad strategic plan to resolve a number of our traffic and parking issues citywide while focusing our development programs on areas in and around our public transit stations.

"For neighborhoods built in the 18th century, there is no easy solution for 21st century transportation issues. But we can and will make substantial improvements going forward."

In 2014, the city filed a letter of map revision to appeal the new federal flood maps, which added 1,400 properties into flood plains and placed another 2,700 already in flood plains into higher risk zones. In his midterm, Koch said positive results related to the city's appeal would be unveiled soon.

"Last year, the federal government, through the bureaucracy of the Federal Emergency Management Agency, dramatically changed flood insurance regulations and the flood plain maps that dictate who must pay flood insurance. Rather than complaining, we rolled up our sleeves and mounted the most aggressive, scientifically factual appeal anywhere in the Commonwealth," Koch said.

"I expect to be talking to you about the successful results of this work in the coming days."

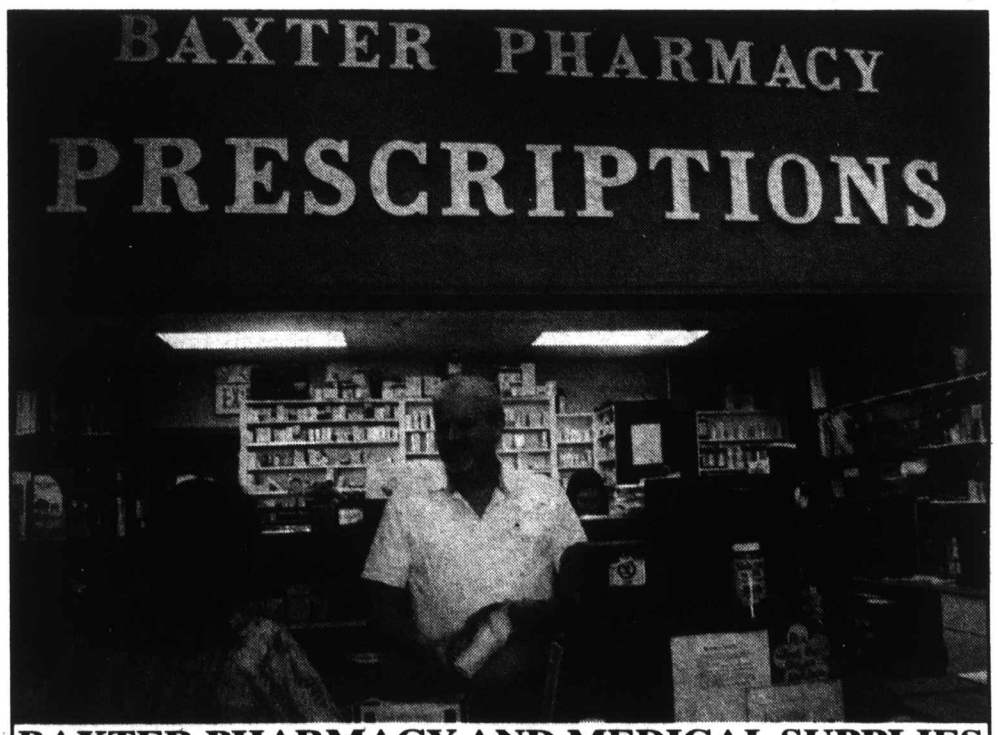
Koch also spoke about the closure of Quincy Medical Center during his midterm. He said the city would not give up its rights relative to the hospital

"Another challenge presented itself in November when Steward Health Care, a private for-profit company, announced it would close Quincy Medical Center with the approval of the state attorney general. We've spent the days since the announcement working with our partners at the state level and our counselors to ensure that critical services such as the emergency room and the VA clinic remain here in Quincy. Our work is only beginning," Koch said.

"The city has not been in the business of running of a hospital for almost 20 years and we must be mindful of the factors in the market and the financial reality that led to its closure. That said this city is not going to give up any of its rights relative to the future of the Quincy Medical Center facility and its property. We must and we will have an open and expansive dialogue with the entire community about the future of health care services and the role Quincy Medical Center and its property will have in our community."

Koch opened his midterm by dedicating it to his late brother, Joseph, an Army veteran and longtime city employee who died in August.

"Tonight I wish to dedicate my remarks to the memory of my brother, Joe, a veteran of the United States Army and a 37-year employee of the Department of Public Works and the Park and Forestry Departments," the mayor said. "His work on so many projects around the City is a permanent reminder of his love of Quincy and certainly a permanent reminder of his memory to all of us."



BAXTER PHARMACY AND MEDICAL SUPPLIES
DEDICATED TO OLD FASHIONED SERVICE
Hours: M-F 8AM-6:30PM Sat 9AM-4PM
ORTHOPEDIC SUPPORTS • BATH SAFETY PRODUCTS • DIABETIC SUPPLIES
OSTOMY • WALKERS • CANES • CRUTCHES • COMMODES • CARDS • GIFT ITEMS
464 Washington Street, Quincy, MA
LOCAL DELIVERY AVAILABLE 617-773-7733 www.baxterpharmacy.com

BellaDerma Aesthetics-LLC
Owned and Operated by Judith A. DiGravio RN, ADN
Gail S. Driscoll, RN, BSN
Medical Aestheticians

New Year... New You!

Environ® Age Management and Resurfacing Treatment
This extraordinary facial is recognized as one of the most advanced approaches to unwanted signs of aging. $100

Laser Hair Removal Series of 6 Treatments
We treat all genders and ethnicities with the Candela Lasers
Small Area: Choose: Lip or Chin : $200
Medium Area: Choose: Full Face (Full Face, Chin, Neck) / Underarms / Bikini: $450
Large Area: Choose: Back / Brazilian Bikini / Upper Leg / Lower Leg: $750
All 6 Treatments must be the same treatment area.

Slender Bodies Body Contouring
A combination of two proven technologies: Kontur & Pure Light Slim
Benefits: Detoxify the Body / Inch Loss & Body Shaping / Cellulite Reduction
Weight Loss / Tighten and Rejuvenate Skin/ Pain Management / Post Pregnancy Recovery
Series of 12 treatments $599 / Single Treatment $125

Botox® & Juvederm® XC
Complimentary Consultations - Performed by nurses
Botox $10 per unit / Juvederm $450 per syringe

New Services
Teeth Whitening - 60 Minutes (reg. $125) $75
Lash Extensions - Natural or Classic Set (reg. $150-$200) $99
Envy Spray Tan $40 Full Body / Legs Only $25

"How old you are is your business...
How old you look is ours!"™
Our NEW Location: 10 Forbes Rd. Suite 270 East Entrance, Braintree I 781-535-6886
www.belladermaskinclinic.com

200 Employees Bid QMC Farewell

Cont'd From Page 2

I'd see this close, never ever." She said that now she'll have to travel to either South Shore Hospital in Weymouth or Milton Hospital for care.

She even said that she felt guilty over the last couple of years for receiving care elsewhere after changing her insurance provider. For-profit hospital network Steward bought 124-year-old QMC — which had been losing $20 million per year as patients flocked to larger teaching hospitals outside of the city — out of bankruptcy in 2011.

Steward then invested $100 million in an attempt to improve patient access, quality of care, and patient safety by updating the facility with a new lobby, parking lot, by renovating patient rooms, and by building a new geriatric psychiatry unit before the closure.

An agreement signed by the Boston-based company upon its purchase of QMC stated that they would keep the hospital open for at least seven years. The premature closing prompted Attorney General Martha Coakley to launch an investigation into the legality of Steward's actions.

Jerry Galvin worked for 44 years in the hospital's transportation department bringing patients to and from different parts of the facility located on what many call "hospital hill." He stayed for so long, he said, because he likes helping people and was disappointed to see the hospital close. A city the size of Quincy needs a hospital with an emergency room, he said.

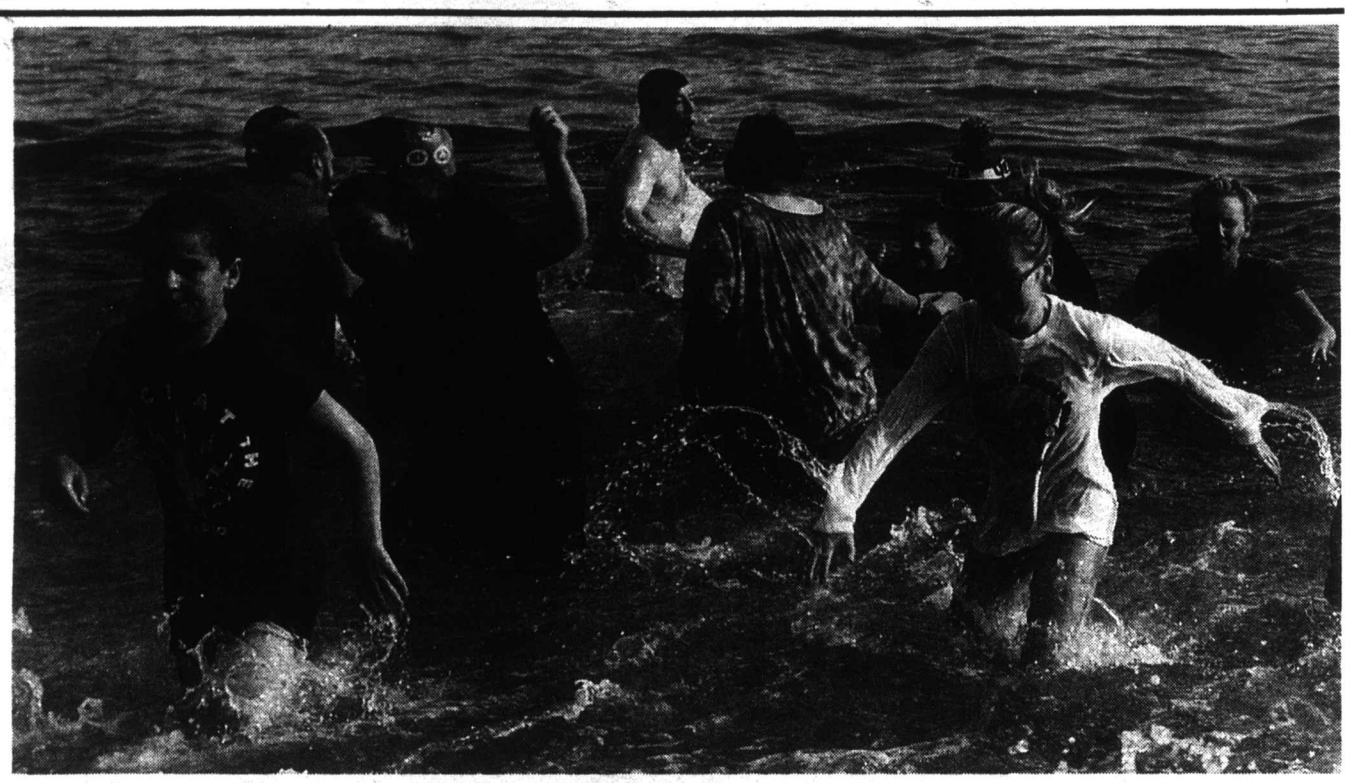
Steward's decision to close QMC has resulted in Quincy being the largest city — with a population of over 93,000 — in the commonwealth without its own hospital.

QMC ceased emergency room operations on Dec. 26. The next day, the 24-hour Steward Satellite Emergency Facility — Quincy located at the site of the hospital's former emergency room at 114 Whitwell St. began receiving patients following approval from the state Department of Public Health.

Inpatient care units saw their last admissions on Dec. 20 and all medical records were preserved and transferred to Carney Hospital in Dorchester.

Operating under the Carney Hospital license, the satellite facility is staffed by physicians and nurses offering a full range of emergency services. Those needing more intensive trauma care will be transferred to acute-care hospitals outside of the city, according to a statement released by Steward who plans to keep the satellite emergency room open until Dec. 31, 2015.

Steward is also providing urgent care and specialty services at 54 Miller St. and specialty services at 700 Congress St. as part of a transition plan aimed at providing uninterrupted care to former patients of QMC.



PARTICIPANTS IN Saturday's "Polar Plunge" to benefit the Atherton Hough School retreat to shore after bravely taking a dip into Quincy Bay. The water temperature at the Houghs Neck Maritime Center was a quite cool 39-degrees.

Quincy Sun Photos/Robert Bosworth

50 'Plunge' For Atherton Hough School

Quick Dip Into 39-Degree Water Of Quincy Bay Raises $1,100

By KRIS KALABOKAS

Roughly 50 people young and old participated in the first annual Atherton Hough Elementary School PTO sponsored Polar Plunge at the Houghs Neck Maritime Center on Saturday morning raising over $1,100 to benefit the school.

Nancy Cross, chairperson of the school's fundraising committee, organized the event after she brainstormed some creative and new ways to get people involved in raising money for the school.

She said the idea of a polar plunge came up because she wanted to do something new and different to get people involved. "The community is really good at supporting the school so it's something that would be exciting," she said. "It would kind of be for all ages and then people who don't even have kids in schools might want to participate."

JOHN TOLER (left), president of the Atherton Hough Elementary School PTO, and his friend, Jack McCourt, triumphantly exit the water with their hands held high after completing the "Polar Plunge" Saturday in Houghs Neck.

"Everyone likes the idea. It's something exciting, something new," said Cross.

The timing of the event in early January was ideal because families are still usually gathered following holiday and New Year's celebrations, she added.

Forms were sent home with students of Atherton Hough spreading word of the event, said Cross. The event was also shared on Facebook.

Cross was brave enough to take the icy plunge herself. "I'm ready to go," she said as she manned the registration table before the 10 a.m. start time.

People began arriving at the maritime center an hour before their freezing dip and prepared by drinking hot chocolate and enjoying baked goods prepared and sold by PTO members and members of the Houghs Neck community.

All money raised through the sale of baked goods went to the Atherton Hough Elementary School.

The registration fee for the plunge was $20 for adults and $10 for kids with a family cap of $40.

Some waited outside in hopes of growing accustomed to the cold temperature before entering the water while others stayed inside in the warmth for as long as possible.

Liz Kineavy stood by the sidelines and cheered on her friend Maureen O'Hara along with her 9-year-old daughter Madison O'Hara-Kelly who is a third grader at Atherton Hough. "She's my best friend and they're raising money for the school so it's a good reason and honestly I cant believe she's doing it," she said. "It blows my mind that anyone would do this."

As O'Hara and her daughter made their way to the water's edge Kineavy, who admitted that she would never take part in a polar plunge, shouted words of encouragement and support.

They joined the others who had eagerly lined up, preparing to enter the 39-degree water. After a short countdown they were off, encouraged to wade out just as far out as a member of the city's marine unit was situ-

Cont'd On Page 36

Prospect Hill Company
Spectacular Weekend Sale
on First Communion Dresses
3 DAYS ONLY
Saturday, January 17th
9:00 a.m. – 5:00 p.m.
Sunday, January 18th
12 Noon – 4:00 p.m.
Monday, January 19th
9:00 a.m. – 6:00 p.m.
Up to 60% OFF on Discontinued Communion Dresses
800 Dresses in Stock
Also showing our 2015 Designer Dress Collection
Great Selection of Large and Half Sizes
• Veils • Girls' Shoes • Nylons • Gloves • Purses • Capes
BOYS' WHITE SUIT SALE – February 16th-21st
ALL SUITS 20% OFF
12 Field Street, Brockton • near Brockton/Avon Line
Minutes off Route 24 • 1-800-586-1951

VOICE FOR HEALTH
by Dr. Gabrielle Freedman
Chiropractor
STRAIGHT TALK ABOUT POSTURE
If you never listened to your parents' advice to "stand up straight," you may want to pay heed to a study involving more than 800 people ages 65 and older. It found that those with the greatest "angle of inclination,' which is the angle between the first thoracic vertebra (near the head) and the first sacral vertebra (in the lower spine), had a 3.5 times greater likelihood of becoming dependent for help in performing daily living activities such as bathing, dressing, eating, going to the bathroom, and getting in and out of a bed or chair. Good posture was also linked to better recall memory because practicing good posture improves concentration and facilitates better absorption and retention of information.
At FAMILY PRACTICE OF CHIROPRACTIC, we are experts at analyzing posture and spinal problems. When evaluating spinal curvatures and alignment, we search for the problems that contribute to each patient's individual concerns. We have carefully developed a staff that genuinely cares and listens to the patient. Schedule your appointment by calling us at 617.472.4220. We're located at 112 McGrath Hwy., Quincy. Give chiropractic a try! We offer computerized spinal scans.
P.S. Slouching and slumping increase pressure on body parts such as the jaw, neck, chest, and lower back, which can lead to breathing problems, digestive complications, and increased risk for falls.
www.freedmanchiro.com

Unanimously Re-Elected City Council President

Finn: Council Appropriate Body To Wrestle With Complex Issues

By SCOTT JACKSON

After being re-elected to his second one-year term as City Council president, Joseph Finn said the council is a place where complex issues should be wrestled with and that the questions raised during meetings are almost as important as the solutions being brought forward.

Finn, who is serving his seventh term as an at-large councillor, was unanimously elected council president for 2015 Monday night at the body's organizational meeting at the Thomas Crane Public Library. He said issues facing the community – including substance abuse, the closure of Quincy Medical Center, and redevelopment of Quincy Center – are complex ones that are often not entirely within the city's control.

"What seems clear to me from my own experience is the issues that face the city of Quincy and our community are complex. And they are complex because they are often impacted by circumstances and conditions not entirely within our own control and sometimes – and I think this is the most difficult part – contrary to our own perceptions and most ideal visions of ourselves," Finn said.

"Whether we are speaking of the growing opioid and addiction problem and the impact it has upon our children, or the closing of Quincy Medical Center and the changing nature of the delivery of health care services in our community, or the importance of development of our downtown and its impact for generations to come – regardless of the issue, the nature of the problems we face and their solutions as well as the generation of the resources necessary to impact these issues are incredibly complex. Be wary of anyone who proposes easy answers.

"However, no matter the issue, I believe that the Quincy City Council should be the place where complexity is wrestled with. In this context and the debate that occurs there, the questions that are asked are almost as important as the answers proposed."

Finn also noted councillors have much better access to information now than they had in years past, thanks to upgrades made to technology the city uses. He credited City Clerk Joseph Shea, Assistant City Clerk Nicole Crispo, city Auditor Susan O'Connor, Clerk of Committees Jennifer Manning and council staffers Kathy Noonan, Ann Alexander, and Joanne Marinopolis for implementing those changes, as well as Bob Murphy, who has volunteered his time to work with the council's new technology committee. Finn also said he was grateful to Mayor Thomas Koch for making the necessary resources available.

Councillor Michael McFarland, who served as president in 2012 and 2013, nominated Finn for a second term Monday night. He said Finn has done an excellent job as president, citing the special permitting process for Avalon Quincy.

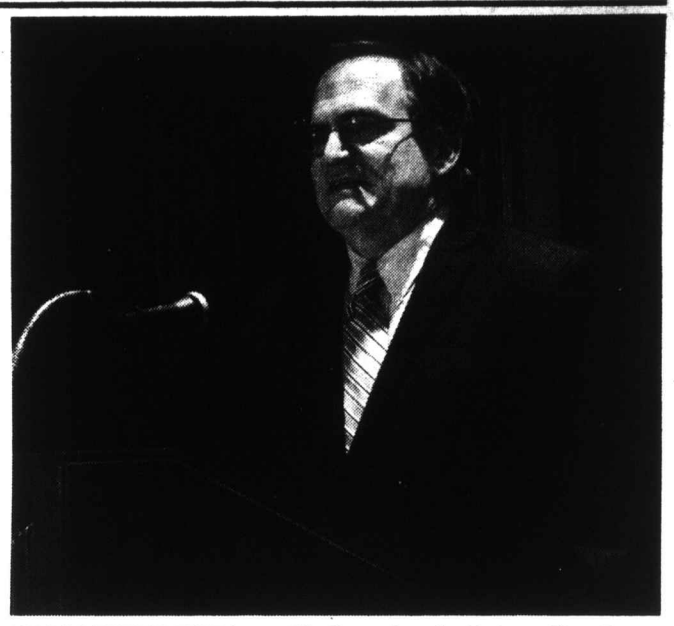
"Joe is a man of high moral character and integrity. Joe is a family man who understands the decisions the City Council makes affect the quality of life in our community. Joe knows how to balance our role as legislators and fiscal watchdogs with our ability to improve education, public safety, infrastructure, and park and recreation spaces," McFarland said.

"Joe has done an excellent job in his first year as council president. Joe has re-organized the City Council while dealing with complex special permit and downtown matters. Joe gives all city councillors a voice. Joe is a fair, honest, and compassionate man."

Ward 4 Councillor Brian Palmucci seconded the nomination.

"Joe has over the past year proven not only capable of nobly leading this body but also well-suited for this job. Under his guidance we have safely navigated the treacherous waters of a major SPGA project. Under his management of the council office, we have seamlessly transitioned new staff into important positions. And under his leadership, the council has embarked on much needed technological upgrades to better allow councillors to communicate with and represent the citizens of Quincy," Palmucci said.

"The fruits of his labor as president are of long lasting impacting that will help shape not only this City Council, but the many that will come after us. There is not a councillor among us who is better suited to lead this body for the next year than Joe Finn," Palmucci added.



"NO MATTER THE issue, I believe that the Quincy City Council should be the place where complexity is wrestled with," City Council President Joseph Finn said after he was unanimously re-elected to a second one-year term at Monday's Mid-Term meeting at the Crane Library. "In this context and the debate that occurs there, the questions that are asked are almost as important as the answers proposed."

Quincy Sun Photo/Robert Bosworth

HN Community Council To Host MLK Service Day

The Houghs Neck Community Council has been awarded a mini-grant from the Massachusetts Service Alliance to host a "Martin Luther King Service Day" on Monday, Jan. 19th from noon to 4 p.m. at the HN Community Center, 1193 Sea St.

Families and youth groups are invited to attend an open house set up with five service stations. Activities include a winter coat drive, letters to troops, valentines for seniors, handmade flash cards, and a take-home philanthropy bank.

Individuals or groups may register for this event at http://mlkdayquincy.eventbrite.com. Additional questions or comments may be directed to the Event Coordinator, Zoe Antonopoulos at zantonopoulo@gmail.com.

The Houghs Neck Service Day will follow the annual Martin Luther King Breakfast to take place at Germantown Neighborhood Center, a branch of the South Shore YMCA, at 366 Palmer St.

Dina's Hair & Nail Unisex Salon
5 School St., Quincy
617.479.1797

Adult Cuts	$9.00
Color	$30.00
Hair Cut & Blowdry	$25.00
Matrix Perm	$40.00
Wax, Lip & Eyebrows	$6.00

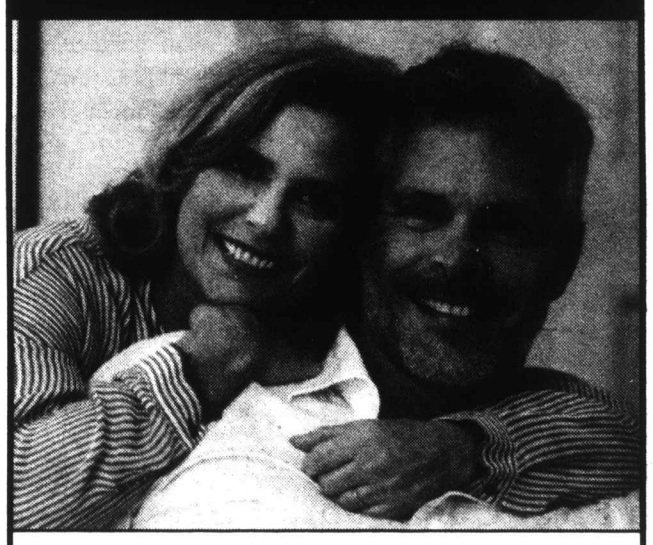
Includes wash, cut & style

WE ALSO DO EXTENSIONS
1st time clients only

Chair for Rent call Dina for more info.

Reliable Tax Service
518 Hancock Street, Quincy
(617)773-7360
www.reliabletaxservice.com
10% Discount (new clients only)
Individual Income Tax $65 up
Corporate Income Tax $350 up
Experienced IRS Enrolled Agent

Always here for you



With Urgent Care and 24/7 Medical Advice

Our practices in Quincy and Braintree provide you with primary and specialty care and convenient on-site labs and imaging.

Atrius Health

Granite Medical Group
500 Congress Street, Quincy | 617-471-0033
www.granitemedical.com

Harvard Vanguard Medical Associates
111 Grossman Drive, Braintree | 781-849-1000
1250 Hancock Street, Quincy | 617-774-0600
www.harvardvanguard.org

Affiliated with South Shore Hospital and Beth Israel Deaconess Hospital-Milton

coffee Break CAFE EAT. DRINK. CAFFEINATE. LOCAL JANUARY
FLAVOR OF THE MONTH
White Chocolate Nut Crunch

12 Old Colony Avenue, Quincy: (617) 773-9420
77 Parkingway, Quincy:(617) 786-8888
247 Atlantic Street, Quincy:(617) 328-8090
Buy Online: coffeebreakcafe.net

DENTISTRY for the 21st Century
by Steven A. Brustin, D.M.D.

ROOT CAUSE AND EFFECT

In the event that tooth decay penetrates the tooth's crown and pierces the root chamber, the root becomes infected with all the attendant pain. At this point, the patient has the choice of having the tooth extracted or undergoing "root canal treatment." Extraction is a quick fix that poses two drawbacks. The first is that the gap left behind must be filled. The second is that, when teeth are extracted, the supporting bone under the gum shrinks. Thus, as a general rule, it is best to keep the roots of natural teeth as long as possible. A tooth with an infected root can usually be saved with root canal treatment, after which an artificial crown can be set in place. Modern root canal therapy can usually be performed with little or no discomfort. Our experienced dental and support staff takes pride in providing the most comprehensive care possible for all members of your family in a relaxed, comfortable setting. When you come to visit us at 44 Greenleaf Street, you can expect the highest level of restorative dentistry available. Call us at 617 479-6220 for an appointment. We offer the services of anesthesiology with a fully trained and qualified anesthesiologist.

P.S. Root canal treatment with a crown restoration is a cost-effective way of treating an infected tooth because it is usually less expensive than extraction and placement of an implant.

Salvation Army Surpasses Kettle Fundraising Goal

Generous Donors, Milder Weather, Additional Staffing Attributed To Increase Of $14,000 Over Last Year's Red Kettle Campaign

By KRIS KALABOKAS

Through the generosity of the people of Quincy and due to a string of mild days leading up to the holidays, the Salvation Army has raised $138,000 via their Red Kettle campaign this season, according to Capt. Timothy Ross of the Salvation Army Quincy Temple Corps.

Milder weather in December meant more foot traffic and an increase of $14,000 more donated compared to last year's total of $124,000 to the city's seven red kettles which were placed one week before Thanksgiving and stayed out until the afternoon of Dec. 24.

"Last year we had three weeks of bitter cold," said Ross. Despite the chilly weather then, people still reached into their pockets to give what they could.

Additional kettle staffing and an extra day of having the kettles outside also helped the Salvation Army surpass their proposed goal of $130,000 in donations for this year, he said.

The kettles throughout the city — many placed at local supermarkets — were manned by Salvation Army office staff members and volunteers from the Quincy Fire Department, the Rotary Club of Quincy, the Quincy Lions Club, community leaders and others generous enough to spare some of their time.

The volunteers proved extremely valuable as during the holiday season there typically aren't enough Salvation Army employees to stand with each kettle, said Ross.

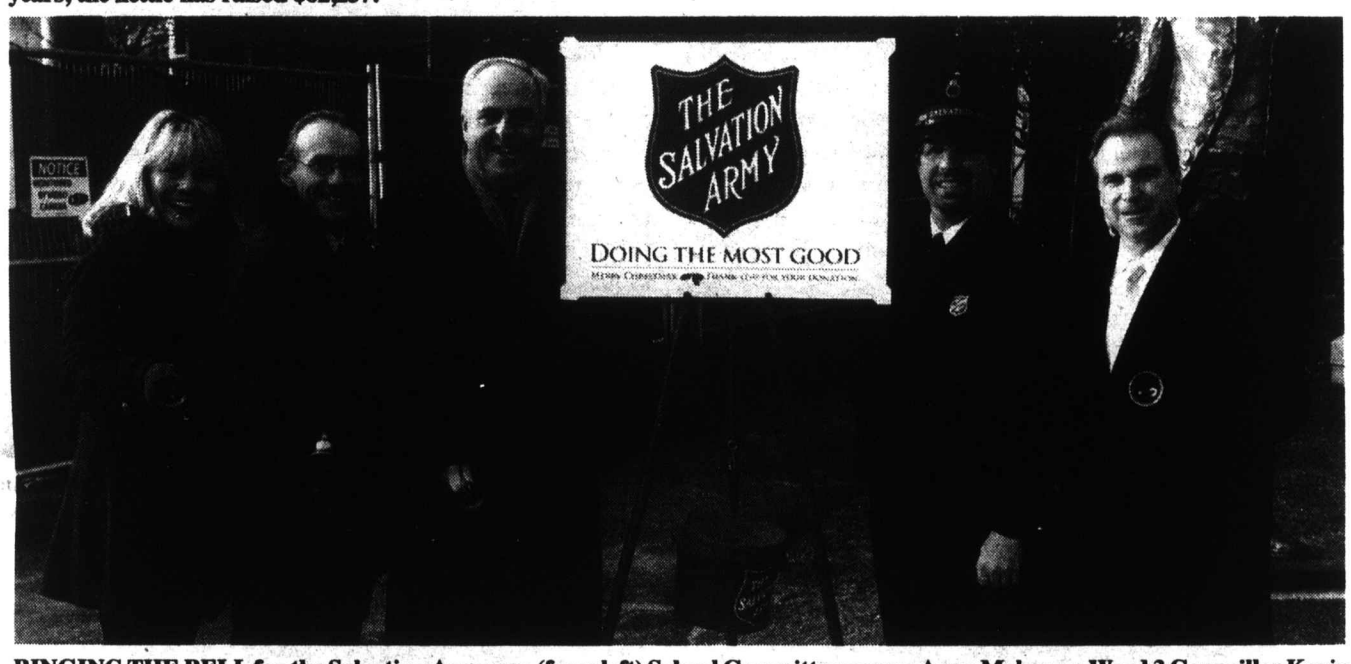
The money raised "stays right here in this community," he said. The $138,000 will stretch through all of 2015 and help those needing emergency rent assistance and will stock local food pantries.

Ross added that some of the money is reserved for unforeseen emergencies and also goes to benefit local social assistance programs for both adults and children.

Additionally, some of the money is set aside for the purchase of Christmas gifts and toys for Quincy's needy children as well as Christmas food baskets for those struggling to feed their family during the holiday season.

Ross emphasized the Salvation Army would not have been able to meet and even surpass its goal if it weren't for the generous people of Quincy who donated what they could to help those less fortunate than themselves.

MORE THAN 50 community leaders volunteered to ring the bell for the Salvation Army during its Christmas Kettle Campaign in Quincy Center recently. Two kettles were manned - one outside The Quincy Sun office and another outside Quincy City Hall. Thanks to the generosity of many donors, nearly $5,800 was raised. A third "Christmas in July" kettle that was manned outside The Sun office during the summer raised another $1,100 - bringing the total to $6,899. The money collected at the kettles provides food, fuel assistance and other basic necessities to the less fortunate throughout the year. Among those manning the kettle this year outside City Hall are (from left) Norfolk County Sheriff Michael Bellotti, Quincy Sun Publisher Robert Bosworth, Mayor Thomas Koch, former Norfolk County Dist. Atty. George Burke and Chuck Phelan, the city's director of Information Technology. The community leader kettle was established by former Quincy Sun Publisher Henry Bosworth in 1997. Over the last 18 years, the kettle has raised $62,257.



RINGING THE BELL for the Salvation Army are (from left) School Committeewoman Anne Mahoney, Ward 3 Councillor Kevin Coughlin, School Committeeman David McCarthy, Capt. Timothy Ross, Quincy Salvation Army and Councillor Doug Gutro.

THE LAW FIRM of Baker, Braverman & Barbadoro, P.C. also pitched in this year with about a dozen staffers manning the kettle. From left: Susan Molinari, Esq., Paul Barbadoro, Esq. and Capt. Timothy Ross.

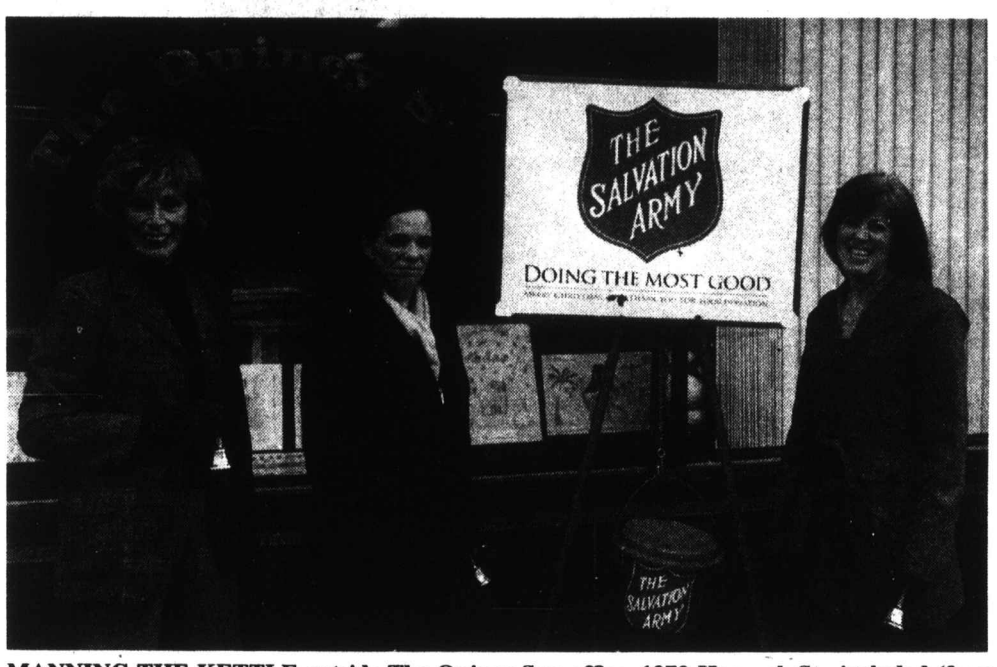
OTHER COMMUNITY LEADERS (from left) Dean Rizzo, President, Quincy Chamber of Commerce; Norfolk County Register of Probate Patrick McDermott; Amy Huber, Northeast Community Bank and Quincy Salvation Army Advisory Board; School Committeeman Paul Bregoli and state Sen. John Keenan.

Quincy Sun Photos
Robert Bosworth

QUINCY CHAMBER of Commerce Vice President Jessica Feenan (far left), Quincy Community Preservation Committee Chairperson Lisa Aimola, Ward 5 Councillor Kirsten Hughes and School Committeewoman Kathy Hubley.

POLICE CHIEF Paul Keenan, Norfolk County Sheriff Michael Bellotti, Fire Chief Joseph Barron and Isobel Bertman, Rogers Jewelry and Quincy Salvation Army Advisory Board.

Community Leaders Ring Bell At Salvation Army Kettle



MANNING THE KETTLE outside The Quincy Sun office, 1372 Hancock St., included (from left) Maralin Manning, Quincy Salvation Army Advisory Board; Amy Morin and Melissa Simmons, both from Baker, Braverman & Barbadoro, P.C.

ALSO RINGING THE bell for the Salvation Army outside Quincy City Hall were (from left) former Mayor Frank McCauley, former City Clerk and current Norfolk County Commissioner John Gillis, City Clerk Joe Shea and Ward 1 Councillor Margaret Laforest.

FROM LEFT - Robert Hiltunen of Baker, Braverman & Barbadoro; Crane Public Library Director Megan Allen and state Rep. Bruce Ayers.

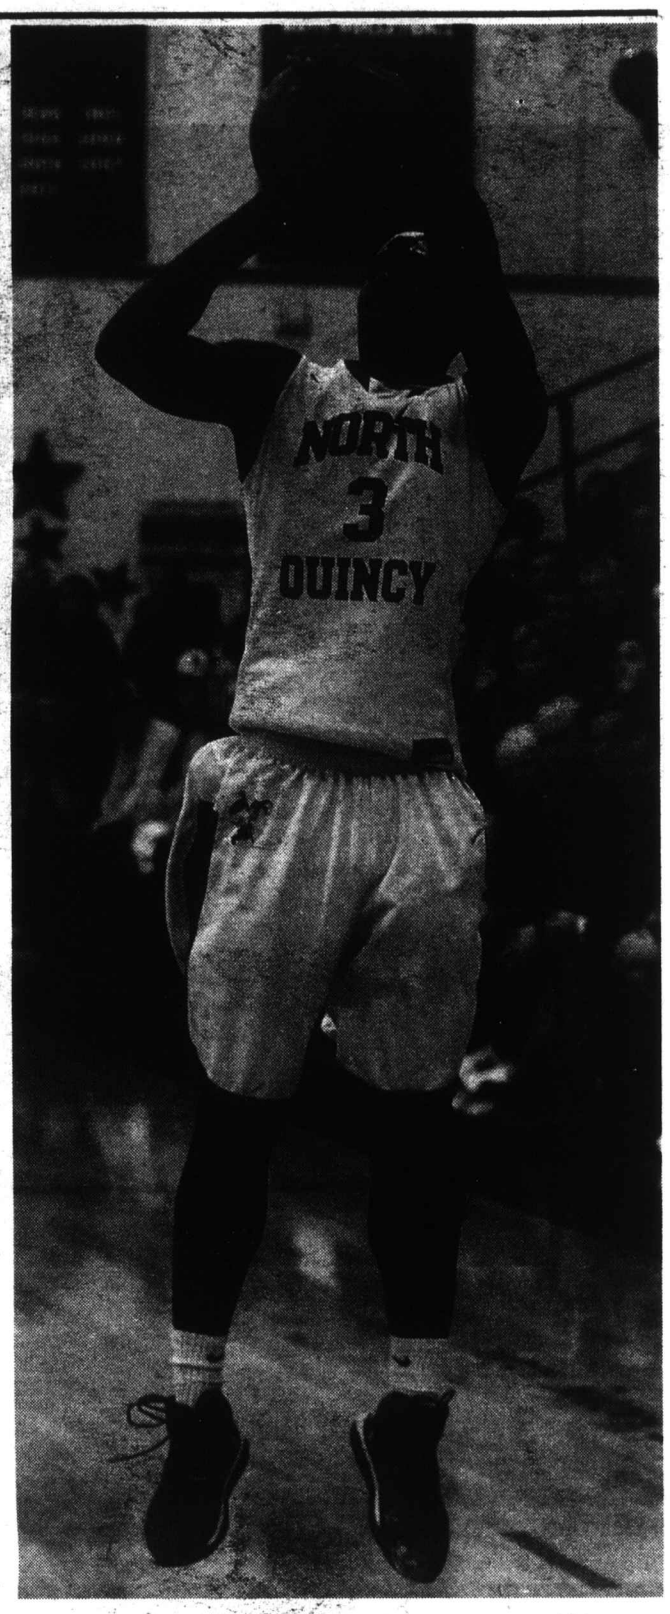
FROM LEFT - School Committeeman Noel DiBona, Kelley Condon and Kayleen McClory, both of Baker, Braverman & Barbadoro, P.C.

QUINCY CHAMBER OF Commerce Membership and Business Development Manager Ellaine Deeken, Quincy community activist and World War II veteran Bob Noble and Janet Batson, chairperson, Discover Quincy Board.

WARD 2 COUNCILLOR Brad Croall, Quincy Access TV Director Bette Campbell and Quincy Public Schools Supt. Dr. Richard DeCristofaro

BAKER, BRAVERMAN & BARBADORO associates Elizabeth Caruso, Esq., Elissa Burton, Esq. and state Rep. Tackey Chan. Quincy Sun Photos by Robert Bosworth

ALSO RINGING THE Bell for the Salvation Army outside City Hall (from left), Sean Galvin, Galvin Structures; Jim Martin, Tiles by Perfection; Frank Trainor, Commonwealth Building; Ed Barrett, E.L. Barrett Co., and Bruce Wood, Wood Commercial Painting.



QUINCY'S JAMES LAM blocks a shot by North Quincy's Solomon Umoren in the Presidents' 65-60 win over the Red Raiders last Saturday at NQHS. Lam also scored 24 points for the Presidents in the win. Quincy Sun Photos/Robert Bosworth

NORTH QUINCY'S Solomon Umoren scores two of his team-high 21 points but the Red Raiders' fourth-quarter rally fell short as the Presidents prevailed, 65-60.

Lam, Evans Power Presidents

By BILL GRIFFIN

There were signs last Saturday that winter had surely arrived. The new year marched into its third day, snow covered the ground for the first time of the season, and Quincy and North Quincy played themselves a beauty of a basketball game.

Go back four years and there are nothing but hoop treasures between the two city rivals. Last year it took three games to settle it. North won at home behind a flood of three-pointers from Jackie Chen. Quincy won at home by a point and ruined North's unbeaten season. Two weeks later in the tournament in its gym, North won in a game that fired the passions of the city more than any other in decades.

It was this third game, that tournament game, that Quincy remembered and remembered well when they walked into the North gym Saturday afternoon. Colin Evans and James Lam each scored 24 points. The Presidents opened a 17-point lead with an eye-popping show of brilliant two-way basketball and then held off a gallant fourth-quarter rally to edge North, 65-60 in yet another classic before yet another standing-room-only crowd.

"I'd be lying if I said last year wasn't on our mind. We wanted to make up for it tonight. We had a picture on the bulletin board to remind us of it," said Quincy coach Dave Parry. "I thought our defense was very good early in the game and we showed our experience when it got close at the end."

"We knew they would come out strong. We kind of weathered the storm early, and I was happy with the poise we showed after we fell behind. We got ourselves back into the game and had a chance at the end," said North coach Kevin Barrett.

"It was a great game, a rivalry game with a great atmosphere. You can't beat it."

Quincy (5-1) never trailed after the midway point of the first period. The Presidents led, 26-13 after one. It grew to 32-15 early in the second. Barrett steadied the game by going to a zone to change the pace and protect his players from foul trouble. The two battled evenly through the second and third periods, but Quincy was still up, 40-30 entering the fourth.

It was not over because if the Red Raiders (5-1) have shown one thing over the past four years, it is that they never, not ever, give up on a basketball game.

"Against North it is always a 32-minute basketball game. I told my kids they need their A game for four quarters," said Parry.

Solomon Umoren (21 points) hit two outrageous threes and covered the floor with his athleticism. Junior point guard Dhaaky Drake (13 points) cashed two slashing drive to the basket, opened up the floor with his quickness and created open looks for his mates. Matt Gerakis (15 points) drained a three, got to the bucket for a hoop and a foul, and played steady basketball in the midst of the storm. Connor Pound and Jackie Chen won 50-50 balls and kept the rally rolling.

"They won a lot of contested rebounds and that hurt us," said Parry.

A Chen drive made it 55-53 with 3:00 left. A Umoren three cut it to 62-60 with 0:30 left. Twice North was right there. Good teams have melted in the face of a North rally in this gym. Quincy did not melt because not only did Evans and Lam lead all scorers, they made the plays which won the game.

At 55-53, Evans bounced a perfect backdoor feed to Lam who cut free for a layup. Seconds later, Evans calmly swished Quincy's only three pointer of the game from just outside the top of the key. At 62-60, Lam grabbed his 15th rebound of the night of a missed North free throw with 0:40 left which Parry called the biggest play of the game. Each player cooly knocked home two free throws in the final minute to put away the victory.

This is a team with five senior starters, four of whom have played serious varsity minutes for three years. They have played many tough and close games. It showed.

"We learned from last year, we learned from the BABC Holiday Tourney we played in town, we learned from playing against college kids over the summer. These kids have played a lot of basketball together," said Parry.

Evans is the story of the team for the young season. As a sophomore, he shot down the rim and led his team with 24 threes. Last year he lost his shot and scored by getting to the basket. Over the summer, he worked hard, and put the shot and drive back together. The results have been striking. He has so many weapons. He had four lefty finishes against North, three of which were hook shots. And, oh yeah, he made the pass and the three which decided the game.

"He changed his shot last year and struggled a little with it. He improved his drives and now you're seeing the fruits of his labors. He's ambidextrous, so he can finish with either hand," said Parry.

Lam dominated the game with his athleticism. There were the 15 rebounds and there was much more. He brought the ball up, found the open man, got to the basket and hit the medium-range jumper. J.T. Bain pounded the inside for 13 points. Tyler Beach was solid at the point, but, more than any player, Drew Myers may have best symbolized the win.

Myers is an elite shooter, a marksman who can shoot with any player on the South Shore. He scored two points against North. Quincy would not have won without him. His shot wasn't there, but he ran through about 100 picks and played fine defense on Chen (five points) North's indispensable outside shooter.

"Drew knew what we needed from him and that was defense tonight," said Parry.

The Presidents gave a glimpse of the basketball they can play in the first period. The halfcourt man-to-man defense and fullcourt trap both worked and set the offense in motion. They pounded it inside to Bain and hit the open jumper when it was there. Mostly, the ball moved. It popped from player to player, moving from good shots to better shots. The best came on a Bain-Myers-Evans connection on which the ball never touched the floor.

"We passed well early in the game. The best part about this team is nobody cares who scores, who gets the points," said Parry.

North played with the toughness and intelligence shown by all of Barrett's teams. They are a man-to-man team, but when they had to go to a zone early in the second period, they played an excellent 2-3 which took back the middle and gave them a chance to win the game. Umoren matched Lam. Drake, handled the ball well under serious pressure, and, after just six games, showed signs of being a high quality varsity point guard.

Gerakis played a smart, complete basketball game. Pound, again after just six games, was a strong force inside against Lam and Bain. Chen played a good floor game and will surely have nights when his shot will fall.

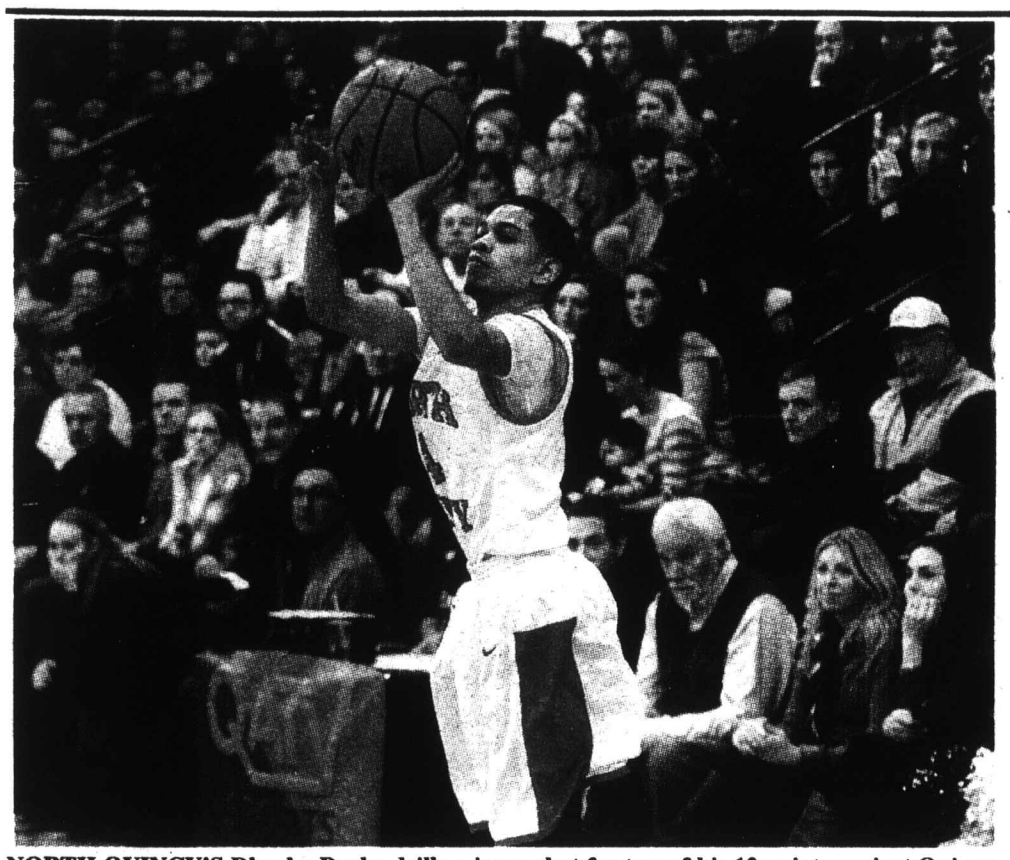
A telling stat? North outscored Quincy from the field, but went 4-12 from the line, including missing two big one-and-ones in the fourth.

"I'd like to have four of those free throws," smiled Barrett. "Solomon has stepped up with his words and actions. I think Dhaaky is settling in as a point guard on this level. I was proud of the way we fought back, and we were right there at the end.

"Quincy has the look of a senior team that is clicking on all cylinders, and I think that showed when it got close. They were very good tonight. There's a lot of basketball left, 14 games, and it should be interesting.

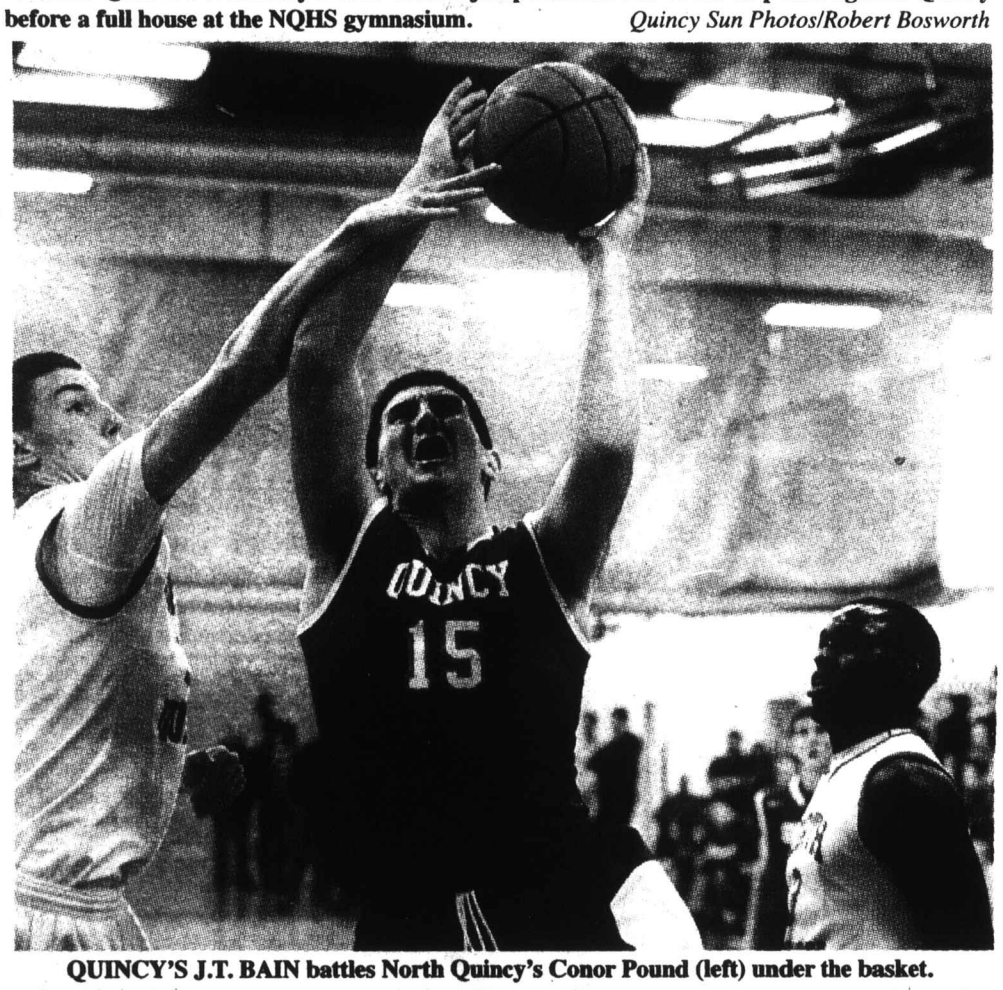
One of them is at Quincy Feb. 13 at 7 p.m. Be there.

North Quincy hosted Duxbury Wednesday. Quincy is at home against Silver Lake Friday.



NORTH QUINCY'S Dhaaky Drake drills a jump shot for two of his 12 points against Quincy before a full house at the NQHS gymnasium. Quincy Sun Photos/Robert Bosworth

QUINCY'S COLIN EVANS tosses in two of his 24 points to help power the Presidents past the Red Raiders 65-60 Saturday.



QUINCY'S J.T. BAIN battles North Quincy's Conor Pound (left) under the basket.

More Photos Online: wwwTheQuincySun.com (click galleries)

Resolve to protect your family this new year.

Do you have a plan for your estate, your legacy? Can you say with certainty that your estate will go to the people you want? Are you protected from nursing home costs and estate taxes?

If you have no plan, rest assured the state has one for you. At Bank of Canton, we'll help make provisions for your loved ones in accordance with your wishes!

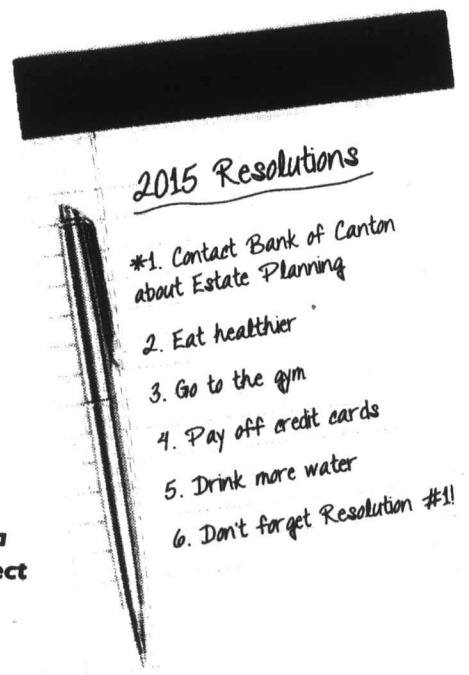
This year, make a resolution to protect your family. We can help- I guarantee it!

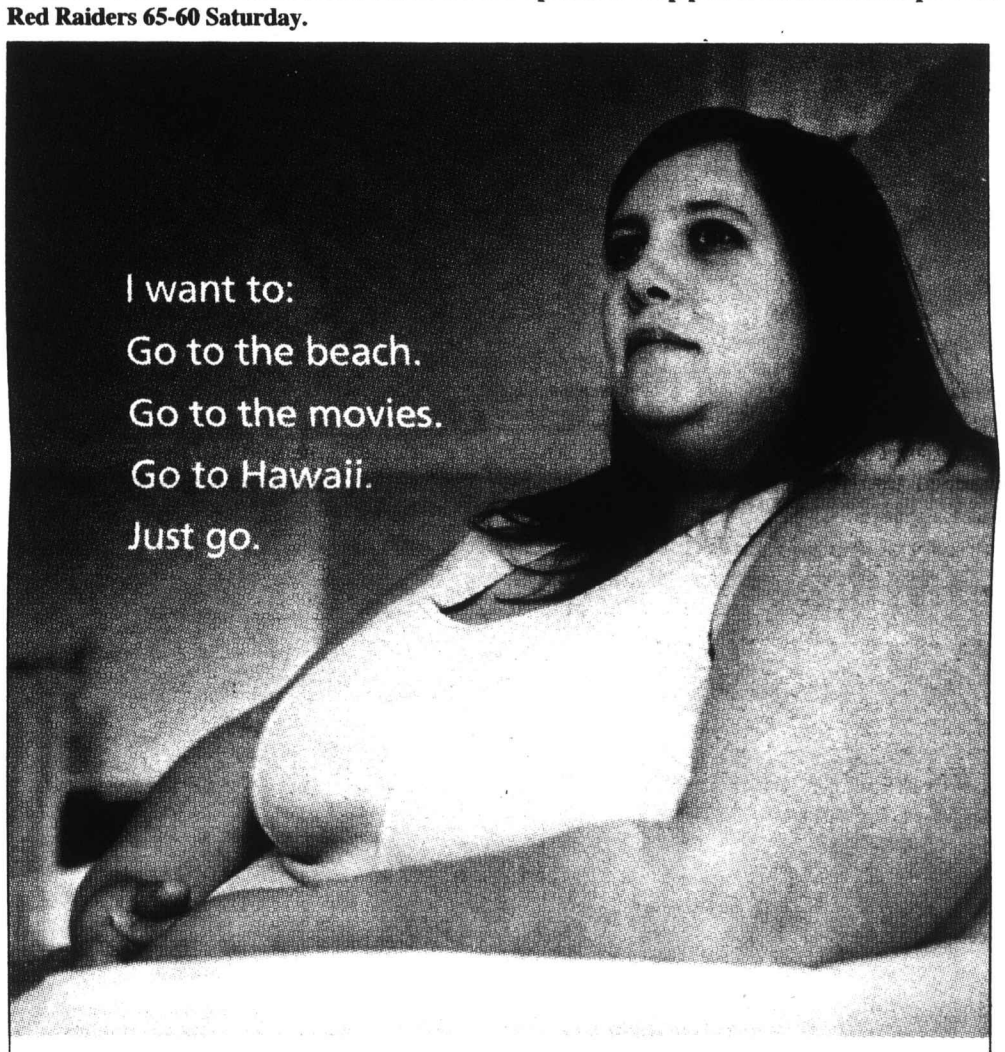


Stephen P. Costello, President & CEO

Stephen P. Costello

BANK·CANTON

888.828.1690 • 557 Washington Street, Canton • www.ibankcanton.com



Learn how you can get your life back.

Losing significant weight comes with obvious health benefits. But what truly inspires our patients? A renewed quality of life. At Beth Israel Deaconess Hospital-Milton, we understand.

As part of the Beth Israel Deaconess Bariatric Network, our expertise, leading surgeons and team approach to your care make all the difference. And our commitment to education and support helps you achieve lifelong success.

How do you get your life back? First, by getting information. Join us for a free information session where you can hear about your weight loss surgery options, meet our team and ask questions.

JOIN US

Date: Thursday, January 15

Time: 6:00 p.m.

Place: Nangeroni Education Center at Beth Israel Deaconess Hospital - Milton
199 Reedsdale Road, Milton

To register for this FREE session, call 617-313-1440.

Beth Israel Deaconess Hospital Milton

bidmilton.org/weightloss

WEIGHT LOSS SURGERY

'Fine, Feathered Friends Of Winter'

Photos By Wildlife Photographer Karen Walker

A CHICKADEE and a Hairy Woodpecker share a healthy breakfast of mixed seeds at a bird feeder in Houghs Neck. Black oiled Sunflower seeds is a sure way to attract birds to your feeder in the cold winter months, says wildlife photographer Karen Walker of Quincy.

NOT AS BRIGHTLY colored red as the male cardinal, a female cardinal catches a ray of warmth on a chilly winter morning.

A COMMON BIRD, and one of the most friendly feathered friends, the State Bird of Massachusetts, the Chickadee will most likely be the first bird at your feeder in the winter.

SEEKING SHELTER from the stormy cold, the Hooded merganser likes protected marsh areas like Blacks Creek. You can recognize this duck by its fancy mohawk-like "hair-do."

Thank you for your kindness to me and my family during the senate campaign.

Best wishes for a New Year full of health and happiness!

John F.

KEENAN

STATE SENATOR

Short Stays – A Perfect Vacation this Season!

ASSISTED LIVING RESPITE STAYS AT ALLERTON HOUSE

Find out if assisted living is the answer for you or a loved one. It's perfect for the times family caregivers are away. Experience the Welch family's 65 year tradition of exceptional care, housing and hospitality!

ALLERTON HOUSE GUESTS ENJOY

- Three meals a day with friends
- Exciting activities, clubs, entrainment & outings
- Help with daily routines – from medications to transportation
- 24-hour support in a beautiful, modern fully furnished rental apartment

STAY 1 WEEK & ENJOY YOUR 2ND WEEK FREE*

*Limited time only. Based upon availability.

CALL TODAY TO JOIN US FOR LUNCH & A TOUR!

Allerton House

QUINCY

164 Parkingway • Quincy

339-788-2979

Over 65 Years of Quality Service

Welch

HEALTHCARE AND RETIREMENT GROUP

www.welchhrg.com

Overcomes Cerebral Palsy To Walk, Play Varsity Basketball For Presidents

Quincy's Mike Rowland An Inspiration On And Off Hoop Court

By BILL GRIFFIN

Quincy led by more than 20 points in the final two minutes of the home opener against Duxbury. Senior Mike Rowland entered the game for his first varsity moment. He came free along the left wing and lofted a three-pointer towards the basket.

The release was perfect. Good balance, elbow in, wrist reaching for the rim. The shot spun in a perfect arc towards the basket.

As it did, every player on the Quincy bench jumped and raised two hands towards the ceiling. The fans did the same thing. There was a bubble of hope and anticipation which quickly filled the gym, almost like helium filling a balloon in a fraction of a second.

The shot flew true and straight, but just a touch long. It caught the back rim and spun out. The players and the fans sat down. The explosion of noise that was ready to burst slipped away quietly. They were disappointed for an instant, but not discouraged. The smiles remained on the faces. Rowland's shot and moment would surely come.

The players and friends and family and fans knew the story. They knew the story was not that Mike Rowland took a three-point shot in a varsity basketball game. The story was that Rowland was able to walk onto the floor and play in a varsity basketball game.

It had been a long road.

❑

Rowland was born with cerebral palsy. As a young child, he moved around with the help of a walker. He still walks with a noticeable limp. He had serious surgery on his heel when he was 10. He went through the grind of physical therapy. Go to a park and watch how easily and freely most children run. Rowland had to work for every step he took.

"I'll always remember where I was, where I came from. It's all so remarkable that I'm on varsity, that I was able to even take that shot," said Rowland. "The most important thing is my family. My parents have been unbelievable. They've supported and encouraged me in everything I've done. I wouldn't be here without them."

When he was four years old, Rowland learned a lesson that many people don't learn in a lifetime.

"I wanted to go to the same pre-school as my friends," he said. "My mother told me if I wanted to go I had to be able to walk up and down the stairs. So that's what I did. I walked up and down the stairs. I did it over and over until my mother knew I could do it. It taught me about perseverance. It also taught me if I worked hard enough, I could do anything."

He always had basketball. He watched his brother John shoot in the backyard and joined him as soon as he was tall enough to toss a ball towards a hoop No matter how difficult it was to walk, he could always shoot. He shot in driveways and playgrounds and gyms. He shot shortly after the sun came up and long after it sank into darkness. Shooters shoot. It is what they do.

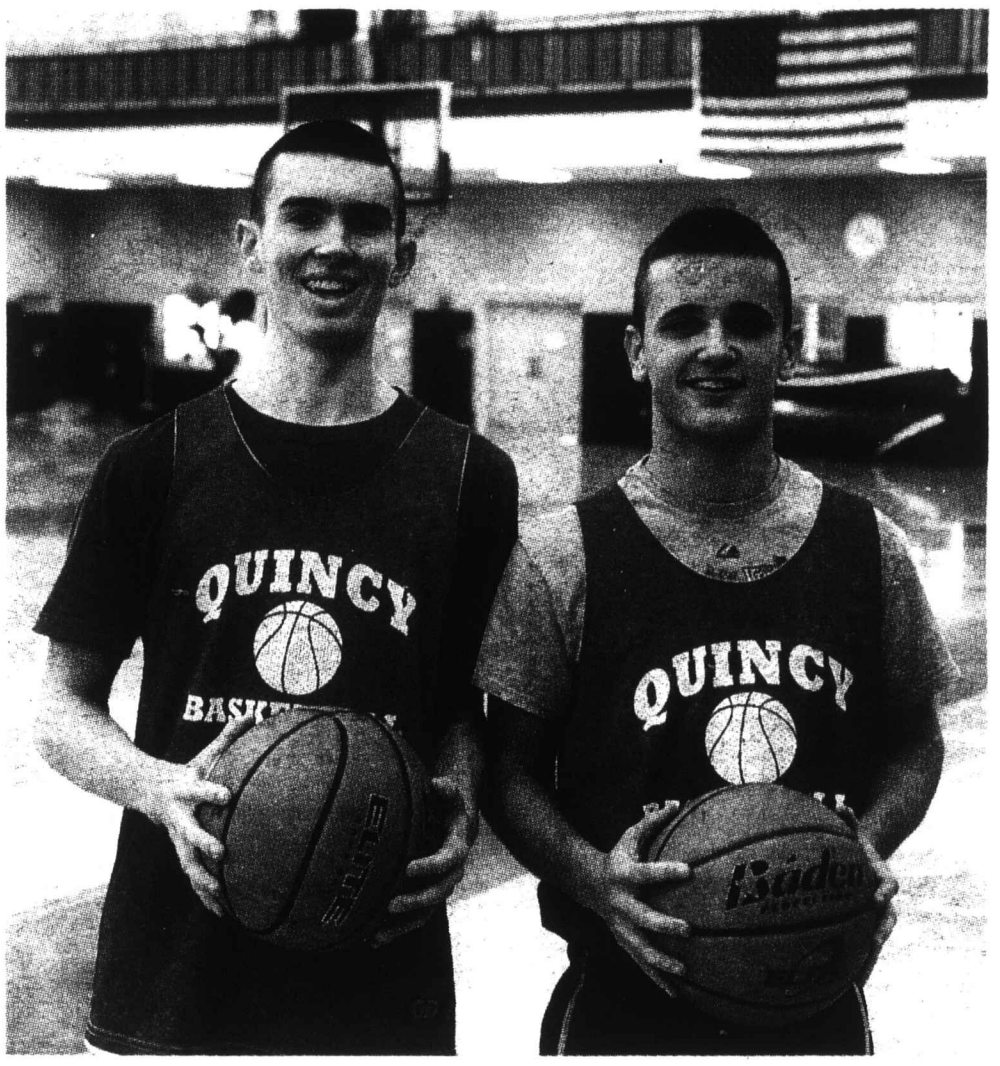
Not only did his touch grow soft and true, shooting a basketball allowed Rowland to briefly escape the challenges of his young life and enter his own private world where all was possible.

"I would play mental games with myself," he said. "I'd pretend there were five seconds left. I was playing for the Celtics. It was a tie game. If I made the shot, we won. I'd count the clock down and take the shot. I could almost hear the crowd. I was able to use my imagination and open up a whole new world for myself."

Did he ever imagine playing varsity and knocking home a three-pointer?

"No, that seemed too far away," he said.

Cont'd On Page 23



BASKETBALL HAS BONDED the friendship of teammates Colin Evans (left) and Mike Rowland (right) and other players on the Quincy High School basketball team. Mike has overcome cerebral palsy through hard work and preservation to not only walk on his own but to play basketball on the Presidents' varsity team. He is an inspiration to others telling those with physical challenges, "Never to give up, never let go of their dream."

Quincy Sun Photo/Robert Bosworth

Beth Israel Deaconess HealthCare

Your Primary Care is My Primary Focus

Sheldon Lockman, MD
Internal Medicine

"As a primary care physician, my goal is to provide high-quality, preventive care to each of my patients."

- Personalized comprehensive care
- Special interests: preventive medicine, geriatrics
- Access to specialists at Beth Israel Deaconess Hospital-Milton and Beth Israel Deaconess Medical Center in Boston.

Welcoming new patients.

For same day or next day appointments, please call 617-696-7601.

88 Wharf Street Milton, MA 02186

Beth Israel Deaconess HealthCare
Milton Family Practice

the YMCA

FOR YOUTH DEVELOPMENT®
FOR HEALTHY LIVING
FOR SOCIAL RESPONSIBILITY

MAKE YOUR RESOLUTION STICK AT THE Y!

lose weight

$0 JOINER FEE
DECEMBER 16 – JANUARY 31

eat healthy!

SOUTH SHORE YMCA
ssymca.org

Quincy Guards Lead Presidents Over Red Raiders

By BILL GRIFFIN

For all that it said about size, guards control basketball games. They dictate the pace, play at the point of the defense, handle the press, get the ball where it belongs and, when needed, knock down jump shots.

Most teams are fortunate enough to have one or two good ones. Quincy has five. The Presidents needed jump shots against North which packed in its defense around junior center Nicole Jorgensen Saturday afternoon.

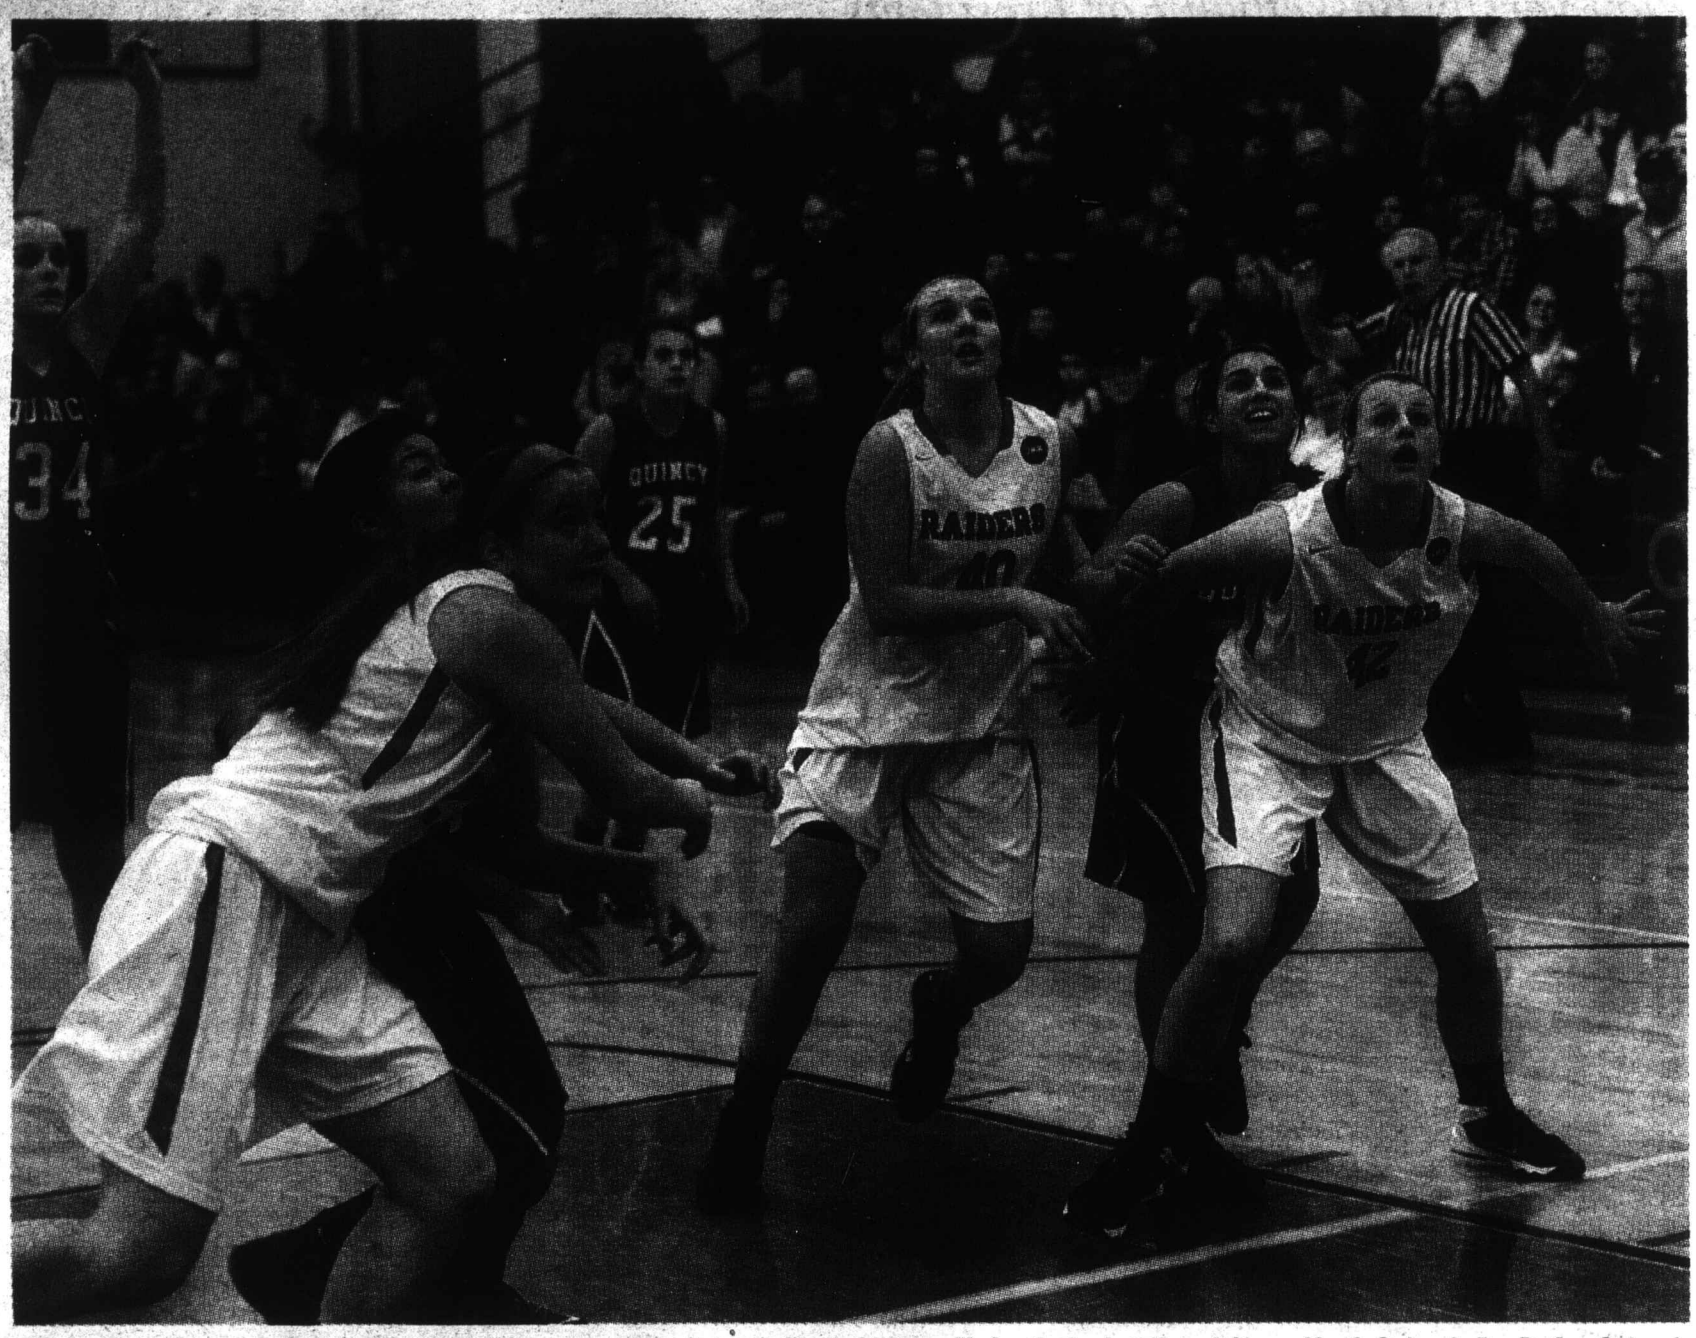
The platoon of guards delivered. Junior Alyssa Camara broke open the game with three threes in the first half, and Quincy drained 10 long-range threes in the contest en route to a 48-34 victory over the Red Raiders before a large crowd at the North Quincy gym.

"We expected that kind of defense and prepared for it," said Quincy coach Jeff Bretsch whose team went to 4-2 and broke a five-game losing streak against North. "Sometimes it's hard to shoot when you're wide open. The key is not to rush it. We took our time with our shots today and it paid off."

"We played the kind of defense we wanted to," said North coach Jess Worden. "The girls did a good job of denying Nicole. Quincy just stepped up and made the shots that they had to."

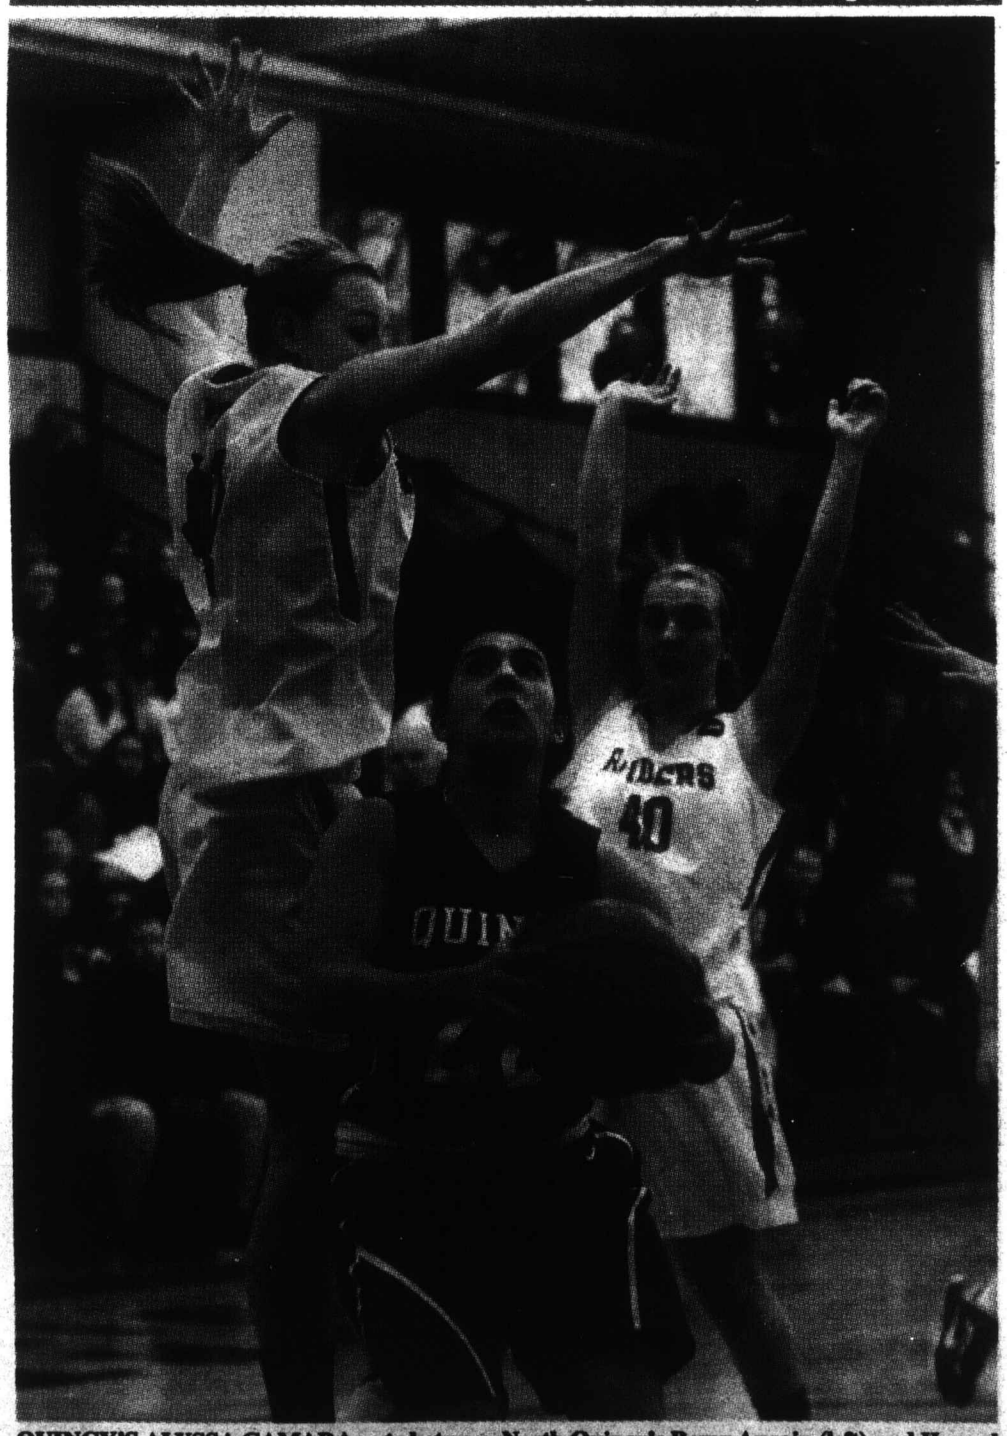
North (1-6) continued developing which will be, in time, a terrific front line. Freshman Jen Butka showed a nice mid-range touch and got to the basket for 15 points and eight rebounds, Sophomore Remy Aucoin played well inside against Jorgensen and finished with 10 points and 10 rebounds. Junior Marissa McGue, who missed the three previous games with injury, played another strong, all-out floor game for North.

Cont'd On Page 21



ALL EYES ARE on a rebound after a three-throw attempt by Quincy's Sarah Gibbons. Under the basket (from left) are North Quincy's Jen Butka, Quincy's Julianna Kane, North Quincy's Hannah Donovan, Quincy's Alyssa Camara and North Quincy's Remy Aucoin. In the first matchup between the two programs this season, the Presidents rolled to a 48-34 win over the Red Raiders at NQHS last Saturday. Quincy Sun Photos/Robert Bosworth

More Photos Online: wwwTheQuincySun.com (click galleries)



QUINCY'S ALYSSA CAMARA cuts between North Quincy's Remy Aucoin (left) and Hannah Donovan to score two of 11 points in the Presidents' 48-34 win over the Red Raiders Saturday afternoon at NQHS.

SUPPORT THE STUDENTS!!!
1st Annual
North Quincy
Girls Basketball Boosters
You save $50 to $2500 OFF RETAIL!
Join, Like & Share Us: facebook.com/CustomFundraisingSolutionsBoston
MATTRESS FUNDRAISER SALE!
➢ All Sizes!! Pillow-top, Orthopedic, Latex, Memory Foam, Gel Beds, Adjustable Beds, Luxury Hotel Beds!
➢ All BRAND NEW with Full Factory Warranties!
➢ Quality NAME BRAND Mattresses!
➢ Made Locally Right Here in New England!
➢ Free Layaway! Delivery Available!
➢ Cash, Checks and All Credit Cards Accepted!
Profits Go Directly to the Team!
IF YOU COULD REPLACE A MATTRESS SET,
NOW IS THE TIME TO BUY!!!
SAVE 30%-60% OFF RETAIL!!!
WHEN: Saturday, January 17th, 2015
WHERE: North Quincy High School
TIME: 10am - 5pm
SAVE AN ADDITIONAL $50.00 OFF
ANY MATTRESS SET WITH THIS COUPON &
Personally Invited By: _____
Twin Sets starting at $199, Fulls $279, Queens $299, Kings $499

Quincy Guards Lead Presidents Over Red Raiders

Cont'd From Page 20

"Butka is a formidable player for a freshman. She's going to excellent," said Bretsch.

"Remy and Jen have developed well and Marissa always gives 115 percent," added Worden.

It is not merely the number of Quincy guards who can play, it is the variety of skills that they show. Camara, Gabby Jerahian, Liana Cunningham, Ariana Paulo and Jill Mullvaney can all pass, shoot and defend. Quincy can put two point guards on the floor at the same time. Quincy can put two shooting guards on the floor at the same time. It is a fine thing to have.

"We have a team with a good center and a lot of guards, a lot of point guards. That gives us good ball handling and good passing no matter who is out there," said Bretsch.

Saturday was Camara's day. After North went up 6-2 in the opening minutes, Camara hit on a drive and three deep threes to jump Quincy's lead to 18-8 early in the second. She had 11 for the game. Shooters can feel a good day about to happen. It is a sense, an instinct. The gym seems right, the release and touch are true and soft, and the rim looks larger than a watermelon. Something good is in the air.

"There are days when I feel confidence in my shot, and I felt that today," said Camara. "We knew the defense they were going to play. We knew we had to hit our shots. I think all the guards wanted to show we can trust anybody on the team."

North played a box-and-one. Four players surrounded Jorgensen. McGue chased around Jerahian. You didn't have to be Red Auerbach to figure out what Quincy needed. Quincy needed jump shots. Camara and her fellow launchers accounted for 30 of Quincy's 48 points with threes, and that established control of the game.

"I think we wanted to show that we're more than just two players. Gabby and Nicole are great, but I think all of us wanted to show we could play in a big game like this," said Camara who also had six rebounds. "This is my first win over North on varsity, and it feels great."

Depite the extra defensive attention, Jerahian shook free for eight points. Freshman Liana Cunningham added eight points, four assists, tenacious defense, and another game which bordered on the mistake-free. Paulo had six and was solid in all phases of the game. Mulvaney chipped in with a bucket and excellent defense. That's 35 points, sticky defense, dependable ball-handling and accurate passing from a backcourt. Not bad. Not bad at all.

"Liana just keeps getting better and better. Gabby has been a dependable scorer for us all season," said Bretsch.

Jorgensen played a smart, mature game. This is her third year starting on varsity and it showed. She forced nothing. She didn't try to bull through the defense. She kicked the ball back out for open shots and threw great outlet passes. She protected the rim and changed shots on defense. She finished with 11 points, 10 rebounds and four blocks. When North did go man-to-man late, Jorgensen scored two straight hoops, one on a textbook bounce pass from Cunningham. She played like a veteran and did what she needed to do to win the game for her team.

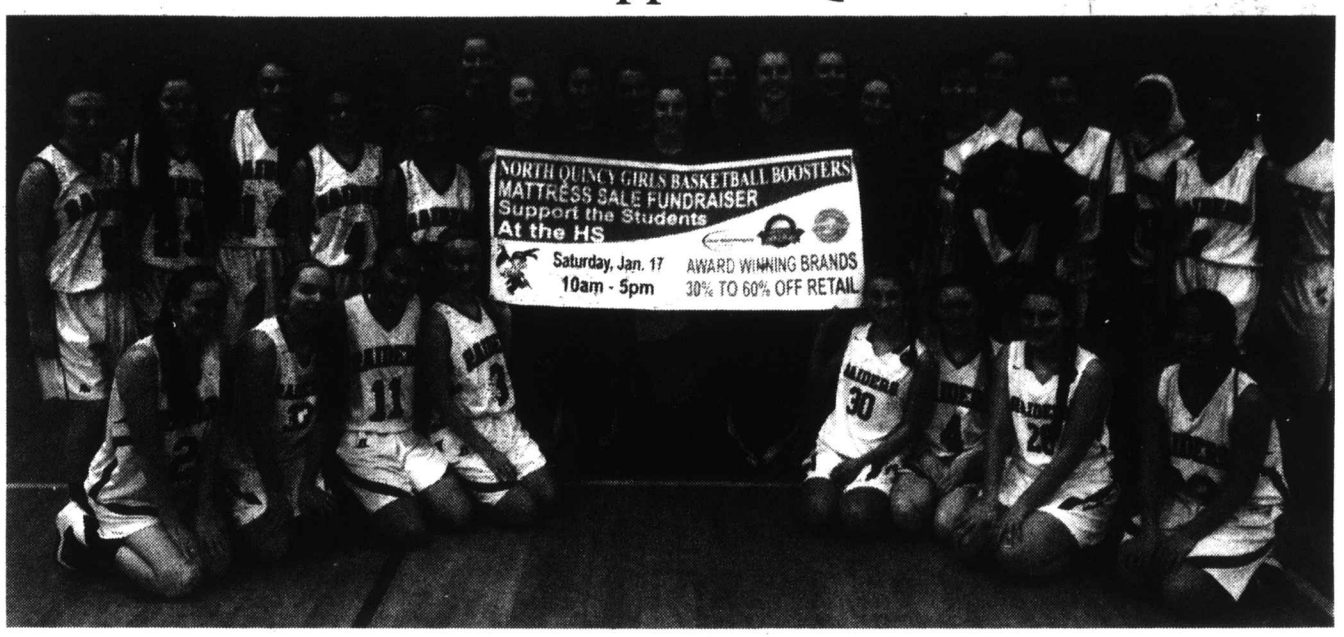
"I told her after the game how impressed I was with her maturity," said Bretsch. "She was doubled and tripled for most of the game, and she reacted well to the game situation."

Quincy's halfcourt man-to-man and fullcourt trap controlled the first half and built a 26-12 intermission lead which was not threatened.

"I liked our defense. I thought we talked to each and made good adjustments in the halfcourt and our press was effective," said Bretsch.

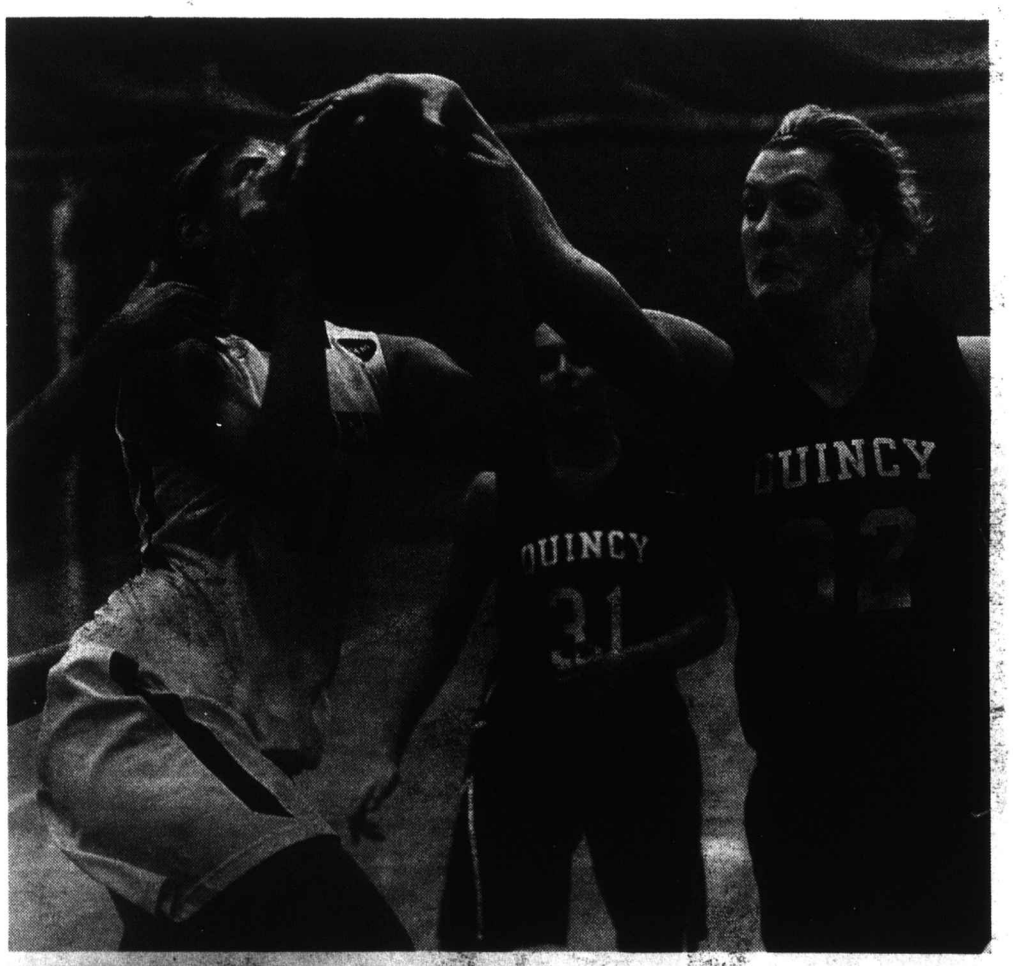
Quincy is at Silver Lake Friday. North Quincy is 1-6 and hosts Middleboro Friday.

Fundraiser Jan. 17 To Support NQHS Girls Basketball



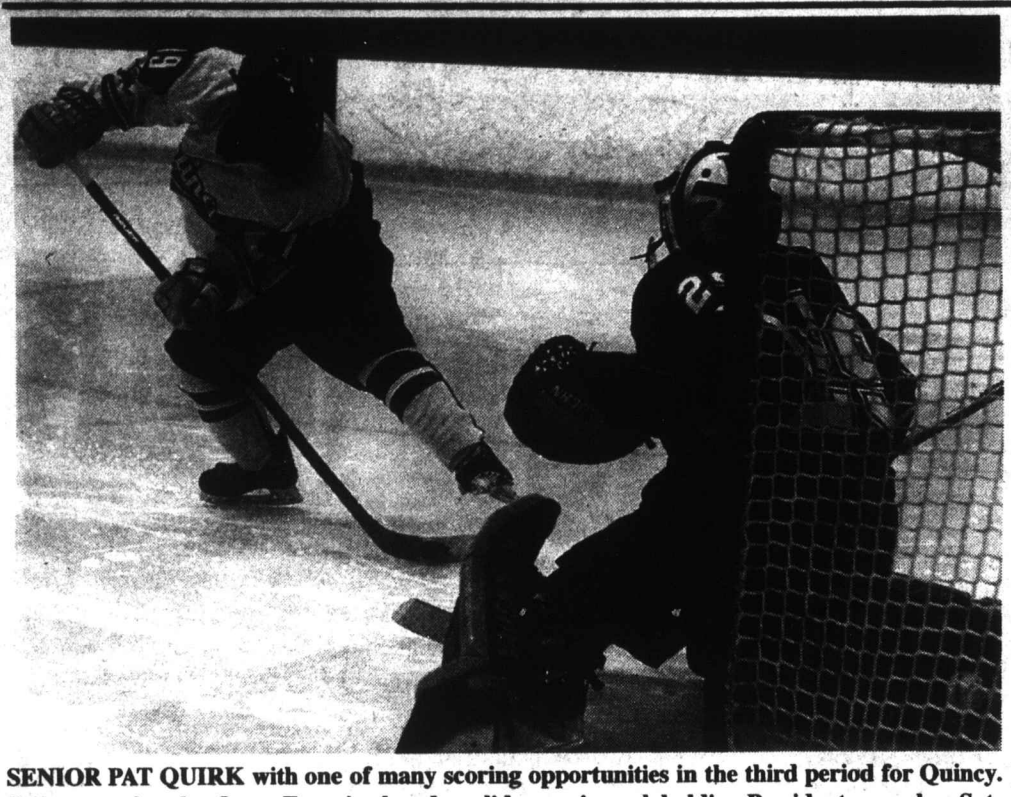
A FUNDRAISER to support the North Quincy High School Girls Basketball teams (varsity, JV and freshmen) will be held Saturday, Jan. 17 from 10 a.m. to 5 p.m. in the NQHS cafeteria. During those seven hours Jan. 17, the basketball program will receive a portion of the proceeds from the sale of mattresses. Mattresses will be sold at a discount of 30 to 60 percent off retail prices. There's also a coupon for an additional savings of $50 on Page 20 in this week's Quincy Sun. Here players for the basketball teams hold a banner promoting the fundraiser. Photo Courtesy Lisa McBirney

QUINCY'S ARIANA PAULO scored six points in the Presidents' 48-34 victory over North Quincy last Saturday at NQHS.



QUINCY'S NICOLE JORGENSEN (#32) blocks a shot by North Quincy's Marissa McGue in the Presidents' 48-34 win over the Red Raiders last Saturday. Jorgensen had 11 points, 10 rebounds and four blocks in the victory. Quincy Sun Photos/Robert Bosworth

NORTH QUINCY'S JEN BUTKA buries a jumper for two of her team-high 15 points against Quincy.



SENIOR PAT QUIRK with one of many scoring opportunities in the third period for Quincy. Scituate goaltender Owen Francis played a solid game in goal, holding Presidents scoreless Saturday night. Quincy Sun Photos/Larry Carchedi

Quincy Bows To Scituate

By JOE REARDON

There is a feeling permeating down the Quincy High hockey roster that the team is on the verge of snapping out of a tough run so far this season that has it sitting at 2-6. And when the Presidents start to put consecutive wins together, the rest of the Patriot League will have to take notice.

Quincy couldn't have put forth more of an effort in its 1-0 loss to Scituate in Saturday night's Patriot League showdown at the Quincy Youth Arena. The victory marked the first win of the season (1-3-2) for a Sailors' team desperate to put something together to save its season. Like the Presidents, Scituate has been having problems coming away with positive results and is a team that is far better than its record would indicate.

Both goaltenders were brilliant between the posts and they had to be with the offenses working at full throttle to put a crooked number on the scoreboard. It was Scituate that finally got to Quincy goaltender Ryan Higgins (29 saves) with 8:17 left in the third period. The Presidents' goalie made three consecutive saves in a battle in front of the net before Mike O'Donoghue snared a rebound and stuffed a shot underneath Higgins to break the scoreless tie.

Quincy didn't blink however and continued to go hard to the Scituate net. Scituate goaltender Owen Francis (28 saves) stoned Brian O'Callaghan, who led Quincy with nine shots, on a break down the wing with 7:41 remaining and again just a minute later on a wrist shot that was heading for the far side. Pat Freeman had the best bid of the game for the Presidents when he made a nifty move to stickhandle past the Sailors' defense only to have Francis smother his low shot and with it, preserve the Scituate win.

Francis, who was coming off a 47 save performance in a 1-1 tie against Weymouth, couldn't have been better as he turned away everything the Sailors could throw at him.

Save for the final score, Quincy head coach Ted Walsh was pleased with everything about Quincy's 45 minutes on the ice.

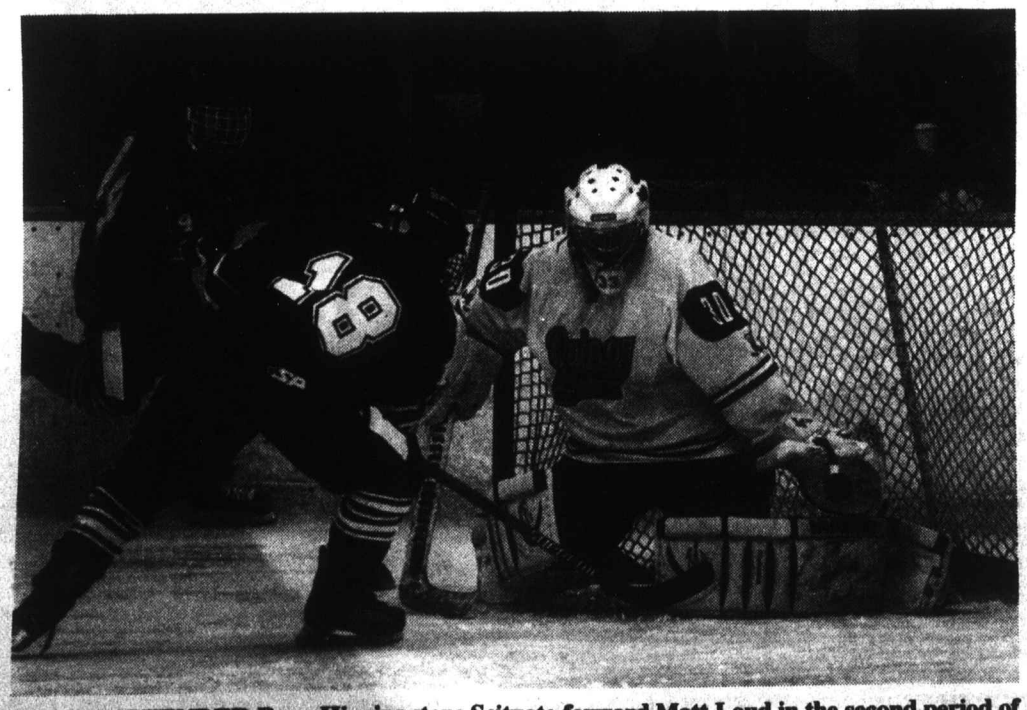
"I told the kids they should be proud of the effort," said Walsh. "Every now and then come up against a tough goalie. It certainly looked from the bench that we controlled the game. We're going to work our way out of this. It's something you have to build on. We're going to keep working hard."

Both teams had a number of chances in the opening period. O'Callaghan, who stormed the Scituate zone all evening, blasted a shot 2:12 in that went just wide of the far corner. Francis came up with a big save on the Presidents' captain on Quincy's first power play and stopped a vicious backhander and wrist shot by Quincy's other captain, Matt Freeman, from in close after Scituate killed off the penalty.

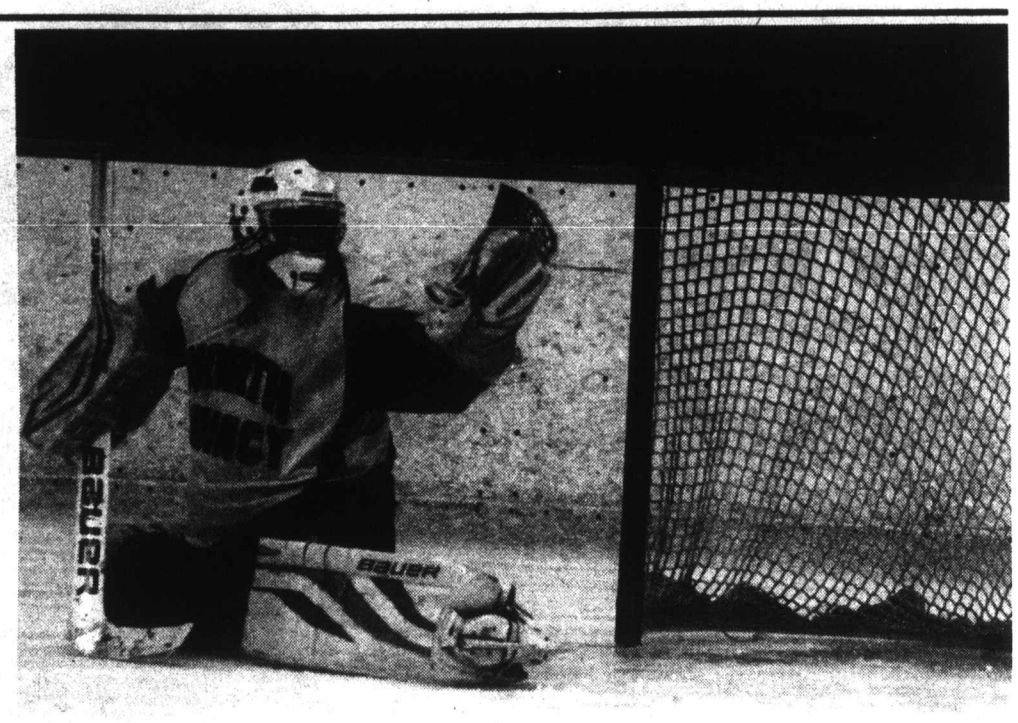
Quincy had nothing to show for its second power play of the first with the lone bid coming on a semi breakaway by Sean Brennick with 1:18 left that Francis stopped with his glove.

Quincy continued to go hard at the Scituate net and put up eight shots in the second period. Brennick nearly tied it with 3:19 left, but Francis was there to stop his sharp backhander with 3:19 remaining. O'Callaghan had another huge chance with a hard wrist shot on a break down the wing that Francis managed to deflect wide. Jake McCarthy put together a pair of high percentage chances against Higgins,

Cont'd On Page 23



QHS GOALTENDER Ryan Higgins stops Scituate forward Matt Loud in the second period of Saturday night's game.



JUNIOR GOALTENDER Kevin Doherty makes a save for North Quincy against Pembroke Saturday night at Quincy Youth Arena. The Red Raiders fell to the Titans, 3-1.

Red Raiders Fall To Titans

By JOE REARDON

North Quincy wasn't at all intimidated by Pembroke's overly aggressive play in Saturday night's Patriot League contest at the Quincy Youth Arena, but the Red Raiders had little to show for the Titans' inability to stay out of the penalty box.

North Quincy managed just one goal in its five power play chances and the fast-skating Pembroke squad scored a pair of second period tallies and added an empty-net goal in the third for a 3-1 victory over the Red Raiders.

The loss was particularly tough for the Red Raiders, who have been struggling all season to get any semblance of momentum going. The loss to the Titans dropped North Quincy's record to 2-4-1 and the immediate future doesn't look to be any easier for Matt Gibbons' squad as it begins a long stretch of tough Patriot League games.

After putting just two shots on net on their fourth power play of the game, the Red Raiders finally made good on their fifth man-up advantage with 2:03 left in the period. Captain Matt Monahan unleashed a slap shot just inside the blue line that eluded the traffic in front of the Pembroke net and lit the lamp to make it a 2-1. The goal was the steady defenseman's first-ever in a North Quincy uniform.

Pembroke made nothing easy for North Quincy due to consistently strong checking on offense and defense. The Red Raiders weren't able to get to the net as much as they would have liked, thanks to some tight defense in the Titans' end. "We only had four or five shots in the first period," said Gibbons. "It came down to us not taking care of their aggressive play. We were giving up shots. We were getting close to their net, but not getting a lot of shots off. We have to work on the little things; Making better decisions, little mental things that shouldn't be happening."

Pembroke made it 1-0 on a fluke tally that North Quincy goaltender Kevin Doherty (18 saves) made the initial stop on, only to have the puck bounce off his shoulder and into the net with 10:07 left in the second period.

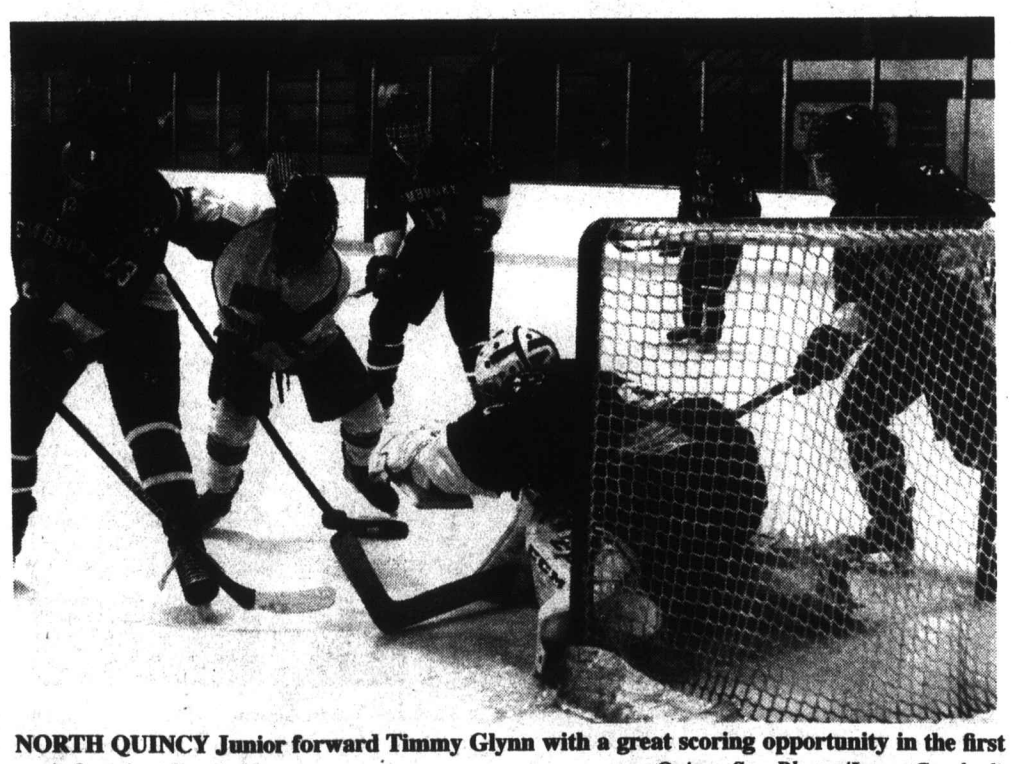
Doherty had no chance at stopping the second goal as North Quincy turned over the puck directly in front of him and a Pembroke forward snapped it home for a 2-0 lead with 6:15 left.

Doherty was especially sharp in the third period. North Quincy started the period with a power play, but it was Pembroke that was on the offensive attack with a man in the box. Doherty made consecutive saves in a scrum in front of the net and then turned away a point-blank wrist shot.

Timmy Glynn was stoned twice early in the third, both on wrist shots that were headed top shelf that the Pembroke goaltender got his glove on. Quincy went on to kill a Pembroke power play, but the Titans tapped in an empty-net goal with Doherty on the bench in favor for a sixth skater with six seconds left to make it 3-1.

North Quincy's best period of play was the first and although they only had five shots on net, the Red Raiders spent the majority of the opening 15 minutes in the Pembroke end. Matt McDonald was denied 4:32 in on a laser slap shot from the point and Sean Farnham had his wrist shot snapped out of the air with 8:39 left and a pad save by the Pembroke goaltender with 5:12 remaining kept Farnham and the Red Raiders off the board. Andrew Kiley had

Cont'd On Page 23



NORTH QUINCY Junior forward Timmy Glynn with a great scoring opportunity in the first period against Pembroke. Quincy Sun Photos/Larry Carchedi

Quincy's Mike Rowland An Inspiration On And Off Court

Cont'd From Page 19

How good is he? How good can he shoot the ball? What did all those hours, those endless hours, produce? He is on a team of shooters. Drew Myers can match any high school shooter in any gym at any time. Colin Evans is money out to 18 feet. J.T. Bain shoots exceptionally well for a big man. James Lam has a nice touch. If there were a team shooting contest, where would Rowland fit in?

Think back to the lesson he learned on the stairs when he was four. If he worked hard enough, he could do anything.

"I think if we had a team shooting contest, Mike would be right there with everyone. I think he'd have a good chance to win," said Evans. "We're good friends. In the summer, all we do is go to the playground and shoot. Mike has worked so hard on his shot, on his whole game. He can really shoot."

Ninth grade was an important year. Rowland made the team and drained two three-pointers against Pembroke. He became close friends with Evans. He played with a group which has a striking passion for the game. They love basketball,. Two years later, Evans, Lam, Myers, and Bain would go to coach Dave Parry in the summer before their senior year and ask if Rowland could be on the team.

"When he made those three-pointers against Pembroke, everybody just went crazy," said Evans. "Mike never talked much about his illness, but I knew his background and how hard he worked. I thought it was the right thing to do, to ask coach if Mike could be on the team. I knew he would be a great teammate."

Rowland is more than a shooter. He is a basketball player. When he came in against Duxbury, he wasn't thinking about his shot. He was thinking about playing defense and passing the ball. When the team practices, Rowland practices. When they run, Rowland runs. When they do drills, Rowland does drills. He asks no favors and Parry gives him none. This team has a chance to go a long way this winter. Rowland will be an equal part of it all. He is a teammate, a basketball player.

"He does every drill that everybody else does. I don't give him a break in anything. That's the way Mike wants it," said Parry.

"It's great being part of this team. Everyone is so accepting. I just try to give whatever support I can," said Rowland.

"If you're down, he is always behind you," said Evans. "You listen to him, realize what he's been through and it gives you a lift just to hear him."

One of the best parts of a story like Mike Rowland is that it can inspire others. Rowland was asked what he would say to a young child who who was struggling with a physical challenge.

"I would tell them never to give up, never let go of their dream. I would tell them if they work hard, they can do anything," said Rowland.

❑

His mind wanders back to that shot against Duxbury. Shooters know. When the ball leaves their hands, they know if it feels good. They almost always know if it is going in the basket. Almost always.

"It felt good. I thought it was going in," he said. "I concentrated on the rim, but I knew what was going on around me. I took the shot in front of our bench and I could hear my teammates. I saw the arms all go up in the air. I saw the smiles. It was just a bit long. It's hard to think of the word to describe what it would be like to score a varsity point. A little bit surreal, I guess."

One night he will make his shot. He will score his varsity points. The life he has lived is proof of that. If you work hard, if you never quit, if you have family and friends and teammates and coaches to support you, one wonderful truth will always hold firm.

Dreams really do come true.

Quincy Bows To Scituate

Cont'd From Page 22

but was cut short on a wrist shot with 3:12 left and another just under a minute later. Francis made the save of the game with time running out in the period on a sharp backhander by Ryan Harty that he snagged with his glove.

After robbing Pat Quirk on a backhander 15 seconds into the third, Francis once again stopped an O'Callaghan bid after taking a pass across the slot from Freeman on a 2-on-1 rush into the zone.

"The kids were ready to play," said Walsh. "I don't think they were tired (from the Abington game). We worry about our own game plan. I'm honestly not concerned as long as the effort is there."

Red Raiders Fall To Titans

Cont'd From Page 22

a bid on the another North Quincy power play, but was denied by a blocker save.

The Red Raiders started the second period with Doherty making the save of the game on Pembroke break as he reacted immediately to glove a blistering wrist shot from right in front of the net 2:47 in. North Quincy had another big power-play chance, but came away with nothing on five shots on the Titan net.

Fitness Unlimited Offering New Team Training

Fitness Unlimited, fitness center for women located in East Milton Square, announces it is launching a new program, TRIBE Team Training™ .

TRIBE Team Training™ is a small group personal training program and Fitness Unlimited is one of the first clubs in Massachusetts to offer the program. Based in New Zealand, TRIBE members will experience fun, belonging, control, support, direction and individual coaching all in a dynamic motivating environment.

"History has shown us that by working as a team we gain far greater results than when we work out on our own," said Personal Training Director Annmarie Boylan. She noted Fitness Unlimited trainers have received extensive training in the delivery of the TRIBE Team Training™ programs.

Fitness Unlimited also offers 86 other group fitness programs included in membership.

Fitness Unlimited will launch Season 1 Jan. 19th. For more information, call 617-698-0260 or email bwhitney@fitnessunlimited.com.

QUINCY SUN PHOTOS

Reprints of Quincy Sun Photos
– Appearing in Print or on our Website –
can be purchased from our photographers:
Lisa Aimola - 617-981-1715
Larry Carchedi - 617-653-4775
Robert Bosworth - 617-471-3100

REQUEST FOR PROPOSALS REQUEST FOR PROPOSALS

REQUEST FOR PROPOSALS

CITY OF QUINCY, MASSACHUSETTS
PURCHASING DEPARTMENT
1305 HANCOCK ST., QUINCY, MA 02169

Invites sealed bids/proposals for furnishing and delivering to the City of Quincy:

SALE OF: 657 QUINCY SHORE DRIVE, QUINCY, MA 02170
JANUARY 16, 2015 @ 11:00 A.M.

The City of Quincy, Massachusetts ("the City") in accordance with M.G.L. Chapter 30B is seeking proposals from qualified bidder for the purchase of a single family house, direct water views, containing a total of 1,742 square feet of living space and 3,764 square feet of Gross area.

This is an open and competitive process pursuant to M.G.L. c. 30B. It is zoned residence B. Approval for the proposed use of the Land by the Director of Inspectional Services, Zoning Board of Appeals or the Planning Board may be required.

A $15,000.00 bid deposit in the form of check, money order or bank check shall be required at the time of your bid. Deposits shall be returned to unsuccessful bidders.

Bids/Proposals will be received in Quincy City Hall, second floor conference room until the time and date stated above, at which time and date they will be opened and registered. Late Bids/Proposals, delivered by mail or in person, will be rejected. All bids will be submitted in a sealed envelope clearly marked "SEALED BID ENCLOSED: RFP – SALE OF 657 QUINCY SHORE DRIVE" Detailed specifications are available on-line at the City of Quincy's website, www.quincyma.gov

The right is reserved to reject any or all RFPs or to accept any part of an RFP or the one deemed best for the City, and waive any informalities in the bidding, if it is in the best interest of the City to do so.

Thomas P. Koch, MAYOR
Kathryn R. Hobin, Chief Procurement Officer

1/8/15

INVITATION TO BID INVITATION TO BID

INVITATION TO BID
CITY OF QUINCY, MASSACHUSETTS
PURCHASING DEPARTMENT
1305 HANCOCK ST., QUINCY, MA 02169

The City of Quincy invites sealed bids/proposals for furnishing and delivering to the City of Quincy:

WINDOW AND DOOR REPLACEMENT
PUBLIC BUILDINGS "PARKER ELEMENTARY SCHOOL" JANUARY 29, 2015 @ 11:00 A.M.

The City of Quincy invites sealed bids for the Window and Door Replacement at the Francis W. Parker Elementary School, 148 Billings Road, Quincy, Massachusetts 02171. The project consists of the removal and replacement of windows and exterior doors at the Parker Elementary School. Work will include the installation of approximately 6,200 SF of aluminum framed window systems and 8 pairs of insulated metal double doors and frames. Window treatments will be replaced. Also included will be the removal and replacement of steel lintels over 21 windows on the East elevation and the abatement of hazardous materials (ACM). A non-mandatory site walk-through is scheduled for January 14, 2015 at 4:30 p.m. at the Main Entrance of the Parker Elementary School, 148 Billings Road, Quincy, Massachusetts 02171l.

WINDOW AND DOOR REPLACEMENT
PUBLIC BUILDINGS "LINCOLN-HANCOCK COMMUNITY SCHOOL" JANUARY 29, 2015, @ 11:30 A.M.

The City of Quincy invites sealed bids for the Window and Door Replacement at the Lincoln-Hancock Community School, 300 Granite Street, Quincy, Massachusetts 02169. The project consists of the removal and replacement of windows and exterior doors at the Lincoln-Hancock School. Work will include the installation of approximately 10,800 SF of aluminum framed curtainwall and window systems, 7 insulated metal single doors, and 11 pairs of insulated metal double doors. Window treatments will be replaced. Perimeter sealants at the windows and doors shall be replaced. Also included will be the abatement of hazardous materials (ACM). A non-mandatory site walk-through is scheduled for January 14, 2015 at 2:30 p.m. at the Main entrance of the Lincoln-Hancock School, 300 Granite Street, Quincy, Massachusetts 02169.

Detailed Project Manual and Drawings are available on-line at the City of Quincy's website, www.quincyma.gov and also available at the Office of the Purchasing Agent, Quincy City Hall, 1305 Hancock Street, Quincy, Massachusetts, 02169, between the hours of 8:30 AM and 4:30 PM for a refundable printing charge of $100.00 if returned 10 days within bid opening and in unused condition. Project Manual and Drawings will be available January 7, 2015. Each bid shall be accompanied by a bid security in the amount of five percent (5%) of the total value of the bid in the form of a bid bond or certified/treasurer's check.

The Contractor shall direct all questions in writing concerning the Project Manual and Drawings by January 23, 2015 at Noon to Andrew Barr, Russo Barr Associates, Inc., abarr@russobarr.com. Contractors shall email copy (cc:) all inquiries to Paul Queeney, PMA Consultants, LLC, pqueeney@pmaconsultants.com and Kathryn Hobin, Purchasing Agent, City of Quincy, purchasing@quincyma.gov .

Bids/Proposals must be in a sealed envelope marked "BID ENCLOSED" with time/date of bid call. The successful bidder will be required to conform to Prevailing Wage Rates, as determined by the Commissioner of Labor & Industries under the provision of M.G.L. Chapter 149, Section 26 to 27D as amended. Firm bid prices will be given first consideration. Bids will be received at the office of the Purchasing Agent until the time and date stated above at which time and date they will be publicly opened and read. Late Bids, delivered by mail or in person, will be rejected.

If applicable, bids shall be in accordance with M.G.L. Chapter 30B, Chapter 149 as amended, and Chapter 30, Sections 39A, 39B and 39F-R. The right is reserved to reject any or all bids or to accept any part of a bid or the one deemed best for the City and waive any informality in the bidding if it is in the best interest of the City to do so. DCAM CERTIFICATION in "DOORS & WINDOWS" IS REQUIRED.

Thomas P. Koch, MAYOR Kathryn R. Hobin, PURCHASING AGENT

1/8/15

Real Estate

Quincy Real Estate Transactions Dec. 29 - Jan. 2

Seller	Buyer	Amount	Address
Ryan Leuchte & Erin C. Sullivan	Yongzhan Huang & Yu F. Liu	$225,000.00	200 Falls Boulevard Unit G-105
Michael F., Catherine M. & Kevin M. Boyle	Rachid Elhachimi & Btissam Aatouf	$315,000.00	26 Apthrop Street
Milton J. McKee Family Irrevocable Trust & Kathryn R. McKee Family Irrecovable Trust	Shu T. Zhang	$373,000.00	142 Farrington Street
Roderick W. Campbell	David J. & Jenna F. Ellis	$400,000.00	163 Norfolk Street
Hung Truong	David B. Barzelay	$411,000.00	35 George Road
Michael T. Haws	John F. Olivieri	$302,000.00	648 Sea Street
Carolyn A. Wish	Thomas Keaney	$355,000.00	31 Milton Road
Joseph J. Callahan	Christopher Barnes & Tearny Uy	$369,000.00	304 Atlantic Street
Robert G. & Patricia A. Riddle	Michael T. Cook	$200,000.00	501 Quincy Shore Drive
Sebastian & Lauren Barbagallo	Adams H. & Beverly F. Cote	$453,400.00	352 Beale Street
77 Putnam Street Realty Trust	Ryder Development Corp.	$850,000.00	0 Wren Terrace
Muhand Eltwal ,	Alex Burns & Rachael E. Cina	$452,500.00	19 The Strand
Hamilton Bay LLC	Bledar & Migena Gorica	$195,000.00	175 Quincy Shore Drive Unit B34
Quincy Point Congregational Church Homes Inc.	1000 Southern Artery Renewal Limited Partnership	$70,600,000.00	1000 Southern Artery
Derek Butler	Shixiong Wang & Xiangrong Wang; Jing Zhang	$216,200.00	115 West Squantum Street Unit 1204
Jefferson O. Lestage	David Clough	$441,000.00	96 North Bayfield Road
Janet Phelan	Alvin Tam	$230,500.00	15 Bower Road
John Q. Liu	Victor K. Louie	$238,000.00	1 Cityview Lane Unit 411
Cheng H. Zheng & John Shi	Song & Jing Ping Lu	$367,000.00	3 Montclair Avenue
John Greene	Yi Tong & Xiang Yang Chen; Shu Xiang Pan	$462,000.00	52 Ardell Street
Melissa W. & Mark A. Lucia	Raymond Waiman & Angie F. Lei	$198,000.00	1025 Hancock Street Unit 10H

Home Decorating Tips

By BARBARA GRACEFFA

A friend told me her daughter, an artist, has decorated her first apartment in a steampunk design. I've never heard of it; please describe.

Steampunk is an alternative design genre, a hybrid of industrial, vintage, and retro styles using iron and other metals, wood, and leather with often an abundance of gears, pipes, clockworks, and the like. Interior décor made in this style is usually upcycled original or historical pieces transformed into an outside-the-box piece of furniture or accessory item. For example, using a birdcage for a lampshade or chandelier, or fashioning a bookcase out of plumbing pipes and elbows, or making a camera into a lamp base are all examples of steampunk design. I once designed a unique bistro table for a client using his grandfather's wine making equipment including a three legged iron base and a round wooden-lathed basket... a really cool piece.

BARBARA GRACEFFA

In my opinion, a little steampunk goes a long way. These items are definitely conversation starters but the style, while artistic, can be cold and uninviting or more shabby that chic if gone too far.

What are the color trends for 2015 and how shall I use them?

Honestly, there is not a lot of difference from 2014. According to the trade, the ocean blues and deep indigo (or navy) blues remain popular again this year. The neutral greys and bold colors of shocking pink, fuchsia, and aqua will be prevalent again, too.

From soft jade, pea soup, and pine, you will also see a wide variety of greens trending in 2015, with olive being the most popular hue among them. Eggplant also makes an appearance this year; use it with silvery greens and greys for a nice combination.

Unless you have an unlimited budget, it is wise to use trending colors on painted walls and accessories like window treatments, pillows, vases, lamps ... things that can easily and inexpensively be changed when you tire of them.

Do you have a question on interior decorating? Send it to barbara@sec-interior.com and it may get printed in a future issue of The Quincy Sun.

Barbara Graceffa is president and CEO of Secretary of the Interior, an interior decorating company in Quincy. For more information, visit www.sec-interior.com.

Frozen Pipes Are No Joke

By Samantha Mazzotta

Question: While we spend a couple of months in Florida, our grandson Ronnie will be house-sitting, making sure the place is taken care of. I asked him to make sure that he leaves a couple of taps dripping anytime the temperature dips below freezing. He just chuckled and said, "Won't that run up your water bill?" Now I'm worried he won't do it. What should I do to make sure he knows how important it is that the pipes don't freeze? -- Carl H., via e-mail

Answer: At the risk of sounding flip, I'd tell Ronnie that while you handle the hopefully moderate water bill, he can cover the exorbitant cost of replacing burst pipes and repairing water damage. However, I have a feeling that he was just joking a bit. So, go easy on him, but make sure he knows you want him to keep the taps dripping.

Homes in the northern United States and Canada use higher-rated insulation than houses in the warmer southern states. That helps reduce frozen and burst pipes. But when a house isn't regularly lived in, if the heat is kept to a minimum to save energy, and water isn't running through the pipes daily, the risk of frozen pipes goes up.

If Ronnie lives in the house while you're gone, the risk of frozen pipes may be minimal. But he still should check less-used areas each week, and daily when the temperature remains below freezing for several days. He should run his hand along exposed pipes in the basement or crawlspace to feel for cold spots that indicate freezing sections. And he should run water occasionally in sinks or tubs that don't see regular use while you're gone.

Make sure that Ronnie has contact information for repair contractors, plumbers and heating specialists so he can have any problems addressed immediately while you're away.

HOME TIP: To prevent damage to exterior water spigots during cold snaps, shut off water to the outdoor spigots and drain them completely so no water remains in the pipes.

Send your questions or home tips to ask@thisisahammer.com.

(c) 2015 King Features Synd., Inc.

Homebuyer Workshop

NeighborWorks Southern Mass. will offer a two-part workshop for first-time homebuyers, to be held from 5 to 9 p.m. Tuesday, Jan. 13 and Thursday, Jan. 15 at the Winter Gardens apartment complex (lower level community room), located at 45 Winter St. in Quincy.

The workshop will give participants an opportunity to meet and hear from real estate brokers, insurance agents, attorneys and loan originators. Attendees also will have an opportunity to learn about NeighborWorks' down payment assistance programs and speak to a lender about different mortgage options.

The registration fee for the workshops is $20 per person. To register and pay online, visit www.nwsoma.org or call (617) 770-2227 for more information.

Century 21 Annex Realty, Inc.
49 Beale St., Quincy, MA 02170
617-472-4330
www.c21annex.com
Over 70 Seller and Buyer Agents specializing in Residential, Commercial Real Estate, Bank Owned Properties, Short Sales and Rentals
ANNEX REAL ESTATE SCHOOL
Offering Salesperson's, Broker's and Continuing Ed. classes
"STILL NUMBER ONE"

RE/MAX Realty Pros
Move the Crowd!
Buying, Selling or Investing?
Call Tom McFarland
For All Your Real Estate Answers
QUINCY - (617) 328-3200
On the Web visit McFarlandproperties.com

If you want your home
SOLD
Call Red Door
Red Door Real Estate
222 Sea Street, Quincy, MA
617-553-1880 • RedDoor-RE.com

QUINCY
www.stamosandstamosrealtors.com
Stamos & Stamos Realtors
747 East Suantum St.
Squantum, MA 02171
617.328.9400

Real Estate

28 Apply For New QHA Director Of Facilities Job

Hiring Expected By End Of January

By KRIS KALABOKAS

The Quincy Housing Authority will fill their newly created position of director of facilities which will oversee the maintenance, modernization, and inspections departments by the end of January.

In total, 28 applicants have submitted resumes, said James Lydon, executive director of the authority. The process of interviewing each qualified candidate has begun following the application deadline of Friday, Jan. 2.

He hopes to have the $105,000 per year position filled by someone with "significant [Department of Housing and Community Development] and [U.S. Department of Housing and Urban Development] experience" as well as experience in coordinating a maintenance department, he said.

So far, he said, many of the applicants have been promising.

Deborah Williamson, modernization director, has been doing "the lion's share of the work" according to Lydon since the resignation of former maintenance director David Ferris on Sept. 12.

Ferris was put on paid administrative leave July 9 as the result of a report by DHCD that revealed unsafe and unsanitary living conditions and negligence by maintenance staff.

Lydon said he decided to put him on leave in early 2014 after he said he found a bag of documents shredded and concealed by Ferris.

Orders sent to the maintenance department dating back to 2008 were also found that were either ignored or flagged as low priority by Ferris.

He also knowingly signed off on work orders that were never completed, said Lydon.

Ferris held the $85,000 per year position for over 10 years and managed roughly 50 maintenance workers.

Lydon said that since the departure of Ferris and due to the inspections of HUD and DHCD over the past several months, maintenance staff have been working tirelessly to correct all life and safety deficiencies found.

A report following the inspection of ten percent of Quincy's state-aided public housing units and common areas conducted on March 31, April 1, and April 3 of 2014 by the Department of Housing and Community Development (DHCD) revealed subpar living conditions in need of immediate repair. Another report released on April 30 following a reinspection outlined operational issues such as poor communication between the maintenance department and the authority as well as physical condition concerns such as exposed electrical wiring, holes in walls, improperly stored combustibles, mold and mildew, and in one case raw sewage from a unit's bathroom leaking through the floor and onto a tenant's stove in the unit below.

HUD notified the housing authority in early August that they would be conducting their own inspections of all properties containing federally-aided units including O'Brien Towers, the Drohan Apartments, the Riverview Apartments, and Pagnano Towers.

Those inspections wrapped up at the end of December, said Lydon.

"I think we've historically had clashes between maintenance and modernization with both [managers] being at about the same level in terms of management but tossing problems back and forth between one another," said Lydon during an interview in August.

The newly hired director of facilities will be tasked with hiring an in-house inspector to carry out routine inspections of housing authority homes and units. Lydon said that a salary for the inspector has yet to be determined and will be decided following the hiring of the director of facilities.

Inspections were previously handled by Tennessee-based firm McCright & Associates.

Lydon has described their operations as "poor" in the past and said they were not communicating to the authority all of the safety and health issues later discovered by DHCD and HUD.

Further in-house inspections will be performed routinely and projects will be evenly spread out as to not overwork maintenance staff, he added.

The appointment of the director of operations must be approved by the board, said Lydon who will make his recommendation for the position at the next meeting of the authority on Wednesday, Jan. 21.

South Weymouth Woman Wins $500 From Bank Of Canton

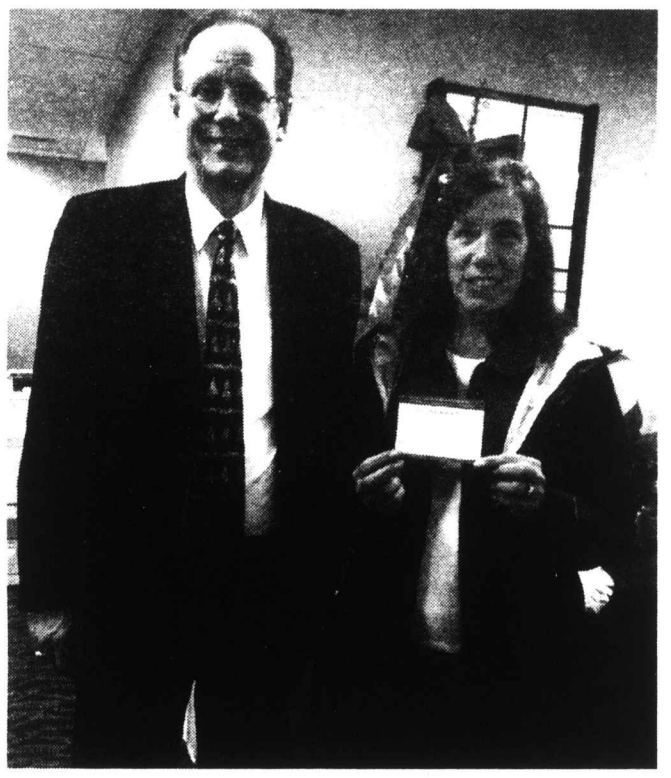
Bank of Canton announces Maureen Burton of South Weymouth was the winner of $500 during Bank of Canton's Annual Good Cheerlings Sweepstakes for the Quincy branch, located at 60 McGrath Highway.

To bring holiday cheer to the community, Bank of Canton invited area residents to participate in the contest to win $500 during the annual giveaway at its Quincy branch.

"Good Cheerlings" has been an annual promotion at Bank of Canton for more than two decades, was open to the public throughout most of December, and winners did not need to be customers of the bank.

A $500 check was awarded to one winner drawn from each of the five Bank of Canton branches for a total of $2,500 in prizes.

"During the holiday season, we want to take the time to thank our customers and others in the community who support our bank year-round," said Stephen P. Costello, President of Bank of Canton. "We are especially pleased that we can give rewards to our customers through the Good Cheerlings program."



KEN ANDERSON, Branch Manager for Bank of Canton's Quincy branch, presents Maureen Burton of South Weymouth her $500 prize for winning the Good Cheerlings Sweepstakes drawing in Quincy. Photo Courtesy Bank of Canton

Register Of Deeds To Address Realtors Feb. 3

Norfolk County Register of Deeds William P. O'Donnell will be the guest speaker for the Plymouth and South Shore Association of REALTORS®, Inc. (PASS) on Tuesday, Feb. 3 at 10 a.m.

The meeting will be held at PASS central office, 48 Schoosett St. (Route 139), Pembroke.

O'Donnell will speak on several subjects including the most recent changes in the Homestead Law and the current national scam that is taking place with regards to paying an artificially exorbitant price for a deed, instead of paying a few dollars at a local Registry.

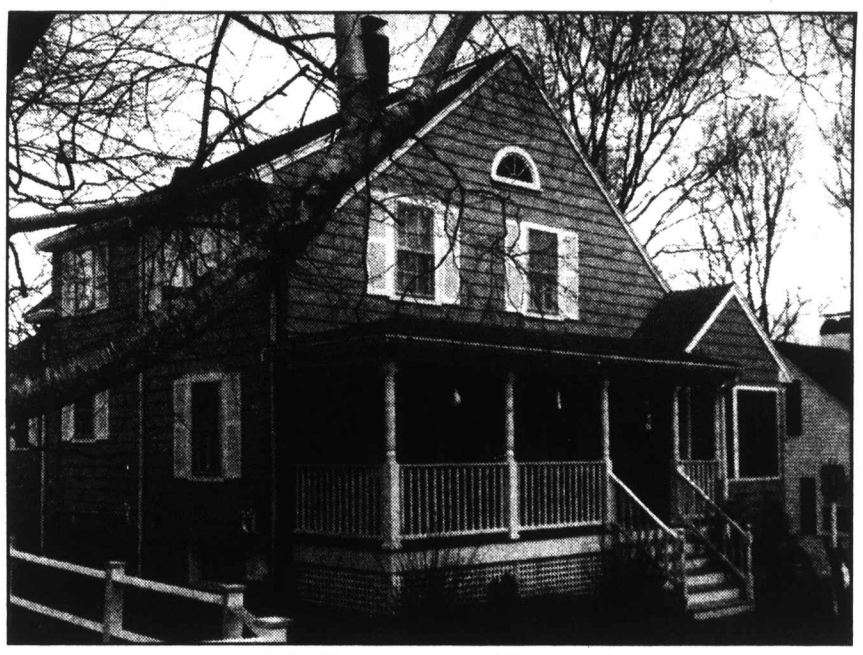
He will also discuss the historical nature of the Registry – some documents dating all the way back to 1793 - and his ongoing efforts to modernize and computerize the millions of land records in its operations.

After the presentation, O'Donnell will demonstrate how the Registry's On-Line Land Records Database works by giving PASS members the opportunity to look up documents or print a copy of their deed.

"Today we live in a fast pace and highly mobile society and its incumbent on us at the Registry to make sure that our customers can look up their information in the most efficient, practical and accessible ways as possible," O'Donnell said.

As part of his Registry of Deeds community outreach initiative, O'Donnell offers these on-line services to both residents and businesses interested in researching Norfolk County registry information.

For more information, call (781) 461-6101, or email registerodonnell@norfolkdeeds.org.



14 Sumac Road

Charming 3 bedroom, 2.5 bath home in Squantum
Porch and sunroom with water views
Finished walkout basement with bonus room
Updated kitchen and baths
Hardwood floors
Newer gas heat and hot water
Deeded beach rights

$639,000

SUCCESS! REAL ESTATE

Deborah Riley
Realtor®
SUCCESS! Real Estate
968 Hancock Street, Quincy, MA 02170

Phone: (617) 773-7676
Cell Phone: (617) 447-3591
Fax: (888) 371-6027
Email: deborah.riley09@gmail.com

I will NEVER represent both parties in a real estate transaction

A Job Well Done

By QUINCY POLICE LT. DAN MINTON

On Saturday, December 27, 2014, at approximately 4:55 p.m., Officers David Zupkofska and James Cassidy were dispatched to the parking lot of 1000 Southern Artery on a call of a man breaking into a car. The caller updated Communications that the man was still in the car, which was parked right in front of 1000 Southern Artery.

Officer Zupkofska arrived within moments and found two people (male and female) standing near a car at the front of the building pointing towards the car. The Officer approached and positioned his cruiser facing the car involved and then illuminated the interior of the suspects car with his spotlight. As the Officer exited his cruiser, a female, later identified as the car owner, pointed towards the car again and excitedly said, "I just came out to leave and this guy is in my car!" As the Officer approached the driver side window, the suspect without being told to do so, put his hands up.

Officer Zupkofska tried the door handle but the door was locked, so he instructed the suspect to open the door. The suspect just sat there so the Officer obtained the keys from the owner, unlocked and then opened the driver's door. When told to exit the car, the suspect began to get out while stating, "I thought this was Rita's car."

As the Officer placed the suspect in handcuffs, the suspect told the Officer that he recognized him from doing Bingo details. The suspect then blurted out, "Man, I'll be honest with you because I know you from Bingo. I broke into the car." There was a moderate odor of alcohol coming from the suspect's breath.

Officer Cassidy arrived on scene and placed the suspect in a cruiser, while Officer Zupkofska interviewed the victim. She said that she and her husband were visiting her mother at the senior's building and parked her car at approximately 2:30 p.m. Her husband arrived in his own vehicle later and was parked right in front of her car. As they left and approached their cars, she saw "this guy sitting inside my car so I told my husband." He then called the Police. The interior of the car was in disarray, with the glove box open and the contents (papers, registration, garage door opener, etc) strewn about the seat and floor. The middle console between the front seats was also open and appeared to be rummaged through. The victim said that the bag on the front seat was not hers as well as a few aluminum cans. Inside the bag was a cell phone, a screw driver and some small wooden boxes. After checking her car, the victim said she did not believe that anything was actually missing. There was no sign that there was forced entry into the vehicle and the victim was unsure if she locked the doors.

When Officer Zupkofska brought the bag to his cruiser, the suspect said, "Oh yeah, that's mine." The suspect, a 56 year old Quincy resident, was charged with "Breaking and Entering into a Motor Vehicle in the Nighttime." Nice Work!

❑

LT. DAN MINTON

ANOTHER JOB WELL DONE: On December 27, 2014, at approximately 3:25 a.m., Officers Bryan Donovan and Joe Cox were dispatched to Phipps Street for a report of a male outside yelling.

Upon arrival, there was no one around. A second call came in at 3:28 a.m., but again no one was around. The second call came in at 4:00 a.m. and this time the Officers located a male standing on the sidewalk smoking a cigarette, while talking to himself in a loud voice. As the Officers approached, they noted that the male was unsteady on his feet and had a strong odor of alcoholic beverage coming from him. When asked what he was doing, the male said that he was just looking for his cigarettes and hanging out with his friend, although he could not explain where he was looking, how he came to have a cigarette in his hand or where his friend was. He was asked to either go inside his friend's home that he claimed to be visiting, or to go home. The male said he would go home and was then offered a ride, which he declined because he lived a short distance away. The male began walking down Phipps Street toward School Street in the direction of his home.

Officer Donovan waited a few minutes and then proceeded in the direction of the male's home to ensure that he got home, but was unable to locate him. Concerned that he may have gone back to Phipps Street, the Officer returned and located the male outside again talking to himself, saying that he was just looking for cigarettes. When asked if anyone was home at his house, the male said, "Yes - both of my parents." Officer Donovan placed the male in handcuffs and transported him to his home, where his parents met him at the front door. They said they would allow him to stay there for the night and the male was instructed to go to sleep.

At approximately 4:42 a.m., the Officers were again dispatched to Phipps Street for another report of a loud male outside yelling. Upon arrival, Officer Donovan found the same male in the same location, again rambling about finding cigarettes. At this time, the male, a 24 year old Quincy resident, was placed into protective custody for his safety as well as the safety of the public. The male became increasingly louder when he was told that he was being placed into protective custody and continued to ask the Officer to "Just take me home again." Nice Work!

❑

FTC WARNING: (from FTC website) Your young child is playing an educational app with cute cartoon characters. It's teaching her letters, shapes, and numbers. There may be a downside - while your child is learning her ABCs, someone else could be learning where your child is!

The FTC just sent out a warning to a major early childhood software developer based in China, known as BabyBus, because its apps appear to collect precise geo-location information. That means BabyBus knows exactly where your child is when she is playing their game - and there's nothing stopping them from sharing that with advertisers. All this happens without your consent.

Not only is it creepy, it's illegal. The Children's Online Privacy Protection Act (COPPA) requires developers of apps that are marketed to children under age 13 to provide notice to parents and get their consent before collecting your child's personal information. That includes geo-location information. The FTC's letter urges the company to review its compliance with COPPA and states that the FTC will be revisiting its mobile apps again in the next month.

BabyBus markets more than sixty free mobile apps to children between the ages of one and six. The apps use cartoon characters to teach children, letters, counting, shapes, music, and matching. The apps are available on iTunes, Google Play, and Amazon Appstore for Android.

So, what's a parent to do? If you're looking to download an educational app for your child and don't want one that tracks your child's location, here are some tips:

- Before you download an app, read the description, content, user reviews, and privacy policy.
- Check what information the app collects. Look at the app's permissions to see if the app shares location, photos, contacts or other personal information. If it does and you don't want your child's personal information shared, then don't download that app.
- Do research on the app developer. "Google" the app maker for reviews and scams.

QUINCY POLICE CRIME PREVENTION JOURNAL

Quincy Police Statistics
Dec. 26 – Jan. 2
ARRESTS: 35
TOTAL CALLS: 887
STOLEN MOTOR VEHICLES: 0

FRIDAY, DEC. 26

LARCENY, 7:02 a.m., Lowe's, 599 Burgin Pkwy. Connex box broken into overnight. Construction equipment was stolen.

LARCENY, 5:07 p.m., 95 Martensen St. White male in black jacket with hood, jeans, white sneakers. Reporting party thinks he was stealing aluminum covers that were on the hoses. Suspect dropped them near the gray storage containers on the hill behind the building. Frequent checks requested.

ASSAULT AND BATTERY, 8:30 p.m., Burger King, 62 Granite St. White female wearing black pants, black shirt outside of above assaulted an employee. Caller refused EMS.

BREAKING AND ENTERING, 11:02 p.m., Taffrail Rd. Entrance gained through window.

SATURDAY, DEC. 27

VANDALISM/PROPERTY, 11:31 a.m., 47 Washington St. MV keyed.

VANDALISM/PROPERTY, 2:15 a.m., Post Office, 47 Washington St. MV keyed. Possible suspect.

LARCENY, 2:42 p.m., Parkhurst St. Civil matter concerning an estate. Advised.

LARCENY, 3:51 p.m., 230 Willard St. Her son's father took a PlayStation and refuses to give it back. Reporting party wants to settle in small claims court. Case number provided.

SUNDAY, DEC. 28

LARCENY, 6:04 p.m., 200 block of Water St. States her cousin took her wallet and she wants to go inside and get it back.

VANDALISM/PROPERTY, 6:37 p.m., Botolph St. About 4 or 5 youths, two on skateboards, heading towards E. Squantum St. from Botolph, wearing winter hats. Knocked off a vehicle mirror. Gone on arrival.

MONDAY, DEC. 29

LARCENY, 2:05 a.m., Cathay Pacific, 111 Hancock St. iPhone. Using Find My iPhone app, K7 checking location of ping on Newbury Street for iPhone. Multi-family home, house in darkness.

VANDALISM/PROPERTY, 8:41 a.m., Glover Ave. 2013 Kia Optima's back window was smashed out sometime overnight. No suspect info. Party claims nothing removed from vehicle.

VANDALISM/PROPERTY, 11:17 a.m., Mill St. Car was keyed at work. Has suspect info. Victim states she and co-worker witnessed suspect vandalize her car. Complaint for malicious damage over.

VANDALISM/PROPERTY, 12:55 p.m., Glover Ave. Rear left window smashed.

LARCENY, 3:35 p.m., Cathay Pacific, 111 Hancock St. States tablet taken from front desk. Manager will check security camera and burn off a copy.

TUESDAY, DEC. 30

LARCENY, 8:12 a.m., Parkingway. Unknown person stole black iPhone 5S from bench located out front.

LARCENY, 1:06 p.m., Independence Ave. Caller states her jewelry and prescription Adderall was taken from apartment. Has suspect info.

WEDNESDAY, DEC. 31

LARCENY, 1:51 a.m., Stop & Shop, 65 Newport Ave. Male came into store and stole property from office upstairs. Suspect left on foot about 10 minutes. Short dark haired male wearing dark trench coat. Arrest made for larceny in a building

VANDALISM/PROPERTY, 8:09 a.m., Standish Rd. Top rail of cedar fence ripped off.

BREAKING AND ENTERING, 12:24 p.m., Quincy Maritime Park, 6 Read Ave. Boat.

BREAKING AND ENTERING, 1:48 p.m., West St.

ARMED ROBBERY, 4:33 p.m., Stop & Shop Offices, 1385 Hancock St. Three white males in their late 20s, one thin and two heavy, one had a beard, all wearing jeans, thinks one had a knife. Claims she was pushed and was hitting. Now female at the Stop & Shop building. Happened in the rear pathway behind Stop & Shop 10 minutes ago. Arrest made for a warrant at Burgin Parkway. Victim checked by ambulance, transported home by officer.

LARCENY, 7:10 p.m., 3 Cottage Ave. Claims someone broke into his house and took his razor and gold chain. Possibly taken by unwanted guest last night.

THURSDAY, JAN. 1

VANDALISM/PROPERTY, 11:47 a.m., Gentle Dental, 1518 Hancock St. Tagging.

BREAKING AND ENTERING, 5:25 p.m., Larry Pl. Came home to find screen window slashed. Fingerprints all over window.

BREAKING AND ENTERING, 6:37 p.m., Kilby St. Came home to find house broken into.

FRIDAY, JAN. 2

VANDALISM/PROPERTY, 8:40 a.m., 645 Hancock St. Graffiti. Postal truck in parking lot. Postal employee took pictures, does not want to see officer, just wants it on record.

If anyone has more information about any of the aforementioned incidents or would like more information, contact Crime Prevention Lieutenant Dan Minton at 617 745 5719

❑

STOLEN MOTOR VEHICLES: None.

❑

CAR BREAKS: Cushing Street, Edwards Lane, 1000 Southern Artery (arrest).

❑

BREAKS AND ATTEMPTED BREAKS: Kilby Street, West Street, Read Avenue, Taffrail Road.

If you have information on the above crimes, drug activity or any crime, please call the Quincy Police Detective Bureau at 617-745-5764 or log onto the following website: http://tinyurl.com/ytf6td.

To report suspicious drug activity, call the Drug Hot-Line at 617-745-5730. You will not be required to identify yourself, but it could help. To make an appointment to view the Registered Sex Offenders book, call Detective James Dentremont at 617-745-5755.

To contact the Crime Prevention Officer for tips or comments, my direct line is 617-745-5719. My e-mail address is dminton@ci.quincy.ma.us

-- Lt. Dan Minton

Entries in the Quincy Police Hot Spots are compiled and submitted by the Quincy Police Department.

They are published by The Quincy Sun as a public service to make local residents more aware of any crime activity in their neighborhood. Questions concerning the Hot Spots list should be directed to Crime Prevention Officer Lt. Dan Minton, 617-745-5719.

Bethany Congregational

On Sunday, Jan. 11, Bethany Congregational Church, will have Worship Service and Sunday School at 10 a.m. Rev. William C. Harding will conduct the service and preach the sermon entitled "Hope For Heaven." Fellowship with light refreshments will follow.

All are welcome to attend Worship Services and its activities: a Youth Group, a Men's Group, an Outreach Mission Group doing various charity works and a Bible Study Class.

The church office is open 8:30 a.m. to noon, then 1 - 4 p.m. Please visit our website at bethanychurch.tk for updates and activities. Thanks to the Video Ministry, if you're unable to attend worship service, the Bethany Church Service is broadcast on QATV at 6:00 p.m. Thursdays and 10:00 a.m. Sundays on Channel 8. Childcare will be available for infants and toddlers during worship service on Sundays. The church is wheelchair accessible.

Senior Coffee Shop Resumes At Union Congregational

Senior coffee shop, a ministry to seniors at Union Congregational Church, 136 Rawson Rd., Wollaston, resumes today (Thursday) after a two-week break for the Christmas holiday.

Open to senior citizens from Wollaston and the wider community, Senior Coffee Shop features coffee, conversation, a movie and lunch usually prepared by the Pastor, the Rev. John Swanson. This week, America 1900, a documentary narrated by David McCulloch, will be shown.

Senior Coffee Shop is open to everybody and meets in the Church fellowship hall each Thursday at 11:30 a.m. and concludes by 2 p.m. There is no charge for the program but donations are accepted.

In other church news, the Teen Challenge Choir will perform at Union Church on Sunday, Jan. 18 as part of the regular Sunday worship service at 10 a.m.

The church is handicapped accessible. For more information, call the church at 617-479-6661

RELIGION

Houghs Neck Congregational

The Sunday morning service at Houghs Neck Congregational Church, 310 Manet Ave., begins at 10 a.m.

Pastor Felix Carrion will lead the service and preach the sermon "The Baptism We Share."

The call to worship and scripture lesson will be read by liturgist Helen Miller. Robert Rheault and Joseph Giggey will serve for the Diaconate.

Steve Reed, Minister of Music will play the piano and organ and direct the choir. Following the children's message the students will go downstairs to classes and the nursery will be open.

After the service a fellowship coffee hour is hosted by Nancy and Molly Jacobs. All are welcome.

A Fundraising Meeting to plan church events for the year will also take place following the service.

The Diaconate meets today (Thursday) at 1:30. p.m.

Hatha Yoga resumes tonight (Thursday) at 7 p.m. with Linda Beck, Registered Yoga Teacher. Dress comfortably, bring water, a mat and $5.

Quincy Point Congregational

The "Cross Roads" adult praise band will perform at the 10 a.m. worship service Sunday at Quincy Point Congregational Church, 444 Washington St.

Peter Johnston will preach the sermon.

The Deacon of the day is Deanna Van Schagen and the lay reader is Jan Chandler. After worship all are invited to Social Hall for coffee and light refreshments. While there sign the Birthday and Thinking of You cards.

More Obituaries On Pages 28-31 and Online at www.thequincysun.com

OBITUARIES

Irene E. Rockett

A funeral Mass for Irene E. Rockett of Quincy, formerly of Dorchester, will be celebrated today (Thursday) at 10 a.m. in Sacred Heart Church, Quincy.

Ms. Rockett died Jan. 3.

Late retired supervisor for the Boston Gas Company for more than 35 years.

Beloved daughter of the late John J. and Eva (Rzepka) Rockett. Loving sister of the late Chester and Frederick Rockett. Devoted aunt of John Rockett and Gerry Rockett, both of Pembroke, David Rockett of Middleboro, Rosemary Richards of Rockland, Frederick Rockett of Kingston, and Patrick Rockett of Pembroke. Survived by many great-nieces and nephews, and great-great-nieces and nephews.

Visiting hour at 8:30 a.m. today in Murphy Funeral Home, Dorchester.

Interment in New Calvary Cemetery, Boston.

Vincent P. Kalousdian, 40

A funeral Mass for Vincent P. Kalousdian, 40, of Quincy and formerly Somerville and Scituate will be celebrated Saturday at 10 a.m. in St. John the Baptist Church, Quincy.

Mr. Kalousdian died unexpectedly Jan. 2.

He was born in Malden, raised and educated in Scituate and Somerville schools and had lived in Quincy for several years. He was a self-employed carpenter. Mr. Kalousdian enjoyed acting and singing. He was a devout Catholic and loved his family.

Beloved son of Annette Marie Lombardo of Weymouth and the late Jean-Marc Kalousdian. Devoted brother of Marisa Beardsley and her husband Matthew of Quincy, Tanya Primes and her husband John of Quincy. Loving uncle of Lauren, Ryan and Tessa.

Funeral arrangements were made by Sweeney Brothers Home for Funerals, 1 Independence Ave., Quincy.

Private interment.

Memorial donations may be made to the Home for Little Wanderers, Development Dept., 10 Guest St., Boston, MA 02135.

Quincy Religion Directory

SERVICES & ACTIVITIES

Catholic

St. Mary's Church
95 Crescent St., Quincy • 617-773-0120
Masses
Saturday, 4pm, Sunday 8 & 10:30am
Tuesday/Thursday 9am
Handicapped Accessible
New Members Welcome!

ST. AGATHA CHURCH MILTON-QUINCY
432 Adams Street
Milton, MA 02186 • 617-698-2439
Schedule of Masses:
Saturday: 4:30PM
Sunday: 7:30AM, 9:00AM, 10:30AM, 12 NOON and 5:00PM
Weekday Masses: 7:00 & 9:00AM
Reconciliation 3:45PM-4:15pm on Saturdays, other times by appointment
Handicapped Accessible, handicapped parking, elevator to Upper/Lower Churches ~ Air-Conditioned

St. John The Baptist
ROMAN CATHOLIC CHURCH
44 School St., Quincy
617-773-1021
Weekend Mass Schedule
Saturday, 4:00 PM
Sunday 7:30, 9:00, 11:00 AM
Sunday night 5:30 PM
Weekday Masses
Monday - Saturday 8:00 AM
Latin Mass
1st & 3rd Wednesdays
(Lower Chapel) 7:00 AM
Confessions
Wed. 8:30 – 9:00 AM
Sat. 2:30 – 3:30 PM
Handicapped Accessible

Salvationist

THE SALVATION ARMY
6 Baxter St., Quincy • 617-472-2345
9:45 CHRISTIAN EDUCATION
11AM WORSHIP SERVICE
BRASS BAND MUSIC
7PM TUES WOMEN'S FELLOWSHIP
6:45PM WEDS. BIBLE STUDY

Catholic

Sacred Heart Church
"A Roman Catholic Community walking together in Faith, Worship, Education and Service"
386 Hancock St., North Quincy, MA 02171
(617) 328-8666
Sunday Masses
4pm (Saturday)
7:30 am and 10:00 am
Weekday Masses
Monday - Friday 7am
Handicapped Accessible
Confessions
Sat. 3-3:45pm in Saint Joseph Oratory

St. Joseph's Church
550 Washington Street
Quincy, MA 02169
617-472-6321
SUNDAY MASSES:
4 p.m. (On Saturday)
8:30 a.m. and 10:30 a.m.
Weekday Masses 9am
CONFESSIONS: Saturday, 3:00-3:30 pm
Handicapped accessible & Handicapped parking, side entrance air conditioned

Saint Ann's Church
757 Hancock St., Wollaston
617-479-5400
Mass Schedule:
Sat. 4:00 PM / Sun. 9, 11 AM
Daily Mass: Monday, Wednesday, Friday, Saturday 9 AM
Confessions: Saturday 3-3:30PM
Handicapped Accessible via Elevator

Methodist

QUINCY COMMUNITY UNITED METHODIST CHURCH
40 Beale St., Wollaston
617-773-3319
10:30 AM Sunday Worship
Rev. Dr. Susan Jarek-Glidden, Pastor

Congregational

HOUGH'S NECK CONGREGATIONAL CHURCH
310 Manet Avenue
617-479-8778
www.hncong.org
Sunday Morning Service at 10 a.m.
Pastor Felix Carrion will lead and preach the sermon "The Baptism We Share"
All are welcome to attend
FELLOWSHIP COFFEE HOUR FOLLOWING SERVICE

BETHANY CONGREGATIONAL CHURCH
Spear & Coddington Streets
Quincy Center, 617-479-7300
www.bethanychurch.tk
Worship Service and Sunday School at 10AM
Rev. William C. Harding will conduct the service and preach the sermon "Hope For Heaven."
Child Care Available For Infants And Toddlers
ALL ARE WELCOME!
Fellowship Time following Service
The church is wheelchair accessible

JOY

Congregational

Wollaston
Congregational Church
United Church of Christ
48 Winthrop Avenue
Quincy, Massachusetts
Worship and Sunday School at 10 a.m.
Fred Hayes InterimPastor
617-773-7432
www.wollastonucc.com

UNION CONGREGATIONAL
Beach St. & Rawson Rd., Wollaston
(617) 479-6661
Rev. John Swanson, Pastor
Sunday Worship Service 10 AM

QUINCY POINT CONGREGATIONAL CHURCH
444 Washington St . • 617-773-6424
Worship and Church School 10 am
Rev. Ann Suzedell, Pastor
email: office@quincypointcong.org

Unitarian Universalist

United First Parish Church
A theologically liberal congregation, encouraging people to seek their own spiritual path. All are welcome.
Worship Service, Church School and Childcare Sundays at 10:30 AM
Followed by Fellowship & Refreshments
Rev. Rebecca Froom
1306 Hancock St., Quincy
www.ufpc.org

PEACE

Christian Science

First Church of Christ, Scientist
1460 Hancock Street, Quincy
617-472-0055
Sunday Services and Sunday School 10:30 a.m.
Wednesday Evening Meetings – where testimonies of healing are shared 7:30 p.m.

ALL ARE WELCOME!

Catholic Community

Dignity BOSTON
Gay, Lesbian, Bisexual, Transgender
CATHOLICS
Our families, friends And allies
Liturgy & social hour: Sundays, 5:30 PM
St. John the Evangelist Church
35 Bowdoin St., Beacon Hill, Boston
617-421-1915
www.dignityboston.org

Nazarene

Wollaston
Church of the Nazarene
Sunday Worship
8:30 AM Liturgical Worship
9:45 AM Sunday School
11:00 AM Celebration Worship
Kevin C. Dunlop, Lead Pastor
Phil Nase, Youth & Small Groups Pastor
Jake Chastain, Music & Campus Pastor
Bev Keuther, Children's Pastor
Don Reed, Visitation Pastor
37 E. Elm Ave., Wollaston
617.472.5669
E-mail: office@wconaz.org
www.wollastonnazarene.org

HOPE

LOVE

To Advertise in this Directory, Call 617-471-3100

OBITUARIES

Michael J. Kennedy, 53

A funeral Mass for Michael James Kennedy, 53, of Quincy was celebrated Monday in Sacred Heart Church, Quincy.

Mr. Kennedy died Dec. 30 at Boston Medical Center after a short illness.

Born in Dorchester, he was the son of Mary Kennedy of Quincy and the late Denis Kennedy. Mr. Kennedy was a carpenter who worked on many major local construction projects as well as smaller commercial and residential jobs. He also worked for the Metropolitan District Commission. He was a longtime member of the Carpenters Local 33 in Boston as well as a graduate of North Quincy High School and Wentworth Institute of Technology.

In addition to his mother, Mr. Kennedy is survived by three sisters, Anne Kennedy Speidel of VA, Kathleen Kennedy of France, and Mary Gabrielle Kennedy of East Bridgewater and two brothers, Patrick Kennedy of Braintree and Denis Kennedy of Newburyport. Also survived by seven nieces and nephews and many cousins both in the U.S. and Ireland.

MICHAEL J. KENNEDY

Funeral arrangements were made by Keohane Funeral Home, 785 Hancock St., Quincy.

Interment at Cedar Grove Cemetery, Boston.

Memorial donations may be made to Quincy Animal Shelter, PO Box 690088, Quincy, MA 02269.

Alice O'Neill, 57

A funeral Mass for Alice (Welch) O'Neill, 57, of Quincy was celebrated Jan. 3 at Sacred Heart Church, Quincy.

Mrs. O'Neill died Dec. 29.

She was born in Boston and lived in Quincy for 57 years. She was a graduate of Aquinas Junior College. Mrs. O'Neill worked as a former letter carrier for the USPS.

Beloved wife of William J. O'Neill. Loving mother of William and Patrick O'Neill of Quincy and Stephen of Brockton. Daughter of Alice (Davis) Welch of Quincy and the late Thomas P. Welch. Sister of Michael Welch of Braintree, Kevin of Taunton, Bobby of Quincy, Jennifer Parker of Whitman and the late Thomas Welch. Grandmother of Kaley, Madison, William and Aiden.

Funeral arrangements were made by Lydon Chapel for Funerals, 644 Hancock St., Quincy.

Interment at Milton Cemetery.

Memorial donations may be made to the American Lung Assoc., 460 Totten Pond Rd., Suite 400, Waltham, MA 02451.

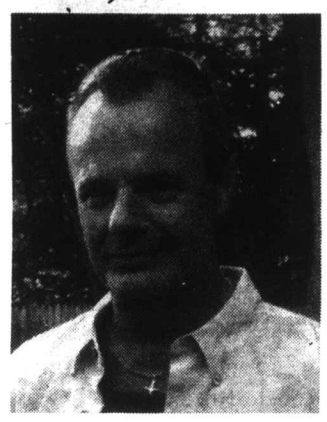
Robert P. Ash, 49

Visiting hours for Robert P. "Bob" Ash, 49, of Quincy were held Sunday in Hamel, Wickens & Troupe Funeral Home, 26 Adams St., Quincy.

Mr. Ash died unexpectedly Dec. 19 at Quincy Medical Center.

Born and raised in Quincy, he attended Quincy High School and worked for Jay Jay's Pool Service as an installer. Mr. Ash will be remembered as a kind soul, who was a selfless and caring friend to all who knew him. He enjoyed keeping physically fit by playing sports and riding his bicycle.

He was the loving son of Joan Ash Peters of Quincy and the late George H. Ash, Jr. Brother of Richard G. Ash and his companion Susan Bosworth of Holbrook and Christina M. Ash of Quincy. Maternal grandson of Eleanor Davis of Quincy.



ROBERT P. ASH

Nephew of Candace Gagnon of FL. Uncle of Richard and Nicole of Quincy and cousin of Michael E. Davis of FL and the late Richard Davis. Also survived by extended family and many close friends.

Private interment.

Memorial donations may be made to the Bob Ash Memorial Fund and dropped off at Citizens Bank, 85 Quincy Ave., Quincy, MA 02169 or given directly to Joan Ash Peters for deposit.

Ann J. Horrigan

A funeral Mass for Ann J. (Malloy) (McEachen) Horrigan of Hingham, formerly of Quincy, Braintree and Dorchester, was celebrated Monday in St. Joseph's Church, Quincy.

Mrs. Horrigan died Dec. 29.

She loved her family and enjoyed traveling. She received her driver's license in the 1950s and was the designated car pool for many of her children and church groups. Her faith was the center of her life through all the years.

Mrs. Horrigan worked as an administrative clerk for many years at State Street Bank and was a member the Morrisette Post Ladies Auxiliary. She was outgoing, an organizer, and dedicated to her family.

Beloved wife of the late John J. Horrigan and John F. Malloy, Sr. Loving mother of John Malloy and his wife Mary Alice of Plymouth, Kevin Malloy and his wife Mary of Scituate, Edward Malloy and his wife Suzanne of GA, and Daniel Horrigan of CA. Also survived by nine grandchildren and many nieces and nephews.

Funeral arrangements were made by Keohane Funeral Home, 785 Hancock St., Quincy.

Interment at Blue Hill Cemetery, Braintree.

Memorial donations may be made to Harbor House Patient Activity Fund, 11 Condito Rd., Hingham, MA 02043.

Nils O. Lundin, 93

A funeral for Nils Olaf Lundin, 93, of Quincy and formerly Norwell was held Tuesday in Faith Lutheran Church, Quincy.

Mr. Lundin died Dec. 28 following a brief illness.

Born in Torsaker, Gavleborg, Sweden, on Oct. 30, 1921, he was one of seven children born to the late Lars V. and Maria O. (Stahlberg) Lundin. He emigrated with his family to the U.S. in 1929 and settled in Quincy, where he graduated Quincy High School in 1941.

Mr. Lundin served his newfound country with honor during WWII in the U.S. Army, where he was stationed in the South Pacific nation of New Guinea as a cryptographer. He was honorably discharged in October 1945 with the rank of sergeant. After his time in the service, Mr. Lundin began his career with Pneumatic Scale Corp. of Quincy, where he worked for 40 years before retiring in 1985 as an inventory supervisor.

A highly regarded accordion player and composer in both the U.S. and Sweden, he began playing as a teenager in the Lundin Brothers Orchestra, which also included brothers Carl and Eric. His lifelong love of music served to promote and encourage the preservation of Scandinavian music, dance and tradition; earning him a medal from the King of Sweden in 1981 recognizing his achievements. He was also awarded the prestigious Elin award – the Swedish equivalent to a Grammy award – for his American Wooden Shoe Polka.

Mr. Lundin was a longtime, active and faithful member of Faith Lutheran Church of Quincy, where he loved to entertain and support the children's programs and other important causes. He was also a member of the Independent Order of Vikings Stenkil Lodge #92, Vasa Order of Braintree, American Legion and the Lions Club.

NILS O. LUNDIN

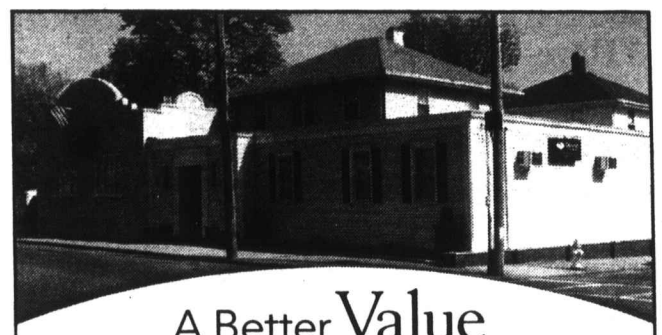
Husband of the late Audrey (Smith) Lundin, and former husband of the late Rena (DuBois) Lundin. Loving father of Carol Lundin of NH, Christopher Lundin and wife Mary Lou of FL and the late Catherine Sides and husband Ed Sides of TX. Cherished grandfather of Darrin Sides of NY, Sandra Lundin of FL and Scott Sides of MA. Great-grandfather to Mia, Noah and Kiera Sides, all of NY. He was the dear brother of the late Anna Larson and Joseph, Lars "Oke," Carl, Eric and Helge "Pelle" Lundin. He is also survived by many nieces, nephews, grandnieces, grandnephews, extended family and close friends.

The Rev. Heidi Johnston, pastor, officiated the service.

Funeral arrangements were made by Hamel, Wickens & Troupe Funeral Home, 26 Adams St., Quincy.

Private interment.

Memorial donations may be made to Faith Lutheran Church or the Catherine Sides Memorial Scholarship Fund, sending either to: c/o Carol N. Lundin, 22 Holly St., Concord, NH 03301.



A Better Value For Quincy Families

At Deware Funeral Home, we are proud to offer more value and superior service to Quincy families. A full service traditional funeral is $5,995* with no hidden costs. The price includes:

Funeral Ceremony • Visitation • Casket

At Deware Funeral Home, we put the needs of our customer first. We also offer a Simple Burial Plan for $3,395.

With Deware Funeral Home, you can trust us to provide the compassionate care you expect at an exceptional value, backed by a 100% service guarantee.

Exclusive provider of Dignity Memorial® benefits.

Deware Funeral Home

576 Hancock Street | Quincy, MA 02170 | 617-472-1137

Dignity Memorial

For more information visit www.dewarefuneralhome.com

*$5,995 plan includes basic services of funeral director and staff, embalming and preparation, visitation, funeral ceremony, transportation to place of disposition, 20-gauge metal casket, website announcement, and memorial stationary package (a register book, 100 thank you cards, 100 prayer cards).

A Service Family Affiliate of AFFS and Service Corporation International, 206 Winter Street, Fall River, MA 02720. (508) 676-2454.

Honor Your Loved One's Memory With Flowers

cliffords.com

1.800.441.8884

HAMEL FUNERAL CARE & CREMATION SERVICES OF MASSACHUSETTS

Honored Providers of:

Veterans Funeral Care™

BBB ACCREDITED BUSINESS

PHONE TOLL FREE (800) 696-5887

26 Adams Street, Quincy, Ma 02169

www.HamelFuneralCare.com

DOLAN FUNERAL SERVICES

"Caring for your life's journey"

- Funerals
- Cremations
- Pre-Arrangements

Service times and directions at: www.dolanfuneral.com

THE DOLAN FAMILY
W. Craig
Paul F.
Frederick J.
Courtney

1140 WASHINGTON STREET
DORCHESTER, MA 02124
(617) 298-8011

460 GRANITE AVENUE
MILTON, MA 02186
(617) 698-6264

James H. Maloney, 93

A Mass of Christian Burial for James H. Maloney, 93, of Quincy was celebrated Dec. 31 in Sacred Heart Church, Quincy.

Mr. Maloney died Dec. 28.

Born in Esmond, R.I., he was the son of the late James A. and Rose A. Maloney. Mr. Maloney was a 1941 graduate of La Salle Academy, a 1947 graduate of Providence College (both in Providence) and a decorated U.S. Army veteran of World War II. During his college years, he served two terms on the town of Smithfield School Committee as its youngest member. He was the co-founder of the French American Chamber of Commerce in New England. He then went on to become the president and a member of the Board of Directors.

Mr. Maloney served as the president of the PTA in the Quincy schools. He was appointed to serve on the First Parish Council at Sacred Heart Parish. He volunteered as a CCD teacher, and years later hosted members of the Arise Program in his home. He was a member of the following organizations: Associated General Contractors of New England, Surety Association of New England, Veterans of Foreign Wars, Disabled American Veterans, the American Legion, the Knights of Columbus, and a member of the Quincy and Braintree Art Associations.

Upon retiring from a distinguished career as an insurance executive, Mr. Maloney developed his artistic talents in painting, poetry and composition. He was a spiritual man whose deep faith was an inspiration to his family. He will be greatly missed by his family and friends.

Beloved husband of the late Barbara L. (Sullivan) Maloney. A loving father and grandfather, he is survived by three children, Deborah M. Gill and her husband Joseph of Marshfield, Paul J. Maloney and his wife Janet of RI, and Nancy A. Grimmel and her husband Ronald of Quincy as well as 10 grandchildren.

Funeral arrangements were made by Alfred D. Thomas Funeral Home, Milton.

Interment at Gate of Heaven Cemetery, East Providence, R.I.

Memorial donations may be made to La Salle Academy, 612 Academy Ave., Providence, RI 02908 or to Sacred Heart Church, 386 Hancock St., N. Quincy, MA 02171.

Delores P. Hannon, 86

A funeral Mass for Delores Pia Hannon, 86, of Hanover was celebrated Jan. 2 at Sacred Heart Church, Hanover.

Mrs. Hannon died Dec. 29.

She was born in West Quincy on Oct. 13, 1928, the daughter of the late James and Pia Cellini. She was a graduate of West Quincy High School, and met her husband Robert at a carnival. They were married in St Mary's Church in West Quincy on Oct. 3, 1953.

In her life she was a preschool teacher, a volunteer at South Shore Hospital, an avid bingo player, a voracious reader, knitter, kitten and bird lover. Fall was her favorite time of the year. She and her husband Bob loved to travel and spent much time exploring New England. They found their 'Up Country' house in Maine while exploring one day, and spent a lot of time there enjoying nature and their family. She loved to spend time with her children and granddaughters.

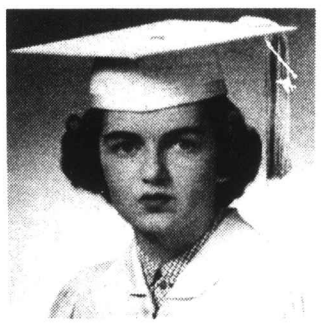
Beloved wife of Robert S. Hannon Sr. Wonderful and devoted mother to three sons: Robert S. Hannon Jr. and his wife Linda of NH, Richard F. Hannon and his wife Judith of Pembroke, and Patrick Hannon and his wife Susan of Carver. She is also survived by six granddaughters: Coleen, Angela, Julia, Jessica, Amanda and Victoria, as well as great-grandson Martin.

Funeral arrangements were made by Sullivan Funeral Home, Hanover.

Interment at Hanover Center Cemetery.

Memorial donations may be made to the South Shore VNA, 30 Reservoir Park Dr., Rockland, MA 02370.

Barbara L. Sullivan



BARBARA L. SULLIVAN

A funeral Mass for Barbara L. Sullivan of Quincy, formerly of Dorchester, was celebrated Monday in St. Margaret Church of Biessed Mother Teresa Parish, Boston.

Ms. Sullivan died Dec. 31.

Former member of Telephone Pioneers of America.

Beloved daughter of the late Cornelius F. Sullivan, VMD, and Agnes G. (Keady) Sullivan. Loving sister of Jean M. O'Hara of Quincy, Cornelius F. "Neil" and his wife Rosemary Sullivan of NC, Mary Jane and her husband Tony Scola of Quincy, and the late Patricia A. Rein, Paul G. Sullivan, and Kathleen A. Sullivan. Sister-in-law of John Rein of Quincy. Cherished niece of the late Judy Keady. Dear friend of Evelyn Timilty of Hull. Survived by many nieces, nephews, grandnieces, and grandnephews.

Funeral arrangements were made by Murphy Funeral Home, Dorchester.

Interment at St. Joseph Cemetery, West Roxbury.

Memorial donations may be made to Christmas in the City, 45 Franklin St., Boston, MA, 02110.

Nella M. Piroli

NELLA M. PIROLI

A funeral Mass for Nella M. (Pietrandrea) Piroli of Quincy was celebrated Jan. 3 in St. Ann's Church, Quincy.

Mrs. Piroli died Dec. 29.

She grew up and was educated in Italy and had lived in Quincy for more than 40 years. She worked as a skilled seamstress and also enjoyed crocheting.

Mrs. Piroli loved cooking, opera music and the Boston Red Sox. As a proud military wife and mother, she had the blessing of traveling the world in support of her family and their accomplishments. She will be dearly missed.

Cherished mother of Don Piroli of Quincy, Maria Rosaria of CA, and Annalisa Piroli of Quincy. Loving sister of Mimi Paluzzi of Braintree, Adriana Filogonio of Italy, and Lorenzo Pietrandrea of Italy. Cherished grandmother of Michael, Chiara, and Peter of CA and Ella and Roseanna of Quincy.

Funeral arrangements were made by Keohane Funeral Home, 785 Hancock St., Quincy.

Interment at Blue Hill Cemetery, Braintree.

Memorial donations may be made to the Salvation Army, 6 Baxter St., Quincy, MA 02169.

Beverly DiGiacomo, 70

A funeral service for Beverly DiGiacomo, 70, a lifetime resident of Quincy, was held Jan. 2 at Hamel, Wickens & Troupe Funeral Home, 26 Adams St., Quincy.

Mrs. DiGiacomo died Dec. 30.

She was the daughter of the late Theodore and Agnes (Stewart) Reichert, Sr. She worked at Raytheon for many years before retiring. Mrs. DiGiacomo enjoyed the Boston Red Sox and will be missed by all who knew her.

Loving mother to Albert DiGiacomo of Quincy, Gregory DiGiacomo of Quincy and she was preceded in death by her other son, Randall DiGiacomo. Cherished grandmother of Joseph DiGiacomo and is survived by many nieces and nephews.

Interment at Pine Hill Cemetery, Quincy.

Wayne J. Bates, 56

WAYNE J. BATES

A funeral Mass for Wayne J. Bates, 56, of Weymouth, formerly of Randolph and Quincy, was celebrated Jan. 3 in St. John the Baptist Church, Quincy.

Mr. Bates died unexpectedly Dec. 28 at his home.

Born in Quincy on Feb. 5, 1959, he was the son of Diane (Couture) Bates of Quincy, and the late James J. Bates and his wife Francesjean (Collazo) Bates of Rockland.

Mr. Bates graduated Randolph High School and worked as a heavy equipment operator and truck driver for many years. He was a member of the Operators Union Local 4, and the Teamsters Local 25. He had been a crane operator at the Fore River Shipyard and also worked on the Central Artery Tunnel Project and on Deer Island.

A talented musician, he played the guitar and keyboards, and had been a member of the local classic rock group Euphoria. His musical interests spanned from blues to jazz and rock-n-roll, and he always looked forward to jamming with his fellow musician friends.

Although Mr. Bates loved riding his Harley-Davidson, his happiest times were those spent in the company of his loving family and close friends.

Loving father of Joseph J. Bates of Rockland and Naomi E. Motz of Quincy. Dear brother of Steven Bates of TX, Michael Bates of Weymouth, Gary Bates of FL, Gary Patten of Attleboro, Robert Patten of Halifax, Dawn Burns of KY and Pamela Hale of Rockland. Nephew of James Couture of CO. Also survived by extended family and many close friends.

Funeral arrangements were made by Hamel, Wickens & Troupe Funeral Home, 26 Adams St., Quincy.

Private interment.

Memorial donations may be made to St. Jude Children's Research Hospital, PO Box 1893, Memphis, TN 38101.

Deborah A. Bostock, 61

Funeral services for Deborah A. "Debbie" Bostock, 61, of Quincy were privately held.

Ms. Bostock died Dec. 23.

A homemaker, she was raised and educated in Worcester.

The beloved life companion of Eugene M. Brusin of Quincy, she was the loving mother of SFC Ryan Guerard, U.S. Army, of WA, Christina M. Brooks of Oxford and Michael Guerard of Dedham; beloved daughter of Francis Hawkins of Worcester and the late Mary (Lumb) Hawkins; dear sister of Sandra Giroux of Dudley and Francis Hawkins II of Sutton and is also survived by four grandchildren.

Arrangements were made by Dennis Sweeney Funeral Home, 74 Elm St., Quincy.

In Loving Memory
On Your 3rd Anniversary
January 10, 2012

Arthur Ducharme

Your wife Alma and children
Cheryl, Linda,
Bill, Jed, Laura
& nine grandchildren

Over 60 Years
Of Personalized Service

SWEENEY BROTHERS
Home for Funerals, Inc.
RICHARD T. SWEENEY, JR.
FRANCIS M. SWEENEY · RICHARD T. SWEENEY III
1 INDEPENDENCE AVENUE
QUINCY, MASSACHUSETTS 02169
(617) 472-6344 · www.thesweeneybrothers.com

During a hard time, there's an easy decision.

Lydon Chapel for Funerals

Simple Cremation $1,599.00

644 Hancock Street, Quincy (617)472-7423 www.lydonchapelforfunerals.com

"Serving Our Community, One Family at a Time"

OBITUARIES

Beverly N. Hanly

A memorial service for Beverly N. Hanly of Braintree and Plymouth was held Jan. 3 in Bethany Congregational Church, Quincy.

Mrs. Hanly died peacefully at home Dec. 23, surrounded by family.

BEVERLY N. HANLY

She was born in Providence and grew up in Quincy before moving to Braintree, where she had lived for the past 50 years. She was married to Albert Hanly from 1953 until his death in 1990. She was predeceased by a son, Phillip Hanly of Bourne. She is survived by four children: Beverly Hanly and Alison Hanly of Braintree, Stephen and his wife Julie of Kingston, Christopher of Plympton, and a daughter in-law, Tammy Hanly of Bourne. She is also survived by four grandchildren: Jessica Wegner of Marshfield, Taryn Laub of CA, William Hanly and Christopher Hanly, both of Bourne, and three great-grandchildren: Addison Laub, Wyler Laub and Fallon Laub of CA.

As a child during World War II, Mrs. Hanly performed in local USO shows. After graduating from North Quincy High School in 1945, she moved to New York City and became a graduate and model of the Barbizon Modeling Agency. In 1969, Mrs. Hanly joined Kathy Corrigan's School of Gymnastics and Dance as a teacher before becoming the executive director where she remained for 46 years, traveling extensively throughout her career.

At Corrigan's she was considered a friend, confidant, counselor, and second mother to countless students and teachers over her almost 50-year career. Throughout the '70s, she traveled frequently to Washington, D.C., in her capacity as the secretary to the U.S. Gymnastic Safety Association. Mrs. Hanly was highly involved in the development of the first safety program in the country for the sport of gymnastics.

For many years she volunteered at the Mass Special Olympics and was the assistant director of their gymnastic program as well as the assistant director of gymnastics for the Bay State Games. In addition, she was the secretary of the New England AAU, a member of the U.S. Gymnastics Federation, and a member of the U.S. Association of Independent Gymnastics Clubs.

Mrs. Hanly had performed as a singer with the "Sweet Adelines," performing throughout New England. She also danced with the "Happy Hoofers" tap dancing troupe performing in the Braintree Post American Legion variety shows. She was a member of the Quincy chapter of Altrusa International and a member of the Friends of South Shore Hospital. Mrs. Hanly was a longtime member of the Quincy YMCA, participating in the Strength Training Past 50 program. In 1990, she was named one of the South Shore News' South Shore Women of the Year.

Funeral arrangements were made by Hamel, Wickens & Troupe Funeral Home, 26 Adams St., Quincy.

Private interment.

LEGAL NOTICE

INFORMAL PROBATE PUBLICATION NOTICE
Docket No. NO14P3219EA
Commonwealth of Massachusetts
The Trial Court
Probate and Family Court
Norfolk Division
35 Shawmut Road
Canton, MA 02021
(781) 830-1200
Estate of:
Dorothy W. Dolan
Date of Death:
August 4, 2014

To all persons interested in the above captioned estate, by Petition of:

Petitioner George P. DuGuay of Waltham, MA.

a Will has been admitted to informal probate.

George P. DuGuay of Waltham, MA has been informally appointed as the Personal Representative of the estate to serve without surety on the bond.

The estate is being administered under informal procedure by the Personal Representative under the Massachusetts Uniform Probate Code without supervision by the Court. Inventory and accounts are not required to be filed with the Court, but interested parties are entitled to notice regarding the administration from the Personal Representative and can petition the Court in any matter relating to the estate, including distribution of assets and expenses of administration. Interested parties are entitled to petition the Court to institute formal proceedings and to obtain orders terminating or restricting the powers of Personal Representatives appointed under informal procedure. A copy of the Petition and Will, if any, can be obtained from the Petitioner.

1/8/15

Phyllis E. Hoyt, 83

A celebration of life for Phyllis E. Hoyt, 83, of Carver was held Jan. 3 in the United Parish of Carver.

Mrs. Hoyt died at home Dec. 26, surrounded by her loving family after a period of failing health.

PHYLLIS E. HOYT

She had done bookkeeping at a Boston insurance company after graduating from Quincy High School. When her children started school she wanted to be home with them. She took a job with the school lunch program. She advanced up the ranks rapidly and was soon doing supervision and management tasks. After several years she was appointed manager of the high school cafeteria, from which she retired 12 years later.

Mrs. Hoyt was a member of the First Congregational Church in Weymouth for 50 years where she taught Sunday School and was president of the Mothers Club and served as a deaconess. She later moved to Carver and joined the United Parish Church.

Her greatest love was feeding people, from helping her mother at home to feeding her growing family and having dinner parties for family and friends and finally feeding the school children for 20 years. She and her husband wintered in Fort Myers, Fla., for many years where she became a talented artist. She loved to play bocce and bridge wherever she was.

She is survived by her husband James C. Hoyt and her children James R. Hoyt and his wife Kathleen of Hanover, Rosalyn D. Spallino and her husband Robert of Abington, Regina L. Carvell and her husband David of Abington, Robin E. Hoyt of Weymouth and Virginia O'Leary and her husband Timothy of Weymouth. She was the sister of Jean Lally of Peabody, Virginia Norris of NC, Rosalyn Hartford of Falmouth and the late Marjorie Nugent, Barbara Hunter and Eben Robinson, Jr. Also surviving are 13 grandchildren, a great-grandchild and several nieces and nephews.

Funeral arrangements were made by Magoun-Biggins Funeral Home, Rockland.

Memorial donations may be made to Hope Hospice, 765 Attucks Ln., Hyannis, MA 02601 or the Alzheimer's Association, 48 Pleasant St., Watertown, MA 02472.

Santa C. Zona

A Mass of Christian Burial for Santa C. Zona of Quincy was celebrated Jan. 3 in St. Agatha Church, Milton.

Ms. Zona died Dec. 29.

She grew up in Dorchester and became a hairdresser in her family's beauty shop, where, as one client wrote in a poem about her, she "made people look better than perhaps they deserved to look." She later moved to Quincy where she lived for more than 60 years.

Ms. Zona was also an accomplished artist, working in many mediums and selling paintings at her shop. She was a member of the Braintree and Quincy Art Associations, enjoyed singing and playing the piano and accordion, maintained flower and vegetable gardens at her home, and was an avid ballroom dancer. She swam year round and loved to travel with friends. She was also an excellent cook and baker, well-known for her tasty pizzelle and cannoli.

Ms. Zona loved being with her friends and family, and especially delighted in the presence of young children. A warm and caring person, Ms. Zona, known by her family simply as "Auntie," was quick to give a compliment and express gratitude, and always looked on the bright side, which no doubt contributed to her longevity. Her family and friends benefitted greatly from her kind spirit and will deeply miss the love she so freely gave.

Sister-in-law of Alice Zona of Sandwich, aunt of Jacqueline Coffman and her husband Steven of Sandwich, Joseph Zona and his wife Meredith of Arlington, and Clifford Martin of Stow. Also survived by four grandnephews.

Funeral arrangements were made by Dolan Funeral Home, East Milton Square.

Interment at Blue Hill Cemetery, Braintree.

Memorial donations may be made to South Shore Elder Services, 1515 Washington St., Braintree, MA 02184, or to the charity of your choice.

More Obituaries Online at www.thequincysun.com

Bryan M. McGovern, 32

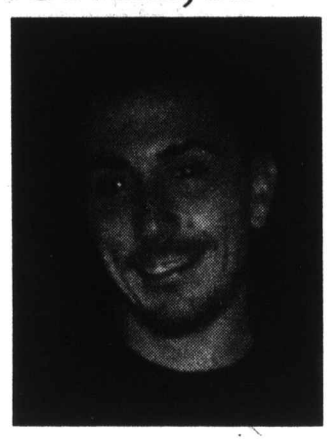
A funeral Mass for Bryan M. McGovern, 32, of Quincy was celebrated yesterday (Wednesday) in St. Mary's Church, Quincy.

Mr. McGovern died unexpectedly Dec. 30.

He was born in Boston, raised and educated in Quincy schools and had lived in Quincy for most of his life. He was employed as a laborer in the construction industry.

Mr. McGovern was an avid sports fan and enjoyed UFC and music. His greatest joy was being with his children, companion and family that he so cherished. He was a loyal friend and considered them all his brothers. The humor he displayed was contagious and could brighten anyone's day. Mr. McGovern had a big heart that will leave a huge impact on the lives of many.

Devoted father of Sean M. McGovern and his mother Heather Wiley. He was also the devoted father of Brynn M. McGovern and loving companion of Ashley Hussey. Beloved son of Barbara M. (DiBona) McGovern of Quincy and her life partner, Ronald Whited, and the late Roy F. McGovern. He was the cherished grandson of the late James and



BRYAN M. McGOVERN

May I. Shannon and Albert L. and Marie E. DiBona.

Loving nephew of Nancy C. DiBona and Kathleen M. DiBona, both of Quincy, Betteanne Macdonald and her husband James of Wakefield, Robert McGovern and his wife Kathleen of Whitman. He was predeceased by uncles Albert L. DiBona and Domenick DiBona. Also survived by many cousins and friends.

Funeral arrangements were made by Sweeney Brothers Home for Funerals, 1 Independence Ave., Quincy.

Private interment.

Memorial donations may be made to a special fund for his children, Sean and Brynn, c/o and payable to Nancy C. DiBona, 49 Crescent Street, Quincy, MA 02169.

David A. Hill, 67

A memorial service for David A. Hill, 67, a lifelong Quincy resident was held Tuesday in Sweeney Brothers Home for Funerals, 1 Independence Ave., Quincy.

Mr. Hill died suddenly Dec. 19 at his home.

He was born, raised and educated in Quincy and graduated from Quincy High School, Class of 1964. Mr. Hill received his bachelor's degree and master's degree in public administration from the University of Massachusetts Boston.

He served in the U.S. Navy during the Vietnam War. He worked for the Massachusetts Department of Public Health and the Office of the Treasurer and Receiver General of Massachusetts for more than 35 years. Mr. Hill enjoyed skiing and golfing.

Beloved son of the late Armas K. Hill, the late Dorothy E. (Sweeney) Hautala and her late husband Tauno. Devoted brother of Mary C. McHardy and her husband Ralph of FL and Jeffrey L. Hill of Quincy. Dear stepbrother of Alan Hautala of Pembroke and Roy Hautala of Kingston. Also survived by three nephews, four grandnieces and one grandnephew.

Interment with Military Honors was at Pine Hill Cemetery, Quincy.

Marguerite Maher, 89

A funeral Mass for Marguerite Maher, 89, of Quincy was celebrated yesterday (Wednesday) in St. Mary's Church, Quincy.

Ms. Maher died Dec. 31.

She was born and educated in Boston. Ms. Maher had lived in Quincy since 1987, where she loved living and being a part of such a historic city. She worked for Massachusetts Eye and Ear Infirmary for many years as office manager before retiring.

Ms. Maher was a fiercely independent woman whose passions were history, politics and genealogy. Most of all she loved her family and circle of friends from Presidents Lane. She will be missed by all who had the pleasure to have known and loved her.

Beloved daughter of the late Thomas and Katherine Maher. Devoted sister of the late Nancy Maher, Thomas J. Maher and David P. Maher. Also lovingly survived by her nieces, nephews, grandniece and grandnephews.

Funeral arrangements were made by Keohane Funeral Home, 785 Hancock St., Quincy.

Interment at St. Mary's Cemetery, Lee, Mass.

Martha F. Crowley, 82

A funeral Mass for Martha F. (Washburn) Crowley, 82, of Quincy, formerly of Roxbury and Dorchester, will be celebrated today (Thursday) at 10 a.m. in Holy Trinity Parish at Our Lady of Good Counsel Church, Quincy.

Mrs. Crowley died Sunday.

She was a graduate of UMass Boston and Harvard University. She worked for the city of Boston for many years and later retired as a chemist for the MWRA. After retirement, she managed an H&R Block Office in Weymouth. She enjoyed traveling and spending time with family and friends.

MARTHA F. CROWLEY

Wife of the late Clement F. Crowley. Loving mother of Denise Crowley Treier and husband Tim of SC, Diane Maguire of Weymouth, Clement Crowley and wife Cheryl of Carver, Timothy Crowley and wife Marie of Weymouth, Debra Rutter and husband David of PA, Rita Arsenault and husband Jim of GA, John Crowley and wife Ajita of Quincy and Martha F. "Marty" Gallant of Quincy. Sister of Kenneth, Calvin, Gary, Franklin, Rosemary Ingersoll, Carol King, Alice "Cookie" Rousel, Linda Young and the late Charlie, Margaret "Bobby" Wenzelberger, Ernest, and Janice Freeland. Also survived by 26 grandchildren, many great-grandchildren and many nieces and nephews.

Visiting hours were 4-8 p.m. yesterday (Wednesday) at Keohane Funeral Home, 785 Hancock St., Quincy. A celebration of life service will be held there at 9:15 a.m. today, prior to the Mass.

Interment at Milton Cemetery.

Memorial donations may be made to Special Olympics, 1133 19th Street NW, 12th Floor, Washington, DC 20036.

Joanne L. Marinilli, 71

A funeral Mass for Joanne L. (Tighe) Marinilli, 71, of Marion and formerly Quincy and Stoughton will be celebrated today (Thursday) at 10:30 a.m. in St. James Church, Stoughton.

Mrs. Marinilli died Jan. 1 at St. Luke's Hospital in New Bedford after a lengthy illness.

Daughter of the late Frederick and Louise (Gauthier) Tighe, she was born and raised in Quincy. Mrs. Marinilli was a graduate of North Quincy High School, Class of 1961, and Chandler Secretarial School in Boston. She also attended Stonehill College.

Mrs. Marinilli was a resident of Marion for the past six years after living in Stoughton for 40 years. She was the office manager at Marinilli Associates Public Adjusters in Stoughton for more than 30 years before retiring two years ago. Mrs. Marinilli was a member of the Massachusetts Audubon Society. She enjoyed traveling, skiing, bird watching, cooking and gardening. She also enjoyed gatherings with family and friends at the beach and in the White Mountains.

Wife of Dominic A. Marinilli for 52 years. In addition to her husband, she is survived by her sons, John A. "Jack" Marinilli and his wife Kathleen of Norton, Edward E. Marinilli and his wife Olga of Canton and Peter T. Marinilli of Avon, as well as her grandchildren, Edward, Mary, Kevin and Dominic Marinilli. She was the sister of Kenneth Tighe and his wife Lee of GA and Joseph Tighe and his wife Susan of Abington. She was the niece of Robert Gauthier and is also survived by several nieces, nephews and cousins.

Visiting hours were 5-8 p.m. yesterday (Wednesday) at Farley Funeral Home, Stoughton. Funeral from the funeral home at 9:30 a.m. today, prior to the Mass.

Interment at Blue Hill Cemetery, Braintree.

Memorial donations may be made to the charity of your choice.

Emeline K. Kennedy, 95

A remembrance of the life of Emeline K. (Kellogg) Kennedy, 95, of Quincy, and her late husband Joseph, was held yesterday (Wednesday) in Dennis Sweeney Funeral Home, 74 Elm St., Quincy.

Mrs. Kennedy died Dec. 26.

Originally from Dorchester, she lived in Quincy for more than 45 years and had worked as an insurance clerk.

The beloved wife of Joseph E. Kennedy, she was the loving mother of Kathleen M. Laramee of Norwood, dear grandmother of Michael D. Laramee of Milford, Thomas J. Laramee of WA, and Robert S. Laramee of Wales. She was the sister of Ruth E. McCarthy of Framingham and the late Evelyn A. Harper, May Harper and Clarence G. Kellogg, Jr. and is also survived by many nieces, nephews and many friends at 1000 Southern Artery.

Private interment.

Theresa L. DeAngelo

A funeral Mass for Theresa Lily (Palano) DeAngelo of Scituate, formerly of Houghs Neck, was celebrated Tuesday in Holy Trinity Parish at Most Blessed Sacrament Church, Quincy.

Mrs. DeAngelo died Jan. 3.

She was a beloved wife, mother, grandmother, and best friend.

Daughter of the late Domenic and Jenny (Berinato) Palano. Beloved wife of 55 years of Paul James DeAngelo of Scituate. Loving mother and best friend of Marisa DeAngelo of Quincy, Domenic DeAngelo and his wife Lisa of Marshfield Hills, Paul DeAngelo and his wife Katherine of West Bridgewater, Joseph DeAngelo and his partner Steven DeFrancesco of Scituate, and Jennifer Hoey and her husband Jay of Norwell.

THERESA L. DEANGELO

Devoted Nonni of Paul James II, Kori M. and Liberty T. DeAngelo, James IV, Jaxon and Joseph Hoey, and Domenic C. DeAngelo II.

Funeral arrangements were made by Keohane Funeral Home, 785 Hancock St., Quincy.

Interment at St. Mary's Cemetery, Scituate.

Memorial donations may be made to St. Jude Children's Research Hospital, 501 St. Jude Place, Memphis, TN 38105.

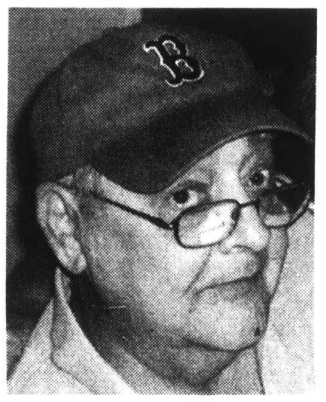
Bruce A. Badmington, 68

A funeral service for Bruce A. Badmington, 68, of Rockland and formerly Quincy was held Tuesday in Quealy & Son Funeral Home, Abington.

Mr. Badmington died peacefully Dec. 31 in South Shore Hospital, Weymouth.

He was born on July 8, 1946 in Quincy, son of the late Kendrick and Mary (MacLeod) Badmington and was raised in Quincy and Rockland. He was a graduate of Quincy High School. A veteran, Mr. Badmington served in the U.S. Navy during the Vietnam War; he also served in the Army National Guard for several years.

Prior to retirement, he was employed as an agent at Royal & Son Alliance for nearly 20 years. In addition, he owned and operated L & B Vending. Mr. Badmington was an avid sports fan and spent many years as a volunteer (board member and president) of the Yankee Conference hockey league and the South Shore Conference hockey league. His love for his wife, children, grandchildren, family and friends influenced everything he did throughout his life. He was a role model to many and will be greatly missed.



BRUCE A. BADMINGTON

Beloved husband of Linda A. (Berte). Loving father of Diane M. Mazurkiewicz and her husband, Matthew of NH and William A. Badmington of Rockland. Adored grandfather of Shane Badmington and Colin Mazurkiewicz. Brother of Mary Barclay of Rockland, Robert and Kendrick Badmington both of Braintree, June Badmington of Bridgewater, Gail Badmington of Braintree and Carl Badmington. Also survived by numerous nieces and nephews.

Interment at St. Patrick Cemetery, Rockland.

Memorial donations may be made to the Wounded Warrior Project, PO Box 758517, Topeka, KS 66675.

Robert J. Burns, 70

A funeral Mass for Robert J. Burns, 70, of Quincy was celebrated yesterday (Wednesday) in St. John the Baptist Church, Quincy.

Mr. Burns died Jan. 2.

A Vietnam veteran, U.S. Navy, and self-employed painter, he was born in Boston where he was raised and educated and lived in the North End and Charlestown before moving to Quincy eight years ago.

The son of the late Claire (Paull) and Leo F. Burns, Sr., he was the father of Leah Victoria Hennessey of NY; brother of Claire McAulliffe and her husband Kevin of Wareham, Kevin Burns and his wife Susan of Braintree, Gary Burns of Randolph and the late Leo F. Burns, Jr., Raymond J. Burns and Joseph W. Burns. He is also survived by many nieces and nephews and was a friend of Bill W.

Funeral arrangements were made by Dennis Sweeney Funeral Home, 74 Elm St., Quincy.

Interment at Massachusetts National Cemetery, Bourne.

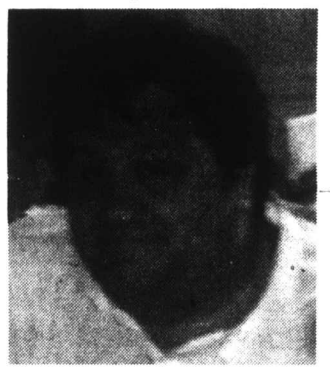
William J. Jones, 46

A funeral service for William J. "Big Bill" Jones, 46, of Quincy, formerly of Dorchester, will be held at 10:30 a.m. tomorrow (Friday) in Keohane Funeral Home, 785 Hancock St., Quincy.

Mr. Jones died Jan. 1.

He was born in Boston and was a graduate of Brighton High School. Mr. Jones played football in high school and after graduating he went on to play semi pro for the Hyde Park Cowboys. He later then returned to Brighton High School and volunteered his time assisting his former head coach with the football program. Mr. Jones worked for I.T.O.A in Boston as a driver.

Recently, he took up photography and was looking forward to a trip to Costa Rica to capture some of its beauty with his new camera. He also enjoyed playing darts, bowling and was a huge movie buff. Most of all Mr. Jones loved his family and spending time with his niece and nephews. He will be missed by all who had the pleasure to have known and loved him.



WILLIAM J. JONES

Beloved son of the late Virgil and Sylvia Jones. Devoted brother of Susan Ward of Quincy, Barbara Horgan and Rob Riley of Quincy, Lisa Albee and her husband Leo of South Weymouth and the late John Ward. Cherished uncle of Michael Horgan of Quincy, Jillian, Justin and Leo Albee, all of South Weymouth. Mr. Jones is also lovingly survived by his longtime coach and mentor Mr. Phillips "Timo" and many close friends.

Visiting hours are 4-8 p.m. today (Thursday) in the funeral home.

Interment at Blue Hill Cemetery, Braintree.

Memorial donations may be made to Brighton High School Football, 25 Warren St., Brighton, MA 02135.

Norma T. Post, 92

Graveside services for Norma T. (Gilbert) Post, 92, of Athens, Maine, and formerly Quincy and Rockland were privately held at Pine Hill Cemetery, Quincy.

Mrs. Post died peacefully Dec. 24 at Mount Saint Joseph Residence and Rehabilitation in Waterville, Maine.

She was born in Boston, raised and educated in Quincy. Mrs. Post was a graduate of North Quincy High School, Class of 1940. She had lived in Maine for 13 years and previously in Rockland for more than 35 years.

Mrs. Post was a homemaker who was devoted to her family. She was an active member of the United First Parish Church Unitarian in Quincy for more than 50 years. She was a former member of the Leisurewoods Homeowners Association and Bowling League of Rockland as well as the Montclair Women's Club and Bowling League.

Beloved wife of the late Richard E. Post. Devoted mother of Richard E. Post, Jr. and his late wife Linda (Lindblom) Post of ME. Loving grandmother of Lori Smallwood of South Easton, Dawn-Marie Post of Plymouth, Stephanie Post of Braintree and Jennifer Delnegro of ME. Dear great-grandmother of Nicholas R. Smallwood, Makayla R. Post, Daniel J. Losordo, Ellen M. Losordo, Kaitlyn Delnegro and Meranda Delnegro. Cherished great-great grandmother of Ava. Mrs. Post was pre-deceased by her three siblings and is survived by several nieces and nephews.

Funeral arrangements were made by Sweeney Brothers Home for Funerals, 1 Independence Ave., Quincy.

Memorial donations may be made to the United First Parish Church Unitarian Building Fund, 1306 Hancock Street, Quincy, MA 02169.

Louise C. Figueiredo

A memorial service for Louise C. (Ricciardello) Figueiredo of Quincy will be held tomorrow (Friday) at 10:30 a.m. in St. Agatha Church, Milton.

Mrs. Figueiredo died Dec. 25.

Beloved wife of the late George Figueiredo. Loving mother of Mary Louise Fellner and her husband William of FL. Adored daughter of the late Luigi and Michelina Ricciardello. Grandmother of Elizabeth Hardy and her husband Ryan and Kristen Henzi and spouse Christy. Great-grandmother of Samantha, Morgan, Noah, Emma and Jacob. Cherished sister of Grace Duart of Quincy and Louis Ricciardello and his wife Patricia of VT.

Arrangements were made by Cota Funeral Home, North Reading.

Memorial donations may be made to Sawtelle Hospice House, 320 Haverhill St., Reading, MA 01867.

CLASSIFIEDS

LEGAL NOTICE

CITATION GIVING NOTICE OF PETITION FOR APPOINTMENT OF GUARDIAN FOR INCAPACITATED PERSON PURSUANT TO G.L. c. 190B, §5-304
Commonwealth of Massachusetts
The Trial Court
Probate and Family Court
Norfolk Probate and Family Court
35 Shawmut Road
Canton, MA 02021
Docket No. NO14P2375GD
In the matter of:
Theresa Harlan
Of: Quincy, MA
RESPONDENT
Alleged Incapacitated Person

To the named Respondent and all other interested persons, a petition has been filed by Alfred R Martija of Quincy, MA in the above captioned matter alleging that Theresa Harlan is in need of a Guardian and requesting that David Zwicker of Bridgewater, MA and Paula Zwicker of Bridgewater, MA (or some other suitable person) be appointed as Guardian to serve on the bond.

The petition asks the court to determine that the Respondent is incapacitated, that the appointment of a Guardian is necessary, and that the proposed Guardian is appropriate. The petition is on file with this court and may contain a request for certain specific authority.

You have the right to object to this proceeding. If you wish to do so, you or your attorney must file a written appearance at this court on or before 10:00 A.M. on the return date of 01/14/2015. This day is NOT a hearing date, but a deadline date by which you have to file the written appearance if you object to the petition. If you fail to file the written appearance by the return date, action may be taken in this matter without further notice to you. In addition to filing the written appearance, you or your attorney must file a written affidavit stating the specific facts and grounds of your objection within 30 days after the return date.

IMPORTANT NOTICE

The outcome of this proceeding may limit or completely take away the above-named person's right to make decisions about personal affairs or financial affairs or both. The above-named person has the right to ask for a lawyer. Anyone may make this request on behalf of the above-named person. If the above-named person cannot afford a lawyer, one may be appointed at State expense.

WITNESS, Hon. John D Casey, First Justice of this Court.
Date: December 08, 2014
PATRICK W. McDERMOTT
Register of Probate
1/8/15

Save Gas & Money, Shop Locally

LEGAL NOTICE

CITATION ON PETITION FOR FORMAL ADJUDICATION
Docket No. NO14P3390EA
Commonwealth of Massachusetts
The Trial Court
Probate and Family Court
Norfolk Probate and Family Court
35 Shawmut Road
Canton, MA 02021
(781) 830-1200
Estate of:
Thomas F Kineavy
Date of Death:
August 16, 2014

To all interested persons:
A Petition has been filed by: Mary C Kineavy of Quincy, MA requesting that the Court enter a formal Decree and Order of testacy and for such other relief as requested in the Petition.

And also requesting that Mary C Kineavy of Quincy, MA be appointed as Personal Representative(s) of said estate to serve Without Surety on the bond.

You have the right to obtain a copy of the Petition from the Petitioner or at the Court. You have a right to object to this proceeding. To do so, you or your attorney must file a written appearance and objection at this Court before: 10:00 A.M. on 01/21/2015. This is NOT a hearing date, but a deadline by which you must file a written appearance and objection if you object to this proceeding. If you fail to file a timely written appearance and objection followed by an Affidavit of Objections within thirty (30) days of the return date, action may be taken without further notice to you.

The estate is being administered under formal procedure by the Personal Representative under the Massachuetts Uniform Probate Code without supervision by the Court. Inventory and accounts are not required to be filed with the Court, but recipients are entitled to notice regarding the administration from the Personal Representative and can petition the Court in any matter relating to the estate, including distribution of assets and expenses of administration .

WITNESS, Hon. John D Casey, First Justice of this Court.
Date: December 19, 2014
PATRICK W. McDERMOTT
Register of Probate
1/8/15

LEGAL NOTICE

CITATION ON PETITION FOR FORMAL ADJUDICATION
Docket No. NO14P3393EA
Commonwealth of Massachusetts
The Trial Court
Probate and Family Court
Norfolk Probate and Family Court
35 Shawmut Road
Canton, MA 02021
(781) 830-1200
Estate of:
Rita J Mahoney
Date of Death:
November 02, 2014

To all interested persons:
A Petition has been filed by: Edward V Mahoney, Jr. of Rockland, MA requesting that the Court enter a formal Decree and Order of testacy and for such other relief as requested in the Petition.

And also requesting that Edward V Mahoney, Jr. of Rockland, MA be appointed as Personal Representative(s) of said estate to serve Without Surety on the bond.

You have the right to obtain a copy of the Petition from the Petitioner or at the Court. You have a right to object to this proceeding. To do so, you or your attorney must file a written appearance and objection at this Court before: 10:00 A.M. on 01/21/2015. This is NOT a hearing date, but a deadline by which you must file a written appearance and objection if you object to this proceeding. If you fail to file a timely written appearance and objection followed by an Affidavit of Objections within thirty (30) days of the return date, action may be taken without further notice to you.

The estate is being administered under formal procedure by the Personal Representative under the Massachuetts Uniform Probate Code without supervision by the Court. Inventory and accounts are not required to be filed with the Court, but recipients are entitled to notice regarding the administration from the Personal Representative and can petition the Court in any matter relating to the estate, including distribution of assets and expenses of administration .

WITNESS, Hon. John D Casey, First Justice of this Court.
Date: December 19, 2014
PATRICK W. McDERMOTT
Register of Probate
1/8/15

LEGAL NOTICE

CITATION ON PETITION FOR FORMAL ADJUDICATION
Docket No. NO14P3377EA
Commonwealth of Massachusetts
The Trial Court
Probate and Family Court
Norfolk Probate and Family Court
35 Shawmut Road
Canton, MA 02021
(781) 830-1200
Estate of:
Catherine R Mullin
Date of Death:
September 12, 2014

To all interested persons:
A Petition has been filed by: Luke P Mullin of Quincy, MA requesting that the Court enter a formal Decree and Order of testacy and for such other relief as requested in the Petition.

And also requesting that Luke P Mullin of Quincy, MA be appointed as Personal Representative(s) of said estate to serve Without Surety on the bond.

You have the right to obtain a copy of the Petition from the Petitioner or at the Court. You have a right to object to this proceeding. To do so, you or your attorney must file a written appearance and objection at this Court before: 10:00 A.M. on 01/21/2015. This is NOT a hearing date, but a deadline by which you must file a written appearance and objection if you object to this proceeding. If you fail to file a timely written appearance and objection followed by an Affidavit of Objections within thirty (30) days of the return date, action may be taken without further notice to you.

The estate is being administered under formal procedure by the Personal Representative under the Massachuetts Uniform Probate Code without supervision by the Court. Inventory and accounts are not required to be filed with the Court, but recipients are entitled to notice regarding the administration from the Personal Representative and can petition the Court in any matter relating to the estate, including distribution of assets and expenses of administration .

WITNESS, Hon. John D Casey, First Justice of this Court.
Date: December 18, 2014
PATRICK W. McDERMOTT
Register of Probate
1/8/15

LEGAL NOTICE

INFORMAL PROBATE PUBLICATION NOTICE
Docket No: NO14P3315EA
Commonwealth of Massachusetts
The Trial Court
Probate and Family Court
Norfolk Division
35 Shawmut Road
Canton, MA 02021
(781) 830-1200
Estate of:
Virginia Frances Hourihan
Date of Death:
December 03, 2013

To all persons interested in the above captioned estate, by Petition of

Petitioner Nancy M Hourihan of Quincy, MA a Will has been admitted to informal probate. Nancy M Hourihan of Quincy, MA has been informally appointed as the Personal Representative of the estate to serve Without Surety on the bond.

The estate is being administered under informal procedure by the Personal Representative under the Massachuetts Uniform Probate Code without supervision by the Court. Inventory and accounts are not required to be filed with the Court, but interested parties are entitled to notice regarding the administration from the Personal Representative and can petition the Court in any matter relating to the estate, including distribution of assets and expenses of administration. Interested parties are entitled to petition the Court to institute formal proceedings and to obtain orders terminating or restricting the powers of Personal Representatives appointed under informal procedure. A copy of the Petition and Will, if any, can be obtained from the Petitioner.
1/8/15

PERSONAL

Prayer to The Blessed Virgin
(Never Known To Fail)

O, most beautiful flower of Mt. Carmel, Fruitful Vine, Splendor of Heaven. Blessed Mother of the Son of God, Immaculate Virgin, assist me in this necessity. Oh, Star of the Sea, help me and show me herein you are my Mother. O Holy Mary, Mother of God, Queen of Heaven and Earth! I humbly beseech thee from the bottom of my heart to succor me in this my necessity (Make request). There are none that can withstand your power. Oh, Mary, conceived without sin, pray for us who have recourse to thee (3 times). Holy Mary, I place this cause in your hands (3 times). Thank you for your mercy to me and mine. Amen. The prayer must be said for three consecutive days and after that the request will be granted. The prayer must be published. D.A. 1/8

THANK YOU ST. JOHN PAUL II FOR ANSWERED PRAYERS
1/8

Lovingly Remembered on the First Anniversary
Mary Catherine McLaughlin
10/16/22 - 1-13-14
Love, Nancy
1/8

PRAYER TO THE BLESSED VIRGIN

"Oh, most beautiful flower of Mt. Carmel, Fruitful vine, splendor of heaven, Blessed Mother of the Son of God, Immaculate Virgin, assist me in my necessity. Oh, Star of the Sea, help me and show me, herein you are my Mother. Oh, Holy Mary, Mother of God, Queen of Heaven and Earth! I humbly beseech you from the bottom of my heart to succor me in this necessity. There are none that can withstand your power. Oh, Mary, conceived without sin, pray for us who have recourse to thee (three times). Holy Mother, I place this cause in your hands (three times). Say this prayer 3 consecutive days, and then you must publish and it will be granted to you. Thanks to St. Anthony & St. Joseph. St. Jude P.O.D. 1/8

HELP WANTED

Operator/Dispatcher Position for Yellow Cab of Quincy
Part time positions available

Responsibilities include:
- Answering multiple phone lines in a courteous and professional manner
- Data entry, and dispatching calls over the radio.
- Knowledge of the streets and landmarks in Quincy a must.
- Good communication skills and computer skills.
- Works well under pressure and can respond to emergencies quickly and efficiently.

Please email resume to napostleycq@comcast.net or call Nichol at 617-479-9600 2/5

7D AND TAXI DRIVERS WANTED

Taxi Shifts:

Busy Taxi company looking for full time Taxi Drivers Positions in QUINCY AND MILTON, you will be driving late model cars, mini vans and hybrids take cash home daily.

Drivers can earn on average around $100.00 to $250.00 cash take home a day.

Shifts: Days - Nights and Weekends.
Retirees welcome.
7D Driver shifts for schools are between 5 AM till 9 AM and 1 PM to 4:30 PM at $13.25 per hour
Extra work in between shifts is also available

MUST be 21 or over, have a valid drivers license, clean criminal record.
Will train.

Please apply in person at:
8 Desmoines Road Quincy, MA 02169
Call 617-467-8262 1/8

QUINCY ANIMAL SHELTER

56 Broad Street, Quincy • 617-376-1349
quincyanimalshelter.org

IN-SHELTER ADOPTION HOURS
TUESDAY and THURSDAYS 6:00 to 8:00 pm
SATURDAYS 10 am - 4 pm

Adoption fees include initial vaccinations and Spay/Neuter as needed. 100% volunteer run, new volunteers always needed.

FOR LOST or FOUND ANIMALS call ANIMAL CONTROL at 617-376-1364

AVAILABLE CATS

TOBI: 5, female, black & white.
SARA: 7, female, tortie.
PATCHES: 4, female, tortie.
HOMER: 10, male, gray tabby.
SPRINKLES: 9, female, calico.
TOBY: 3, male, orange & white.
PAX: 3, male, gray & white.
GRACE: 4, female, black & white.
KAPPY: 4, male, black.
TRUMAN: 9, male, orange.
BENNY: adult, male, gray tabby.
MARNIE: young, female, calico.
OLIVE: 2, female, black.

CLASSIFIEDS

LEGAL NOTICE

CITATION GIVING NOTICE OF PETITION FOR APPOINTMENT OF CONSERVATOR OR OTHER PROTECTIVE ORDER PURSUANT TO G.L. c. 190B, §5-304 & §5-405
Commonwealth of Massachusetts
The Trial Court
Probate and Family Court
Norfolk Probate and Family Court
35 Shawmut Road
Canton, MA 02021
Docket No. NO14P2484PM
In the matter of:
Theresa Harlan
Of: Quincy, MA
RESPONDENT
(Person to be Protected/ Minor)

To the named Respondent and all other interested persons, a petition has been filed by Quincy Medical Center of Quincy, MA in the above captioned matter alleging that Theresa Harlan is in need of a Conservator or other protective order and requesting that some suitable person be appointed as Conservator to serve With Surety on the bond.

The petition asks the court to determine that the Respondent is disabled, that a protective order or appointment of a Conservator is necessary, and that the proposed Conservator is appropriate. The petition is on file with this court.

You have the right to object to this proceeding. If you wish to do so, you or your attorney must file a written appearance at this court on or before 10:00 A.M. on the return date of 01/14/2015. This day is NOT a hearing date, but a deadline date by which you have to file the written appearance if you object to the petition. If you fail to file the written appearance by the return date, action may be taken in this matter without further notice to you. In addition to filing the written appearance, you or your attorney must file a written affidavit stating the specific facts and grounds of your objection within 30 days after the return date.

IMPORTANT NOTICE

The outcome of this proceeding may limit or completely take away the above-named person's right to make decisions about personal affairs or financial affairs or both. The above-named person has the right to ask for a lawyer. Anyone may make this request on behalf of the above-named person. If the above-named person cannot afford a lawyer, one may be appointed at State expense.

WITNESS, Hon. John D Casey, First Justice of this Court.

Date: December 08, 2014
PATRICK W. McDERMOTT
Register of Probate

1/8/15

LEGAL NOTICE

INFORMAL PROBATE PUBLICATION NOTICE
Docket No: NO14P3286EA
Commonwealth of Massachusetts
The Trial Court
Probate and Family Court
Norfolk Division
35 Shawmut Road
Canton, MA 02021
(781) 830-1200
Estate of:
Elizabeth M. Schwabe
Also Known As:
Harford
Date of Death:
April 18, 2001

To all persons interested in the above captioned estate, by Petition of Petitioner Sally A. Schwabe of Quincy, MA. Sally A. Schwabe of Quincy, MA has been informally appointed as the Personal Representative of the estate to serve Without Surety on the bond.

The estate is being administered under informal procedure by the Personal Representative under the Massachuetts Uniform Probate Code without supervision by the Court. Inventory and accounts are not required to be filed with the Court, but interested parties are entitled to notice regarding the administration from the Personal Representative and can petition the Court in any matter relating to the estate, including distribution of assets and expenses of administration. Interested parties are entitled to petition the Court to institute formal proceedings and to obtain orders terminating or restricting the powers of Personal Representatives appointed under informal procedure. A copy of the Petition and Will, if any, can be obtained from the Petitioner.

1/8/15

NOTICE OF PUBLIC HEARING

NOTICE OF PUBLIC HEARING
City of Quincy
ZONING BOARD OF APPEALS
CASE NO. 14-082

Pursuant to the provisions of TITLE 17 of the QUINCY MUNICIPAL CODE as amended, the Quincy Zoning Board of Appeals will hold an Open Public Hearing on Tuesday, January 27, 2015 at 7:15 pm on the Second Floor in the Council Chambers, Quincy City Hall, 1305 Hancock Street, Quincy, MA 02169. On the application of Barbara Jodrey for a Variance to convert existing single family home to a single family with a finished basement in violation of Title 17 as amended Chapter 4.0 (dimensional requirements) on the premises numbered 70 WALNUT STREET, QUINCY.

Plans and Specifications are on file at the Inspectional Service Department located at 55 Sea Street, Quincy, MA 02169 and may be reviewed during regular business hours.

Martin Aikens, Chairman

1/8/15, 1/15/15

SERVICES

COOPER WASTE 1/15
617-875-6926 | www.cooperwaste.com
Since 1989
Property Maintenance
Rubbish Removal • Demolition
Now offering Dumpster Rentals
• Complete Clean-Out of Homes • Basement Clean-Ups
• Garages • Yard Debris • Yard Clean-Ups
• Weekly Trash Collections • Masonry Removal
• Construction Debris • Single Item to Multiple Trucks

ANNETTE'S CLEANING
Residential and Commercial
Weekly, Bi-Weekly and Seasonal Rates
FREE ESTIMATES
339-236-1731 1/8

POWER PLUMBING
Plumbing, Heating, Gas Fitting
Repairs • New Installations
Dave 617-328-3007
Emergencies
617-792-4054
Master Lic # 13749 TF

SAVE Budget Fuel
Fuel Assistance
Senior Discount
Full Service
617-328-4063 TF

HTA
Hancock T.V. & Appliance
Sales, Service, Parts & Installation
Since 1945
(617) 472-1710
115 Franklin Street, Quincy, MA
hancocktvandappliance.com

"A Woman's Touch Painting"
No job too big or small
FREE ESTIMATES
REASONABLE RATES
CALL FOR FREE ESTIMATE
Call Kelly 857-939-8079 1/29

100% FREE Removal
of Appliances & all types of metal
Commercial & Residential
Junk Removed
Garages · Basements · Attic
Call John anytime 617-653-6255 5/14

S.G. HAROLD
PLUMBING, HEATING & AC
Specializing in Viessman Boiler
Unico Air Conditioning
Home heating repairs & service
Radiant Floor heating
QUINCY
617-471-0914
Unprecedented Service Tailored to You
MA Lic. #10589 TF

BUNNER PROPERTY MAINTENANCE & TREE SERVICE
Tree Removal & Tree Pruning
Additional Home Services Including Roof Repair & Replacement
617-980-7019 1/8
www.bunnerpropertymaintenance.com

J.F. ROOFING CO.
QUINCY, MA
·Shingles
·Rubber
·Slate
·Copper
·Vinyl Replacement Windows
·Snow Removal
(617)471-8216 2/19

Rob's Removal
• Attics
• Cellars
• Garages
617-827-7473 12/30

WANTED

OLD HAND TOOLS & BOOKS WANTED
Planes, chisels, adzes, shaves, machinist, and sheetmetal tools, calipers, clamps, anvils, vises.
USEFUL TOOLS, ALL TRADES.
New England history books
Collections: old postcards, toys, military, fishing & old auto items
LIBERTY TOOL CO.
888-405-2007
Davistownmuseum.org
www.jonesport-wood.com TF

CASH FOR DIABETES TEST STRIPS:
Up to $33/box!
I will pick up same day
Must be Factory Sealed and Unexpired
Call Jenni
(800)413-3479
www.CashForYourTestStrips.com 2/5

FOR SALE

2003 Merc. GM
Low Miles
New Front Brakes
Four New Tires
$3,800.00
617-842-5853 1/15

HALLS FOR RENT

MORRISETTE LEGION POST
81-83 Liberty St., Quincy
Function Hall Available
Call for Details 617-770-4876
Internet Capable • Weddings • Showers • Christenings • Meetings
After Funeral Gatherings TF

THOMAS C. SWEENEY
Smaller Jobs a Specialty
51 Years Experience
Carpentry, Siding, Painting, Porches
Viny/Windows, Doors
Roofing, Decking, Steps
License #1373 Free Estimates
Reliable 617-825-1210 References 1/29

PAINTING BY PROFESSIONAL
Interior & Exterior
Powerwashing & Carpentry
All Types of House Repairs
Reasonable Price
Small Jobs Welcome TF
Leave Message 617-773-4761

MISCELLANEOUS

LAND FOR SALE
NYS LAND SALE ADIRONDACK TIMBERLANDS 80-2000 acre hunting clubs. Starting at $385/acre. Financing available. Call 1-800-229-7843. Or visit www.LandandCamps.com

MISCELLANEOUS
SAWMILLS from only $4397.00-MAKE & SAVE MONEY with your own band-mill-Cut lumber any dimension. In stock ready to ship. FREE Info/DVD: www.NorwoodSawmills.com 1-800-578-1363 Ext.300N

Tiny house AUCTION, Vermont post & beam sheds, Livestock shelters & firewood storage January 22,2015 Absolute no reserve Bid online 802 297 3760 www.JamaicaCottageShop.com

The Quincy Sun CLASSIFIED AD FORM

MAIL TO: THE QUINCY SUN, 1372 HANCOCK STREET, QUINCY, MA 02169

PAYABLE IN ADVANCE. Payment must accompany order.

RATES

1 WEEK ❑ $9.00 for one insertion, up to 20 words, 10¢ for each additional word.

2-4 WEEKS ❑ $8.00 per insertion up to 20 words for 2-4 insertions of the same ad, 10¢ each additional word.

5-10 WEEKS ❑ $7.50 per insertion, up to 20 words, for 5-10 insertions of the same ad 10¢ for each additional word.

11 WEEKS OR MORE ❑ $7.00 per insertion, up to 20 words, for 11 or more insertions of the same ad 10¢ for each additional word.

INDEX
- ❑ Services
- ❑ For Sale
- ❑ Autos
- ❑ Boats
- ❑ For Rent
- ❑ Wanted
- ❑ Help Wanted
- ❑ Work Wanted
- ❑ Pets
- ❑ Lost & Found
- ❑ Real Estate
- ❑ Antiques
- ❑ Flea Markets
- ❑ Yard Sales
- ❑ Instruction
- ❑ Day Care
- ❑ Personal
- ❑ Miscellaneous

NO REFUND WILL BE MADE AT THIS CONTRACT RATE IN THE EVENT OF CANCELLATION. DEADLINE: FRIDAY AT 4PM. PLEASE INCLUDE YOUR PHONE NUMBER IN AD.

❑ Enclosed is $ _____ for the following ad to run _____ weeks in The Quincy Sun.

COPY: _____

SUN FUN PAGE

King Crossword

ACROSS
1 Birthright barterer
5 Shade provider
8 Agree
12 Money
13 "The Raven" writer
14 Quite some time
15 Desire for success
17 Break suddenly
18 Actors' lines
19 Patterned cotton fabric
21 Corn spike
22 Skirt feature
23 Klutzy sort
26 Light touch
28 Insinuating
31 Old Italian bread
33 Kitten's comment
35 Quite some time
36 Intoxicated
38 Pitching stat
40 Siesta
41 Mid-month date
43 Conclusion
45 Electricity problem
47 Begins
51 Not "fer"
52 Document with many signatures, maybe
54 Coin aperture
55 Ailing
56 Beige
57 Actress Daly
58 Hearty brew
59 Melody

DOWN
1 "Zounds!"
2 Big rig
3 Goya's "Duchess of —"
4 Functional
5 Pithy piece of wit
6 Privy
7 Repairs
8 Flower used to flavor tea
9 Car starter
10 Throb
11 Catch sight of 16 Frog's cousin
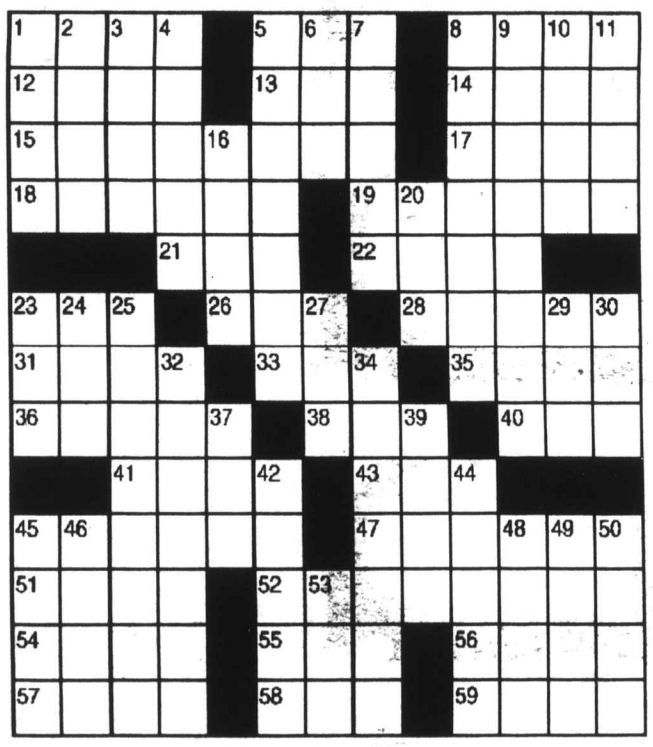
20 They (Fr.)
23 Antiquated
24 Football fill
25 Realization
27 Spelling contest
29 "CSI" evidence
30 Kreskin's skill
32 Slowish in music
34 Emulate Gorgeous George
37 Small barrel
39 Con
42 Bygone photo hue
44 Goes out with
45 Brewery kiln
46 Unsightly
48 Puerto —
49 Ripped
50 Tightly fitting
53 Right angle



© 2015 King Features Synd., Inc.

HOCUS-FOCUS

BY HENRY BOLTINOFF

Find at least six differences in details between panels.

©2015 King Features Syndicate, Inc. All rights reserved.

Differences: 1. Blind is raised. 2. Beads are missing. 3. Apron is smaller. 4. Lamp is missing. 5. Letter is different. 6. Bone is missing.

New! 24 HOCUS FOCUS puzzles $3.50 • 24 Volumes • Order at: rbmamall.com

Trivia test by Fifi Rodriguez

1. GEOGRAPHY: What is the only Central American country that doesn't have a coastline on the Pacific?
2. LANGUAGE: What does the Latin phrase "in media res" mean?
3. MOVIES: What movie featured the line, "The point is, ladies and gentleman, that greed -- for lack of a better word -- is good"?
4. AD SLOGANS: What American manufacturing company once used the slogan "Quality is job one" to sell its products?
5. MUSIC: What does it mean to play notes in a "staccato" style?
6. U.S. PRESIDENTS: What was the Secret Service's code name for Ronald Reagan?
7. GENERAL KNOWLEDGE: How many official languages does the United Nations have?
8. MYTHOLOGY: Who were the Norns in Norse mythology?
9. TELEVISION: What television sitcom featured parents who were named Al and Peggy?
10. MEDICAL TERMS: What is the common name for monochromatism?

Answers
1. Belize
2. In the midst of things
3. "Wall Street" (Michael Douglas)
4. Ford Motor Co.
5. Abruptly or in a disjointed manner
6. Rawhide
7. Six (English, Arabic, Spanish, Chinese, French and Russian)
8. Female beings who rule the destiny of gods and men
9. "Married With Children"
10. Complete color blindness

(c) 2015 King Features Synd., Inc.

Salome's Stars

ARIES (March 21 to April 19) Use that Arian charm to help make a difficult workplace transition easier for everyone. News about a long-awaited decision can be confusing. Don't jump to conclusions.
TAURUS (April 20 to May 20) Although you might well be tempted to be more extravagant than you should be at this time, I'm betting you'll let your sensible Bovine instinct guide you toward moderation.
GEMINI (May 21 to June 20) An opportunity for travel could come with some problems regarding travel companions and other matters. So be sure you read all the fine print before you start packing.
CANCER (June 21 to July 22) Make an effort to complete your usual workplace tasks before volunteering for extra duty. Scrambling to catch up later on could create some resentment among your colleagues.
LEO (July 23 to August 22) A financial matter could have you rethinking your current spending plans. You might want to recheck your budget to see where you can cut back on expenses until the situation improves.
VIRGO (August 23 to September 22) One way to make your case for that promotion you've been hoping for might be to put your planning skills to work in helping to shape up a project that got out of hand. Good luck.
LIBRA (September 23 to October 22) Be careful about "experts" who have no solid business background. Instead, seek advice on enhancing your business prospects from bona fide sources with good success records.
SCORPIO (October 23 to November 21) Standing up to support a colleague's viewpoint -- even if it's unpopular -- can be difficult if you feel outnumbered. But you'll win plaudits for your honesty and courage.
SAGITTARIUS (November 22 to December 21) While progress continues on resolving that recurring problem, you might feel it's taking too long. But these things always need to develop at their own pace. Be patient.
CAPRICORN (December 22 to January 19) Someone close to you might have a financial problem and seek your advice. If you do decide to get involved, insist on seeing everything that might be relevant to this situation.
AQUARIUS (January 20 to February 18) A personal matter takes an interesting turn. The question is, do you want to follow the new path or take time out to reconsider the change? Think this through before deciding.
PISCES (February 19 to March 20) Moving into a new career is a big step. Check that offer carefully with someone who has been there, done that, and has the facts you'll need to help you make your decision.
BORN THIS WEEK: Your warmth and generosity both of spirit and substance endears you to everyone.

(c) 2015 King Features Synd., Inc.

CryptoQuip

This is a simple substitution cipher in which each letter used stands for another. If you think that X equals O, it will equal O throughout the puzzle. Solution is accomplished by trial and error.

Clue: R equals H

CYKZAVY RLV F-CUJYV QUF NZKOYM AN UJ FRY FUN VRYES, FRY SAJJH CAFKRYG ELOYM FU VZH "FRY VFYZOV ZGY RLQR."

© 2015 King Features Synd., Inc.

MAGIC MAZE — COUNTRIES THAT CELEBRATE INDEPENDENCE

S I E B Y V R M O L I F C Z W
T Q N K I B E L G I U M D F C
Z W U R P X M J A H E S N C Z
X U S Q I N L J B G G E A A C
Z X V C T R P N A R U L L I J
H E O C A D I N D I A T E B Y
W V T R P A N N A I V Z R M L
K I G E B H C A B D B I I O Z
X W U U S C R M L P R O L L P
M L C J I Q A R I O V O S O K
G E D B A Z Y X W U P T J C B

Find the listed words in the diagram. They run in all directions forward, backward, up, down and diagonally.

Belgium, Bolivia, Brazil, Chad, Colombia, Cuba, Iraq, Ireland, Jordan, Kosovo, Mexico, Poland, Portugal, U.S.A., Zambia

©2015 King Features Syndicate, Inc. All rights reserved.

Wishing Well®

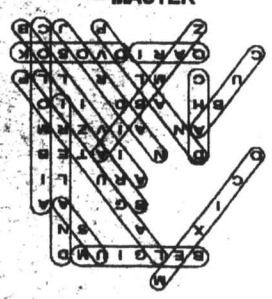
2	7	3	6	4	7	8	2	8	6	2	8	5
S	E	F	E	S	X	S	P	T	X	E	A	M
6	4	6	2	5	7	3	6	2	8	6	2	7
P	P	L	N	E	P	R	O	D	R	R	W	L
6	3	4	6	7	3	8	3	5	6	5	2	5
E	E	E	A	O	S	T	H	N	L	T	I	A
7	6	8	5	6	4	6	5	4	6	5	7	3
R	L	A	L	O	C	P	I	I	T	N	E	I
6	8	6	5	6	3	5	2	5	4	7	5	6
I	N	O	S	N	D	P	S	I	A	N	R	S
8	5	4	5	7	4	3	8	2	7	2	4	5
E	A	L	T	E	E	E	W	E	W	L	V	I
3	7	3	5	2	4	7	5	4	7	4	7	7
A	I	S	O	Y	E	D	N	N	E	T	A	S

HERE IS A PLEASANT LITTLE GAME that will give you a message every day. It's a numerical puzzle designed to spell out your fortune. Count the letters in your first name. If the number of letters is 6 or more, subtract 4. If the number is less than 6, add 3. The result is your key number. Start at the upper left-hand corner and check one of your key numbers, left to right. Then read the message the letters under the checked figures give you.

©2015 King Features Syndicate, Inc. All rights reserved.

— King Crossword —
Answers
Solution time: 25 mins.

Magic Maze
ANSWERS:
— MASTER



Cyptoquip
ANSWER:
Because his T-bones got packed up on the top shelf, the funny butcher liked to say "the steaks are high."

More Than 200 Former Employees Bid Quincy Medical Center Farewell

MORE THAN 200 former employees of the now closed Quincy Medical Center stand on the front steps of the old Administration Building and front walkway for a farewell group photo on Dec. 31. Organizers said the group photo was arranged to remember all the dedicated service and exceptional care provided to patients through the years. After serving the community for 124 years, Steward Health Care closed the facility Dec. 26 because of financial reasons. Steward is maintaining a satellite emergency facility at the site of the former ER until the end of 2015.

Quincy Sun Photo/Robert Bosworth

BEFORE PLUNGING into Quincy Bay in Houghs Neck, the 50 "Polar Plungers" are all smiles as they gather for a group photo behind the Houghs Neck Maritime Center.

POLAR PLUNGE PARTICIPANTS make a mad dash for the shoreline after taking a very quick dip into the 39-degree Quincy Bay water.

50 'Polar Plungers' Raise $1,100 For Atherton Hough School

Cont'd From Page 12

ated all the while under the watchful eye of the Quincy Harbormaster.

Many quickly ran in and out, trying not to splash too much water on themselves while a brave few dunked their heads completely underneath the water's surface. Some even posed for photographs while still standing in the water.

A large group of about 75 spectators, wearing their warmest jackets, gloves, and hats, comfortably watched and cheered on as the participants made their way back to shore.

John Toler, president of the Atherton Hough Elementary School PTO, triumphantly exited the water with his hands held high in the air alongside his friend Jack McCourt who he called a good friend of the PTO.

This plunge was easier, said Toler, because there was no ice layer covering the water like he had experienced during previous polar plunges in Boston.

Immediately upon their exit, everybody bundled up in the blankets, hoodies, robes, and sweats they had left on the shore and ran inside to escape the 35 degree air and warm up.

Participants were given a commemorative t-shirt for completing the challenge.

When asked if she would ever do another polar plunge a shivering Madison, who was being wrapped in warm towels by her mother, emphatically said "no!" but after some reconsideration said that she would only do it again to raise money for her school.

"We plan on using the monies raised toward upcoming school activities and equipment," said Cross, who estimated that plungers ranged in age from six to 60. "I think it was a great success."

The water was "refreshing," said O'Hara noting that the coldest parts of her body were her sneakered feet.

"It wasn't as cold as I thought it would be," she said. "Once you're in, the air is colder than the water itself...it's such a good cause. It's for the public school Atherton Hough and it's just absolutely wonderful," she said.

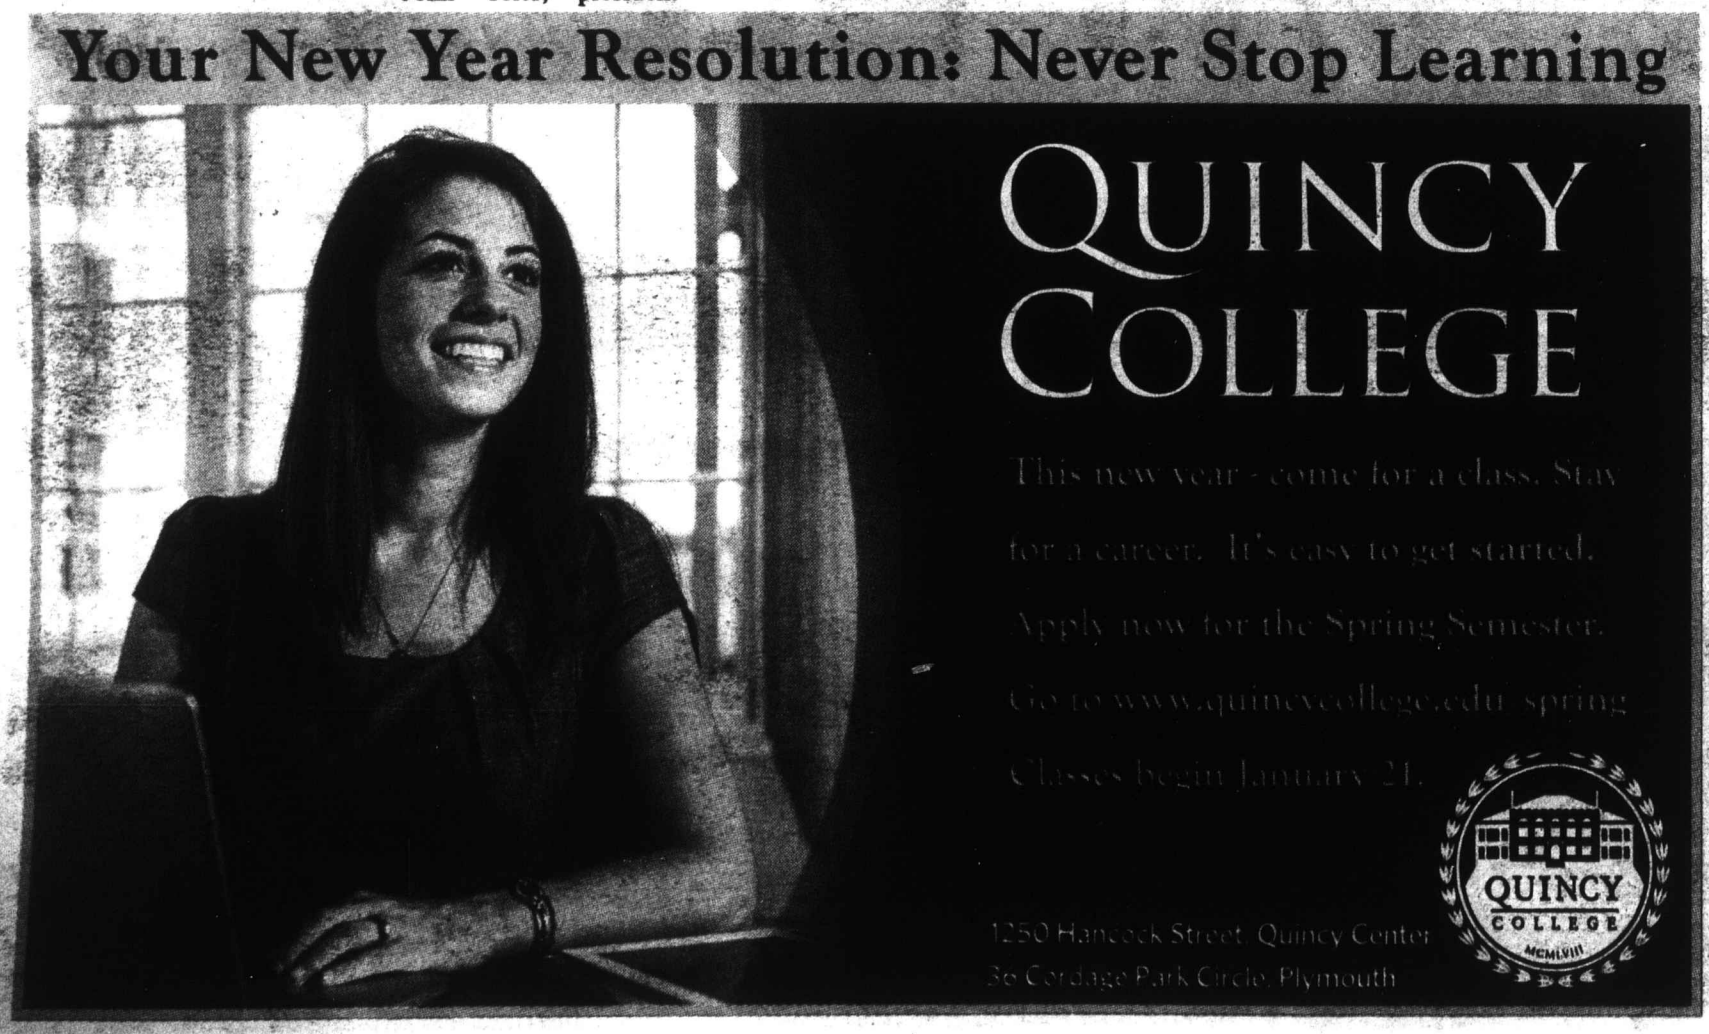
O'Hara said she's looking forward to not only next year's polar plunge but to polar plunges for years to come.

"I'd do it again in a heartbeat," she said.

O'Hara, who is no stranger to polar plunges, hopes more people will participate in the future.

"I did [a polar plunge] in Russia during the millennium," she said.

In her opinion, Saturday's plunge was warmer.



Travis Roy: Triumph Over Tragedy
Page 4
Your Social Security - A Special Section
Pages 14, 15, 17

*CAR-RT LOTC-004
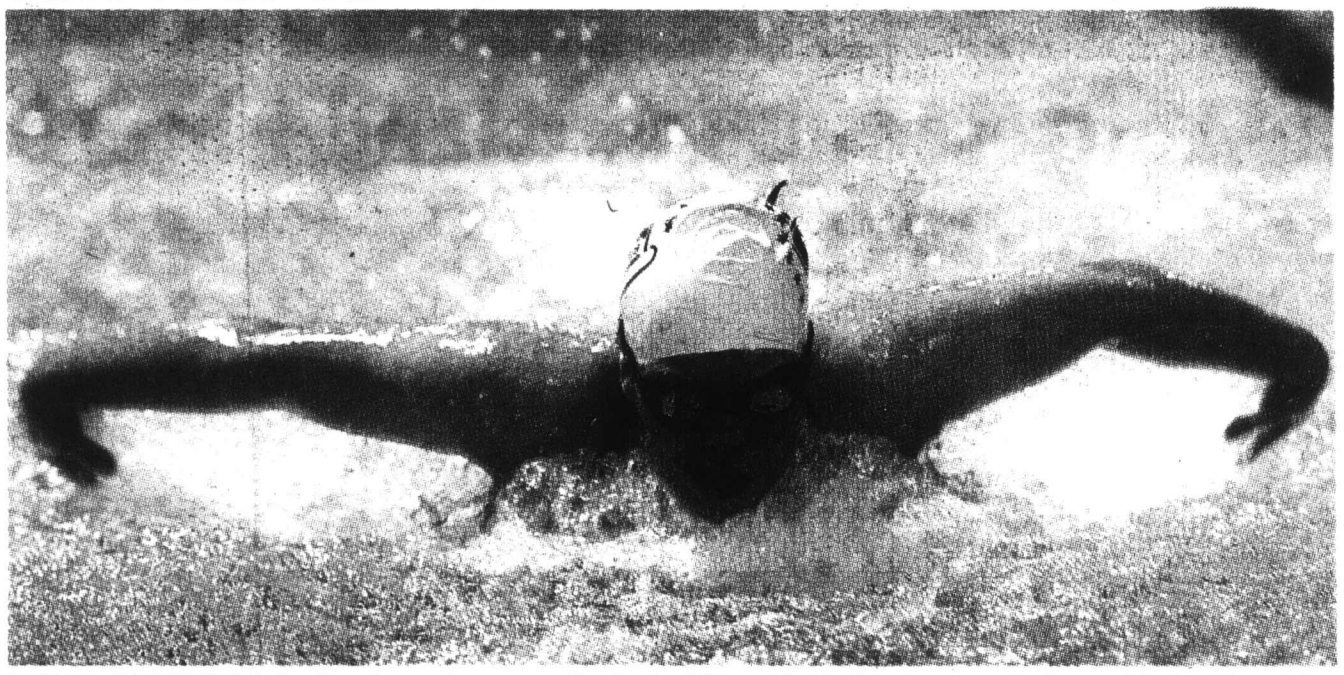
THOMAS CRANE PUBLIC LIBRARY
40 WASHINGTON ST
QUINCY MA 02169-5304

The Quincy Sun

Historic Quincy's Hometown Weekly Newspaper Since 1968

VOL. 47 No. 17 | Thursday, January 15, 2015 | 75¢



SENIOR CAPTAIN Sabrina Rauch seen here competing in the 100-yard butterfly set a new school record in the 50-yard free style to lead the Quincy girls swimming and diving team to a 94-85 victory over North Quincy Jan. 8 at the Lincoln-Hancock Pool. Story, more photos on Pages 18, 20. Quincy Sun Photo/Robert Bosworth

Gutro, Mahoney Challenging Koch

By ROBERT BOSWORTH

The mayor's race is on – and so is a potential political scramble for at least two open seats.

Councillor Doug Gutro and School Committee-woman Anne Mahoney an-

Cont'd On Page 9

CANDIDATE ANNOUNCEMENTS
On Page 9

Keenan Drafting Substance Abuse Legislation

By SCOTT JACKSON

To help combat the rise of opioid abuse seen in Quincy and throughout Massachusetts, state senators are working on new pieces of legislation that would limit the amount of painkillers a person could be prescribed at once and provide for mandatory education for teenagers and parents on the issue.

Sen. John Keenan, who was sworn in to his third term on Beacon Hill Jan. 7, discussed the substance abuse legislation during a recent interview. In both of his terms in the Senate, Keenan authored new legislation to address the rise in substance abuse. The senator, who turns 51 tomorrow (Friday),

Cont'd On Page 13

Ayers' Proposed Legislation Addresses Long Island Future

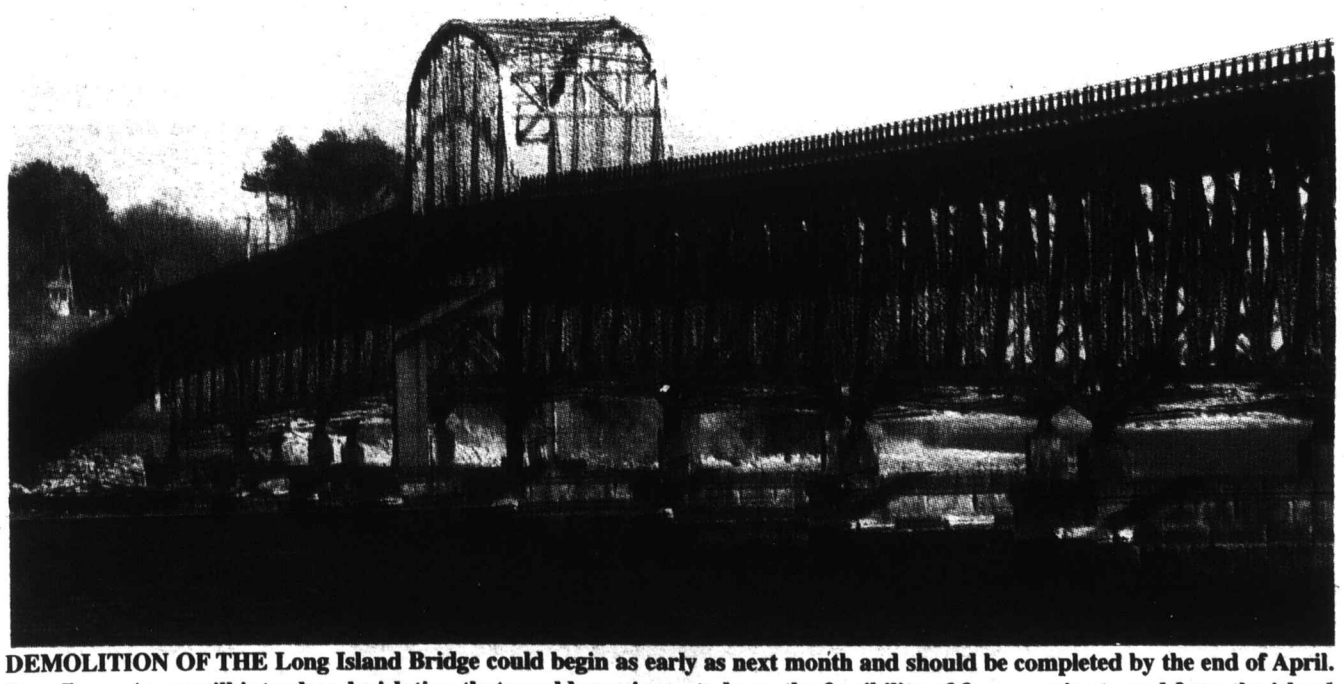
One Would Create Commission With Quincy, Boston Residents

By SCOTT JACKSON

Rep. Bruce Ayers is finalizing four pieces of proposed legislation relative to the future of Long Island and nearby Moon Island as the city of Boston prepares to demolish the 64-year-old bridge linking the two islands.

The first of the four bills, if approved, would establish a commission of Quincy and Boston residents to investigate and study long term use of both the islands. Ayers' second bill calls for studying the feasibility of restoring the former sewage treat-

Cont'd On Page 2



DEMOLITION OF THE Long Island Bridge could begin as early as next month and should be completed by the end of April. Rep. Bruce Ayers will introduce legislation that would require a study on the feasibility of ferry service to and from the island before state funding could pay any of the $80 million cost of building new bridge. Quincy Sun Photo/Robert Bosworth

BEAUTIFUL AND INSPIRATIONAL collection of stained glass windows by acclaimed artist David Holleman will soon be on its way to the Skirball Museum at Hebrew Union College - Jewish Institute of Religion in Cincinnati, Ohio, as a permanent exhibit donated by Temple Beth El of Quincy. Story on Page 7.

Photo Courtesy Congregation Beth Shalom of the Blue Hills

Extra $950,000 For Roads, Sidewalks - Page 3
Q-NQ Football Hall Of Fame Induction - Page 35

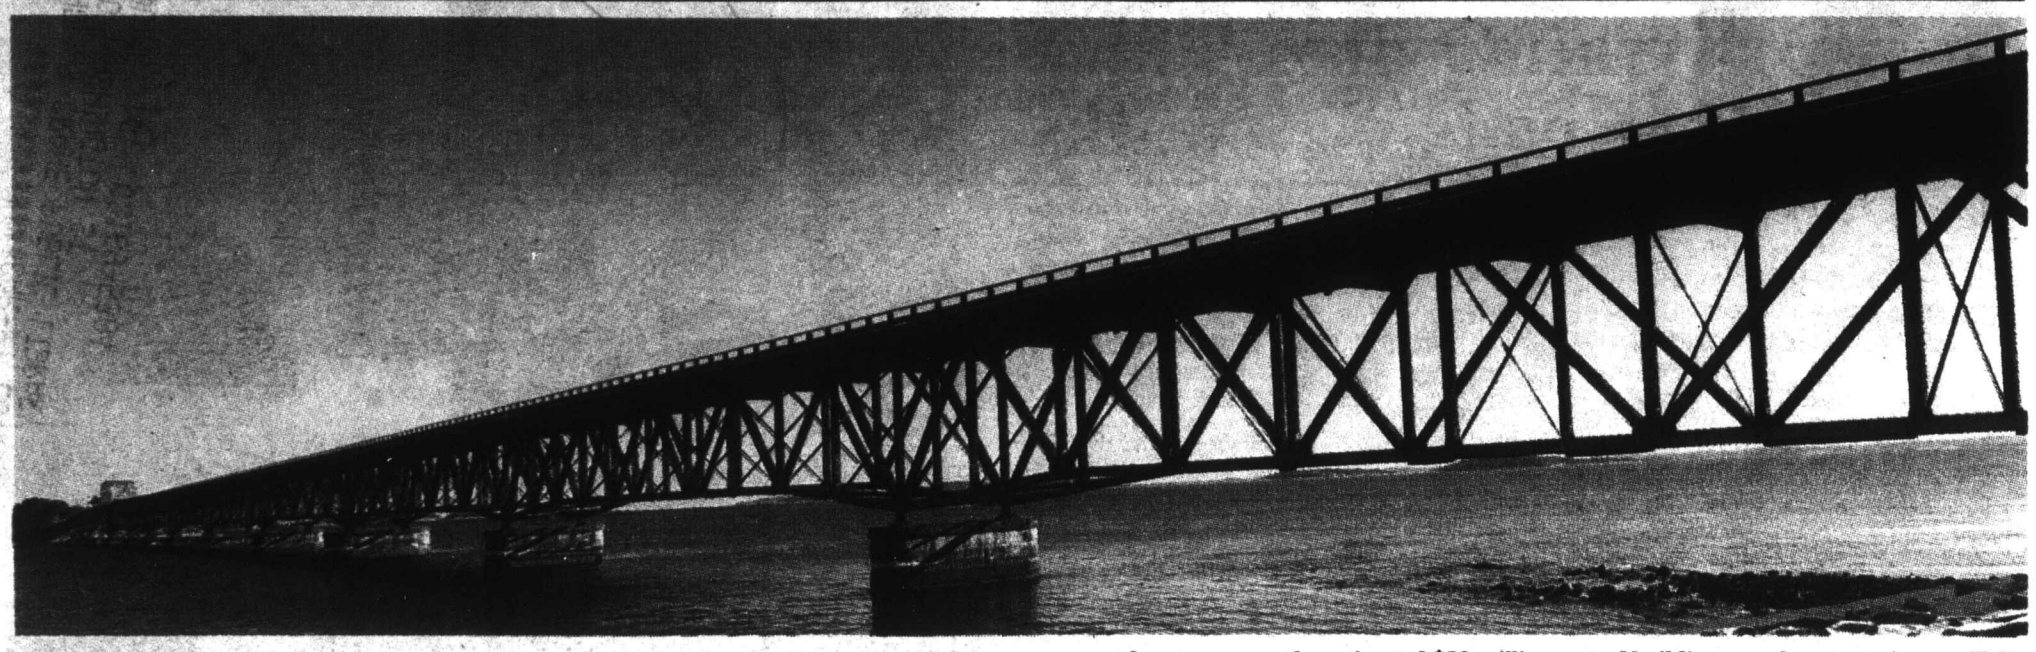
For more Quincy news, visit:
The Quincy Sun.com



The 3,450-foot-long bridge between Long and Moon Islands closed in October and is slated for demolition this month; the work will be done by barge. The piers under the bridge will remain in place so they can be used for a new bridge. Rep. Bruce Ayers and Sen. John Keenan have expressed concern over the estimated $80 million cost of building a replacement. Ayers will file legislation this week calling for a commission of Boston and Quincy residents to study the future of the two islands, both of which are off limits to the public.

Ayers' Legislation Addresses Long Island Future

Cont'd From Page 1

ment plant on Moon Island into a fish/shellfish farm for educational and environmental purposes; Ayers said fish and shellfish farming would boost water quality and benefit nearby marine life. The third proposed bill would require the state Department of Transportation (MassDOT) to conduct a study on the cost benefits of using ferry service to access Long Island; the study would need to be completed before Boston could receive state funds for building a new bridge. The fourth and final bill would require public access to Long Island if state funds go towards bridge construction.

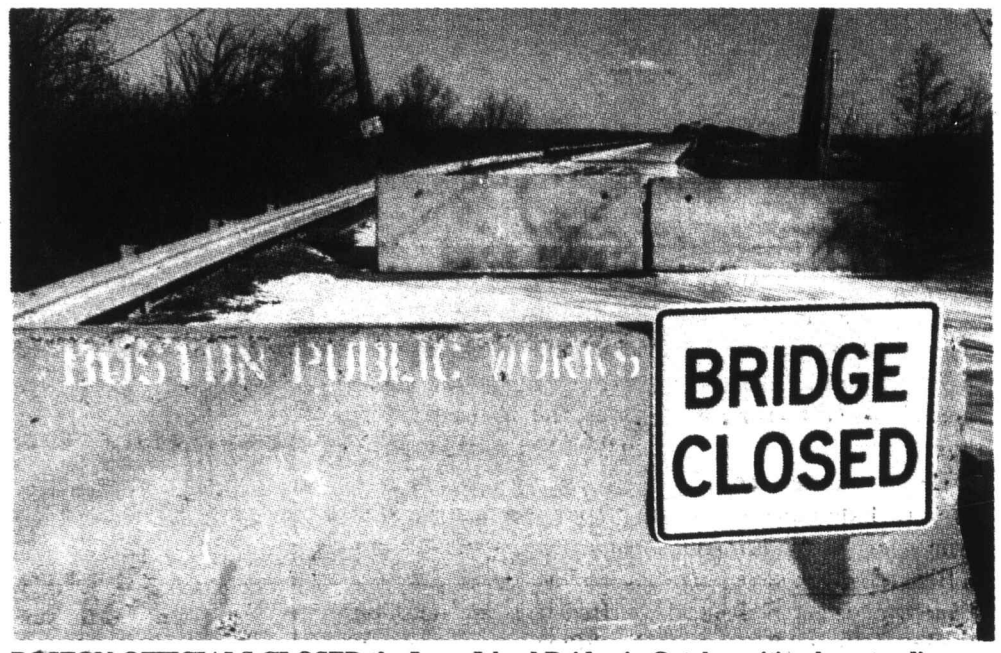
"My office is working with the house counsel to prepare legislation that I will be filing this week with the house clerk. When this process is completed, I plan to work with Squantum and Quincy residents on supporting and pushing the legislation," Ayers said Monday.

"The emphasis of the bills is to study the economic issues related to the rebuilding of Long Island Bridge or implementing a ferry service, along with recreational and environmentally friendly uses for Long and Moon Islands."

The 3,450-foot-long bridge between the two islands opened in 1951. The bridge, and the use of the two islands it connects, has long been a point of contention between Boston and Quincy. The only vehicle access to Moon Island, which is owned by Boston but within Quincy's jurisdiction, is through Squantum; the island is home to the Boston Police Department's firing range and the Boston Fire Department's training facility. Long Island, which is owned by Boston, had been home to a homeless shelter and other social service agencies. It was off limits to the public for years even before the closure of the Long Island Bridge and evacuation of the island in October.

On Jan. 5, Boston officials announced Chicago-based Walsh Construction had been chosen to raze the bridge. The city will pay the firm $20.6 million to tear down the bridge's superstructure and utility lines and install new utility lines to the island on the seabed. The bridge's piers will remain in place and be reused for a new bridge, according to Bonnie McGilpin, press secretary for Boston Mayor Marty Walsh. The work will be done primarily through barges and should be completed by April 30. Because Moon Island falls within Quincy's jurisdiction, the Quincy Conservation Commission will need to approve demolition before it can begin.

Two months before the bridge closed – in August 2014 – the city of Boston put out a request for proposals seeking designs for a new bridge. The design process could take up to 12 months and cost $9 million, which will be split evenly between Boston and the Massachusetts Department of Transportation (MassDOT). Construction of the new bridge could cost upwards of $80 million and take two to three years.



BOSTON OFFICIALS CLOSED the Long Island Bridge in October, citing longstanding concerns over the span's structural integrity. The island had been used for a homeless shelter and other social service agencies and was evacuated before the bridge could be closed. Ward 6 Councillor Brian McNamee is seeking a public meeting with Boston officials on the future use of the island. Quincy Sun Photos/Robert Bosworth

Following the announcement of Boston's plan to tear down the bridge, Ayers said the use of ferry service should be weighed as a viable option before a new bridge is built.

"With Boston beginning the plans to demolish the Long Island Bridge, this issue changes from a public safety concern to an economic concern. Cost estimates to rebuild the deteriorating bridge have reached $80 million, with another $20 million allocated to its demolition. These figures do not include other crucial factors of this process, such as environmental impact studies, nor do they include the design fees for a new bridge," Ayers said in a statement Jan. 9.

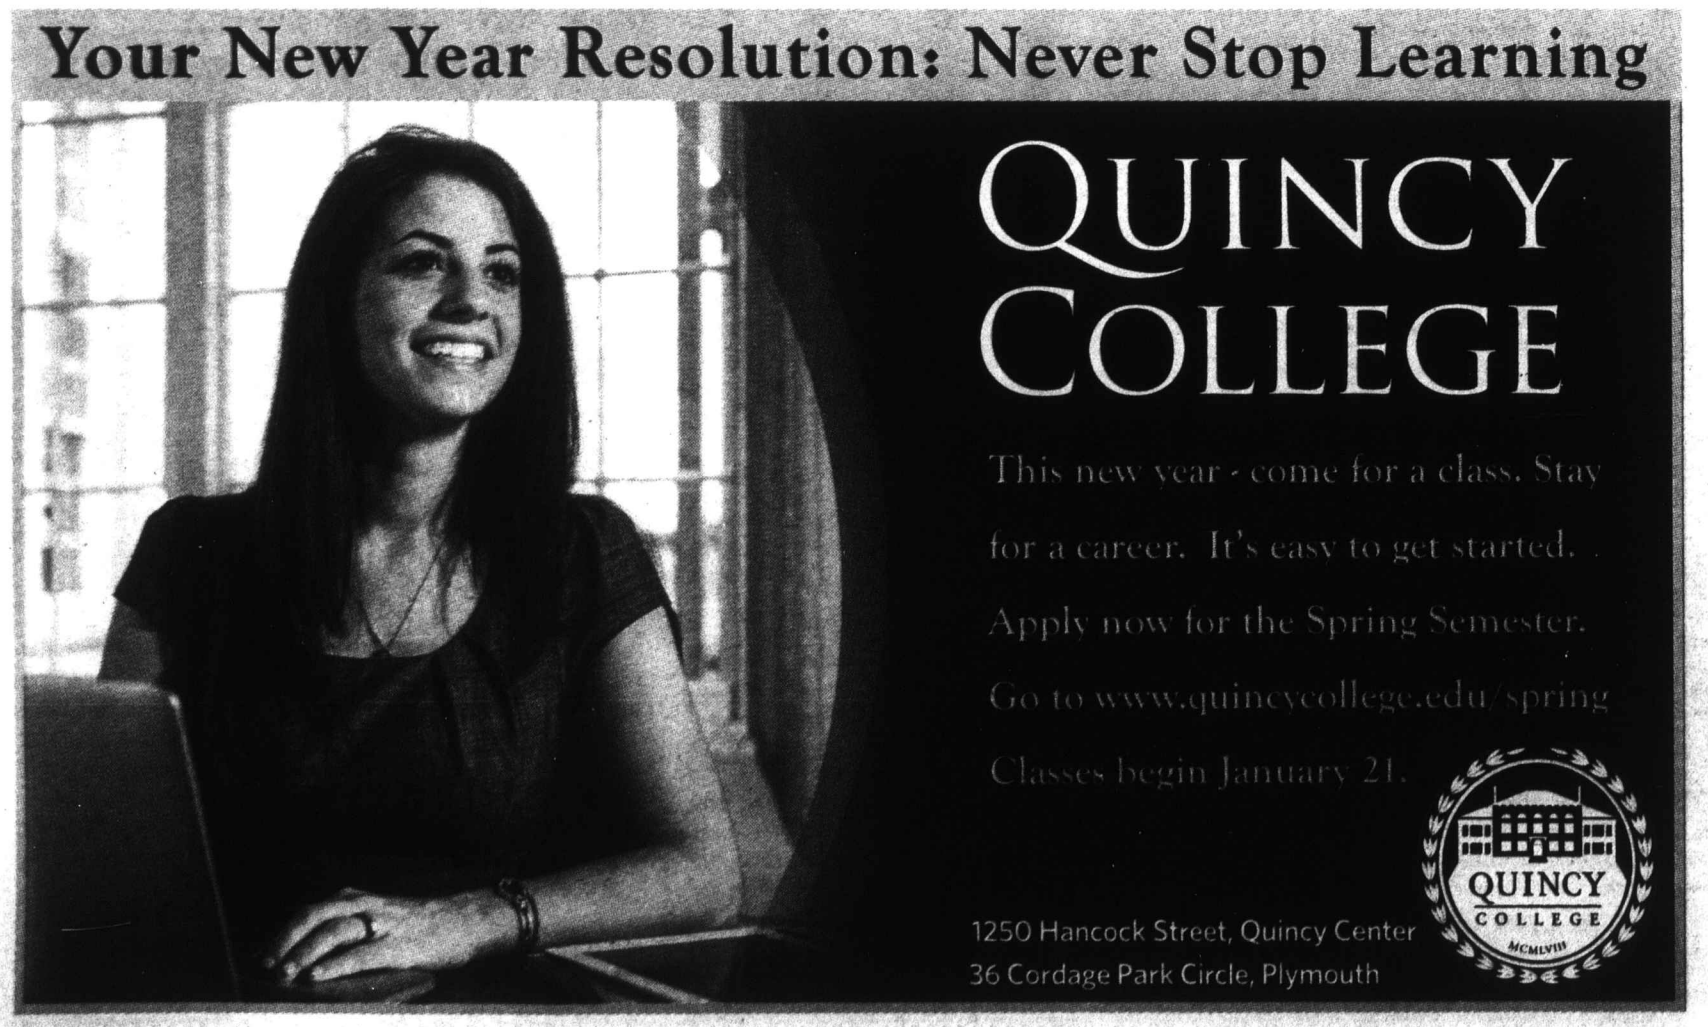
"Meanwhile, there is a considerable case to be made for replacing the bridge with a ferry service once it has been torn down. Estimates show that it would only cost approximately $2 million to build a pier on Long Island. Furthermore, using data from recent ferry pilot programs in Massachusetts, estimates show that operating a daily ferry to and from the island would only cost an estimated $500,000 per year.

"As this issue progresses, I will continue to advocate for a cost-feasibility study on permanently removing the bridge and replacing it with a ferry service. It is imperative that all environmental permitting requirements be met, along with public input, to review the dismantling process."

Sen. John Keenan said the cost of replacing the bridge should be weighed against other options – including ferry service – before the new span is built.

"Eighty million (dollars) is a lot of money," Keenan said in a recent interview. "I think before we spend $80 million, we should really take a pretty good look and determine if it's the best ex-

Cont'd On Page 16



City Receives $950,000 More For Roads, Sidewalks

By SCOTT JACKSON

Quincy has received an additional $950,000 from the state to go towards road and sidewalk repairs.

In one of his first acts after taking office, Gov. Charlie Baker released an additional $100 million in Chapter 90 money to cities and towns across Massachusetts, which can be used for road and sidewalk repair. The legislature had previously approved giving communities statewide a total of $300 million in Chapter 90 funds, but then-Gov. Deval Patrick released only $200 million.

Baker's decision to release the extra $100 million means Quincy will receive a total of $2.87 million in Chapter 90 funds for fiscal year 2015. The city received $1.92 million from Patrick's original disbursement.

On Tuesday, Mayor Thomas Koch said he was delighted the new governor followed through with his pledge to release the additional money.

"I'm delighted. Governor Baker indicated he would release that money to cities and towns," Koch said. "It's good news to help us with our road and sidewalk repairs."

Quincy, the mayor noted, has a number of streets in need of repair. The city takes into account several factors – such as the need to replace water mains and sewer lines – before determining which roads will be repaved in a given year.

THE JANUARY MEETING of the Educational Honorary Society Alpha Delta Kappa was held at North Quincy High School. Captain Nicole Ross of Quincy's Salvation Army spoke about the work that the organization does in the Quincy community with families, children and Seniors. Members pictured with Captain Ross are (left to right) are Deanna White-Hebert, Helen Dooner, Peggy Walker, Mary Young and Captain Nicole Ross. Photo Courtesy Peggy Walker

Dogs To Combat Bed Bugs

By KRIS KALABOKAS

The Quincy Housing Authority is using a novel approach to combat persistent bed bugs at O'Brien Towers in Germantown. Specially trained dogs will sniff out the pests which have been a nuisance for several years at the elderly and disabled housing property according to James Lydon, executive director of the housing authority.

He has enlisted the help of A1 Exterminators of Lynn who will be bringing in Beagles which have been trained to detect bed bugs through walls and floors.

A1 "suggested bringing in the dogs," he said, because of their acute sense of smell which can detect infestations easily missed by the human eye.

Lydon said Beagle inspections of the building's 274 units will take place later this month after tenants have been given enough time to clear debris from their apartments.

"There's a lot of prep by tenants and housekeeping staff," he said.

Tenants will be directed to clear clutter from their units so that the dogs are able to freely roam and sniff out areas of potential infestation. This preliminary cleaning step is especially important in the case of hoarders whose belongings may prevent the dogs from sniffing bed bug hotspots such as mattresses or sofas.

Residents will also be instructed to wash and dry all comforters, sheets, pillowcases, and other fabric items in their homes at a high heat as this can kill bed bugs.

They can also be eliminated using pesticides or by being vacuumed up.

Bed bugs are notoriously difficult to exterminate. The bloodsucking parasites are easily carried from one home to another on a person's clothing, shoes, or personal items and can leave red welts behind after they feed on a human host.

A meeting on Monday organized by the authority encouraged residents to discuss bed bugs openly. They were also given tips on how to spot and prevent infestations.

"Don't pick up furniture you find on the side of the road," said Judy Morris, elderly and disabled service coordinator for the authority.

"Prevention is mostly about being cautious," she said to the almost 150 residents who showed up for the meeting.

She also told residents not to enter homes with a known infestation and to contact the authority immediately if they suspect they have bed bugs.

Forum On Drug Addiction Tonight

A community forum on heroin and drug addiction will be held tonight (Thursday) from 7:30 to 8:45 p.m. at Our Lady of Good Counsel Church, Lower Hall, 227 Sea St., Quincy.

The forum is sponsored by Holy Trinity Parish.

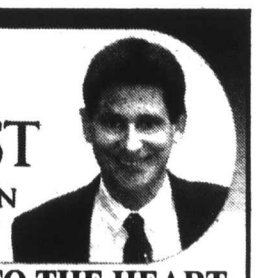
The meeting is for community members to discuss heroin and drug addiction in and around Quincy and also to discuss ideas about how the community can band together to help addicts' families deal with the complications of heroin/opiate addiction.

All residents are welcome to attend.

Panel members include Mayor Thomas Koch, a representative from the Quincy Police Department, Norfolk County Sheriff Michael Bellotti, Norfolk County District Atty. Michael Morrissey and Impact Quincy.

Ask the GEMOLOGIST

BY JEFFREY M. BERTMAN
GRADUATE GEMOLOGIST



LEADING STRAIGHT TO THE HEART

There are many possible explanations as to why wedding rings are worn on the fourth finger. One holds that, because the priest in a Christian wedding service proclaims, "In the name of the Father, the Son, and the Holy Spirit," he would take the ring and touch the thumb, the index finger, and the middle finger. Then, while uttering "Amen," he would place the ring on the ring finger, which sealed the marriage. Another possible explanation refers to ancient Roman tradition that held that a vein in the finger, referred to as the "Vena Amoris" or the "Vein of Love," was said to be directly connected to the heart. While modern science has disproved this notion, romantics choose to believe.

Knowing what wedding band will go with the engagement ring can help make your buying decision easier. You will find a lovely selection of wedding bands, diamond engagement rings, gemstones, pendants, watches, cameos, and earrings at our store at 1402 Hancock St. in Quincy Center. We are a full service jewelry store and even accept custom orders. Our prices have always been more than competitive with no fake markups in order to offer huge discounts. For more information, please call 617-773-3636.

Don't Forget: We pay cash for Gold - Platinum - Diamonds... highest prices paid.

Rogers Diamonds...Watches...Jewelry www.rogersjewelry.com

Are you thinking of buying a house?

The South Shore is a great place to live, to work, to grow up and an all-around great place to be. If you're getting ready to buy a house here, Colonial Federal is a great place to get the money you need. Customers tell us all the time that they're "so glad a bank like Colonial Federal still exists." Friendly, independent and 100% local, we'll make it easy for you to get the mortgage you need for the house you want. And we're here for you after the closing too. If that sounds like the kind of bank you want to be with, call Angela Blanchard, VP/Retail Lending, at 617-471-0750 or apply online at colonialfed.com.

15-YEAR FIXED
3.39% APR
NO POINTS! A GREAT RATE!

COLONIAL FEDERAL SAVINGS BANK
"Your neighborhood bank!"

QUINCY: 15 Beach Street 617-471-0750 • 1000 Southern Artery (Residents only) 617-479-1430
HOLBROOK: 802 South Franklin Street 781-767-1776
EAST WEYMOUTH: Middle & Washington Streets 781-331-1776
ONLINE: colonialfed.com

Some additional facts: Annual Percentage Rate (APR) effective as of 01/07/15 and may change. Applies to 1-2 family owner-occupied homes. Assumes a maximum 80% loan-to-value and first mortgage position. Subject to credit approval. A 15-Year Loan would be repaid in 180 equal monthly principal plus interest payments of $7.03 per $1000 borrowed, which do not include taxes or insurance premiums, if applicable. So your actual monthly payment will be greater.

EQUAL HOUSING LENDER
Insured FDIC

The Quincy Sun

(USPS 453-060)
Published Weekly on Thursday by
The Quincy Sun Publishing Co., Inc.
1372 Hancock St., Quincy, MA 02169

Robert H. Bosworth
Publisher and Editor

Henry W. Bosworth, Jr.
Founder
1968 - 2009

75¢ per copy newsstand • $27 per year by mail in Quincy
$32 per year by mail outside Quincy • $40 out-of-state

Telephone: 617-471-3100 Fax: 617-472-3963

online at: www.thequincysun.com

email address: thequincysun@verizon.net

rbosworth@thequincysun.com

Periodicals postage paid at Boston, MA
Postmaster Send address change to:
The Quincy Sun, 1372 Hancock St., Quincy, MA 02169

The Quincy Sun assumes no financial responsibility for typographical errors in advertisements but will reprint that part of an advertisement in which the typographical error occurs.

Travis Roy Turns Tragedy Into Triumph

Brings Message Of Overcoming Challenges To NQHS

By KRIS KALABOKAS

The senior class at North Quincy High School hung on to every word on Friday as Travis Roy, the former Boston University hockey player who in October of 1995 was left paralyzed from the neck down after falling head-first into the boards of the rink during his first collegiate hockey game, recalled his accident and how he found the courage to turn his tragedy into an opportunity to bring a positive message to students across the country.

At the age of 20 his life changed in an instant.

He knew as soon as his body fell to the ice that he was in trouble. His neck hurt, he said, and he couldn't move his extremities.

"As I was laying on the ice that night, I think I knew almost immediately," he said.

His worried father rushed to his son's side as he was being examined by a doctor who put him into a neck brace and quickly took him off the ice.

The impact had cracked his fourth and fifth cervical vertebrae, irreversibly injuring his spinal cord.

As part of North Quincy High School's drug awareness week, Roy, who now makes a living traveling the country for speaking events, was invited for the first time to speak to students about his harrowing ordeal and how he managed to succeed despite his paralysis.

TRAVIS ROY (left) and Cory Leslie (right) of Blue Sky Sports & Entertainment Marketing were at North Quincy High School last Friday sharing Roy's experiences following an accident during his first collegiate hockey game with the Boston University Terriers in 1995 that left him paralyzed from the neck down. Roy travels the United States with the Travis Roy Foundation speaking to students about the consequences of spinal cord injuries.

Quincy Sun Photo/Kris Kalabokas

"That's the challenge that chose me," he said. "I believe in life there are times where we choose our challenges and goals and there's other times when the challenges simply choose us."

He described himself as an undersized kid who nobody thought would ever make it onto a Division 1 collegiate level hockey team.

Growing up in Augusta, Maine he began ice skating and playing hockey as a child. His father managed an ice rink so Roy got to spend as much time as he wanted practicing. "For me, I loved every minute of it," he said.

His passion for hockey grew and soon enough, he decided to make succeeding in the sport his ultimate goal, something he never seriously considered until his freshman year of high school.

It was then that he went to his room and jotted down his long-term ambitions.

His first goal was to play Division 1 college hockey. He then wanted to play professionally for the National Hockey League (NHL) and eventually hoped to make the U.S. hockey team.

"I didn't want to sell myself short," he said. "I knew my goals were a little farfetched but that's the thing; you never know. Somebody has to play on those teams so why not me?"

By his senior year in high school he was well on his way to achieving his first objective. He had been con-

Cont'd On Page 16

Moments in time
THE HISTORY CHANNEL.

• On Jan. 27, 1785, the Georgia General Assembly incorporates the University of Georgia, the first state-funded institution of higher learning in the new republic. It wasn't until 1918 that the university began admitting women.

• On Feb. 1, 1885, John Taylor, the president of the Mormon Latter-day Saints Church, goes "underground" to avoid arrest and continue resisting federal demands for polygamy. Taylor had at least seven wives. Although the Mormons wanted freedom from outside interference, they also sought the benefits of being a part of the United States. Inevitably, these two goals conflicted.

• On Jan. 30, 1920, Toyo Cork Kogyo, a Japanese cork business, is formed. A decade later, the company produced its first vehicle and changed its name to Mazda. The Mazda-Go was a three-wheeled truck that resembled a motorcycle with a cargo-carrier at the back.

• On Jan. 31, 1945, Pvt. Eddie Slovik becomes the first American soldier since the Civil War to be executed for desertion. Slovik was originally classified 4-F because of a prison record, but was reclassified 1-A when draft standards were lowered. In 1944, he was trained to be a rifleman, which was not to his liking, as he hated guns.

• On Jan. 28, 1959, the Green Bay Packers of the National Football League sign Vince Lombardi to a five-year contract as the team's coach and general manager. The Brooklyn-born Lombardi played college football at Fordham University as a guard on the offensive line, dubbed the "Seven Blocks of Granite."

• On Jan. 29, 1964, Stanley Kubrick's black comic masterpiece "Dr. Strangelove" opens in theaters to both critical and popular acclaim. The movie focused on the actions of a rogue U.S. military officer who believed that communists are threatening the "precious bodily fluids" of Americans.

• On Jan. 26, 1980, at the request of President Jimmy Carter, the U.S. Olympic Committee votes to ask the International Olympic Committee to cancel or move the Moscow Olympics in response to the Soviet military invasion of Afghanistan.

(c) 2015 King Features Synd., Inc.

Social Security Event Feb. 23

A Social Security registration event will be held Monday, Feb. 23 from 1 to 3 p.m. at Atria Marina Place, 4 Seaport Dr., North Quincy.

The event will be hosted by Kristen Alberino of the Social Security Administration. She will help those in attendance sign up for a "my Social Security" account. The account is an easy-to-use access and portal to view and update Social Security information.

MLK Birthday Celebration Monday At Germantown Center

Julian T. Tynes, a former chairman and commissioner of the Massachusetts Commission Against Discrimination, will be the keynote speaker at the city's 19th annual Martin Luther King, Jr., Breakfast on Jan. 19.

The South Shore YMCA's Germantown Neighborhood Center, 366 Palmer Street, will host the event. The breakfast will take place from 9-11 a.m. on Monday, Jan. 19, and more than 300 people are expected to share in this special celebration to honor the Rev. Dr. King.

Mayor Thomas Koch, Norfolk Country District Attorney Michael Morrissey, and Paul Gorman, president of the South Shore YMCA, are among the community leaders who will also speak at the event. The breakfast will also include special performances from the ROTC programs at Quincy and North Quincy High Schools. Germantown afterschool students led by youth director Christopher David James and music director Dawnmarie Salmons will also perform.

JULIAN T. TYNES

All are welcome to attend the community celebration. Tickets are $10 per person and tables of 10 are available. Tickets for seniors and children are $5. For more information, contact the Germantown Neighborhood Center at 617-376-1384.

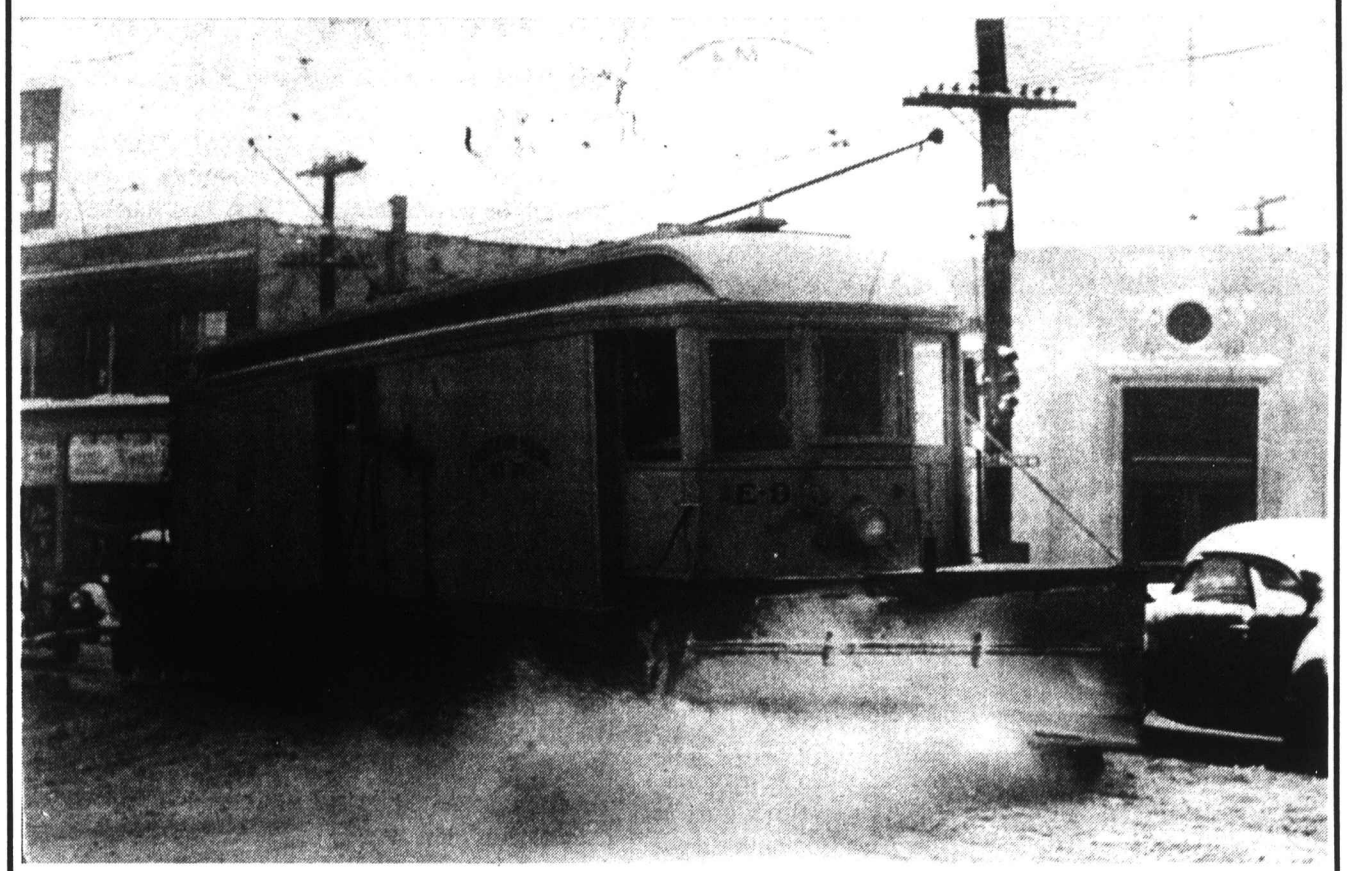
A former educator, Tynes has been practicing labor and employment law since 1999; he began his legal career as a staff attorney for the Connecticut Independent Labor Union/Police Union. In that role, Tynes advised municipal employees and police officers on collective bargaining and labor relations issues.

Tynes was then named the assistant general counsel/labor for the central/west region of the Massachusetts Department of Development Services, part of the Executive Office of Health and Human Services. In September 2010, then-Gov. Deval Patrick appointed Tynes chairman of the Massachusetts Commission Against Discrimination. In that position, Tynes was responsible for overseeing the administration, adjudication, and education of civil rights matters within the Commonwealth of Massachusetts.

Tynes is a graduate of the University of Massachusetts Amherst (BGS), Eastern Nazarene College (M.Ed.), and Western New England School of Law (JD). A member of the YMCA of Greater Springfield he has volunteered as a basketball instructor and coach in the Greater Springfield YMCA's YBL program and was the Greater Springfield YMCA 2007 Co-Volunteer of the Year. In addition, Tynes has served as the interim chairperson for the Education Committee of the Springfield Branch of the NAACP.

Tynes is a Springfield resident. He is married, with four children ranging in age from 11 to the late 20s.

Scenes From Yesterday



THIS IS AN early 1940's real photo wintry postcard scene of an Eastern Mass Street Railway electric trolley snowplow passing through Matthew Smith Square at the intersection of Hancock Street and Billings Road in Norfolk Downs. State law required the company to clear snow on its bus and trolley routes. This was a Russell sweeper snow plow for trolley track routes; the Eastern Mass used big Walter Snow Fighters on its bus routes. The building on the right was the new North Quincy branch of The Granite Trust Co. It has previously been a Howard Johnson's ice cream shop as well as the company's candy factory. Today, it is the Pho Linh restaurant serving cuisine of Vietnam. Out of view behind the snowplow was the Quincy Trust Company's North Quincy branch that is now home to the East Chinatown Restaurant. The building on the left, still extant, was apartments over a block of small stores including Mel Stoller's pool room. The store with the white sign was Julian Whitney's Hardware Store, now home to Body Extremes - a tattoo and body piercing salon. The Norfolk Downs Bowling Alleys was in the basement. Electric trolley service on Hancock Street was converted to buses in June 1948. To contact Tom Galvin, e-mail tmgalvin@verizon.net.

From the Collection of City Historian Tom Galvin

Quincy's Yesterdays

This Week
1977
38 Years Ago

3 Storms Wipe Out City's Snow Budget

Three snowstorms that wracked the city during the past two weeks have completely depleted the city's budget for snow removal, according to Mayor Joseph J. LaRaia.

LaRaia could not estimate the cost of snow removal for the three storms but said that the $118,588 budgeted for such costs for the year, covered only, "most of the first storm."

The city will have to borrow or transfer funds to fight future storms this year.

The city plowing crews could not keep up with the most recent snowfall and slicks of packed, glazed snow lined most of the city's side streets and few main roads.

$28.8 MILLION SCHOOL BUDGET PROPOSED

School Supt. Lawrence P. Creedon planned to present a $28.8 million school budget for 1977-78 to the School Committee, up a comparatively tiny 1.4- percent over that of 1976-77. In the past, increases ranged from 9.8 percent to 16 percent.

Dr. Creedon listed items in the proposed budget that were beyond the control of the budget makers, including staff salaries, heating and lighting costs and state mandated programs, all of which make up more than 90% of the budget.

QUINCY-ISMS

Louis Quintiliani, mayor of Santo Donato, Italy, was presented with a certificate making him an honorary citizen of Quincy. Mayor LaRaia made the presentation, along with Councillor James A. Sheets. Quincy businessman Hugo Fabrizio, a cousin of the Italian mayor, was also in attendance... The Presidential Cooperative Bank, 1 Granite St., corner of Hancock St., announced effective, Jan. 8, the bank would be open every Saturday from 10 a.m. to 2 p.m.... Cheryl Shaw, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Shaw, 171 Babcock St., Houghs Neck, was installed as Worthy Advisor of the Wollaston Rainbow Girls at ceremonies held at the Quincy Masonic Temple... Marilyn Alcott, a past president, and Ellie Osborne, were co-chairwomen for a food tasting party sponsored by the Quincy Emblem Club. The event was held at the Elks Hall, Hancock St., Quincy Center... Beth Israel Brotherhood was planning to honor School Supt. Lawrence P. Creedon as its "Man of the Year." The event is to be held Feb. 20 at Beth Israel Synagogue, Grafton St., Quincy Point... Philip P. Gill, Jr., son of Philip P. Gill, 60 Victoria Rd., Merrymount, was promoted to Airman First Class in the Air Force. Gill is stationed at Homestead AF Base, Florida... Area clergymen, headed by Rev. Dr. Peter V. Corea, pastor of the Houghs Neck Congregational Church, were planning an "Ecumenical Prayer Service" for President-elect Jimmy Carter. The event was set for Jan. 19 at Houghs Neck Congregational Church... Mayor LaRaia appointed Simon C. Fireman of 79 Dimmock St., and David B. MacIntosh of 293 Whitwell St., to five-year terms on the Quincy City Hospital Board of Managers... The Houghs Neck Community Council announced the names of five Houghs Neck residents to be honored at the annual Good Neighbor Honors Awards banquet to be held Feb. 15. To be honored are Margaret "Peg" O'Connor, Francis "Shorty" Donovan, Lois and Bill Murphy and Jack Congdon... George Burke, former councillor, representative and district attorney and his wife, Sandra, were planning to attend the inauguration of Jimmy Carter Jan. 20 in Washington, D.C... The double feature at the Wollaston Theater, Beale St., included "The Front," starring Woody Allen, and "For Pete's Sake," with Barbara Striesand... Quincy Junior College was advertising, "Lowest Tuition in Massachusetts-$19 Semester Hour for Residents"... William A. Horick, 27, of 24 French St., North Quincy, was recently appointed a patrolman on the Quincy Police Department... The Quincy Firefighters' Union ratified a two-year contract, which provided for a five-percent increase in the first year and an eight-percent increase in the second year... Dr. Elliot Berman of Quincy, a specialist in energy research, has been appointed research professor of applied science at Boston University... The Quincy Conservation Commission has given approval for the construction of a mini-park at Bicknell St., in lower Germantown that would include a new beach, as well as a Little League baseball field and a victory garden for senior citizens.

Readers Forum

Thank You For Inspiring Story On Mike Rowland

Bill Griffin just wrote the best inspirational article I have ever read. I have been a Quincy resident for many decades and I can think of no other athlete in any sport more deserving of this praise than Mike Rowland.

I first saw Mike as a very young boy on a baseball field, he was wearing braces on both legs and remember thinking at the time what a remarkable young boy he was.

Through the years I watched him play Sacred Heart Basketball and became amazed by his progress. I was fortunate enough to be his freshman coach at QHS. No one worked harder, or was a better teammate. Coaches and players at QHS have learned so much more from him than he from us.

Mike is an inspiration to all of us.

Thank you Bill Griffin for a wonderful article and a special thank you to Mike Rowland.

Bob Evans
Thornton Street
Quincy

George Burke Fondly Remembers Edward Brooke

I was sorry to hear of the passing of Senator Edward Brooke. In the election of 1966, both Edward Brooke and I made history – he was elected as the first black senator from Massachusetts and I was elected district attorney of Norfolk County as the first Democrat to ever hold that office.

Four years later I ran unopposed for re-election as district attorney of Norfolk County and I also had been elected president of the Massachusetts District Attorney's Association.

In 1972 I ran for United States Senator against Edward Brooke. Seven men were running for the United States Democratic nomination. The Democratic Convention was held at Boston College and you needed 100 votes to get to the second ballot. I received more than 100 votes and District Attorney John Droney did as well. The powers that be in the Democratic Party called me in the proverbial backroom and told me they had decided on District Attorney John Droney as the Democratic nominee and at their request I withdrew from the race.

John Droney ran against Senator Edward Brooke in the final election and lost by the greatest number of votes that any Democrat had ever lost by. At that point I knew they had done me a favor when they asked me to withdraw from the race.

May Edward Brooke rest in peace. He was a good man.

George G. Burke
Hancock Street
Quincy

CPR Course Feb. 3

Health Ed of New England will hold a CPR certification course for healthcare providers Tuesday, Feb. 3 from 6 to 10 p.m. at Christ Church, 12 Quincy Ave., Quincy.

The cost is $45 per person. Pre-registration required by Feb. 2.

For more information, call 781-582-1440 or 800-434-6000, or visit www.healthednewengland.com.

SUBSCRIPTION FORM

FILL OUT THIS SUBSCRIPTION BLANK AND MAIL TO

The Quincy Sun

Historic Quincy's Hometown Weekly Newspaper Since 1968

1372 HANCOCK STREET, QUINCY, MA 02169

NAME _____

STREET _____

CITY _____ STATE _____ ZIP _____

CHECK ONE BOX IN EACH COLUMN

[ ] 1 YEAR IN QUINCY $27.00
[ ] 1 YEAR OUTSIDE QUINCY $32.00 [ ] CHECK ENCLOSED
[ ] 1 YEAR OUT OF STATE $40.00

QUINCY'S KERRY BYRNE holds a copy of an Historic Quincy calendar he recently produced with the help of designer Maureen Cully Walker. Byrne's photography is featured in the calendar with various pictures highlighting some of the city's historic sites and other scenes from The City of Presidents. The office of Mayor Thomas Koch and the City of Quincy supported the calendar that is available free throughout the city. Copies can be picked up at many locations including City Hall, The Quincy Sun in Quincy Center, the Kennedy Center in Squantum, Caryn's Corner next to Villa Rosa, Finders Keepers on Beale Street in Wollaston, Cronin's Publick House in Quincy Point, Hairplace One in Quincy Center, Ginger Betty's in Merrymount, 1000 Southern Artery in Quincy Point, 80 Clay St. housing in Wollaston, Flavin & Flavin Insurance in Quincy Center and Jack Conway Realtors in Wollaston. For those outside the city, email Byrne at byrnekerry@yahoo.com to arrange delivery. There will also be a Historic Quincy calendar launch party Monday evening, Jan. 19 at 7 p.m. at Cronin's Publick House in Quincy. Calendar story on Page 8. Quincy Sun Photo/Robert Bosworth

Gala Auction Feb. 5 To Benefit Saint Rock Haiti Foundation

The sixth annual Saint Rock Haiti Foundation (SRHF) Gala Auction and Reverse Raffle will take place at the Neighborhood Club in Quincy Thursday, Feb. 5 at 6:30 p.m.

The theme is Faces of Saint Rock – Hope and Health, Improving Primary Care.

Eileen Curran and Bob Halloran will serve as Masters of Ceremonies. Tickets are $100 each and include a light buffet and chance for the reverse raffle. Only 500 tickets will be sold and the grand prize is $10,000. Winners do not need to be present at the drawing.

Tickets can be purchased at www.saintrock.org or from Gala Committee members.

Catherine Liberles, RN, will be honored at this year's event for her vision and pioneering efforts in the development of the Saint Rock Haiti Foundation and her steadfast commitment to those less fortunate.

Proceeds from this year's gala will be targeted toward expanding primary care services at the Saint Rock Clinic. Established in 2002, the Saint Rock Haiti Foundation is a 501(c)(3) non-profit agency working to provide health care and social services to the Saint Rock community with 94% of all funding going directly to the medical clinic and community outreach programs.

Several times a year, parishioners from St. Agatha's and others from the greater Boston area arrive in Saint Rock for weeklong stays. These volunteers help the Haitian staff there in a variety of ways, including providing basic health care and supporting community development projects like the Clean Water Initiative.

This event, sponsored by St. Agatha Parish Global Outreach Ministry, raised over $165,000 last year. The committee is hoping to surpass that amount this year. Jocelyn Bresnahan, President of SRHF, said, "We are so grateful for the support of our sponsors and donors who make it possible for us to continue to provide the health care that is so desperately needed for our brothers and sisters in Saint Rock."

The Gala Committee is offering sponsorship opportunities and soliciting items for the silent auction. For tickets, sponsorship, and auction questions, email saintrockhaiti@gmail.com or contact Mary McLaughlin at (617) 794-9644 or Mary Keally at (617) 333-0106. For more information about the Saint Rock Haiti Foundation go to www.saintrock.org or find us on Facebook—Saint Rock Haiti Foundation.

Houghs Neck Community Council MLK Service Day Monday

The Houghs Neck Community Council has been awarded a mini-grant from the Massachusetts Service Alliance to host a "Martin Luther King Service Day" on Monday, Jan. 19th from noon to 4 p.m. at the HN Community Center, 1193 Sea St.

Families and youth groups are invited to attend an open house set up with five service stations. Activities include a winter coat drive, letters to troops, valentines for seniors, handmade flash cards, and a take-home philanthropy bank.

Individuals or groups may register for this event at http://mlkdayquincy.eventbrite.com. Additional questions or comments may be directed to the Event Coordinator, Zoe Antonopoulos at zantonopoulo@gmail.com.

The Houghs Neck Service Day will follow the annual Martin Luther King Breakfast to take place at Germantown Neighborhood Center, a branch of the South Shore YMCA, at 366 Palmer St.

CAPTAIN FISHBONES
SEAFOOD STEAKS AND MORE
332 Victory Road,
Marina Bay, MA 02171
617 471-3511
www.captainfishbones.com

SUNDAY BRUNCH BUFFET
10am-2pm
$12.99
children under 12 $6.49

WINTER SPECIAL
January 3 - March 15
Mimosa Cocktail, House Bloody Mary or Domestic Bottle of Beer included in the price of brunch children under 12 milk or juice included with brunch

Waffle and Pancake Bar
Fresh cooked with your choice of toppings
• French Toast
• Assorted Muffins & Bagels
• Greek Salad
• Fresh Seasonal Fruit
• Chicken Broccoli Alfredo
• Home Fries
• Sausage & American Bacon
• Eggs Benedict
Omelette Station
Dessert Du Jour

At Montclair School

Applications Available For Evan Dwyer Memorial Scholarship

The Montclair School PTO announces applications are available for a $300 book scholarship named in memory of former student Evan Dwyer.

Evan attended Montclair in kindergarten and first grade then lost his battle with leukemia on Feb. 13, 2004.

He adored butterflies and was able to catch them in his hands. He enjoyed spending time at Ellis Haven Campground in Plymouth. His favorite adventure story was "Peter Pan."

He was born in Quincy, where he lived all his life. He is survived by his parents, Michael J. Dwyer of the Quincy Fire Department and Gina (Zero) Dwyer; a brother, Joseph and a sister Kelsie.

The Montclair School PTO provides one $300 scholarship to help defray the high cost of books for Montclair School graduates as they continue their education after high school. As a community, the PTO values the importance of the high quality education Quincy children receive throughout their years in the Quincy Public School system and hope to encourage them to continue their education.

To qualify for the $300 Book Scholarship, the student must have attended a minimum of 3rd through 5th grade at Montclair School and be attending an accredited post-secondary university, college, or trade school.

Applicants must fill out the form found at www.montclairpto.com or www.quincypublicschools.com/montclair completely and submit it to the office staff at Montclair School no later than Feb. 4 (or mail it to Montclair School PTO, Attn: Evan Dwyer Book Scholarship, 8 Belmont St., Quincy MA 02171.)

Applications must be received prior to the February PTO meeting. The recipient will be selected at random from a drawing of all applicants. Once selected the recipient can submit up to $300 in book receipts for reimbursement.

Those who wish to donate to the scholarship can send donations to the Montclair School attention Evan Dwyer Scholarship Fund. Funds received will be granted to another qualifying applicant.

Find us on Facebook
Highlights of Local Programming found on . . . QATV
Quincy Access Television
88 Washington Street
Quincy, MA 02169
617-376-1440

Public Access Channel 8

Thursday, January 15th:
7:00pm: Access Quincy Computer Journal
9:30pm: NQHS vs. QHS Girls Basketball

Friday, January 16th:
6:00am: LIVE: AM Quincy (audio only)
11:30am: LIVE: Currently in Quincy

Saturday, January 17th:
12:00pm: QRD Elks Free Throw Contest
12:30pm: NQHS Court Dedication

Sunday, January 18th:
10:0am: Bethany Congregational Church
3:30pm: Sound Advice with Tom Williams

Monday, January 19th:
12:00pm: QRD Elks Free Throw Contest
7:00pm: QHS vs. Silver Lake Girls Basketball

Tuesday, January 20th:
6:00pm: Eye on Quincy (replay)
7:00pm: Taiwan Programming

Wednesday, January 21st:
6:00pm: Good News
10:00pm: The Constitution: Then & Now

Government Access Channel 11

Thursday, January 15th:
8:30pm: At the Library: January Hapenings

Friday, January 16th:
6:00pm: City View with Mayor Koch

Saturday/Sunday, January 17th/18th:
11:00am: At the Library: January Happenings
12:00pm: North Quincy Court Dedication
3:00pm: At the Library: Asylum Quartet
5:00pm: Elks Free Throw Contest
7:00pm: Painting at the Kennedy Center
12:00am: At the Library: Asylum Quartet

Monday, January 19th:
6:00pm: Crime Watch: Scams Revisited II
6:30pm: FYI:QHD Bed Bugs
7:00pm: Painting at the Kennedy Center
8:30pm: Media Advisory

Tuesday, January 20th:
6:00pm: Health Links: Hammer Toe
7:30pm: LIVE: Quincy City Council

Wednesday, January 21st:
12:00pm: City Council 1/20
7:00pm: City Council 1/20

Programming is subject to change. For a complete list of programs, please consult our website at www.qatv.org

QUINT'S
House of Flowers
Family Owned & Operated Since 1919
761 Southern Artery
QUINCY
617-773-7620

Temple's Stained Glass Windows Being Donated To Hebrew College Museum

A beautiful and inspirational collection of stained glass windows by acclaimed artist David Holleman will soon be on its way to the Skirball Museum at Hebrew Union College - Jewish Institute of Religion in Cincinnati, Ohio, as a permanent exhibit donated by Temple Beth El of Quincy.

The significant collection of windows, along with sculpture, mosaics and tapestry by David Holleman, beautified and enhanced the former Beth El synagogue on the corner of Hancock Street and Furnace Brook Parkway in Quincy. It was created over two decades as a result of the collaboration and close friendship of artist Holleman and the synagogue's late Rabbi David Jacobs.

Temple Beth El and Temple Shalom of Milton have merged to form Congregation Beth Shalom of the Blue Hills, which has plans for a new spiritual home in Milton. Unfortunately, the future building cannot accommodate the stained glass windows and many of the other artifacts and decorations of the two former buildings, and Temple Beth El is happy to have found a home for its Holleman collection.

David Holleman was born in Arlington, Mass. in 1927, and became interested in art at a very early age. He attended the Children's Art Center in the South End and the Carbee Art School. Following Army service during and after WWII, he attended the Boston Museum School and became an award winning artist in various media, including pottery, sculpture, mosaics and tapestry, eventually creating stained glass windows and other commissions for many religious buildings, mostly synagogues. He has exhibited all over the United States, and taught at Harvard University School of Design and at Stonehill College.

The difficult and delicate job of removing and shipping the Holleman Collection of windows will be performed by the Lyn Hovey Studio of Norton and Boston. It is being facilitated by former Beth El member Ed Gurwitch of Quincy. They are planning to begin the project today (Thursday) or tomorrow (Friday).

For more information about this project or Congregation Beth Shalom of the Blue Hills, call the congregation office at 617-698-3394, or email office@BethShalomBlueHills.org.

192 Students On Sterling Honor Roll

One-hundred and ninety-two students are on the Sterling Middle School first term honor roll. They are:

HIGH HONORS

Grade 8: Gody Alphonse, Angel Caisachana Ortiz, Eni Daci, Evan Driscoll, Shara Galvani, Allen Ha, Christine Le, Joshua Linik, Karina Livingstone, Matthew McFarlane, Albert McGillivray, Arianna Munafo, Kathy Nguyen, Rodney Parisien, Rio Six-Tiger, Henry Thi, Hannah Trembley, Garell Willis

Grade 7: Isabella Carey, Timothy Dargon, Jona Fejzaj, Kendrick Kheav, Man Lui, Patrick MacMillan, Maggie Murphy, Katelyn Nguyen, Rodrick Pendleton, Tammy Pham, Dayna Phan, Tedi Qafko, Jennifer Segale, Adam Truong, Emily Vu, Kayla Vu, Michalina Weglarzy, Andrew Zemotel

Grade 6: Lezly Acevedo, Maggie Cristiani, Grace Devine, James Doan, Michael Duong, Anthony Haviland, Supriti Karki, Jenelle Kimura, Parishkrit Lamichhane, Wayne Nguyen, Andrew Nickerson, Sorcha Quinn, Cepherino Rodriguez, Sean Ryan, Katelyn Zeng, Chengrong Zheng,

Grade 5: Brahim Atif, Amyah Davis, Meaghan Foley, Adriana Healy, Mia Heim, Garrett Hinkley, Liberty Hull, Helena Huynh, Harry McGuire, Jr., Riley O'Connell, Gianni Perea-Nunez, Athena Perry, Sarah Rizzi, Sophie Saint Marc, Lauren Tam, Jacquline Tang, Kayla Tran, Aiden Zeng

Honors

Grade 8: Selihom Aklilu, Jessalyn Bonia, Carol Dhimogjini, Andy Ha, Ethan Johns, Jack Ly, Sarah Marius, Kyle McCann, Kairah Neves-Riviere, Steven Nguyen, Olivia Orseno, Daniel Rose, Attillio Sheldone, Jalen Varela, Kevin Warner, Keylani Woodley

Grade 7: Sherissa Alexis, Sham Almaleh, Lauren Anshewitz, Mohammed Basabrain, Kenneth Brownlow, Orion Byrne, Tynierah Cantave, Liny Chea, Joseph Corbett, Jr., Louicel Robert De Almeida, David Devoy, Patrick Devoy, Ainslee Eaton, Justin Echols, Llavian Figueroa, Alyssa Fortune, Olivia Fritz, Kelly Gerrish, Stephanie Henriquez, Bellami Howell, Aryanna Jones, Ilia Karello, Sara Koudsi, Ashley Kwan, Zhao Yu Li, Toan Luong, Erin MacKay, Sam Ngo, Victoria Primo, John Pritchard, Malita Rosa, Matheus Santos, Cameron Seviour, John Valenzuela, Luana Vilarino, Nicholas Wong

Grade 6: Joseph Brahimi, Kristina Carter, Jayden Chui, Amanda DePaula, James Devarie, Abednego Do Rosario Lopes, Damani Fernandes, Akai Fitzpatrick, Jesse Gruchy, William Hibbard, Susan Hoare, Sunny Huang, Ethyn Kerr, Colby Lai, Ngaik Lee, Danny Ly, Shannon MacKay, Hannah Mahn, Kristen Mahoney, Christopher Maldonado, Angel Marquis, Molly McGillivray, Kyle McMurray, Ciro Moura, Rohara Muca, Huy Nguyen, Issabella Nguyen, Dev Patel, Maverick Voeun, Delana Wiley, Xuefeng Zhao

Grade 5: Ahmed Al-Rekabi, Jacob Anderson, Caleb Baliton, Meira Baliton, Suad Basabrain, Ava Brown, Samantha Burgos, Ellen Chen, Kevin Chen, Zachary Corbett, Dany Darwich, Jordan Ray Dizon, Nicholas Dos Santos, Alissa Fernandes, Niamh Gallen, Amelia Goodfellow, Ronan Healy, James Hoare, Kaila Jacques, Kevin Jarek, Nyck Jean-Philippe, Walker Jeffery, Malik Justice, Daniel Lung, Thu Luong, Giovanna Macedo, Kevin Mei, David Meng, Jennifer Meng, Benny Nguyen, Cindy Nguyen, Emily Nguyen, Haley O'Reilly, Vansh Patel, Kailey Ross, Doan Tran, Nnene Ugah, Jair Whyte, Kaitlyn Zemotel.

Maria Theodore On Honor Roll

Maria Theodore of Quincy, an eighth grade student at Thayer Academy Middle School, earned High Honors for the first term.

Social

Quincy Residents Attend Patrick Portrait Unveiling

JAMES DeAMICIS (left), a senior at Quincy High School, and his mother, Noreen DeAmicis (right) were among the guests who attended the official unveiling of the Gov. Deval Patrick portrait at the State House. James has served as an intern at the State House and connected with former Gov. Patrick (center) on numerous occasions. He is interested in pursuing a career in politics someday. Photo Courtesy James DeAmicis

Jacqueline Zamzow Intern At Hill Holliday

JACQUELINE ZAMZOW (center) of Quincy, a Catholic Schools Foundation Scholar and junior at Fontbonne Academy, was chosen to serve as an intern in the Department of Innovation and Technology at Hill Holliday for the 2014-2015 academic year. Zamzow is the first student to participate in the internship program. The Hill Holiday Internship exposes students to the professional world and allows them to build competencies, while learning from top advertising experts. Also shown are Karen Kaplan, Chairman and CEO of Hill Holliday, Adam Cahill, Chief Digital Officer at Hill Holliday, Susan Degnan, Head of School at Fontbonne Academy and Executive Director of CSF, Mike Reardon. Photo Courtesy Hillary Laggis/CSF

'Mystery Of Stone Benches' Walk Through Faxon Park Jan. 24

The Quincy Park Department's Environmental Treasures program invites the public to help solve "The Mystery of the Stone Benches" during a walk through Faxon Park Saturday, Jan. 24.

Numerous stone benches, some in plain view, others hidden in the woods, each unique, are found throughout Faxon Park. Who made them? How were they built? Why were they placed in such strange locations?

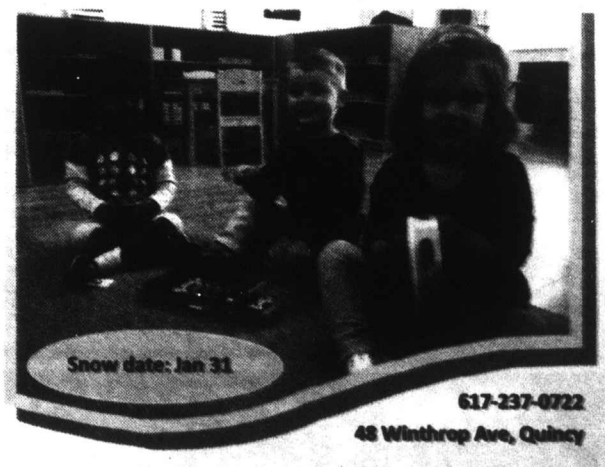
Join Sally Owen for a stroll through the park and learn what the benches can teach about enjoying winter.

Meet at 10 a.m. at the parking lot by the pavilion at the top of the park off Faxon Park Road.

Call 617-472-0799 after 9 a.m. Jan. 24 for information about rescheduling if ground conditions are hazardous or weather inclement.

Neighborhood Club of Quincy
Nestled in a quiet neighborhood in historic Quincy, the Neighborhood Club has been creating unforgettable memories since 1917.
We take pride in making each and every wedding or event unique and memorable.
Whether you are looking for a spacious ballroom for up to 200, or a setting for a smaller group of guests, the Neighborhood Club has the perfect place to hold your event.
Book Your Wedding and Enjoy a Complimentary Champagne Toast (Mention this ad)
617.773.9300
27 Glendale Road, Quincy, MA 02169 www.ncquincy.com

Wollaston Hill
MONTESSORI SCHOOL
Preschool & Kindergarten
Open House: Sat. Jan 24, 10am-12pm
Snow date: Jan 31
617-237-0722
48 Winthrop Ave, Quincy
www.WollastonHillMontessori.com



WHAT'S COOKING
with
Marie & Suzie
By MARIE D'OLIMPIO and SUZIE FALCO

Spinach-Kale Pie

By MARIE

Today's recipe is for a spinach-kale pie which I made recently for lunch. I actually prepared it in the morning, and refrigerated until it was time to bake.

If you don't like kale, just use the spinach, but I found it came out wonderful with the combination of the two.

SPINACH-KALE PIE

1 package of frozen chopped spinach (cooked and drained)
3-4 ounces of kale (cooked and drained)
1 tablespoon flour
1 small package cottage cheese
3 eggs (beaten)
Salt and pepper to taste
Shredded cheddar for topping sliced tomatoes for topping (around the edge of the pie)

Mix the flour and the egg until blended. Add all the other ingredients and mix well.

Place in a slightly greased pan, top it with the shredded cheese, and bake in a 350 degree oven for 30-40 minutes.

Black-Eyed Pea & Kale/Sausage Stew

By SUZIE

Down South, they prepare black eyed peas on New Year's Day for health and prosperity for the upcoming year.

This stew is easy and delicious. Might as well try it! Maybe the old tradition works! We can use all the help we can get.

BLACK-EYED PEA & KALE/SAUSAGE STEW

2 onions, chopped
3 garlic cloves minced
4 chicken sausages, Italian or spicy, up to you!
2 cans black eyed peas drained (I love EDEN brand)
3 cups chicken stock (My favorite is IMAGINE brand)
1 tablespoon tomato paste
2 tablespoon chopped fresh thyme
1 bunch of Swiss chard or 1 package baby kale (packaged baby spinach works, too, sometimes I even use a package of dark lettuce, like baby romaine or spring mix!)
Sea Salt and pepper to taste
Fresh thyme to garnish
Olive oil

1. In a large skillet, over medium high heat, sauté onions with olive oil for 3 minutes or until tender.

Meanwhile, slice the sausages into 1/2-inch pieces. Add the garlic and the sausage meat to the pan and cook until the sausage meat is almost cooked through. Reduce the heat to medium.

Add the beans, stock, paste and thyme. Cook for 15 minutes.

2. Using the back of a spoon or a potato masher, mash some of the beans (leave some whole) to thicken the stock. Season with salt and pepper to taste. This will depend on the stock you used and the flavor of the sausage.

Clean the chard and chop into 1 inch strips (if you're using baby kale, lettuce or baby spinach just throw it in). Add the greens to the pot and cook until wilted (about two to five minutes).

Serve as is, or with crusty bread, a poached egg or a dollop of Greek Yogurt.

Spinach-Tortellini Salad

By MARIE

Here's a recipe for a spinach-tortellini salad which is a wonderful side dish for any entree. If you want to substitute the spinach tortellini, cheese filled would also go nicely.

SPINACH-TORTELLINI SALAD

1 large bag of fresh baby spinach
1 pound of spinach tortellini
1 jar of roasted red peppers
1 can pitted black olives
1/2 pound Feta cheese
Italian Dressing (or a favorite)

The only thing you have to cook is the tortellini. Cook according to directions, and set aside.

Cut the olives and the peppers in small pieces. In a large bowl, place the spinach, and add the tortellini, the peppers and the olives. Add the dressing and sprinkle the top with the Feta cheese. The colors are so pretty and the salad is delicious. Enjoy.

FREE PERSONAL TRAINING
(1 30 minute session with ad. New clients only)

- Brand New Personal/Private Training Center
- Nutritional Counseling
- One on One Exercise & Cardiovascular Training
- Individual Custom Tailored Fitness Programs

CALL FOR YOUR FREE SESSION (781)843-0087

30 Minute Personal Training Session
30 Minute Cardiovascular Workout
Designed by Your Trainer $50.00
(60 min. total)

SPARTAN TRAINING CENTER
11 School Street, Quincy • www.spartantrainingcenter.com

Jake Comer: Rides For Veterans Among Many Efforts

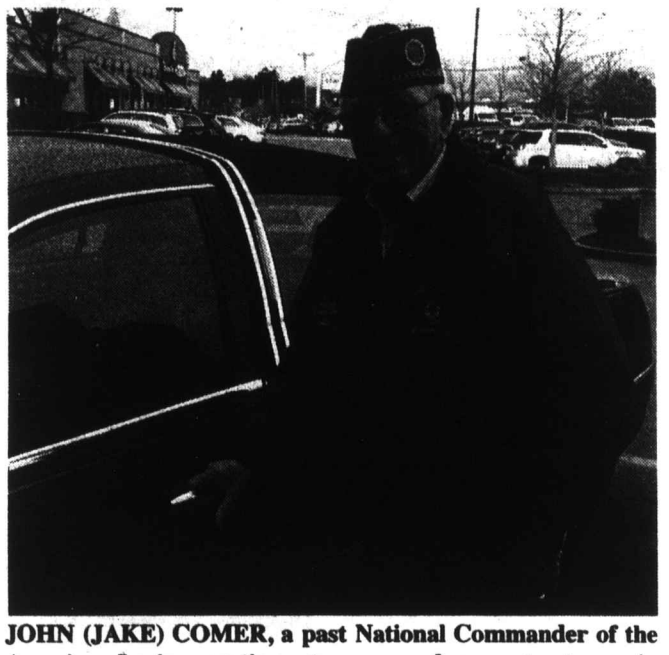
By ROBERT PIERSON
Norfolk County RSVP Volunteer Program

Once you come to know John P. (Jake) Comer of Quincy, even for a few minutes, it is easy to understand his total commitment to support veterans in any way that he can.

At 82, Comer says he is not slowing down. He thrives on activity geared to the well being of his fellow veterans.

"I would easily be driving vets to appointments twice a week," Comer says, if he were not so busy supporting 'Soldier's Wish," an American Legion program that helps support vets and their families; wrapping Christmas presents for vets at the Bedford VA and helping out at the Salvation Army. Not to mention his working vacation coming up in Florida, where he has speaking engagements and "assignments."

Comer is Past National Commander for the American Legion, Fogg Roberts Post #78. He retired from the Air Force as a sergeant in 1955, after being stationed in Germany. He knew right away that his life was to focus on helping others who had come back from military service.



JOHN (JAKE) COMER, a past National Commander of the American Legion, continues to serve and support veterans in any way he can, including driving veterans to appointments.
Photo Courtesy Norfolk County RSVP Volunteer Program

During his two years as National Commander for the Legion, Comer traveled widely, and met with President Reagan in the Oval Office four times. He led by taking the American Legion's mission to heart: "to be committed to mentoring youth and sponsorship of wholesome programs in our communities, to advocate patriotism and honor, to promote strong national security, and to continued devotion to our fellow service members and veterans."

As Comer shares his experience of driving vets to appointments, it is clear that the American Legion credo is strong within him: "I have taken this one vet from Canton along with his wife to the West Roxbury VA, two times now. We really hit it off, reminiscing about Dorchester's days gone by, as we both lived there. We had some good laughs."

When asked what he has to say about volunteering, Comer is thoughtful and then says: "Volunteerism is the heart and soul of all we do as veterans to remember our commitment to others."

Hometown, Mother's Bravery Inspires Reporter To Create Calendar

Inspired by his hometown and his mom's brave recovery from a stroke, Kerry Byrne of Quincy has created a Historic Quincy 2015 calendar that celebrates our city and its people.

The calendar is available for free at City Hall, here at the Quincy Sun and at local businesses around the city. It was produced in conjunction with the office of Mayor Thomas Koch.

"I wanted to portray Quincy the way I see it: as a beautiful, waterfront community of hard-working, patriotic people that has made profound contributions to American history," said Byrne, a Wollaston resident and Class of 1988 Quincy High School graduate. "Pound for pound, Quincy has contributed more to American history than any city in the country, while remaining a modern, vibrant community today. We should tell that story loudly and proudly."

The calendar is illustrated with colorful photos of Quincy landmarks, neighborhoods and events, and each month is filled with a short story about the image and key dates in the city's history.

The calendar was designed by Maureen Cully Walker, a 1991 QHS grad who now lives in Lafayette, Louisiana.

Byrne has been a reporter and writer in the Boston area for more than 20 years, beginning his career at The Quincy Sun. He was inspired to take up photography in the fall of 2013, while his mom, Nancy Byrne of Adams Shore, struggled to recover from a stroke.

"Running back and forth to the hospital, I paused to take notice of the old New England charm all around us, places we drive by every day but maybe take for granted," said Byrne. Among the images he captured: the stunning granite rise of the Faith Lutheran Church on Quarry Street, the colorful flower gardens of the Adams mansion, and the stark beauty of a frozen Adams Shore beach in winter.

"My mom could barely move or talk immediately after her stroke, but she somehow managed to tell jokes even in the emergency room. Her spirit and her desire to live were strong. She has since recovered. Her fight inspired me to soak in life and use the powerful tool of a cell phone camera to capture the beauty around us. It was very therapeutic during a stressful time.

"This calendar is a chance for all of us to celebrate the beautiful, historic city we call home."

For more information about the calendar, or to have a calendar mailed to you outside the city, email byrnekerry@yahoo.com.

READERS FORUM

Solving The Drug Problem

A recent headline in The Quincy Sun stated "Koch Targets Substance Abuse."

Years ago, I met a pleasant, well-dressed gentleman who was obsessed with drugs. He couldn't stop talking about drugs. How to get them, how to use them and so on. Not being a drug user, I couldn't understand how such a normally appearing person would be so entangled with this scourge. Recently, I read a book about the properties of the brain. The statement which struck me is that cocaine gives twelve times the pleasure of sex. Until health professionals can overcome this attraction to use, they are bound to fail in their efforts to solve the drug problem.

Peter Gleba
Hancock Street
Quincy

Gutro, Mahoney Mayoral Campaign Announcements

Gutro: 'We Need New Ideas, New Talent'

City Councillor at-Large Doug Gutro Tuesday announced his candidacy for mayor stating that "to make Quincy great again, we need ideas, we need new talent," in a three and a half minute video broadcast on www.douggutro.com.

Noting his 13 years of experience on the Quincy City Council and that he and his wife, Sue, are raising two boys who attend Quincy Public Schools, Gutro said, "The strength of our City comes from our neighborhoods and like many of you, I am troubled by the current path we are on.

"Our current administration has a history of wasting taxpayers' money, unfulfilled promises for economic growth and decision making without public discussion that takes our residents for granted," Gutro added.

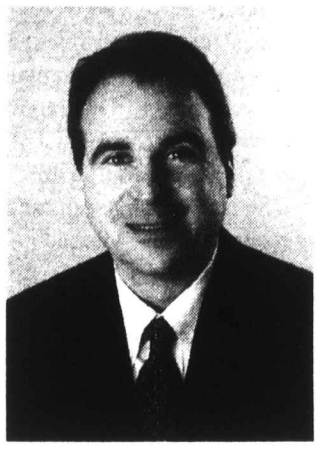
Pointing squarely at the failure to successfully redevelop downtown Quincy, Gutro said, "One of our City's greatest assets is our proximity to Boston and we're not taking advantage of that." Gutro continued, "The promised rebirth of our downtown has taken a major step backwards while cities along the red line like Somerville, Cambridge and Boston have prospered in a growing economy."

Characterizing the responsibility to get Quincy's downtown development vision right as a generational opportunity, Gutro added "We cannot allow the opportunity that a downtown economic engine represents for our sustainable ability to invest in our schools, in our public safety, in our neighborhoods, in our future, to slip through our hands," Gutro said.

Emphasizing the importance of Boston connectivity options for Quincy residents as vital for Quincy's economic growth and desirability, Gutro criticized the recent loss of MBTA commuter ferry service.

"Last year, we lost commuter ferry service while Lynn gained service and Hingham and Hull got our boats," Gutro said.

Gutro criticized the Koch Administration for its decision to not appeal new flood maps created by the Federal Emergency Management Agency and the hardships it has created for affected residents, the detrimental impact to the City's residential real estate market and the cost to all tax payers.



DOUG GUTRO

"While other communities have appealed the federal flood maps, this administration elected not to, and didn't even let us know that appeal was an option," Gutro said. "That decision ultimately cost every homeowner and tax payer hundreds if not thousands of dollars," Gutro added.

Gutro also made known his strong disappointment with what he described as "high-profile controversies" where the Koch Administration failed to properly require accountability and demand transparency in management of city government.

"We witnessed a state takeover of our Housing Authority and rather than hold people accountable, this mayor actually lauded the authority's performance," Gutro stated. "And when a city is cited in national news stories for withholding, mishandling and illegally destroying public records, you begin to understand why we aren't winning awards as a well-managed city," Gutro added.

"Local coverage of Quincy's Public Works Department burning public records and the (DPW Commissioner Daniel Raymondi's) glib response made national news journal call outs from journalists like Bill Moyers.

"This type of behavior from this administration, regrettably, isn't isolated, unfortunately, it's become cultural," Gutro declared. "And it's not going to change unless we choose a new mayor," Gutro said.

"When it's clear that we are on the wrong path," Gutro continued. "I believe that it's the responsibility of leaders to speak up and offer alternative visions and in running for mayor, that's what I'm doing."

Pointing to his professional experience as a federal administrator and manager, Gutro stressed the importance of bringing effective management techniques embraced by well-run cities to Quincy.

"For the past 25 years, I've worked in the federal government with municipal leaders across New England," Gutro stated. "I've travelled across the state and the region and I've met with mayors and town managers to take their best practices and implement them elsewhere," Gutro said. "I'll do the same thing as your mayor,' Gutro declared.

Looking toward the months ahead, Gutro explained, "Campaigns are about the future. I look forward to rolling out new ideas in the months ahead that will restore faith in city government."

Gutro pledged a campaign that will be issue, vision and accountability driven.

"I like Tom Koch," Gutro said. "But our city's off track. I intend to lead a culture of transparency which gives every resident a voice and a culture of accountability in your city government," Gutro concluded.

Mahoney: 'Quincy Is Ready For New Leadership'

School Committee Member Anne Mahoney announced Tuesday that she is running for mayor of Quincy.

Mahoney, who previously ran for mayor in 2011, said she was prompted to make a second run for the office out of her continuing concern over the city's current management.

"Quincy is ready for new leadership," said Mahoney, now serving her third term on the School Committee. "If the city is to move forward, we need a bold, decisive mayor who has the skills and experience to make wise decisions – a mayor who can foresee problems on the horizon and take steps to address them. I have the skills, the record and the commitment to do the job."

Mahoney said she was encouraged to run for mayor again by residents who have lost faith in the current administration's ability to manage the city effectively. She pointed to the stalled downtown redevelopment project, the controversy over the FEMA flood maps and the closing of Quincy Medical Center as examples of the current administration's inability to execute the kind of change needed to move Quincy forward.

ANNE MAHONEY

"In each of these cases, there were numerous red flags signaling trouble for the citizens of Quincy," Mahoney said. "But in each case, the city's leadership waited until the situation had developed into a full-blown crisis, when it was too late to mount an effective response. That's not leadership."

Mahoney said she would draw on her background in finance and two decades of business experience to restore fiscal discipline and more professional management practices to the mayor's office, dealing with any signs of trouble before they reach the crisis stage.

"The people of Quincy deserve a proactive leader who not only has a vision, but also the ability to execute that vision," she said. "I have a positive vision for the City of Quincy. Our historic city is brimming with untapped potential and as mayor, I will make that positive vision a reality. By working together and including everyone, we will take Quincy from ordinary to extraordinary."

A Quincy native, Mahoney is the fourth generation of her family to live in her West Quincy home at 12 Ferriter St. A graduate of the Quincy Public Schools, she received a degree in finance from Suffolk University. She has decades of experience as a senior-level marketing executive, currently serving as a strategic digital marketing professional for a national bank.

Mahoney and her husband, Kevin Mahoney, are the parents of three children – Maggie, 19, a sophomore at The Massachusetts College of Art; Liam, 17, a senior at Quincy High School; and Rory, 12, a 7th grader at Central Middle School.

"If you believe it is time for new leadership, new ideas and a new day for Quincy join our campaign by visiting votemahoney.com," Mahoney added.

Gutro, Mahoney Challenging Koch; One At-Large, School Seat Opening

Cont'd From Page 1

nounced Tuesday they will wage campaigns in an effort to unseat incumbent Mayor Thomas Koch who is all but certain to seek a fifth term this fall.

Gutro's entrance into the mayor's race means his council seat will open this fall. Already one elected official has indicated plans to seek the seat and that is School Committeeman Dave McCarthy. McCarthy's decision to run for councillor at-large will open his school committee seat and has attracted at least one candidate: former Quincy High School Principal Frank Santoro who told the Sun last year he is strongly considering running for a seat on the School board that he once served on.

Both open seats could attract more candidates in the coming months.

Despite a preliminary election some eight months away, the city's election cycle got off to a fast and early start as Gutro and Mahoney ended weeks of political speculation with their mayoral bid announcements Tuesday. And if the announcements are any indication, the mayor's race is shaping up as a hard-hitting contest.

Gutro – who was first elected to the City Council in 2001 - said he is running for mayor because "to make Quincy great again, we need new ideas, we need new talent." He criticized the Koch Administration on a myriad of issues, including "the failure" of downtown redevelopment and failure to appeal new flood maps created by FEMA.

"Our current administration has a history of wasting taxpayers' money, unfilled promises for economic growth and decision making without public discussion that takes our residents for granted," Gutro said.

Mahoney – who is serving her third school committee term – tried to unseat Koch in 2011. She said she was prompted to make a second run for mayor out of her continuing concern over the city's current management.

"Quincy is ready for new leadership. If the city is to move forward, we need a bold, decisive mayor who has the skills and experience to make wise decisions – a mayor who can foresee problems on the horizon and take steps to address them.

"I have the skills, the record and the commitment to do the job," Mahoney said.

The full text of the Gutro and Mahoney announcements appear on Page 9 in this week's Quincy Sun.

Asked about his election plans, Koch told The Sun Tuesday:

"I expect to run for re-election and I anticipate making an announcement in the coming weeks."

Commenting on his challengers, the mayor replied: "The (mayor's) seat belongs to the people and they have every right to run. Without a serious election it's difficult to get the attention of voters. In an election where I have opposition, I look forward to great successes we've had."

The three-candidate field of Koch-Gutro-Mahoney would create the first major mayoral preliminary election in 26 years. In 1989, Frank McCauley's decision not to seek a fifth term triggered four well-known and politically experienced candidates: Ward 4 Councillor Jim Sheets, Councillor Stephen McGrath, former Mayor Joseph LaRaia and businessman Peter O'Connell.

Sheets and O'Connell were nominated and Sheets won the mayor's seat in the final election. He went on to serve 12 years – the longest tenure of any mayor under the city's Plan A form of government.

Political speculation is also building as to other potential candidates for Gutro's at-large seat. They include former Mayor William Phelan and Ward 1 Councillor Margaret Laforest.

Ward 4 Councillor Brian Palmucci said Tuesday he is

Cont'd On Page 11

For more Quincy news, visit:
The Quincy Sun.com

Winter Is Upon Us

By MICHAEL SLADE
Fire Prevention Officer
Quincy Fire Department

Last week, Quincy Fire Chief Joseph Barron issued a severe cold weather warning to all Quincy residents. The extreme cold weather possesses many life safety dangers. Every year, the Quincy Fire Department faces extremely challenging emergency responses due to severe winter weather. This article explains some of the strategies that the Quincy Fire Department executes to protect Quincy residents in extreme winter weather emergencies. This article also shares some safety tips to Quincy residents in order to help keep Quincy residents safe this winter.

Each and every year, people who think it is safe to go out onto the ice, fall thru the ice and suffer significant cold water injuries, including death. Last March, two ice fishermen fell through the ice on the Neponset River in Foxborough. A woman reportedly extended a large tree branch to them but also fell into the icy water. Firefighters used a sled to rescue the victims. This past week in Massachusetts, three people have already fallen thru the ice and suffered injuries.

To prepare for ice water rescues here in Quincy, the Quincy Fire Department will begin once again, live ice water rescue exercises. The Quincy Fire Department is equipped with two specialized life saving ice rescue sleds. Quincy Fire Department ice rescue drills are conducted in ice water conditions so that when there is a person in distress, it is second nature of the firefighters to rescue the victim(s) in adverse emergency circumstances. To avoid such emergencies this year, the Quincy Fire Department asks of every Quincy citizen, to stay off of frozen ponds in Quincy this winter.

MICHAEL SLADE

Safety experts estimate that half of all drowning victims die from the fatal effects of cold water, not the fatal effects from water-filled lungs. If you wish to ice skate, please use the safer resources that are offered here in Quincy, like the Shea Rink or Quincy Youth Arena. If you are walking your dog near a frozen pond this winter, we ask that you keep your dog leashed so that the dog does not run off onto the ice and fall in. If you are with someone who does fall thru the ice, please do not attempt to go out onto the ice and attempt a rescue, but rather call 911 immediately. You can try to extend a branch, pole or ladder to the victim until we arrive, but please do not go onto the ice to attempt a rescue. The Quincy Fire Department's response time averages less than three minutes.

The City of Quincy has an Emergency Management office that is overseen by Quincy Fire Chief Joseph Barron. The Emergency Management Office addresses large scale emergencies which the actions of many different agencies must be coordinated. An example of this is when the Quincy Fire Department and Quincy Police Department provides emergency evacuations to residents whose homes are prone to flooding due to severe weather conditions.

During our last severe winter storm, I was working at the Hough's Neck Fire Station. The weather services were reporting an expected nor'easter winter storm accompanied by an astronomical high tide during my shift. The astronomical high tide was expected to peak in the early morning hours.

That early morning before the astronomical high tide, under the leadership of Quincy Fire Chief Joseph Barron, a team of six Quincy police officers, equipped with Humvees, joined forces with six Quincy firefighters, equipped with two fire trucks and a rescue boat, and prepared for the evacuation of citizens in areas that were expected to flood substantially.

That morning, Chief Barron, along with the rescue team of Quincy firefighters and police officers, went from house to house in areas that were flooding, and evacuated many residents, bringing them to a warm and safe shelter provided by the Quincy Emergency Management team. Quincy residents stayed at the shelter until it was safe to go back to their homes.

The Quincy Fire Department asks Quincy residents that during severe winter storms, please continue to monitor the vents to your gas dryers and to your forced ventilation home heating systems, making sure that they are kept clear of snow and ice. Carbon Monoxide is a colorless, odorless, and highly poisonous gas that will kill you. The exhaust to your home heating system and your gas dryers need to be ventilated out of the house and the vents need to stay clear of ice and snow. We ask Quincy residents to make sure that, along with smoke detectors, residents have carbon monoxide detectors on each floor of your home, and within ten feet of each bedroom. These detectors truly save lives every day. Please keep in mind that during times of severe cold weather, home heating systems will be working harder than normal to heat the home.

An incident this week on Sea Street in Quincy serves as a reminder to keep combustible materials away from home heating units. In this case, cardboard boxes and other paper type products were placed to close to a hot water heater inside of a closet.

The heat from the water heater ignited the materials, and it was only due to the quick action of the Quincy Fire Department, that a tragedy was averted. Combustible items should not be stored anywhere near home heating systems.

Each year, Quincy residents will be sure to see teams of firefighters shoveling out each and every fire hydrant within their district in order to protect Quincy residents from fire danger. Quincy Firefighters will shovel fire hydrants until each and every fire hydrant within the city is clear of snow and ice, and operable.

We ask Quincy residents to help keep Quincy safe from slip and fall hazards in severe cold weather storms, by shoveling the walkways of their residents.

The Quincy Fire Department is proud to serve the citizens of Quincy. If you have any questions or concerns whatsoever, please do not hesitate to call the Quincy Fire Prevention Bureau at 617-376-1015.

Quincy Fire Department Response Statistics for 2014

Total Responses: 9,669
Rescues and Emergency Medical Responses: 5,693
False Alarm Responses: 1,367
Service Call Responses: 837
Fires: 721
Hazardous Condition Responses: 594
Good Intent Call Responses: 429
Other Responses: 23

Get Vaccinated, Wash Hands To Avoiding Getting Ill

Local Flu Cases At Normal Rate

By KRIS KALABOKAS

Local cases of influenza are occurring at a normal rate according to Dr. Leonard Waice of CareWell Urgent Care in Framingham.

"So far, this is not unprecedented in Massachusetts," said Waice, who has been practicing medicine for 22 years with 20 of those years as a primary care physician.

The Centers for Disease Control (CDC) have recently declared the flu to be an epidemic in the United States; something that happens every year and is not unusual, he said.

Common symptoms of the flu include upper respiratory symptoms such as coughing, sneezing, sore throat, and a congested nose in addition to a hight fever, body aches and pains, chills and sweats, fatigue, and "a nose that runs like a faucet," he said.

Gastrointestinal symptoms can occur but are typically mild.

People commonly seek urgent care thinking they have the "stomach flu." Instead, gastrointestinal symptoms point towards a more likely infection with the Norovirus, said Waice.

He clarified that influenza does not cause significant abdominal distress.

Other misinformation surrounds the flu. One of the biggest and hardest to dispel myths, he said, is that the flu vaccine can actually give you the flu.

"You cannot get the flu from the flu shot," he said. "That's the biggest myth."

Several strains of the flu emerge yearly and the vaccine only immunizes against a handfull of them. People then incorrectly assume that if they come down with the flu that the vaccine itself is responsible.

In actuality, they have become infected with a strain not included in the annual vaccine that they have no protective antibodies for, said Waice.

The virus mutates yearly, meaning that as a whole the population loses any immunity gained through prior vaccinations or widespread infections.

Dr. LEONARD WAICE

This year's flu is not hitting people in Massachusetts at a greater rate as compared to previous years, said Waice.

Nationally however, numbers are higher as people become infected with what may be a more virulent strain of the disease.

His clinic is prepared. Masks are handed out to those displaying flu-like symptoms such as coughing and sneezing which can easily spread the illness. Patients are then directed to exam rooms quickly as to not spread the virus to others in the waiting room.

The flu typically kills one to two people countywide, he said, however the CDC does not record how many adults die as a result of flu each year. Only pediatric deaths are recorded.

At most risk for developing complications of the flu are young children and people over 65, those who are immunocompromised, or those with asthma, diabetes, or preexisting heart conditions, said Waice.

The flu becomes deadly when it causes pneumonia or bronchitis but that is a relatively rare occurrence, he assured.

According to the CDC, 90 percent of deaths resulting from influenza occur in people 65 and older.

He described the case of a young boy who went into liver failure after becoming

Cont'd On Page 11

Prospect Hill Company
Spectacular Weekend Sale
on First Communion Dresses
3 DAYS ONLY
Saturday, January 17th
9:00 a.m. – 5:00 p.m.
Sunday, January 18th
12 Noon – 4:00 p.m.
Monday, January 19th
9:00 a.m. – 6:00 p.m.
Up to 60% OFF on DISCONTINUED COMMUNION DRESSES
800 Dresses in Stock
Also showing our 2015 Designer Dress Collection
Great Selection of Large and Half Sizes
• Veils • Girls' Shoes • Nylons • Gloves • Purses • Capes
BOYS' WHITE SUIT SALE – February 16th-21st
ALL SUITS 20% OFF
12 Field Street, Brockton • near Brockton/Avon Line
Minutes off Route 24 • 1-800-586-1951

PAUL'S AUTO BODY
384 Centre St., Quincy 617-471-6280
Open Mon-Fri 8AM - 5PM
(Walking distance from Quincy Adams T Station)
$25.00 OFF
ANY DETAILING SERVICE OVER $100.00
Cannot be combined with other offers
One coupon per visit
Expert Repairs on All Makes & Models
Insurance Estimates
Auto Glass Installed
Complete Auto Detailing & Reconditioning
Expert Color Matching
Licensed Dealer
Pre-Owned Vehicles
Insurance Rentals Available

VA Outpatient Clinic Relocates To Manet North Quincy Facility

The US Military Veterans Outpatient Clinic formerly located inside Quincy Medical Center will relocate within Manet Community Health Center's expanded facility at 110 West Squantum St., North Quincy.

The closure of Quincy Medical Center last month prompted a search by the U.S. Department of Veterans Affairs for a new Quincy location for the 1,400 area Veterans who rely on the access and continuity that a local outpatient clinic provides. Simultaneous to the U.S. Department of Veterans Affairs' search, Manet recently completed an expansive alteration and renovation project at its largest facility at 110 West Squantum St.

Manet's North Quincy practice site first opened in 1993. The North Quincy expansion, completed in August 2014, was made possible by the US Department of Health and Human Services, Affordable Care Act, HRSA, Bureau of Primary Care, Capital Development Grant; The City of Quincy, Mayor Thomas P. Koch, Department of Planning, Community Development Block Grant (CDBG); and Mass Development.

Modernized space and amenities on North Quincy's first floor will accommodate the Veteran's Clinic. Also, on the first floor are the Manet pharmacy and Vision Center, both opening in January and February, respectively. The first floor includes exam rooms and patient spaces for Manet's Adult Medicine team, led by Dr. Lily Yung, which departed Quincy Medical Center in December.

"I am very pleased to know that the Veterans Administration Clinic has found a new home inside of Manet Community Health Center. Accessibility is a big issue for our WWII, Korean War and disabled veterans across the South Shore, so it was important that the new clinic be local. By their courageous service, our veterans have earned high quality and reliable health care and our new clinic at Manet will help to ensure they receive the care they deserve," said Congressman Stephen F. Lynch.

This week, staff from Manet and the Veterans Affairs Clinic are working together to tend to the final logistical and infrastructure details of the move to ensure a seamless entry and welcome for the Veterans. "As a federally qualified community health center, Manet is honored to offer our hospitality and fellowship to the Veterans Affairs Clinic. To that end, we see our North Quincy location as a wonderful resolution for both the Veterans Affairs Clinic and Manet, and representative of new beginnings and a new partnership," said Manet's Chief Executive Officer, John J. Holiver.

VETERANS OUTPATIENT CLINIC formerly situated at the now closed Quincy Medical Center is expected to open for care at Manet Community Health Center's North Quincy facility at 110 West Squantum St. within the next 30 days.

The Veterans Outpatient Clinic is expected to open for care at 110 West Squantum St. within the next 30 days.

Gutro, Mahoney Challenging Koch; One At-Large, School Seat Opening

Cont'd From Page 9

not interested in running for councillor at-large and will seek re-election.

McCarthy, who will finish out his third four-year term this fall, says he is definitely running for councillor at-large this year.

"I think I have been very involved as a member of the School Committee these past 12 years," McCarthy said, noting some recent accomplishments such as the building of a new Central Middle School, establishing full-day kindergarten and plans for a new Sterling Middle School.

"I think it's time for me to take it to the next level on the City Council," he said.

There are two other councillors at-large. Michael McFarland told The Sun late last year that he will seek re-election in the fall. Joe Finn said last week that he is undecided about seeking an eighth term.

McCarthy's decision to run for councillor at-large opens his School Committee seat. Among those interested in running for the seat is retired Quincy High School Principal Frank Santoro. School Committeeman Paul Bregoli and Vice Chairwoman Kathy Hubley – who are on the ballot this fall – said they will run for re-election.

Mahoney is at the midpoint of her four-year term on the school committee and thus is not facing re-election to that board this fall.

Nomination papers for mayor, city councillor and school committee will be available May 5 and must be returned by Aug. 4. Those are tentative dates and will be confirmed by the City Council at an upcoming meeting.

This year's city election will mark the first time voters will elect a mayor who will serve a four-year term. Voters approved doubling the term of mayor from two to four years by initative petition in 2013.

Local Flu Cases At Normal Rate

Cont'd From Page 10

infected however he noted such complications are unusual and uncommonly seen.

Sinus and ear infections and asthma attacks are some other possible, yet less severe complications.

Those with the flu who are experiencing severe respiratory distress or chest pain should go to their nearest emergency room, he said.

In the elderly, any sign of severe chest pain should be immediately brought to an emergency room as the flu can mask the signs of a heart attack.

Boston recently saw its first flu death at Boston Medical Center; that of 24-year-old Luis Cabral of Dorchester who had sickle cell anemia, a hereditary blood disorder.

Waice recommended that everybody get their flu vaccine yearly as a first line of defense. A small percentage of people can't receive the shot however, due to an allergy to one of the injection's components, he said.

The vaccine is sometimes available as early as August depending on how many facilities are producing the drug, he added.

Another way to avoid getting sick? Wash your hand frequently, he said.

He also encouraged people to watch their local news broadcasts to keep track of flu trends in their area.

BJ's®

BJ's Wholesale Club is looking for Experienced, Outside Business-to-Business Representatives to sell memberships to local Small Businesses in the Quincy, MA area.
BJ's Wholesale Club provides:

- Base Salary
- Excellent Commission Structure
- Gas Allowance
- Sales Territory
- Comprehensive Benefits Package which includes Medical, Dental, Disability & Life Insurance, Paid Vacation/Holidays, Advancement Opportunities & More!

To Apply: Please go to www.CareersAtBJs.com
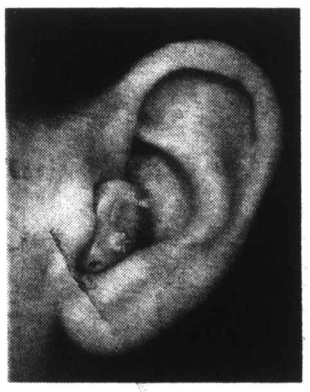
For questions, please contact: Jason Brindisi at jbrindisi@bjs.com or 508-405-5113

Reach Your Hearing Potential

If your hearing aids are over four years old, you should know that new computer chips have allowed hearing aids to work faster and smarter in different environments. Nobody hears everything they want, but you could get the most out of your hearing with newer technology.

Let us help you reach your hearing potential and reconnect with your surroundings!



CALL to schedule your free hearing test and consultation, and ask about our current specials!

(617) 770-3395

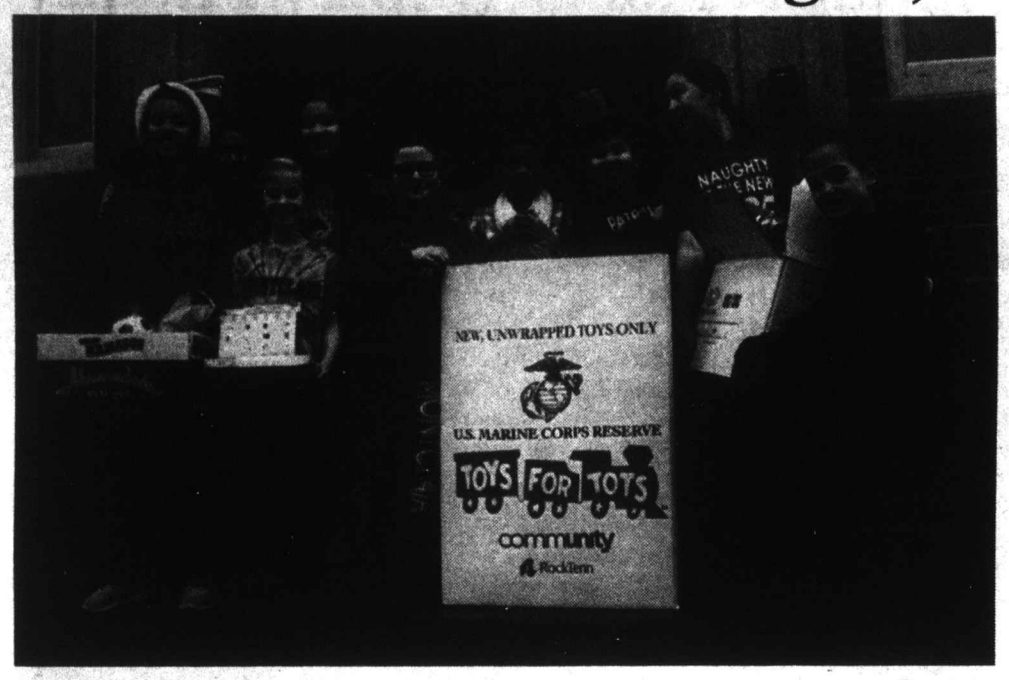
Tobias Hearing Aids, Inc.
382 Quincy Ave, Quincy 02169

near Roche Bros and Walmart.
Where Eddie's Diner was!

Stephen P. Tobias B.C. HIS
MA Lic #59
B.S. Science UMass 1978

Financing available through Wells Fargo

Montclair School Jingles, Jumps, Jogs For Toys For Tots



LOCAL MARINES GY SGT. Gerald Florentine and Gy Sgt. Paul Bracken recently visited Montclair Elementary School to receive donations raised in a recent fundraiser - Jingle, Jump and Jog. Students sang hoiday songs, did jumping jacks and jogged around the school after making toy and monetary donations. Photos Courtesy Janice Ronayne

MONTCLAIR STUDENT COUNCIL (from left) Joseph Whooley, Mollie Nelson, Matthew MacWhinnie (2nd row) Emma Brown, Taylor Ferolito, Kaylee Slieman, Maya Dijkstra, Andy Li (third row) Gy Sgt. Gerard Florentine, Marty Vo, Gy Sgt. Paul Bracken and Tanisha Liang.

The 1st Annual City Pond Hockey Tournament Jan. 31-Feb. 1

Mayor Thomas Koch, the Quincy Park and Recreation Departments, and the Quincy Park Conservancy announce that the City of Quincy will be holding the 1st annual "City of Presidents Pond Hockey Tournament" at Sailors Pond on Rice Road.

The tournament is available to all Quincy residents who are of the age of 17 and above. The tournament will be held Super Bowl weekend, Jan. 31st and Feb. 1st (weather permitting).

First round games will be played on Saturday, Jan. 31 with playoff games set for Sunday, Feb. 1.

Games will begin at 9:30 a.m. and run through the day. On Super Bowl Sunday, the tournament will conclude by 2 p.m.

Each team will be guaranteed two games on Saturday. Number of teams to make the playoffs will be dictated by team registration. Playoff information will be sent to the captains when registration closes.

The game format will be two, fifteen minutes halves with a two minute intermission. All games will start and end at the same time. Divisions will be created based on the number of team registrations. Each team can have up to eight players and the tournament games will be played in a 4on4 format.

To register your team, have your team captain email Chris Rooney at crooney@quincyma.gov. The registration fee is $75 per team. Upon registration, you will receive rules and regulations for the tournament.

Registration is due on Jan. 23rd at 4:30 p.m. The tournament is limited to 12 teams.

Not playing in the tournament? Come down and skate with family and friends in the free skate section. The free skate section will be available throughout the day and separate from the hockey tournament.

For more information, contact Chris Rooney at 617-376-1251 or at crooney@quincyma.gov.

Homebuyer Workshops Jan. 31, Feb. 10, 12

NeighborWorks Southern Mass. will offer two upcoming workshops for first-time homebuyers at the Winter Gardens apartment complex (lower level community room), located at 45 Winter St. in Quincy.

The first workshop will be a daylong session held from 8 a.m. to 5 p.m. on Saturday, Jan. 31. The second workshop will be split into two evening sessions from 5 to 9 p.m. Tuesday, Feb. 10 and Thursday, Feb. 12.

Workshop participants will meet and hear from real estate brokers, insurance agents, attorneys and loan originators. Attendees also will have an opportunity to learn about NeighborWorks' down payment assistance programs and speak to a lender about different mortgage options.

The registration fee for the workshops is $20 per person. To register and pay online, visit www.nwsoma.org or call Cindy Pendergast at 508-587-0950 x46 for more information.

Fundraiser To Benefit Red Stockings Team

A NIGHT OUT with local Comedian Steve Sweeney and DJ Mark McGillicuddy will be held Saturday, Jan. 24 from 6 to 10 p.m. at the Commonwealth Restaurant, 79 Parkingway in Quincy. This is a fundraiser to help send the Red Stocking AAU team to Cooperstown in the summer of 2016. The fundraiser will include a 50-50 drawing and gift baskets raffles. Advance purchase tickets entered into door prize drawing. Tickets are $20 per person. For tickets contact: prklkopp@comcast.net.

'Fit Fitness Into Your Schedule' Jan. 20

"Fit Fitness Into Your Schedule" at the Houghs Neck Congregational Church, 310 Manet Avenue is sponsored by the MOTHERS Club, Members Organized To Help, Educate, Reach-out, Socialize.

The Jan. 20th program will begin at 7:30 p.m. in Fellowship Hall followed by refreshments served by Helen Miller and Susan Stimpson. A raffle will be drawn to benefit the MAC Student Fund.

Speakers include Linda Beck, Vince Jornales and Brad Boulanger.

Beck is a registered yoga instructor who teaches people of all ages.

Jornales is owner/main instructor of Easton Martial Arts Center and will do a Tai Chi Demonstration.

Boulanger, DPT, CSCS, will be leading an open forum discussion about healthy and safe exercise habits and performing an injury screening for anyone who has had their exercise regimen held back by nagging or recent injuries.

Free History Lecture Feb. 19

Eastern Nazarene College will present a free history lecture next month as part of its annual Donald A. Yerxa Lecture in History series.

To be held Thursday, Feb. 19 at 7 p.m. in the Mann Student Center auditorium on the college's main Quincy campus, the lecture will be presented by Yale University History & Religious Studies Professor Carlos Eire, who will address the topic "Did Miracles Ever Cease?" A scholar who specializes in the cultural and religious history of late medieval and early modern Europe, Eire is the author of several books, including A Very Brief History of Eternity, War Against the Idols: The Reformation of Worship from Erasmus to Calvin, and From Madrid to Purgatory: The Art and Craft of Dying in Sixteenth Century Spain.

CARLOS EIRE

The Donald A. Yerxa Lecture in History was established in 2010 to honor the career of Yerxa, who taught at ENC from 1977 to 2014. An ENC graduate, Yerxa served in a number of capacities at the college, including as chair of the History Department and director of the Pre-Law and Honors programs.

Coffee Break CAFE
EAT. DRINK. CAFFEINATE.
LOCAL
JANUARY
FLAVOR OF THE MONTH
White Chocolate Nut Crunch
12 Old Colony Avenue, Quincy: (617) 773-9420
77 Parkingway, Quincy:(617) 786-8888
247 Atlantic Street, Quincy:(617) 328-8090
Buy Online: coffeebreakcafe.net

JOAN'S OLYMPIC GYM
GYMNASTICS & DANCE SCHOOL
WAS VOTED #1 ON THE SOUTH SHORE
Ages 2 – Adult
NOW ACCEPTING REGISTRATIONS!
781-843-9624
"An Excellent Education Environment For Your Child"
197 Quincy Avenue, Braintree • www.joansolympicgym.com

Keenan Drafting Substance Abuse Legislation

Cont'd From Page 1

also commented on the Bay State's budget shortfall and gave his first impressions of new Gov. Charlie Baker.

Among the new measures being considered is one that would require insurance companies to offer sliding co-pays for prescription drugs. Currently, Keenan explained, a patient might receive a 30-day prescription instead of a smaller one because the co-pay would stay the same. Under the new legislation, that patient could receive a 15-day supply instead and pay only half the co-pay, for example.

"We're going to introduce legislation that would allow for sliding co-pays. If a patient, in consultation with their pharmacist or with their physician, determines they want to get less than their insurance would typically pay for, insurance companies are required to reduce their co-pays on a sliding scale," Keenan said.

"So if you got half a prescription, your co-pay ostensibly should be half of what it otherwise should have been."

The goal would be to reduce the amount of painkillers prescribed; those who become addicted to opioids often start by taking ones they were prescribed or found around their house. Because of the high price of painkillers, those people may then turn to heroin, which is cheaper and more dangerous.

A second piece of legislation would also attempt to limit the amount of painkillers available. That legislation would prohibit emergency physicians from prescribing long-acting opioids intended as a measure of last resort for chronic pain sufferers. The bill would also limit prescriptions of other painkillers to 15 days; a patient could renew that prescription once before having to enter into a pain management agreement with a physician.

"We're also looking at legislation that will limit – and this is going to be challenged, I'm sure – the amount of prescription painkillers that can be prescribed. For instance, it would prohibit the prescribing of long-acting opioids by emergency department physicians. Not that many of them are doing it, but some do. There would be no reason, for instance, for an emergency department physician to prescribe Zohydro, which is a 24-hour medication, very strong, and it's for long-term chronic pain sufferers," Keenan said.

"We're looking at in the legislation that prescriptions for short acting opioids – hydrocodone and oxycodone – would be limited to 15 days. You could then write a second 15-day prescription within 30 or 45 days. If you get to the third time writing such a prescription, you would have to enter into, perhaps, a pain management agreement with the patient. Those are becoming somewhat common."

A third piece of legislation would require incoming high school freshmen and their parents to participate in a program to educate them on the danger of opioid abuse.

"It still comes down to educating parents and children about how dangerous these can be if they're not used properly," Keenan said. "We've thought about this in the legislation we passed two years ago, but we weren't able to come up with something that seemed to work. But we would like to make it a requirement – somehow tied to school – perhaps, that you can't go from middle school to high school unless you and a parent have participated in some sort of program, whether in person or online."

The details of that proposal are still being worked out, but Keenan expects that the Department of Public Health and Department of Education would work in concert to create the new program. State funds to pay for the program also need to be identified.

State officials are currently working out how to address a shortfall in the state's budget, which could exceed $700 million. In November 2014, then-Gov. Deval Patrick made administrative cuts to the state's $36.5 billion FY15 budget; Patrick's cuts reduced the deficit by about $250 million. The budget shortfall was estimated at $329 million before Patrick made the cuts. More recent estimates by the Massachusetts Taxpayers Foundation, however, put the remaining deficit at $750 million.

Keenan said the Senate's first action relative to fixing the budget deficit is to determine exactly how big it is.

"The first thing is to determine how big of a gap it is. They purposely let it go because they wanted to see what the revenue figures looked like in December. For December 2014 compared to December 2013, the revenue figures were up and it might have even been beyond what the benchmarks were," Keenan explained.

"So what people are saying is it's not so much that the state was off with its revenue projections – meaning recurring monthly revenue from sales tax, income tax, things like that – but a couple other things happened. The income tax rate dropped according to a formula from 5.2 percent to 5.15 percent and that is anywhere from $100-120 million, perhaps. And there has been some additional costs relative to health insurance and health plans and the state's compliance with the Affordable Care Act."

When asked if the legislature would consider raising taxes to address the shortfall, Keenan said that may not be necessary since revenue hasn't been the problem.

"I'm not so sure we would be able to or willing to raise taxes just for that purpose. Again, the revenue projections haven't been off so your recurring revenue is pretty good. So if you raise taxes you may be doing something that's not necessary," Keenan said.

"So it could require additional cuts across some of the agencies. Revenues in the second half could exceed what our projections were, which would be very helpful. And it could require a draw from our stabilization account. Depending on the size of it, I think that may be the way to go and then we could budget for that going into the next year."

Keenan, a Democrat, seemed optimistic about the overwhelmingly Democratic legislature's ability to work with Baker, the state's first Republican governor since 2007. He noted Baker has appointed Democrats to several high-ranking cabinet positions, including Chief of Staff Steven Ash and Secretary of Housing and Urban Development Jay Ash.

"If his appointments are an indication, I think he's going to put as good of a team together, regardless of affiliation," Keenan said. "That would suggest that when he deals with the legislature he will try to advance his ideas or listen to the ideas of the legislature, regardless of party origin. That's the tenor, certainly, he has conveyed over the last couple days.

"To be effective he's going to have to do that and for the legislature to be effective they're going to have to deal with him as well."

Keenan anticipates cities and towns such as Quincy receiving more local aid with Baker in the corner office. The new governor made local aid a major focus of his campaign last year.

"I think and hope there will be an increase. I suspect Governor Baker will push for more. He's made it a priority, but when he looks at the overall budget picture he may step back a little bit. But he's certainly made it a priority," Keenan said.

"So if he's made it a priority and it's always been a priority of the legislature to try to increase local aid, my guess is there will be more local aid. Whether it will be substantially more, I don't know."

Locally, Keenan sees the redevelopment of Quincy Center as one of his leading issues in his district, which also includes Abington, Braintree, Holbrook, and Rockland. In particular, he cited plans to build a mixed-use development to replace the existing Quincy Center MBTA station.

"When you look at Quincy, it is the continued efforts to redevelop downtown," Keenan replied when asked about the top issues in his district.

"A big part of that is the MBTA station. We were successful in getting in the transportation bond a $10 million earmark and some language designating the city of Quincy as the planning entity responsible for planning anything that has to do with the MBTA garage and station.

"That is there. It requires approval by the governor to make it a viable project, but the table is set on that. That will be something we push for. It's a pretty big key to what happens down here."

Keenan – a member of the Quincy City Council from 2003 until 2012 – added that he would continue to hold office hours and address the needs of his constituents.

"The biggest focus always has been and is [that] we do office hours, constituent work," he stated. "We were down in Holbrook this morning and in Braintree around noontime. That's always a big focus of what we do and we're going to keep doing it."

As he begins his third term, Keenan said he currently has no plans to seek higher office. Keenan, however, did note he had considered running for Congress had U.S. Rep. Stephen F. Lynch won the 2013 special U.S. Senate election.

"I never, ever had a five- or ten-year plan. I just never have. I like what I'm doing. If tomorrow I wake up and don't like what I'm doing, I'll do something else," Keenan said.

"Do I have any statewide plans? I don't. People always ask about Congress. When there was the possibility of opening that up, I was interested. There are things that are really exciting about that job. There are some things, like fundraising, that I just don't like to do so that's a real negative."

OPEN TO THE PUBLIC

Join us for our Annual Business Showcase where 80 local companies will display their goods and services.

Tickets are $15 per person, includes light dinner, admission into the Business Showcase, as well as remarks from:

Mayor Thomas P. Koch

Chamber Chairman Ed Fleming

Keynote Speaker:

Tracey Noonan
Danielle Vilagie
As seen on SHARK TANK

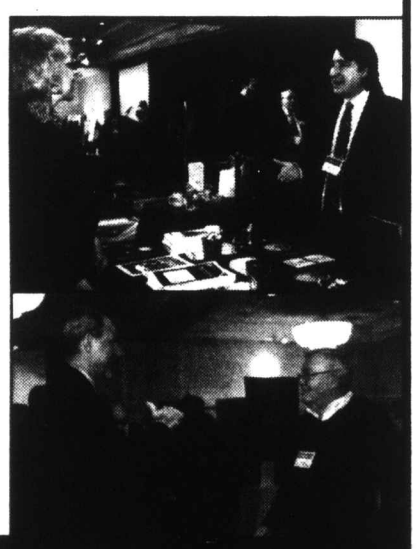
wicked good Cupcakes



QUINCY CHAMBER OF COMMERCE
ANNUAL MEETING & BUSINESS EXPO

Quincy Chamber of Commerce

Thursday, January 29, 2015

4:00–7:30pm
Boston Marriott Quincy

TICKET PRICE $15

Purchase tickets online at TheQuincyChamber.com or call (617) 471-1700

Thank you to our Platinum Sponsors:

Marriott Boston Quincy · Bank of Canton · City of Boston Credit Union · MORISI & OATWAY, P.C. Attorneys at Law · The Patriot Ledger · WESSLING Architects

The Quincy Chamber of Commerce • 180 Old Colony Avenue • Quincy, MA 02170
(617) 471-1700 • TheQuincyChamber.com

TRASH NOTICE

NO TRASH COLLECTED ON
MONDAY JANUARY 19TH
MARTIN LUTHER KING HOLIDAY
ONE DAY DELAY
Sunrise Scavenger

Your Social Security - A Special Quincy Sun Section

Articles by Kristen Alberino
Social Security Public Affairs Specialist, Quincy

Medicare Is The Best Care If You Are Age 65 Or Older

If you are age 65 or older and haven't signed up for Medicare Part B (Medical Insurance), now is the time to consider doing so. The general enrollment period for Medicare Part B runs from January 1 through March 31 each year. Before you make a decision about general enrollment, we want to share some important information.

Remember: Most people are automatically enrolled in Medicare Part B when they become eligible. If you don't enroll in Medicare Part B when you first become eligible, you may have to wait until the general enrollment period, which is January 1 through March 31 of each year. At that time, you may have to pay a higher Medicare Part B premium.

What is Medicare?

Medicare is health insurance for people receiving Social Security who are age 65 or older or those who have received Social Security disability benefits for more than two years. Some people are covered only by one of the four parts of Medicare; others opt to pay extra for more coverage. Understanding Medicare can save you money; here are the facts.

The four parts of Medicare are parts A, B, C, and D.

Part A (Hospital Insurance) helps cover inpatient hospital care, skilled nursing care, hospice care, and home health care. Most people get Medicare Part A premium-free since it was earned by working and paying Social Security taxes.

Part B (Medical Insurance) helps cover services from doctors and other outpatient health care providers, outpatient care, home health care, durable medical equipment, and some preventive services. Most people pay a premium for Part B.

Part C (Medicare Advantage) allows you to choose to receive all of your health care services through a provider organization. These plans include all benefits and services covered under Part A and Part B, usually includes Medicare prescription drug coverage as part of the plan, and may include extra benefits and services for an extra cost. You must have Part A and Part B to enroll in Part C. Monthly premiums vary depending on your state, private insurer, and whether you select a health maintenance organization or a preferred provider organization.

Part D (Medicare prescription drug coverage) helps cover the cost of prescription drugs. Many people pay a premium for Part D. However, people with low income and resources may qualify for extra help from Social Security to pay the premium and deductible. To see if you qualify for extra help visit www.ssa.gov/prescriptionhelp.

Most people first become eligible for Medicare at age 65, and there is a monthly premium for Medicare Part B. In 2015, the premium for most people is $104.90, the same as it was in 2013 and 2014. Some high-income individuals pay more than the standard premium. Your Medicare Part B premium also can be higher if you do not enroll when you are first eligible, also known as your initial enrollment period.

You can delay your Medicare Part B enrollment without having to pay higher premiums if you are covered under a group health plan based on your own current employment or the current employment of any family member. You can sign up for Medicare Part B without paying higher premiums:

In any month you are covered under a group health plan based on your own current employment or the current employment of any family member; or Within eight months after your employment or group health plan coverage ends, whichever comes first.

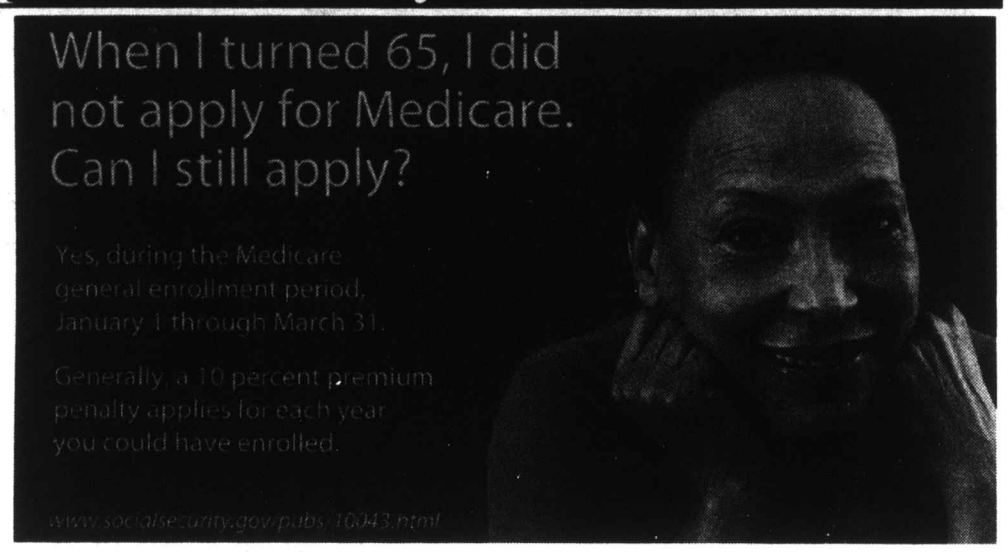
If you are disabled and working (or you have coverage from a working family member), the same rules apply.

It's important to note that people who have Medicare coverage are not affected by the Affordable Care Act. Medicare is not a part of the Affordable Care Act's Health Insurance Marketplace. If you are a Medicare beneficiary, your Medicare benefits are not changing. You do not need to replace your Medicare coverage with Marketplace coverage. For more information about the Marketplace, visit www.healthcare.gov.

For more information about Medicare Parts A, B, C, and D, visit www.medicare.gov. Or read our publication on Medicare at www.socialsecurity.gov/pubs.



Unflinching In The Fight Against Fraud

If you're like most people, you protect what's valuable to you.

To protect your family financially, you buy health and life insurance. To protect your home, you get homeowner's insurance, a security alarm, or perhaps a large dog. To protect your jewelry, you hide it in a safe place or buy insurance in case you need to replace it. To protect your money, you invest it, perhaps in a bank that offers FDIC coverage.

Social Security is much the same. We value the people we serve, our employees who work hard to provide world-class customer service, and the integrity of our programs. We protect these by using many tools to identify, prevent, and stop fraud, and we seek the maximum punishment for those who commit it.

The tools we use help us predict where fraud may occur, and, by monitoring cases closely, we identify fraud sooner rather than later. We also have stiff penalties that discourage people from committing fraud.

Social Security has a zero-tolerance policy for fraud. While we cannot prevent every instance of fraud any more than law enforcement can prevent all crime, we aggressively investigate and pursue prosecution of those who try to cheat the system. Our message to those who would defraud Social Security is clear: We will find you; we will prosecute you; we will seek the maximum punishment allowable under the law; and we will fight to restore to the American public the money you've stolen.

Social Security takes fraud seriously and so should you. If you suspect someone is committing Social Security fraud, report it online at http://oig.ssa.gov/report or call the Social Security Fraud Hotline at 1-800-269-0271.

Ring In New Year With A COLA

Happy New Year from Social Security! Put down the champagne and ring in the New Year with a COLA! And we don't mean the soda. In 2015, nearly 64 million Americans who receive Social Security or Supplemental Security Income (SSI) will receive a cost-of-living adjustment (COLA) increase to their monthly benefit payments of 1.7 percent.

The average monthly Social Security benefit for a retired worker in 2015 is $1,328 (up from $1,306 in 2014). The average monthly Social Security benefit for a disabled worker in 2015 is $1,165 (up from $1,146 in 2014).

For people who receive SSI, the maximum federal payment amount increased to $733 (up from $721 in 2014).

Other Social Security changes in 2015 are also worth noting. For example, the maximum amount of earnings subject to the Social Security payroll tax will increase to $118,500 (up from $117,000 in 2014). A worker will earn one credit toward Social Security coverage after paying taxes on $1,220 in earnings in 2015 (up from $1,200 in 2014). As a reminder, eligibility for retirement benefits still requires 40 credits (usually about10 years of work).

Information about Medicare changes for 2015 is available at www.medicare.gov. The Social Security Act outlines how the COLA is calculated. To read more about the COLA, visit www.socialsecurity.gov/cola.

To learn more about other changes in 2015, read our fact sheet at www.socialsecurity.gov/news/press/factsheets/colafacts2015.html.

CERTIFIED HOME HEALTH AIDES, NURSES, CNA & HOME MAKERS

WE WANT YOU

Partners Private Care, a division of Partners HealthCare at Home is a premier provider of home care services throughout Eastern Massachusetts, operating for more than 37 years.

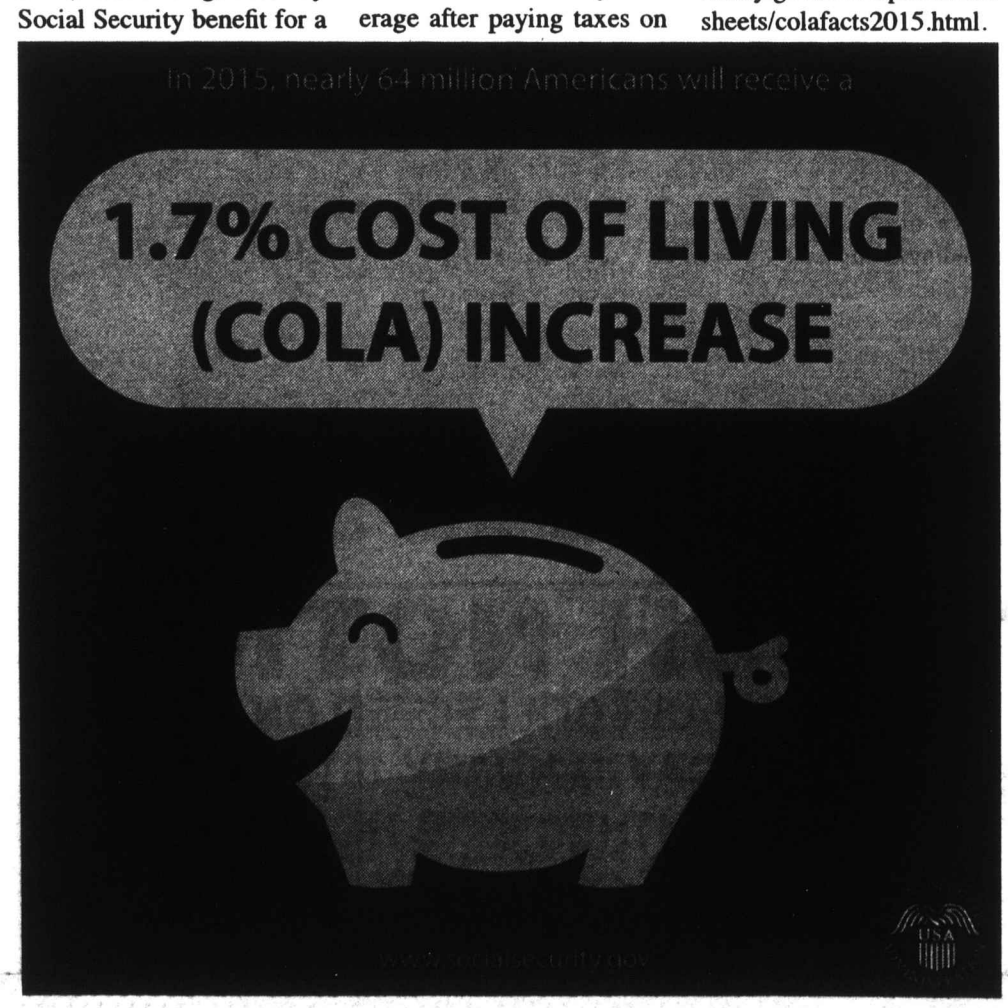
Call for more information:
508-283-5804

- Reliable transportation required
- Outstanding references must be provided
- Exceptional work ethic, friendly personality and communication skills necessary for our hard of hearing clients
- Flexible schedules or regular hours, per diem assignments
- Benefits package available with a full-time commitment
- Weekly paychecks
- Direct Deposit available
- Evenings & Weekends also available
- Short block incentives

PARTNERS HEALTHCARE | AT HOME

PartnersPrivateCare.org

EOE



From Dream To Reality With My Social Security

In 1963, Dr. Martin Luther King, Jr. spoke about his dream of an America where equality was more than a concept—where it was an everyday reality.

I have a dream that one day this nation will rise up and live out the true meaning of its creed: "We hold these truths to be self-evident: that all men are created equal."

His dream struck a chord with many people and inspired a nation. It shined a light on the ideal that every citizen should have equal opportunity to prosper and succeed.

As we remember Dr. King and his dream for America, take a moment to reflect on your dreams for yourself and your family. What are the things that you want for your future? Do you see yourself enjoying retirement someday?

With some planning, that dream can come true. The best way to keep your retirement dreams on track is by opening a my Social Security account. A my Social Security account is an excellent tool that helps you plan for the future. It lets you verify your earnings on your personal Social Security Statement—because your future retirement benefit depends on your earnings throughout your career. You can view your Statement at any time, giving you a good picture of what your future benefits will be. When you are ready to retire, you can even go online to apply for benefits from your home or office.

And the advantages of having a my Social Security account don't stop after you retire. Once you start receiving benefits, you can manage them with a my Social Security account. You can get an instant benefit verification letter, check your benefit and payment information, change your address and phone number, and start or change your direct deposit information—all online.

Setting up a my Social Security account is quick, secure, and easy. Millions of Americans already have accounts. In fact, someone opens one about every 6 seconds. Join the crowd and sign up today at www.socialsecurity.gov/myaccount.

It's the stuff dreams are made of.

Coming Of Age . . . Again

Think back to when you were younger.

Life was simple at the kids' table. The smell of a home-cooked dinner filling the air on a lazy Sunday afternoon and, after dinner, everyone crowding around the TV to watch the last football game of the season.

Fast-forward a few years, when the adults first invited you to their table, and your life changed. Your coming-of-age moment had arrived! This rite of passage is a transition from asking permission to giving notice.

Coming-of-Age Day in Japan honors all the young people who reached age 20 during the past year. This national holiday takes place on the second Monday of January and celebrates their privileges and responsibilities as new adults.

Coming-of-age moments don't come just once in life. Another important coming-of-age moment occurs when you decide to retire. Social Security can help.

Determining when to retire is a personal decision, influenced by your preferences and lifestyle. We encourage you to go online to www.socialsecurity.gov/pubs and read our fact sheet, When To Start Receiving Retirement Benefits. You may find that this information helps you make an informed decision about the best time to retire. Invest the time to learn what you should do now to enjoy your retirement later.

Once you've come of age to retire—or even before, while you're in the planning phase—our quick and convenient online services are available at www.socialsecurity.gov/retireonline. In as little as 15 minutes, you can soar through our online application.

It has never been easier to come of age at retirement!

Take advantage of our services and resources to make the best decision for you at www.socialsecurity.gov

Tip Your Hat For Pie Day And Social Security

A hundred years ago, no one would leave the house without a hat.

Hats were everywhere: top hats, cowboy hats, stovepipe hats, even pork pie hats. Women wore elaborate hats to church, matching them to their fashionable outfits.

Today, people celebrate their favorite sports teams with ball caps. And, we celebrate National Hat Day today (Jan. 15th.)

Social Security wears many hats to provide you with world-class customer service and benefits. One of the hats is as the administrator of the nation's Social Security disability insurance program, known as SSDI. This program provides critical support to some of our most vulnerable citizens—those with severe disabilities.

You can start your disability application online from the convenience of home by visiting www.socialsecurity.gov/applyfordisability. You will save time and money by avoiding a trip to a Social Security office. And, you can wear your favorite fedora while you do it.

And, hats off to Pie Day on Jan. 23! Planning and applying for retirement is as easy as pie at www.socialsecurity.gov/retirement, where you'll have quick and easy access to online financial planning tools like the Retirement Estimator.

The Retirement Estimator lets you experiment with different earnings and retirement dates to make sure your slice of retirement is just right for you. Make sure you have your piece of the pie covered. Create your personal my Social Security account to view your Social Security Statement instantly and to learn about retirement benefits you can receive. Sign up for your account at www.socialsecurity.gov/myaccount.

Wearing another hat, Social Security offers survivors benefits. Once you've registered for a my Social Security account, view your Social Security Statement to see the total survivors benefits your family may receive if something happens to you. Take the time now to make sure your family is provided for in the event of your death. You can get started at www.socialsecurity.gov/survivorplan. Now there's a plan that's fully baked!

Whether you are retiring, are disabled, or are a survivor, you can use the online benefits planners at www.socialsecurity.gov/planners to understand your Social Security protection better.

Like a good hat, Social Security has you covered.

Social Security: Questions And Answers

Question:

I recently applied for a replacement Social Security card, but I might be moving before it arrives in the mail. What should I do if I move before I get it?

Answer:

Once we have verified all your documents and processed your application, it takes approximately 10 to 14 days to receive your replacement Social Security card. If you move after applying for your new card, notify the post office of your change of address and the post office will forward your card to your new address. If you do not receive your card, please contact your local Social Security office. To get a replacement, you will have to resubmit your evidence of identity and United States citizenship, or your lawful immigration status and authority to work. You can learn more at www.socialsecurity.gov.

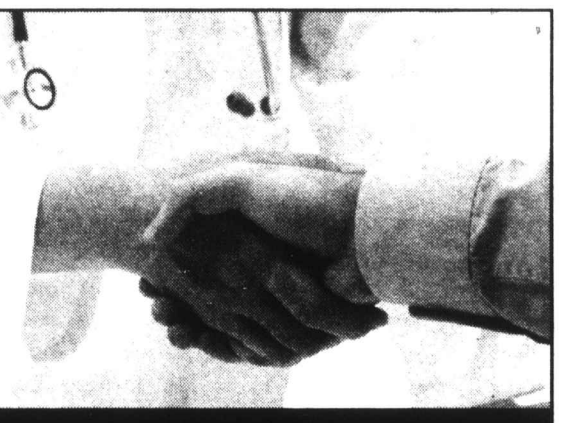
Question:

I'd like to change the healthcare coverage that I signed up for through Healthcare.gov. How can I do that?

Answer:

The open enrollment period for Affordable Healthcare coverage takes place from November 15, 2014 to February 15, 2015. During this four-month period, you can enroll in a new plan or change current plans using the Affordable Care Act's Marketplace. To continue health coverage in 2015, simply renew the current health plan, or choose a new plan through the Marketplace between now and February 15, 2015. Once the open enrollment deadline passes, the only way to get coverage for 2015 is to qualify for a "Special

Cont'd On Page 17



Welcoming New Patients

And we accept Tufts Health Plan Medicare Preferred HMO

You have a choice.

If your doctor's office no longer accepts Tufts Health Plan Medicare Preferred HMO you have a choice. Patients with Tufts Health Plan Medicare Preferred HMO are welcome at Granite Medical Group and Harvard Vanguard Medical Associates in Braintree and Quincy. These Atrius Health practices admit patients to Beth Israel Deaconess-Milton Hospital and South Shore Hospital.

TUFTS Health Plan Medicare Preferred

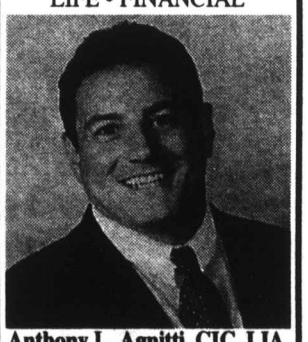
Tufts Health Plan Medicare Preferred HMO is the only Medicare Advantage plan we accept. Please call us with any questions.

Granite Medical Group
Atrius Health
500 Congress Street, Quincy
617-471-0033
www.granitemedical.com

Harvard Vanguard Medical Associates
Atrius Health
111 Grossman Drive, Braintree
781-849-1000
1250 Hancock Street, Quincy
617-774-0600
www.harvardvanguard.org

RJS
Reliable Tax Service
518 Hancock Street, Quincy
(617)773-7360
www.reliabletaxservice.com
10% Discount (new clients only)
Individual Income Tax $65 up
Corporate Income Tax $350 up
Experienced IRS Enrolled Agent

AGNITTI INSURANCE
HOME • AUTO • BUSINESS
LIFE • FINANCIAL



Anthony L. Agnitti, CIC, LIA
Certified Insurance Counselor
Licensed Insurance Advisor
CALL FOR A QUOTE ON PROPER INSURANCE COVERAGE AT COMPETITIVE PRICES!
ASK ABOUT OUR AUTO AND HOMEOWNER INSURANCE DISCOUNT PROGRAMS
24-Hour Emergency Access
770-0123
21 FRANKLIN ST., QUINCY

Board Approves West Quincy Sober-Living Facility

By KRIS KALABOKAS

The group looking to open a sober-living facility in West Quincy was given the go-ahead at last Tuesday's meeting of the License Board.

Richard McDonald and Jonathan Mercer, co-owners of Solutions Group, Inc. of Dorchester were awarded lodging house licenses allowing them to operate sober-living homes at 49 and 57 Copeland St. where Hollywood Hotel, a boarding house, is currently located.

The proposed 33-room, zero-tolerance sober-living facility will house women with addiction issues and provide 12-step rehabilitation.

The two homes sold for a total of $1.3 million to local developer Peter McLoughlin and are currently undergoing $350,000 in renovations, said McDonald.

The business, which was incorporated in 2011, has sober-living facilities in South Boston, Fields Corner, Savin Hill, Lower Mills, Falmouth, and Ashmont.

Solutions Group currently houses 150 residents in their facilities.

They also run a women-only a facility at 9 Ryden St. which has been operating for 18 months.

Surveillance cameras will be on-site. Security will be placed on an overnight detail to prevent traffic in or out of the facility after hours, said McDonald. Residents will be subjected to eight random drug and alcohol screenings per month and will be penalized for substance use in or out of the facility.

Anybody who fails testing will be offered detox at a different facility after which they can return to the home in 30 days.

Alcoholics Anonymous meetings will take place at the facility which McDonald and Mercer said they had been eyeing for several years.

Rent will be $165 a week.

Since the closing of Long Island, which was once the site of a large homeless shelter and transitional housing facilities, McDonald has been receiving phone calls from the public regarding lodging.

"There's 400 people that were forced off the island so we just think that this will give them a solution to it," he said.

There have been 300 police calls to the Copeland Street properties over the past 24 months.

"We think what we're doing will be a significant improvement," said McDonald in regards to reducing criminal activity in the Brewer's Corner area.

Approximately 50 people will stay in the homes with some rooms being double occupancy.

Renovations are currently under way however, since only half of the tenants have vacated, bathroom and kitchen projects must be put on hold.

Arrangements will be worked out with the remaining tenants, he said.

Anybody who has kept up with paying rent will be given first and last month deposits for a new apartment possibly within the Solutions Group network.

"Helping people financially is not the problem," said McDonald. "The problem is what goes on at night."

He hopes to finish renovating within the next ten to 12 weeks, he said.

"We've had zero communication, no letters, nothing. Not even a flyer under the door," said Frank Lyons, a four-year resident of Hollywood Hotel. "We're totally left out of everything. We find out all our information from the newspapers."

He said he also never received a notice alerting him to a public meeting held Nov. 19 at the Sterling Middle School by Ward 4 Councillor Brian Palmucci.

Joseph Shea, chairman of the board, said that notices had been mailed to residents of the home and to abutters. "I'm amazed that you didn't hear about this before," he said.

"I know that housing is a big problem in our city; that's why we need these places and we need more rooming houses, not less," said Shea who estimated that currently Quincy has 49 rooming houses.

A letter addressed to the board written by Palmucci indicated that he supports the renovations to the facility and that the proposal by Solutions Group was "met with wide, overwhelming support by neighbors and the greater community," at the neighborhood meeting.

"These properties have been a great source of difficulty and trouble in the Brewer's Corner neighborhood and I'm pleased with the new ownership," read his letter. "I wholeheartedly support this application."

In additional license board news:

Approved: the request of Wen Zhong Li, d/b/a Hakta Ramen at 673 Hancock St. Wollaston Center for a Common Victualer License. Li will open a 32-seat specialty Japanese noodle shop at the current site of the Japanese restaurant Hokkaido. Hours of operation will be Sunday through Thursday 11 a.m. to 10 p.m. and Friday and Saturday 10 a.m. to 11 p.m.

Approved: the request of NALA Group, LLC, d/b/a Brewers Corner Liquors at 372 Granite St. for a transfer of a Retail All Alcoholic Package Store License to manager Frederick Stevenson who has 16 years of experience managing three liquor stores in Quincy. The license is presently held by Brewers Corner Liquors, LLC. No changes to the building or operations will take place.

Approved: the request of Summer Blossom, Inc., d/b/a KOI at 21 Beale St. for a change of closing time from 11 p.m. to 1 a.m. In June of 2014 KOI was granted an All Alcohol License which allowed them to remain open until 11 p.m. The restaurant has no bar and provides alcohol service to tables.

Approved: the request of Gerald McLean Jr., d/b/a S&W Automotive for a Motor II Used Car License for five cars at 333 Quarry St. Manager James Quigg.

Ayers' Legislation Addresses Long Island Future

Cont'd From Page 2

penditure of money. I know initially there was talk that it would be city of Boston money, but the last thing I read – I haven't had any direct talk with anyone on this – was the city of Boston may look toward the Department of Transportation to fund some of it.

"I wouldn't do it without figuring out alternatives. There is a lot of talk about ferry service out there. What would ferry service for the next 10, 20, 30 years – whatever the life expectancy is of a permanent bridge, how does a ferry service cost compared to that?

"How does the added cost of emergency response factor in? If you had an emergency issue out there before, you ran an ambulance out and back. You wouldn't have that ability. Ferries wouldn't be fast enough. You'd probably have to use a helicopter."

Days after Boston officials announced plans to demolish the bridge, Ward 6 Councillor Brian McNamee sent Walsh a letter asking the mayor to reconsider the use of Long Island and Moon Island, the latter of which is owned by Boston and houses the Boston Police Department's firing range and the Boston Fire Department's training facility.

"In light of the long-term adverse impacts Boston's use of Moon Island and Long Island have had on the Squantum community I respectfully request you: Promise to no longer utilize Long Island as a place where social services agencies as well as the Long Island Shelter are allowed to operate; guarantee that the residents of Squantum will be included in the dialogue about any future use of Long Island; recognize the need to establish linkage between Moon Island's future use and the future use of Long Island; [and] visit Squantum residents at a public forum in Squantum to commence the long overdue dialog about Moon Island, Long Island, and the bridge," McNamee wrote in the letter dated Jan. 7.

"I would be willing to host a meeting at the Squantum Elementary School at your earliest convenience. To further delay direct communication with the residents of Squantum erodes their confidence in the city of Boston's earlier commitments to work with the city of Quincy."

Travis Roy Turns Tragedy Into Triumph

Cont'd From Page 4

tacted by Division 1 collegiate hockey programs from across the country offering him scholarships. He was even contacted by Harvard University and toured the campus. While impressive, the Ivy League institution was not his first choice.

"I knew I wouldn't fit in at Harvard but I could see myself fitting in at other schools," he said.

He wanted to play for Boston University as they had the top collegiate team in the country at the time and several former team members had gone on to play professionally for the NHL and the Olympic hockey team, just as he had hoped to do eventually himself.

Roy's sister, parents, and several friends were at his first game which was being televised. "There was a tap on the back of my shoulder that I had been waiting my whole life for," he said. The tap came from Roy's coach as he sat on the bench, signaling him to take the ice.

Only 11 seconds after the puck hit the ice did he fall into the rink's boards.

Roy didn't shy away from playing the clip of his accident for students which shows the moment of impact and his father rushing to the ice and speaking to him through his hockey mask as he lay motionless on the ice.

"Get up! There's a hockey game to be played," his father said to him.

"I'm in big trouble," Roy said. "My neck hurts and I can't move anything but dad, I made it."

Despite the trauma that had occurred in the rink that day, Roy said he felt like he had checked off the first item on his list of goals; to play college hockey.

"I had chosen this challenge, and I made it," he said.

He was on a ventilator for two months going in and out of consciousness. He suffered from pneumonia and a collapsed lung. He developed stomach ulcers due to the large amount of steroids he was receiving to keep the swelling down around his spinal cord and he was rapidly losing weight.

He lay in his hospital bed, thinking about how he would live the rest of his life and sometimes wondered how he would find the strength to continue on or how he would be able to relate to his family and friends now that he was physically disabled.

"It's a matter of sheer will, determination," he said. "Sometimes a change of scenery is all it takes to turn your attitude around. It's a matter of perspective; the way you look at things, the way we choose to look at things."

His ordeal taught him how to express love to his family and friends and he encouraged students to not be afraid to tell their parents they love them as they leave home for school in the morning or to hug their friends as a show of appreciation.

"The key is to acknowledge those feelings," he said, "so let the people around you know how you feel about them…tell them you love them."

After several months of recovery, Roy went back to school.

This time, he said, things felt different. He was no longer surrounded by his hockey equipment or interested girls; instead he was surrounded by medical supplies and flanked by health aides.

Roy recalled going to the cafeteria for the first time that semester. The room was packed with students excited to be back at school and to see old friends.

He rolled up to an empty table and shortly thereafter became acutely aware that nobody was sitting with him despite how full the room was. It seemed to him that people were afraid to approach him, as if the accident had made him into a different person.

"All of a sudden I realized I was as different as I thought," he said. "I was almost invisible. They just walked right by me."

After relaying this experience he encouraged everyone in the room to have compassion by simply giving a smile and a nod to somebody who is disabled or may seem "different."

"That's all I wanted," he said. "I just wanted someone to come up to me and see that I was still the same Travis Roy…now I'm rolling through life instead of skating."

He opened the floor up to students for questions. One asked what Roy majored in in college. He revealed that prior to his accident he was a psychology major. Upon returning to school he began studying communications, something that paved the way for his public speaking career.

Another asked if he thought he would have achieved his goal of playing for the NHL or U.S. hockey team had he never been injured. "I think I would have had a very good chance," he said confidently.

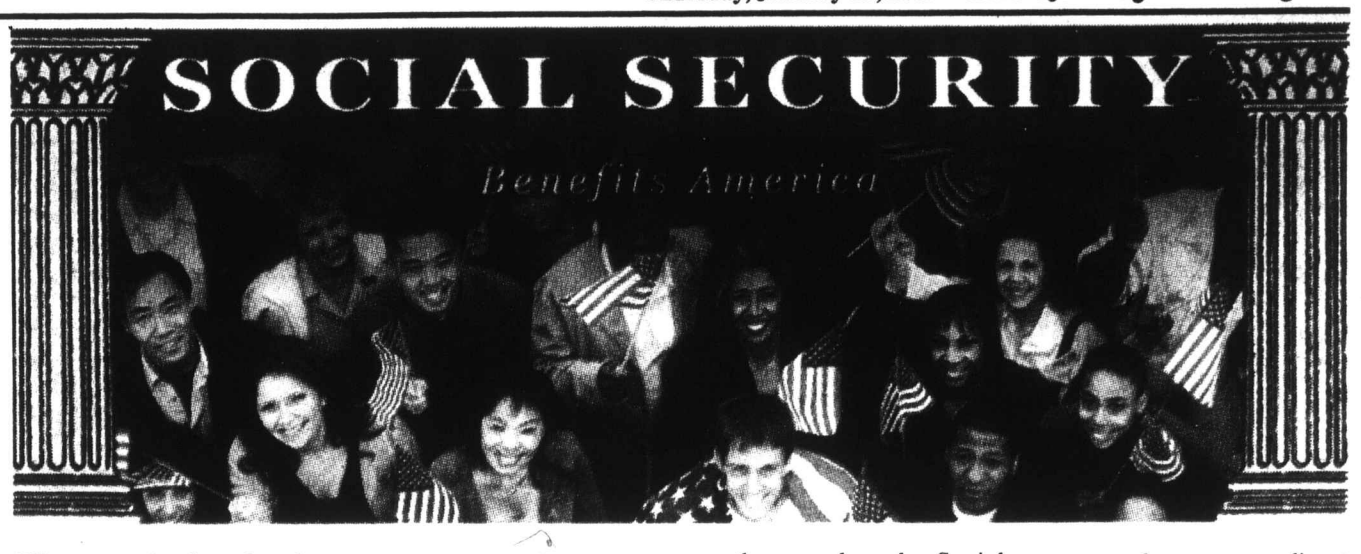
His high school speaking engagements seem to resonate with students. "The response is very favorable," he said.

In fact, about 20 seniors lined up to ask Roy questions or to speak to him personally after he was done with his presentation.

He's been asked what the first thing he would do if a cure were found for spinal cord injuries and he could regain the use of his limbs. "The first thing I would do if I get out of this wheelchair is I would hug my mother and I would hug my dad and my sister, my nieces, my nephews, my friends that have been there supporting me," he said.

Roy's appearance was sponsored by Students Against Destructive Decisions (SADD) and paid for by the office of the Norfolk County Sheriff.

Your Social Security Q & A



Cont'd From Page 15

Enrollment Period" due to a qualifying life event as specified by HealthCare.gov. You have four months to decide what type of coverage you want, but the sooner you act, the sooner you will enjoy the security of affordable healthcare.

Find out more about HealthCare.gov's open enrollment period at www.healthcare.gov.

RETIREMENT

Question:

What's the average monthly Social Security benefit for a retired worker? How is the retirement benefit amount calculated?

Answer:

The current average monthly Social Security benefit for a retired worker is $1,294. Social Security benefits are based on earnings averaged over most of a worker's lifetime. Your actual earnings are first adjusted or "indexed" to account for changes in average wages since the year the earnings were received. We calculate your average monthly indexed earnings during the 35 years in which you earned the most. We apply a formula to these earnings and arrive at your basic benefit amount. Learn more by visiting us online at www.socialsecurity.gov.

Question:

I went back to work after retiring, but now the company I work for is downsizing. I'll be receiving unemployment benefits in a few weeks. Will this affect my retirement benefits?

Answer:

When it comes to retirement benefits, Social Security does not count unemployment as earnings, so your retirement benefits will not be affected. However, any income you receive from Social Security may reduce your unemployment benefits. Contact your state unemployment office for information on how your state applies the reduction to your unemployment compensation.

Question:

I plan to retire in spring of 2015. How soon can I file for my Social Security benefits?

Answer:

You can file four months before you plan to receive benefits. Go ahead and apply now if you plan to retire when winter's frost finally lets up. To apply, go to www.socialsecurity.gov/applytoretire. Applying online has never been easier—you can do it from the comfort of your home. All you need is 15 minutes and Internet access.

DISABILITY

Question:

How does Social Security decide whether I am disabled?

Answer:

For an adult, disability under Social Security law is based on your inability to work because of a disabling condition. To be considered disabled, Social Security must determine that because of one or more disabling conditions you are unable to do the work you did before and unable to adjust to any other work which exists in significant numbers in the national economy. Also, your disability must last or be expected to last for at least one year or to result in death. Social Security pays only for total disability. No benefits are payable for partial disability or short-term disability (less than a year). For more information, we recommend you read Disability Benefits, available online at www.socialsecurity.gov/pubs.

Question:

I was wounded while on military service overseas. What are the benefits for wounded warriors, and how can I apply?

Answer:

Through the Wounded Warrior program, Social Security expedites processing of disability claims of current military service members or veterans disabled while on active duty on or after October 1, 2001. Also, service members and veterans who have a Veterans Administration compensation rating of 100% Permanent and Total (P&T) may receive expedited processing of applications for Social Security disability benefits. Keep in mind, this expedited process applies to only the application for benefits. To be eligible for benefits, you must meet Social Security's strict definition of "disability," which means:

You must be unable to do substantial work because of your medical condition(s); and your medical condition(s) must have lasted, or be expected to last, at least one year or to result in death.

You can apply online at www.socialsecurity.gov/applyfordisability or call our toll-free number, 1-800-772-1213 (TTY 1-800-325-0778).

You can find more information for veterans at www.socialsecurity.gov/people/veterans.

Question:

My aunt became mentally disabled as a result of a car accident. Does Social Security have a special program for people who are obviously physically or mentally disabled?

Answer:

Social Security is committed to providing benefits quickly to applicants who are severely disabled. Through our Compassionate Allowances program, we can quickly identify diseases and other medical conditions that qualify, based on minimal objective medical information, and that allow us to make payments much sooner than the usual review process allows. Compassionate Allowances is not a separate program from the Social Security disability insurance or Supplemental Security Income programs. People who don't meet the Compassionate Allowances criteria will still have their medical conditions reviewed by Social Security.

Learn more about our Compassionate Allowances at www.socialsecurity.gov/compassionateallowances

Question:

What is the earliest age that I can receive Social Security disability benefits?

Answer:

There is no minimum age as long as you meet the strict Social Security definition of disability and you have worked long and recently enough under Social Security to earn the required number of work credits. You can earn up to a maximum of four work credits each year. The amount of earnings required for a credit increases each year as general wage levels go up. The number of work credits you need for Social Security disability benefits depends on your age when you become disabled. For example, if you are under age 24, you may qualify with as little as six credits. But people disabled at age 31 or older generally need between 20 and 40 credits, and some of the work must have been recent. For example, you would need to have worked five out of the past 10 years. Note that eligibility requirements are different for Supplemental Security Income, which does not depend on work credits. Learn more at www.socialsecurity.gov/disability.

SUPPLEMENTAL SECURITY INCOME

Question:

I have been receiving my Supplemental Security Income by direct deposit for years, but I need to change my bank account. How can I do that?

Answer:

The most convenient way to change your direct deposit information is by logging in to your personal my Social Security account at www.socialsecurity.gov/myaccount. This is the safest and most secure method for updating and verifying your information. And, it's more convenient than visiting a local Social Security office. With your account, you can also track your earnings, estimate future benefits, and get a letter with proof of your benefits. Think of my Social Security as your hub for all Social Security-related information.

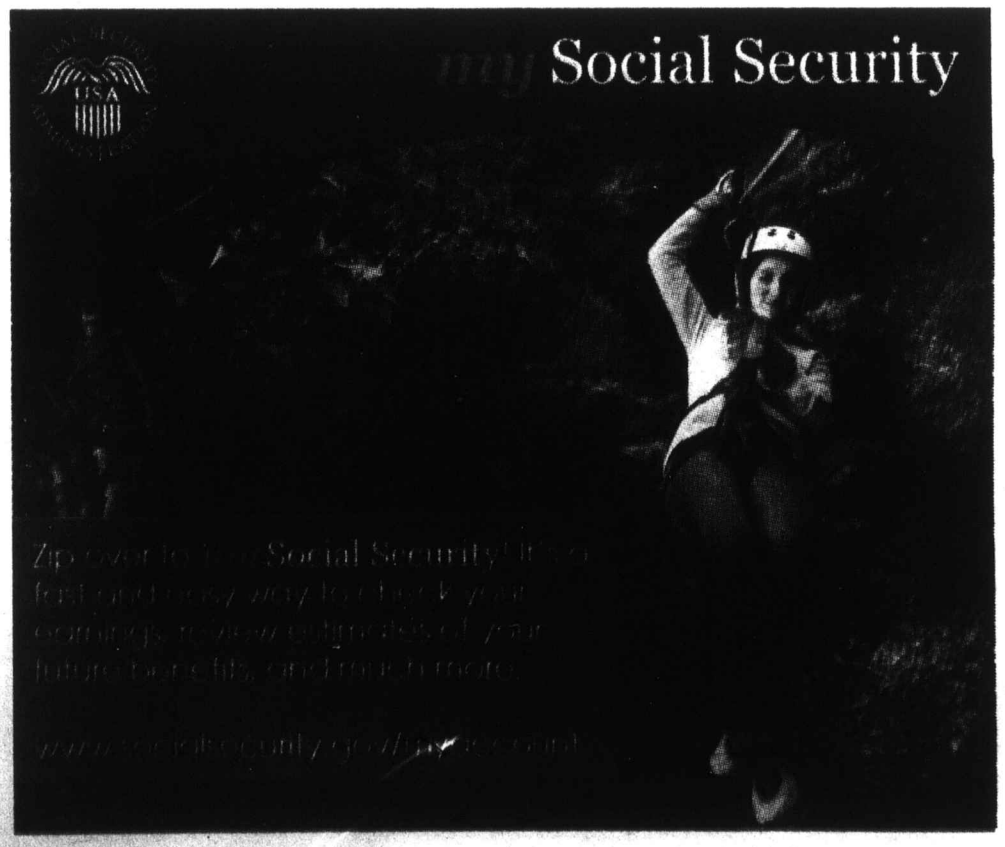
Question:

I receive Supplemental Security Income (SSI), and I just got promoted and received a pay increase at my job. Do I need to tell Social Security about the promotion?

Answer:

Because the Supplemental Security Income program is needs-based, the amount of the payment you receive is partly based on your income. You will need to report your wages monthly to make sure you get timely and accurate payments. The law requires you to report your earnings by phone or mail or take your

Cont'd On Page 31



Resolve to protect your family this new year.

Do you have a plan for your estate, your legacy? Can you say with certainty that your estate will go to the people you want? Are you protected from nursing home costs and estate taxes?

If you have no plan, rest assured the state has one for you. At Bank of Canton, we'll help make provisions for your loved ones in accordance with your wishes!

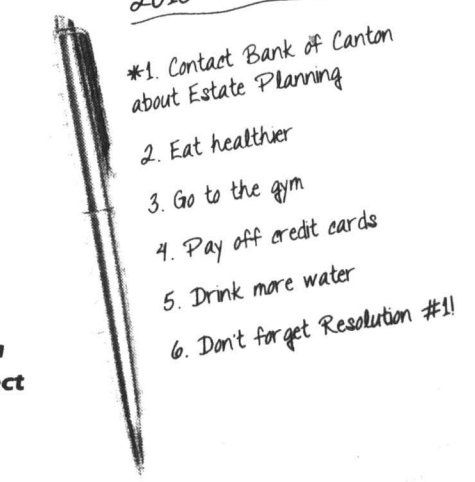
This year, make a resolution to protect your family. We can help- I guarantee it!

Stephen P. Costello, President & CEO

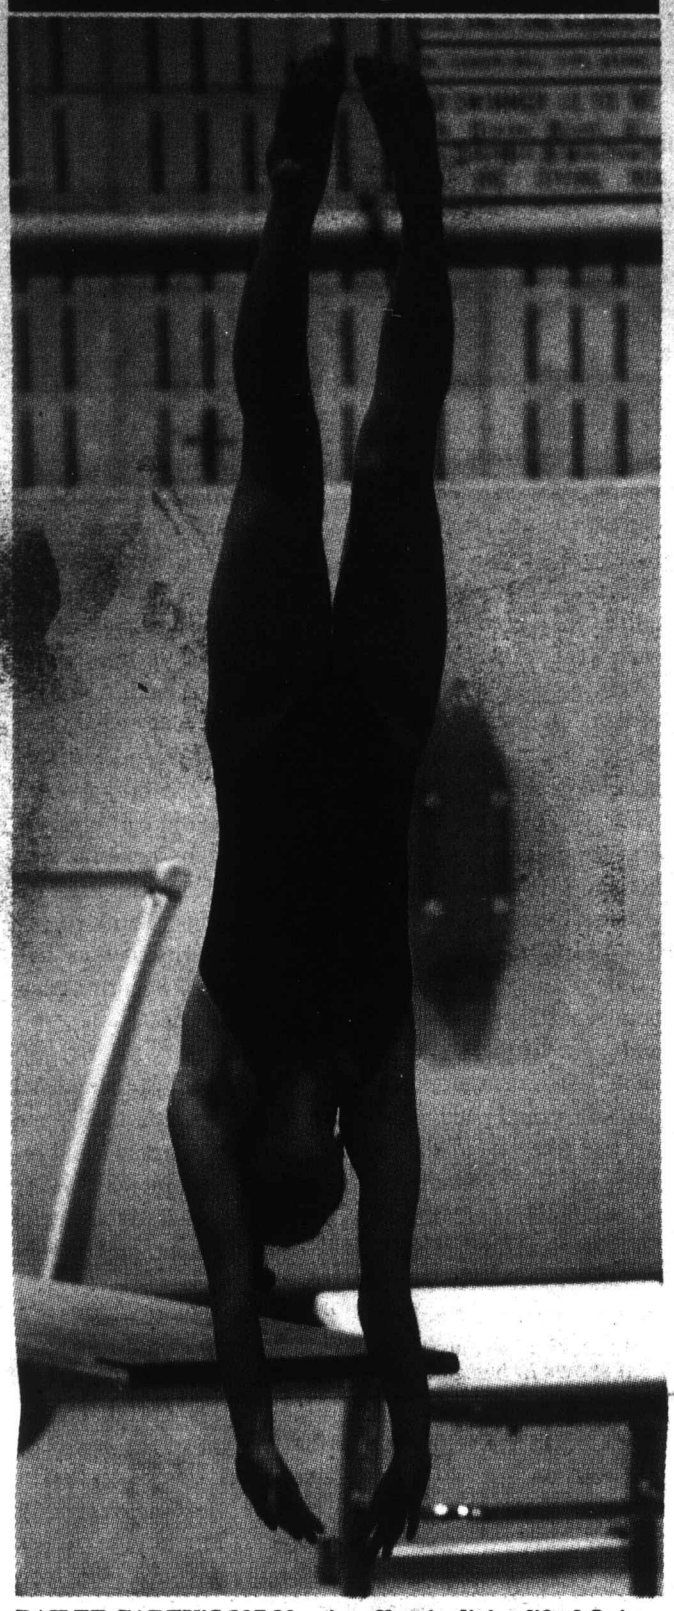


BANK OF CANTON

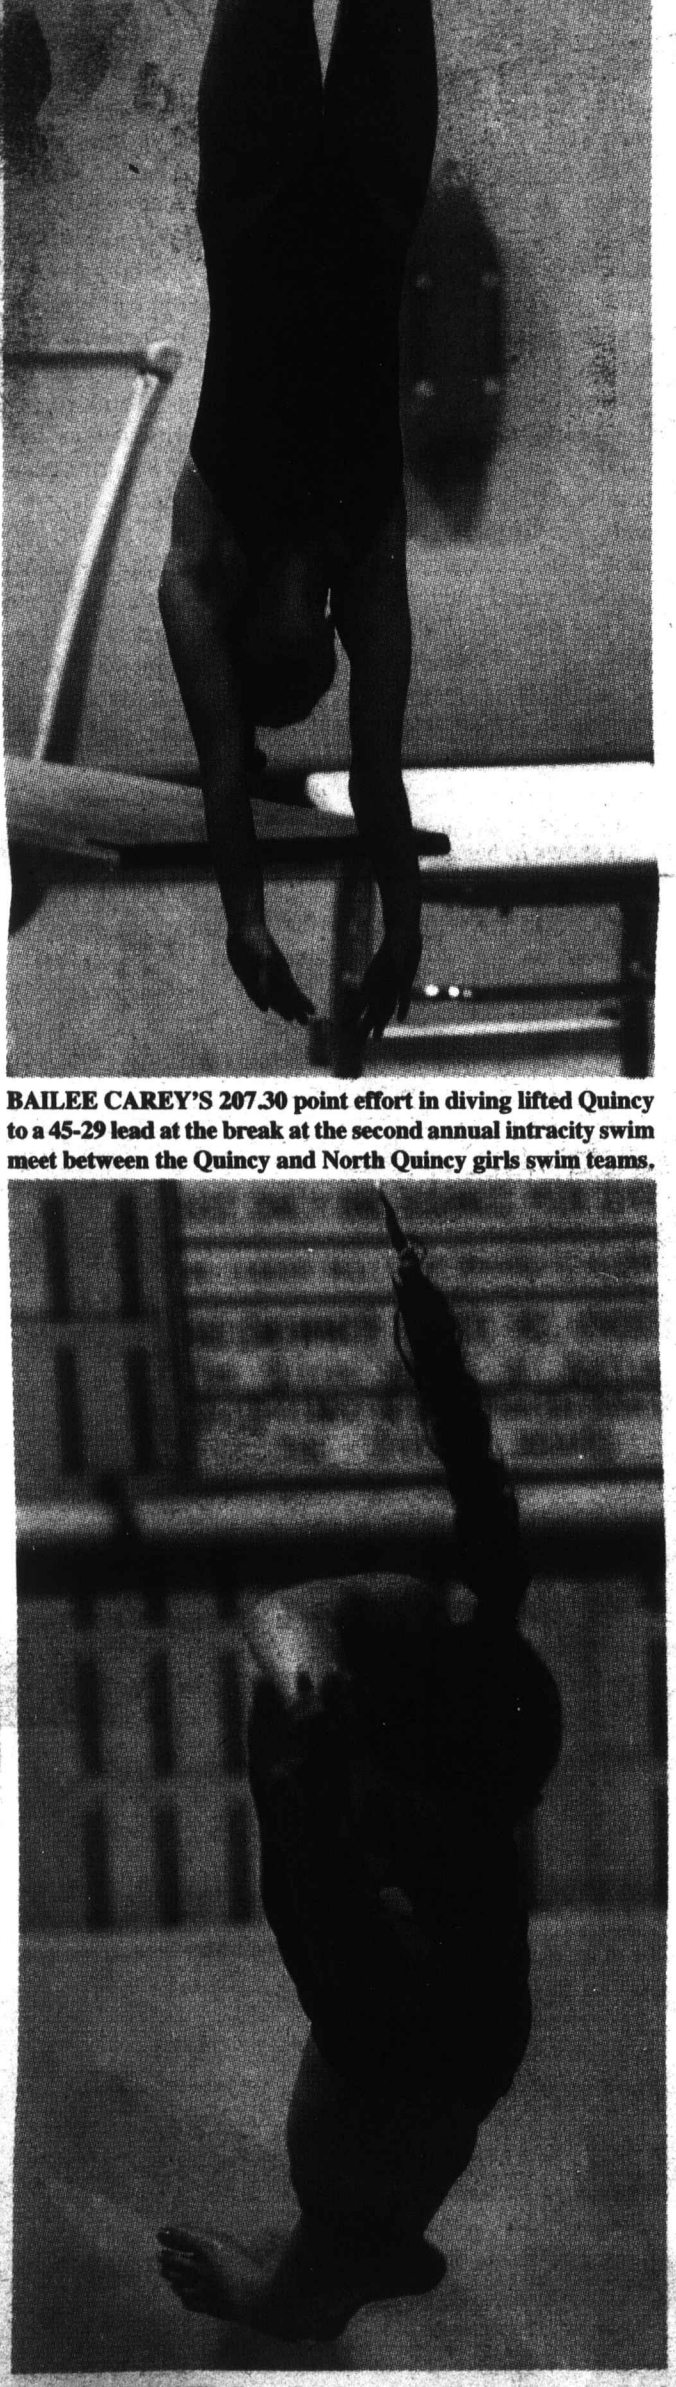
888.828.1690 • 557 Washington Street, Canton • www.bankofcanton.com

Q - N.Q. Girls Swim Meet

- Story Page 20 -



BAILEE CAREY'S 207.30 point effort in diving lifted Quincy to a 45-29 lead at the break at the second annual intracity swim meet between the Quincy and North Quincy girls swim teams.



NORTH QUINCY diver Stephanie MacFarland shows good form for the Red Raiders.

QUINCY'S GRACIE SCUZZARELLA swam to a first place finish (2:39:25) in the 200 yard free style as the Presidents defeated North Quincy 94-85 in the second annual intra-city swim meet Jan. 8 at the Lincoln Hancock Pool. Teammate Tammy Ma (2:47:77) took second place. Quincy Sun Photos/Robert Bosworth

NORTH QUINCY'S EVLYN SCUZZERELLA took second in the 100 yard backstroke (1.1:19:98) and won the 200 individual medley (2;46:06).

NORTH QUINCY'S DANIELLE O'DRISCOLL swam to a second place finish in the 500 meter freestyle (7:19:01) and placed third in the 100 yard fly (1:26:60).

Remy Aucoin Powers North Quincy Past Middleboro

Sophomore Scores 28 Points, Grabs 18 Rebounds In 62-44 Win

By BILL GRIFFIN

One player stood tall with the finest game of her young career, but there was much more that was good for North Quincy. The Red Raiders passed the ball crisply, ruled the backboards at both ends and played shutdown defense when the game was decided in the second half against Middleboro Friday night.

Sophomore center Remy Aucoin earned the first star of the evening by scoring 28 points and pulling down 18 rebounds, and North went on a 13-3 run to close the third period en route to a 62-44 win over the Sachems in a Patriot League Fisher Division clash at the North Quincy gym.

"Overall I thought we played very well. Our defense was excellent especially from our guards," said coach Jess Worden. "Remy has grown more confident, more aggressive as she's gained experience this season. She's athletic and she knows where to go to get the rebound."

Aucoin was dominant. She had 38 points and 32 rebounds in two games last week. Most of her rebounds are position rebounds. She boxes out religiously and has that instinct for where the ball is going that all good rebounders possess. She is also quick and has a soft touch for finishes around the hoop.

"I thought she was impressive, the difference in the game," said Middleboro coach Henry Colon. "It was more than her numbers. She got all the big baskets. Every time we would chip away and get close, she would get a big offensive rebound and a basket."

Aucoin keeps the ball high and puts it back quickly on offensive rebounds. She puts herself in good position to receive the entry pass and has excellent hands. And one more thing. She is just a sophomore. The best is yet to come.

"She's athletic, and that helps her play bigger than she really is," said Worden.

Freshman forward Jen Butka and Aucoin should give North an enviable duo up front for the future. Butka had 12 points, seven rebounds, and four assists. She has a surprisingly complete game for a freshman. She has a good mid-range jump shot. She brings the ball up the floor, finds the open player, and can also hit both boards.

"Jen can play inside and outside. She has a good connection with Remy. They find each other well," said Worden.

"With Butka shadowing Aucoin as they get experience, North Quincy should be good," added Colon.

The backcourt was excellent. Senior Molly Minton handled the ball and Middleboro's pressure almost flawlessly. She was tenacious on defense and forced Middleboro to start its offense 30-40 feet from the basket. She ran the offense and got the ball where it needed to go. She also played in the middle of North's zone offense and drove well to the basket. Minton finished with six points, but played far better than that.

"Molly gave us energy on defense. She was aggressive and she did a good job running the offense," said Worden.

Junior Marissa McGue, as usual, hustled from the opening tap until the final buzzer. On one play, she ran into the first rows of the bleachers chasing a loose ball. She passed the ball beautifully, finishing with five points and seven assists. McGue was the main reason behind North's impressive ball movement which produced 18 assists. She was especially effective finding Aucoin on her sweet spots close to the bucket.

"That's the best Marissa has passed the ball this year. She always gives us all-out effort, but tonight she really moved the ball well," said Worden.

North led, 14-11 after one and 29-24 at halftime. The run which finished the third and put away the game showcased much of which North did well all night. Aucoin had nine points on offensive rebounds and free throws. McGue found her inside twice with bullseye passes. Butka drained a three and hit a free throw. Minton drove for a hoop.

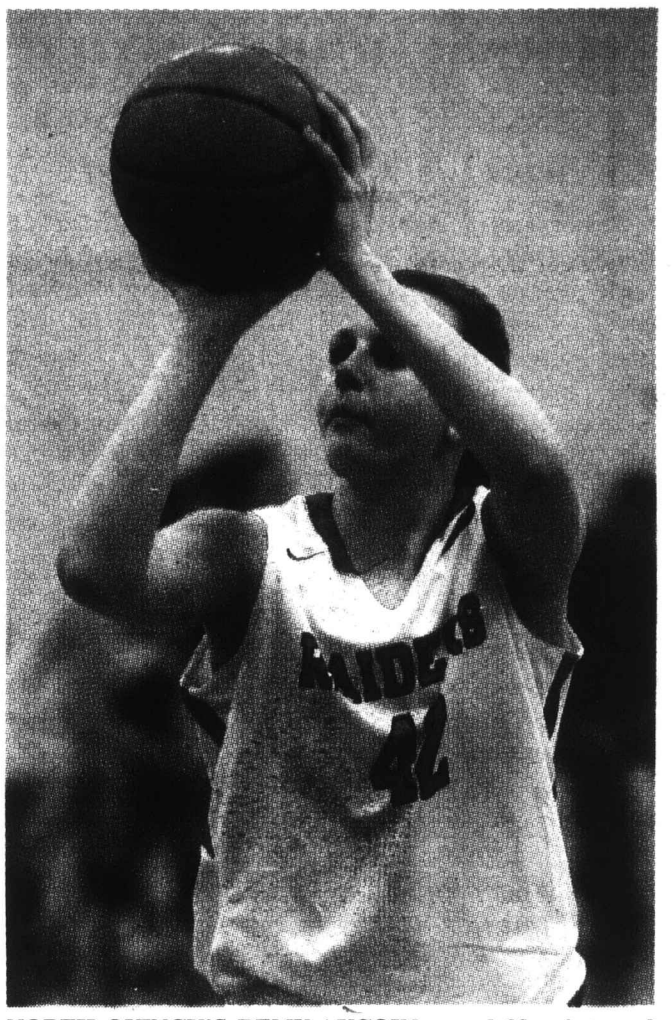
The Red Raiders backed the offense with a 1-2-2 zone which forced Middleboro to settle for shooting the deep three and allowed just three points in the final 6:03 of the period. North went up, 46-32 after three and was not threatened in the fourth.

"At the half, we talked about identifying their shooters and getting out on them. We did a good job of that in the second half," said Worden.

North also showed off its depth. Karyn McEvoy knocked home a pair of threes and scored eight off the bench. Sophomore Kerin Coleman played an excellent floor game, handling and passing the ball with confidence. Her best came on a pretty feed to a cutting Jillian Hallisey for a bucket in the final minutes.

Senior Hannah Donovan was strong at the point of the zone defense. Kiera Clifford had a basket and a good defensive game. Freshman Jessie Caldwell played well close to the basket.

"It was good to see everyone get minutes," said Worden. "When Marissa was hurt, Kerin got a lot of minutes playing guard, and it shows in her game."

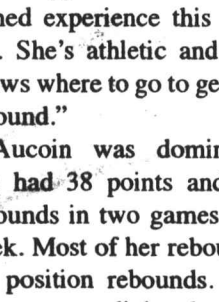


NORTH QUINCY'S REMY AUCOIN scored 28 points and grabbed 18 rebounds in the Red Raiders' 62-44 win over Middleboro. Quincy Sun Photo/Robert Bosworth

In other action last week, North Quincy (2-7) fell to Duxbury, 63-33. Butka had 16 points while Aucoin finished with 10 points and 14 rebounds. The Red Raiders are at Plymouth South Wednesday and host Pembroke Friday at 6:30 p.m.

Beth Israel Deaconess HealthCare

Your Primary Care is My Primary Focus



Sheldon Lockman, MD
Internal Medicine

"As a primary care physician, my goal is to provide high-quality, preventive care to each of my patients."

- Personalized comprehensive care
- Special interests: preventive medicine, geriatrics
- Access to specialists at Beth Israel Deaconess Hospital-Milton and Beth Israel Deaconess Medical Center in Boston.

Welcoming new patients.

For same day or next day appointments, please call 617-696-7601.

88 Wharf Street Milton, MA 02186

Beth Israel Deaconess HealthCare
Milton Landing

Short Stays – A Perfect Vacation this Season!

ASSISTED LIVING RESPITE STAYS AT ALLERTON HOUSE

Find out if assisted living is the answer for you or a loved one. It's perfect for the times family caregivers are away. Experience the Welch family's 65 year tradition of exceptional care, housing and hospitality!

ALLERTON HOUSE GUESTS ENJOY

- Three meals a day with friends
- Help with daily routines – from medications to transportation
- Exciting activities, clubs, entrainment & outings
- 24-hour support in a beautiful, modern fully furnished rental apartment

STAY 1 WEEK & ENJOY YOUR 2ND WEEK FREE*

Limited time only. Based upon availability.*

CALL TODAY TO JOIN US FOR LUNCH & A TOUR!

Allerton House
QUINCY
164 Parkingway • Quincy
339-788-2979

Over 65 Years of Quality Service
Welch
HEALTHCARE AND RETIREMENT GROUP
www.welchhrg.com

Sabrina Rauch Sets New School Record

Clocks 26.78 In 50-Yard Freestyle At Girls Q-NQ Intra-City Meet

Senior captain Sabrina Rauch set a new school record to lead the Quincy (2-2) girls swimming and diving team, 94-85, over intra-city rival North Quincy(1-3), in front of a homecoming crowd Jan. 8 at the Lincoln-Hancock Pool in Quincy.

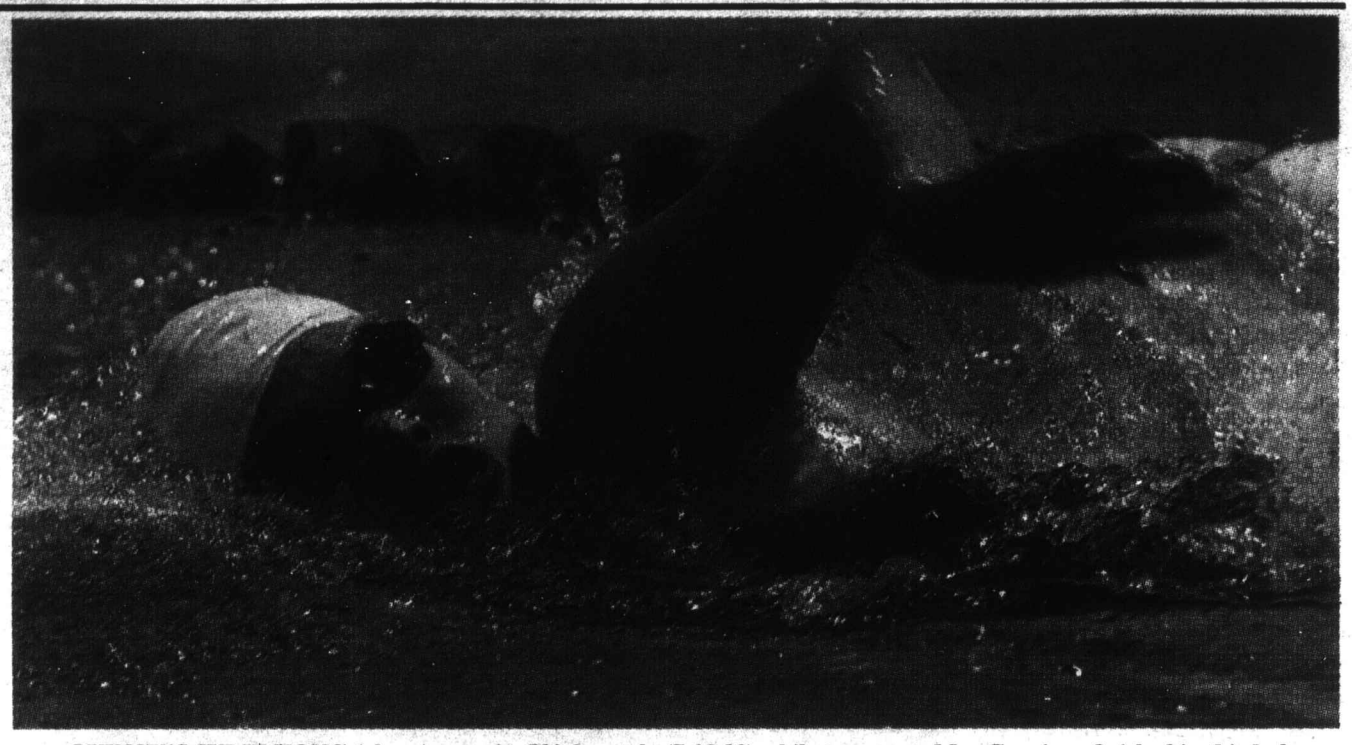
"Today was a dual meet format meaning both teams could enter three swimmers per event in addition to three relays," said North Quincy Head Coach Bob McGillicuddy. "Most of the individual events had six swimmers, and the depth of both programs is directly related to the growth of the Quincy Middle School swimming program."

Senior Sabrina Rauch swam 26.78 in the 50-yard freestyle besting the old Quincy High School standard of 26.93 set in 2011 by Olivia Goldson. She then paced the field in the 100 butterfly swimming 1:07.89.

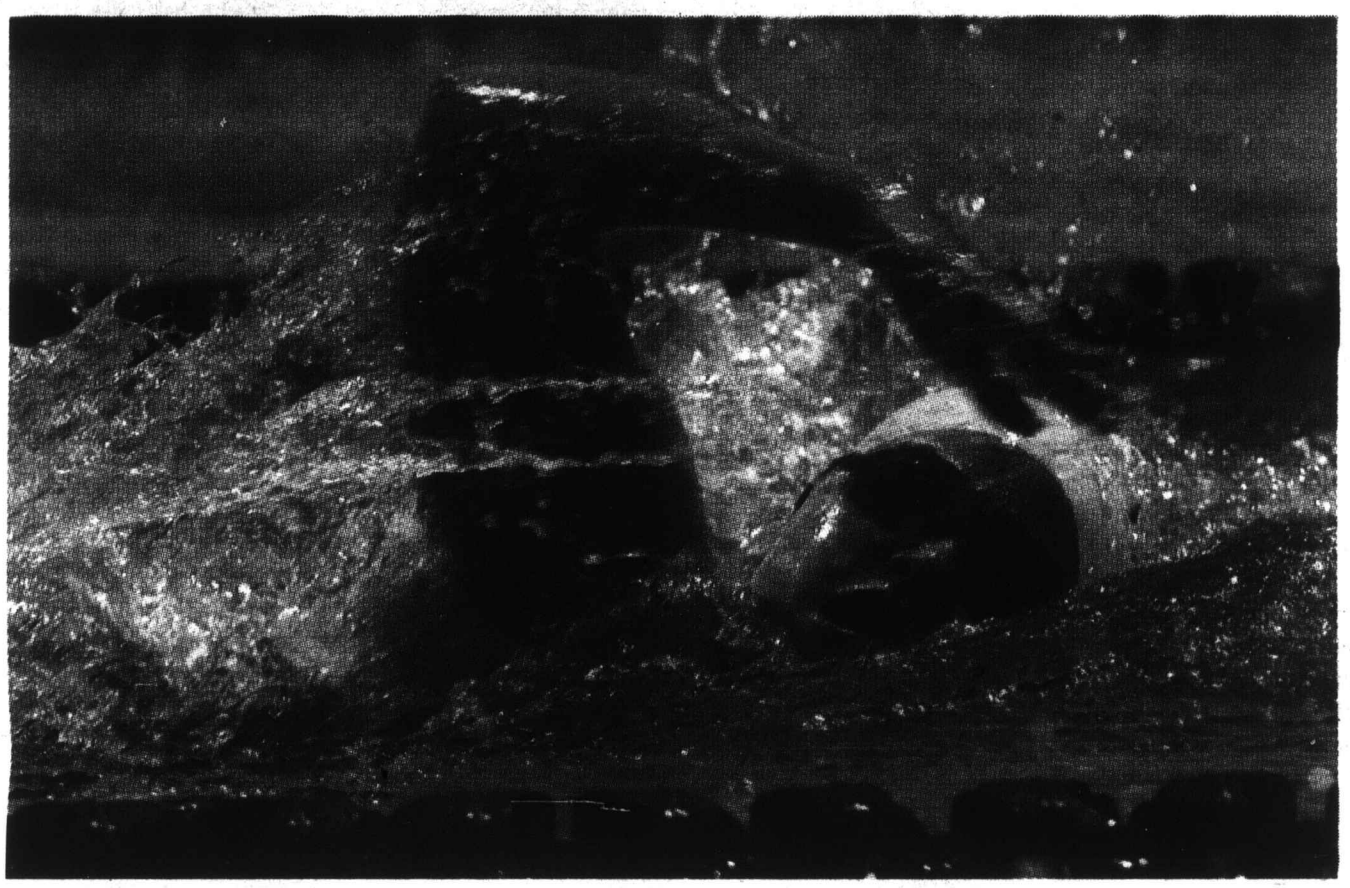
Quincy doubled its lead, 20-10, on the strength of first- and second-place finishes from sophomore Gracie Scuzzarella (2:39.25) and freshman Tammy Ma (2:47.77) in the 200 freestyle. Rauch and sophomore Emilia Kapacia (32.19) went one-two in the 50 free, and sophomore Bailee Carey's 207.30 point effort lifted the hosts to a 45-29 lead at the break. Extending Quincy's lead was freshman Julie Hong with her first place in the 500 freestyle (7:08.90) and a third place from senior captain Meg Caggiano who also placed third in the 100 backstroke (1:34.31) behind Gracie Scuzzarella's gold medal performance (1:14.03). Ma added a second place in the 100 breaststroke clocking 1:31.25.

For North Quincy, senior Evlyn Scuzzarella took second in the 100 backstroke (1:19.98) and won the 200 individual medley (2:46.06) where teammate junior Grace Anderson landed third (2:56.09). Freshman Sarah O'Donovan touched the wall first in the 100 breaststroke swimming 1:28.30. Her classmate, Brenna Kirby, won the 100 freestyle (1:12.65). Sophomore Danielle O'Driscoll placed third in the 100 fly (1:26.60) and second in the grueling 500 freestyle (7:19.01).

"This meet is bittersweet for me," said Coach Bob McGillicuddy. "Both schools practice together, travel together and have a lot fun together, but today the schools competed against each other. One school won and the other lost. Last year North Quincy was on top and this year Quincy."



QUINCY'S JULIE HONG (above) won the 500 freestyle (7:08.90) while teammate Meg Caggiano finished in third place.



QUINCY'S EMILIA KAPACIA finished second in the 50 yard free style that was won by teammate Sabrina Rauch who set a new school record (26.78).

Quincy Sun Photos/Robert Bosworth

SUPPORT THE STUDENTS!!!
1st Annual
North Quincy
Girls Basketball Boosters
Join, Like & Share Us: facebook.com/CustomFundraisingSolutionsBoston
MATTRESS FUNDRAISER SALE!
➢ All Sizes!! Pillow-top, Orthopedic, Latex, Memory Foam, Gel Beds, Adjustable Beds, Luxury Hotel Beds!
➢ All BRAND NEW with Full Factory Warranties!
➢ Quality NAME BRAND Mattresses!
➢ Made Locally Right Here In New England!
➢ Free Layaway! Delivery Available!
➢ Cash, Checks and All Credit Cards Accepted!
Profits Go Directly to the Team!
IF YOU COULD REPLACE A MATTRESS SET,
NOW IS THE TIME TO BUY!!!
SAVE 30%-60% OFF RETAIL!!!
WHEN: Saturday, January 17th, 2015
WHERE: North Quincy High School
TIME: 10am - 5pm
SAVE AN ADDITIONAL $50.00 OFF
ANY MATTRESS SET WITH THIS COUPON &
HELP THE KIDS!!!
Personally Invited By: _____
Twin Sets starting at $199, Fulls $279, Queens $299, Kings $499

Quincy/North Quincy Swimming, Diving Sweeps Pembroke

All three Quincy and North Quincy swimming and diving teams prevailed over visiting Pembroke at Lincoln-Hancock Pool Jan. 6. The Quincy (1-2) and the North Quincy (1-2) girls squads each earned its first victory of the season winning 54-41 and 49-39 decisions respectively. The QNQ boys team (2-1) captured the 80-65 victory for its second consecutive win.

"Both girls teams rebounded nicely after a couple of close decisions," said Head Coach Bob McGillicuddy.

Senior Sabrina Rauch led Quincy by notching a pair of wins. She won the 50 yard freestyle (27.25), qualifying for sectionals, and the 100 butterfly (1:08.57). Second to Rauch in that last event was sophomore Gracie Scuzzarella who swam 1:16.44 and then added a first place of her own in the 100 backstroke (1:12.72). The pair teamed up with senior Marina Chafa and sophomore Bailee Carey for the event-winning time of 2:12.19 in the 200 medley relay. Individually, Chafa won the 200 IM with a season low time of 2:49.75, and Carey finished first in the one-meter dive. In fact, Quincy won all three relay events. Senior Meg Caggiano, who swam a leg in the 200 free relay, won the grueling 500 freestyle with her personal best time of 7:31.40.

For North Quincy, senior Evlyn Scuzzarella took top honors in both the 200 freestyle (2:24.18) and 100 backstroke (1:16.97), and junior Grace Anderson won the 100 butterfly (1:18.97) and 200 individual medley (2:55.57). Freshmen Brenna Kirby and Ina Hoti joined Scuzzarella and Anderson for first in the 200 medley relay (2:23.09). In the 500 freestyle, sophomore Danielle O'Driscoll finished first clocking 7:20.28. She joined forces with juniors Kara Carchedi and Molly Kate Cannon and Hoti to win the 200 freestyle relay (2:12.63).

Swimming a personal best time of 1:01.25 was QNQ sophomore Thomas Tran (Q) who also prevailed in the 200 IM (2:16.94). His classmate, Tommy Zhang (NQ), qualified for the South Sectionals winning the 50 free (23.87), narrowly missing North Quincy's High School's record, and he also touched the wall first in the 100 backstroke (1:04.59). Junior Brian Rooney (Q) won the 200 freestyle and his time of 7:28.28 placed second to teammate Randall Kwong (NQ) in the 500 freestyle (7:08.25) who also earned first in the 100 freestyle (54.53).

QUINCY SUN PHOTOS
Reprints of Quincy Sun Photos
– Appearing in Print or on our Website –
can be purchased from our photographers:
Lisa Aimola - 617-981-1715
Larry Carchedi - 617-653-4775
Robert Bosworth - 617-471-3100

Atop Keenan Division With 6-0 Record

Quincy Boys Sweep Three

By BILL GRIFFIN

It was the best of weeks for Quincy basketball.

The Presidents swept to three impressive wins. Monday night against Middleboro, they passed the ball like magicians, put 12 players in the scoring column, and showed a glimpse of depth which could serve them well when league titles and tournament games are decided en route to a wire-to-wire 74-50 victory in a Patriot League contest.

Last week, James Lam had 24 points and 15 rebounds, and Drew Myers added 13 in a 68-59 win over Plymouth South. Myers, J.T. Bain, and Colin Evans each had 19 as Quincy dropped Silver Lake, 84-66.

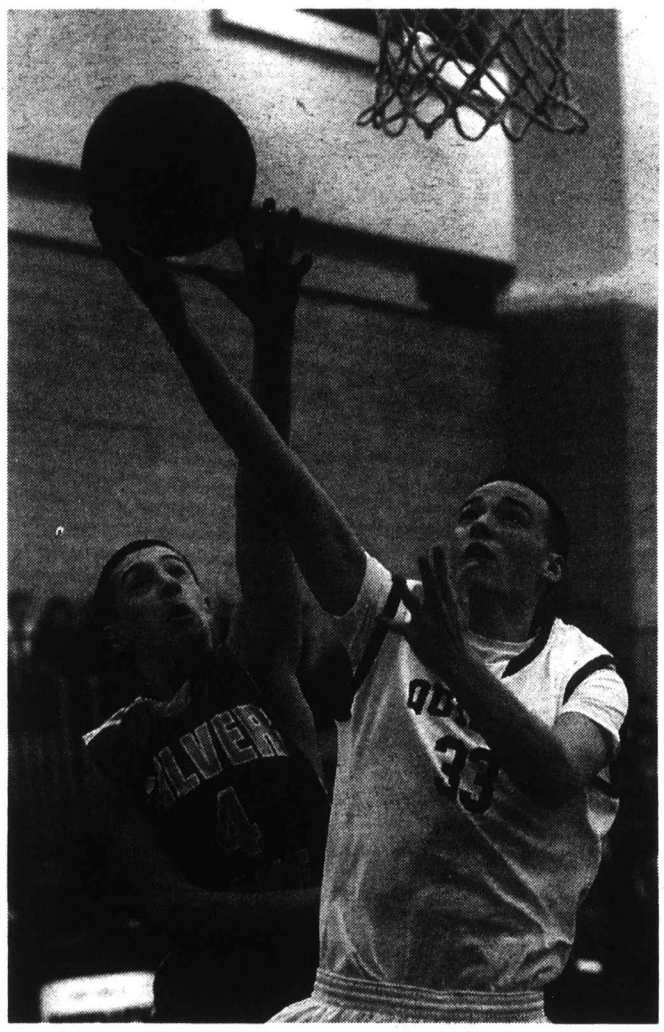
Against Middleboro, Quincy led, 22-10 after one, 42-25 at the half and 61-42 after three. The win was Quincy's fifth straight and left the Presidents atop the Keenan Division with a 6-0 league record. They are 8-1 overall, and the only blemish on the record is a one-point loss to Everett.

"I liked the play we got from our bench tonight," said coach Dave Parry after the Middleboro game. "It was good to see all the kids play. We're looking to expand our rotation, and I saw a few players tonight who could help us as the season goes along."

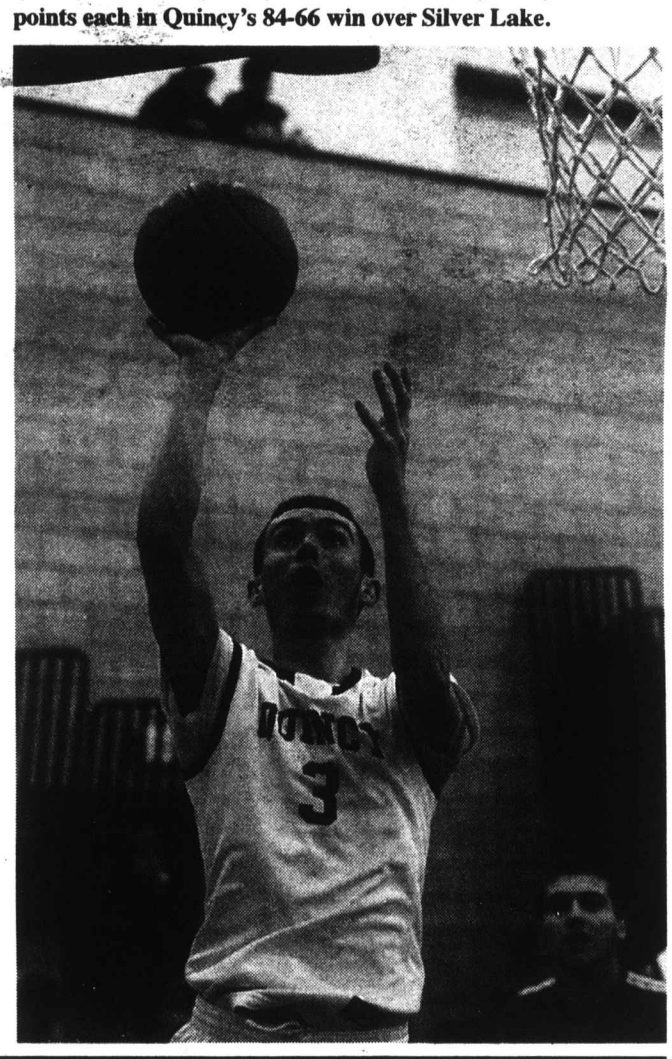
There was another fine story. Senior Mike Rowland, who battled back from cerebral palsy to work his way onto the team, scored his first varsity points when he drained a three-pointer late in the fourth quarter against Silver Lake Friday night.

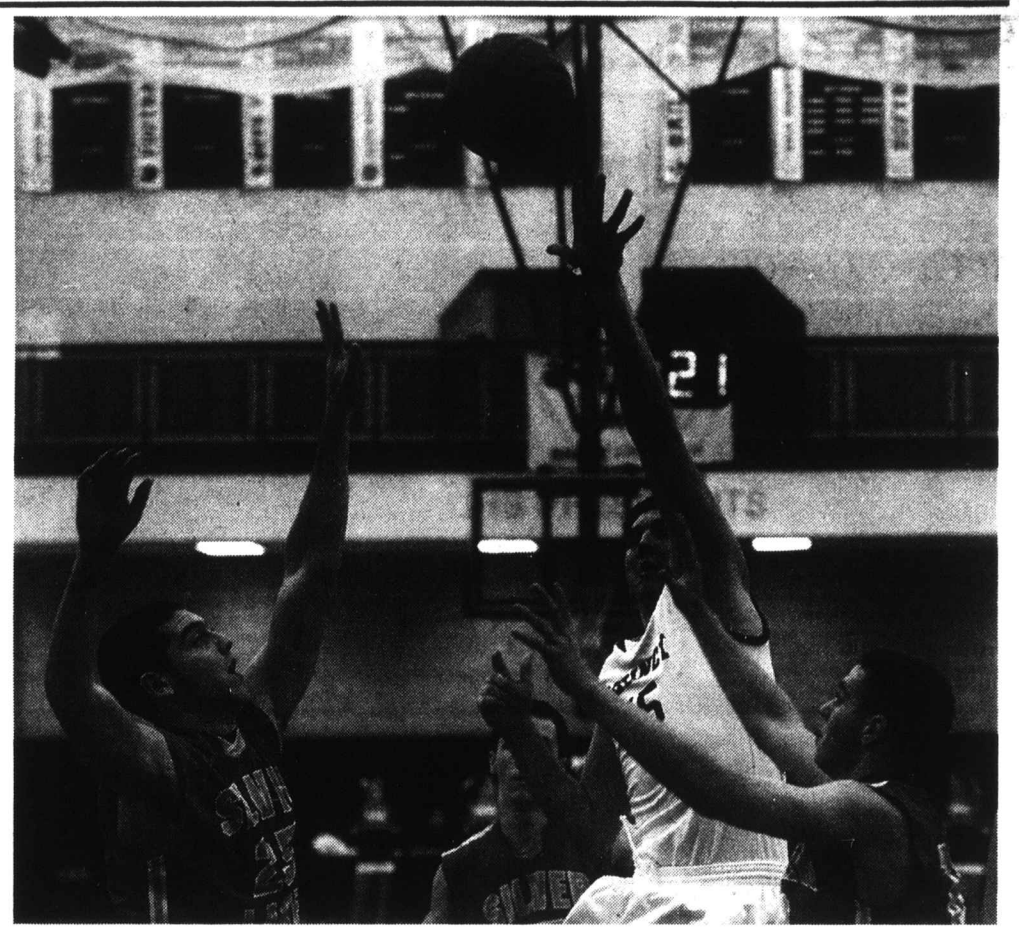
"It was awesome," said Rowland who took a nice feed from Ugo Kamalu and hit nothing but the strings from along the left wing. "The support I got from everyone was unbelievable. It was the accumulation of all the work I've done to

Cont'd On Page 31

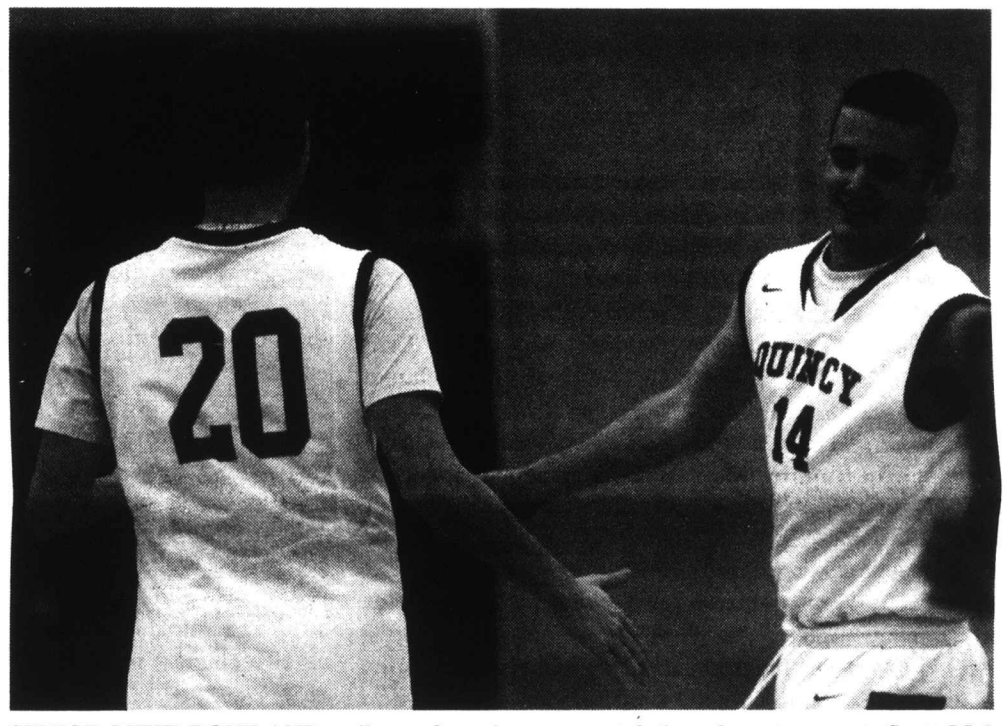


DREW MYERS (above) and Colin Evans (below) scored 19 points each in Quincy's 84-66 win over Silver Lake.





QUINCY'S J.T. BAIN also tossed in 19 points in the Presidents' 84-66 win over Silver Lake last Friday night. Quincy also defeated Plymouth South and Middleboro to improve to 6-0 and first place atop the Keenan Division of the Patriot League.



SENIOR MIKE ROWLAND smiles and receives congratulations from teammate Scott Mele after scoring the first points of his varsity career on a three-pointer against Silver Lake. Fans cheered loudly after the shot dropped for Rowland who has overcome cerebral palsy to not only walk again but also earn a spot on the Presidents' varsity squad.

Quincy Sun Photos/Robert Bosworth

Quincy YOUTH HOCKEY

Attention all active Quincy Youth Hockey Members:

Our Annual Members Meeting will be held on January 26, 2015 At 6:30PM At Quincy Youth Arena

Quincy YOUTH HOCKEY

WINTER PROGRAMS

Learn to Skate Beginners Program
(4 years old and above)
Now until the end of March
Saturdays @ 12:50pm

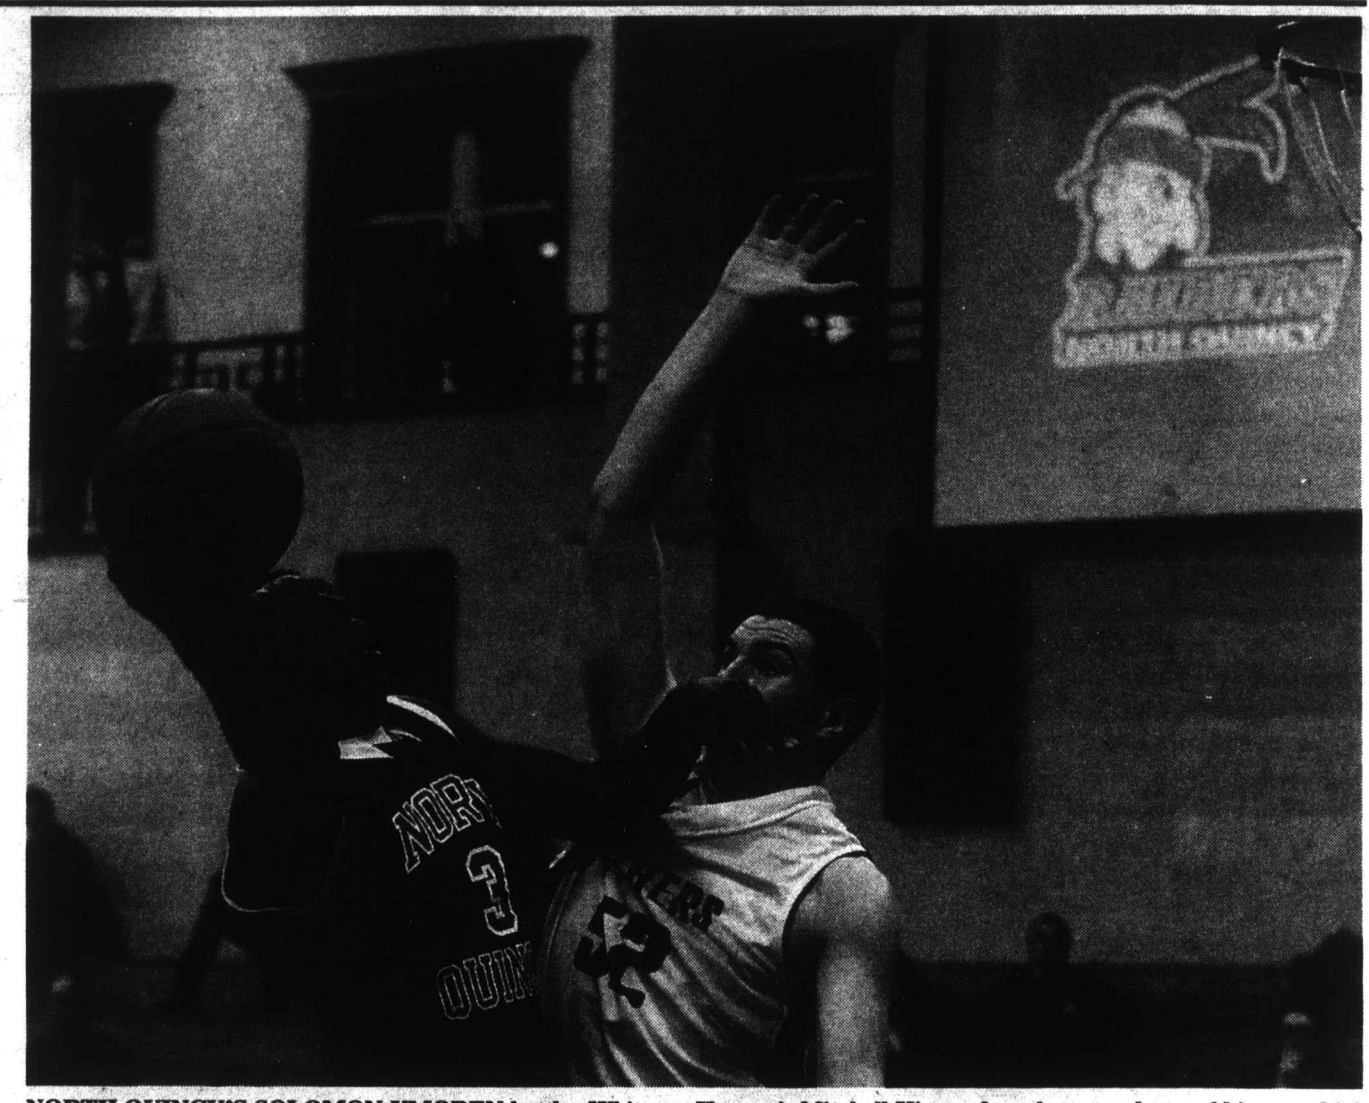
Mitey Mites Program
(4 years old and above who can get around ice on their own)
Now until the end of March
Fridays @ 5pm and Saturdays @ 11:40am

Please remember that hockey is a sport that is hard to duplicate in your backyard unless you have a rink. The kids need to get on the ice so don't be discouraged if your child has a conflict on a certain day or the program has already started. Contact our office since we would love the opportunity to talk to you about the possibility of Introducing them to the wonderful sport of hockey. Come down and try it out.

Any questions please give QYHA a call at (617) 479-8371 x102 or e-mail QYHA@aol.com
Also you can visit us on our Website at www.quincyyouthhockey.net

North Quincy Seeks Consistency

Bow To Duxbury, W-H Defeat Middleboro



NORTH QUINCY'S SOLOMON UMOREN battles Whitman-Hanson's Mitchell Kinney for a layup and two of his team-high 18 points in the Red Raiders' 65-54 loss to the Panthers on the road Monday night. Quincy Sun Photos/Robert Bosworth

By BILL GRIFFIN

The margin of error is much smaller for North Quincy this year.

There is no Anthony Green to swat away defensive mistakes. There is no Efthim Butka to knock in a 20-foot jump shot when nothing else works. There is no Kyle Richardson to cool off a hot shooter.

North needs good basketball from everyone this year. It starts with the fundamentals. Rebounding, defense and turnovers hurt the Red Raiders against Duxbury and cost them a game last week.

The Dragons rallied in the fourth period behind the other-worldly shooting of sophomore guard Ryan Regan to drop North, 68-61 in a Patriot League battle at the North Quincy gym.

"I was disappointed with our performance," said coach Kevin Barrett. "I didn't think we brought the energy we needed. That's something we have to bring every night and we didn't have it against Duxbury.

North rebounded Friday night with a 69-47 win on the road against Middleboro but bowed to Whitman-Hanson Monday night on the road, 65-54. North finished the week at 6-3 and 4-2 in the league.

Matt Gerakis led the win over Middleboro with 18 points. Solomon Umoren added 14 and Jackie Chen had 12.

Against the W-H Panthers, Umoren led the Red Raiders with 18 points. Gerakis had 14 and Jackie Chen chipped in 10 points.

"We got back to doing what we do best against Middleboro, defend with energy. We were able to get offense from our defense which is the way we like to play," said Barrett.

North was in control from the opening tap against the Sachems. The Red Raiders led 27-9 after one and 45-20 at the half.

Center Conor Pound had four points and 10 rebounds for North while Mike Soricelli supplied energy and seven points. Will Ortiz chipped in with five and Cornelius Koch added a bucket and good defense off the bench.

"I was happy that we were able to use a lot of kids," said Barrett. "We talked to them before the game about responding to bumps in the road. They did a good job," added Barrett.

There are three good reasons not to over-react to the Duxbury loss. First, Duxbury is good,. The Dragons went to 4-2 with the North win. Their two losses were to league powers Quincy and Scituate. They have size, they hit the boards and they shoot.

Secondly, Regan scored all 24 of his points in the second half while playing with four fouls for most of the final two periods. He drained two threes, but most came on deadly mid-range jumpers. They were of the catch-and-shoot variety, and his release was so quick, it was difficult to close on him.

Guard Will Williams (22 points) was similarly unconscious in the first half.

"They both shot the ball well, but we have to improve our perimeter defense. We just didn't get people out on the shooter. That's energy and effort," said Barrett.

Third, North received good efforts from several players. Gerakis (19 points, five assists), Chen (14 points), Umoren (11 points, eight rebounds), Dhaaky Drake (10 points, five assists) and Pound (six points, eight rebounds) all contributed.

"The offense was all right, but we need to play better on the defense end," said Barrett.

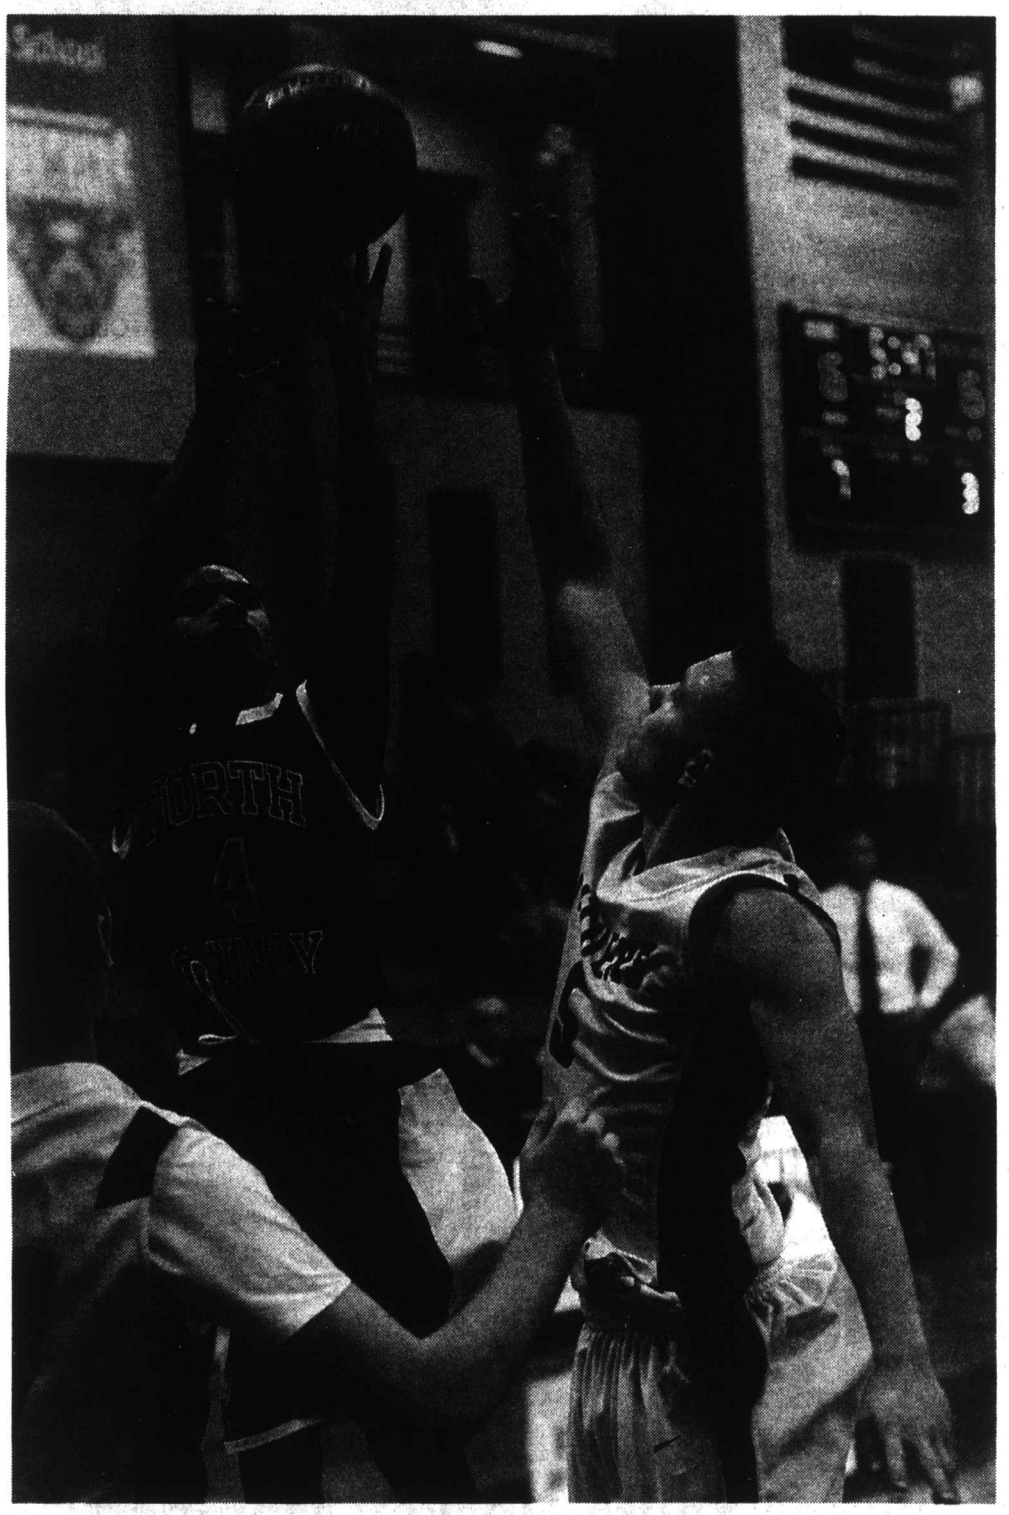
North led narrowly for most of the game. The Red Raiders were up, 48-46 after three. They were up, 54-49 with 5:30 left. They were down just, 58-56 with 2:31 left. Williams and Grant Garrity then hit the offensive boards for six points. Reagan knocked home six free throws and Duxbury closed with a 12-3 win to end it.

"We just couldn't keep them off the offensive boards in the final minutes," said Barrett.

North's best stretch came with a 14-0 burst late in the first. Umoren and Pound controlled the boards. The man-to-man forced bad shots. North got out and ran. Chen hit a drive and jumper. Drake slashed for a layup and set up Pound for another easy bucket. Pound cashed an offensive rebound. Gerakis forced his way to the line with a strong drive.

It yielded a 16-10 lead which, in truth, would have been larger if North had taken better care of the ball in the first half.

"Turnovers and rebounds. They hurt us and we have to get better in both areas," said Barrett.



DHAKKY DRAKE (#4) pulls up for a jumper against Whitman-Hanson Monday night. Drake scored nine points for North Quincy but the Red Raiders bowed to the Panthers, 65-54. North Quincy hosted Plymouth South Wednesday at 6:30 p.m. and travels to Pembroke Friday night.

Depth is an issue. North loves to play man-to-man, but early foul trouble may force the Red Raiders into more zones. The zones require as much effort as the man defense. They are capable of it. They played a good zone against Quincy. They need it do it every night.

"I thought our 1-3-1 did a good job for awhile, but we need to rebound better out of it," said Barrett.

Rebounding, defense, turnovers. They are three areas which can be improved with greater energy. North needs it consistently. This year, the margin for error is not what it used to be.

North hosted Plymouth South Wednesday and travels to Pembroke Friday.

VOICE FOR HEALTH

by Dr. Gabrielle Freedman
Chiropractor

REST ASSURED?

When back pain strikes, those afflicted may be tempted to rest. After all, until relatively recently, bed rest had been recommended to back-pain sufferers by doctors nationwide. However, a review of these guidelines found that advising back-pain sufferers to remain active results in the patients experiencing less pain and faster recoveries. Consequently, the new recommendation calls for physicians to urge their patients to return to normal activities as soon as possible and warns against staying in bed for more than four days. This new recommendation is entirely consistent with the one maintained by chiropractors all along. In all but the most serious cases, movement of the spinal joints helps clear spasms and reduce back pain.

Pain, numbness, muscle spasms, and restricted range of motion could be indications of underlying issues that need treatment. At Family Practice of Chiropractic, we feel the key factors to health are balanced nutrition, exercise, peace of mind, reduced stress, adequate rest, and a sound nervous system. Located at 112 McGrath Hwy., Quincy, we have the complete facilities and equipment to determine if your condition may be helped through chiropractic. Call us at 617.472.4220 today to schedule an appointment.

P.S. If muscles and joints are allowed to remain clutched, the tendency will be for them to remain that way and to further their static state.

www.freedmanchiro.com

Presidents Bow To Plymouth N.

By TREVOR WENNERS

Ice Hockey

Senior goalie Ryan Higgins made 25 saves and goalie Chris Connolly added 13 saves while senior captain and forward Pat Freeman found the back of the net for the Quincy High School boys hockey team in a 6-1 loss against Plymouth North on Saturday at Quincy Youth Arena.

"(Chris Connolly) is a good goalie, (he) works really hard in practice," said Presidents head coach Ted Walsh Jr. "It was more I took Ryan Higgins out more because he wasn't getting much support in front of him and I didn't see any sense of having more goals piled up on him. I didn't think it was fair.

"I thought he played a pretty good game and it was an opportunity to get Chris in, who works hard, so that's why we made the switch. It was nothing more. I didn't pull Ryan because he was playing poorly. In fact I thought he played pretty well, I just took the opportunity to get Chris Connolly in (and) he did a nice job, like I said he works really hard."

The Blue Eagles would strike twice in the first period with the first one being a power play goal by senior forward Brian Fanning assisted by senior defenseman Tyler Russell and senior forward Joe Durand with 6:59 remaining in the opening period. Senior forward Cullin Cosgrove also found the back of the net in the first period with 4.4 seconds remaining assisted by senior defenseman Ryan Boudreau and sophomore defenseman Max Barrows to give the Blue Eagles a 2-0 advantage after the opening period.

The Blue Eagles scored their third goal of the game 1:56 into the second period which came from junior forward Dylan Figueroa assisted by Fanning which gave Plymouth North a 3-0 lead against the Presidents (3-7).

Walsh talked about the last few games for his team prior to the game on Saturday night.

"We had played well the last three games. We outshot all three opponents and only got one win out of them," he said.

Plymouth North extended their lead to 4-0 on a power play goal from Fanning with 13:07 left in the game assisted by Russell and senior defenseman Andy Serino.

"I thought it was a good game. I thought our kids skated really hard and played our system really well so I thought we were on them quite a bit," said Plymouth North head coach Tim Drew. "But once again (Quincy) came out in the third period and I thought they played really well in the third period, they had a lot of scoring opportunities in the third and if it wasn't 6-1 at the time I would be a lot more nervous than I was because they really do come (at you), that is the sign of a good coach and a good team that doesn't quit not matter what the score is."

The Blue Eagles extended their lead to 5-0 on a power play goal from senior forward Sean Kolb with 11:59 left in the game assisted by junior forward Ryan Furtado and Cosgrove.

"You got to give (Plymouth North) credit because their effort was outstanding," said Walsh. "I thought they were well coached and I thought their kids were relentless the entire game."

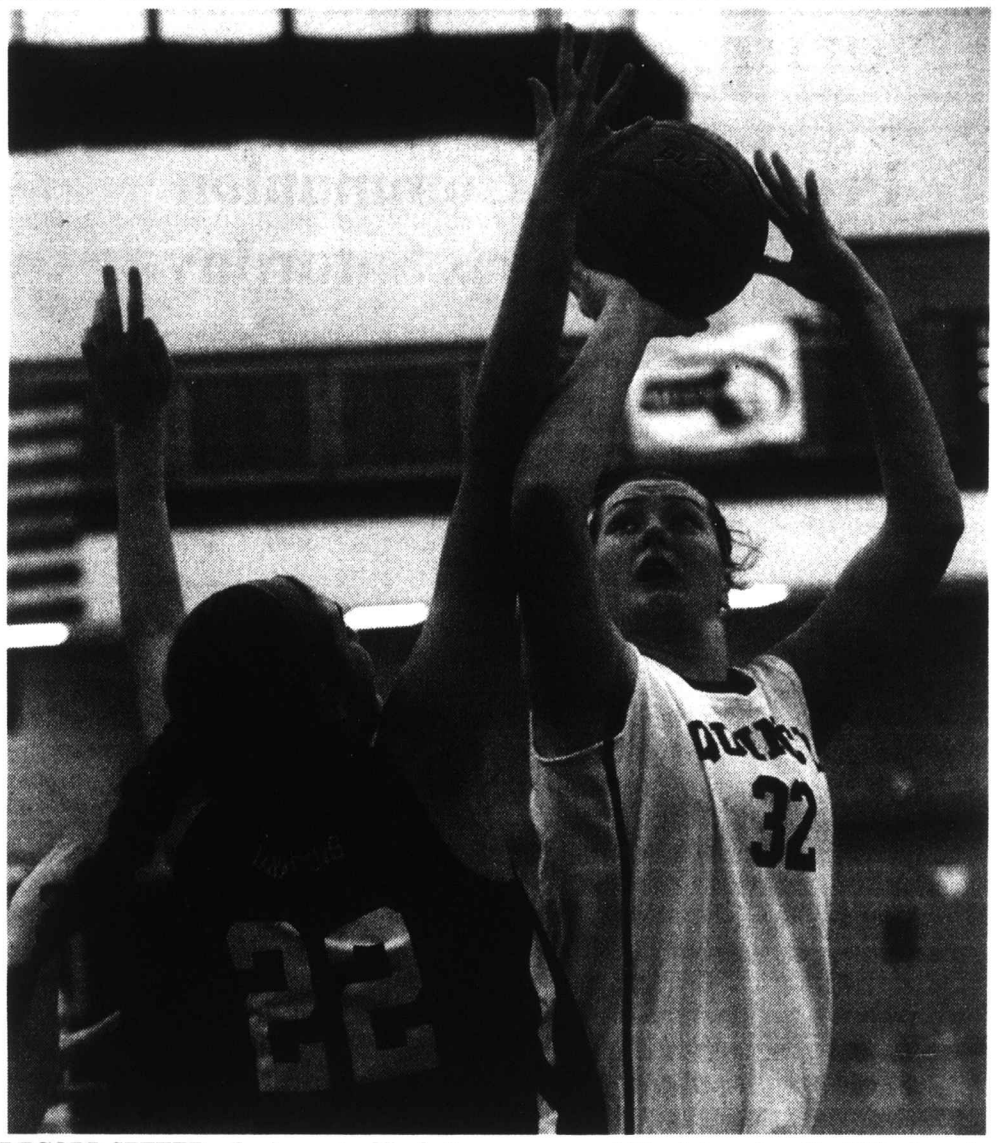
The Presidents scored with 9:08 remaining in the game when Freeman found the back of the net assisted by senior defenseman Ryan Harty and senior captain and forward Brian O'Callaghan to make the score 5-1 in favor of Plymouth North.

"I told them there is nobody that can beat you when you put three periods together when we all show good effort," said Walsh. "You can't control the refereeing, you can't control outside influences but the one thing you can control is your effort and when we do take control of our effort and show good effort, stay disciplined, work hard, good things usually happen."

The Blue Eagles scored the final goal of the game with 2:55 remaining when sophomore forward Phil Cronin found the back of the net assisted by junior forward Kyle Caraher.

What are the goals for the Presidents this year?

"Just like anybody else we all dream the same dreams, we want to get to the tournament, win the state championship," said Walsh. "But there (are) a lot of things that have to happen in between that and the first thing is hard work and effort and right now we're very inconsistent with that. We need to put three good periods (together) every game to win and when we do we win and when we don't we lose."



RECORD SETTER – Junior center Nicole Jorgensen scored 19 points and grabbed 28 rebounds - a QHS record - as the Presidents defeated Plymouth South 60-51 Jan. 6 Quincy improved to 6-2 on the season with a 43-33 win over Silver Lake Jan. 9. Quincy also defeated Middleboro 59-36 Monday night with Jorgensen scoring 22 points with 15 rebounds. Gabriela Jerahian had 13 points and Sarah Gibbons 7 points in the win. The Presidents hosted Whitman-Hanson Wednesday at 6:30 p.m. and visit Hingham Friday night at 6:30 p.m.

Quincy Sun File Photo Robert Bosworth

Q/NQ Shows Strong Performance Against King Philip

By TREVOR WENNERS

Despite losing 3-0 to King Philip on Saturday night at Quincy Youth Arena, the Quincy/North Quincy girls hockey team received a strong performance in net from sophomore Karissa Beal who made several solid saves throughout the game and the offense generated numerous opportunities by getting the puck to the net which was led by junior Savannah Flynn who showed her versatility by being active in the neutral zone and generating some offense and chances around the net.

"(King Philip was) pretty good in the offensive zone of cycling the puck and getting open and getting the quick shots off which resulted in those first two goals," said Quincy/North Quincy coach Steve Burgio. "And then after that, we struggled a little through the first period but then as a team collectively we picked it up in the second and third, I think more or less outplayed them, it's just their goalie was able to come up with some big, timely stops and keep them ahead in the game and unfortunately it ended up being they were able to shut us out but not without effort from the players."

Kate Holmes would put King Philip on the scoreboard 2:42 into the game assisted by Elizabeth Furfari.

The Warriors extended their lead to 2-0 with 8:40 left in the opening period on a goal from Casey Curtin assisted by Furfari and Holmes.

Quincy/North Quincy had some opportunities at the end of the second period to cut the deficit to 2-1 but the game went into the second intermission with the Warriors holding a 2-0 advantage. Burgio talked about what his team is working on when it comes to the offensive zone and that side of the game.

"We were just talking about doing a better job when we have control of the puck in the offensive zone and being able to cycle it and get open and create more opportunities, more shots and they're getting there for the rebounds and trying to direct pucks in front, creating a little traffic in front to obscure the goalie's view," he said. "I think (that is) something we have worked on over the past week, two weeks and we've gotten a lot better at it unfortunately we had a game Sunday, (January 4th) where it resulted in a lot of goals for us and tonight the goalie was able to make the stops and she made the stops to keep her team in it."

Curtin added the final goal in the third period assisted by Molly Alford which came with 11:08 remaining in the game.

"Slow start," said Burgio. "I knew (King Philip) was a good team. They're now 7-1 I believe. We had a slow start. I knew they had one strong line and I think as a team we weren't expecting some of the movement that they were able to do with the puck."

Beal made a save on a shot by Furfari with about two minutes left in the second period and she also made a save in the third period on a shot by Holmes just over three minutes left in the game and she also turned away a shot that came when her team was on a penalty kill in the second period.

"As a goaltender, she (has) done very well by keeping us in the games," said Burgio. "Her goals against may not reflect it because some of those were open net goals but the past few games she has made a number of key stops at different times of the games to give us an opportunity to remain in the game and try to get some goals ourselves and get a couple of wins."

Flynn added, "She definitely keeps us (close) on the scoreboard and helps us a lot."

Burgio talked about where the Quincy/North Quincy (1-7) team is at right now and what they are working on as a unit.

"We've lost the first five games but each game has gotten progressively better," he said. "We're having trouble scoring goals but over the past few games we've been able to reduce the goals against and we've been able to compete with some of the better teams that we have been playing with. Some of those scores also reflect open net goals at the end of the game so they're not true indicators of how close these games were. If we were able to put some more pucks in the net, which is something we've been working on in practice the past couple weeks, about getting to the net, and getting rebounds and deflecting the puck, I think we would have had a little more success if we were able to do that early on. Tonight we had a lot of opportunities but their goalie was able to make the stops and keep them in the game."

Flynn talked about personally what she has been working on as she was able to generate offense throughout the game.

"I think I've changed a few things from freshman year," she said. "And I guess it's getting better."

Flynn also spoke about what the team is highlighting as a collective group moving forward in her junior campaign.

"We're having trouble in our offensive zone and cycling and passing and getting the shot at the right time," she said.

What are the keys moving forward?

"It is stressing getting to the net and getting the goals. We are creating the opportunities to get there, now we have to find a way to make it count more," said Burgio. "We have to find a way to get it behind the goaltender. Sometimes you're going to run into that goaltender (that is playing well and) tonight I think was a good example. We created those opportunities, several opportunities and she was able to stop us. I think if we keep emphasizing the work on the offensive zone, being able to cycle the puck when we have control in the offensive zone and get to the net for rebounds, I think that's all we really have to work on at this point. Defensively, we have a made a lot of improvements, we are doing very well in our zone and our transition hockey has gotten a lot better and now it is just a matter of creating the offense and controlling the puck in the offensive zone."

Youth Soccer Registration Online, Walk-In Dates

Quincy Youth Soccer announces online registration for Spring 2015 soccer is open for returning players.

Walk-in registration for new players will be held Saturday, Jan. 17 and Feb. 28 at the Richard J. Koch Park and Recreation Complex, 1 Merrymount Dr., Quincy, from 10 a.m. to 2 p.m.

For more information, visit Quincyyouthsoccer.com.

Spring Registration fees (returning players)

- 12/5/14-1/16/2015- $60 early bird
- 1/17/2015-2/28/2015- $75 regular fee
- 3/1/2015-3/31/2015- $90 late registration fee

Eight-week season starts first week in April.

Business

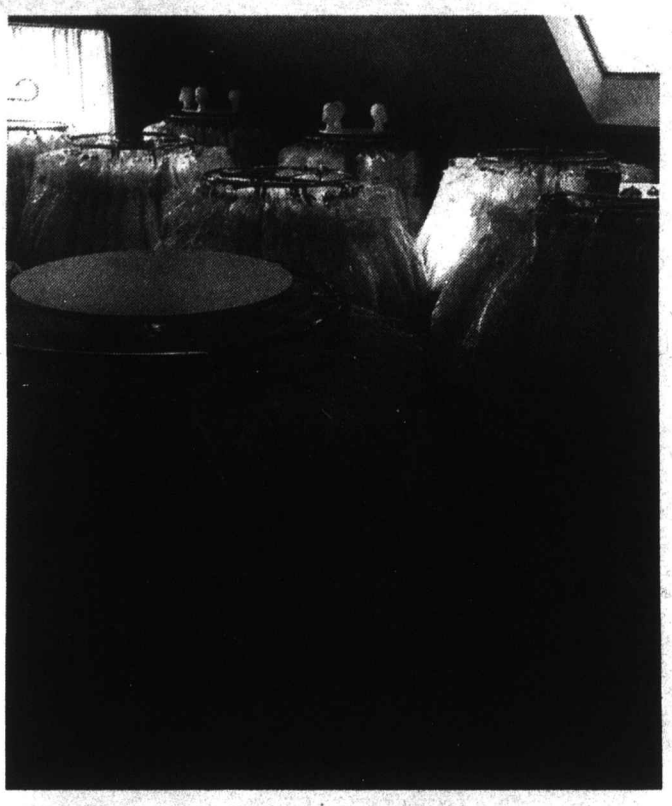
Prospect Hill Communion Dress Sale Starts Saturday

Prospect Hill Company of Brockton announces its 2015 Annual Communion Dress Sale starts Saturday, Jan. 17th and continues for three days ending Monday, Jan. 19.

When the doors open for the sale, over 800 Communion dresses will be on display. The inventory is a combination of well chosen discontinued communion dresses which are discounted up to 60% along with the new 2015 dress line from over twenty five different designers from across the country. Designers represented, to name a few, are Joan Calabrese, Christie Helene, US Angels, Sweet Kids, Sweetie Pie, Lauren Marie, Lito which are all well known Children's dress designers.

Since 2001, when Prospect Hill added First Communion dresses to their lines, each Martin Luther King weekend in January they host a "Spectacular Weekend Sale". Last year the staff outfitted over 300 young ladies within the 21 hours of the sale. Susan McMullen, co-owner of the company states, "We hire extra staff and beg friends and family to help out for this special weekend. The extra staff really helps make the event an exciting, enjoyable outing for our customers." Some customers in years past have compared the event to the "running of the brides" sale that Filenes Boston use to have on bridal gowns.

It is not only dresses that they sell during the sale. In their advertising the Brockton company states "Prospect Hill will dress your little angel from head to toe" and they mean what they say. Offering over one hundred different veils and head pieces, the variety is amazing. Other accessory items include gloves, shoes, purses, slips, capes and boleros.



PROSPECT HILL COMPANY of Brockton announces its 2015 Annual Communion Dress Sale starts Saturday, Jan. 17th and continues for three days ending Monday, Jan. 19. Over 800 Communion dresses will be on display when doors open for the sale. Photo Courtesy Prospect Hill Co.

"We have outfitted over 14,000 girls and boys since we started with our communion clothing line", Susan added, "and each year it continues to grow because of the personal service we give each customer."

The religious goods company has not forgotten about boys making First Communion. Outfitting over 500 boys each year with the traditional white suit, they host a weeklong sale during school vacation week in February offering a 20% discount off on all white suits.

The clothing boutique which is on the second level of the store has attracted a wide reaching audience. Customers have driven from as far away as Pennsylvania for the wide selection of sizes and designers. The store boasts international customers as well "For the past few years we have been visited by a number of customers from Ireland", stated McMullen. "It started in 2009, when a long time customer from South Boston brought in visiting relatives to show them the store. They really loved the selection of the dresses and the price was half the price of similar dresses in Ireland". "We also have many in the Haitian and Cape Verde communities that will purchase Communion suits and dresses and send them back to relatives in their homeland."

Located near the Brockton/Avon line, the company enjoys a long tradition of customer service and satisfaction in the South Shore community. Prospect Hill Company was established in 1951 by Mary and Al McMullen and in 1993 was purchased by their son, Tim and his wife, Susan.

Since that time the couple has moved their company to their present location, 12 Field Street in Brockton, added Baptismal, First Communion and Choir Clothing lines, created their on-line store and expanded their existing lines of church supplies, clerical apparel, books, bibles and religious gifts.

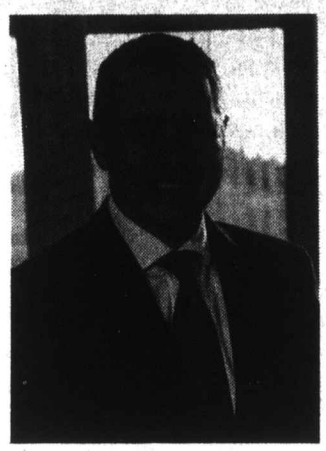
Christopher Sullivan Receives First Justices Award For Pro Bono Work

Christopher Sullivan of Hanover, a partner at Quincy-based Baker, Braverman & Barbadoro P.C. was recently awarded the First Justices' Award for Pro Bono Publico Excellence.

He received this honor based on his commitment to pro bono publico legal assistance in furtherance of providing access to justice for the poor and low-income individuals across southeastern Massachusetts.

Over the past (time period), Sullivan has donated more than 1,000 hours of his legal services to individuals in Barnstable and Plymouth counties.

"Even though we pride ourselves on Boston-caliber legal representation at fees you will only find outside the city, we realize not everyone who needs a lawyer can afford to retain one. Christopher is one of several attorneys at our Firm who takes that to heart and will work pro bono for certain cases," said Paul Barbadoro, a partner at Baker, Braverman & Barbadoro, P.C. "We're proud to have Christopher as part of the Firm and applaud First Justices for recognizing his efforts with this award."



CHRISTOPHER SULLIVAN

At the firm, Sullivan assists clients in the areas of elder and Medicaid law, estate planning and administration, general probate matters, probate litigation, guardianships, conservatorships and adoptions, including representations of same sex families. He also advises and counsels clients on issues related to asset protection, probate of wills and contested estates, estate and tax planning matters.

Sullivan received his juris doctorate from Suffolk University Law School. He also holds a bachelor's degree from the University of Massachusetts at Boston. Prior to becoming an attorney, Sullivan was a court clerk at the Norfolk Probate and Family Court. He is admitted to practice before all state courts in the Commonwealth of Massachusetts and State of New Hampshire.

"As a court clerk, I saw many people who were either underrepresented or had no representation at all. I vowed that when I became an attorney that offering pro bono services would be part of my practice. I'm proud of the fact I've been able to keep that vow. Being recognized for that effort with the First Justices' Award is icing on the cake," said Sullivan.

In addition to his pro bono work, Sullivan has been the chairman of the Bench Bar Committee at Norfolk Probate and Family Court since 1999. In that role, he has worked with the court and the Norfolk Bar Association to organize the volunteer Lawyer for the Day program at Norfolk Probate and Family Court, as well as Attorneys Representing Children (ARC), a volunteer program to represent the child in court proceedings such as custody etc.

Susan Molinari Joins Baker, Braverman & Barbadoro P.C.

Susan Molinari of Canton was recently hired as an attorney by Baker, Braverman & Barbadoro P.C., a full-service law firm with a team of attorneys advising individuals, businesses and families throughout Quincy, Braintree, the South Shore and metro Boston areas.

Molinari previously worked for the firm as an attorney 1999 to 2012. She returns to Baker, Braverman & Barbadoro, P.C. after working as the associate director of career services at New England Law. In her return to the firm, Molinari will specialize in complex litigation cases, trials and appeals in the areas of business and commercial litigation, criminal defense, consumer protection, probate litigation, and zoning appeals.

"It's absolutely wonderful to have Susan back with us," said Paul Barbadoro, a partner at the firm. "She brings a breadth of experience to the table with civil cases and probate, which will not only benefit our clients but help in mentoring our younger attorneys."

SUSAN MOLINARI

Molinari received her juris doctorate from New England School of Law. She holds a Bachelor of Science degree in psychology from Providence College. Prior to her initial tenure with the Firm, Molinari worked for the Massachusetts Department of Social Services as a social worker.

Molinari was admitted to the Massachusetts Bar in 1999. She's also a member of the United States District Court, District of Massachusetts, admitted in 2000. A member of the Boston Bar Association, Molinari also volunteers legal services at Riverside Community Care in Dedham, MA.

Baker, Braverman & Barbadoro, P.C. is where I began my career as a lawyer. It's great to come back and see some familiar faces and many new ones. I'm looking forward to my 'second' career at the firm," Molinari said.

QCAP To Host Presentation On Educational Evaluations Jan. 29

The Quincy Parent Advisory Council to Special Education (QPAC) will host "Understanding Educational Evaluations" on Thursday, Jan. 29 at 6:30 p.m. in the QPAC Resource Center at Quincy High School, 100 Coddington St., Quincy.

The presentation will provide an introduction to understanding evaluation within the special education process. Participants will learn when and why an evaluation is conducted, different types of assessments that may be conducted, and how to read and understand evaluation reports. An opportunity to handle testing materials will also be provided.

"Understanding Educational Evaluations" will be presented by Donna Cunningham, Special Education Administrator, and Erin Perkins, Coordinator for Elementary Curriculum and Programs for Quincy Public Schools. Parents, teachers, and others are invited to attend, and questions and participation are encouraged.

"Understanding Educational Evaluations" is a free presentation. Pre-registration is requested, and may be completed online at www.quincypac.org/events.html.

For more infornation visit www.quincypac.org.

Register Of Deeds To Address Realtors Feb. 3

Norfolk County Register of Deeds William P. O'Donnell will be the guest speaker for the Plymouth and South Shore Association of REALTORS®, Inc. (PASS) on Tuesday, Feb. 3 at 10 a.m.

The meeting will be held at PASS central office, 48 Schoosett St. (Route 139), Pembroke.

O'Donnell will speak on several subjects including the most recent changes in the Homestead Law and the current national scam that is taking place with regards to paying an artificially exorbitant price for a deed, instead of paying a few dollars at a local Registry.

He will also discuss the historical nature of the Registry – some documents dating all the way back to 1793 - and his ongoing efforts to modernize and computerize the millions of land records in its operations.

After the presentation, O'Donnell will demonstrate how the Registry's On-Line Land Records Database works by giving PASS members the opportunity to look up documents or print a copy of their deed.

As part of his Registry of Deeds community outreach initiative, O'Donnell offers these on-line services to both residents and businesses interested in researching Norfolk County registry information.

For more information, call (781) 461-6101, or email registerodonnell@norfolkdeeds.org.

Real Estate

Quincy Real Estate Transactions Jan. 5 - Jan. 9

Seller	Buyer	Amount	Address
Jeffrey F. & Laura J. O'Rourke	Li J. & Shiang T. Chen	$188,000.00	54-56 Spring Street
Zissis & Maria Klisiaris	Thong Nguyen & Anh T.L. Tran	$615,000.00	283 Billings Street
William A. & Lois M. Dupont	David Taylor & Amy Walanski	$555,000.00	109 Summit Avenue
Helfrich Investment Trust	William & Emila Bradford	$384,500.00	1353 Quincy Shore Drive
Chow Family Realty Trust	Gabriel Cheong	$520,000.00	274 South Central Avenue
Marie E. Quinn	James H. & Susan M. Hu	$365,000.00	42 East Elm Avenue
Chi H. Wang & Ya T. Chou	Santiago A. Carvallo	$242,500.00	20 River Street Unit 20
Edward F. McLaughlin	Jing Yan & Chen Xiuli	$233,000.00	115 West Squantum Street Unit 509
Hurtze J. See & Mandy C.L. Lee	Wai N. & Shing J. Hung	$218,000.00	123 Elm Street Unit D-12
Maria Mainini	William T. & Catherine Kennedy	$710,000.00	123 Manet Avenue
Glen T. & Jean M. Munn	60 Cleverly Court LLC	$320,000.00	60 Cleverly Court
Robert T. & Anne T. Cannon	Steven White & Lauren M. Hatfield	$344,000.00	363 Copeland Street
Vincent A. & Margaret O'Malley	Zhong Wen Huang & Ying Zeng	$750,000.00	138-144 Newbury Avenue

Quincy Participating In Solarize Mass Program

The Massachusetts Clean Energy Center and the Green Communities Division of the Massachusetts Department of Energy Resources have selected the City of Quincy to participate in the 2015 round of Solarize Massachusetts ("Solarize Mass"), a statewide initiative that since 2011 has facilitated contracting for over 16 megawatts of solar energy systems on 2,400 properties.

With the City's participation in this program, homeowners and business owners in Quincy will, for several months while the program is ongoing, be able to install solar photovoltaic (PV) at a significantly discounted cost than otherwise possible. The more homes and businesses that choose to add solar energy, the more steeply discounted the solar panels will be for everyone.

The program will be organized by Solarize Quincy team coach, Quincy resident Rebecca McWilliams, who is a member of the Mayor's Climate Change Committee and the outgoing Chair of the Quincy Climate Action Network. The team will rely on volunteers to spread the word to as many home and business owners as possible to sign up for a solar assessment to see if their properties are suitable for solar. Owners will then get proposals from the installer, and sign contracts by June 30, 2015 to receive the discounted pricing. Also part of the Solarize Quincy team are staff from the Public Buildings Department and Planning Departments.

More than 400 people have already indicated they'd like to learn more about pursuing solar power for their home or business in response to a Planning Department survey released last spring. The Solarize Mass Interest Survey has collected more than 900 responses to date and was instrumental in the City's selection to participate in the 2015 round of the program.

With the price of PV dropping, it is already often a wise financial decision to install panels if your property is not heavily shaded and you have a newer roof, organizers said. With discounted pricing through the Solarize program, and rising electricity rates, it is an even better deal, they said.

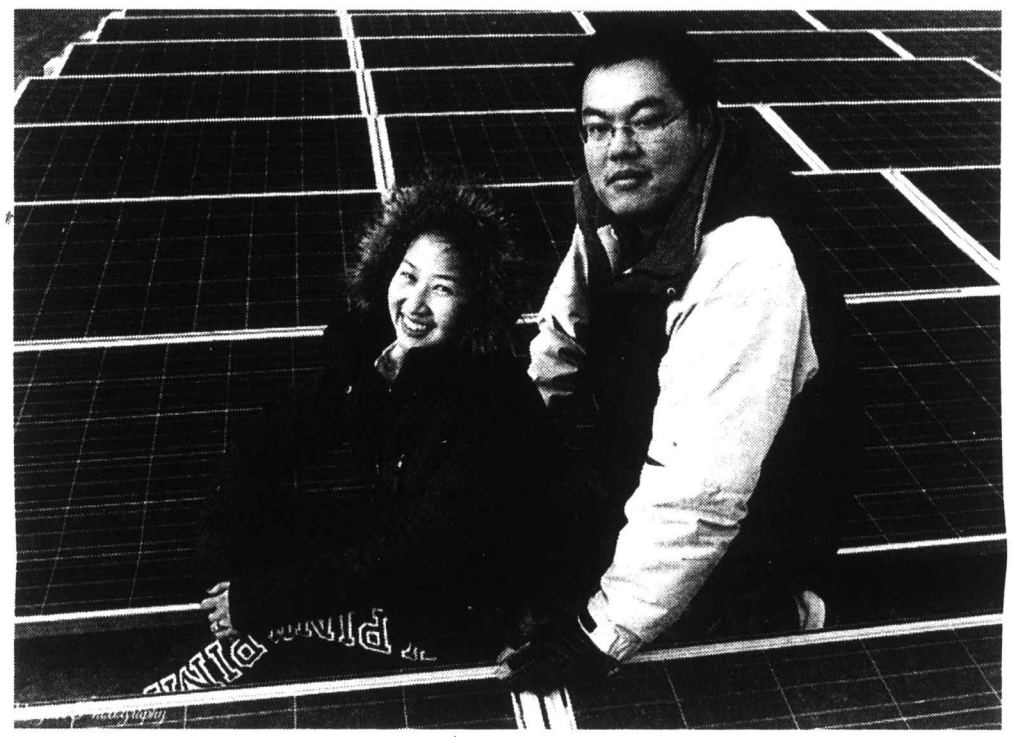
The Solarize Quincy team aims to educate as many people as possible about the cost-saving and environmental benefits of solar PV, and to lower the barriers of adoption for those who are interested. For more information on the program, visit www.solarizequincy.weebly.com and read the FAQ page.

'Power Couple' Gives Back To The Community

Good Shepherd Community Care will "go solar" tomorrow (Friday) with a ribbon cutting ceremony and luncheon for its new 28kW solar system that is currently being installed at its Newton office location.

This event is unique not only because it will give Good Shepherd Community Care, a non-profit organization in Newton, access to clean solar energy, but also because the system is being donated by 22 year-old Carrie Sunde, whose mother, Carol, died under the care of Good Shepherd Community Hospice last year.

Carrie, a Quincy native, was inspired to find a way to give back to Good Shepherd following a recent visit to the organization's new office where she was given a tour of 'Berta's Garden', a memorial donated by the family of another patient cared for by Good Shepherd. "I instantly thought to myself, what type of tribute could I create for my mother?" explains Carrie. "Good Shepherd had such a positive impact on her quality of life literally up until the day she died. I wanted to give something back to them to demonstrate how forever grateful I am to this non-profit organization and its hardworking staff."



CARRIE SUNDE, a Quincy native, and her fiancé, Tom, are donating a solar system at the Good Shepherd Community Care facility in Newton in memory of her mother, Carol, who died under the care of the hospice last year. Photo Courtesy Carrie Sunde

Carrie and her fiancé, Tom, came up with the idea of donating a solar system to Good Shepherd. Tom is the CEO and Founder of Invaleon Technologies, an integrator and installer of photovoltaic solar technology. And, since he works in the solar energy business and because her mother has always "been my [Sunde's] sunshine it all made perfect sense," said Carrie. Her hope is that Good Shepherd can use the money saved on its electric costs towards the care of patients and families who are in need of hospice and palliative care services in the future. "In essence," explains Carrie "this is a gift that never stops giving; it just keeps producing."

Good Shepherd Community Care focuses on hospice and palliative care in the Greater Boston area. Founded as Hospice of the Good Shepherd in 1978, it remains an independent, non-profit, non-sectarian organization. For more information, visit gscommunitycare.org or call 617.969.6130.

NWSOMA Awarded $100,000 In Tax Credits

NeighborWorks Southern Mass. (NWSOMA) has been awarded an additional $100,000 in state tax credits aimed at spurring private donors to support the non-profit organization's efforts to promote homeownership across the region.

The award from the state Community Investment Tax Credit Program builds on the $80,000 in tax credits NWSOMA received in 2014 through the program, which provides a 50 percent state income tax credit to individuals and businesses that make a contribution of $1,000 or more to the organization.

In addition to the state tax credit, donors may also claim a portion of the donation as a charitable deduction on their federal tax return. As an example, a donor who contributes $1,000 would be able to claim a $500 credit on their state income tax return and an additional $175 charitable deduction on their federal return.

NWSOMA hopes the tax credit and charitable deduction incentives will spark interest from both individual donors and investors, helping the agency raise up to $200,000 in private-sector donations. According to Executive Director Robert Corley, to date NWSOMA has received more than $130,000 in donations as a result of the tax credit award it received in 2014. Among the projects to benefit from the donations: a 12-unit apartment building NWSOMA is currently building in Quincy to provide homes for returning veterans and their families.

Founded in 1981, Quincy-based NeighborWorks Southern Mass. has expanded across the region, opening offices in Brockton and New Bedford to provide a wide range of housing services.

For more information on the state tax credit program or to make a donation, contact NeighborWorks Southern Mass. at (617) 770-2227 or visit www.nwsoma.org.

Century 21 Annex Realty, Inc.
49 Beale St., Quincy, MA 02170
617-472-4330
www.c21annex.com
Over 70 Seller and Buyer Agents specializing in Residential, Commercial Real Estate, Bank Owned Properties, Short Sales and Rentals
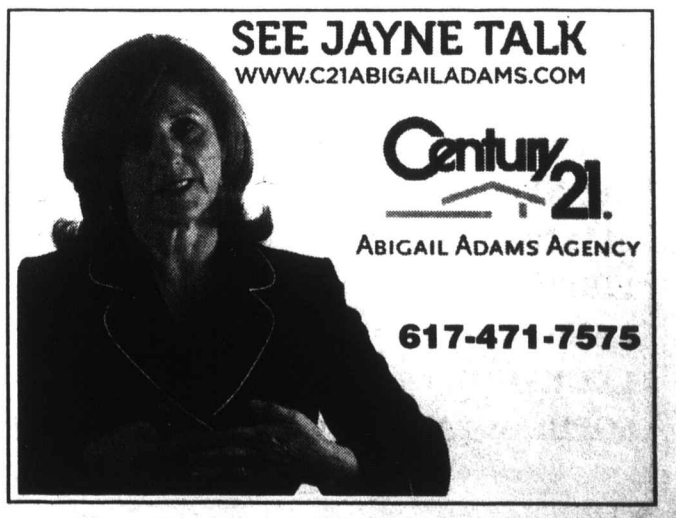
ANNEX REAL ESTATE SCHOOL
Offering Salesperson's, Broker's and Continuing Ed. classes
"STILL NUMBER ONE"



A Job Well Done

By QUINCY POLICE LT. DAN MINTON

On January 3, 2015, at approximately 3:35 p.m., members of the Quincy Police Drug Unit (Detectives Keenan, O'Brien, Coen and Duran) were working in plain clothes and operating unmarked police vehicles in the Atlantic section of Quincy due to recent citizen complaints.

At this time, Detective Keenan noticed a white vehicle drive onto Billings Street, park in front of a home and then enter the residence. The Detectives were familiar with the address from past neighbor complaints and one arrest. Detective Keenan ran the license plate and determined that the vehicle was a rental, which drug dealers commonly use when conducting drug transactions. By utilizing rental vehicles, drug dealers are able to frequently change the make and model of the vehicles they drive, making it more difficult for law enforcement to conduct investigations. Additionally, using rental vehicles help drug dealers shield their personal information (license status, BOP, address) from law enforcement should the license plate of the vehicle be queried.

After about 20 minutes inside, the driver got back in his car and drove away. Concerned that a drug transaction may have just occurred, the Detectives decided to stop the suspect vehicle away from the residence. The driver reached the East Squantum Street intersection, where traffic forced him to stop. Detective O'Brien was in traffic directly ahead of the suspect vehicle and Detective Duran was situated directly behind the suspect vehicle. Detective Duran took advantage of the traffic delay and stepped out of his unmarked vehicle to approach the driver.

As the Detective stepped out of his cruiser, the driver accelerated and drove around Detective O'Brien's vehicle, darting out onto East Squantum Street without stopping or checking for any oncoming traffic.

LT. DAN MINTON

Detective O'Brien drove behind the vehicle and observed the driver to have his head down towards the center console area of the vehicle. Detective O'Brien believed that the driver was ingesting narcotics, so he pulled alongside the suspect vehicle and ordered the driver to stop the vehicle. Detective Duran pulled in behind the suspect vehicle and they were able to trap the suspect vehicle across from 350 East Squantum Street.

The Detectives approached the vehicle and identified themselves as "Quincy Police" followed by instructions for the driver to exit his vehicle. After several requests, the driver stepped out and was immediately placed in handcuffs. Once uniformed Officers arrived on scene, the Detectives returned to the home in question and spoke with the male and female tenants, who admitted that they just purchased Heroin from the male who had just left their residence.

The female said she paid $60.00 for two glassine baggies of Heroin, then led the Detectives to a mirror where the Heroin was. She stated they had already used some of the Heroin prior to the Detectives arriving at her residence. She added that she bought Heroin from the same male before. The male driver/suspect, a 38 year old Dorchester resident, was charged with, "Distribution of Class A (subsequent offense), Operating to Endanger and Fail to Stop for Police." The suspect was previously convicted of distributing Class B drug in 2006 in Suffolk Superior Court.

After conducting a search of the suspect, 4 cell phones and $456.00 were found on him. Because the suspect showed total disregard for the safety of pedestrians and other motor vehicles when he accelerated from Billings Street onto East Squantum Street, a Request for Immediate Threat License Suspension / Revocation form with the Registry of Motor Vehicles was filed. Nice Work!

❑

HERITAGE FOR THE BLIND: I recently heard an ad on the radio from the Heritage For the Blind, asking people to donate their cars to the charity. The non-profit agency, charitynavigator.org rates them "1 out of 4 stars" for the amount of money raised that goes directly to services. Additionally, there are numerous negative comments about them on the internet. The Charity navigator site is an excellent resource for anyone planning to make a donation to a charity.

QUINCY POLICE CRIME PREVENTION JOURNAL

Quincy Police Statistics
Jan. 2 – Jan. 9
ARRESTS: 21
TOTAL CALLS: 976
STOLEN MOTOR VEHICLES: 2

FRIDAY, JAN. 2

VANDALISM/PROPERTY, 8:40 a.m., 645 Hancock St. Graffiti. Postal truck in parking lot. Postal employee took pictures, does not want to see officer, just wants it on record.

LARCENY, 2:24 p.m., Brook St. Two packages stolen on Dec. 29 delivered by FedEx. LL Bean fleece, Sony sound bar.

LARCENY, 3:23 p.m., Commonwealth Restaurant, 79 Parkingway. Wallet.

LARCENY, 5:12 p.m., Stop & Shop, 495 Southern Artery. Arrest made.

LARCENY, 5:13 p.m., Walgreen, 418 Quincy Ave. Party known to caller stole his prescription. All parties advised and sent on way.

LARCENY, 6:04 p.m., Bank of America, 1400 Hancock St. Check. Complaints for larceny over $250 and uttering.

SATURDAY, JAN. 3

BREAKING AND ENTERING, 7:40 a.m., Marriott, 1000 Marriott Dr. Two passports.

VANDALISM/PROPERTY. 9:17 a.m., Prestige, 9 Franklin St. Gas hose. Reporting party has suspect info.

LARCENY, 5:01 p.m., Federal Ave. Caller reports property was taken from his apartment.

LARCENY, 10:29 p.m., Olindy's, 170 Quincy Ave. People left in a van after refusing to pay. Owner does not want to pursue at this time.

SUNDAY, JAN. 4

MOTOR VEHICLE LARCENY, 2:25 a.m., Hancock Parking Area, 50 Revere Rd. Accident happened in the Quincy nursing home lot. Caller said suspect's car is still there. One under arrest for possession of a stolen MV.

BREAKING AND ENTERING, 12:14 p.m., Discount Self Storage, 169 Parkingway. Locker.

VANDALISM/PROPERTY, 5:12 p.m., Arthur St. No entry. Someone broke the second floor window. Owner advised.

MONDAY, JAN. 5

LARCENY, 3:03 p.m., Dunkin' Donuts, 100 Granite St. Wallet.

BREAKING AND ENTERING, 3:38 p.m., Packards Ln.

LARCENY, 4:39 p.m., Extra Space Storage, 21 Weston Ave. Caller wants to report items stolen from storage locker.

TUESDAY, JAN 6.

LARCENY, 11:11 a.m., Bicknell St. Checks. Det. MacIsaac sought complaint for larceny less.

WEDNESDAY, JAN. 7

VANDALISM/PROPERTY, 9:39 a.m., Brook St. Vehicle keyed all over.

VANDALISM/PROPERTY, 12:43 p.m., 53 Copeland St. Bathroom window and radiator damaged. Hole in wall.

VANDALISM/PROPERTY, 2:05 p.m., Carruth St. Two-three cars on street had tires slashed.

THURSDAY, JAN. 8

LARCENY, 12:14 p.m., BJs, 200 Crown Colony Dr. BJs employee downstairs lobby. Wants to report bad check. Complaint for larceny over, uttering, and forgery.

MOTOR VEHICLE LARCENY, 2:31 p.m., Merrymount Ave. Party known to caller has vehicle refused to return it.

FRIDAY, JAN. 9

LARCENY, 3:33 a.m., Copeland St. Met suspect at 7-Eleven on Copeland St. Suspect gave him fake money, took the iPad and ran. Caller has suspect's phone number.

If anyone has more information about any of the aforementioned incidents or would like more information, contact Crime Prevention Lieutenant Dan Minton at 617 745 5719

❑

STOLEN MOTOR VEHICLES: Merrymount Avenue, Revere Road.

❑

CAR BREAKS: 332 Copeland Street, 400 block of East Squantum Street, Upton Street, Liberty Street, 1049 Hancock Street.

❑

BREAKS AND ATTEMPTED BREAKS: Packard's Lane, 169 Parkingway.

If you have information on the above crimes, drug activity or any crime, please call the Quincy Police Detective Bureau at 617-745-5764 or log onto the following website: http://tinyurl.com/ytf6td.

To report suspicious drug activity, call the Drug Hot-Line at 617-745-5730. You will not be required to identify yourself, but it could help. To make an appointment to view the Registered Sex Offenders book, call Detective James Dentremont at 617-745-5755.

To contact the Crime Prevention Officer for tips or comments, my direct line is 617-745-5719. My e-mail address is dminton@ci.quincy.ma.us

– Lt. Dan Minton

Entries in the Quincy Police Hot Spots are compiled and submitted by the Quincy Police Department.

They are published by The Quincy Sun as a public service to make local residents more aware of any crime activity in their neighborhood. Questions concerning the Hot Spots list should be directed to Crime Prevention Officer Lt. Dan Minton, 617-745-5719.

QUINCY ANIMAL SHELTER
56 Broad Street, Quincy • 617-376-1349
quincyanimalshelter.org

IN-SHELTER ADOPTION HOURS
TUESDAY and THURSDAYS 6:00 to 8:00 pm
SATURDAYS 10 am - 4 pm

Adoption fees include initial vaccinations and Spay/Neuter as needed. 100% volunteer run, new volunteers always needed.

FOR LOST or FOUND ANIMALS call ANIMAL CONTROL at 617-376-1364

AVAILABLE CATS

TOBI: 5, female, black & white.
SARA: 7, female, tortie.
HOMER: 10, male, gray tabby.
SPRINKLES: 9, female, calico.
TOBY: 3, male, orange & white.
PAX: 3, male, gray & white.
TRUMAN: 9, male, orange.
BENNY: adult, male, gray tabby.
MARNIE: young, female, calico.
FIREBALL: adult, male, gray & white.
LANG: 1, female, black & white.
LUCKY: 4, female, black.
SOPHIA & TAI: 12, munchkin & Siamese mix.

Bethany Congregational

On Sunday, Jan. 18, Bethany Congregational Church, will have Worship Service and Sunday School at 10 a.m. The Rev. Gary W. Smothers will conduct the service and preach the sermon entitled "The Practice and Power of Prayer." Fellowship with light refreshments will follow the worship service.

All are welcome to attend Worship Services and its activities: a Youth Group, a Men's Group, an Outreach Mission Group doing various charity works and a Bible Study Class.

The church office is open 8:30 a.m. to noon, then 1 - 4 p.m. Please visit our website at bethanychurch.tk for updates and activities. Thanks to the Video Ministry, if you're unable to attend worship service, the Bethany Church Service is broadcast on QATV at 6:00 p.m. Thursdays and 10:00 a.m. Sundays on Channel 8. Childcare will be available for infants and toddlers during worship service on Sundays. The church is wheelchair accessible.

Teen Challenge Choir To Perform At Union Church

Union Congregational Church, corner of Beach Street and Rawson Road, Wollaston, announces The Teen Challenge Choir will perform Sunday, Jan. 18th as part of the Sunday morning worship service at 10 a.m.

Teen Challenge was founded in 1970 in New York by Rev. David Wilkerson. The Teen Challenge story was later made into a movie called "The Cross and the Switchblade" starring Pat Boone and Erik Estrada.

Since its inception Teen Challenge has been instrumental in changing lives nation and world wide, especially regarding drug addition. Teen Challenge Choir is a music ministry of Teen Challenge offering through song and testimony a witness to the healing power of faith.

The Rev. John Swanson, Pastor of Union Church, invites the community, especially those who may be struggling with issues of addiction or their families to come to Union Church Sunday. For more information, call the church at 617-479-6661 or visit the church web site at www.unioncongregational.org

RELIGION

"Why Mindfulness Matters" Is Topic At Beth Shalom

Stana M Gnatovich will talk about "Why Mindfulness Matters" as guest speaker at the next Beth Shalom of the Blue Hills Brunch Speaker Series on Sunday, Jan. 25th, at the Pierce Middle School in Milton.

According to Psychology Today, "mindfulness is a state of active, open attention to the present. When you're mindful, you observe your thoughts and feelings from a distance, without judging them good or bad. Instead of letting your life pass you by, mindfulness means living in the moment and awakening to experience."

Ms. Gnatovich, a Licensed Marriage and Family Therapist, is a trained instructor in mindfulness-based stress reduction, with a practice in Quincy. She will provide an overview of mindfulness principles and practices that can be applied in our daily lives.

Congregation Beth Shalom of the Blue Hills, formerly Temples Shalom of Milton and Beth El of Quincy, invites the public to its Brunch Speaker Series, which begins at 10:15 a.m., with the speaker starting at approximately 11 a.m. A $5 donation for the brunch is requested to defray food costs, and a call or email to the congregation office is required for planning. The speaker portion can be attended for free.

Beth Shalom's brunches are currently held at the Pierce Middle School cafeteria, 451 Central Ave. (entrance on Brook Rd.), Milton. For more information, please call 617-698-3394 or email: office@BethShalomBlueHills.org.

Quincy Point Congregational

The Rev. Ann Suzedell will preach a sermon titled, "Here I Am, For You Called Me," at 10 a.m. worship Sunday at Quincy Point Congregational Church, 444 Washington St.

Sheena Delmonte will be the lay reader. After worship all are invited to Social Hall for coffee and light refreshments. While there sign the Birthday and Thinking of You cards.

Houghs Neck Congregational

The Sunday morning service at Houghs Neck Congregational Church, 310 Manet Ave., begins at 10 a.m.

Pastor Felix Carrion will lead the service and preach the sermon "Good Stewardship for the New Year."

Helen Miller and Martha Chase will serve for the Diaconate. Jake Gordon will be Liturgist, calling to worship and reading the scripture lesson. Minister of Music, Steve Reed will direct the choir.

Sunday school and Nursery starts after the children's message. Following the service a fellowship coffee hour is hosted by Nancy and Molly Jacobs. All are welcome.

Sunday is the last day to donate coats and jackets for all ages to the Triple D Coat Drive for clients at ISS.

Tuesday evening at 7 p.m. the January meeting of MOTHERS Club, Members Organized To Help, Educate, Reach-out, Socialize takes place in Fellowship Hall. "Fit Fitness into Your Schedule" is the title of the program at 7:30 p.m. with three speakers, Linda Beck on Yoga, Vince Jornales on Tai Chi and Brad Boulanger on Physical Therapy and Personal Training.

Thursday evening Hatha Yoga class with Linda Beck at 7 p.m. is held in Fellowship Hall.

Chili Cook-Off Feb. 28 At Houghs Neck Church

Entries are being sought for the 6th annual "Chili Bowl" Chili Cook-Off set for Saturday, Feb. 28 from 2 to 5 p.m. at Houghs Neck Congregational Church, 310 Manet Ave., Quincy.

With categories for both home cooks and restaurants, the event will offer attendees the chance to sample and savor up to 20 different varieties of chili, with trophies and medals awarded to the champion chili winners as voted on by attendees.

Admission to the cook-off is $5 and includes all the chili attendees can eat. Hot dogs, beer, soda and snacks and bake sale will also be available for an additional charge. There is no fee to enter chili in the cook-off. To enter or for more information, call 617-688-4044 or e-mail chilicookoffhncc@gmail.com

Quincy Religion Directory

SERVICES & ACTIVITIES

Catholic

St. Mary's Church
95 Crescent St., Quincy • 617-773-0120
Masses
Saturday, 4pm, Sunday 8 & 10:30am
Tuesday/Thursday 9am
Handicapped Accessible
New Members Welcome!

ST. AGATHA CHURCH MILTON-QUINCY
432 Adams Street
Milton, MA 02186 • 617-698-2439
Schedule of Masses:
Saturday: 4:30PM
Sunday: 7:30AM, 9:00AM, 10:30AM, 12 NOON and 5:00PM
Weekday Masses: 7:00 & 9:00AM
Reconciliation 3:45PM-4:15pm on Saturdays, other times by appointment
Handicapped Accessible, handicapped parking, elevator to Upper/Lower Churches ~ Air-Conditioned

St. John The Baptist
ROMAN CATHOLIC CHURCH
44 School St., Quincy
617-773-1021
Weekend Mass Schedule
Saturday, 4:00 PM
Sunday 7:30, 9:00, 11:00 AM
Sunday night 5:30 PM
Weekday Masses
Monday - Saturday 8:00 AM
Latin Mass
1st & 3rd Wednesdays
(Lower Chapel) 7:00 AM
Confessions
Wed. 8:30 – 9:00 AM
Sat. 2:30 – 3:30 PM
Handicapped Accessible

Salvationist

THE SALVATION ARMY
6 Baxter St., Quincy • 617-472-2345
9:45 CHRISTIAN EDUCATION
11AM WORSHIP SERVICE
BRASS BAND MUSIC
7PM TUES WOMEN'S FELLOWSHIP
6:45PM WEDS. BIBLE STUDY

Catholic

Sacred Heart Church
"A Roman Catholic Community walking together in Faith, Worship, Education and Service"
386 Hancock St., North Quincy, MA 02171
(617) 328-8666
Sunday Masses
4pm (Saturday)
7:30 am and 10:00 am
Weekday Masses
Monday - Friday 7am
Handicapped Accessible
Confessions
Sat. 3-3:45pm in Saint Joseph Oratory

St. Joseph's Church
550 Washington Street
Quincy, MA 02169
617-472-6321
SUNDAY MASSES:
4 p.m. (On Saturday)
8:30 a.m. and 10:30 a.m.
Weekday Masses 9am
CONFESSIONS: Saturday, 3:00-3:30 pm
Handicapped accessible & Handicapped parking, side entrance air conditioned

Saint Ann's Church
757 Hancock St., Wollaston
617-479-5400
Mass Schedule:
Sat. 4:00 PM / Sun. 9, 11 AM
Daily Mass: Monday,Wednesday, Friday, Saturday 9 AM
Confessions: Saturday 3-3:30PM
Handicapped Accessible via Elevator

Methodist

QUINCY COMMUNITY UNITED METHODIST CHURCH
40 Beale St., Wollaston
617-773-3319
10:30 AM Sunday Worship
Rev. Dr. Susan Jarek-Glidden, Pastor

Congregational

HOUGH'S NECK CONGREGATIONAL CHURCH
310 Manet Avenue
617-479-8778
www.hncong.org
Sunday Morning Service at 10 a.m.
Pastor Felix Carrion will preach the sermon "Good Stewardship for the New Year"
All are welcome to attend
FELLOWSHIP COFFEE HOUR FOLLOWING SERVICE

BETHANY CONGREGATIONAL CHURCH
Spear & Coddington Streets
Quincy Center, 617-479-7300
www.bethanychurch.tk
Worship Service and Sunday School at 10AM
Rev. Gary W. Smothers will conduct the service and preach the sermon "The Practice and Power of Prayer."
Child Care Available
For Infants And Toddlers
ALL ARE WELCOME!
Fellowship Time following Service

JOY

Congregational

Wollaston
Congregational Church
United Church of Christ
48 Winthrop Avenue
Quincy, Massachusetts
Worship and Sunday School at 10 a.m.
Fred Hayes InterimPastor
617-773-7432
www.wollastonucc.com

UNION CONGREGATIONAL
Beach St. & Rawson Rd., Wollaston
(617)479-6661
Rev. John Swanson, Pastor
Sunday Worship Service 10 AM

QUINCY POINT CONGREGATIONAL CHURCH
444 Washington St . • 617-773-6424
Worship and Church School 10 am
Rev. Ann Suzedell, Pastor
email: office@quincypointcong.org

Unitarian Universalist

United First Parish Church
A theologically liberal congregation, encouraging people to seek their own spiritual path. All are welcome.
Worship Service, Church School and Childcare Sundays at 10:30 AM
Followed by Fellowship & Refreshments
Rev. Rebecca Froom
1306 Hancock St., Quincy
www.ufpc.org

PEACE

Christian Science

First Church of Christ, Scientist
1460 Hancock Street, Quincy
617-472-0055
Sunday Services and Sunday School 10:30 a.m.
Wednesday Evening Meetings – where testimonies of healing are shared 7:30 p.m.

ALL ARE WELCOME!

Catholic Community

Dignity BOSTON
Gay, Lesbian, Bisexual, Transgender
CATHOLICS
Our families, friends And allies
Liturgy & social hour: Sundays, 5:30 PM
St. John the Evangelist Church
35 Bowdoin St., Beacon Hill, Boston
617-421-1915
www.dignityboston.org

Nazarene

Wollaston
Church of the Nazarene
Sunday Worship
8:30 AM Liturgical Worship
9:45 AM Sunday School
11:00 AM Celebration Worship
Kevin C. Dunlop, Lead Pastor
Phil Nase, Youth & Small Groups Pastor
Jake Chastain, Music & Campus Pastor
Bev Keather, Children's Pastor
Don Reed, Visitation Pastor
37 E. Elm Ave., Wollaston
617.472.3669
E-mail: office@wconaz.org
www.wollastonnazarene.org

HOPE

LOVE

To Advertise in this Directory, Call 617-471-3100

OBITUARIES

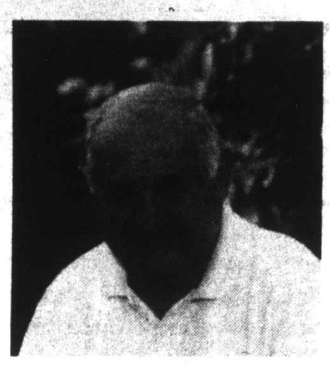
Burton S. Cook

Services for Burton S. Cook of Natick, formerly of Portland, ME, Quincy, Palm Beach, FL, and Boynton Beach, FL, were held Jan. 6 in Sharon Memorial Park.

Mr. Cook died Jan. 4.

Late founder of Tags Furniture Stores.

Adored husband of 65 years to Helen (Bernstein) Cook. Devoted father of Marcia E. Cantor and her husband Barry of Ottawa, Laurie A. Slosberg of Chestnut Hill, and Susan C. Ross and her husband Jonathan of Natick. Cherished grandfather of Rebecca, Jeremy, David, Alex, Noah, Stefanie, and Benjamin. Loving brother of Molly Cinnamon of ME and the late George



BURTON S. COOK

A. Cook, Sylvia Weber, and Melvin Schwartz.

Arrangements were made by Brezniak-Rodman Chapel, 1251 Washington St., Newton.

Memorial donations may be made to National Kidney Foundation, 85 Astor Ave., #2, Norwood, MA 02062.

Julia R. Smith, 85

A funeral Mass for Julia R. (Elias) Smith, 85, of Deerfield Beach, Fla., was celebrated Monday in St. Joseph's Church, Quincy.

Mrs. Smith died peacefully Jan. 5 in Florida.

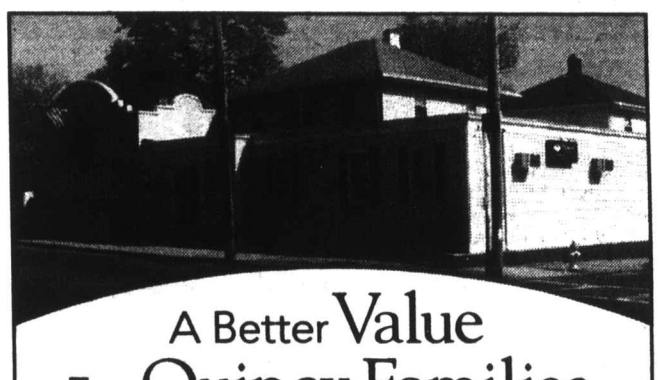
She was born, raised and educated in Quincy. Mrs. Smith had lived in Florida for three years, previously living in Kingston for eight years and earlier living most of her life in Weymouth. She was retired from the Electroswitch Corporation in Weymouth.

Beloved wife of the late Harold B. Smith. Devoted mother of Gayle LaVangie of Kingston, Judith Smith of FL, Richard Smith of CA, Robert Smith of FL, and Jan Atwood of Costa Rica. Cherished grandmother of Keith LaVangie, Ryan LaVangie and Madeleine Smith and a loving great-grandmother to Kyle, Owen and Kadenn LaVangie and also to her step-grandchildren and great-grandchildren. Also survived by her sisters, Frances Mari of Halifax and Helen Crespi of Bridgewater.

Funeral arrangements were made by Sweeney Brothers Home for Funerals, 1 Independence Ave., Quincy.

Interment at Mount Wollaston Cemetery, Quincy.

Memorial donations may be made to Hospice of Palm Beach County Foundation, 5300 East Ave., West Palm Beach, FL 33407.



A Better Value
For Quincy Families

At Deware Funeral Home, we are proud to offer more value and superior service to Quincy families. A full service traditional funeral is $5,995* with no hidden costs. The price includes:

Funeral Ceremony • Visitation • Casket

At Deware Funeral Home, we put the needs of our customer first. We also offer a Simple Burial Plan for $3,395.

With Deware Funeral Home, you can trust us to provide the compassionate care you expect at an exceptional value, backed by a 100% service guarantee.

Exclusive provider of Dignity Memorial® benefits.

Deware Funeral Home

576 Hancock Street | Quincy, MA 02170 | 617-472-1137

Dignity

For more information visit
www.dewarefuneralhome.com

*$5,995 plan includes basic services of funeral director and staff, embalming and preparation, utilities, funeral ceremony, transportation to place of disposition, 20 gauge metal casket, acknowledgements, and memorial stationery package (1 register book, 100 thank you cards, 100 prayer cards).

A Service Facility affiliate of ASD and Service Corporation International, 200 Weston Street, Hartford, CT 06120 (860) 951-3424

Harold Whalen, Sr., 84

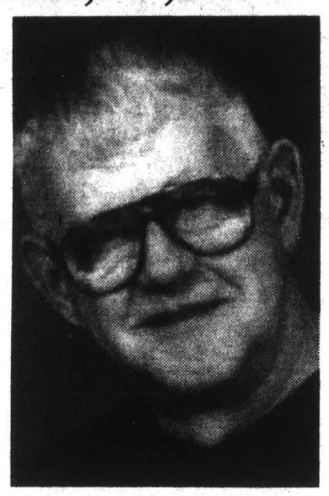
A funeral Mass for Harold "Les" Whalen, Sr., 84, a lifelong resident of Quincy, was celebrated Jan. 8 in Most Blessed Sacrament Church, Quincy.

Mr. Whalen died Jan. 4 after a long battle with cancer.

Born Dec. 28, 1930, he was a veteran of the U.S. Army and was proud to have served his country. He was the devoted husband of Lorraine (Gilblair) Whalen, having celebrated 63 years together. Always a hard worker, he was employed at General Dynamics and Freaney Construction for many years before accepting the position of painting supervisor with the Thomas Flatley Co. As a hobby he would work with his hands, painting houses, renovating his home or homes of his children, painting church halls, woodworking projects and playing the harmonica.

Mr. Whalen was most proud of his 10 grandchildren and enjoyed spending time with them once he retired. He loved fishing with them and attending their sporting events, graduations and family gatherings and was very happy to have celebrated his 84th birthday surrounded by his family.

The son of the late Harold J. and Panzie (Lyle) Whalen, he is survived by his wife Lorraine and his children,



HAROLD WHALEN, SR.

Harold L. "Hal" Whalen, Jr., Glen Whalen and his wife Michelle, all of Quincy and Karen Mann of Holbrook; former father-in-law of Colleen Whalen. "Papa" will be sorely missed by his pride and joys, his grandchildren, Daniel and Brian Whalen, Lindsey, Kylie, Julie and Jason Whalen, Christopher, Madison, Caitlin and Ethan Mann.

Funeral arrangements were made by Dennis Sweeney Funeral Home, 74 Elm St., Quincy.

Interment with Military Honors at Pine Hill Cemetery, Quincy.

Memorial donations may be made to Mass. Eye & Ear – Uveitis Research Fund, c/o Development Office, 243 Charles Street, Boston, MA 02114. Please make checks payable to "Fdn. of MEE, Inc."

Robert A. Piscitello, 75

A funeral service for Robert A. Piscitello, 75, of Litchfield, N.H., and formerly Quincy was held Jan. 9 in Dennis Sweeney Funeral Home, 74 Elm St., Quincy.

Mr. Piscitello died Jan. 3.

A Vietnam veteran, U.S. Navy, he worked as a truck driver for Local 633 before retiring.

The beloved husband of Joan C. (Melanson) Piscitello, he was the loving father of Christopher Gamble of FL and Catherine (Galipeau) Snyder and Theresa Ludec, both of NH; brother of Joseph Piscitello of MA; and is also survived by seven grandchildren, 11 great-grandchildren and four step-children.

Interment with Military Honors at Pine Hill Cemetery, Quincy.

Gwendolyn Dawson, 88

A graveside service for Gwendolyn Dawson, 88, a longtime Quincy resident, was held Jan. 9 at Pine Hill Cemetery, Quincy.

Ms. Dawson died Jan. 6.

She retired from Raytheon Co., Quincy, in 1990 after 35 years.

Loving mother of Gary C. Dawson of Nova Scotia, Jean Buckley of Raynham, Sharon Loughead of Nova Scotia and Carolyn Dawson of Quincy. Grandmother of Steven Buckley, Laurrie Lentini, Marcus Buckley and Marlene Kruikiel. Also survived by many cherished great-grandchildren.

Funeral arrangements were made by Hamel, Wickens & Troupe Funeral Home, 26 Adams St., Quincy.

Honor Your Loved One's Memory
With Flowers

cliffords.com
1.800.441.8884

Francis X. Bellotti, Jr., 64

A funeral Mass for Francis X. Bellotti Jr., 64, a lifelong Quincy resident who studied ancient history and philosophy and devoted himself to helping others, will be celebrated at 10:30 a.m. tomorrow (Friday) in St. Agatha Church, Milton.

Mr. Bellotti died Sunday in South Shore Hospital after an extended illness.

The oldest of 12 children of former Attorney General Francis X. Bellotti and his wife, Margarita, Frank, as he was known, was born in Boston. He attended St. Ann's grammar school in Quincy and North Quincy High School before graduating from the University of Massachusetts at Boston with an English degree.

He worked at the State Archives as an employee of the Secretary of State's Office. Prior to that, Mr. Bellotti worked for a number of years as a real estate agent.

A man with an insatiable curiosity for the world around him, he read extensively about ancient civilizations and religions. His interests led him on travels to Beijing, China, and to Mexico, where he formed lasting friendships with residents there.

Through the course of his studies, he developed an abiding interest in the Bahai Faith, which has its roots in 19th-century Persia and the Ottoman Empire. He was a frequent volunteer at the Boston Bahai community center on Albany Street in Boston's South End.

Long before the American populace began paying increased attention to diet and nutrition, Mr. Bellotti was devoted to health foods and holistic lifestyle. A soft-spoken, gentle man, he lived life one day at a time. Friends said he arranged his life around the ideals of humility and simplicity and that he placed others ahead of himself.

FRANCIS X. BELLOTTI, JR.

"He accepted his physical challenges with grace and without complaint," his father said. "The measure of his life was his kindness and concern for his fellow man."

In addition to his parents, he is survived by a son, Francis X. Bellotti III of Franklin; seven sisters, Kathleen Bellotti of FL, Elizabeth Tufo of Quincy, Nina Flaherty of Weymouth, Theresa Bellotti-Palmieri of Quincy, Rita Barry of Cohasset, Patricia O'Rourke of Dedham, and Sheila Bellotti of Cohasset; four brothers, Peter of Winchester, and Joseph, Thomas and Michael, all of Quincy; and numerous nieces and nephews.

A wake will be held at the church from 4 p.m. to 8 p.m. today (Thursday).

Interment at Pine Hill Cemetery, Quincy.

Memorial donations may be made to Friends of the Unborn, PO Box 692246, Quincy, MA 02269.

Sophie Basiliere, 94

A funeral service for Sophie (Sermos) Spartos Basiliere, 94, of Quincy, formerly of Somerville, Hull and Hingham, was held Jan. 9 in the Dormition of the Virgin Mary Greek Orthodox Church, Somerville.

Mrs. Basiliere died peacefully Jan. 4 at Aviv Centers for Living in Peabody.

She worked as the former party consultant at the Top of the Hub in Boston. She was born in Somerville on Dec. 2, 1920, to the late Ahelea and Evangilia Sermos.

She will be fondly remembered by her family and many friends for her love of life and fun.

Married to the late George (Sparky) A. Spartos of Somerville and the late Oliver Basiliere of Hingham. Loving mother of Dr. Anthony G. Spartos and his wife Mary Anne of Lynn and Gary G. Spartos and his wife Mary Berry-Spartos of Hingham. Adored sister of Kemon Sermos and his wife Sybil of Somerville and the late George "Hockey" Sermos and Plato "Paul" Sermos. Grandmother of Dr. Eleni O'Donovan and James, Richard, Peter, George and Paul Spartos. Great-grandmother of Niamh, Nora, Ronan and Tuiren O'Donovan and Sophia, Diane, Gary, Anthony and Eula Spartos. Loving aunt of many nieces and nephews.

Funeral arrangements were made by Cota Funeral Home, North Reading.

Interment at Woodlawn Cemetery, Everett.

Memorial donations may be made to the Aviv Foundation, 240 Lynnfield St., Peabody, MA 01960.

Ann Outerbridge, 85

Funeral services for Ann "Anna May" Outerbridge, 85, of Quincy were private.

Mrs. Outerbridge died peacefully at home Jan. 3.

She was born in Baltimore in 1929 and lived there until she moved to Dorchester after her marriage in 1948. She had lived in Quincy since 1967. Mrs. Outerbridge worked for the Social Security Administration, then the Small Business Administration in Boston for many years and had many dear co-workers. She loved her job so much that she worked full time until her retirement at the age of 82 in January 2012.

She was an inspiration to all, loved by many and will be dearly missed. She will be remembered for the kindness she always showed to others and her deep love for her family.

Beloved wife of John J. Outerbridge Sr. for 47 years until his death in 2001. She is survived by her children, Carol Demaree and her husband Michael of Framingham, Cheryl Wallace and her husband Forrest (Wally) of Quincy and John J. Outerbridge Jr. and his wife

ANN OUTERBRIDGE

Julie of West Bridgewater; and her grandchildren, Cristin and Lauren Demaree and Bryan, Meagan, Emily and Matthew Outerbridge.

Also survived by her brother, Charles Malone of MD; her aunt, Audrey O'Keefe of GA; her cousins in Baltimore, including Diana Rizers; niece Terry Outerbridge of West Roxbury, nephew Robert Outerbridge of Whitman, and her grand nieces and nephews. She was the daughter of the late Charles and Mildred Malone of MD

Arrangements were made by Keohane Funeral Home, 785 Hancock St., Quincy.

Interment at Blue Hill Cemetery, Braintree.

Memorial donations may be made to the Quincy Animal Shelter, 56 Broad Street, Quincy, MA 02169.

Elizabeth F. Bell, 82

A funeral Mass for Elizabeth F. (Sheehan) Bell, 82, of Falmouth, formerly of Canton and Savin Hill, was celebrated Monday in St. Ann's Church, Quincy.

Mrs. Bell died Jan. 7 after a long illness.

She was a graduate of Cathedral High School, Class of 1950. She worked for the phone company and the Canton Public Schools. Some of her favorite things were a cold glass of water, a sunny day, birdwatching and spending time with her friends and family.

Beloved wife of Robert Bell. Loving mother of Brian Bell of DC, Eileen Kalinowski and husband Jim of NH, Elizabeth Normanly of Marshfield, Bob Bell and wife Michelle of Quincy. Sister of Mary Diebel, Peggy Cronin, Ann Canavan, John, Gerard, and the late Joseph Sheehan.

ELIZABETH F. BELL

Loving grandmother to Aidan, Declan, Teresa, Meaghan, Julia, Elizabeth and John. Beloved aunt of many.

Funeral arrangements were made by Keohane Funeral Home, 785 Hancock St., Quincy.

Private interment.

Memorial donations may be made to VNA Hospice, 434 Route 134, South Dennis, MA 02660 or Catholic TV, PO Box 9196, 34 Chestnut St., Watertown, MA 02471.

Ellen M. Gorry, 95

A funeral service for Ellen M. (Syvertsen) Gorry, 95, of Quincy was held Monday in Quincy Point Congregational Church.

Mrs. Gorry died Jan. 7.

Born in Norway, she was raised and educated on Long Island, N.Y., and lived in Quincy for 51 years, 22 of those years at 1000 Southern Artery. Mrs. Gorry worked for 20 years as an electronics technician for Sigma Instruments, retiring in 1984.

She was the much loved and loving mother of Bonita Canfield of Weymouth, Kathleen Osborne of AZ, Nancy Gurny of Quincy, Frank Gorry of SC, Susan Bottary of Newton and the late Laurie Meuse of Tewksbury. She is also survived by her grandchildren, great-grandchildren, great-great grandchildren and her dear friends, Heather Shattuck Kamborian, Kathy Krause and Kate Whooley.

Funeral arrangements were made by Dennis Sweeney Funeral Home, 74 Elm St., Quincy.

Interment at Pine Hill Cemetery, Quincy.

Memorial donations may be made to Hancock Park Recreational Dept., 164 Parkingway, Quincy, MA 02169.

Frank G. Anderson, 87

A funeral for Frank G. Anderson, 87, a lifelong Quincy resident, was held Jan. 10 in Covenant Church, Quincy.

Mr. Anderson died Jan. 6 following a period of declining health.

A retired supervisor with the U.S. Postal Service, he had served his country with honor in the U.S. Navy during both WWII and the Korean War. Born in Quincy on Dec. 21, 1927, he was the only son born to the late Frank L. and Alice N. (Cote) Anderson, and was preceded in death by his sisters Anna Sweeney and Rita Sweatt.

Mr. Anderson will be remembered as a loving husband, father, grandfather and great-grandfather who had an incredibly strong work ethic. For 40 years he worked two full time jobs in order to provide for his family. In addition to his supervisor responsibilities with the USPS, he also worked as a mutual clerk with Suffolk Downs, taking public transportation from Quincy all the way to the racetrack. He enjoyed walking, gardening, traveling and spending time with his family. He was also an avid New England sports fan.

Loving husband of 60 years to Florence A. (Abbott) Anderson. Father of Steven H. Anderson and his wife Theresa of Mansfield,

FRANK G. ANDERSON

David F. Anderson and his wife Lisa of Raynham, and Elizabeth A. Dano and her husband Gustav of Abington. Grandfather of Jennifer Parks, Jacqueline Zmuda, Christopher, Molly and Matthew Anderson, and Kristen, Sarah and Katherine Dano. Great-grandfather of Ayden Zmuda and Charlotte Parks. Brother-in-Law of Hugh Sweatt of CA. Also survived by their unofficially adopted children: Nate and Lynda Hogan of ID and FL.

Funeral arrangements were made by Hamel, Wickens & Troupe Funeral Home, 26 Adams St., Quincy.

Interment at Mount Wollaston Cemetery, Quincy.

Memorial donations may be made to the New England Seafarer's Mission, 1 Black Falcon Ave., Boston, MA 02210 or to Alzheimer's Foundation of America, 322 Eighth Ave., 7th floor, New York, NY 10001.

Mark Buchanan, 55

A Mass of Christian Burial for Mark Buchanan, 55, of Quincy was celebrated Jan. 10 in St. Ann Parish, Quincy.

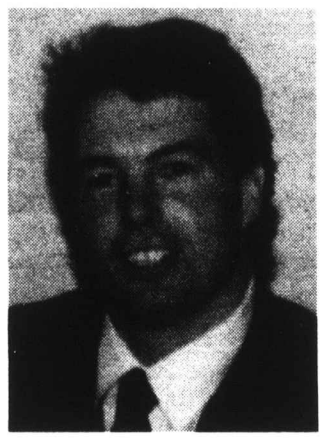
Mr. Buchanan died Jan. 4 of natural causes.

He will be remembered for his genuine personality and beautiful smile, more importantly his love for his family. Born and raised in Quincy, he was the oldest boy of a family of five and Mr. Buchanan took much pride in watching over his siblings.

He graduated from Quincy High School and was known for his love of football and his athleticism. He played football for Quincy High School, the University of New Haven, and played semi pro football for the Hanna Club. Mr. Buchanan was also a proud member of Local 88 (Sand Hogs) for many years. He will be remembered for his love of Reggae music, especially Bob Marley.

More than anything Mr. Buchanan will be remembered as a family man. He was very proud of his three children. His children will remember their dad as funny, loving and the gift to talk. His family would say "he could talk a dog off a meat wagon." His voice and spirit will be sadly missed.

He is survived by his three children, Madison,



MARK BUCHANAN

Myles and Isabelle Buchanan. Devoted brother of Lauri and her husband Peter Folkins of Quincy, Leah and her husband Randy Scheffler of Foxborough, Brian Buchanan of Quincy and the late Scott Buchanan. Son of the late James and Anne Buchanan. He is also survived by his nieces Brittany Folkins and Kayla Scheffler and nephew Kyle Scheffler.

Mr. Buchanan's family would like to thank everyone for their love and support.

Funeral arrangements were made by Lydon Chapel for Funerals, 644 Hancock St., Quincy.

Memorial donations may be made to a granite bench in Mr. Buchanan's memory. Please forward donations to Eastern Bank, c/o Madison Buchanan, 731 Hancock Street, Quincy, MA 02170.

Margaret M. McMillen, 90

A funeral Mass for Margaret M. (O'Brien) McMillen, 90, formerly of Quincy, was celebrated Jan. 10 in St. Ann's Church, Quincy.

Mrs. McMillen died Jan. 4 at her home in North Attleboro.

Born Nov. 10, 1924, she was the daughter of the late John O'Brien and Bridget (Clougherty) O'Brien Thayer. Mrs. McMillen was employed in the insurance industry for many years. After retiring from Kemper Insurance in 1986, she and her husband Fran enjoyed traveling both in the United States and Europe. Her fondest memories were of trips to Ireland to visit with relatives.

Mrs. McMillen had a deep love for her family and cherished her lifelong friendships. Her passion for people led to an easy acquaintance with whomever she met, and her home was always open for family gatherings and out-of-town guests. With a quick wit and love of laughter, she enlivened many a long conversation over a cup of tea.

Beloved wife of the late Francis S. McMillen. Loving mother of Francis McMillen Jr. and his wife Joanne of Cohasset; Dianne McMillen and her spouse Ellen Gagnon of NH; Anne

MARGARET M. McMILLEN

McMillen-Jackson and her husband Chris of FL; Linda Wanless and her husband Bill of North Attleboro; Gregory McMillen and his wife Meg of Quincy; and Karen McMillen Cahill and her husband Paul of Mansfield. Adoring grandmother of Michael McMillen; Lauren, Hannah and Matthew Wanless; Erin and Teresa McMillen; and Aidan, Bridget and Tess Cahill. Dear sister of Rosemary Mahoney of Randolph; John O'Brien of CA; and the late Mary Kelley, Joseph O'Brien, Paul O'Brien, Patricia McEachern, Nancy O'Brien, Edward O'Brien and Francis O'Brien. Also survived by many nieces, nephews and dear friends.

Funeral arrangements were made by Keohane Funeral Home, 785 Hancock St., Quincy.

Interment at Blue Hill Cemetery, Braintree.

More Obituaries Online at www.thequincysun.com

I just don't know what to do...

When a death happens, nobody really does... So one of the best things anybody can do is put some plans together ahead of time.

John Keohane

Some even set up a payment plan, too. At Keohane Funeral and Cremation Service we've helped countless people with it. Then they're not guessing anymore– they know what to do.

785 Hancock Street
Quincy

333 Hancock Street
North Quincy

21 Emerald Street
Hingham

Keohane
FUNERAL & CREMATION SERVICE

www.Keohane.com
1-800-KEOHANE

OBITUARIES

John T. DiTullio, 94

A funeral Mass for John T. DiTullio, 94, of Holbrook and formerly Quincy was celebrated yesterday (Wednesday) in St. Joseph's Church, Quincy.

Mr. DiTullio died peacefully Jan. 9 at the Alliance HealthCare Center at Braintree.

He was born, raised, and educated in Quincy. Mr. DiTullio had lived in Holbrook for more than 55 years, previously living in Quincy. He was employed as a painter and belonged to

JOHN T. DiTULLIO

Painters Local 577 for more than 65 years.

Mr. DiTullio enjoyed dancing and was an avid Red Sox and Celtics fan. He also made countless trips to the casinos where he especially enjoyed playing blackjack.

Beloved husband of the late Dorothy I. (Putnam) DiTullio. Devoted son of the late Thomas and Filomena (DiNanno) DiTullio. Loving brother of Nellio DiTullio and his wife Shirley of Quincy and was predeceased by Louis DiTullio, Hazel Mancini, Susan DiTullio, Andy DiTullio, Victor DiTullio and Peter DiTullio. Dear uncle of Donna R. Lowd and her husband Christopher of Hanover as well as many nieces and nephews.

Funeral arrangements were made by Sweeney Brothers Home for Funerals, 1 Independence Ave., Quincy.

Interment at Blue Hill Cemetery, Braintree.

Memorial donations may be made to the Standish Humane Society, PO Box 634, Duxbury, MA 02331.

LEGAL NOTICE

CITATION ON PETITION FOR FORMAL ADJUDICATION
Docket No. NO14P3483EA
Commonwealth of Massachusetts
The Trial Court
Probate and Family Court
Norfolk Probate and Family Court
35 Shawmut Road
Canton, MA 02021
(781) 830-1200
Estate of:
Earl William Barrus
Date of Death:
November 28, 2014

To all interested persons:

A Petition has been filed by: Dianne Pratt of Quincy, MA requesting that the Court enter a formal Decree and Order of testacy and for such other relief as requested in the Petition.

And also requesting that: Dianne Pratt of Quincy, MA be appointed as Personal Representative(s) of said estate to serve Without Surety on the bond.

You have the right to obtain a copy of the Petition from the Petitioner or at the Court. You have a right to object to this proceeding. To do so, you or your attorney must file a written appearance and objection at this Court before: 10:00 A.M. on 02/04/2015. This is NOT a hearing date, but a deadline by which you must file a written appearance and objection if you object to this proceeding. If you fail to file a timely written appearance and objection followed by an Affidavit of Objections within thirty (30) days of the return date, action may be taken without further notice to you.

The estate is being administered under formal procedure by the Personal Representative under the Massachusetts Uniform Probate Code without supervision by the Court. Inventory and accounts are not required to be filed with the Court, but recipients are entitled to notice regarding the administration from the Personal Representative and can petition the Court in any matter relating to the estate, including distribution of assets and expenses of administration .

WITNESS, Hon. John D. Casey, First Justice of this Court.

Date: December 31, 2014
PATRICK W. McDERMOTT
Register of Probate

01/15/15

LEGAL NOTICE

CITATION ON PETITION FOR FORMAL ADJUDICATION
Docket No. NO15P0003EA
Commonwealth of Massachusetts
The Trial Court
Probate and Family Court
Norfolk Probate and Family Court
35 Shawmut Road
Canton, MA 02021
(781) 830-1200
Estate of:
Frances C. Wieners
Date of Death:
August 21, 2014

To all interested persons:

A Petition has been filed by: Denise M. Geggatt of Bridgewater, MA requesting that the Court enter a formal Decree and Order of testacy and for such other relief as requested in the Petition.

And also requesting that: Denise M. Geggatt of Bridgewater, MA be appointed as Personal Representative(s) of said estate to serve Without Surety on the bond.

You have the right to obtain a copy of the Petition from the Petitioner or at the Court. You have a right to object to this proceeding. To do so, you or your attorney must file a written appearance and objection at this Court before: 10:00 A.M. on 02/04/2015. This is NOT a hearing date, but a deadline by which you must file a written appearance and objection if you object to this proceeding. If you fail to file a timely written appearance and objection followed by an Affidavit of Objections within thirty (30) days of the return date, action may be taken without further notice to you.

The estate is being administered under formal procedure by the Personal Representative under the Massachusetts Uniform Probate Code without supervision by the Court. Inventory and accounts are not required to be filed with the Court, but recipients are entitled to notice regarding the administration from the Personal Representative and can petition the Court in any matter relating to the estate, including distribution of assets and expenses of administration .

WITNESS, Hon. John D. Casey, First Justice of this Court.

Date: January 2, 2015
PATRICK W. McDERMOTT
Register of Probate

01/15/15

Helen Wishart, 94

A funeral service for Helen L. (Niemi) Wishart, 94, of Weymouth and formerly Quincy was held Jan. 8 in C.C. Shepherd Funeral Home, South Weymouth.

Mrs. Wishart died at home surrounded by her loving family Jan. 5.

She was born and grew up in Quincy, graduated from Quincy High School in 1939 and lived in Weymouth for the last 62 years. During World War II she was a secretary at the Fore River Shipyard.

Mrs. Wishart was devoted to her family and enjoyed reading and vacationing with her family at her Cape house.

Helen was the wife of the late William E. Wishart Sr. and is survived by her two children: Susan J. Elsner of Pembroke and William E. Wishart Jr. of S. Weymouth. She also leaves her five grandchildren: David S. Elsner Jr. of Pembroke, Deborah A. Dyer of Pembroke, Mark E. Elsner of Plymouth, Sheri L. Ham of Hingham and Stacy L. Blasser of PA and her 10 great-grandchildren. Predeceased by her daughter, Janet Blasser.

Interment at Mount Hope Cemetery, South Weymouth.

More Obituaries Online at www.thequincysun.com

Maureen K. Cox, 66

A funeral Mass for Maureen K. Cox, 66, of Wollaston was celebrated Tuesday in Sacred Heart Church, Quincy.

Ms. Cox died Jan. 9.

Born in Boston, she was a graduate of Cardinal Cushing High School in South Boston and Eastern Nazarene College. Ms. Cox worked for NSTAR for 15 years before retiring in 2014. She was a member of Connected Catholics and enjoyed crafts, baking and collecting antiques. She will be remembered for her kind and gentle heart and her beautiful smile.

Above all things Ms. Cox loved her four boys and her family; they were all truly the cornerstone of her life. She will be missed by all who had the pleasure to have known her.

MAUREEN K. COX

Beloved daughter of William and Mildred Cox of Quincy. Loving mother of Robert Bowes and his wife Elise of Weymouth, Kevin Bowes and his wife Laura of Canton, Brendan Bowes and his wife Lauren of Canton and Sean Bowes of Wollaston. Sister of Michael Cox of Centerville, William Cox of Wollaston, Joseph Cox of Quincy, Brendan Cox of Wollaston and the late Neil and Patrick Cox. Cherished grandmother of Robert, Jr., Luke, Thomas, Daniel and William. Also lovingly survived by several nieces and nephews.

Funeral arrangements were made by Keohane Funeral Home, 785 Hancock St., Quincy.

Interment at a later date.

Memorial donations may be made to Dana Farber Cancer Institute, PO Box 849168, Boston, MA 02284.

Vicki F. Crowley

A funeral Mass for Vicki F. Crowley of Quincy was celebrated Monday in Immaculate Conception Church, Weymouth.

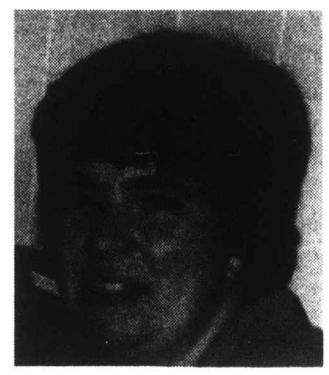
Ms. Crowley died Jan. 6.

Daughter of Joanne F. (Burke) McLean and her husband, Lincoln, of Weymouth and the late Francis J. Crowley. Sister of Francis J. Crowley of Weymouth. Beloved Niece of Joyce Dunkle of Quincy. Loving aunt of Matthew, Christopher, Kylie, Thomas, Robert, and Kevin.

Funeral arrangements were made by McDonald Keohane Funeral Home, South Weymouth.

Interment at Cedar Grove Cemetery, Dorchester.

Memorial donations may be made to the charity of your choice.



VICKY F. CROWLEY

Grace H. Granahan

A funeral service for Grace Hazel Granahan of Quincy and Florida will be held at 11 a.m. tomorrow (Friday) in Keohane Funeral Home, 785 Hancock St., Quincy.

Mrs. Granahan died Sunday.

She enjoyed crafts and was skilled in knitting and crocheting. She was an avid bowler. Mrs. Granahan was a Gold Star mother due to the loss of her son in the Vietnam War. She was happiest when surrounded by friends and family.

Beloved wife of the late Jack Granahan (U.S. Army WWII). Devoted mother of Lt. Michael Granahan (Quincy Fire Department) and his wife Karen of Hanover and the late Lcpl. John W. Granahan (KIA Vietnam), the late Kathleen Bynoe and her husband George and the late Kevin Granahan. Cherished "Gee-Gee" of Christopher Bynoe, Tracey Desiato, Colleen Granahan, John Granahan, Michael Granahan and great-grandson Logan Bynoe. Loving sister of Richard Jenkins of NY and the late Marie Mastroianni and William Jenkins. Dear aunt of Lisa Higgins, Linda Gabrielli and Michelle Hebshie, all of Brockton. Sister-in-law of Margaret Segerstedt of Quincy.

Visiting hours are 4-8 p.m. today (Thursday) in the funeral home.

Interment at Pine Hill Cemetery, Quincy.

Memorial donations may be made to the Alzheimer's Assn., MA Chapter, 480 Pleasant St., Watertown, MA 02472.

Leo F. Burns III, 55

A funeral Mass for Leo F. Burns III, 55, of Quincy was celebrated Tuesday in St. John the Baptist Church, Quincy.

Mr. Burns died suddenly Jan. 8.

Originally from Dorchester, he lived in Quincy for the past 12 years. Mr. Burns was a U.S. Army veteran and a retired Boston firefighter.

The son of the late Barbara (Grealish) and Leo F. Burns, Jr., he was the loving father of Leo C. Burns of Dorchester; brother of Jack Burns of Weymouth, Lisa MacKenzie of Quincy and Michael Burns of NYC; and is also survived by his nieces and nephews, Christopher, Torrey, Ryan and Casey Burns and Kevin, Jordan and Jillian MacKenzie and his grand nephew Christopher A. Burns.

Funeral arrangements were made by Dennis Sweeney Funeral Home, 74 Elm St., Quincy.

Memorial donations may be made to the Boston Fireman's Relief Fund, 115 Southampton St., Boston, MA 02118.

Servideo T. Buenaventura

A funeral Mass for Servideo T. Buenaventura, Esq., of Quincy was celebrated Jan. 10 in St. Mary's Church, Quincy.

Mr. Buenaventura died suddenly at Quincy Medical Center Jan. 4.

Beloved husband of 47 years to Teresita M. (Miranda) Buenaventura, MD. Loving father to Maria Buenaventura and her husband Matthew Starensier of NY and Joel Buenaventura, Esq., of Quincy. Devoted grandfather "Lolo" to Micah Xavier Starensier. Dedicated brother to surviving siblings Pascuala Masa of IL and Pretextato Buenaventura of CA.

Funeral arrangements were made by Keohane Funeral Home, 785 Hancock St., Quincy.

Interment at Pine Hill Cemetery, Quincy.

Memorial donations may be made to Quincy Asian Resources, Inc., 1509 Hancock St., Quincy, MA 02169 and/or St. Mary Parish, 95 Crescent St., Quincy, MA 02169.

OBITUARIES

Norma L. Carlson, 82

NORMA L. CARLSON

A celebration of life for Norma L. (Perry) Carlson, 82, of Braintree was privately held.

Mrs. Carlson died at home in Braintree on Dec. 26, surrounded by her family.

She was born in Quincy and graduated from Quincy High School in 1950. She is survived by her loving husband and best friend, Edgar Carlson. They were married in the Army Chapel at Fort Sill, Okla., on Valentine's Day in 1951 and spent a total of more than 66 happy and wonderful years together.

Mrs. Carlson was a dedicated employee of the Braintree Public Schools for many years. She worked with students with special needs and learning disabilities and had a very special affinity and connection with them. She loved to travel and visited many countries around the world. Mrs. Carlson was a longtime and avid fan of the Boston Bruins.

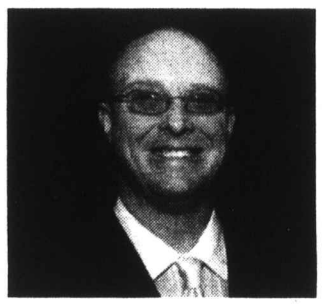
She was an extraordinary mother to her children: Richard Carlson and his wife, Janet, of Hopkinton; David Carlson and his wife, Dy, of Belgium; Peter Carlson and his wife, Deborah, of Braintree; and Cynthia Carlson and her boyfriend, Christopher Cote, of Plymouth. She was a loving "Nana" to her beloved grandchildren: the late Erik, Erika, Elise, Jeffrey, Andrew and Dylan Carlson. She also leaves many nieces and nephews and was a devoted aunt to them.

She is survived by her sister, Lorrayne Paolucci of Quincy, and her brother, Robert Perry of FL. She was also the sister of the late Denise Austin of Abington and the late Janet Blanchard of Kingston.

Arrangements were made by McDonald Keohane Funeral Home, Weymouth.

Memorial donations may be made to the Best Buddies of Massachusetts Foundation at bestbuddiesmassachusetts.org.

Greg P. Taylor, 53



GREG P. TAYLOR

Visiting hours for Greg P. Taylor, 53, of Quincy will be held tomorrow (Friday) 5-7 p.m. in Lydon Chapel for Funerals, 644 Hancock St., Quincy.

Mr. Taylor died suddenly at home Jan. 1.

He was born in Rhode Island and also lived in Irvine, Calif., for some time. He grew up on Cape Cod where his parents owned the Jolly Captain Motor Lodge in Yarmouth. He was a graduate of Dennis-Yarmouth Regional High School and attended Cape Cod Community College.

Mr. Taylor will be remembered for his genuine personality and smile, his love of life and determination to fight through his health issues with the kindness and support of all the doctors at Massachusetts General Hospital. He loved to cook and often his friends would benefit from his passion. He loved to eat out, ride his motorcycle, garden, and was an avid New England Patriots fan.

Predeceased by his father Walter L. Taylor and his brother Jeffery Taylor. He is survived by his mother Nancy P. Taylor and sister Janet Taylor, both of Cape Cod. He is also survived by loving relatives on both the East and West Coasts and many good friends.

O'Donnell Thanks Food Drive Donors

Norfolk County Register of Deeds William P. O'Donnell thanks all who contributed to the Registry's Annual Food Drive.

"Thanks to all who contributed to the Registry's Annual Food Drive," O'Donnell said. "While the economy shows signs of improvement, many of our fellow citizens face continued economic hardship, such as rent payments, medical bills, heating costs and food bills. I am thankful that so many Norfolk County residents remembered to help their fellow citizens who are in need of assistance.

"I am also appreciative of the Registry's employees who helped make the food drive a great success. The non-perishable food collected during the food drive will help designated Norfolk County food pantries feed their clients.

"While the holiday food drive has ended, it does not stop hunger from being a year round problem. I am still encouraging residents to drop off food supplies at their local pantries across Norfolk County. Pantries are requesting canned goods, breakfast cereals, pasta, sauces, toiletries and paper products." O'Donnell added.

Residents in need of assistance can contact the Registry of Deeds Customer Service Department via telephone at (781) 461-6101, or on the web at www.norfolkdeeds.org.

Free Adult Basic Education, H.S. Equivalency Test Prep Classes

Training Resources of America, Inc. (TRA) is actively recruiting for our evening Adult Basic Education (ABE) / High School Equivalency Test (HiSET) Preparation program.

The program is available at no charge to residents of the South Shore aged 16 and over who wish to increase their reading, writing, math, and work readiness skills and prepare for their High School Equivalency Certificate. Staff will also help students transition to skills training, college & employment opportunities. Classes run Tuesday and Thursday from 4:30 to 8 p.m.

For more information, call Mike or Nate at 617-773-1470 or visit Training Resources of America, Inc., 1515 Hancock St., Suite 110, Quincy, (entrance on side of building at 58 Ross Way) on Tuesday and Thursday nights from 5 to 7 p.m.

TRA-Quincy is also currently recruiting for the ACHIEVE! Youth Opportunity, YouthBuild and the Young Parents programs, all of which are available at no cost to area youth who meet eligibility requirements.

Call for program specifics.

Your Social Security Q & A

Cont'd From Page 17

pay stubs to Social Security at the beginning of each month. When you report your earnings, make sure to include overtime, vacation pay, and bonuses. If your income changes because of a job loss or promotion, Social Security will likely either increase or decrease your payments.

Learn more by reading the fact sheet, Reporting Wages When You Receive Supplemental Security Income (SSI), at www.socialsecurity.gov/pubs.

Question:

I get Supplemental Security Income (SSI) because I am elderly and have no income. My sister recently died and left me the money she had in a savings account. Will this extra money affect my SSI benefits? Will my SSI payments stop?

Answer:

The money inherited from your sister is considered income for the month you receive it and could make you ineligible for that month, depending on the amount of the inheritance. If you keep the money into the next month, it then becomes a part of your resources. You cannot have more than $2,000 in resources and remain eligible for SSI benefits ($3,000 for a couple). Call us at 1-800-772-1213 (TTY 1-800-325-0778) to report the inheritance. A representative will tell you how your eligibility and payment amount might be affected. Learn more by visiting us online at www.socialsecurity.gov.

Question:

My parents recently moved into a retirement community and they are signing their house over to me. Can I still get Supplemental Security Income (SSI) or will home ownership make me ineligible?

Answer:

You can own a home and still receive SSI as long as you live in the home you own. In most cases, when determining SSI eligibility we don't count as a resource the home you own and live in or the car you use. For more information about SSI and Social Security, visit www.socialsecurity.gov, or call us at 1-800-772-1213 (TTY 1-800-325-0778).

MEDICARE

Question:

I didn't enroll in Medicare Part B back when my Part A started a few years ago. Can I enroll now?

Answer:

Yes — but if you want to do it this year, you'll have to act soon. The general enrollment period for Medicare Part B, medical insurance, began January 1 and runs through March 31. Keep in mind that although there is no monthly premium for Medicare Part A, there will be a premium for your Medicare Part B. And in most cases, that premium goes up each 12-month period you were eligible for it and elected not to enroll. To find out more about Medicare, visit www.medicare.gov or www.socialsecurity.gov and select the "Medicare" link.

Question:

I applied for Medicare benefits last week. How can I check the status of my application?

Answer:

Checking the status of your application is easy. If you applied for benefits, you can check the status at our secure website, secure.ssa.gov/apps6z/IAPS/applicationStatus, but you must wait 5 days from the date you originally filed. You will need to enter your Social Security number and the confirmation number you received when you filed your application. Your application status also shows the date that we received your application, any requests for additional documents, the address of the office processing your application, and whether a decision has been made about your benefits. If you are unable to check your status online, you can call us at 1-800-772-1213 (TTY 1-800-325-0778), Monday through Friday from 7 a.m. to 7 p.m.

Quincy Boys Sweep Three

Cont'd From Page 21

get here from where I came from."

Rowland's parents, Patrick and Kathleen, saw their son make his first varsity bucket.

"They just told me how proud they were. They said they knew I could do it all the time," said Rowland.

"I was ecstatic," said Parry. "Silver Lake is a good team, and they had their starters in when Mike made his shot. He earned his points against a good team."

One of the main stories of the Middleboro game was well told in Quincy's leading scorer, Dyreke Johnson. Johnson came off the bench, scored 14 points, pulled down six rebounds, blocked four shots , and had two assists. In the second quarter alone, he had eight points, three blocks and an assist. He is an athlete who can be a force under the basket.

"He's such a good athlete that I don't think he realizes how good he can be. He has a nice shooting touch as well. He just needs to be aggressive under the basket," said Parry. "Scott Mele (eight points) also played well for us. He went to the basket and was tough underneath. We've been looking for someone who can swing between guard and forward. Scott can give that to us."

The starters only played the first period and the first three minutes of the third. Lam had 11 while Evans and Myers added eight apiece. But the story about this team is never about points. It is always about passing. The starters had 12 assists in 14 baskets. A 50 percent ratio between assists and field goals is considered excellent. 12 out of 14? You do the math.

"We've had over 20 assists twice this season and in one game, we had 25," said Parry.

It is this passing, this connection between five senior starters who give new meaning to the word unselfish, which has been the highlight of the season as it nears its midpoint. The ball moves, the points are spread around, the game is played properly.

"Against Silver Lake, we had three players with 19 points apiece. We've had games with five starters in double figures. You don't get that kind of balance unless you pass the ball," said Parry. "It makes us hard to defend. Even against a zone, our passing is the key. The interior passing between James and J.T. is outstanding."

Another encouraging sign has been Myers' scoring over the past week. He was in double figures against Plymouth South and Silver Lake. He had a pair of threes against Middleboro.

"He's got his shot back," said Parry. "If he and Colin are hitting, it opens up the middle for J.T. And James.

The most pleasant surprise over the first half of the season has been the play of senior Tyler Beach at point guard. Beach gained experience off the bench last year. He has defended well, and while he seldom makes the flashy feed, he gets the offense going with solid, fundamental passing to the open man in the right spots.

"He makes the pass before the assist which is just as important," said Parry. "He is a tough-minded athlete, and the other players recognize this. He's run our offense well and when we've needed shutdown defense against opposing point guards, he's given it to us."

If there is an area where Parry would like to see improvement, it is on defense.

"We need to tweak some things here and there to improve our defense. I'd like to see us get more turnovers out of our press," he said.

Against Middleboro, Kamalu (six), Kyle Murphy (five), Greg Paulo (four), Quinn Evans (three), Rowland (three), Beach (two) and Bain (two) also cracked the scoring column.

Quincy hosts Hingham Friday.

CLASSIFIEDS

LEGAL NOTICE

CITATION GIVING NOTICE OF PETITION FOR APPOINTMENT OF GUARDIAN FOR INCAPACITATED PERSON PURSUANT TO G.L. c. 190B, §5-304
Commonwealth of Massachusetts
The Trial Court
Probate and Family Court
Norfolk Probate and Family Court
35 Shawmut Road
Canton, MA 02021
Docket No. NO14P3424GD
In the matter of:
Marguerite Hirtle
Of: North Quincy, MA
RESPONDENT
Alleged Incapacitated Person

To the named Respondent and all other interested persons, a petition has been filed by Marina Bay Skilled Nursing Center of North Quincy, MA in the above captioned matter alleging that Marguerite Hirtle is in need of a Guardian and requesting that Marina Bay Skilled Nursing Center of North Quincy, MA (or some other suitable person) be appointed as Guardian to serve Without Surety on the bond.

The petition asks the court to determine that the Respondent is incapacitated, that the appointment of a Guardian is necessary, and that the proposed Guardian is appropriate. The petition is on file with this court and may contain a request for certain specific authority.

You have the right to object to this proceeding. If you wish to do so, you or your attorney must file a written appearance at this court on or before 10:00 A.M. on the return date of 01/28/2015. This day is NOT a hearing date, but a deadline date by which you have to file the written appearance if you object to the petition. If you fail to file the written appearance by the return date, action may be taken in this matter without further notice to you. In addition to filing the written appearance, you or your attorney must file a written affidavit stating the specific facts and grounds of your objection within 30 days after the return date.

IMPORTANT NOTICE

The outcome of this proceeding may limit or completely take away the above-named person's right to make decisions about personal affairs or financial affairs or both. The above-named person has the right to ask for a lawyer. Anyone may make this request on behalf of the above-named person. If the above-named person cannot afford a lawyer, one may be appointed at State expense.

WITNESS, Hon. John D Casey, First Justice of this Court.

Date: December 24, 2014
PATRICK W. McDERMOTT
Register of Probate
1/15/15

LEGAL NOTICE

CITATION GIVING NOTICE OF PETITION FOR APPOINTMENT OF CONSERVATOR OR OTHER PROTECTIVE ORDER PURSUANT TO G.L. c. 190B, §5-304 & §5-405
Commonwealth of Massachusetts
The Trial Court
Probate and Family Court
Norfolk Probate and Family Court
35 Shawmut Road
Canton, MA 02021
Docket No. NO14P3467PM
In the matter of:
Joseph V Bottari, Jr.
Of: Quincy, MA
RESPONDENT
(Person to be Protected/ Minor)

To the named Respondent and all other interested persons, a petition has been filed by Joan Lunt of Scituate, MA in the above captioned matter alleging that Joseph V Bottari, Jr. is in need of a Conservator or other protective order and requesting that Joan Lunt of Scituate, MA (or some other suitable person) be appointed as Conservator to serve Without Surety on the bond.

The petition asks the court to determine that the Respondent is disabled, that a protective order or appointment of a Conservator is necessary, and that the proposed Conservator is appropriate. The petition is on file with this court.

You have the right to object to this proceeding. If you wish to do so, you or your attorney must file a written appearance at this court on or before 10:00 A.M. on the return date of 02/04/2015. This day is NOT a hearing date, but a deadline date by which you have to file the written appearance if you object to the petition. If you fail to file the written appearance by the return date, action may be taken in this matter without further notice to you. In addition to filing the written appearance, you or your attorney must file a written affidavit stating the specific facts and grounds of your objection within 30 days after the return date.

IMPORTANT NOTICE

The outcome of this proceeding may limit or completely take away the above-named person's right to make decisions about personal affairs or financial affairs or both. The above-named person has the right to ask for a lawyer. Anyone may make this request on behalf of the above-named person. If the above-named person cannot afford a lawyer, one may be appointed at State expense.

WITNESS, Hon. John D Casey, First Justice of this Court.

Date: December 30, 2014
PATRICK W. McDERMOTT
Register of Probate

1/15/15

LEGAL NOTICE

CITATION GIVING NOTICE OF PETITION FOR APPOINTMENT OF GUARDIAN FOR INCAPACITATED PERSON PURSUANT TO G.L. c. 190B, §5-304
Commonwealth of Massachusetts
The Trial Court
Probate and Family Court
Norfolk Probate and Family Court
35 Shawmut Road
Canton, MA 02021
Docket No. NO14P3466GD
In the matter of:
Joseph V Bottari, Jr.
Of: Quincy, MA
RESPONDENT
Alleged Incapacitated Person

To the named Respondent and all other interested persons, a petition has been filed by Joan Lunt of Scituate, MA in the above captioned matter alleging that Joseph V Bottari, Jr. is in need of a Guardian and requesting that Joan Lunt of Scituate, MA (or some other suitable person) be appointed as Guardian to serve Without Surety on the bond.

The petition asks the court to determine that the Respondent is incapacitated, that the appointment of a Guardian is necessary, and that the proposed Guardian is appropriate. The petition is on file with this court and may contain a request for certain specific authority.

You have the right to object to this proceeding. If you wish to do so, you or your attorney must file a written appearance at this court on or before 10:00 A.M. on the return date of 02/04/2015. This day is NOT a hearing date, but a deadline date by which you have to file the written appearance if you object to the petition. If you fail to file the written appearance by the return date, action may be taken in this matter without further notice to you. In addition to filing the written appearance, you or your attorney must file a written affidavit stating the specific facts and grounds of your objection within 30 days after the return date.

IMPORTANT NOTICE

The outcome of this proceeding may limit or completely take away the above-named person's right to make decisions about personal affairs or financial affairs or both. The above-named person has the right to ask for a lawyer. Anyone may make this request on behalf of the above-named person. If the above-named person cannot afford a lawyer, one may be appointed at State expense.

WITNESS, Hon. John D Casey, First Justice of this Court.

Date: December 30, 2014
PATRICK W. McDERMOTT
Register of Probate

1/15/15

Save Gas & Money, Shop Locally

Want to pick up a copy of The Quincy Sun?

Here are stores in Quincy that sell it on their newsstands:

Quincy Market
Corner of Temple & Washington St.

Goodie's Store
1250 Hancock St., Presidents Place

New Store on the Block
1183 Hancock St., Quincy Ctr. T Station

Hancock Tobacco
1500 Hancock St.

Mignosa's Fruit Basket
138 Granite St.

Rite-Aid
132 Granite St.

Coffee Break Café
77 Parkingway

Hancock Park Lobby Shop
164 Parkingway

Franklin St. BP
60 Franklin St.

7-11
78 Franklin St.

CVS
178 Washington St. Braintree

Shop N Save Liquors
20 Independence Ave.

Donut + Donuts
33 Scammell St.

Presidential Liquors
Scammel St.

Tedeschi's
85 Quincy Ave.

Daily Mart
291 Quincy Ave.

Roche Brothers
The Falls

Walgreens
418 Quincy Ave.

Artery Grocery
1000 Southern Artery

Dairy Farm
330 Washington St.

Tedeschi's
230 Washington St.

Stop & Shop
Southern Artery

CVS
Southern Artery

Baxter's Pharmacy
385 Washington St.

Walgreens
550 Adams St.

Tedeschi's
650 Adams St.

7-11
Adams St.

Village Comm. Market
100 Willard St.

Copeland Liquors
273 Copeland St.

Granite Mart
308 Willard St.

7-11
Copeland St.

Joe's Place
260 Centre St.

Alba Deli
1089 Hancock St.

Corner Food Market
1060 Hancock St.

Dairy Mart
200 Sea St.

Adams Shore Supermarket
494 Sea St.

Palmer Street Market
231 Palmer St.

Bernie's General Store
1147 Sea St.

7-11
721 Hancock St.

Beale St. Smoke Shop
17 Beale St.

CVS
42 Beale St.

Coffee Break Café
12 Old Colony Ave.

Supreme Liquors
615 Hancock St.

S & A Convenience Store
498 Hancock St.

Hannaford Brothers
475 Hancock St.

Mullaney's Variety
205 W. Squantum St.

Stop & Shop
65 Newport Ave.

7-11
363 Hancock St.

Red Apple Food Shop
48 Billings Rd.

Sam's Variety
125 Billings Rd.

Dave's General Store
66 Newbury Ave.

Atlantic Market & Liquors
247 Atlantic Ave.

Carmine's Café
69 Huckins Ave.

Tedeschi's
751 E. Squantum St.

W. Elm Variety
139 West Elm Ave.

Lucky Shamrock
265 Beale St.

Andre's Store
20 Brook St.

MISCELLANEOUS

LAND FOR SALE
NYS LAND SALE ADIRONDACK TIMBERLANDS 80-2000 acre hunting clubs. Starting at $385/acre. Financing available. Call 1-800-229-7843. Or visit www.LandandCamps.com

MISCELLANEOUS
SAWMILLS from only $4397.00-MAKE & SAVE MONEY with your own bandmill-Cut lumber any dimension. In stock ready to ship. FREE Info/DVD: www.NorwoodSawmills.com 1-800-578-1363 Ext.300N

MISCELLANEOUS

Tiny house AUCTION, Vermont post & beam sheds, Livestock shelters & firewood storage January 22,2015 Absolute no reserve Bid online 802 297 3760 www.JamaicaCottageShop.com

FOR SALE

2003 Merc. GM
Low Miles
New Front Brakes
Four New Tires
$3,800.00
617-842-5853 1/15

NOTICE OF PUBLIC HEARING

NOTICE OF PUBLIC HEARING
City of Quincy
ZONING BOARD OF APPEALS
CASE NO. 14-082

Pursuant to the provisions of TITLE 17 of the QUINCY MUNICIPAL CODE as amended, the Quincy Zoning Board of Appeals will hold an Open Public Hearing on Tuesday, January 27, 2015 at 7:15 pm on the Second Floor in the Council Chambers, Quincy City Hall, 1305 Hancock Street, Quincy, MA 02169. On the application of Barbara Jodrey for a Variance to convert existing single family home to a single family with a finished basement in violation of Title 17 as amended Chapter 4.0 (dimensional requirements) on the premises numbered 70 WALNUT STREET, QUINCY.

Plans and Specifications are on file at the Inspectional Service Department located at 55 Sea Street, Quincy, MA 02169 and may be reviewed during regular business hours.

Martin Aikens, Chairman
1/8/15, 1/15/15

PERSONAL

Jim -
Thank you for your support and friendship.
One day at a time.
1/15

Happy Birthday to our Great-Grandpa, Ben Kelleher!
Love, B5, Reese & Avery, Aiden & Owen
1/15

Happy Birthday Mom, Hope you have a great day
Love, Susan
1/15

Amy Girl -
You Rock!
Love,
Mom & Dad
1/15

WE LOVE YOU ROSIE LYN WELCOME TO YOUR NEW HOME! 1/15

HALLS FOR RENT

MORRISETTE LEGION POST
81-83 Liberty St., Quincy
Function Hall Available
Call for Details 617-770-4876
Internet Capable • Weddings • Showers • Christenings • Meetings After Funeral Gatherings TF

WANTED

OLD HAND TOOLS & BOOKS WANTED

Planes, chisels, adzes, shaves, machinist, and sheetmetal tools, calipers, clamps, anvils, vises.

USEFUL TOOLS, ALL TRADES.

New England history books
Collections: old postcards, toys, military, fishing & old auto items

LIBERTY TOOL CO.
888-405-2007
Davistownmuseum.org
www.jonesport-wood.com TF

CASH FOR DIABETES TEST STRIPS:
Up to $33/box!
I will pick up same day
Must be Factory Sealed and Unexpired
Call Jenni
(800)413-3479
www.CashForYourTestStrips.com 2/5

HELP WANTED

Operator/Dispatcher Position for Yellow Cab of Quincy

Part time positions available

Responsibilities include:
- Answering multiple phone lines in a courteous and professional manner
- Data entry, and dispatching calls over the radio.
- Knowledge of the streets and landmarks in Quincy a must.
- Good communication skills and computer skills.
- Works well under pressure and can respond to emergencies quickly and efficiently.

Please email resume to napostleycq@comcast.net or call Nichol at 617-479-9600 2/5

CLASSIFIEDS

LEGAL NOTICE

CITATION ON PETITION FOR FORMAL ADJUDICATION
Docket No. NO14P3474EA
Commonwealth of Massachusetts
The Trial Court
Probate and Family Court
Norfolk Probate and Family Court
35 Shawmut Road
Canton, MA 02021
(781) 830-1200
Estate of:
Anne T Donovan
Date of Death:
November 25, 2014
To all interested persons:
A Petition has been filed by: William C Donovan of Quincy, MA requesting that the Court enter a formal Decree and Order of testacy and for such other relief as requested in the Petition.

And also requesting that William C Donovan of Quincy, MA be appointed as Personal Representative(s) of said estate to serve Without Surety on the bond.

You have the right to obtain a copy of the Petition from the Petitioner or at the Court. You have a right to object to this proceeding. To do so, you or your attorney must file a written appearance and objection at this Court before: 10:00 A.M. on 02/04/2015. This is NOT a hearing date, but a deadline by which you must file a written appearance and objection if you object to this proceeding. If you fail to file a timely written appearance and objection followed by an Affidavit of Objections within thirty (30) days of the return date, action may be taken without further notice to you.

The estate is being administered under formal procedure by the Personal Representative under the Massachuetts Uniform Probate Code without supervision by the Court. Inventory and accounts are not required to be filed with the Court, but recipients are entitled to notice regarding the administration from the Personal Representative and can petition the Court in any matter relating to the estate, including distribution of assets and expenses of administration .

WITNESS, Hon. John D Casey, First Justice of this Court.
Date: December 31, 2014
PATRICK W. McDERMOTT
Register of Probate
1/15/15

REPORT POTHOLES
Potholes are a year-round problem and should be reported to the Department of Public Works.

LEGAL NOTICE

CITATION ON PETITION FOR FORMAL ADJUDICATION
Docket No. NO14P3442EA
Commonwealth of Massachusetts
The Trial Court
Probate and Family Court
Norfolk Probate and Family Court
35 Shawmut Road
Canton, MA 02021
(781) 830-1200
Estate of:
Mei Hui
Date of Death:
October 20, 2014
To all interested persons:
A Petition has been filed by: Laeyeng Hunt of North Attleboro, MA requesting that the Court enter a formal Decree and Order of testacy and for such other relief as requested in the Petition.

And also requesting that Laeyeng Hunt of North Attleboro, MA be appointed as Personal Representative(s) of said estate to serve Without Surety on the bond.

You have the right to obtain a copy of the Petition from the Petitioner or at the Court. You have a right to object to this proceeding. To do so, you or your attorney must file a written appearance and objection at this Court before: 10:00 A.M. on 02/04/2015. This is NOT a hearing date, but a deadline by which you must file a written appearance and objection if you object to this proceeding. If you fail to file a timely written appearance and objection followed by an Affidavit of Objections within thirty (30) days of the return date, action may be taken without further notice to you.

The estate is being administered under formal procedure by the Personal Representative under the Massachuetts Uniform Probate Code without supervision by the Court. Inventory and accounts are not required to be filed with the Court, but recipients are entitled to notice regarding the administration from the Personal Representative and can petition the Court in any matter relating to the estate, including distribution of assets and expenses of administration .

WITNESS, Hon. John D Casey, First Justice of this Court.
Date: December 29, 2014
PATRICK W. McDERMOTT
Register of Probate
1/15/15

SERVICES

Mike the Electrician
for any of your electric, cable and data needs
Michael Kisiel
Proprietor
Master License A11789
617-438-9655
1/22

PLEASE RECYCLE THIS NEWSPAPER

LEGAL NOTICE

INFORMAL PROBATE PUBLICATION NOTICE
Docket No: NO14P3325EA
Commonwealth of Massachusetts
The Trial Court
Probate and Family Court
Norfolk Division
35 Shawmut Road
Canton, MA 02021
(781) 830-1200
Estate of:
Maria K Dais
Date of Death:
October 15, 2014
To all persons interested in the above captioned estate, by Petition of

Petitioner Dora Constantopoulos of Quincy, MA a Will has been admitted to informal probate. Dora Constantopoulos of Quincy, MA has been informally appointed as the Personal Representative of the estate to serve Without Surety on the bond.

The estate is being administered under informal procedure by the Personal Representative under the Massachuetts Uniform Probate Code without supervision by the Court. Inventory and accounts are not required to be filed with the Court, but interested parties are entitled to notice regarding the administration from the Personal Representative and can petition the Court in any matter relating to the estate, including distribution of assets and expenses of administration. Interested parties are entitled to petition the Court to institute formal proceedings and to obtain orders terminating or restricting the powers of Personal Representatives appointed under informal procedure. A copy of the Petition and Will, if any, can be obtained from the Petitioner.
1/15/15

SERVICES

POWER PLUMBING
Plumbing, Heating, Gas Fitting
Repairs • New Installations
Dave 617-328-3007
Emergencies
617-792-4054
Master Lic # 13749 TF

COOPER WASTE 1/15
617-875-6926 | www.cooperwaste.com
Property Maintenance
Rubbish Removal • Demolition
Now offering Dumpster Rentals
• Complete Clean-Out of Homes • Basement Clean-Ups
• Garages • Yard Debris • Yard Clean-Ups
• Weekly Trash Collections • Masonry Removal
• Construction Debris • Single Item to Multiple Trucks
Since 1989

Magic for Children and other Occasions
Reasonable Rates
Call Peter
508-584-4054 1/15

FOR HIRE
Garages, Decks Taken Away, Rubbish Piles Removed, Moorings Moved
OR ME WITH DUMP & LIFTGATE
$60/HR.
(617)479-5410
"Your Trash is my Ca$h"
3/19

SAVE Budget Fuel
Fuel Assistance
Senior Discount
Full Service
617-328-4063 TF

100% FREE Removal
of Appliances & all types of metal
Commercial & Residential
Junk Removed
Garages · Basements · Attic
Call John anytime 617-653-6255 5/14

J.F. ROOFING Co.
QUINCY, MA
·Shingles
·Rubber
·Slate
·Copper
·Vinyl Replacement Windows
·Snow Removal
(617)471-8216 2/19

THOMAS C. SWEENEY
Smaller Jobs a Specialty
51 Years Experience
Carpentry, Siding, Painting, Porches
Viny/Windows, Doors
Roofing, Decking, Steps
License #1373 Free Estimates
Reliable 617-825-1210 References 1/29

SERVICES

HTA
Hancock T.V. & Appliance
Sales, Service, Parts & Installation
Since 1945
(617) 472-1710
115 Franklin Street, Quincy, MA
hancocktvandappliance.com

S.G. HAROLD
PLUMBING, HEATING & AC
Specializing in Viessman Boiler
Unico Air Conditioning
Home heating repairs & service
Radiant Floor heating
QUINCY
617-471-0914
Unprecedented Service Tailored to You
MA Lic. #10589 TF

"A Woman's Touch Painting"
No job too big or small
FREE ESTIMATES
REASONABLE RATES
CALL FOR FREE ESTIMATE
Call Kelly 857-939-8079 1/29

PAINTING BY PROFESSIONAL
Interior & Exterior
Powerwashing & Carpentry
All Types of House Repairs
Reasonable Price
Small Jobs Welcome TF
Leave Message 617-773-4761

The Quincy Sun CLASSIFIED AD FORM

MAIL TO: THE QUINCY SUN, 1372 HANCOCK STREET, QUINCY, MA 02169

PAYABLE IN ADVANCE. Payment must accompany order.

INDEX
- ❑ Services
- ❑ For Sale
- ❑ Autos
- ❑ Boats
- ❑ For Rent
- ❑ Wanted
- ❑ Help Wanted
- ❑ Work Wanted
- ❑ Pets
- ❑ Lost & Found
- ❑ Real Estate
- ❑ Antiques
- ❑ Flea Markets
- ❑ Yard Sales
- ❑ Instruction
- ❑ Day Care
- ❑ Personal
- ❑ Miscellaneous

NO REFUND WILL BE MADE AT THIS CONTRACT RATE IN THE EVENT OF CANCELLATION. DEADLINE: FRIDAY AT 4PM. PLEASE INCLUDE YOUR PHONE NUMBER IN AD.

RATES

1 WEEK ❑ $9.00 for one insertion, up to 20 words, 10¢ for each additional word.

2-4 WEEKS ❑ $8.00 per insertion up to 20 words for 2-4 insertions of the same ad, 10¢ each additional word.

5-10 WEEKS ❑ $7.50 per insertion, up to 20 words, for 5-10 insertions of the same ad 10¢ for each additional word.

11 WEEKS OR MORE ❑ $7.00 per insertion, up to 20 words, for 11 or more insertions of the same ad 10¢ for each additional word.

❑ Enclosed is $ _____ for the following ad to run _____ weeks in The Quincy Sun.

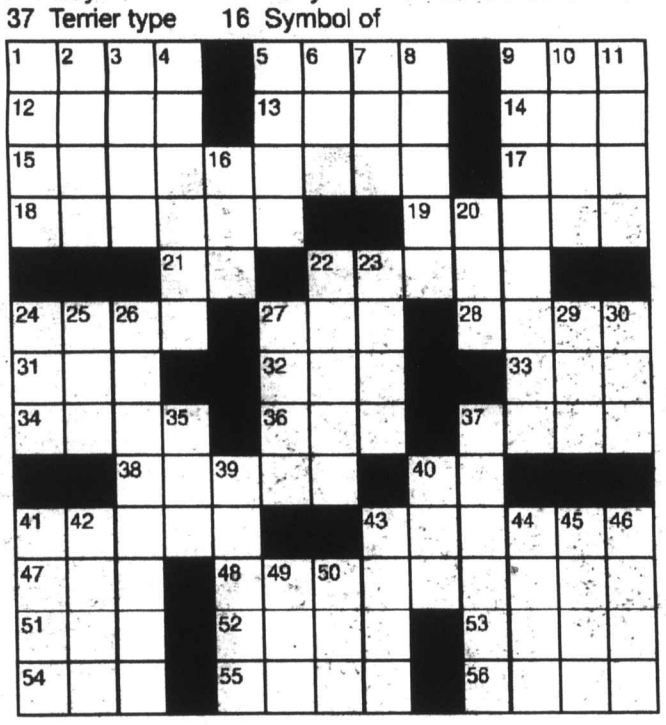
COPY: _____

SUN FUN PAGE

King Crossword

ACROSS
1 Hanks role
5 Love (Sp.)
9 Cauldron
12 Vicinity
13 Sandwich shop
14 Lawyers' org.
15 Computer access codes
17 Fa-la link
18 Small chalkboards
19 Art supporter
21 Blood type
22 Antillean language
24 Osculation "tools"
27 Every iota
28 Additional
31 "— Little Teapot"
32 Greet the villain
33 Erstwhile acorn
34 Cold War initials
36 Leading lady?
37 Terrier type
38 Move laterally
40 Acidity factor
41 Angle
43 Read
47 Ullmann or Tyler
48 World travelers' needs
51 Raw rock
52 Mother of Helios
53 Works with
54 Simple card game
55 Millinery
56 Knight's wife

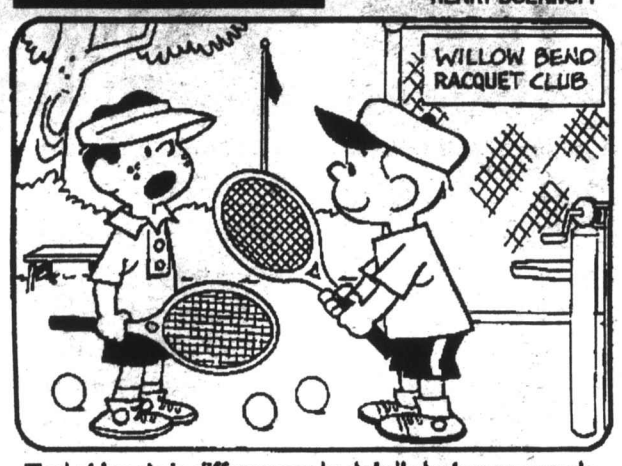
DOWN
1 Spaces
2 Caspian feeder
3 Arizona city
4 Penne and ziti
5 Commotions
6 Mal de —
7 On in years
8 Stair part
9 Depositor's record
10 Reed instrument
11 Lofty
16 Symbol of intrigue
20 Intend
22 Piece of garlic
23 Shaving cream additive
24 Actress Lucy
25 Online exchanges
26 Nisan holiday
27 Son of 36-Across
29 Shaft of light
30 — out a living
35 Wardrobe malfunction
37 Cover
39 Profundity
40 Energy
41 At a snail's pace
42 100 centesimi, once
43 Unpaid TV ads (Abbr.)
44 — Major
45 Goblet part
46 Being, to Brutus
49 "Eureka!"
50 Collection



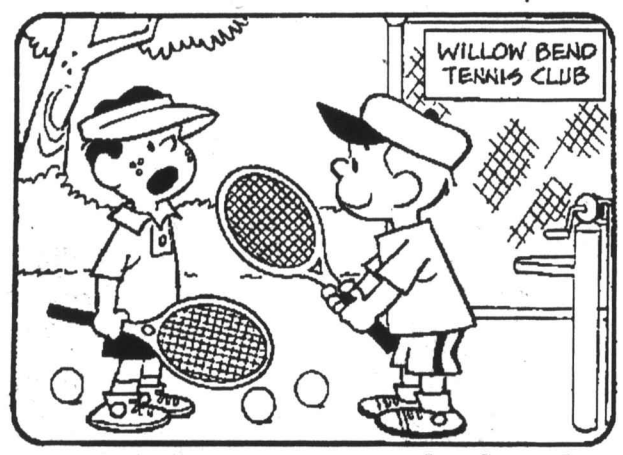
49 2015 King Features Synd., Inc.

HOCUS-FOCUS

BY HENRY BOLTINOFF



Find at least six differences in details between panels.



Differences: 1. Bench is missing. 2. Button strip is shorter. 3. Racket is moved. 4. Flag is missing. 5. Sign is different. 6. Pants are different.

©2015 King Features Syndicate, Inc. All rights reserved.

New! 24 HOCUS FOCUS puzzles $3.50 • 24 Volumes • Order at: rbmamall.com

Trivia test

by Fifi Rodriguez

1. LITERATURE: How many daughters does King Lear have in Shakespeare's play?
2. MUSIC: When did MTV make its debut?
3. GEOGRAPHY: What is the tallest mountain in Western Europe?
4. ANATOMY: What is the biggest bone in the foot?
5. HISTORY: Who founded the abolitionist newspaper "The North Star"?
6. LANGUAGE: What does the Latin phrase "non compos mentis" mean?
7. GENERAL KNOWLEDGE: What was the site of Coca-Cola's first bottling company?
8. COMICS: What is the name of Dennis' younger buddy in the "Dennis the Menace" comic panel?
9. SCIENCE: How fast can a bolt of lightning travel?
10. TELEVISION: In what fictional city does the soap opera "All My Children" take place?

Answers
1. Three
2. Aug. 1, 1981
3. Mont Blanc
4. The heel bone, or calcaneus
5. Frederick Douglass
6. Not of sound mind
7. Chattanooga, Tenn., 1899
8. Joey
9. 3,700 miles per second
10. Pine Valley, Pennsylvania

(c) 2015 King Features Synd., Inc.

Salome's Stars

ARIES (March 21 to April 19) Mixed signals could create problems. Make sure your views are presented clearly, and insist others do the same. Don't let an unanswered question go by without a full explanation.
TAURUS (April 20 to May 20) Financial pressures ease, allowing for more budget flexibility. But as the money-wise Bovine will appreciate, thrift still beats out splurging. Expect news from someone special.
GEMINI (May 21 to June 20) Getting things done is what you do so well. But be careful not to overtax your energy reserves. Take time out to relax or to do something different to help keep them at optimum levels.
CANCER (June 21 to July 22) This is a good time to satisfy the Moon Child's growing sense of wanderlust. Choose a really special place to go to, with a very special person to share it all with you.
LEO (July 23 to August 22) You love being in the spotlight. But be careful it doesn't blind you to the truth behind a seemingly wonderful opportunity. Look closer and you might be sadly surprised at what you find.
VIRGO (August 23 to September 22) Isn't it time to take a break from your hectic schedule? Sure it is. And the sooner you do, the sooner you can return fresh and more than ready to take on all those new projects.
LIBRA (September 23 to October 22) A recent family incident can help bring everyone closer, and there's no one who's better at making that happen than you. Accept (indeed, insist on!) help from others to get things off and running.
SCORPIO (October 23 to November 21) Long-held habits are often difficult to break. But the change from how you always did things to how you can do them now can be liberating. So, be flexible and give it a try.
SAGITTARIUS (November 22 to December 21) Someone you met in your professional world last year and thought you would never hear from again could make a sudden reappearance in your life, along with an interesting job offer.
CAPRICORN (December 22 to January 19) Once again, you delight everyone by coming up with a solution for a problem that actually works. On another note, it's not too early to get started on those travel plans.
AQUARIUS (January 20 to February 18) Before you go ahead with finalizing your plans for your new project, check them over to see if you can make some improvements or if you can find ways to cut costs.
PISCES (February 19 to March 20) The Fabulous Fish might have been out of the social swim for too long, and it's time you plunge back in. Reinforce your old friendships and be open to starting new ones.
BORN THIS WEEK: Your creative talents help bring beauty to the world and the people in it. On their behalf, thank you.

(c) 2015 King Features Synd., Inc.

CryptoQuip

This is a simple substitution cipher in which each letter used stands for another. If you think that X equals O, it will equal O throughout the puzzle. Solution is accomplished by trial and error.

Clue: S equals W

TKJ OFCVBQOH FBKBPOVN ABXMVC SET PEVCS CXXN JCRRCVPR OP EBR CHCFBCR' AOQCR: XCHCVOK QMRPOVJ.

© 2015 King Features Synd., Inc.

MAGIC MAZE • 2012 NFL DRAFT

J I R V I N V S Q N K I F D A
X V I T Q O M J H F C A Y W U
R P C I Y L H C E U K N L E J
H F H D N B Z S N X V T R R Q
O M A K K I R I R H L O F D B
Z Y R W C E F V O T M I R Q O
N L D K K U I F B L H F L D C
A Z S C X X L L I H E N N A T
D Y O L F O W G A R V O U S K
R R N O M K C A L B G Q P O N
B M K S E L P O C N O R R A B

Find the listed words in the diagram. They run in all directions forward, backward, up, down and diagonally.

Barron, Blackmon, Brockers, Claiborne, Coples, Cox, Floyd, Gilmore, Irvin, Kalil, Kuechly, Poe, R. Griffin III, Richardson, Tannehill

©2015 King Features Syndicate, Inc. All rights reserved.

Wishing Well®

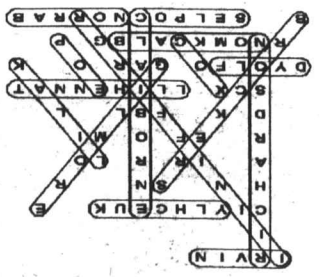
7	8	6	3	2	3	8	4	7	3	2	4	2
O	S	Y	Y	E	O	E	D	N	U	A	O	S
7	3	8	7	4	2	4	2	7	4	2	5	3
C	R	E	O	T	E	H	Y	U	E	O	O	W
2	6	7	4	2	3	6	5	6	5	3	8	3
U	O	R	B	R	O	U	F	A	F	R	K	T
4	7	3	8	6	7	5	3	4	7	4	8	5
E	S	H	A	R	E	E	I	S	A	T	D	R
3	4	2	4	6	5	2	5	7	2	5	8	5
M	Y	M	O	E	C	I	O	G	N	M	V	F
2	6	3	6	7	4	7	5	4	6	7	6	3
D	S	P	T	A	U	I	O	C	E	N	A	R
5	8	3	5	3	6	3	4	3	6	4	8	8
R	I	O	T	V	D	E	A	S	Y	N	C	E

HERE IS A PLEASANT LITTLE GAME that will give you a message every day. It's a numerical puzzle designed to spell out your fortune. Count the letters in your first name. If the number of letters is 6 or more, subtract 4. If the number is less than 6, add 3. The result is your key number. Start at the upper left-hand corner and check one of your key numbers, left to right. Then read the message the letters under the checked figures give you.

©2015 King Features Syndicate, Inc. All rights reserved.

— King Crossword —
Answers
Solution time: 25 mins.

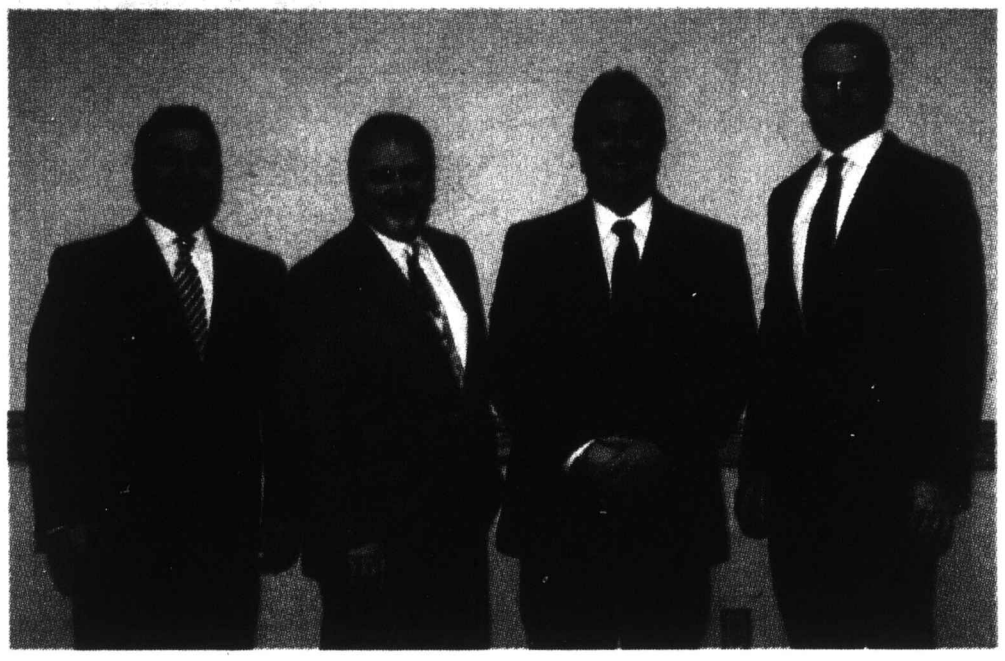
Magic Maze
ANSWERS:
— MASTER



Cyptoquip
ANSWER:

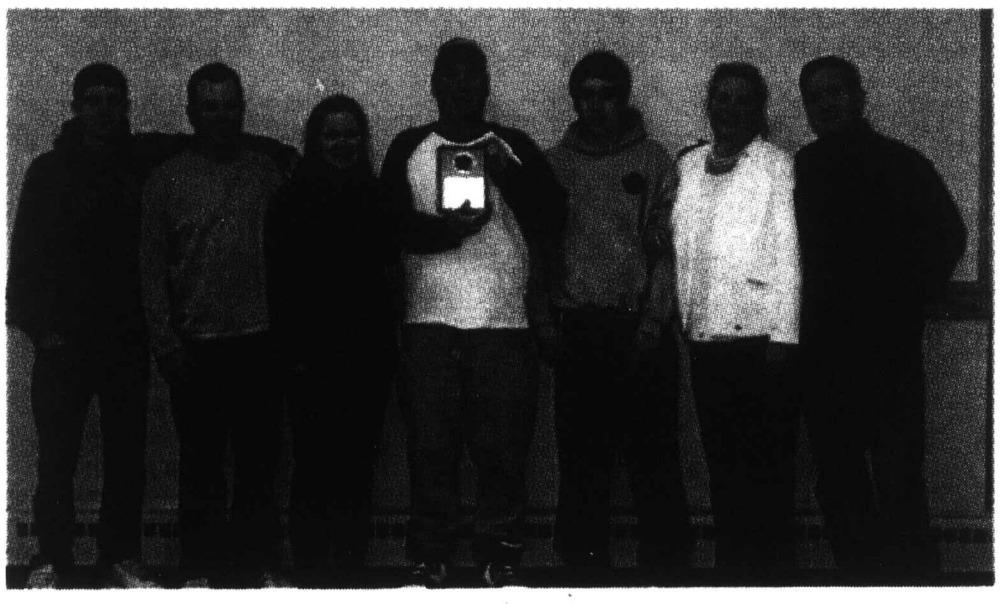
Old American military figure who threw eggy desserts at his enemies' faces: General Custard.

Quincy-North Quincy Football Hall Of Fame Induction



THE 32ND ANNUAL Quincy-North Quincy Football Hall of Fame dinner was recently held at the Quincy Sons of Italy. Among those inducted were five Quincy High School graduates. From left: Noel DiBona (1993), Jim Forrester (1974), Charles McCall (1980), and Ian Jorgenson (2002). Not pictured was fellow inductee Jack Valle (1961).

SIX NORTH QUINCY High School graduates were also inducted into the Quincy-North Quincy Hall of Fame. From left: Bob Bertoni (1968), Bud Kearns (1958), Tom Burke III (1972), and Paul "Doc" Doherty (1975). Also inducted were Eddy Dean (1957) and Tim Morrissey (1958).

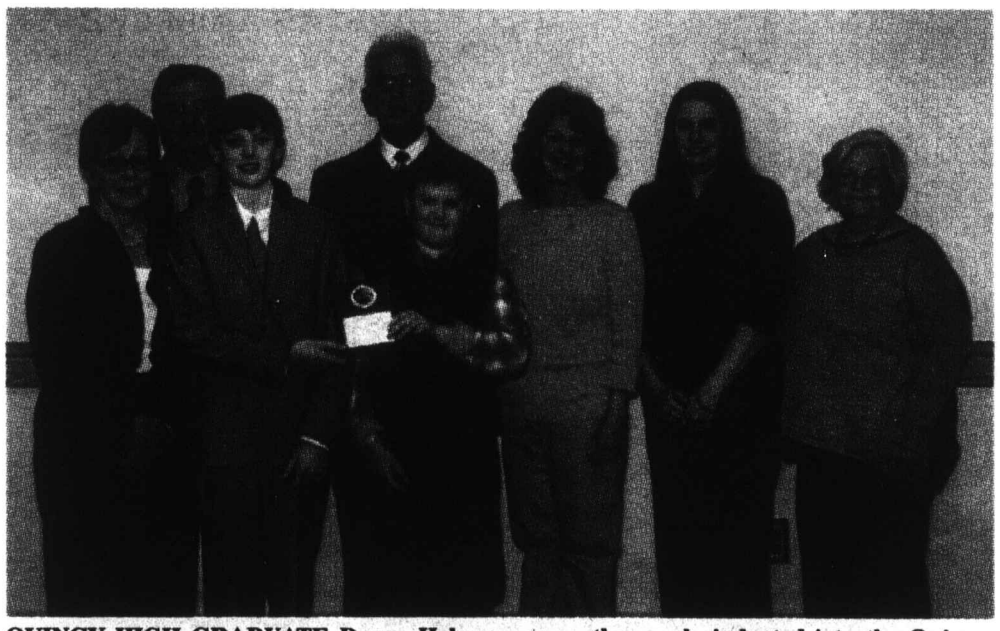


QUINCY HIGH SCHOOL graduate Jamie Gravelese was posthumously inducted in the Quincy/North Quincy Football Hall of Fame. Accepting the award on his behalf were (left to right): Jimmy Schneider, Wayne Reed, Shelley Campbell, Alan Schneider, Alan Schneider Jr., Brenda Walker, and Jimmy Schneider.

PAUL MCGUIGGAN, a graduate of North Quincy High, was posthumously inducted into the Quincy-North Quincy Football Hall of Fame. From left: Dan and Matt McGuiggan and Jane, Andrew, and Tim Churchill.

ALBERT N. DiRADO, a Quincy High graduate, was posthumously inducted into the Quincy-North Quincy Football of Hame. Accepting the award on his behalf were family members (left to right) Diane Collins, Debbi Reid, Teri Reid, Judy DiRado Barber, Bud LeBlanc and Doris LeBlanc.

THE FAMILY OF the late William "Bill" Draicchio, a Quincy High graduate, received a special award during the Quincy/North Quincy Hall of Fame dinner. From left: Kelly and Chris Draicchio, Michele Kamborian-Paige, Michael Draicchio, Kerry Draicchio, Courtney Swimm, and Kristopher Kamborian.



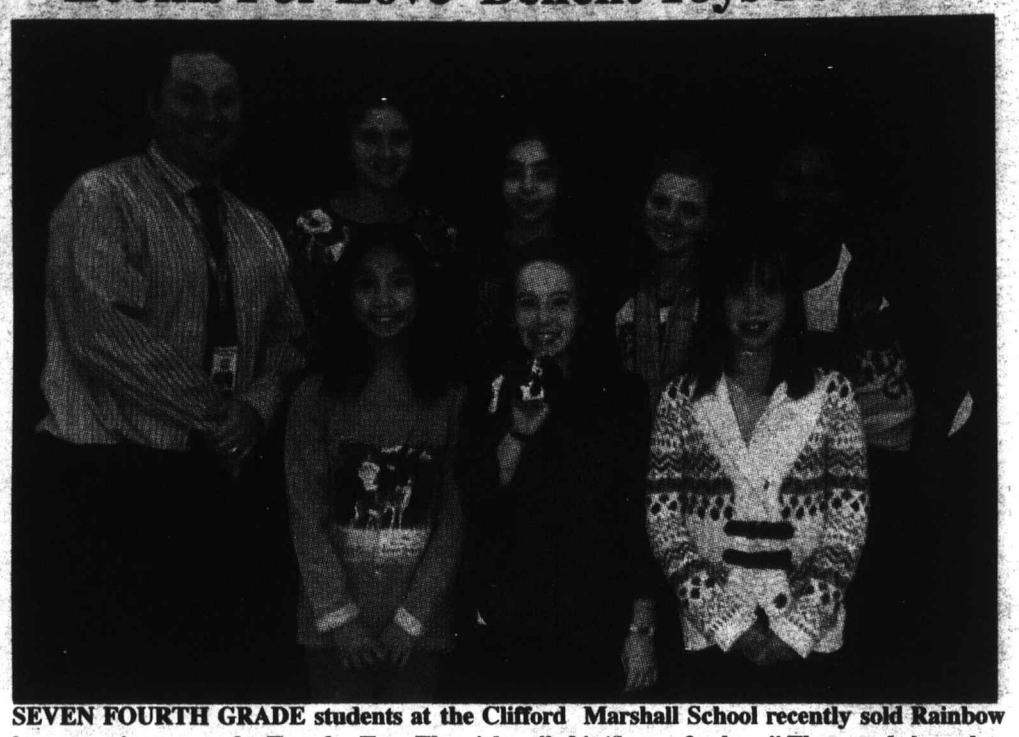
QUINCY HIGH GRADUATE Duane Holmes was posthumously inducted into the Quincy-North Quincy Football Hall of Fame. From left: Beverly Barrett, Chris Barrett, Zach Holmes, Tom Holmes, Nathan Holmes, Susan Holmes, Samantha Finny, and Jayne Fitzgibbon.

Photos Courtesy Ron Ivil

QUINCY-NORTH QUINCY Football Hall of Fame monument was dedicated to Ron Ivil (second from left) and Matthew Ivil Sr. (third from left); the Ivils have given a combined 40 years of service to the football programs at the city's two high schools. Pictured with them are Mayor Thomas Koch (left) and School Committee member David McCarthy (right). Ron Ivil, the president of the Quincy/North Quincy Football Hall of Fame, also received commendations from the Massachusetts House of Representatives and Quincy City Council in recognition of his more than 20 years of service to the city's two football programs.

A RED TAIL hawk spotted in Houghs Neck gazes down into a marsh.
Photo Courtesy Karen Walker

'Looms For Love' Benefit Toys For Tots

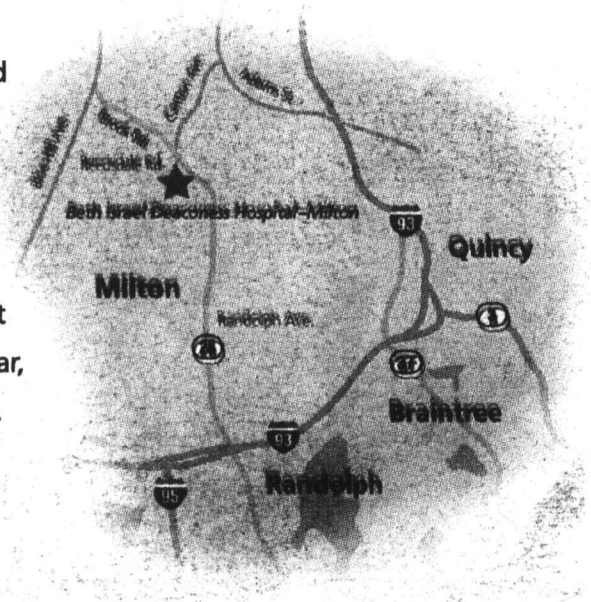


SEVEN FOURTH GRADE students at the Clifford Marshall School recently sold Rainbow loom to raise money for Toys for Tots. The girls called it "looms for love." They made bracelets and key chains out of rainbow loom which they sold to teachers and staff at the school. The key chains varied from animals to Elsa and Anna. They raised $95 which was used to purchase 30 toys. The toys were delivered to the Quincy Fire Station. The students shown here with Principal Nick Ahearn are (back row from left) Isabella Carinci, Zainab Alnasiri, Olivia Collins, Jayda Berry. Front row (from left) Casey Nguyen, Ashley Little and Angel Bresnahan. Below is a photo of the presents.
Photos Courtesy Lindsay Carinci

GET TO THE E.R. IN NO TIME.

AND SEE A BETH ISRAEL DEACONESS EMERGENCY MEDICINE PHYSICIAN EVERY TIME.

When you have an injury or an urgent healthcare need, you want to get medical attention, fast. You also want the highest qualified medical professionals available to treat you. And that's what you'll find at Beth Israel Deaconess Hospital–Milton. Our E.R. physicians are part of Beth Israel Deaconess Medical Center's emergency medicine network and members of Harvard Medical Faculty Practice at Beth Israel Deaconess Medical Center. Our E.R. nurses are specially trained in advanced cardiac and pediatric life support. In addition, we're a national leader in patient satisfaction. And knowing we're just minutes away — it's clear, we're close for comfort.

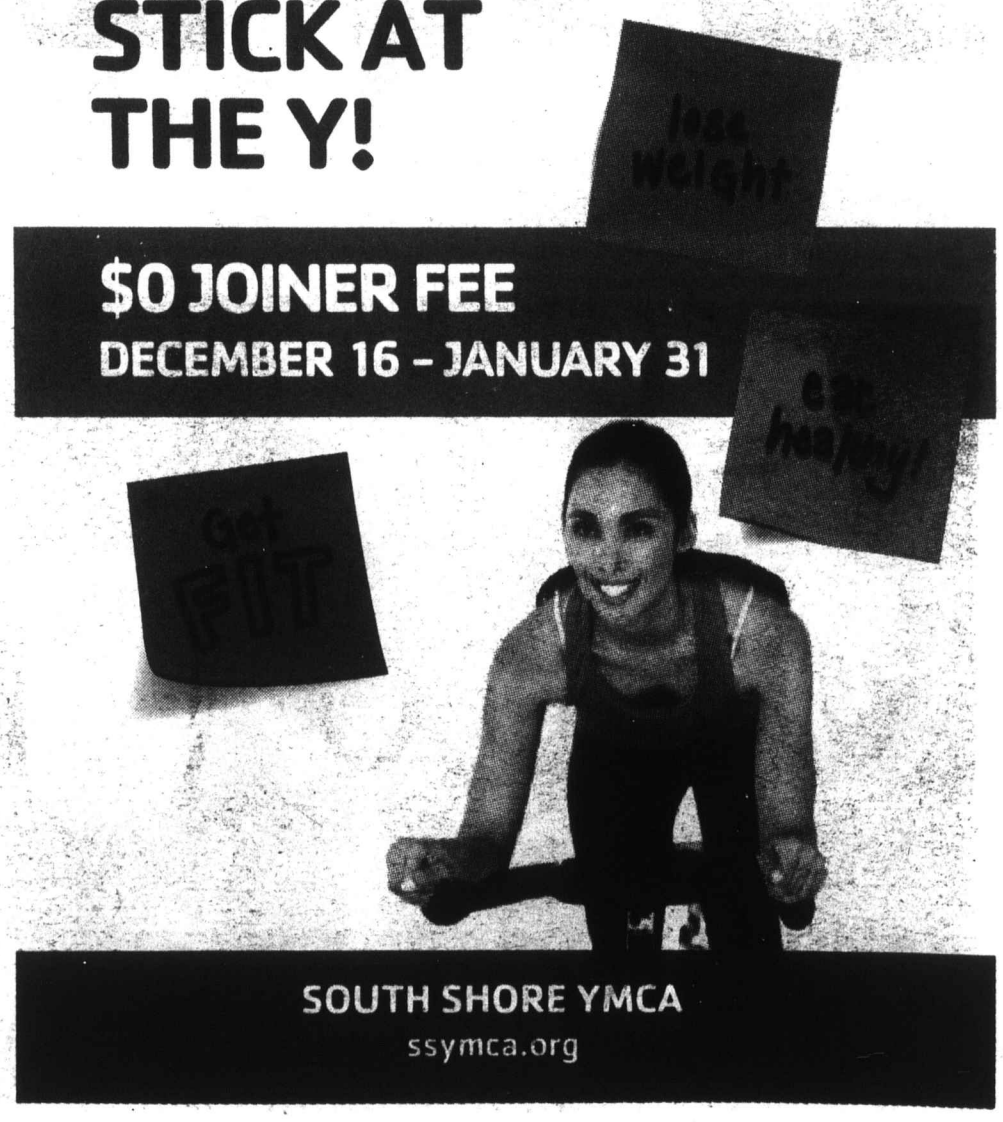


Beth Israel Deaconess Hospital
Milton
199 Reedsdale Road, Milton, MA bidmilton.org

the YMCA

FOR YOUTH DEVELOPMENT®
FOR HEALTHY LIVING
FOR SOCIAL RESPONSIBILITY

MAKE YOUR RESOLUTION STICK AT THE Y!



SOUTH SHORE YMCA
ssymca.org

Entrepreneurs To Share Story Of Sweet Success
Page 9
Richard Keane New Veterans Council Commander
Page 6

2 ALL FOR AADC 024
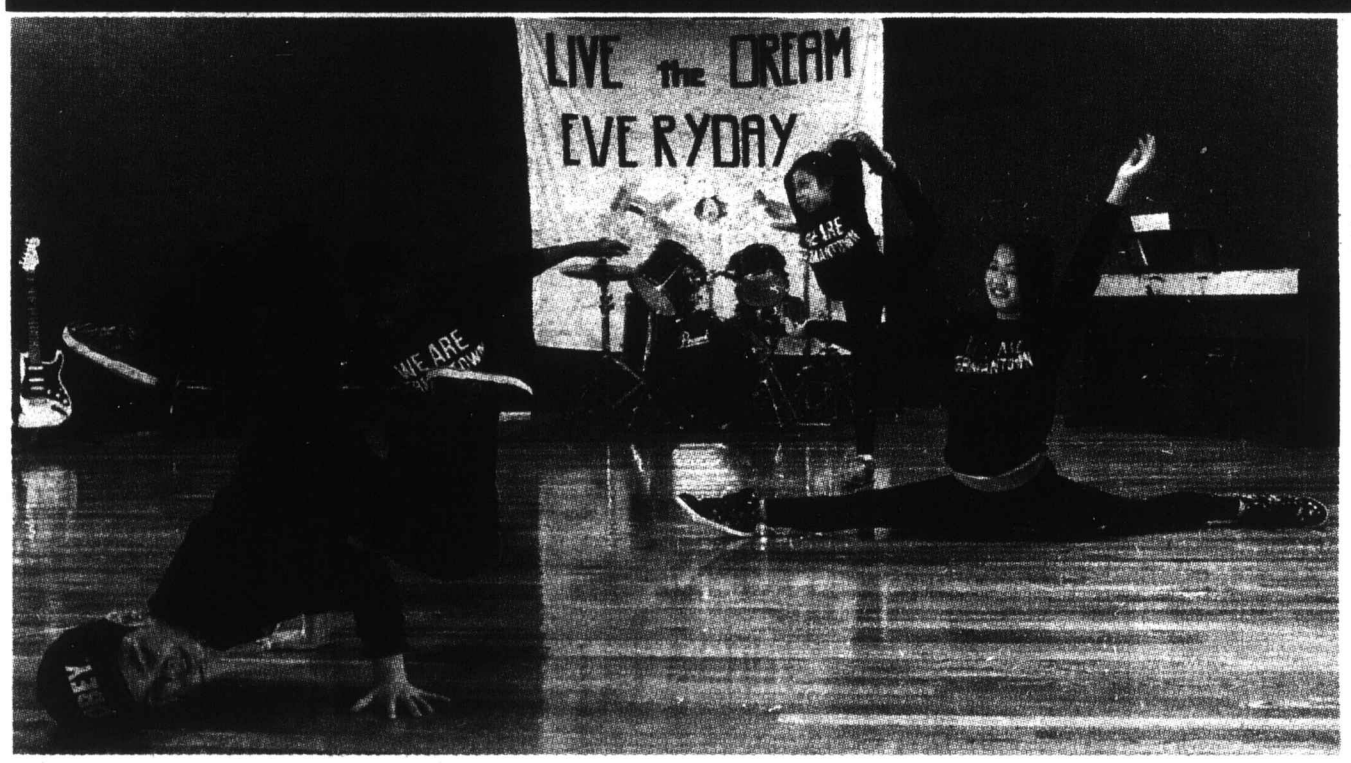
THOMAS CRANE PUBLIC LIBRARY
40 WASHINGTON ST
QUINCY MA 02169-5304

The Quincy Sun

Historic Quincy's Hometown Weekly Newspaper Since 1968

VOL. 47 No. 18 | Thursday, January 22, 2015 | 75¢



AS PART OF the Martin Luther King, Jr. Breakfast at the Germantown Neighborhood Center on Monday morning, children performed interpretive dances to entertain the crowd of 200 people who attended to honor the memory of King and his legacy as a civil rights leader. Quincy Sun Photos/Robert Bosworth

City Honors MLK, Jr. Legacy

Song, Dance, Speech Pay Tribute To Civil Rights Leader At GNC Annual Breakfast

By KRIS KALABOKAS

The Germantown Neighborhood Center and South Shore YMCA honored the memory of Dr. Martin Luther King, Jr. on Monday morning through song, dance, and a moving speech by guest speaker Julian T. Tynes, Esq., former chairman and commissioner of the Massachusetts Commission Against Discrimination (MCAD) who described King as a man who "helped lead a movement of ordinary people doing extraordinary things."

It was working men and women who were the catalysts for change, said Tynes.

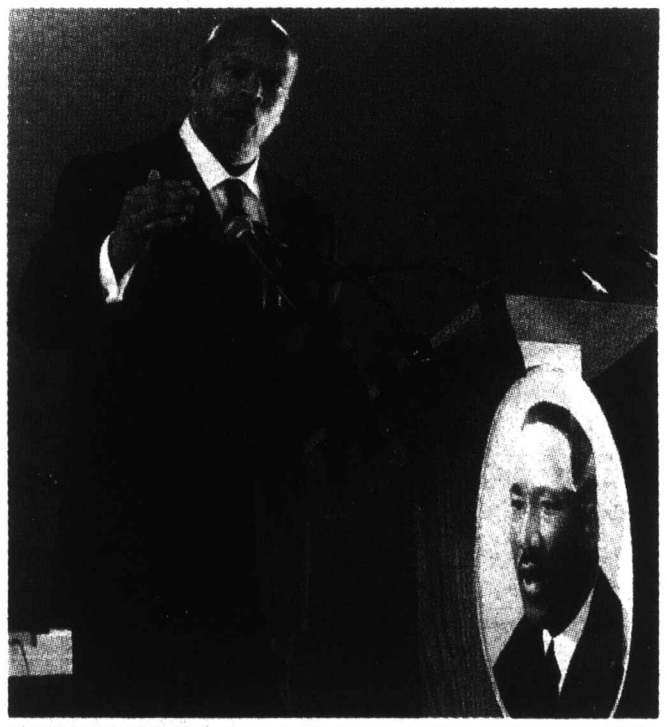
"We see a seamstress on a bus who refuses to give up her seat because she says no, this isn't right," he said of African American civil rights activist Rosa Parks. "She took an extraordinary step."

He gave more examples of "ordinary people" who took action against a heavily segregated and oppressive society resulting in positive social change.

"We see parents in Topeka, Kansas say it's not fair that my child doesn't have an opportunity for an equal education," he said.

The Brown v. Board of

Cont'd On Page 14



JULIAN T. TYNES, former chairman and commissioner of the Massachusetts Commission Against Discrimination (MCAD) delivered the keynote address at the annual Martin Luther King, Jr. Breakfast. It was the action of "ordinary people doing extraordinary things," he said, that propelled forward King's vision of racial equality in the United States.

Quincy Mutual 'Committed' To Project

Downtown Proposal Before Planning Board Wednesday

By SCOTT JACKSON

Executives at the Quincy Mutual Group remain committed to following through on plans to construct two new buildings with 169 apartments and 12,000 square feet of retail space in Quincy Center, a project they hope will jumpstart private redevelopment in the downtown.

Quincy Mutual and Gate Residential have proposed constructing the two buildings in the parcel of land in Quincy Center bounded by Hancock Street, Chestnut Street, and Cottage Avenue. A public hearing on the proposal, known as West of Chestnut, was scheduled for yesterday (Wednesday) at 7 p.m. during the Planning Board's meeting.

The city's previous downtown redeveloper, Street-Works, planned to start its downtown project on the same block and broke ground on its Merchants Row proposal there before halting construction. Quin-

Cont'd On Page 2

Koch: Opportunity To Pursue Medical Services At Facility

City May Take Back Hospital

Mayor Thomas Koch took the first legal steps that could result in the City taking ownership of the closed Quincy Medical Center, the City's legal team announced Tuesday.

In a meeting with city councillors on Tuesday, lawyers told councillors that the City has formally informed Steward Health Care that it is prepared to enforce a complicated legal provision in the hospital's title which would revert ownership back to the City, due to Steward's closing of the hospital.

During the bankruptcy proceedings in 2011 that led to Steward's purchase of the hospital from a struggling

Cont'd On Page 11

Hundreds Of Homes Out Of Flood Zone; Another 1,000 In Lower Risk Zones

By SCOTT JACKSON

As many as 700 properties will be removed from federally designated flood plains as a result of the city's appeal of new flood maps and an additional 1,000 properties will be placed into lower risk zones, allowing property owners to have their insurance premiums reduced.

Working with engineering firm Woodard & Curran, the city filed a letter of map revision (LOMR), to challenge the new maps one day after they came into effect in June 2014. Mayor Thomas Koch opted to file a LOMR – an appeal based on data collected by the engineering firm – rather than appeal the maps outright in 2013 when they were first released.

The city's letter of map revision noted many prob-

Cont'd On Page 13

Heroin Spike Tied To Availability, Cost - Page 3
Rep. Tackey Chan Visits South Korea - Page 15

For more Quincy news, visit:
The Quincy Sun.com

Quincy Mutual 'Committed' To Downtown Project

Cont'd From Page 1

cy Mutual, an investor in the Merchants Row project, then spent months acquiring the land on the block before announcing West of Chestnut late last year. The insurance company, which has called Quincy home since 1851, is committed to completing the new project.

"It's going to go up for several reasons," James Moran, Quincy Mutual's executive vice president, said during a recent interview inside the company's headquarters overlooking the project site.

"It's going to go up because we are absolutely committed to it. It's going to go up because Gate Residential is extremely competent in terms of executing this type of a project; they know what they're doing and they know they'll be able to accomplish this.

"There is not a doubt in our mind that this is going to go up. We're committed to it. Not because of financial return we expect. With an investment of $23 million to date, there is no way there is going to any sort of realistic return on that. It's going to go up because we're committed to it and because it's good for the city. And we hope it will inspire other developers down the street and elsewhere in the greater downtown area to do other developments on other parcels."

PROPOSED NEW BUILDING at Cottage Avenue and Chestnut Street holds 105 apartments and thousands of square feet of street-level retail, including the restaurant seen here at the street corner. To the right is the Granite Trust Building. The new building proposed by Quincy Mutual Group and Gate Residential has been designed so it doesn't overwhelm the historic bank. As part of the project, sidewalks along the project site would be repaved.

Renderings Courtesy Quincy Mutual Group

Quincy Mutual and Gate Residential hope to begin construction in early April. Planning Board approval is required before that can happen.

"We are applying for a certificate of consistency under the urban redevelopment plan," Moran explained. "Essentially, the task before the Planning Board is to determine whether the design that is being presented and the framework being presented is consistent with the existing city of Quincy urban redevelopment plan (URDP). If it is, under the URDP, the applicant is entitled to get a certificate of consistency. From that, we're entitled to get a building permit.

"The plan is that on Jan. 21 they will hold this hearing. That will then come up before the Planning Board at its February meeting. Assuming there is a favorable vote at that point, we expect to be in a position to pull the building permits in March. That will set it up for actual construction beginning in the vicinity of April 1, kicking off an 18-month construction project."

Street-Works previously demolished several buildings on the site. Under the Quincy Mutual and Gate Residential proposal, one additional building – 1446 Hancock Street, a one-story building now home to a hair salon – will be razed before construction starts. Soil on site, polluted from decades of urban use, will be cleaned as well.

"The first thing that will happen is that will be demolished," Moran said, pointing to 1446 Hancock Street.

"Then over the next couple months, we're going to clean up the brownfields. The ground is polluted un-

Cont'd On Page 13

the YMCA

FOR YOUTH DEVELOPMENT®
FOR HEALTHY LIVING
FOR SOCIAL responsibility

MAKE YOUR RESOLUTION STICK AT THE Y!

$0 JOINER FEE
DECEMBER 16 - JANUARY 31

QUINCY CATHOLIC ACADEMY

Where the leaders of tomorrow are educated today!

Offering Preschool (Age 3) through Grade 8

Come see high quality education in action!

OPEN HOUSE:
Every first Wednesday of every month from 9 to 11 a.m.

Now Accepting
Registration for
September 2015

370 Hancock Street, Quincy, MA 02171
617-328-3830, www.QuincyCatholicAcademy.org

Increased Use Of Heroin Tied To Availability, Higher Potency, Cost

150 Attend Community Meeting On Opiate Abuse

By KRIS KALABOKAS

The basement of Our Lady of Good Counsel church was filled last Thursday night during a town forum with 150 people eager to learn how Quincy plans to deal with the growing issue of opiate abuse in the city.

Mayor Thomas Koch, District Attorney Michael Morrissey, Quincy Police Chief Paul Keenan, Andrew Scheele, public health commissioner, and Robert Monahan, executive director of South Shore Recovery Home made up the evening's panel and addressed issues such as Narcan use, the recent spike in local overdose deaths, and changing attitudes towards how addicts are treated.

"When I took office in 2007 one of the first things we did was put together a task force to deal with the opiate addiction that we're facing in our city," said Koch. "My approach was look, we don't have all the answers but if we bring everybody to the table we can begin working together on the issue as a community I think we can make a difference."

Admitting that Quincy had a problem with opiate addiction was the first step in solving the problem, he said.

He warned the audience that the success of drug education programs can't be accurately measured.

"We'll never know how many kids we kept away from it," he said. "We certainly know how many people we've saved with the use of Narcan."

Narcan, or naloxone, can be administered to a person experiencing an opiate overdose. The nasal spray, which reverses the overdose, has an impressive success rate and has saved 360 people since it was issued to all members of the Quincy Police Department in 2010.

Quincy was acknowledged by the White House Office of National Drug Control Policy in 2013 for being the first city in the country to issue Narcan to its officers.

Morrissey said that despite the local opiate epidemic, Norfolk County remains "very safe."

Four years ago, 40 people died as a result of drug overdoses. That number rose to 62 in 2013. Last year the number jumped again to 91 total deaths resulting from prescription pill or heroin overdoses.

"It's the largest single killer of young people," said Morrissey. The average age of someone who died as a result of a drug overdose last year was 35, he added.

He attributed the increased use of heroin to wider availability, higher potency, and lower cost.

Heroin today, said Morrissey, is twice as strong as it was in the 60s and can be purchased for just $5 a bag. The drug is now so potent that it no longer needs to be injected. It can be smoked or snorted; methods younger users incorrectly identify as being less addicting.

"[Narcan] is something that doesn't solve the drug problem. It just keeps people alive," he said.

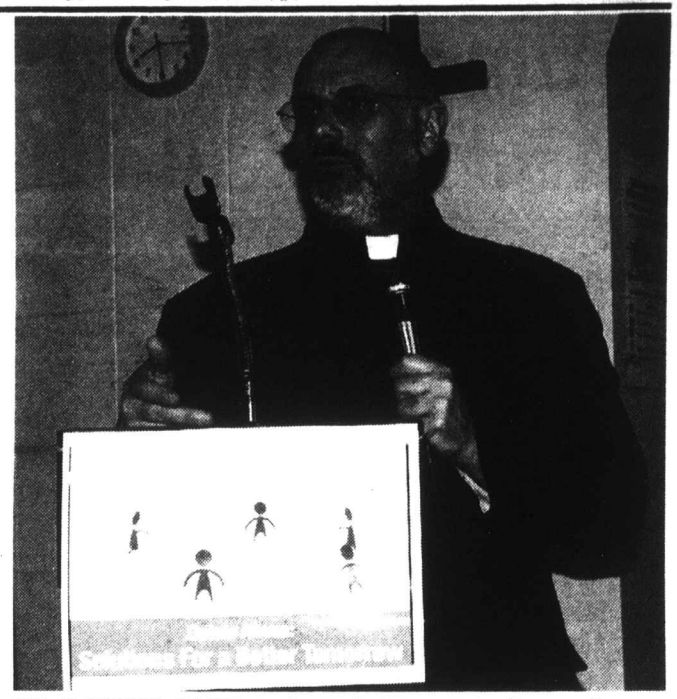
Keenan, who has seen firsthand how pain killers and heroin have become the drugs of choice locally, clarified that Quincy was not the only city with an addiction problem.

"A lot of communities throughout the commonwealth in particular buried their head in the sand and just didn't come forward and acknowledge the problem," he said. "Quincy is not unique."

Quincy's response has been swift and aggressive. Over the last seven years, the city's police drug unit has doubled. Three drug sniffing dogs are employed by the department and Keenan is hoping to acquire a grant for the purchase of a fourth.

Problematic for Keenan

Cont'd On Page 11



FR. ROBERT CARR moderated the community meeting regarding drug use in Quincy at Our Lady of Good Counsel in Merrymount last Thursday night. Fr. Carr told the over 150 people who attended that he was free to talk about addiction issues with parishioners and non-parishoners. The evening's panel included city officials who discussed the recent rise in opiate use and addiction in the city.

Photo Courtesy Mike Cheney

QPS Kindergarten Registration March 3

Quincy Public Schools' kindergarten registration for the 2015-2016 school year will be held from 9 a.m. to 2 p.m. Tuesday, March 3.

Children who will be five years of age on or before Aug. 31, 2015 should register at their home schools. Those unsure of home schools should visit the QPS website: www.quincypublicschools.com.

Parents seeking open enrollment need to first register at their home school on March 3. Children do not need to come to registration. Children who presently attend the Pre-K programs at either the Snug Harbor School or the Amelio Della Chiesa Early Childhood Center do not to register March 3.

The following documents must be produced in order for a student to be registered:

- Child's birth certificate (with a raised seal)
- Proof that the child resides in the home school district
- any two: tax bill, utility bill, car registration, work pay stub
- Copy of a recent (within one year) physical examination by a physician
- Written records of immunizations.

Required forms can be accessed on the QPS website. Follow the parent links to kindergarten Registration. Scroll down to access the link to the packet.

Questions regarding the Kindergarten program may be directed to the home school principal. Those who are uncomfortable filling out forms may bring someone to assist.

Ask the GEMOLOGIST

BY JEFFREY M. BERTMAN
GRADUATE GEMOLOGIST

THE SEDUCTIVE GEMSTONE

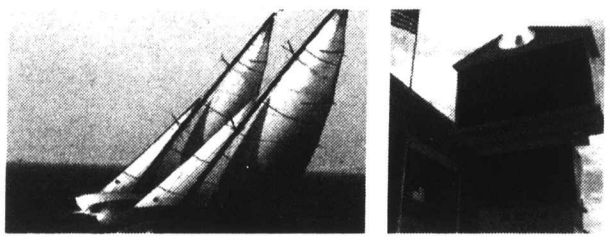
Over the years, its violet color has caused amethyst to be regarded as among the ,most seductive of all gemstones. This purple variety of quartz, which is the birthstone for February, gets its name from the ancient Greek "a" (not) "methustos" (intoxicated), meaning that the stone is believed to protect its wearer from drunkenness. In fact, the Greeks fashioned many drinking vessels out of amethyst in hopes of preventing drunkenness. Today, of course, we attribute no such power to amethyst. If anything, amethyst lovers are intoxicated with the gorgeous hue of their favorite gemstone, which ranges from a light pinkish violet to deep purple. This affordable gemstone has royal pretensions without the high cost.

Amethyst can display a range of shades including deep purple, light lilac, lavender, and mauve. It is also the birthstone of February and is often given to celebrate a February birth. Do you know anyone who is celebrating a birthday in February? Why not give your loved one an amethyst ring? You will find a lovely selection of birthstone jewelry, diamond engagement rings, pendants, watches and earrings at our store at 1402 Hancock St. in Quincy Center. Contact us at 617-773-3636 and get ready to do some holiday shopping!.

Don't Forget: We pay cash for Gold - Platinum - Diamonds... highest prices paid.

Rogers Diamonds...Watches...Jewelry www.rogersjewelry.com

Finally ... you get to do what you want to do



The question now – what's the best way to pay for it? Maybe you're simplifying your life. Maybe you're complicating it. Either way, you're at the point where some new doors are opening. You have resources. You have options. What you want is a lender you can talk to – someone you like, whose judgment you trust and respect – to help make the financing happen intelligently. At Colonial Federal, we specialize in working with people like you. Here you deal directly with lenders who actually like coming up with good ways to make things happen. Including sometimes being able to make customized loans. Sound interesting? Like to talk? Call Angela Blanchard, Vice-President/Retail Lending, at 617-471-0750 or apply online at colonialfed.com.

15-YEAR FIXED
NO POINTS!
3.39% APR

COLONIAL FEDERAL SAVINGS BANK
"Your neighborhood bank!"

QUINCY: 15 Beach Street 617-471-0750 • 1000 Southern Artery (Residents only) 617-479-1430
HOLBROOK: 802 South Franklin Street 781-767-1776
EAST WEYMOUTH: Middle & Washington Streets 781-331-1776
ONLINE: www.colonialfed.com

Some additional facts: Annual Percentage Rate (APR) effective as of 01/14/15 and may change. Applies to 1-2 family owner-occupied homes. Assumes a maximum 80% loan-to-value and first mortgage position. Subject to credit approval. A 15-Year Loan would be repaid in 180 equal monthly principal plus interest payments of $7.03 per $1000 borrowed, which do not include taxes or insurance premiums, if applicable. So your actual monthly payment will be greater.

EQUAL HOUSING LENDER Insured FDIC

Unprecedented And Momentous

The 2015 mayoral race is shaping up as an unprecedented and potentially momentous election.

Unprecedented because this will mark the first time that an incumbent mayor is challenged by two office holders from the city's two elected bodies.

KOCH

GUTRO

MAHONEY

Mayor Thomas Koch is facing challenges from Councillor Doug Gutro and School Committeewoman Anne Mahoney. Both Gutro and Mahoney announced their campaigns within hours last Monday.

Koch will kick off his bid for a fifth term later this winter or spring.

The last time three elected officials sought the mayor's office was in 1971. But that was for an open seat vacated by James McIntyre who did not seek a fourth term. The open seat triggered a four-candidate field: Ward 5 Councillor Walter Hannon, state Rep. James Brett, School Committeeman James McCormack and political newcomer Rita Anderson.

In the preliminary election, voters nominated Hannon (11,109 votes or 45.7%) and Brett (7,338 votes or 30.1%). Hannon won the final election with 17,966 votes (53.9 percent). Brett received 15,373 votes or 46.1 percent.

At this early point in the election season, most political observers agree that Koch is the front-runner to win one of the two mayoral nominations in the Sept. 22 preliminary election. He has been a proven vote-getter for mayor winning three contested races (2007, 2009 and 2011) and one term unopposed (2013).

The real showdown leading up to the preliminary election should be between Gutro and Mahoney who will vie for the second nomination. It will be interesting to see how much of their campaign strategy focuses on Koch and how much on each other in the weeks leading up to the preliminary election. Only two of the three will advance to the final election Nov. 3.

Another challenge for all three candidates will be voter turnout. Traditionally, turnout is low in preliminary elections – including contested mayoral races – and so it's imperative the candidates get their vote out in an effort to secure a nomination.

So how could the mayor's race of 2015 be momentous?

Consider:

• Mahoney - who challenged Koch in 2011 - would be the first woman elected mayor in Quincy.

• Gutro - whose council at-large seat is opening because of his decision to run for mayor - would be the first city councillor at-large to unseat an incumbent mayor since Arthur Tobin defeated Joseph LaRaia in 1977. As a councillor at-large LaRaia did the same in 1975 unseating incumbent Mayor Walter Hannon.

• Koch – who's won four terms – would be on his way to tying Mayor James Sheets for longest mayoral tenure under Plan A if he wins re-election. This is the first year voters will elect a mayor who will serve a four-year term. So, if Koch wins a fifth term and serves out that term, he would tie Sheets with 12 years as the city's chief executive.

We consulted Political Historian Frank McCauley and he came up with some interesting factoids regarding contested mayoral races.

There have been eight mayors who have been defeated for re-election under the city's Plan A form of government (1917-1949; 1958-2013.)

They are:

• William Bradford, 1922, defeated by Gustav Bates who held no elective office.

• Gustav Bates, 1924, defeated by Perley Barbour, Ward 1 councillor.

• Thomas McGrath, 1932, defeated by Charles Ross, no elective office.

• Leo Mullin (acting mayor), 1935, defeated by Thomas Burgin, no elective office.

• Walter Hannon, 1975, Joseph LaRaia, councillor at-large.

• Joseph LaRaia, 1977, Arthur Tobin, councillor at-large.

• James Sheets, 2001, William Phelan, School Committee.

• William Phelan, 2007, Thomas Koch, no elective office.

According to McCauley's research, there have been four second-place finishers in a mayoral preliminary election who went on to win the final election for mayor:

• Thomas McGrath in 1926; Thomas Burgin in 1935 (special election), Charles Ross 1942 and Joseph LaRaia, 1975.

❑

IT'S A LONG WAY to the top. . . or is it?

How long does it take to serve in elected office before winning the mayor's seat?

Well, for the last two mayors, it didn't take much time at all.

Thomas Koch - who had previously lost bids for city councillor and Norfolk County treasurer - won the mayor's office in 2007 without serving in public office. He was, however, no stranger to municipal government having served as Council on Aging director, administrative assistant for Mayor James Sheets and Park Commissioner.

William Phelan defeated Sheets in the closest mayor's race in Quincy history in 2001 – a margin of 17 votes. Phelan had served two years as a school committeeman before winning the mayor's seat.

Looking at the nine other previous mayors, only one was elected mayor with less than 10 years in elected office.

That's Walter Hannon who was first elected Ward 5 councillor in 1963 and was elected mayor eight years later in 1971.

The other mayors and the number of years it took to reach the mayor's office:

• James McIntyre - 10 years - first elected councillor at-large in 1955 and elected mayor in 1965.

• Arthur Tobin - 11 years - first elected state representative in 1966 and elected mayor in 1977.

• Amelio Della Chiesa - 14 years - first elected Ward 3 councillor in 1943 and elected mayor in 1957.

• Joseph LaRaia - 16 years - first elected Ward 2 councillor in 1959 and elected mayor in 1975.

• James Sheets - 16 years - first elected Ward 4 councillor in 1973 and elected mayor in 1989.

• Frank McCauley - 18 years - first elected Ward 1 councillor in 1963 and elected mayor in 1981.

Gutro has served 13 years on the City Council as a Ward 5 councillor and councillor at-large.

Mahoney has served nine years on the School Committee.

❑

THE MAYOR'S RACE could produce a political domino effect with multiple candidates seeking the open council at-large and school committee seats.

One contender for Gutro's open councillor at-large seat has already emerged. As we reported last week, School Committeeman David McCarthy told us he will seek the open council seat and as a result his school committee seat will open.

McCARTHY

Another potential candidate for the open council seat is former Ward 4 Councillor Jay Davis. Davis says he's giving a run some serious consideration. Davis served three terms as Ward 4 councillor (2004-2010) and two years as City Council president.

DAVIS

There may be a race in Ward 3, too. Sandy Verhault, a former candidate for school committee, says she is considering challenging incumbent Kevin Coughlin this fall. Verhault is a founder of both the North Quincy High School Hockey & Baseball Halls of Fame. She also serves on the board for the Germantown Neighborhood Center.

VERHAULT

As for potential school committee candidates, former Quincy High School principal Frank Santoro says he is planning to run for McCarthy's open seat. Santoro had served on the Quincy School Committee for eight years (1986-1993). The other two incumbent school committee members on this year's ballot – Paul Bregoli and Kathy Hubley – have indicated they will seek second four-year terms this fall.

SANTORO

So, there's quite a bit of political activity and it's only the third week of January.

Should be a pretty exciting campaign year.

The Quincy Sun

(USPS 453-060)
Published Weekly on Thursday by
The Quincy Sun Publishing Co., Inc.
1372 Hancock St., Quincy, MA 02169

Robert H. Bosworth
Publisher and Editor

Henry W. Bosworth, Jr.
Founder
1968 - 2009

75¢ per copy newsstand • $27 per year by mail in Quincy
$32 per year by mail outside Quincy • $40 out-of-state

Telephone: 617-471-3100 Fax: 617-472-3963

online at: www.thequincysun.com

email address: thequincysun@verizon.net

rbosworth@thequincysun.com

Periodicals postage paid at Boston, MA
Postmaster Send address change to:
The Quincy Sun, 1372 Hancock St., Quincy, MA 02169

The Quincy Sun assumes no financial responsibility for typographical errors in advertisements but will reprint that part of an advertisement in which the typographical error occurs.

Son Beams

By ROBERT BOSWORTH

Moments in time

THE HISTORY CHANNEL

• On Feb. 2, 1847, the first woman of a group of pioneers commonly known as the Donner Party dies during the group's journey through a snowbound Sierra Nevada mountain pass. The disastrous trip west ended up killing 42 people and turned many of the survivors into cannibals.

• On Feb. 6, 1891, members of the Dalton Gang stage an unsuccessful train robbery in California -- an inauspicious beginning to their careers as serious criminals. Bob, Emmett and Grat Dalton were only three of the 10 Dalton sons. The majority of the Dalton boys became law-abiding citizens, and one served as a deputy U.S. marshal.

• On Feb. 5, 1918, the steamship Tuscania, transporting over 2,000 American soldiers bound for Europe, is torpedoed and sinks off the coast of Ireland by the German submarine U-77.

• On Feb. 4, 1938, Walt Disney releases "Snow White and the Seven Dwarfs," his first full-length animated feature production. Naysayers, including his wife, warned him that audiences wouldn't sit through a cartoon fantasy about dwarfs, but the film quickly grossed $8 million, a staggering sum during the Great Depression.

• On Feb. 3, 1953, French oceanographer Jacques-Yves Cousteau publishes "The Silent World." Three years later, the film version was released to world acclaim. The film, which revealed the hidden universe of tropical fish, whales and walruses, won Best Documentary at the Academy Awards.

• On Feb. 7, 1984, while in orbit 170 miles above Earth, Navy Capt. Bruce McCandless becomes the first human being to fly untethered in space when he exits the U.S. space shuttle Challenger and maneuvers freely. McCandless orbited Earth in tangent with the shuttle at speeds greater than 17,500 mph.

• On Feb. 8, 1990, singer-songwriter Del Shannon ("Runaway" and "Hats Off to Larry") commits suicide while in the midst of a comeback. Shannon's widow would later file a high-profile lawsuit against Eli Lilly, the manufacturer of the antidepressant Prozac, which Shannon had begun taking shortly before his suicide.

(c) 2015 King Features Synd., Inc.

Scenes From Yesterday

THIS IS A 1911 postcard showing the Fore River Bridge built by Thomas Watson in 1902 in his Fore River Ship and Engine Company. The bridge had to be built in less than one year to allow the USS Des Moines, the first heavy cruiser built by the company, to pass out of the shipyard. The opening on the old wooden bridge was too narrow for the ship to pass through. The 100-foot center truss section was built upstream in the shipyard on barges and floated to it resting place on a high tide. The bridge opened for ships when the center station was rotated on its axis. This bridge lasted until 1936 when a new much wider bascule bridge was built alongside it. Today, the center section of a new lift bridge that looks similar to this one has been built and has been waiting for almost a year for some final adjustments before it is lifted into place. To contact Tom Galvin, e-mail tmgalvin@verizon.net.

From the Collection of City Historian Tom Galvin

Quincy's Yesterdays

This Week
1944
71 Years Ago

Carrier USS Hancock Launched At Shipyard

In the first launching of the year at the Fore River Shipyard, the USS Hancock, the last of a fleet of four aircraft carriers built here in Quincy since the war started, slid down the ways at Quincy's shipyard.

Mrs. DeWitt Clinton Ramsay, wife of Rear Admiral Ramsay, was the ship's sponsor. Governor Leverett Saltonstall and Mayor Charles A. Ross spoke at the launching.

The Hancock was the sister ship to the second Wasp, the second Lexington and the Bunker Hill.

MERCHANTS WAR BOND DINNER A SELLOUT

The Jan. 25 War Bond Dinner, sponsored by the Quincy Merchants Association at the Neighborhood Club, is a complete sellout. Patrick L. O'Malley, general chairman of the Quincy War Finance Committee, said, with applications for additional tickets being turned down.

O'Malley also said that well-known actor Joel McCrea will attend the dinner. McCrea, one of Hollywood's most popular movie stars, will attend the dinner with his wife, movie actress Frances Dee.

Tickets to the affair were obtained by the purchase of a $500 war bond.

USE OF POLICE SURVEY PLEDGED BY COUNCILLORS

Seven members of the City Council pledged themselves to use the Police Survey report as a guide in the proposed reorganization of the Quincy Police Department at a dinner meeting of the Quincy Taxpayers' Association.

Councillors attending included Council President Frank Orcutt, William Jenness, Christian Burkard, Clifton Baker, Amelio Della Chiesa, George McDonald and Carl Anderson.

QUINCY-ISMS

The four Quincy service clubs were planning a joint meeting for Jan. 31, to stimulate the purchase of war bonds. The committee included the following club presidents: George Bonsall, Rotary; Joseph Emmons, Lions; George Daley, Kiwanis; Samuel Coffman, Quintonas... Robert S. Fallon, son of Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth P. Fallon, 8 Park St., Quincy, has been promoted to the rank of first lieutenant in the US Army... William Morrison, principal of the Massachusetts Field School, was the guest speaker at a meeting of the school's Parent and Teachers Association... J. Everett Robie, owner of the Quincy Coal and Fuel Company, was re-elected to the board of directors of the Quincy Visiting Nurse Association... Claudette Colbert and Paulette Goddard were appearing in the movie "So Proudly We Hail" at the Adams Theater, School St., Quincy... The movie, "Sahara" starring Humphrey Bogart and Bruce Bennett, was playing at the Alhambra on Hancock St., Quincy Center... Julian E. MacDonnell, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ernest F. MacDonnell, Southern Artery, Quincy Point, was promoted to Radioman third class. Petty Officer MacDonnell is serving in the Pacific... A "Chart of Instructions" on how to burn bituminous coal was being given to Quincy residents by Granite Coal Co., 64 Penn St., South Quincy... Henry E. Conroy, son of Mrs. Margaret Conroy of 89 Pleasant St., South Quincy, was promoted to corporal in the United States Marine Corps. Cpl. Conroy enlisted in the Marines in June 1943... Shipbuilders' Cooperative Bank, 24 Granite Trust Building, announced that mortgage money was available for home buyers or those looking to refinance a present mortgage... A group of teachers and parents of the Montclair Parent Teachers Association went to the Red Cross donor center, Boylston St., Boston, to donate blood. They included Helene Johnson, Bernice Thissell, Marion Kelley, Bettina Hilt Holdt, Mrs. Walter Parker, and Mr. and Mrs. Charles Mahn... Carroll's Cut Rate Store, 1419 Hancock St., Quincy Center, was advertising "Facial Tissues, Small Size, $.13, Large Size, $.15"... Staff Sergeant Phillip Posey, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Phillip Posey, Sr., 72 Newbury Ave., North Quincy, has completed 46 missions with the US Air Force in the European Theater of Operations... Twin sisters, Dorothy and Phyllis Burns, were installed at the recent installation meeting of the Wollaston Assembly, Order of the Rainbow. Dorothy was installed as worthy advisor of the Assembly and, Phyllis, was elected to the office of drill leader.

Readers Forum

Fond Memories Of Frankie Bellotti And Family

This past Friday morning, I found myself over at St. Agatha's in East Milton Square for the funeral Mass for Francis X. Bellotti, Jr. better known to most as "Frankie."

The last time I spoke with Frankie was while walking over to Alba's following the dedication of the Quincy courthouse in honor of his father Francis X. Bellotti. He seemed always to be a rather quiet and reflective. He made one feel good by just having a little chat with him.

The church was packed with friends of Frankie and the entire Bellotti family. All had great stories of Frankie from over the years. We all struggle growing up and some of us struggle more. The character of a person is not seen in the struggles of life but in how we survive each day God gives us. He died too young and left behind a family and an army of friends which reflects well on a man's life and how he interacted with others around him.

I was there at the Mass as part of that army of friends who has known the Bellotti family for some 45 years going back to my very first political campaign when as a young college student volunteered ion Frank Bellotti's 1970 gubernatorial campaign.

Over the years, Frank and I have seen each other at various times. I became a good friend and ally of Sheriff Michael Bellotti, a rather large chip off the old block. Bellotti politics has been and continues to be a positive outlook on public service.

Frank Bellotti was one of my first political mentors for a number of reasons and I wanted to be there at St. Agatha's to show my support and love for a once young politician who inspired me so much to get politically involved. He has lost a son whose life changed his own life and I was there to add my support in such a sad hour of life.

Sal Giarratani
Prince Street
East Boston

More Mayoral Contenders?

Having just read The Quincy Sun's introduction of two people who want to be the new mayor of Quincy, there is also a third person interested in turning the mess Quincy is in.

His name is Charles Dennehy Jr.

As of now we have Gutro, Mahoney, and Dennehy. I think they are all qualified. But you can bet your last dollar there will be more to come.

John Isaac
Shaw Street
Quincy

Gutro Has Ability To Lead

I am excited to learn that Councillor Doug Gutro has announced his candidacy for mayor. His many years of experience as Ward Councillor (my ward) and Councilor-at-Large gives him the political knowledge to perform superbly. His current position with the Environmental Protection Agency adds scientific knowledge. I have personally witnessed his responsiveness to issues. He has the ability to lead Quincy to a bright future building on Mayor Koch's accomplishments.

Peter Gleba
Hancock Street

Hypertension Topic Feb. 19

Ruth Jones, public health nurse for the Quincy Health Department, will lead a program on hypertension Thursday, Feb. 19 at 10 a.m. at the Kennedy Center, 440 East Squantum St., Quincy.

Hypertension is a major risk factor for stroke, myocardial infarction, vascular disease and chronic kidney disease. Jones will discuss high blood pressure, including its causes, symptoms and treatment.

To register for this program or for more information call Quincy Council on Aging at (617) 376-1506.

SUBSCRIPTION FORM

FILL OUT THIS SUBSCRIPTION BLANK AND MAIL TO

The Quincy Sun

Historic Quincy's Hometown Weekly Newspaper Since 1968

1372 HANCOCK STREET, QUINCY, MA 02169

NAME _____

STREET _____

CITY _____ STATE _____ ZIP _____

CHECK ONE BOX IN EACH COLUMN

[ ] 1 YEAR IN QUINCY $27.00
[ ] 1 YEAR OUTSIDE QUINCY $32.00 [ ] CHECK ENCLOSED
[ ] 1 YEAR OUT OF STATE $40.00

Richard Keane Installed Quincy Veterans Council Commander

INSTALLING OFFICER Lawrence Norton, P.C., swears in newly elected Commander of the Quincy Veterans Council, Richard Keane of the Disabled American Veterans Chapter.

NEWLY INSTALLED OFFICERS of the Quincy Veterans Council: from left - P.C. Bob LaFleur, Chaplain; P.C. Charles Hurd, Jr. Vice Commander; Fred Cook, Sgt. at Arms; P.C. Leo Reardon, Officer of the Day; P.C. Mark Connelly, Adjutant; P.C. George Nicholson, Judge Advocate. Missing from photo: Installing Officer P.C. Lawrence Norton, treasurer.

NEWLY ELECTED Commander of the Quincy Veterans Council, Richard Keane, is presented with his Veterans Council Commander hat by his wife, Maureen. Keane is the 90th commander of the Council.

PAST COMMANDER Tony Wolowicz (right), past commander, was honored at the Quincy Veterans Council Installation for his years of services to the Council and the Robert I. Nickerson Post A.L. 382 of Squantum. At the podium is M.C. Lawrence Norton, P.C. (left). Tony's grandson, Brian, looks on.

Photos Courtesy Carol LaFleur

Three Quincy Students On Nichols Dean's List

Three students from Quincy are on the Dean's List for the fall semester at Nichols College in Dudley.

They are:

Timothy Marks, a sophomore; Jeffrey Perez, a freshman; and Shannon Porter, a senior.

Ming Dao Lui On Dean's List

Ming Dao Lui of Quincy has been named to the Dean's List for the fall semester at Wheaton College (Ill.) He is majoring in English.

'Valentine's Ball' Feb. 14 At Common Market Restaurant

The Common Market Restaurant of Quincy will host its first 'Valentine's Ball' starring Boston's own White Heat Swing Orchestra Quartet featuring vocalist Steve Marvin on Saturday, Feb. 14th at 6:30 pm.

The evening will include a four-course dinner (tax and gratuity included), a cash bar and dancing before, during and after dinner.

The "Valentine's Ball," in collaboration with JM Productions, will be held in the private upstairs Café function room.

The $45 per person four-course dinner package includes a pasta course, salad, entrée and dessert.

The nationally known White Heat Swing Orchestra Quartet features smooth jazz, big band and popular vocalist Steve Marvin. White Heat has recorded for Warner Brothers, Walt Disney Motion Pictures, backed up Norah Jones, Tony Bennett, Cab Calloway, Lou Rawls in concert, and won Boston Magazine's "Best Dance Band" award. In addition to playing at the Roxy in Boston for the last four years, WHSO recently introduced its own summertime, "Dancing Under the Stars," series at the Boston Harbor Hotel. The ensemble has also been featured on CBS News Tonight.

All tickets are $45 in advance and are all inclusive with doors opening at 6 p.m. For tickets, stop in to The Common Market Restaurant or call 617-773-9532 for reservations.

CAPTAIN FISHBONES
SEAFOOD STEAKS AND MORE
332 Victory Road,
Marina Bay, MA 02171
617 471-3511
www.captainfishbones.com

SUNDAY BRUNCH BUFFET
10am-2pm
$12.99
children under 12 $6.49

WINTER SPECIAL
January 3 - March 15
Mimosa Cocktail, House Bloody Mary or Domestic Bottle of Beer included in the price of brunch children under 12 milk or juice included with brunch

Waffle and Pancake Bar
Fresh cooked with your choice of toppings
• French Toast
• Assorted Muffins & Bagels
• Greek Salad
• Fresh Seasonal Fruit
• Chicken Broccoli Alfredo
• Home Fries
• Sausage & American Bacon
• Eggs Benedict
Omelette Station
Dessert Du Jour

Find us on Facebook
Highlights of Local Programming found on . . . QATV
Quincy Access Television
88 Washington Street
Quincy, MA 02169
617-376-1440

Public Access Channel 8

Thursday, January 22nd:
6:00pm: Bethany Congregational Church
7:00pm: Media Advisory: Chronic Homelessness

Friday, January 23rd:
6:00am: LIVE: AM Quincy (audio only)
11:30am: LIVE: Currently in Quincy

Saturday, January 24th:
3:30pm: Real Estate Focus
6:30pm: Faces of South Asia

Sunday, January 25th:
10:00am: Bethany Congregational Church
3:30pm: Sound Advice with Tom Williams

Monday, January 26th:
11:30am: LIVE: Currently in Quincy
8:00pm: QHS vs. Plymouth North Girls Basketball

Tuesday, January 27th:
6:00pm: Eye on Quincy (replay)
7:00pm: Taiwan Programming

Wednesday, January 28th:
6:00pm: Good News
10:00pm: The Constitution: Then & Now

Government Access Channel 11

Thursday, January 22nd:
12:00pm: City Council & Ordinance 1/20
8:30pm: At the Library: January Happenings

Friday, January 23rd:
6:00pm: City View with Mayor Koch
7:00pm: Martin Luther King Breakfast

Saturday/Sunday, January 24th/25th:
9:00am: City View with Mayor Koch
10:00am: Health Links: Hammer Toe
11:00am: At the Library: January Happenings
12:00pm: City Council & Ordinance 1/20
7:00pm: City Council & Ordinance 1/20

Monday, January 26th:
6:00pm: Crime Watch: Scams Revisited II
7:00pm: Norfok County Prevention Coalition
8:00pm: Martin Luther King Breakfast

Tuesday, January 27th:
8:00pm: At the Library Concert: Acousticana

Wednesday, January 28th:
7:00pm: Media Advisory: Housing & Chronic Homelessness
8:30pm: Elks Free Throw Contest

Programming is subject to change. For a complete list of programs, please consult our website at www.qatv.org

Social

Fundraiser Sunday To Support Nora Canavan's Ride For Cancer

A fundraiser to help Nora Canavan's effort to bike 4,000 miles to help fight cancer will be held Sunday, Jan 25 at 3 p.m. at the Commonwealth Bar, 79 Parkingway, Quincy.

Canavan, a graduate of Bentley University, is planning to ride with other college-aged students on a 70-day, 4,000-plus mile ride from Baltimore to San Diego this summer.

She has set a fundraising goal of $5,000 for the Ulman Cancer Fund for Young Adults' 4K for Cancer program. She has raised nearly $2,000 already but hopes to raise the rest at Sunday's fundraiser that begins at 3 p.m. and runs until 8 p.m. The event will feature music by Devri, food and raffles.

Tickets will be available at the door for a suggested $20 donation.

Donations can also be made online by visiting 4kforcancer.org/profiles/nora-canavan; or mail a contribution made out to 4k for Cancer, 921 E. Fort Ave., Suite 325, Baltimore, MD 21230.

Historian To Speak At Tide Mill Annual Meeting

Tide Mill Historian John Goff will speak at the Friends of Souther Tide Mill's annual meeting Monday, Jan. 26 at 7 p.m. at Quincy Point Congregational Church, 444 Washington St., Quincy.

To enter the chuch, use the side door to the basement of Social Hall. Refreshments will be served.

The public is invited and encouraged to attend the annual meeting of the Board.

An election will be held for two Board seats and for president. Anyone wishing to nominate someone will be able to do so at this meeting.

Goff, who has a special interest in Souther Tide Mill (visit tidemillinstitute.org) will discuss the historic mill.

'Mystery Of Stone Benches' Walk Through Faxon Park Saturday

The Quincy Park Department's Environmental Treasures program invites the public to help solve "The Mystery of the Stone Benches" during a walk through Faxon Park Saturday, Jan. 24.

Numerous stone benches, some in plain view, others hidden in the woods, each unique, are found throughout Faxon Park. Who made them? How were they built? Why were they placed in such strange locations?

Join Sally Owen for a stroll through the park and learn what the benches can teach about enjoying winter.

Meet at 10 a.m. at the parking lot by the pavilion at the top of the park off Faxon Park Road.

Call 617-472-0799 after 9 a.m. Jan. 24 for information about rescheduling if ground conditions are hazardous or weather inclement.

'Bingo Bonanza' Council On Aging Trip

The Quincy Council on Aging is coordinating a "Bingo Bonanza" trip to Wright's Farm Restaurant in Harrisville, R.I. on Thursday April 16.

Cost of the trip is $49 which includes transportation, Bingo games, and famous family-style dinner at Wright's Farm Restaurant.

Bus will leave at 10 a.m. and return at approximately 5 p.m. Space is limited.

Visit the Kennedy Center, 440 East Squantum St., Quincy, to reserve a spot on this day trip. For more information, call the Kennedy Center at (617) 376-1506.

Valentine Dance At Kennedy Center

The Kennedy Center will host a Valentine Dance on Friday, Feb. 13th from 1 to to 3 p.m.

The event will feature Olde Kids on the Block, a dance band in the style of the big bands of the 30's and 40's.

Light refreshments will be provided. Tickets are available at the Kennedy Center, 440 East Squantum St., Quincy. Suggested donation is $7 per person.

For more information, call the Quincy Council on Aging at (617) 376-1506.

Mardi Gras Celebration Feb. 17

The Quincy Council on Aging will host a Mardi Gras celebration Tuesday, Feb. 17th at 2 p.m. at the Kennedy Center, 440 East Squantum St., Quincy.

The celebration will include a Dixieland Band, light refreshments and masks, beads and hats.

Tickets are available at the Kennedy Center, 440 East Squantum St., Quincy.

Space is limited. For more information, call the Kennedy Center at (617) 376-1506.

QUINCY RESIDENT Kumu Gupta (right) along with Priest Keshav Sharan of Quincy, religious non profit and temple Vrindavan Preservation Society, attended the official Inaugural Interfaith Prayer Service for Governor Charlie Baker (center) and Lt. Governor Karyn Polito at Congregation Lion of Judah in Boston. Kumu and Priest Keshav were in the Group Intercessory Prayer, representing Hindu faith, in the Interfaith Inaugural Prayer Service program. Also shown is the governor's wife, Lauren (left). Photo Courtesy Kumu Gupta

Register O'Donnell On QATV Program

Norfolk County Register of Deeds William P. O'Donnell will appear on QATV's Sound Advice with Tom Williams next month.

The program will air Friday, Feb. 6th on Channel 8 at 5:30 p.m. and Sunday, Feb. 8th on Channel 8 at 3:30 p.m.

The Register will discuss Quincy and Norfolk County Real Estate trends and statistics, provide information about the Massachusetts Declaration of Homestead, talk about consumer issues and recent technological improvements.

The Norfolk County Registry of Deeds, located at 649 High St., Dedham, is the principal office for real property in Norfolk County.

The Registry is a resource for homeowners, title examiners, mortgage lenders, municipalities and others with a need for secure, accurate, accessible land record information. All land record research information can be found on the Registry's website www.norfolkdeeds.org.

Residents in need of assistance can contact the Registry of Deeds Customer Service Center at (781) 234-3301, or email us at registerodonnell@norfolkdeeds.org.

Social Security Event Feb. 23

A Social Security registration event will be held Monday, Feb. 23 from 1 to 3 p.m. at Atria Marina Place, 4 Seaport Dr., North Quincy.

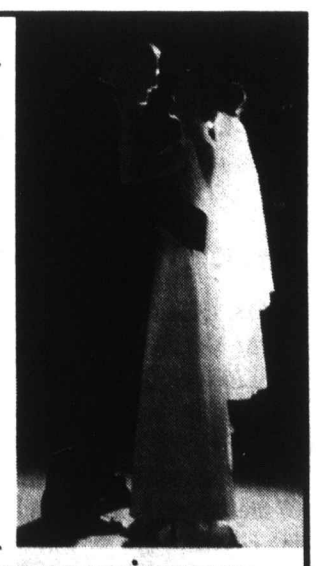
The event will be hosted by Kristen Alberino of the Social Security Administration. She will help those in attendance sign up for a "my Social Security" account. The account is an easy-to-use access and portal to view and update Social Security information.

Three Residents Graduate Fitchburg State

Three Quincy residents recently received degrees from Fitchburg State University.

They are:

Ian M. Shea, master of education in curriculum and teaching; Julianne M. Sweeney, master of education in curriculum and teaching; and Adam S. Tragellis, master of education in curriculum and teaching.



Neighborhood Club of Quincy

Nestled in a quiet neighborhood in historic Quincy, the Neighborhood Club has been creating unforgettable memories since 1917.

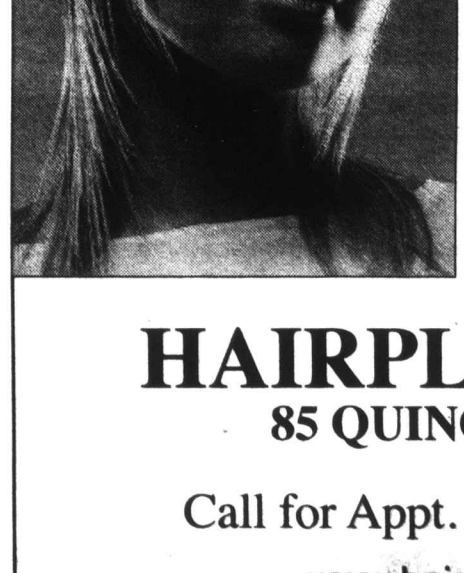
We take pride in making each and every wedding or event unique and memorable.

Whether you are looking for a spacious ballroom for up to 200, or a setting for a smaller group of guests, the Neighborhood Club has the perfect place to hold your event.

Book Your Wedding and Enjoy a Complimentary Champagne Toast
(Mention this ad)

617.773.9300

27 Glendale Road, Quincy, MA 02169 www.ncquincy.com



New Year!!!

NEW COLOR!!!

NEW STYLE!!!

HAIRPLACE ONE
85 QUINCY AVENUE
Call for Appt. 617-472-1060
www.hairplaceone.com

WHAT'S COOKING

with

Marie & Suzie

By MARIE D'OLIMPIO and SUZIE FALCO

Beef Stew Over Polenta

By MARIE

On a cold day, there is nothing like a soup or a stew. I recently made a beef stew and for a change, I served it with polenta. If you enjoy eating polenta, this is a great way to serve a beef stew.

BEEF STEW OVER POLENTA

1 pound beef stew (cut in bite size pieces)
2 small potatoes
2 large carrots
1 small onion
Salt and pepper
2 tablespoons oil
1/4 cup white wine (optional)
1/2 pound fresh sliced mushrooms
Flour for coating the beef
3 cups of stock (any kind)
2 cups of cooked polenta

In the hot oil, sauté the onion, and the coated beef. Add the stock and the cut up potatoes, mushrooms, carrots and the wine, and cook covered until meat is as tender as you want it.

While the stew is cooking, prepare the polenta as directed. I used the instant so it only takes a short time. Set aside.

When ready to serve, place some polenta on the bottom of each serving dish, and pour the stew over it. It is so satisfying and different. My family enjoyed it.

Yeast Free/Gluten Free Pizza Crust

By SUZIE

Here is a yeast free/gluten free pizza crust adapted from a dietary intervention book authored by Beth Crowell, the mother of three autistic triplets.

There are many nutritionists who use dietary changes to help with children on the autistic spectrum, and it really makes a difference. I changed it up a bit but the results are just fantastic. ENJOY!!

2 cups purified water
¼ cup olive oil
1 ½ tsp cider vinegar
2 tsp ground flax seeds
1 Tblsp. organic sugar
2 tsp baking powder
2 tsp garlic powder
1 tsp sea salt
2 cups organic baby rice cereal (dry, uncooked)
2 cups rice flour

Combine first 4 ingredients in large bowl and set aside.

Combine remaining ingredients and add to liquid mixture. Combine well mixing thoroughly.

Divide batter between two olive oiled greased pizza pans and bake at 400 for 10 – 15 minutes. Remove from oven and top with sauce and toppings of choice. (I like using nut based cheeses and veggies) Bake until edges are light brown and toppings are cooked. MANGIA!!! MANGIA!!!

Butterscotch Bars

By MARIE

I found today's recipe in one of my mother's pile of recipes that she made quite a bit when we were growing up.

Most people enjoy anything containing butterscotch and these butterscotch bars were the best.

BUTTERSCOTCH BARS

1 cup light brown sugar
1/4 cup vegetable oil
1 egg (beaten)
1/2 cup chopped pecans or walnuts
1 teaspoon vanilla
1 cup flour
1 teaspoon baking powder

Combine the sugar and oil and blend well. Add the egg, flour and baking powder and vanilla. Add the chopped nuts, and mix until will combined. On a lightly greased pan (8x8) bake in a 350 degree oven for 25-30 minutes. When cooled, but in squares. Sprinkle top with powdered sugar if desired.

Two Local Students Studying Abroad

Two students from Quincy are among 114 Stonehill College students studying abroad this spring.

Caroline B. Murray is studying at The Granada Institute of International Studies in Spain.

Victoria A. Wallace is studying at John Cabot University, Rome in Italy.

Named one of the top study abroad institutions in the nation by the Institute of International Education, Stonehill has more than 200 study abroad programs in 35 countries which students can choose.

Marlena Forrester On Dean's List

Marlena Forrester of Quincy has been named to the Dean's List at Providence College for the fall semester.

Forrester is a member of the Class of 2018.

Karl Sargent On Dean's List

Karl Sargent of Quincy is on the Dean's List for the fall semester at Lyndon State College in Lyndonville, VT.

Sargent is a freshman majoring in music business and industry - cncentration in production.

SALES. SERVICE. INSTALLATION

LOCKSMITH SERVICES
GRANITE LOCK Co. INC.
www.granitelock.com
617-472-2177
617-479-3341(Fax)
MA Sys. Con. Lic. 7025-C

•COMMERCIAL•
- Access Control
- Wireless Locks
- Electric Strikes
- Exit Hardware
- Door Openers/Closers
- Commercial Mailboxes
- High Security Key Systems
- Master Key Systems
- Handicap Access Hardware

•AUTOMOTIVE•
- Fit Keys to Autos/Rekeying
- Lockouts/Repairs
- Cloned/Transponder Keys

•SAFES•
- Sales/Repairs/Installations
- Combinations Changed
- Fire & Burglary Resistant Safes

•RESIDENTIAL•
- Deadbolts Installed
- Baldwin/Emtek Hardware
- Rekeying/Lockouts

755 Southern Artery, Rte. 3A Quincy, MA 02169

"Rock Solid Security"

QHS Team Competes At Academic Decathlon

QUINCY HIGH SCHOOL 2014-2015 Academic Decathlon Team, organized by Jane Lundquist, placed sixth in the regional competitions held recently at Lowell High School. The effort was led by senior Suhail Purkar, who earned a Gold Medal in Social Science and a Silver Medal in Art. The qualified for the state meet that will be held in March and will be hosted by Quincy High School. Front row (from left): Tiffany Pham, Kalima Bukenya, Mariam Ahmed, Coach Jane Lundquist, Daniel Liang. Second row: Andrea Weng, Vanessa Zou, Seiina Tsang, Jian Cheng Mo. Third row: Jia Xin Wang, Carmen Huang, Amira Abdelaziz, Maysoon Khan, Michelle Lo, Lauren Lo, Joyce Zhang, Parawat Changthong, Yaseen Alkhafaji, Vasil Duka. Fourth row: Nicole Strauss, Yusra Ahmed, Emily Lo, Jennifer Hong, Marissa Mei, Suhail Purkar, Stiv Mucollari and Leonard Strauss. Photo Courtesy Quincy High School

DYLAN CLIFFORD of Quincy (second from left) and Alexander Jordan (second from right), both students at St. Agatha School, Milton, were recently selected Peter Lynch Scholars. With them are St. Agatha School Principal Maureen Simmons (left) and Fr. Peter Casey, pastor, St. Agatha Church. Photo Courtesy St. Agatha School

Dylan Clifford Selected Peter Lynch Scholar

Dylan Clifford of Quincy, a student at St. Agatha School, Milton, was recently selected a Peter Lynch Scholar.

Cardinal Séan O'Malley of the Archdiocese of Boston inducted the fifth class of Peter Lynch (PL) Scholars at a recent Mass followed by a breakfast reception at Our Lady Help of Christians Parish in Newton.

Alexander Jordan of Mattapan, another student at St. Agatha School, was also among the 173 students from across the Greater Boston area that were selected for this program. For the 2014-2015 school year, the Catholic Schools Foundation distributed over $250,000 to 173 PL Scholars in 58 schools.

Cardinal O'Malley was accompanied by Michael B. Reardon, Executive Director of the Catholic Schools Foundation, and Kathy Mears, Superintendent for Catholic Schools in the Archdiocese of Boston.

"Cardinal Séan reminded us of the importance of using our God-given talents and working hard," Reardon said. "Peter Lynch did just that and now the Peter Lynch Scholars are a legacy he will leave." In addition, 10 pastors concelebrated the Mass.

Lynch, known for his successful career as a money manager at Fidelity Investments, is a longtime supporter of Boston's Catholic Schools and serves as chairman emeritus for the Catholic Schools Foundation. In his honor, The Peter Lynch (PL) Scholars Program was established in 2010 to honor Lynch's involvement with the Catholic Schools Foundation/Inner-City Scholarship Fund. Each Catholic elementary school selects their PL Scholars based upon, among other criteria, his or her grades, work ethic, and demonstrated care and concern for others in the school community and beyond.

Last year the Catholic Schools Foundation distributed approximately 5,000 scholarships to students, totaling more than $6 million dollars in tuition support.

Six Quincy Students On Stonehill Dean's List

Six Quincy students are on the Dean's List at Stonehill College for the fall semester.

They are:

Michelle Barry, member of the Class of 2015, studying psychology.

Andrew Fonte, member of the Class of 2016, studying Interdisciplinary Studies.

Caroline Murray, member of the Class of 2016, studying criminology/Spanish.

Alexandra Baylis, member of the Class of 2017, studying psychology.

Krista Ferent, member of the Class of 2017, studying criminology.

Qian Wang, member of the Class of 2017, studying finance.

Business Showcase Jan. 29
At Boston Marriott Quincy

'Wicked Good Cupcakes' Duo To Share Sweet Success At Quincy Chamber Meeting

By KRIS KALABOKAS

Tracey Noonan and daughter Danielle Vilagie of Wicked Good Cupcakes will share their story of sweet success during the Quincy Chamber of Commerce Annual Meeting and Business Showcase on Jan. 29 at the Boston Marriott Quincy.

Noonan and Vilagie began their journey which eventually landed them on an episode of ABC's Shark Tank by taking cake decorating classes and posting their creations on Facebook, said Tracey's husband and Danielle's father, Scott Noonan.

Soon after, they were being contacted by friends and local businesses seeking their baked goods for celebratory and corporate events. This newfound attention was the push the duo needed to open their first retail location in Cohasset in 2011.

Cohasset was a natural fit for their business because it's easily accessible to many living on the South Shore, said Scott.

With just five employees including Tracey and Vilagie, the demand for their confections became overwhelming. They soon enlisted the help of Scott, CEO at Wicked Good Cupcakes, who washed dishes over the weekend. Extended family were then asked to come and help meet the demand for their baked goods.

Soon enough, they were getting requests to ship their product across the country; problematic because the cupcakes were too difficult to ship without becoming stale or damaged. That's when the idea of the Wicked Good to Go cupcake, packaged in a mason jar, came about.

Each Wicked Good to Go mason jar contains two freshly baked and packaged (with a spoon) cupcakes with frosting and all the fixings that can be shipped anywhere in the United States without fear of damaging the product. Each jar is good for 10 days without refrigeration and comes in flavors like Peanut Butter Surprise and Cookies n' Cream. Their best seller, said Scott, is aptly named The Wicked Good, a peanut butter and chocolate chip "cookie-like" batter cupcake layered with peanut butter frosting and chocolate ganache.

They have since expanded their product line and now offer pies, brownies, cheesecakes, and gluten-free cakes in their signature mason jars.

While shipping internationally is unfeasible due to the 10-day shelf life of the jars and prohibitive shipping costs, Scott said he has made a special deal with the United States Postal Service regarding shipping to APOs at a reduced price.

Wicked Good Cupcakes plans on keeping their business small, said Scott. While they have opened up a 20,000-square-foot processing facility in Pennsylvania, they will limit their retail locations to their flagship Cohasset store and their newest location in Faneuil Hall, which he said has been wildly successful.

Their move to Faneuil Hall was strategic. The site was recently ranked the seventh most visited tourist attraction in the world, said Scott, drawing roughly 18 million visitors per year.

People stop during their trolley tours of Boston specifically to try their cupcakes, he said.

Business for Wicked Good Cupcakes took off following Tracey and Danielle's appearance on Shark Tank in 2013.

The two paired with Kevin O'Leary, or "Mr. Wonderful," of Kevin O'Leary Ventures, a company that offers small business loans.

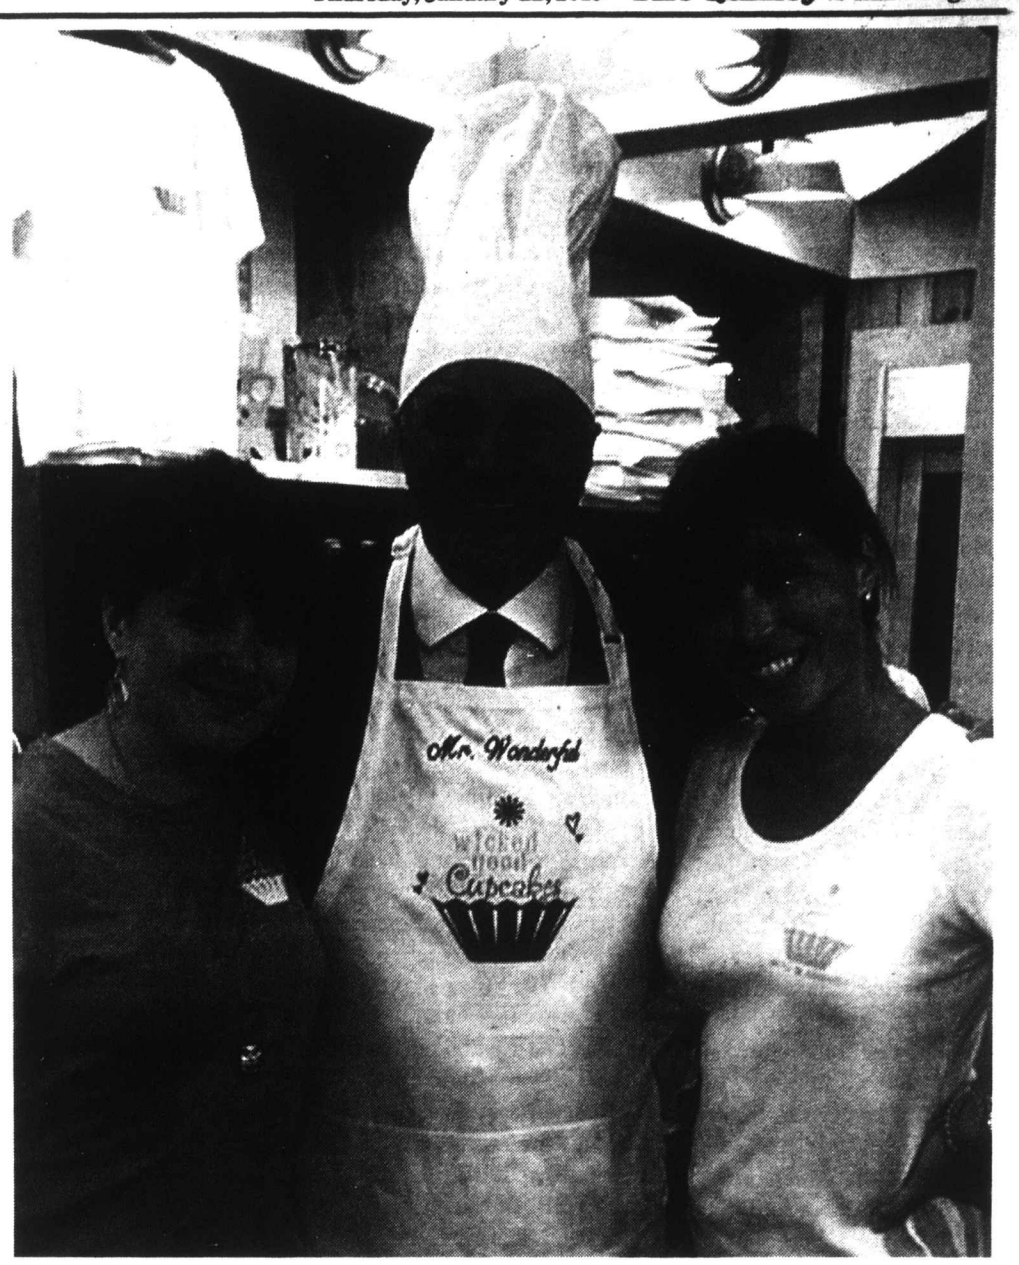
O'Leary offered a zero equity stake with a 45 cent royalty of every unit sold and gave them $75,000 to invest in their company.

It was the first zero equity deal in the show's history, said Scott.

Both Tracey and Danielle had been fans of Shark Tank since season one, he said. He recalled how Tracey turned to him one day out of the blue and said that she wanted to be on the show.

After filling out the necessary paperwork, they received a call the following day from producers who were interested in the then growing company. There

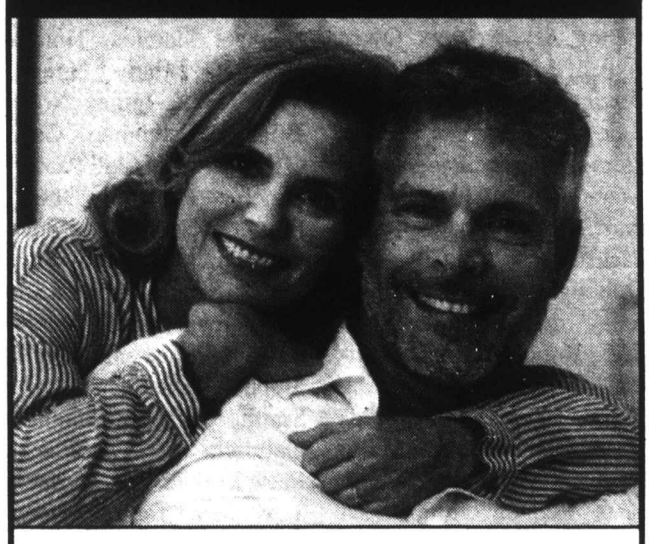
Cont'd On Page 23



SWEET SUCCESS – Daughter Danielle Vilagie (left) and mother Tracey Noonan (right) stand with Kevin O'Leary of O'Leary Ventures and ABC's Shark Tank. The mother-daughter duo opened their Wicked Good Cupcakes bakery in Cohasset in 2011 and in 2013 appeared on Shark Tank where they partnered with O'Leary. They soon saw sales of their Wicked Good to Go cupcakes in a jar skyrocket and have since opened another retail location in Boston's Faneuil Hall. Vilagie and Noonan will be the featured speakers at the Quincy Chamber of Commerce's Annual Meeting and Business Showcase on Jan. 29 at the Boston Marriott Quincy.

Photo Courtesy Scott Noonan

Always here for you



With Urgent Care and 24/7 Medical Advice

Our practices in Quincy and Braintree provide you with primary and specialty care and convenient on-site labs and imaging.

Atrius Health

Granite Medical Group
500 Congress Street, Quincy | 617-471-0033
www.granitemedical.com

Harvard Vanguard Medical Associates
111 Grossman Drive, Braintree | 781-849-1000
1250 Hancock Street, Quincy | 617-774-0600
www.harvardvanguard.org

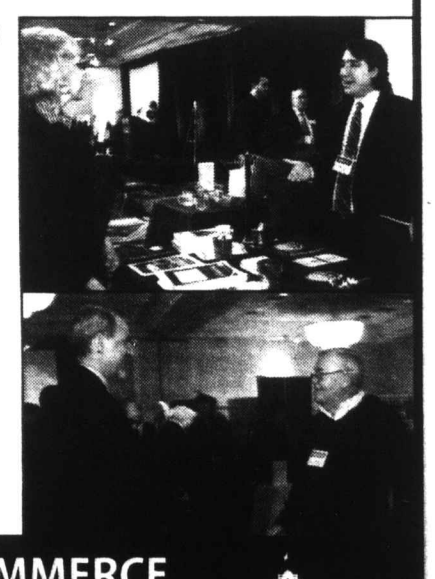
Affiliated with South Shore Hospital and Beth Israel Deaconess Hospital-Milton

OPEN TO THE PUBLIC

Join us for our Annual Business Showcase where 80 local companies will display their goods and services.

Tickets are $15 per person, includes light dinner, admission into the Business Showcase, as well as remarks from:

Mayor Thomas P. Koch
Chamber Chairman Ed Fleming
Keynote Speaker:
Tracey Noonan
Danielle Vilagie
As seen on SHARK TANK



QUINCY CHAMBER OF COMMERCE
ANNUAL MEETING & BUSINESS EXPO
Quincy Chamber of Commerce

Thursday, January 29, 2015
4:00–7:30pm
Boston Marriott Quincy
TICKET PRICE $15
Purchase tickets online at TheQuincyChamber.com or call (617) 471-1700

Thank you to our Platinum Sponsors:
Marriott Boston Quincy · Bank of Canton · The Patriot Ledger · Morisi & Oatway, P.C. Attorneys at Law · Wessling Architects

The Quincy Chamber of Commerce • 180 Old Colony Avenue • Quincy, MA 02170
(617) 471-1700 • TheQuincyChamber.com

866 On Quincy High School First Term Honor Roll

Eight-hundred and sixty-six students are on the Quincy High School first term honor roll.

They are:

DISTINCTION

Grade 12: Martin Aliberti, Angelina Avitabile, Ralph Adrian Besid, Ursula Biba, Aaron Blake, Lydia Blodgett, Yversen Boutin, Megan Bouzan, Bailey Brann, Carly Brilliant, Christopher Buzzell, Kurt Russel Caberoy, Marina Chafa, Jenny Chau, Wing Lung Chau, Wing Shing Chau, Michelle Chen, Valerie Chen, Jeanne Chin, Kristen Connors, John Crump, Lydia Culp, Madison Davis, Justina Dearden, Dave Dumersier, Patrick Freeman, John Grasselli, Aaron Ha, Mark Hajjar, Abraham Hoti, Maxwell Hurley, Emma Kelly, Michael Kostka, Aurelie Lafontant, James Lam, Linh Lam, Zachary Latini, Jackson Le, Michelle Le, Kunyi Li, Mingquan Li, Jerod Lin, Emily Lo, Maryanne Ly, Mary Kathleen Lynch, Kaitlin MacDonald, Colleen Madden, Liam Mahoney, Steven Marstjepovic, Lauren Matthies, Christina Mayo, Angela McDonald, Erin McMillen, Mateusz Mroz, Anna Nguyen, Emma Papile, Cristian Peguero Isalguez, Heather Pettine, Brian Powers, Suhail Purkar, Sabrina Rauch, Steven Ross, Robert Salvucci, Jessika Santos, Hiba Senhaj, Jessica Siders, Tatiana Silveira, Leonard Strauss, Nicole Strauss, Jenny Tam Thi, Wenjing Tian, Nikki Tran, Tin Tran, John Traynor, Nicole Welliver, Jadah Pearl Williams, Henry Yip, Shu Ying Zeng.

Grade 11: Laqueen Arias, Grace Baker, Olivia Baldino, Eleanor Ballard, Jaquelyn Bither, John Bonfiglioli, Liam Bourgeois, Kayla Bowden, Kalima Bukenya, Ann-Estelle Burke, Stephen Carinci, Otavio Carvalho, Jayda Chase, Karen Chen, Katherine Choi, Sarah Clancy, Sitarah Clark-Lamothe, Dean Colarusso, Theresa Cronin, Stiven Cyfeku, Victoria Deery, Alexander Demass, Stanley Deng, Julia Doyle, Michael Fernald, Megan Fox, Corrine Corrina Hartford, Tiffany He Lam, Anxhela Hoti, Jia Min Huang, Junbong Jang, Gabriela Jerahian, Manal Khan, Mckenna Kiley, Samantha Le, Yan Li, Jia Li Liu, Christopher Llaga, Lauren Lo, Stephanie Lopez, Man Ting Lui, Christopher Llaga, Lauren Lo, Stephanie Lopez, Man Ting Lui, Megi Maci, Declan Mayo, Jinming Mei, Xiao Xin Mei, Scott Mele, Jr., Jian Cheng Mo, Stiv Mucollari, Michael Nazzaro, Julie Nguyen, Willy Nguyen, Christine Norton, Ariana Paulo, Matthew Pham, My Pham, Leonardo Primo, Thoma Qafko, Dallane Quintero, Samantha Reardon, Benjamin Regan, Aaron Rodriguez, Juliet Wilma Samson, Asajean Soriano, Scarlett Stanhope, Katherine Stevenson, Vicki Szeto, Brenna Tabbut, Sylvene Tran, Vivian Hien Tran-Vo, Jason Truong, Selina Tsang, Ryan Tucker, Alicia Walker, Jia Xin Wang, Nicholas Warner, Yunting Wong, Jack Wu, Xing Yi Wu, Yuming Zeng, Lucy Zhang, Jessie Zhu, Vivian Zou.

Grade 10: Yusra Ahmed, Kayla Ahrens, Noor Albannein Al-Saad, Yaseen Alkhafaji, Noel Bailey, Emily Barker, Evan Bausemer, Rebecca Brennan, Cassandra Brown, Korea Burton, Lucia Buzzell, Joshua Campbell, Bailee Carey, Kenneth Chan, Shirley Chen, Joanne Chung, Sammy Cordahi, Maya Correia, Amy Coy, Joseph Cristiani III, Kelan Curran Cross, Brianne Dane, Mattia Dema, Hoai Diep, Katherine Dormady, Wing Ru Goh, Leanne Gough, Kania Grant, Jakki Guan, Michelle He Lam, Marcus Johnson, Emilia Kapcia, Varenyam Kaushik, Casey Kelliher, Maysoon Khan, Robert Kyller, Tien Lam, Catly Le, Jessie Lei, Yi Li, Zhennan Li, Daniel Liang, Claudnardson Louissaint, Zhi Yang Luo, Samuel Luong, Judy Luu, Vanessa Ly, Alexandra MacPherson, Grace Maldonado, Colin Maloney, Shelby Maze, Zachery McCabe, Shauna McColgan, Christina McDonald, Anna McGillicuddy, Dylan McGowan, Teresa McMillen, Kayla Merchant, Kyle Murphy, Molly Murphy, Julie Nabstedt, Minhthu Nguyen, Frank Nunziato, Jr., James O'Leary, Imane Oubtrou, Danielle Parry, Luis Peguero Isalguez, Simona Petkova, Vanan Phan, Thomas Pugsley, Joelle Robinson, Kelsey Rose, Jacqueline Ryan, Nicole Salvatore, Shaheen Soto, Stephanie Stalder, Quan Thi, Yvonne To, Alexa Topalli, Kristen Tran, Thomas Tran, Vincent Tran, Brigitte Vasquez, Hunter Weinberger, Yashi Xu, Andy Zhen, Wendy Zhou, Rachael Zisk

Grade9: Mariam Ahmed, Curtis Ajavon, Ariana Alpert, Stephen Andrews, Glayston Barbosa, River Barrett, Rahma Benmouffok, Gabriella Bertoldi, Amanda Bottary, Christine Broderick, Rachel Brown, Amanda Burke, Kyle Cabezas, Stela Cala, Carlos Cardoso, Alexandra Case, Ziuling Cheung He, Dashiell Chin, Ronin Contreras, Brendan Corbett, Emily Crosta, Francesco Cugini, Liana Cunningham, Jennifer Danh, Kayla Deady, Patrick Deery, Terry Deng, Gretah Diorio, Paul Donahue, Elise Ducharme, Thanh Tung Duong, Yusuf Eid, Ava Falco, Shannon Foley, Melanie Fuentes, Lauren Gilmartin, Endi Gjeli, Christina Haley, Klei Hamzallari, Brandon Ho, Julie Hong, Reagan Hutchens, Bashkim Jacelli, Meghan Joyce, John Kelly, Catlinh Le, Peter Le, Izadora Lenna, Ami Lesha, Justin Li, Ling Li, Nhu Lieu, Kevin Lin, Michelle Lo, Scott MacPherson, Jr., Brian Mahabir, Natalie Mallon, Damyan Markov, Myrna Mathieu, Julia Mayo, Mark McGee, Bryan McGillicuddy, Shannen McMahon, Carly McMorrow, Kezia Mlenga, Luis Morales Armas, Kevin Mortimer, Ashley Murphy, Celia Murphy, Emily Nguyen, Emma Nguyen, Jamie Nguyen, Timothy Nguyen, Helena Norton, Margaret O'Leary, Brielle O'Malley, Kevin O'Shea, Danielle Pacione, Benjamin Parrish, Michaela Pettinelli, Derek Phan, Edneisha Philibert, Amy Ramirez, Soniya Rana, Norapat Rerngkasetkig, James Robinson, Allison Russell, Lauren Saccoach, Luiza Santos, Erika Sato, Kathleen Saverse, Dewey Schramm, Anna Scolaro, Marissa Scolaro, Rachel Shen, Victoria Shen, Nathalia Silva Da Mata, Davi Soares, Jenson Joshua Soriano, Florence Tam, Whitney Tang, Kamal Thelagathoti, William Tran, Amy Trillcott, Chi Jung Tsao, Kelly Vo, Tina Vo, Adam Vu, Caroline Walsh, Chan Juan Weng, Julie Whalen, Huimei Yu, Yasmina Zaharian-Touirto, Anthony Zero, Zhen Hao Zheng.

HIGH HONORS

Grade 12: Amira Abdelaziz, Marisa Abundis, Kimberly Andrews, Jonathan Bain, Scott Bausemer, Tyler Beach, Brandon Beal, Jake Bergonzi, Gage Blaikie, Allyssa Borges, Saxon Bresnahan, Bianca Cadet, Meghan Caggiano, Pedro Caliari, Tiffany Chen, Yanyin Cheung He, Kelly Chow, Isabella Cobble, Andrew Cook, Christopher Coughlan, Miranda Cudmore, James Deamicis, Katy Deng, Kassandra Dineen, Mckenzie Dollosa, Kelly Donahue, Vasil Duka, Charles Engren, Colin Evans, Isabella Falco, Nolan Flynn, Emily Gilmartin, Conner Goulart, Emily Hatfield, Wei He, Gianni Hill, Robert Hines, Monica Huynh, Linda Ibrahim, Kylie Jusseaume, Rosemary Keenan, Emma Kimmell, Andy Lau, Nicole Lee, Peishi Li, Hien Ly, Monica Ly, Rebecca Mahan, Heidy Martinez-Miranda, Brooke McCarthy, Ciaran McDevitt, Samantha McMahon, Zi Qiang Mo, Drew Myers, Devin Nguyen, Elizabeth Nguyen, Daniel O'Hara, Kerry Phelan, Noreen Plabutong, Aidan Pugsley, Peadar Quinn, Emily Vantassell, Dana Varmahmoodi, Lily Vo, Hody Wong, Weijie Xue.

Grade 11: Jessica Ball, Daisy Ban, Amanda Broughton, Patrick Burke, Catherine Buttomer, Guo Wei Cai, Marissa Cawley, Parawat Changthong, Vicent Cristiani III, Maura Crump, Shaun Cunningham, Philip Czajkowski, Ryan Dang, Vannessa Demore, Julie Devico, Luma Dos Santos, Nakiya Douglas, Quinlan Evans, Joseph Ferracane, Sarah Gibbons, Cailyn Halley, John Hallisey, Timothy Hathaway, Elizabeth Huynh, Ridha Khawar, Austin Kimmell, Trevor Kirby, Genderson Lai Ng, Jasmin Las, Tien Le, Emma Mahn, Jonathan Maung, Michael McNelley, Haijie Mei, Jenna Morris, Rebecca Nunziato, Kelly Oconnor, Margaret Parker, Tiffany Pham, Harrison Pitts, Alexandria Richards, Jonathan Roberts, Brian Rooney, Peter Saccoach, Olivia Salvucci, Aidan Smyth, Bernardo Teixeira, Shannon Tierney, Tommy Tran, Jackson Vo, Kyle Vo, Bryant Wang, Wen Yi Wei, Haoming Wu, Stephanie Zeng, Joyce Zhang, Yu Juan Zheng, Xhuljo Zyba

Grade 10: Ryan Ahola, Priscilla Anjurthe, Amy Blois, Ya Tzu Chang, Jessica Chieng, Dante Cofield, Miguel Degrazia, Linda Do, Nhat Do, Clare Doherty, Matthew Donahue, Kelsey Dunn, Julia Ford, Lauren Gardiner, Maeve Hernon, Alexander Huynh, Matthew Jonah, Crystal Le, Jennifer Leung, Alyson Linik, Owen Lynch, Maura MacDonald, Jessica Mahoney, Brian Maloney, Christopher Mann, Harold Marcheski, Josefine Marstjepovic, Chantae Maynard, Kevin Mbogo, Ryley McCarron, Abigail McDonough, Scott McGahey, Riley McLaughlin, Huimin Mei, Ronoldi Molina, Alicia Murphy, Erin O'Meara, Tiara Osgood, Ashley Philibert, Connor Porter, Mario Ragusa, Michael Reardon, Kate Reuben, Rami Soufan, Danny Szeto, Michael Tervakoski, Eoin Tierney, Rachel Tran, Hillary Valenzuela, Jiapeng Wu.

Grade 9: Joshua Alberto-Anderson, Ezequiel Arrendell Pimentel, Caroline Austin, Sophia Baldino, Neliza Baptista, Rachel Beck, Kervens Boutin, Slade Burke, Corinna Capobianchi, Devin Chan, Meleah Chase, Benjamin Chen, Shane Conley, Mairead Connolly, Julia Crawford, Noah Culp, Kaleigh Davies, Briana Davis, Victoria Deamicis, Neha Deepak, Nicholas Defranco, Lachelle Do, Kenny Dong, Olivia Dyer, Lynnette Familia, Troy Fields, Mikhayla Foley, Cecilia Gonzalez, Tiffany Hong, Steven Honrado-Foster, Miranda Hood, Julius Kahugu, Naomi Kane, Allison Karam, Rachel Knight, Smriti Kumar, Jason Lam, Dominic Laptiste, Jake Louzan Kathryn Lynch, Alexis Marshall, Katelyn McDevitt, Robert Mercier, Rosheline Molina, Rachel Ng, Brian Nguyen, Lisa Paulemon, Jack Peckham, Christ Pham, Daniel Riley, Reinaldo Segui, Jacob Walsh, Ryan Warner, Natalie Welch, Kari Wismar, Shi Yu, Gredi Zyba.

HONORS

Grade 12: Chika Aguguo, Laryssa Almeida, Ahmed Basabrain, Alexander Blaikie, Patrick Boyle, Armani Cardoso, Andrew Carroll, Tanya Connor, Adam Cook, Djamila Arielle Daun E Lorena, Alessa Davis, Aidan Dennis, Jonique Depina, Robert Dibbles, Nya Domkam, Christopher Doyle, Sheng Hua Du, Shayla Eaton, Nicholas Fahey, Elaine Fang, Jianhui Fang, Cedric Ferguson, Jessica Fonseca, Armenia Marie Galecia, Jonathan Gallagher, Kenneth Garcia Rosario, Schmidreck Georges, Cedric Germain, Christopher Golden, Gabrielle Grier, Miles Hadley, James Hagborg, Ryan Harty, Kiley Hewer, Kevin Ho, Jennifer Hong, Allen Huang, Andrew Johnson, Cheyenne Johnson, Calvin Jusme, Samuel Keane, Gina Kelley, Stiven Kodra, Sultan Kokel, Reda Laftih, Julia Larkin, Vinh Le, Michelle Lee, Valerie Lioudinouskov, Cody Ma, Zhaoyuan Ma, Julia McCarthy, Brianna McCombs, Grace McDonough, Shane McKenna, Shane McMillan, Xiao Ling Mei, Noemi Monterroso, Heidy Morales, Michael Morales, Timothy Murphy, Donny Nguyen, Vi Nguyen, James Nolan, Brian O'Callaghan, Gavin O'Hare, Rafheda Passley, Ginelys Pimentel, Jessica Ploof, Rachel Roach, Zachary Roos, Michael Rowland, Larissa Santos, Melanie Santos, Pamela Santos, Kaitlyn Saverse, Anastacia Silveira, Stephen Smiddy, Courtney Smith, Nicholas Solander, Gabriella Soto, Terrol Stark, Patrick Sullivan, Christine Tam, Jesse Tan, Jedpreeya Tantisewekul, Ammy Thach, Cristina Tiussi, Denise Tran, Paul Trubiano, Kayleiana Tusi, Annie Waterman, Haley White, Symone Woodham, Julianna Wright, Joseph Yacano, Carl Zapata.

Grade 11: Taisha Alexandre, William Alzened, Mark Bambrick, Patrick Bambrick, Antonio Barbosa, Mahmoud Berikaa, Christina Bither, Paul Blake, Caroline Bowes, Cassandra Brooks, Eliane Patricia Cabral, Alyssa Camara, Rene Carbajal, Sabrina Carlin, Ming Xia Chen, Julia Coletta, Christopher Connolly, Madison Connor, Samella Dacunha, Cody Desmond, Riley Driscoll, Mason Francoeur, Joseph Galuski, Liam Gambon, Keren Garcia, Taylor Hall, Helen Herrera, Christopher Iacobucci, Nicole Jorgensen, Ryan Landers, Joseph Leblanc, Tyrian Leonard, Li Si, Kamaiyah Lissaint, Desirae Lucas, George Maier, Nadia Maloof, Garrett McMorrow, Natalie Melendez, Conor Mortimer, Michael Munroe, Emma O'Donnell, Michael Ortiz, Jr., Samantha Pendleton, David Pham, Michael Piquette, Kevin Rivera, Jared Roche, Katrina Rogers, Robin Ross, John Ryan, Kayla Scibilio, Shanelle Serrano, Zachary Smith, Emily Suslowicz, Wei Jun Tan, Andrew Tran, Khoa Trang, Colleen Trenholm, Kevin Vasconcelos, Kylie Whalen.

Grade 10: Gavin Abbott, Oksana Asllani, Carla Awed, Karissa Beal, Nathaniel Bock, Tiahna Cabral, Waseem Chebbo, Brianna Cristiani, Taylor Darcy, Desti Djaferi, Owen Doherty, Jenna Dunn, Gale Egan-Mullen, Edinson Fernandez, Kevin Fitzgerald, Ryan Foy, John Gaffney, Trisha Galecia, Savanah Gray, Semiya Harris-Eriyo, Hayley Keenan, Lilly Keenan, Rana Kenawy, Kaylen Kozlowski, Taylor Litif, Rhiannon Livingstone, Eryn McCarthy, Timothy McDonough, Shu Hua Mei, Zhuo Feng Mei, Jason Mejia, Alex Melo, Joshua Murphy, Kristina Nardone, Dejvid Niko, Shelby Noble, Fallon O'Hare, Carmine Oliva, Phakphum Papano, Brian Quach, Patrick Quirk, Adelina Ribeiro, Oliver Santorelli, Edgard Santos, Garce Scuzzarella, Zachary Smith, Emma Smyth, Christian Soto, Brianna Sullivan, Madison Synan, Alissa Tam, Yinglin Tan, Sadaf Tauhid, Nikolaos Theodorou, Liam Tollenger, Minh Truong, Antonio Vega, Francis Wahlberg, Imani Williams.

Grade 9: Conner Ainsley, Humza Ali, Dana Alrifai, Josiah Andrews, Abigail Bardon, Ryan Boretti, Cody Brown, Matthew Brown, Robert Buttomer, Jr., Carmen Cheung, Jordan Collins, Jessica Dellamano, James Dwyer, Jr., Yu Hui Feng, Michaela Galligan, Marc Ghossoub, Gavin Goins, Samantha Hamel, David Hartford, Haley Hartnett, Courtney Holler, John Kamb, Zakariye Khaliif, Talha Khawar, Kenton Kwok, Joey Landry, Ryan Larsen, Chao Xiang Lin, Steven Mackenzie, Ryan Malloy, Destany Marquis, Alani Meng, Andrew Nickerson, Christopher Nolan, Jordan O'Hagan, Arianna Ortiz, Olivia Palazzi, Samantha Pan, Zarianna Pizarro Garcia, Kennedy Ramos, Nasya Sical, Arthur Silva, Jenna Sleiman, Jose Soto Arvelo, Taniya Sprinkle, Grace Stone, Tyler Sullivan, Evan Tabbi, Kaylee Terranova, Khang-Kenneth Tran, Zachary Walsh, Tao Wang, Deonte Washington-Humphrey, Louis Wong.

QUINT'S
House of Flowers
Family Owned & Operated Since 1919
761 Southern Artery
QUINCY
617-773-7620

Koch: City May Take Back Hospital For 'Medical Services'

Cont'd From Page 1

private non-profit company that had owned the hospital since 1999, the City moved to ensure that the real estate provisions were protected.

"Steward's intention to run roughshod over its legal obligations will not stand – our City has rights and we intend to exercise them if Steward does not come to the table with an agreement that addresses our concerns," Koch said. "This community will control its own destiny when it comes to the future of Quincy Medical Center."

The City's action prompted Steward to seek to a 45-day freeze on any legal action in order for negotiations to continue on the future of the property.

The action is separate from the state Attorney General's Office settlement with Quincy Medical Center, which requires the health care company to keep a fully operational Emergency Department open at the Whitwell Street location for a year with ability to move to a different location for a second year. That agreement provides caveats for the continuation of an emergency department in Quincy and a small amount of fines if Steward does not comply with the agreement.

"We have said that we are prepared to take action with or without the Attorney General's Office, and quite frankly, the agreement is simply not enough," Koch said.

The mayor said exercising Quincy's property rights does not mean the City is planning to get back into the business of a running a municipal hospital, but added that it would give the community the opportunity to pursue medical services at the facility and ensure that any future use is acceptable to the City. It will also serve to protect park space that is part of the hospital property, which Koch said was a priority for the surrounding neighborhood. Those concerns, and the time it will take to plan for and address them, were the reasons the City agreed to continue negotiations with Steward.

The city council was scheduled to hear an update on QMC at Tuesday night's meeting after the Sun went to press.

Increased Use Of Heroin Tied To Wider Availability, Higher Potency, Cost

Cont'd From Page 3

is what he called the "rinse and spin cycle" that addicts are put through. After Narcan is administered, an addict goes through hospitalization, stabilization, and detoxification only to be released back onto the street with few social services to assist them in their battle against opiate addiction.

"They need to have a place where they can go and a program they can get in to, some encouragement to get in those programs and an empty bed they can go to," he said.

Sen. John Keenan outlined his recent efforts to reduce the amount of opiate prescriptions handed out by doctors. Two years ago, legislation successfully launched a prescription drug monitoring program that requires Massachusetts physicians to input who they prescribe pain killers to and in what amount.

If someone is found to be "prescription shopping" through the drug monitoring program, they can be locked into filling their prescription at only one pharmacy.

Out of state prescriptions are now prohibited from being filled unless the prescription is from a contiguous state, he said. Such restrictions allow pharmacists to more easily track drug seekers who go pharmacy to pharmacy for their fix and limits where possible addicts can get their medication.

In 2014, legislation required insurance companies to cover the cost of 14 days of rehabilitation. "It's not enough," said the Senator. "It's not enough at all but insurance companies for too long have been too happy to pass on the issues of substance abuse."

He said he's currently working to have the number of days of rehabilitation covered by insurance companies doubled.

He's also hoping to pass legislation that would allow for emergency room physicians to only prescribe a 15 day supply of pain killers that could be refilled just once over a 60 day period.

"Maybe there's too many pills out there," he said. "Maybe there's too many pills being prescribed."

Julie Devereaux, who is the mother of an addict, said that while she was happy to see so many representatives of the court system on the panel, she was disappointed that representatives of the health community didn't address the crowd.

"If addiction is a medical issue why aren't there more people from the medical community up here?" she asked. "This is a medical issue."

She's terrified of what will happen when her son gets out of recovery. "It's like Russian roulette," she said. "People are losing their lives and their children."

A man who only wanted to be identified as Chris admitted to the crowd that he was an alcoholic and addict with seven years of sobriety under his belt. "My family has been plagued by alcoholism and drug addiction," he said. "There is a huge disconnect. I think that the message of recovery is watered down and it's been watered down for a long time."

"It's been a dream of mine over the past three or four years to open up a recovery center and help people but I don't even know where to begin," said Chris. "Getting people on Narcan and getting people on anti-craving medication; we're just scratching the surface."

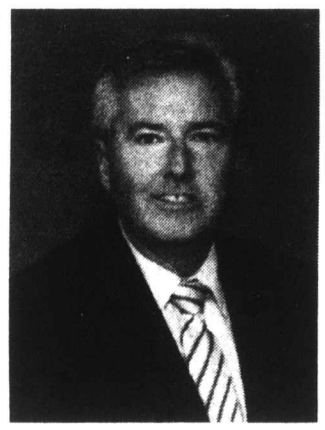
Reliable Tax Service
518 Hancock Street, Quincy
(617)773-7360
www.reliabletaxservice.com
10% Discount (new clients only)
Individual Income Tax $65 up
Corporate Income Tax $350 up
Experienced IRS Enrolled Agent

Op Ed

Long Island Bridge Closing Provides Opportunity For Fiscal Responsibility

By Rep. BRUCE AYERS

The recent closure of Long Island Bridge represents a long-awaited occurrence that provides the city of Boston with the unique opportunity for economic responsibility.



Rep. BRUCE AYERS

I want to commend Boston Mayor Marty Walsh for putting public safety first and closing down the Long Island Bridge last October. He had inherited this dilapidated bridge from the prior administration. He has also shown his commitment to helping the homeless by the recent opening of the Southampton Street homeless shelter.

The Long Island Bridge is a two-lane, 3,450-foot-long monstrosity that only hosts approximately 400 cars of traffic per day. The Massachusetts Department of Transportation reports that there are currently 447 structurally deficient bridges statewide, most of which have a drastically higher volume of traffic than Long Island – some in the range of 150,000 vehicles per day. 49 of these structurally deficient bridges are in the city of Boston, and most of the larger bridges in need of repair would not come close to the $100+ million estimates to repair Long Island Bridge.

The Long Island Bridge, which was once a public safety issue, has now become primarily an economic and environmental one, with convincing evidence showing that rebuilding the bridge is fiscally irresponsible. The most logical solution to this transportation problem is the implementation of a ferry service.

As widely reported in the news media, Long Island itself is owned by the city of Boston, yet the bridge is located in the city of Quincy. For years, Quincy residents and officials who witnessed this deteriorating bridge first-hand have been advocating for alternative means of transportation to Long Island. Commercial fishermen and recreational boaters had witnessed falling debris from the corroded bridge. This bridge has proven to be a safety hazard to those who drove on it, as well as the boaters who navigate under it.

Before any decisions are made on the future of Long Island Bridge, a comprehensive cost-feasibility study is warranted to determine the most cost-effective means of transportation to the island.

The cost to rebuild Long Island Bridge could go over $100 million, including a $12 to $15 million engineering design. These figures do not factor in tearing down the current structure, which we now know will begin shortly and will cost $20.6 million. Additionally, according to the MBTA, approximately $3.7 million has been spent annually on bus transportation to and from the city services on Long Island.

Meanwhile, it is estimated that it would only cost $2 million to construct a pier for Long Island that could handle a ferry service. Using published data from the most recent ferry pilot programs in Massachusetts, estimates show that operating a daily ferry to and from Long Island would be $300,000 to $400,000 per year.

Perhaps what is most encouraging is that there is already an existing launch location in South Boston that provides services to Thompson Island – which is not even a quarter-mile away from Long Island. The Thompson Island ferry currently only runs on weekends, therefore a daily ferry service to Long Island from the same launching location would not interfere with current ferry routes.

The lower costs associated with providing a ferry service are supplemented by the fact that the money that may be spent on rebuilding Long Island Bridge would be better spent on improving vital transportation and public safety services across the Commonwealth.

With the passage of Question 1 in November's general election, Massachusetts Voters were loud and clear: they want their representatives to take votes when allocating funds to fix our roads and bridges, not tie the gas tax to inflation. This holds Beacon Hill to maintaining a consistent level of accountability.

Governor Baker and incoming Transportation Secretary Pollack, along with state legislators, have a responsibility and an obligation to the taxpayers of the commonwealth to ensure that our roads and bridges are safe and are conducive to our commerce and our economic stability. Given the limited city and state transportation budgets, the people deserve to know how their money is being spent, and they deserve to know when it may not be spent wisely.

Bruce J. Ayers, a Quincy resident, is the State Representative for the 1st Norfolk District.

If you can understand the mind, how and why people react as they do and what holds you back in life; and if you can improve your ability to study and communicate; of course your personality and IQ scores will improve.

Come in for a free personality or IQ test or to simply learn more.

Church of Scientology & Dianetics Center
1515 Hancock St., 3rd Floor
Quincy, MA 02169
617-266-9500
M-F 9AM-10PM, Weekends 9AM-6PM

SCIENTOLOGY & DIANETICS
KNOW YOURSELF, KNOW LIFE

©Church of Scientology of Boston 2014. All Rights Reserved. Scientology and Dianetics are trademarks and service marks owned by Religious Technology Center and used with its permission.

794 Students On North Quincy High Honor Roll

Seven hundred ninety-four students are on the honor roll for the first quarter at North Quincy High School.

DISTINCTION

Grade 12: Marina Araujo, Marguerite Belcher, Cynthia Bishop, Emily Bryson, Julia Bryson, Courtney Campo, Amy Chan, Wai Ki Chan, Keera Charles, Cindy Chau, Alicia Chen, Carmen Chen, Donna Chen, Emily Chen, Giu Ying Chen, Hong Gao Chen, Jin Cheng Chen, Reanna Chen, Lisa Chi, Emily Chin, Jessica Diep, Dunia Kareemeh Rose Dunner, Dong Duong, Jessica Eynatian, Samantha Feeney, Gabrielle Flaherty, Amy Goh, Jason Gong, Christopher Gorman, Dana Grasselli, Alexander Greeley.

Madison Hally, Mu Han, Phyu Han, Rosanna He, Amanda Huang, Kevin Huang, Karen Huynh, Victoria Jiang, Chandler Johnson, Shu Qi Ke, Nicole Larkin, Jason Lee, Samantha Lee, Sofia Lee, Deanna Leung, Carmen Lew, Yifeng Li, Shi Qing Liang, Alan Lin, Che-Wei Lin, Hui Hui Liu, Jiayin Luo, Kelly Luo, Emily Luu, Calvin Ma, Michael Macrae, Christopher Mak, Sumire Maki, Olivia McEvoy, Julia Mendros, Molly Minton, Sarah Molloy, Kaitlin Morrill, Eirene Moutsopoulos, Michael Mullaney.

Hannah Naili, Hailey Naistadt, Cindy Nguyen, Vena Nguyen, Fiona O'Connor, Jennifer Pham, Michael Rooney, Joseph Roper, Eliza Song-Givens, Rebecca Tham, Kyi Thwin, David Tran, Haley Vradenburg, Paul Vu, Shanshan Wu, Xian Feng Wu, Yaowie Xie, Johanna Yu, Yongqi Zhang, Casey Zheng, Yuheng Zhou, Xue Ling Zou.

Grade 11: Wei Cai, Wai Yin Chan, Lily Chapman, Weiqiang Chen, Amy Chieu, Ka Tsun Choi, Charlotte Chretien, Nicole Chu, Stephen Condon, Alexander De Jesus, MacDouglas Deegan, Gabrielle Doody, Zachary Erickson, Langwen Guan, Quan Ho, Hailey Houlihan, Gary Hu, Qian Wen Hu, Emily Huang, Shu Xin Huang, Zixuan Huang, Janice Lau, Duyen Le, Justin Lee, Hui Lin Li, Ping Lin.

Marissa McGue, Jamie Meade, Miquela Murray, Takeshi Oikawa, Luu Pham, Megan Provenzano, Katherine Sautter, Lincy Shen, Michael Soricelli, Casey Stevenson, Makasy Tan, Miller Tan, Tiffany Tang, Wilson Tang, Michael T. Truong, Hei Ngok Tse, Leona Tu, Karen Urdaneta, Marty Vo, Qingxia Wang, Ying Min Wang, Jia Yi Weng, Kathy Wong, Huiyi Wu Liang, Lanny Xie, Peishan Xie, Bing Mei Xu, Jia Hao Xu, Jia Pei Xu, William Zhang, Wie Xheng, Fengjiao Zhong, Ken Zou.

Grade 10: Bradford Ames, Remy Aucoin, James Cannon, Gary Chi, Alexander Cox, Isabelle Flaherty, Anthony Fong, Jin Hong Gan, Amy Huang, Sacha Ivanov, Kai Yin Jim, Zi Bin Kuang, Jason Kung, Man Ching Lam, Vincent Leung, Zin Li, Li Bin Lin, Alex Liu, Ya Wen Ma, Michelle Mark, Brigham McKee, Tianettie McKee.

Amanda Ngo, Thien Ngo, Daniel Nguyen, Tara Nguyen, Justin Nickerson, Kishan Patel, Ethan Sit, Matthew Soohoo, Michael Soohoo, Nhi Truong, Maureen Valli, Quynh Vu, Magdalena Wierzbowski, Wilson Wong, Jun Shan Zeng, Ziqing Zhang, Sandra Zhen, Li Ting Zheng, Suki Zhu.

Grade 9: Isabel Altaf, Peter Anderson, Nicholas Andrade, Kara Breslin, Jennifer Butka, Melissa Cai, Jessica Caldwell, Alan Chen, Annie Chen, Cynthia Chen, Davie Chen, Jian Tao Chen, Shishi Chen, Shuo Chen, Si Yu Chen, Steven Chen, Wilson Chen, Brendan Chow, Anthony Chu, Victor Chu, Elizabeth Dimattio, Connor Donaghey, Catherine Eynatian, Timothy Goon, Shiley Guan, Aisha Hamad, Megan Herlihy, Devin Hiltunen, Sirin Horburapa, Wun Ling Huang, Zizheng Huang, Derek Hunter, Jessica Huynh, Ashley Jee.

Julia Klincewicz, Ryan Kou, Cynthia Lua, Andrew Lee, Josephine Lee, Joshua Lee, Irving Li, Jinxiu Li, Lynn Li, Shen Hong Li, Jonathan Liang, Tamara Liang, Chun-Chieh Lin, Daniel Lin, Nina Lin, Xin Mei Lin, Yan Ping Lin, Yun Lin, Amy Liu, Jue Ying Lu, Sydney Ly, Michaela Marino, Jared McDonough, Maggie McGoldrick, Nora McLaughlin, Eric Mei, Joseph Merrigan, Christine Nguyen, Nicholas O'Connell, Wen Jing Pan, Frances Papandile, Ryan Pham, Kelly Phelan, Joanna Rafti, Ryan Salazar, Jonathan Santos, Samuel Serjani, Alana Sullivan.

Jessica Tai, Tiffany Tan, Kristen Thornton, Amanda Tran, Linda Tran, Jonah Trujillo, Boi Tu, Leonardo Vazquez, Qianyi Wng, Allison Wong, Daniel Wong, Gi Gi Wong, Ryan Wong, Sam Ut Wong, Angela Wu, Matthew Wu, Yi Wu, Alison Xi, Fiona Xu, Kai Qing Xue, Bonnie Yee, Amy Yu, Calvin Zhang, Chen Xuan Zhang, Jingyi Zhao, Gina Zheng, Hua Feng Zhou, Joanna Zhou, Brian Zou, Erica Zou, Jame Zou, Ze Hong Zou.

HIGH HONORS

Grade 12: Matthew Alexander, Cheuk Yin, Au, Michael Au-Duong, Benjamin Chan, Sunny Chan, Alex Chen, Jordan Chen, Xin Ming Chen, Xin Xin Chen, Andrew Chow, Zachary Dangora, Lindsay Delaney, Ousman Diallo, Kalasang Dolma, Rachel Dunphy, Mostafa Elhashash, Esterina Elqeni, Tony Fan, Cassandra Feeney, Xhona Ferro, Ciara Forde, Narmari Franco, Clint Galac, Egista Gjini.

Huabao Huang, Jun Jia Huang, Lin Huang, Thomas Huang, Jared Johnston, Jenny Kung, Tszyan Lee, Yong Kang Lei, Bao Zhu Li, Sophie Liang, Shi Lin Suye Lin, Patrick Mei, Matthew Monahan, Camille Mulaney, Joseph Nelson, Megan Newcomb, Brian Ng, John Nguyen, Rachel O'Driscoll, Ryan Parekh, Marco Penaflor, Andrew Pham, Evylyn Scuzzeralla, Tristan Suarez, Austin Tan, Robert Thompson-Hines, Trung Tran, Vincent L. Tran, Bryan Turner, Suleiman Warsame, Ashleigh Wilson, Li Wong Fang, Junwen Wu, Alec Zeng, Brandon Zeng, Sentong Zhao, Emily Zheng, Shi Zheng.

Grade 11: Xie Yi Dai Aili, Nancy Aimola, Dianora Bennett, Molly Kate Cannon, Alan Chen, Jing Chen, Wilson Cong Mei, Connor Crammond, Jiaxing Dong, Shaina Donovan, Robert Fitzgerald, Vanessa Guan, Phong Hua, Carmen Huang, Suzanna Hui, Aisha Hussien, Andrew Jayne, Caroline Keenan, Nicholas Kelly, Anh Kieu, Garrett Kulig.

Anna Laugelle, Chi Chun Lee, Cindy Lei, Jia Yin Li, Xue Ying Li, Jia Jia Linag, Kevin Liang, Trina Liang, Hao Wei Lin, Shuang Lin, Jennifer Luo, Amber Man, Vjord Mara, Siobhan Marshall, Deirdre McDougall, Nelson Mei, Edward Merrigan, Greis Molla, Michael Nguyen, Thin Noe, Liana Orfonidiy.

Karl Preza, Olivia Rothwell, Kurthy Yvania Saint Marc, Nadine Sharpe, Annie Shtino, Man Chon Sit, Emily Spagnuolo, Anxhelo Taho, Mimi Tan, Raymond Tan, Regina Tham, Michael Travers, Han Truong, Michael Truong, Sarah Tsan, Franceska Tuda, Ye Yang Wang, Yi Jie Wu, Jeffrey Zhang, Yu Ying Zhang, Catherine Zheng, Peng Xiang Zhou, Benjamin Zou.

Grade 10: Phyliss Aleman, Anthony Alexander, Camron Canty, Anthony Chan, Darren Chau, Peter Chau, Andy Chen, Jessica Chen, Karen Chen, Xiuzhi Chen, Frank Chin, Janelle Chin, Stephen Cobble, Curtis Debisschop, Allison Diep, Westley Diep Tenzin Dorjee, Abdelrahman Elhashash, Marvisa Ferro, Amanda Hazelton, Ziwei Hu, Victoria Huynh, Shannan Kennedy, Abigail Koch.

Helen Lam, Chia Chien Lee, Nathan Li, Wayland Li, Larissa Liang, Xu Huang Lin, Yu Lin, Jia Bin Lu, Meichang Ma, Ryan Manning, Kaleigh Manton, Samantha Marshall, Kevin McDonald, George Moutsopoulos, Brenna Murphy, Kay O'Connor, Linda Phung, Kaelin Ryan, Dalia Sadaka, Jason Soohoo, Kevin Wong, Raymond Wong, Jason Xiao, Jonathan Yip, Yawen Yu, Yurou Zeng, David Zhang, Mindy Zhang, Joe Zhuo.

Grade 9: Enmanuel Barroso Morales, Jacob Bianculli, Kelly Bishop, Hio Lam Chan, Ye Chen, Ivy Chui, Timothy Chiu, Sammi Chui, Cora Cluett, Christopher Donaghey, Sofie Forbes, Alyssa Grimaldi, Jillian Hallisey, Ina Hoti, Ali Hussein, Maeve Keane, Olivia Keenan, Thomas Kelly, Brenna Kirby, Hui Xian Kuang, Tiffany Kwan, Justin Le, Dimitri Legaspi.

Michelle Miranda, Jennifer Nguyen, Victor Nguyen, Vincent Nguyen, Colleen O'Connell, Alexander Pham, Anne Shi, Serena Silva, Angelina Spiropoulos, Jeffrey Sullivan, Andrew Tham, Ashley Totten, Johnny Tran, Richie Tran, Mindy Truong, Saoirse Walsh, Jacqueline Yip, Alex Yu, David Zou.

HONORS

Grade 12: Yingcong Cai, Leung Sing Chan, Jingyi Chen, Kun Chen, Peilei Chen, Xiao Lin Chen, Rachel Chong, John Chum, Kiera Clifford, Joseph Cochrane, Aislinn Collins, Caitlin Coneran, Scott Cooper, Joseph Dwyer, Michael Finn, Paige Flaherty, Frederick Flynn, Samuel Grossfeld, Jing Jing Huang, Alex Joe, Andrew Kiley, Cornelius Koch, Rei Kule, Feng Kwong.

Flavio Leno, Stella Li, Yu Liu, Tak Kwan Lo, Ashley Lopez, Peyton Lucas, Tiana Masters, Olivia Matos, Makenna McBirney, Kayla McGaughey, Joseph McGillicuddy, Kayla McMahon, Chaolin Mei, Veronica Mendez, Khoa Nguyen, Helena O'Brien, Shauna O'Donovan, Alyxandra Patey, Jennifer Pham, Michael Ring, Rose Roper, Jia Chang Situ, Marcello Toscanini, Samuel Truong, Beatrice Tuda, Solomon Umoren, Stephanie Vazquez, Liang Jian Weng, Hao Wei Wu, Ling Jie Wu, Cheng Fan Zhang, Chu Lun Zhao, Ri-Gong Zheng.

Grade 11: Nijiati Alifu, Grace Anderson, Jia Yi Ao, Coret Boretti, Zola Boris, Emily Caddick, Kara Carchedi, Hellen Chen, Huanting Chen, Ziao Yan Chen, Daniel Colarusso, Alvaro De Yzaguirre Martinez, Grace Dinh, Kevin Doherty, Molly Donahue, Caitlin Dooley, Matthew Enos, Savannah Flynn, Rachael Fung, Brendan Gallant, Rachel Gillespie, Corey Hernandez, Ada Huang.

Nicholas Kazangian, John Le, Jenni Liang, Kelly Liang, Shi Lin Liang, Xinying Lu, Nguyen Ly, Alexandra Maragioglio, Mason McBirney, Tyler McCarthy, Matthew McDonald, Thomas McLaughlin, Devon Merrill, Catherine Mitchell, Ranin Nassar, Amanda Ng, Alex Nguyen, Hao Phan, Aditya Raj, Daniel Reilly, Christian Roman.

Julia Sands, Alexandria Scanlan, Jenny Shi, Joseph Shuris, Perry Suarez, Natalia Tan, Nassim Touil, Khoa Tran, Nhut Khang Verrier, Tram Huyen Vo, Cameron White, Daniel Wong, Longhao Xie, Jia Ying Yu, Nadine Zahreddine, Kang Ting Zheng, Weian Zhou.

Grade 10: Jonas Batista Del Carmen, Anthony Boring, Julia Brady, Taylor Brann, Alexander Bui, Samantha Caldwell, Julia Cassetta, Samin Charepoo, Amy Che, Brandon Chen, Fiona Chen, Jia Ying Chen, Li Chen, Taren Chen, Raymond Chin, Kerin Coleman, Jordan Currie, Alison Della Barba, Youssra Elfaquir, Kang Fang, Brendan Ganno, Christpher Gomez.

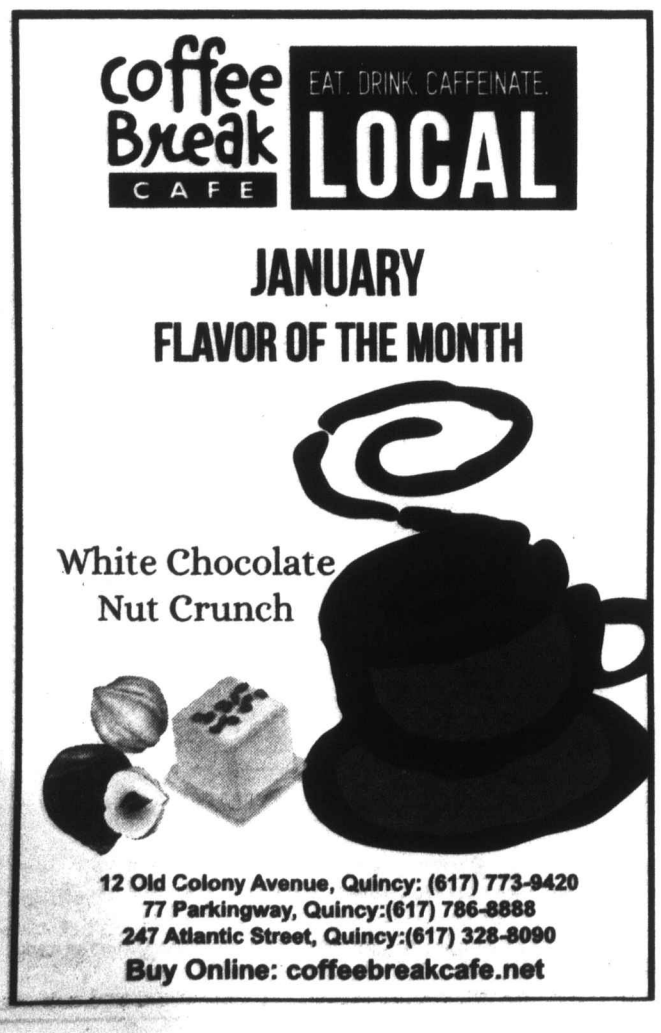
Sinead Hanley, Johnny He, Maggie Huang, Mandy Huang, Gary Hui, Shaoxi Jian, Wen Di Jiang, Daniel Johnson-Tatelbuam, Sinead Kelly, Thomas Koch Jr., Cindy Lam, Kennex Lam, Thuylan Le, Austin Lee, Emily Lu, Lan Guy Liang, Benny Lin, Hong Jie Lin, Xiao Hong Lin, Nina Luu, Priscilla Ly, Vincent Mah, Thomas Maranian, Whitney Marshall, Karyn McEvoy, Ariel Mei, Raymond Mei, Kimberly Merrifield, Declan Murphy, Fatma Mussa, Timothy Ng.

Danielle O'Driscoll, Tyla Perry, Isabelle Pillone, Michael Porter, Alison Radzik, Alexandra Schuboth, John Slattery, Ivy Tang, Mya Terry, Rebecca Thorne, Anthony Thornhill, Kevin Tran, Neenah Tran, Vivian Tran, Melody Umoren, Jamie Van, David Wang, Tiffany Yong, Yushan Zeng, Devin Zhang, Jian Kun Zhang, Maggie Zhang, Charlie Zheng, Charlie Zheng, Mona Zheng, Karen Zou.

Grade 9: Antonio Alvarado, Douglas Brown, Steven Bui, Larissa Bunmee, Brendan Chau, Emmy Chau, Cindy Chen, Kevin Chen, Thomas Chen, Zimo Chen, Faye Cheng, Cory Chiu, Kyle Cohen, Michael Comerford, Alyssa Connaughton, Johanna Douglas, Kevin Finn, Devin Ganno, Zhen Gao, Michael Gaudiano, Dara Griffin, Maxwell Gustin, Edward Hartnett V, Ze Bin He, Ethan Herman, Jingwei Haung, Ri Yang Huang, Celia Hussey, Olivia Hussey, Jimmy Huynh, Ming Yi Jiang.

Greis Kalajnxhiu, John Paul Kelley, Jing Jing Li, Ryan Li, Xinyu Lin, Benjamin Liu, Christina Lyons, Juliana Mastrorilli, Robert McLoud Jr., John Meade, Evan Mei, Audrey Merrill, Christopher Nguyen, Julie Nguyen, Ryan Nguyen, Sarah O'Donovan, Michaelah O'Malley, Christopher Peeler.

Brianna Quinn, Dylan Richardson, Rachel Riley, Jacob Roos, Ashley Saucier, Mohamed Shuman, Luca Smith, Xiang Lin Su, Raymond Szeto, Jade Tang, Anthony Taylor, Alex Tran, Kevin Tran, Hexian Weng, Raymond Wu, David Yang, Sharon Yang, Song Ying Yu, Wenlong Zhuo, Katy Zou.



Joyce & Gendreau
Jewelers
Fine Jewelry at Honest Values
Home of the "You want it when? No problem and done right!" service!
52 Billings Road No. Quincy
617.328.0084
www.joycejlrs.com

City Makes Final Offer For Hunt Street Home

By SCOTT JACKSON

The city has made its final offer to purchase the Hunt Street home whose owners so far have declined to sell.

As part of Mayor Thomas Koch's $12 million plan to renovate Teel Field and create a new parking lot for North Quincy High School, the city needed to purchase and demolish eight homes on Hunt Street and one on Newbury Avenue. Seven of the nine properties have already been purchased at a combined cost of more than $3.7 million, including relocation fees.

Lawrence and Vicki Tasney, owners of 30 Hunt Street, have so far declined offers made by the city. William Phelan, their attorney and a former mayor of Quincy, previously said the couple has no intention of selling the house. A message left for Phelan Tuesday was not returned.

Mayor Thomas Koch on Tuesday morning said he planned to meet with City Solicitor Jim Timmons later in the day to discuss the land takings. Timmins, Koch said, has made a final offer for the house.

"I do believe a last and final offer was made and we are waiting for either the lawyer or the family to respond to that offer," Koch stated.

He also said the final offer likely included a deadline for the purchase to go through, as the city needs to finalize plans for project. Koch has previously stated he would build around the house, if necessary, a point he reiterated Tuesday.

"We're going to have to make decisions going forward," Koch said.

"I think it's been an issue of a money grab. I think we have been more than fair to all the homes on Hunt Street. As has been reported, they've all received 10 percent more than the fair market value and they have also been eligible [for] and have received relocation moneys as well. So I think everyone has been treated quite fairly.

"But I think it's looking to stick up the taxpayers of Quincy for more dough. I'm not going to stand for that. We can build around the house if we need."

The city has yet to close on 42-44 Hunt Street as well, because that property is part of an estate. Koch said the city's attorneys have been working with representatives for the estate to resolve that sale.

"That's being worked on legally. I don't know if it's been resolved, but discussions are ongoing before the estate's attorney and our attorney and hopefully we get that matter resolved quickly," Koch said.

To date, the city has paid $3.735 million to acquire seven homes in the neighborhood. That figure includes the cost of acquiring each property and a relocation fee between $35,000 and $75,000 provided to the owner of each home.

Before entering into negotiations for the houses, the city had them appraised by Reynolds Company of Victory Road. The company interviewed four local realtors as part of the appraisal process. The appraisals, completed between March and May of last year, noted the neighborhood has convenient access to public transportation and other amenities and added there is a strong demand for housing in North Quincy, coupled with a lack of inventory.

The two-family home at 18-20 Hunt Street was appraised at $595,000. The city paid $650,000 for the property and provided the homeowners with $50,000 for relocation.

The neighboring one-family house at 22 Hunt Street was purchased for $425,000 after being appraised for $385,000. The homeowners received $35,000 to relocate.

The city paid $425,000 for 24 Hunt Street, a single-family house that was appraised for $385,000. The homeowners received a $45,000 relocation fee.

The single-family home at 26 Hunt Street was appraised for $450,000 and purchased for $515,000. A $50,000 relocation fee was provided by the city.

The city paid $450,000 to acquire the single-family house at 34 Hunt Street; that house was appraised at $420,000. The owners received $35,000 for relocation.

The two-family home at 38-40 Hunt Street was purchased for $480,000 after being appraised for $400,000. The city paid $75,000 in relocation fees to the homeowner.

The single-family home at 125 Newbury Avenue had been appraised at $400,000 and was purchased for $450,000. A relocation fee of $50,000 was provided to the homeowners.

In addition to the money for the homes and relocation fees, the city repaid the homeowners for property taxes they paid in advance.

Quincy Mutual 'Committed' To Downtown Project

Cont'd From Page 2

der that so hundreds of thousands of yards are going to be taken out, cleaned up, and some it trucked out to offsite dumps. That will set the stage for actual construction."

Moran said he is excited the proposed development is so far along just one year after Street-Works' plan fell apart. He credited Mayor Thomas Koch and his administration for backing the project.

"This is a private development, but this wouldn't be happening if we weren't of a mindset to put this in the community. Secondly, it wouldn't be happening if it weren't for the support and the guidance and the help Mayor Tom Koch has given to us," Moran said.

"When Street-Works left town, they wrote off Quincy; they said it can't be done. We're proving that's not true and the mayor is proving that's not true. He and his administration have been incredibly supportive. I give him great credit on that."

No extended road closures will be needed during the construction period. Moran also promised the project would be beneficial to all stakeholders in the city, despite any short-term inconveniences caused by the work on site.

"This will be worth it for everyone in the city – local merchants and the residents. The city will be much better off once this becomes a reality," Moran said. "There may be some inconvenience in the meantime, but it will be worth it in the long run."

Once completed, the two new buildings will each stand six stories tall. The ground level of each building will hold retail space with apartments filling the five floors above. The first floor of each building will be made of concrete while the five floors above would have wood frames. As a nod to the Granite Trust Building, designs of the new buildings include granite exteriors on their first two floors with a variety of materials used on the exterior of the upper floors.

The larger of the buildings, an L-shaped one on the on corner of Cottage Avenue and Chestnut Street, would hold 105 units. The other building, running along Hancock Street, would hold 64 units. If work on site begins in April, residents will be able to move into the new apartments by August or September of 2016.

Aside from the two buildings, another notable feature of the proposal is a new public road bisecting the site. Known as Chestnut Way, the one-way public road would run across the property from Chestnut Street to Hancock Street, separating the Granite Trust Building from the new Chestnut Street/Cottage Avenue building and running through the Hancock Street building.

Quincy-based Sheskey Architects designed the project with the goal of having the two new buildings compliment the nearby Granite Trust Building without overwhelming the historic bank.

"The idea is to have them integrating and aesthetically pleasing with the bank," explained Douglas Briggs, the president and CEO of Quincy Mutual.

"The original design was just going to all encompass the bank. Sheskey has been really good about this; he wants the bank to have the presence it should have as a historic building. He calls it providing 'air' between the buildings.

"So the via here is really important. First, it provides air to the historic structure. And it provides a place where you can congregate. This is really important. We want it to be a place we'd be proud to live in."

The 169 apartments in the two buildings will range in size from studio to two bedrooms, and rents will be comparable with those of other apartment buildings in Quincy Center. The studio units will each be approximately 520 square feet. One-bedroom units will range in size from 680 to 750 square feet; one-bedroom units that include a den will top out at 790 square feet. Two-bedroom units will average 1,000 square feet. The largest units in the building, with two bedrooms and a den, will have 1,100 square feet of space.

The apartments will have hardwood floors with carpeting in the bedrooms. The kitchens will have quartz countertops, stainless steel appliances, and European cabinets.

"The amenities and finishes in the apartments are on par with what you would see in downtown Boston," Gate Residential Principal Kyle Warwick said Monday in a phone interview. "We believe they may even be better."

Residents living in either

Cont'd On Page 32

Hundreds Of Homes Out Of Flood Zone; Another 1,000 In Lower Risk Zones

Cont'd From Page 1

lems in the Federal Emergency Management Agency (FEMA) maps, including missing flood control infrastructure, incorrect ground elevations, and a high water mark reported in outer Boston Harbor during the Blizzard of 1978 that was five feet higher than the mark recorded closer the shore. FEMA recently notified the city the appeal was successful; engineers are now attempting to identify properties affected by the changes.

"We have been successful with our appeals and we're trying to now identify all the properties that will be affected in a positive way," Koch said Tuesday morning.

"As you may remember when we went through this process, FEMA comes in and dumps a new set of maps. They don't look into the detail of who is affected by it, so we have to do all that homework locally and we continue to do that."

FEMA's maps added 1,400 parcels into flood plains and another 2,700 that had already been in flood plains were placed into higher risk zones. Property owners with federally backed mortgages must purchase flood insurance if their property is in a flood plain.

While officials are parsing through the new maps, Koch said upwards of 700 will be removed from the flood plains and more than 1,000 will have their risk downgraded.

"Now that the maps are being adjusted based on all of our work – based on the route we chose – the estimate is 500 or 700 homes will be removed completely from the flood map zone. We're estimating at least another 1,000 or more that will be affected with a downgrade of severity, which would be a lowering of their premium," Koch said.

"We're pleased with the outcome. I'd love to get everyone out, but that's not practical or real. The city of Quincy against the federal government is not an easy battle and FEMA is one huge bureaucracy and I feel good about, although I took a lot of criticism at the time, the route we chose. It's starting to pay dividends. I think we may be the first community in Massachusetts with map revisions in hand."

An update on the flood maps was scheduled for Tuesday night's City Council meeting, which took place after The Sun went to press.

REGGIE'S OIL CO., INC.
Heating & Air Conditioning Service
Joseph P. Reggiannini
92-94 (Rear) Franklin St.
Quincy, MA 02169
Office Hours:
M-F 7:30 am - 5:00 pm
(617) 471-2095
(24 Hour Emergency Service)
www.reggiesoil.com
We are a local, family-owned & operated oil company located right here in Quincy. We've been providing a quality product & superior service to our customers here in Quincy & throughout Southeastern MA for more than 50 years....and we always will!

DENTISTRY for the 21st Century
by Steven A. Brustin, D.M.D.
TOOTHBRUSH REPLACEMENT
Toothbrushes eventually wear out and need to be replaced. Numerous studies show that, after three months of normal wear and tear, the nylon bristles in toothbrushes are a good deal less effective at removing plaque from tooth surfaces and gums than new ones. To be effective, bristles must be able to make their way into the crevices that harbor the bacteria that are constantly forming to pose a threat to tooth enamel and gums. In addition to replacing toothbrushes, it is also important to allow them to air dry after use since wet bristles are breeding grounds for unhealthy bacteria and fungi. Be sure to replace toothbrushes after a bout with a common cold to reduce the risk of reinfection.
We invite you to come see us for all of your dental needs. Good experience with dentistry is based on making the right choice in a family dentist. We strive to teach good oral hygiene so that you will have better dental health and, of course, spend far fewer dollars. Located at 44 Greenleaf Street, we're currently accepting new patients. Please call 617 479-6220 to schedule your appointment. Visit us on the web at www.quincydentist.com.
P.S. If you need a reminder to replace your toothbrush regularly, purchase one with bristles that change color as they degrade.

City Honors Legacy Of Dr. Martin Luther King, Jr.

Cont'd From Page 1

Education decision which ruled the segregation of public schools based on race to be unconstitutional in 1954 came about through the action of parents fighting for the fair treatment of their children in a school setting.

"It basically changed the course of the nation," said Tynes, who added that reflecting on prior civil rights victories has paved the way for how today's youth can rally for change.

"When you're young you don't think of yourself as someone extraordinary but [young people] need to see the things they do can make that difference," he said.

' Tynes, currently a management attorney, used the famous March on Washington for Jobs and Freedom on August 28, 1963 as an example of everyday people gathering and taking action against institutionalized racism.

The idea for the march wasn't King's originally as many believe, nor did the idea for the march come about in the 60s, said Tynes. A. Philip Randolph, president of the labor organization Brotherhood of Sleeping Car Porters, proposed a march in 1941 as a reaction to unfair pay for African Americans and their exclusion from jobs in the defense field during WWII.

President Franklin D. Roosevelt negotiated with Randolph and agreed to equalize pay and lift employment restrictions as long as Randolph called off the march, which he did. While he was widely criticized for his decision, he remains an example of one ordinary man organizing a successful civil movement, according to Tynes.

Essential in continuing King's fight for equality is identifying the needs and goals of today's civil rights movement, he said to an audience of 200 people.

While Massachusetts has an 85 percent high school graduation rate — the highest in the country, he said — some communities deprived of opportunity due to institutionalized racism don't see as high of a figure. In fact, graduation levels drop into the low and mid-50s in places such as Springfield which has a 55 percent graduation rate, and Lawrence where that number dips to 50 percent.

"It's not by law but it's a denial of opportunity," he said. "You can't have a significant part of your population that does not have that opportunity for quality education and expect the economic development that the commonwealth needs to continue to advance."

This lack of equal opportunities was illustrated through a play performed by students of the Germantown Afterschool program. The students, along with three volunteers from the audience, formed three groups; a lower class group, a middle class group, and a higher class or privileged group who were asked to throw crumpled balls of paper into a bin that represented opportunity.

The privileged group was placed closest to the bin while the lower class group was placed farthest away with the middle class group sandwiched between them. The privileged group easily threw their balls into the bin while the lower class group had a harder time sinking each shot, showing the disadvantages of those kept farther away from achieving their goals due to unfair treatment, classism, and racism.

"Everyone in this audience would be shocked if they were to find that there

Cont'd On Page 17

GERMANTOWN NEIGHBORHOOD CENTER was filled with local residents, elected officials and other guests at Monday's Martin Luther King, Jr. Breakfast. Here the crowd listens as the Germantown Neighborhood Center chorus performs. More Photos on Pages 16 and 17.

Quincy Sun Photo/Robert Bosworth

Great American Smokeout Observed At Sterling School

The Sterling Middle School recently observed The Great American Smokeout featuring a visit from Dr. Alice Coombs, an an anesthesiologist and critical care specialist at South Shore Hospital.

Dr. Coombs presented a compelling hands-on lesson on the dangers of tobacco use. A former president of the Massachusetts Medical Society, Dr. Coombs has visited Sterling every year for over a decade to show the grade 6 students a Power Point with facts and pictures of the dangers of smoking along with a jar containing a year's worth of tar.

The presentation includes an interaction between the students and the doctor as she draws out answers to her many questions about why people smoke, what advertising is trying to accomplish and the medical reasons why it is so dangerous. The lesson concludes with Dr. Coombs showing two pig lungs, one healthy and one diseased, showing a marked difference in their ability to take in oxygen.

Four students man the demonstration holding the lungs while they are each inflated. The rest of the class is then allowed to feel each one while wearing gloves if they desire to see the difference in touch.

STERLING MIDDLE SCHOOL students (from left) Giani Colon, Colby Lai, Jared Grafton Baker, and Susan Hoare assist Dr. Alice Coombs (second from right) as she sets up a pair of pig lungs to demonstrate the dangerous effects of smoking at a recent "Great American Smokeout" program at the school.

Photo Courtesy Christine Prendiville

The Norfolk South District Medical Society sponsors this presentation each year for many South Shore Schools. As a follow-up interdisciplinary lesson, students of 6th Grade Language Arts teacher Kaitlin Barry wrote poetry about not smoking. These poems were then sent in to the Norfolk South District Medical Society where they were judged by the doctors who volunteer for these presentations and prizes are awarded for the best poems. Dr. Coombs has a great impact on the students she speaks to as is evidenced by the excitement of the group as they leave the auditorium.

Five Residents On Norwich University Dean's List

Three students from Quincy are on the Dean's List for the fall semester at Norwich University in Northfield, VT.

They are:
Steven Carter, Ellisa McCarthy and Brendan Moreira.

Five Residents On URI Dean's List

Five students from Quincy are on the Dean's List for the fall semester at the University of Rhode Island.

They are: Jessica M. Muscato, Tina Prifti, Isabella Natale, Long Gong and Ying Chen.

Marianna Liang On Dean's List

Marianna Liang of Quincy has been named to the Dean's List for the fall semester at the University of New Haven.

Maggie Sergeff On Dean's List

Maggie Sergeff of Quincy has been named to the Champlain College Dean's List for the fall semester.

Sergeff is majoring in graphic design and digital media.

Sunday through Thursday • Noon to Closing • Limited Offer!
The Double Trio
2 Drinks, 2 Dinners & 2 Desserts

Choose any 2 dinners from the list below, any 2 beverages (house cocktail, house wine, beer or non-alcoholic) and 2 petite sweet desserts
• Chicken Pot Pie • American Chop Suey
• Yankee Pot Roast • Shepherd's Pie
• Broiled Scrod • Meatloaf
• Chicken Saint Marie
• Hot Turkey Sandwich
• Liver & Onions • Linguini & Meatballs
all for only $30.99
Hearth 'n Kettle
RESTAURANTS • Est. 1973
Route 18, Weymouth
(781)331-7007
HearthnKettle.com

JOAN'S OLYMPIC GYM
GYMNASTICS & DANCE SCHOOL
WAS VOTED #1 ON THE SOUTH SHORE
Ages 2 – Adult
NOW ACCEPTING REGISTRATIONS!
781-843-9624
"An Excellent Education Environment For Your Child"
197 Quincy Avenue, Braintree • www.joansolympicgym.com

Travels On Cultural, Intellectual Trade Mission

Chan First State Legislator To Visit South Korea

By SCOTT JACKSON

Rep. Tackey Chan made history recently, becoming the first legislator to undertake an official visit to South Korea.

"I was invited by the Korean government to engage in a cultural, intellectual trade mission. I actually became the first state legislator to go on an official mission to Korea," Chan recalled during a recent interview.

"It was quite impressive. I had a focus on energy, technology, historical significance – I like to see history – as well as economic development issues. It was a good opportunity to see what other people do and how they do it. It was a lot of fun."

Chan visited the country for five days in September. Before embarking on the trip, he wanted to learn more about Korean culture.

"Korea, I had never been to and it's not a country I know very well in terms of history, so this was a good opportunity to brush up," he explained. "I read a lot of books before I left – a whole crash course on Korea, Korean customs, history, how the government works."

Chan spent most of his time the Korean capital, Seoul, a 2,000-year-old city with a population of 10 million.

"Seoul is a really large city. It has 10 million people. It's a 21st century modern city, but at the same time there are a lot of historical monuments inside the city. So everywhere you go, you see an old Korean building. Some are reconstructions – meaning they restored these old historical sites – some are original historical sites they're trying to maintain the history on," Chan said.

"They're scattered throughout the city and it's a big part of Korean life, remembering all their old history while still building mega skyscrapers around it at the same time."

While in Seoul, Chan met three times with officials from South Korea's foreign ministry, including the deputy minister for political affairs and the secretary general who oversees the nation's consulates in North America. He also met with the Korean Energy Management Corporation, the state agency in charge of energy efficiency. Chan also had the chance to visit the Seoul Energy Dream Center, which aims to educate the Korean public on renewable energy. Additionally, he visited a manufacturer of hydrogen fuel cells.

DURING HIS FIVE-DAY trip to South Korea, Rep. Tackey Chan toured the Demilitarized Zone (DMZ) separating South and North Korea. Here, Chan stands at a South Korean lookout point. North Korea is in the background.

While in the capital, Chan also visited the War Memorial of Korea, which includes both exhibits on the Korean War and a memorial to those who were killed during the war. While at the memorial, Chan paused and left flowers in front of the names of the 866 Massachusetts servicemen killed during the war.

"I visited the Korean War memorial and paid respects to the Massachusetts soldiers that gave their lives during the war," he said. "It's a very moving experience because they have this museum section that teaches you about the Korean War, Korean culture, history... but then you have the memorial itself. It actually has the name of every person who gave their life from every country that was in the war, including all the non-combatants."

Chan, who had a tour guide on the trip, also took time to explore the city in between his scheduled meetings.

"We had enough time to visit a store – like a depart-

Cont'd On Page 31

AS PART OF his visit to South Korea, Rep. Tackey Chan visited the War Memorial of Korea, which honors those killed in the Korean War. As part of his tour of the memorial, he signed a guest book that other officials and dignitaries sign during their visit.

REP. TACKEY CHAN visited the War Memorial of Korea during his recent visit to Seoul. The memorial includes the names of all American and United Nations personnel killed in the war. Chan left a bouquet of flowers in front of the names of the 866 Massachusetts residents killed during the war.

A Night Out
with Comedian Steve Sweeney
and DJ Mark McGillicuddy
~
Saturday, January 24, 2015
6 pm - 10 pm
The Commonwealth Restaurant and Lounge
79 Parkingway, Quincy

Catch the 50/50 and gift basket raffles.
Show starts at 7:30pm

Hors d'oeuvres courtesy of the Commonwealth Restaurant

To score tickets contact: prkilkopp@comcast.net or purchase at the door
Tickets: $20 per person
Proceeds will help send the Quincy Red Stocking U11 team to Cooperstown in 2016

Resolve to protect your family this new year.

Do you have a plan for your estate, your legacy? Can you say with certainty that your estate will go to the people you want? Are you protected from nursing home costs and estate taxes?

If you have no plan, rest assured the state has one for you. At Bank of Canton, we'll help make provisions for your loved ones in accordance with your wishes!

This year, make a resolution to protect your family. We can help- I guarantee it!

2015 Resolutions
*1. Contact Bank of Canton about Estate Planning
2. Eat healthier
3. Go to the gym
4. Pay off credit cards
5. Drink more water
6. Don't forget Resolution #1!

Stephen P. Costello, President & CEO

BANK OF CANTON

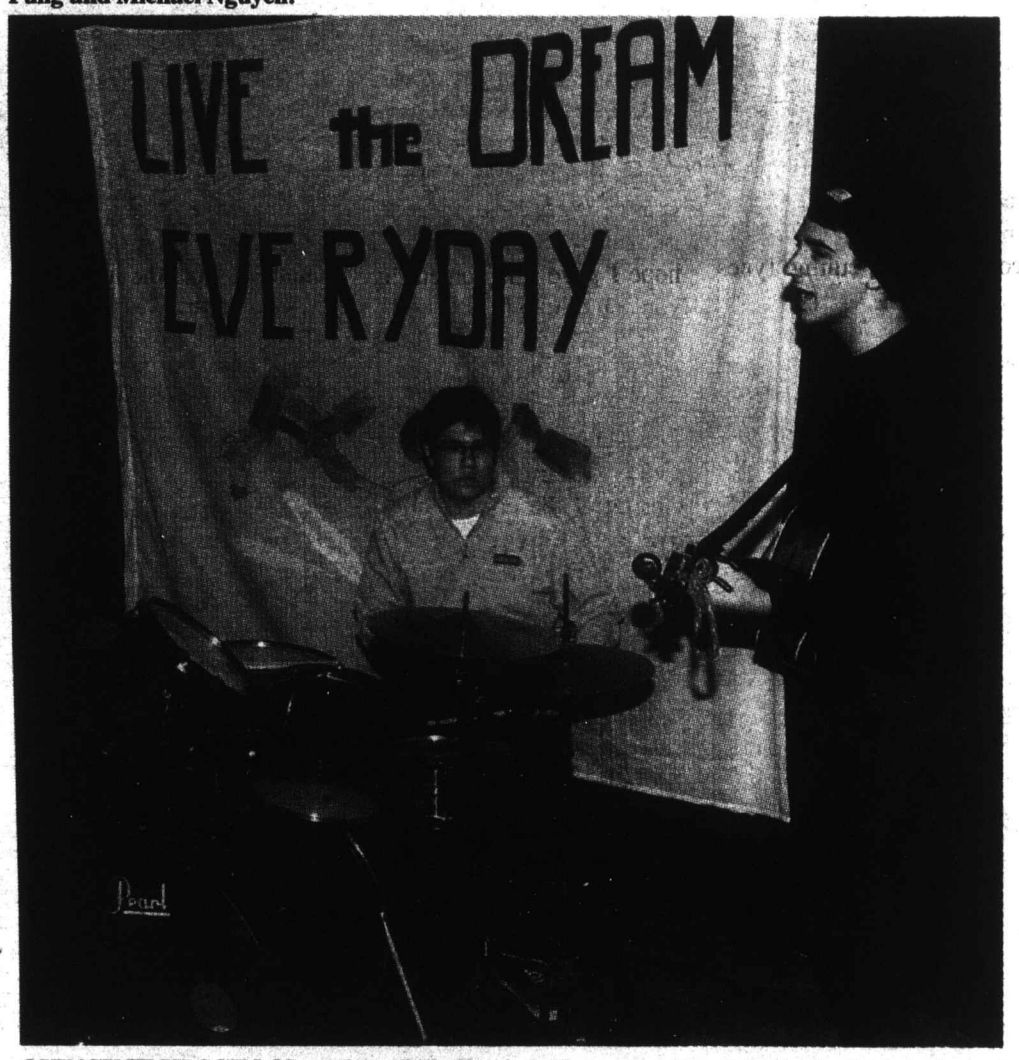
888.828.1690 • 557 Washington Street, Canton • www.bankcanton.com

Martin Luther King, Jr. Remembered At Annual Breakfast

QUINCY CELEBRATED the legacy of the late Martin Luther King, Jr. Monday at a breakfast presented by the Germantown Neighborhood Center and the South Shore YMCA. Among the participants at the event held at the GNC were (from left) Mayor Thomas Koch, Julian Tynes, director of the Office of Labor Relations and Employment Law at Massachusetts Department of Transportation and the keynote speaker; Kathy Quigley, director, Germantown Neighborhood Center; and Norfolk County Dist. Atty. Michael Morrissey, breakfast master of ceremonies.

GERMANTOWN AFTER SCHOOL students recited a poem, sang and danced (above) in honor of Martin Luther King Jr..'s legacy. Quincy Sun Photos/Robert Bosworth

POSTING COLORS and leading the audience in the Pledge of Allegiance were members of the North Quincy High School Air Force Jr. ROTC. From left: Dan Reilly, Hong Gao Chen, Rachael Fung and Michael Nguyen.

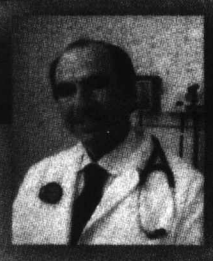


QUINCY HIGH SCHOOL students Billy Escobar (drums) and Zach Latini (guitar) performed with other student musicians and the Germantown Neighborhood Chorus at Monday's MLK, Jr. breakfast.

ELECTED OFFICIALS attending Monday's breakfast included mayoral contenders in this fall's city election (from left) Mayor Thomas Koch, School Committeewoman Anne Mahoney and Councillor Doug Gutro.

Beth Israel Deaconess HealthCare

Your Primary Care is My Primary Focus



Sheldon Lockman, MD
Internal Medicine

"As a primary care physician, my goal is to provide high-quality, preventive care to each of my patients."

- Personalized comprehensive care
- Special interests: preventive medicine, geriatrics
- Access to specialists at Beth Israel Deaconess Hospital-Milton and Beth Israel Deaconess Medical Center in Boston.

Welcoming new patients.

For same day or next day appointments, please call 617-696-7601.

88 Wharf Street Milton, MA 02186

Beth Israel Deaconess HealthCare
Milton Landing

Legacy Of Dr. Martin Luther King, Jr. Honored

Cont'd From Page 14

was a place of public accommodation in this city or in Boston or in the surrounding area or even in the United States that if a person of a certain race or national background were to come in they were told you can't come in here," said Tynes.

While unimaginable, that type of discriminatory behavior still occurs today.

"There's still places in this country where it's not against the law to do that," he said.

During his time as chairman of the MCAD, Tynes saw a case that highlighted how despite the decision of Brown v. Board of Education some 60 years ago, blatant racism still persists.

The case involved a restrictive covenant on a home that indicated that the home only be sold to a white, Protestant buyer and prohibited African Americans, Hispanics, or Jews from purchasing the property.

An ad in a South Shore daily paper listed the sale of the home with the restrictive covenant, something Tynes said is illegal.

Tynes went after the owners of the newspaper, the Dow Jones Local Media Group, and the law firm that advised the seller to apply the restrictive covenant to the sale of the home.

He successfully had the covenant removed and the money collected through a settlement reached with the parties involved went towards scholarships.

"We need our young people to see that being part of a movement does not necessarily always require a charismatic leader but even if it does they don't have to be the charismatic leader to bring about change and to change the course of history."

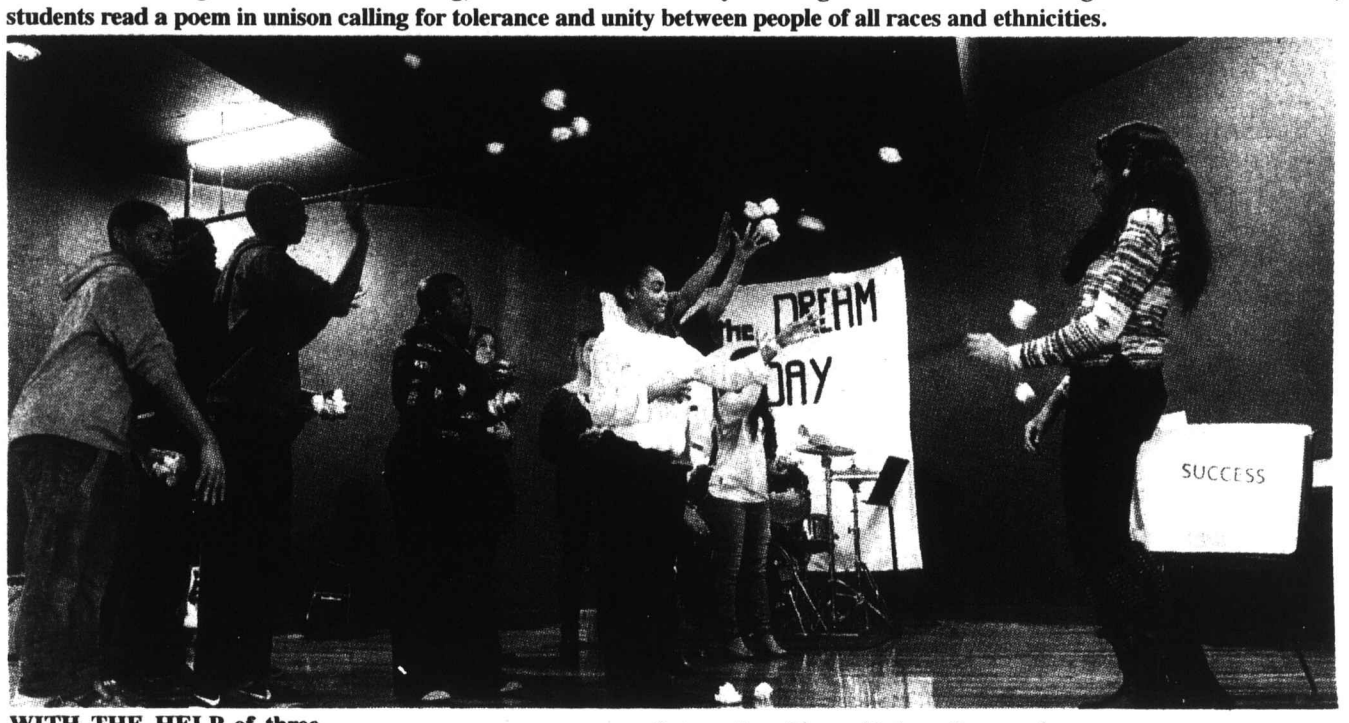
– Keynote Speaker Julian Tynes

"The thing is, this is something that happened not in the 20th century, but in the 21st century," he said. "Some of these things still exist."

"We need our young people to see that being part of a movement does not necessarily always require a charismatic leader but even if it does they don't have to be the charismatic leader to bring about change and to change the course of history," said Tynes in closing. "I hope I gave you something you can think about."

The audience was treated to a performance of "We Are the Next Generation" by the Germantown Neighborhood Center Chorus and at the closing of the commemorative ceremony listened as children read in unison poems calling for peace and equality.

STUDENTS FROM the Germantown After School program performed under the direction of Christopher James and Dawnmarie Solmans during the Martin Luther King, Jr. Breakfast on Monday morning at the Germantown Neighborhood Center. Here, students read a poem in unison calling for tolerance and unity between people of all races and ethnicities.



WITH THE HELP of three volunteers from the audience, students of the Germantown After School program illustrated how institutionalized racism has made achieving goals more difficult for minorities by forming three groups: a lower class group, a middle class group, and a higher class or privileged group. Each group was asked to throw crumpled balls of paper into a bin that represented opportunity.

Quincy Sun Photos/Robert Bosworth

Saint Agatha School
440 Adams Street
Milton, MA 02186

St. Agatha Middle School Open House
Thursday, January 29th
6:30 p.m. until 8:00 p.m.

This evening is especially designed to give prospective parents an opportunity to meet our faculty and learn about the wonderful academic and extracurricular

Short Stays –
A Perfect Vacation this Season!

ASSISTED LIVING RESPITE STAYS
AT ALLERTON HOUSE

Find out if assisted living is the answer for you or a loved one. It's perfect for the times family caregivers are away. Experience the Welch family's 65 year tradition of exceptional care, housing and hospitality!

ALLERTON HOUSE GUESTS ENJOY

- Three meals a day with friends
- Help with daily routines – from medications to transportation
- Exciting activities, clubs, entrainment & outings
- 24-hour support in a beautiful, modern fully furnished rental apartment

STAY 1 WEEK & ENJOY YOUR 2ND WEEK FREE

Limited time only. Based upon availability.*

CALL TODAY TO JOIN US FOR LUNCH & A TOUR!

Allerton House
QUINCY
164 Parkingway • Quincy
339-788-2979

Over 65 Years of Quality Service
Welch
HEALTHCARE AND RETIREMENT GROUP
www.welchhrg.com

Jerahian, Camara, Jorgensen Lead Presidents

Quincy Posts Big Road Win At Hingham

By TREVOR WENNERS

Junior guards Gabriela Jerahian and Alyssa Camara combined for 33 points and five three-pointers for the Quincy High School girls basketball team in a 51-35 victory last Friday night against host Hingham which was Quincy's eighth consecutive win.

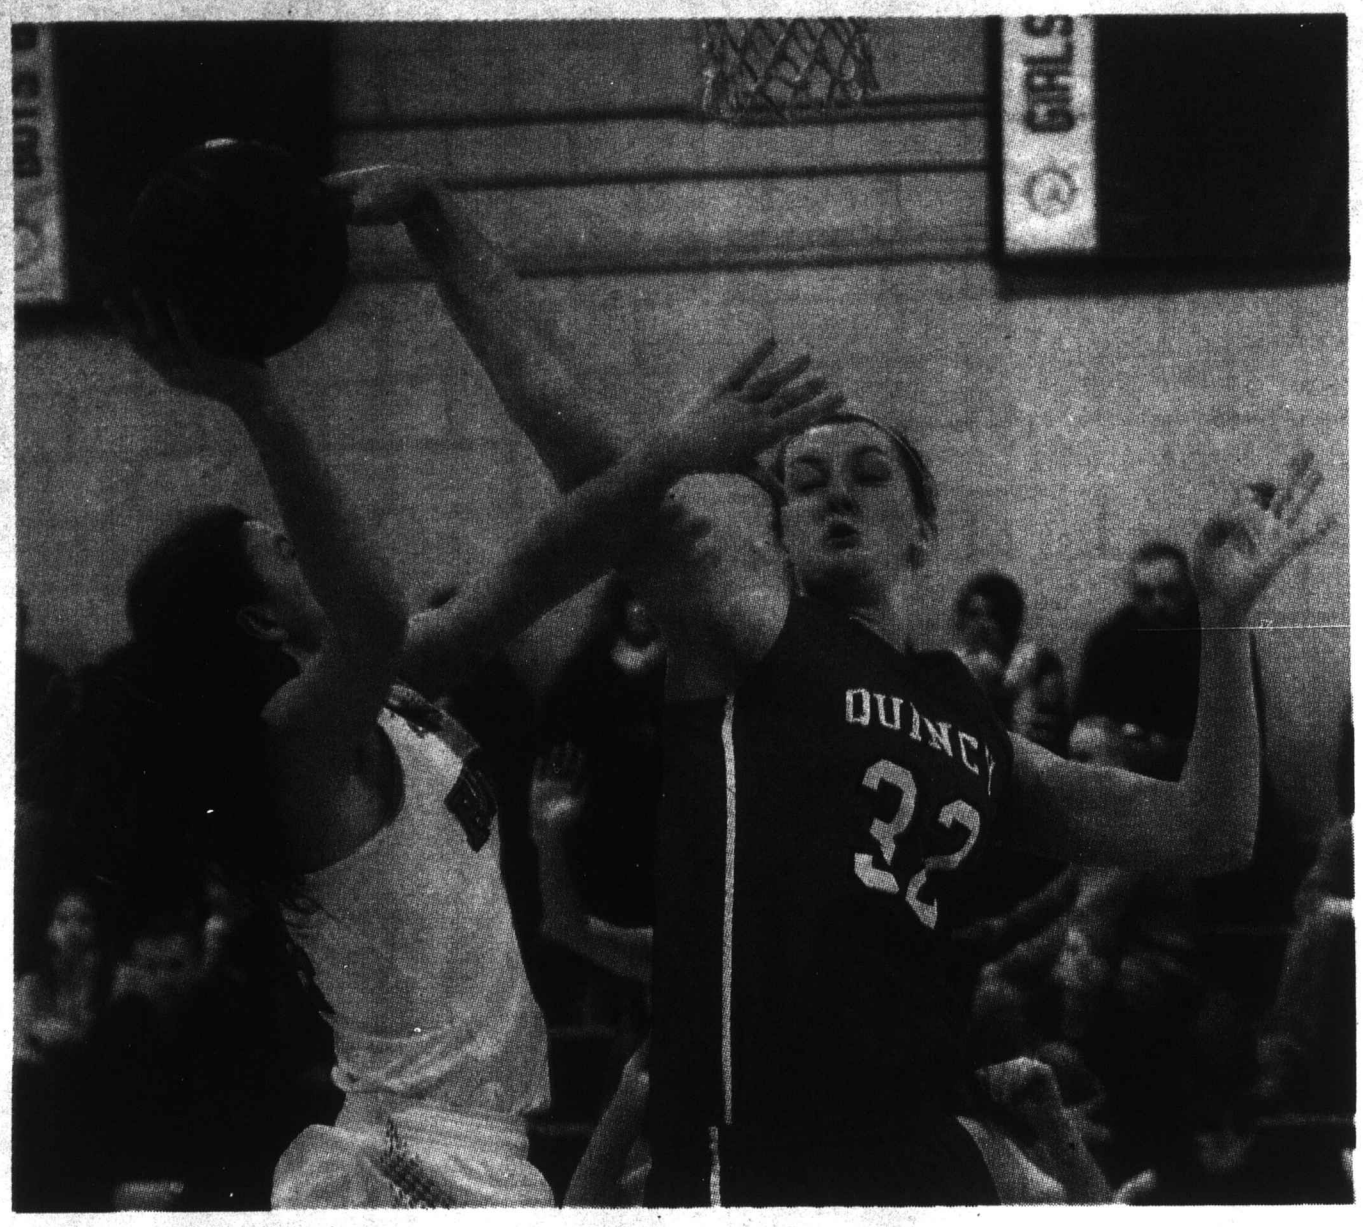
"Couldn't ask for better players on your team, they (play with) all heart" said Presidents head coach Jeff Bretsch. "(They are) very competitive kids that want to win and they want do whatever they can do."

Quincy (9-2) would score the first seven points of the game which included a three-pointer from Camara (16 points), a basket from Jerahian (17 points which led all scorers) and two foul shots from junior Sarah Gibbons. The Presidents would hold a 12-8 lead after the first quarter.

"I thought that we came out really strong," said junior captain and center Nicole Jorgensen who recorded a triple-double with 13 points, 25 rebounds and 13 blocks. "We knew (Hingham) was really good. We prepared last night in practice to play (intense) defense."

Hingham would open the second quarter with a 10-5 run which ended with a three-pointer from senior Sarah Murphy that gave Hingham an 18-17 advantage.

Quincy would score the final seven points of the half with the last points of the run coming on a hoop from Camara with the play being started with a steal by freshman guard Liana Cunningham (6 assists). The Presidents went into intermission with a 24-18 advantage.



JUNIOR CENTER Nicole Jorgensen blocks a shot by Hingham's Haley Blasetti in the Presidents' 51-35 road win over the Harborwomen Friday night. Jorgensen set a single-game school record with 13 blocked shots and recorded a triple-double in the victory scoring 13 points and grabbing 25 rebounds. Quincy Sun Photos/Robert Bosworth

"I thought Liana Cunningham came in and did a brilliant job for us handling their press which is very formidable," said Bretsch. "And for a freshman, she really rose to the occasion tonight."

Freshman Haley Blasetti (11 points) would score an old-fashioned three-point play with 2:39 left in the third quarter to trim the Presidents lead to 32-28. Jerahian gave the visitors some breathing room by scoring two baskets late in the third to give the Presidents a 36-28 advantage going into the final quarter.

"I've been working on taking the ball to the hoop," said Jerahian. "And especially (with) the (intense) pressure that Sydney Blasetti was putting on me, I've just been working on trying to stay involved as much as possible."

After junior Bridget Hoffses scored to cut the Presidents' lead to 36-30 at the beginning of the fourth, Camara responded with a three-pointer to extend the Presidents lead to 39-30.

"Alyssa has a way of being the kid who delivers for us when things seem stuck," said Bretsch. "She seems to find a way in those moments to get all the way to the rim or to hit a big shot."

The Presidents would have a 43-32 advantage with 4:46 left in the game after Jorgensen connected on a shot. Jorgensen set a school record with the 13 blocks in the game.

Hingham would score the next three points which included two points from sophomore Abby Landry and a point from Haley Blasetti cut Quincy's lead to 43-35 with 4:16 remaining.

Jorgensen responded with an old-fashioned three-point play to give the Presidents a 46-35 lead with 2:42 left. The Presidents would score the next five points to claim the 51-35 victory.

"I was very proud of Nicole's leadership tonight," said Bretsch. "Especially where they did a nice job of trying to take her out of the game and she just refused to be taken out of it. She wasn't able to get the shots she normally does but she found so many ways to be a leader for us out there. She had 25 rebounds and 13 blocked shots (and) she seemed to be everywhere on the defensive end tonight which was something that was very exciting for us as a team."

Big road win?

"It's a very big game for us definitely, (Hingham) is a very good team," said Bretsch. "This gym has always been hard to win in, for years I have been playing tough games in this gym and we know the intensity that Hingham always brings so it was a very big win for us, definitely a confidence boost."

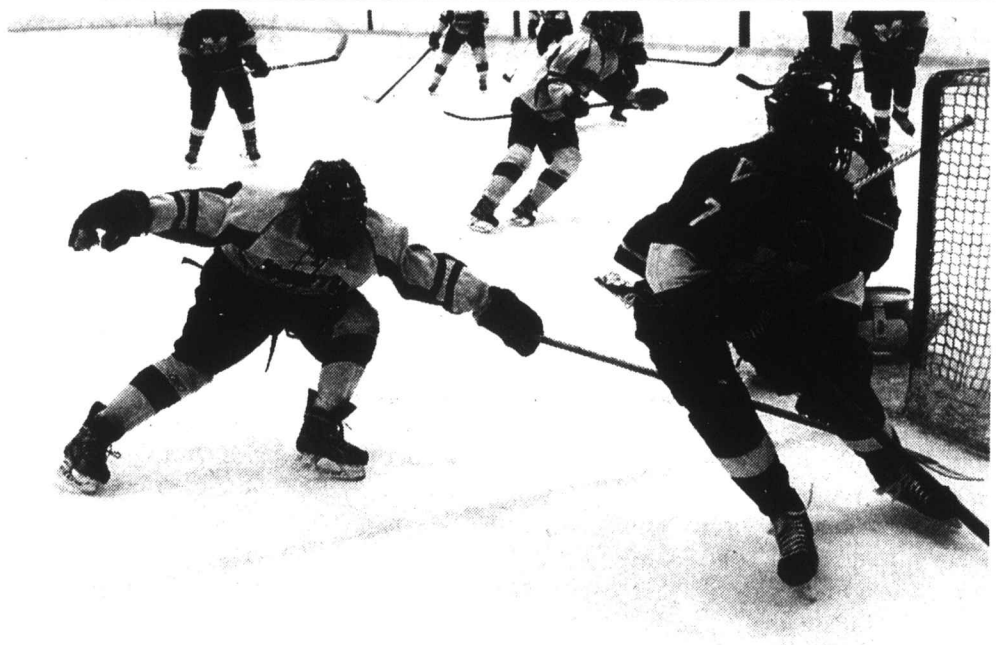
The Presidents were able to get some points around the hoop but were also able to stretch the floor and hit outside shots. Jerahian spoke about the importance of stretching the floor.

"It's extremely (important), it serves as a great

Cont'd On Page 21

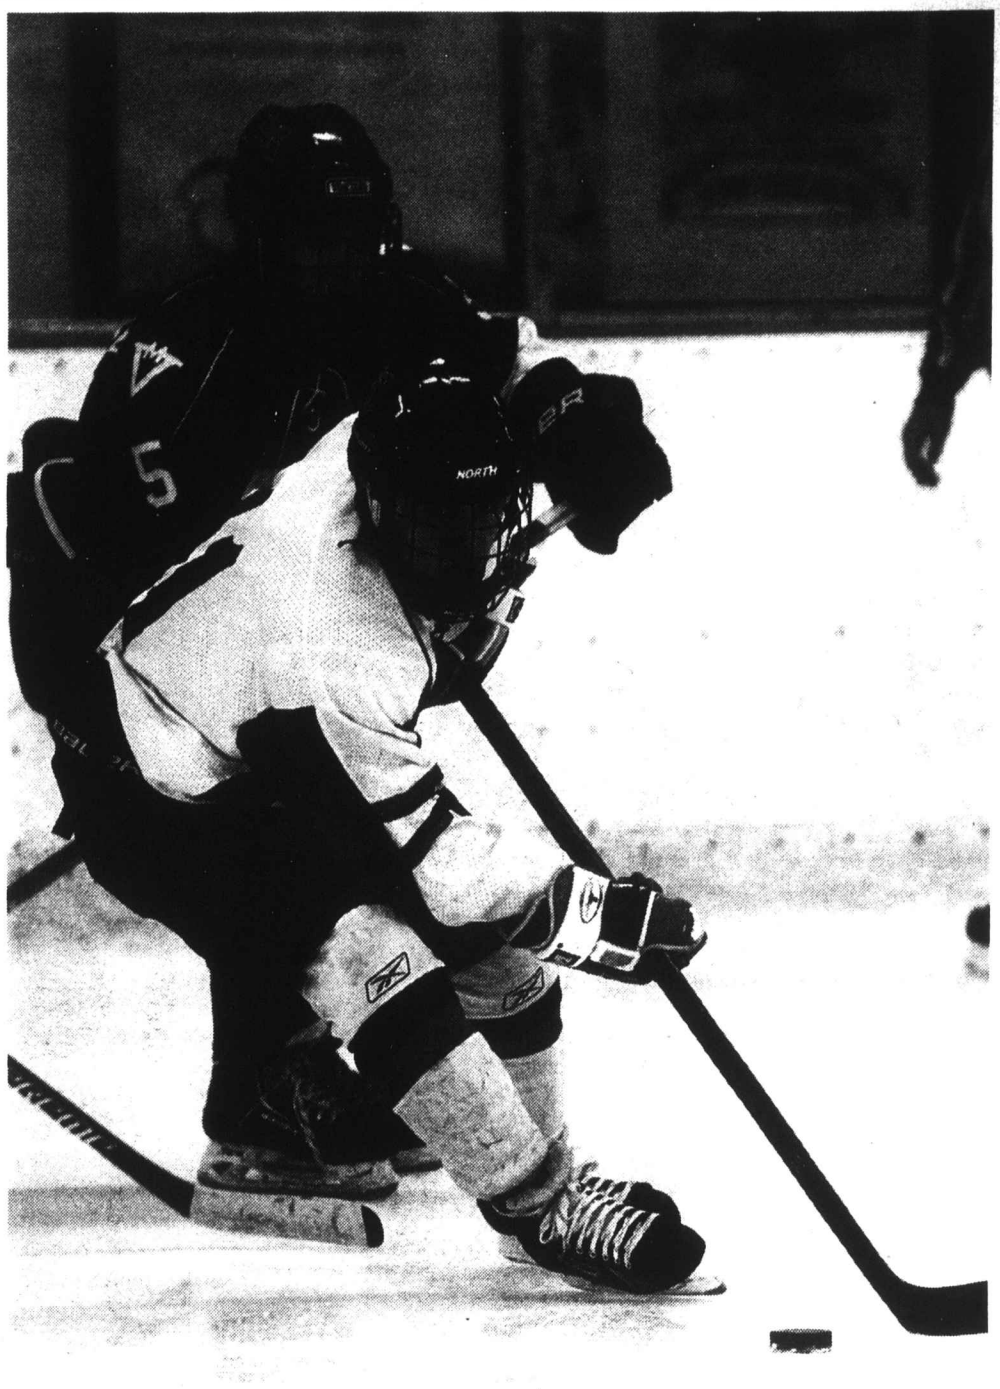
FRESHMAN GUARD Liana Cunningham dribbles up court after stealing the ball from Hingham's Haley Blasetti. Cunningham also recorded six assists in Quincy's victory.

JUNIOR GUARD Gabriela Jerahian scored 17 points for the Presidents, including 3 three-pointers, in Quincy's 51-35 win over Hingham Friday night.



NORTH QUINCY High School's Sean Farnham pressures Martha's Vineyard's Emerson Mahoney behind his net. Farnham scored the Red Raiders' first goal, unassisted in the third period, in North Quincy's 3-0 win over MV Monday at Quincy Youth Arena.

CAPTAIN MIKE FINN'S attempt at a wraparound is stopped by MV goaltender Wyatt Jenkinson in the second period.



FORWARD CHRIS GORMAN moves through center ice starting the attack in the second period against Martha's Vineyard Monday afternoon. NQHS and MVHS played a scoreless first two periods until NQ broke it open with three goals in the third period en route to a 3-0 victory. Quincy Sun Photos/Larry Carchedi

Red Raiders Blank MV; In Tourney Berth Hunt

By BILL GRIFFIN

Hard work, disciplined positional hockey and excellent goaltending.

It is the formula that has been the foundation for four straight trips to the state tournament for North Quincy, and it has the Red Raiders poised in fine position for anther stretch run to the post-season this winter.

Sean Farnham, Kevin McDonald, and Andrew Kiley scored third-period goals. Junior goalie Kevin Doherty was steady and sure in posting his first varsity shutout and his mates backed him with pluperfect defense and checking as North dropped Martha's Vineyard, 3-0 in a non-league game Monday afternoon at the Quincy Youth Arena.

"All year these kids have worked and worked. It pays off. I think we wear teams down," said coach Matt Gibbons.

The win left North at 5-4-3 on the season. The Red Raiders need seven points in their last eight games to make the tourney. They are coming off a 3-0-2 stretch which was highlighted by a 3-2 win over Plymouth North when Mike Finn scored the winning goal with three seconds left after Plymouth had tied the score with 20 seconds remaining.

In other action last week, Kiley scored as North tied Hanover, 1-1. The Red Raiders rallied from a two-goal deficit and edged Silver Lake, 3-2 on a Kiley deflection of a Matt McDonald shot on the power pay with 3:30 left in the game. Finn scored twice for North in the win.

What is at the heart of this fine run? No team works harder than North Quincy. Not a one.

"It pays off in the third period. We got three today in the third and two against Silver Lake in the third. We try to keep the pressure on and I think it shows in the third period," said Gibbons.

The discipline and the sound positional hockey are a joy to watch. All the forwards skate their lanes. Everyone backchecks. They hit and hit cleanly. The defense of Matt McDonald, Kevin McDonald, Cam White, Matt Monahan, and Ryan Moreschi handle the puck well and move it out of the zone smoothly.

"We are in the right spots. Our coverage in the defensive zone has improved a great deal since the beginning of the year," said Gibbons.

Doherty made 17 saves. He stopped Austin Morley three times on clear chances from along the right wing. He flashed a quick glove to rob Emerson Mahoney late in the third. He protected his crease and controlled rebounds to withstand a late flurry and preserve his shutout.

"We were hanging on a little to get him his shutout," smiled Gibbons. "He's been solid all year. He's consistent, he makes all the saves he should, and doesn't give up soft goals."

Finn, Timmy Glynn (two assists) and Kiley buzzed around the Vineyard net for better than two periods, but it was scoreless until Farhnam broke through on a beautiful play with 9:25 left in the game. He stole the puck at his blue line, outskated a defender and slipped a backhander into the far corner from the left wing for a 1-0 lead.

"It was a tight spot to hit," said Gibbons. "I was happy he got it. I thought he played his best game in two years against Silver Lake. He was excellent again today."

Kevin McDonald made it 2-0 less than two minutes later when his hard slapper deflected in off a defender's skate. Kiley finished the scoring from his familiar spot just outside the crease. He drove home a rebound of a White bullet from the point to make the final 3-0.

Glynn assisted on the final two scores and has seven goals and nine assists for the season. Kiley has four goals and seven assists while Finn has eight goals and seven assists. That's balanced, dependable production from the first line.

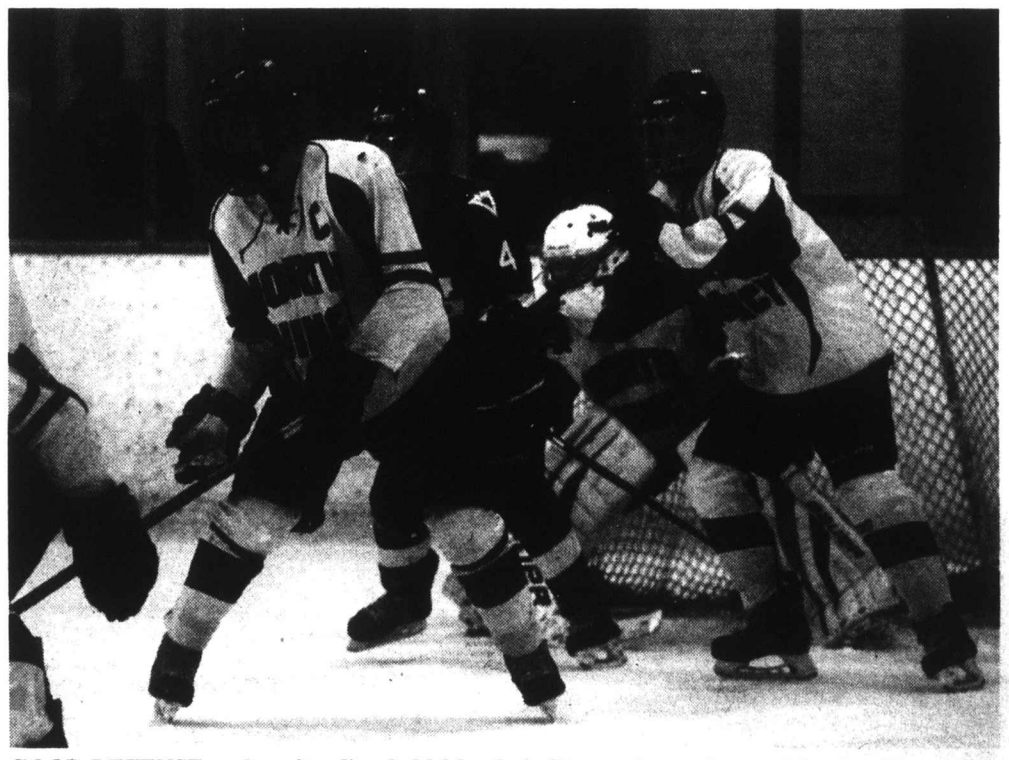
"That was Kevin McDonald's first varsity goal. It shows good things happens when you put the puck on net," said Gibbons. "I think Andrew has all his goals from that same spot. He gives us the dirty goals."

On a team which works hard, nobody works harder than senior forward Chris Gorman. He does not stop. He is especially effective killing penalties. North had to survive a four-minute penalty early in the first period and Gorman was exceptional, leading a rotation which permitted just one soft shot on net.

He skated on a third line with Austin Lee, Matt Hannon and Freddie Flynn which worked and checked and gave very few opportunities to Martha's Vineyard.

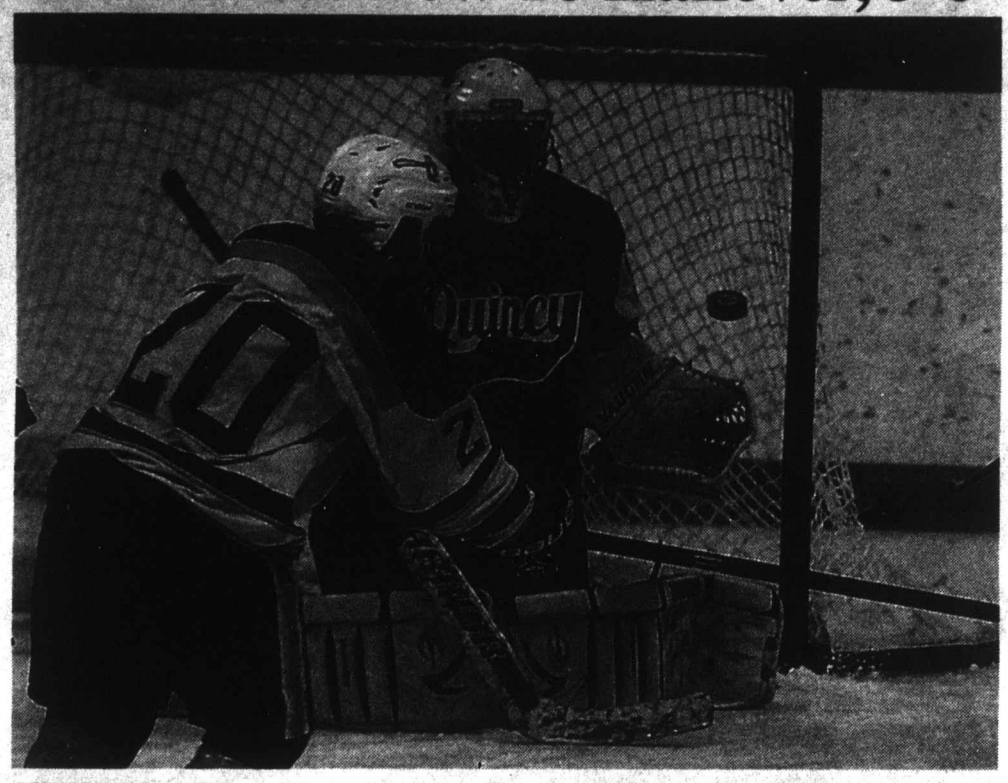
"I think that third line has given up one goal this season," said Gibbons. "Chris only knows one speed, all-out. He aggravates opposing players because he is right on them and he stays with his checks. He gets to the right spots so quickly."

North hosts Whitman-Hanson Saturday at 8:10 p.m. at Quincy Youth Arena.



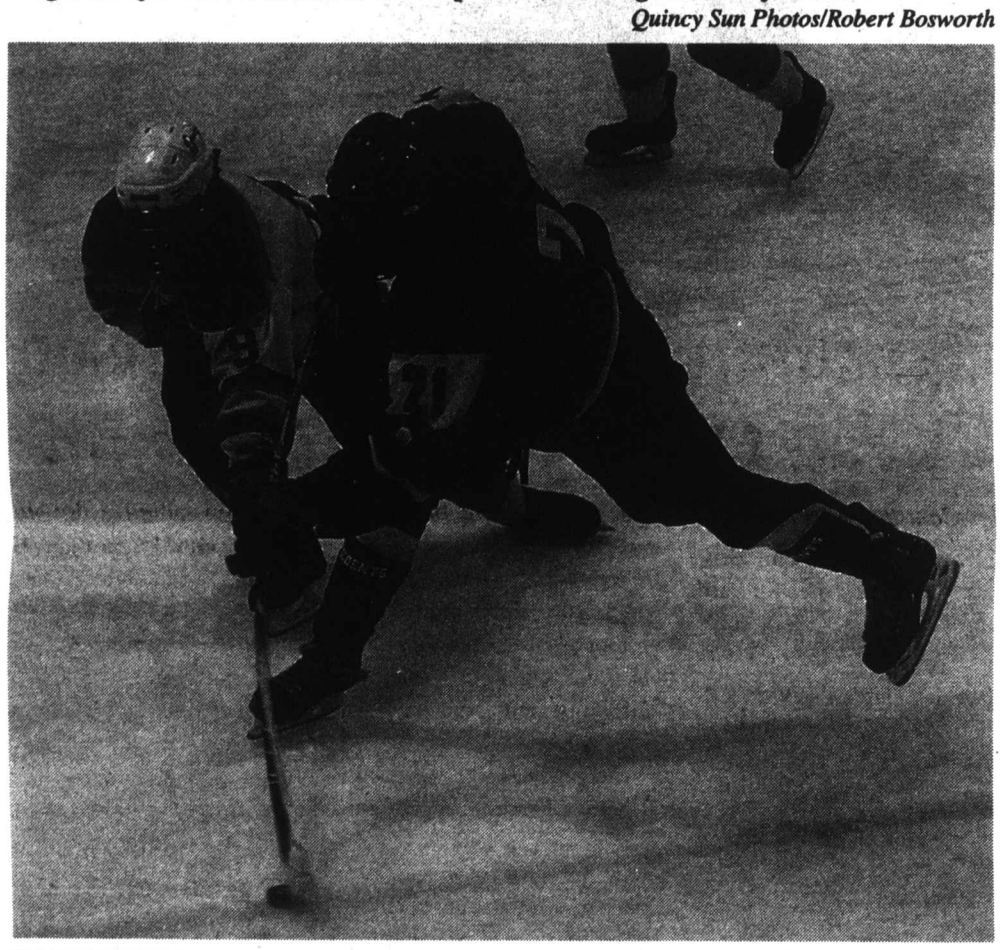
GOOD DEFENSE and goaltending held Martha's Vineyard scoreless on Monday. Here MV's Greg McCarron is surrounded by NQHS captain Matt Monahan and Ryan Moreschi.

Presidents Bow To Hanover, 3-0

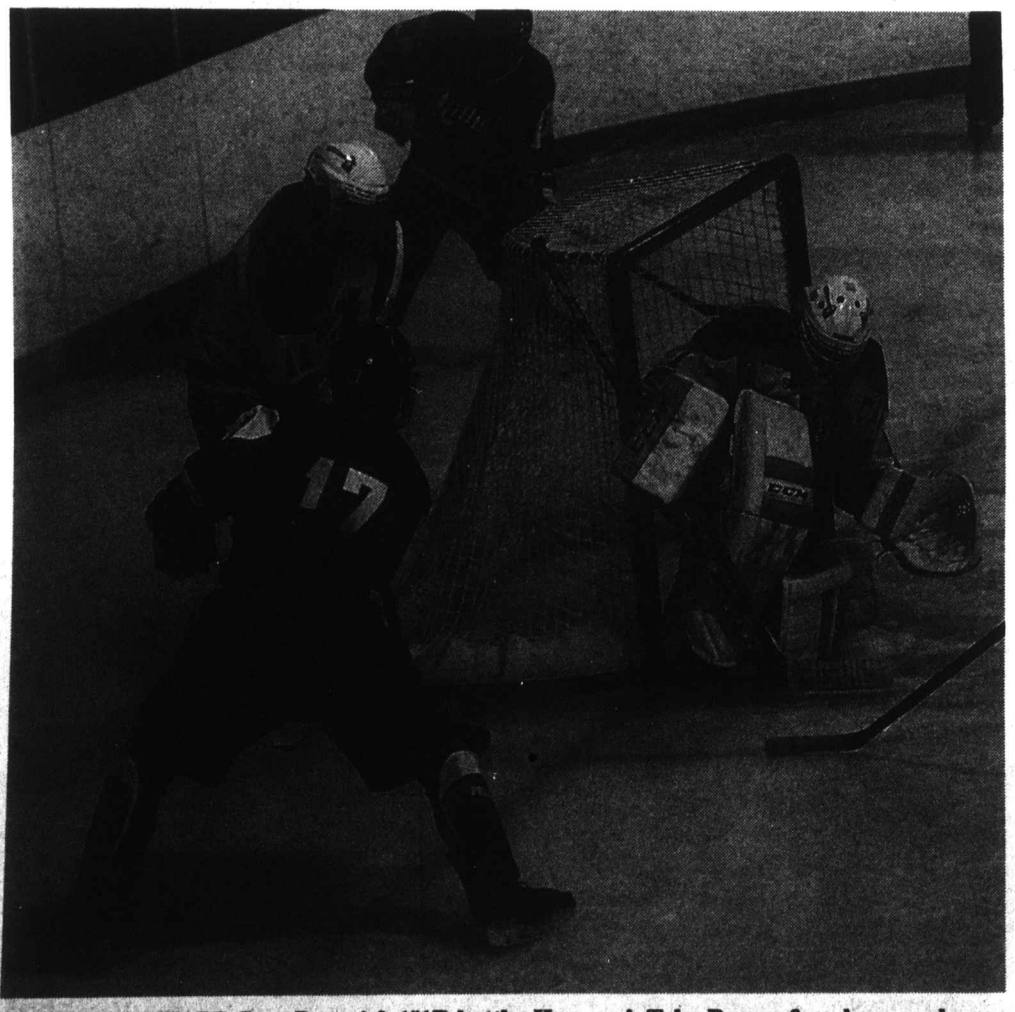


QUINCY GOALIE Ryan Higgins faced 42 shots and made 40 saves but the Presidents bowed to Hanover 3-0 Saturday at Hobomock Arena in Pembroke. The Indians scored goals in the first and second period and added an empty-netter with 15 seconds remaining to defeat Quincy. The Presidents hosted Whitman-Hanson Wednesday at 8:10 p.m. at Quincy Youth Arena and face off against Plymouth North Jan. 28 at 5:30 p.m. at Armstrong Rink in Plymouth.

Quincy Sun Photos/Robert Bosworth



SENIOR FORWARD Brian O'Callaghan leans into a slap shot as Hanover's Cole Methot moves in against the Quincy captain. The Presidents were shut out by the Indians 3-0 last Saturday at Hobomock Arena in Pembroke.



SENIOR FORWARD Sean Brennick (#17) battles Hanover's Tyler Powers for a loose puck near the Hanover net guarded by Indians' goalie Noah Clapp.

Quincy/North Girls Defeat Peabody, 4-1 Edged By MV, 1-0

Goalie Karissa Beal Makes 61 Saves In Tourney

By BILL GRIFFIN

If excellent goaltending is the foundation for building a good young hockey club, the Quincy/North Quincy's team is on solid ground thanks to the play of sophomore Karissa Beal.

Beal played three strong games over the holiday weekend in the Martha's Vineyard Tournament and in a non-league test against a powerful Milton team out of the Bay State Conference.

Milton scored three times in the first period and dropped Quincy/North, 6-0 despite a 30-save effort from Beal and a solid performance by the entire team over the final 30 minutes of play Monday morning at the Quincy Youth Arena.

"She's definitely one of the key pieces to this team," said coach Steve Burgio who has only five seniors on his roster. "She has excellent reflexes and she doesn't give up bad goals. A team needs to make a great shot to beat her."

Quincy/North defeated Peabody, 4-1 in the first round of the Martha's Vineyard Tourney. Riley McLaughlin had a goal and an assist while Savannah Flynn, Kay O'Connor, and Kelly Donahue also scored. Freshman Julie Whalen chipped in with a pair of assists.

Martha's Vineyard edged Quincy/North, 1-0 for the championship. Beal was terrific in both games. She had 28 saves against Peabody, 33 in the title game, and several of her stops were exceptional.

"She stopped two or three point blank shots against Peabody," said Burgio. "On one of her saves in the championship game, the shooter had her hands raised in the air because she thought the puck had to be in the net.

"The Martha's Vineyard game was encouraging. They're 6-3-3 and play in our league. We played well and showed we could compete with the best teams in the league (Southeast Massachusetts Girls Hockey League).

Beal has quick feet and controls her rebounds. She has unusual poise in heavy action around her crease. She stopped five clear breakaways against Milton who is 9-2-1 on the season. She was good on deflections, clean drives from the slot and slappers from the point.

"Game in and game out, she has given us a chance to compete, to stay in games with a chance to win," said Burgio.

After Milton's burst in the first period, Quincy/North settled in and played solid hockey. They put 12 shots on net and several were excellent chances. The defense, led by Donahue, Maura Crump, Madison Hally, and Carly McMorrow, grew more confident in its zone, keeping things clear in front of Beal and moving the puck more crisply to center ice.

"We talked with them after the first period and told them they could compete with anyone," said Burgio. "Milton is very good, but we can play with anybody we face. Our defense did a better job setting up in the right position in our zone."

And the offense created chances especially in the third period. Flynn split the defense, broke in cleanly, but Milton goalie Sarah Park made an excellent stop. Whalen had a testing drive and rebound from the left wing. McLaughlin made a steal and a perfect feed to Julia Donovan who was clear from 10 feet on the left side of the slot, but Park made the save.

Donovan, who played through a shoulder injury she suffered in the second period, had a fine two-way game for Quincy/North.

"Julia plays hockey all-out. She forechecks, backchecks, and gives everything she has every game," said Burgio. "Flynn is a solid two-way player and McLaughlin is aggressive and stickhandles well close to the net. Their goalie made some fantastic saves."

Two areas where Burgio has seen improvement has been forechecking and penalty-killing. Strong forchecking set up golden chances for Whalen and Crump (off a good pass from McLaughlin) in the first period. Whalen, Flynn, and Kate McGahey were solid in killing off a pair penalties.

"We did a good job of helping each other when we killed penalties. If someone was of position, someone else stepped in," said Burgio. "We clogged the middle and put pressure on the point with our forwards. Forechecking is a key for us in every game. It forces mistakes and doesn't let the other team set up.

"I saw good things in the loss. We keep showing improvement. The tournament in Martha's Vineyard was good for us because it let the team see that the improvement can show up on the scoreboard.

Quincy/North (2-10) hosts Norwell Saturday at 6:40 p.m. at Quincy Youth Arena.

George Burke Contributes $2,600 To QHS Basketball

Quincy attorney George Burke recently donated $2,600 to the Quincy High School girls basketball program.

Burke received a kind letter from Jeff Bretsch, the Presidents' varsity girls basketball coach, thanking Burke for his continued support for Quincy High School. Coach Bretsch had indicated that the basketball program was in need of funds. Burke was more than glad to help and forwarded $2,600 to Quincy High for the girls and boys basketball programs as well as the Fitness Center which Burke built. He was informed by the principal that it used quite often and daily.

Burke also committed at the request of Quincy High School to become a Platinum Level Sponsor for Quincy School – Community Partnership in the amount of $60,000. He has also sent 150 students to the University of Massachusetts (Burke's alma mater) from Quincy High and North Quincy High.

Burke is a former acting mayor, councillor at-large, ward councillor, state representative and was the first Democrat ever elected district attorney of Norfolk County.

QUINCY SUN PHOTOS

Reprints of Quincy Sun Photos – Appearing In Print or on our Website – can be purchased from our photographers:

Lisa Aimola - 617-981-1715

Larry Carchedi - 617-653-4775

Robert Bosworth - 617-471-3100

Bain's 37 Points Most In Single Game Since 2008

Quincy Defeats Hingham, Bows To W-H, St. John's

By BILL GRIFFIN

It was a week of a league showdown, two four-star defensive shows, a little help from from friends in Plymouth and a test against a traditional power from EMass basketball.

Against Hingham Friday night, Quincy needed a lift. The Presidents had been stung in their previous game, a battle for first place against Whitman-Hanson. They trailed by as many as six in the first half. They were down one at halftime.

The boost came, as it almost always does, from the defense. The defense put a lid on the basket, forced turnovers, gave the offense room to breath and sent Quincy off on a 20-7 blitz in the third period which carried the Presidents to a 58-41 Patriot League Keenan Division victory over the Harbormen at the Quincy gym.

"We gave up 79 points in the loss to Whitman, so we stressed defense in practice," said coach Dave Parry. "I thought it was there from the beginning, but we were off a little with our shots in the first half. In the second half, we put the offense and defense together."

Earlier last week, W-H used deadeye outside shooting to edge Quincy, 79-74 in a meeting between two teams tied for first place in the division. Senior center J.T. Bain led Quincy with 37 points, the highest single-game total by a Quincy player since Doug Ross scored 53 in 2008.

In other action Friday night, Plymouth North did Quincy a huge favor by belting W-H, 85-72 at Whitman. Both Quincy and W-H finished last week with 7-1 league records.

Monday afternoon, Quincy played excellent defense for the second straight game before falling to St. John's Prep, a Catholic Conference power with wins over BC High and Central Catholic, 55-46, at the Reggie Lewis Center in Boston.

"Again I was pleased with the defense. We re-emphasized defense and our effort showed it," said Parry.

Bain led the scoring with 19 while Colin Evans had 15 and James Lam added 10.

The defense was the story. Quincy trailed, 27-21 at the half and was down, 40-36 entering the fourth period. St. John's had to go to its ace point guard Kareem Davis for 28 points to pull out the victory. Davis was the only St. John's player in double figures.

"I told them after the game I was proud of them," said Parry. "We play games like this to get tougher and to believe in ourselves against an excellent team. I thought we accomplished that."

Senior point guard Tyler Beach began the third-period spree against Hingham by blanketing his man and forcing a turnover on the inbounds pass which started the second half. Quincy forced three turnovers in the first three minutes of the third period. The Presidents held the Harbormen scoreless over the first 3:20 of the third.

Quincy's in-your-face man defense grabbed control of the game. The Presidents gave seven points in the period, 10 in the first 11 minutes of the second half and just 18 after intermission. Defense is effort, and Beach set the standard for the effort with his hustle play which kick-started Quincy's rally.

"When a player hustles like that, it gets everyone involved. Like shooting, defensive is contagious. Everyone joined in," said Parry.

With the hard work of defense satisfied, the offense flowed freely. Again, it was Quincy's trademark passing which dotted the second half with excellence. Quincy had nine assists in 10 baskets in the third period. The Presidents had 14 assists in 17 hoops in the second half. Remember a 50 per cent ratio is just fine. Quincy's passing is another world.

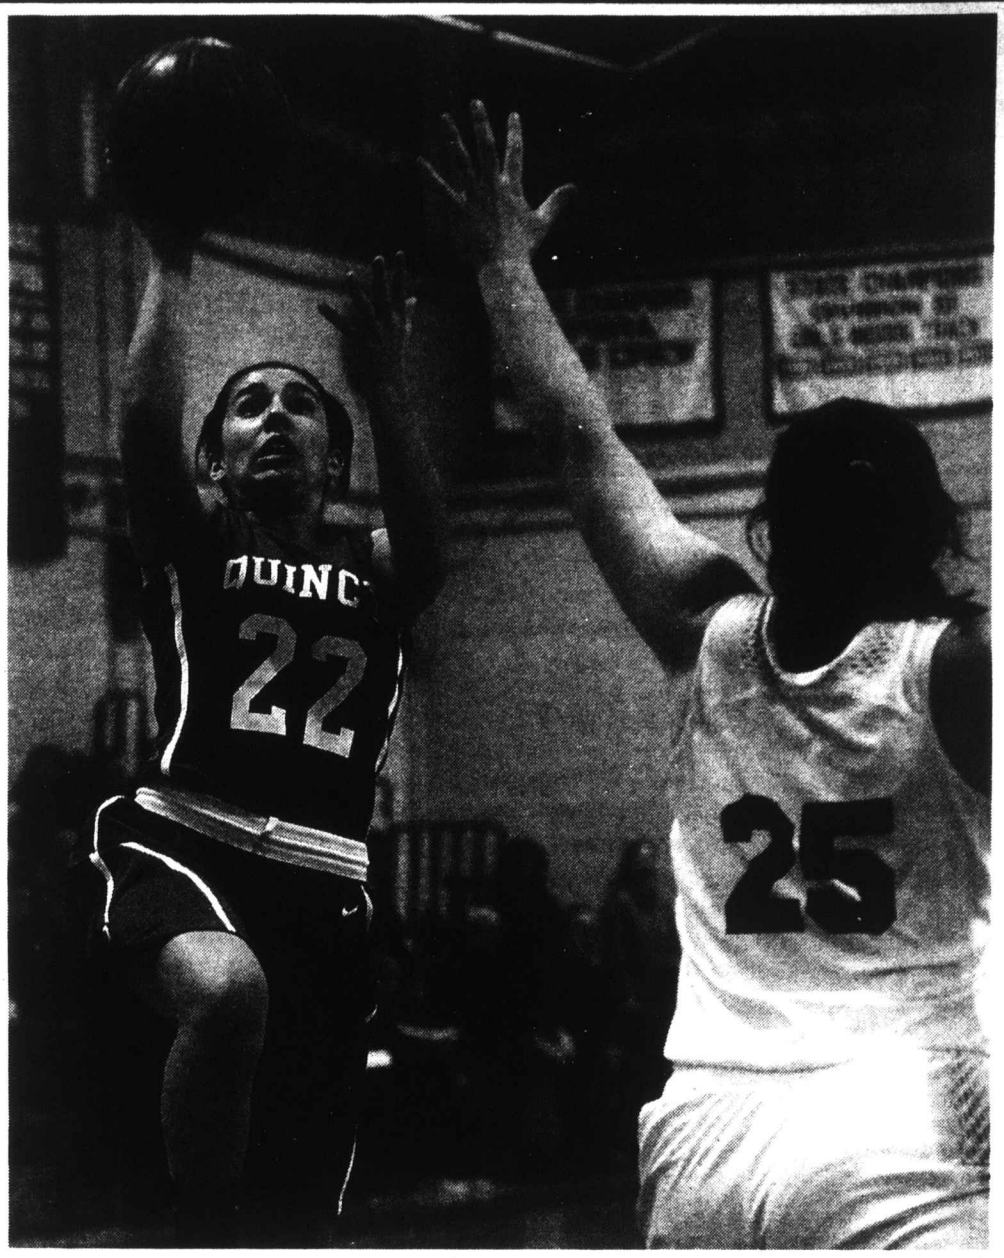
Not only are the passes crisp, accurate and unselfish. Quincy moves well without the ball. The Presidents cut hard to open creases in the offense and provide inviting targets for feeds going to the hoop and springing free on the perimeter. The Presidents produced two clean layups off perfect passes from inbounds plays under the Hingham hoop.

Against W-H, it was Bain the scorer. Against Hingham, it was Bain the passer. He had six assists in the second half and eight for the game to go with six points. Keep in mind that he is not a point guard. He is a center. Centers do not pass like this.

"Not only is he a good passer, he is a good passer from all spots on the floor," said Parry. "A lot of that passing in the second half came against a zone which is hard to do. I thought our interior passing from all our players was excellent."

The Presidents jumped the lead to 44-30 after three and never led by less than 16 in the fourth. Lam led Quincy in scoring with 22 points. He was the best defender, rebounder (11 boards), and player on the court once again. He does

Cont'd On Page 31



JUNIOR GUARD Alyssa Camara was another offensive spark for the Presidents scoring 10 of her 16 points against Hingham in the first half. Quincy Sun Photo/Robert Bosworth

Jerahian, Camara, Jorgensen Lead Quincy Past Hingham

Cont'd From Page 18

basis where we can drive and dish to (the forwards and centers) posting up or us shooters," she said. "We just have threats all around the floor at all times so that really helps."

Jorgensen spoke about what has been going well for the Presidents during their recent winning streak.

"Mr. Bretsch is a really good coach, preparing for games and stuff," she said. "Our first good winning streak, we just want to improve from last season."

Jerahian spoke about what the Presidents need to work on heading forward in the season.

"Boxing out all around," she said. "We have (an) issue of leaving the rebounding to our two post (players) so I think us all around need to get more involved, keep moving our feet and play lockdown defense."

Bretsch said, "The great thing is I think we all agree we have a lot of room to improve. We're playing pretty good basketball right now and we're seeing a glimpse of our potential and every game we seem to get a little bit better but we all feel like there is another level still that we haven't reached and are capable of reaching so I think it is exciting, it is a tremendous team, they really care about each other, they stick together, they believe in each other and it is showing, we are getting better every day."

Quincy's starting lineup on Friday consisted of five juniors which include Jorgensen, Camara, Jerahian, Gibbons and guard Jillian Mulvaney.

"It's a great feeling," said Jerahian about most of the team coming back next season. "It really is, we can only get better next year (because of having) the same chemistry."

In other action last week, Quincy defeated Whitman-Hanson 47-28 Jan. 14. Jorgensen tallied a double-double with 15 points, 10 rebounds and 4 blocks. Jerahian scored 17 points in the game along with 3 three-pointers. Quincy led after the third quarter 29-24 and put an exclamation point on the game by finishing on an 18-4 run in the final quarter. Erin Clifford scored seven points for Whitman-Hanson.

The Presidents visit Duxbury Friday night and host Pembroke next Tuesday, Jan. 27. Both games begin at 6:30 p.m.

QNQ Boys Down Middleboro

The Quincy/North Quincy swimming and diving team (3-1) downed Middleboro for the first time under Head Coach Bob McGillicuddy's six-year tutelage, by a score of 97-81, Jan. 13 in Middleboro.

The Quincy girls team (2-3) suffered the 39-58 losing decision and North Quincy (1-4) lost 40-54.

Winning its third consecutive meet, QNQ avenged an 88-88 tie with Middleboro a year ago, despite leading by four heading into the last relay.

"The boys that remembered last year's tie with Middleboro had a purpose and a mission this year," said McGillicuddy. "This was a total team effort and a tremendous win for the boys team."

On last year's 400-yard free relay that fell short were current senior Stiven Kodra (Q) who secured QNQ's victory with his first place in the 100 breaststroke (1:21.21), and junior Mason Francoeur (Q) who placed third in the 100 backstroke (1:15.20) in addition to a second place in the 50 free (26.46) earlier in the meet. Sophomore Thomas Tran (Q) collected firsts in the 200 individual medley (2:17.34) and 100 butterfly (1:01.65), and his classmate Tommy Zhang (NQ) won the 500 freestyle (5:34.61) as well as the 100 backstroke (1:05.63). Senior Randall Kwong (NQ) swept both freestyle short distance events swimming 24.5 in the 50 and 55.94 in twice the distance.

Senior Sabrina Rauch helped Quincy's cause with a pair of victories in the 200 individual medley and 100 butterfly (1:07.68). Sophomore Bailee Carey accumulated 180.34 points to top the one-meter diving event, and her 30.12 effort in the 50 free landed her third.

North Quincy's Grace Anderson placed second twice swimming the 200 freestyle (2:34.31) and 100 butterfly (1:17.49).

VOICE FOR HEALTH

by Dr. Gabrielle Freedman
Chiropractor

COMPLETING THE FITNESS TRIANGLE

Fitness-conscious individuals understand that flexibility comprises the third leg of the fitness triangle, along with aerobics and strength training. Flexibility, defined as the range of motion about a joint, largely depends on age, genetics, physical activity, the joint structure, the elasticity of the connective tissues, and the degree of coordination between the body's nervous and muscle systems. Chiropractic promotes and maintains flexibility by helping joints achieve a full range of motion. As a result, patients are better able to move their joints further with less exertion. Other benefits include improved muscular balance and posture, reduced muscle soreness, decreased risk of low-back pain, and reduced stress. Maintaining flexibility also promotes independence and self-esteem.

Chiropractic benefits people of all ages, from infants to those in their golden years. At FAMILY PRACTICE OF CHIROPRACTIC, we can help alleviate specific conditions, as well as help improve our patients' overall health and well-being. We strive to make each patient feel at ease with quality chiropractic care at 112 McGrath Hwy., Quincy. We're currently accepting new patients and encourage you to call 617.472.4220 to schedule an appointment. We are able to adjust patients sitting, standing, or lying down to accommodate any level of discomfort.

P.S. Increased range of joint motion results in decreased risk of injury.

www.freedmanchiro.com

A Job Well Done

By QUINCY POLICE LT. DAN MINTON

On Wednesday, January 14, 2015, at approximately 1:00 a.m., Officers Robert Connell and James Goggin were dispatched to the area of Willard Street and Furnace Brook Parkway for a drunk female in the street. The caller said that she was concerned that the woman was going to fall into the street and get hit by a car. Officer Colleen Paccioretti, who was in the area, spotted the female in the roadway on Willard Street just outside of the actual rotary. The female was heavily intoxicated and staggering as she walked.

The Officers were able to get the female off the roadway and away from the danger of fast moving vehicles. The Officers observed that the female was unsteady on her feet and had slurred speech. When asked where she was coming from, the female's responses were incoherent. The female then began to cry and became visibly upset. As the Officers stepped in to console her, they detected a strong odor of alcoholic beverage coming from her. As the Officers attempted to gather more information from the female in order to help her, she kept moving away from them by staggering into the street. She was guided back onto the sidewalk several times.

At one point, Officers Connell and Goggin caught the female before she fell into the middle of the roadway. After numerous futile attempts to get the female's story and personal information in order to get her home or to a friend, the Officers placed her into protective custody as she was a danger to herself and to the public.

As the Officers attempted to restrain this rather large female, she immediately began to resist, throwing her bodyweight at Officers, pulling her hands underneath her body to prevent the application of handcuffs. As the Officers closed in to access her hands, she swung her fists at the Officers in an open handed striking motion, but did not make contact. Once handcuffed and led to an awaiting cruiser, the female started resisting by dead weight-falling to the pavement and screaming.

LT. DAN MINTON

The Officers attempted to pick her up without hurting her, but she opted to use her bodyweight to ram the Officers into the side of the cruiser. The female squirmed about to prevent the Officers from safely getting her into the cruiser. The female again fell to the ground and as the Officers attempted to pick her up, she kicked Officer Paccioretti in the right shin. She then struck Officer Goggin on the left side of his head and Officer Connell in the right upper leg.

With the female back on the ground, Officer Connell requested that the wagon come to the scene because the doors were wider and there was more room. The massive size of the female combined with her aggressive level of resistance made it nearly impossible to get her into the back of a cruiser impossible without harming her. As the Officers awaited the wagon transport, the female stopped yelling at the Officers and suddenly banged her head off the pavement and then lunged forward toward the curb, trying to strike her head against the edge. The Officers grabbed her to prevent her from harming herself further.

Fearing that the female would attempt to harm herself again, the Officers created a plan to get her into the back of the cruiser which worked.

Once at the station, the female, a 25 year old Somerville resident, calmed down and was booked on charges of "Assault and Battery with a Dangerous Weapon (3 counts/shod foot), Resisting Arrest and Disorderly Person." In addition to these charges, she had 5 outstanding warrants. Nice Work!

❑

THANK YOU FROM THE MINTON FAMILY: $11,000 was raised!

For the past three months, our friends and family sold "Attitude is Everything" bracelets in order to help families who are struggling financially with cancer. People responded with donations large and small. Quincy Police Officers, the public schools, NQHS Nurse's Office, the Quincy High School Store, Eastern Nazarene College, the YMCA, the Council on Aging, the Public Health Department, the North Quincy Community Center, Roger's Jewelry, 7-Eleven Adams Street Store, Lydon Funeral Chapel, MGH Nurses, Attorney's Jay Davis and David Mahoney are just some of the supporters who raised money for this worthy cause!

As people donated, many reflected personally on the emotional agony of cancer and the added stress of trying to get through the ordeal financially. The families who received the money are very grateful not only for the assistance, but for the outpouring of humanity at a time when they are just trying to cope day to day. The donations were discreetly made to the families, just before Christmas. The recipients, all from Quincy, are very grateful.

On behalf of my family, thank you for reaching out to us while making life a little bit better for these families during this difficult time.

-The Minton Family

QUINCY POLICE CRIME PREVENTION JOURNAL

Quincy Police Statistics
Jan. 9 – 16
ARRESTS: 31
TOTAL CALLS: 945
STOLEN MOTOR VEHICLES: 0

FRIDAY, JAN. 9

LARCENY, 3:33 a.m., Copeland St. Met suspect at 7-Eleven on Copeland St. Suspect gave him fake money, took the iPad and ran. Caller has suspect's phone number.

BREAKING AND ENTERING, 12:38 p.m., 200 block Quincy Shore Dr. Just arrived home. Window broken.

SATURDAY, JAN. 10

VANDALISM/PROPERTY, 8:21 a.m., Flagg St. Trophy thrown through window sometime between 8 p.m. and 4 a.m.

LARCENY, 11:16 a.m., Davis St. Postal package.

VANDALISM/PROPERTY, 4:03 p.m., Stop & Shop, 495 Southern Art. Caller's door was struck by another's car door.

LARCENY, 5:09 p.m., City View Ln. Packages.

SATURDAY, JAN. 11

BREAKING AND ENTERING, 12:32 a.m., 200 block Taffrail Rd. Came home to find home broken into via a window and apartment ransacked. Unknown exactly when it happened.

VANDALISM/PROPERTY, 2:49 p.m., Gilbert St. School van's windows smashed.

BREAKING AND ENTERING, 10:02 p.m., Naval Ter. Caller can her someone at her back window. No B&E; neighbor was banging on barrels to scare away a raccoon.

MONDAY, JAN. 12

VANDALISM/PROPERTY, 2:07 p.m., Narragansett Rd. Party put a small nail in caller's tire.

ASSAULT AND BATTERY, 5:35 p.m., Alstead St. Incident happened Jan. 11.

LARCENY, 7:08 p.m., Hannaford, 475 Hancock St. Checks.

ARMED ROBBERY, 8:05 p.m., Dunkin' Donuts, 825 Southern Art. White female, skinny, demanding to open cash drawer. Claims she has a gun. Has reddish hat on. Took off in a taxi, possibly Yellow Cab. White female, mid 20s, wearing glasses and black jacket with hood. Gun was shown that appears to be fake.

BREAKING AND ENTERING, 8:52 p.m., 400 block Hancock St. Came home and found home broken into.

ATTEMPTED LARCENY, 10:40 p.m., Walgreen, 330 Hancock St. Around 8 p.m. two white males, one skinny, medium build, hat the other skinny with glasses, came into store and tried to cash a fake check. Worker gave the check back and they left store. Store is closed now. He took picture of the check.

ASSAULT AND BATTERY, 11:09 p.m., Angelina's, 1437 Hancock St.

TUESDAY, JAN. 13

VANDALISM/PROPERTY, 7:42 a.m., Hollywood Hotel, 53 Copeland St. Brick thrown through window. Two smashed windows, slashed tires. Has possible suspect info.

WEDNESDAY, JAN. 14

BREAKING AND ENTERING, 8:22 p.m., Spruce St.

LARCENY, 3:17 p.m., 79 Coddington St. Wallet and car keys taken. Suspect on video.

THURSDAY, JAN. 15

ASSAULT AND BATTERY, 12:48 a.m., 900 block Hancock St. DOVE submitted after negative warrant check, After review by supervisor determined this was not domestic. Complaint submitted for A&B.

LARCENY, 12:03 p.m., Piermont St. Package.

LARCENY, 12:06 p.m., Dunkin' Donuts, 550 Adams St. Wallet found by party. Returned to owner. Money missing. Owner requesting check of video at Dunkin' Donuts.

LARCENY, 3:17 p.m., Dunkin' Donuts, 1250 Hancock St. Pocketbook.

LARCENY, 6:40 p.m., AT&T, 70 Quincy Ave. Two phones. Black male wearing blue jacket with yellow stripe. Ran towards Quincy Center on foot. Co-worker says red jacket, black hat, black pants.

BREAKING AND ENTERING, 7:27 p.m., 100 block Common St. Rent-a-Center came into her house and unplugged washing machine. She did not let them in.

If anyone has more information about any of the aforementioned incidents or would like more information, contact Crime Prevention Lieutenant Dan Minton at 617 745 5719

❑

STOLEN MOTOR VEHICLES: none.

❑

CAR BREAKS: Winthrop Street(2), River Street.

❑

BREAKS AND ATTEMPTED BREAKS: 100 block of Common Street, Spruce Street, 480 Hancock Street, Taffrail Road, 200 block of Quincy Shore Drive.

If you have information on the above crimes, drug activity or any crime, please call the Quincy Police Detective Bureau at 617-745-5764 or log onto the following website: http://tinyurl.com/ytf6td.

To report suspicious drug activity, call the Drug Hot-Line at 617-745-5730. You will not be required to identify yourself, but it could help. To make an appointment to view the Registered Sex Offenders book, call Detective James Dentremont at 617-745-5755.

To contact the Crime Prevention Officer for tips or comments, my direct line is 617-745-5719. My e-mail address is dminton@ci.quincy.ma.us

-- Lt. Dan Minton

Entries in the Quincy Police Hot Spots are compiled and submitted by the Quincy Police Department.

They are published by The Quincy Sun as a public service to make local residents more aware of any crime activity in their neighborhood. Questions concerning the Hot Spots list should be directed to Crime Prevention Officer Lt. Dan Minton, 617-745-5719.

QUINCY ANIMAL SHELTER

56 Broad Street, Quincy • 617-376-1349
quincyanimalshelter.org

IN-SHELTER ADOPTION HOURS
TUESDAY and THURSDAYS 6:00 to 8:00 pm
SATURDAYS 10 am - 4 pm

Adoption fees include initial vaccinations and Spay/Neuter as needed. 100% volunteer run, new volunteers always needed.

FOR LOST or FOUND ANIMALS call ANIMAL CONTROL at 617-376-1364

AVAILABLE CATS

TOBI: 5, female, black & white.
SARA: 7, female, tortie.
TOBY: 3, male, orange & white.
TRUMAN: 9, male, orange.
BENNY: adult, male, gray tabby.
FIREBALL: adult, male, gray & white.
LANG: 1, female, black & white.
LUCKY: 4, female, black.
SOPHIA & TAI: 12, munchkin & Siamese mix.
ORION: 1, male, black & white.
PUMPKIN: 1, female, LH tortie.
SNOWFLAKE: 5, female, LH white.

Real Estate

Quincy Real Estate Transactions Jan. 12 - Jan. 16

Seller	Buyer	Amount	Address
Miguel & Elizabeth Bonilla	Jackie Luo	$525,000.00	313 Washington Street
Tsu K. Gan & Natalie Liang	Minchuan & Nqa N. Zou	$327,000.00	8 Charon Road
Fedreal Home Loan Mortgage Corporation	Nikolay Gaykov; Hristina & Rositsa Dineva	$265,000.00	58 Station Street
Jennifer Green	Paul J. Villa	$465,000.00	154 Bromfield Street
Lori E. & Kurt Schneider	Mikalay & Tatsiana Zhalniarkevich	$230,800.00	94 Newbury Avenue Unit 304
Ravi DiPali	Luidge Felix	$339,000.00	45 Hancock Street Unit 406
Joanne E. Sullivan	Ravia A.& Bharathis P. DiPali	$414,000.00	55 Lyons Street
Alen C. Lee	Minggui Li & Xianchun Xi	$215,000.00	200 Newbury Avenue Unit 5
Kazi M. Ariff & Ramita Tandon	Carol A. Corner-Dollof	$475,000.00	10 Seaport Drive Unit 2505
Charles Mattina	Kelard Zera	$630,000.00	103 Independence Avenue
Xing G. Chen & Ai J. Li	Bob Chen & Yue X. Zou	$250,000.00	31 Densmore Street
Mary Leddy	James & Michelle K. Fitzgerald	$365,000.00	12 Charles Street
Wanida Limpanatharn	Yunrong Shi & Bixi Lin	$475,000.00	260 Safford Street
Scott Novak	Joanna Balsamo	$335,000.00	15 Winthrop Park
Hamilton Bay LLC	Bruce & CarolJean Hastilow	$184,900.00	175-185 Quincy Shore Drive Unit B-21
Linda A. McNeill	Valeria A. Long	$325,000.00	101 Baxter Avenue
Joan M. & Mark A. Napolitano	James M. & Amy P. Conley	$470,000.00	70 Andrews Road
Tongzhen Zhao	Kevin J. & Rebecca Conway	$445,000.00	20 Joan Drive
Jarred Matyka	Xiu Fang & Lin W. Wong	$176,000.00	135 Willard Street Unit 135
George Deligiannides	Nhung T. Vu	$348,000.00	425 Quarry Street
Marie E. Cannon	Michael Grenier & Chandra Piergonastini	$460,000.00	19 Central Avenue
Steward Hou	Anthony F. & Nancy A. Romano	$575,000.00	52 Tilden Commons Drive Unit 5-12
Arturo Ramos & Heather L. Friedmann	James Murray	$220,000.00	21 Linden Street Unit 415
Carol DeSouza	Darlene Babb	$350,000.00	100 Marina Drive Unit 203

Home Decorating Tips

By BARBARA GRACEFFA

I want to put in new wood floors in the home I plan to build. Could you please tell me about the pros and cons of bamboo? Will bamboo floors go with a contemporary design?

Ah, decisions, decisions. When choosing any flooring option, you should consider budget, practicality, durability, comfort, safety, ease of cleaning, and, of course, beauty. This goes for wood flooring, as well as carpet, tiles, cork, vinyl, and other options.

Bamboo is actually a grass, not a wood. The prices vary, and, as always, you get what you pay for, so check the warrantees. In fact, bamboo floors have come a long way since they were first introduced in the 1990s; they are much more durable these days.

Bamboo hardens as it grows, so purchase planks at least six feet long. You can buy engineered floating bamboo floors or a solid bamboo floor. Both come prefinished so you can move your furniture in right away when installation is complete. This flooring choice is also antibacterial.

It comes in three grain choices and dozens of stain colors so it is suitable for many interior décor styles, especially contemporary and minimalist designs.

As a fast-growing grass, it is considered an eco-friendly, renewable building product because the grass fully grows in 3-6 years, as compared to 20-30 (sometimes up to 120 years) for hardwoods. But if sustainability is important to you, be sure to ask if formaldehyde is used in the product. Also, the adhesives used may not be a green choices.

Before making your final decision about bamboo, it is not recommend for high moisture rooms like kitchens or baths; it fades in sunny rooms and darker colors-very trendy in recent years- show scratches more than medium tones.

As for maintenance, be sure to follow the manufacturer's guidelines for cleaning. You should clean with a damp mop and dry immediately with a towel. When it begins to show signs of wear, it's time to reseal.

Do you have a question on interior decorating? Send it to barbara@sec-interior.com and it may get printed in a future issue of The Quincy Sun.

Barbara Graceffa is president and CEO of Secretary of the Interior, an interior decorating company in Quincy. For more information, visit www.sec-interior.com.

'Wicked Good Cupcakes' Duo To Share Sweet Success At Quincy Chamber Meeting

Cont'd From Page 9

were no guarantees that the mother-daughter team would make it to the show, they said. Even if they were to make it in front of the Shark Tank panel — collectively referred to as sharks — there were no guarantees that their segment would even air on television.

They filmed in July of 2012.

"Kevin's been extremely hands-on," said Scott. "We talk to him all the time."

Some of the sharks take full control of their venture while others simply offer their advice to their new business partners, allowing them to make the bulk of the decisions.

Scott said O'Leary offers valuable advice while allowing his family to steer the company in whichever direction they feel will be most beneficial.

Many have tried to replicate their business model but have failed, said Scott. What differentiates Wicked Good Cupcakes is not only the quality and variety of products sold, but their sales method. Their primary target consumers are large companies and online shoppers; something that most brick and mortar cupcake shops and food trucks can't emulate.

Naming the company "Wicked Good Cupcakes" was a nod to the family's New England roots. Transplants from all over the country call the Cohasset business and place orders for family and friends they want to ship a little bit of Boston to, said Scott.

Wicked Good Cupcakes has grown to become the largest shipper of cupcakes in jars in the United States, he said, selling 300,000 units last year.

"We wanted to do something a little bit different," he said. "People are now seeking us out."

The Annual Meeting and Business Showcase is open to the public. Registration is due by Jan. 26.

Homebuyer Workshops

NeighborWorks Southern Mass. will offer two upcoming workshops for first-time homebuyers at the Winter Gardens apartment complex (lower level community room), located at 45 Winter St. in Quincy.

The first workshop will be a daylong session held from 8 a.m. to 5 p.m. on Saturday, Jan. 31. The second workshop will be split into two evening sessions from 5 to 9 p.m. Tuesday, Feb. 10 and Thursday, Feb. 12.

Workshop participants will meet and hear from real estate brokers, insurance agents, attorneys and loan originators.

The registration fee for the workshops is $20 per person. To register and pay online, visit www.nwsoma.org or call Cindy Pendergast at 508-587-0950 x46 for more information.

QUINCY
www.stamosandstamosrealtors.com
Stamos & Stamos Realtors
747 East Quantum St.
Squantum, MA 02171
617.328.9400

RE/MAX Realty Pros
Buying, Selling or Investing?
Call Tom McFarland
For All Your Real Estate Answers
QUINCY - (617) 328-3200
On the Web visit McFarlandproperties.com

Century 21 Annex Realty, Inc.
49 Beale St., Quincy, MA 02170
617-472-4330
www.c21annex.com
Over 70 Seller and Buyer Agents specializing in Residential, Commercial Real Estate, Bank Owned Properties, Short Sales and Rentals
Annex Real Estate School
Offering Salesperson's, Broker's and Continuing Ed. classes
"Still Number One"

If you want your home
SOLD
Call Red Door
Red Door Real Estate
222 Sea Street, Quincy, MA
617-553-1880 • RedDoorRE.com

OBITUARIES

Ryan P. Lally, 24

Funeral services for Ryan Patrick Lally, 24, a lifelong resident of Quincy, were held Monday in Sweeney Brothers Home for Funerals, 1 Independence Ave., Quincy.

Mr. Lally died unexpectedly Jan. 10 at home.

He was born in Boston, raised and educated in Quincy. Mr. Lally was a graduate of Quincy High School, Class of 2009, where he played football, wrestling and boxing. He was coowner of Lally Landscaping in Quincy for the past several years.

Mr. Lally enjoyed music and playing the guitar. He was devoted to his family and friends.

RYAN P. LALLY

Beloved son of Jack F. and Kristine M. (Evers) Lally of Quincy. Devoted brother of Tim J. Lally, Shannan M. Lally, Brendan B. Lally, and Allison M. Lally, all of Quincy. Cherished grandson of James J. and Carol H. (Bennett) Evers of Mattapan, the late Jack J. and Alice (Doherty) Lally. Also survived by many loving aunts, uncles, cousins, and friends.

Private interment.

Anna M. Keaney

A funeral Mass for Anna M. "Ann" Keaney of Quincy, formerly of Dorchester, was celebrated Tuesday in St. Jerome Church, Weymouth.

Ms. Keaney died Jan. 15.

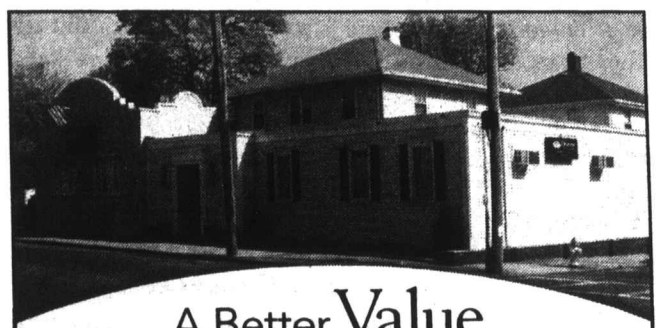
A proud graduate of Dorchester High School for Girls, she was a department manager for the John Hancock Insurance Company for many years, where, in 1963, she was involved in facilitating the operation of the Univac Computer System and later retired in 1984.

Beloved daughter of the late John J. and Mary E. (Foley) Keaney. Loving sister of Theresa Flanigan of PA, Catherine "Kay" of Quincy and Bob of Weymouth and the late Mary E. Cahill and John J. Keaney, Jr. Dear sister-in-law of Robert Flanigan of PA, Rita Keaney of Quincy and Patricia "Gail" Keaney of Weymouth. Also survived by many loving nieces and nephews and their children.

Funeral arrangements were made by McDonald Keohane Funeral Home, North Weymouth.

Interment at New Calvary Cemetery, Boston.

Memorial donations may be made to Beth Israel Deaconess Hospital- Plymouth, c/o A. Mendoza, MD, 275 Sandwich St., Plymouth, MA 02360.



A Better Value For Quincy Families

At Deware Funeral Home, we are proud to offer more value and superior service to Quincy families. A full service traditional funeral is $5,995* with no hidden costs. The price includes:

Funeral Ceremony • Visitation • Casket

At Deware Funeral Home, we put the needs of our customer first. We also offer a Simple Burial Plan for $3,395.

With Deware Funeral Home, you can trust us to provide the compassionate care you expect at an exceptional value, backed by a 100% service guarantee.

Exclusive provider of Dignity Memorial® benefits.

Deware Funeral Home

576 Hancock Street | Quincy, MA 02170 | 617-472-1137

Dignity

For more information visit www.dewarefuneralhome.com

*$5,995 plan includes basic services of funeral director and staff, embalming and preparation, visitation, funeral ceremony, transportation to place of disposition, 20-gauge metal casket, website announcement, and memorial stationery package (a register book, 100 thank you cards, 100 prayer cards).

A Service Family Affiliate of APFS and Service Corporation International. 206 Winter Street, Fall River, MA 02720. (508) 678-2454

Elizabeth A. Mullen, 79

A funeral Mass for Elizabeth Ann "Betty" (Flaherty) Mullen, 79, of Quincy was celebrated Jan. 17 in Sacred Heart Church, Quincy.

Mrs. Mullen died Jan. 13.

Born in Scituate, she was a graduate of Archbishop Williams High School and Becker College. Mrs. Mullen was a dedicated employee of State Street Bank in Quincy and Boston for 47 years before retiring. She was a devoted Catholic and a daily communicant at Sacred Heart Church and St. Ann's Church. Mrs. Mullen volunteered at Sacred Heart during Christmas time to help with the gift program for the less fortunate people in her community.

She was an avid reader and enjoyed cooking and entertaining for her family. Most of all Mrs. Mullen's family was truly the most important aspect of her life. She will be missed by all who had the pleasure to have known her.

Beloved wife of the late John F. Mullen Sr. Loving mother of John "Jack" F. Mullen Jr. and Christina M. Mullen, both of Quincy. Sister of the late Marcus and Thomas Flaherty. Cherished grandmother of James "Jake" and John Mullen, both of Quincy. Also survived by several nieces and nephews.

Funeral arrangements were made by Keohane Funeral Home, 785 Hancock St., Quincy.

Interment at Knollwood Memorial Park, Canton.

Memorial donations may be made to the American Cancer Society, 5 Manley St., W. Bridgewater, MA 02379 or Quincy Animal Shelter, 56 Broad St., Quincy, MA 02169.

Alice Maloney, 92

Funeral services and interment for Alice (Cassidy) Maloney, 92, of Quincy were privately held.

Mrs. Maloney died peacefully Jan. 10 at the Beth Israel Deaconess Medical Center in Boston.

She was born and raised in Webster, Mass. Mrs. Maloney was a graduate of Webster's Bartlett High School. She also was a graduate of Saint Elizabeth College in New Jersey. Mrs. Maloney resided in Quincy for 67 years.

She was a homemaker who enjoyed reading and gardening. Mrs. Maloney was devoted to her family, especially to her three cherished grandchildren.

Beloved wife of the late Thomas M. Maloney, Sr. Devoted mother of Thomas M. Maloney, Jr. and his wife Marie, Francis C. Maloney, Lisa P. Maloney, and Joseph P. Maloney, all of Quincy. She was also mother of the late Richard G. Maloney II, Mary Maloney and Adele Maloney. Loving grandmother of Thomas M. Maloney III and his wife Christina, Therese H. Maloney and Patrick P. Maloney, all of Quincy. Sister of the late William H. Cassidy and Rita Richardson. Also survived by many nieces and nephews.

Funeral arrangements were made by Sweeney Brothers Home for Funerals, 1 Independence Ave., Quincy.

Memorial donations may be made to the Boston Health Care for the Homeless Program, 780 Albany St., Boston, MA 02118.

DOLAN FUNERAL SERVICES

"Caring for your life's journey"

- Funerals
- Cremations
- Pre-Arrangements

Service times and directions at:
www.dolanfuneral.com

THE DOLAN FAMILY
W. Craig
Paul F.
Frederick J.
Courtney

1140 WASHINGTON STREET
DORCHESTER, MA 02124
(617).298-8011

460 GRANITE AVENUE
MILTON, MA 02186
(617) 698-6264

Lauren E. Aikens, 26

Funeral services for Lauren E. Aikens, 26, of Quincy and formerly Pembroke were privately held.

Ms. Aikens died unexpectedly Jan. 10 at home.

She was born in Boston, raised and educated in Pembroke and Quincy schools and was a graduate of North Quincy High School, Class of 2006, where she was a division one varsity volleyball player. She was a recent graduate of Massasoit College, Class of 2014. Previously, Ms. Aikens had attended nursing school at Norwich University in Vermont and had lived in Quincy for five years and many years in Pembroke.

She was employed as a cosmetologist after graduating from Mansfield Beauty Academy in Quincy. Ms. Aikens enjoyed music, dancing, fashion, reading and especially loved animals.

Beloved daughter of Herbert L. and Lucille J. (Warnes) Aikens, Jr., of Quincy. Devoted sister of Justin S. Aikens of Quincy, Herbert W. Aikens of Kingston, Brendan M. Aikens of Quincy, Amy L. Hayhow of Abington and Cheryl J. Nourse of Walpole. She is survived by eight cherished nephews, her best friend Jasmina Beslaglic of VT, and many loving aunts, uncles, cousins and friends.

Funeral arrangements were made by Sweeney Brothers Home for Funerals, 1 Independence Ave., Quincy.

Memorial donations may be made to the Make A Wish Foundation of MA and RI, One Bulfinch Place, 2nd Floor, Boston, MA 02114.

Charles A. Mazzei, 90

Funeral services for Charles A. "Mick" Mazzei, 90, of Braintree and formerly Quincy were held Jan. 16 in Sweeney Brothers Home for Funerals, 1 Independence Ave., Quincy.

Mr. Mazzei died peacefully Jan. 13 at the John Scott House in Braintree.

He was born in Quincy, raised and educated in West Quincy schools. He had lived in Braintree for more than 25 years and previously in South Quincy.

He was employed as a machinist for Boston Gear Works and retired in 1986 after 25 years of service. He began his career at the Keystone Company in Dorchester and later worked at the former Fore River Shipyard in Quincy for both the Bethlehem Steel Company and General Dynamics.

Mr. Mazzei enjoyed playing billiards. He was devoted to his family and especially to his four granddaughters and great grandson.

Beloved husband of the late Rose M. (Casagrande) Mazzei. Devoted father of Stephen C. Mazzei and his wife Linda of Braintree. Loving grandfather of Christine Carney and her husband Jonathan of Plymouth, Laura Glassman and her husband David of Taunton, Jennifer Mazzei and Stephanie Mazzei, both of Braintree. Cherished great-grandfather of Thomas Scott Glassman. Dear brother of Pauline Mazzei of NH, Thomas Mazzei of NY, and was predeceased by Gemma Lomanno, Ugo Mazzei, Mary Mazzei and Vincent Mazzei. Also survived by many nieces and nephews.

Interment at Pine Hill Cemetery, Quincy.

Mary E. Keeley

A funeral Mass for Mary E. Keeley of Quincy was celebrated Jan. 16 in St. Ann's Church, Quincy.

Mrs. Keeley died unexpectedly Jan. 9.

Born Jan. 24, 1926, she was the wife of the late Thomas G. Keeley of Quincy. Beloved mother of Kathleen Keeley of RI; Thomas F. Keeley and Jeanne Keeley of VA; Paul J. Keeley and Maureen Keeley of Quincy; and Mariann Keeley of Quincy. Her great pleasure in life was her three grandchildren: Mallorie N. Keeley of NC, Daniel P. Keeley of NC, and Michaela M. Keeley of VA.

Funeral arrangements were made by Lydon Chapel for Funerals, 644 Hancock St., Quincy.

Interment at Mount Wollaston Cemetery, Quincy.

Honor Your Loved One's Memory With Flowers

cliffords.com
1.800.441.8884

Pauline M. Anderson

PAULINE M. ANDERSON

A funeral Mass for Pauline M. Anderson, 88, of Norwell and formerly Quincy was celebrated yesterday (Wednesday) in St. Helen Church, Norwell.

Mrs. Anderson died Jan. 16.

The daughter of the late Joseph and Caroline (Alodi) Calabro, she was born in Belmont on Jan. 21, 1926. Mrs. Anderson was raised and educated in Quincy and had been employed as a draftswoman at Quincy Shipyard. She later worked at the Sears in Hanover.

Mrs. Anderson enjoyed music, painting and cooking.

Wife of the late Erik W. Anderson; mother of Glenn Anderson and his wife Jennifer of Plymouth; grandmother of Erick, Alicia, Aleigh and Katherine Anderson; great-grandmother of Frederick Anderson; sister of Jeanette Perot of Braintree, Anntoinette Quain of Hingham, Joseph Calabro of Falmouth, Edward Calabro of Quincy, Eleanore Sabini of Milton, Carolyn Mulholland of NY, Roberta Vernaglia of Brockton and Richard Calabro of AZ.

Funeral arrangements were made by Sullivan Funeral Home, Hanover.

Interment at Washington Street Cemetery, Norwell.

Memorial donations may be made to the American Lung Association, 460 Totten Pond Rd., Waltham, MA 02451.

Francis J. McKiernan, 68

FRANCIS J. McKIERNAN

A funeral Mass for Francis J. McKiernan, 68, of Rockland and formerly Quincy was celebrated yesterday (Wednesday) in Church of the Resurrection, Hingham.

Mr. McKiernan died suddenly Jan. 14.

He was born in Boston, son of the late Anthony and Merle (Denning) McKiernan, and was raised and educated in Quincy. Mr. McKiernan was a graduate of North Quincy High School and attended Quincy Junior College. He completed his education at the University of New Hampshire, earning a degree in criminal justice. He was a proud veteran of the U.S. Navy.

Mr. McKiernan had been a member of the Weymouth Police Department as a patrolman for 15 years. Twenty years ago he started his own livery business, FM Transportation, and had operated that until the time of his death.

He is survived by his wife of 42 years, Lorraine M. (Lawrence) McKiernan and his daughters Kimberly A. Murphy and her husband James of Quincy and Cory A. Mace and her husband Adam of Bellingham. He was the brother of Catherine McKiernan of FL. Kevin McKiernan, Merle Espinosa and Karen McKiernan, all of Randolph, and the late Anthony and Edward McKiernan and Cheryl Malone. He was the proud Papa of Quinn A. Mace.

Funeral arrangements were made by Magoun-Biggins Funeral Home, Rockland.

Interment at Massachusetts National Cemetery, Bourne.

Barbara J. Mahar, 75

BARBARA J. MAHAR

A funeral Mass for Barbara J. (Tappen) Mahar, 75, of Braintree, originally from Quincy, was celebrated yesterday (Wednesday) in Holy Trinity Parish at Our Lady of Good Counsel Church, Quincy.

Mrs. Mahar died Jan. 16.

She was a graduate of Bridgewater State University and taught physical education in Braintree Public Schools. She married the love of her life Bob and made their home in Braintree. Mrs. Mahar was active in many ways in her community: A master CCD teacher at St. Clare's Parish, a tennis coach at Braintree High School and at Eastern Nazarene College in Quincy. She worked tirelessly on behalf of her calling with the church and helped found Massachusetts Women Church and a women's charity, Miriam's Journey, through which she gave of her time and energy to improve the spiritual lives of many.

She and her husband loved to go boating and traveling spending much time with her children on their boat, Tap Too, and visiting places like Sarasota, Fla., the Virgin Islands and the Grand Canyon. Mrs. Mahar was inducted into the Athletic Hall of Fame at Bridgewater State University for her many outstanding contributions towards women in sports.

Wife of Robert E. Mahar. Mother of Deborah J. (Mahar) Griffin and her husband Sean and their three children Alisandra, Jake and Olivia, all of Kingston; and her son Robert Mahar and his wife Jennifer and their two children Katherine and Jacqueline, all of Pembroke. She is survived by her two brothers Paul Tappen and his wife Jeanne and their two children Jessie and Allie of Plympton; and Stephen Tappen and his wife Madeline of Hingham; and her late sister Carol DiLoreto. Sister-in-law of Nicholas DiLoreto of Quincy and aunt to Paul DiLoreto and his wife Mary Kate of Kingston, Joanne Zine and her husband Ed of Brockton and David DiLoreto and his wife Kerry of FL.

Funeral arrangements were made by Keohane Funeral Home, 785 Hancock St., Quincy.

Interment at Blue Hill Cemetery, Braintree.

Memorial donations may be made to the Alzheimer's Assn., MA Chapter, 480 Pleasant St., Watertown, MA 02472.

Elizabeth Kudarauski, 94

ELIZABETH KUDARAUSKI

A funeral service for Elizabeth "Jean" (Yeo) Kudarauski, 94, of Quincy will be held at 11 a.m. today (Thursday) in Keohane Funeral Home, 785 Hancock St., Quincy.

Mrs. Kudarauski died Jan. 16.

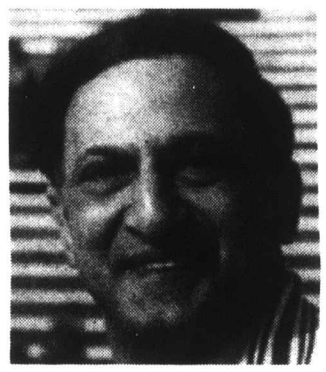
She loved to dance, especially line dances and her favorite, the Jitter Bug. She also enjoyed music, especially big band. Mrs. Kudarauski loved to garden and took great pride in caring for her yard. She was an avid reader and had zest for life. She will be remembered for her devotion to her family and her great sense of humor. She will be sadly missed by all those who knew her.

Beloved wife of the late Victor J. Kudarauski. Loving mother of Sandra Baros of Falmouth, Janyce Hand of Plymouth, Gayle Morandi of Weymouth and Victor P. "Skip" Kudarauski of Westborough. Sister of the late Alan Yeo. Grandmother of Jennifer Vanweezendonk, Michelle Kimball, Debbi and Chris Morandi and Justin & Vanessa Hand. Also survived by her six great-grandchildren.

Visiting hours were 4-8 p.m. yesterday (Wednesday) in the funeral home.

Interment at Pine Hill Cemetery, Quincy.

Louis C. Assad, 81



LOUIS C. ASSAD

A funeral Mass for Louis C. Assad, 81, of Quincy will be celebrated at 9 a.m. tomorrow (Friday) in St. Agatha Church, Milton.

Mr. Assad died Jan. 18 at South Shore Hospital, Weymouth.

Born and raised in Boston, he graduated from English High School and attended Northeastern University. He was an Air Force veteran of the Korean War. Mr. Assad was a special agent with the Government Service Administration for many years retiring in 2000. He also was the director of team security for the New England Patriots for many years.

Mr. Assad loved the outdoors and was an avid hunter and fisherman. He was the president of the Braintree Rifle and Pistol Club, member of the Massachusetts Chief of Police Assoc., member of the South East Chief of Police Assoc., member of the Norfolk County Prosecutors Assoc., and past president of the Mass Crime Prevention Officers Assoc.

Beloved husband of 54 years of the late Norma A. Tina (Triglia). Devoted father of Mark L. Assad (Sgt. Det. BPD) and his wife Mary of Melrose and Stephanie A. Hart and her husband John of MN; cherished grandfather of Mark Jr., Justin, Cassidy and Gabby Assad and Amanda and Tyler Hart; dear brother of Michael A. Assad Sr. of Hanover and the late Edward T. Assad; and dear friend of Michael and Cheryl DelGreco of Plymouth.

Visiting hours are 4-8 p.m. today (Thursday) in Alfred D. Thomas Funeral Home, Milton.

Interment at Massachusetts National Cemetery, Bourne, at 1:30 p.m. tomorrow.

Mary F. Carroll

A funeral Mass for Mary F. Carroll of Boston, formerly of Dorchester and Quincy, was celebrated yesterday (Wednesday) in St. Peter's Church, Dorchester.

Mrs. Carroll died Jan. 16.

She was a graduate of St. Peters School in Dorchester, Staley College and the former Boston Teacher's College with a master's degree. She worked for many years as a speech therapist for the Boston School Department.

An avid reader, Mrs. Carroll always enjoyed walks along the ocean, as well as trying to keep one step ahead of her grandson. Her faith and her family were the cornerstone of all that was truly important to her. She will be sadly missed.

Beloved wife of the late Robert E. Carroll. She is survived by her two sons, Robert C. Carroll of IN and Paul J. Carroll of RI; daughters-in-law Alita Carroll and Diane Nahabedian; and her very beloved grandson Alexander Carroll of RI.

Funeral arrangements were made by Keohane Funeral Home, 785 Hancock St., Quincy.

Interment at Massachusetts National Cemetery, Bourne.

Memorial donations may be made to the Sherrill House, 135 South Huntington Ave., Jamaica Plain, MA 02130.

Paul D. Flaherty

A Mass of Christian Burial for Sgt. Paul D. Flaherty, Boston Police Department, retired, of Quincy was celebrated yesterday (Wednesday) in St. Ann's Church, Quincy.

Mr. Flaherty died Jan. 16.

He was a 32-year veteran of the Boston Police Department.

Beloved husband of Patricia A. (Brophy). Brother of John Flaherty of Hyannis and the late Mary Fraser and a devoted uncle to his numerous nieces and nephews.

Funeral arrangements were made by Joseph Russo Funeral Home, Roslindale.

Interment at Cedar Grove Cemetery, Dorchester.

More Obituaries Online at www.thequincysun.com

HAMEL FUNERAL CARE & CREMATION SERVICES OF MASSACHUSETTS
Honored Providers of:
Veterans Funeral Care™
BBB
PHONE TOLL FREE
(800) 696-5887
26 Adams Street, Quincy, Ma 02169
www.HamelFuneralCare.com

Over 60 Years
Of Personalized Service
SWEENEY BROTHERS
Home for Funerals, Inc.
RICHARD T. SWEENEY, JR.
FRANCIS M. SWEENEY · RICHARD T. SWEENEY III
1 INDEPENDENCE AVENUE
QUINCY, MASSACHUSETTS 02169
(617) 472-6344 · www.thesweeneybrothers.com

Busy Winter So Far At Father Bill's & MainSpring

By SCOTT JACKSON

This winter has been a busy one for Father Bill's & MainSpring, with nearly 150 individuals seeking a warm place to sleep at the organization's Quincy shelter on a nightly basis.

Father Bill's shelter on Broad Street has been housing about 140 people each night in recent weeks, according to John Yazwinski, president and chief executive officer of Father Bill's & MainSpring. The shelter receives government funding for 75 beds and has 95 beds total, meaning 40 or more individuals have to sleep on the floors during busy nights.

Still, the shelter doesn't turn individuals away. On especially cold nights, staff members will go to areas where the homeless are known to stay at night so they could be brought indoors and out of the potentially deadly cold weather.

"We have been making sure everyone comes in so no one dies outside," Yazwinski said.

Yazwinski also noted some individuals who had been receiving treatment for substance abuse on Long Island have now been staying at Father Bill's. Access to Long Island ended in October when the bridge to the island closed. People who had been staying at the Long Island shelter found new accommodations in Boston, but those using other social services weren't as fortunate.

"We've definitely seen an uptick of people coming in," Yazwinski said. "I was talking to a couple of people who were in substance abuse programs on Long Island. Now that it's closed they have to come back here and start over."

In his midterm address earlier this month, Mayor Thomas Koch said he would call for national action on substance abuse in concert with the mayors of Braintree and Weymouth, Joseph Sullivan and Susan Kay, respectively, and U.S. Rep. Stephen Lynch. The mayor did so as the abuse of opiates – a class of drugs that includes prescription painkillers like oxycodone (found in Percocet and OxyContin) and hydrocodone (used in certain cough syrups and in Vicodin) as well as heroin – continues to rise across the South Shore and beyond. Yazwinski supports the mayor's call for action.

"I really applaud the mayor for highlighting that issue," Yazwinski said. "We see so many people who struggle and they cannot get access to treatment. This is not an urban issue or a suburban issue; it's a national issue."

Yazwinski estimated that half of Father Bill's clients are struggling with some sort of substance abuse – including alcoholism and the use of opiates – with younger adults more likely to be dealing with opiate abuse. The 18- to 24-year-old demographic is the fastest growing one at Father Bill's.

"Most of them want help but they can't find it," Yazwinski said.

In addition to younger adults, Father Bill's has seen an increase in veterans and domestic violence victims seeking shelter.

"We continually see new people going homeless everyday," Yazwinski stated.

Despite that, the number of chronically homeless individuals living in Quincy has fallen in the past decade. In 2003, there were 120 chronically homeless persons – a term used by federal officials for those who have been homeless for more than a year – compared to 32 in 2014.

FBMS has played a major role in reducing the number of chronically homeless in the city. The organization operates a number of properties in Quincy and neighboring communities that provide homes for previously homeless people. Several of the properties are operated in partnership with another organization, NeighborWorks Southern MA, and Quincy's Planning Department has helped secure grants for the properties. Yazwinski said FBMS is committed to moving clients into the homes. There is, however, a six-year waiting list to do so.

Days before being sworn in as Massachusetts' 72nd governor, Charlie Baker and his secretary of health and human services, Marylou Sudders, visited the Father McCarthy House – named after the founder of Father Bill's – on Winter Street in Quincy Point. Opened in 1999, the Father McCarthy House has space for 19 residents. There are currently 16 permanent residents who live there, all previously homeless individuals. The residents of the property – and others operated by FBMS – all receive subsidized housing, paying 30 percent of their income to live there.

Baker and Sudders met with several residents of the Father McCarthy House and another FBMS property, the Claremont House. They spoke with the residents about their housing and healthcare situations; in particular, the residents said they were able to turn their lives around because of their new homes.

"Massachusetts has done a pretty good job over the course of the past two decades coming up with creative solutions for people who are homeless, like this [house]," said Baker, who led an initiative to move homeless families from hotels and into homes as an aide to then Gov. William Weld in the 1990s.

"Kudos to the city of Quincy for taking the step and saying several years ago that they were going to reduce their chronic homeless population down to zero. According to the data that was presented here today, they have taken it from 120 down to 30 over the past few years. That's a heck of an achievement."

"I want to applaud Father Bill's," Sudders added. "You've never been satisfied with just the status quo of shelter. You've always been committed to the aspiration of ending homelessness and that's a goal Governor Baker and I share.

"Shelter is important, because we need to be stable. But what's important is stability of housing, clinical services and support, and the opportunity to regain a sense of self esteem [and] confidence."

John Litchfield, a former resident of the Father McCarthy House, told Baker he was able to turn his life around because of the help he received from FBMS.

"These things make such a difference for people who take advantage of it...it's made such a big difference in my life," Litchfield said.

"I talked to my daughter yesterday, telling her I was going to be here today and my name was going to be out there associated with homelessness and asking her for her blessing, which she did. She just said 'Dad, I'm really proud of you.'

"It's made a big difference in my life because I'm still here and I have a daughter who is proud of me."

Report Issued On City Hall Fire

By SCOTT JACKSON

The September fire at Old City Hall was likely caused by someone trying to use a torch to break into a tool storage container inside the building, according to the state report on the incident.

The three-alarm fire at Old City Hall on Sept. 30 delayed ongoing renovations up to six months and caused approximately $1.5 million in damage. Trooper Thomas Berteletti of the Massachusetts State Police Fire and Explosion Investigation Section filed a seven-page report on the fire; his investigation of the scene inside the building began shortly after firefighters knocked down the blaze.

Berteletti 's report determined a plastic tool storage container was located in the suspected area of origin of the fire; the container had locks affixed to the exterior. The state report on the fire claimed an unidentified suspect was using an oxy-acetylene torch, which was left inside the building at the end of the previous day, to access the tools when it ignited combustible material.

"Investigators formed the opinion that the most probable cause of the fire was the result of an unidentified party attempting to defeat the locks on the tool storage container by using the oxy-acetylene torch and igniting combustible material," Berteletti wrote in his report.

In the days following the fire, officials said it started when someone tried to cut copper piping out of the historic building. On Sept. 29, a Monday, there was a report of copper pipe being stolen from the building over the weekend. That thief used a hacksaw to do so.

Berteletti 's report further indicated there was no entry alarm system in place before the fire and there was open access to the building through the rear side. A fire alarm system was in place, but did not operate.

Tony Papantonis, the president and founder of Nauset Construction, told the City Council in November his company installed motion alarms after the fire as well as surveillance cameras that are monitored at police headquarters.

Old City Hall, officially the James R. McIntyre Government Center, opened in 1844 and is one of the oldest municipal buildings still in use today in the U.S. The renovation project had been scheduled for completion this month but is now expected to wrap up in June.

The project, along with the completed renovation of the nearby Coddington Building, had a combined cost of $18 million. At the November council meeting, Papantonis said his insurance policy would cover the damage caused by the fire, which he estimated at $1.5 million.

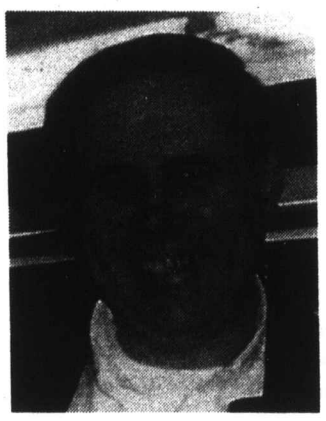
OBITUARIES

John F. Krantz

A Mass of Christian Burial for John F. "Jack" Krantz of Quincy, formerly of Neponset, will be celebrated at 10:30 a.m. today (Thursday) in St. Ann's Church, Quincy.

Mr. Krantz died Jan. 17.

He was a U.S. Army veteran. Mr. Krantz retired from Gillette after being a mechanical engineer for many years. He was a member of the Castle Island Assoc. and Historical Society.



JOHN F. KRANTZ

Cherished husband of Mary (McSweeney). Beloved father of John Krantz Jr. of Peabody, Caroline Krantz and her partner James Beatson of Duxbury, Christine Krantz of Somerville and the late Mark Krantz. He cherished his grandson, Alexander Krantz, of Peabody. Brother of Janice Francis of Quincy, Stephen Krantz of Braintree and the late James Krantz.

Visiting hours were 4-8 p.m. yesterday (Wednesday) in Lydon Chapel for Funerals, 644 Hancock St., Quincy.

Private interment.

John P. DiAntonio

Funeral services for John Paul "Jack" DiAntonio of Quincy will be private.

Mr. DiAntonio died Jan. 16.

Brother of Robert DiAntonio and his wife Joan of MO. Also survived by many nieces, nephews, and grand nieces and nephews.

Arrangements were made by Keohane Funeral Home, 785 Hancock St., Quincy.

County R.E. Activity In 2014

Looking forward to an ambitious agenda for 2015, Register of Deeds William P. O'Donnell took a look back at Norfolk County real estate activity in 2014.

Register O'Donnell noted, "We saw both promising and some sobering indicators when it came to the Norfolk County real estate market in 2014. The total dollar volume of residential and commercial property sales grew this year by 13%. Furthermore, the average sale price based on the volume of residential and commercial property sold - which was pegged at 7.4 billion - rose from $618,581 to $706,786, an increase of 14%. In my opinion, these healthy increases were driven by reduced property inventories."

There was mixed news on the financial market front. Calendar year 2014 witnessed a greater financial commitment by lending institutions as mortgage indebtedness for real estate increased by 27% in Norfolk County to 20.3 billion. However, the mortgage refinancing market remains a challenge due to continued historically low interest rates as well as stringent credit requirements.

Other indicators the Register noted that struck a note of caution was the flatness in overall real estate activity in 2014. "There were 10,507 real estate deeds recorded at the Registry as compared to 10,613 in 2013. Additionally, the total number of mortgages recorded against Norfolk County property fell by 31%," noted O'Donnell.

A continuing factor facing homeowners and the real estate industry is the number of deed foreclosures filed in Norfolk County, which were up by 5.2% from 195 to 205 from the previous year. "The Registry continues to work in partnership with South Shore Consortium and Neighbor Works Southern Mass to help Norfolk County homeowners who have received a notice of foreclosure from a lender. This is a top priority of my administration," noted Register O'Donnell.

Homestead recordings, which provides for limited protection against the forced sale of an individual's primary residence to satisfy unsecured debt of up to $500,000, were down by 11%. The decrease could be attributed to a 2011 law which does not automatically require a homeowner to refile for a homestead after refinancing their property, according to the Register.

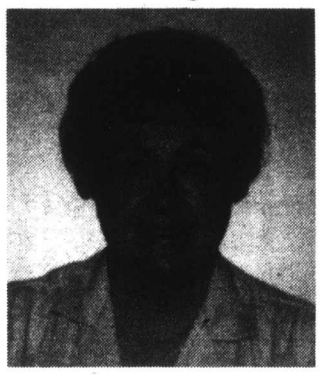
Register O'Donnell concluded by saying, "2014 was a somewhat promising and challenging year for the Norfolk County real estate market. However, a small but encouraging thaw in the mortgage market coupled with an improving economic outlook should bode well for the industry and consumers in 2015."

To learn more about these and other Registry of Deeds events and initiatives, "like" us on facebook.com/NorfolkDeeds or follow us on twitter @NorfolkDeeds.

The Registry of Deeds, located at 649 High St., Dedham, is the principal office for real property in Norfolk County. It's is a resource for homeowners, title examiners, mortgage lenders, municipalities and others with a need for secure, accurate, accessible land record information. All land record research information can be found on the Registry's website www.norfolkdeeds.org. Residents in need of assistance can contact the Registry of Deeds Customer Service at (781) 461-6101, or at registerodonnell@norfolkdeeds.org.

OBITUARIES

Margaret T. O'Leary



MARGARET T. O'LEARY

A funeral Mass for Margaret T. (Eaton) O'Leary of Duxbury, formerly of Quincy, will be celebrated at 10 a.m. today (Thursday) in St. John the Baptist Church, Quincy.

Mrs. O'Leary died Jan. 16.

Her life revolved around three dominant themes: faith, family, and friends. She had volunteered and worked for many years at St. John's Church in Quincy. She participated in the religious education program at the church for several years. Mrs. O'Leary was also devoted to the Virgin Mary and traveled to Portugal on a pilgrimage to Fatima.

Known as "Auntie Margie," she enjoyed the company of her family and friends and especially loved her nieces and nephews. Mrs. O'Leary worked as a telephone clerk for many years at New England Telephone. She will be remembered as a loving, sociable, kind, and caring woman who will be missed by her family.

Beloved wife of the late Humphrey O'Leary. Loving daughter of the late Harry Eaton and Mary Ellen (McCarthy). Cherished sister of Carol A. Buccheri and her husband Richard J. Buccheri of Duxbury, and the late Joseph H. Eaton and Lillian M. Hutson. Also survived by several nieces, nephews, great nieces and great nephews.

Visiting hours were 4-8 p.m. yesterday (Wednesday) at Keohane Funeral Home, 785 Hancock St., Quincy. A celebration of life service will be held there at 9:15 a.m. today, prior to the Mass.

Interment at Mount Wollaston Cemetery, Quincy.

Memorial donations may be made to South Shore Hospital Charitable Foundation, 55 Fogg Rd., S. Weymouth, MA 02190-2455.

RELIGION

St. Agatha Parish Will Run New Lenten Program

St. Agatha Parish will be running a new program called "Circles of Faith" this Lent.

Small groups will meet either at the parish or in homes to read and discuss the Gospel of Mark. Sign up for this program will take place after all Masses the weekend of Jan. 24 and 25. No experience necessary.

Meet once a week for 60-90 minutes for 6 weeks. Material fee is $5. All people are invited. If you have been away from the Church for a while this is a wonderful opportunity to reconnect through prayer, reflection and faith sharing.

To register by email contact Mary Campion at mcampion@stagathaparish.org by Feb. 1.

Ruth Graceffa, 94

A funeral service for Ruth Elizabeth (Nudd) Graceffa, 94, of Squantum was held Monday in Keohane Funeral Home, 785 Hancock St., Quincy.

Mrs. Graceffa died peacefully Jan. 13.

Beloved wife of the late Anthony J. Graceffa. Loving mother of John Graceffa and his wife Elaine of Norwell, Joanne Graceffa Riley and her husband Larry of VA. Cherished grandmother of Victoria Graceffa of Norwell. She is survived by her in-laws, Joseph Graceffa of CA, Mary LaGrega, Suzanne Moussalli, Gloria Ratti, Anne Cataldo as well as many nieces and nephews. Predeceased by her in-laws Philip, Louis and Angelo Graceffa and Rose Callinan.

Mrs. Graceffa served in World War II as a nurse in the U.S. Navy. She lived in Squantum all of her married life and truly loved being married to Tony and living within a stone's throw away from the ocean. She will be sadly missed.

Interment at Holyhood Cemetery, Brookline.

Memorial donations may be made to Quincy Animal Shelter, PO Box 690088, Quincy, MA 02269.

Bethany Congregational

On Sunday, Jan. 25, Bethany Congregational Church, will have Worship Service and Sunday School at 10 a.m. The Rev. William C. Harding will conduct the service and preach the sermon entitled "Three Crosses." Fellowship with light refreshments will follow the worship service.

All are welcome to attend Worship Services and its activities: a Youth Group, a Men's Group, an Outreach Mission Group doing various charity works and a Bible Study Class.

The church office is open 8:30 a.m. to noon, then 1 - 4 p.m. Please visit our website at bethanychurch.tk for updates and activities. Thanks to the Video Ministry, if you're unable to attend worship service, the Bethany Church Service is broadcast on QATV at 6:00 p.m. Thursdays and 10:00 a.m. Sundays on Channel 8.

Childcare will be available for infants and toddlers during worship service on Sundays. The church is wheelchair accessible.

Houghs Neck Congregational

The Sunday morning service at Houghs Neck Congregational Church, 310 Manet Ave., begins at 10 a.m.

Pastor Felix Carrion will lead the service and preach the sermon "Stewardship Made Simple."

Rob Gordon and Shirley Pearson will serve for the Diaconate and Rob Rheault will be Liturgist. Steve Reed is Minister of Music.

Following the service a fellowship coffee hour is held in the Coffee Room hosted by Nancy and Molly Jacobs.

Tuesday evening at 7 p.m. the Board of Trustees meet in the Gordon Room.

Wednesday the choir rehearses in the Choir Room at 7 p.m.

Thursday evening Hatha Yoga class with Linda Beck at 7 p.m. is held in Fellowship Hall.

Quincy Religion Directory

SERVICES & ACTIVITIES

Catholic

St. Mary's Church
95 Crescent St., Quincy • 617-773-0120
Masses
Saturday, 4pm, Sunday 8 & 10:30am
Tuesday/Thursday 9am
Handicapped Accessible
New Members Welcome!

ST. AGATHA CHURCH MILTON-QUINCY
432 Adams Street
Milton, MA 02186 • 617-698-2439
Schedule of Masses:
Saturday: 4:30PM
Sunday: 7:30AM, 9:00AM, 10:30AM, 12 NOON and 5:00PM
Weekday Masses: 7:00 & 9:00AM
Reconciliation 3:45PM-4:15pm on Saturdays, other times by appointment
Handicapped Accessible, handicapped parking, elevator to Upper/Lower Churches ~ Air-Conditioned

St. John The Baptist
ROMAN CATHOLIC CHURCH
44 School St., Quincy
617-773-1021
Weekend Mass Schedule
Saturday, 4:00 PM
Sunday 7:30, 9:00, 11:00 AM
Sunday night 5:30 PM
Weekday Masses
Monday - Saturday 8:00 AM
Latin Mass
1st & 3rd Wednesdays
(Lower Chapel) 7:00 AM
Confessions
Wed. 8:30 – 9:00 AM
Sat. 2:30 – 3:30 PM
Handicapped Accessible

Salvationist

THE SALVATION ARMY
6 Baxter St., Quincy • 617-472-2345
9:45 CHRISTIAN EDUCATION
11AM WORSHIP SERVICE
BRASS BAND MUSIC
7PM TUES WOMEN'S FELLOWSHIP
6:45PM WEDS. BIBLE STUDY

Catholic

Sacred Heart Church
"A Roman Catholic Community walking together in Faith, Worship, Education and Service"
386 Hancock St., North Quincy, MA 02171
(617) 328-8666
Sunday Masses
4pm (Saturday)
7:30 am and 10:00 am
Weekday Masses
Monday - Friday 7am
Handicapped Accessible
Confessions
Sat. 3-3:45pm in Saint Joseph Oratory

St. Joseph's Church
550 Washington Street
Quincy, MA 02169
617-472-6321
SUNDAY MASSES:
4 p.m. (On Saturday)
8:30 a.m. and 10:30 a.m.
Weekday Masses 9am
CONFESSIONS: Saturday, 3:00-3:30 pm
Handicapped accessible &
Handicapped parking, side entrance air conditioned

Saint Ann's Church
757 Hancock St., Wollaston
617-479-5400
Mass Schedule:
Sat. 4:00 PM / Sun. 9, 11 AM
Daily Mass: Monday,Wednesday, Friday, Saturday 9 AM
Confessions: Saturday 3-3:30PM
Handicapped Accessible via Elevator

Methodist

QUINCY COMMUNITY UNITED METHODIST CHURCH
40 Beale St., Wollaston
617-773-3319
10:30 AM Sunday Worship
Rev. Dr. Susan Jarek-Glidden, Pastor

Congregational

HOUGH'S NECK CONGREGATIONAL CHURCH
310 Manet Avenue
617-479-8778
www.hncong.org
Sunday Morning Service at 10 a.m.
Pastor Felix Carrion will preach the sermon "Stewardship Made Simple"
All are welcome to attend
FELLOWSHIP COFFEE HOUR FOLLOWING SERVICE

BETHANY CONGREGATIONAL CHURCH
Spear & Coddington Streets
Quincy Center, 617-479-7300
www.bethanychurch.tk
Worship Service and Sunday School at 10AM
Rev. William C. Harding will conduct the service and preach the sermon "Three Crosses"
Child Care Available
For Infants And Toddlers
ALL ARE WELCOME!
Fellowship Time following Service
The church is wheelchair accessible

JOY PEACE

Congregational

Wollaston
Congregational Church
United Church of Christ
48 Winthrop Avenue
Quincy, Massachusetts
Worship and Sunday School at 10 a.m.
Fred Hayes InterimPastor
617-773-7432
www.wollastonucc.com

UNION CONGREGATIONAL
Beach St. & Rawson Rd., Wollaston
(617)479-6661
Rev. John Swanson, Pastor
Sunday Worship Service 10 AM

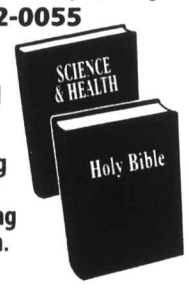
QUINCY POINT CONGREGATIONAL CHURCH
444 Washington St . • 617-773-6424
Worship and Church School 10 am
Rev. Ann Suzedell, Pastor
email: office@quincypointcong.org

Unitarian Universalist

United First Parish Church
A theologically liberal congregation, encouraging people to seek their own spiritual path. All are welcome.
Worship Service, Church School and Childcare Sundays at 10:30 AM
Followed by Fellowship & Refreshments
Rev. Rebecca Froom
1306 Hancock St., Quincy
www.ufpc.org

Christian Science

First Church of Christ, Scientist
1460 Hancock Street, Quincy
617-472-0055
Sunday Services and Sunday School 10:30 a.m.
Wednesday Evening Meetings – where testimonies of healing are shared 7:30 p.m.



ALL ARE WELCOME!

Catholic Community

Dignity BOSTON
Gay, Lesbian, Bisexual, Transgender
CATHOLICS
Our families, friends And allies
Liturgy & social hour: Sundays, 5:30 PM
St. John the Evangelist Church
35 Bowdoin St., Beacon Hill, Boston
617-421-1915
www.dignityboston.org

Nazarene

Wollaston
Church of the Nazarene
Sunday Worship
8:30 AM Liturgical Worship
9:45 AM Sunday School
11:00 AM Celebration Worship
Kevin C. Dunlop, Lead Pastor
Phil Nase, Youth & Small Groups Pastor
Jake Chastain, Music & Campus Pastor
Bev Keuther, Children's Pastor
Don Reed, Visitation Pastor
37 E. Elm Ave., Wollaston
617.472.5669
E-mail: office@wconaz.org
www.wollastonnazarene.org

HOPE LOVE

To Advertise in this Directory, Call 617-471-3100

CLASSIFIEDS

NOTICE OF PUBLIC HEARING

NOTICE OF PUBLIC HEARING
City of Quincy
ZONING BOARD OF APPEALS
CASE NO. 15-001

Pursuant to the provisions of TITLE 17 of the QUINCY MUNICIPAL CODE as amended, the Quincy Zoning Board of Appeals will hold an Open Public Hearing on Tuesday, February 10, 2015 at 7:15 pm on the Second Floor in the Council Chambers, Quincy City Hall, 1305 Hancock Street, Quincy, MA 02169. On the application of Wei Zhang for a Variance/Finding to add 2, two-bedroom residential units on the second floor of the existing medical office building while maintaining a dental office on the first floor in violation of Title 17 as amended Chapter 4.1 (dimensional requirements) and Chapter 3.4.2 (nonconforming use) on the premises numbered 909 HANCOCK STREET, QUINCY.

Plans and Specifications are on file at the Inspectional Service Department located at 55 Sea Street, Quincy, MA 02169 and may be reviewed during regular business hours.

Martin Aikens, Chairman

1/22/15, 1/29/15

NOTICE OF PUBLIC HEARING

NOTICE OF PUBLIC HEARING
City of Quincy
ZONING BOARD OF APPEALS
CASE NO. 15-002

Pursuant to the provisions of TITLE 17 of the QUINCY MUNICIPAL CODE as amended, the Quincy Zoning Board of Appeals will hold an Open Public Hearing on Tuesday, February 10, 2015 at 7:15 pm on the Second Floor in the Council Chambers, Quincy City Hall, 1305 Hancock Street, Quincy, MA 02169. On the application of Mandy & Jason Oberton for a Variance/Finding to add approximately 2500 sf of living space and a 540 sf garage in violation of Title 17 as amended Chapter 4.0 (dimensional requirements) and Chapter 3.4.3 (nonconforming uses) on the premises numbered 109 SONOMA ROAD, QUINCY.

Plans and Specifications are on file at the Inspectional Service Department located at 55 Sea Street, Quincy, MA 02169 and may be reviewed during regular business hours.

Martin Aikens, Chairman

1/22/15, 1/29/15

NOTICE OF PUBLIC HEARING

NOTICE OF PUBLIC HEARING
City of Quincy
ZONING BOARD OF APPEALS
CASE NO. 15-003

Pursuant to the provisions of TITLE 17 of the QUINCY MUNICIPAL CODE as amended, the Quincy Zoning Board of Appeals will hold an Open Public Hearing on Tuesday, February 10, 2015 at 7:15 pm on the Second Floor in the Council Chambers, Quincy City Hall, 1305 Hancock Street, Quincy, MA 02169. On the application of Brian & Celia La Roche for a Variance to modify the previously granted Variance by adding an additional bedroom in violation of Title 17 as amended Chapter 4.1 (dimensional requirements) on the premises numbered 149 INDEPENDENCE AVENUE, QUINCY.

Plans and Specifications are on file at the Inspectional Service Department located at 55 Sea Street, Quincy, MA 02169 and may be reviewed during regular business hours.

Martin Aikens, Chairman

1/22/15, 1/29/15

MISCELLANEOUS

AUCTIONS
New Hampshire-Foreclosure: 2,382+SF Duplex on Half an Acre AUCTION: Tues., Feb.10 @ 1PM 6 Butler Avenue, Hinsdale, NH THCAuction.com 1-800-634-7653 (NH#2661)

HELP WANTED-SALES
EARN $500 A DAY: Insurance Agents Needed; Leads, No Cold Calls; Commissions Paid Daily; Lifetime Renewals; Complete Training; Health & Dental Insurance; Life License Required Call 1-888-713-6020

MISCELLANEOUS

HOME IMPROVEMENT
HAS YOUR BUILDING SHIFTED OR SETTLED? Contact Woodford Brothers Inc, for straightening, leveling, foundation and wood frame repairs at 1-800-OLD-BARN. www.woodfordbros.com

FOR SALE

'92 Pontiac Grand Pris Garaged, 46,000 miles Blue, $2,000 Phone Number: 617.847.1679 1/22

HAMMOND B-3 ORGAN
LIKE NEW WITH BEAUTIFUL CABINET, ALSO BRAND NEW LESLEI SPEAKER, BENCH AND PEDALS INCLUDED $12,500.00
1-508-584-6342 1/22

HALLS FOR RENT

MORRISETTE LEGION POST
81-83 Liberty St., Quincy
Function Hall Available
Call for Details 617-770-4876
Internet Capable • Weddings • Showers • Christenings • Meetings After Funeral Gatherings TF

PERSONAL

In Loving Memory:
Deputy Chief John R. Menz, Joseph V. & Elizabeth Menz, Mary C. & George W. Blake, Baby Stephanie Walter, Ruth & James Corbin, Ruby May & Walter S. Wyllie 1/22

ST. JUDE NOVENA
May the Sacred heart of Jesus be adored, loved and preserved throughout the world now and forever. Sacred heart of Jesus pray for us, St. Jude worker of miracles pray for us, St. Jude, helper of the hopeless pray for us. Say this prayer nine times a day for nine days and your prayers will be answered. This prayer must be published. M.O. 1/22

PRAYER TO THE BLESSED VIRGIN
"Oh, most beautiful flower of Mt. Carmel, Fruitful vine, splendor of heaven, Blessed Mother of the Son of God, Immaculate Virgin, assist me in my necessity. Oh, Star of the Sea, help me and show me, herein you are my Mother. Oh, Holy Mary, Mother of God, Queen of Heaven and Earth! I humbly beseech you from the bottom of my heart to succor me in this necessity. There are none that can withstand your power. Oh, Mary, conceived without sin, pray for us who have recourse to thee (three times). Holy Mother, I place this cause in your hands (three times). Say this prayer 3 consecutive days, and then you must publish and it will be granted to you. Thanks to St. Anthony & St. Joseph. St. Jude D.M.M. 1/22

WANTED

OLD HAND TOOLS & BOOKS WANTED
Planes, chisels, adzes, shaves, machinist, and sheetmetal tools, calipers, clamps, anvils, vises.
USEFUL TOOLS, ALL TRADES.
New England history books Collections: old postcards, toys, military, fishing & old auto items
LIBERTY TOOL CO.
888-405-2007
Davistownmuseum.org
www.jonesport-wood.com TF

CASH FOR DIABETES TEST STRIPS:
Up to $33/box!
I will pick up same day
Must be Factory Sealed and Unexpired
Call Jenni (800)413-3479
www.CashForYourTestStrips.com 2/5

HELP WANTED

Operator/Dispatcher Position for Yellow Cab of Quincy
Part time positions available
Responsibilities include:
- Answering multiple phone lines in a courteous and professional manner
- Data entry, and dispatching calls over the radio.
- Knowledge of the streets and landmarks in Quincy a must.
- Good communication skills and computer skills.
- Works well under pressure and can respond to emergencies quickly and efficiently.

Please email resume to napostleycq@comcast.net or call Nichol at 617-479-9600 2/5

The Quincy Sun CLASSIFIED AD FORM

MAIL TO: THE QUINCY SUN, 1372 HANCOCK STREET, QUINCY, MA 02169

PAYABLE IN ADVANCE. Payment must accompany order.

INDEX
- ❑ Services
- ❑ For Sale
- ❑ Autos
- ❑ Boats
- ❑ For Rent
- ❑ Wanted
- ❑ Help Wanted
- ❑ Work Wanted
- ❑ Pets
- ❑ Lost & Found
- ❑ Real Estate
- ❑ Antiques
- ❑ Flea Markets
- ❑ Yard Sales
- ❑ Instruction
- ❑ Day Care
- ❑ Personal
- ❑ Miscellaneous

NO REFUND WILL BE MADE AT THIS CONTRACT RATE IN THE EVENT OF CANCELLATION. DEADLINE: FRIDAY AT 4PM. PLEASE INCLUDE YOUR PHONE NUMBER IN AD.

RATES

1 WEEK ❑ $9.00 for one insertion, up to 20 words, 10¢ for each additional word.

2-4 WEEKS ❑ $8.00 per insertion up to 20 words for 2-4 insertions of the same ad, 10¢ each additional word.

5-10 WEEKS ❑ $7.50 per insertion, up to 20 words, for 5-10 insertions of the same ad 10¢ for each additional word.

11 WEEKS OR MORE ❑ $7.00 per insertion, up to 20 words, for 11 or more insertions of the same ad 10¢ for each additional word.

❑ Enclosed is $ _____ for the following ad to run _____ weeks in The Quincy Sun.

COPY: _____

_____

_____

_____

_____

_____

_____

_____

_____

Want to pick up a copy of The Quincy Sun?

Here are stores in Quincy that sell it on their newsstands:

QUINCY MARKET
Corner of Temple & Washington St.

GOODIE'S STORE
1250 Hancock St., Presidents Place

NEW STORE ON THE BLOCK
1183 Hancock St., Quincy Ctr. T Station

HANCOCK TOBACCO
1500 Hancock St.

MIGNOSA'S FRUIT BASKET
138 Granite St.

RITE-AID
132 Granite St.

COFFEE BREAK CAFÉ
77 Parkingway

HANCOCK PARK LOBBY SHOP
164 Parkingway

FRANKLIN ST. BP
60 Franklin St.

7-11
78 Franklin St.

CVS
178 Washington St. Braintree

SHOP N SAVE LIQUORS
20 Independence Ave.

DONUT + DONUTS
33 Scammell St.

PRESIDENTIAL LIQUORS
Scammel St.

TEDESCHI'S
85 Quincy Ave.

DAILY MART
291 Quincy Ave.

ROCHE BROTHERS
The Falls

WALGREENS
418 Quincy Ave.

ARTERY GROCERY
1000 Southern Artery

DAIRY FARM
330 Washington St.

TEDESCHI'S
230 Washington St.

STOP & SHOP
Southern Artery

CVS
Southern Artery

BAXTER'S PHARMACY
385 Washington St.

WALGREENS
550 Adams St.

TEDESCHI'S
650 Adams St.

7-11
Adams St.

VILLAGE COMM. MARKET
100 Willard St.

COPELAND LIQUORS
273 Copeland St.

GRANITE MART
308 Willard St.

7-11
Copeland St.

JOE'S PLACE
260 Centre St.

ALBA DELI
1089 Hancock St.

CORNER FOOD MARKET
1060 Hancock St.

DAIRY MART
200 Sea St.

ADAMS SHORE SUPERMARKET
494 Sea St.

PALMER STREET MARKET
231 Palmer St.

BERNIE'S GENERAL STORE
1147 Sea St.

7-11
721 Hancock St.

BEALE ST. SMOKE SHOP
17 Beale St.

CVS
42 Beale St.

COFFEE BREAK CAFÉ
12 Old Colony Ave.

SUPREME LIQUORS
615 Hancock St.

S & A CONVENIENCE STORE
498 Hancock St.

HANNAFORD BROTHERS
475 Hancock St.

MULLANEY'S VARIETY
205 W. Squantum St.

STOP & SHOP
65 Newport Ave.

7-11
363 Hancock St.

RED APPLE FOOD SHOP
48 Billings Rd.

SAM'S VARIETY
125 Billings Rd.

DAVE'S GENERAL STORE
66 Newbury Ave.

ATLANTIC MARKET & LIQUORS
247 Atlantic Ave.

CARMINE'S CAFÉ
69 Huckins Ave.

TEDESCHI'S
751 E. Squantum St.

W. ELM VARIETY
139 West Elm Ave.

LUCKY SHAMROCK
265 Beale St.

ANDRE'S STORE
20 Brook St.

CLASSIFIEDS

MISCELLANEOUS

MISCELLANEOUS
SAWMILLS from only $4397.00-MAKE & SAVE MONEY with your own bandmill-Cut lumber any dimension. In stock ready to ship. FREE Info/DVD: www.NorwoodSawmills.com 1-800-578-1363 Ext.300N

LAND FOR SALE
NYS LAND SALE AD-IRONDACK TIMBER-LANDS 80-2000 acre hunting clubs. Starting at $385/acre. Financing available. Call 1-800-229-7843. Or visit www.LandandCamps.com

We need you.

WE'RE FIGHTING FOR YOUR LIFE

American Heart Association

Save Gas & Money, Shop Locally

PLEASE RECYCLE THIS NEWSPAPER

QUINCY SUN NEWS CARRIERS WANTED
Here's a chance to earn extra money by building a Quincy Sun home delivery route.
Call 617-471-3100

SERVICES

Mike the Electrician
for any of your electric, cable and data needs
Michael Kisiel
Proprietor
Master License A11789
617-438-9655 1/22

REPORT POTHOLES
Potholes are a year-round problem and should be reported to the Department of Public Works.
617-376-1914

Want to pick up a copy of The Quincy Sun?
Here are stores in Quincy that sell it on their newsstands:

Quincy Market, Corner of Temple & Washington St.
Goodie's Store, 1250 Hancock St., Presidents Place
New Store on the Block, 1183 Hancock St., Quincy Ctr. T Station
Hancock Tobacco, 1500 Hancock St.
Mignosa's Fruit Basket, 138 Granite St.
Rite-Aid, 132 Granite St.
Coffee Break Café, 77 Parkingway
Hancock Park Lobby Shop, 164 Parkingway
Franklin St. BP, 60 Franklin St.
7-11, 78 Franklin St.
CVS, 178 Washington St. Braintree
Shop N Save Liquors, 20 Independence Ave.
Donut + Donuts, 33 Scammell St.
Presidential Liquors, Scammel St.
Tedeschi's, 85 Quincy Ave.
Daily Mart, 291 Quincy Ave.
Roche Brothers, The Falls
Walgreens, 418 Quincy Ave.
Artery Grocery, 1000 Southern Artery
Dairy Farm, 330 Washington St.
Tedeschi's, 230 Washington St.
Stop & Shop, Southern Artery
CVS, Southern Artery
Baxter's Pharmacy, 385 Washington St.
Walgreens, 550 Adams St.
Tedeschi's, 650 Adams St.
7-11, Adams St.
Village Comm. Market, 100 Willard St.
Copeland Liquors, 273 Copeland St.
Granite Mart, 308 Willard St.
7-11, Copeland St.
Joe's Place, 260 Centre St.
Alba Deli, 1089 Hancock St.
Corner Food Market, 1060 Hancock St.
Dairy Mart, 200 Sea St.
Adams Shore Supermarket, 494 Sea St.
Palmer Street Market, 231 Palmer St.
Bernie's General Store, 1147 Sea St.
7-11, 721 Hancock St.
Beale St. Smoke Shop, 17 Beale St.
CVS, 42 Beale St.
Coffee Break Café, 12 Old Colony Ave.
Supreme Liquors, 615 Hancock St.
S & A Convenience Store, 498 Hancock St.
Hannaford Brothers, 475 Hancock St.
Mullaney's Variety, 205 W. Squantum St.
Stop & Shop, 65 Newport Ave.
7-11, 363 Hancock St.
Red Apple Food Shop, 48 Billings Rd.
Sam's Variety, 125 Billings Rd.
Dave's General Store, 66 Newbury Ave.
Atlantic Market & Liquors, 247 Atlantic Ave.
Carmine's Café, 69 Huckins Ave.
Tedeschi's, 751 E. Squantum St.
W. Elm Variety, 139 West Elm Ave.
Lucky Shamrock, 265 Beale St.
Andre's Store, 20 Brook St.

SERVICES

POWER PLUMBING
Plumbing, Heating, Gas Fitting
Repairs • New Installations
Dave 617-328-3007
Emergencies
617-792-4054
Master Lic # 13749 TF

FOR HIRE
Garages, Decks Taken Away, Rubbish Piles Removed, Moorings Moved
OR ME WITH DUMP & LIFTGATE
$60/HR.
(617)479-5410
"Your Trash is my Ca$h" 3/19

Reliable House Cleaning
KITCHEN, LIVING ROOM, DINING ROOM, BEDROOMS, BATHROOMS, HALLWAYS
Maisa 617-259-4841 4/2

SERVICES

SAVE
Budget Fuel
Fuel Assistance
Senior Discount
Full Service
617-328-4063 TF

100% FREE Removal
of Appliances & all types of metal
Commercial & Residential
Junk Removed
Garages · Basements · Attic
Call John anytime 617-653-6255 5/14

J.F. ROOFING CO.
QUINCY, MA
·Shingles
·Rubber
·Slate
·Copper
·Vinyl Replacement Windows
·Snow Removal
(617)471-8216 2/19

THOMAS C. SWEENEY
Smaller Jobs a Specialty
51 Years Experience
Carpentry, Siding, Painting, Porches
Viny/Windows, Doors
Roofing, Decking, Steps
License #1373 Free Estimates
Reliable 617-825-1210 References 1/29

SERVICES

HTA
Hancock T.V. & Appliance
Sales, Service, Parts & Installation
Since 1945
(617) 472-1710
115 Franklin Street, Quincy, MA
hancocktvandappliance.com

S.G. HAROLD
PLUMBING, HEATING & AC
Specializing in Viessman Boiler
Unico Air Conditioning
Home heating repairs & service
Radiant Floor heating
QUINCY
617-471-0914
Unprecedented Service Tailored to You
MA Lic. #10589 TF

"A Woman's Touch Painting"
No job too big or small
FREE ESTIMATES
REASONABLE RATES
CALL FOR FREE ESTIMATE
Call Kelly 857-939-8079 1/29

PAINTING BY PROFESSIONAL
Interior & Exterior
Powerwashing & Carpentry
All Types of House Repairs
Reasonable Price
Small Jobs Welcome TF
Leave Message 617-773-4761

The Quincy Sun CLASSIFIED AD FORM

MAIL TO: THE QUINCY SUN, 1372 HANCOCK STREET, QUINCY, MA 02169

PAYABLE IN ADVANCE. Payment must accompany order.

INDEX
- ❑ Services
- ❑ For Sale
- ❑ Autos
- ❑ Boats
- ❑ For Rent
- ❑ Wanted
- ❑ Help Wanted
- ❑ Work Wanted
- ❑ Pets
- ❑ Lost & Found
- ❑ Real Estate
- ❑ Antiques
- ❑ Flea Markets
- ❑ Yard Sales
- ❑ Instruction
- ❑ Day Care
- ❑ Personal
- ❑ Miscellaneous

NO REFUND WILL BE MADE AT THIS CONTRACT RATE IN THE EVENT OF CANCELLATION. DEADLINE: FRIDAY AT 4PM. PLEASE INCLUDE YOUR PHONE NUMBER IN AD.

RATES

1 WEEK ❑ $9.00 for one insertion, up to 20 words, 10¢ for each additional word.

2-4 WEEKS ❑ $8.00 per insertion up to 20 words for 2-4 insertions of the same ad, 10¢ each additional word.

5-10 WEEKS ❑ $7.50 per insertion, up to 20 words, for 5-10 insertions of the same ad 10¢ for each additional word.

11 WEEKS OR MORE ❑ $7.00 per insertion, up to 20 words, for 11 or more insertions of the same ad 10¢ for each additional word.

❑ Enclosed is $ _____ for the following ad to run _____ weeks in The Quincy Sun.

COPY: _____

SUN FUN PAGE

King Crossword

ACROSS
1 $ dispenser
4 Twosome
8 Nonsense
12 Pi follower
13 Green land
14 Sandwich treat
15 Escalade, e.g.
17 Troop group
18 Veer
19 Longing
21 Help
22 West Pointers
26 Dangles a carrot
29 Lunch-eonette order
30 Compete
31 "Time" founder
32 Jane's "Glee" role
33 Lo-cal
34 Tramcar fill
35 "Monty Python" opener
36 Traffic cone
37 Golf bag carrier
39 "— the ramparts ..."
40 Victory
41 Influenza
45 Tarzan's Mrs.
48 Doctor's insignia
50 Bassoon's cousin
51 Bad day for Caesar
52 Matterhorn, for one
53 Zinger
54 Unmatched
55 Crucial

DOWN
1 Curved paths
2 Melt
3 Fashion
4 Ilium's place
5 Wasn't well
6 401(k) alternative
7 Go green
8 Tied
9 Coffee shop vessel
10 Mainlander's memento
11 Parcel of land
16 Mad
20 Corrode
23 Satan's forte
24 One of the Jackson 5
25 Spotted
26 United nations
27 Emanation
28 On the rocks
29 Clear the tables
32 Sign painter's aid
33 Hammer-stein's contribution
35 Jr.'s junior
36 Study
38 Nerdy sort
39 Utah city
42 Mountain-top
43 Whine
44 Get a glimpse of 45 Occupation
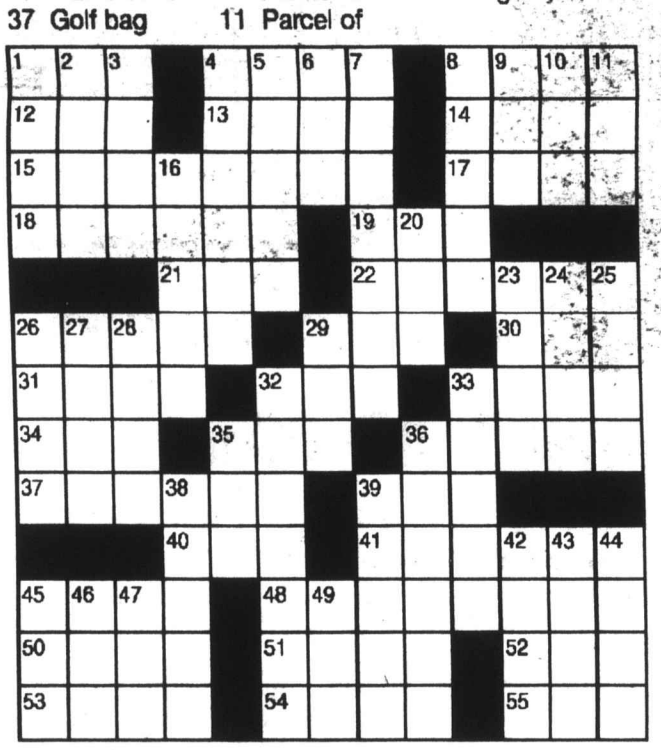
46 "The — Daba Honeymoon"
47 Neither mate
49 Big bother



© 2015 King Features Synd., Inc.

HOCUS-FOCUS

BY HENRY BOLTINOFF

Find at least six differences in details between panels.

Difference: 1. Hat is missing. 2. Heart is missing. 3. Cloud is smaller. 4. Curls are missing. 5. Arm is moved. 6. Stripes are missing.

©2015 King Features Syndicate, Inc. All rights reserved.

New! 24 HOCUS FOCUS puzzles $3.50 • 24 Volumes • Order at: rbmamail.com

Trivia test

by Fifi Rodriguez

1. LITERATURE: What is Hagrid's first name in the Harry Potter book series?
2. HISTORY: In what modern-day country did the ancient Etruscan civilization once thrive?
3. U.S. STATES: What is the state capital of New Hampshire?
4. U.S. PRESIDENTS: Where was President Lyndon Johnson sworn into office?
5. MOVIES: What was the name of Roy Hobbs' baseball bat in "The Natural"?
6. ANIMAL KINGDOM: What kind of animals would a cryptozoologist study?
7. MYTHOLOGY: Who was Castor's twin brother?
8. INVENTIONS: Who is credited with inventing blue jeans?
9. TELEVISION: In what sitcom series was the character of Frasier Crane introduced?
10. WORLD GEOGRAPHY: What is the capital of Portugal?

Answers
1. Rubeus
2. Italy
3. Concord
4. Aboard Air Force One, following the assassination of President John Kennedy.
5. "Wonderboy"
6. Legendary animals like the Loch Ness monster or Bigfoot
7. Pollux
8. Levi Strauss
9. "Cheers"
10. Lisbon

(c) 2015 King Features Synd., Inc.

Salome's Stars

ARIES (March 21 to April 19) You need to be certain that all the right conditions are in place before you take that first step. It can't hurt to listen to good advice from those who have your best interests at heart.
TAURUS (April 20 to May 20) Be careful not to get involved in other people's disputes unless you know the facts behind the disagreements. That's the best way to be assured of making wise and honest decisions.
GEMINI (May 21 to June 20) You still need to be careful about how you're going to spend those energy reserves you finally got around to restoring. Best advice: Avoid overdoing it. Let things take their course.
CANCER (June 21 to July 22) Your aspect continues to favor travel -- alone or with that special person. So if you've been putting off making those getaway plans, it's still a good time to get started on them.
LEO (July 23 to August 22) Those so-called golden opportunities that continue to dazzle the Lion still need to be carefully checked out. Be suspicious about anything that looks like the "perfect" prospect.
VIRGO (August 23 to September 22) Changes at the workplace could make it more difficult to do things the way you prefer. But the wise Virgo who shows some flexibility could find it paying off in a big way.
LIBRA (September 23 to October 22) You might want to check out the explanation you were given for a sudden shift in your duties. There's a possibility that you haven't been told all the facts that you deserve to know.
SCORPIO (October 23 to November 21) Having confidence in your abilities is important, especially when you could be facing a new challenge, whether it's in the workplace or in a personal relationship. Good luck.
SAGITTARIUS (November 22 to December 21) A new work-related opportunity might not be all that it seems. Before making any decisions, you might want to check with others who have had some experience in that area.
CAPRICORN (December 22 to January 19) A situation involving someone close could benefit from your timely intervention. Avoid being judgmental. There'll be plenty of time later for those "little talks" you like to have.
AQUARIUS (January 20 to February 18) Travel could be a surprise element in that new project. Be prepared for other previously undisclosed aspects that also might come to light as you proceed with the work.
PISCES (February 19 to March 20) Try to balance your work-related responsibilities with the time you're spending on your recently revived social life. An old friend might be planning to return after a long absence.
BORN THIS WEEK: Your sensitivity makes you aware of the needs of others. Have you considered a career as a counselor?

(c) 2015 King Features Synd., Inc.

CryptoQuip

This is a simple substitution cipher in which each letter used stands for another. If you think that X equals O, it will equal O throughout the puzzle. Solution is accomplished by trial and error.

Clue: R equals T

VCZR UAGKDINKIR WQGQOQAI VZRYCKO SAD OTMQIU ZYRQGQRQKO? RCK WKTZDRNKIR AS RCK RDKZYCKDM.

© 2015 King Features Synd., Inc.

MAGIC MAZE

WORDS WITH LETTERS FORMED WITHOUT LIFTING PEN

J X U Q N K H E B Y V S P M J
H E B Y V T Q O L I G D B Y W
T R P M K I F D B Y W U S Q S
B P O M K I F D B Z X W U M S
Q O I S O N G L D J H F U C D
C U G L L C A O G Y W G I V N
T N S U S I W Q D N G M P W N
L D K N S N O W P L O W O I H
F E O G S C O C I C L L C B Z
Y O L I V I C N W V C U B U S
M R Q P N P G M D O O L B O L

Find the listed words in the diagram. They run in all directions forward, backward, up, down and diagonally.

BLOOD
BOGUS
BULLDOG
CIVIL CLOWN
COILS
COMIC
DOWNS
MOONS
NONSLIP
OBLONG
PICNIC
SLUNG
SMUGGLING
SNOWPLOW

©2015 King Features Syndicate, Inc. All rights reserved.

Wishing Well®

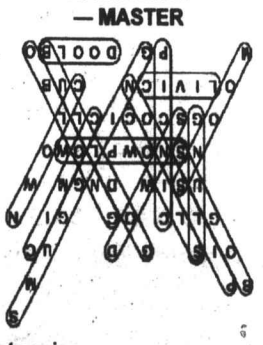
3	6	2	4	5	8	5	3	7	4	5	8	5
L	C	Y	T	E	A	V	I	A	A	E	H	N
4	6	3	2	6	4	8	7	2	3	4	2	6
K	A	F	O	S	E	A	C	U	E	A	A	H
5	2	4	6	2	7	5	3	6	8	6	2	8
T	R	C	I	E	C	F	I	N	P	A	T	P
2	4	8	2	5	4	6	7	2	7	2	6	4
H	H	Y	E	U	A	L	L	L	A	E	E	N
3	2	6	8	7	6	7	4	7	6	7	2	6
M	A	T	M	I	T	M	C	I	E	S	D	R
3	5	7	8	2	5	2	5	4	8	5	7	8
P	L	Y	A	E	W	R	E	E	R	E	O	R
3	8	3	8	3	7	8	3	7	8	3	7	5
R	I	O	A	V	U	G	E	R	E	S	S	K

HERE IS A PLEASANT LITTLE GAME that will give you a message every day. It's a numerical puzzle designed to spell out your fortune. Count the letters in your first name. If the number of letters is 6 or more, subtract 4. If the number is less than 6, add 3. The result is your key number. Start at the upper left-hand corner and check one of your key numbers, left to right. Then read the message the letters under the checked figures give you.

©2015 King Features Syndicate, Inc. All rights reserved.

— King Crossword — Answers
Solution time: 27 mins.

Magic Maze ANSWERS: — MASTER



Cyptoquip ANSWER:

What government division watches for spying activities? The department of the treachery.

Chan First State Legislator To Visit South Korea

Cont'd From Page 15

ment store – so we visited places like that to get a slice of modern life, even if it was just for a few minutes," Chan said.

"Whenever we had time between meetings, I was like 'can we stop here for a little bit,' even to get to a 7-Eleven to see what it's like. I have to say I found three Dunkin' Donuts. They have Dunkin' Donuts with like Starbucks, and all the Korean brands are next to it."

As part of his visit, Chan also visited the Demilitarized Zone (DMZ), which separates South Korea from North Korea. While there, he was able to tour the Joint Security Area (JSA), the only portion of the border where soldiers from both countries stand face-to-face with each other; the site has also been used for high level talks since the armistice brought hostilities to a halt.

"You actually could see North Korea – you stood at the line. You got to the Blue Room, which is where all the high-level conversations at the DMZ where made. That was interesting, you're literally standing in history. Any time there was a high-level conversation among all the world powers, that is the room they sat in," Chan explained.

"And it's true, the Korean soldiers will stare at each other for x period of time and they will rotate shifts and keep doing it over and over again. But it's a huge tourist attraction, for Koreans and foreigners to see what it is. And it's actually designed for people to visit."

As a foreign dignitary, Chan was assigned a South Korean corporal and a U.S. soldier as escorts during his visit to the Joint Security Area.

In addition to the DMZ, Chan visited a museum on the disputed Dokdo Island.

"We visited a museum called Dokdo Island Museum and learned about various issues and border disputes in waterways. There are a lot of disputes among Asian countries about who owns what part of the ocean in between them," he stated.

"In this case, Dokdo is between Korean and Japan and there is a dispute about who owns that island. It's a good place to stop for fishermen. It's an accessible location and there are a lot of crabs in the area – crabs are a very high priced product."

One thing Chan remembers from his trip is how diverse of a nation South Korea is. Restaurants in Seoul, for example, cater to a wide variety of people who reside and visit there; Chan was able to visit an Indian restaurant and even saw an Irish pub.

"It's a country that's much more diversified and much more aware of the bigger world than anyone everyone realizes. Historically speaking, in the 19th century it was called 'the hermit kingdom' because the Joseon Empire closed its borders to everybody," Chan said.

"I think there is the misconception about Koreans being this closed, ultra conservative people. They are really much more worldly and aware about everything going on around them then people realize. It was pretty fascinating."

WHILE IN South Korea, Rep. Tackey Chan visited the Seoul Energy Dream Center in the nation's capital. The center aims to teach the Korean about the benefits of renewable energy. Energy and technology were a key component of Chan's official mission to South Korea.

REP. TACKEY CHAN visited the historic Gyeongbokgung Palace while in Seoul. Here, he is with pictured with symbols of the Chinese zodiac located on the palace's grounds. Next to Chan is the Ox, his symbol. Photos Courtesy Tackey Chan

BID Hospital-Milton Developing Behavioral Health Program

Beth Israel Deaconess Hospital-Milton (BID-Milton) was recently awarded a $2 million grant from the Health Policy Commission to develop an integrated behavioral health program in partnership with South Shore Mental Health and other community-based providers.

A major focus of the grant will be the development and addition of patient-centered enhancements to the hospital's Emergency Department to efficiently manage patients with mental health and/or substance abuse issues. Enhanced capabilities will include conducting telehealth psychiatric assessments and improved services for boarding patients awaiting placement in an inpatient behavioral health facility.

Grant monies will also support a team of South Shore Mental Health clinicians, including crisis assessment clinicians, a behavioral health navigator and certified peer specialists, which will provide specialized clinical, supportive and follow-up services to behavioral health patients within BID-Milton's Emergency Department.

According to hospital officials, the grant will also help with the establishment of a behavioral health outreach and linkage program with regional healthcare providers to improve early intervention with patients considered at risk for a crisis, the development of an integrated care learning consortium with other area providers to more closely coordinate services and the implementation of workforce development programs and new communication technologies to enhance the care provided to patients.

"This grant will enable BID-Milton to partner with South Shore Mental Health and other local providers, including emergency medical services, to greatly improve the community's access to appropriate behavioral health services," said Ashley Yeats, MD, vice president of healthcare quality and chief medical officer for the hospital. "It will help us to improve the response to behavioral health crises in the community as well as reduce the length of time these patients may spend in the Emergency Department awaiting assessment and referral to treatment. Overall, it will help us improve the quality of care for this underserved and growing patient population while reducing inpatient hospital utilization and costs."

"South Shore Mental Health is pleased to partner with BID-Milton on this important project. The program model will reduce the time spent in the emergency room and improve the patient's experience. It will allow for better care and efficiencies in managing psychiatric emergencies. Early identification of mental illness coupled with innovative programming and solutions will provide patients with a more effective continuum of care," said Harry Shulman, President/CEO, South Shore Mental Health.

Quincy Defeats Hingham, Bows To W-H, St. John's

Cont'd From Page 21

so many things. He hit the short jumper, threw spot-on passes, and worked with Bain to shut down the middle and force the Harbormen to settle for long jump shots.

"It's hard to put a value on what James means to us every night," said Parry.

Drew Myers had 15 and continued his good outside shooting which has been important to Quincy over then past two weeks. He missed a couple early, but stayed with it. He drilled four straight buckets in the final 2:10 of the first half to keep Quincy within, 23-22 at intermission. Evans added 13 for the Presidents.

"We talked to Drew about attacking the basket and to keep shooting if he has a couple of misses. Shooters have to keep shooting. When he and Colin are going well from the outside together, it makes us tough," said Parry.

Against W-H, Quincy fell behind early. The Panthers made 12 three-point jumpers and shot 51 per cent from behind the arc. That's something out of the NBA. The Presidents made a late run, helped from efforts off the bench from Scott Mele and Carl Zapata, and took a one-point lead with 2:30 left. However, the Panthers rallied for the win.

"They hit three or four threes in a row in the first period, and that gave them a lift. We needed a little more urgency on defense early in the game," said Parry.

Bain hit one three, went 10-for-13 from the line, and simply ruled the inside for the rest of his points. W-H chased around Quincy's shooters, but had no shot against Bain close to the basket.

"He played like a warrior in a big game. He just hit everything. It was a great performance," said Parry.

Quincy (9-3 overall) is at Duxbury Saturday at 5 p.m.

Quincy Mutual 'Committed' To Downtown Project

Cont'd From Page 13

of the buildings will have access to two one-story buildings housing a fitness center and club/lounge area on either side of the new Chestnut Way.

WEST OF CHESTNUT proposal includes 169 residential units and 12,000 square feet of retail space. The proposed apartments range in size from studios at 520 square feet to two-bedroom units with a den that tops out at 1,100 square feet. Quincy Mutual and Gate Residential hope to attract young professionals between the ages of 25 to 35 to live on site.

Renderings Courtesy Quincy Mutual Group

CHESTNUT WAY, a new one-way road, would run through the proposed West of Chestnut development. To the right is a club/lounge suite that would hold a media center, networking center, chef's kitchen, and game room with pool and foosball tables. The club/lounge suite, along with a fitness suite, would be available to residents living in the development's 169 apartments.

The health and fitness suite, located behind the Hancock Street building, will have a cross-training center with free weights and ropes and a state-of-the-art gym with cardio and other exercise machines.

"That gym is going to be better than any gym in the city," Warwick said. "The tenants won't need to go anywhere else."

The club/lounge space will feature flat screen televisions, networking space with computers and a copy center, and a game room with foosball and pool tables. Also planned is a chef's kitchen, which residents could reserve for a fee to entertain guests.

"The lounge area is more like a club," Warwick said. "It's a cool place to hang out in."

The club/longue building – located adjacent to the L-shaped building – also has a media center, which Warwick compared to a movie theater. The media center would be the place for residents living in the building to gather and watch major sporting events.

"Last night residents living in our buildings got together to watch the AFC Championship. We show Bruins games and baseball games," Warwick explained. "During the day, the media center is open to our residents."

The club/lounge center would lead to a private courtyard for tenants with an outdoor kitchen, fire pit, and a play lawn.

The project has also already garnered interest from retailers looking to move into the two proposed buildings. Warwick envisions a mix of retail users calling the site home. Among those would be a restaurant, to be located on the corner of Cottage Avenue and Chestnut Street; convenience retailers along Hancock Street; and those specializing in health and fitness.

"We've been getting a lot of interest from health and lifestyle companies," Warwick said. "They really dovetail well with our other amenities."

Residents living in the two buildings will have access to a 92-car underground garage; 14 spots will be provided at street-level for guests and customers going to one of the new retailers. With the Quincy Center MBTA station just a short walk away, the developers are hoping to attract younger professionals – between the ages of 25 and 35 – who use public transportation or services like Uber or Zipcar to get around. Bicycle racks will also be provided to tenants. A similar Gate Residential project in Chelsea with 230 units was fully leased in two months.

West of Chestnut is the first of two mixed-use developments Quincy Mutual plans to construct downtown. The second project, East of Chestnut, would be located on the opposite side of Chestnut Street in what is now the insurance company's parking lot.

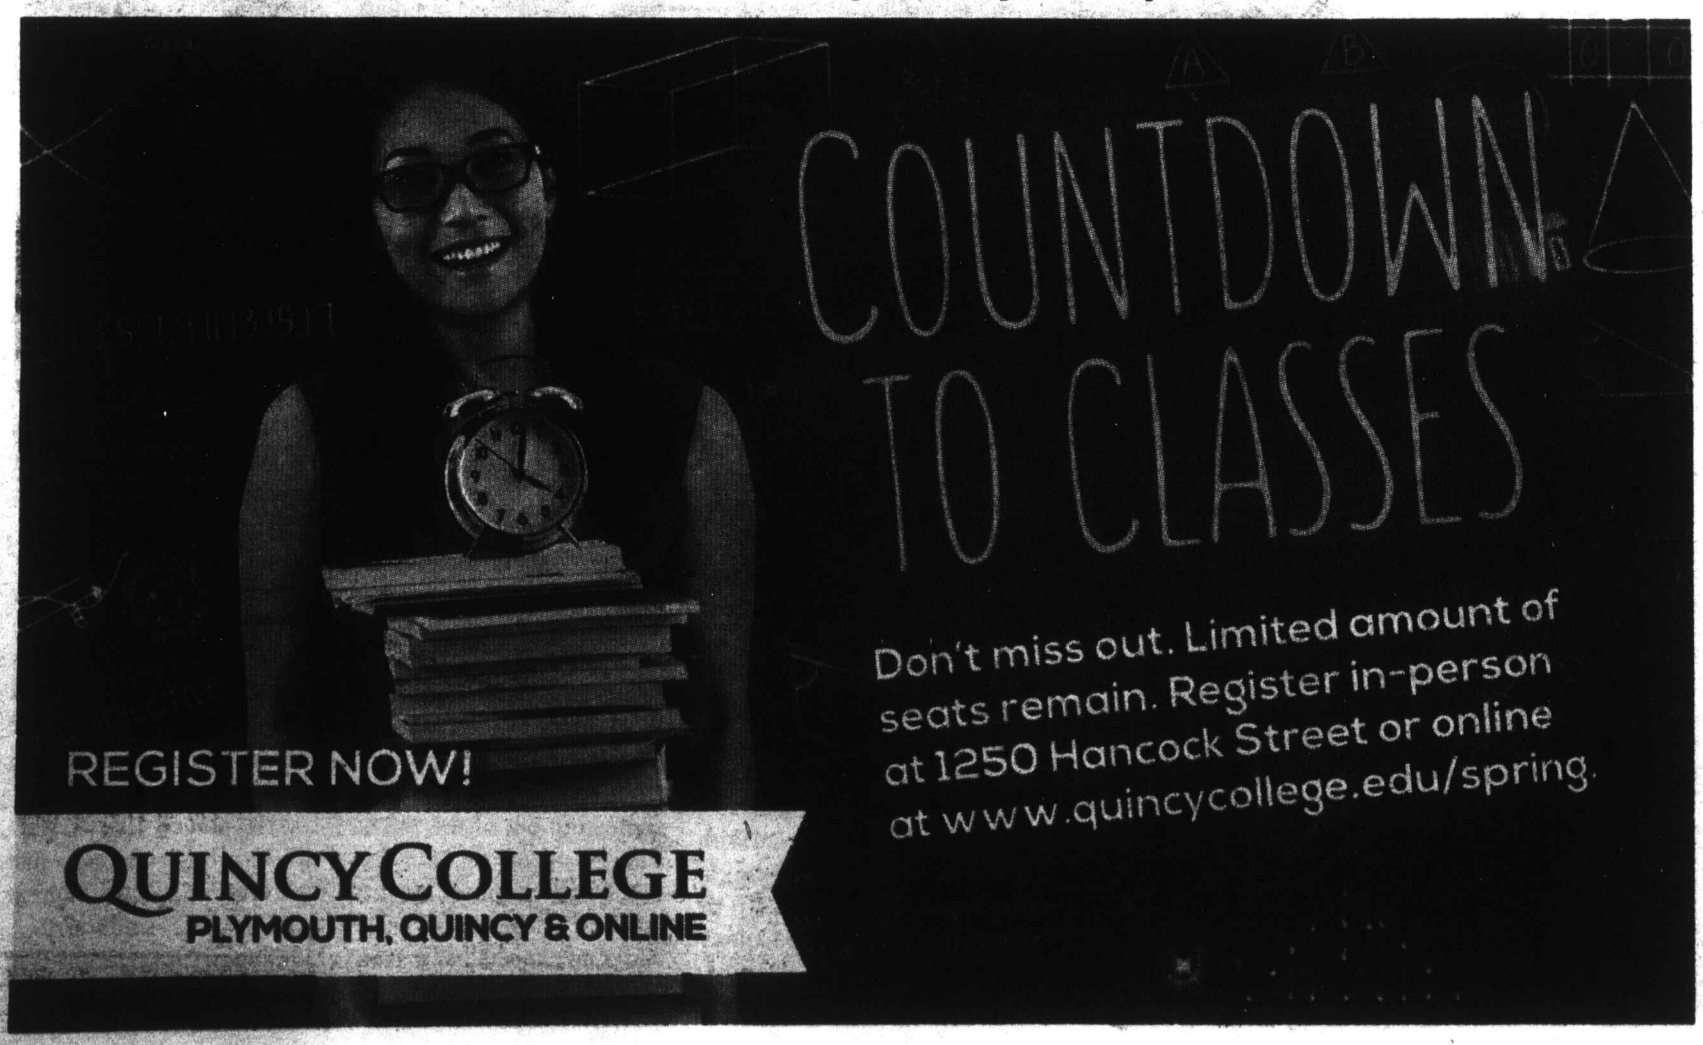
East of Chestnut would include more than 220 residential units – Quincy Mutual pledged to build 400 units between the two projects in November – along with street-level retail. There is no timetable for East of Chestnut currently as the company is focused on West of Chestnut.

"There is no specific timeframe," Moran said of the second project. "We're concentrating on West of Chestnut. Let's get that built and occupied and we'll turn to this side of the street."

While Quincy Mutual is committed to its two projects along Chestnut Street, Briggs said the company would limit itself to those projects and not undertake others in Quincy Center. As an insurance company, he explained, Quincy Mutual generally does not do such projects but made an exception in this case because of the firm's ties to the community it calls home.

"As an insurance company we invest in bonds, stocks, and some real estate. Five percent of our portfolio is in real estate. The real estate we invest in is up and running and established. We might buy an office building that's already built, occupied, and generating rents. We don't do any development," Briggs said.

"The reason we did this development is for the community, really, and because we've been here for so long."



Council Endorses New Bike Plan
Page 9
George Bouchard New Graves Registration Officer - Page 32

2 *CAR-RT LOTC-004
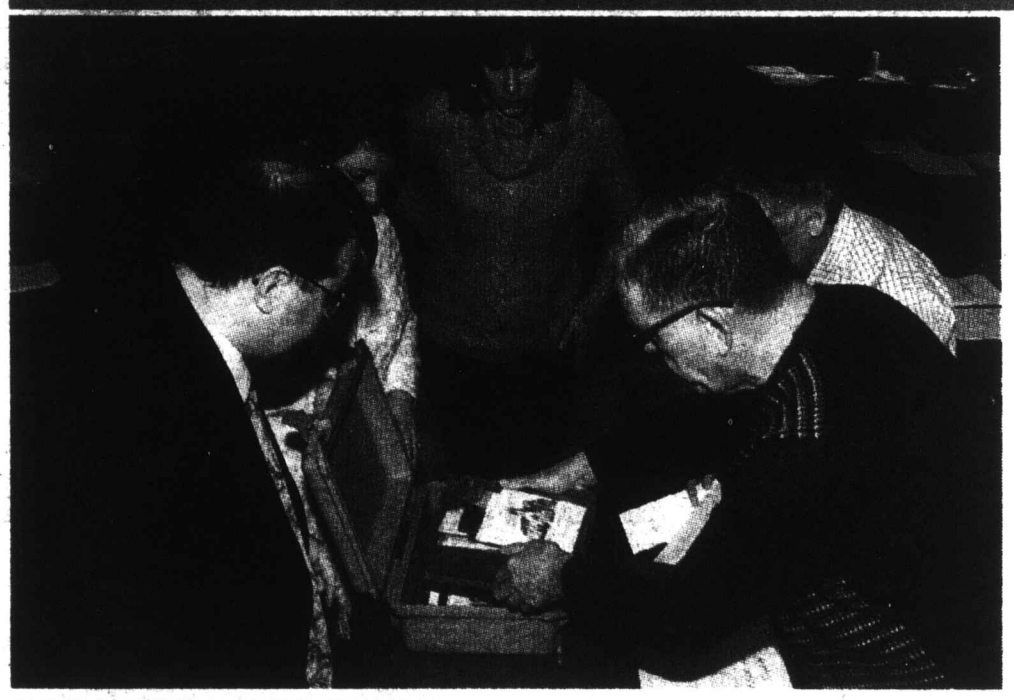
THOMAS CRANE PUBLIC LIBRARY
40 WASHINGTON ST
QUINCY MA 02169-5304

The Quincy Sun

Historic Quincy's Hometown Weekly Newspaper Since 1968

VOL. 47 No. 19 Thursday, January 29, 2015 75¢



FAITH LUTHERAN CHURCH 125th Anniversary Committee member Jack Mayo (right) places artifacts in a time capsule Sunday at the church. Looking on are (clockwise from bottom left): Marcus Hansen, Donna Mayo, Donna Flynn and Jeff Burns. The time capsule - a weather-tight heavy-duty plastic strong box - was placed in a special compartment inside the altar of the church. The capsule will remain in the compartment for 75 years and be opened on the occasion of the 200th anniversary of the church. Quincy Sun Photos/Robert Bosworth

ONE OF THE ITEMS placed in the Faith Lutheran Church time capsule was a U.S. Uncirculated Coin Set (left). Other artifacts included a book of "forever stamps," a tile from the 100th anniversary, a picture of the congregation, church directory, a cookbook and issues of local newspapers including The Quincy Sun. The contents also feature 19th century Swedish coins that were recovered from a time capsule dating back to 1892. That capsule was opened last October.

AFTER THE TIME capsule was filled and sealed, church children passed the capsule to each other as it made its way to the special opening inside the altar. Other photos, story on Pages 14 and 15.

Bregoli: Educate H.S. Students On Dating Violence

School Committeeman Hopes Grants Will Provide More Intense Curriculum

By KRIS KALABOKAS

School committee member and North Quincy High School varsity girls soccer coach Paul Bregoli is hoping grants provided by the Norfolk District Attorney's office will pay for outreach and education programs for the city's high school students regarding dating violence.

Bregoli, who has been with the Quincy Public School system for 34 years, suggested a more intensive curriculum surrounding teen dating violence at a recent meeting of the school committee after hearing about the events that took place during Substance Abuse Awareness Week.

The North Quincy High School and Quincy High School websites link to DOVE (DOmestic Violence Ended) which Bregoli said provides an invaluable service to young adults and adults but more needed to be done in regards to helping teens.

While he applauded the various speakers and programs aimed at preventing adolescent drug use, he said more could be done to combat teen dating violence and abuse.

A former teacher and guidance counselor, Bregoli has reached out to Farah Hill, program director of Norfolk Advocates for Children, hoping to bring valuable resources to Quincy's public schools.

"She's really excited about it," he said.

Contacting Hill has been the starting point for what Bregoli hopes will turn into an educational initiative at both of the city's high schools.

Cont'd On Page 2

Bodyworks Regulations Nearing Approval

By SCOTT JACKSON

A proposal to regulate establishments practicing bodyworks in Quincy will likely be approved during the City Council's next meeting on Feb. 2.

The ordinance, initially submitted to the council by Mayor Thomas Koch on Sept. 22, was proposed to clamp down on the illegal sex trade in the city. The proposed ordinance has been refined over the last four months and cleared a procedural hurdle Jan. 20 when the council's ordinance committee gave it a favorable reccomendation.

The ordinance would require any individual or establishment practicing bodyworks – an umbrella term that includes reflexology and several other types of therapies – to receive a license from the city's Board of License Commissioners. Physicians, acupuncturists, and therapists with state licenses would be exempted from the proposed ordinance. Members of the license board worked

Cont'd On Page 13

City Census Forms In Mail This Week

The city was scheduled to mail out nearly 48,000 census forms this week.

City Clerk Joseph Shea said the census forms are being mailed out at a cost of $25,000. The census information is used to generate a street-by-street listing of residents and to compile jury and voting lists.

The census information is also used for fiscal planning, to help predict school enrollments and to get federal aid and reimbursements.

According to state law, each city and town in Massachusetts must conduct an annual census separate from the federal census.

Sheriff: Beware Of Phone Scam - Page 2
Appetizers To 'Pump Up' Super Bowl Party - Page 8

For more Quincy news, visit:
The Quincy Sun.com

Blizzard Forecast Forces Early Sun Deadline

Due to the forecast for a blizzard Monday night and Tuesday, The Quincy Sun went to press a day early this week on Monday afternoon.

Depending on the severity of the storm, the paper will be distributed and circulated Wednesday or Thursday.

The Quincy Sun office was closed Tuesday and will reopen Wednesday or Thursday.

The National Weather Service forecasted the potential for a historic storm beginning Monday evening and lasting through Wednesday.

Snow emergency parking rules were in place Monday at noon. With a storm of this potential magnitude, parking rules are essential to maintaining road access for emergency vehicles, city officials said.

Parking is prohibited on designated emergency arteries throughout the duration of the snow emergency.

Residents may park on the EVEN numbered side of non-emergency neighborhood streets. Residents on side-streets posted permanently as one-side parking should park on the side always allowed. Cars parked in violation of emergency rules will be towed. For assistance, call the DPW's snow operation hotline at 617-376-1927.

The threat of Hurricane-force winds creates the likelihood of downed power line and power loss. Call National Grid 1-800-465-1212 to report a power loss. For downed lines, call 911, but do not approach the wires under any circumstances.

Coastal residents should be prepared for storm surge and moderate to severe flooding. Residents in these areas should take appropriate precautions, monitor the tide, and leave home if necessary prior to high tides. If you are experiencing a flooding issue please call 617-376-1910. Always call 911 in an emergency.

For updates and emergency notices, tune to Quincy Access Television; follow the City of Quincy's Facebook page or via Twitter @ CityofQuincy. Residents are encouraged to sign-up for e-mail and text alerts via CityLink on the City's website, www.quincyma.gov.

Sheriff Warns Of Phone Scam

Scammers Seek Credit Card Numbers, Payments

Norfolk County Sheriff Michael G. Bellotti is warning the public about scammers who have misrepresented themselves as being from the Sheriff's Office and requested credit card numbers over the phone.

"We would never ask a person to give us their credit card number over the phone," Sheriff Bellotti said.

In recent weeks, the Norfolk Sheriff's Office has received reports of the scammers claiming to be from the Sheriff's Office. Some of them even got software that posted "Norfolk Sheriff's Office" on the caller ID. In some of those cases, the scammers asked potential victims to call them back at a different number.

At other times, scammers have claimed to be from the Internal Revenue Service or other government agencies.

In most of the incidents, local residents who received the calls said the scammers sounded like they spoke with a foreign accent, and investigators say the calls usually are coming from somewhere outside the United States.

"Unfortunately in this information age, these types of scams are not uncommon. It's not hard to obtain phone lists that carry the names of everyone in a household. Unsavory people can sometimes trick folks into thinking they are someone official," Sheriff Bellotti said.

"Don't be fooled. Government agencies almost never request credit card numbers or payments over the phone," Sheriff Bellotti added.

Those who believe they have been contacted by someone in one of these scams should contact, the Norfolk Sheriff's Office at 781-329-3705 or contact local police.

Bregoli: Educate Students On Dating Violence

Cont'd From Page 1

Dating violence is not a problem unique to Quincy, he said, but that doesn't mean that the issue shouldn't be addressed.

He said resources should also be used to cover cyber bullying, cyber stalking, and sexting, which he said he feels is more widespread nowadays due to social media outlets such as Facebook.

"I think it's critical because some of the stuff that goes on happens through Facebook," he said.

Teens may not even be aware of what constitutes abuse, according to Bregoli.

Texting or calling a boyfriend or girlfriend excessively and monitoring their whereabouts is not healthy and can be considered stalking, he said, but kids may not realize that.

He also said he was especially concerned over the NFL's handling of the Ray Rice case. The former Baltimore Ravens running back last year was caught on security footage striking his then fiancé and now wife Janay Palmer, knocking her unconscious and dragging her limp body out of an elevator.

Rice was suspended from the NFL indefinitely but was shortly thereafter reinstated; a move that sends a dangerous message to kids, particularly teen girls, that there are little or no consequences to violent behavior, said Bregoli.

Even more troubling, he said, was the idea that young women could possibly rationalize and accept abusive behavior after seeing how easily Rice was let off the hook.

Hill also expressed her concerns over the Ray Rice incident, he said.

While dating violence happened when he was in high school it was never spoken about or acknowledged and was certainly not an issue addressed by school administrations, he said.

Bregoli hopes to change that.

"I think it's an important topic," he said. "I don't think we've done enough... I think it needs to be a more powerful message."

Quincy should be an example of how the issue can be approached, much like how the city is looked to as an example of how to effectively enforce drug education in schools, he added.

"The more we educate our kids the more it empowers them and makes them stronger people," said Bregoli, who feels most if not all parents with children in the Quincy Public School system and his fellow committee members would support such an initiative.

Educated children, he said, feel safer.

"It's about educating as a whole person," he said.

Merrymount Park Full Moon Stroll Feb. 3

The Park Department's Environmental Treasures program invites the public to a free full moon stroll around Merrymount Park on Tuesday, Feb. 3 at 7 p.m.

Participants should wear appropriate clothing and shoes for walking in snow and bring a flashlight and walking stick or ski pole.

The tour will begin at the Pageant Field parking lot off Merrymount Parkway on Vietnam Veterans Drive. Call 617-472-0799 on Feb. 3 for information about rescheduling if ground conditions hazardous or weather inclement.

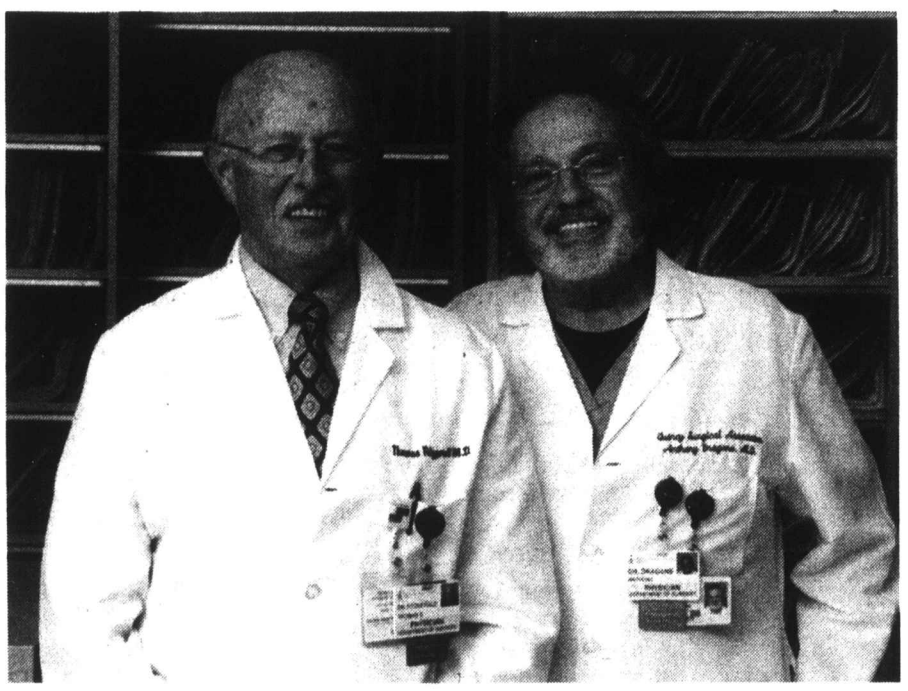
Dance Feb. 13

The Kennedy Center will host a Valentine Dance on Friday, Feb. 13th from 1 to to 3 p.m.

The event will feature Olde Kids on the Block and light refreshments. Tickets are available at the Kennedy Center, 440 East Squantum St., Quincy. Suggested donation is $7 per person.

For more information, call (617) 376-1506.

Quincy Surgical Associates, Inc.
700 Congress Street Suite 304
Quincy, MA 02169
(617)479-7333



Thomas E. Fitzgerald, M.D. • Anthony J. Dragone, M.D.

General Surgery Vascular Surgery
Wound Care

Beth Israel Deaconess Hospital Milton
Carney Hospital A Steward Family Hospital

Continuing to serve the community

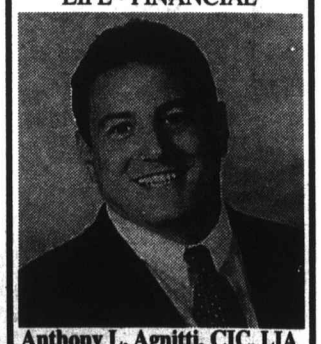
Coffee Break CAFE EAT. DRINK. CAFFEINATE. LOCAL

JANUARY
FLAVOR OF THE MONTH

White Chocolate Nut Crunch

12 Old Colony Avenue, Quincy: (617) 773-9420
77 Parkingway, Quincy:(617) 786-8888
247 Atlantic Street, Quincy:(617) 328-8090
Buy Online: coffeebreakcafe.net

AGNITTI INSURANCE
HOME • AUTO • BUSINESS
LIFE • FINANCIAL



Anthony L. Agnitti, CIC, LIA
Certified Insurance Counselor
Licensed Insurance Advisor
CALL FOR A QUOTE ON PROPER INSURANCE COVERAGE AT COMPETITIVE PRICES!
ASK ABOUT OUR AUTO AND HOMEOWNER INSURANCE DISCOUNT PROGRAMS
24-Hour Emergency Access
770-0123
21 FRANKLIN ST., QUINCY

New Flood Maps Available Mid-March

By SCOTT JACKSON

The Federal Emergency Management Agency has until the middle of March to begin advertising revised flood maps for Quincy following the agency's decision to change the maps at the city's request.

The City Council will then be required to vote on the revised maps later this summer.

Joseph D. Shea, a senior vice president at Woodard & Curran, provided the council with a list of steps Quincy and FEMA will take in the coming months relative to the new maps. Shea's firm, working with the city's Engineering Department, filed a letter of map revision (LOMR) in June 2014 to challenge the flood maps the day after they took effect.

Had the city's LOMR been unsuccessful, some 1,400 properties would have been placed in flood plains and another 2,700 previously in flood plains would have been placed in higher risk zones, which carry higher premiums. Homeowners with federally backed mortgages are required to purchase flood insurance if their house is in a flood zone. As a result of the city's LOMR, Shea stated between 550 and 650 properties would be removed from flood plains and 1,200 to 1,300 will be placed into lower risk zones.

On Jan. 13, FEMA notified Quincy that it had accepted the letter of map revision. That triggered a 60-day period in which the federal agency will use the city's data to compile corrected maps. Those maps will be advertised beginning in the middle of March.

"In FEMA's world, it's not just taking the data from the appeal and putting it on maps and shading it blue. They have a flood insurance study to update and a number of model and map panels to update for them to truly have completed their process," Shea explained during the Jan. 20 council meeting.

"I don't want anyone to think it's just taking some drawings and superimposing them on old drawings. There is quite a bit of work to be done – many steps to be taken very quickly."

The public will have 120 days to comment on the new maps after they FEMA begins advertising them in March. After the 120-day public comment period ends, the council will need to accept the corrected maps.

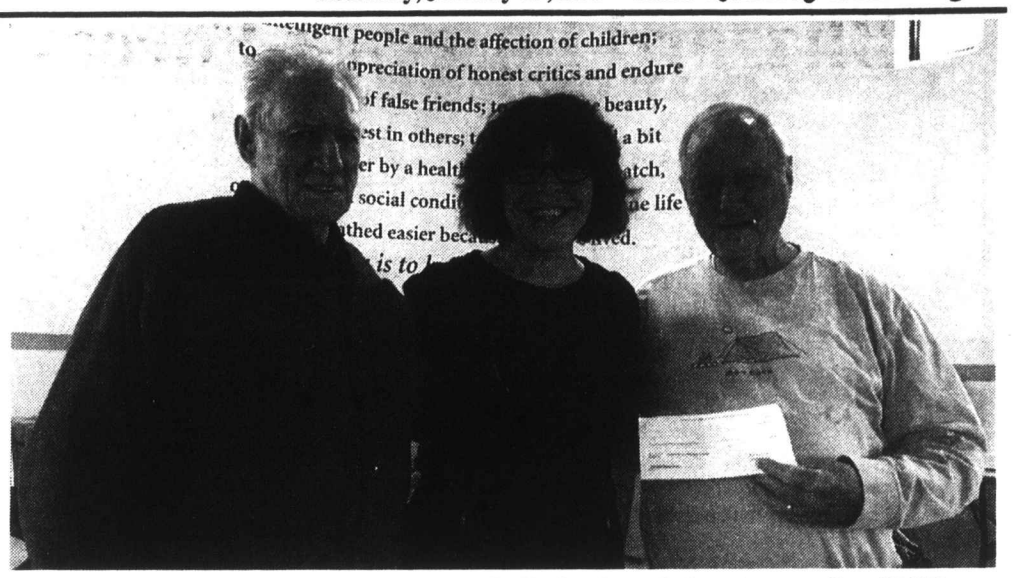
Ward 1 Councillor Margaret Laforest, who represents coastal areas in Merrymount, Germantown, and Houghs Neck, called FEMA's decision terrific news for the city. She also noted FEMA's response to the letter of map revision wasn't expected for several more months.

"I'm glad they're doing such a quick turnaround," Laforest said. "I hope they understood how seriously the city of Quincy has taken this. It has a tremendous impact on our community."

The city will begin sending letters to property owners impacted by the appeal in the coming weeks; neighborhood specific letters about the LOMR will be sent out as well. The revised map will be posted on the city's website after FEMA makes it available.

Shea said homeowners impacted by the letter of map revision should contact their flood insurance providers once receiving notice from the city. Chris Walker, spokesman for the mayor, noted after the meeting that homeowners whose properties have been removed from the flood plain are eligible to have their flood insur-

Cont'd On Page 13



A RECENT FUNDRAISER was held by the Kelly family and donations totaling $9,000 were made to Meagan's Place, the food pantry at the Germantown Neighborhood Center/SSYMCA, Quincy Community Action Programs as well as a food pantry in Jamaica. Here Jack Kelly (left) and his brother, former Ward 1 Councillor Leo Kelly (right) present a $2,000 donation to Germantown Neighborhood Center Director Kathy Quigley. Photo Courtesy Melissa Daley

Kelly Family Fundraiser Benefits Local, International Food Pantries

Former Ward 1 Councillor Leo Kelly, along with his brother, Jack Kelly, recently held a fundraiser in memory of John "Ras" Kelly - Leo's nephew and Jack's son.

Donations totaling $9,000 were divided between three organizations. It was important to the Kelly family that local efforts to combat food insecurity be represented. In this spirit, Meagan's Place, the food pantry at the Germantown Neighborhood Center/SSYMCA in Quincy and Quincy Community Action Programs (QCAP) each received donations of $2,000.

John "Ras" Kelly was a frequent visitor to Jamaica and greatly appreciated the beauty and culture of the island. To further celebrate his spirit, the Kelly Brothers donated $5,000 to a food pantry in Jamaica.

"We want to sincerely thank the Kelly Family for their generosity to Meagan's Place," said Kathy Quigley, Executive Director of the Germantown Neighborhood Center. "This contribution will help to serve many families in Quincy."

Reliable Tax Service
518 Hancock Street, Quincy
(617)773-7360
www.reliabletaxservice.com

10% Discount (new clients only)

Individual Income Tax $65 up
Corporate Income Tax $350 up

Experienced IRS Enrolled Agent

Ask the GEMOLOGIST
BY JEFFREY M. BERTMAN
GRADUATE GEMOLOGIST

COIN JEWELRY

Coins and fine jewelry have a natural affinity since they are both intrinsically valuable and made from metal. Thus, it should come as no surprise that coin jewelry has been around since the time that coins were invented. Egyptian soldiers were known to decorate their armor with coins that they had confiscated from conquered lands. Today, in addition to collecting coins from foreign countries that they have visited, people have cherished gold or silver pieces that have been passed down to them from their parents and grandparents. These coins can be worn with pride when incorporated into custom-designed rings, pendants, brooches, and necklaces. Coin jewelry can usually be relied upon to capture the eye and spur a conversation.

Coin jewelry makes a unique gift for those who appreciate the splendor of history. Select the perfect jewelry to suit your taste at our store at 1402 Hancock St. in Quincy Center. We are a full service jewelry store and are happy to handle custom orders. Our prices have always been more than competitive with no fake markups in order to offer huge discounts. Here you will find a wonderful selection of bracelets, brooches, rings, necklaces, pendants, and watches. For more information, please call 617-773-3636.

Don't Forget: We pay cash for Gold - Platinum - Diamonds... highest prices paid.

Rogers Diamonds...Watches...Jewelry www.rogersjewelry.com

A better way to get money from your house

A good idea ... from Colonial Federal Savings Bank

You have a house with lots of equity. Good cash flow. Investments you don't want to touch right now. And you have something you want money for. What's the best way to get it? How about a 15-Year refinance from Colonial Federal? With fixed monthly payments, it's more predictable than an adjustable-rate home equity line. Way less expensive than credit cards. And you'll have it all paid off in 15 short years ... quicker if you make extra payments along the way.

Would a 15-Year refinance be good for you? Call Angela Blanchard, VP/Retail Lending, at 617-471-0750 or apply online at colonialfed.com.

15-YEAR FIXED
NO POINTS!
3.39% APR

COLONIAL FEDERAL SAVINGS BANK
"Your neighborhood bank!"

QUINCY: 15 Beach Street 617-471-0750 • 1000 Southern Artery (Residents only) 617-479-1430
HOLBROOK: 802 South Franklin Street 781-767-1776
EAST WEYMOUTH: Middle & Washington Streets 781-331-1776
ONLINE: www.colonialfed.com

Some additional facts: Annual Percentage Rate (APR) effective as of 01/21/15 and may change. Applies to 1-2 family owner-occupied homes. Assumes a maximum 80% loan-to-value and first mortgage position. Subject to credit approval. A 15-Year Loan would be repaid in 180 equal monthly principal plus interest payments of $7.03 per $1000 borrowed, which do not include taxes or insurance premiums, if applicable. So your actual monthly payment will be greater.

EQUAL HOUSING LENDER
Insured FDIC

The Quincy Sun

(USPS 453-060)
Published Weekly on Thursday by
The Quincy Sun Publishing Co., Inc.
1372 Hancock St., Quincy, MA 02169

Robert H. Bosworth
Publisher and Editor

Henry W. Bosworth, Jr.
Founder
1968 - 2009

75¢ per copy newsstand • $27 per year by mail in Quincy
$32 per year by mail outside Quincy • $40 out-of-state

Telephone: 617-471-3100 Fax: 617-472-3963

online at: www.thequincysun.com

email address: thequincysun@verizon.net

rbosworth@thequincysun.com

Periodicals postage paid at Boston, MA
Postmaster Send address change to:
The Quincy Sun, 1372 Hancock St., Quincy, MA 02169

The Quincy Sun assumes no financial responsibility for typographical errors in advertisements but will reprint that part of an advertisement in which the typographical error occurs.

Moments in time

THE HISTORY CHANNEL.

• On Feb. 10, 1763, The Seven Years' War, known as the French and Indian War, ends with the signing of the Treaty of Paris by France, Great Britain and Spain. France lost all claims to Canada and gave Louisiana to Spain, while Britain received Spanish Florida, Upper Canada and various French holdings overseas.

• On Feb. 11, 1805, Sacagawea, the Shoshone Indian interpreter and guide to the Lewis and Clark expedition, gives birth to her first child, Jean Baptiste Charbonneau, two months before the trek begins. The baby, nicknamed Pompey, went on the expedition, carried on his mother's back. Clark paid for Pompey's education when the boy grew up.

• On Feb. 14, 1842, fans of Charles Dickens organize the Boz Ball, an elite party for the celebrated English writer during his first trip to America. (Dickens' earliest works had been published under the pseudonym Boz.) Only members of New York's aristocracy were invited.

• On Feb. 15, 1903, toy-store owner and inventor Morris Michtom places two stuffed bears in his shop window in Brooklyn, advertising them as Teddy bears. Michtom had earlier petitioned President Theodore Roosevelt for permission to use his nickname, Teddy. The president agreed.

• On Feb. 12, 1938, best-selling author Judy Blume, known for her children's books and young-adult novels, including "Tales of a Fourth Grade Nothing" and "Are You There God? It's Me, Margaret," is born in Elizabeth, New Jersey. Blume's books have been beloved by several generations of readers.

• On Feb. 9, 1960, Adolph Coors disappears while driving to work from his Morrison, Colorado, home. The grandson of the Coors' founder and chairman of the Golden, Colorado, brewery was kidnapped and held for ransom before being shot to death.

• On Feb. 13, 1991, Sotheby's announces the discovery of a long-lost manuscript of "Huckleberry Finn" by Mark Twain. The manuscript was the first half of Twain's original version, heavily corrected in his handwriting, which had been missing for more than a century.

(c) 2015 King Features Synd., Inc.

Social Security Expanding Hours

Social Security offices will be open to the public for an additional hour on Mondays, Tuesdays, Thursdays and Fridays, effective March 16.

A field office is located at 1250 Hancock St., Suite 210N, Quincy Center.

A field office that is usually open from 9 a.m. to 3 p.m. will remain open until 4 p.m. Offices will continue to close to the public at noon Wednesdays so employees have time to complete current work and reduce backlogs.

Most Social Security business does not require a visit to a local field office. Many services, including applying for retirement, disability and Medicare benefits or reporting a change of address or telephone number are available anytime at www.socialsecurity.gov.

Social Security also offers assistance - 1-800-772-1213 (Voice) and 1-800-325-0778 (TTY).

Son Beams

By ROBERT BOSWORTH

Campaign Finance Accounts

It probably came as no surprise that Mayor Thomas Koch – who will seek a fifth term this fall – has a sizeable lead over his two opponents in the race for political dollars.

Koch's been able to raise hundreds of thousands of dollars since his first successful campaign for mayor in 2007. For example, in 2009, he raised $325,805 in a rematch with former Mayor William Phelan. And last year, he raised more than $216,090 – in an off city-election year.

According to finance campaign reports filed last Tuesday, Koch's campaign "war chest" has a balance of $137,937. That's about $103,000 more than his two opponents combined. Councillor Doug Gutro and School Committeewoman Anne Mahoney – who jumped in the mayor's race two weeks ago - listed balances of $21,335 and $13,502 respectively.

Campaign finance report filings are anticipated by political candidates and interested voters. They list how much money candidates raise, how much they spend, how much cash they have available and who contributes to their campaigns.

Some political observers consider the reports a barometer of a candidate's support and how they may fare at the ballot box on Election Day. Incumbents who raise significantly more than their challengers are considered frontrunners and political "Goliaths." Challengers who collect big bucks from supporters are hailed as election "Davids" and may signal an upset at the ballot box.

For the past several years, mayoral candidates in Quincy have filed their reports with the state and not the City Clerk's Office. That's because Quincy is a municipality of more than 50,000 residents. The mayoral campaign reports can be accessed by visiting the Office of Campaign and Political Finance (OCPF) website. That's where you'll find Koch's report.

Gutro and Mahoney – on the other hand – because they previously were organized to run for city council and school committee – filed at the City Clerk's office Jan. 20. Those reports can be accessed via the City of Quincy website (City Clerk page, Election Department.)

But beginning next month, Gutro and Mahoney will join Koch and file with the OCPF. All deposits and expenditures by the mayoral candidates will be updated monthly. That will give political watchers a real window to see how the candidates are doing in the fundraising department.

This new system is quite a departure from the other method. In the old days, candidates could wait until eight days before a preliminary election or final election before filing their reports.

New this year is the fact that all city council candidates in Quincy will also have to file with the OCPF – not with the City Election Department. School Committee candidates will continue to file reports with the city's Election Department, but City Clerk Joseph Shea said he believes the school candidates will some day be switched over to OCPF as well. But not this election year.

The city council candidates filed their last reports with the City Clerk's office Jan. 20. Like the mayoral candidates, they too will be part of the OCPF reporting system starting next month.

Another change worth noting: under the new campaign finance law, individuals will be able to contribute a maximum of $1,000 per candidate per year. That is double from the previous maximum of $500 per candidate per year. Some believe this will help incumbents more than challengers. But it could also help challengers raise much needed cash down the home stretch of an election with fewer contributors than before.

Here's a run-down of the candidates' "balance sheets" according to the Jan. 20 filings. The reporting period is Jan. 1, 2014 to Dec. 31, 2014. Reports for the city councillors and school committee members can be accessed at the City of Quincy's website but next month, mayor and city council candidates will file with the OCPF.

Koch had a balance of $45,690 from his previous report. He raised $216,090 and spent $261,780 for an ending balance of $137,937.

Gutro had a balance of $1,835 from his previous report. He raised $27,530 and spent $8,029 for an ending balance of $21,335.

Mahoney: previous balance of $270. She raised $19,350 and spent $6,119 for an ending balance of $13,502. She also listed $8,126 in liabilities – three loans to her campaign totaling $6,388.24; $1,537 to Cambridge Offset and Printing for signs and printing; $200 to Graeber, Davis & Cantwell at 15 Cottage Ave. for rent and phones.

Councillor at-Large Joe Finn: previous balance of $9,395. He raised $1,425 and spend $5,430 for an ending balance of $5,389. Finn is undecided about seeking re-election this fall.

Councillor at-Large Michael McFarland: previous balance of $10,971. He raised $26,456 and spent $6,558 for an ending balance of $30,869. McFarland says he will seek re-election this fall.

Ward 1 Councillor Margaret Laforest: previous balance of $5,492. She raised $13,281 and spent $5,568 for an ending balance of $13,204. Laforest is considered a possible councillor at-large candidate if she doesn't seek re-election in Ward 1.

Ward 2 Councillor Brad Croall: previous balance of $23,475. He raised $17,650 and spent $2,193 for an ending balance of $38,931. Croall is seeking re-election.

Ward 3 Councillor Kevin Coughlin: previous balance $2,129. He raised $3,915 and spent $3,789 for an ending balance of $2,344. Coughlin is seeking re-election.

Ward 4 Councillor Brian Palmucci: previous balance $85,145. He raised $26,876 and spent $5,515 for an ending balance of $106,307. Palmucci is seeking re-election.

Ward 5 Councillor Kirsten Hughes: previous balance of $12,060.96. She raised $3,400 and spent $4,180 for an ending balance of $11,280. Hughes is seeking re-election.

Ward 6 Councillor Brian McNamee: previous balance $217. He raised $267 and spent $30 for an ending balance of $237. He also listed $1,950 in liabilities (four loans to his campaign.) McNamee is seeking re-election.

School Committeeman David McCarthy: previous balance $9,603. He raised $9,220 and spent $3,069 for an ending balance of $15,754. McCarthy is running for councillor at-large. His school committee seat will be open in the fall election.

School Committeeman Paul Bregoli: previous balance $1,347. He raised $200 and spent $99 for an ending balance of $1,448. Bregoli is seeking re-election this fall.

School Committeewoman Kathy Hubley: previous balance of $1,181. She raised $565 and spent $830 for an ending balance of $915. She also listed $1,505 in liabilities (two loans to her campaign.) Hubley is seeking re-election this fall.

School Committeewoman Barbara Isola: previous balance of $978. Reported no money raised and spent $219 for an ending balance of $759. Isola is in the second year of a four-year term and is not on the ballot this fall.

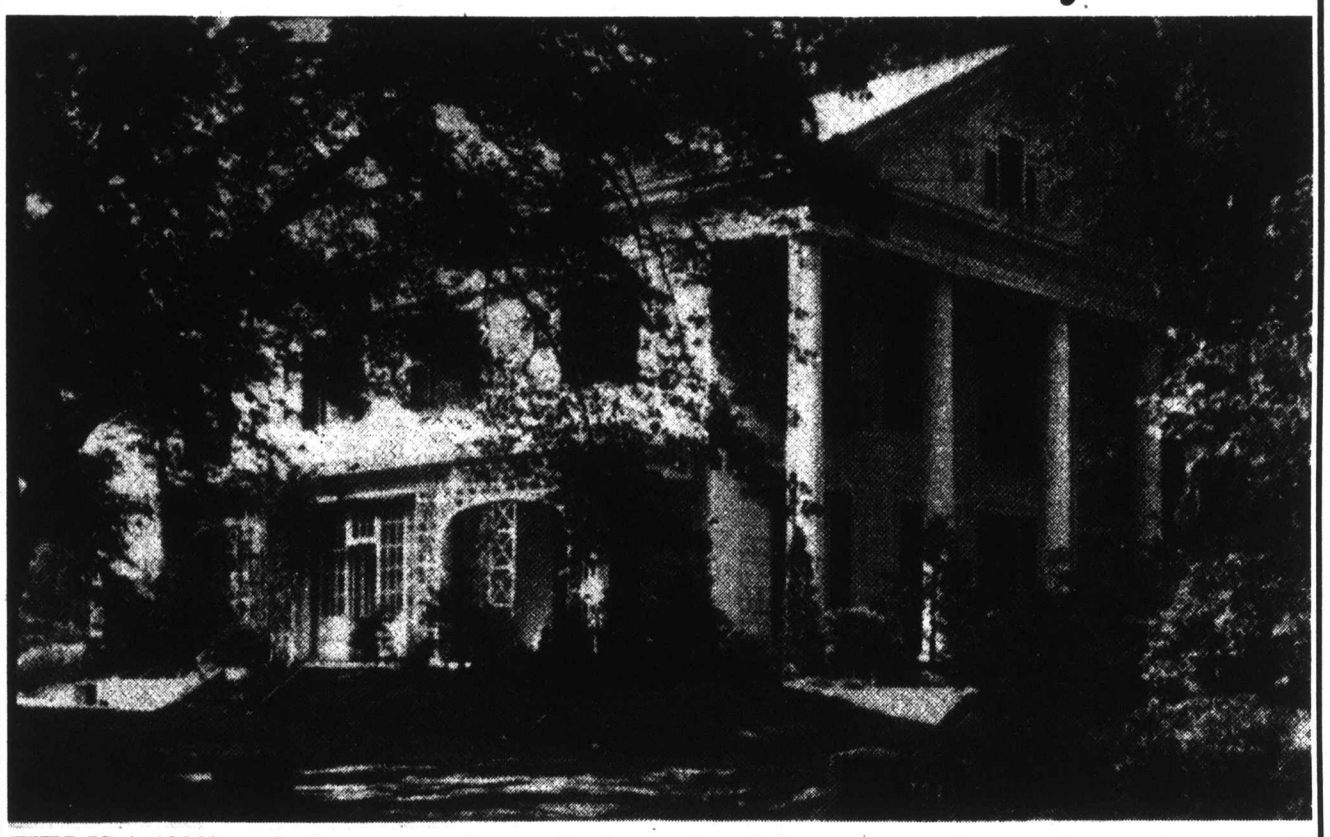
School Committeeman Noel DiBona: previous balance $411. He raised $2,490 and spent $1,451 for an ending balance of $1,450. He also listed $1,400 in outstanding liabilities (two loans to his campaign.) DiBona is considering a run for councillor at-large. He is in the second year of a four-year term and is not on the ballot for school committee this fall.

John McCone, of 111 Darrow St., may seek the Ward 1 council seat. He has organized a campaign committee and reported $530 in receipts and no expenditures.

James Connors of 124 Martensen St. listed himself as a Ward 2 city council candidate. He has organized a campaign committee and raised $2,400 and spent $549 for an ending balance of $1,850.

Former Ward 2 Councillor Dan Raymondi – now the city's DPW commissioner – listed a previous balance of $174,224. He raised $3,428 and spent $4,450 for an ending balance of $173,200. The fact that Raymondi has retained an active campaign committee account fuels speculation that he may run for office again someday – perhaps mayor.

Scenes From Yesterday



THIS IS A 1930's real photo postcard reproduction showing the estate of Quincy Mayor Perley E. Barbour at 176 Adams St. across from the Adams Mansion (Old House). The three-acre lot was part of John Quincy Adams's farm when purchased in 1837 by a wealthy Boston merchant who built this 15-room house as a summer residence. He later lived here year round. Barbour was the fifth owner and lived here with his wife for 40 years. He was perhaps Quincy's wealthiest mayor and wanted to serve only one term in 1925 during Quincy's tercentenary celebration. He was president of the Barbour Welting Company, a major manufacturer in Brockton's shoe industry and he was president of several other businesses including the Quincy Trust Company and the Quincy Evening News. Hew founded the newspaper because of his displeasure with Quincy's other daily newspaper. Barbour had a wide range of interests: he served on government boards during both World Wars; he was president of the Quincy Council of Boy Scouts; a 32nd degree Mason, a member of the New York Yale Club and golf clubs locally and on the Cape where he had a summer home. After his wife died he moved to his son's home for the aged. Meanwhile, Quincy's Mayor Della Chiesa was trying to get the Commonwealth to buy it to be used as the Governor's permanent mansion. Neither plan succeeded because the 122-year-old house was destroyed by a disastrous fire in October 1959 and then the lot was subdivided. Barbour died in 1964 at the age of 84. To contact Tom Galvin, e-mail tmgalvin@verizon.net.

From the Collection of City Historian Tom Galvin

Quincy's Yesterdays

This Week
1975
40 Years Ago

Hannon Has Close Lead in Sun Poll

A Quincy Sun mayoralty voter preference poll shows Mayor Walter Hannon nosing out Senator - Council President Arthur Tobin by a hairline 1.5 percent margin and leading Councillor Joseph LaRaia by 8.5 percent.

Grace Saphire was behind by 14 percent and Rep. William Delahunt trailed Hannon by 22 percent.

Two hundred Quincy voters were queried in The Sun's random "man on the street" poll.

(Editor's Note: LaRaia and Saphire would challenge Hannon in the preliminary election Sept. 23. Some 21,986 voters went to the polls and nominated Hannon (10,403 votes) and LaRaia (8,492 votes). Saphir (2,710 votes) and a fourth candidate - Michael Jovanovic (170 votes) were eliminated. LaRaia would go on to defeat Hannon in the final election six weeks later after a recount reversed Hannon's slim 134-vote victory on Election Night Nov. 5. The final tally gave LaRaia 17,321 votes to Hannon's 16,748 votes - a margin of 483. Voter turnout was 71.3 percent - or 34,374 voters.)

GENERAL DYNAMICS WINS $6.8 MILLION REPAIR CONTRACT

General Dynamics Quincy shipyard won a $6.8 million contract to repair and overhaul the U.S.S. Raleigh, a helicopter landing drydock vessel. The contract represents 400 jobs for the six month overhaul.

COUNCIL OK'S $100,000 FOR NQHS ADDITION

In a special two-hour meeting the city council unanimously voted to appropriate $100,000 for additions and renovations at North Quincy High School.

The Council also voted by a seven to one margin, Councillor LaRaia dissenting, to hold a public hearing on March 10 on proposed landtakings on Hunt and Oliver Streets for the additions to the school.

HANNON TO DISCUSS DOWNTOWN FUTURE

Mayor Hannon will discuss downtown Quincy's future at the annual membership meeting of the Quincy Center Business and Professional Assn., Feb. 5.

Hannon's subject will be "Quincy Center in 1975- A Forecast," John Graham, executive director of Quincy Heritage will outline "planned promotional activities for 1975."

QUINCY-ISMS

Mayor Hannon and Rotary Club President Philip Lawrence announced that the Rotary Club had donated a new freezer to the municipal Hot Meals Program... Walter H. Carroll, past grand knight of the Knights of Columbus, Quincy Council, was honored for his service to the K of C at a testimonial dinner held at the Neighborhood Club. Carroll has been a member of the Council since 1934... Mr. and Mrs. Kevin Cotter, 24 Rawson Rd., Wollaston, welcomed a new daughter into their family... Eileen O'Malley, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William V. O'Malley, 78 Andrews Rd., Wollaston, was the guest speaker at ceremonies when the Fontbonne Academy Class of 1976 received their class rings. Miss O'Malley was the president of the student body... Gerald Weidmann was the chairperson of a committee planning a Luau for the St. Ann's Marianns of Wollaston. The event is to be held at St. Ann's School auditorium... Atty. David Kenefick and Asst. Dist. Atty. John P. Connor were guest speakers at the January meeting of the Norfolk County Legal Secretaries Association. Their topic: "persecution prosecution,"... The Quincy High School marching band won top high school honors in the Quincy Festival Parade. Michael Cahill, band director, received the $200 first prize on behalf of the band members... Navy Lt. (LG) Christopher J. Sterritt, son of Mr. and Mrs. Frederic Sterritt, 844 East Squantum St., North Quincy, graduated from the Military Justice Lawyer Course at the Navy Justice School, Newport RI... Marine Gunnery Sgt. Stanley Rawson Jr., Essex Street, Squantum, re-enlisted in the Marine Corps for four years. He is a 1961 graduate of North Quincy High School... Lawrence H. Babin, director of the Quincy Vocational Technical School, announced that six members of the senior class were participating in an on-the-job training program with the Pneumatic Scale Corporation of North Quincy. They are William Fitzgerald, Steve Giggey, Steve Gould, John Hanratty, Kevin O'Malley and Mike Salverio... Airman First Class Timothy E. Lynch, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Timothy E. Lynch, Sr., 29 South Bayfield Rd., North Quincy, has reported for duty at Vance Air Force Base, Okla... Plans were underway by the Beth Israel Brotherhood of Beth Israel Synagogue to honor the Quincy Fire Dept. President of the Brotherhood. Irving Isaacson heads the committee planning the Feb. 16 award breakfast.

Readers Forum

Town Brook Smelt Monitoring Meeting Feb. 25

Every Spring for centuries the smelt have been returning to the Town Brook in downtown Quincy to spawn and lay their eggs.

In the springs of 2011 and 2012, members of both the Quincy Environmental Network and the Wollaston Garden Club counted hundreds of smelt. In the spring of 2013 none of these same volunteers saw any fish at all; and last year seven fish were observed with an underwater camera by a volunteer - the City of Quincy and MA Department of Fisheries reported seeing some egg casings in the brook. All in all 2014 was considered a very poor year for smelt spawning in Town Brook.

This spring it has been decided to recruit volunteers again to observe smelt, and formally log the fish count data. The good news would be that the "Town Brook Enhancement" project finally returns smelt numbers back to normal.

Quincy Environmental Network (QEN) and Wollaston Garden Club Conservation Committee members will be conducting a program in the Community Room (Atrium Level) at the Thomas Crane Library on Wednesday, Feb. 25 at 7 p.m. to help the community learn more about smelt and to enlist fish count volunteers.

At this meeting, volunteers (citizen-scientists) will be assigned a time and location to look for and document smelt in the brook beginning March 1 through April 30. Stream Team organizers have developed the protocols and data collection format for this project with the advice and support from local watershed associations and the MA Department of Marine Fisheries.

You can find more information about the Stream Team data log and other pertinent Town Brook information at www.townbrook.org.

If you, or your group, are interested and can donate approximately 15 minutes per week to look for smelt in the brook, then join the Town Brook Stream Team on February 25th to learn about the best times, and procedures to find and document fish.

If you can't volunteer, then come anyway to learn more about the smelt and this fascinating ecosystem running from Braintree Dam to Town River, right here in Quincy, called the Town Brook.

Pat Artis
Quincy

Time For A Change?

The election for Quincy mayor is this year. And this year is the first time we'll be electing a mayor for a 4-year term.

Think about that.

Do you want to continue with the present administration for 4 more years? Or is it time for a change, and have a fresh start, with new ideas and perspectives?

So far, you have three viable candidates in Mayor Tom Koch, Councilor Doug Gutro, and School Committee member Anne Mahoney.

Think about that.

Are you comfortable with the status quo? Or do you want new energy and new possibilities to lead your city?

Think about that. And vote for what you think is best for Quincy for the next 4 years.

Gene Lee
Putnam Street
Quincy

SUBSCRIPTION FORM

FILL OUT THIS SUBSCRIPTION BLANK AND MAIL TO

The Quincy Sun

Historic Quincy's Hometown Weekly Newspaper Since 1968

1372 HANCOCK STREET, QUINCY, MA 02169

NAME _____

STREET _____

CITY _____ STATE _____ ZIP _____

CHECK ONE BOX IN EACH COLUMN

[ ] 1 YEAR IN QUINCY	$27.00
[ ] 1 YEAR OUTSIDE QUINCY	$32.00	[ ] CHECK ENCLOSED
[ ] 1 YEAR OUT OF STATE	$40.00

Arts & Entertainment

ENC To Present Original Play On Women Of The Bible Feb. 19-21

The Eastern Nazarene College Theatre Department will present an original play exploring women of the Bible Feb. 19-21 at 7:30 p.m. in the Cove Fine Arts Center on the college's main Quincy campus.

"The Bible Women's Project" explores the women of the Old and New Testaments as seen through the eyes of female ENC students. Written and directed by Tara Brooke Watkins, the play uses scenes, monologues, dance and song to compare contemporary women's stories with those of women in the Bible.

"All the contemporary stories in the play are true and all of the dances and songs are completely original," Watkins said. "The final product has become a story about today's young Christian women learning about the women from the Bible."

To create the play, Watkins said, female students met twice a week for four hours at a time to share and discuss stories of women from the Bible. Each woman would read a story, then ask the group questions.

"The woman presenting the Bible story each week shared what she got out of the story personally and what questions it raised for her," Watkins said. "After the stories were shared, theatre activities were performed as a way to respond to the work, and scenes and sketches were created."

In some cases, she noted, the play presents Bible stories in a contemporary context: For example, the story of Esther is depicted through a modern-day beauty pageant. Other Bible stories deal with more serious issues.

"Women in the Bible dealt with rape, murder, prostitution and rejection," said Watkins, who noted that for this reason the play is not recommended for children. "To talk about these issues meant the women had to go into some dark corners and discuss subjects that can be hard to hear. But that's why they need to be told."

Eastern Nazarene College is located at 23 E. Elm Ave. in Quincy. Tickets for The Bible Women's Project are $10 general admission, $8 students and seniors.

For tickets or more information, call the ENC box office at 617-745-3715 or visit www.brownpapertick- ets.com.

EASTERN NAZARENE COLLEGE Theatre Department will present an original play exploring women of the Bible Feb. 19-21 at 7:30 p.m. in the Cove Fine Arts Center on the college's main Quincy campus. Photo Courtesy ENC

Children's Events At Thomas Crane Library In February

By JULIE RINES
Thomas Crane Library

The following programs and activities for children are scheduled during February at the Thomas Crane Public Library:

Winter Storytimes

Weekday storytimes for children ages 4 months through 5 years old begin on Friday, Jan. 30th. The library offers several programs by age. Stop by the library or check our website thomascranelibrary.org for details.

Music and Movement with Rubi

On Saturday, Feb. 7 at 10 a.m. sing and dance with Rubi Lichauco. Rubi brings her popular preschool program to Quincy so put on your favorite dancing shoes and join us for this lively mix of music and movement for children ages 0-4 accompanied by an adult. No registration is required. This program is sponsored by the Friends of the Thomas Crane Public Library.

Book Clubs for Kids

Do you like to read? Would you like to talk to others about books? Then you will like our book discussion groups. Join us each month to discuss all kinds of books.

The Night Owls Book Club for children in grades 3 and 4 meets on the 2nd Monday of each month. This month we will be meeting on Monday, Feb. 9th at 6:30 p.m.

This month we will be reading Hatchet by Gary Paulsen and watching a movie based on the book. Thirteen-year-old Brian Robeson is on his way to visit his father when the single-engine plane in which he is flying crashes. Suddenly, Brian finds himself alone in the Canadian wilderness with nothing but a tattered Windbreaker and the hatchet his mother gave him as a present—and the dreadful secret that has been tearing him apart since his parent's divorce. But now Brian has no time for anger, self pity, or despair—it will take all his know-how and determination, and more courage than he knew he possessed, to survive.

The Phoenix Book Club for children in grades 5-8 meets on the second Tuesday of each month to discuss a variety of books. The Club will meet on Tuesday, Feb. 10th at 7 p.m. at the Main Library.

This month we will be discussing Award Winners.

Each year the American Library Association gives out many different awards to authors and illustrators. The most well-known children's literature awards are the Newbery and Caldecott medals, but those aren't the only ones. This month we'll be reading books that have won the Newbery, Caldecott, Coretta Scott King, Batchelder, Sibert, Schneider, and Belpré awards in the past several years. Pick an award winner and decide for yourself if you think it deserved to win.

Preschool Discovery @ Wollaston

Drop by the Wollaston Branch Library on the second Wednesday of each month with your preschooler any time between 6:30 and 7:30 p.m. to do some fun simple science together. Activities, experiments and instructions will be provided for science you can do with your child.

This month come in on Feb. 11th when we will be exploring space. Learn about constellations, meteors and our solar system. This program does not require registration

Saturday Storytime

Join Diana Kane for a family storytime full of stories, songs, rhymes and more for children ages 2-5 accompanied by an adult on Saturday, Feb. 14th at 10 a.m. at the Main Library. No registration required. Sponsored by the Friends of the Thomas Crane Public Library.

Meet the Instruments

Join us in the Children's room on Tuesday, Feb. 17th at 10:30 a.m. to meet a couple of members of the Quincy Symphony Orchestra and their instruments. The musicians will play a couple of pieces and introduce us to their instruments. At the end of the program the children will get a chance to examine the instruments up close. On Sunday, Feb. 22nd additional members of the symphony will present a concert in the atrium see our website for details.

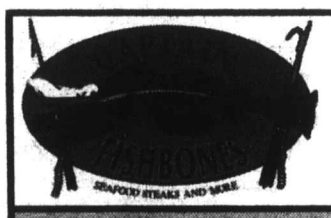
Grab Bag Art at Adams Shore

Stop by the Adams Shore Branch on Tuesday, Feb. 17th any time from 2 to 4 p.m. and get crafty. This program is for children of all ages, preschoolers will need an adult's help to make their project.

Teddy Bear Storytime @ North Quincy

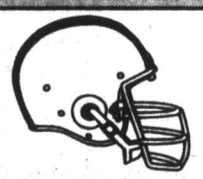
Join Children's librarian Cathy deVeer and Quinn Z. Bear at the North Quincy Branch for stories and songs

Cont'd On Page 8



332 Victory Road,
Marina Bay, MA 02171
617 471-3511

ARE YOU READY FOR THE BIG GAME?



FOOTBALL PARTY PLATTER

Chicken Teanders, Boneless Buffalo Wings, Cheese and Bacon Skins and Onion Rings $14.99

HALF PRICE PIZZAS - small or large

50¢ WINGS Choose from Buffalo, Sesame or BBQ bone in wings

ITALIAN SAUSAGE $4.00
PEARL HOT DOG $3.00
BUFFET WITH ALL THE FIXINS
Choose from: Sauerkraut, Chili, Sauteed Onions, Sauteed Peppers, Raw Onions, Ketchup, Mustard and Relish

Enjoy a Complimentary Appetizer Buffet at Halftime!

South Shore School of Theatre
FEBRUARY VACATION PROGRAM
4-7 YRS CREATIVE DRAMA
7-12 YRS YOUTH ACTING
FEBRUARY 16-20
617-653-2460 | info@southshoreschooloftheatre.com
Visit our site for more information: www.southshoreschooloftheatre.com

QUINT'S
House of Flowers
Family Owned & Operated Since 1919
761 Southern Artery
QUINCY
617-773-7620

Social

Quincy Lions Run/Walk For Sight Set For May 9

The Quincy Lions Club 18th Annual Run/Walk for Sight will be held Saturday, May 9 at Pageant Field.

Online registration for the Run/Walk is open.

Registration at the event starts at 7:30 a.m. A Kids Fun Run begins at 8 a.m. and is free to children under age 12.

The main race will start at 9 a.m.

For over 70 years, the Quincy Lions Club has been serving the Quincy community. In addition to providing hundreds of area residents with free vision and basic health screenings each year, the club annually awards thousands of dollars in college scholarships to graduating seniors from Quincy and North Quincy High School.

The Quincy Lions Club Run/ Walk is the Club's signature fundraising event, and 100% of the proceeds raised support the club's community outreach initiatives. Visit www.quincy-lions.org/5k-run-walk-for-sight for registration and sponsorship information.

Lions Clubs International is the world's largest service club organization with more than 1.3 million members in approximately 45,000 clubs in more than 200 countries and geographical areas around the world. Since 1917, Lions clubs have aided the blind and visually impaired and made a strong commitment to community service and serving youth throughout the world. For more information about Lions Clubs International, visit the Web site at www.lionsclubs.org.

Up to $330,000 In Grants Available for Multi-Year Community Health Programs

The Blue Hills Community Health Alliance (CHNA 20) is offering a unique funding opportunity to qualifying organizations within its service area.

The Multi-Year Grant program is designed to increase linkages between community members and resources that improve access to care and services to impact overall health outcomes. This grant program allows organizations the flexibility to create and pursue meaningful, data-driven change in one or more of CHNA 20 priority areas of Chronic Disease & Wellness, Substance Abuse, and/or Mental/Behavioral Health.

Up to three (3) Multi-Year Grants will be awarded to qualifying organizations within its service area and will consist of a three-year allocation period beginning on April 10.

CHNA 20's mission is to empower our communities to achieve their best quality of health and wellness through education and information while improving access to care and services. Funded by South Shore Hospital, Dana-Farber Cancer Institute, and Steward Health Care, CHNA 20 is one of 27 Community Health Network Areas across Massachusetts. The following communities comprise CHNA 20: Braintree, Canton, Cohasset, Hingham, Hull, Milton, Norwell, Norwood, Quincy, Randolph, Scituate, Sharon and Weymouth.

Grant applications are due by 5 p.m. on March 20. Interested applicants can find the Request for Application and the RSVP link to the Information Session at www.CHNA20.org.

Anthony Ng On Chancellor's List

Anthony Ng of Quincy has been named to the Chancellor's List for the fall semester at the University of Massachusetts Dartmouth.

Boy Scouts Honor Hospitality Leaders To Fund Youth Programs

MORE THAN 170 people, including local Boy Scouts and leaders, recently attended the Boston Minuteman Council Boy Scouts Hospitality Breakfast at the Seaport Hotel. The youth organization honored Manny Costa, president of Costa Fruit and Produce, and David Giblin, Boston vice president for Marriott International. The Hospitality Breakfast was chaired by James Carmody, general manager of the Seaport Hotel and World Trade Center, and raised more than $40,000 to support Scouting programs across Greater Boston. Shown here (from left) are Lucien Theberge of Troop 42 in Quincy; Chuck Eaton, chief executive of the Boston Minuteman Council; Joe Cristiani of Troop 42 in Quincy, James Carmody, general manager of the Seaport Hotel; David Giblin, vice president at Marriott International; Manny Costa, president of Costa Fruit and Produce; Noah MacFarland of Troop 42 in Quincy; Paul Trubiano of Troop 42 in Quincy. Photo Courtesy Sean Martin

17 Local Students On Bentley Dean's List

Seventeen students from Quincy are on the Dean's List for the fall semester at Bentley University.

They are:

Christopher To, a senior, was named to the Dean's List.

Ricky Yu, a junior, Dean's List.

Sarah Brennan, a junior, Dean's List.

Michelle Chiu, a sophmore, Dean's List.

Michael Prendeville, a junior, Dean's List.

Andy Yau, a senior, Dean's List.

Brianna Foley, a junior, President's List.

Wei Ming Mei, a junior, President's List.

Amanda Lee, a freshman, Dean's List.

Megan Lieu, a sophmore, Dean's List.

Xingjun Lin, a junior, Dean's List.

A Vay Su, a senior, Dean's List.

Bao Yi Tang, a junior, Dean's List.

Minh Vo, a junior, Dean's List.

Bieu Huynh, a junior, President's List.

Yuyao Zheng, a freshman, President's List.

Huang Lu, a senior, Dean's List.

10 Residents On UMass Dartmouth Dean's List

Ten students at the University of Massachusetts Dartmouth are on the Dean's List for the fall semester.

They are:

Ying Qi Wang, Shayne Bailey, Essien Benjamin, Dominic Colarusso, Connor Darcy, James Guerin, Manami Hamada, Courtney Hyman, Kalvin Kule and Barry Mac.

Juggling Show At Christ Church

A juggling show featuring the Nano Brothers will take place Monday, Feb. 16 from 11 a.m. to 12:30 p.m. at Christ Church Quincy Parish Hall, 12 Quincy Ave., Quincy.

Admision is free.

For more information, call 617-772-0310.

Quincy High Class Of 1950 To Hold 65th Reunion June 11

The Quincy High School Class of 1950 will hold its 65th reunion Thursday, June 11 from noon to 4 p.m. at the Common Market Restaurant in Quincy.

For more information, contact Henry Salvaggi at 617-472-4806 or email Mary (Comeau) McQuinn at mhmcq24@comcast.net.

Parkinson's Support Group Meets At Ward 4 Community Room

A Quincy Parkinson's Support Group will meet Wednesday, Feb. 11 at 7 p.m. at the Ward 4 Community Room, 100 Brooks Ave., Quincy.

The meeting will include an open discussion, information sharing and networking.

For more information, call 617-770-2090.

Three Students On Dean's List At Bryant University

Three students from Quincy are on the Dean's List for the fall semester at Bryant University in Smithfield, R.I.

They are:

Jonathan Calla, a sophomore majoring in accounting.

Kayla Sugrue, a sophomore majoring in accounting.

Tiffany Tang, a sophomore majoring in marketing.

JOAN'S OLYMPIC GYM
GYMNASTICS & DANCE SCHOOL
WAS VOTED #1 ON THE SOUTH SHORE

Ages 2 – Adult
NOW ACCEPTING REGISTRATIONS!
781-843-9624
"An Excellent Education Environment For Your Child"

197 Quincy Avenue, Braintree • www.joansolympicgym.com

Looking for me?
Esthetica Hair Salon
Welcomes
Hair Stylist CAITLIN BAKER
ENJOY 20% OFF expires March 2015
your first service with Caitlin
Call for your appointment today!
(617) 786-8444
126 Franklin St. Quincy
CAITLIN BAKER
NW-CN13217321

Neighborhood Club of Quincy
Nestled in a quiet neighborhood in historic Quincy, the Neighborhood Club has been creating unforgettable memories since 1917.
We take pride in making each and every wedding or event unique and memorable.
Whether you are looking for a spacious ballroom for up to 200, or a setting for a smaller group of guests, the Neighborhood Club has the perfect place to hold your event.
Book Your Wedding and Enjoy a Complimentary Champagne Toast (Mention this ad)
617.773.9300
27 Glendale Road, Quincy, MA 02169
www.ncquincy.com

'Pump Up' Your Super Bowl Party With These Tasty Appetizers

WHAT'S COOKING with Marie & Suzie

By MARIE D'OLIMPIO and SUZIE FALCO

Cannellini Beans With Red Beet Chips

By MARIE

During the playoff football game, there were several "pickies" that were pretty simple to make. When we think of preparing appetizers, if seems like hard work, but today's recipes can either be made ahead of time, or just before the super-bowl game even starts.

Cannellini Beans & Beet Chips

1 large can of cannelloni, (white) beans
2 tablespoons olive oil
red pepper flakes

Drain the beans, and either place in a food processor or a blender with half of the olive oil.

Drizzle the other half of the oil, and sprinkle a few pepper flakes on the top and serve with red beet chips. It was colorful, delicious and easy.

Artichoke Fritters

By MARIE

Through the, years the family has enjoyed many kinds of fritters, but one of our favorites is an artichoke fritter.

I've made them with frozen artichoke hearts or a can of quartered ones.

If you use the frozen, thaw and cut in small pieces. Cut the quartered ones as well.

Artichoke Fritters

1 can of quartered artichoke hearts, or frozen equivalent
1 egg (beaten)
3 tablespoons grated Parmesan cheese
2 tablespoons flour
salt and pepper to taste
either water or milk for the liquid

In a bowl, place the beaten egg, flour, cheese, salt and pepper and mix well. Add the artichoke hearts and enough liquid so that the mixture resembles pancake mix.

In the hot oil, drop by spoonfuls and sauté, turning until they are golden brown. Drain on paper towel.

Refrigerate if making ahead of time, and then place in a warming oven (200 degrees) when ready to serve.

Mushrooms Appetizer

By SUZIE

It's always nice to have healthy appetizers to munch on during a big game. (Even a little game) but of course, they have to taste good and not be too difficult to prepare.

Here is a great and very simple recipe from a website called "Elena's Pantry." Mushrooms provide many powerful nutrients, including selenium which helps prevent the body's cells from damage, Vitamin D, which is rarely found in vegetables and what most of us, if not all, are lacking in unless we use a supplement, as well as niacin, riboflavin, and copper. They are also pretty filling. Especially when filled with the terrific ingredients that are in the recipe below.

This would be a wonderful recipe to make for the Super Bowl but it also is easy enough to prepare anytime.

1 (1 pound) package white button mushrooms
8 ounces goat cheese
¼ cup minced parsley
1 tablespoon minced chives
1 teaspoons minced garlic
¼ teaspoon celtic sea salt

Gently wipe mushrooms with a paper towel.

Remove stems and place mushrooms on a parchment paper lined baking sheet.

Place goat cheese, parsley, chives, garlic and salt in a food processor.

Process until mixture is well blended and tinted green.

Scoop mixture 1 teaspoon at a time into mushrooms.

Bake mushrooms for 20-25 minutes at 350° until edges of goat cheese mixture are lightly browned. Cool and serve

Spinach, Lemon, Humus Dip

By MARIE

This recipe is from my daughter Rita, who likes to make humus from scratch. This is another that can be made ahead of time, and it was the tastiest of humus dips.

Spinach, Lemon Dip

1 can of chick peas, (rinsed and drained)
1-2 cloves of garlic (crushed)
1/4 cup sesame tahini (sold in supermarkets)
1/2 lemon juice
1 teaspoon salt
1/2 cup cooked, drained spinach
2 tablespoons olive oil
3 or 4 chopped scallions

Place all of the ingredients in a food processor. If too thick, add the cold water slowly with processor running until desired consistency.

Mini Pizzas

By MARIE

Here is a very popular appetizer - especially for pizza lovers.

I used the store bought pizza dough, and made sure I had some tomato sauce. Use as much dough as you need depending on how many you need to make.

Roll the pizza dough as much as it will go, and either use a round cookie cutter or the bottom of a 3-4 inch glass.

After the pieces are cut, make the pizzas as you would if they were large. I made some with a bit of raw spinach, cheese and tomato sauce, and some just tomato, cheese, basil or oregano.

Place on a cookie sheet and bake in a preheated 425 oven until done. People even like it room temperature and they go fast.

Kielbasa With Brown Sugar

By MARIE

Here is the easiest of all, a Kielbasa treat.

1 package of Kielbasa (turkey if preferred)
1/3 cup brown sugar

Cut the Kielbasa in thin slices, place in a zip lock plastic bag with the brown sugar, and mix well. Cook from 1-3 minutes in the microwave, and serve with toothpicks.

Public Meeting Set For Wednesday

Adams National Historical Park Proposes Increase In Fees For Admission, Park Passes

Admission to the Adams National Historical Park would increase to $10 and the cost of an annual Park Pass would rise to $40 under a free increase proposed by the Park.

Adams NHP is seeking input from visitors, stakeholders, and community members regarding the proposed fee increases in 2015. A public engagement meeting was set for Wednesday from 1 to 3 p.m. at the Visitor Center, 1250 Hancock St., Quincy.

The Adams NHP has proposed to increase fees as follows: Entrance fee from $5 to $10; and Park Annual Pass from $10 to $40. The current park entrance fees have been in place since 2006.

To submit a comment on the proposal outlined below, visit http://parkplanning.nps.gov\adamfeeproposal The 30 day open comment period began Jan. 22 and concludes at 12 noon EST on Feb. 23. The National Park Service has proposed that all fees will increase by 2017, starting in 2015. This proposed fee increase will not occur without input from the general public and local, state, and federal representatives and other interested stakeholders.

Entrance fees are not charged to persons under 16 years of age or holders of the America the Beautiful National Parks and Federal Recreational Senior, Access or Military Passes. These passes may be obtained at the Park.

"We are committed to keeping the park affordable but we also want to provide visitors with the best possible experience," said Adams NHP Superintendent Marianne Peak. "The money from entrance fees returns to Adams NHP to be used to improve historic structures, and conservation of artifacts, and visitor services. Additional revenue raised by a fee increase will ensure that we can maintain public and education programs for some 5,000 local students.

"In addition, the Park is a strong economic engine for the surrounding area. In 2013, park visitors contributed $16 million to the local economy and supported 210 jobs related to tourism. Please join us for this forum. We look forward to welcoming you and your comments.

"Following this public meeting, feedback will determine how, or if, a fee increase would be implemented," Peak added.

Children's Events At Library

Cont'd From Page 6

for children ages 2-5 on Tuesday, Feb. 17th from 6:30 - 7:30 p.m. for a story-time full of dragons.

Feel free to wear your comfy jammies and bring along your favorite stuffed friend, as we have fun on a dark winter's night

LEGO Building at Wollaston

Drop in on Wednesday, Feb. 18th from 2 to 3 p.m for free-play LEGO building. Grab some LEGO bricks and build a boat, a spaceship, a double-decker couch - anything you want, then toss them back and try to make something else. LEGOs must be returned by the end of the program, sorry!

Parents please note these are regular LEGO, not DUPLO and are not appropriate for smaller children.

Lunar New Year Craft

Celebrate the Year of the Sheep on Thursday, Feb. 19th by making a sheep puppet. Drop by the Main Library children's room between 2 and 4 p.m. to make your own friendly sheep puppet.

AbraKidabra Magic Show with Mike Bent

On Friday, Feb. 20th at 10 a.m. "Best of Boston" award-winning magician Mike Bent present's the AbraKidabra Magic Show a secret blend of amazing magic, hilarious kid-friendly comedy and tons of audience interaction and participation. The result is a laugh out loud rolling in the aisles morning of magic and mirth.

This program is recommended for magic lovers of all ages especially children ages 3-10 accompanied by an adult.

Mad Science Preschool for ages 3-5 Human Body

This Mad Science of Greater Boston workshop introduces children ages 3-5 to the human body. The children will be treated to interactive demonstrations and hands-on activities, accompanied by entertaining and educational discussions.

They will learn that bodies are made up of bones called skeletons. The children will also discover that muscles help people move, and that the heart pumps blood through the body bringing food and oxygen. The children will continue the learning at home with their own skeletal puzzle friend "Mr. Bones."

This 45-minute workshop for ages 3-5 will be held on Saturday, Feb. 21st at 9:30 a.m. at the Main Library. Tickets are required and must be picked up in the Children's Room on the morning of the program. Due to space limitations, this program is limited to Quincy residents.

Parents if you have both preschool and school age Mad Scientists we suggest that you attend the school age Mad Science program at 10:30 as a family.

Sponsored by the Friends of the Thomas Crane Public Library.

Mad Science Workshops for ages 6-10 Mad Messages

In this Mad Science of Greater Boston workshop, secret messages and special codes will be the means of communication.

Children ages 6-10 will learn how to send messages to their friends using special codes, and they'll become detectives by using their Mad Science observational skills to solve the mystery of some cool messages and formulas.

Each child will bring home their own secret code wheels to code and decode their own mad messages!

This one-hour workshop for ages 6-10 will be held on Saturday, Feb. 21st at 10:30 a.m. at the Main Library.

Tickets are required and must be picked up in the Children's Room beginning at 10 am on the morning of the program.

Due to space limitations, this program is limited to Quincy residents.

Parents if you have both preschool and school age Mad Scientists we suggest that you attend the school age Mad Science program at 10:30 as a family.

Sponsored by the Friends of the Thomas Crane Public Library.

Saturday Storytime @ North Quincy

Join us for a family storytime full of Seussian silliness as we celebrate Dr. Seuss, for children ages 2-5 accompanied by an adult on Saturday, Feb. 28th at 10 a.m. at the North Quincy Branch Library. No registration required.

Role Seen For Unions On Downtown Project

'We Need The Unions To Be Competitive In Bidding Process'

By SCOTT JACKSON

Quincy Mutual is confident organized labor will play a role in constructing the proposed West of Chestnut development, a company spokesman said following a Planning Board meeting in which a half-dozen union members asked for a role in building what would be the first phase of private redevelopment in Quincy Center.

"We met with representatives from several local trade unions [Jan. 20] at Quincy Mutual and expressed our interest in having them participate in the construction of the West of Chestnut project and we are committed to that goal. We are confident that there will be union participation in this project and we will work with the unions to make that happen," Ernie Corrigan, a spokesman for the company, said, noting Quincy Mutual's headquarters were built with 100 percent union labor.

"The economics of this project are difficult, however, because of the failure of the previous developer who left a hole in the ground in exchange for a $23 million investment by Quincy Mutual," Corrigan continued. "So we also expressed during our meeting that we need the unions to be competitive in the bidding process to make the economics work.

"We have had ongoing conversations with the local

Cont'd On Page 11

KRISTINA JOHNSON (first row, fourth from left) received a commendation from the City Council Jan. 20 in recognition of her service as the city's director of transportation planning. Johnson departed the Planning Department last week for a consultant's job with Boston-based firm. With the councillors and Johnson are members of Quincycles – a bicycling advocacy group – who attended the meeting as the council endorsed a bike and pedestrian plan for the city. Quincy Sun Photo/Scott Jackson

Council Endorses Bike Plan

Painted Bike Lanes, Shared Use Lanes On City Roads

By SCOTT JACKSON

The City Council has given its endorsement to a plan that calls for adding more than 23 miles of bicycle infrastructure to Quincy's street.

The council on Jan. 20 voted 6-1 in favor of endorsing the city of Quincy Bicycle and Pedestrian Network Plan. Authored by the Metropolitan Area Planning Council (MAPC) in coordination with the city, the plan calls for painting bike lanes and shared use lanes on the city's roads.

"Quincy is a natural place for biking. We have four transit stations. Have you seen the bike racks there? They are overflowing. We now have a pedal and park facility at the Wollaston station because the bike racks were overflowing and now there is a secure place to park your bike while you take the T," said Kristina Johnson, the then-director of transportation planning for the Planning Department.

"People are actually on the road today, because those bikes are coming from somewhere."

If the city implemented the plan, it would cost an estimated $52,000 to paint one side of the road and $104,000 to paint both sides, Johnson stated.

"In the scheme of things that's a pretty good bang for your buck," she said.

The plan describes three specific bike corridors, all meant to link Quincy to surrounding communities.

The first corridor would stretch from the Fore River Bridge to the Hancock Street Bridge. Under the plan, Washington Street between the bridge and Southern Artery would have shared lane marking and bike lanes on the stretch from Southern Artery to Coddington Street. On Hancock Street, bike lanes would be painted from Adams Street to Furnace Brook Parkway, with shared lane marking all the way from the parkway to the Hancock Street Bridge. Washington and Hancock Streets between Coddington and Adams Streets will be painted for bike lanes as part of the Adams Green project.

The second corridor would be Adams Street, calling for bike lanes between Furnace Brook Parkway and Newport Avenue and shared lane markings from Newport Avenue to Hancock Street. Bike lanes are already in place from the Milton line to Furnace Brook Parkway.

The third corridor connects Quincy Center to Braintree, with shared lane markings going from Hancock Street to School Street, School Street to Franklin Street, and Franklin Street to Independence Avenue.

The plan also calls for greenway corridors, defined as low traffic, low stress corridors for cycling and walking. One notable greenway corridor in the plan is the "Sea to Summit Greenway," a 12.8 mile trail linking Nut Island to the Blue Hills. A second corridor, the "Quincy Spine Greenway," would run 5.8 miles north to south, paralleling Hancock Street most of the way.

Ward 6 Councillor Brian McNamee cast the lone vote against endorsing the plan. Councillors Brad Croall and Kirsten Hughes were both absent from the Jan. 20 meeting.

Marathas Tapped For QHA Position

By KRIS KALABOKAS

James Marathas has been tapped by the Quincy Housing Authority to fill the newly created position of director of facilities which will oversee maintenance, modernization, and inspections.

At the Jan. 21st meeting of the QHA Board of Commissioners, QHA Executive Director announced Marathas had been selected for the new position. He anticipates the new hire will begin working for the authority on Feb. 2.

Marathas is not unknown to the authority.

He is currently serving his last weeks as the director of facilities management for the Department of Housing and Community Development (DHCD), the same organization that last year conducted sweeping inspections of all of Quincy's state-funded public housing units and common areas that revealed dangerous life and safety concerns such as exposed electrical wiring, holes in walls, improperly stored combustibles, mold and mildew, and basements filled with debris.

Operational issues such as poor communication between the maintenance department and the authority were also noted in DHCD's reports.

Officials from the U.S. Department of Housing and Urban Development (HUD) stepped in to inspect federally owned housing authority properties and units last July.

Those inspections wrapped up in December with a walkthrough of the 45 units that make up Crowley Court in Germantown.

Lydon said he looked for someone with "significant DHCD and HUD experience" as well as experience in coordinating a maintenance department to fill the position.

In total, 28 applicants submitted resumes, said Lydon. The process of interviewing each qualified candidate began following the application deadline of Jan. 2.

The job was first advertised on Dec. 12.

Applicants were interviewed by Lydon, Carolyn Crossley, tenant services program management director, and Kathleen Healy, a housing authority administrator.

Marathas was formally voted into the position on Wednesday during a meeting attended by Lydon, Marathas, and all housing authority commissioners.

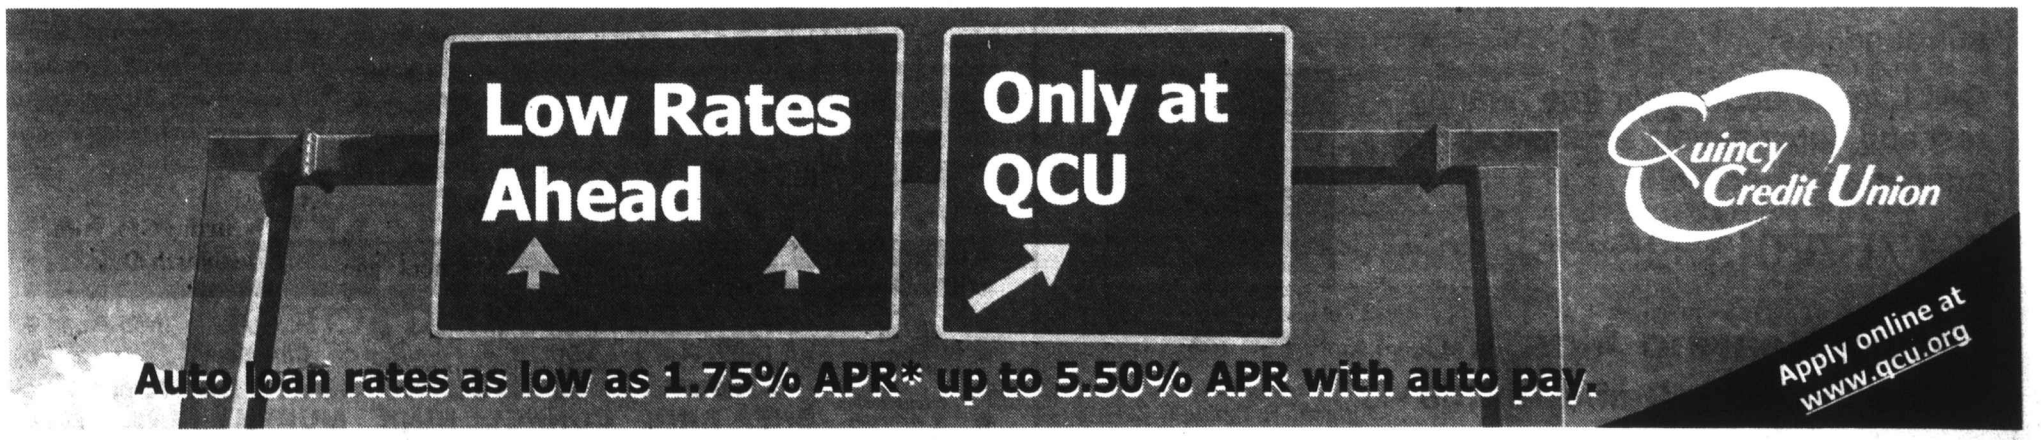
The vote was initially to take place during a Jan. 21 meeting but due to the absence of commissioner Thomas Lynn, the appointment was delayed.

Lydon also said he recently suffered from the flu which put him behind schedule, postponing planned meetings with housing authority tenant organization leaders to examine applicant resumes.

Marathas will in part take over the role of former maintenance director David Ferris who held his $85,000 per year position for over 10 years and managed roughly 50 maintenance workers.

Ferris was put on paid ad-

Cont'd On Page 13



*APR=Annual Percentage Rate. Rates currently in effect and subject to change. Rate, term and approval amount based on credit worthiness. Speak with a loan representative to find out how your rate is determined. QCU finances 100% of the purchase price or book value, whichever is less. Minimum rate with Auto Pay is 1.75%. Payment per thousand on 1.75% for 72 months is $14.65. Minimum rate without Auto Pay is 2.00%. Payment per thousand on 2.00% for 72 months is $14.76. Maximum rate with Auto Pay is 5.50%. Payment per thousand on 5.50% for 72 months is $16.34. Maximum rate without Auto Pay is 5.75%. Payment per thousand on 5.75% for 72 months is $16.46. Other rates and terms available. Maximum term is 72 months for qualified applicants. Maximum loan amount is $50,000. Refinancing on existing QCU loans requires additional proceeds of $4,000 minimum. Membership eligibility requirements apply. Providing financial products and services to individuals who work or live in Norfolk, Plymouth Counties or Dorchester. $5.00 Primary Share Account required for Membership.

NCUA Federally insured by NCUA

EQUAL HOUSING LENDER

MSIE

INTERFAITH SOCIAL SERVICES was recently awarded a 4-star rating - the highest possible - from Charity Navigator. Some of Interfaith's staff and volunteers marked the occasion by snapping a photo. From left to right: Quincy residents Donna Chapman and Charlene Manning, Cindy Lee of Braintree, Claire Hagan of Hingham, Paula Daniels of Norton, Robert McEvoy of Quincy, Michelle Morais of Braintree and George Fahey of Quincy.

Photo Courtesy Rick Doane

Interfaith Social Services Earns 4-Star Rating From Charity Navigator

Interfaith Social Services' sound fiscal management practices and commitment to accountability and transparency have earned it a 4-star rating - the highest possible - from Charity Navigator, America's largest independent charity evaluator.

Interfaith Social Services is a multiservice center for South Shore families in need. They operate numerous community based programs including one of Greater Boston's largest emergency food programs, budget counseling and homelessness prevention services, a mental health counseling center, professional clothing for low income job seekers and various other assistance programs.

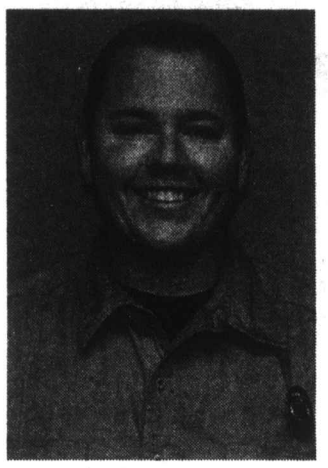
Since 2002, using data-driven analysis, Charity Navigator has awarded only the most fiscally responsible organizations a 4-star rating. In 2011, Charity Navigator added a second dimension of Accountability and Transparency (A&T) to its rating methodology, and now reviews 17 governance and ethical practices as well as measures of openness, providing information on its web site for each of the charities it evaluates. The A&T metrics, which account for 50 percent of a charity's overall rating, reveal which charities have "best practices" that minimize the chance of unethical activities and whether they freely share basic information about their organization with their donors and other stakeholders.

"Interfaith's coveted 4-star rating puts it in a very select group of high-performing charities," according to Ken Berger, President and CEO, Charity Navigator. "Out of the thousands of nonprofits Charity Navigator evaluates, only one out of four earns 4 stars -- a rating that, now, with our new Accountability and Transparency metrics, demands even greater rigor, responsibility and commitment to openness. Interfaith's supporters should feel much more confident that their hard-earned dollars are being used efficiently and responsibly when it acquires such a high rating."

"In the current economic environment, it's important our donors trust that we're using our funding wisely to accomplish Interfaith's mission," said Interfaith's executive director Rick Doane. "Our 4-star Charity Navigator rating demonstrates that we take our fiduciary and governance responsibilities very seriously."

Tackling Opioid Abuse

By MICHAEL SLADE
Fire Prevention Officer
Quincy Fire Department



MICHAEL SLADE

This article offers a unique view from the Quincy Fire Department when providing life saving procedures to heroin overdoses here in Quincy. This article also shares strategies that the City of Quincy has created thru the leadership of Mayor Koch to combat and treat opioid drug use in the city.

In last week's edition of The Quincy Sun, the Quincy Fire Department posted its response statistics for 2014. Total calls were 9669. 5693 of these were rescues and emergency medical responses. Over the last few years, I could not help but to take notice of how many of these emergency medical responses have been heroin overdoses. Thankfully, many of these responses by Quincy's Emergency Response Service, led to saving the victim's life. When the Quincy Fire Department arrives to the scene of a heroin overdose, many times we will find the patient not able to breathe on their own. In order to keep the patient alive, we begin to force breath for the patient while simultaneously administering the nasal formula Narcan. As Quincy Firefighters execute life support for the patient, an Advanced Life Support Ambulance arrives on scene and administers injection Narcan to the patient, thereby reversing the destructive physical effects of heroin. Narcan is a safe and effective medication that can reverse the effects of opioid overdose. Heroin is an opioid. Narcan attaches to the same parts of the brain that receive heroin, and it blocks the opioids for 30-90 minutes to reverse the respiratory depression that would otherwise lead to death from overdose.

At a recent community meeting that I attended recently, I couldn't help but to take notice of the amount of resources that the Mayor had at the community meeting to answer the needs of the Quincy Citizens in attendance. As a citizen who resides in Quincy, and as a Firefighter serving the citizens of Quincy, I truly am grateful that Mayor Koch offers a unique and effective substance abuse task force that is working to save lives. To learn more about the Mayor's Substance Abuse Task Force, please visit http://www.quincyma.gov/Visitors .

The Quincy Fire Department proudly serves the citizens of Quincy. If you have any questions or concerns whatsoever, please do not hesitate to call our Fire Prevention office at 617-376-1015.

11 Garden Club Scholarships Available For Horticulture-Related Studies

Applications are available for the Garden Club Federation of Massachusetts, Inc (GCFM) annual college scholarship program.

There are eleven (11) $1000 scholarships being awarded again this year. This program is for high school seniors, undergraduates and graduates students who plan to major in botany, biology, horticulture, floriculture, landscape design, conservation, forestry, city planning, environmental studies, landscape management, and allied subjects.

Eligible students must be residents of Massachusetts, have a minimum of "B" average (3.0 on a 4.0 scale), be of good character and demonstrate financial need. Students must be attending or planning to attend an accredited college or university. Applications are due by March 1. Applications may be found on the GCFM web site at http://gcfm.org/Education/Scholarships/GCFM-Scholarships.aspx.

In 2014 the GCFM awarded 11 scholarships; each student received $1000. Two applications were selected as Massachusetts representatives and sent along to national headquarters and both students were awarded additional National Garden Club Scholarships of $3500 each.

"The strongest applicants will be those who have demonstrated serious academic success in biology, horticulture or environmental subjects; or who have done significant scientific/environmental research through a school science project; and/or organized and led an important well-documented environmental, conservation, or landscaping project." said Wollaston Garden Club President Anita Fasano.

"It's time for a Quincy student to be awarded one of these scholarships," added Diane Hill, Wollaston Garden Club Youth Gardening Committee Chairwoman.

The Wollaston Garden Club is a long-time member of both The Garden Club Federation of Massachusetts, Inc and The National Garden Club, Inc.

Workshop For Alzheimer's Family Caregivers

The Alzheimer's Association will present a workshop on Essential Skills for Family Caregivers Thursday, Feb. 12 from 10:30 a.m. to 12:30 p.m. at the Alzheimer's Disease Center, 54 Miller St., Quincy.

Two additional workshops will follow at the same time and place Feb. 19 and Feb. 26.

The Essential Skills for Family Caregivers series provides education and practical tools to those caring for someone with dementia. The goal of the series is to improve day-to-day living and overall quality of life for the person with dementia and the caregiver. The series covers communication techniques, strategies to manage difficult behaviors and safety in the home. Essential Skills is free and intended for family caregivers. To register or for more information call 800-272-3900.

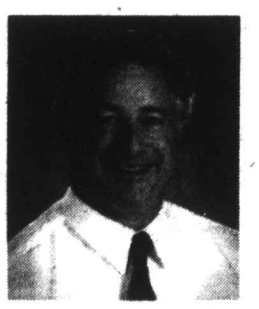
Reach Your Hearing Potential

If your hearing aids are over four years old, you should know that new computer chips have allowed hearing aids to work faster and smarter in different environments. Nobody hears everything they want, but you could get the most out of your hearing with newer technology.

Let us help you reach your hearing potential and reconnect with your surroundings!

CALL to schedule your free hearing test and consultation, and ask about our current specials!

(617) 770-3395



Tobias Hearing Aids, Inc.
382 Quincy Ave, Quincy 02169

near Roche Bros and Walmart.
Where Eddie's Diner was!

Stephen P. Tobias B.C. HIS
MA Lic #59
B.S. Science UMass 1978

Financing available through Wells Fargo

LEARN-TO-SKATE CLASSES — RECREATIONAL • FIGURE • HOCKEY SKATING SKILLS

BAY STATE SKATING SCHOOL Non-Profit

CHILDREN (4 1/2 up) & ADULTS As Featured on "Chronicle"

Gift Certificates Available

QUINCY SHEA RINK	WEYMOUTH CONNELL RINK	SOUTH BOSTON MURPHY RINK
Sundays 11:00AM	Sundays 5:00PM	Sundays 5:00PM
Starts Feb. 8	Start Feb. 8	Start Feb. 8

Sign Up Now!

781-890-8480

www.BayStateSkatingSchool.org

Over 40 Years!

Role Seen For Unions On Downtown Project

Cont'd From Page 9

trades since December and we will continue those discussions as this process goes forward."

West of Chestnut, proposed by the insurance company in partnership with Gate Residential, would include two six-story buildings with a combined 169 residential units and 12,000 square feet of street-level retail. Planning Board approval is needed before the project can begin; the board needs to issue a certificate of consistency, a determination the project meets the guidelines set by the city's 2007 Urban Renewal Plan for Quincy Center.

The new project is planned for the same site – the 1400 block of Hancock Street – where Street-Works would have built its Merchants Row project. Street-Works, Quincy's former downtown master development, had signed a land disposition agreement with the city in 2011, which required that 80 percent of all subcontractors hired had to use union labor.

More than 50 union members attended the Jan. 21 Planning Board meeting; many members held signs reading 'Local Jobs for Local People' outside City Hall prior to the meeting. Six union members spoke out during the public hearing on the project.

"We've met with Quincy Mutual. We would like to be a partner in this building along with them; that's why these people are here," Mark Burns, business manager for Quincy-based Laborers Local 133, told the board.

"A lot of these people are taxpayers here in the city of Quincy, so it makes them stakeholders in this and they were stakeholders from the beginning. We sat on a committee when Street-Works was here. We all got shafted by Street-Works...We need jobs. I know it doesn't go into your deliberations, but our members are out of work. Everyone has a misconception Boston is taking care of people, but if you look in this room, Boston is not taking care of these gentlemen."

Glen Sherriff, a longtime Quincy resident and member of Sheet Metal Workers Local 17, called hiring union workers 'the neighborly thing to do.'

"Union labor means local labor. It means people who live around here, people who are going to shop in your stores and possibly might rent your apartments," he said. "If you want to move into our city and you want to be our neighbors, please do the neighborly thing and hire union labor."

School Committee member Anne Mahoney, who is running for mayor in November's election, attended the meeting. She stressed the importance of union workers in the community.

"I'm a resident of Quincy, Massachusetts, and I'm also a proud daughter of a laborer. My dad is a former president of Local 12," Mahoney said.

"I grew up union and I saw him come before these meetings many times to represent his union and his people so they could go to work so they could feed families, like myself as I sat at the dinner table learning about what it meant to be in a community. A community I'm proud to be part of – Quincy, Massachusetts."

Before opening the hearing for public comment, Planning Board William Geary reminded the audience the board could not base its decision on whether union or non-union labor is used to construct the project.

"This board has no authority whatsoever over the issue as to who the petitioner will hire to build their project; that's the case on any project," Geary explained.

"The purpose for this meeting and all of our meetings is simply to review the issues that have been presented here this evening with respect to the character of the project, the construction of the project as it relates to it being in concert the redevelopment plan for the city's downtown redevelopment area, and other issues such as stormwater, traffic, and safety."

The Planning Board will likely vote on whether or not to grant a certificate of consistency during its next meeting on Feb. 25. If the COC is granted, the developers would then seek a building permit. Quincy Mutual officials previously stated they hope to begin construction around April 1. Construction is expected to take 18 months.

School Committee Notebook

By KRIS KALABOKAS

Members of Quincy's school committee were recently treated to a presentation of the programs and speakers brought into the city's high schools and middle schools during Substance Abuse Awareness Week.

Maura Papile, senior director of student support services and special education, along with North Quincy High School nurse Kristin Houlihan said this year students related with speakers such as Travis Roy, the former Boston University college hockey player who became paralyzed just 11 seconds into his first game when we hit the rink's boards, fracturing his fourth and fifth cervical vertebrae and irreversibly injuring his spinal cord.

"Although not directly related to drugs or alcohol, Travis emphasized the importance of good decision making in all aspects of life," said Houlihan. "In an auditorium filled with over 300 teenagers you could hear a pin drop."

Substance Abuse Awareness Week, which occurs every first week in January, began five years ago in partnership with Mayor Thomas Koch's office and his Substance Abuse Task Force commissioned in 2008.

"The Quincy community has certainly made addressing this issue a high, high priority," said Papile.

The Improbable Players, an acting troop, were brought in with the help of Bay State Community Services and performed for grade eight students. The group puts on plays using actors who are recovering addicts themselves and works to dispel commonly held myths surrounding addiction to drugs and alcohol.

"It explains addiction and how things happen and how people are impacted," she said.

Students were asked to submit in writing their thoughts following the performance of the Improbable Players. "Don't hold back with showing us the seriousness of addiction," wrote one student.

"School kids want to have real conversations with adults. They don't want to just hear things off the street," said Papile.

Chris Herren, the former Celtics player who struggled with addiction, will speak at Quincy High School Feb. 11 and at North Quincy High School Feb. 25.

Herren, who has spoken to QPS students before, has been sober since 2008 and tours the country spreading his story of addiction and recovery.

"Chris is a Dynamic speaker and the feedback has been outstanding," said Papile.

Michael Patrick MacDonald, author of "All Souls: A Family Story From Southie," grew up in South Boston and lost four siblings to substance abuse.

He will speak to seniors at both North Quincy and Quincy High School.

In preparation for MacDonald's speaking engagement, Koch has provided funding for the purchase of 350 copies of the book so students can become familiar with his story before his appearance.

Hidden in Plain Sight, an interactive presentation for parents, will take place March 10 at 6:30 p.m. in the Central Middle School auditorium.

Parents will be instructed to walk through a mock bedroom which is set up with items hidden throughout that hint toward teen substance abuse.

"It's not to scare people," said Papile. "It's really kind of to open up the conversation for people."

"This is one of the areas that we need to be talking about a lot more at school committee," said committee member Noel DiBona. "The faster and more we get to students with education, we're going to be able to battle this."

"We started talking about it as a community a few years ago and not many people wanted to admit we, the city of Quincy, the city of presidents, have a drug problem," said Koch. "I'm proud of the efforts of so many coming together...I'm proud of our community... and we're going to keep at it."

Following the presentation on Substance Abuse Awareness Week, committee member Paul Bregoli requested that a similar campaign be launched to educate students on the dangers of teen dating violence which he said he has become more concerned about in recent years.

In additional school committee news:

The Sterling Middle School building project is currently in the feasibility study period with the Massachusetts School Building Authority (MSBA). The designer selection process will begin March 6.

North Quincy High School, Wollaston Elementary School, and Merrymount Elementary School are progressing in the Accelerated Repair Program through the MSBA for the replacement of windows and doors. The superintendent's office will be communicating with school principals to arrange a summer schedule for installation.

Contractors have done walkthroughs of both the Lincoln-Hancock Community School and Parker Elementary School for their Accelerated Repair Programs. Superintendent Richard DeCristofaro said bids for the projects will soon be sent out.

A new Statement of Interest (SOI) will be submitted to the MSBA on April 9 for Squantum Elementary School. Submitting an SOI is the first step in receiving building and repair grants.

The North Quincy High School WGBH Quiz Show team will be competing on Jan. 24 in the Quiz Bowl in Boston.

North Quincy High School and Quincy High School recently competed in the History Bowl. Both teams are headed to Washington D.C. to compete in the national championships in April.

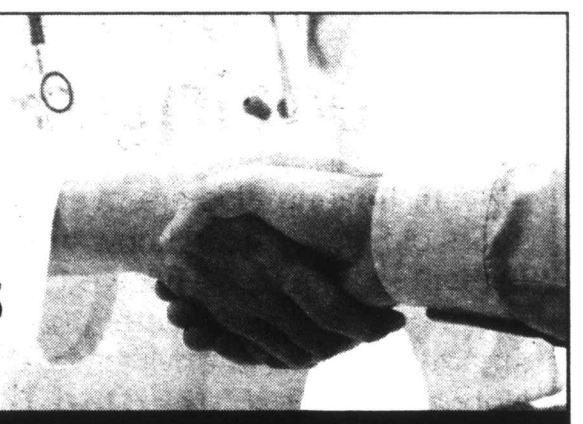
DeCristofaro said 50 students and several Quincy Public School staff members attended Governor Charlie Baker's inauguration in Boston. Students were taking selfies with Baker, he said. "They thought they were pretty cool, and they are," he said. "It was a great time for our kids and a wonderful thing."

A gift of $3,000 from the Randy C. Wolfe Trust was given to Quincy Public Schools to go toward music programs.

Approved: Out of state travel for the North Quincy High School AFJROTC to New York, NY and Philadelphia, PA, April 10-14.

Approved: Out of state travel for the North Quincy/Quincy High School HYPER Robotics Team to the FCR District Competition in Lewiston, ME, March 12-15.

Approved: Overnight travel for the Central Middle School grade 7 to Camp Wing in Duxbury, June 9-12.



Welcoming New Patients

And we accept Tufts Health Plan Medicare Preferred HMO

You have a choice.

If your doctor's office no longer accepts Tufts Health Plan Medicare Preferred HMO you have a choice. Patients with Tufts Health Plan Medicare Preferred HMO are welcome at Granite Medical Group and Harvard Vanguard Medical Associates in Braintree and Quincy. These Atrius Health practices admit patients to Beth Israel Deaconess-Milton Hospital and South Shore Hospital.

TUFTS Health Plan Medicare Preferred

Tufts Health Plan Medicare Preferred HMO is the only Medicare Advantage plan we accept. Please call us with any questions.

Granite Medical Group
Atrius Health
500 Congress Street, Quincy
617-471-0033
www.granitemedical.com

Harvard Vanguard Medical Associates
Atrius Health
111 Grossman Drive, Braintree
781-849-1000
1250 Hancock Street, Quincy
617-774-0600
www.harvardvanguard.org

Legal Team: City Prepared To Take Hospital Site

By SCOTT JACKSON

The city's legal team is prepared for action to take back the Quincy Medical Center site. City officials, meanwhile, are in discussions with providers on the future of the property and of health care in Quincy.

The legal team – City Solicitor Jim Timmins and Peter Carr of the law firm Eckert Seamans – discussed the city's next steps relative to the hospital with the City Council Jan. 20. According to Carr, a reverter clause in the title for the Whitwell Street property where the hospital is located would allow the city to take back the site if it were no longer allowed for an acute care hospital; Quincy Medical Center closed Dec. 26 and is now a satellite emergency department.

The reverter clause was initially included in a deed for the site granted to a non-profit in 1999 when the city gave up ownership of the hospital. Carr said the clause remained in effect after for-profit Steward Health Care bought Quincy Medical Center out of bankruptcy in 2011.

Carr has been negotiating with Steward over the closure of the hospital. Earlier this month, when negotiations between the two sides broke down, Carr informed Steward's attorneys of the city's intent to invoke the clause. That prompted the two sides to reach a tolling agreement on Jan. 9, which gives both 45 days to continue talks.

"Those negotiations broke down and at that point in time we gave notice to Steward that the city is intending to exercise its legal rights under the deed documents – the reverter, if you will – to take back title to the property, Carr explained.

"That spurred discussions and resulted in what we call a tolling agreement basically to freeze everybody's rights as of Dec. 30 for 45 days."

The tolling agreement, which expires in late February, will give the two sides time to consider other options while at the same time allow the city to consider the site's future.

"This freeze for 45 days will let us explore what, if any, options there may be," Carr said. "At the same time it's somewhat of a complicated situation if the city just automatically takes title back to the real property up there. There is planning that has to go with that. Meeting with constituents, getting feedback on what does the future of the property looks like."

Timmins noted Mayor Thomas Koch has begun discussions about the future of the hospital and the 14-acre site it sits on. The tolling agreement gives the mayor more time to carry on those talks.

"The mayor has been engaging with discussions very preliminarily about the future of that site and about healthcare in Quincy; those discussions have included other providers. It's a really interesting industry; it's an industry that's changing, so the mayor is talking to different players. That was one of the drivers for the tolling agreement," Timmins said.

"We have some time now to plan, look at options, and come up with a good going forward plan. That was really important because the reverter clause required we act within 30 days."

Several councillors at the meeting asked about Steward's response to the city trying to take back the land. Carr said he doesn't anticipate the company giving up the site easily.

"It seems to me if the city takes title to the real estate, they're not going to just say 'you can have it.' It's going to be a process and there are going to be some bumps along the way. There is not going to be immediate gratification," Carr stated.

"All I can tell you is the mayor, on behalf of the city and its residents, intends to take every action necessary to protect the interests of the city and its residents."

Councillor Doug Gutro inquired about the maintenance of the hospital's buildings and security of the site while Steward continues to own it. Carr said the company is still responsible for those issues and nothing has changed in that regard since Steward took ownership in 2011.

Councillors at the meeting were also critical of an agreement reached between then-Attorney General Martha Coakley and Steward. The settlement, signed Jan. 14, requires Steward to keep a satellite emergency facility open in Quincy until Dec. 31, 2016. The facility has to be located within the former hospital through the end of this year.

"I think this is a signature and defining moment for Attorney General Coakley," said Ward 3 Councillor Kevin Coughlin. "This was the path of least resistance."

Ward 4 Councillor Brian Palmucci expressed concern Steward could opt to close the emergency department at the beginning of 2016 and pay only a $360,000 fine – $30,000 for each month the facility is closed before Dec. 31 of that year.

"They can close down the hospital and pay a fine, which turns out to be $360,000 over the course of a year," Palmucci said. "I don't run hospitals. I don't know anything about running hospitals, but I'd imagine running an emergency room costs more than $360,000 a year."

Chamber Meeting, Business Showcase Thursday

The Quincy Chamber of Commerce will hold its Annual Meeting & Business Showcase today (Thursday) from 4 to 7:30 p.m. at the Boston Marriott Quincy.

Featured speakers include Tracey Noonan and Danielle Vilagie of "Wicked Good Cupcakes."

The doors to the Business Showcase open at 4 p.m. and the event is open to the public. Over 80 Quincy Chamber businesses are scheduled to have a presence at business showcase, which traditionally attracts over 300 attendees.

Tickets are $15/person and include access to the business showcase, networking, a light dinner buffet, and the keynote presentation at 6:45 p.m.

$6,510 In Donations Accepted

By SCOTT JACKSON

The City Council accepted $6,510 in donations from individuals and businesses during its Jan. 20 meeting.

The lion's share of the money, $5,000, was given by State Street Bank to the Mayor's Charity Cup Golf Tournament. Money raised by the tournament benefits various local charities.

Mr. and Mrs. William F. Foley donated $1,000 to the city. That money will go towards a memorial for the late Joseph Koch.

The Grossman Companies donated $410 to the Quincy Fire Department. A. Demoney, a Ricciuti Drive resident, gave $100 to the city. Half of that will go towards the Police Department for crime prevention, with the other half going to the Fire Department.

PUBLIC NOTICE

City of Quincy
2015
Annual Street Listing

Look for the 2015 Annual Street Listing in your mail this week.

State law requires that you respond by completing the annual street listing of residence each year.

Please update the information on the form, sign it and return it in the enclosed pre-paid envelope to the City of Quincy.

For assistance, please call the City Clerk's Office election department at 617-376-1143.

Thank you,
Board of Registrars
Joseph P. Shea, City Clerk
John Carl Swanson
Michael Grindlay

Spring 2015

QUINCY LACROSSE

Spring 2015

quincylax.uslaxteams.com

-ONLINE REGISTRATION-ends February 15, 2015

Boys Instructional (1st/2nd) $75
Boys 3rd /4th $150
Boys 5th/6th $200
Boys 7th/8th $200

Girls Instructional (1st/2nd) $75
Girls 3rd/4th $150
Girls 5th/6th $200
Girls 7th/8th $200

-each add'l sibling $25 discount
-family maximum is $500
Fees include membership to US Lacrosse Association

COACHES NEEDED

quincylax.uslaxteams.com

New Flood Maps

Cont'd From Page 3

ance premiums reimbursed. Homeowners would need to work that out with their flood insurance providers.

City officials plan to host a workshop over the spring for property owners. The workshop will provide property owners a chance to learn more about the new maps and speak with representatives from insurance companies for advice.

According to Shea, the city has paid $649,650 for the citywide letter of map revision and elevation certificates for individual homeowners as of Jan. 2; that figure doesn't include the Engineer Department's staff time. James Fatseas, executive secretary to Mayor Thomas Koch, said the city used existing funding sources to pay for those expenses. Among those were surplus funds from a Furnace Brook improvement project and money originally allocated for flood control projects that are still awaiting federal approval.

Shea said the city will seek reimbursement for all expenses related to the cost of filing the letter of map revision and the elevation certificates once the council votes to accept new maps. The reimbursement request will also include funds for the Engineering Department's staff time.

Councillor Doug Gutro, who is challenging Koch in this year's municipal election and has criticized the mayor in the past for filing a letter of map revision instead of appealing them in 2013, cautioned that Quincy might not be eligible for reimbursement.

"It's my understanding that cities are eligible for reimbursements for appeals; letters of map revision are ineligible for reimbursement. Is that your understanding?" Gutro asked Shea. "I'm concerned that we as a city will not be reimbursed because it's not, in FEMA's eyes, an appeal. It's a letter of map revision."

Shea replied that it was not his understanding that FEMA would treat a successful letter of map revision differently than a successful appeal.

Bodyworks Regulations

Cont'd From Page 1

in concert to put together the proposed new regulations.

"We regulate road races and PTO events, but not these," noted City Clerk Joseph Shea, the chairman of the license board.

Applicants would have to undergo a CORI (criminal background) check and submit proof they completed either 500 hours of coursework in bodyworks or 200 hours of coursework in reflexology from an accredited school or organization, among other requirments.

The new ordinance also sets standards for hygiene in bodyworks establishments, requires them to keep records of all patrons, prohibits acupuncture and Ayurvedic medicine (both would be allowed if separately licensed by the state) as well as bans colonic hydrotherapy and any sexual activity.

The committee did amend the proposed ordinance's fee structure during the Jan. 20 meeting by voice vote. The initial proposal called for practitioners to pay a $250 fee annually when applying for a license while establishments would pay a $500 fee annually. That was amended to a $25 fee for practitioners and a $50 fee for establishments, plus the cost of the CORI check.

Ward 1 Councillor Margaret Laforest first proposed reducing the fees down to $100 and $300, reading a letter from a Hull resident who practices bodyworks. The letter noted many practitioners work part-time out of several establishments, often in different cities, and that the $250 fee might be cost prohibitive.

Ward 4 Councillor Brian Palmucci then pushed for the lower fees adopted by the committee.

"It should be a nominal $25/$50 fee to come in. The whole point is to make people come down," Palmucci said.

"I would think that the thing you don't want to happen is that people can't afford the fee or the fee is so high they avoid registration when they otherwise would register. The whole point is to get these people on the books so we know where they are and we know what they're doing."

There is no fee for anyone seeking a temporary license; several non-profits in the city have offered bodyworks during charitable events. Applicants seeking a temporary license would need approval from the city's Health Department.

If approved Feb. 2, the new regulations would take effect on May 1. Shea said 49 businesses are known to practice bodyworks in the city; he planned to inform them of the proposed ordinance by mail before the upcoming meeting. Existing businesses would not be exempt from the new rules.

Marathas Tapped For QHA Position

Cont'd From Page 9

ministrative leave July 9 and handed in his resignation on Sept. 12 after it was revealed last year that incompetent maintenance management, due in part to what Lydon described as poor interdepartmental communication, led to unsafe and unsanitary living conditions for housing authority tenants.

Lydon, who was hired as executive director in May 2013, said he decided to put him on leave early last year after he found a bag of documents shredded and concealed by Ferris.

Orders sent to the maintenance department dating back to 2008 were also found that were either ignored or flagged as low priority by Ferris.

He also knowingly signed off on work orders that were never completed, said Lydon.

In the interim, Modernization Director Deborah Williamson has been handling maintenance requests along with an authority foreman.

"Before we had maintenance and modernization just butting heads with one another with nobody in a superior position to the other and we had inspections and a consultant that was answerable to maintenance and the maintenance department didn't really want to hear about any problems with the units," he said in December. "When the inspectors didn't find anything their managers were happy that they weren't finding anything."

Marathas will be tasked with hiring an in-house inspector to carry out routine inspections of the authority's almost 1,500 units.

A salary for the in-house inspector has yet to be determined and will be decided by Marathas, said Lydon who added that he was "absolutely tickled" with placing Marathas, who he called a gift to the authority, in the role of director of facilities.

Further inspections will be performed routinely and projects will be evenly spread out as to not overwork maintenance staff, he added.

Inspections were previously handled by Tennessee-based firm McCright & Associates.

Lydon has described their operations as "poor" and has said the firm was not communicating to the authority all of the safety and health issues later discovered by DHCD and HUD.

The appointment of the director of operations, who will earn $105,000 per year, had to be approved by the board.

Jim Morgan, who represents the residents of O'Brien Towers and Crowley Court, overwhelmingly supported the decision to hire Marathas and said that since Lydon took over as executive director, conditions at the housing authority have improved dramatically.

"We've been working with Jim Lydon and he's been absolutely delightful," said Morgan. "We've met and we've decided if we work together we can solve these problems in a positive manner and Jim has been a gift to us.

"Jim Lydon has been a blessing," he said. "He listens to us."

"We're very happy with it," said Morgan in regards to the hiring of Marathas.

"We're absolutely thrilled with the process and Jim has kept us informed along the line with which way he's going and what he's thinking and we love his appointments so far," he said. "We have full confidence in his decision..we think it was an excellent choice."

QPS Kindergarten Registration

Quincy Public Schools' kindergarten registration for the 2015-2016 school year will be held from 9 a.m. to 2 p.m. Tuesday, March 3.

Children who will be five years of age on or before Aug. 31, 2015 should register at their home schools. Those unsure of home schools should visit the QPS website: www.quincypublicschools.com.

Parents seeking open enrollment need to first register at their home school on March 3. Children do not need to come to registration. Children who presently attend the Pre-K programs at either the Snug Harbor School or the Amelio Della Chiesa Early Childhood Center do not need to register March 3.

The following documents must be produced in order for a student to be registered:

- Child's birth certificate (with a raised seal)
- Proof that the child resides in the home school district
- any two: tax bill, utility bill, car registration, work pay stub
- Copy of a recent (within one year) physical examination by a physician
- Written records of immunizations.

Required forms can be accessed on the QPS website. Follow the parent links to kindergarten Registration. Scroll down to access the link to the packet.

Questions regarding the Kindergarten program may be directed to the home school principal. Those who are uncomfortable filling out forms may bring someone to assist.

Find us on Facebook
Highlights of Local Programming found on . . . QATV
Quincy Access Television
88 Washington Street
Quincy, MA 02169
617-376-1440

Public Access Channel 8

Thursday, January 29th:
6:00pm: Bethany Congregational Church
7:00pm: QHS vs. Hingham Girls Basketball

Friday, January 30th:
6:00am: LIVE: AM Quincy (audio only)
11:30am: LIVE: Currently in Quincy

Saturday, January 31st:
12:00pm: Martin Luther King Day Breakfast
3:30pm: Real Estate Focus

Sunday, February 1st:
3:30pm: Sound Advice with Tom Williams
7:00pm: Faces of South Asia

Monday, February 2nd:
11:30am: LIVE: Currently in Quincy
7:00pm: LIVE: Eye on Quincy

Tuesday, February 3rd:
6:00pm: Eye on Quincy (replay)
7:00pm: Taiwan Programming

Wednesday, February 4th:
6:00pm: Good News
10:00pm: The Constitution: Then & Now

Government Access Channel 11

Thursday, January 29th:
5:30pm: Fire Prevention & You: Oxygen Use Safety
7:00pm: Martin Luther King Breakfast

Friday, January 30th:
6:00pm: City View with Mayor Koch
7:00pm: Crime Watch: Scams Revisited II
9:30pm: At the Library: February Happenings

Saturday/Sunday, January 31st/February 1st:
9:00am: City View with Mayor Koch
11:00am: At the Library: February Happenings
2:00pm: Martin Luther King Breakfast
3:00pm: At the Library Concert: Asylum Quartet

Monday, February 2nd:
6:00pm: Crime Watch: Home Security
6:30pm: FYI: QHD Thrush
7:00pm: In Your Neighborhood: Ward 3
7:30pm: LIVE: City Council

Tuesday, February 3rd:
12:00pm: City Council 2/2
6:00pm: Health Links: Karate

Wednesday, February 4th:
7:00pm: City Council 2/2

Programming is subject to change. For a complete list of programs, please consult our website at www.qatv.org

CAPTAIN FISHBONES
SEAFOOD STEAKS AND SUSHI
332 Victory Road,
Marina Bay, MA 02171
617 471-3511
www.captainfishbones.com

SUNDAY BRUNCH BUFFET
10am-2pm
$12.99
children under 12 $6.49

WINTER SPECIAL
January 3 - March 15
Mimosa Cocktail, House Bloody Mary or Domestic Bottle of Beer included in the price of brunch children under 12 milk or juice included with brunch

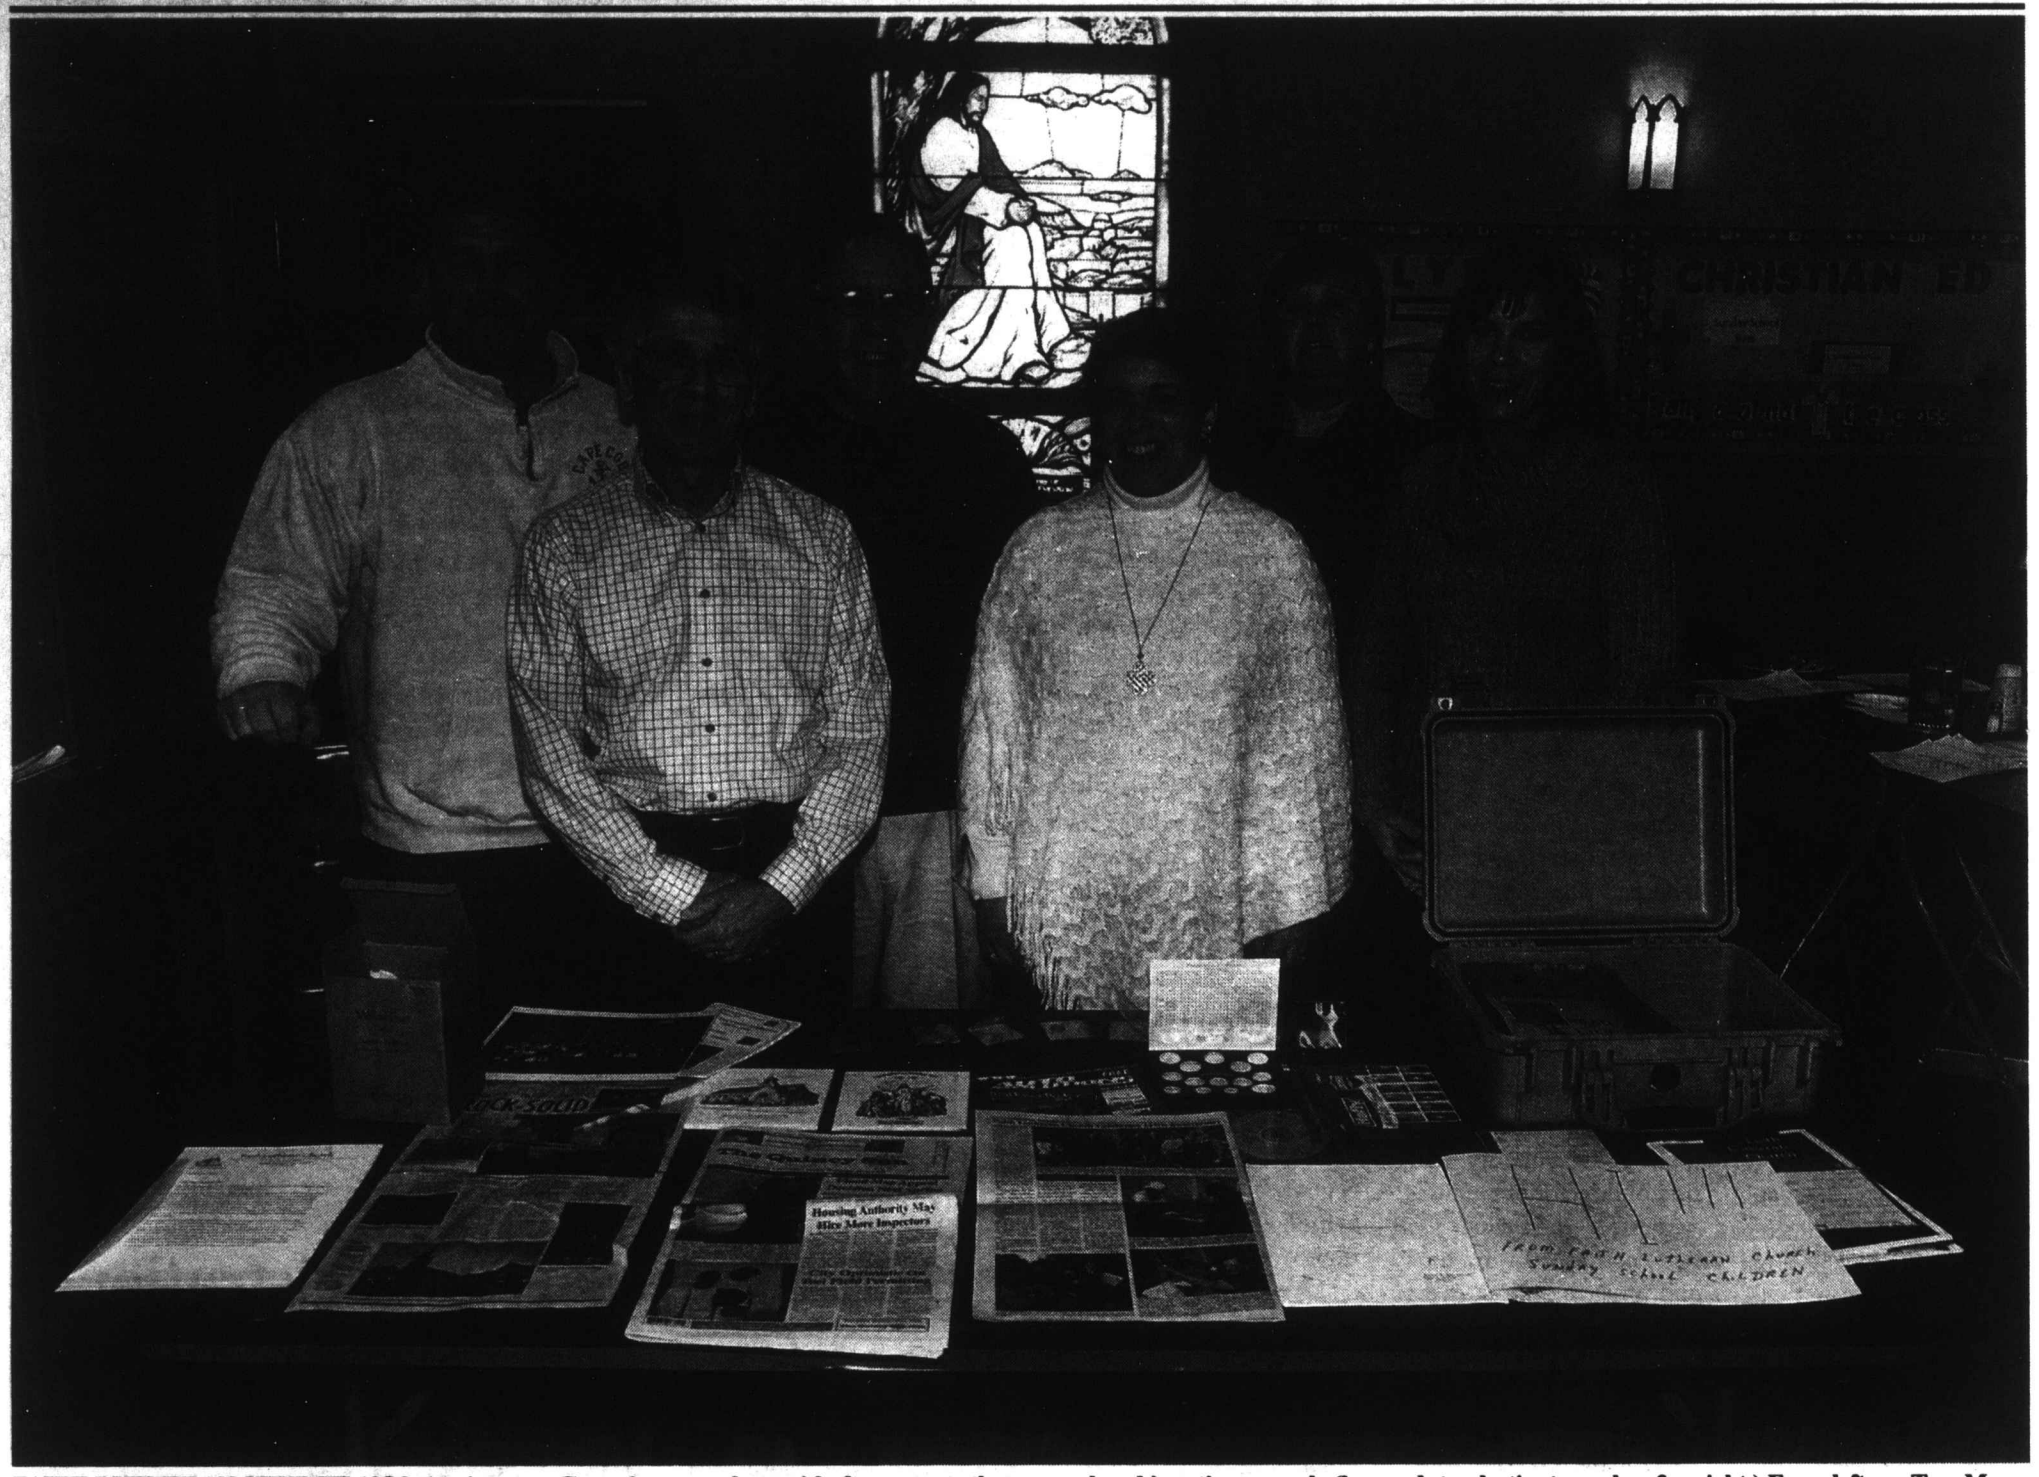
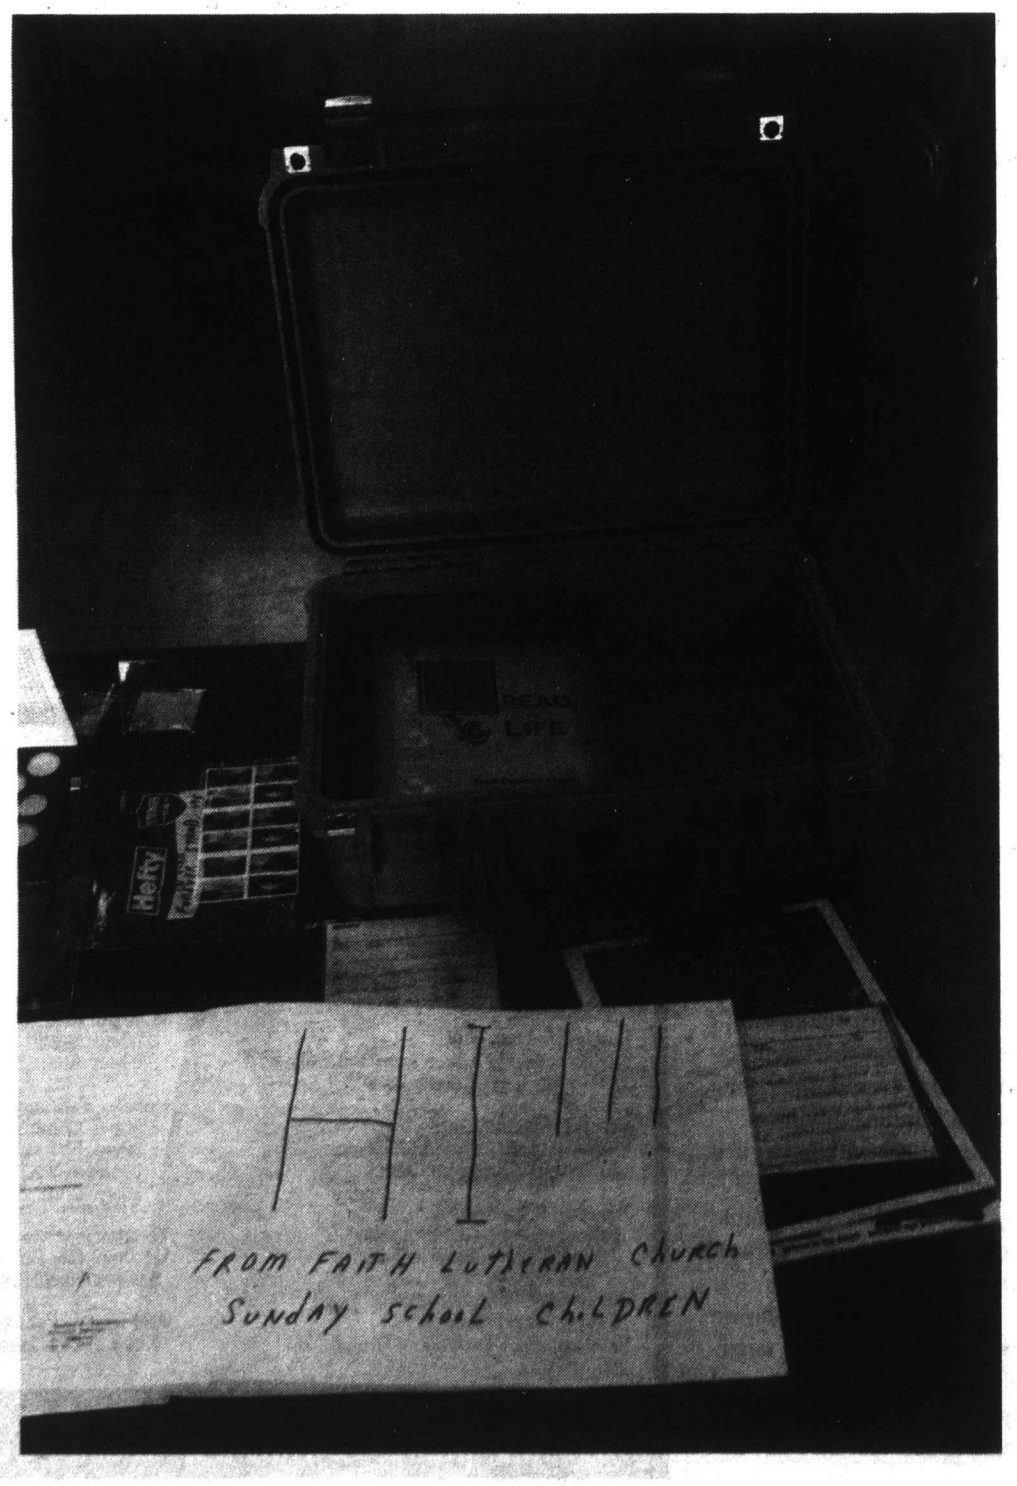
Waffle and Pancake Bar
Fresh cooked with your choice of toppings
• French Toast
• Assorted Muffins & Bagels
• Greek Salad
• Fresh Seasonal Fruit
• Chicken Broccoli Alfredo
• Home Fries
• Sausage & American Bacon
• Eggs Benedict
Omelette Station
Dessert Du Jour



FAITH LUTHERAN CHURCH 125th Anniversary Committee members with the contents that were placed in a time capsule (heavy-duty plastic strong box far right.) From left are Tom Mayo, Jeff Burns, Committee Co-Chairman Jack Mayo, Donna Mayo, Committee Co-Chairwoman Nina Mayo and Donna Flynn. Among the items that were placed in the box were old Swedish and American coins, mint coin set of 2014, book of "forever stamps," light bulb from 1800s, tile from 100th anniversary, congregational picture, cantata CD, issues of local newspapers including The Quincy Sun, comments from Pastor Heidi Johnston, cover sheet saying "Hi" and signed by Sunday School kids, church directory, trifold flyer, and a cook book. Also placed in the capsule was an old copper box that was removed from a time capsule unsealed last October as part of the church's 125h anniversary celebration. Quincy Sun Photos/Robert Bosworth

THE OCT. 23, 2014 issue of The Quincy Sun featuring coverage of the Faith Lutheran Church 125th anniversary celebration that included opening a time capsule from 1892 was among the artifacts placed in a new church time capsule Sunday. The new time capsule - a heavy-duty plastic strong box - is visible in the photo at right. It was sealed and will not be opened for 74 years until 2089 when the church marks its 200th anniversary as a congregation.



New Time Capsule At Faith Lutheran Church

To Remain Sealed Until The Year 2089

By KRIS KALABOKAS

Over 130 people watched as a time capsule was placed inside the altar of the Faith Lutheran Church on Sunday, replacing a 122-year-old capsule placed in the church's cornerstone in November of 1892 and removed last October as part of the congregation's 125th anniversary celebration.

Following Sunday services, children stood at the front of the church and sang "This Little Light of Mine" while holding lit candles. The new time capsule was then passed child to child before it was dropped through a hole cut into the altar to accommodate the capsule, said Jack Mayo, the church member who co-chaired Faith Lutheran's 125th Anniversary Planning Committee.

"It will be much easier to get at in 2089!" he said.

Items placed in the new time capsule were put on display prior to their burial and included Swedish and American coins removed from the prior capsule, a mint condition 2014 coin set, a book of forever stamps, a light bulb from the 1800s, a congregational picture, a CD of vocal compositions accompanied by music, a copy of The Quincy Sun covering the event, comments from Pastor Heidi Johnston who has been pastor since 2012, a cover sheet signed by the children of the church's Sunday school, a church directory, a tri-fold informational church flyer, a cook book with recipes submitted by members of the congregation, and tile from the church's 100th anniversary celebration.

Mayo joked that the forever stamps "would still be usable" in 2089, the year the congregation turns 200-years-old, he said.

Once stone workers carefully removed the lid of the prior time capsule, it was discovered that because the container was not properly sealed, water had leaked into the strongbox and damaged the items inside which included a Swedish hymnal book, Boston and Quincy newspapers of the time, an 1892 Swedish almanac, and several Swedish and American coins dating back to 1892.

Construction of the Faith Lutheran Church, which was at one time known as the Salem Lutheran Church, began in 1892 to serve the large population of Scandinavians — Swedes and Finns — coming from overseas to work in Quincy's granite quarries in the late 19th century.

Work on the church was completed in 1894 at a cost of $8,000.

The following year, the steeple was dedicated and a bell was installed.

In 1974, Faith Lutheran merged with the Trinity Lutheran Church which was constructed between 1907 and 1950.

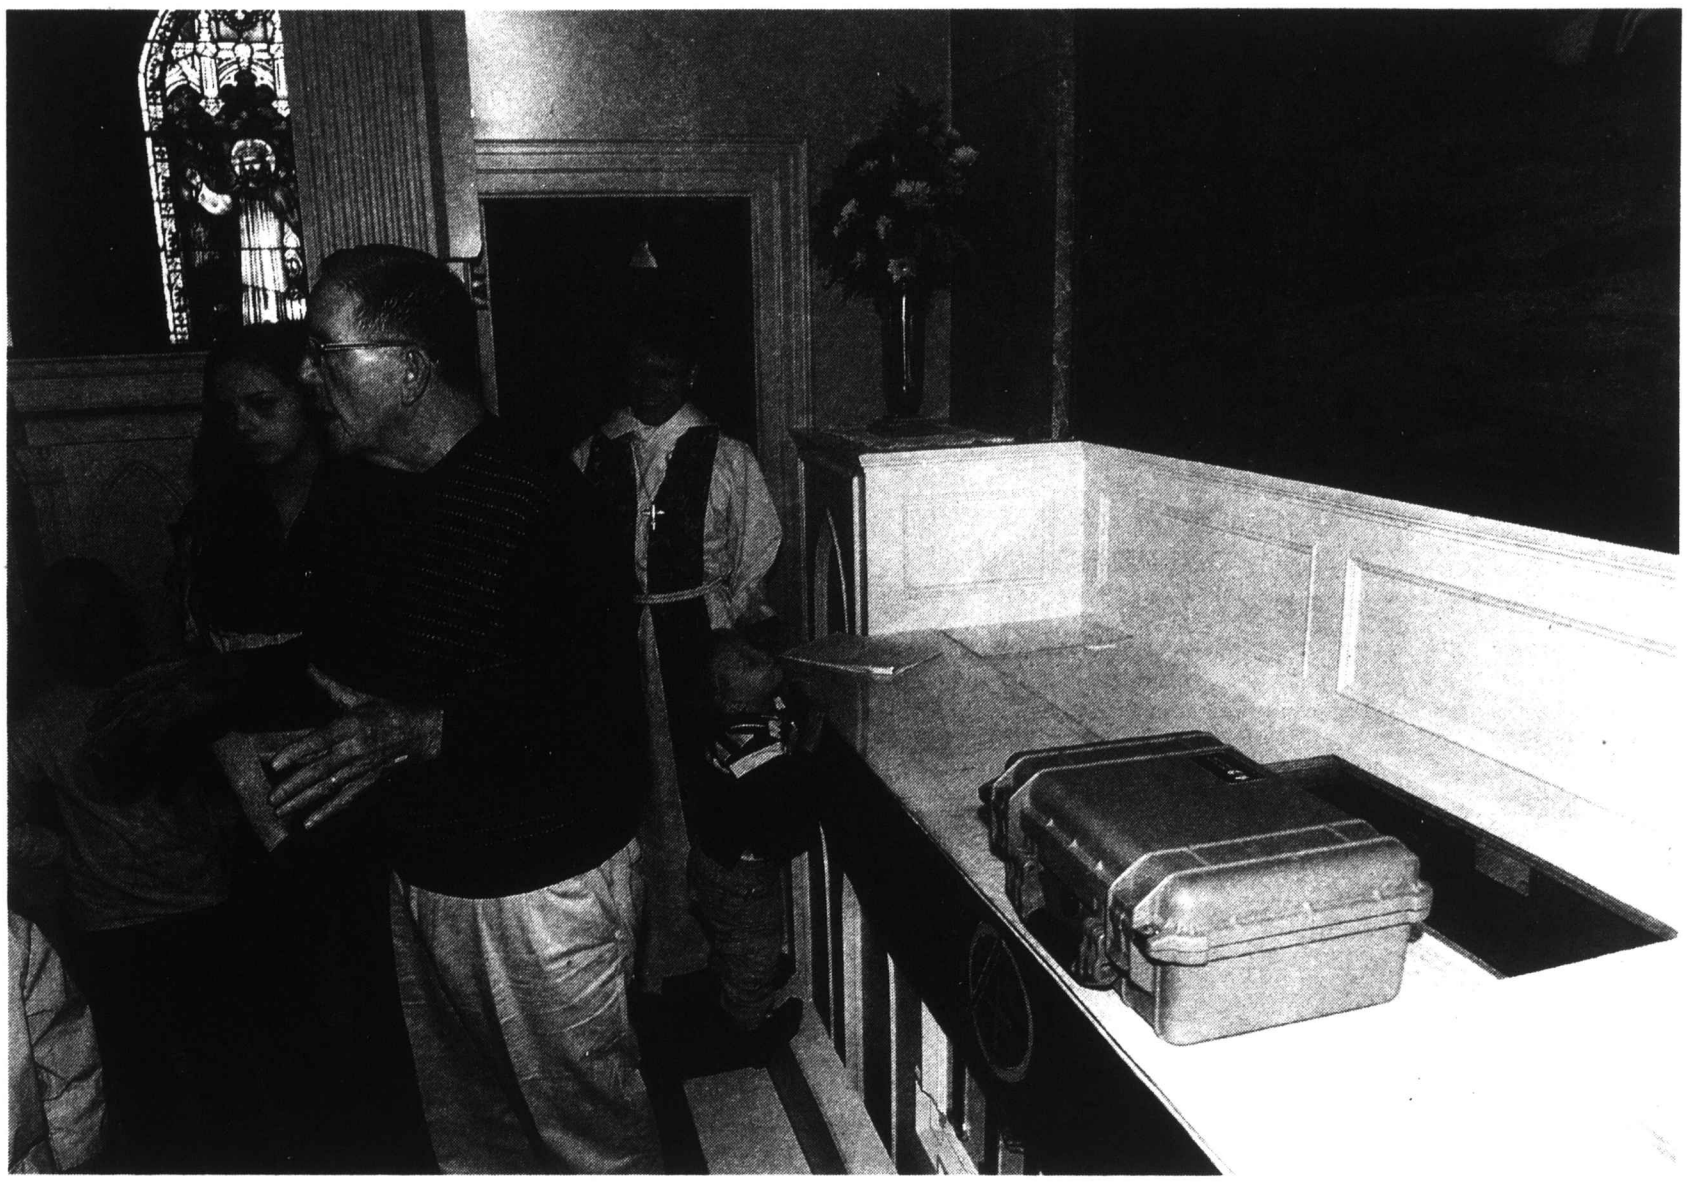
Faith Lutheran was listed in the National Register of Historic Places in 1989.

The prior time capsule was brought to the congregation's attention in November of 2013 by Robert Bloomberg of the Quincy Historical Society who discovered an article from a Quincy newspaper dated 1892 that said a strongbox had been placed in the church's cornerstone.

The opening of the prior copper strongbox was just part of a week-long celebration of the church's 125th anniversary.

Mayo said that Sunday's capsule burial was a big hit with the congregation, particularly the children.

"They loved it," he said. "It went over very well."



JACK MAYO, co-chairman of the Faith Lutheran Church 125th Anniversary Committee, tells the congregation what is inside the time capsule and how the box containing artifacts from today as well as the 19th century will remain in a special compartment inside the altar for the next 74 years. Behind Mayo is Church Pastor Heidi Johnston and her son, Oliver, who tries to get a closer look at the capsule and where it will stay until the year 2089. Quincy Sun Photos/Robert Bosworth

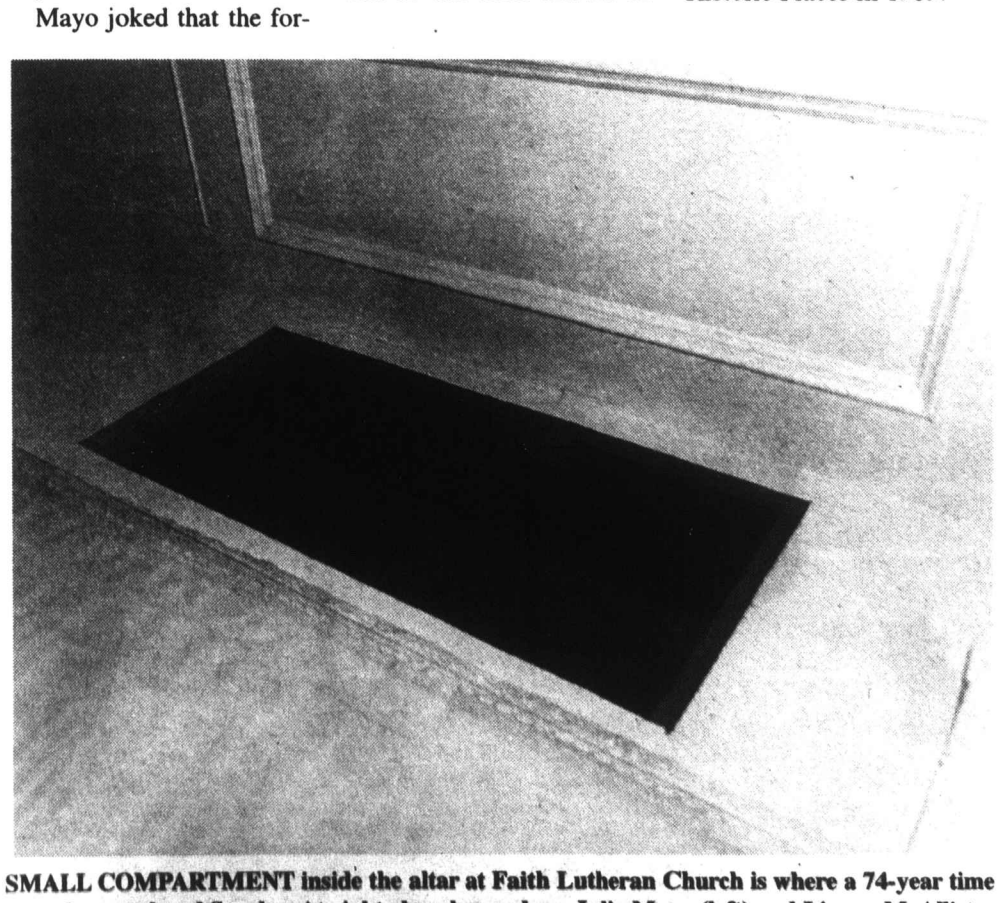
Coach Ted Stevenson To Be Honored Friday Night At NQHS

Longtime North Quincy High School basketball coach Ted Stevenson will be honored tomorrow (Friday) night.

Stevenson, who served as the Red Raiders' boys basketball coach for 15 seasons, will be presented with a plaque by other North coaches in the entryway of the Walter "Cap" Bryan Gymnasium.

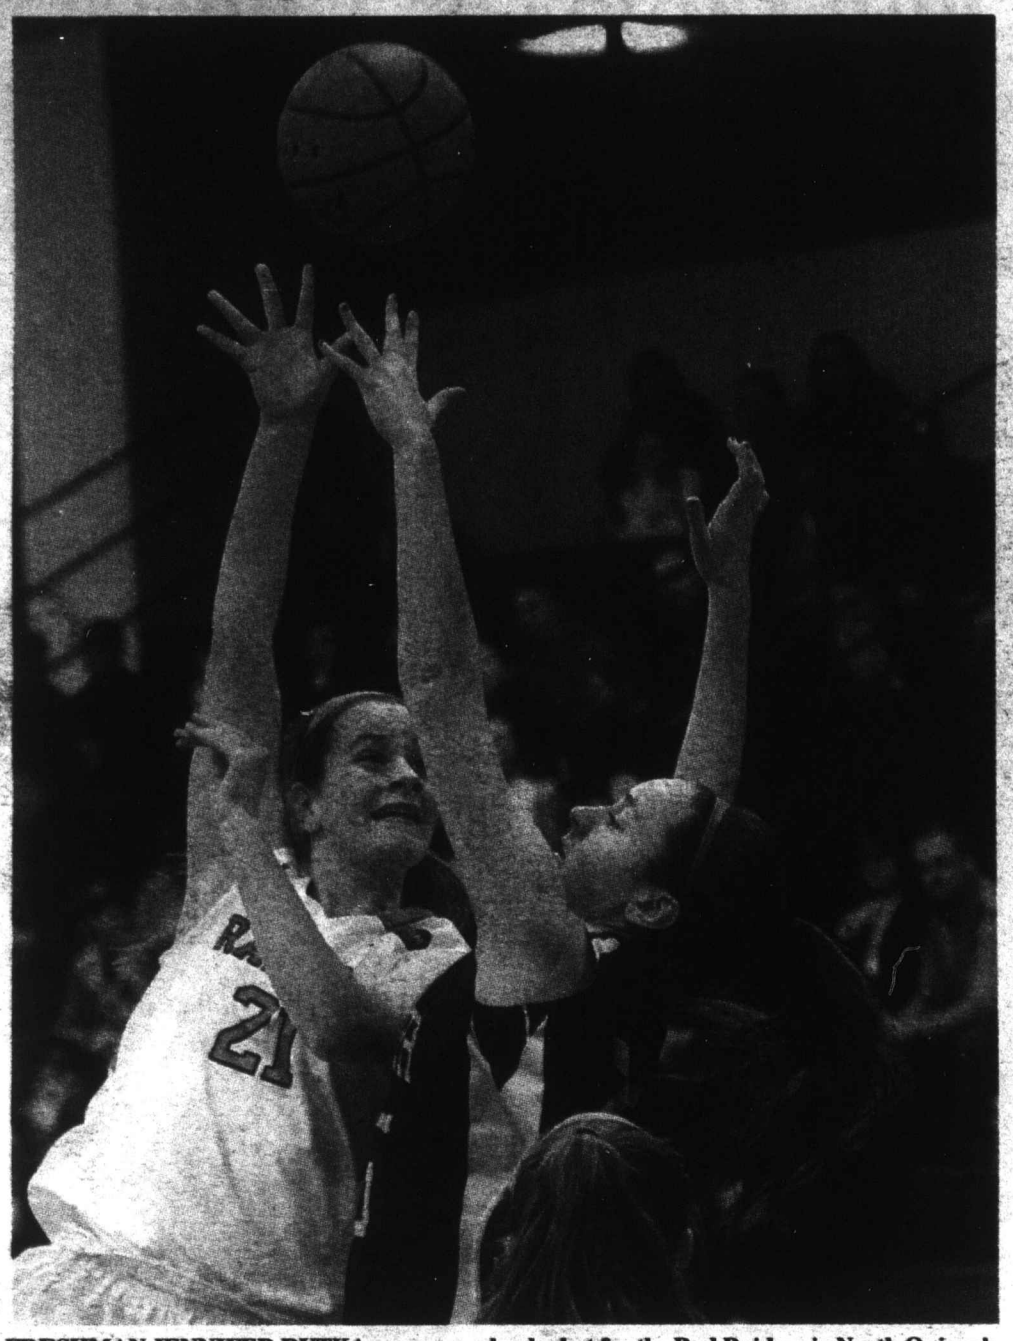
Stevenson won 149 games from 1987 to 2002 with seven tournament appearances. Stevenson, who played at North, was a two-year varsity starter. As a senior, he averaged 18.7 points per game captaining his team to a 12-7 record in the Greater Boston League. That season, Stevenson had a career high 35 points against Lowell.

He went on to attend Boston State, playing for former Boston Celtic Jim Loscutoff.



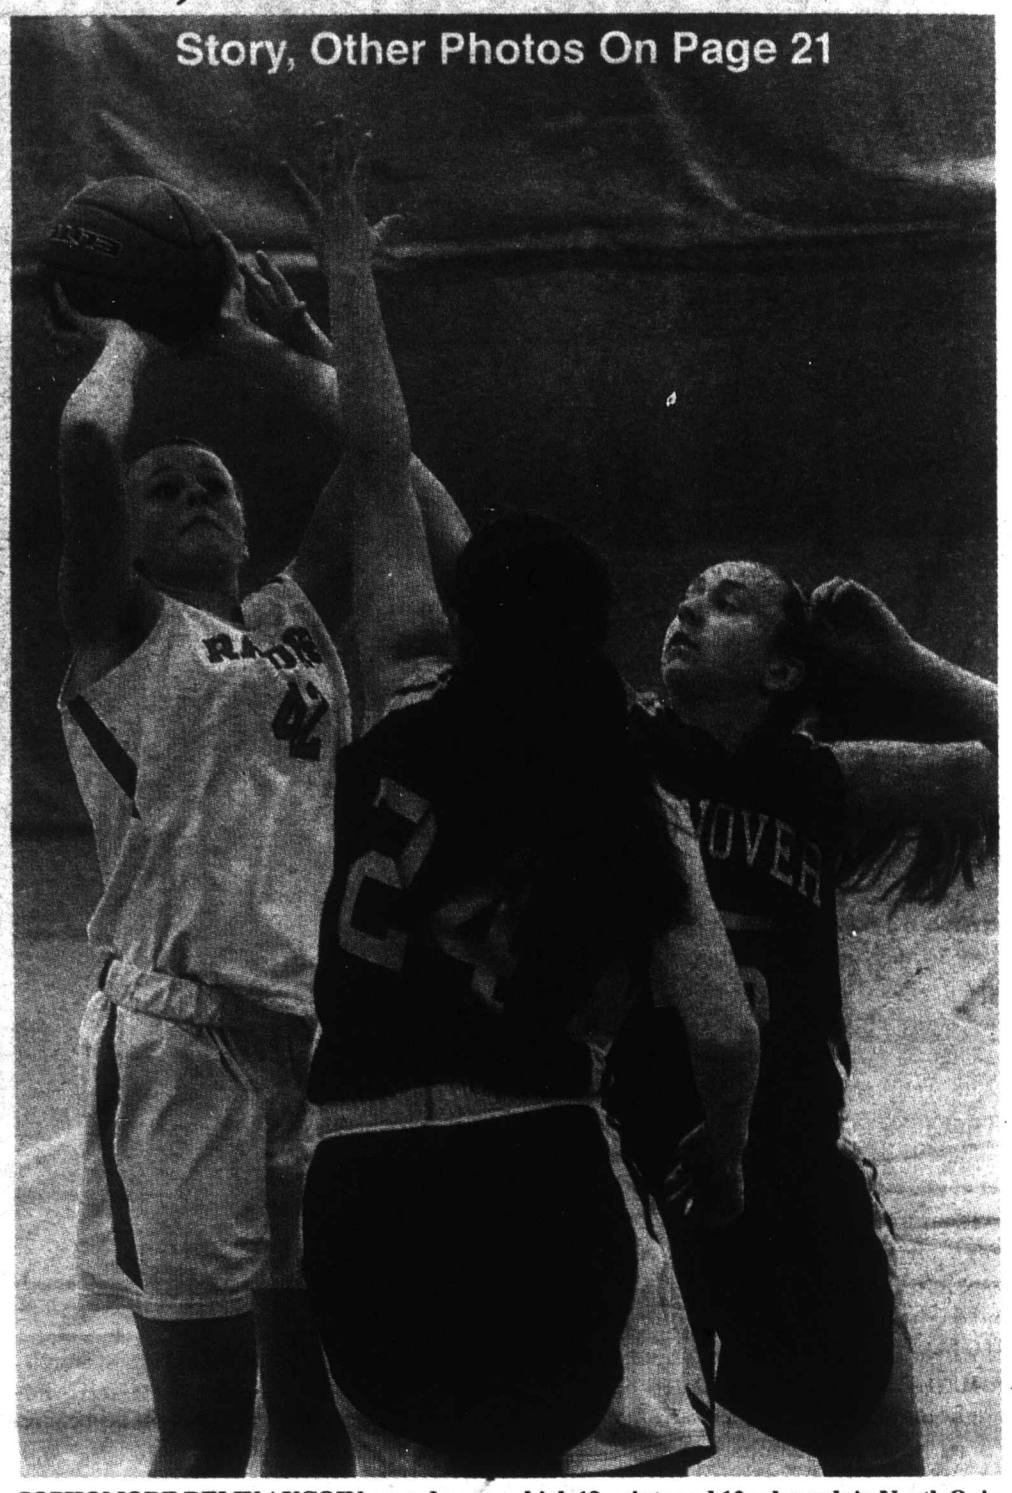
SMALL COMPARTMENT inside the altar at Faith Lutheran Church is where a 74-year time capsule was placed Sunday. At right church members Julia Mayo (left) and Linnea McAllister (right) lower the time capsule before it was sealed off.

Red Raiders Defeat Scituate, Bow To Hanover



FRESHMAN JENNIFER BUTKA scores on a hook-shot for the Red Raiders in North Quincy's 53-41 loss to Hanover last Friday night. Butka scored 15 points and had 11 rebounds for the Red Raiders who won four of their previous five games including a 43-34 win over Scituate

Story, Other Photos On Page 21



SOPHOMORE REMY AUCOIN scored a game-high 19 points and 10 rebounds in North Quincy's 53-41 loss to Hanover last Friday. In the Red Raiders' 43-44 win over Scituate, Aucoin contributed nine points and 13 rebounds. Quincy Sun Photos/Robert Bosworth

Short Stays –
A Perfect Vacation this Season!

ASSISTED LIVING RESPITE STAYS
AT ALLERTON HOUSE

Find out if assisted living is the answer for you or a loved one. It's perfect for the times family caregivers are away. Experience the Welch family's 65 year tradition of exceptional care, housing and hospitality!

ALLERTON HOUSE GUESTS ENJOY

- Three meals a day with friends
- Exciting activities, clubs, entrainment & outings
- Help with daily routines – from medications to transportation
- 24-hour support in a beautiful, modern fully furnished rental apartment

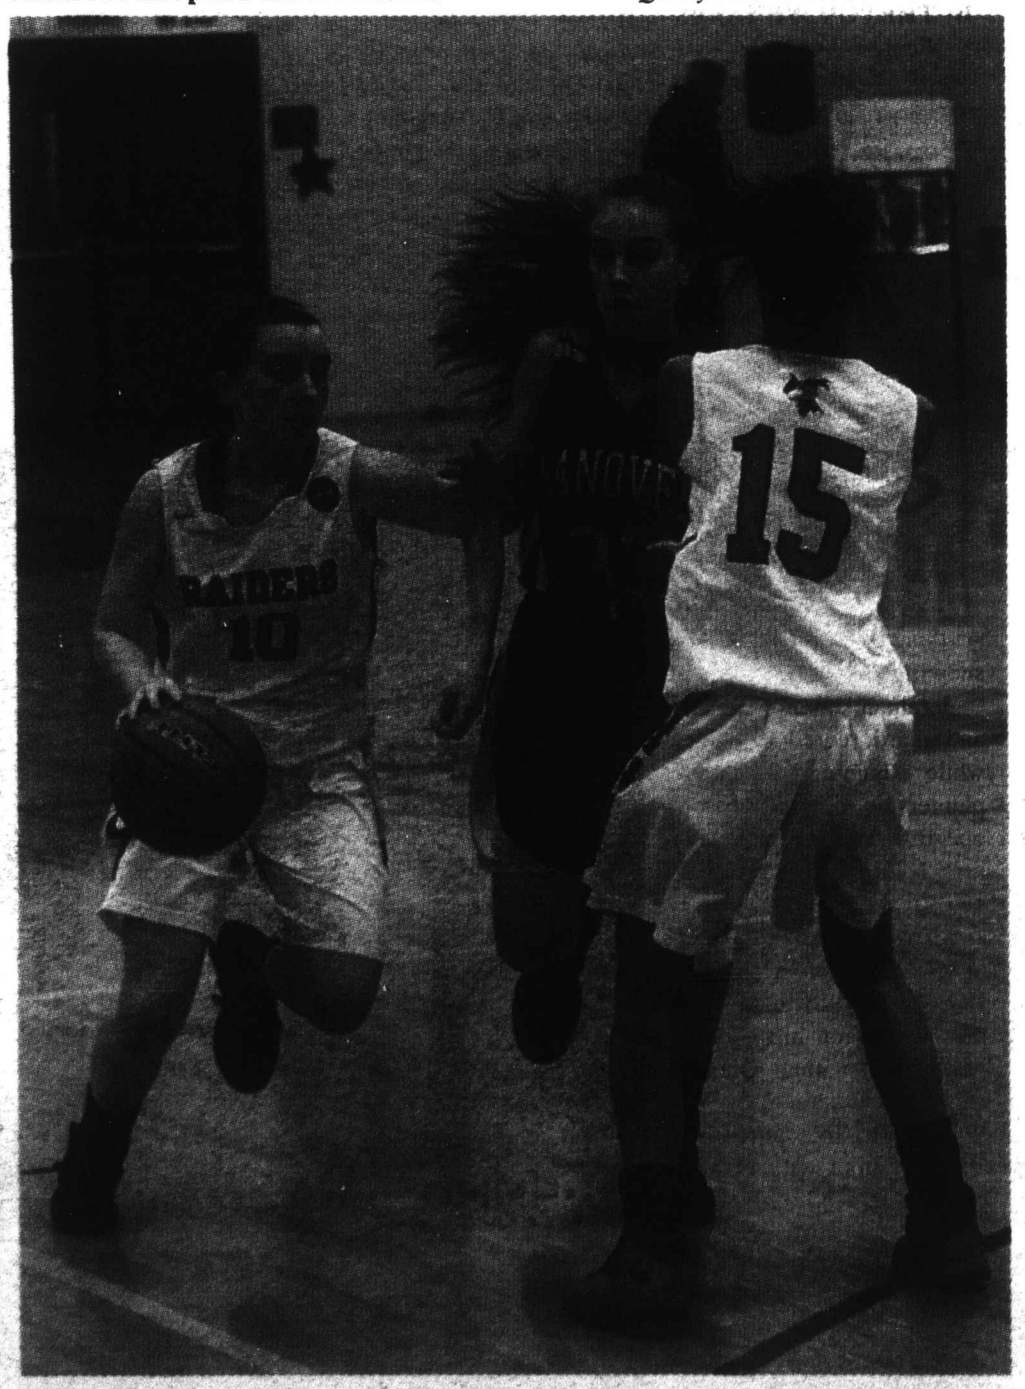
STAY 1 WEEK & ENJOY YOUR 2ND WEEK FREE*

*Limited time only. Based upon availability.

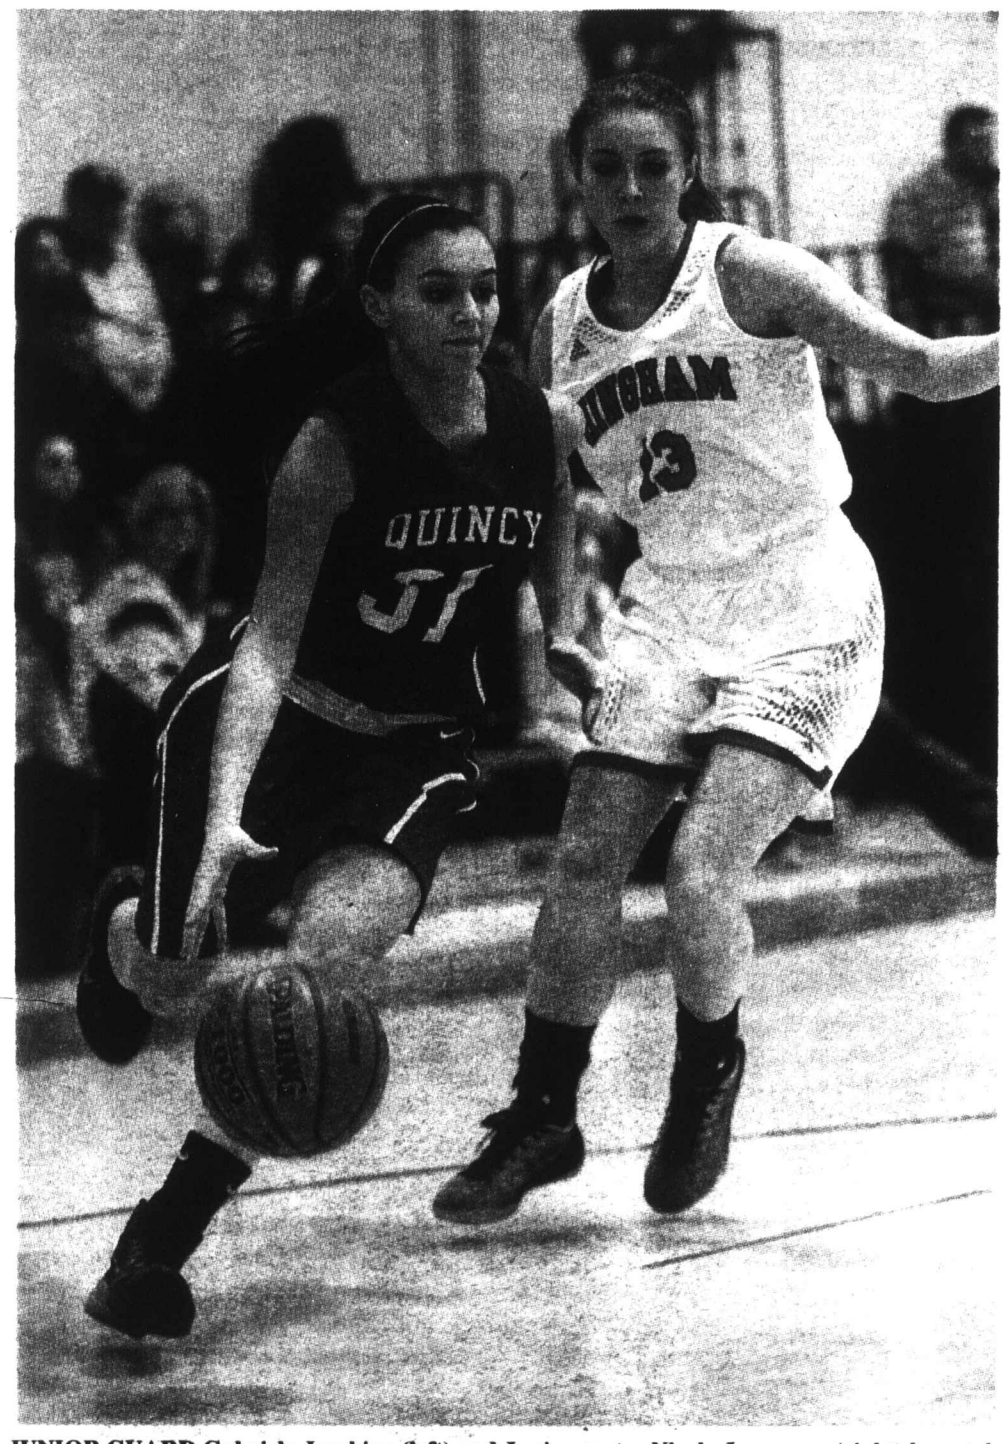
CALL TODAY TO JOIN US FOR LUNCH & A TOUR!

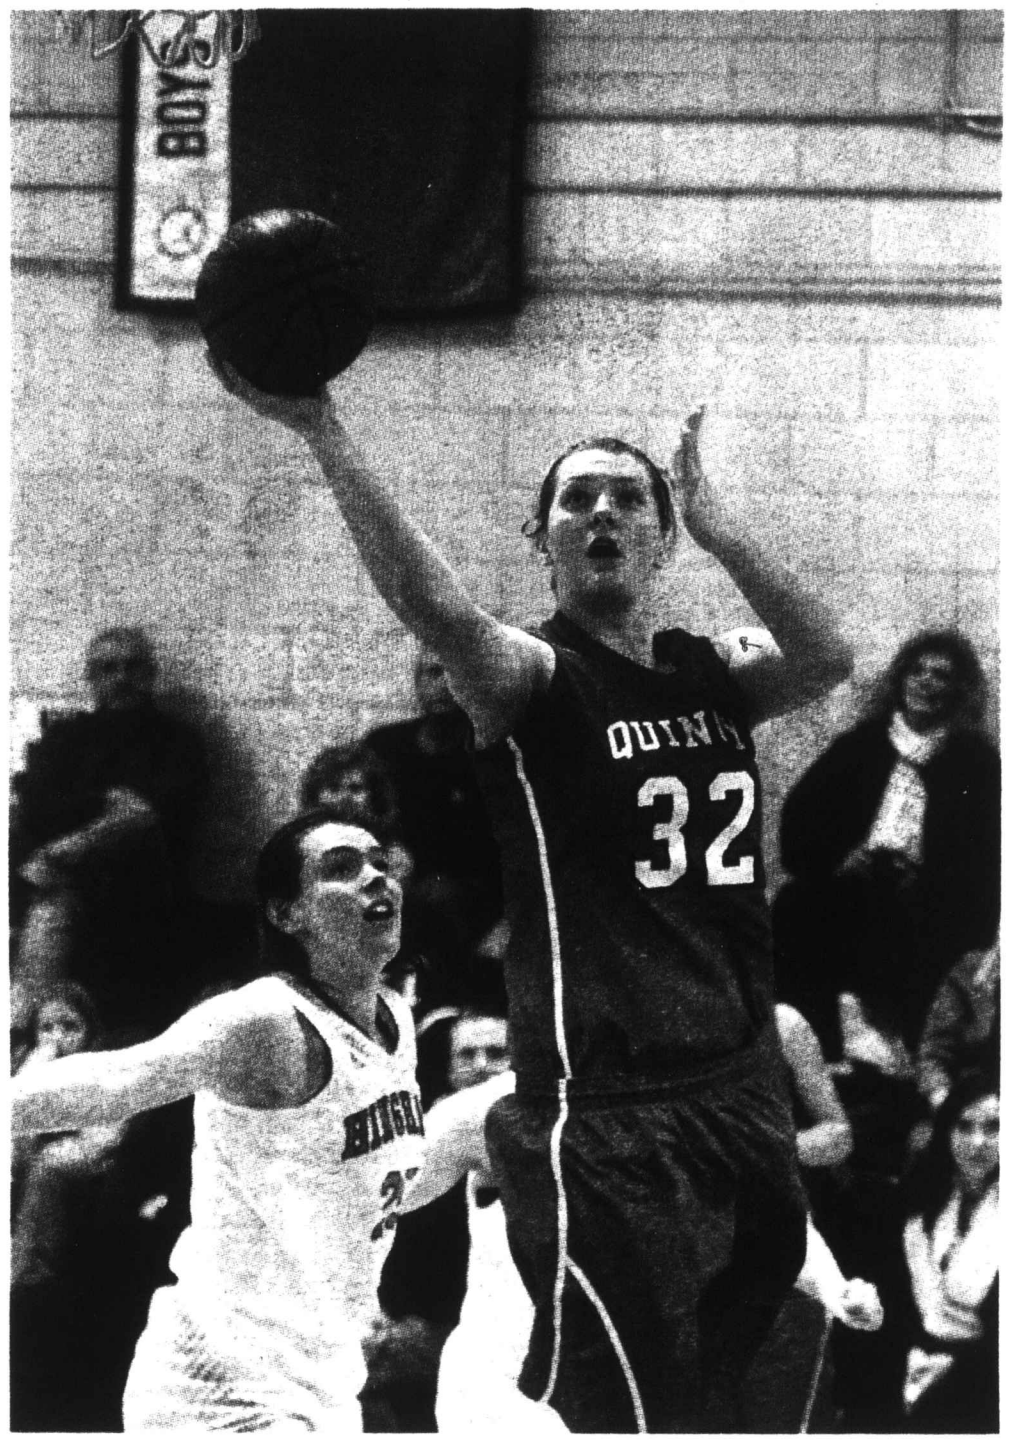
Allerton House
QUINCY
164 Parkingway • Quincy
339-788-2979

Over 65 Years of Quality Service
Welch
HEALTHCARE AND RETIREMENT GROUP
www.welchhrg.com



NORTH QUINCY'S Kerin Coleman (left, #10) dribbles past a pick set by teammate Michelle Mark.





JUNIOR GUARD Gabriela Jerahian (left) and Junior center Nicole Jorgensen (right) have taken their games to a much higher level, says Quincy girls basketball coach Jeff Bretsch. Jerahian is a formidable shooter, especially from three-point range. Jorgensen is a dominant inside force who has set single-game records for blocked shots and rebounds this season.

Quincy Sun Photos/Robert Bosworth

Hoopsters Jerahian, Jorgensen Take Games To Next Level

By TREVOR WENNERS

Nicole Jorgensen set school records for rebounds and blocks in single games this season while Gabriela Jerahian has nailed many three-pointers while complementing it with plays off the dribble to help the Quincy High School girls basketball team get off to a fast start.

"This year they've definitely both taken their games to a much higher level," said Presidents head coach Jeff Bretsch. "I think they're more consistent, they've grown in maturity and skill set this year and I think it is showing."

Jerahian, a junior captain and guard, scored 19 points while draining 3 three-pointers in a 56-50 season opening victory against visiting Hanover on December 16. She tallied 20 points along with 5 three-pointers in a 57-50 victory against Bridgewater-Raynham in the championship game of the first annual Quincy Holiday Tournament on December 30. She rattled off 20 points along with 4 three-pointers in a 43-33 victory against Silver Lake on January 9, 18 of those 20 points came in the first half.

"For (Jerahian) she worked really hard to add a drive to her game," said Bretsch. "She has always been a good shooter but she realized that she needed to be able to take the ball to the rim and she has been doing that very aggressively this year and I think that's a big difference maker for her, because she now (has) a more multidimensional game as an offensive player."

The Presidents were 11-11 in the 2012-2013 season while defeating West Roxbury 64-26 in a preliminary round game in the Division 1 South tournament before losing to Braintree in the first round. Last year the Presidents finished 7-13.

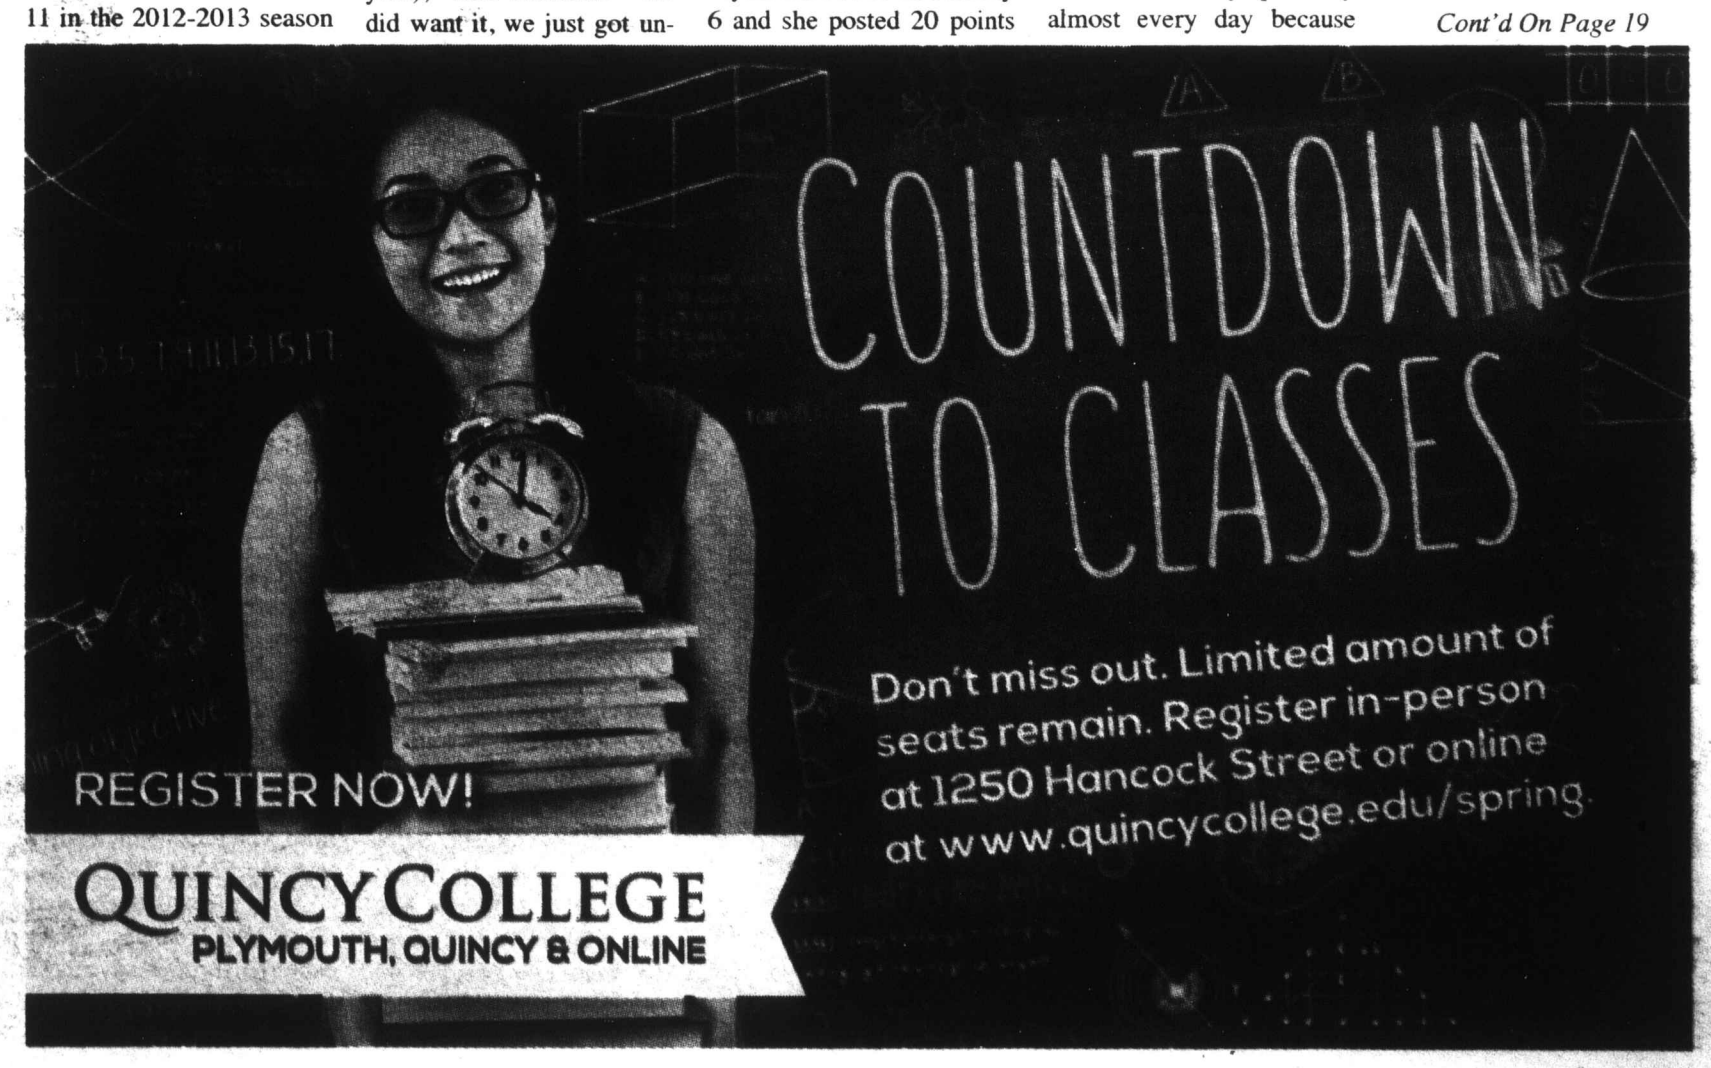
"It was definitely a huge setback, we were all very disappointed (about not making the tournament last year)," said Jerahian. "We did want it, we just got unlucky with our last run of games but it definitely did motivate us to work even harder in the offseason to make this season even better and that is what we're doing and I think its showing."

Jorgensen, a 6 foot 4 center, recorded 19 points and 28 rebounds (school record) in a 60-51 victory against Plymouth South on January 6 and she posted 20 points and 16 rebounds in a game against Scituate on December 22. She also blocked 13 shots (school record) on January 16 in a 51-35 road victory against Hingham and she holds the record for rebounds in a season which came during her freshman season when she pulled in 285 rebounds.

"I would say probably almost every day because that's the key to posting up," said Jorgensen about how much she worked on her footwork over the summer and making moves off the post with her back to the basket. "And that's what I usually work on."

The Presidents (9-4) went on an eight game winning streak earlier this season which included six wins

Cont'd On Page 19



CITY CHAMPIONS in the Elks National Hoop Shoot Free Throw Competition. Front row (from left) Adriana Moosick, Brett Mulligan and Dylan Green. Back row: Recreation Director Barry Welch, Olivia Herman, Victoria Berry, Harris Altaf and Ed Miller, Quincy Lodge of Elks Hoop Shoot chairman. Photos Courtesy Quincy Recreation Department

SECOND PLACE WINNERS in the Elks Free Throw Contest. Front row (from left): Cassidy Plant, Daithi Quinn and Kiera Sleiman. Back row: Recreation Director Barry Welch, Adam O'Neil, Abigail Hanly, Thomas Roche and Ed Miller, Quincy Lodge of Elks Hoop Shoot chairman.

Adrianna Moosick Advances In Elks Free Throw Competition

Five Other Youngsters Crowned City Champions

Adriana Moosick of Quincy, the defending state champion, led a group of six City of Quincy champions to the regional competition of the Elks National Hoop Shoot Free Throw.

The district event, which took place in Marshfield, saw Moosick continue her winning ways in the girls 10/11 division. She has now advanced to the state finals along with first time city champion Victoria Berry who won the girls 8/9 division.

Harris Altaf finished second in the boys 12/13-year-old group.

Also taking part in the district finals representing Quincy 943 in Marshfield were Daithi Quinn, boys age 8/9, Olivia Herman, girls age 12/13, and Adam O'Neil, boys age 10/11.

City champions Bret Mulligan and Dylan Green were not available to attend the regional event.

The Elks National Hoop Shoot is a contest for youth age 8-13. The program is sponsored locally by the Quincy Lodge of Elks 943. The program is free to all participants and has over a million youngsters compete nationwide each year.

In Quincy, the event starts with a preliminary round with local neighborhood recreation programs under the supervision of the recreation department. The neighborhood winners then advance to the city championship.

The city champions were crowned at the competition held Dec. 30 at Atlantic Middle School.

The district champions advance through to state and regional contests that result in the national finals at the Naismith Memorial Basketball Hall of Fame.

At all levels of the event contestants shoot 25 times.

Age categories for boys and girls are 8/9, 10/11, and 12/13.

In second place at the city championship were Cassidy Plant, Daithi Quinn, Kiera Sleiman, Adam O'Neil, Abigail Hanly, and Thomas Roche.

The third place finishers were Ella Roche, Sean Burns, Eileen Durgin, Matt Kelly, and Aaron Huang.

Gym championship participants were Brandon Toomer, Mike Galligan, Luke Noordas, Ammar Chunda, Max Melchin, Anthony Bina, Aril Dylja, Justice Burnett, TJ Manton, Seany Toland, Paulie Glenn, Michael Camball, Andrew Eugreu, Brendan Regan, Patrick Bates, Billy MacDonald, Emmett Bandzak, Ryan Naili, Mike McClellan, Shawn Kozlowski, Kevin Coyman, Tristan Guan, Connor Plante, Danny Bellotti, Cameron Douglas, Ryan LaRoche, Tyler Lee, Dan Scolaro, Jackson Zhao, Jeffrey Zheng, Harrison Stengel, Jalen Roche, Mike Levine, Thomas McCormak, Isaiah Steinberg, Quadeer Jones, Dimitru Dimitru, Eion Gormley, Kamari Grant, Simone Trainor, Madeline Case, Ava Moran, Myra Qusim, Elizabeth Chetwynd, Orla O'Driscoll, Kathleen Higgins, Lilly Hanly and Elise Roche.

Ed Miller, the former director of athletics for the City of Quincy, is the Quincy Lodge Hoop Shoot director. He presented trophies to all participants involved in the city final.

At the trophy presentation, Barry Welch, director of recreation, thanked exalted ruler Jackie Drinkwater and the members of the Quincy Elks for their continued generosity.

"The members of the Quincy lodge have supported this event for more than 30 years," said Welch. "This program provides our youth an opportunity to compete, connect, and succeed through hard work and demonstrate great sportsmanship."

"The investment that the Elks Lodge 943 provides to the youth of Quincy year after year makes Quincy a better community. The generosity of the Elks has enriched each child in the program," he said.

Welch also commended the members of the recreation staff who officiated at the local gym level and the city championship event for their competence and enthusiasm while encouraging the youth to have fun at each level of the program.

THIRD PLACE WINNERS in the Elks Free Throw Contest. Front row (from left): Ella Roche and Sean Burns. Back row: Recreation Director Barry Welch, Aaron Huang, Eileen Durgin, Matt Kelly and Ed Miller, Quincy Lodge of Elks Hoop Shoot chairman.

QNQ Swimming, Diving Drops Tightly-Contested Decisions

The three Quincy/North Quincy girls and boys swimming and diving teams fell to the visiting Hanover by a combined 17 points Jan. 20 at the Lincoln-Hancock Pool in Quincy.

In the closest decision, Quincy (2-5) girls lost, 52-49, while the North Quincy (1-6) girls came up on the short end of a 51-46 contest. The QNQ boys (3-3) fell 88-79.

"I am really proud of the effort Quincy put in while in the midst of midterms," said Quincy Head Coach Marisa Forrester. "This is a group that is dedicated to their studies and they excel in their academics outside of the pool."

Through eight events, Hanover led Quincy until the 200-yard freestyle relay contingent of freshman Kathryn Casey, senior Meg Caggiano, senior Marina Chafa, and sophomore Gracie Scuzzarella touched the wall first to lift Quincy to the 38-37 advantage.

In the next event, Scuzzarella won the 100 backstroke (1:11.43) then Marina Chafa and Tammy Ma went two-three in the 100 breaststroke swimming 1:30.40 and 1:30.87 to remain a point above the visitors before Quincy finished second in the final relay to suffer the three-point loss. Scuzzarella also won the 100 butterfly (1:12.59), and Bailee Carey topped the one-meter diving field with her 212.25 production.

North Quincy, who trailed through the first 11 events and was down by as many as 10 points, cut the difference to one with one event remaining when senior Li Wen Wong won the 100 breaststroke (1:19.22) and freshman Sarah O'Donovan placed third (1:24.75).

NQ closed the gap initially, 35-36, by winning the 200 free relay (2:01.46) thanks to freshman Brenna Kirby, sophomore Danielle O'Driscoll, senior Evlyn Scuzzarella and Li Wen Wong. On her own, Scuzzarella won the 200 individual medley (2:50.18) and finished second in the 100 backstroke (1:17.96). Sophomore Stephanie MacFarland won the one-meter diving with 130.88 points.

In a meet that featured three lead changes, QNQ captured its first advantage after the 50 freestyle when seniors Randall Kwong and Mike Mullaney finished one-three swimming 24.28 and 26.53 lifting QNQ to the 31-30 edge. Mullaney's first place effort of 6:29.37 in the 500 freestyle along with Brian Rooney's silver performance (6:58.44) crept the hosts back to within one, 53-54, with four events to go. Hanover won three of the remaining events to garner the 88-79 victory.

The 200 medley relay squad of sophomores Tommy Zhang and Thomas Tran, and senior Randall Kwong, and junior Mason Francoeur qualified for sectionals clocking 1:53.17. Individually, Tran won the 100 breaststroke (1:10.26) and placed second in the 100 butterfly (1:02.05) while Zhang won the 200 IM (2:15.36) and was second in the 100 backstroke (1:02.81).

George Burke Donates $3,000 To YMCA Hoop Program

Quincy attorney George Burke recently presented a $3,000 donation to Lisa Drennan, director of the Inclusion at the South Shore YMCA, to benefit the Hoopsters Program at the Quincy YMCA.

Previously, Burke had donated $25,000 to build an outdoor basketball court at the Quincy YMCA. He has also pledged $50,000 to the new YMCA in Quincy.

For several years, Burke has given $3,000 to the Germantown Neighborhood Center which is part of the YMCA. The total given to the YMCA is nearly $100,000.

Burke began playing basketball at the old YMCA on Washington Street and played basketball at Camp SAH. He went on to his his basketball number retired at the University of Massachusetts Amherst and the Hall of Fame is named after him: the George 'Trigger' Burke Hall of Fame. Burke also played for the Boston Celtics.

Caitlyn Lowry On Dean's List

Caitlyn Elizabeth Lowry of Quincy is on the Dean's List for the fall semester at Endicott College.

A junior majoring in accounting, Lowry is the daughter of Joe and Doreen Lowry of Quincy.

Quincy Girls Bow To Undefeated Duxbury

9-4 Presidents Host Silver Lake Friday Night

By TREVOR WENNERS

Nicole Jorgensen scored 9 of her 11 points in the second half for the Quincy High School girls basketball team in a 44-28 loss against host Duxbury on Friday.

"She brought us right back in the game there in the second half for a little bit," said Presidents head coach Jeff Bretsch. "We clawed right back to almost being in striking distance again. I thought she really asserted herself and the girls responded."

The Presidents (9-4) would take an early 1-0 lead after a free throw make from junior captain and guard Alyssa Camara. The Green Dragons would respond with three straight points which included two foul shots from Maddie Foote and a foul shot from Jackie Sullivan. Junior Sarah Gibbons (8 points, 7 rebounds) would respond with a basket to even the score at 3-3.

"I thought Sarah did a nice job tonight for us on the offensive glass," said Bretsch. "And just being ready and active."

Duxbury would score the next eight points to take an 11-3 advantage and then junior guard Ariana Paulo hit a three-pointer to cut the Duxbury lead to 11-6 after the opening quarter.

"Ariana, she is just a great kid, she works hard," said Bretsch. "She knows that when she gets in the game that we're looking for her to take that big shot because she is a knock-down shooter and she's just a great kid all-around, she gives you everything she has."

Foote would hit a foul shot at the beginning of the second quarter to extend the Green Dragons lead to 12-6. The Presidents responded with six straight points which included a hoop from Jorgensen, a basket from junior forward Julianna Kane and the last two came off a bucket from Gibbons on a pass from Jorgensen to even the score at 12-12. Duxbury would score the next eight points and then Camara would score off a pass from freshman point guard Liana Cunningham, who made her first start for the Presidents.

"She has been really doing a terrific job for us this year at the point guard position," said Bretsch of Cunningham. "She has been confident and really just a tremendous passer and defender, I think she makes everybody better when she's on the floor with them so I was happy for her tonight to have a good game."

Catherine Harrison (16 points) would register the final four points of the half to give the Green Dragons a 24-14 lead going into halftime.

The Presidents came out of halftime scoring the first six points which included two baskets from Jorgensen and the final points of the run came on a score from Gibbons with Jorgensen providing the pass just like the play in the first half that tied the game at 12-12.

"I think we threw 60 of those yesterday in practice," said Bretsch about Jorgensen finding Gibbons on the backdoor pass. "(Gibbons) was looking for it, Nicole made some really nice passes I thought, (she) read the double team very well and Sarah was there and ready and able to capitalize on a few."

Paulo would step in and take a charge for the Presidents with 3:24 remaining in the third quarter and at that point the Presidents were trailing 24-20 and still had not given up a point in the third.

"I wasn't surprised that it was her that took the charge because she's that kind of player," said Bretsch.

Emma Gill, Molly Quilty and Jackie Sullivan would each register a hoop in the second half of the third quarter to give the Green Dragons a 30-20 advantage heading into the final quarter.

Jorgensen (14 rebounds, 4 blocks) registered five points in the fourth quarter which came off two baskets and a foul shot.

"Nicole is as good a post player as there is in our league," said Duxbury coach Bob Sullivan. "She's a special athlete. I'm sure she'll be playing at a good level in college someday and I think Quincy is well coached."

Bretsch talked about Quincy's defense in the game which only allowed six points in the third quarter.

"I was very, very happy with the girls' level of intensity and their defense tonight," he said. "We really worked hard to prepare for this team and I think besides the last four minutes when we were scrambling trying to catch up (and) they scored a lot of points, there was a point where I think it was 30-20 in the fourth quarter so we were very happy with the defensive intensity. I thought they executed our game plan very well."

This is the second time this season the two teams squared off against each other. Duxbury won the first meeting, 44-38.

"We learned a lot defensively, we've come a long way in that area and I thought it showed tonight," said Bretsch. "We struggled on the offensive end of the floor; (Duxbury's defense does) that to teams. We know this is where we have to be, we have to get to this level if we want to be competitive at the tournament level so (beating Duxbury) has clearly been a goal for us."

ANTHONY GREEN of North Quincy (back row, with headband) and the Tilton Prep Basketball Team recently traveled to London, England and played in the Harris Tournament. Tilton won the tournament and brought the trophy home to the states. Green was a standout basketball player for the Red Raiders and graduated in 2014. He is prepping at Tilton and will play collegiate ball at Northeastern University. Photo Courtesy Cecelia Green

Quincy High Hoopsters Jerahian, Jorgensen Take Games To Next Level

Cont'd From Page 17

by double figures. Jerahian has averaged 15.2 points per game through the first eleven games to go along with 31 three-pointers which is an average of 2.82 made three-pointers per a game. Jorgensen has averaged a double-double through the first eleven games of the season by averaging 14.6 points per game, 14.8 rebounds per game and also has contributed with 4.6 blocks per game.

"She developed physically, she became stronger," said Bretsch about what Jorgensen worked on in the offseason. "(She) has really developed a nice touch around the rim, where I think in the past she struggled sometimes to finish and this year she is finishing inside at a very, very high percentage."

Jerahian and Jorgensen have both been three-year starters. Jerahian talked about the chemistry of the team.

"I think this far into the season we get more and more comfortable with each other every game," said Jerahian. "It's so easy to see that we click and that it's there and everyone is on the same page, everyone wants it as much as each other and that's really helpful."

Jerahian talked about the importance of knocking down outside shots and feeding the ball inside to Jorgensen.

"That's a constant reminder every practice, we keep working on it, ways to get open, ways to get (Jorgensen) open even though she is getting double teamed," she said. "And how to get her the ball as easy as we can make it because it is not always easy but it's necessary for us to win."

Jorgensen talked about what the most important aspects are going to be heading forward.

"I think that we're going to have to work on conditioning as well as we have been and pushing the ball because we have a really fast team compared to other teams," she said. "We can run the ball and we have (an) outside game and inside game."

Do Jorgensen and Jerahian want to take the game to the college level?

"I definitely think I want to play basketball in college," said Jorgensen. "It's one of my favorite sports."

Jerahian said, "I am also looking to play in college so we'll see how the plans go but it is my plan to."

Grace Geary On National Hoop Team Of The Week

For the first time in her collegiate career, freshman guard Grace Geary, a Falmouth native who played her senior at North Quincy High School, was recently named to the D3Hoops.com National Team of the Week.

Geary - who attained her 1,000th career high-school point last winter playing for the Red Raiders – was also named the Little East Conference Rookie of the Week for the second-straight week and league-leading third time this season.

The D3Hoops.com National Team of the Week is comprised of the top five players on both the men's and women's side regardless of position. Geary is just the third player in program history to earn the honor, joining Olivia Murphy of Canton and Kirsten Morrison of North Reading.

Geary averaged a team-high 18.7 points per game on 50 percent (17-of-34) shooting to help the Beacons to a 3-0 week, including earning a pair of conference victories. She also added a team-high 4.7 assists, to go along with her 3.8 rebounds and two steals per game.

She opened the week with a career-high 27 points on 9-of-13 shooting in just 29 minutes of action Tuesday night. Geary knocked down 4-of-5 3-pointers and also knocked down all five of her free throw attempts in the Beacons's 74-49 win over Plymouth State University.

On Jan. 15th, Geary finished with 13 points, four assists and three steals to help the Beacons rout Bridgewater State University 64-37.

UMass Boston earned its most impressive win of the week Jan. 17th, as Geary led the Beacons to their first win at conference foe Western Connecticut State University since 2004. She completely filled the stat sheet with 16 points, on 5-of-10 shooting, six rebounds, five assists and one steal in UMass Boston's 57-42 win over the Colonials.

In the Beacons' two conference victories, Geary averaged 22.5 points per game on 58.3 percent shooting from the field and 55.5 percent shooting from distance. She also knocked down all 10 of her free throw attempts.

VOICE FOR HEALTH
by Dr. Gabrielle Freedman
Chiropractor

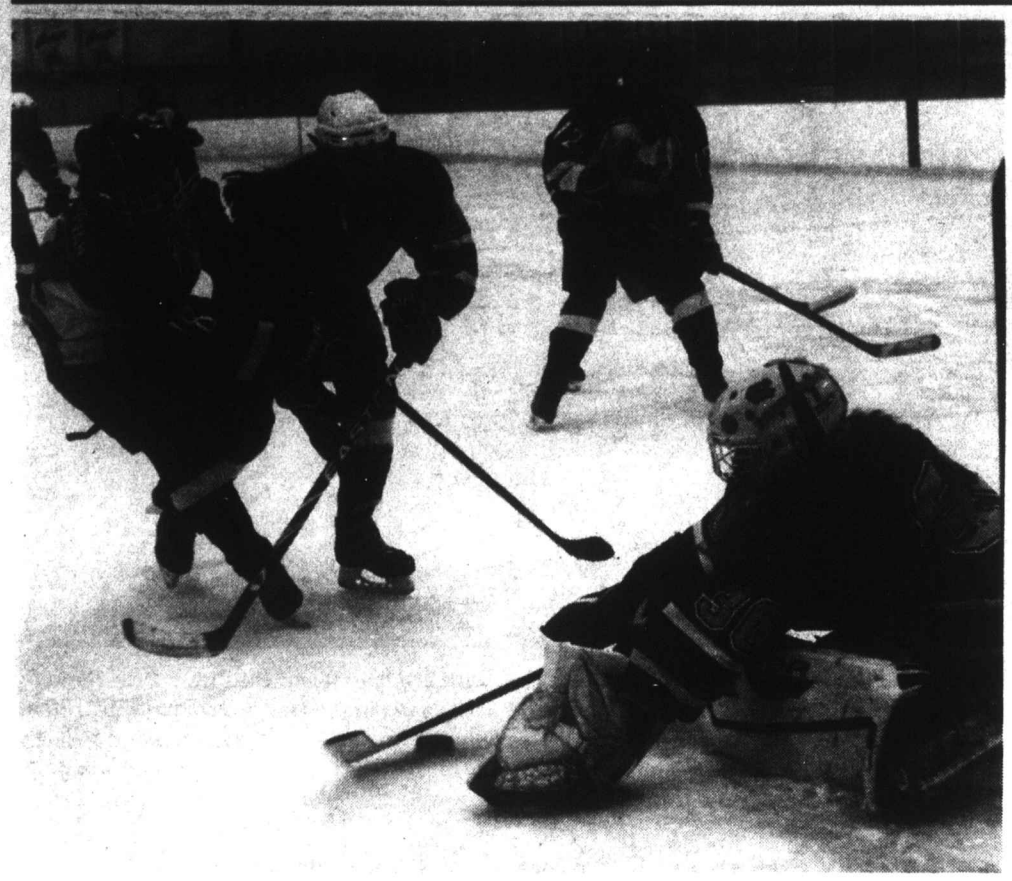
FASHION FAUX PAS

Some clothing and fashion accessories worn by women may actually interfere with the way muscles and joints function to the point that they can damage the spine and cause pain. Cases in point include pencil skirts, which clamp the knees together and make it difficult to bend, and skinny jeans, which squeeze the waist, hips, thighs, and calves so tightly that normal walking action is impossible. And although lycra underwear has been shown to improve athletic performance by increasing blood and lymphatic flow, shapewear that is too tight can restrict a woman's breathing, constrict middle-body movement, and exert abnormal loads on parts of the spine. Women should not suffer for (or from) fashion.

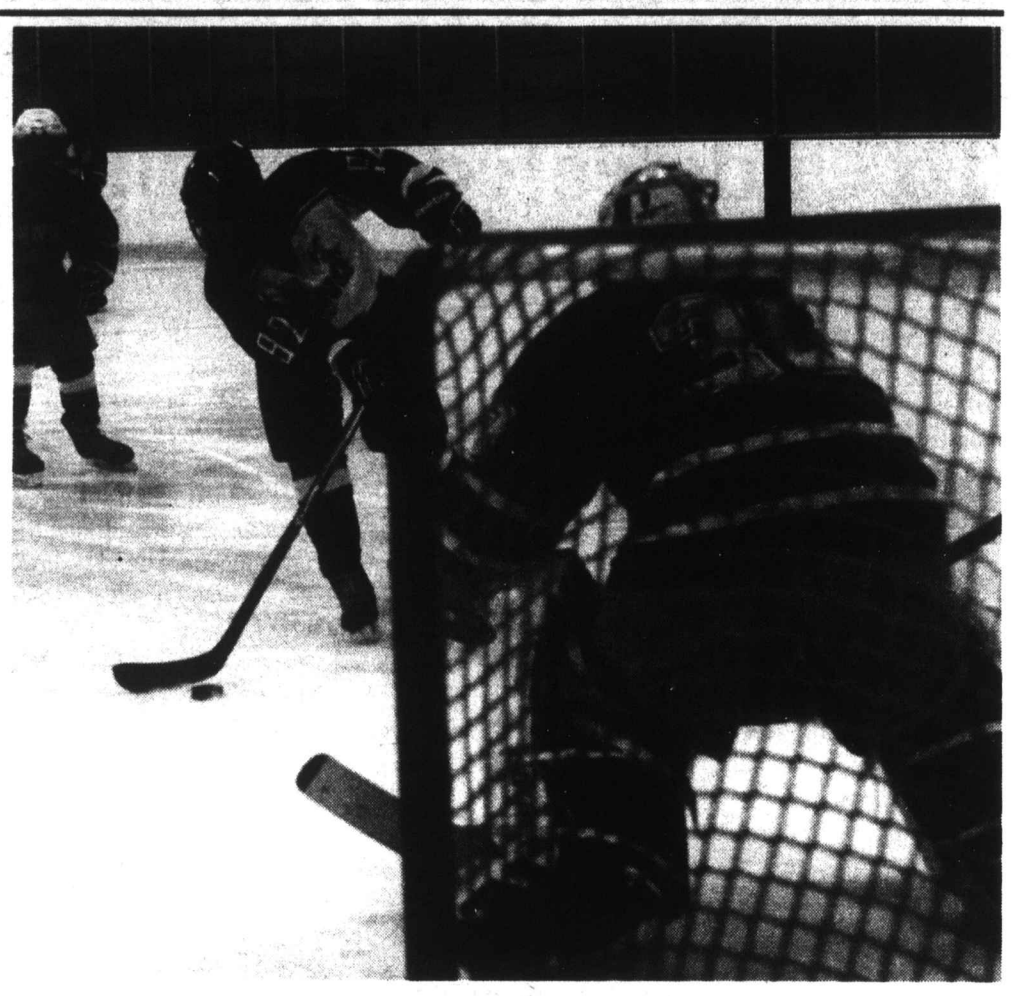
In today's society, much value is put on the way people look and how they dress. Chiropractic medicine advises not to sacrifice the body's health and comfort for the sake of fashion. At Family Practice of Chiropractic, we work with the nervous, muscular, and skeletal systems to correct faults and relieve pain. Chiropractic is based on the fact that the nervous system controls the function to every cell, tissue, and organ in the body. We're located at 112 McGrath Hwy., Quincy. Please call 617.472.4220 to schedule an appointment.

P.S. Ill-fitting bras, heavy bags worn in the crook of the arm, high heels, and ill-fitting halter tops that pull the neck forward are other garments and accessories that can harm women's posture and cause pain.

www.freedmanchiro.com



FORWARD JULIA DONOVAN battles Norwell defenseman Abigail Slekis scoring the game's first goal giving Quincy-North Quincy a 1-0 lead in the first period.



SAVANNAH FLYNN gets behind the Norwell defense in the first period and puts a shot on goal.

Girls Hockey Ties Norwell

Senior captain Julia Donovan and sophomore winger Kate McGahey each registered a goal for the Quincy/North Quincy girls' hockey team in a 2-2 tie against Norwell on Saturday at the Quincy Youth Arena.

"We were up 1-0, went down 2-1 and still fought back to tie it up and they gave themselves a chance to win the game," said Quincy/North Quincy coach Steve Burgio. "It was a strong third period by both teams. The last couple minutes we definitely had the edge and had many opportunities to get some goals or get a goal and their goaltender did a good job."

Donovan began the scoring with a goal in the first period to give Quincy/North Quincy (2-10-1 overall, 1-4-1 in the Southeastern Mass. Girls Hockey League) a 1-0 advantage.

"From my point it was a nice breakout up the ice, around mid ice she got the puck and was able to come down the left side and cut across," said Burgio. "And as she cut across she was taken down or she could (have) caught an edge it was close, there was a defenseman right on her and from on (the ice) she was able to get the shot off and get it between the goalies' legs as she came across the side of the crease."

Norwell would tie the game up late in the first period and then the Clippers would take a 2-1 advantage in the second period after a wrap around goal. About midway through the second period, McGahey found the back of the net off a rebound that evened the score at 2-2.

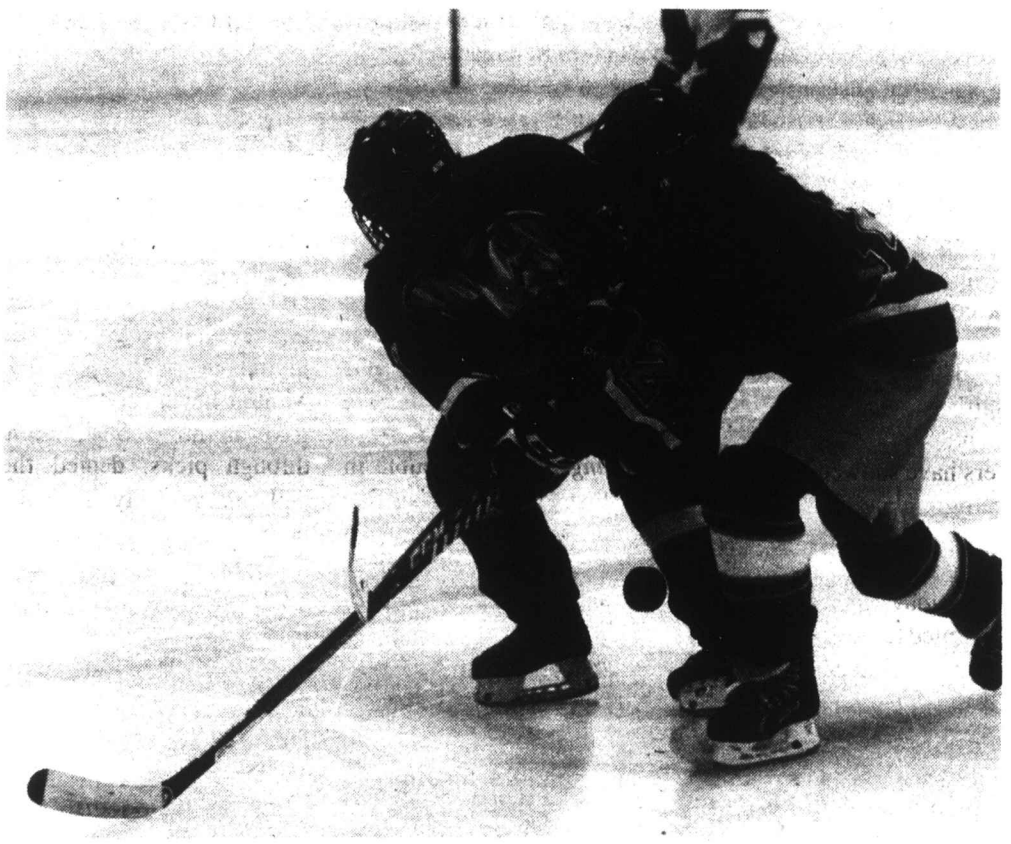
Sophomore goaltender Karissa Beal made some timely saves during the course of the game for Quincy/North Quincy. Last time the two teams met this season, Norwell won 4-1.

KATE MCGAHEY puts a shot on goal in the third period. Kate scored QNQ's second goal to tie the game in the second period.

"The best thing about this whole game is that it shows (the team's) improvement from the first time they played (against Norwell and) even from the beginning of the season to this point," said Burgio. "They are now creating more opportunities for themselves to get some goals. A tie is good, a win is better and I think the girls feel the same way but they're definitely making improvements towards that goal."

Quincy/North Quincy was scheduled to play Hanover/Cohasset Wednesday at Randolph. The Quincy/North Quincy team went to Massachusetts Hospital in Canton after the game to play wheelchair basketball with some of the guests and this will be the teams' third time doing it.

Quincy/North Quincy will play Boston Latin Academy at 8 p.m. at Quincy Youth Arena on Saturday.



QNQ DEFENSEMAN Kelly Donahue and Norwell's Addison Kent fight for the puck in a tight game at Quincy Youth Arena on Saturday night. The two teams battled to a 2-2 tie.

Quincy Sun Photos/Larry Carchedi

Boys' Hoop Teams In Stretch Run

Presidents Eye League Title, High Seed; Red Raiders Seek Tourney Spot

By BILL GRIFFIN

Quincy and North Quincy are in different, but interesting places as the season turns into its stretch run. The stretch run is scheduled to cover three weeks. If it snows until July 4, it could take a bit longer.

For Quincy (10-3) there are thoughts of a league title and tournament seedings. For North (7-6), it is a matter of applying the fundamentals of defense and rebounding to earn the three wins which will secure its fifth straight trip to the tourney.

Last week, the Presidents took over sole possession of first place in the Keenan Division of the Patriot League. Drew Myers had 23 points and Colin Evans added 21 as Quincy posted a huge road win over Plymouth North, 78-66. Plymouth had recently handed Whitman-Hanson its first league loss.

It may well have been Quincy's biggest win of the season. It came after successive road losses to Whitman-Hanson and St. John's. Good teams have to win on the road. Quincy is a good team.

"We told the kids before the game that if they want to contend for a league title, they have to win on the road," said coach Dave Parry. "St. John's was good preparation for Plymouth North. They have a point guard who can score and a talented big man. It helped us."

Quincy led from wire-to-wire. The lead swung between six and eight points, but Plymouth pulled within one with 4 minutes left.

J.T. Bain, who sat with foul trouble, re-entered the game and scored from in close. Parry went to a 3-2 zone which took Plymouth out of its rhythm. Evans and Myers each drained a clutch three, and the Presidents made their free throws to seal the win.

"We got a big lift from Scott Mele off the bench when J.T. was out with foul trouble," said Parry. "He drew a foul and sank two big free throws. We're getting more solid minutes from our bench and that's a good sign."

It was good news and bad news for North. Solomon Umoren, who had 36 points in two games last week, scored 12, Matt Gerakis added nine and the Red Raiders played excellent defense on Scituate's big man, Ben McClarey, in a 63-59 win over the Sailors.

It stopped a stretch in which North had lost four of five. The losses were tough. The Red Raiders led Duxbury deep into the fourth before falling at home. They played a great first half before losing to Whitman-Hanson on the road.

North led Plymouth South by five with 20 seconds left and lost two three-point plays. They led Pembroke by three in the final seconds. The Titans tied it with a three and won it in overtime. The win over Scituate was most welcome.

"It stopped a string of tough losses. It felt good to finish a game," said coach Kevin Barrett. "We were up by five with just over 1:00 left, and we talked to the kids about staying tough on defense and making our free throws. We were able to do both."

However on Friday, Hanover broke open a close game at halftime by hitting the offensive boards and scoring off the break to drop North, 70-55.

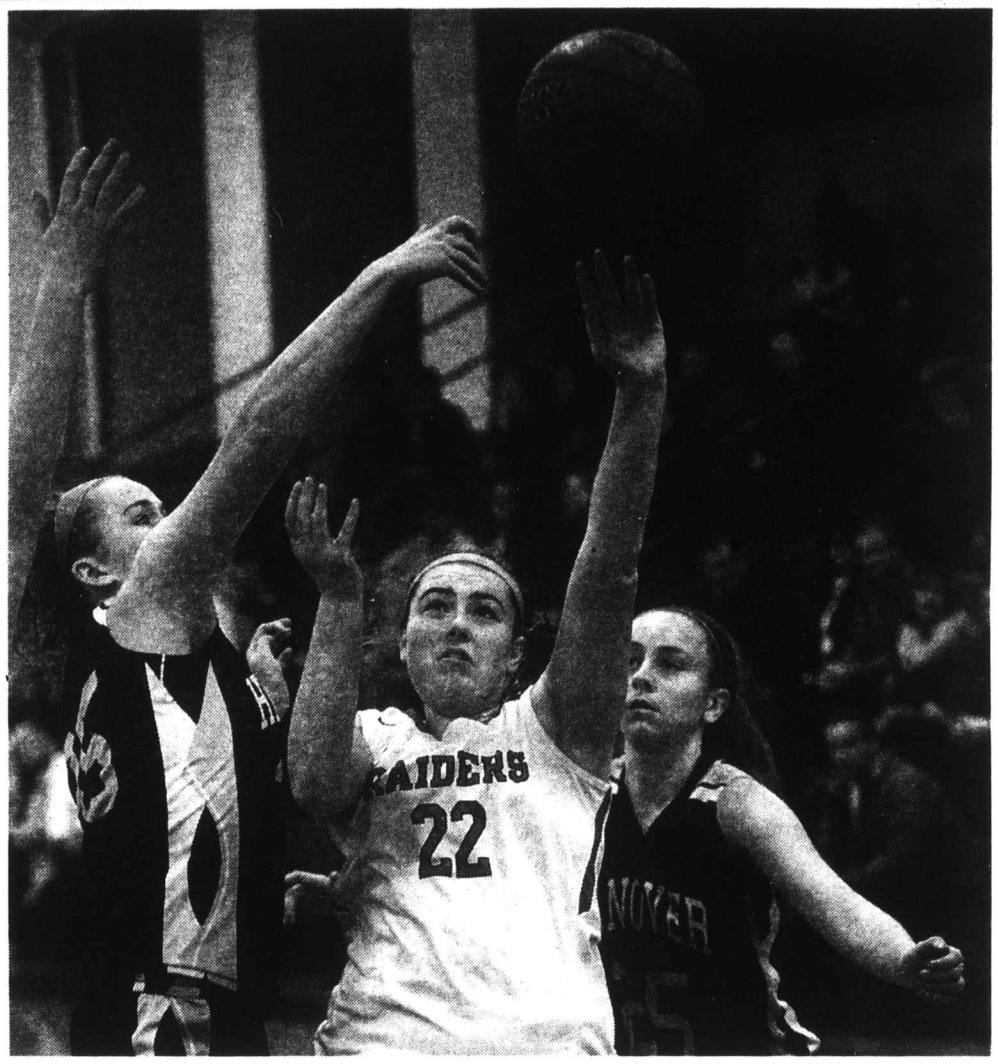
Umoren had 24 while Jackie Chen added 13. Gerakis and Dhaaky Drake chipped in with nine apiece.

❑

Quincy (8-1 in the league) held a half-game lead over W-H (8-2) at the end of last week. The division title is one of Quincy's goals. The snow makes everything unpredictable, but

Cont'd On Page 22

MARISSA McGUE scored six points in a 53-41 loss against Hanover and 12 points (with eight rebounds, eight steals) in a 43-34 win over Scituate.



JESSIE CALDWELL played well off the bench scoring four points for the Red Raiders against Hanover.

Red Raiders Run Off Four Wins In Five Games

By BILL GRIFFIN

In a season of developing a young team, success is frequently measured by improvement rather than wins and losses. North Quincy's girls basketball team has had a bit of both. The Red Raiders have showed remarkable progress and they have also strung together a solid winning streak.

Friday night, a tall and talented Hanover club scored eight straight points midway through the third period and went on to drop North, 53-41 in a Patriot League Fisher Division clash at the North Quincy gym.

Earlier last week, freshman forward Jen Butka had 15 points and 11 rebounds as the Red Raiders posted their fourth win in five games with an impressive 43-34 decision over Scituate.

In the first Hanover game in December, North trailed by more than 20 for most of the contest before falling, 53-35. North was right there with Indians Friday night. Sophomore center Remy Aucoin (a game-high 19 points and 10 rebounds) ruled the inside against three taller opponents and had North within 28-23 near the midway point of the third period when Hanover (6-4) took control with a three-point shooting spree.

"The difference between the first and second games against Hanover was huge," said coach Jess Worden. "I thought we played very well tonight. Our defense was good. It was a question of being more aggressive.

"Not only are we young, we also asked the returning players we did have to change positions in some cases. We just needed experience playing varsity basketball."

Aucoin has flourished while gaining varsity seasoning. She had 28 points and 23 rebounds in two games last week. She is averaging a double-double in her first varsity season. She is not the biggest center in the league, but she blocks out and gets terrific position for her rebounds.

"She works hard for her rebounds," said Worden.

And there is her shot. She keeps the ball well above her head and shoots at an unusually high arc from close range. Her touch is soft, and she has a quicksilver release which has the ball on its way to the hoop before the defense can close on her.

"She keeps the ball high and shoots at a high arc. I play against her in practice and I can't swat away that shot," said Worden who is a member of Bridgewater State Basketball Hall of Fame.

Butka plays the whole court. She hit two threes, a medium-range jumper, a hook and cashed an offensive rebound. She brought the ball up the floor against the press and started North's offense in motion. She has the complete game and she is only a freshman.

"She knows we need a great deal from her as a freshman and she's accepted the challenge," said Worden. "She can play inside and outside. As the season has gone on, she's grown more confident and comfortable taking her shot."

Senior guard Molly Minton played brilliant defense against Hanover's Stephanie Flynn, who is one of the best players in the league. North used a box-and-one with Minton chasing around Flynn. Despite giving away four inches, Minton never stopped. She gave nothing. She fought through picks, denied the ball, and kept Flynn off the boards.

Flynn had 11 points and 14 rebounds in a win over first-place Pembroke last week. Against Minton, she had three points. In the first game against Minton, she scored two. Minton gave five points in two games against a certain All Star player. That is effort and that is defense.

"It was the key to our defense," said Worden. "It's a tough job guarding Flynn because she is tall and moves well. Molly never stopped working. She played her tough the whole game."

Minton, Marissa McGue and sophomore Kerin Coleman also had fine games passing the ball. Minton and McGue each had four assists. Each dropped good entry passes into Aucoin close to the bucket. McGue (six points) also was a terror on defense chasing off shooters at the top of North's zone.

"One of the big differences from the first game is we handled the ball and their pressure well," said Worden. "Molly and Marissa both did a good job of pushing the ball up the floor and getting us shots before their defense was set."

Hanover was up, 28-17 at the half before Aucoin ran six straight pints to start the third and closed the gap to 28-23.

The box-and-one had held up well to this point. The best part of the defense was it challenged Flynn and clogged the middle. The weakness was it gave the outside shot. Lissy Delahunt drained two of her five threes as Hanover opened up the lead to 36-23. Hanover finished with eight-three pointers. The defense did its job and limited the Indians to long-range jumpers. The problem was the Indians made them.

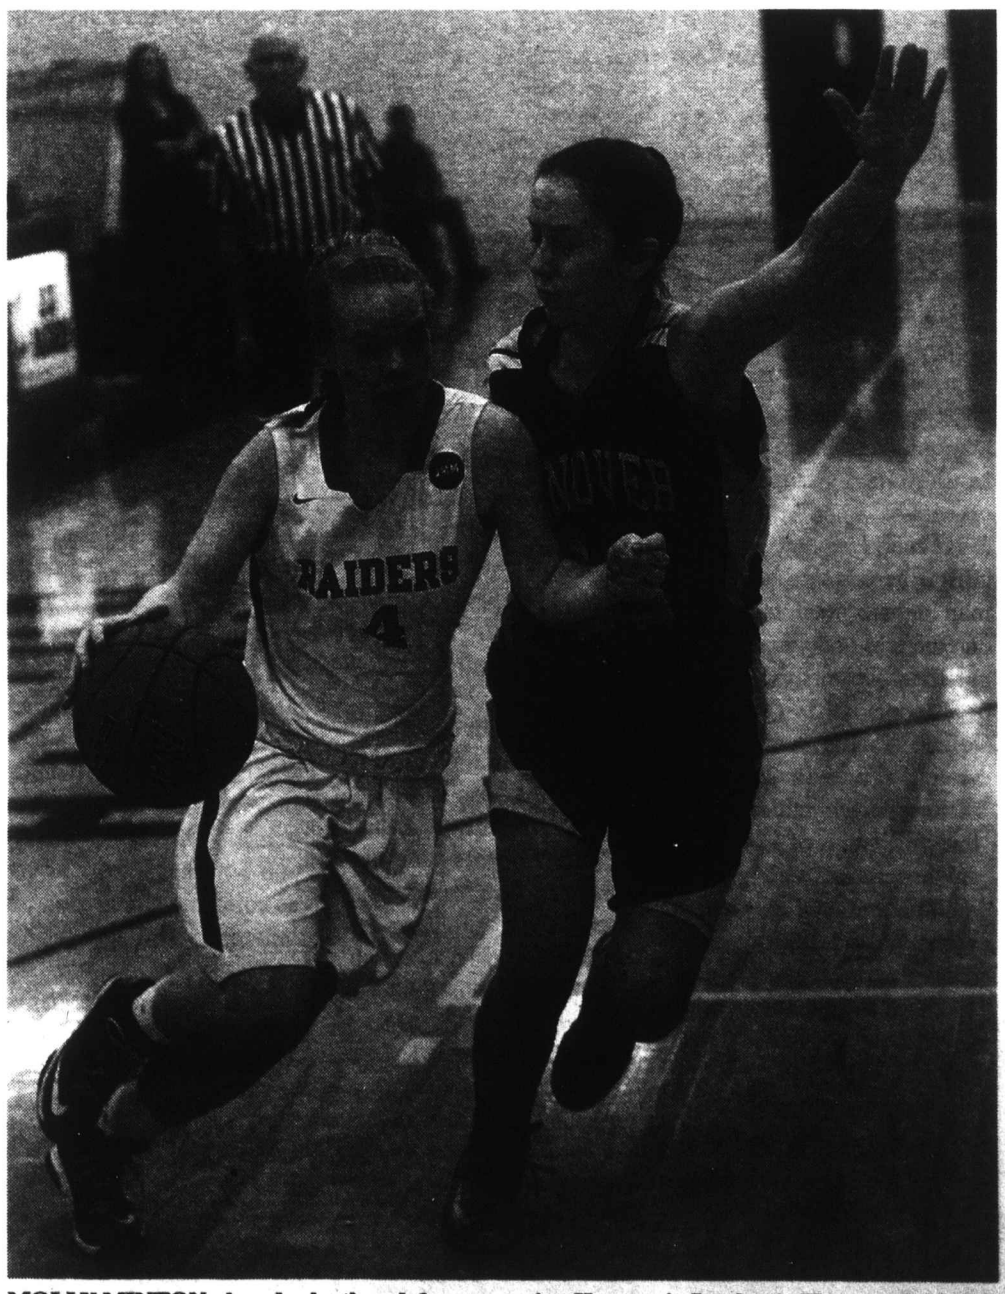
"They just made their shots. That's not much you can about outside shooting like that," said Worden. "They are so big in the post that it's hard to get out on the shooter or you open up the inside."

Jesse Caldwell (four points) and Michelle Mark played well off the bench for North.

North's win over Scituate was a quality victory. The Sailors had defeated Quincy earlier this year. McGue had a huge game with 12 points, eight rebounds and eight steals. Aucoin added nine points and 13 rebounds while Minton and Mark played excellent defense.

"Scituate shoots well from the outside and I thought we did a good job controlling their shooters," said Worden.

North (5-9) is at Middleboro Friday.



MOLLY MINTON played relentless defense covering Hanover's Stephanie Flynn and chipped in on offense with four assists. Quincy Sun Photos/Robert Bosworth

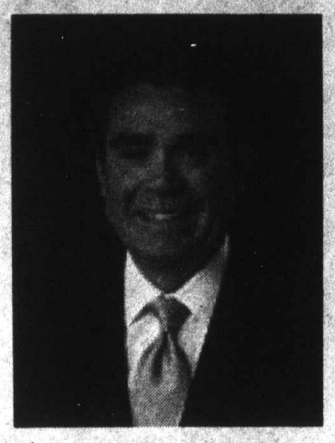
Manet Community Health Center 2015 Board Officers, New Members

Manet Community Health has welcomed the new year with the announcement of officers and three new members for its community-based Board of Directors.

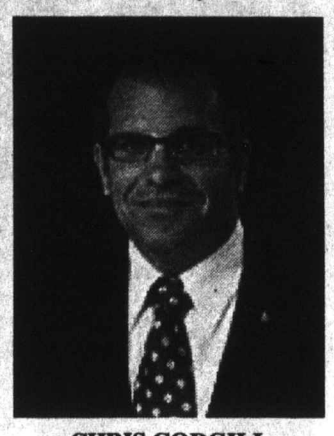
The Manet Board of Directors is now headed by President Joseph M. "Joe" Reardon of Milton, a Board member since 2006.

Reardon returns to the role as Board President, after most recently serving in this capacity from 2010 to 2013. Reardon, Vice President for Community Development and Advance Planning at Keohane Funeral Home, brings extensive experience in strategic planning, philanthropy, community activism and marketing to his leadership at Manet.

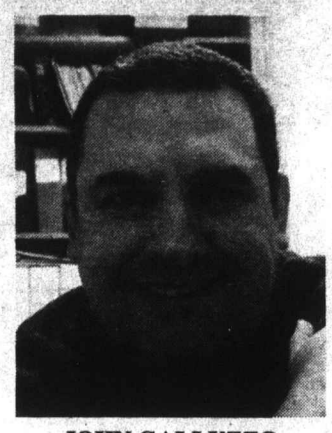
Reardon succeeds his colleague, Henry (Hank) L. Rittal, Business Analyst for Blue Cross Blue Shield of Massachusetts, as Board President. Rittal, now past president and a patient at Manet Houghs Neck, will remain on the Board. "Hank has demonstrated astounding leadership, during a critical year of both transition and accomplishments at Manet. The entire Board is stronger for experiencing Hank's leadership and we could not be more pleased that Hank remains at the table," said Reardon.



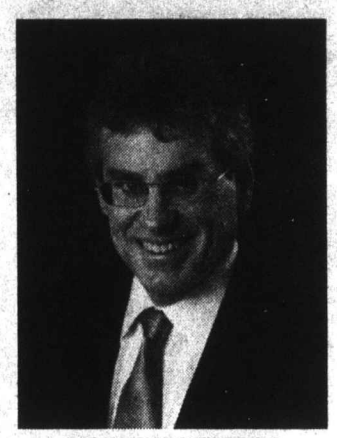
JOE REARDON



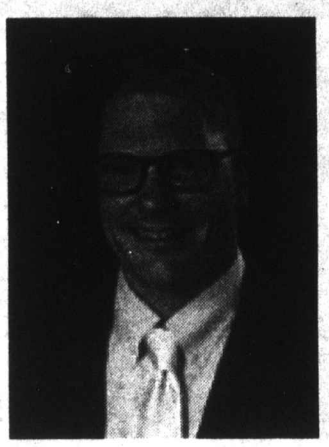
CHRIS CODGILL



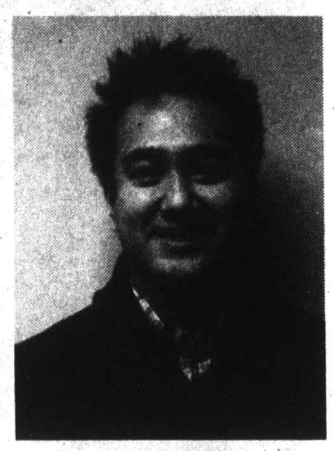
JOHN GALLUZZO



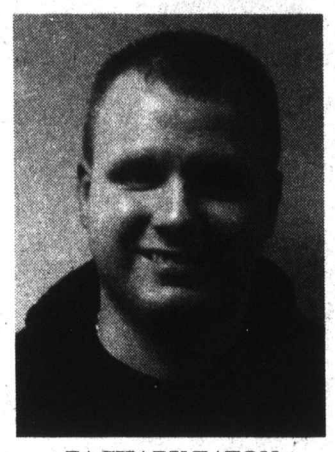
ROBERT GRIFFIN



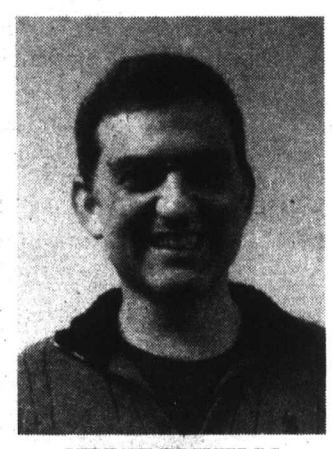
HANK RITTAL



JD BRENKE



ZACHARY EATON



VINNIE TRIVELLI

Continuing as Board officers for 2015 are Vice President Chris Cogdill of Quincy, District Manager of Walgreens' Boston South District and a patient at Manet North Quincy; Secretary John Galluzzo of Hanover, an author, historian, and naturalist with family roots in Hull, where he is a Manet patient; and Treasurer Robert J. Griffin of Quincy, an attorney with Krokidas & Bluestein.

Relocated and departing the Board after three years of service is Rear Admiral (Retired) Michael R. Milner, DHSc, PA-C.

Three new members will be joining the Manet Board of Directors in January -- Jedehiah (JD) Brenke of Quincy, Zachary Eaton of Quincy, and Vinicius (Vinnie) Trivelli of Weymouth. Brenke, Eaton and Trivelli are also Manet patients who receive their primary care at the community health center.

Brenke serves as the Assistant Pastor at Highrock Church and is Assistant Chaplain at Eastern Nazarene College. Brenke brings experience and expertise in health care administration, community relations and organizational development to his new role on the Board.

Eaton, raised in the neighborhood of Germantown, is a graduate of Bentley University, with skills in finance, budgeting and insurance, seeks to lend his voice to strengthen Manet as a lifelong patient. Presently, Eaton serves as Finance Manager at Herb Chambers Ford in Braintree.

Trivelli, originally from Brazil, is a volunteer Pastor at Crossroads Worship Center and is employed at Allstar Waterproofing & Building Restoration and Interpreters Associates, Inc. Before coming to the United States, Trivelli was a commercial manager and a cook. Trivelli looks forward to bringing his capabilities in community development, marketing and public relations to the Manet Board.

"I'm excited to see how our new Board members along with our extraordinary Chief Executive Officer, John J. Holiver will lead and prepare Manet for the next generation," said Reardon.

Top priorities for the patient-focused, patient-driven board and CEO Holiver in 2015 include: re-constitution of a new strategic planning process, continued focus on quality improvements, preparations for innovation and reform, realization of new services lines including Pharmacy and Vision, opening in January and February respectively, and behavioral health and specialty care integration.

Michael Gustafson Named President Brigham & Women's Faulker Hospital

Brigham and Women's Faulkner Hospital has named Quincy resident Michael Gustafson, MD, MBA, as president.

Dr. Gustafson has been serving as the Chief Operating Officer of Brigham and Women's Faulkner Hospital since 2011.

In naming Dr. Gustafson to this leadership role, Dr. Betsy Nabel, President of Brigham and Women's Health Care said, "The relationship between Brigham and Women's Hospital and Brigham and Women's Faulkner Hospital is thriving in large part because of the superb leadership and unwavering dedication of Michael Gustafson."

Since Dr. Gustafson joined BWFH as chief operating officer in 2011, the institution has undergone a transformation of key clinical programs, with growth in inpatient and outpatient volumes and improved financial stability.

Dr. Gustafson has also demonstrated an intense commitment and passion for improving staff engagement, the environment of care, patient safety and quality outcomes, and the overall experience for patients and families. With these enhancements and an acceleration of clinical and administrative integration with Brigham and Women's Hospital, Brigham and Women's Faulkner Hospital has been able to offer an impressive array of new and expanded programs for the community.

MICHAEL GUSTAFSON

"Being a part of the exciting work taking place to deliver world class care to our local community is an honor," Dr. Michael Gustafson said. "As we continue to develop new programs and expanded services, patients and their families will continue to be at the center of all the work we do."

Prior to joining BWFH in 2011, Dr. Gustafson served in senior leadership roles at BWH for over a decade, including senior vice president for clinical excellence. Dr. Gustafson received his medical degree at West Virginia University and completed his General Surgery residency at Brigham and Women's Hospital. He later went on to become one of the first surgeons to ever receive an MBA from Harvard Business School. He has received numerous national awards and honors reflecting his leadership in hospital safety, quality and performance measurement.

Brigham and Women's Faulkner Hospital is a 138 bed non-profit, community teaching hospital located in southwest Boston. Founded in 1900, they offer comprehensive medical, surgical and psychiatric care as well as complete emergency, ambulatory and diagnostic services.

For more information, visit www.brighamandwomensfaulkner.org.

Boys' Hoop Teams In Stretch Run

Cont'd From Page 20

the schedule would seem to favor the Presidents. Three of their toughest tests (W-H, Plymouth North and North Quincy) are at home. Quincy last won a league title in the Atlantic Coast League in 2008.

"I think we've been second four straight years," said Parry. "The league title means a lot because you can control it. Everyone plays the same 16-game league schedule. In the tourney, you can go home on the bounce of a ball. In the regular season, a team has more control."

Quincy qualified for the tourney with its win over Plymouth. The tournament is very much on the Presidents' minds. More wins means a higher seeding. A higher seeding means a better chance of having home games in the first and second rounds. Two home tourney games was of immeasurable help to North in its run to consecutive sectional finals in the last two years.

Quincy is in a brutal sectional with Mansfield, Catholic Memorial, Newton North, BC High and Braintree. Because the MIAA seeds strictly by record without regard for strength of schedule, a high seed does not guarantee an easy opening game. However, a high seed does guarantee it will be played at home. Everyone wants to play at home.

"Right now if the season ended, we'd be seeded fourth," said Parry. "You want definitely to be in the top eight and in the top four if possible. The kids know the more league games they win, the higher their seed will be.

"It's big. Last year we were down by nine to Barnstable in the opening round. We came back to win. The game was in our gym before our fans. If it's on the road, I don't know if we win."

Quincy's game against Duxbury scheduled for last Saturday was postponed by the storm. It will be made up Feb. 19. Quincy is at Silver Lake Friday.

North had beaten Hanover in their first meeting at home thanks to a 30-6 opening blitz. Friday, they trailed, 29-28 at the half. Hanover's Jack Buckley (19 points, 17 rebounds) led an assault on the boards which opened up the lead in the third period. It also revealed the areas where North has to improve.

"Transition defense and rebounding the ball," said Barrett. "We gave up five offensive rebounds in the first minute of the second half. That can't happen. We have to put a body on people and go to the ball. We also have to improve on getting back on defense.

"To be truthful, I'm not thinking about the tourney. I'm just thinking about the next game, getting better on defense and improving our rebounding."

North Quincy hosts Cathedral Thursday and Middleboro Friday.

Social Security Event Feb. 23

A Social Security registration event will be held Monday, Feb. 23 from 1 to 3 p.m. at Atria Marina Place, 4 Seaport Dr., North Quincy.

The event will be hosted by Kristen Alberino of the Social Security Administration. She will help those in attendance sign up for a "my Social Security" account. The account is an easy-to-use access and portal to view and update Social Security information.

'Bingo Bonanza' Trip April 16

The Quincy Council on Aging is coordinating a "Bingo Bonanza" trip to Wright's Farm Restaurant in Harrisville, R.I. on Thursday April 16.

Cost of the trip is $49 which includes transportation, Bingo games, and famous family-style dinner at Wright's Farm Restaurant.

Bus will leave at 10 a.m. and return at approximately 5 p.m. Space is limited.

Visit the Kennedy Center, 440 East Squantum St., Quincy, to reserve a spot on this day trip. For more information, call the Kennedy Center at (617) 376-1506.

Real Estate

Quincy Real Estate Transactions Jan. 20 - Jan. 23

Seller	Buyer	Amount	Address
Cassian & Ellen Jae	Daniel P. Reggiannini & Madeline R. Tarabelli	$440,000.00	19 Agawam Road
Ruth M. Welby Family Trust	Xin Ding	$350,000.00	238 Marlboro Street
Joseph D. & Robin L. Lee	Ming Pan	$399,000.00	39 Sunnyside Road
Boston Property Holdings LLC	Hao Lin & Xiaxiang Ren	$352,500.00	35 Merrymount Road
Irene O. & Hi Thai	Joel C. & Jenny D. Kwong	$370,000.00	168 Main Street
Nicole Ceglie	John McDonald	$135,000.00	142 Vassall Street
William E. Russell	Ascencio & Marie Jean-Louis	$155,000.00	195 Independence Avenue Unit 148
Reggiannini Family Trust	Quan & Huong Nguyen	$280,000.00	301-303 Water Street
Kristine Locke-Meehan	Steven R. Brigham	$292,000.00	20 Hanna Street
Vernon L. & Margaret D. Gibson	Omkar Inamdar	$387,000.00	106 Washington Street Unit 21
William P. & Evelyn J. Kiley	Thomas J. Adams	$1,250,000.00	94 Crabtree Road
Anne M. Metrick	Mary W. McGinley	$565,000.00	199 Victory Road Unit 14-5
Jessica Davis-Myers	Elaine R. Higgins	$503,000.00	216 Marina Drive Unit 3-1

THIS IS A HAMMER

By Samantha Mazzotta

No Stud Finder? No Problem

Q: I'm planning to hang some pictures around my new apartment, but a friend told me I need to be sure to locate the studs in the wall first. I know these are the vertical boards behind the wall, but I'm not sure how to find them. Do I need to buy some kind of special equipment? -- Jamie, via e-mail

A: You could buy an electronic stud finder at your nearest home-improvement store, but if you don't want to shell out $20 or more for a one-time picture hanging project, you can learn to locate wall studs without help. And if you still can't locate the studs, or just want the extra assurance, you can go ahead and buy a stud finder (preferably one that also has a built-in laser level, which is very convenient).

Studs are usually spaced about 16 inches apart. This varies, however. Above doors and windows, studs may be doubled or tripled up to support a heavier load. But along a wall, they're pretty evenly spaced apart. That's helpful to know once you've located a stud, because you have an idea how much space is open on either side.

Studs are always located in specific areas: in each corner of a room, on either side of the window frame, and on either side of the doorframe. They also are typically next to light switches and outlets (a couple inches to the left or right) because electricians often attach the fixture's box to the side of a stud. I say "often" and "typically," because every once in awhile an outlet is just set into the drywall.

You can combine a couple of low-tech methods to locate the rough position of wall studs. The first is to simply tap the wall and listen. First tap on the location of a known stud (the corner, for example). Then tap the wall a few inches to the right or left. You should hear a hollow sound away from the stud. The area of the wall that has a stud should sound solid.

The second method is to measure 16 inches from the known stud. Tap the wall at the end of the tape; if it sounds solid rather than hollow, you know you're at another stud.

Because you're hanging pictures, and I'm assuming relatively light ones, it's more important for you to locate the spaces between the studs, rather than the precise width and location of each stud. (If you are hanging really large, heavy frames, the studs play a more important role.)

Once you've got a general location for the studs, you can measure and mark the spots where you want to hang pictures.

HOME TIP: Trying to arrange several pictures on a single wall? Trace the outline of each frame onto blank paper, cut them out, and arrange the outlines on the wall to figure out the layout ahead of time.

Send your home tips and questions to ask@thisisahammer.com. (c) 2015 King Features Synd., Inc.

Home Decorating Tips

By BARBARA GRACEFFA

How important is lighting in home décor? Ruth

Don't overlook the importance of lighting as a functional, mood-enhancing, and beautiful part of interior decorating. In fact, color and lighting are the two top items in a decorator's bag of tricks.

In addition to natural light, there are four types of artificial light. First, ambient light, which includes overhead, floor lamps, and track fixtures, provides general illumination in a room. Second, task lighting shines a bright light where a visual activity takes place. In other words, add task lights for reading, sewing, doing homework or paying the bills, cooking, etc. Next, accent lights are used to focus attention on an architectural feature of the room or a piece of artwork. They can also help set a mood. Finally, although all the above can be decorative lighting, true decorative lighting is typically a centerpiece in a space like a dining room chandelier, for example.

Now, how do you use lighting? Most importantly, put it where you need it. Next, layer lighting by incorporating the basic types mentioned above. My final tip is to consult the experts. Each time I am at the hardware store, I see new light bulbs on the market. Read the labels or ask for advice on color, lifespan, price, lumens (i.e., the brightness), energy efficiency, and the differences between incandescent, fluorescent, halogen, CFLs, LEDs, and all the new sizes and shapes now available. Also consider adding brighter bulbs to your fixtures; you'll be surprised what a difference they make in your interior.

BARBARA GRACEFFA

In closing, lamps and chandeliers can be like the jewelry in your room. My advice is to spend a little extra on something that is really attractive or makes a statement. Remember, you will be using them for a long time so you might as well choose the most beautiful.

Do you have a question on interior decorating? Send it to barbara@sec-interior.com and it may get printed in a future issue of The Quincy Sun.

Barbara Graceffa is president and CEO of Secretary of the Interior, an interior decorating company in Quincy. For more information, visit www.sec-interior.com.

O'Donnell Sees Some Softening In Foreclosure Market Data

While saying one foreclosure is one to many given its impact on a home or a business owner, Norfolk County Register of Deeds William P. O'Donnell is seeing some positive news, a major slowdown on both notices to foreclose and deed foreclosures in Norfolk County.

"Analysis of notice to foreclose recording activities – the first step in the foreclosure process - is showing in Norfolk County that the worst is probably behind us," O'Donnell said. "Notices to foreclose fell significantly over the past four years. Notice to foreclose reached an all-time high in 2012 with 1217 filings. In 2014, just three years later, there were only 576 filings, a reduction of 53 percent."

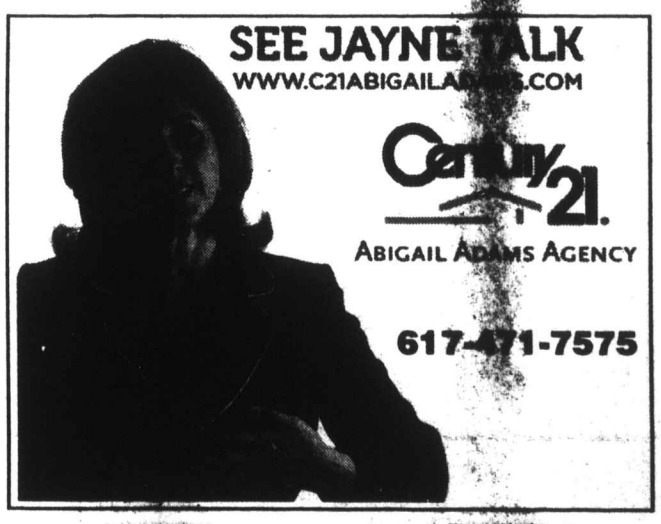
O'Donnell said there was some promising news when you looked at the reduction in number of foreclosure deed recordings, an action where ownership is granted to the purchaser by a bank or mortgage company at a foreclosure sale. In 2011 there were 596 filings in comparison to 2014 where there were 205, a decrease of 65.6 percent. O'Donnell said that there was a slight uptick in deed foreclosures in 2014 from the previous year, but that could have been from the lag time of notice of foreclosures started in 2013.

"Foreclosure recordings are closely monitored by my office. It is a top priority," O'Donnell said. The Registry will continue to work with its partners South Shore Consortium and Neighbor Works Southern Mass to help Norfolk County homeowners who have received a Notice of Foreclosure from a lender."

To learn more about these and other Registry of Deeds events and initiatives, like us at facebook.com/NorfolkDeeds or follow us on twitter.com/NorfolkDeeds.

The Norfolk County Registry of Deeds, located at 649 High Street, Dedham is the principal office for real property in Norfolk County. The Registry is a resource for homeowners, title examiners, mortgage lenders, municipalities and others with a need for secure, accurate, accessible land record information. Residents in need of assistance can contact the Registry of Deeds Customer Service Department via telephone at (781) 461-6101, or on the web at www.norfolkdeeds.org.

Century 21 Annex Realty, Inc.
49 Beale St., Quincy, MA 02170
617-472-4330
www.c21annex.com
Over 70 Seller and Buyer Agents specializing in Residential, Commercial Real Estate, Bank Owned Properties, Short Sales and Rentals
Annex Real Estate School
Offering Salesperson's, Broker's and Continuing Ed. classes
"Still Number One"



A Job Well Done

By QUINCY POLICE LT. DAN MINTON

On Wednesday, January 21, 2015, Quincy Police Drug Unit Detectives O'Brien, Coen, Keenan, Duran and Sergeant Tapper were working in plain clothes and operating unmarked police cruisers.

At approximately 8:15 PM, Sergeant Tapper and Detective Duran were lying low, parked in the rear lot of 125 Granite Street on a drug investigation when they observed two males wearing hooded sweatshirts walk through the open gate that separates Scotch Pond Place and the rear parking lot of the apartment complex. A few moments later the Detectives heard a loud bang come from the open gate area. When Sergeant Tapper looked up, he saw the same males pushing a motorcycle or scooter back towards Scotch Pond Place.

After the drug investigation concluded, Sergeant Tapper checked the area and found a green cover often used to cover a motorcycle or scooter in an empty parking space. He then observed a plastic storage container that is often found on the back of a scooter. The Sergeant then drove his unmarked cruiser around the area to investigate and as he went behind the apartment complex at 75 Scotch Pond Place, he spotted the same two males huddled behind parked cars and lurking over the ignition area of a Raptor scooter.

Sergeant Tapper exited his unmarked cruiser and announced "Quincy Police" to the two males and asked them what they were doing. One of the males said that they were waiting for a friend who lives in the building.

Sergeant Tapper then inquired about the scooter and the same male said that they just came from Boston. The Sergeant knew that this statement was not true because he had just seen both individuals in the rear of 125 Granite Street and the scooter was cold to the touch. There was also a screw driver on the ground under the scooter.

LT. DAN MINTON

Detective Duran arrived on scene and after being briefed, read both males their Miranda Rights to which they stated they understood. The males, now suspects, both stated that their scooter "died" and they had to push the scooter into the parking lot. When told that they were observed in the rear of 125 Granite Street, neither suspect responded. Suspect #1 was asked where the keys were and he said he didn't have any. Suspect #2 added that "the scooter is a kick start." Detective Duran told the suspects that since the scooter had an ignition, there had to be a key, but again the suspects argued that only a kick start was needed.

Upon further inspection of the ignition, the Detectives saw that there were deep pry marks on it. Based on all the information and evidence available, the two suspects, aged 18 and 22 and both from Boston, were charged with, "Larceny of a Motor Vehicle, Possession of Burglarious Tools and Destruction of Property. The scooter was towed away and the owner was located the next day. Nice Work!

❑

TAX SEASON SCAMS: As taxpayers begin to collect all sorts of forms to prepare their taxes, keep in mind that there are scammers out there who may try to steal your identity or tax refund. The identity theft occurs when someone uses your social security number to get your refund or get a job. The victim often finds out after filing their tax return.

IRS imposters work year-round — posing as the IRS when they call and say you owe taxes. They even threaten to have you arrested, often by the local Police, if you don't put money on a prepaid debit card and tell them the card number. They might know all or part of your Social Security number, and can fake caller ID information to make it look like it really is the IRS calling. Remember, the IRS does not make an initial telephone call to you – the first step is by mail with a telephone number to call.

QUINCY POLICE CRIME PREVENTION JOURNAL

Quincy Police Statistics
Jan. 16 – 23
ARRESTS: 30
TOTAL CALLS: 996
STOLEN MOTOR VEHICLES: 1

FRIDAY, JAN. 16

VANDALISM/PROPERTY, 8:22 a.m., Sumner St. Caller states his mother's car had two tires slashed and caller has suspect info. Surveillance camera in front.

BREAKING AND ENTERING, 4:31 p.m., 700 block Adams St. Reporting party came home to find keys in her door. At the time of the call she was unsure how they got there. Caller has since found out that the realtor has never returned their keys to the landlord. Caller would like and officer to take a report.

BREAKING AND ENTERING, 9:41 p.m., Adams Inn, 29 Hancock St. Reporting party claims someone broke into room and cut locks off suitcases. Laptop missing.

BREAKING AND ENTERING, 10:00 p.m., 1100 block of Sea St. Items removed from house while caller was in hospital by party known to caller.

SATURDAY, JAN. 17

VANDALISM/PROPERTY, 11:34 a.m., 200 block West St. Driver's side to back keyed.

LARCENY, 9:47 p.m., Stop & Shop, 495 Southern Art. iPhone.

SUNDAY, JAN. 18

BREAKING AND ENTERING IN PROGRESS, 1:33 a.m., Samoset Ave. Caller hear noises in the backyard. Backdoor is broken. Homeowner uses a piece of wood to secure door. Area checked and clear; outdoor noise.

LARCENY, 1:56 p.m., Kelly's Cellar, 1546 Hancock St. Black Northface jacket stolen off the back of her chair last night.

MONDAY, JAN. 19

VANDALISM/PROPERTY, 9:38 a.m., Tax Man, 1661 Hancock St. Broken front window.

LARCENY, 1:29 p.m., Lowe's, 599 Burgin Pkwy. Ext. Snowblower.

VANDALISM/PROPERTY, 5:20 p.m., 300 block Belmont St. Two cars were keyed, a 2001 Chevy Prism and 2002 Mazda. Both cars were keyed on the entire drivers side, requesting officer for report.

TUESDAY, JAN. 20

VANDALISM/PROPERTY, 4:43 p.m., Braewell, 230 Willard St. Vehicle broken into last night.

LARCENY, 5:20 p.m., Quincy High School, 100 Coddington St. Wallet.

LARCENY, 6:40 p.m., Town Hill St. Thinks her neighbor stole her mail.

WEDNESDAY, JAN. 21

ATTEMPTED BREAKING AND ENTERING, 9:02 p.m., Hamilton Ave. White male, 5'8" 230 pounds in a black Northface jacket with Northface on the back, jeans, and sneakers threw rock at door of house on corner. Ran when confronted down Bowdoin. Milton PD Notified due to dog tracking towards Milton.

LARCENY, 9:41 a.m., Edwards St. Household items.

BREAKING AND ENTERING IN PROGRESS, 9:53 a.m., Lunt St. Bsmt office motion. Walkthrough with homeowner. Party made entry but appears nothing out of order.

LARCENY, 11:25 a.m., Christian Science Reading Room, 1460 Hancock St. Caller states her iPad Mini was stolen from address above about 20 minutes ago. White male, medium build, 30-40 years old, khaki pants, backpack, and cane.

LARCENY, 12:38 p.m., 481 Quincy Ave. Check. Complaint sought for larceny by check over.

BREAKING AND ENTERING, 1:18 p.m., Highland Ave. Resident flagged officer down to report B&E.

VANDALISM/PROPERTY, 1:32 p.m., City View Ln. Party says she believes she has suspect info, says that someone has been trying to break into her vehicle she has found grease marks on her cars door and it appears they tried to rip off her bumper, she has had to replace four tires in the past few months because they keep getting popped while parked.

MOTOR VEHICLE LARCENY, 8:31 p.m., Granite Place, 125 Granite St. Two males with a scooter. Two under arrest for larceny of motor vehicle, destruction of property, possession of burglary tools. Victim is currently unknown but scooter/moped was obviously stolen. Owner located and advised of theft/recovery status on last half.

VANDALISM/PROPERTY, 10:53 p.m., 112 Copeland St. Suspect threw brick at a car, ran towards Copeland Pizza. Black male, 5'8", green army jacket.

THURSDAY, JAN. 22

BREAKING AND ENTERING IN PROGRESS, 1:41 a.m., Marylou's, 308 Willard St. Male with a sledgehammer and crowbar. Suspect was trying to get in backdoor by dumpster. Suspect is black male, 6'3" 240 pounds in hooded jacket. Suspect also gained access to Granite Mart, which is attached to Marylou's.

BREAKING AND ENTERING, 9:15 a.m., 520 Hancock St. Tenants moved out, someone now in apartment. Heavyset black female, possibly in hospital pants. Skinny black male with jeans and goatee. Both in their 20s. One male party sent on way. One female transported to 520 Hancock. One party under arrest for B&E daytime.

LARCENY, 11:35 a.m., TJ Maxx, 100 Granite St. On 1/21/15 at approximately 20:22 hours an unknown male and female were observed entering TJ Maxx #457 Quincy, MA. The male and female enter the store with no other property or merchandise is seen in their possession. The male and female are observed entering the handbag department and immediately begin selecting handbags. The male and female are then observed walking to the front of the store carrying approximately 11 handbags. The male and female then pass all points of sale and exit the store without making an attempt to pay for the merchandise. Report filed with BCI.

LARCENY, 11:37 p.m., 10 Winter St. Television.

LARCENY, 2:02 p.m., 79 Coddington St. Wallet.

If anyone has more information about any of the aforementioned incidents or would like more information, contact Crime Prevention Lieutenant Dan Minton at 617 745 5719

❑

STOLEN MOTOR VEHICLES: 125 Granite Street (arrested).

❑

CAR BREAKS: Governor's Road, Carlmark Street, Greystone Street, 145 Willard Street, Linden Street.

❑

BREAKS AND ATTEMPTED BREAKS: 700 block of Adams Street, 29 Hancock Street, 1100 block of Sea Street, Highland Avenue.

If you have information on the above crimes, drug activity or any crime, please call the Quincy Police Detective Bureau at 617-745-5764 or log onto the following website: http://tinyurl.com/ytf6td.

To report suspicious drug activity, call the Drug Hot-Line at 617-745-5730. You will not be required to identify yourself, but it could help. To make an appointment to view the Registered Sex Offenders book, call Detective James Dentremont at 617-745-5755.

To contact the Crime Prevention Officer for tips or comments, my direct line is 617-745-5719. My e-mail address is dminton@ci.quincy.ma.us

-- Lt. Dan Minton

Entries in the Quincy Police Hot Spots are compiled and submitted by the Quincy Police Department.

They are published by The Quincy Sun as a public service to make local residents more aware of any crime activity in their neighborhood. Questions concerning the Hot Spots list should be directed to Crime Prevention Officer Lt. Dan Minton, 617-745-5719.

QUINCY ANIMAL SHELTER

56 Broad Street, Quincy • 617-376-1349

quincyanimalshelter.org

IN-SHELTER ADOPTION HOURS

TUESDAY and THURSDAYS 6:00 to 8:00 pm

SATURDAYS 10 am - 4 pm

Adoption fees include initial vaccinations and Spay/Neuter as needed. 100% volunteer run, new volunteers always needed.

FOR LOST or FOUND ANIMALS call ANIMAL CONTROL at 617-376-1364

AVAILABLE CATS

TOBI: 5, female, black & white.

SARA: 7, female, tortie.

TRUMAN: 9, male, orange.

FIREBALL: adult, male, gray & white.

LANG: 1, female, black & white.

LUCKY: 4, female, black.

SOPHIA & TAI: 12, munchkin & Siamese mix.

ORION: 1, male, black & white.

PUMPKIN: 1, female, LH tortie.

SNOWFLAKE: 5, female, LH white.

ZDENO: 2, male, orange.

LUNA: 4, female, gray.

GIGI: 7, female, tortie.

DOTTIE: 3, female, black.

RELIGION

Houghs Neck Congregational

The Sunday morning service at Houghs Neck Congregational Church, 310 Manet Ave. starts at 10 a.m.

Pastor Felix Carrion will lead the service and preach the sermon "A Heart Filled With Gratitude." Liturgist will be Nancy Jacobs. Serving for the Diaconate are Janice Hughes and Molly Jacobs. Steve Reed, Minister of Music will lead the choir.

Immediately following the service the coffee hour and Chocolate Lovers Sunday bake sale to benefit the MAC Student Fund will be held in the coffee room.

Monday evening at 7 p.m. the Church Council meets in the Gordon Room.

Hatha Yoga meets on Thursday evening at 7 p.m. in Fellowship Hall.

Super Bowl Party At Union Church

The public is invited to attend the annual Super Bowl Party at Union Congregational Church, 136 Rawson Rd. in Wollaston beginning at 6 p.m. this Sunday.

Come enjoy a potluck supper and the game on a widescreen television in the church's parlor festooned with decorations and complete with a warm fire in the fireplace.

For further information, call the Church Office at 617-479-5551.

Fort Square Bible Camp

Fort Square Presbyterian Church, 16 Pleasant St., Quincy, will host a Winter Bible Camp during school vacation week Feb. 17-20 from 9 a.m. to noon daily.

The free program will feature activities, games, crafts and snacks. Kids in kindergarten through fifth grade are invited to attend.

To register, visit www.fortsquare.org.

Union Congregational

Rev. John C. Swanson, pastor of Union Congregational Church, corner of Beach Street and Rawson Road, Wollaston, has begun a sermon series called, "Stories of Jesus."

Rev. Swanson said he felt that too many people are not hearing the basic Bible Stories of Jesus. Often today sermons are either topical or political and not enough pulpit time is being devoted to telling the old, old story of Jesus and his love, the pastor said.

As Church attendance has declined nationwide in spite of an increasingly anxious world, Rev. Swanson feels it is even now more important that the basic bible stories are told.

Sunday's sermon will be about the beginning of Jesus ministry with his baptism as told in the Gospel of Matthew. Everybody is invited to Union Church

Those who need a ride can call 617-479-6661. Sunday service is at 10 a.m.

Chili Cook-Off Feb. 28 At Houghs Neck Church

Entries are being sought for the 6th annual "Chili Bowl" Chili Cook-Off set for Saturday, Feb. 28 from 2 to 5 p.m. at Houghs Neck Congregational Church, 310 Manet Ave., Quincy.

With categories for both home cooks and restaurants, the event will offer attendees the chance to sample and savor up to 20 different varieties of chili, with trophies and medals awarded to the champion chili winners as voted on by attendees.

Admission to the cook-off is $5 and includes all the chili attendees can eat. Hot dogs, beer, soda and snacks and bake sale will also be available for an additional charge. There is no fee to enter chili in the cook-off. To enter or for more information, call 617-688-4044 or e-mail chilicookoffhncc@gmail.com.

Bethany Congregational

On Sunday, Feb. 1, Bethany Congregational Church, will have a Worship Service with Communion and Sunday School at 10 a.m. The Rev. William C. Harding will conduct the service and preach the sermon. Fellowship with light refreshments will follow the worship service.

All are welcome to attend Worship Services and its activities: a Youth Group, a Men's Group, an Outreach Mission Group doing various charity works and a Bible Study Class.

The church office is open 8:30 a.m. to noon, then 1 - 4 p.m. Please visit our website at bethanychurch.tk for updates and activities. Thanks to the Video Ministry, if you're unable to attend worship service, the Bethany Church Service is broadcast on QATV at 6:00 p.m. Thursdays and 10:00 a.m. Sundays on Channel 8.

Childcare will be available for infants and toddlers during worship service on Sundays. The church is wheelchair accessible.

First Baptist Church

Communion will be observed at the 10:30 a.m. worship service Sunday at the First Baptist Church of Wollaston, 81 Prospect Ave. All are welcome.

Interim Pastor, Stephen Trimble, will lead the service and preach the sermon "You and I Are the Body of Christ." Serving the church will be Greeter: Beverly Moulton and Scripture Reader: Steve Monstur. Sunday School begins after the Pastor's message to the children.

After the service Luncheon will be served in Fellowship Hall followed by the Annual Meeting of the church: presentation of annual reports and election of church officers and church council members. All members of the church are urged to attend this important meeting.

The church is handicap accessible in all areas.

Quincy Religion Directory

SERVICES & ACTIVITIES

Catholic

St. Mary's Church
95 Crescent St., Quincy • 617-773-0120
Masses
Saturday, 4pm, Sunday 8 & 10:30am
Tuesday/Thursday 9am
Handicapped Accessible
New Members Welcome!

ST. AGATHA CHURCH MILTON-QUINCY
432 Adams Street
Milton, MA 02186 • 617-698-2439
Schedule of Masses:
Saturday: 4:30PM
Sunday: 7:30AM, 9:00AM, 10:30AM, 12 NOON and 5:00PM
Weekday Masses: 7:00 & 9:00AM
Reconciliation 3:45PM-4:15pm on Saturdays, other times by appointment
Handicapped Accessible, handicapped parking, elevator to Upper/Lower Churches ~ Air-Conditioned

St. John The Baptist
ROMAN CATHOLIC CHURCH
44 School St., Quincy
617-773-1021
Weekend Mass Schedule
Saturday, 4:00 PM
Sunday 7:30, 9:00, 11:00 AM
Sunday night 5:30 PM
Weekday Masses
Monday - Saturday 8:00 AM
Latin Mass
1st & 3rd Wednesdays
(Lower Chapel) 7:00 AM
Confessions
Wed. 8:30 – 9:00 AM
Sat. 2:30 – 3:30 PM
Handicapped Accessible

Salvationist

THE SALVATION ARMY
6 Baxter St., Quincy • 617-472-2345
9:45 CHRISTIAN EDUCATION
11AM WORSHIP SERVICE
BRASS BAND MUSIC
7PM TUES WOMEN'S FELLOWSHIP
6:45PM WEDS. BIBLE STUDY

Catholic

Sacred Heart Church
"A Roman Catholic Community walking together in Faith, Worship, Education and Service"
386 Hancock St., North Quincy, MA 02171
(617) 328-8666
Sunday Masses
4pm (Saturday)
7:30 am and 10:00 am
Weekday Masses
Monday - Friday 7am
Handicapped Accessible
Confessions
Sat. 3-3:45pm in Saint Joseph Oratory

St. Joseph's Church
550 Washington Street
Quincy, MA 02169
617-472-6321
SUNDAY MASSES:
4 p.m. (On Saturday)
8:30 a.m. and 10:30 a.m.
Weekday Masses 9am
CONFESSIONS: Saturday, 3:00-3:30 pm
Handicapped accessible & Handicapped parking, side entrance air conditioned

Saint Ann's Church
757 Hancock St., Wollaston
617-479-5400
Mass Schedule:
Sat. 4:00 PM / Sun. 9, 11 AM
Daily Mass: Monday,Wednesday, Friday, Saturday 9 AM
Confessions: Saturday 3-3:30PM
Handicapped Accessible via Elevator

Methodist

QUINCY COMMUNITY UNITED METHODIST CHURCH
40 Beale St., Wollaston
617-773-3319
10:30 AM Sunday Worship
Rev. Dr. Susan Jarek-Glidden, Pastor

Congregational

HOUGH'S NECK CONGREGATIONAL CHURCH
310 Manet Avenue
617-479-8778
www.hncong.org
Sunday Morning Service at 10 a.m.
Pastor Felix Carrion will preach the sermon
"A Heart Filled With Gratitude"
All are welcome to attend
FELLOWSHIP COFFEE HOUR FOLLOWING SERVICE

BETHANY CONGREGATIONAL CHURCH
Spear & Coddington Streets
Quincy Center, 617-479-7300
www.bethanychurch.tk
Worship Service with Communion and Sunday School at 10AM
Rev. William C. Harding will conduct the service and preach the sermon.
Child Care Available
For Infants And Toddlers
ALL ARE WELCOME!
Fellowship Time following Service
The church is wheelchair accessible

JOY

Congregational

Wollaston
Congregational Church
United Church of Christ
48 Winthrop Avenue
Quincy, Massachusetts
Worship and Sunday School at 10 a.m.
Fred Hayes InterimPastor
617-773-7432
www.wollastonucc.com

UNION CONGREGATIONAL
Beach St. & Rawson Rd., Wollaston
(617)479-6661
Rev. John Swanson, Pastor
Sunday Worship Service 10 AM

QUINCY POINT CONGREGATIONAL CHURCH
444 Washington St . • 617-773-6424
Worship and Church School 10 am
Rev. Ann Suzedell, Pastor
email: office@quincypointcong.org

Unitarian Universalist

United First Parish Church
A theologically liberal congregation, encouraging people to seek their own spiritual path. All are welcome.
Worship Service, Church School and Childcare Sundays at 10:30 AM
Followed by Fellowship & Refreshments
Rev. Rebecca Froom
1306 Hancock St., Quincy
www.ufpc.org

PEACE

To Advertise in this Directory, Call 617-471-3100

Christian Science

First Church of Christ, Scientist
1460 Hancock Street, Quincy
617-472-0055
Sunday Services and Sunday School 10:30 a.m.
Wednesday Evening Meetings – where testimonies of healing are shared 7:30 p.m.

ALL ARE WELCOME!

Catholic Community

Dignity BOSTON
Gay, Lesbian, Bisexual, Transgender
CATHOLICS
Our families, friends And allies
Liturgy & social hour: Sundays, 5:30 PM
St. John the Evangelist Church
35 Bowdoin St., Beacon Hill, Boston
617-421-1915
www.dignityboston.org

Nazarene

Wollaston
Church of the Nazarene
Sunday Worship
8:30 AM Liturgical Worship
9:45 AM Sunday School
11:00 AM Celebration Worship
Kevin C. Dunlop, Lead Pastor
Phil Nase, Youth & Small Groups Pastor
Jake Chastain, Music & Campus Pastor
Bev Keuther, Children's Pastor
Don Reed, Visitation Pastor
37 E. Elm Ave., Wollaston
617.472.5669
E-mail: office@wconaz.org
www.wollastonnazarene.org

HOPE

LOVE

OBITUARIES

Thomas J. Clark

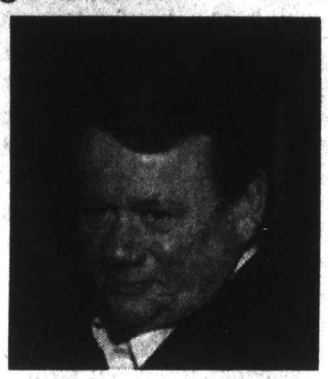
A funeral service for Thomas J. "Tommy" Clark of Quincy was held Monday in Keohane Funeral Home, 785 Hancock St., Quincy.

Mr. Clark died Jan. 21.

He was born in Corpus Christi, Texas, and lived all of his life in Quincy. He was a graduate of North Quincy High School. Mr. Clark worked as a plumber for Boston University for more than 25 years before retiring in 2003.

He enjoyed boating with friends and was an avid Patriots fan. Mr. Clark loved to cook and was a self-taught gourmet chef. His friends described Mr. Clark as a quiet person whose words were carefully chosen, keenly sensible and frequently comical.

Mr. Clark was a proud veteran of the United States Navy serving as bosun's mate third class in the Sixth Fleet. He will be missed by all who had the pleasure to have known him.



THOMAS J. CLARK

Beloved husband of the late Marcia Clark. Devoted father of David Clark and his fiancée Kelly Wilson of Vineyard Haven and Thomas Clark and his wife Susan of Weymouth. Also survived by all his friends and extended family at the Granite Rail.

Private interment.

Memorial donations may be made to the American Lung Assoc. of MA, 460 Totten Pond Rd., Waltham, MA 02451.

Anne Pellegrini, 100

A funeral Mass for Anne (DiBona) Pellegrini, 100, of Quincy was celebrated Jan. 24 in St. John the Baptist Church, Quincy.

Mrs. Pellegrini died Jan. 19 at Southwood at Norwell Nursing Center in Norwell.

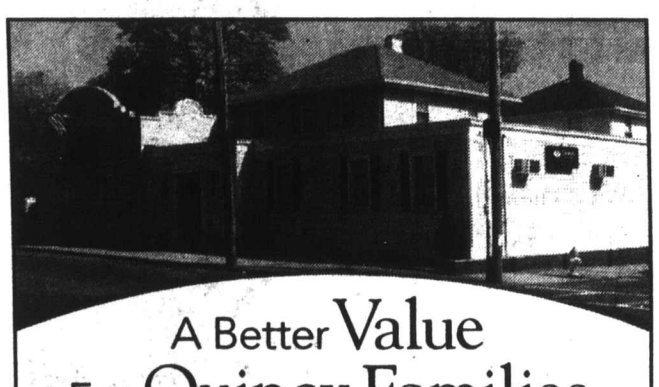
Born in Barre, Vermont, on June 5, 1914, she was the loving daughter of the late Angelo and Constanza DiBona. Mrs. Pellegrini was a graduate of Quincy High School and a devoted homemaker.

Beloved wife of the late Ralph Pellegrini. She was the dear sister of Angelo Cianfarani of Quincy and is also survived by many nieces and nephews.

Funeral arrangements were made by Bolea-Buonfiglio Funeral Home, 116 Franklin St., Quincy.

Interment at Mount Wollaston Cemetery, Quincy.

Memorial donations may be made to the Alzheimer's Association, P.O. Box 96011, Washington, DC 20090-6011.



A Better Value For Quincy Families

At Deware Funeral Home, we are proud to offer more value and superior service to Quincy families. A full service traditional funeral is $5,995* with no hidden costs. The price includes:

Funeral Ceremony • Visitation • Casket

At Deware Funeral Home, we put the needs of our customer first. We also offer a Simple Burial Plan for $3,395.

With Deware Funeral Home, you can trust us to provide the compassionate care you expect at an exceptional value, backed by a 100% service guarantee.

Exclusive provider of Dignity Memorial® benefits.

Deware Funeral Home

576 Hancock Street | Quincy, MA 02170 | 617-472-1137

Dignity Memorial

For more information visit www.dewarefuneralhome.com

*$5,995 plan includes basic services of funeral director and staff, embalming and preparation, cremation, funeral ceremony, transportation to place of disposition, 20-gauge metal casket, obituary announcement, and memorial stationary package (register book, 100 thank you cards, 100 prayer cards).

A Service Family Affiliate of AFFS and Service Corporation International, 206 Winter Street, Fall River, MA 02720 (508) 676-2455

Richard B. Fennelly

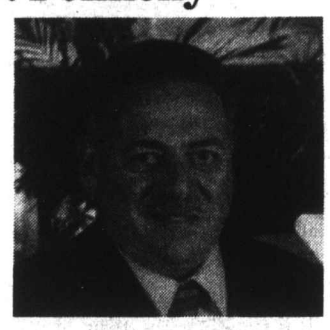
A funeral service for Richard Bruce " Dick" Fennelly, retired Quincy Fire Department, of Quincy, was held Tuesday in Wollaston Congregational Church.

Mr. Fennelly died Jan. 21.

He was born in Boston and was a graduate of Quincy Trade School, Class of 1965, in cabinet making. He joined the U.S. Coast Guard in 1966 where he was awarded the Coast Guard Commendation Medal for rescuing the crew of the vessel Sea King in high seas.

Mr. Fennelly was a dedicated firefighter for the Quincy Fire Department for Engine 2 and Engine 7 for 32 years before retiring in 2002. He was a gourmet cook at the firehouse and the highlight of his career was having delivered a baby while on his shift. He was both a Quincy Youth Hockey and Soccer coach. He enjoyed gardening, cabinet making, fishing, traveling, cruises, cooking and made the best banana bread ever!

Most of all Mr. Fennelly loved his family who were the cornerstone of his life. He will be missed by all who had the pleasure to have known him.



RICHARD B. FENNELLY

Beloved husband of Beverly C. "Zinkus" Fennelly of Quincy. Loving father of Sean C. Fennelly of Quincy. Devoted son of Norma R. Fennelly of FL and the late Canice J. Fennelly, Ret. BFD. Brother of Donald Fennelly and his wife Ginny of FL. Brother-in-law of John P. Zinkus Jr. and his wife Marie of Milton. Uncle of Glen Zinkus and his wife Tuen of OR, Lee Ann Lee and her husband Kenneth of Methuen, Mark Zinkus of Hingham, Darlene Fennelly of Weymouth and Wendy Fennelly Begley of CO. Also survived by many great nieces and nephews.

Funeral arrangements were made by Keohane Funeral Home, 785 Hancock St., Quincy.

Interment at Massachusetts National Cemetery, Bourne, at a later date.

Memorial donations may be made to Quincy Fire Department Relief Association, 40 Quincy Ave., Quincy, MA 02169.

Helen L. Duffy, 81

A Mass of Christian Burial for Helen L. Duffy, 81, of Rockland and formerly Quincy was celebrated Jan. 23 in St. John the Baptist Church.

Ms. Duffy died Jan. 19 after a period of failing health at South Shore Hospital, Weymouth.

Born and raised in Quincy, she resided in Quincy until moving to Leisurewoods in Rockland more than 20 years ago. She was an administrative assistant, retiring from PKF PC and having been employed by Corner, Dandrow & Co. CPA and the city of Quincy Public Works Department.

Ms. Duffy enjoyed vacationing at Sparhawk Resort in Ogunquit, Maine, travelling to Foxwoods and Atlantic City with family and friends and golfing at Rockland Golf Course. She was an animal lover and supporter of the Quincy Animal Shelter.

Beloved daughter of the late Ruth (Landry) and Thomas Joseph Duffy. Sister of Joseph S. Duffy and his wife Rosalie of South Dennis and the late Marjorie Leaman. Cherished Auntie of Robin Goodrich and her husband William of Middleboro, Joanne Monahan of Quincy, Brian Duffy and his wife Cheryl of Holbrook, Shauna Smith and her husband Terry of NH and Maura Kelley and her husband Thomas and Sharon Lucido and her husband Joseph, all of Sagamore Beach. Also survived by several great nieces and nephews and great-great nieces and nephews.

Funeral arrangements were made by Dolan Funeral Home, East Milton.

Interment at Mount Wollaston Cemetery, Quincy.

Memorial donations may be made to Quincy Animal Shelter, P.O. Box 690088, Quincy, MA 02269.

Honor Your Loved One's Memory With Flowers

cliffords.com

1.800.441.8884

Nancy L. Nogueira, 75

Funeral services for Nancy L. Nogueira, 75, of Arlington and formerly Quincy were privately held.

Ms. Nogueira died Jan. 19.

Born and raised in Quincy, she was a 1957 graduate of North Quincy High School. Ms. Nogueira worked for a time as a youth counselor with Ellis Memorial Settlement House in Boston before moving to San Francisco in 1969. There, she worked as a bank teller before returning to the Boston area in the 1970s, and finally settled in Arlington. She had formerly owned and operated the Carriage House Inn in Searsport, Maine, in the late 1980s. For the past 10 years Ms. Nogueira worked at Wanamaker True Value Hardware in Arlington.

She will be remembered for her sweet nature and generous smile, as well as for her loving and compassionate disposition. Ms. Nogueira was a woman who cared deeply about and advocated for animals, and was active in the care and rescue of cats in need – caring for many in her own home.

She enjoyed taking cruises to Provincetown in the summer months, and was always ready and willing to help those in need.

Daughter of the late Phyllis L. (Trott) and Donald W. Nogueira, Sr. Dear sister of Don Nogueira and his wife Gail of Norwell, Susan Hanscome and her husband Frank of AZ, and the late Paul Nogueira and his wife Linda of Quincy. Niece of Arlene Flanigan of Plymouth and Bruce Nogueira of Canton. Also survived by her dear long-time friend Patty Kirkpatrick of Arlington, as well as nieces, nephews, grand nieces, a great-grand niece and extended family and friends.

Funeral arrangements were made by Hamel Funeral Care & Cremation Service of Massachusetts.

Richard C. Conroy, 73

A Mass of Christian Burial for Richard C. Conroy, 73, of Quincy was celebrated Jan. 24 in St. Mary's Church, Quincy.

Mr. Conroy died peacefully Jan. 18 at John Scott House after a courageous battle with cancer.

He was the beloved husband of almost 50 years to Nancy M. (Chisholm) Conroy of Quincy. Born in Boston, he was the son of the late James and Florence (Murray) Conroy of Jamaica Plain. Mr. Conroy was proud to have served in the U.S. Marine Corps and worked 32 years at Blue Cross Blue Shield where he met his wife Nancy. He also worked at Acura in Walpole.

His happiest times were spent camping at Maple Park and golfing at Little Harbor in Wareham. He enjoyed afternoons in the "pit" with friends and visiting relatives in Florida. Mr. Conroy's greatest joy was his family.

In addition to his wife, he is survived by his children, Richard M. Conroy of Braintree, William C. Conroy and his wife Melissa of Medford, Susan M. Conroy-Kazmouski and her husband Daniel of Quincy and Sean M. Conroy and his wife Shanon of Weymouth; he was the devoted "Ba" to his grandchildren, Kaleigh and Sean Conroy of Quincy, Meghan, Caitlin and Matthew Conroy of Medford and Dylan and Kendall Kazmouski of Quincy; his loving brother, James M. Conroy and his wife Kathryn of Wareham; his loving brother-in-law, Robert Chisholm and his wife Doreen of FL; and he is also survived by several nieces and nephews. He was the brother of the late Elizabeth "Sistie" Conroy.

Funeral arrangements were made by Dolan Funeral Home, East Milton.

Interment at Pine Hill Cemetery, Quincy.

Memorial donations may be made to the Multiple Sclerosis Foundation, 101A First Ave., Waltham, MA 02451.

Roberta Sylva, 65

Roberta "Dee Dee" Sylva, 65, of Weymouth and formerly Quincy died Jan. 14.

Born in Quincy, where she was raised and educated, she worked as a telephone operator for Verizon before retiring.

The daughter of the late Robert and Helen (Taylor) Sylva, Ms. Sylva was the loving sister of Mary Keane, Donna Wilkie, Meredith Power, Robert Sylva, Edward Sylva, Stephen Sylva, John Sylva and the late Charles Sylva; loving aunt of the late Kevin Keane, Jr.; and is also survived by many nieces and nephews and her special friends, Barry and Regina Shangold.

Services have been held. Arrangements were made by Dennis Sweeney Funeral Home, 74 Elm St., Quincy.

Memorial donations may be made to the Jimmy Fund, P.O. Box 849168, Boston, MA 02284-9168 or Father Bill's Place, 38 Broad St., Quincy, MA 02169.

Cornelia F. Mahoney

A funeral Mass for Cornelia F. "Connie" Mahoney of Quincy was celebrated Jan. 23 in St. Ann's Church, Quincy.

Ms. Mahoney died Jan. 18.

She was recognized for her 45 years of dedicated service at Blue Cross Blue Shield. Ms. Mahoney was an active volunteer for numerous causes such as DOVE, South Shore Hospice, Meals on Wheels, Long Island Hospital, and as a Eucharistic minister for St. John's Parish. She cherished her family and her many lifelong friendships. She was an exceptional daughter, sister, aunt, caregiver, and friend and will be forever missed by all that had the privilege of knowing her.

Devoted daughter of the late John J. and Annie J. (O'Shea) Mahoney. Loving sister of John F. Mahoney of Plymouth (Dorchester) and the late Anna Georgias and Kathryn Bell. Also survived by many nieces, nephews, grand nieces and nephews, and one great-grand nephew.

Funeral arrangements were made by Keohane Funeral Home, 785 Hancock St., Quincy.

Private interment at a later date.

Memorial donations may be made to American Diabetes Assoc., 10 Speen St., 2nd Floor, Framingham, MA 01701.

'Four Chaplains Sunday'

The Quincy Veterans Department reminds residents that Sunday, Feb. 1 has been mandated by the Congress of the United States as "Four Chaplains Sunday."

The Four Chaplains, also sometimes referred to as the "Immortal Chaplains" or the "Dorchester Chaplains" were four United States Army chaplains who gave their lives to save other civilian and military personnel as the troop ship USAT Dorchester sank on Feb. 3, 1943 during World War II.

The converted luxury liner was crossing the North Atlantic, transporting more than 900 troops to an American base in Greenland. Aboard the ship were four chaplains of different faiths: Rev. George Fox (Methodist), Jewish Rabbi Alexander Goode, Rev. Clarke Polling (Dutch Reformed) and Fr. John Washington (Roman Catholic).

Around 12:55 a.m. on Feb. 3, 1943, a German U-boat fired a torpedo that struck Dorchester's starboard side, below the water line and near the engine room. The explosion instantly killed 100 men and knocked out power and radio communication with Dorchester's three escort ships. Within 20 minutes, the transport sank and more than 670 men died.

As soldiers rushed to lifeboats, the four chaplains spread out, comforting the wounded and directing others to safety. One survivor, Private William Bedner, later said, "I would hear men crying, pleading, praying. I could also hear the chaplains preaching courage. Their voices were the only thing that kept me going."

Another survivor, John Ladd, watched the chaplains distribute life jackets, and when they ran out, they removed theirs and gave them to four young men. "It was the finest thing I have seen, or hope to see, this side of heaven," he recalled.

As Dorchester sank, the chaplains were seen linked arm in arm, praying.

Fox, Goode, Poling and Washington were posthumously awarded the Distinguished Service Cross and the Purple Heart.

'Argo' Concludes Film Series Feb. 7

The Ben Affleck film "Argo" will conclude the Winter Film Series co-sponsored by Congregation Beth Shalom of the Blue Hills and the First Congregational Church of Milton on Saturday, Feb. 7 at 7 p.m.

Doors will open at 6:45 p.m. The film will be screened in Huntington Hall, 495 Canton Ave., Milton, with entry at the side door, and it is open to the public.

The theme of this year's Winter Film Series is "Political Lives and Lies." In "Argo," acting under the cover of a Hollywood producer scouting a location for a science fiction film, a CIA agent launches a dangerous operation to rescue six Americans in Tehran during the U.S. hostage crisis in 1980. Starring and directed by Ben Affleck, the 2012 film won three Academy Awards, including best motion picture.

The film will be followed by a brief discussion about the long memory of politics, and what will it take to envision a new future between the U.S. and Iran?

The donation for admission is $3 per person, or two for $5. Advance reservations get a free popcorn or bottle of water.

To order tickets in advance or for more information, call Cong. Beth Shalom at 617-698-3394; email: office@BethShalomBlueHills.org; visit www.BethShalomBlueHills.org; or call the church at 617-698-8517 or email info@fccmilton.org.

Temple Shalom and First Congregational Church are both located at 495 Canton Ave., Milton, which is handicapped-accessible.

Francis C. Davey, 80

A funeral Mass for Francis C. Davey, 80, of Quincy was celebrated Monday in Sacred Heart Church, Quincy.

Mr. Davey died peacefully Jan. 20 at the John Adams Nursing Home.

Born in South Boston, he was employed as an oil burner technician and was an active member of the Teamsters Union Local 25 for more than 30 years; prior to that he also proudly served in the Navy. Mr. Davey enjoyed attending church and loved singing in two church choirs.

He is survived by his beloved wife of 60 years, Helen (Morrissey) Davey; his children Lorne and Linda Davey of MI, Brian and Sandy Davey of Hanover; grandchildren Krystal Davey of Quincy, Amanda Vandergriff of MI, Rachel Ring of Rockland, Benjamin Davey of Hanover and Lorne Davey Jr. of MI; 10 great grandchildren and several nieces and nephews. He also leaves behind his sister Helen Frisco of Brockton, Pauline Perrault of Rockland, Wesley Davey of AZ and John Davey of FL. Predeceased by his twin brother William Davey of Plymouth.

FRANCIS C. DAVEY

Funeral arrangements were made by Keohane Funeral Home, 785 Hancock St., Quincy.

Interment at Cedar Grove Cemetery, Boston.

Memorial donations may be made to the Alzheimer's Foundation of America.

Frances Biancuzzo, 87

Visiting hours for Frances (DeLuca) Biancuzzo, 87, were held Sunday at C. C. Shepherd Funeral Home, South Weymouth.

Mrs. Biancuzzo died peacefully Jan. 23.

She was born, raised, and educated in Roxbury where she met her loving husband of many years, Ernest. They also started a family in Roxbury and soon after moved to Quincy in the 1960s to continue raising the family.

Mrs. Biancuzzo enjoyed cooking but most of all enjoyed spending time with her family especially her grandchildren and great-grandchildren. Her family would like to extend many thanks to the staff at the Pat Roche Hospice House in Hingham for not only the exceptional way they cared for Mrs. Biancuzzo, but also her family.

Predeceased by her beloved husband Ernest J. Biancuzzo. Loving mother to Linda Sachetti and her husband Ronald of Abington and Bob Biancuzzo of MD. Cherished grandmother to Carol Sachetti of RI, Kristin Ernest and her husband Christopher of Whitman, Lauren Sachetti of Weymouth, and John Sachetti and his wife Jennifer of Hanover. Also survived by her brother, Gaetano DeLuca of Hingham, two loving great-grandchildren Cameron and Cooper, and many nieces and nephews.

Interment at Massachusetts National Cemetery, Bourne.

Memorial donations may be made to Norwell VNA Hospice, 120 Longwater Dr., Norwell, MA 02061.

Albert J. Vasile

A funeral Mass for Albert J. Vasile of Quincy, formerly of South Boston and Dorchester, was celebrated Monday in St. Ann's Church, Quincy.

Mr. Vasile died Jan. 20.

He graduated with a bachelors of science oratory from Curry College in 1954. He proudly served in the U.S. Army in Japan during the Korean War. He was a member of the founding faculty and professor at Bunker Hill Community College and author of the book "Speak with Confidence." Mr. Vasile was also a DJ for 25 years.

He was outgoing and very friendly. His family was most important to him, especially the role as "Uppa" to his grandchildren. Mr. Vasile will be greatly missed by all that knew him.

Beloved husband of 53 years of Evelyn (Bryant) Vasile of Quincy. Devoted father of Albert Vasile Jr. and his wife Barbara of Quincy and Walter Vasile and his wife Patty of Holbrook. Loving brother of Frank Vasile and his wife Barbara of NJ, Joseph Vasile of CA, and the late Michael Vasile. Cherished "Uppa" of Kevin, Brian, and Kaitlyn. Also survived by many nieces and nephews.

Funeral arrangements were made by Keohane Funeral Home, 785 Hancock St., Quincy.

Interment at Pine Hill Cemetery, Quincy.

Memorial donations may be made to Old Colony Hospice, One Credit Union Way, 4th Floor, Randolph, MA 02368-4633 or to Beth Israel Deaconess Hospital-Milton, attn: Development Office, 199 Reedsdale Rd., Milton, MA 02186.

Sam Ameen, 87

A funeral service for Sam Ameen, 87 of Weymouth, former Quincy Police Department and former Metropolitan District Commission Police, will be held Feb. 2 at 11 a.m. in Dennis Sweeney Funeral Home, 74 Elm St., Quincy.

Mr. Ameen died Jan. 21.

Born in Quincy where he was raised and educated, he was a WWII veteran of the Marine Corps. Serving in law enforcement for more than 44 years, Mr. Ameen was an officer for the Quincy Police Department, the MDC Police and in the Wildlife and Fisheries Division of the Environmental Police. He was also a 50-year member of the Quincy Masonic Lodge.

The beloved husband of Camille (Spinelli) Ameen to whom he was married for 56 years, Mr. Ameen was the loving father of Samuel V. Ameen and his wife Liza of CA and Cami Germaine and her husband Eric of Marshfield; dear grandfather of Vito and Alizeh; brother of Michael Ameen of

SAM AMEEN

TX, Elizabeth of CA, Lillian Lowry of AZ and the late Joseph Ameen, Sarah Abraham, Ann Noyes and Ramsey Hassan; and is also survived by many nieces and nephews and was fortunate enough to have two step granddaughters, Abi and Julia.

Visiting hours are 9-11 a.m. on Feb. 2 in the funeral home.

Interment with Military Honors at Mount Wollaston Cemetery, Quincy.

Memorial donations may be made to Weymouth Veterans Services Donation Fund, 182 Green St., Weymouth, MA 02191.

Dena Mikal, 95

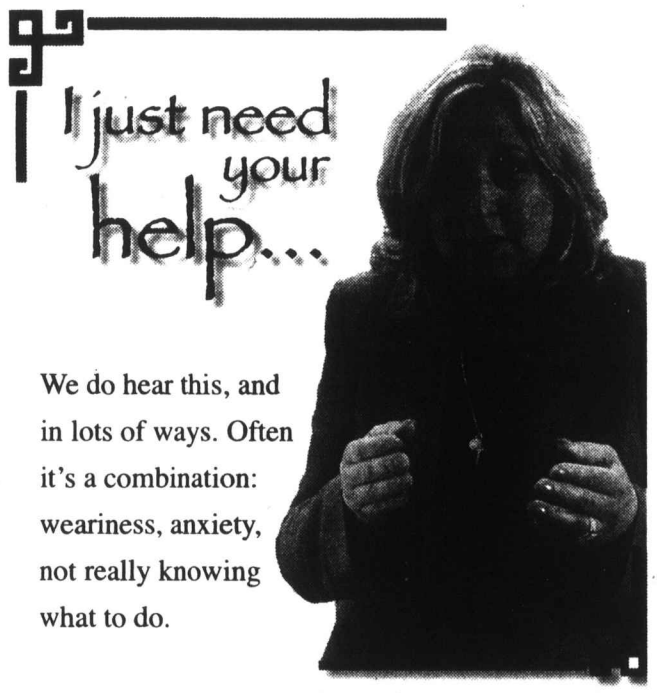
Funeral services for Dena (Wantman) Mikal, 95, of Mashpee and formerly Squantum are private.

Mrs. Mikal died peacefully Jan. 21 at home with her loving family by her side.

She was the beloved wife of the late Dr. Stanley Mikal, to whom she was married for 62 years. She was born in Somerville on July 28, 1919, the daughter of Matilda Sklar and David Wantman.

She is survived by her daughter Michele (Mikal) Schalk and her husband Robert of Mashpee; son Alan Mikal and his wife Maureen of ME; grandchildren Rochele Summerton and Nathaniel and Mikal Schalk of Mashpee; great-granddaughter Marina Summerton; nephew James Wantman of CO; and niece Bette Kraiterman of FL.

Arrangements were made by Chapman, Cole & Gleason Funeral Homes.



We do hear this, and in lots of ways. Often it's a combination: weariness, anxiety, not really knowing what to do.

Dennis Keohane

At Keohane Funeral and Cremation Service the first thing we'll do is take care of you. Then we'll help you arrive at what you feel is right, in remembering someone you love.

785 Hancock Street
Quincy

333 Hancock Street
North Quincy

21 Emerald Street
Hingham

Keohane
FUNERAL & CREMATION SERVICE
www.Keohane.com
1-800-KEOHANE

Quincy Wrestling Update

By TREVOR WENNERS

Peter Orseno, Tariq Simmons, Kenny Garcia and Kreshnick Mullahi have combined for an 88-17 record in the first 16 matches of the season for the Quincy High School boys wrestling team.

"Our 120, Peter, he's a wrestler. He took fourth at Marshfield over the holiday break up another weight class and I expect him to go far in the state tournaments, place at D1 states and qualify for All-States," said Presidents head coach Matt Pavlisko. "Tariq I see the same thing. I see him placing at Sectionals and moving into D1 states. Kenny, 132 I also see placing. All of them I see placing in Sectionals and moving forward to the state tournament."

Other members of the team include freshman Robert Buttomer (106 pounds), freshman Kenny Dong (113), Ryan Warner (145), freshman Connor Ainsley (152), senior Andrew Cook (160), freshman Christ Pham (170), sophomore Mario Ragusa (170), junior Kevin Rivera (182), senior Conner Goulart (182), junior Xhuljo Zyba (195), junior Richard Rose (220) and senior captain Miles Hadley (heavyweight).

"Overall we're doing okay, we could always use room for improvement," said Pavlisko. "(There are) a lot of young kids (on the team), but they're wrestling varsity and they wrestle tough for us."

The Presidents fell to North Quincy 42-41 Jan. 21 at North Quincy High School. After that match, the Presidents record for the season was 7-9. In that match, Orseno, Simmons, Garcia and Mullahi combined to go 4-0 for the Presidents.

Simmons won by technical fall, Mullahi won by fall, Cook won by fall and Buttomer, Dong, Orseno and Garcia all won by forfeit.

"The rivalry is huge from what I am told," said Pavlisko. "But losing it's always a sour taste in your mouth when it's your cross town rival, it's tough to swallow but the kids were excited and they had fun."

Garcia added, "Unfortunately we didn't win (against North Quincy on Wednesday, January 21) but it was still fun to be a part of that, it's always fun to be part of the rivalry."

Cook's record through the first 16 matches of the year has been 18-8 and Hadley has compiled a record of 10-13. Buttomer, Dong, Warner and Ainsley have all registered some wins as first year wrestlers.

"We have a lot of first years so honestly we have a couple of individuals that standout," said Garcia. "A bunch of our team is first years so I think we're where we're supposed to be."

What are the goals for the Presidents moving forward?

"My goal is to eventually be above .500," said Pavlisko. "And bring Quincy back to a powerhouse team which it once was."

After the match against North Quincy, Garcia had a record of 25-3 for the season.

"Worked on my technique more," said Garcia. "I couldn't really do much during the offseason (because) I was off playing football and all that stuff but just worked on my technique."

After the match against the Red Raiders, Orseno's record for the season was 25-3, Simmons' record was 20-5 and Mullahi's record was 18-6.

"A lot of the kids look up to me, Miles Hadley and Andrew Cook because we're the captains," said Garcia. "And we always have to lead by example."

Garcia spoke about what got him into the sport of wrestling back during freshman year.

"My freshman year, the athletic director now, Pat Lane (talked to) all the freshmen and told us that it would make (us) better for football," said Garcia. "(I said) it can't hurt so I just tried it and now I'm the captain and here I am now."

Pavlisko talked about keys moving forward in the season for the Presidents.

"The keys going forward is just being physical and wrestling a full match," he said. "And having the endurance and the physicality of being a better wrestler."

N. Quincy Wrestling Update

By TREVOR WENNERS

Senior captain Marcello Toscanini 20-7, junior captain Derek Huynh 17-5 and junior captain Mac Deegan 12-5 have led the North Quincy High School wrestling team this season.

"We wrestled Scituate a couple of weeks ago and out of eight matches we won six of them but we're giving up too many points. We gave up too many points (in our win on Jan. 21 against Quincy) to make it 42-41, it was a tight one," said Red Raiders head coach Mark Nutley. "We got some talented guys out there that can wrestle, we've got a pretty decent team but we just don't have the depth and we need the depth right now."

North Quincy defeated visiting Quincy 42-41 on Jan. 21.

"And hopefully by winning some matches that gets more and more kids on the team for next year," said Nutley. "We have the talent, which is nice."

Toscanini (170 pounds) placed fourth at the Devin Ness Tournament, placed fifth at the Whitman-Hanson Invitational and placed sixth in the Marshfield Holiday Tournament. Huynh (heavyweight) placed first in the Devin Ness Tournament and placed sixth at the Marshfield Holiday Tournament. Toscanini and Huynh are both undefeated in dual meets. Deegan (160) placed fourth at the Devin Ness Tournament and placed third at the Whitman-Hanson Invitational.

"One of our senior captains Marcello Toscanini, he wrestles 170 (and) 182 for us, he (has) had a great year, he (has) placed in every tournament that we've gone to this year for us, a kid that we look to every night to go out there and really do well, he hasn't lost a dual meet yet so he's doing really well, so he's having a great year" said Nutley. "Another kid, (a) heavyweight (wrestler), junior captain Derek Huynh, again he (has) placed in all the tournaments too, undefeated in dual meets so another kid that when they go out there we're looking for them to get six points every time they go out there. Another kid, Mac Deegan, he's a junior captain and he's doing great for us, he's doing a great job, he's going out there winning matches for us and stuff, so it's nice to see."

Nutley talked about the excitement of defeating their city rival, 42-41.

"That was great and it was for these guys, like the seniors, like Marcello who played football, had a great football season, a tough one on Thanksgiving and he walks away with a win over Quincy tonight the last time he's going to face Quincy," he said. "Quincy's a great team and they have the depth which is nice, we're aspiring to be where they are right now as far as the numbers go and the depth and everything like that."

Toscanini spoke about the importance of the win against Quincy.

"This is huge," he said. "This is really huge for us, we trained hard during the season and it wasn't easy with our (low) numbers but the work we put in this season is what made it count."

North Quincy has also defeated Middleboro this season by a score of 42-12.

"(Junior) Jack Ryder who got a nice pin (against Quincy Jan. 21) for us, he had a huge pin that night for us (against Middleboro)," said Nutley. "So the guys that we have are underclassmen and their succeeding which is great. It's nice to see that."

The Red Raiders recently lost to King Philip 30-18 and Sharon 48-27. Freshman Dimitri Legaspi (120) went 2-0 during those matches including two pins. Deegan went 2-0, Toscanini went 2-0 with two pins and Huynh went 2-0 with one pin.

Nutley has coached Toscanini in wrestling and football at North Quincy.

"It's great, he's a great coach," said Toscanini. "And it's awesome to have him teach us football during the fall and then wrestling during the winter. (We) really learn a lot."

What are the Red Raiders going to be emphasizing going forward in their season?

"The keys are just to stay strong and stay together as a team," said Toscanini. "And definitely work hard, keep working hard and keep at the same pace we've been going for the rest of the season."

LEGAL NOTICE

CITY OF QUINCY
IN COUNCIL

ORDER NO. 2015 – 009
ORDERED: January 20, 2015

Be it ordained by the City Council, that the Quincy Municipal Code is hereby amended as follows:

In Title 10. Vehicles and Traffic. Chapter 10.20 Stopping, Standing and Parking
Section 10.20.040 Parking - Prohibited and Restricted where

Add the following:

Street	From	To	Type of Regulation
Tower Street	Spring Street	Rock Island Road	No Parking Anytime – Both Sides

A TRUE COPY
ATTEST:
Joseph P. Shea
Clerk of Council

01/29/15

LEGAL NOTICE

CITY OF QUINCY
IN COUNCIL

ORDER NO. 2015 – 010
ORDERED: January 20, 2015

Be it ordained by the City Council, that the Quincy Municipal Code is hereby amended as follows:

In Title 10. Vehicles and Traffic. Chapter 10.20 Stopping, Standing and Parking
Section 10.12.040 Stop Signs Authorized where

Add the following:

Street	Direction	Intersectiong with	Type of Regulation
Robertson Street	Northbound	Adams Street	Stop Sign

A TRUE COPY
ATTEST:
Joseph P. Shea
Clerk of Council

01/29/15

NOTICE OF PUBLIC HEARING

Notice of Public Hearing
2015-008

The Quincy City Council will hold a Public Hearing, on Tuesday, February 17 at 7:20 PM in the City Council Chamber, 2nd floor of City Hall, 1305 Hancock St in reference to a petition from Massachusetts Electric Company.

Temple Street

Ngrid install 180' of 6-4 duct fr hdhh38-1 to existing island outside madot limit of work and cap four ducts for future construction please see sketch for more information.

A copy of the Applicant's plan may be examined at the Office of the City Clerk, 1259 Hancock Street, Quincy, MA. Monday through Friday during regular working hours 8:30 A.M. to 4:30 P.M.

A TRUE COPY
ATTEST: Joseph P. Shea
Clerk of the Council

01/29/15

LEGAL NOTICE

CITY OF QUINCY
IN COUNCIL

ORDER NO. 2015 – 011
ORDERED: January 20, 2015

Be it ordained by the City Council, that the Quincy Municipal Code is hereby amended as follows:

In Title 10. Vehicles and Traffic. Chapter 10.20 Stopping, Standing and Parking
Section 10.20.040 Parking Restrictions - Prohibited - Handicapped Spaces - Curb Access - Applicability - Penalties

Add the following:

Street	From	To	Type of Regulation
Hamden Circle	30' West of Hamilton Street	50' West of Hamilton Street	Handicap Parking

A TRUE COPY
ATTEST:
Joseph P. Shea
Clerk of Council

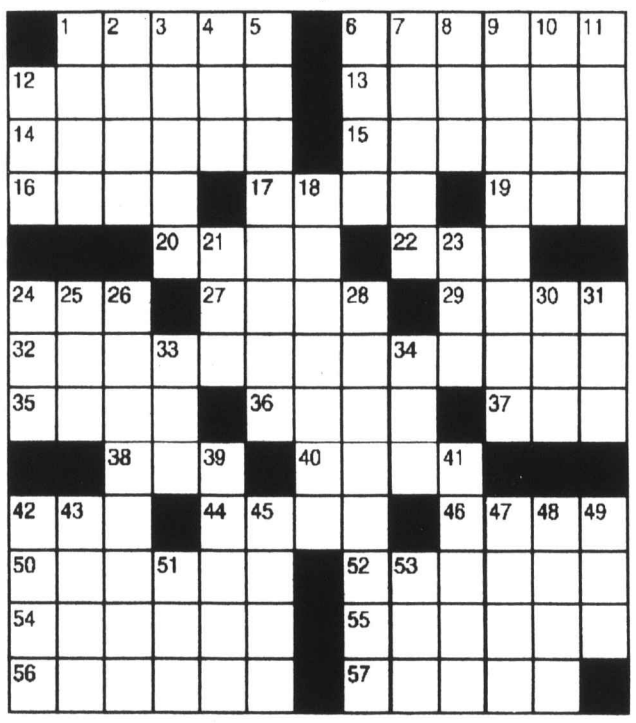
01/29/15

SUN FUN PAGE

King Crossword

ACROSS
1 Intelligent
6 Haunt
12 Kid's injury
13 Quick look
14 Donkey, often
15 Vacationer's car, possibly
16 Eliot-based musical
17 Haberdasher's rackful
19 "— Believer"
20 Pornography
22 Perched
24 Pair with an air
27 Lobs' paths
29 "Galloping dominoes"
32 In people?
35 "Ice Loves —"
36 Eat
37 Bribe
38 Yoko of music
40 In the offing
42 Core of a PC
44 Autograph
46 In the thick of
50 Smack, so to speak
52 Basic drive
54 Gave out
55 Up
56 Verse
57 Actress Naomi

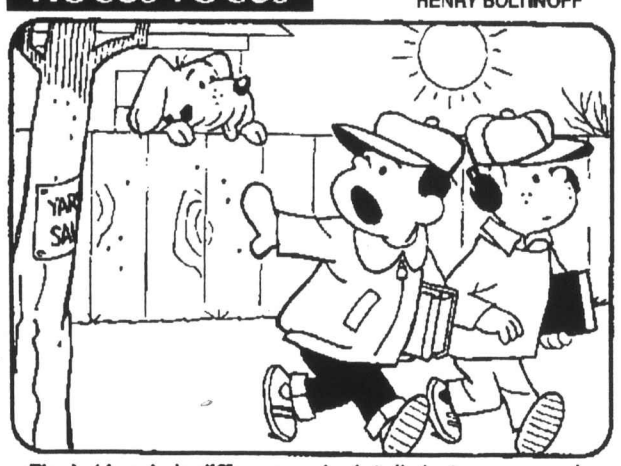
DOWN
1 Marsh bird
2 Castle protector
3 Chasm
4 Fish eggs
5 — soul (person with angst)
6 Shrek, e.g.
7 Consecrate
8 — Diego
9 Things
10 Con game
11 Actress Ward
12 Telly option
18 Pruritic
21 Buddy
23 Do sum work?
24 Medico
25 Faraway transport?
26 "Certainly"
28 Marc Mezvinsky, to Bill and Hillary
30 — -Magnon
31 Sixth sense
33 Charged bit
34 Journey segment
39 Wicker willow
41 Custom
42 Dale's pal
43 Mexican money
45 Race place
47 Atomizer output
48 Date of destiny
49 Dress in
51 Chic no more
53 Playwright Levin



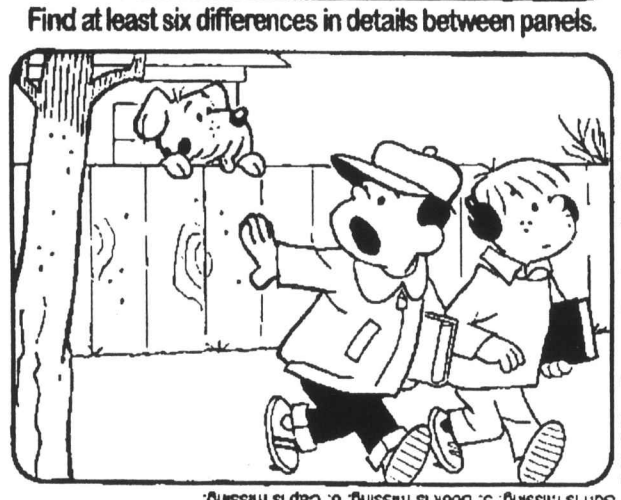
© 2015 King Features Synd., Inc.

HOCUS-FOCUS

BY HENRY BOLTINOFF



Find at least six differences in details between panels.



©2015 King Features Syndicate, Inc. All rights reserved.

Differences: 1. Sign is missing. 2. Dog's ear is shorter. 3. Mitten is removed. 4. Sun is missing. 5. Book is missing. 6. Cap is missing.

New! 24 HOCUS FOCUS puzzles $3.50 • 24 Volumes • Order at: rbmamall.com

Trivia test

by Fifi Rodriguez

1. GEOGRAPHY: What is the largest bay in the world?
2. RELIGION: Who is the patron saint for mountain climbers?
3. MOVIES: In which Harry Potter movie was the Whomping Willow introduced?
4. TOYS: What was the name of the British version of America's "G.I. Joe"?
5. LITERATURE: When was the novel "Gone With the Wind" published?
6. MYTHOLOGY: In Greek mythology, who slew the Minotaur?
7. MUSIC: "The Last Waltz" was a documentary of the final concert of which rock group?
8. TELEVISION: What was Chandler's last name on the sitcom "Friends"?
9. GENERAL KNOWLEDGE: What institution declares itself to be the largest library in the world?
10. LANGUAGE: What is an onomatopoeia?

Answers
1. Bay of Bengal
2. St. Bernard
3. "Harry Potter and the Chamber of Secrets"
4. Action Man
5. 1936
6. Theseus
7. The Band
8. Bing
9. The Library of Congress
10. The imitation of natural sounds through words like "arf."

(c) 2015 King Features Synd., Inc.

Salome's Stars

ARIES (March 21 to April 19) Your natural Arian leadership qualities make you the person others will follow in tackling that important project. But don't get so involved in the work that you neglect your personal life.
TAURUS (April 20 to May 20) Aspects favor sorting through your possessions, both at work and at home, to start giving away what you don't use, don't need or don't like. Relax later with someone special.
GEMINI (May 21 to June 20) The issues are not quite as clear as they should be. That's why you need to avoid getting involved in disputes between colleagues at work or between relatives or personal friends.
CANCER (June 21 to July 22) You'll get lots of support from others if you own up to your mistake quickly and include a full and honest explanation. Learn from this experience so that you don't repeat it.
LEO (July 23 to August 22) There might be some early confusion over a major move, whether it's at work or at home. But once you get a full breakdown of what it entails, it should be easier to deal with. Good luck.
VIRGO (August 23 to September 22) Creating order out of chaos, even in the most untidy spaces, should be no problem for organized Virgos. So go ahead and do it, and then accept praise from impressed colleagues.
LIBRA (September 23 to October 22) Whether it's for business purposes or just for leisure, a trip might be just what you need right now. You would benefit both from a change of scenery and from meeting new people.
SCORPIO (October 23 to November 21) While things generally go well this week, a romantic situation seems to have stalled. But you can restart it if you want to. Then again, maybe this is a chance to reassess the situation.
SAGITTARIUS (November 22 to December 21) A meeting that was promised quite a while back could finally happen. So be sure you're prepared with everything you'll need to make your case sound convincing and doable.
CAPRICORN (December 22 to January 19) A workplace blunder could create a problem down the line unless you deal with it right now to see how and why it happened. Don't be surprised at what you might learn.
AQUARIUS (January 20 to February 18) This is a good time to re-sort your priorities and see if adjustments are called for. Be honest with yourself as you decide what to keep, what to discard and what to change.
PISCES (February 19 to March 20) Letting yourself be bathed in the outpouring of love and support from those who care for you will help you get through a difficult period sooner rather than later. Good luck.
BORN THIS WEEK: You have an uncanny gift for reaching out to all people and creating bridges of understanding among them.

(c) 2015 King Features Synd., Inc.

CryptoQuip

This is a simple substitution cipher in which each letter used stands for another. If you think that X equals O, it will equal O throughout the puzzle. Solution is accomplished by trial and error.

Clue: M equals P

KU JGL MOMMLJ GIQZV ZIIZV QLWL JI QLZ SBJWLYY UOPKBLCCI, QIOCZ S NSWKIPLJJL NSWWV SPPLJJL?

© 2015 King Features Synd., Inc.

MAGIC MAZE ● — MEDIA

E B Y W T R O L J G E B Y W U
R P N K I E L B A V O M E R S
G D B Z X B R O A D C A S T V
S Q O M K I I C I G P E O E C
A Y W U T S G Q I P N R C V L
J H F I E C H A Y T A T I X O
V U S P O R T S S G E S A N I
Q H P W N M W K E J U N L S T
H L A R E B I L F A E I G S L
C B Z Y X N N V L U N A T A U
R Q P O M L G K I E H M G M M

Find the listed words in the diagram. They run in all directions forward, backward, up, down and diagonally.

British, Broadcast, Liberal, Magnetic, Mainstream, Mass, Multi, Online, Print, Removable, Right-wing, Social, Sports, Storage, Visual

©2015 King Features Syndicate, Inc. All rights reserved.

Wishing Well®

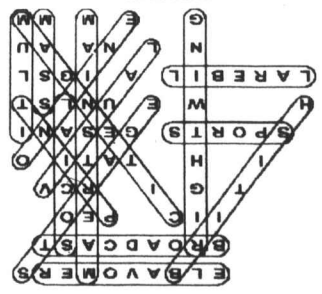
6	5	6	2	8	2	5	6	3	8	3	7	8
A	S	L	B	B	E	T	O	A	A	C	C	L
5	2	3	7	4	2	3	7	8	7	8	2	5
U	S	H	H	R	E	A	E	M	E	Y	L	D
3	2	4	7	6	7	5	2	7	4	3	2	8
N	F	E	R	N	F	Y	R	U	L	G	E	D
7	8	5	4	3	4	3	5	7	8	3	4	7
L	A	F	A	E	T	O	O	D	Y	F	I	A
6	8	5	2	8	5	8	4	5	4	5	4	7
G	S	R	L	A	P	H	V	R	E	O	S	Y
2	6	2	5	6	3	2	5	3	6	4	8	6
I	L	A	M	I	H	N	O	O	F	V	E	E
8	4	2	3	4	5	3	8	4	5	4	5	5
A	I	T	M	S	T	E	D	I	I	T	O	N

HERE IS A PLEASANT LITTLE GAME that will give you a message every day. It's a numerical puzzle designed to spell out your fortune. Count the letters in your first name. If the number of letters is 6 or more, subtract 4. If the number is less than 6, add 3. The result is your key number. Start at the upper left-hand corner and check one of your key numbers, left to right. Then read the message the letters under the checked figures give you.

©2015 King Features Syndicate, Inc. All rights reserved.

— King Crossword —
Answers
Solution time: 24 mins.

Magic Maze
ANSWERS:
— MASTER



Cyptoquip
ANSWER:

If the puppet Howdy Doody were to wed actress Funicello, would a marionette marry Annette?

CLASSIFIEDS

NOTICE OF PUBLIC HEARING

NOTICE OF PUBLIC HEARING
City of Quincy
ZONING BOARD OF APPEALS
CASE NO. 15-001

Pursuant to the provisions of TITLE 17 of the QUINCY MUNICIPAL CODE as amended, the Quincy Zoning Board of Appeals will hold an Open Public Hearing on Tuesday, February 10, 2015 at 7:15 pm on the Second Floor in the Council Chambers, Quincy City Hall, 1305 Hancock Street, Quincy, MA 02169. On the application of Wei Zhang for a Variance/Finding to add 2, two-bedroom residential units on the second floor of the existing medical office building while maintaining a dental office on the first floor in violation of Title 17 as amended Chapter 4.1 (dimensional requirements) and Chapter 3.4.2 (nonconforming use) on the premises numbered 909 HANCOCK STREET, QUINCY.

Plans and Specifications are on file at the Inspectional Service Department located at 55 Sea Street, Quincy, MA 02169 and may be reviewed during regular business hours.

Martin Aikens, Chairman

1/22/15, 1/29/15

NOTICE OF PUBLIC HEARING

NOTICE OF PUBLIC HEARING
City of Quincy
ZONING BOARD OF APPEALS
CASE NO. 15-002

Pursuant to the provisions of TITLE 17 of the QUINCY MUNICIPAL CODE as amended, the Quincy Zoning Board of Appeals will hold an Open Public Hearing on Tuesday, February 10, 2015 at 7:15 pm on the Second Floor in the Council Chambers, Quincy City Hall, 1305 Hancock Street, Quincy, MA 02169. On the application of Mandy & Jason Oberton for a Variance/Finding to add approximately 2500 sf of living space and a 540 sf garage in violation of Title 17 as amended Chapter 4.0 (dimensional requirements) and Chapter 3.4.3 (nonconforming uses) on the premises numbered 109 SONOMA ROAD, QUINCY.

Plans and Specifications are on file at the Inspectional Service Department located at 55 Sea Street, Quincy, MA 02169 and may be reviewed during regular business hours.

Martin Aikens, Chairman

1/22/15, 1/29/15

NOTICE OF PUBLIC HEARING

CITY OF QUINCY
BOARD OF LICENSE COMMISSIONERS

Notice is hereby given under Chapter 138 of the General Laws of Massachusetts that the Board has received an application for the following changes to the existing CV All Alcohol Restaurant License issued to Pizza & Pretzels, Corp., d/b/a Maggy's, 609 Washington St. , George Pepdjonovic, Manager. Transfer of Stock, Change of Directors, Alteration of Premises (increase outdoor seating), Change of Hours (outdoor patio). A hearing will be held in City Hall Conference Room, 1305 Hancock St., Quincy. TUESDAY February 10, 2015 @ 4:00 P.M.

Joseph P. Shea
Chairman

1/29/15

NOTICE OF PUBLIC HEARING

CITY OF QUINCY
BOARD OF LICENSE COMMISSIONERS

Notice is hereby given under Chapter 138 of the General Laws of Massachusetts that the Board has received an application for changes to the existing CV Wine & Malt License issued to Schwanke Brothers, Inc. d/b/a The Clam Box, 789 Quincy Shore Drive, for Transfer of Stock, Change of Officers/ Directors & Change of Manager, from Todd Schwanke to Bryan Schwanke. A hearing will be held in City Hall Conference Room, 1305 Hancock St., Quincy. TUESDAY February 10, 2015 @ 4:00 P.M.

Joseph P. Shea
Chairman

1/29/15

PLEASE RECYCLE THIS NEWSPAPER

TUTORS WANTED TUTORS WANTED

After School Tutors/Teachers (North Quincy) Immediate opening

Local program seeking a part-time person afternoons to help school-age children in a classroom setting with grammar, math and homework in our afternoon classes in Quincy.

- Must be high school graduate. Prefer someone to work 18-20 hours per week, 2:30-6 pm MWThF and 12-6 pm Tuesdays. Would consider fewer hours.
- Some experience with school age children required; experience with foreign language students is helpful. Pay from $10 to $12 per hour depending on schedule and background.
- Typical applicants might be college students, retired teachers, etc., but we are open to any responsible, caring adults who love children. Located near subway.
- All applicants must undergo a background check and meet other requirements.

Please email a resume with specifics about your background and local contact information to: ivyschoolquincy@gmail.com

2/12

MISCELLANEOUS

MISCELLANEOUS
SAWMILLS from only $4397.00-MAKE & SAVE MONEY with your own bandmill-Cut lumber any dimension. In stock ready to ship. FREE Info/DVD: www.NorwoodSawmills.com 1-800-578-1363 Ext.300N

SUPER BOWL TICKETS WANTED
Top $$$ paid local reps
800-Bowl-Tix
800-BOWL-TIX
800-269-5849
www.sellmytix.com

FOR SALE

HAND MADE LIGHT COLOR SEWING CABINET
19" HIGH; 12" WIDE VERY ATTRACTIVE.
USE AS REGULAR CABINET-TABLE.
$70.00 OR B.O.
(617)696-5005

1/29

HALLS FOR RENT

MORRISETTE LEGION POST
81-83 Liberty St., Quincy
Function Hall Available
Call for Details* 617-770-4876
Internet Capable • Weddings • Showers • Christenings • Meetings After Funeral Gatherings TF

WANTED

OLD HAND TOOLS & BOOKS WANTED

Planes, chisels, adzes, shaves, machinist, and sheetmetal tools, calipers, clamps, anvils, vises.

USEFUL TOOLS, ALL TRADES.

New England history books
Collections: old postcards, toys, military, fishing & old auto items

LIBERTY TOOL CO.
888-405-2007
Davistownmuseum.org
www.jonesport-wood.com TF

CASH FOR DIABETES TEST STRIPS:
Up to $33/box!
I will pick up same day
Must be Factory Sealed and Unexpired
Call Jenni
(800)413-3479
www.CashForYourTestStrips.com

2/5

HELP WANTED

Operator/Dispatcher Position for Yellow Cab of Quincy

Part time positions available

Responsibilities include:
- Answering multiple phone lines in a courteous and professional manner
- Data entry, and dispatching calls over the radio.
- Knowledge of the streets and landmarks in Quincy a must.
- Good communication skills and computer skills.
- Works well under pressure and can respond to emergencies quickly and efficiently.

Please email resume to napostleycq@comcast.net or call Nichol at 617-479-9600.

2/5

The Quincy Sun CLASSIFIED AD FORM

MAIL TO: THE QUINCY SUN, 1372 HANCOCK STREET, QUINCY, MA 02169

PAYABLE IN ADVANCE. Payment must accompany order.

RATES

1 WEEK ❑ $9.00 for one insertion, up to 20 words, 10¢ for each additional word.

2-4 WEEKS ❑ $8.00 per insertion up to 20 words for 2-4 insertions of the same ad, 10¢ each additional word.

5-10 WEEKS ❑ $7.50 per insertion, up to 20 words, for 5-10 insertions of the same ad 10¢ for each additional word.

11 WEEKS OR MORE ❑ $7.00 per insertion, up to 20 words, for 11 or more insertions of the same ad 10¢ for each additional word.

INDEX
- ❑ Services
- ❑ For Sale
- ❑ Autos
- ❑ Boats
- ❑ For Rent
- ❑ Wanted
- ❑ Help Wanted
- ❑ Work Wanted
- ❑ Pets
- ❑ Lost & Found
- ❑ Real Estate
- ❑ Antiques
- ❑ Flea Markets
- ❑ Yard Sales
- ❑ Instruction
- ❑ Day Care
- ❑ Personal
- ❑ Miscellaneous

❑ Enclosed is $ _____ for the following ad to run _____ weeks in The Quincy Sun.

COPY: _____

NO REFUND WILL BE MADE AT THIS CONTRACT RATE IN THE EVENT OF CANCELLATION. DEADLINE: FRIDAY AT 4PM. PLEASE INCLUDE YOUR PHONE NUMBER IN AD.

NOTICE OF PUBLIC HEARING

NOTICE OF PUBLIC HEARING
City of Quincy
ZONING BOARD OF APPEALS
CASE NO. 15-003

Pursuant to the provisions of TITLE 17 of the QUINCY MUNICIPAL CODE as amended, the Quincy Zoning Board of Appeals will hold an Open Public Hearing on Tuesday, February 10, 2015 at 7:15 pm on the Second Floor in the Council Chambers, Quincy City Hall, 1305 Hancock Street, Quincy, MA 02169. On the application of Brian & Celia La Roche for a Variance to modify the previously granted Variance by adding an additional bedroom in violation of Title 17 as amended Chapter 4.1 (dimensional requirements) on the premises numbered 149 INDEPENDENCE AVENUE, QUINCY.

Plans and Specifications are on file at the Inspectional Service Department located at 55 Sea Street, Quincy, MA 02169 and may be reviewed during regular business hours.

Martin Aikens, Chairman

1/22/15, 1/29/15

NOTICE OF PUBLIC HEARING

CITY OF QUINCY
BOARD OF LICENSE COMMISSIONERS

Notice is hereby given under Chapter 138 of the General Laws of Massachusetts that the Board has received an application from O'Sullivan, LLC 1495 Hancock Street, Quincy, Massachusetts by its Manager John O'Sullivan, for change of manager and transfer of the All Alcoholic Restaurant License, presently held by the Stadium Quincy, LLC d/b/a The Stadium. A hearing will be held in the City Hall Conference Room, 1305 Hancock Street, Quincy on Tuesday, February 10, 2015 at 4:00 P.M.

Joseph P. Shea
Chairman

1/29/15

We need you.

WE'RE FIGHTING FOR YOUR LIFE

American Heart Association

CLASSIFIEDS

REPORT POTHOLES

Potholes are a year-round problem and should be reported to the Department of Public Works.

617-376-1914

PLEASE RECYCLE THIS NEWSPAPER

Save Gas & Money, Shop Locally

Want to pick up a copy of The Quincy Sun?

Here are stores in Quincy that sell it on their newsstands:

Quincy Market
Corner of Temple & Washington St.

Goodie's Store
1250 Hancock St., Presidents Place

New Store on the Block
1183 Hancock St., Quincy Ctr. T Station

Hancock Tobacco
1500 Hancock St.

Mignosa's Fruit Basket
138 Granite St.

Rite-Aid
132 Granite St.

Coffee Break Café
77 Parkingway

Hancock Park Lobby Shop
164 Parkingway

Franklin St. BP
60 Franklin St.

7-11
78 Franklin St.

CVS
178 Washington St.
Braintree

Shop N Save Liquors
20 Independence Ave.

Donut + Donuts
33 Scammell St.

Presidential Liquors
Scammel St.

Tedeschi's
85 Quincy Ave.

Daily Mart
291 Quincy Ave.

Roche Brothers
The Falls

Walgreens
418 Quincy Ave.

Artery Grocery
1000 Southern Artery

Dairy Farm
330 Washington St.

Tedeschi's
230 Washington St.

Stop & Shop
Southern Artery

CVS
Southern Artery

Baxter's Pharmacy
385 Washington St.

Walgreens
550 Adams St.

Tedeschi's
650 Adams St.

7-11
Adams St.

Village Comm. Market
100 Willard St.

Copeland Liquors
273 Copeland St.

Granite Mart
308 Willard St.

7-11
Copeland St.

Joe's Place
260 Centre St.

Alba Deli
1089 Hancock St.

Corner Food Market
1060 Hancock St.

Dairy Mart
200 Sea St.

Adams Shore Supermarket
494 Sea St.

Palmer Street Market
231 Palmer St.

Bernie's General Store
1147 Sea St.

7-11
721 Hancock St.

Beale St. Smoke Shop
17 Beale St.

CVS
42 Beale St.

Coffee Break Café
12 Old Colony Ave.

Supreme Liquors
615 Hancock St.

S & A Convenience Store
498 Hancock St.

Hannaford Brothers
475 Hancock St.

Mullaney's Variety
205 W. Squantum St.

Stop & Shop
65 Newport Ave.

7-11
363 Hancock St.

Red Apple Food Shop
48 Billings Rd.

Sam's Variety
125 Billings Rd.

Dave's General Store
66 Newbury Ave.

Atlantic Market & Liquors
247 Atlantic Ave.

Carmine's Café
69 Huckins Ave.

Tedeschi's
751 E. Squantum St.

W. Elm Variety
139 West Elm Ave.

Lucky Shamrock
265 Beale St.

Andre's Store
20 Brook St.

SERVICES

POWER PLUMBING
Plumbing, Heating, Gas Fitting
Repairs • New Installations
Dave 617-328-3007
Emergencies
617-792-4054
Master Lic # 13749 TF

FOR HIRE
Garages, Decks Taken Away, Rubbish Piles Removed, Moorings Moved
OR ME WITH DUMP & LIFTGATE
$60/HR.
(617)479-5410
"Your Trash is my Ca$h" 3/19

Reliable House Cleaning
KITCHEN, LIVING ROOM, DINING ROOM, BEDROOMS, BATHROOMS, HALLWAYS
Maisa 617-259-4841 4/2

Lucas Environmental, LLC
An Environmental Consulting Company specializing in wetland delineations, rare species permitting and coastal resource issues
WWW.LUCASENVIRONMENTAL.NET
617.405.4140 1/29

SERVICES

SAVE
Budget Fuel
Fuel Assistance
Senior Discount
Full Service
617-328-4063 TF

100% FREE Removal
of Appliances & all types of metal
Commercial & Residential
Junk Removed
Garages · Basements · Attic
Call John anytime 617-653-6255 5/14

J.F. ROOFING Co.
QUINCY, MA
·Shingles
·Rubber
·Slate
·Copper
·Vinyl Replacement Windows
·Snow Removal
(617)471-8216 2/19

THOMAS C. SWEENEY
Smaller Jobs a Specialty
51 Years Experience
Carpentry, Siding, Painting, Porches
Viny/Windows, Doors
Roofing, Decking, Steps
License #1373 Free Estimates
Reliable 617-825-1210 References 4/16

SERVICES

HTA
Hancock T.V. & Appliance
Sales, Service, Parts & Installation
Since 1945
(617) 472-1710
115 Franklin Street, Quincy, MA
hancocktvandappliance.com

S.G. HAROLD
PLUMBING, HEATING & AC
Specializing in Viessman Boiler
Unico Air Conditioning
Home heating repairs & service
Radiant Floor heating
QUINCY
617-471-0914
Unprecedented Service Tailored to You
MA Lic. #10589 TF

"A Woman's Touch Painting"
No job too big or small
FREE ESTIMATES
REASONABLE RATES
CALL FOR FREE ESTIMATE
Call Kelly 857-939-8079 1/29

PAINTING BY PROFESSIONAL
Interior & Exterior
Powerwashing & Carpentry
All Types of House Repairs
Reasonable Price
Small Jobs Welcome TF
Leave Message 617-773-4761

The Quincy Sun CLASSIFIED AD FORM

MAIL TO: THE QUINCY SUN, 1372 HANCOCK STREET, QUINCY, MA 02169

PAYABLE IN ADVANCE. Payment must accompany order.

INDEX
- ❑ Services
- ❑ For Sale
- ❑ Autos
- ❑ Boats
- ❑ For Rent
- ❑ Wanted
- ❑ Help Wanted
- ❑ Work Wanted
- ❑ Pets
- ❑ Lost & Found
- ❑ Real Estate
- ❑ Antiques
- ❑ Flea Markets
- ❑ Yard Sales
- ❑ Instruction
- ❑ Day Care
- ❑ Personal
- ❑ Miscellaneous

NO REFUND WILL BE MADE AT THIS CONTRACT RATE IN THE EVENT OF CANCELLATION. DEADLINE: FRIDAY AT 4PM. PLEASE INCLUDE YOUR PHONE NUMBER IN AD.

RATES

1 WEEK ❑ $9.00 for one insertion, up to 20 words, 10¢ for each additional word.

2-4 WEEKS ❑ $8.00 per insertion up to 20 words for 2-4 insertions of the same ad, 10¢ each additional word.

5-10 WEEKS ❑ $7.50 per insertion, up to 20 words, for 5-10 insertions of the same ad 10¢ for each additional word.

11 WEEKS OR MORE ❑ $7.00 per insertion, up to 20 words, for 11 or more insertions of the same ad 10¢ for each additional word.

❑ Enclosed is $ _____ for the following ad to run _____ weeks in The Quincy Sun.

COPY: _____

George Bouchard New City Graves Registration Officer

GEORGE BOUCHARD (center) was recently sworn in as the Veteran Services Department's new graves registration officer. Bouchard served in the U.S. Army in the 1980s and has remained active in local veteran's groups. City Clerk Joseph Shea (left) swore Bouchard into office. Looking on (left to right) are Veterans Services Director George Nicholson, Mayor Thomas Koch, and Ward 5 Councillor Kirsten Hughes, chairwoman of the council's veterans committee. Quincy Sun Photo/Scott Jackson

By SCOTT JACKSON

The city's new graves registration officer within the Veterans Services Department was sworn in at a recent City Hall ceremony.

George Bouchard, was sworn in Jan. 20 by City Clerk Joseph Shea. Bouchard, 53, served in the United States Army from 1982 until 1986. He has remained active in local veteran's groups and is a past commander of both the Cyril P. Morrisette American Legion Post #294 and the Quincy Veterans Council. Mayor Thomas Koch cited Bouchard for his involvement in veteran's groups.

"I've known George for a number of years through the veterans council and through the Morrisette Legion Post. He is a veteran himself and has been active in supporting veteran's issues," the mayor said. "I think he is a nice compliment to our director down there, George Nicholson. I think it's a great team and they will serve the veterans well."

Nicholson, who was appointed veterans services director in August 2014, called Bouchard a hard worker.

"It's an excellent choice by the mayor. I've known [Bouchard] a long time. He's a hard worker and he will do justice to the job, to this office, and to this city without question," Nicholson said.

Bouchard added that he looked forward to helping veterans and their families.

"I'm looking forward to helping the veterans of Quincy and their families as much as I possibly can," he said.

$435,758 Highest Bid For Dawes Estate

8 Other Bids Submitted For City-Owned Property

By SCOTT JACKSON

Nine bidders – from as far away as Chicago – have submitted bids to purchase the city-owned Dawes Estate.

Braintree resident Mike Chang submitted the highest bid, $435,758. Stephen M. Petrin of Hingham had the second highest bid of $410,000. The remaining seven bids ranged from $170,000 to $341,000.

The Dawes Estate, which is on the corner of Channing Street and Quincy Shore Drive opposite Wollaston Beach, was donated to the city by the Dawes family. It was previously used by the city's Recreation Department as office space and as a senior center before the Kennedy Center in Squantum opened.

The property includes 8,459 square feet of land. The two 1.5-story house on site includes 3,764 square feet of gross area and 1,742 square feet of living space. The whole property has an assessed value of $320,400, according to the city assessor's online database. The property is in a Residential B zoning district.

The property will be awarded to what it determines to be the highest responsible bid.

GET TO THE E.R. IN NO TIME.

AND SEE A BETH ISRAEL DEACONESS EMERGENCY MEDICINE PHYSICIAN EVERY TIME.

Beth Israel Deaconess Hospital–Milton E.R. physicians: Ashley Yeats, MD; Cheri Weaver, MD; Jon Anderson, MD.

When you have an injury or an urgent healthcare need, you want to get medical attention, fast. You also want the highest qualified medical professionals available to treat you. And that's what you'll find at Beth Israel Deaconess Hospital–Milton. Our E.R. physicians are part of Beth Israel Deaconess Medical Center's emergency medicine network and members of Harvard Medical Faculty Practice at Beth Israel Deaconess Medical Center. Our E.R. nurses are specially trained in advanced cardiac and pediatric life support. In addition, we're a national leader in patient satisfaction. And knowing we're just minutes away — it's clear, we're close for comfort.

Beth Israel Deaconess Hospital Milton
199 Reedsdale Road, Milton, MA bidmilton.org

QUINCY CATHOLIC ACADEMY

Where the leaders of tomorrow are educated today!

Offering Preschool (Ages 3) through Grade 8

Come see high quality education in action!

OPEN HOUSE:
Every first Wednesday of every month from 9 to 11 a.m.

Now Accepting Registration for September 2015

370 Hancock Street, Quincy, MA 02171
617-328-3830, www.QuincyCatholicAcademy.org

DA Hosts Animal Protection Seminar
- Page 3 -
NQ Basketball Coach Ted Stevenson Honored
- Page 18 -

2 *CAR-RT LOTC-004
THOMAS CRANE PUBLIC LIBRARY
40 WASHINGTON ST
QUINCY MA 02169-5304

The Quincy Sun

Historic Quincy's Hometown Weekly Newspaper Since 1968

VOL. 47 No. 20 | Thursday, February 5, 2015 | 75¢

Winter's White Wallop

- Blizzard, Second Storm Dump 40 Inches Of Snow On Quincy In One Week
- Cleanup Costs Near $2 Million • Koch: Storms 'Major Challenge For City'

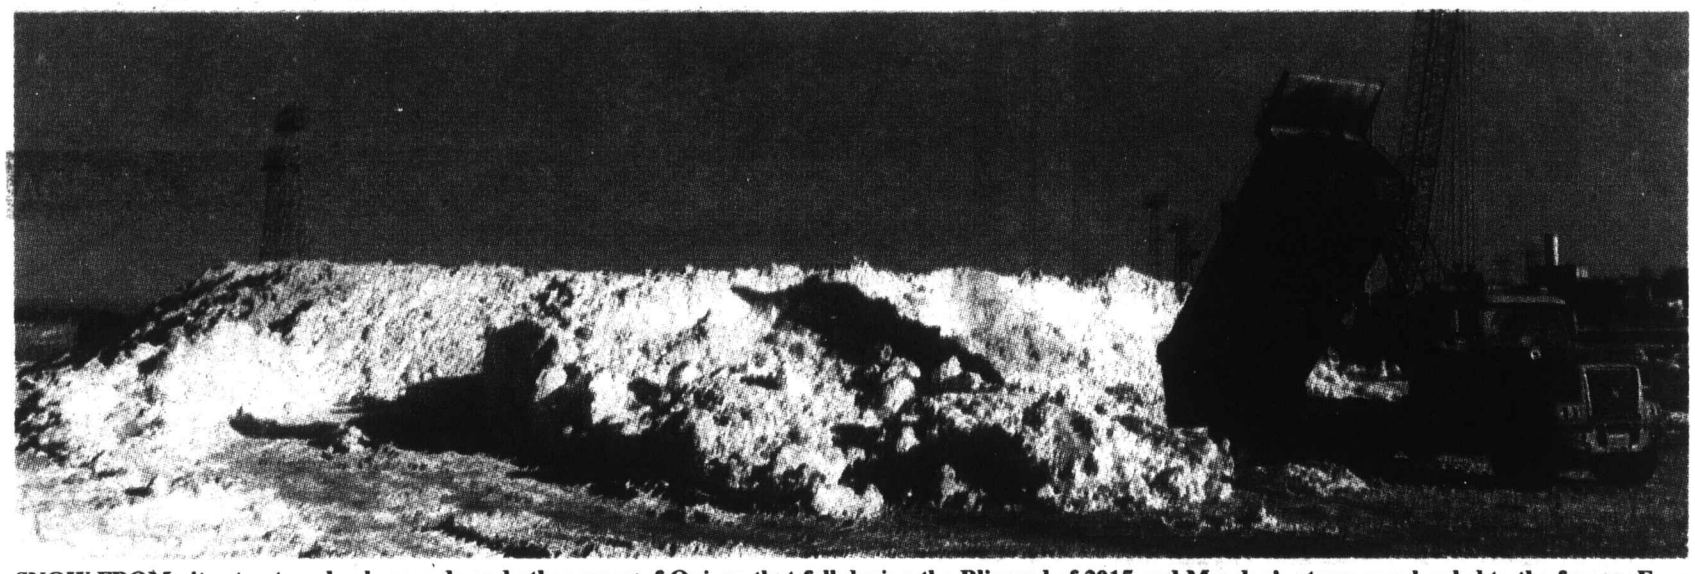
LONE PASSERBY carrying an umbrella to shield her face from snowflakes walks through snowy McIntyre Mall early Monday morning during the second major storm to hit the city in a week. The Quincy Center MBTA Station is partially visible in the background. At left is the John Adams statue with a sign draped around his neck reading "Patriots Strong" in tribute to the New England Patriots' incredible 28-24 Super Bowl victory over the Seattle Seahawks Sunday.



SNOW FROM city streets, school grounds and other areas of Quincy that fell during the Blizzard of 2015 and Monday's storm was hauled to the former Fore River Shipyard. Property owner and auto dealer Daniel Quirk gave the city permission to use the shipyard site as a snow farm. The blizzard Jan. 26 and 27 dumped about two feet of snow on the city. Another 16 inches fell during Monday's storm. Snow removal costs stemming from the two storms are approaching $2 million, city officials said Tuesday. This photo was taken Jan. 29 - two days after the blizzard. Quincy Sun Photos/Robert Bosworth

By SCOTT JACKSON

Two major nor'easters in the span of a week have left Quincy under more than 40 inches of snow and the city's snow and ice budget in the red.

The first nor'easter – a blizzard that started during the afternoon of Jan. 26 and continued through the next day – covered Quincy in 24.5 inches of snow, according to the National Weather Service, and Monday's nor'easter left behind 16 inches, Mayor Thomas Koch said Tuesday. A smaller storm on Jan. 30 also dropped several inches of snow.

Quincy has used more than 150 pieces of equipment – including those owned by the city and those owned by independent contractors – to remove snow during the height of the storms. Last week's blizzard required several nights of cleanup the following nights as the city worked to clear sidewalks, side streets, and business districts; the snow has been hauled to the Fore River Shipyard. All together, Koch estimated the city has spent more than the $1.76 million allocated in the current budget for snow and ice removal. Under state law, municipalities can deficit spend for those costs.

"I'm sure we're into the deficit. These events are costly. We have 150 pieces running during the storm and last week we had 40 pieces running for three nights last week clearing streets," the mayor said in a phone interview.

Cont'd On Page 2

Blizzard Photos
On Page 21

Weather Enthusiast Observes Blizzard - Page 9
Predictions For 2015 Real Estate Market - Page 12
Something For Your Valentine - Pages 16, 17

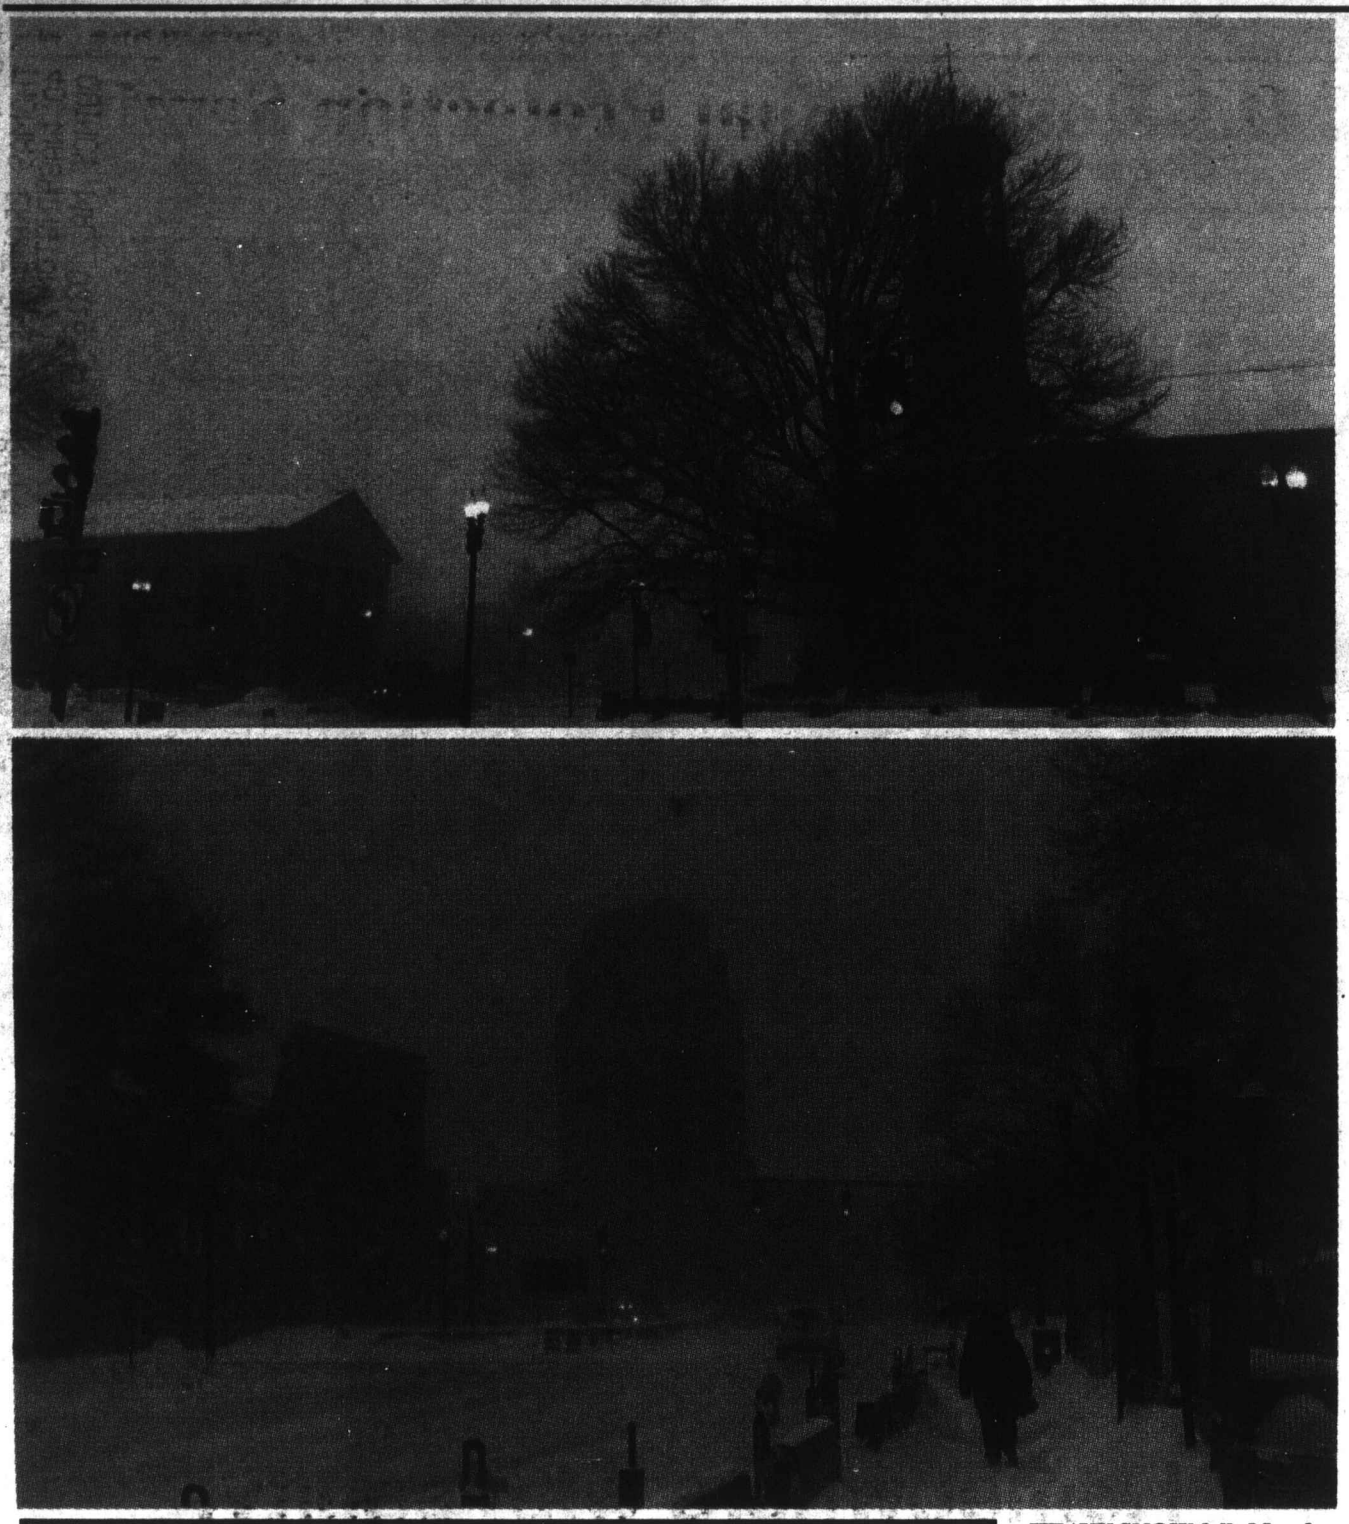
For more Quincy news, visit:
The Quincy Sun.com



HEAVY SNOW falls Monday morning in Quincy Center, the start of a storm that would eventually drop 16 inches of snow on the city. Top photo: a snow plow moves snow on Hancock Street between City Hall (left) and United First Parish Church (right). Second photo: walkers, some carrying umbrellas, pass by City Hall. Downtown buildings including the Granite Trust Building are partially hidden. A DPW sidewalk plow was seen around 7 a.m. clearing sidewalks near City Hall in an effort to keep ahead of the storm. Quincy Sun Photos/ Robert Bosworth

Winter Wallop

Cont'd From Page 1

"It gets expensive. I want to thank all the crews. These people are working long, long hours on behalf of the residents."

The 40+ inches of snow that fell in Quincy are the most for any week on record, the mayor said, calling it a major challenge for the city to deal with.

"I want to remind people this is the most snow we've had in a week's time. This is a major, major challenge for our city," Koch explained.

"In a city our size, with many small side streets, there is no place to put the snow. I encourage everyone to look out for their neighbors, don't throw snow into the streets, follow our parking rules, and keep the streets wide enough for emergency vehicles."

The mayor noted crews would begin focusing Tuesday on sidewalks and crosswalks near Quincy's schools and MBTA stations as well as clearing side streets that need more attention.

Koch also defended the city for not penalizing residents who do not shovel sidewalks in front of their houses while other commu-

Cont'd On Page 15

Storm Postpones Council Meeting

By SCOTT JACKSON

Heavy snow forced the postponement of Monday night's planned City Council meeting until next week.

The council will hold the makeup meeting on Monday, Feb. 9, at 7:30 p.m. inside the temporary council chamber in the city hall annex.

Six items were on the agenda for Monday night. Included among them were two appropriations – $250,000 from the city's sewer rehabilitation fund to engineering/contractual for the purpose of stormwater management planning and $96,000 from free cash to engineer a school heating system at the Bernazzani School.

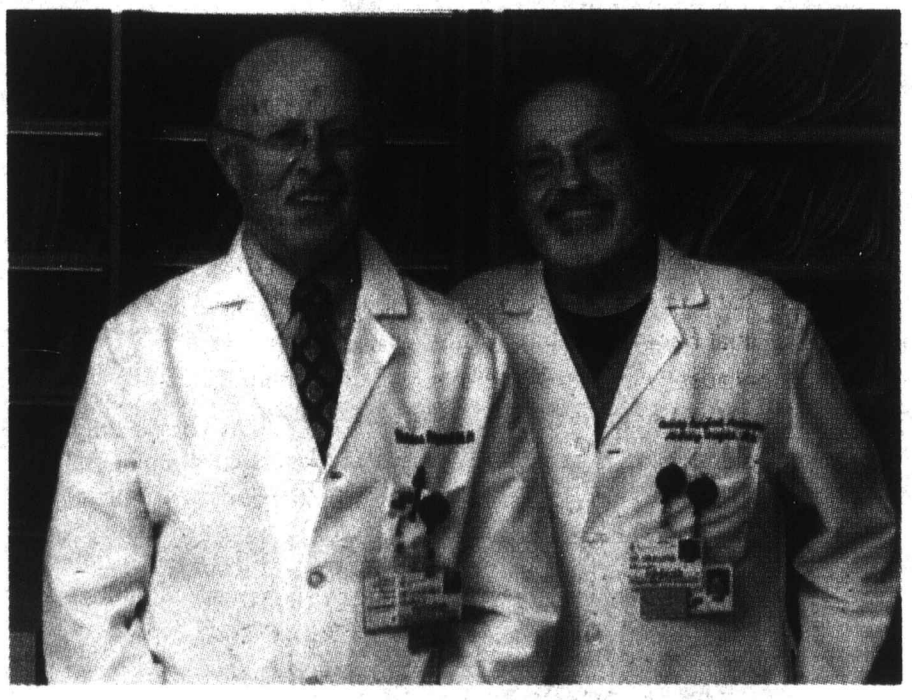
The third item on the agenda was voting on the adoption of new regulations for businesses and individuals practicing bodyworks in the city.

Also on the agenda was an order giving the city permission to submit a statement of interest to the Massachusetts School Building Authority for renovating or replacing the Squantum Elementary School; repairing windows, roofs and doors at the Beechwood Knoll School; repairing a section of the roof at the Francis W. Parker School; and replacing windows at the Amelio Della Chiesa Early Childhood Center. Submission of a statement of interest is the first step in the MSBA process.

Additionally, the agenda included a resolution from Ward 4 Councillor Brian Palmucci asking Public Works Commissioner Dan Raymondi for a report on Sunrise Scavenger's compliance to the company's contract with the city for trash removal.

One donation was on the agenda for Monday, a gift of $500 from Old Colony Realty Trust to the Quincy Police Department for the department's Narcan program.

Quincy Surgical Associates, Inc.
700 Congress Street Suite 304
Quincy, MA 02169
(617)479-7333



Thomas E. Fitzgerald, M.D. • Anthony J. Dragone, M.D.

General Surgery Vascular Surgery
Wound Care

Beth Israel Deaconess Hospital Milton
Carney Hospital A Steward Family Hospital

Continuing to serve the community

Phoenix House
Rising Above Addiction

Intensive Treatment Services
Providing acute treatment services and clinical stabilization services for adults on the road to recovery

Community Open House and Tour

Sunday
February 8, 2015
1:00 to 4:00 PM
43 Old Colony Avenue
Quincy, Massachusetts 02170

RSVP: CDenning@phoenixhouse.org
For information, call Phoenix House New England
401 331 4250, Ext. 3210

Storm, Cold Take Toll On MBTA

By KRIS KALABOKAS

Commuter Rail and MBTA service came to a crawl Tuesday morning as a result of Monday's snowfall and exposure to chilly temperatures and ice according to Joe Pesaturo, an MBTA spokesman.

"A week of constant exposure to frigid temperatures, ice, and record snowfall has taken a major toll on the MBTA's vehicles and infrastructure," he said in an emailed statement. "Rail service, particularly on the Red Line and Commuter Rail, will be severely impacted."

Pesaturo asked that MBTA customers seek alternate methods of transportation due to a shortage of fully functioning subway cars.

Service updates on the MBTA website urged commuters to allow for additional travel time.

Service between the Green Line's Haymarket and Kenmore stations was replaced with shuttle buses due to heavy delays Tuesday morning as well.

Mac Daniel, manager of public relations and communications for Keolis Commuter Services, said that Commuter Rail delays were systemwide on Tuesday and that fares were being waived for Red Line passengers transferring to the Commuter Rail.

"Commuter Rail fares are being waived for passengers transferring to or from [the] Commuter Rail due to problems with the Red Line," he said. "Our problems were not related to the Red Line as much as the snow and bitterly cold temps, which froze switches and signals and impacted equipment."

Daniel said that a locomotive became disabled in Quincy Tuesday morning causing a two hour delay that blocked trains behind it, impacting service on all other lines.

"Crews are working around the clock to make repairs," said Pesaturo.

It was unclear at this point, said Daniel, when service would return to normal for the Commuter Rail as additional snowfall was on the way.

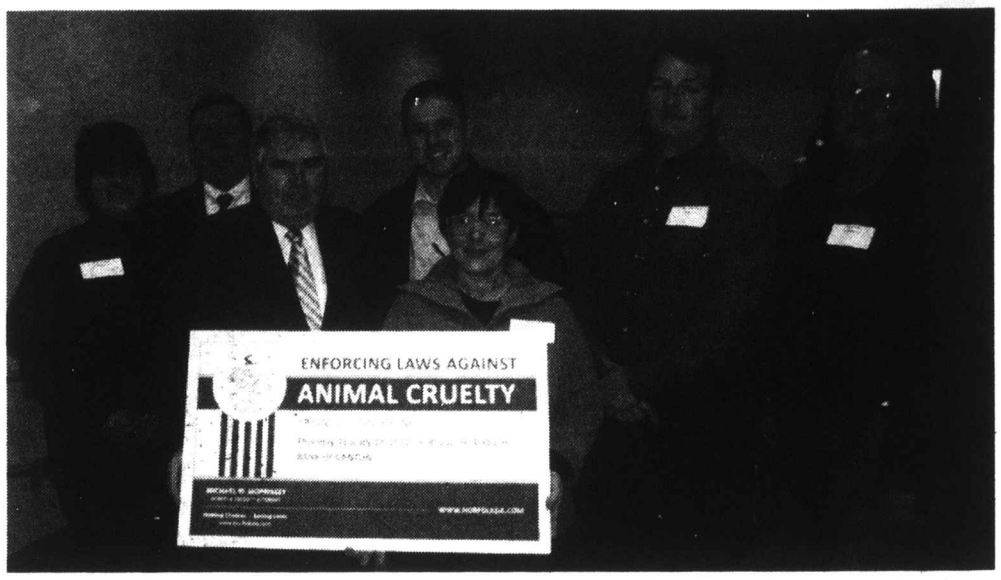
On Monday night, a train with about 50 passengers on board was stuck near Braintree for two hours due to a thick layer of ice covering the third rail.

As a result, severe delays were experienced throughout all branches of the MBTA.

Shuttle busses were commissioned to transport riders from Braintree to JFK/UMass Monday evening.

ROBIN BROMBERG, Greater Boston Regional Manager of the Alzheimer's Association, accepts a check for $2,500 from Ed Spring, a member of the Quincy Council on Aging. The funds were raised by the Quincy Council on Aging at events held at the Kennedy Center in Quincy.

DA Hosts Animal Protection Seminar



NORFOLK DISTRICT ATTORNEY Michael W. Morrissey hosted four from Quincy at a recent all-day animal safety and protection training. From left are Holbrook Animal Control Officer Laurie Hedges, Bank of Canton President Stephen Costello, DA Morrissey, Detective Tom Pepdjonovic, Animal Shelter Director Kit Burke, Lt. Det. John Steele and city Animal Control Officer Don Conboy. Photo Courtesy Norfok District Attorney's Office

Laws governing animal protection changed in 2014, and Norfolk District Attorney Michael W. Morrissey recently hosted more than 120 animal control officers, police, veterinarians and prosecutors from across the state for a seminar on what is new, and how to effectively prosecute cases involving animals.

Quincy Animal Shelter Director Kit Burke, Animal Control Officer Don Conboy, Det. Tom Pepdjonovic and Lt. Det. John Steele joined dozens of other police and ACOs at the all-day event, held in the seminar space at the Bank of Canton headquarters on January 22.

"It is now easier for authorities to understand when they have authority to intervene and enter private property to save an animal in an emergency situation," Morrissey said. "Assistant Essex District Attorney Lynsey Legier, the trial attorney whose case went to the Supreme Judicial Court clarifying those rules, opened the seminar."

Assistant Norfolk District Attorney Tracey Cusick presented an overview of prosecuting animal cruelty cases. Cusick also discussed mandatory reporting to police by veterinarians who find signs of abuse and enhanced penalties for cruelty which were signed into law on Aug. 20, 2014. That legislation grew out of public sentiment on an animal cruelty case Cusick is prosecuting in Norfolk Superior Court – the so-called "Puppy Doe" case.

"We also had experts in gathering and preserving physical evidence of abuse, computer evidence, and the process for obtaining and executing search warrants in animal cases," Morrissey said. Retired Chief Judge of the Juvenile Court Martha Grace, who now works in child and animal welfare, and specialists from the Massachusetts Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals also presented.

"We had representatives from the Cape and South Coast, the New Hampshire line, and out to Western Mass," Morrissey said. "Hopefully this bolsters our ability to work together toward the common goal, as ADA Legier put it, of saving the animals and punishing the abusers."

Ask the GEMOLOGIST
BY JEFFREY M. BERTMAN
GRADUATE GEMOLOGIST

EVERY DAY DIAMOND RINGS

While diamond rings have come to be largely associated with engagement and marriage, there is no reason why any woman cannot wear a diamond ring wherever she wants for whatever reason. The fact is that women need no more reason to wear diamonds than they love and want them. One of the most fashionable trends in fine diamond jewelry features diamond rings with pavé diamonds set in the wearer's initials. The look is both custom and timeless, and it also celebrates a woman's freedom to live life according to her own dictates. Another big trend in diamond rings involves intertwined diamond band rings that can be worn with everything a woman owns. The choice of colored diamonds further underscores individuality.

As an independent woman, you go after what you want. Whether it's a great job, a dream vacation, or an amazing place to call home, you don't wait for things to come to you. The same should apply to jewelry. You don't need a lover or relative to give you jewelry as a gift! The diamond collection at our store at 1402 Hancock St. in Quincy Center contains virtually any shape and size your heart could desire. Please call 617-773-3636 to learn more about what we have to offer.

Don't Forget: We pay cash for Gold - Platinum - Diamonds... highest prices paid.

Rogers Diamonds...Watches...Jewelry www.rogersjewelry.com

Homeowners with equity:
Roll all your debt into one new loan

You have a mortgage. And a decent amount of equity. You also have high-rate credit card debt, maybe an equity loan payment, auto loan, student loans or other debts you'd love to combine into one loan at today's still low rates... fixed and guaranteed for the next 15 years. That's what you get with a 15-Year Mortgage from Colonial Federal Savings Bank. Some people like this idea because it makes life simple and streamlined. For others, it's a fresh start and a real weight off their back. Either way, it can be a very smart idea. Is it right for you? Come see us or call Angela Blanchard, Vice President/Retail Lending, at 617-471-0750. Or apply online at colonialfed.com. Have another loan or term in mind? Call us. We may be able to help.

15-YEAR FIXED
NO POINTS!
3.39% APR

COLONIAL FEDERAL SAVINGS BANK
"Your neighborhood bank!"

QUINCY: 15 Beach Street 617-471-0750 • 1000 Southern Artery (Residents only) 617-479-1430
HOLBROOK: 802 South Franklin Street 781-767-1776
EAST WEYMOUTH: Middle & Washington Streets 781-331-1776
ONLINE: colonialfed.com

Some additional facts: Annual Percentage Rate (APR) effective as of 01/26/15 and may change. Applies to 1-2 family owner-occupied homes. Assumes a maximum 80% loan-to-value and first mortgage position. Subject to credit approval. A 15-Year Loan would be repaid in 180 equal monthly principal plus interest payments of $7.03 per $1000 borrowed, which do not include taxes or insurance premiums, if applicable. So your actual monthly payment will be greater.

EQUAL HOUSING LENDER Insured FDIC

The Quincy Sun

(USPS 453-060)
Published Weekly on Thursday by
The Quincy Sun Publishing Co., Inc.
1372 Hancock St., Quincy, MA 02169

Robert H. Bosworth
Publisher and Editor

Henry W. Bosworth, Jr.
Founder
1968 - 2009

75¢ per copy newsstand • $27 per year by mail in Quincy
$32 per year by mail outside Quincy • $40 out-of-state

Telephone: 617-471-3100 Fax: 617-472-3963

online at: www.thequincysun.com

email address: thequincysun@verizon.net

rbosworth@thequincysun.com

Periodicals postage paid at Boston, MA
Postmaster Send address change to:
The Quincy Sun, 1372 Hancock St., Quincy, MA 02169

The Quincy Sun assumes no financial responsibility for typographical errors in advertisements but will reprint that part of an advertisement in which the typographical error occurs.

Moments in time

THE HISTORY CHANNEL

• On Feb. 19, 1473, Nicolaus Copernicus is born in Torun, Poland, on the Vistula River. Revered as the father of modern astronomy, Copernicus was the first European scientist to propose that Earth and other planets revolve around the sun.

• On Feb. 22, 1819, Spanish minister Do Luis de Onis and U.S. Secretary of State John Quincy Adams sign the Florida Purchase Treaty, in which Spain agrees to cede the remainder of its old province of Florida to the United States. The Treaty put Florida into U.S. hands at no cost beyond the U.S. assumption of $5 million in claims by U.S. citizens against Spain.

• On Feb. 21, 1926, glamorous Swedish actress Greta Garbo makes her U.S. screen debut in "The Torrent." Unlike many of her contemporaries, the Nordic beauty successfully made the transition to sound after becoming a star during the silent film era.

• On Feb. 18, 1964, the United States cuts off military assistance to Britain, France and Yugoslavia in retaliation for their continuing trade with communist Cuba. The action was chiefly symbolic, but represented the continued U.S. effort to destabilize the Cuban regime of Fidel Castro.

• On Feb. 20, 1974, Reg Murphy, an editor of The Atlanta Constitution, is kidnapped. Kidnapper William Williams drove Murphy around the city, stopping to phone in ransom demands to the newspaper. Managing editor G. James Minter delivered the money to Williams, and Murphy was released. After being caught, Williams was sentenced to 40 years for kidnapping and extortion.

• On Feb. 16, 1984, Bill Johnson becomes the first American man to win an Olympic gold medal in downhill skiing, a sport long dominated by European athletes. Johnson quickly became a national hero, though his fame was short-lived and he never again competed in the Olympics.

• On Feb. 17, 1996, in the final game of a six-game match, world chess champion Garry Kasparov triumphs over Deep Blue, IBM's chess-playing computer, and wins the match, 4-2. However, Deep Blue would go on to defeat Kasparov in a rematch the following year.

© 2015 King Features Synd., Inc.

Knights Of Columbus Meat Raffle Feb. 13

The Knights of Columbus monthly Meat Raffle will be held Friday, Feb. 13th at the Council Hall located at 5 Hollis Ave. in North Quincy.

The raffle is part of the Knight's scholarship fund drive for local students going off to first year of higher education.

Friday's raffle is sponsored by state Rep. Bruce Ayers with the Culinary Arts Program at Quincy High School cooking the dinner. The KofC is partnering with the Culinary Arts program to endow a scholarship to a student who is continuing on their education in the field.

Dinner is served at 6:30 p.m. and the raffle starts at 7 p.m.

Son Beams

By ROBERT BOSWORTH

We Got Lucky

Unless you're a snow fanatic, the last week or so in Quincy has been anything but fun.

Just getting around town - by car or by foot - has been an arduous task thanks to the 40 inches of snow dumped here courtesy of last week's Blizzard and Monday's storm. The blizzard itself turned out to be less punch-packed here than anticipated, thankfully, with only some minor coastal flooding, scattered property damage and less than 200 electrical customers lost power.

Storm-wise, I think we got lucky.

It could have been worse. A lot worse.

And for anyone who lived through it, Exhibit A is the Blizzard of 1978.

That's the storm when we didn't get lucky.

In fact, the Great Storm of 1978 as it was called back then caused an estimated $70 million in property damage in Quincy. Besides destruction to private homes, damage to city property included sea walls, roads, water mains and sewers as well as vehicles and communications systems. At least one fire engine in Houghs Neck was ruined by salt water.

It wasn't the 27 inches of snow that did Quincy and so many other coastal communities in – it was the hurricane force winds that gusted to 90 mph and unusually high tides that brought the city to its collective knees. Several hundred residents from Houghs Neck, Adams Shore, Germantown and Squantum were evacuated during the Blizzard of 1978 because streets and homes in those neighborhoods were flooded in up to waist-high water.

That's quite a contrast from last week's blizzard. No one in the city had to be relocated to the shelter set up at Quincy High School.

The Sun's coverage of the Great Storm included a story with the headline "It Was Hell In Houghs Neck." Written by the late, great Tom Henshaw, one paragraph went like this:

"If any section of Quincy bore the brunt of the Great Storm of '78, it was Houghs Neck. And if any section of Houghs Neck can be said to have been the focal point it was where Turner Street joins Edgewater Drive behind the low concrete seawall."

Larry Mirick, the homeowner at 126 Turner St., said at the time, "We've been here 23 years. We figured, hell, we've been through this before. It's nothing new. My neighbor and I parked our cars up the street there. I figured I was well out of the high-water mark.

"We came back to the house for a cup of coffee. About 8:30 he came out the door to go across the street and he stepped off into eight inches of water. The first thought I had was 'My God. We got two hours to go to high tide. You gotta figure there's at least another four or five feet coming.'"

A half hour later, the water was as high as the porch.

"My wife Doris and I started moving everything up to the second floor," Larry said. "Just before the lights went off I went out to step off the porch and I was up to my waist in water. And then I realized we really had a problem going here."

The Miricks sat on a bed and began praying together.

At the height of high tide, the water was several feet high in their living room. The seawall was completely under water and waves began crashing against the house.

The force of the tides and winds destroyed a garage across the street and swept away another nearby porch.

The Miricks remained in the their house during the storm. "Every time a wave hit the side of the house, it would shake. I looked up the street and my car had gone under water," Larry told Tom in his story.

The Great Storm of 1978 punished many other homes in that area of the city. Basements and living rooms flooded. Parked vehicles were rendered like toy cars moving down the street by the force of the water without anyone behind the wheel.

The Willows section near Sea and Babcock Streets was totally submerged, cutting off the main part of Houghs Neck from the main land. One homeowner on Stoughton Street reported water up to the top of her first floor windows.

The line "I've never seen anything like this before" was as common as the daunting snow drifts.

In retrospect, the Blizzard of 1978 became one of the city's finest moments. Workers shoveled and operated around-the-clock clearing mountains of snow from streets, sidewalks, schools and commercial districts to get the city moving again. The city was literally paralyzed for several days. Consider Red Line trains were stopped cold in their tracks by snow that was blowing as high as 18-foot drifts. Limited service resumed after being idled for three days thanks to 200 shovelers who dug out the tracks from Quincy Center station to Andrew Station.

With road conditions treacherous and impassible in the hours after the snow had fallen, the Police Department used snowmobiles for medical assistance. This was an era where police cars were not SUVs. Helicopters transported medical supplies including blood to Quincy City Hospital, landing at the facility's Whitwell Street parking lot.

Some 150 nurses and other hospital employees stayed through the storm to aid patients. Doctors were asked to discharge patients as soon as they could to allow beds for emergency cases.

Fortunately, no deaths occurred in Quincy during the storm.

The blizzard knocked out power to some 1,500 customers mostly in North Quincy and Quincy Point. The lights went back on for most the day after the storm was over.

You might say the city had a "dry run" in storm responsiveness only 18 days before the Blizzard. On Jan. 20, the city was blanketed by another 22 inches of snow. So, in the span of less than three weeks, more than four feet of snow had fallen on Quincy.

But there was low lights, too, notably vandalism and looting of local businesses including liquor stores and convenience shops as well as some homes. Some 25 persons were arrested for looting during the first week of the storm emergency.

Reporting the Blizzard of 1978 was a challenge in of itself. The Patriot Ledger did not publish an edition on Tuesday, Feb. 7th – the second day of the storm. Radio station WJDA – for many the only link to vital information for concerned citizens during the storm – was knocked off the air for four hours after the high tide from Town Brook rose into the first floor of the radio transmitter on Brackett Street.

And this newspaper made it out just two days late that fateful week in February 37 years ago tomorrow and Saturday.

Typically, The Sun goes to press on Tuesday and is circulated Wednesday. But because of the Blizzard, the office didn't reopen until Thursday two days after the storm. A skeleton crew worked from 11 a.m. Thursday to 4:30 a.m. Friday on a 28-page issue that was printed and distributed only a few short hours after it was completed.

Distributing the paper to news outlets and our 300 newscarriers continued through Sunday that week.

And believe it or not, some turned the carriers away after making it to their doors with the Sun. "The paper's too late. We don't want it," they said. The paper only cost a dime back then. But that's the newspaper business for you. Some folks have been very loyal over the years and understanding in difficult circumstances. Others just want the paper without interruption.

My father wrote about community bonding that stemmed from that terrible storm in his column Feb. 16, 1978:

"A feeling of togetherness and unity descended upon the area in a way we hadn't seen since World War II. People were united again by catastrophe. They shared a common cause: survival. And they were more than willing to make personal sacrifice to help one another get through the ordeal. Most important," Henry wrote, "they cared for one another."

He also noted there were gripes from some in the days following the Blizzard of 1978. Some drivers ignored the travel ban and managed to slip by city officials to stock up on food while most people had to trudge to stores on foot and lug small amounts of groceries home in their arms or on sleds.

There were other complaints about poor snow plowing and one story about a guy who "harassed one of the plow operators to the point where the latter stopped this truck, got out and flattened him."

For those who lived through it, the Great Storm of 1978 is the measuring stick of all future storms. Sure, more snow may have fallen in storms since "The Blizzard of 1978" but no storm has been more devastating in recent memory than what occurred here 37 years ago.

Quincy made it through another blizzard last week and another major snowstorm Monday. And the city will endure other storms in the future.

But let's hope none of them resemble the Great Storm of 1978. One like that is certainly enough.

Scenes From Yesterday

THIS 1915 POSTCARD is a view of Quincy Square from Temple Street looking north. The gate of the Hancock Cemetery can be seen through the trees on the left. Those Elm trees were planted during the Civil War and are long gone as are the Elms around the First Parish Church on the right. Notice the church is covered with ivy which is also gone. The only traffic here were trolleys and horse drawn wagons; there were very few automobiles registered in Quincy at the time. Beyond City Hall on the left was the Hancock House used for a time as dormitories for the boys at the Adams Academy. It was surrounded by a block of stores on Depot and Saville Streets now all part of McIntyre Mall. To contact Tom Galvin, e-mail tmgalvin@verizon.net.

From the Collection of City Historian Tom Galvin

QPS Pre-Kindergarten Programs

Quincy Public Schools' "Integrated" Pre-Kindergarten Programs serve children with special needs and typically developing peers.

Children must be 3 to 4 years old before Aug. 31, 2015. Priority is given to 4 year olds. Classes are half-day sessions held on Mondays, Wednesdays, Thursdays and Fridays.

Pre-Kindergarten Screening will be held on Tuesday, March 31 and Tuesday, April 7. Call the school, which meets your eligibility requirements, to schedule an appointment no later than Friday, March 20. Appointments must be made in advance.

For more information, visit the Quincy Public Schools' web site: www.quincypublicschools.com.

Title I Integrated Pre-Kindergarten Program – Children who reside in the following school districts are eligible for these classes.

Snug Harbor
617-984-8951

F. W. Parker
617-984-8951 (The program for this school is located at Snug Harbor)

Clifford Marshall
617-984-8951 (The program for this school is located at Snug Harbor)

Della Chiesa E.C.C.
617-984-8777

City Wide Integrated Pre-Kindergarten Program – Children who reside in a non-Title I district are eligible for this program: Atherton Hough, Beechwood Knoll, Bernazzani, Merrymount, Montclair, Squantum and Wollaston Schools. There is a tuition fee for this pre-kindergarten program.

Snug Harbor
617-984-8951

Special Education Screening - Consistent with the Special Education Act, Quincy Public Schools conducts a screening for three and four year old children in order to identify those who have special needs.

Snug Harbor
617-984-8951

Rep. Dan Hunt Speaker At Montclair/Wollaston Meeting

State Rep. Dan Hunt will speak at the Montclair/Wollaston Neighborhood meeting tonight (Thursday) at 7:30 p.m. at the Lutheran Church of the Good Shepherd, corner of West Squantum and Harvard Streets.

Rep. Hunt will provide a legislative update and discuss current events on Beacon Hill.

There will also be discussion on the FEMA flood plan.

For many residents in Montclair who were added to the FEMA designated flood plain in 2014, relief is on the way as FEMA has accepted the city's appeal of the port flood map issued last year which subsequently required residents caught up in it to purchase flood insurance for the first time. The 2014 map change also increased the costs for insurance for those previously in the flood plain so the revisions should provide some good news to these residents as well as the changes should reduce the risk calculation. Within approximately 60 days residents will have the revised maps and know more precisely those who will see a have positive change.

An informational meeting will be scheduled in the spring to provide that information. After a 120-day comment period the City Council will be allowed to vote to approve the new maps.

Social Security Event Feb. 23

A Social Security registration event will be held Monday, Feb. 23 from 1 to 3 p.m. at Atria Marina Place, 4 Seaport Dr., North Quincy.

The event will be hosted by Kristen Alberino of the Social Security Administration. She will help those in attendance sign up for a "my Social Security" account. The account is an easy-to-use access and portal to view and update Social Security information.

SUBSCRIPTION FORM

FILL OUT THIS SUBSCRIPTION BLANK AND MAIL TO

The Quincy Sun

Historic Quincy's Hometown Weekly Newspaper Since 1968

1372 HANCOCK STREET, QUINCY, MA 02169

NAME _____

STREET _____

CITY _____ STATE _____ ZIP _____

CHECK ONE BOX IN EACH COLUMN

[ ] 1 YEAR IN QUINCY $27.00
[ ] 1 YEAR OUTSIDE QUINCY $32.00 [ ] CHECK ENCLOSED
[ ] 1 YEAR OUT OF STATE $40.00

Quincy's Yesterdays

This Week
1978
37 Years Ago

The Meanest Snow Storm Ever

BY SCOTT JACKSON

A weary army of workers struggled to dig Quincy out from under more than 26 inches of snow that brought the city to a standstill for days.

The record-breaking snowfall was backed by howling winds that that gusted to more than 90 miles per hour. The winds drove high tides into sections of Houghs Neck and Squantum, forcing the evacuation of several hundred residents. Many of the residents were evacuated by boat, because streets were impassible.

"Motor vehicles were almost useless in the clogged streets," Police Chief Francis X. Finn said two days after the storm hit. "There are still areas we cannot get to with ambulances and certain fire equipment."

No deaths in Quincy were attributed to the storm, and no serious fires were reported. The storm cut power to 1,500 Mass. Electric customers, mostly in North Quincy and Quincy Point. Gov. Michael Dukakis banned all non-essential traffic in streets, schools throughout Quincy were shut down for the week, and MBTA service between Boston and Quincy was suspended. Sen. Ted Kennedy visited Quincy and vowed to seek federal aid to pay storm damages.

Circulation of The Quincy Sun was delayed two days and radio station WJDA lost power for four hours during the height of the storm when Town Brook overflowed into the studio transmitter.

DONORS TURN OUT FOR SERIOUSLY INJURED YOUTH

More than 50 residents responded to an appeal in The Quincy Sun to donate blood to George Bush, a 19-year old Quincy Point resident. Bush ruptured his spleen and damaged his liver in a car crash in December, remaining in intensive care at Quincy City Hospital since.

Ruth O'Connell, blood bank supervisor for the hospital, said 20 people donated blood within a week of the newspaper appeal. Another 20 had appointments to donate scheduled, and 10 were turned away because they were ill at the time.

PRESIDENT'S PHYSICAL FITNESS DEMONSTRATION AT BROAD MEADOWS

Mass. Commissioner of Education Gregory Anrig and Mass. Board of Education Chairman Charles Grigsby were among those present for a physical fitness demonstration at Broad Meadows Junior High School.

The demonstration included a review of a regular physical education class at the school's gym, led by instructors Denise Martin and John Bogan. It also featured a gym exhibition by the Bread Meadows team, led by Martin and Bogan.

Broad Meadows was one of ten schools across the state selected as a demonstration center.

QUINCY-ISMS

Norfolk County Sheriff Clifford H. Marshall was asked to apply for the position of chief of police in Los Angeles by the general manager of the LAPD, but declined to do so... Rep. James A. Sheets urged the Army Corps of Engineers to expedite its proposed Town and Furnace Brooks flood relief project...The Quincy Recreation Department held its fifth annual bombardment tournament. Beechwood Knoll won the girls' title and Snug Harbor took the boys' championship...Richard J. Koch and Henry Bosworth were among those receiving awards from the Muscular Dystrophy Association. They had co-chaired the Quincy-South Shore Jerry Lewis Telethon Committee...Preston Carroll received his second varsity football letter from Northeastern University. A running back and kick returner, Carroll graduated from Quincy High School in 1975...Cong. Morris Udall (D-AZ) and City Councillor Paul Harold were among those who toured the Adams Birthplaces in South Quincy. Quincy was contemplating turning over the birthplaces to the National Park Service...City Councillor Daniel Raymondi announced that roof renovations at the Fore River Clubhouse would commence as soon as weather permits after the city awarded a $13,800 repair contract...Paintings by Quincy resident Rob Peterson were on exhibition at the North Quincy Branch of the Crane Library...Rep. Thomas Brownell called for an investigation into MBTA service failures...A used, 1971 Pinto coupe was available for $395 at the Car Barn on Washington Street...Unleaded gas was 59.9 cents and regular gas was 55.9 cents at the Wollaston Auto Wash on Hancock Street.

Arts & Entertainment

The Fours Competing At Blue Hills Winterfest Chili Cook-Off Feb. 24

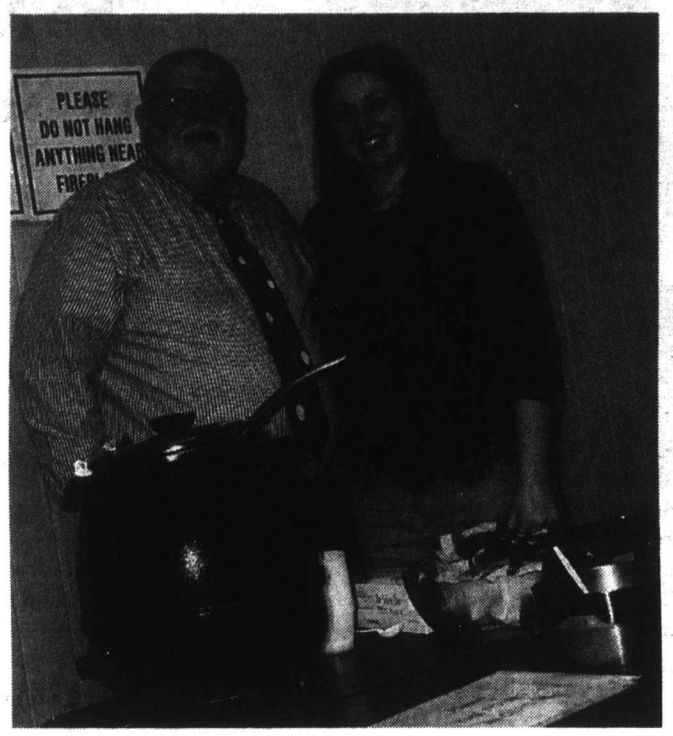
The Friends of the Blue Hills will host Winter Fest Tuesday, Feb. 24 from 5 to 8 p.m. at Blue Hills Ski Area.

The event will include hikes and downhill skiing as well as some indoor activities such as dancing and Irish music as well as a chili cookoff and winter crafts.

Blue Hills Brewery will also be on hand selling select beers produced at their microbrewery in Canton, and additional refreshments will be available at the snack bar.

The Fours in Quincy will once again be competing in the popular Chili Cook-off at Winter Fest. Their "Southpaw Texas Chili" is one of the most popular items on their menu. Local elected and town officials will serve as judges, and a "people's choice award" will also be presented that night.

According to Vero Piacentini, general manager of the Blue Hill Ski Area which is co-sponsoring the event, the skiing has never been better. "Conditions have been outstanding due to the recent snowfall, cold temperatures and significant investment in snowmaking," said Piacentini.



SERVING UP 'Southpaw Texa Chili' at this year's Blue Hills WinterFest Feb. 24 will be Ed Morris and Kelli Thomas of The Fours Restaurant. Photo Courtesy Anne Comber

Blue Hills Ski is offering discounted rates of $20 each for all-day lift tickets, ski rentals, or lessons that evening. To receive the discount, print out and bring the Friends of the Blue Hills website www.FriendsoftheblueHills.org or Facebook page.

Winter Fest is just one of many events the organization sponsors throughout the year to encourage people to explore and enjoy the Blue Hills Reservation.

For details about the event or to join Friends of the Blue Hills and support events like Winter Fest, visit www.friendsofthebluehills.org.

In Sync Ballet Production Of 'Sleeping Beauty' Feb. 8

In Sync Center of the Arts, 550 Adams St., Quincy announces a ballet production of "Sleeping Beauty" Sunday, Feb. 8th at 2 and 6 p.m. at Milton High School.

Based on the classical ballet with music by Peter Ilyich Tchaikovsky, the performance features In Sync ballet and contemporary dance students ages 7-18 from Milton, Quincy, Weymouth, and the surrounding area.

Every year, In Sync's ballet program stages a story ballet, giving their students a chance to experience the artistic challenges that come with telling a story through dance. Students are inspired to move beyond steps and technique to be truly expressive in their dancing.

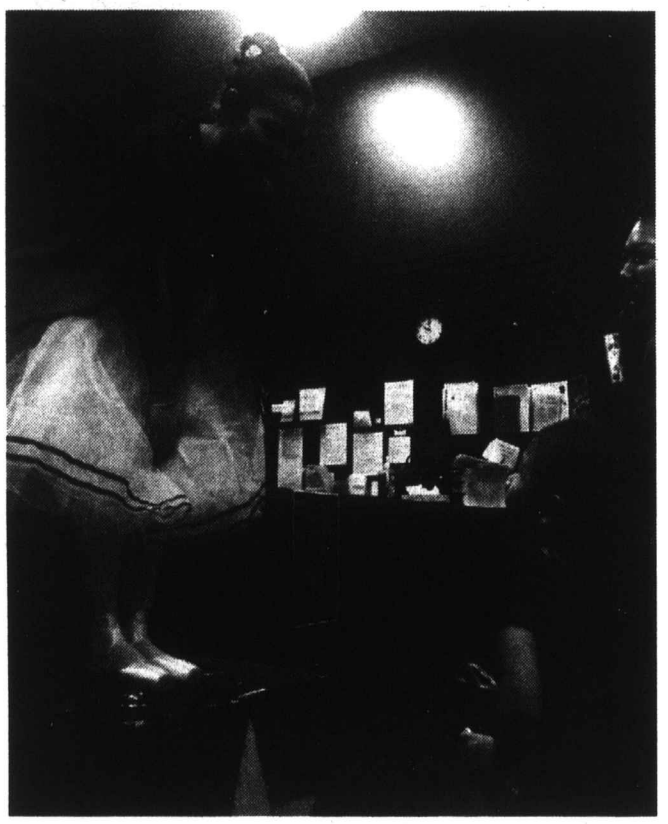
"We are proud to give our dancers the opportunity to perform classical ballet," said Teri Mangiaratti, director of In Sync Center of the Arts. "While we offer all types of dance at In Sync, the ballet program and our ballet show is something we take great pride in."

Featured role dancers are:

Aurora: Rebecca Lang of Weymouth; Lilac Fairy: Rachel Pauly of Milton; Carabosse: Meghan Laurie of Weymouth; Princess Florine: Colette Nourie of Milton; Prince Florimund: Liam Fitzpatrick of Quincy; and King and Queen Florestan: Scott and Mercedes Harris of Milton.

In Sync's version of the ballet is 90 minutes long. Audiences will recognize many elements of the fairy tale they know and love, including Princess Aurora's christening, the curse of the evil fairy Carabosse, and a magical kiss. The ballet ends "happily ever after" with the wedding celebration of Princess Aurora and Prince Florimund, featuring characters such as Cinderella, Little Red Riding Hood, and Puss in Boots who come to celebrate with them. Students ages 7-18 will be performing as fairies who bring gifts to the princess's christening, Aurora's friends, wedding guests, bluebirds, and more.

"I danced this ballet as a student and I am thrilled to be able to create this abridged version with my students," said Maggie Crowley, Ballet Program director at In Sync and artistic director of "Sleeping Beauty." "In the ballet world, this is considered a very challenging ballet, and while this version is tailored to showcase the talents of our dancers, some of the choreography for our soloists is based on variations of the classical choreography that I learned from my teachers, that has been handed down through generations of dancers."



MIRANDA CZWAKIEL of Milton will dance the role of Little Red Riding Hood, a guest at Princess Aurora's wedding in a production of "Sleeping Beauty" by In Sync Center of the Arts Feb. 8.

"Sleeping Beauty" was first performed in St. Petersburg in 1890, with a scenario by Ivan Vsevolozhsky and choreography by Marius Petipa.

This year, In Sync has staged a "wax museum" in the lobby of the 550 Adams St. studio featuring lead dancers posed on pedestals for all of the young dancers to admire. When the young dancers ring a bell, the Sleeping Beauty ballerinas come to life and talk to the youngsters about their role in the ballet and what it feels like to be a "real" ballerina. The wax museum is just one of the ways In Sync focuses on inspiring young students with older role models in their studio.

Performances Sunday, Feb. 8 will begin at 2 and 6 p.m. at Milton High School. Tickets may be purchased at the door. Call (617)328-5678 or check the In Sync website for more information. www.insyncarts.com

In Sync Center of the Arts offers classes in all styles of dance, group music, guitar, voice, drums, piano, art, tae kwon do and even a Lego Club. Over 1,200 children attend weekly classes at In Sync presently. February vacation and 2014 summer program schedules are available on the In Sync website: www.insyncarts.com

See Your Future Clearly!
Everything from the simplest repair to the most advanced lenses and frames.
KING OPTICAL
20 School Street West • Braintree
(Off Washington Street)
(781) 843-2133
www.kingoptical.net

QUINT'S
House of Flowers
Family Owned & Operated Since 1919
761 Southern Artery
QUINCY
617-773-7620

Find us on Facebook
Highlights of Local Programming found on . . . QATV
Quincy Access Television
88 Washington Street
Quincy, MA 02169
617-376-1440

Public Access Channel 8

Thursday, February 5th:
6:00pm: Bethany Congregational Church
10:00pm: The Constitution: Then & Now

Friday, February 6th:
6:00am: LIVE: AM Quincy (audio only)
11:30am: LIVE: Currently in Quincy

Saturday, February 7th
12:00pm: Quincy Chamber Business Expo
3:30pm: Real Estate Focus

Sunday, February 8th:
3:30pm: Sound Advice with Tom Williams
7:00pm: Faces of South Asia

Monday, February 9th:
11:30am: LIVE: Currently in Quincy
7:00pm: Martin Luther King Day Breakfast

Tuesday, February 10th:
6:00pm: Eye on Quincy (replay)
7:00pm: Taiwan Programming

Wednesday, February 11th:
6:00pm: Good News
10:00pm: The Constitution: Then & Now

Government Access Channel 11

Thursday, February 5th
7:30pm: In Your Neighborhood: Ward 3
8:30pm: At the Library: February Happenings

Friday, February 6th:
6:00pm: City View with Mayor Koch
6:30pm: FYI:QHD Thrush
7:00pm: In the Know: City Census

Saturday/Sunday, February 7th/8th:
9:00am: City View with Mayor Koch
11:00am: At the Library: February Happenings
3:00pm: At the Library Concert: Acousticana

Monday, February 9th:
6:00pm: Crime Watch: Scams Revisited II
7:00pm: In Your Neighborhood: Ward 3
7:30pm: LIVE: City Council

Tuesday, February 10th:
12:00pm: City Council 2/9
4:00pm: LIVE: License Board
7:00pm: License Board Replay

Wednesday, February 11th:
12:00pm: License Board 2/10
7:00pm: City Council 2/9

Programming is subject to change. For a complete list of programs, please consult our website at www.qatv.org

Prospect Hill Company
Boys' White Suit Sale
February 16th through February 21st
School Vacation Week
20% OFF
All Suits in Stock
Michael Kors • Lito • Andrew Marc
2 Piece White Suits
With Discount
Starting at $48.80
Sizes 5 to 20H in Stock
Shoes • Shirts • Ties • Belts • Socks
Over 600 Communion Dresses In Stock
featuring Joan Calabrese for Mon Cheri, US Angels, Designs by Pierson, Christie Helene
Great Selection of Large and Half Sizes
Headpieces • Shoes • Slips • Gloves • Purses
Boleros • Capes • Sweaters
STORE HOURS Monday: 9:00 a.m. to 6:00 p.m.
Tuesday–Saturday: 9:00 a.m. to 5:00 p.m.
Minutes off Route 24 • 1-800-586-1951
12 Field Street, Brockton • near Brockton/Avon Line
www.prospecthillco.com

Social

Edith H. MacDonald Scholarship Applications

Applications are available for the Edith B. MacDonald Scholarship given by the Seaside Gardeners of Squantum.

Any high school senior currently living in Squantum and any relative of a member of the Seaside Gardeners planning to attend a two year or four year college is eligible for the $1,000 award.

To be considered, applications must be postmarked by March 20th. Contact Laurie Kelliher at 617-797-3349 or email her at lauriekelliher@verizon.net.

The Garden Club Federation of Massachusetts also offers 11 scholarships available to legal residents of Massachusetts who are high school seniors or graduate students pursuing the study of the arts or sciences.

For detailed information and an application for the various scholarships, contact Laurie Kelliher. The deadline for submission of applications to the Federation is March 1st.

Merrymount Association Membership Drive

The Merrymount Association's 2015 membership drive is underway.

The Association looks forward to current members renewing their membership and also welcoming new neighbors to the Association and adding to the 330 households that made up the Association in 2014.

The Association Board strives to plan and run events that are fun for all Merrymount residents, young and old. That tradition continued in 2014 with visits at the beach from the Easter Bunny and Santa Claus. In between, the Board organized the annual July 3rd beach celebration, the July 4th parade, the Cleaner Greener beach cleanup, the Flea Market, the Campout and duck race, the Horseshoe tournament, Oktoberfest, and the Turkey Trot race. Last year also featured the inaugural Summer Kickoff Party with live music and a food truck at the beach.

To continue all of these events as well as maintain and improve Merrymount beach, the Association is seeking continued support in 2015.

Visit http://www.merrymountquincy.com/membership.html for a link where you can download and print the membership form or submit your membership dues via Paypal. For families, there is a $10 discount for those who join prior to March 1st.

Quincy High Class Of 1950 To Hold 65th Reunion June 11

The Quincy High School Class of 1950 will hold its 65th reunion Thursday, June 11 from noon to 4 p.m. at the Common Market Restaurant in Quincy.

For more information, contact Henry Salvaggi at 617-472-4806 or email Mary (Comeau) McQuinn at mhmcq24@comcast.net.

Parkinson's Support Group Meets At Ward 4 Room

A Quincy Parkinson's Support Group will meet Wednesday, Feb. 11 at 7 p.m. at the Ward 4 Community Room, 100 Brooks Ave., Quincy.

The meeting will include an open discussion, information sharing and networking.

For more information, call 617-770-2090.

THREE MEMBERS of the Hospital Hill Neighborhood Association recently received commendations from the City Council. Receiving commendations were Dave Ritchie (first row, fourth from left), Carolyn Moriarty (first row, fifth from left), and Sonya Hardiman (first row, sixth from left). With them are (first row, left to right) Councillor Kevin Coughlin and Margaret Laforest, association vice president Will Smith, and Councillor Doug Gutro and Joseph Finn. Second row (left to right): Councillors Michael McFarland, Brian Palmucci, and Brian McNamee. Quincy Sun Photo/Scott Jackson

Hospital Hill Neighborhood Association Recognized

By SCOTT JACKSON

Three members of the Hospital Hill Neighborhood Association received commendations from the City Council recently in honor of the group's decade of work in the community.

Councillor Doug Gutro presented the commendations Jan. 10 to Dave Ritchie, the group's original president; Carolyn Moriarty, the group's secretary; and Sonya Hardiman, the association's outgoing president. Gutro, who worked closely with the group as Ward 5 councillor, said its members represent what is good about the city.

"The people that make up the Hospital Hill Neighborhood Association speak to what's good about this community. They're all intelligent, thoughtful, caring people that want to make a difference in our community," Gutro said.

The group was founded in late 2003 in response to plans to build a parking garage for Quincy Medical Center; the garage was never built. Gutro said the group's legacy extends far beyond the hospital.

"My hope is the legacy of this group and these members lives on for a long time," he stated. "It was activities around Quincy Medical Center that brought this group together, but what they've done since in such a positive, proactive fashion has had extraordinary benefits on the neighborhood.

"They've been active participants every year in Cleaner, Greener Day; adopted parks; they shine a light on blighted properties in the neighborhood; there are noise issues they dealt with; they have been active and vocal and interested in every Zoning Board, every Planning Board, every Conservation Commission or Licensing Board matter that impacts them or the people who live on Hospital Hill.

"They have made a considerable difference and continue to make a considerable difference in their community."

Ritchie said he was happy the group brought Hospital Hill's residents together.

"Although this association started in a controversial situation, it was awesome that it happened because we know our neighbors now," he said. "I grew up in Milton. Back in the '60s, '70s, and '80s, you lived in the same place forever and you knew everyone in your neighborhood. That wasn't happening before we started the association. Now we know our neighbors and it's awesome because I know everybody in my neighborhood, you know what's going on, and the quality of life is so much better."

Moriarty echoed the same sentiments.

"I just want to reiterate what Dave said," she stated. "Prior to joining HHNA, like yourselves, I had high powered jobs [and was] out of my house for 13 hours a day. I didn't know my neighbors at all. Once I joined HHNA I met them all. It's great to be able to walk down the street and know who everybody is."

Hardiman added that she enjoyed her tenure as the group's president.

"I just want to thank you for the opportunity and thank you to the Hospital Hill Neighborhood Association for all the support they've given me. It was a great two years and I enjoyed every minute of it," she said.

Mardi Gras Celebration

The Quincy Council on Aging will host a Mardi Gras celebration Tuesday, Feb. 17th at 2 p.m. at the Kennedy Center, 440 East Squantum St., Quincy.

The celebration will include a Dixieland Band, light refreshments and masks, beads and hats.

Tickets are available at the Kennedy Center, 440 East Squantum St., Quincy.

Space is limited. For more information, call the Kennedy Center at (617) 376-1506.

Neighborhood Club of Quincy

Nestled in a quiet neighborhood in historic Quincy, the Neighborhood Club has been creating unforgettable memories since 1917.

We take pride in making each and every wedding or event unique and memorable.

Whether you are looking for a spacious ballroom for up to 200, or a setting for a smaller group of guests, the Neighborhood Club has the perfect place to hold your event.

Book Your Wedding and Enjoy a Complimentary Champagne Toast
(Mention this ad)

617.773.9300

27 Glendale Road, Quincy, MA 02169 www.ncquincy.com

New Year!!!

NEW COLOR!!!

NEW STYLE!!!

HAIRPLACE ONE
85 QUINCY AVENUE
Call for Appt. 617-472-1060
www.hairplaceone.com

ARCHBISHOP WILLIAMS Student Council recently sponsored a fundraiser for the "This Star Won't Go Out Foundation." In one week, students raised $1,149 for families who have children battling cancer. From left: Lori Earl, director of This Star Won't Go Out Foundation; Olivia McDonnell of Quincy, Callie Walsh of Weymouth, Mattheau Gaudet of Weymouth, and John Barry of East Bridgewater. The students are Archbishop Williams High School Freshman Student Council Representatives. Photo Courtesy Archbishop Williams High School.

Archbishop Williams Students Raise $1,149 For 'This Star Won't Go Out Foundation'

Members of the Archbishop Williams Student Council for Grades 7-12 sponsored a class competition fundraiser for the This Star Won't Go Out Foundation.

As part of the summer reading requirement, the entire Archbishop Williams community, including students, faculty and staff, read the book entitled "This Star Won't Go Out" about a young girl from Quincy named Esther who died from thyroid cancer. Esther's parents, John and Lori Earle visited the Archbishop Williams campus and spoke to Grades 7-12 about Esther's life and legacy. During the presentation, the students were encouraged to live life to the fullest and to love those around them.

The "This Star Won't Go Out Foundation," based in Quincy, aims to financially support families who have children battling cancer. As part of the School's on-going commitment to service, the Archbishop Williams Student Council sponsored an effort to raise funds in support of the Earl's mission.

Students who made a donation received a star to put on their locker to acknowledge their donation to the Foundation and to honor Esther Earl, whose name means 'star.' Students who donated more than $5 also received a "TSWGO" awareness bracelet.

In one week, the students raised $1,149.50 for the This Star Won't Go Out Foundation. Lori Earl, Foundation Director, attended a Student Council meeting to receive the donation on behalf of our Student Council Representatives.

To find out more about Archbishop Williams High School, visit www.awhs.org or to find out more about the This Star Won't Go Out Foundation, visit www.tswgo.org.

Council On Aging Trip To Wright's Restaurant April 16

The Quincy Council on Aging is coordinating a "Bingo Bonanza" trip to Wright's Farm Restaurant in Harrisville, R.I. on Thursday April 16.

Cost of the trip is $49 which includes transportation, Bingo games, and famous family-style dinner at Wright's Farm Restaurant.

Bus will leave at 10 a.m. and return at approximately 5 p.m. Space is limited.

Visit the Kennedy Center, 440 East Squantum St., Quincy, to reserve a spot on this day trip. For more information, call the Kennedy Center at (617) 376-1506.

WHAT'S COOKING with Marie & Suzie

By MARIE D'OLIMPIO and SUZIE FALCO

Fettuccine With Anchovies

By MARIE

There are so many ways to prepare pasta. I've certainly thought I had cooked my share until my daughter Ann Marie brought me over a dish of her fettuccine. It was one I had never had, so I have included it in today's column. It is very easy to prepare.

FETTUCCINE WITH ANCHOVIES
1 pound fettuccine
4 anchovies
2 cloves garlic (chopped)
15 Kalamata olives (cut in half)
1 can crushed tomatoes (she used Kitchen Ready)
3 tablespoons olive oil

In the hot oil, sauté the garlic and the anchovies, which melt down, but leave a wonderful flavor. Now add the olives and the tomatoes and cook for 25 minutes.

Cook the pasta according to directions, and add the sauce. It was very tasty with the combination of the flavors of the anchovies and the olives was wonderful.

Chili Lime Burger

By SUZIE

Sometimes, you just have to have a burger. This is a delicious twist on your typical burger. A Chili Lime burger to be exact.

I got this recipe on line and these always please. I like making the mixture the night before and forming it into the patties. Then they are ready to cook up. Serve them with some homemade fries if you like.

I also am a huge fan of Sir Kennington's mayonnaise. It is fresh, natural, and they use healthy oils, it is also verified GMO free, which is important to me. I love the spicy version on this burger. Toss the commercially made industrial mayo that is advertised and that you probably have in your cupboard. You know the one.

Top with whatever you like or with nothing at all. These burgers are good enough to stand on their own. Enjoy.

CHILI LIME BURGER
1 pound ground chicken or turkey
2 green onions, chopped
¼ cup chopped red bell pepper
2 tablespoons chopped cilantro
2 teaspoons minced garlic
½ teaspoon sea salt
¼ teaspoon red pepper flakes
1 lime, cut in half
4 slices montery jack cheese (optional)
4 buns, toasted
For the guacamole
1 avocado
Garlic powder
Salt and pepper

Directions: Combine chicken or turkey, green onions, bell pepper, cilantro, garlic, salt, red pepper flakes, and juice of half a lime in a large bowl. Mix until thoroughly combined, then form into 4 patties

Heat a large grill pan or skillet over medium-high heat. Grill burgers on greased grill for 3 to 4 minutes a side, or until cooked all the way through. Place a slice of cheese on top of each burger, then cover with a large pot lid, and allow to melt for about a minute. Remove burgers to a plate, tent with foil, and allow to rest for 5 minutes. Place each burger on a toasted thin bun, then top with guacamole.

For the guacamole – Mash all ingredients together with a potato masher or fork.

3 Cup Easy Soup

By MARIE

It was one of those raw, cold days and I decided to make soup with what I had in the house.

I almost always have frozen vegetables in the freezer, so the soup was easy to make and really hit the spot when it was done.

3 CUP SOUP
1 cup frozen corn niblets
1 cup frozen peas
1 cup frozen mixed peas, carrots, lima beans
1-2 teaspoons better than bouillon, or cubes
1/2 cup tomato sauce
1 small onion, cut in half
salt and pepper
grated Parmesan or Romano cheese for topping
3-4 cups water or stock

Let the water, onion or stock come to a boil. Add the frozen vegetables and the tomato sauce, and cook until vegetables are tender. It doesn't take very long. It is the easiest, tastiest soup ever.

Serve with grated cheese on top. Enjoy.

Workshop For Alzheimer's Family Caregivers

The Alzheimer's Association will present a workshop on Essential Skills for Family Caregivers Thursday, Feb. 12 from 10:30 a.m. to 12:30 p.m. at the Alzheimer's Disease Center, 54 Miller St., Quincy.

Two additional workshops will follow at the same time and place Feb. 19 and Feb. 26.

The Essential Skills for Family Caregivers series provides education and practical tools to those caring for someone with dementia. The goal of the series is to improve day-to-day living and overall quality of life for the person with dementia and the caregiver. The series covers communication techniques, strategies to manage difficult behaviors and safety in the home. Essential Skills is free and intended for family caregivers. To register or for more information call 800-272-3900.

SALES, SERVICE, INSTALLATION

LOCKSMITH SERVICES
GRANITE LOCK Co. INC.
www.granitelock.com
617-472-2177
617-479-3341(Fax)
MA Sys. Con. Lic. 7025-C

•COMMERCIAL•
- Access Control
- Wireless Locks
- Electric Strikes
- Exit Hardware
- Door Openers/Closers
- Commercial Mailboxes
- High Security Key Systems
- Master Key Systems
- Handicap Access Hardware

•AUTOMOTIVE•
- Fit Keys to Autos/Rekeying
- Lockouts/Repairs
- Cloned/Transponder Keys

•SAFES•
- Sales/Repairs/Installations
- Combinations Changed
- Fire & Burglary Resistant Safes

•RESIDENTIAL•
- Deadbolts Installed
- Baldwin/Emtek Hardware
- Rekeying/Lockouts

755 Southern Artery, Rte. 3A Quincy, MA 02169

"Rock Solid Security"

Squantum Weather Enthusiast Observes Blizzard

Records 23.8 Inches Of Snow, Wind Gusts Peak 60 MPH

By KRIS KALABOKAS

Squantum weather observer and storm enthusiast Leo Keenan recorded a total of 23.8 inches of snow following the historic blizzard that hit Jan. 26 and Jan. 27.

"This storm had all the elements to be officially classified as a blizzard," Keenan said of the Blizzard of 2015.

Snow events are deemed blizzards once sustained winds reach 35 miles per hour for three or more hours and blowing snow results in low visibility.

Keenan, who lives on Sycamore Road, measured sustained northeast winds at 58-60 miles per hour in the area.

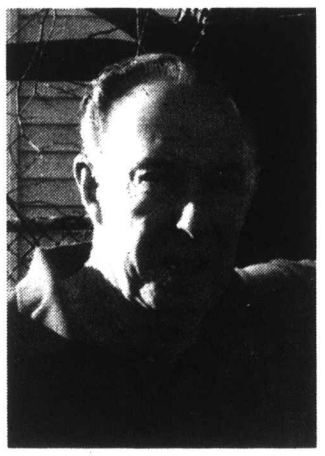
Wind gusts peaked at 60 miles per hour on the eastern slope of Squantum, he said.

He began measuring winds and snow accumulation on Monday as soon as flakes started falling late in the afternoon.

By midnight he measured 2.8 inches of snow.

The following day an additional 21 inches had fallen bringing Squantum's final snow total to 23.8 inches.

If the snow had fallen as rain it would have totaled just 1.6 inches.



LEO KEENAN
Quincy Sun File Photo

Despite the accumulation, roads were relatively clear on Wednesday morning, according to Keenan.

"The roads in Squantum are passable," he said. "The City of Quincy did a very nice job."

Squantum, while a peninsula, sees very little difference in snowfall totals in comparison to the rest of Quincy during a snow event, he said.

Snow in his area may be heavier and wetter at times due to proximity to the ocean, but overall, conditions tend to turn out the same.

Keenan lived in Weymouth during the Blizzard of '78 and said that while last week's storm was similar in intensity, advanced warning and travel bans led to a more organized and effective cleanup effort.

The Blizzard of '78 began Feb. 6 and ended Feb. 7, leaving Boston with a then record breaking 27.1 inches of snow on the ground.

The storm was particularly devastating as the severity was not anticipated by forecasters, leaving commuters stranded in cars on highways as they attempted to drive home before snow began falling heavily.

Due to improvements in weather forecasting science, the impact of this week's storm was not as dramatic nor was it unexpected, he said.

"Our weather forecasting is probably 10 times better than it was in '78," said Keenan. "The ability to forecast is so much greater."

People began hearing about last week's storm four days prior, he said.

Two days before the blizzard hit, the forecast had worsened and people were told to prepare by stocking up on groceries, batteries, flashlights, and blankets in case of power outages.

Boston's Logan International Airport began canceling flights Jan. 26.

People were able to get home before the heaviest snow began to fall and before a travel ban was declared state-wide by Gov. Charlie Baker Jan. 26 at midnight.

MBTA service was suspended at midnight on Jan. 26 as well.

"The weather science is marvelous," said Keenan, who relies on local news forecasts to track and prepare for incoming storms.

Everybody has a different way of measuring snowfall. Keenan's methods differ depending on how much snow he expects to see.

Predicted snow accumulation of under a foot can be measured using a standard ruler, he said. A measuring stick of 28 inches is used for more intense snowfall while any snowfall above that is measured with a yardstick.

Keenan said that while he rarely needs to measure snowfall using a yardstick, he does use it to measure the height of snowdrifts, some of which, he said, were several feet high in Squantum.

The snowdrifts, caused by powerful wind gusts that pick up and deposit snow elsewhere, can make measuring snowfall complicated.

"When you have that kind of wind it's such a challenge to measure the snow," he said.

For more accurate measurements, Keenan ventures into his neighbor's yard which is surrounded by tall trees that block wind gusts that can potentially shift snow.

"During my whole life I have worked in jobs concerning the weather," said Keenan, who spent 32 years in the Coast Guard.

"You just develop an interest," he said.

He calls in his weather reports at 5:25 a.m. on the dot to New England Weather Science, a service that provides localized, time specific weather forecasts.

The early morning calls are important, he said. Snow plow operators are paid per inch of snow plowed so his calls help determine their pay for the day.

For weather buffs like him, blizzards are events to look forward to.

"This is like our Super Bowl," he said.

"As a homeowner, it's not as exciting," said Keenan after he had finished the grueling task of shoveling the snow around his home.

Furnace Brook Physical Therapy

Announces

NEW HAND THERAPY CLINIC

JAY BERNASCONI, D.P.T., OCS
is pleased to announce the addition of
KATHY KOWALSKI, OTR/L, CHT
to our staff.

KATHY KOWALSKI, OTR/L, CHT

Kathy is a highly respected Certified Hand Therapist who has treated complex nerve and tendon injuries, fracture and dislocations, arthritis, and advanced hand/elbow injuries at Quincy Medical Center for the past 20 years.

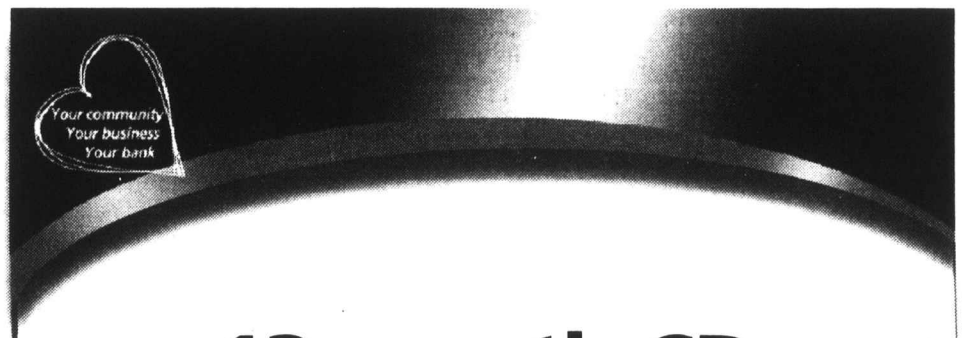
Kathy will also be fabricating Static and Dynamic Splints onsite when needed and will be taking new patients beginning January 5, 2015.

To schedule an appointment with Kathy, simply call our office at 617.770.4167

104 Quarry Street, Quincy, MA 02169

617.770.4167

www.furnacebrookpt.com



13-month CD

1.25% APY*

19-month CD

1.45% APY*

* 1.25% Annual Percentage Yield (APY) available for a 13-month CD only. 1.45% Annual Percentage Yield (APY) available for a 19-month CD only. APY is effective as of February 1, 2015, and is subject to change without notice. Available to new accounts with minimum opening deposit of $5,000. All terms will automatically renew at the then-current NECB 13-month or 19-month CD term and prevailing rate. IRA CDs are also eligible. This is a limited time offer and may be withdrawn at any time. A penalty may be imposed for early withdrawal. Other rates available. Fees could reduce earnings on account. Please ask us for an account disclosure for more details and a schedule of fees on any of these accounts. To receive this offer, accounts must be opened at one of our Massachusetts branch locations. Visit www.necb.com for all branch locations and hours.

NORTHEAST COMMUNITY BANK

281 Quincy Avenue • Quincy, MA 02169 • (617) 689-8826 • www.necb.com

Member FDIC EQUAL OPPORTUNITY EMPLOYER EQUAL HOUSING LENDER

Great rates!

Fallon Ambulance Training 8th Graders In CPR

Fallon Ambulance Service is working with the City of Quincy School Department on a comprehensive CPR program that will train every eighth grade student in the city's middle schools in CPR.

Lynn Mahoney, Fallon Ambulance Service's Manager of Education and Training, has coordinated the expansive program with School Supt. Dr. Richard DeCristofaro, and they arranged a schedule to train the 656 8th grade students in five Quincy middle schools.

"The Superintendent is a strong advocate of community CPR training, as is Fallon Ambulance," said Mahoney. "We jumped at the outcomes in surviving cardiac arrest."

Beginning in February, Fallon Ambulance will train the students in one school each day, and all students should have received the instruction by the end of that first week. On Saturday, Feb. 7, Fallon will offer a First Aid program for students who wish to learn more.

The program that Fallon will offer is adult CPR. The ambulance firm will bring a group of Paramedics and Emergency Medical Technicians (EMTs) to the schools to administer the training sessions.

Additionally, Fallon Ambulance has already trained the sports coaches in Quincy. Under Massachusetts law, coaches in public schools must be first aid and CPR certified. Fallon Ambulance provided CPR in November for the winter coaches, and will offer the course again in February.

Peter Racicot, Senior Vice President at Fallon Ambulance, said, "We are committed to our communities and the region, and we believe strongly in prevention. In our day to day work, we have seen firsthand the importance of CPR and first response.

"In cardiac situations, timing is very important. Seconds count. And knowledge of basic resuscitation is critical. We are very pleased to be working with the Quincy schools in this important project."

DeCristofaro termed the program "a great opportunity for our students." The schools began planning for this training with Fallon Ambulance last spring, and in preparation for the CPR training, engaged their nursing staff and health educators at the middle schools to educate the students during January, which is heart month.

Quincy Fire Department Tackles Nor'Easter

By MIKE SLADE
Fire Prevention Officer
Quincy Fire Department

The blizzard of 2015 dumped an incredible amount of snow over the City of Quincy last Tuesday. Over 25 inches of snow was reported to have fallen in Quincy, making it the most amount of snow in January for Quincy ever recorded. Governor Baker declared a state of emergency for the storm, and a travel ban was put into effect, allowing plows and public safety crews to meet the needs of Quincy during the storm.

Hurricane force winds and high tides were significant concerns for the Quincy Fire Department. Fire Chief Joseph Barron had his fire personnel deliver a letter to coastal residents, informing them of the risks of the storm and advising them to consider relocating prior to the storm's first upcoming tide event.

The Department of Public Works closed the tide gate at Post Island to allow the marsh area additional storage capacity. The Houghs Neck Fire House beefed up its response capabilities by adding an additional Ladder truck and an ambulance for the safety of the Houghs Neck residences. The Squantum firehouse elevated their response capabilities as well by adding an ambulance for the safety of Squantum residences.

Due to the storm's potential for damage, the Quincy Emergency Operations Center went into operation. Quincy High School was staged as an emergency shelter and was staffed with Quincy firefighters, police and building maintenance personnel.

During the storm, Quincy Fire Department firehouses throughout the city were staffed with front end loaders that could respond to calls with the fire department, making sure that the fire trucks could get to each emergency call during the storm. The Quincy Fire Department wishes to thank the Department of Public Works Commissioner Daniel Raymondi and Quincy Mayor Thomas Koch, for providing this invaluable resource to Quincy Fire for the safety of the citizens of Quincy. One example of this was when Engine 3 responded, in the height of the storm, to a medical emergency on Ruggles Street. Engine 3 provided a successful response due to the assistance of the front end loader.

QUINCY FIRE LT. Ralph Blight (right) and Firefighter Chris Murphy with one of the many fire hydrants shoveled out following last week's blizzard. The department asks residents to assist firefighters by shoeving out hydrants in their neighborhood that may not be cleared yet.

Thankfully here in Quincy, no deaths were reported due to the blizzard. However, Quincy's neighboring City of Boston was less fortunate. Officials reported that a 14-year-old boy, who was helping his father shovel out their car in front of their home, went inside the family vehicle to warm up and was overcome by fumes that had backed up into the car due to snow plugging the tailpipe of the vehicle. The father of the boy went into respiratory arrest and collapsed on a snowbank, possibly as a result of stress.

Less than 2 miles away from the fatality mentioned above, a young man was found dead inside a car. Both fatalities were attributed to the buildup of the deadly gas inside vehicles with its exhaust pipe plugged by snow.

The Quincy Fire Department asks Quincy citizens to be hyper vigilant to carbon monoxide poisoning. Carbon monoxide is a colorless, odorless and highly poisonous gas that will kill you very quickly. Please make sure that your vehicle's tailpipe is clear of snow. We ask residences to have their gas appliances be installed and maintained by a qualified professional. Make sure to have a carbon monoxide detector as well as a smoke detector on each level of your home, especially near sleeping areas. If your home heating system has forced ventilation through the side of your home, please make sure that the exhaust is clear of snow.

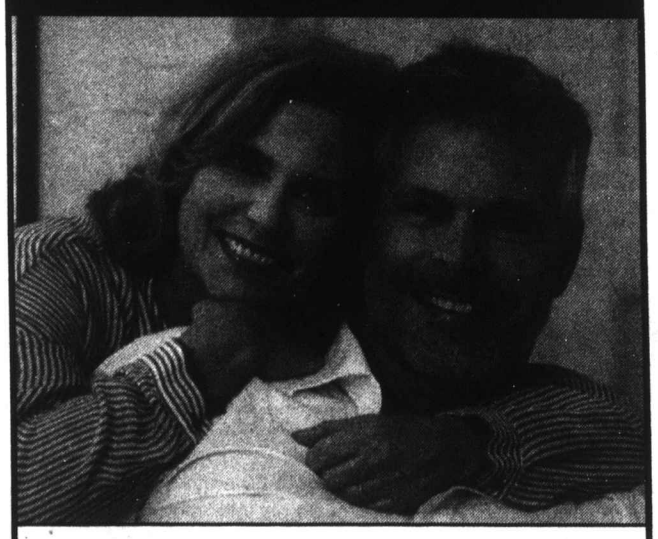
Along with responding to emergency calls, Quincy Firefighters have been shoveling fire hydrants since the storm has passed. We ask Quincy residents to please assist firefighters by shoveling out fire hydrants in their neighborhood that may not be cleared yet.

The Quincy Fire Department is committed to serving the citizens of Quincy.

If you should have any questions or concerns whatsoever, please do not hesitate to call our Fire Prevention Bureau at 617-376-1015.

MOUNIER NAHAS and a co-worker keep a clear path to a shelter at QHS that was available to residents during last week's blizzard. Photos Courtesy Mike Slade/Quincy Fire Department

Always here for you



With Urgent Care and 24/7 Medical Advice

Our practices in Quincy and Braintree provide you with primary and specialty care and convenient on-site labs and imaging.

Atrius Health

Granite Medical Group
500 Congress Street, Quincy | 617-471-0033
www.granitemedical.com

Harvard Vanguard Medical Associates
111 Grossman Drive, Braintree | 781-849-1000
1250 Hancock Street, Quincy | 617-774-0600
www.harvardvanguard.org

Affiliated with South Shore Hospital and Beth Israel Deaconess Hospital-Milton

RJS Reliable Tax Service
518 Hancock Street, Quincy
(617)773-7360
www.reliabletaxservice.com
10% Discount (new clients only)
Individual Income Tax $65 up
Corporate Income Tax $350 up
Experienced IRS Enrolled Agent

JOAN'S OLYMPIC GYM
GYMNASTICS & DANCE SCHOOL
WAS VOTED #1 ON THE SOUTH SHORE
Ages 2 – Adult
NOW ACCEPTING REGISTRATIONS!
781-843-9624
"An Excellent Education Environment For Your Child"
197 Quincy Avenue, Braintree • www.joansolympicgym.com

Joyce & Gendreau
Jewelers
Fine Jewelry at Honest Values
Home of the "You want it when? No problem and done right!" service!
52 Billings Road No. Quincy
617.328.0084
www.joycejlrs.com

Dina's Hair & Nail Unisex Salon
5 School St., Quincy
617.479.1797

Adult Cuts	$9.00
Color	$30.00
Hair Cut & Blowdry	$25.00
Matrix Perm	$40.00
Wax, Lip & Eyebrows	$6.00

Includes wash, cut & style
WE ALSO DO EXTENSIONS
1st time clients only

Be Safe When Clearing Snow

Advice To Advoid Injuries; 'Do Things In Moderation' Says Doctor

By KRIS KALABOKAS

When clearing driveways and sidewalks of the almost 24 inches of snow that fell during the Blizzard of 2015 and the additional snow that fell Monday, Dr. Leonard Waice of CareWell Urgent Care in Framingham hopes the public takes to heart two very important pieces of advice: listen to your body and use snow blowers safely and responsibly.

"Do things in moderation," said Waice, who has been practicing medicine for 22 years with 20 of those years as a primary care physician.

Injuries he sees every winter include sprains, strains, back injuries, frostbite, and most commonly, hand and finger snow blower related injuries.

"Machines are very unforgiving," said Waice.

Putting fingers and hands anywhere near the blades, even while the machine is turned off, is extremely dangerous. Losing a finger or even an entire hand if the machine is started inadvertently is not unheard of.

"It happens every snow storm," he said.

Waice also warned against sticking objects in between the blades to clear them of snow. More than once he's seen the results of projectiles launched from between the blades once power is restored, striking and injuring an operator or bystander.

In the event of a snow blower accident, he advises anybody suffering from an injury to keep pressure on the wound and to keep the limb or digit elevated and positioned close to the body.

In the case of injured fingers, it's best to keep gloves on as they can provide some support and pressure to the area, he said.

A surprising result of using a snow blower for too long is the development of tennis elbow, a condition in which tendons joining the forearm muscles to the outside of the elbow become inflamed and painful.

Waice said that the prolonged vibration of the machine and gripping the machine's handles tightly can cause the injury which is more likely to occur in cold temperatures.

There is no limit to how much time one should spend using a snow blower, he said. When you start to feel overly tired then "it's time to rest and warm up," he said.

Also commonly seen during the snow season are back injuries resulting from improper shoveling techniques and overexertion.

In the rush to shovel as much snow as quickly as possible, people may either pick up too much snow or choose a shovel too heavy for them, said Waice.

Bending at the hips and lifting using the power of your leg muscles reduces strain on the back. Twisting motions of the waist while holding shovels full of snow are also not recommended.

Sprains and strains to ankles and wrists resulting from slips on ice or lifting heavy objects should be stabilized using the RICE technique, he said.

RICE is an acronym that stands for rest, ice, compression, and elevation. While not a treatment for severe injuries, those steps can be applied in order to minimize discomfort while waiting for medical help.

Suspected breaks should be taken care of similarly before help is sought from a medical professional. In the case of a suspected broken arm or wrist, a sling should be used to keep the limb close to the body and elevated to reduce swelling.

Waice suggested using household items such a duct tape and newspapers to make an impromptu sling in emergency situations.

Hypothermia, a condition in which the body loses heat more quickly than it can be produced, can set in starting with vague and minor symptoms.

Normal body temperature hovers around 98.6 degrees fahrenheit. Once that number dips to or below 95, confusion, lack of coordination, fatigue, shivering, involuntary muscle contractions, and nausea can begin to set in.

An overwhelming urge to fall asleep is a sign that the condition has progressed to a moderate or severe degree.

Somebody exhibiting signs of hypothermia should seek immediate medical attention, said Waice, who added that CareWell Urgent Care remains open and fully staffed during severe weather events except when a state of emergency is declared.

Untreated, the condition can lead to heart and respiratory failure and eventually death.

Waice said young children are particularly vulnerable to hypothermia because unlike adults, they tend to jump into snow piles and don't mind getting wet as a result.

Wet fabric in close contact with skin can hasten the onset of hypothermia.

"[Adults] know not to be rolling around in the snow," he said.

Parents and guardians should limit outdoor snow play and change their children's clothing once it becomes wet. Mittens tend to get wet quickly and should be changed frequently, said Waice.

Staying outside for a prolonged period of time or wearing improper attire in freezing temperatures with an even lower wind chill can lead to frostnip, a mild form of frostbite that causes tingling, stinging, redness, and numbness in exposed areas of skin.

Particularly vulnerable to frostnip are fingers and toes, the tips of ears and noses, and even cheeks.

Waice said that the exposed area may turn white and then red as frostnip progresses to frostbite and as tissue freezes. He recommended using body temperature water to warm the area slowly.

Since the condition can damage nerves and dull the sensation of pain, immersing a limb in hot water can be dangerous and lead to scalding burns. Waice suggested testing the water's temperature first using an elbow in the event that you're alone.

He also advised against using a hair dryer to rewarm frostbitten skin and digits.

If the condition appears severe, he said a trip to the emergency room is warranted.

A less commonly seen but more serious medical event typically happens to those 55-years-old or older, he said.

A heart attack or other serious cardiac incident can be triggered when excess stress is put on the body, as can be the case while shoveling.

Heart attacks used to be seen in those 65 and older but the current sedentary American lifestyle along with the tendency to overindulge in unhealthy foods lends itself to higher cholesterol and blood pressure which can both predispose to heart attacks, said Waice.

He firmly warned against drinking alcohol before venturing out to shovel as it can cloud your judgement, leading to irresponsible decision making and a higher likelihood of injury.

He also urged drivers to make sure their exhaust pipe is clear of snow before starting up their vehicles as a blockage can cause a deadly buildup of carbon monoxide inside the car's cab.

Carbon monoxide, which is colorless and odorless, is a byproduct of the burning of coal, charcoal, oil, propane, natural gas, and kerosene.

Symptoms of carbon monoxide poisoning include headache, fatigue, nausea, dizziness, confusion, and vomiting. If exposed for too long to the gas, loss of consciousness occurs followed by death.

Waice stressed that those exhibiting symptoms of a major cardiac event, carbon monoxide poisoning, severe frostbite, hypothermia, and those who have suffered from a severe injury be it from a slip and fall or through the use of a snow blower should waste no time in getting to the nearest emergency room.

Your Winning Retirement Game Plan

By KRISTEN ALBERINO

Social Security Public Affairs Specialist

This month, a driver will take the checkered flag at the Daytona 500, skiers will stand atop the podium at the World Alpine Ski Championships in Vail, Colo., and a football team will win Super Bowl XLIX in Glendale, Ariz. The sports are different, but the winners share a common trait-years of commitment to their plans.

Social Security Online Services ★ Convenient ★ Secure ★ www.socialsecurity.gov

To win the retirement game, you also need commitment and a plan. For years, you've worked hard and paid into Social Security. Whether you're new to the workforce or getting ready to cross your own career finish line, you'll want to open a my Social Security account to see how your hard work is paying off. You can create or access your account at www.socialsecurity.gov/myaccount. You can use it to verify your earnings history, get estimates of your future Social Security benefits, and more. It's the place to get the information you need to put together your own winning game plan.

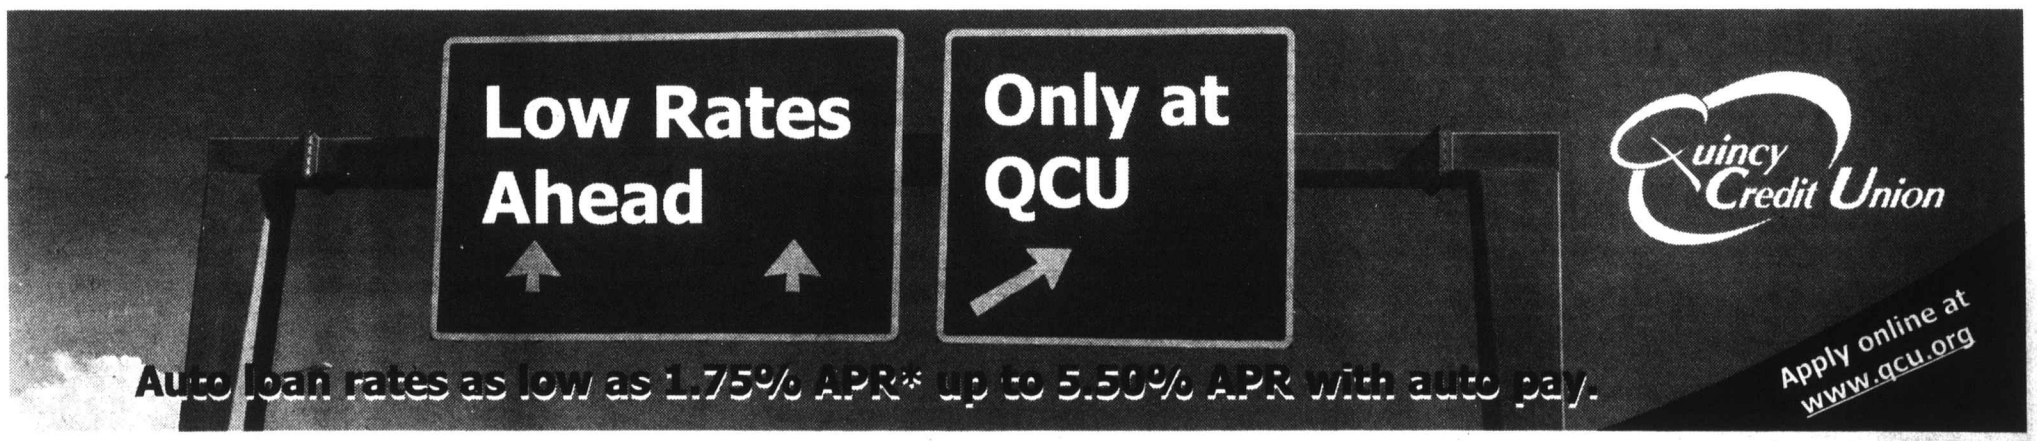
A good NASCAR pit crew keeps its driver on the track, and our Retirement Estimator can do the same for your retirement plan. The Estimator offers an instant and tailored estimate of your future Social Security benefits based on your earnings record. You can plug in different anticipated yearly earnings to discover different retirement options and learn how your benefits could increase if you work longer. Give the Retirement Estimator a test drive today at www.socialsecurity.gov/estimator.

Once you've come of age to retire-or if you're just in the planning phase-our quick and convenient online services are in place at www.socialsecurity.gov/applyonline. In as little as 15 minutes, you can speed through our online application. In most cases, once your application is submitted electronically, you're done. There are no forms to sign and usually no documentation is required.

Fine-tune your game plan. Take advantage of our services and resources at www.socialsecurity.gov to optimize your retirement.

REGGIE'S OIL CO., INC.
Heating & Air Conditioning Service
Joseph P. Reggiannini
92-94 (Rear) Franklin St.
Quincy, MA 02169
Office Hours:
M-F 7:30 am - 5:00 pm
(617) 471-2095
(24 Hour Emergency Service)
www.reggiesoil.com
We are a local, family-owned & operated oil company located right here in Quincy. We've been providing a quality product & superior service to our customers here in Quincy & throughout Southeastern MA for more than 50 years....and we always will!

WINE Copeland LIQUOR
PACKAGE STORE
COPELAND
The Best in Spirits
Dennis Carson
SERVING NEIGHBORS SINCE 1958
273 Copeland St. Quincy, MA 02169
(617)471-5418
www.copelandpackage.com



*APR=Annual Percentage Rate. Rates currently in effect and subject to change. Rate, term and approval amount based on credit worthiness. Speak with a loan representative to find out how your rate is determined. QCU finances 100% of the purchase price or book value, whichever is less. Minimum rate with Auto Pay is 1.75%. Payment per thousand on 1.75% for 72 months is $14.65. Minimum rate without Auto Pay is 2.00%. Payment per thousand on 2.00% for 72 months is $14.76. Maximum rate with Auto Pay is 5.50%. Payment per thousand on 5.50% for 72 months is $16.34. Maximum rate without Auto Pay is 5.75%. Payment per thousand on 5.75% for 72 months is $16.46. Other rates and terms available. Maximum term is 72 months for qualified applicants. Maximum loan amount is $50,000. Refinancing on existing QCU loans requires additional proceeds of $4,000 minimum. Membership eligibility requirements apply. Providing financial products and services to individuals who work or live in Norfolk, Plymouth Counties or Dorchester. $5.00 Primary Share Account required for Membership.
NCUA
Federally Insured by NCUA
MSIE

Real Estate

Quincy Real Estate Transactions Jan. 26 - Jan. 30

Seller	Buyer	Amount	Address
Norman & Donna White	David & Morgan Antonell	$380,000.00	49 Colby Road
30 Stedman Street Realty Trust	Stedman Street 30 Realty Trust	$350,000.00	30 Stedman Street
Caren Marks	Wan R. Liu & Juan Z. Li	$227,000.00	123 Elm Street
Katherine D. Casey	Shi Z. Lin & Yanjuan Wang	$372,500.00	199 Harvard Street
Marilyn Jaffarian	Xian Chen	$315,000.00	173 School Street
Quincy Liberty Nominee Trust	SSG Liberty Street LLC	$2,500,000.00	27-47 & 53 Liberty Street
234 Copeland Street LLC	Emami Properties LLC	$260,000.00	234 Copeland Street
Ashley N. Ditta	Adam Morton & Lauren Austin	$280,500.00	103 Norfolk Street
Michael & Oneida V. Matyka	Leonel Laroche	$180,000.00	141 Willard Street Unit 1
Thomas C., Margaret B. & Michael A. Guerin	Guanmiao Chen	$468,000.00	211 Whitwell Street
Meng-Che Chung & Julia Y. Yang	Annie Kang	$388,000.00	16 Quarry Street Unit 1
Phillip A. Rouleau Trust	Tsoen F. & Wei Y. Wong	$272,000.00	115 West Squantum Street Unit 505
Edward J. & Valerie Price	Li Zhong & Mei Ying Zheng	$399,000.00	63 Sealund Road
41 Liberty Street LLC	SSG Liberty Street LLC	$2,500.000.00	41 Liberty Street
Merrigan Family Irrevocable Income Trust	Joy R. Beckwith	$520,000.00	2001 Marina Drive Unit 408W
Donald W. McGilvray	Jillian E. Hanley	$465,000.00	3 Ashworth Road
Jason Li	Christine Yan Hui	$268,000.00	1 Cityview Lane Unit 810
Jean M., Jonathan L. & Susan Alberti	William J. McCallum	$300,000.00	31 Gladstone Street
Naveed & Samina F. Yousuf	Hieu Nguyen	$285,000.00	90 Quincy Shore Drive Unit 607
Mei K. Wong	Stephen M. Bettencourt	$310,000.00	100 Marina Drive Unit 115

Help for Energy Hogs Program Launches

The city of Quincy and several other municipalities including Boston in collaboration with National Grid and the nonprofit HEET have launched the Help for Energy Hogs program to assist nonprofit organizations --such as preschools and community centers-- lower their energy bills and fossil fuel use through upgrading outdated building equipment such as boilers.

The partnership will offer local organizations a unique opportunity to get major energy efficiency work completed at no up-front cost. The work will be funded through an energy efficiency developer, RENEW Energy Partners. On completion of construction, a participating nonprofit organization uses the cost savings associated with reduced energy or water consumption to make regular payments over a set period of time, usually 6 to 10 years, and will see an immediate reduction in operating costs.

HEET selected RENEW Energy Partners as the participating energy efficiency developer through a competitive review process. RENEW will pay for the upgrades, as well as own, insure and maintain any measures that they install.

To qualify, a project should include at least $35,000 worth of efficiency upgrades such as a new heating system, an oil-to-gas conversion, heating systems controls, combined heat and power systems, building insulation, lighting, water or other conservation measures.

To participate, nonprofits in Quincy need to own and occupy the building. At a minimum, organizations should have an annual energy bills (heating + electricity) totaling over $15,000 and a high energy-use per square foot. Organizations will also need to demonstrate financial stability, be willing to participate in WegoWise (an online energy monitoring site that is free through the program) and help to get that word out to local small businesses --such as convenience store and laundromats-- about rebates and free energy-efficiency services available to them through the state.

Visit www.HelpforHogs.org to learn more about the program.

Predictions For The 2015 Real Estate Market

By BRIAN MOLISSE
PASS President

As we welcomed in the New Year, we also welcomed more positive predictions for the housing market.

After years of slow and steady recovery, in 2014 the U.S economy saw its best year since the 2008 recession. With the economy continuing to show improvement and income levels seeing growth, housing experts and economists have high hopes for 2015.

After seeing so much improvement in 2014, the housing market seems poised for a real comeback in 2015. Prospects are looking bright for homeowners and prospective home buyers.

Here are a few trends and predictions the Plymouth and South Shore Associaton of Realtors (PASS) expects to see play out in the coming year.

• Lending standards will be loosened. In December 2014, Fannie Mae and Freddie Mac announced they will be offering 3 percent down payment mortgages, rather than 5 percent.

Many potential buyers simply do not have the resources to save for a substantial down payment. This new program will allow first-time, creditworthy buyers, who would otherwise be kept out of the market, to purchase a home.

BRIAN MOLISSE

At the end of January 2015, the Federal Housing Administration (FHA) reduced the annual premiums new borrowers will pay by half of a percent. This action is projected to save more than two million new FHA homeowners an average of $900 annually and spur 250,000 new homebuyers to purchase their first home over the next three years.

It's a great time to consider purchasing a home.

• Mortgage rates will go up. With the economy improving, the Federal Reserve has indicated that they will be increasing the federal funds rate in 2015. This rate has a substantial impact on mortgage rates, which have been at historic lows for the past few years.

This means that if you are considering buying a home or refinancing your mortgage, now is the time. The rates will likely increase as the year progresses.

At the end of January 2015, Freddie Mac reported in its weekly mortgage market survey, the 30-year fixed-rate mortgage averaged 3.66 percent, the lowest weekly average since May 23, 2013. What's more, the 15-year fixed-rate mortgage dropped below 3 percent, also for the first time since May 2013.

The current mortgage rates combined with the FHA reduced premiums is great news for those considering buying.

• Millennials will enter the market. As the economy continues to make gains and the job market improves, millennials (ages 25-34) will start forming households and entering the housing market.

Millennials began to enter the market in 2014, but as the job market continues to improve and rent prices continue to rise millennial's involvement in the housing market will likely increase. Combining that with opportunities for lower down payments, it's a prime time for young people to enter the market.

• Housing inventory will increase. Builders will begin to ramp up production in 2015. This increase in inventory should help improve choices for consumers, another potential draw for first-time buyers.

Of course, all real estate is local and the South Shore market is expected to remain strong in 2015. PASS released its December housing statistics for the PASS region (24 communities from Quincy to the Cape Cod Canal in Plymouth).

Based on information provided to and compiled by MLS Property Information Network, Inc., covering the periods of Dec. 1, 2013 through Dec. 31, 2013 and Dec. 1, 2014 through Dec. 31, 2014, sales of single family homes in Quincy increased by 35 percent in December of 2014 and the median price (not average price) increased by 6 percent.

Based on the same information, the sale of condominiums in Quincy decreased by 13 percent for the same time period.

For more information about the 2015 housing market on the South Shore, contact a local realtor or visit www.PassRealtors.com and viewing the "Find A Realtor" section of the site.

Real Estate

THIS IS A HAMMER

By Samantha Mazzotta

Thermostat On The Fritz

Q: I replaced my home's old mercury thermostat with a digital thermostat about seven years ago. Lately though, the heating seems off: I'll adjust the temperature up a degree or two because it feels too cold, and in a few minutes the house is very hot. All the time, the thermostat shows the room temperature as being exactly what I set it at. Can I recalibrate a digital thermostat, the way that the older mercury thermostats can be calibrated? -- Karl J., Buffalo, New York

A: Since digital thermostats don't measure temperature using mercury bulbs -- the way older thermostats do -- calibrating them doesn't work the same way. They have a temperature sensor that can detect the precise temperature of a room, enabling more exact control of the home's temperature and, ideally, cost savings.

However, you can check to see if the thermostat is measuring the room temperature accurately. This is as simple as taping a mercury or digital thermometer next to the thermostat, so that you get a reading of the air temperature around the device from a second source.

If the thermostat can be calibrated, you'll be able to find instructions to do so either inside the front cover of the device, or in the manufacturer's instructions. (If you lost the instructions, you usually can download them from the manufacturer's website.) Calibration differs between models, but generally brings the temperature set point in line with the sensor.

Several other issues could be causing the apparent touchiness of the thermostat. The sensor could be bad, or there may be a problem with the thermostat's wiring. The device itself may need to be replaced.

Further, your home's heating issue could be unrelated to the thermostat. If calibration doesn't help, have a heating and A/C professional come in a do a system checkup, look for possible problems, and suggest solutions.

HOME TIP: Have you changed your heating system's air filter yet? Do this monthly during the winter to improve efficiency and air quality. (c) 2015 King Features Synd., Inc.

Phyllis Godwin Conway Citizen Of The Year

Jack Conway, Realtor has named Phyllis Papani Godwin, owner and CEO of Granite City Electric Supply Co., as its 2014 Conway Country Citizen of the Year. Godwin was chosen for her 46 years of business leadership and philanthropy in the South Shore community.

When 16-year-old Nicholas Papani arrived at Ellis Island from Italy in 1912, he could not have foreseen the success he would have as the founder of a thriving Quincy business. Nor could he imagine that after running Granite City Electric Supply for nearly 50 years, he would pass the torch to his eldest daughter Phyllis, who would expand a single store into the largest independent electrical distributor in New England.

"I'm humbled to accept this award from the Conway Company, which has so much in common with our own firm," said Godwin. "Like myself, Carol Bulman was entrusted with an amazing legacy when her father appointed her CEO of his 56-year-old real estate business. She is meeting the challenge with great success, building on Jack's solid foundation and charting a new course toward the future. It's an honor to be chosen as the Conway Country Citizen of the Year."

A lifelong Quincy resident and mother of two, Godwin had never dreamed of entering the business world until her father made her the principal owner of Granite City Electric in 1969. "I would rather have sold designer shoes than pipe and wire," she said. "But when I looked back at what my Dad had accomplished with no money or education in a new country, I realized I had a great legacy to protect."

PHYLLIS GODWIN

Admitting that she had no technical skills, and no concept of what an electrical contractor did, she she returned to college to study business in her forties. She earned an MBA with a 4.0 average, and took her first tentative steps as co-owner and later sole proprietor of her family firm. She opened the company's first new store in South Yarmouth in 1973 and later expanded operations to Martha's Vineyard and Plymouth. Granite City Electric now serves thousands of contractors in New England. It has been the official distributor of electrical supplies to the Red Sox and Fenway Park since 2004.

An active participant in her community, Godwin has served as a director of the Quincy Medical Center, the South Shore YMCA, the South Shore Conservatory of Music and the Quincy 2000 Corporation. She broke new ground as the first woman chair of the South Shore Chamber of Commerce and was the first female member of the Quincy Rotary. She was the first recipient of the Woodward School's "Woman of Distinction" award and the first female to join the Board of Directors of the National Association of Electrical Distributors.

Godwin oversees her company's charitable foundation, which supports youth sports and funds medical research for the Juvenile Diabetic Research Association. During her term as chairman of the South Shore Chamber of Commerce, she founded the Women's Business Connection to attract more females to the organization. "It's my goal to support and advise other professional women in our area," she said. "They need to work together to break through the glass ceiling that exists in the corporate world."

"Phyllis has long been a mentor to me and to other business women in Massachusetts," Conway CEO Carol Bulman said. "She is a groundbreaker and a trailblazer for all of us, and I am honored that she is our Conway Country Citizen of the Year."

A graduate of Brown and Suffolk Universities, Phyllis Papani Godwin has two daughters and five grandchildren.

Eastern Insurance Group Acquires James J. Sullivan Insurance Agency

Eastern Insurance Group, LLC has acquired Quincy-base James J. Sullivan insurance agency.

The deal, which combines two independent insurance agencies with an unwavering commitment to their customers, colleagues and communities, will provide new Eastern Insurance customers with access to a broader range of insurance products and services, said Hope A. Aldrich, President and CEO of Eastern Insurance.

"We are excited to welcome James J. Sullivan and its customers to Eastern Insurance," said Aldrich. "The Sullivan agency is well-known for its superior customer service and products, making it a perfect fit for our growing organization."

James J. Sullivan was founded in 1956 by Jim Sullivan. Sullivan and Sherry Wood, the current principles of the agency, built an outstanding independent insurance agency, said Aldrich.

"We are proud of what we have built in providing the best insurance protection for the people and businesses of Quincy and nearby communities," said Sullivan, President of James J. Sullivan. "Eastern Insurance will serve our clients and employees extremely well."

Following the merger, Sullivan will remain with Eastern Insurance, serving in a sales role as well as maintaining relationships with his largest clients.

For Eastern Insurance, the acquisition increases its customer base south of Boston, where it already has 10 locations, including Quincy. The move also further strengthens Eastern Bank's overall position in southeastern Massachusetts.

"Eastern has a strong Quincy presence and Sullivan's customer base is a natural extension of the markets that we now serve, so this was an attractive opportunity to partner with a successful agency with an excellent reputation," said Aldrich.

Century 21 Annex Realty, Inc.
49 Beale St., Quincy, MA 02170
617-472-4330
www.c21annex.com
Over 70 Seller and Buyer Agents specializing in Residential, Commercial Real Estate, Bank Owned Properties, Short Sales and Rentals
ANNEX REAL ESTATE SCHOOL
Offering Salesperson's, Broker's and Continuing Ed. classes
"STILL NUMBER ONE"

Congratulations

JENNIFER KERN

ON YOUR 10 YEAR ANNIVERSARY IN REAL ESTATE!

Jennifer Kern, Realtor and lifelong Quincy resident has been helping clients fulfill their real estate needs for one decade. Jennifer specializes in both residential and commercial real estate sales. She started in the business with advice from her late grandfather, Joseph Palumbo (founder of Hancock Tire and Appliance in Quincy). He told her to "get involved with everything local." Taking this advice she has chaired the networking and membership committee for her local board of Realtors for seven years. She has sat on the Board of Directors and is the 2015 Vice President of the Plymouth & South Shore Association of Realtors. She was also the recipient of the prestigious award "Realtor of Outstanding Service" in 2013, as voted on by her peers. Jennifer works for Success Real Estate in Quincy which is the number one real estate office in sales in the city. Choose a local real estate professional and hire "The Queen of Quincy" for your next purchase or sale. Jennifer can be reached on her cell at 617-548-1351 or by email at jenniferkernrealtor@gmail.com.

SUCCESS! REAL ESTATE

968 Hancock Street, Quincy, MA 02170

Op Ed

New Healthcare Rules Needed To Retain Fabric Of Hospital Care

Quincy Medical Center is no more. The workforce - the collective provider of care - has been dispersed. The beds - and anything else not nailed down - have been shipped out to be sold to enrich Steward Health Care's bottom line. Its license has lapsed. What's left is a sliver of an emergency room operating under the license of Steward's Carney Hospital in Dorchester and a scattering of minimally regulated offices. The hollow shell of a building and the land it sits on has only recently been claimed by the City of Quincy. No one made a claim on the hospital while it was still providing needed care. It has become now all about real estate.

Thanks are due to the people who waged a valiant but losing battle to save QMC: those who set up the Facebook page "Save Quincy Medical Center," circulated the petition, participated in City Council and Department of Public Health hearings, built the forum and marched in the vigil. Jobs with Justice, the South Shore Coalition for Human Rights and the Outreach Committee of the United First Parish Church provided the framework for the fightback, while the unions focused on negotiating the softest possible landing for their displaced members, that dedicated band of workers who held the hospital together for many decades despite increasingly hostile management teams, who never ceased to fight the good fight for healthcare justice and for their patients.

Quincy, a diverse and growing city of nearly 94,000 people, is now the largest city in New England without a hospital.

Before the "Blizzard of 2015" and even before the impact of the seasonal flu epidemic, regional emergency departments were overwhelmed. One day, displaced Quincy patients were being admitted directly into beds at Carney Hospital while Dorchester residents waited on hallway stretchers. The next day, the satellite emergency room in Quincy was notified that Carney was completely full and would not be able to take Quincy patients at all. Then word came that all Boston hospitals were full and wait times stretched into days. Our region's surge capacity, its ability to safely care for patients whenever census and acuity shoot up, has been shredded.

As long as an executive sitting in the Cerberus Capital Management office on Park Avenue has the power to shut down one sixth of Massachusetts acute-care hospitals - i.e., the whole Steward Health Care system - if deemed not profitable enough, the very fabric of care in Eastern Massachusetts is at risk. We must intervene now to change the rules of the game.

Needed services and facilities are also at risk in every working-class community across the Commonwealth. The swift demise of North Adams Regional Hospital last March, the closure of Roxbury Comprehensive Community Health Center the previous May, the ongoing shrinkage of acute-care services at Partners' Lynn Union Hospital and the constant attempts by Bay State Medical Center in Springfield to diminish services at its Franklin Medical Center in Greenfield are but a few of the more glaring examples.

The swift action by our new attorney general in putting limits to the sprawling growth of Partners Health Care sets the stage for further actions to preserve the necessary role of community hospitals.

All our working-class communities need to reach out to each other in solidarity and insist that our legislators construct a framework of new rules for healthcare. Our lives literally just hang in the balance. Continue to barrage our new attorney general, our new governor, our House and Senate with our demands for healthcare justice, for a system guaranteeing access, affordability, quality and equality: safe staffing, hospital profit transparency and fairness, a DPH empowered to preserve needed services, receivership power to save failing facilities, a richly funded distressed hospital fund, brakes on for-profit care, single payer finances and an expanded public sector. Find those officials' contact information at www.mass.gov or through the State House switchboard: 617-722-2000.

Sandy Eaton, RN
Chair, Health Care Committee
South Shore Coalition for Human Rights

Readers Forum

Act Of Kindness Makes Her Day

More often than not, we don't hesitate to complain or get aggravated about things in our every day life. Saying thank you for an act of kindness doesn't happen enough. So here's my recognition of an act of kindness.

This blizzard of last week was overwhelming. I heard the plows going back and forth all evening. I just imagined the snow accumulation in my head.

As a hospital employee, we all must report to work for our scheduled shifts and last Tuesday was no exception. I trudged through the drifting snow to find my inadequate power shovel and started the journey to get to my car. Even though I was at the end of my driveway, there was a section of snow approximately three feet high and six feet long.

Just as I got to the door of my car, one of those really large snow plows came by and added another foot to the already daunting pile. My arms flew up instinctively and the words "SERIOUSLY" came out of my mouth. I was never getting out of here. Then, a moment later, the driver apparently sensing my defeat, backed up and made three passes at the end of the driveway and cleared 90 percent of the snow. I was able to keep on top of this breach in the bank and made it out of my driveway 20 minutes later.

I just wanted to give an enormous shout of THANKS to the gentleman who was driving that plow last Tuesday morning around 6:30 a.m. on Bennington Street. You made my day.

L. Fishman
Quincy

Concerned Over Lack Of Shelters

Quincy's plan for dealing with the storm of Jan. 27 and 28 was pretty solid with the exception of shelter planning. Experience in dealing with impending mega events such as storms tells us to expect the unexpected.

While comparing this past storm to Hurricane Katrina would be unfair, lessons learned apply. The lack of strategically-based shelters, Hough's Neck, Germantown and Adams Shore in particular, are of concern. Atherton Hough School has been used before and would have provided some safe haven in the event the tides were worse or the power failed. National Grid has done what so far has been a great job improving reliability to Quincy and the power was reliable.

We were lucky the winds remained in a favorable direction particularly as tides came in later in the storm which helped keep tides down. Slight shifts in wind or loss of power coupled with impassable roads during the storm make the thought of going to Quincy Center impractical.

The cost of strategically placed shelters in the areas previously mentioned would be minimal as in the past volunteers manned shelters. Said facilities would need to be opened several hours ahead of the storm to ensure a ready shelter that people can get to. The cost of not doing this could be severe if Mother Nature does not cooperate in the future.

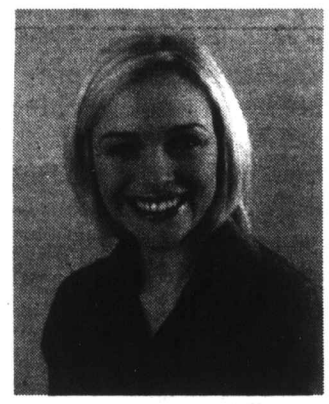
John McCone
Darrow Street

Hughes Re-Elected State GOP Chair

By SCOTT JACKSON

Kirsten Hughes has been re-elected to her second term as the chairwoman of the Massachusetts Republican Party, just months after the GOP reclaimed the governor's office.

Hughes, a Quincy resident and the Ward 5 city councillor, has served as the chairwoman of the state GOP since 2013. She was overwhelmingly re-elected to a second term Jan. 29. Under Hughes' leadership of the party in 2014, Republicans Charlie Baker and Karyn Polito were elected the Bay State's new governor and lieutenant governor, respectively. The party also added seats in both chambers of the state legislature.



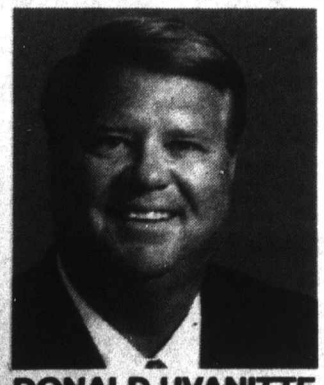
KIRSTEN HUGHES

"I look forward to the next two years as chairman of this party, and working with our governor and lieutenant governor to bring balance and fiscal responsibility to Beacon Hill," Hughes said in a statement.

"In my second term, I will implement plans to build upon our recent successes, to grow the ranks of our party, to further strengthen our town and city committees, and to continue to improve our use of data and technology to reach and to inform voters about our outstanding candidates."

Hughes, 37, has been active in the Republican Party since the age of 12 when she stuffed envelopes for William Weld's gubernatorial campaign. During the 2006 and 2010 election cycles she worked with the state party, and in 2008 was a field staffer for U.S. Sen. John McCain's presidential campaign before working for U.S. Sen. Scott Brown's re-election campaign in 2012.

Hughes was elected to the Quincy City Council in 2011 and ran unopposed in 2013 for re-election; she has said she will run again in this November's municipal election. Hughes is an attorney.

21 locations
Eastern insurance
AUTO • HOME • BUSINESS
LIFE & EMPLOYEE BENEFITS
WORKERS COMPENSATION • UMBRELLA
MARINE • BONDS • PROFESSIONAL LIABILITY


DONALD UVANITTE
Sr. Vice President,
CIC, ARM AAI, AU, AIS, CRIS, LIA
(617) 328-8300
(508) 270-5317
382 Quincy Ave.
Quincy, MA 02169
DUvanitte@easterninsurance.com
21 locations
21 locations
21 locations

DENTISTRY for the 21st Century

by Steven A. Brustin, D.M.D.
TONGUE THRUSTING

"Tongue thrusting" is the infantile technique of swallowing that involves thrusting the tongue against the teeth while swallowing. This swallowing technique helps develop the muscles of the tongue and cheeks, and it strengthens the swallowing reflex. If it is not halted by about ten years of age, the pressure exerted on permanent teeth can affect the alignment of children's teeth and even their speech. It is estimated that more than two-thirds of children between the ages of five and eight years exhibit tongue thrust, which can be a difficult problem to correct since, unlike thumb-sucking, tongue thrusting is done unconsciously. Fortunately, regular dental examinations will reveal any dental irregularities that the dentist may use to diagnose the problem.

No specific cause has actually been determined for the tongue thrust problem. However, diagnosis usually is made when the child displays a dental or speech problem that needs correction. Our entire staff provides superior oral health care for the entire family. For answers to your oral health issue questions we invite you to call our office at 617 479-6220. We are pleased to provide you with state-of-the-art dental care at 44 Greenleaf Street. We offer the services of anesthesiology with a fully trained and qualified anesthesiologist.

P.S. The average person swallows about 1,200 to 2,000 times every 24 hours, with about four pounds of pressure exerted with each swallow.

White Wallop Leaves $1.76M Snow Budget In Red

Cont'd From Page 2

nities do fine residents. Boston, for example, has a $50 fine for homeowners who do not shovel. Koch said charging Quincy homeowners would be unfair.

"When our plows are pushing snow onto sidewalks it's unfair to penalize elderly residents, for instance, for not shoveling it. I just ask people to be reasonable," the mayor said, adding that both pedestrians and drivers need to exercise caution.

The city used some 3,000 tons of salt to keep roads clear during last week's blizzard, according to mayor spokesman Chris Walker, and a total of 4,000 to 5,000 for all three snowstorms in the past week. The Department of Public Works had 5,000 tons of salt available before last week's blizzard and has been able to replenish its supplies; Koch is confident the city has enough for more storms.

"We continually get salt in," he said.

The snowstorms have forced Quincy Public Schools officials to cancel six straight days of classes before reopening yesterday (Wednesday); schools had been closed since Jan. 27. The six snow days have pushed back the last day of school for most students to Wednesday, June 24. (The last day for graduating seniors is unaffected by the snow days and remains May 29.)

The mayor said Superintendent Dr. Richard DeCristofaro does consider the disruption caused by missing consecutive days of school and the cost of cooling buildings down on summer days when making the decision to call a snow day, but the first priority is safety.

"It's something we think about and we don't take it lightly," Koch said. "Public safety is the priority and that's what it comes down to."

The six days of missed school leaves four more weekdays in the month of June in which classes could be held if anymore days are missed. In the event the school department calls off classes for more than four additional days, it would be up to the School Committee to decide how they would be made up. Laura Owens, assistant to the superintendent, said it's too late in the school year to cancel February vacation and highly unlikely April vacation would be called off or classes held on Saturdays. Instead, the department could seek a waiver from the state, something that happened in 1978, for example.

"That would be something the School Committee would decide, but it's highly unlikely," Owens said Tuesday of curtailing April vacation or opening schools on Saturdays.

"I don't think Quincy has ever cancelled a vacation week...there has been no discussion about alternate days."

The last time schools were closed for six days for inclement weather was the 2012-2013 school year. Hurricane Sandy forced the closure of schools for one day in October 2012; three days of classes were called off because of the Blizzard of 2013; and there were two other snow days.

The storms also forced the postponement of a School Committee meeeting originally planned for Jan. 28 to Tuesday; only items related to the Massachusetts School Building Authority were to be heard during the makeup meeting, with other items on the agenda deferred to Feb. 11.

Cont'd On Page 32

SIDEWALK PLOW operated by a Department of Public Works employee clears snow along a walkway in McIntyre Mall near City Hall Monday morning apparently under the watchful eye of John Adams. Draped around the neck of the statue of the second President of the United States is a sign reading "Patriots Strong" in tribute to the New England Patriots' fourth Super Bowl championship in franchise history that came Sunday night over the Seattle Seahawks.

Quincy Sun Photo/Robert Bosworth

With access to more than 55,000 ATMs worldwide in the Allpoint Network,

We're everywhere.

East Boston Savings Bank®

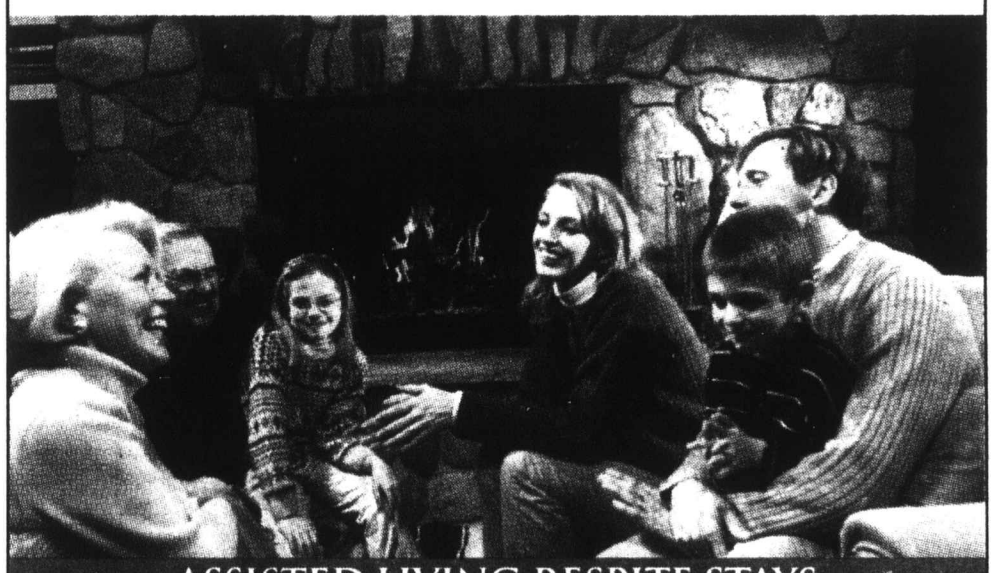
Mt. Washington Bank

A Division of East Boston Savings Bank

Partners In Community Banking

Member FDIC Member DIF

Short Stays –
A Perfect Vacation this Season!



ASSISTED LIVING RESPITE STAYS
AT ALLERTON HOUSE

Find out if assisted living is the answer for you or a loved one. It's perfect for the times family caregivers are away. Experience the Welch family's 65 year tradition of exceptional care, housing and hospitality!

ALLERTON HOUSE GUESTS ENJOY

- Three meals a day with friends
- Exciting activities, clubs, entrainment & outings
- Help with daily routines – from medications to transportation
- 24-hour support in a beautiful, modern fully furnished rental apartment

STAY 1 WEEK & ENJOY YOUR 2ND WEEK FREE*

Limited time only. Based upon availability.

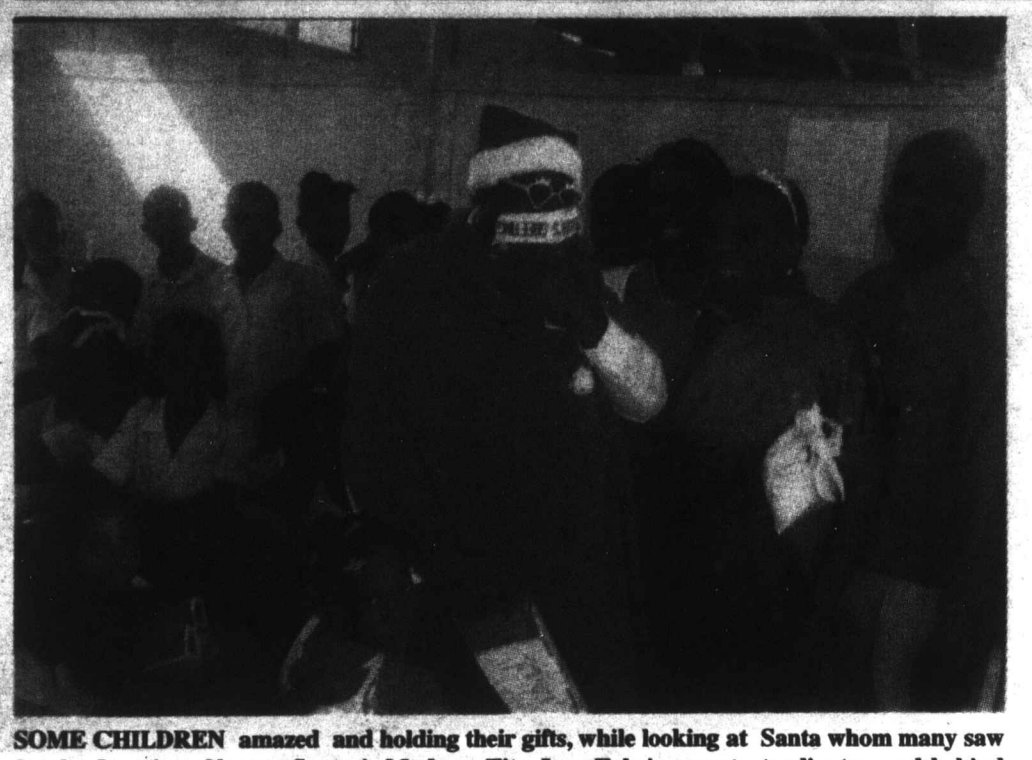
CALL TODAY TO JOIN US FOR LUNCH & A TOUR!

Allerton House
QUINCY
164 Parkingway • Quincy
339-788-2979

Over 65 Years of Quality Service
Welch
HEALTHCARE AND RETIREMENT GROUP
www.welchhrg.com

BAXTER PHARMACY
PRESCRIPTIONS

BAXTER PHARMACY AND MEDICAL SUPPLIES
DEDICATED TO OLD FASHIONED SERVICE
Hours: M-F 8AM-6:30PM Sat 9AM-4PM
ORTHOPEDIC SUPPORTS • BATH SAFETY PRODUCTS • DIABETIC SUPPLIES
OSTOMY • WALKERS • CANES • CRUTCHES • COMMODES • CARDS • GIFT ITEMS
464 Washington Street, Quincy, MA
LOCAL DELIVERY AVAILABLE 617-773-7733 www.baxterpharmacy.com



SOME CHILDREN amazed and holding their gifts, while looking at Santa whom many saw for the first time. Next to Santa is Madame Tita Jean Fabein, event coordinator, and behind them Marie-Denise next to the principal of Saint Yves Shool Jacques Robert Jean Louis.

Photo Courtesy Marie-Denise Fabien

At Saint Yves School In Haiti

Quincy Residents Help Achieve Wonderful 'Noel Extravaganza'

On Dec. 22, Saint Yves School in Port-au-Prince, Haiti was the scene of an amazing Christmas celebration.

This wonderful "Noel Extravaganza" took place thanks to the generosity of several Quincy businesses, especially Wal-Mart and manager Mike Aunkst, Gennaro Eatery and owner Gerry, Meineke on Southern Artery and manager Bob; and the Law Office of Attorney Robert Dolbec.

The ongoing efforts of several Quincy residents namely Susan Lynn of Bernazanni School, Susan Bill, Christopher and Lisa-Marie McGurty; and Marie-Denise Fabien made this superb event possible.

Marie-Denise traveled to her native country Haiti and helped deliver the toys, school supplies and money to the students and teachers of Saint Yves.

The festivity began with a visit from the Sacred Heart parish priest in Port-au-Prince, Father Simonise, who blessed the school and students. Then, while the youngsters children were chanting "Santa do not forget the children of Haiti," Santa Claus himself made a surprisingly triumphal appearance in the school's yard to the delight of all the children. Each student, dressed beautifully in a remarkably bright pink, or blue and white uniform, received from Santa a marvelous gift.

Everyone received a present. Some of the students got their first and only new toy as well as monetary

Cont'd On Page 31

Something Special For Your Valentine

Villa Rosa Restaurant & Lounge

VALENTINES SPECIALS

BAKED STUFFED JUMBO SHRIMP
seafood stuffing served with grilled asparagus wrapped in capicolla
and grilled butternut squash
19.99

BROILED SWORDFISH
served with Mediterranean rice
and fresh mixed vegetables
17.99

PRIME RIB DINNER
served with salad and a baked potato
24.99

DESSERT SPECIAL:
BLUEBERRY SHORTCAKE
with local blueberries topped with whipped cream
4.99

705 Adams Street, Quincy • (617)773-0095

Valentine's Weekend Fri. & Sat., Feb. 13 & 14, 2015

Sweetheart
Valentine's Specials

- Raspberry Swirl Pancakes
- Lobster Roll - One half-pound of our delicious lobster salad on a grilled, buttery brioche roll
- Prime Rib - Roasted to perfection
- Lobster Pie - Broiled claw & knuckle meat, buttery cream sauce & seafood stuffing
- Baked Stuffed Cod - Fresh North Atlantic Cod with seafood stuffing & lobster sauce
- "Hugs 'n Kisses Sundae"

Hearth 'n Kettle Approved
RESTAURANTS • Est. 1973
25 Summer Street (John Carver Inn), PLYMOUTH • (508)747-7405
151 Main Street, WEYMOUTH • (781)331-7007
www.HearthnKettle.com

Valentine Special

Facial,
Mini-Massage,
Manicure
and Free Box of Chocolates
$99

CHRISTINE'S
DAY SPA & ELECTROLOGY
65 Willard Street • 617-786-1620
www.quincyspa.com
On-line Gift Certificates

Captain Fishbones
332 Victory Road.
Marina Bay, MA 02171
617 471-3511

Valentine's Day Weekend 2015
Saturday, February 14th
Available 5pm-Close
Four Course Dinner for Two and Bottle of Wine $79.99

Choice of Appetizer
Edamame Dumplings, Lobster and Corn Fritters,
Scallops wrapped in Bacon

Choice of Clam Chowder or Salad
Caesar - Mixed Greens - Clam Chowder

Choice of Entree
Prime Rib
Surf & Turf Filet Mignon and Baked Stuffed Shrimp
1 1/4 lb Baked Stuffed Lobster
Braised Short Ribs
Cedar Plank Salmon with Maple Glaze
Fruitti di Mare

Choice of Dessert and Coffee
Chocolate Mousse with Chocolate Chip Cream Topping
or Apple Crisp

Choose a Bottle of House Wine or House Champagne

*Live Maine Lobsters while they last *Single Dinner Without Wine $32.99

www.captainfishbones.com • Make Your Reservations Now

Authentic Italian Food
GENNARO'S EATERY
Family Dining with Flair

"Traditional Italian Dining 21 Years & Growing"

Stone Deck Pizzas
Pasta, Chicken, Veal
Italian Pastries

Bring your Valentine to dine where quality
& value are king!

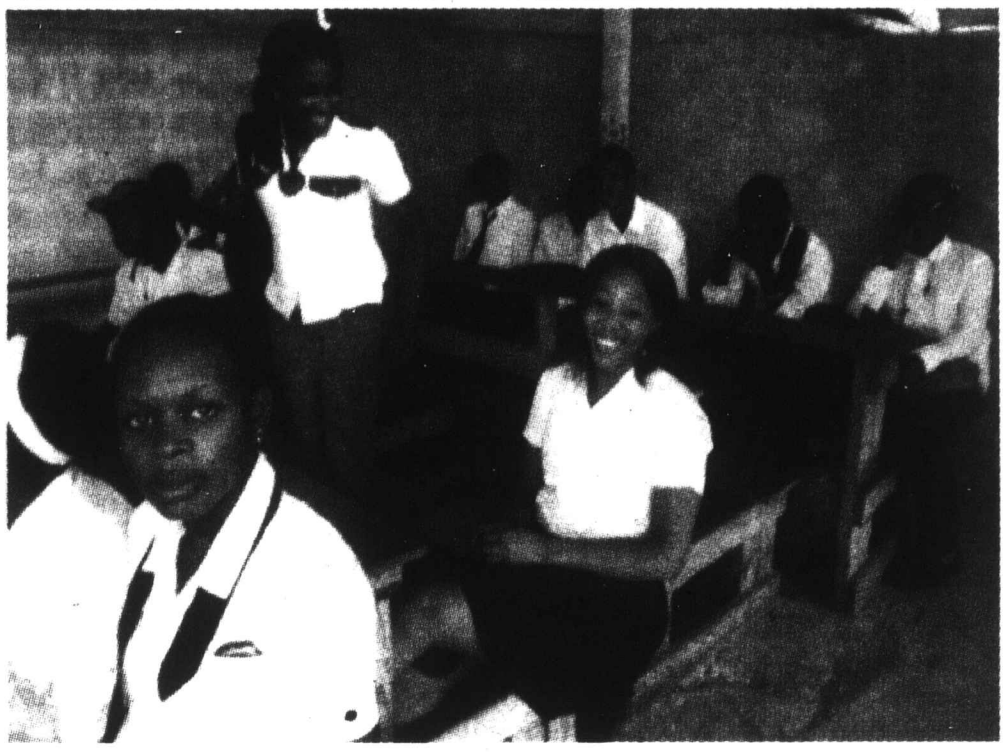
Take-out Available

617-773-1500
12 BLANCHARD ROAD, QUINCY
www.gennaroseatery.com

FEBRUARY
FLAVOR OF THE MONTH
CHOCOLATE
Raspberry

Coffee Break CAFE LOCAL
12 Old Colony Avenue, Quincy: (617) 773-9420
77 Parkingway, Quincy:(617) 786-8888
247 Atlantic Street, Quincy:(617) 328-8090
Buy Online: coffeebreakcafe.net

SOME OF THE younger students dressed in their colorful pink uniform gather in their class before the surprise Christmas celebration at Saint Yves School in Port-au-Prince, Haiti. The event was made possible in part because of generous support from local residents and businesses.



A GROUP OF 8th graders dressed in their white and blue class uniforms class joyfully await for Santa.

Photos Courtesy Marie-Denise Fabien

We LOVE Chocolate!

$60 each treatment
or Pair 2 for $100

'Cocoa Truffle' Facial
'Essence of Chocolate' Massage
'Benefits of Chocolate' Body Scrub

Add Strawberry or Raspberry to your treatment for Valentine's Day!

the spa AT BONCALDO'S

76 Beale Street, Quincy, MA 02170 (617) 471-9515 www.boncaldos.com

Ginger Betty's Bakery

215 Samoset Ave, Quincy
617 472 4729
www.gingerbetty.com

SHARE WITH THE ONES YOU LOVE!

CLIFFORD'S FLOWERS

$10.00 OFF
any $50.00 Purchase (mention this ad)
*SPECIAL OFFERS MAY NOT BE COMBINED
Call, click or visit our new location at 86 Liberty Street!
86 Liberty Street, Quincy • (617)479-8884 • www.cliffords.com

The Common Market
In conjunction with JM Productions
~ Presents our ~
2015 Valentine's Day Ball
Saturday, February 14th 6:30 pm
Call 617-773-9532 For Tickets
Tickets are $45 per person & includes:
4 course dinner, tax & gratuity,
Dancing with Boston's own, nationally acclaimed
White Heat Swing Quartet
www.commonmarketrestaurants.com

BellaDerma Aesthetics, LLC

It's All About the FACE
No Wrinkles, No Hair, No Sun Spots

Treatment of the Month
Environ® Age Management and Resurfacing Treatment $100

Botox® & Juvederm® XC
Botox $10 per unit / Juvederm $450 per syringe

Laser Hair Removal Series of 6 Treatments
VOTED BEST OF BRAINTREE FOR 6 STRAIGHT YEARS 2009-2014
Small Area: Choose: Lip or Chin : $200
Medium Area: Choose: Full Face (Full Face, Chin, Neck) / Underarms / Bikini: $450
Large Area: Choose: Back / Brazilian Bikini / Upper Leg / Lower Leg: $750

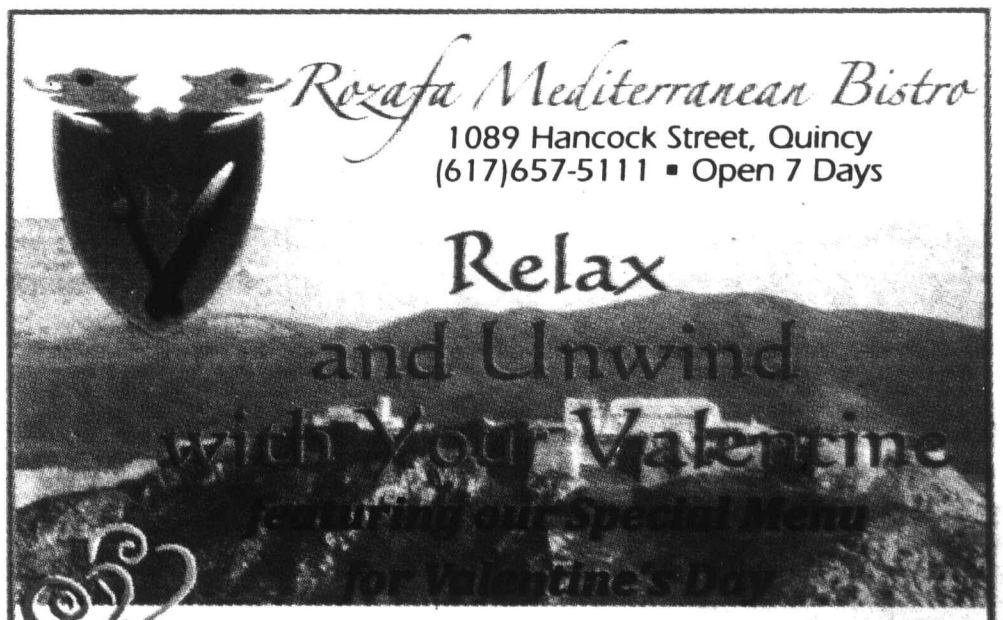
New Services
Teeth Whitening - 60 Minutes (reg. $125) $75
Lash Extensions - Natural or Classic Set (reg. $150-$200) $99
Envy Spray Tan $40 Full Body / Legs Only $25

Slender Bodies Body Contouring
A combination of two proven technologies: Kontur & Pure Light Slim
Benefits: Detoxify the Body / Inch Loss & Body Shaping / Cellulite Reduction
Weight Loss / Tighten and Rejuvenate Skin/ Pain Management / Post Pregnancy Recovery
Series of 12 treatments $599 / Single Treatment $125

"How old you are is your business...
How old you look is ours!" ™

Our NEW location across from the South Shore Plaza
10 Forbes Rd. Suite 270 East Entrance Braintree I 781-535-6886
www.belladermaskinclinic.com

Rozafa Mediterranean Bistro
1089 Hancock Street, Quincy
(617)657-5111 ▪ Open 7 Days



Saturday, February 14TH 5-10 PM
see our website for details
www.rozafabistro.com

NORTH QUINCY High School basketball Hall of Famer and longtime boys hoop coach Ted Stevenson (third from right) was honored before last Friday night's North Quincy game against Middleboro. Here he is joined by members of his family including his wife Karen, son Ted, Jr. and daughter Alisa and his grandchildren as well as current Red Raider coach Kevin Barrett (second from right) and School Committeeman Paul Bregoli (far right). Quincy Sun Photos/Larry Carchedi

NORTH QUINCY boys basketball varsity head coach Kevin Barrett presents a plaque to Ted Stevenson honoring the Red Raider Hall of Famer and longtime hoop coach. The plaque will reside in the Hunt Street Lobby of North Quincy High School with other school coaching honorees.

Longtime Red Raider Coach Ted Stevenson Honored

'My Best Memories Are Of The Kids'

By BILL GRIFFIN

The best memories are always about the people.

Friday night before the game against Middleboro, former North Quincy coach and player Ted Stevenson was presented with a plaque which will hang in the Hall of Honor along Hunt Street. Stevenson won 149 games as a coach. He averaged nearly 19 points per game as a player. He is a member of the North Quincy Hall of Fame.

However, when Stevenson looked back, he did not think of wins and losses and tournaments and jump shots and assists. He thought about the people – the players, coaches and friends – he met along his fine journey, and he thought about the honored company he joined and joined forever Friday night.

"My best memories are of the kids, watching them develop, building a camaraderie with them," he said. "That was the best part of the job. They kept me young and involved. That's what I remember most.

"This is a humbling night for me. I looked at some of those plaques in the hall. There are guys like Knobby Nolan and Carl Leone. I'm honored just to be remembered in the same breath with them."

People begin with family. In his first season in 1987, Stevenson coached his son Ted Stevenson Jr. Amazingly, he also coached Bob Herman who would eventually become his son-in-law. His son won the scoring title in the Suburban League, which included powers like Brockton and Cambridge, and is a member of the North Quincy Hall of Fame with his dad. Herman would be best described as a defender and a rebounder.

"His nickname was Hacksaw," smiled Stevenson. "He was a tough player. It was a wonderful experience coaching my own son. He averaged almost 18 points a game and that was a tough league. He went up against kids who played Division 1 in college."

Herman, The Hacksaw, also gave Stevenson something he never expected. A hockey player.

"My grandson Ethan is a freshman on the North hockey team," said Stevenson. "I don't know where he came from. We're a family of basketball players. I can't explain it. But I love watching him play."

Stevenson coached from 1987 to 2002. He made the tournament seven times. He had a 15-5 team. His team had a memorable four-overtime win over Silver Lake. However, when asked to mention one team he will never forget, he picked a team that had very little to do with wins and losses.

"One year we were 3-15, but I loved coaching that team," he said. "I knew I would get 150 per cent every game and practice. We were playing Plymouth South in the final game of the season. We were down by 20 in the final seconds, and one of my kids went diving for a ball so hard that he broke his arm. That's the way we played all year."

Stevenson mentioned Brian Ross who went on to play for Boston College and Matt Beston who starred at Stonehill. He talked about Brad Gray, Eric Debeor, Desmond Bellott and B.J. Silva. He had one regret.

"I'm leaving so many out that I should mention," he said.

"I was so happy that my son got to play for a man like Ted," said Paul Beston. Paul is a member of the Quincy Hall of Fame. Matt is a member of the North Hall of Fame.

Stevenson could shoot. He poured in 32 against Quincy and 35 against Lowell. As a senior captain, he led his team to a 12-7 finish in the Greater Boston League.

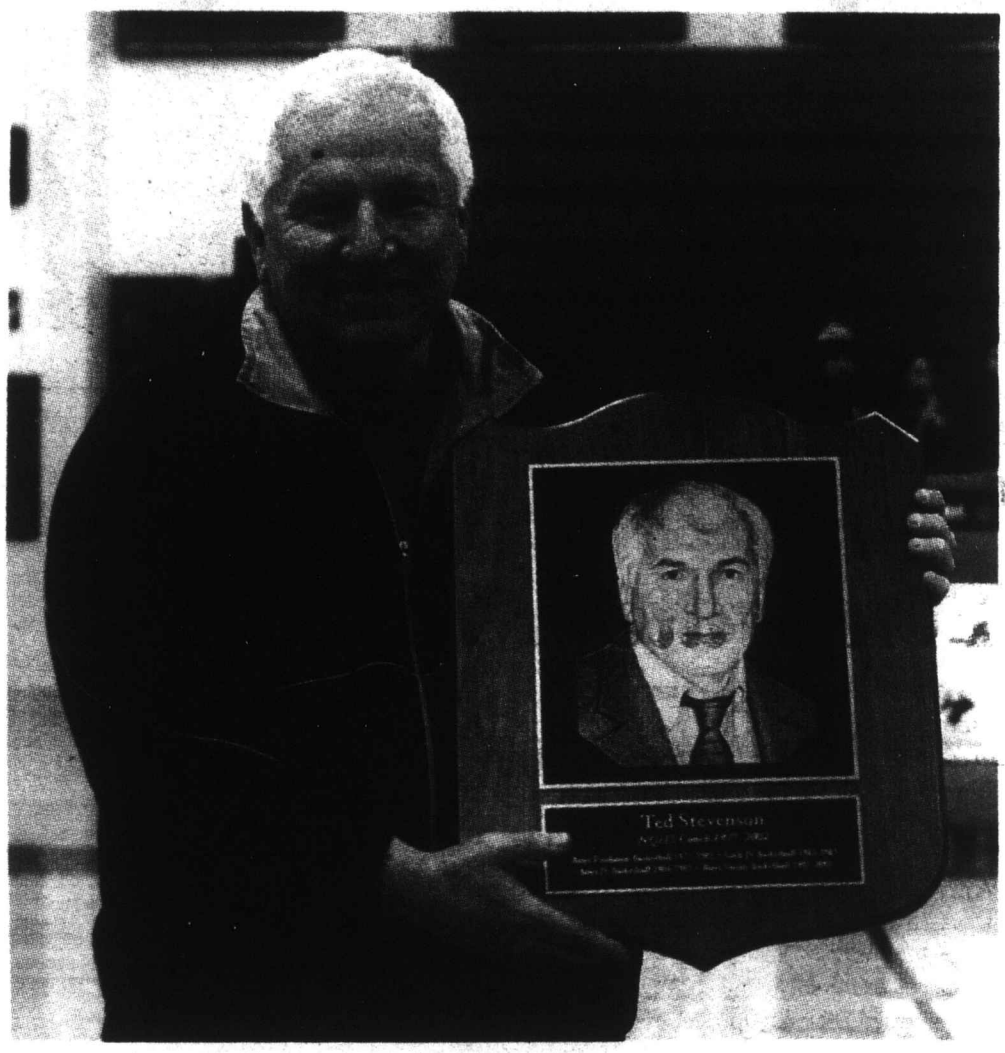
"The Lowell coach played a zone and kept yelling at his players that I couldn't keep making that shot all night. Well for one night, I did," grinned Stevenson.

"I remember the Lowell game and I also remember the Malden game. I think he was 4-for-40. I did the shot chart," joked Paul Bregoli, a school committee member who presented Stevenson with his plaque.

Stevenson played for Ken Erickson at North and former Celtics standout Jim Loscutoff at Boston State.

He was an assistant to Eddie Miller on the boys team and to Bregoli on the girls hoop team. He was at North during grand times when Jim Rendle coached volleyball and Ken McPhee coached football. He learned from all of them.

"A coach picks things up from everyone and uses them all," said Stevenson. "I will always be grateful to Eddie and Paul for getting me involved in coaching. From Ken Erickson, I learned about motivation, how to get players to play their best. Jim Loscutoff was a real gentleman. If you had a problem, any problem on or off the court, you could go to him and he would help you out."



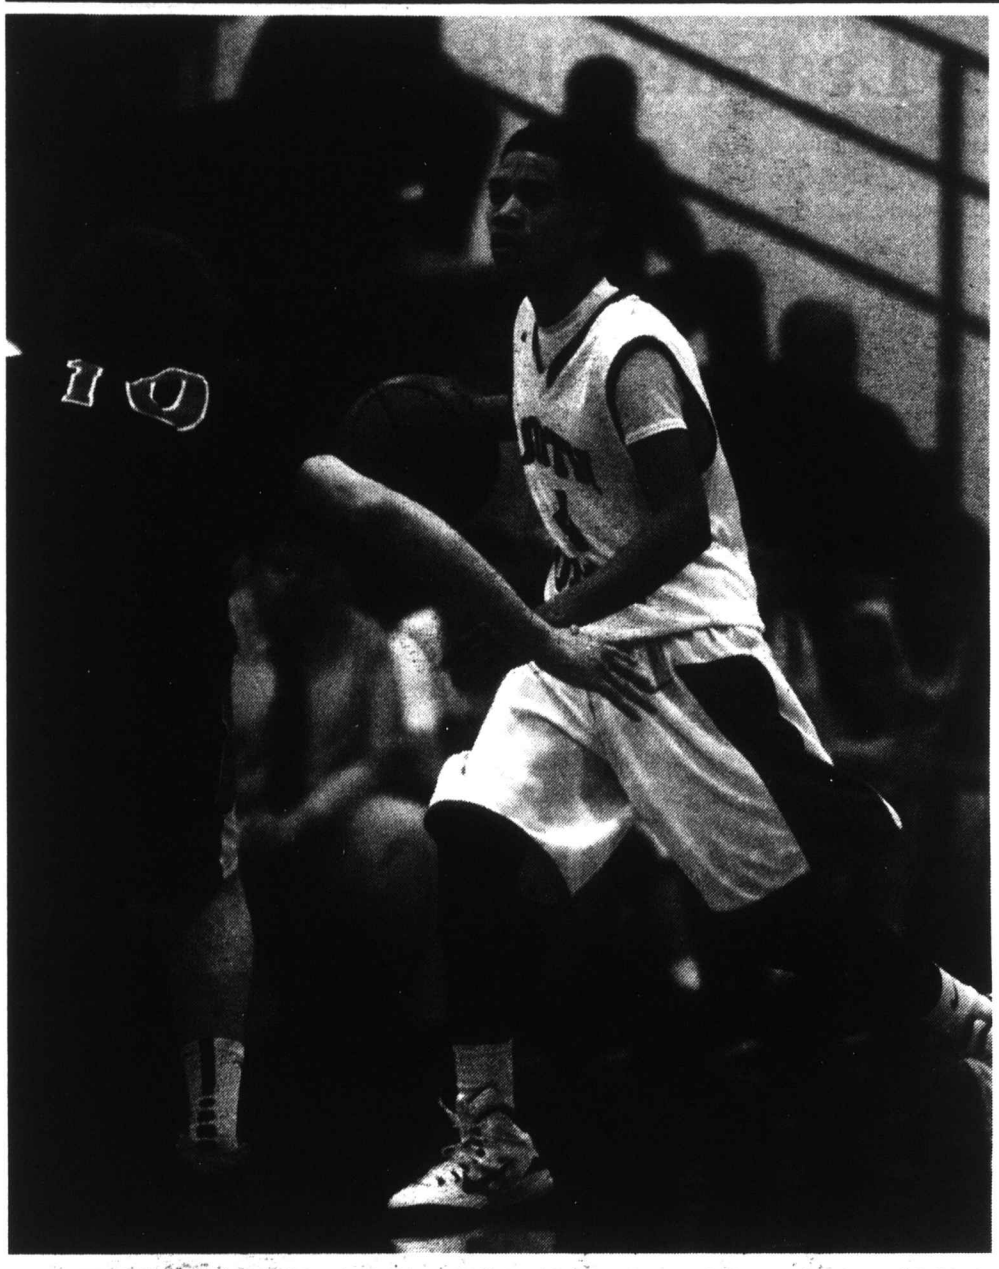
TED STEVENSON was honored for his many years with the North Quincy basketball program last Friday night. Stevenson was head coach of the NQHS boys basketball program for 15 years and was also a coach with the boys and girls JV programs. Ted played basketball at Boston State College where he played under Celtics great Jim Loscutoff.

Stevenson's family was in the gym for the presentation. His wife Karen ("St. Karen," joked Bregoli), his son, daughter, and four grandchildren saw Stevenson join a rare circle in the lobby outside the North gym.

"He was a great coach and a great friend. He would do anything at anytime to help his players, his coaches or his friends," said Bregoli in tribute.

Well said, coach.

SCHOOL COMMITTEEMAN Paul Bregoli (far right) hosted the ceremonies honoring Ted Stevenson (second from right) last Friday night at North Quincy High School. With Ted are his wife Karen and children Ted Jr. and Alisa.



DHAAKY DRAKE led the North Quincy offense with 18 points and nine assists in an 86-66 victory over Middleboro last Friday night. With the win, the Red Raiders can clinch a spot in the state tournament with two more victories. Quincy Sun Photos/Larry Carchedi

North Quincy's Offense Penetrates Middleboro

By BILL GRIFFIN

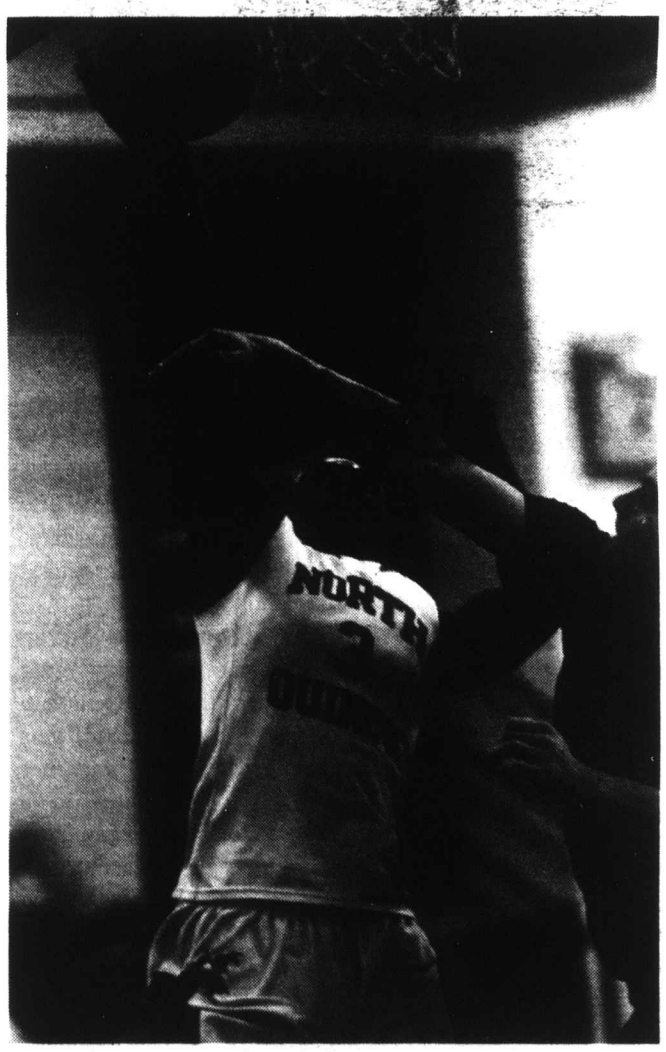
Question: How does a team score 25 field goals within 10 feet of the basket and not pull down a fistful of offensive rebounds?

Answer: They penetrate and pass the ball. They get into the lane, draw the defense, and unselfishly find the open man for layups and short jump shots.

Junior point guard Dhaaky Drake led the way with 18 points and nine assists, and North Quincy passed and penetrated its way to an 86-66 decision over Middleboro in a Patriot League Fisher Division contest at the North Quincy gym Friday night.

"I thought we did a good job of attacking their defense and getting a good shot off our drives," said North coach Kevin Barrett. "We forced the defense to stop the penetration and identified the open shooter."

The results were excellent offensive numbers especially in the second half when the Red Raiders cleared out the cobwebs from no practice for four days due to the blizzard. North was 25-42 from the field. All of the shots came within 10 feet. Toss in six three pointers and if not for a so-so night from the foul line (18-36), North would have flirted with the 100-point mark.



Solomon Umoren is fouled by Middleboro forward D.J. Freitas in the first half. Umoren scored eight points for the Red Raiders in an 86-66 win over the Sachems last Friday night.

The Red Raiders (8-6) were 9-for-12 in the third as they opened a 43-30 halftime lead to 65-42 entering the fourth. It ballooned to 73-47 early in the fourth. Eleven players cracked the scoring column. North shared the ball. The Red Raiders passed well out of their set offense, but were most impressive on the break, frequently covering the floor with two passes and three touches without the ball hitting the floor for more than a dribble.

"We talked at halftime about not settling for a jump shot, to keep attacking until we got a layup or a high-

Cont'd On Page 27

Quincy Plows Past Silver Lake, 73-58

By TREVOR WENNERS

Seniors Drew Myers, Colin Evans, Tyler Beach and Carl Zapata combined for eight three-pointers for the Quincy High School boys basketball team in a 73-58 victory over host Silver Lake on Friday.

"I thought we came out and played well considering that we had a couple days off (because of) the snow," said senior captain James Lam. "I thought we played good defense and pushed the ball when it needed to be."

The Lakers took an early 4-2 advantage but the Presidents (11-3 overall, 9-1 in the Patriot League) responded with seven straight points which included a three-pointer and a two-point field goal from Myers. The two-pointer was assisted by Lam and then Lam (12 points) scored a basket to give the Presidents a 9-4 advantage.

"James can do everything," said Presidents head coach Dave Parry. "We've used him as a point guard when we have to if we think the matchup is there and what that does is it gives Drew and Colin (openings because) we can spread the court, they're both very good three-point shooters and then J.T. (Bain), it opens up down low for him."

Bain would register 6 of his 10 points in the opening quarter and Quincy would hold a 20-12 lead after the first.

"I told the kids in the locker room that their pride and their defense was going to win this game, not so much their offense," said Parry. "Obviously you got to put the ball in the basket but you got to dig down and prevent those guys from scoring as much (and) fortunately we were able to do that. Drew (hit shots) when we needed him to and Colin and then James at the end."

Lam scored the first points of the second quarter to extend Quincy's lead to 22-12. Sophomore forward Kevin Deree responded with a three-pointer for the Lakers to trim Quincy's lead to seven points. Myers (26 points) would score eight points in the second quarter including two three-pointers and Evans (19 points) would score five points to help Quincy to a 35-23 lead at the break.

Silver Lake scored the first six points of the second half which featured four points from sophomore center Cameron Keefe and two points from senior center Nathan Youssef. After the run, Quincy held a 35-29 lead. Evans would register 10 points in the third quarter and the Presidents held a 60-44 advantage going into the final quarter.

Quincy controls their own destiny for the Patriot League Title as they are currently in first place in the Patriot League Keenan Division.

"We have one loss (in the league), Whitman-Hanson has two losses and I think Plymouth North has four losses so we really control our destiny," said Parry. "That's what you want as a competitor. You want to be able to say we did it and hopefully we'll be able to do that."

Myers scored five points, and Lam and Evans each scored four points in the final quarter as Quincy held a double digit lead for the entire fourth.

Throughout the game the Presidents moved the ball well and hit the open man. Lam, who also has played quarterback during his time at Quincy for the football team, made some passes to find open teammates for baskets during the game.

"It helps a ton, it helps a ton," said Lam of how much being the quarterback for the football team has helped him in his basketball game specifically in passing. "I see the open man and I have a strong enough arm thankfully to get it to him."

The unselfishness was a constant theme throughout the game for the Presidents as they continuously shared the ball and found open shots for teammates.

"We don't care who scores the basket as long as the basket is scored," said Lam.

After the win against Silver Lake, the Presidents have eight regular season games remaining this season including six league games. They hosted Whitman-Hanson on Tuesday, and they will travel to Hingham Friday.

Recent snowfall has also altered two previously scheduled games for Quincy.

The game scheduled for Tuesday, Jan. 27 against Pembroke was rescheduled to Sunday, Feb. 8 at 2 p.m. Quincy's game against Duxbury Jan. 24 will be made up Feb. 19.

"Good ball movement and very good defense," said Parry of the keys moving forward. "We have to keep working on our defense without fouling and that will take us where we want to go and that's the name of the game at this level at this time of year."

Quincy defeated Barnstable 58-51 in the first round of the Division 1 South Tournament last season. They lost to North Quincy 64-56 in the quarterfinals.

Lam also highlighted the importance of defense going forward this season saying, "Defense wins championships."

Lam also spoke of what the goals are this season for the team.

"We're going for the top, we want the state tournament, we think we can compete like that," he said. "We want to go far in the tournament and hopefully make the state championship."

Evans, Lam, Bain and Myers are all seniors this season so this will be their final season competing together in basketball at Quincy High.

"We want to make this season special," said Lam.

VOICE FOR HEALTH

by Dr. Gabrielle Freedman
Chiropractor

WEIGHT LOSS, A JOINT EFFORT

Chiropractic treatment may not immediately come to mind when those looking to lose weight search for an effective weight-loss program, but it should. Unlike weight-loss pills, diets, boot-camp regimens, and surgery, chiropractic treatment works on multiple levels. To begin with, chiropractors are expert at removing interferences that block the transmission of nervous energy from the brain to the rest of the body. Once nerve energy is restored, the body is better able to function as nature intended, with better absorption of nutrients, increased system function, and improved attitude. Regular chiropractic adjustments also help improve joint performance, increase mobility, and promote movement. An active and flexible body fueled by a nutritious diet makes for a healthy lifestyle and attendant weight loss.

Trying to trim your waistline? Working with your chiropractor could help. Have you been trying to lose weight without success? As today's column suggests, chiropractic care may be able to assist you. At Family Practice of Chiropractic, we will be happy to answer any questions you may have. Call 617.472.4220 to schedule an appointment and let us help you take control of your health. Our safe and gentle adjusting methods offer you relief from pain, as well as restored function and mobility of affected joints. We're located at 112 McGrath Hwy., Quincy.

P.S. Chiropractic treatment increases self-awareness and discourages unhealthy behaviors that lead to weigh gain.

www.freedmanchiro.com

QNQ Swimmers Compete In League Championships

Six swimmers from Quincy and North Quincy earned Patriot League All-Star accolades at the Patriot League Championships held Jan. 31 at the Lincoln-Hancock Pool in Quincy.

The QNQ boys (4-3) squad earned fourth overall with 157 points, just 10 points behind third-place Hanover. On the girls side, Quincy (2-6) landed sixth with 100 points, and North Quincy (1-7) placed eighth totaling 65 points.

Two Quincy swimmers merited all-star accolades thanks to first and third in the 100-yard butterfly race. Senior Sabrina Rauch swam 1:09.04 and sophomore Gracie Scuzzarella was third (1:11.59), less than one second off second place, before she landed seventh in the 100 backstroke (1:11.09). Rauch also placed ninth in the 50 free (27.71) two places ahead of North Quincy's Li Wen Wong, another All-Star, who went 28.37 before she placed third in the 100 breaststroke (1:18.85).

For the boys, sophomore Thomas Tran (Q) placed second and third respectively when he bettered his own school record by two seconds in the 100 breaststroke (1:04.31) and lowered his seed time by close to two seconds in the 100 butterfly (59.81). Two more Patriot League All-Stars included classmate Tommy Zhang (NQ) who was third in the 100 backstroke (1:01.79) and tied for fourth in the 50 free (24.54) where senior Randall Kwong (NQ) finished third (24.42) before taking fourth in twice the distance (55.41).

The QNQ all-stars joined junior Mason Francoeur (Q) for second in the 200 medley relay clocking 1:49.70, nearly three seconds faster than their seed time. The same quartet earned third in the 200 freestyle relay again bettering its best time by nearly two seconds with a 1:39.28 effort.

Junior Brian Rooney (Q) swam 2:25.59 for 11th in the 200 freestyle. Also placing 11th were senior captain Stiven Kodra (Q) in the 200 individual medley (2:45.10) when he bested his seed time by six seconds, and Francoeur in the 50 freestyle (26.50).

Senior captain Mike Mullaney was one of four QNQ swimmers who placed in the top 11 for the 50 freestyle with his season-best time of 26.35. In the meet's longest event, the 500 freestyle, Mullaney and Rooney each garnered their fastest times with Mullaney placing seventh (6:28.13) and Rooney placing 10th (6:47.18). Francoeur placed eighth in the 100 backstroke (1:16.41).

Twice a Quincy girls relay team captured fifth including the 200 medley squad where Scuzzarella and Rauch joined senior Marina Chafa and sophomore Bailee Carey for their effort of 2:12.37, and the 200 freestyle relay where the same group swam 1:54.97. Freshman Julie Hong earned 10th in the 500 freestyle swimming 7:11.23, and senior captain Meg Caggiano was 18th in the 200 freestyle (2:43.59).

For North Quincy, Evlyn Scuzzarella was 12th in the 100 backstroke and before that (1:16.85) earned 11th in the 200 individual medley (2:48.59) followed by teammate Grace Anderson who was 14th (2:55.03). Anderson then placed seventh in the 100 butterfly (1:16.17) lowering her seed time by four seconds as teammate Brenna Kirby finished 14th (1:22.88) and Ina Hoti placed 17th (1:30.07). Sophomore Danielle O'Driscoll placed 19th in the 50 freestyle (29.55) and 12th in the 500 freestyle (7:13.54). Freshman Sarah O'Donovan finished ninth in the 100 breaststroke (1:24.08).

The Quincy and North Quincy girls team participate in the Patriot League Diving Championships held Feb. 1. Meet starts at 9 a.m.

Presidents, Panthers Skate To 4-4 Tie

Brian O'Callaghan Pots Two Goals

By TREVOR WENNERS

Brian O'Callaghan scored two goals and Pat Freeman registered a goal and two assists for the Quincy High School boys hockey team in a 4-4 tie against Whitman-Hanson on Saturday at Rockland Ice Rink.

"I thought we dominated the game for two and a half periods," said Presidents head coach Ted Walsh Jr. "And then we got back to undisciplined hockey, we ran around our own end and we left guys uncovered, (Whitman-Hanson) took advantage of it."

The Panthers got on the power play with 10:15 remaining in the first period and senior goalie Ryan Higgins made a great save on a shot from junior captain and defenseman Liam Sweeney. Higgins made another save on a shot by Sweeney on the same penalty kill.

After the Presidents killed off the penalty, senior forward Steve Ross and sophomore forward Pat Quirk generated a chance for the Presidents. Quincy took a 1-0 lead with 49 seconds remaining in the first when O'Callaghan, a senior captain and forward, found the back of the net assisted by Freeman (senior captain and forward) and senior captain and defenseman Brandon Beal.

Senior forward Aidan Pugsley gave the Presidents a 2-0 lead with 7:44 remaining in the second period and the Presidents took that 2-0 advantage into the second intermission.

The Panthers went on a four-minute power play with 2:02 remaining in the second period. The Presidents scored two short-handed goals with the first one coming with 14:42 remaining in the period from Freeman. O'Callaghan added the second one with 14:21 remaining in the game assisted by Freeman to give the Presidents a 4-0 advantage.

"We had our feet moving for most of the game," said Walsh. "And that was the key is we wanted to make sure that our feet were moving, we were in on the forecheck and we worked hard in our own end in practice on covering guys down low."

The Freeman, O'Callaghan and Ryan Harty (senior) line accounted for five points in the game.

"When they use each other like they did today, their probably always going to be the best line on the ice no matter who we play and they have that kind of talent," said Walsh.

Senior captain and defenseman Nick Villanueva tallied his first goal on the power play to trim Quincy's lead to 4-1. Villanueva would score again for the Panthers with 7:49 left and then would find the back of the net with 6:24 left to complete the hat trick.

"The positives (are) we played really good hockey for two and a half periods," said Walsh. "It's a perfect example of why you have to play three full periods instead of two and a half. And now we have to win out if we're going to make the tournament. We have our work cut out for us and it will (be) a minor miracle if we can pull this off but we still believe we can do it and I have full confidence as long as we put three periods together."

Senior captain and forward Zach Burke scored for the Panthers with 3:03 left to tie the game at 4-4.

Both teams would generate some offense in the final few minutes but neither team was able to find the back of the net again with the game ending in a 4-4 tie.

"Judging by what I'm listening to in my locker room right now I think they know that we let one slide," said Walsh. "And obviously as a coaching staff we're going to have to look at the game and break it down and figure out where the breakdowns occurred and go from there."

The Presidents played Duxbury on Wednesday at Quincy Youth Arena at 8:10 p.m. They will play North Quincy on Saturday at 6:40 p.m. at Quincy Youth Arena. They defeated the Red Raiders 3-2 earlier this season.

"North Quincy is a typical Quincy-North Quincy game, it doesn't matter who (is) the better team," said Walsh. "Anything (can happen) on that night."

Riley McLaughlin Scores Two Goals

Q/NQ Girls Hockey Edge Boston Latin

By TREVOR WENNERS

Riley McLaughlin scored two goals and Julia Donovan added a goal and an assist for the Quincy/North Quincy High School girls hockey team in a 5-4 victory over Boston Latin on Saturday evening at Quincy Youth Arena.

"Riley's a sophomore, she had a fantastic freshman year with her point production," said Quincy/North Quincy head coach Steve Burgio. "Even though her points are down a little bit this year she brings a lot to the team with her skating ability (and) her vision on the ice. She sees a lot of things happening before they actually happen; she has a good view of the game and good hockey knowledge."

McLaughlin, a forward, put Quincy/North Quincy on the scoreboard with 9:04 remaining in the opening period.

Junior Maura Crump added a first period power play goal with 5:13 remaining in the first assisted by Donovan (a senior captain and forward) and junior forward Savannah Flynn to give Q/NQ (3-10-1) a 2-0 lead.

Kelsey Murphy scored a goal for Boston Latin with 1:24 left in the first to trim Q/NQ's lead to 2-1. Murphy registered two assists in the game as well.

Bridget Fehily scored her first of three goals for the Lions with 10:28 remaining in the second period to tie the game up at 2-2.

Donovan found the back of the net with 4:29 left in the second period to give Q/NQ a 3-2 lead. McLaughlin added a goal with 2:10 remaining in the second assisted by sophomore forward Kay O'Connor to once again give Q/NQ a two-goal advantage.

"That was a tough win," said Burgio. "We went up early in the game which was nice. (Boston Latin's) first goal was a strange goal on our goaltender. It went off her stick from behind the net and it was kind of strange and then we had a slight breakdown which put them back in the game but the girls fought hard, came back and took the lead, 4-2 in the second."

Fehily scored her second goal of the game for the Lions 20 seconds into the third to cut the Q/NQ lead to 4-3.

Flynn found the back of the net with 11:47 left in the game assisted by freshman Carly McMorrow and senior captain Kelly Donahue to give Q/NQ a 5-3 lead.

"Obviously it made a huge difference in the game, (if it was not for that goal) we would (have) had a tie game 4-4," said Burgio of the importance of Flynn's goal. "It was good to see that they didn't let themselves get down after giving up a goal.

"Each time you go up two goals you think you got control of the game and then (when the other team) gets back in the game sometimes you let yourselves down and you end up letting up another goal quick but they didn't. They fought through it and were fortunate enough to get the next goal to give themselves that cushion again."

The Lions went on the power play with 1:10 remaining in the game and in the final minute they decided to pull their goalie for an extra attacker. Fehily registered a 6-on-4 goal to complete her hat trick for the Lions with 11.5 seconds remaining.

It's always nice to put up five goals on the scoreboard.

"This is something we've talked about, we work on it constantly about getting the puck to the net," said Burgio. "Using your speed to get to the net, get there for rebounds, crash the net. We worked a lot this week on the transition coming out of the zone which I think for the most part worked well. Getting the puck up the ice, getting it into the zone and trying to gain control in the zone, and move the puck around and give yourselves some more opportunities so anytime you can do that, you can give yourselves those opportunities to score and even get the rebounds, I think one of the goals was a rebound goal."

Sophomore goalie Karissa Beal made timely saves throughout the game for Q/NQ.

"She did fantastic," said McLaughlin. "She is getting better every game."

Burgio said, "Her goals against average may not show it but (Beal) makes a lot of great saves to give these girls a chance to be in the games. Even though our record is 3-10-1 right now really if it wasn't for some of the games that Karissa (has) had, the games wouldn't have been as close as they have been."

Q/NQ played Scituate Wednesday at 4 p.m. at Pilgrim Rink in Hingham.

Eight Quincy Students On UNH Dean's List

Eight students from Quincy are on the Dean's List for the fall semester at the University of New Hampshire in Durham, N.H.

Mathew Head of Quincy earned High Honors.

Rachel Mullin of Quincy earned Honors.

Heather Sweeney of Quincy earned High Honors.

Shirley Van of Quincy earned High Honors.

Rachel Papile of Quincy earned Honors.

Hayley Forbes of Quincy earned High Honors.

Elizabeth Forde of Quincy earned Honors.

John Schwartz of Quincy earned Honors.

Scenes From The Blizzard Of 2015

THE BLIZZARD OF 2015 dropped two feet of snow on Quincy Jan. 26 and Jan. 27. School was cancelled for four days because of the blizzard and Monday's snow storm cancelled classes Monday and Tuesday. Here a plow sands Puritan Drive around 8:30 a.m. Jan. 27.

Quincy Sun Photo/Larry Carchedi

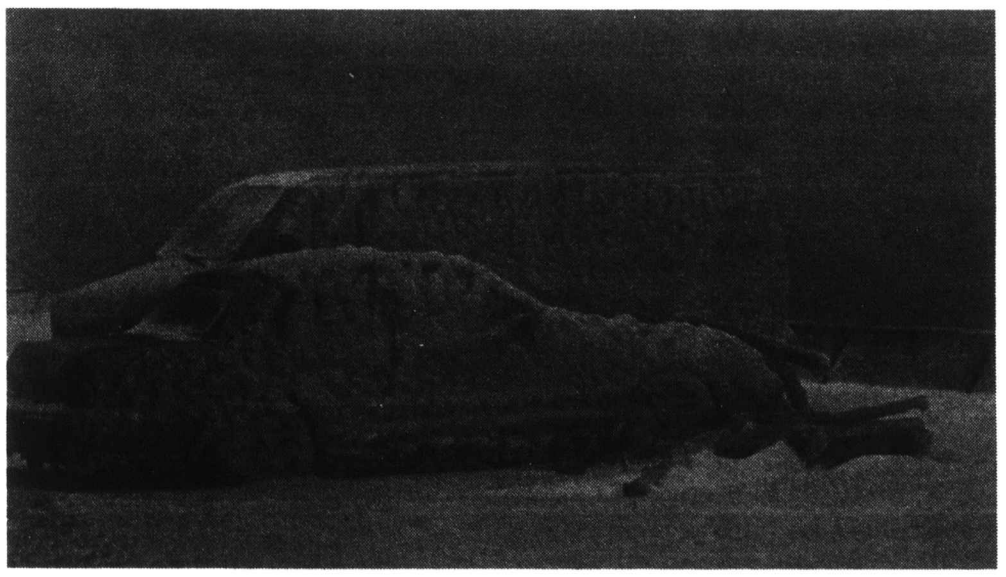
WIND GUSTS of up to 60 miles per hour were recorded during last week's Blizzard. Here wind whips up snow on Wollaston Beach near the Wollaston and Quincy Yacht Clubs.

Quincy Sun Photo/Larry Carchedi

ADAMS NATIONAL HISTORICAL SITE on Adams Street that served as the summer White House for Presidents John Adams and John Quincy Adams looked much more wintry after last week's blizzard blanketed the historic "Old House" with two feet of snow.

Quincy Sun Photo/Larry Carchedi

SNOW FROM the Blizzard of 2015 also made this postcard-like scene at Black's Creek.

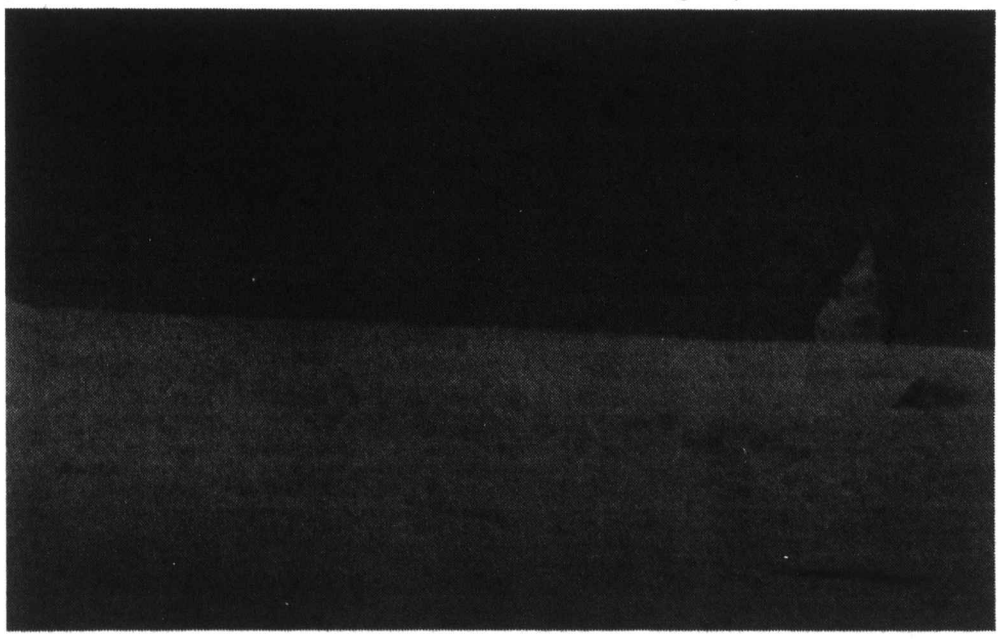


TWO VEHICLES parked along the seawall entering Houghs Neck gave a new meaning to the phrase "on ice."

Quincy Sun Photo/Karen Walker

HEAVY SNOW FALL created white-out conditions throughout the city during the Blizzard of 2015. This photo of Bell Street in Houghs Neck was taken Jan 27 - the second day of the storm – around 11:30 a.m. The ocean (background) is obscured by the low visibility.

Quincy Sun Photo/Karen Walker



LONE SNOWMAN near Edgewater Drive in Houghs Neck appears to look out into the vast grayness created by last week's blizzard perhaps pondering where has the ocean gone.

Quincy Sun Photo/Karen Walker

TWO FEET OF snow created ideal sledding conditions for youngsters throughout the city. Here Joelle and James Robinson are ready to sled down a pile of snow at the end of Manet Avenue.

Quincy Sun Photo/Karen Walker

A Job Well Done

By QUINCY POLICE LT. DAN MINTON

On Monday January 26, 2015, at approximately 5:20 p.m., Officers Dan Parisi, Jim Cassidy, Bill O'Neill, Mike Foley, Jay Borden and Scott Smith were dispatched to Trafford Street area on a report of a Breaking and Entering in progress. While en route, the male caller/homeowner told the Dispatcher he was not at home, that his wife was and she called him directly. His wife told him that the male suspect was inside the home. Officer Parisi was the first to arrive on scene and was waved down by a woman standing across the street. She identified herself as the wife/homeowner. She anxiously told the Officer, "He's still in there. He's the only one in the house." She was understandably hysterical but was unharmed. Officer Parisi entered the home through the front door and observed a male passed out in a chair in the living room. The Officer yelled out verbal commands to the male, who woke up but just stared at the Officer, then passed out again. It appeared that the suspect was under the influence of either alcohol and/or drugs. Officer Parisi waited until additional Officers arrived on scene and then placed the suspect in handcuffs without incident. Officer Parisi then interviewed the victim, who said that she was awaiting the arrival of her daughter so she left the front door unlocked. When she heard the door open and then close, she believed that it was her daughter, so she entered the upstairs hallway to greet her and it was then that she saw the male suspect in the downstairs hallway. She said that she began yelling at him to leave her house but the male suspect just mumbled something. Back at the station, Officer Dave Coletti searched the suspect and found a single Suboxone pill on him. The suspect, a 39 year old homeless person from Braintree was charged with, "Breaking and Entering in the Daytime and Possession of Class B Drug and two default warrants. Nice Work!

IN THIS CASE: do the obvious – FIRST - call the Police at "911." Time is of the essence and your well being is at risk.

LT. DAN MINTON

On Thursday, January 22, 2015, at approximately 9:15 a.m., Officers Paul Holland, Kristen Bowes and K-9 Officer Scott Doherty were dispatched to 520 Hancock Street for a report of unwanted people inside a house. Upon arrival, Officer Holland interviewed the property owner, who stated she recently had tenants vacate the premises but someone had "broken in" to the apartment. She said that she went inside and confronted a female and two males who were in the back bedroom. The two males upon seeing her, fled through a rear door and were quickly followed by the female and another person. The owner showed the Officer the damage to the exterior door of the building, the entry door to the apartment, the wall separating the common hallway from the apartment, the bathroom door, a closet door, and a padlock which had been pried off of the doors to the utility closet which housed the heat that fed the building. Shortly after the description of the suspects was broadcast by Quincy Police Communications, Officers Scott Doherty and John O'Donnell stopped two suspects at the nearby Wollaston MBTA station. Two other suspects were able to board the train. The Officers interviewed the female suspect who admitted that she had been "squatting" in the home for approximately a week. She stated she was friends with the previous tenants and had helped them move out of the apartment. She liked the apartment so much that she decided to return there with her boyfriend. Another suspect was seen at approximately 10:50 a.m. at 1250 Hancock Street by Officer Jaime Parisi. This suspect admitted to being there but was adamant that all damage in the apartment was done before the group stayed there. Officer Bowes transported the owner to the Wollaston MBTA Station, where she confirmed that it was the same female she saw in the apartment. She believed the male was inside too but was not positive. Based on the owner's statements, the female, a 26-year old Mattapan resident, was placed under arrest and charged with, "Breaking and Entering in the Daytime with the Intent to Commit a Felony and Wanton Destruction of Property. The other two males will be summonsed into court for the same charges. Nice Work!

IN THIS CASE: once you see that there is damage to the exterior with the possibility that someone gained access and may still be inside, it is always best to call the Police rather than go inside on your own. You leave yourself very vulnerable especially if no one knows that you went in. Let the Police check out the house first!

❑

CREDIT CARD CLOSED? With all the recent credit card hacking incidents, such as at major retailers Target and Home Depot, many people are learning that their accounts have been frozen or closed. For some victims, they learn the hard way – when they are food shopping and are at the check out line with the conveyor belt full! This can be very embarrassing. One way to prevent this is to contact your credit card company and be sure that they have your cell phone number in their files with instructions to call you once they freeze your account.

QUINCY POLICE CRIME PREVENTION JOURNAL

Quincy Police Statistics
Jan. 23 – 30
ARRESTS: 18
TOTAL CALLS: 1,041
STOLEN MOTOR VEHICLES: 1

FRIDAY, JAN. 23

VANDALISM/PROPERTY, 8:26 a.m., Butler Rd. Passenger side front window hit by BB.

LARCENY, 9:54 a.m., 1000 Southern Art. Copper taken from AT&T equipment on roof building.

BREAKING AND ENTERING, 10:34 a.m., Taffrail Rd.

LARCENY, 11:43 a.m., Curlew Rd. Earrings.

LARCENY, 1:46 p.m., 50 Adams St. Wallet stolen. Caller called, stated bank called him, attempt was made to use credit card at 1181 Hancock St. MBTA Credit Union ATM.

BREAKING AND ENTERING, 10:02 p.m., 750 Willard St.

SATURDAY, JAN. 24

LARCENY, 5:10 p.m., TJ Maxx, 100 Granite St. White male, 5'8 red NorthFace with brown sleeves pink gloves and a plaid scaly cap on. Happened in last 10 minutes; all hand bags were recovered. LP has been working with Det. Bagley in regards to a similar matter. Direction of flight toward Quincy Center on Granite.

ATTEMPTED LARCENY, 6:09 p.m., Home Depot, 465 Centre St. Water heater. Blue GMC Sierra leaving lot. Now driving up to highway. No larceny; suspect got scared and fled the store without anything. Security advised.

SUNDAY, JAN. 25

MOTOR VEHICLE LARCENY, 11:00 a.m., 195 Independence Ave. Recovered in Boston by BPD. Towed to Roberts Towing. Owner notified.

VANDALISM/PROPERTY, 1:34 p.m., Elm Ave. House hit several times with paintballs. One went through screen. No suspects. Caller didn't want to see officer, just to have it on the record.

VANDALISM/PROPERTY, 2:09 p.m., 100 block Liberty St. Vehicle keyed all over. No suspects.

LARCENY, 8:29 p.m., Wren Ter. Silver iPhone 5S. Given case number, did not want to see officer.

MONDAY, JAN. 26

LARCENY, 2:40 p.m., 100 block Quincy Ave. Generator. Occurred between 7 a.m. and 1 p.m. today.

LARCENY, 4:37 p.m., Lind St. Generator.

BREAKING AND ENTERING IN PROGRESS, 5:03 p.m., Plain St. Reporting party said his wife called him and said a person is in their home. One in custody. Arrest for B&E daytime person in fear, possession of a class B substance and two VOP warrants.

LARCENY, 5:04 p.m., Granville St. Larceny of a check from caller's house in the amount of $1,000, which was also cashed and forged.

TUESDAY, JAN. 27

BREAKING AND ENTERING IN PROGRESS, 12:54 a.m., 148 Granite St. Reporting party is the owner of the business who received a call from his security company about a break; he advised security company not to call the police until he could show up and check it for himself. When he arrived on scene the door was smashed in. Owner is on scene and is unsure if anyone is inside. Board up service numbers provided to caller. Report submitted on a break, nothing believed missing, believed audible alarm scared off suspect(s).

THURSDAY, JAN. 29

LARCENY, 1:30 p.m., Willet St. Package.

If anyone has more information about any of the afore-mentioned incidents or would like more information, contact Crime Prevention Lieutenant Dan Minton at 617 745 5719

❑

STOLEN MOTOR VEHICLES: 195 Independence Avenue

❑

CAR BREAKS: 115 West Squantum Street, Ricciuti Drive

❑

BREAKS AND ATTEMPTED BREAKS: Plain Street, 750 Willard Street, Taffrail Road

If you have information on the above crimes, drug activity or any crime, please call the Quincy Police Detective Bureau at 617-745-5764 or log onto the following website: http://tinyurl.com/ytf6td.

To report suspicious drug activity, call the Drug Hot-Line at 617-745-5730. You will not be required to identify yourself, but it could help. To make an appointment to view the Registered Sex Offenders book, call Detective James Dentremont at 617-745-5755.

To contact the Crime Prevention Officer for tips or comments, my direct line is 617-745-5719. My e-mail address is dminton@ci.quincy.ma.us

-- Lt. Dan Minton

Entries in the Quincy Police Hot Spots are compiled and submitted by the Quincy Police Department.

They are published by The Quincy Sun as a public service to make local residents more aware of any crime activity in their neighborhood. Questions concerning the Hot Spots list should be directed to Crime Prevention Officer Lt. Dan Minton, 617-745-5719.

QUINCY ANIMAL SHELTER

56 Broad Street, Quincy • 617-376-1349
quincyanimalshelter.org

IN-SHELTER ADOPTION HOURS
TUESDAY and THURSDAYS 6:00 to 8:00 pm
SATURDAYS 10 am - 4 pm

Adoption fees include initial vaccinations and Spay/Neuter as needed. 100% volunteer run, new volunteers always needed.

FOR LOST or FOUND ANIMALS call ANIMAL CONTROL at 617-376-1364

AVAILABLE CATS

TOBI: 5, female, black & white.
SARA: 7, female, tortie.
TRUMAN: 9, male, orange.
FIREBALL: adult, male, gray & white.
LANG: 1, female, black & white.
LUCKY: 4, female, black.
SOPHIA & TAI: 12, munchkin & Siamese mix.
ORION: 1, male, black & white.
PUMPKIN: 1, female, LH tortie.
SNOWFLAKE: 5, female, LH white.
ZDENO: 2, male, orange.
LUNA: 4, female, gray.
GIGI: 7, female, tortie.
DOTTIE: 3, female, black.

Houghs Neck Congregational

The Sunday morning service at Houghs Neck Congregational Church, 310 Manet Ave. starts at 10 a.m.

Pastor Felix Carrion will lead the Sunday morning service. Gayle Mackay will preach the sermon "Sing Praises." Liturgist will be Sunday School student Cameron Jacobs. Steve Reed, Minister of Music, will lead the choir. Martha Chase and Jeff Craig will serve for the Diaconate.

A coffee hour follows the service hosted by Nancy and Molly Jacobs.

Cub Scout Blue and Gold dinner takes place in M. Alicia Corea Fellowship Hall in the afternoon.

Tomorrow (Friday) morning at 9 a.m. baking in the kitchen for the Princess Tea is organized by Gayle Mackay. Reservations are sold out.

Monday evening at 7 p.m. Church Council will meet in the Gordon room. Meeting was postponed because of the storm last week.

Hatha Yoga continues on Thursday evenings at 7 p.m. with Linda Beck.

Faith Lutheran Church

The women of Faith Lutheran Church, 201 Granite St., Quincy, will host a Guest Speaker on Tuesday, Feb. 10 at 7 p.m. at the church.

Sister Marilyn McGoldrick, from the Sisters of St. Joseph's, will be speaking about human trafficking in our community. There will be a time for questions and answers. Refreshments will be served. The event is open to the public.

Quincy Point Congregational

Worship on Sunday will be at 10 a.m. at Quincy Point Congregational Church, 444 Washington St.

Peter Johnston will preach a sermon entitled,"It Ain't Necessarily So." The lay reader will be Barbara Mitchell.

After worship there will be light refreshments and a "Sweets for the Sweet" candy sale in the social hall. Fudge, bark and nuts will be for sale. Proceeds will help benefit Neighborworks, "Home Sweet Home" for Veterans program.

RELIGION

Bethany Congregational

On Sunday, Feb. 8, Bethany Congregational Church, will have a Worship Service and Sunday School at 10 a.m. The Rev. William C. Harding will conduct the service and preach the sermon 'Salvation in Jesus Christ.' Fellowship with light refreshments will follow the worship service.

All are welcome to attend Worship Services and its activities: a Youth Group, a Men's Group, an Outreach Mission Group doing various charity works and a Bible Study Class.

The church office is open 8:30 a.m. to noon, then 1 - 4 p.m. Please visit our website at bethanychurch.tk for updates and activities. Thanks to the Video Ministry, if you're unable to attend worship service, the Bethany Church Service is broadcast on QATV at 6:00 p.m. Thursdays and 10:00 a.m. Sundays on Channel 8.

Childcare will be available for infants and toddlers during worship service on Sundays. The church is wheelchair accessible.

Valentine's Day Spaghetti Dinner Feb. 13th

The monthly dinner committee of the Quincy Catholic Collaborative of St. Mary- Sacred Heart-St. Ann Parishes will sponsor a Valentine's Day Spaghetti Dinner Friday, Feb. 13th at 6 p.m. in the parish cafeteria at Sacred Heart Parish, 386 Hancock St., North Quincy.

Dinner will feature soup, spaghetti with homemade red sauce and meatballs, salad and garlic bread. Strawberry shortcake, coffee, tea and beverages will also be served.

Cost is $10 per person, or $25 per family with children 12 and younger. Reservations are needed and may be made by calling Sacred Heart rectory at 617-328-8666 by Feb. 11.

For more information, contact the parish at 617-328-8666 or visit the collaborative website at www.qcc14.org.

OBITUARIES

Vincenza A. Carrabes, 89

A funeral Mass for Vincenza A. "Vicky" (Diglio) Carrabes, 89, of Revere will be celebrated tomorrow (Friday) at 10 a.m. in St. Anthony's Church, Revere.

Mrs. Carrabes died Sunday at home after a lengthy illness.

Beloved wife of Marcello J. Carrabes of Revere for 63 years. Daughter of the late Francesco and Rafaella (Crisci) Diglio. Mother of Marcia Carrabes and Laurie Carrabes of Revere, Mark Carrabes of New Zealand and Lisa Covais and her husband Michael of Quincy. Grandmother of Emidio "Dio" Covais of Quincy. Dear sister of Frances Diglio and her companion Daniel Callahan of Revere and Marie Romano and her husband Robert of Reading. Predeceased by her brother Anthony Diglio of Lynn and sister Clementina "Mindy" Altavilla of Chelsea and Lynnfield.

Mrs. Carrabes was a lifelong resident of Revere. She attended Boston University and was an administrative secretary for the New England Press Association. She was active in the Northeastern University Faculty Wives organization. Mrs. Carrabes was a devoted wife and mother well known for her cooking and baking skills.

Visiting hours are 4-8 p.m. today (Thursday) in Paul Buonfiglio & Sons~Bruno Funeral Home, Revere. Funeral from the funeral home at 9 a.m. Friday, prior to the Mass.

Fort Square Bible Camp

Fort Square Presbyterian Church, 16 Pleasant St., Quincy, will host a Winter Bible Camp during school vacation week Feb. 17-20 from 9 a.m. to noon daily.

The free program will feature activities, games, crafts and snacks. Kids in kindergarten through fifth grade are invited to attend.

To register, visit www.fortsquare.org.

More Obituaries On Pages 24-27 and Online at www.thequincysun.com

Quincy Religion Directory

SERVICES & ACTIVITIES

Catholic

St. Mary's Church
95 Crescent St., Quincy • 617-773-0120
Masses
Saturday, 4pm, Sunday 8 & 10:30am
Tuesday/Thursday 9am
Handicapped Accessible
New Members Welcome!

ST. AGATHA CHURCH MILTON-QUINCY
432 Adams Street
Milton, MA 02186 • 617-698-2439
Schedule of Masses:
Saturday: 4:30PM
Sunday: 7:30AM, 9:00AM, 10:30AM, 12 NOON and 5:00PM
Weekday Masses: 7:00 & 9:00AM
Reconciliation 3:45PM-4:15pm on Saturdays, other times by appointment
Handicapped Accessible, handicapped parking, elevator to Upper/Lower Churches ~ Air-Conditioned

St. John The Baptist
ROMAN CATHOLIC CHURCH
44 School St., Quincy
617-773-1021
Weekend Mass Schedule
Saturday, 4:00 PM
Sunday 7:30, 9:00, 11:00 AM
Sunday night 5:30 PM
Weekday Masses
Monday - Saturday 8:00 AM
Latin Mass
1st & 3rd Wednesdays
(Lower Chapel) 7:00 AM
Confessions
Wed. 8:30 – 9:00 AM
Sat. 2:30 – 3:30 PM
Handicapped Accessible

Salvationist

THE SALVATION ARMY
6 Baxter St., Quincy • 617-472-2345
9:45 CHRISTIAN EDUCATION
11AM WORSHIP SERVICE
BRASS BAND MUSIC
7PM TUES WOMEN'S FELLOWSHIP
6:45PM WEDS. BIBLE STUDY

Catholic

Sacred Heart Church
"A Roman Catholic Community walking together in Faith, Worship, Education and Service"
386 Hancock St., North Quincy, MA 02171
(617) 328-8666
Sunday Masses
4pm (Saturday)
7:30 am and 10:00 am
Weekday Masses
Monday - Friday 7am
Handicapped Accessible
Confessions
Sat. 3-3:45pm in Saint Joseph Oratory

St. Joseph's Church
550 Washington Street
Quincy, MA 02169
617-472-6321
SUNDAY MASSES:
4 p.m. (On Saturday)
8:30 a.m. and 10:30 a.m.
Weekday Masses 9am
CONFESSIONS: Saturday, 3:00-3:30 pm
Handicapped accessible & Handicapped parking, side entrance air conditioned

Saint Ann's Church
757 Hancock St., Wollaston
617-479-5400
Mass Schedule:
Sat. 4:00 PM / Sun. 9, 11 AM
Daily Mass: Monday,Wednesday, Friday, Saturday 9 AM
Confessions: Saturday 3-3:30PM
Handicapped Accessible via Elevator

Methodist

QUINCY COMMUNITY UNITED METHODIST CHURCH
40 Beale St., Wollaston
617-773-3319
10:30 AM Sunday Worship
Rev. Dr. Susan Jarek-Glidden, Pastor

Congregational

HOUGH'S NECK CONGREGATIONAL CHURCH
310 Manet Avenue
617-479-8778
www.hncong.org
Sunday Morning Service at 10 a.m.
Gayle Mackay will preach the sermon "Sing Praises"
All are welcome to attend
FELLOWSHIP COFFEE HOUR FOLLOWING SERVICE

BETHANY CONGREGATIONAL CHURCH
Spear & Coddington Streets
Quincy Center, 617-479-7300
www.bethanychurch.tk
Worship Service and Sunday School at 10AM
Rev. William C. Harding will conduct the service and preach the sermon 'Salvation in Jesus Christ.'
Child Care Available For Infants And Toddlers
ALL ARE WELCOME!
Fellowship Time following Service
The church is wheelchair accessible

JOY

Congregational

Wollaston
Congregational Church
United Church of Christ
18 Winthrop Avenue
Quincy, Massachusetts
Worship and Sunday School at 10 a.m.
Fred Hayes InterimPastor
617-773-7432
www.wollastonucc.com

UNION CONGREGATIONAL
Beach St. & Rawson Rd., Wollaston
(617)479-6661
Rev. John Swanson, Pastor
Sunday Worship Service 10 AM

QUINCY POINT CONGREGATIONAL CHURCH
444 Washington St . • 617-773-6424
Worship and Church School 10 am
Rev. Ann Suzedell, Pastor
email: office@quincypointcong.org

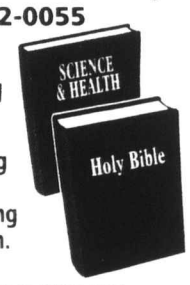
Unitarian Universalist

United First Parish Church
A theologically liberal congregation, encouraging people to seek their own spiritual path. All are welcome.
Worship Service, Church School and Childcare Sundays at 10:30 AM
Followed by Fellowship & Refreshments
Rev. Rebecca Froom
1306 Hancock St., Quincy
www.ufpc.org

PEACE

Christian Science

First Church of Christ, Scientist
1460 Hancock Street, Quincy
617-472-0055
Sunday Services and Sunday School 10:30 a.m.
Wednesday Evening Meetings – where testimonies of healing are shared 7:30 p.m.



ALL ARE WELCOME!

Catholic Community

Dignity BOSTON
Gay, Lesbian, Bisexual, Transgender
CATHOLICS
Our families, friends And allies
Liturgy & social hour: Sundays, 5:30 PM
St. John the Evangelist Church
35 Bowdoin St., Beacon Hill, Boston
617-421-1915
www.dignityboston.org

Nazarene

Wollaston
Church of the Nazarene
Sunday Worship
8:30 AM Liturgical Worship
9:45 AM Sunday School
11:00 AM Celebration Worship
Kevin C. Dunlop, Lead Pastor
Phil Nase, Youth & Small Groups Pastor
Jake Chastain, Music & Campus Pastor
Bev Keuther, Children's Pastor
Don Reed, Visitation Pastor
37 E. Elm Ave., Wollaston
617.472.9669
E-mail: office@wconaz.org
www.wollastonnazarene.org

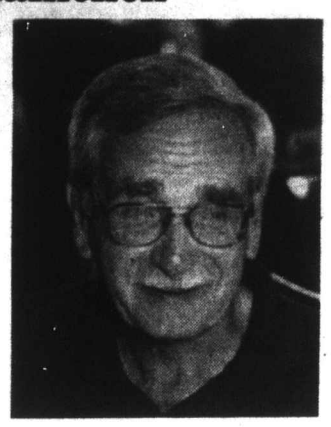
HOPE

LOVE

To Advertise in this Directory, Call 617-471-3100

OBITUARIES

John Adamchek



JOHN ADAMCHEK

A funeral Mass for John Adamchek of Milton and The Villages, Fla., was celebrated Monday in Sacred Heart Church, Quincy.

Mr. Adamchek died Jan. 26.

His family meant the world to him and he lived his life being a wonderful example for all of them. His other passion was golf and he was a longtime member at Ridder Country Club in East Bridgewater. Mr. Adamchek worked as a configuration manager for the Raytheon Company. He spent the last seven winters as a resident of The Villages in Florida.

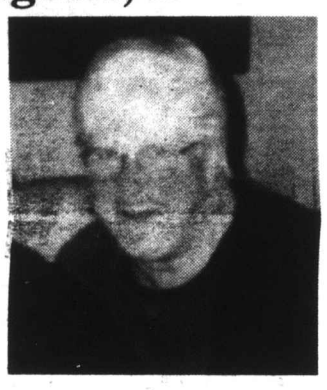
His hobbies included bowling, country music, and enjoying episodes of the Antique Road Show. He will be remembered for his sense of humor, kind manner, loving nature and for being an all around good guy.

Beloved father of Janice Hines and Susan Kubera, both of Quincy, and the late Johnny Adamchek. Loving companion of Marie Comeau of Milton. Brother of Bill Adamchek and his wife Beverly of FL. "Peepa" to Stephen, Matthew, Bobby and Madison.

Funeral arrangements were made by Keohane Funeral Home, 785 Hancock St., Quincy.

Memorial donations may be made to St. Jude Children's Research Hospital, 501 St. Jude Place, Memphis, TN 38105.

Jean E. Taglieri, 69



JEAN E. TAGLIERI

Funeral services for Jean E. (Lyons) Taglieri, 69, of Quincy and formerly Malden were held Tuesday in Sweeney Brothers Home for Funerals, 1 Independence Ave., Quincy.

Mrs. Taglieri died peacefully Jan. 28 at South Shore Hospital, Weymouth, surrounded by her loving family.

She was born in Boston, raised and educated in Dorchester's Grove Hall. She had lived in Quincy for six years, previously in Malden for more than 40 years. Mrs. Taglieri was a homemaker who was devoted to her family and friends. She was well known for her outgoing personality. She loved to dance and enjoyed life to the fullest.

Beloved wife of the late Michael E. Taglieri. Devoted mother of John W. Taglieri and his wife Sandy of Melrose, Sheryl A. Williams and her husband Walter of Methuen, Christine M. "Tina" Thomas and her husband David of Malden, and Michele L. Bly and her husband Reginald of Malden. Loving Nana of ten grandchildren and four great-grandchildren.

The Rev. Thomas Michael, pastor, New England Baptist Church in Medford officiated.

Interment at Blue Hill Cemetery, Braintree.

In Loving Memory
On Your 6th Anniversary
February 10, 2009

Peggy Leary

Missed and loved so much by Jack, Jack & Pattie, Ed & Simone,
Meg & Chris, Tricia & Brian & grandchildren

Adelaide O'Rourke

ADELAIDE O'ROURKE

A funeral Mass for Adelaide (Edmunds) O'Rourke of Wollaston was celebrated Jan. 31 in St. Ann's Church, Quincy.

Mrs. O'Rourke died Jan. 25.

Her world revolved around her loving family, faith and friends. Raising her nine children and enjoying her 21 grandchildren and 10 great-grandchildren was the greatest joy of her life. Mrs. O'Rourke was a devoted parishioner of St. Ann's Church in Wollaston and volunteered for many of its outreach efforts as well as being a Eucharistic minister. Mrs. O'Rourke also volunteered at Eventide Nursing Home and knitted hats and mittens for the infants of unwed mothers.

She enjoyed the life she and her husband created for their family, took pleasure in tending to her garden, as well as spending her summers in Hull on Gunrock Beach. She was full of life, had a sparkle in her eye, was always willing to help and was the most loving and caring person. Mrs. O'Rourke was a beautiful lady and will be deeply missed.

Beloved wife of the late William J. O'Rourke. Loving mother of Kathleen Hutton and her husband Douglas of CT, Virginia Anderson and her husband Michael of Hull, Nancy Palma and her husband Robert of Plympton, Michael O'Rourke of ME, Christine Simmons of Hanover, Paul O'Rourke of Weymouth, Sean O'Rourke and his wife Patricia of Weymouth, and the late William O'Rourke and Patricia Delahoyde. Sister of the late Virginia Barry, Lorraine Needham and Joseph Edmunds. Also survived by 21 grandchildren, 10 great-grandchildren, and many nieces and nephews.

Funeral arrangements were made by Keohane Funeral Home, 785 Hancock St., Quincy.

Interment at Pine Hill Cemetery, Quincy.

Memorial donations may be made to St. Ann's Church, 757 Hancock St., Quincy, MA 02170.

James R. Armstrong

A prayer service for James R. Armstrong of Marshfield, formerly of Jamaica Plain and Quincy, was held Jan. 30 in Sullivan Funeral Home, Hanover.

Mr. Armstrong died Jan. 25.

He was a former sergeant of the 126th Signal Battalion and Artillery, 26th Yankee Infantry Div.; longtime member of Boston Gear, Machinist, Shop Steward, Trustee United Steelworkers of America; and vice president of Retiree Group.

Loving husband to Laurel. Father to Jeffrey. Grandfather to Jacob.

Interment at Couch Cemetery, Marshfield.

Memorial donations may be made to the Marshfield Food Bank.

DOLAN
FUNERAL SERVICES

"Caring for your life's journey"

- Funerals
- Cremations
- Pre-Arrangements

Service times and directions at:
www.dolanfuneral.com

THE DOLAN FAMILY
W. Craig
Paul F.
Frederick J.
Courtney

1140 WASHINGTON STREET
DORCHESTER, MA 02124
(617) 298-8011

460 GRANITE AVENUE
MILTON, MA 02186
(617) 698-6264

Lorrine A. Dunlea, 78

LORINNE A. DUNLEA

A memorial service for Lorrine A. (DiBona) Dunlea, 78, a lifelong resident of Quincy, will be held at 1 p.m. Saturday in Sweeney Brothers Home for Funerals, 1 Independence Ave., Quincy.

Mrs. Dunlea died peacefully Jan. 19 at the Royal Braintree Nursing and Rehabilitation Center, surrounded by her loving family.

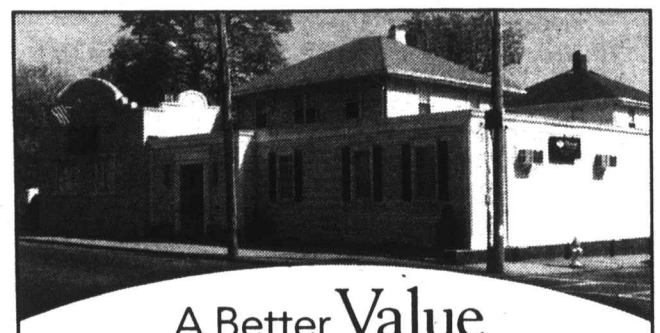
She was born, raised and educated in Quincy and was a graduate of Quincy High School. Mrs. Dunlea worked as a sales associate at the former Bargain Center in Quincy Square. Later, she worked at Lord & Taylor at the South Shore Plaza in Braintree. She had been retired for many years.

She was devoted to her family, especially her grandchildren and great-grandchildren. Cooking was her passion and her craft and as such Lorrine's Kitchen (as it had come to be known) was the focal point of many of life's celebrations. Wherever Mrs. Dunlea and family resided, she quickly became the 'Executive Chef' of the neighborhood. Her ability to 'feed an army' of neighborhood children at a moment's notice was her calling card. Her more formal culinary affairs were the gastronomic envy of all. She also relished in the role of 'Neighborhood Cruise Director.' Seldom would the family automobile leave the driveway not packed to the gills with children, off to some fantastic adventure for the day.

Former wife of the late John T. Dunlea. Beloved mother of Michael K. Dunlea and his wife Maria of Weymouth, James R. Dunlea of Bellingham, Lisa M. Dunlea of Milton, and the late John T. "Jack" Dunlea. Loving grandmother of Elizabeth Ryan, Michael Dunlea, Jr., John Thomas Dunlea, Jr., and Seana Tobin. Cherished great-grandmother of Gianna, Kevin, and Nora. Devoted sister of Susan LaHage of Plymouth. Dear aunt of Leslie, Rachael and David LaHage.

Memorial visiting hours are 11 a.m. to 1 p.m. Saturday in the funeral home.

As Mrs. Dunlea loved her horticulture, for those who wish to send flowers, as a suggestion, the family would wish that you send or bring with you a live colorful plant of your choosing. The family would then be honored if that person would take their plant home with them, as an enduring remembrance of Mrs. Dunlea.



A Better Value
For Quincy Families

At Deware Funeral Home, we are proud to offer more value and superior service to Quincy families. A full service traditional funeral is $5,995* with no hidden costs. The price includes:

Funeral Ceremony • Visitation • Casket

At Deware Funeral Home, we put the needs of our customer first. We also offer a Simple Burial Plan for $3,395.

With Deware Funeral Home, you can trust us to provide the compassionate care you expect at an exceptional value, backed by a 100% service guarantee.

Exclusive provider of Dignity Memorial® benefits.

Deware Funeral Home
576 Hancock Street | Quincy, MA 02170 | 617-472-1137

Dignity Memorial

For more information visit
www.dewarefuneralhome.com

*$5,995 plan includes basic services of funeral director and staff, embalming and preparation, visitation, funeral ceremony, transportation to place of disposition, 20-gauge metal casket, website announcement, and memorial stationery package (a register book, 100 thank you cards, 100 prayer cards).

A Service Family Affiliate of AFFS and Service Corporation International, 206 Winter Street, Fall River, MA 02720. (508) 676-2454.

Donna L. DeFranc, 59

A celebration of life service for Donna Lee DeFranc, 59, of Templeton, formerly of Quincy, was held Tuesday in Keohane Funeral Home, 785 Hancock St., Quincy.

Ms. DeFranc died unexpectedly Jan. 25.

She graduated from North Quincy High School, Class of 1974. Most recently, she worked with the mentally and physically challenged at Templeton Developmental Center. In the past, she worked as a waitress at Mug and Muffin in Quincy (now Newcomb Farms), as a manager at Burger King in East Milton, and she later waitressed at IHOP in Randolph. She also spent some time working with the Meals on Wheels program.

Ms. DeFranc loved to go to the Country Store to sit at the round table with friends to drink coffee, socialize, and read the newspaper. She was known for her love of black coffee and candy bars. She enjoyed walking along Lake Dennison, going to the flea market at Rietta Ranch in Hubbardston, and watching Lifetime movies and the Hallmark Channel.

She was a sweet, caring person who loved animals. She was very generous and giving, and loved helping others in any way she could. Her family and friends were very important to her and she will be greatly missed by all who knew her.

DONNA L. DeFRANC

Daughter of the late Salvatore and Mary (Dalton) DeFranc. Beloved mother of John DeFranc and his wife, Alexis, of Boxford and the late Cassandra "Cassie" Wilkins. Cherished sister of Cathy Weikel and her husband, Robert, of Weymouth. Devoted Nana of Victoria DeFranc. Loving niece of MaryAnn Hughes of Foxboro. Aunt of Shawn, Alissa, and Mark Weikel. Also survived by her cousins Paul and Gerard DeFranc, Robin Hughes, and Pamela Rogan.

Private interment.

Memorial donations may be made to the MSPCA, 350 S. Huntington Ave., Jamaica Plain, MA 02130.

Walter T. Glavin, 82

A funeral Mass for Walter T. Glavin, 82, of Quincy and formerly Savin Hill was celebrated Jan. 31 in St. Mary's Church, Quincy.

Mr. Glavin died unexpectedly Jan. 28.

He was born in Boston, raised and educated in Boston schools and was a graduate of Boston Trade School. He had lived in Quincy for 48 years and previously in Boston's Savin Hill neighborhood. He enjoyed many summers with his family in the Dennisport area of Cape Cod.

Mr. Glavin was a Korean War veteran having served as a sergeant with the U.S. Marine Corps. He received several medals including the Korean Service Medal with two stars and the Good Conduct Medal.

He was employed for more than 45 years with the New England Telephone Company. Mr. Glavin began his career as a cable splicer and lineman and retired as a former manager and analyst. He also served as vice-president of Local 222 for several years.

Mr. Glavin was devoted and grateful to his family and many friends.

Beloved husband for 52 years of the late Virginia M. (O'Brien) Glavin. Devoted father of Denise M. Bohan and her husband Patrick of Dorchester, Robert M. Glavin and his wife Ana of Quincy, Christine M. Casey and her husband Christopher of Braintree and Julie A. Glavin of Quincy. Loving grandfather of Joseph, Elizabeth and Patrick Bohan, Nevin, Ethan and Emma Glavin, Sean and Meaghan Casey. Cherished great-grandfather of Grace Virginia.

One of nine siblings, he was the brother of Katherine White of Dorchester, Margaret Murray of Quincy, Susan McAleney of Mashpee, Mary Costello of Mashpee, Michael Glavin of Quincy and pre-deceased by Cornelius Glavin, William Glavin and Imelda Meiggs.Brother-in-law of Jacqueline Glavin of Quincy. He is also survived by many nieces, nephews, cousins and extended family members.

Funeral arrangements were made by Sweeney Brothers Home for Funerals, 1 Independence Ave., Quincy.

Interment with Military Honors at Blue Hill Cemetery, Braintree.

Memorial donations may be made to the Gavin Foundation, Inc., 675 East 4th St., South Boston, MA 02127 or to the Martin Richard Fund, 1 Boston Place, Suite 2600, Boston, MA 02108.

Rita G. Dudek, 88

A funeral Mass for Rita G. (Nowacki) Dudek, 88, of Quincy was celebrated Tuesday in Our Lady of Czestochowa, Boston.

Mrs. Dudek died Jan. 26.

She graduated from South Boston High School. Mrs. Dudek was a member of St. Ann's Women's Club of South Boston. She worked as a sales clerk for CVS Pharmacy in Quincy. She enjoyed bowling, bingo, going to Foxwoods, crochet and travel. Her main passion was spending time with her family. She will be sadly missed.

Beloved wife of the late Edward Dudek. Loving mother of Theresa Perkins and her husband David of Abington, Elaine Wringley and her husband Gil of Taunton, MaryAnn Burke and her husband Marty of Quincy, Louise Connolly and her husband Brian of Dedham, Edward Dudek and his wife Susan of NH, Thomas Dudek and his wife Pauline of Pembroke and Joseph Dudek and his wife Jodi of NH. Devoted Grandma of 14 grandchildren and five great-grandchildren. Caring sister of John Nowacki and his wife Patricia of Dorchester and the late Doris Nizzari, Thaddeus Nowacki and Joseph Nowacki.

RITA G. DUDEK

Funeral arrangements were made by Keohane Funeral Home, 785 Hancock St., Quincy.

Interment at New Calvary Cemetery, Boston.

Memorial donations may be made to the Alzheimer's Assn., MA Chapter, 480 Pleasant Street, Watertown, MA 02472.

Janet E. Milton, 80

A graveside memorial service for Janet E. Milton, 80, of Dover-Foxcroft, Maine, and Wendell, N.C., formerly of Quincy, will be held in the spring at the Dover Cemetery in Dover-Foxcroft, Maine.

Mrs. Milton died unexpectedly Jan. 27 at her home in Wendell, N.C.

She was born Nov. 13, 1934, in Quincy, the daughter of Bruno S. and Edith A. (Frezzetti) Zanolli. Mrs. Milton grew up in Quincy, surrounded by a large Italian family and friends. Once married, she and her husband moved to Dover-Foxcroft to raise their family. She was always involved in church, school and community activities. After her husband's death she moved to Wendell, N.C., to be closer to her daughter.

She loved to tell whomever she met about her silly dogs, wacky family and much adored grandchildren.

Wife of the late Charles W. Milton. She is survived by daughter, Dawn-Marie Ennis and her husband, Mark, of NC; son, Jerrod Milton and his wife, Rebekah, of ME; stepdaughter, Charlotte Milton of NC; sister, Donna Pinel of ME, formerly of Quincy and Middleboro; and grandchildren, Joe Grunin of NC, Erik Charles Milton and Gwyneth Morrel Milton of ME.

Funeral arrangements were made by Lary Funeral Home, Dover-Foxcroft, Maine.

Memorial donations may be made to Dover-Foxcroft Congregational Church, 828 W Main St., Dover-Foxcroft, ME 04426 or to Second Chance Pet Adoptions, 6003 Chapel Hill Rd., Suite 133, Raleigh, NC 27607.

More Obituaries Online at www.thequincysun.com

Honor Your Loved One's Memory With Flowers

cliffords.com
1.800.441.8884

Over 60 Years Of Personalized Service

SWEENEY BROTHERS
Home for Funerals, Inc.
RICHARD T. SWEENEY, JR.
FRANCIS M. SWEENEY · RICHARD T. SWEENEY III
1 INDEPENDENCE AVENUE
QUINCY, MASSACHUSETTS 02169
(617) 472-6344 · www.thesweeneybrothers.com

HAMEL FUNERAL CARE & CREMATION SERVICES OF MASSACHUSETTS
Honored Providers of:
Veterans Funeral Care™
BBB ACCREDITED BUSINESS
PHONE TOLL FREE
(800) 696-5887
26 Adams Street, Quincy, Ma 02169
www.HamelFuneralCare.com

During a hard time, there's an easy decision.

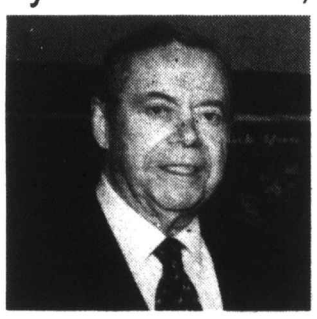
Lydon Chapel for Funerals

Simple Cremation $1,699.00

644 Hancock Street, Quincy (617)472-7423 www.lydonchapelforfunerals.com

"Serving Our Community, One Family at a Time"

In Loving Memory of
Henry W. Bosworth, Jr.



6th Year Anniversary
February 7, 2009

The memory of you will always be in our hearts.

Lovingly remembered and
Sadly missed by your family.

OBITUARIES

Simon Peter Canty, 79

A funeral service for Simon Peter Canty, 79, of Wollaston, will be held Saturday at 10 a.m. in the First Baptist Church of Wollaston, 81 Prospect Ave., Quincy.

Mr. Canty died Jan. 27 at Massachusetts General Hospital after a long illness.

Born and raised in Charlestown, he moved to Quincy in 1976. After marrying Ellen (Maher) in 1958, he joined the U.S. Army and was stationed in Iceland. He made his career as a sheet metal worker, recently retiring from Metalsmiths in Dorchester. He enjoyed visiting "the guys at the shop" often. Much of his work was done at Boston's Children's Hospital where he also made many friends.

Mr. Canty had the great opportunity to travel the world with his wife; visiting Europe several times, taking cruises to Central America including the Panama Canal, and venturing as far away as China and Japan, but his true enjoyment came from road trips which he shared with his grandsons. In 2006, he drove his wife, sister-in-law and grandsons on vacation to Alaska and back. He and Ellen have visited all 50 states, most of them by car.

Mr. Canty was a role model to his family and friends. He was an easy-going man with traditional manners and family values. His strength and courage during his struggles of the last two years have been an inspiration to everyone who knew him.

Mr. Canty is survived by his wife, Ellen (Maher), daughter Blanche Yanovich and her husband Frank of Quincy, grandsons Jacob Yanovich of Quincy and Lucas Yanovich of Waterville, ME, his brother, John Canty of Charlestown, his sister Catherine Kennedy and her husband Richard of Everett, many nieces and nephews, and his sister-in-law, Blanche Rossi of Quincy. He was pre-deceased by his parents, Simon P. and Marion (Burnham), brothers, George, Martin, and William, and sisters, Mary Heuston and Barbara Wardwell.

Visiting hours will be Friday from 4 to 8 p.m. at Hamel, Wickens and Troupe Funeral Home, 26 Adams St., Quincy Center.

Interment with military honors will be at Blue Hill Cemetery, 700 West St., Braintree. Memorial donations may be made to: Boston Children's Hospital Trust, 401 Park Dr., Suite 602, Boston, MA 02215.

Richard L. DiCesare, 79

A funeral Mass for Richard L. DiCesare, 79, of Quincy, a retired Quincy firefighter, will be celebrated today (Thursday) at 10 a.m. in Saint Mary's Church, 95 Crescent St., West Quincy.

Mr. DiCesare died peacefully Jan. 29 at the home of his devoted brother-in-law, Thomas Bonomi and was surrounded by his loving wife, family and friends.

He was born, raised and educated in Quincy and was a graduate of Quincy Trade School, Class of 1966.

He was a Vietnam veteran having served in the U.S. Army and was a member of the American Legion.

Mr. DiCesare was proud to have been a Quincy firefighter and EMT for 33 years. He was appointed to the department on June 20, 1970 and retired on Aug. 26, 2003. During his career he was assigned to various stations throughout the city and served on Ladder 4, Engine 1, Engine 8, and Engine 5. At the time of his retirement he served at Headquarters on Rescue 1. He was also an instructor for the Tri-Town Tunnel Team.

Mr. DiCesare was dedicated to fire service, even after retirement he maintained his EMT qualifications and his interest in the Quincy Fire Department. He was a loyal individual and considered his fellow Quincy firefighters as his brothers.

RICHARD L. DiCESARE

He was an avid Harley Davidson motorcycle enthusiast. He was also an outdoors and woodsman and was a member of the Braintree Rifle and Pistol Club.

Beloved husband for 44 years of Paula J. (Bonomi) DiCesare.

Cherished son of the late Dave A. and Margaret M. (Bonome) DiCesare.

Visiting hours were Wednesday from 4 to 7 p.m. at the Sweeney Brothers Home for Funerals, 1 Independence Ave., Quincy.

Interment with Military Honors will be at Knollwood Memorial Park, Canton.

Memorial donations may be made to the Norwell VNA and Hospice, 120 Longwater Dr., Norwell, MA 02061 or to the Shriners Hospital for Children, ATTN: Burn Unit, 51 Blossom St., Boston, MA 02114.

Rev. Dr. Eugene A. Langevin, 75

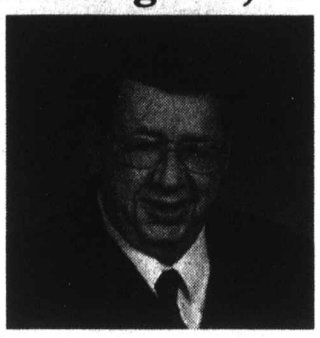
A funeral service for the Rev. Dr. Eugene Albert Langevin, 75, was held Jan. 31 in the First Baptist Church of Wollaston.

The Rev. Dr. Langevin died at home Jan. 20 after a four-year fight with cancer.

He graduated from Lincoln High School located in Ferndale, Mich., in 1956 and went on to Harvard College from 1957-1961. His senior thesis was on the political and economic ideas of "social theologian Walter Raushenbusch." It was graded "Magna Plus" and placed on permanent deposit in Harvard's Widener Library Archives. The Rev. Dr. Langevin attended Union Theological Seminary in New York City from 1961-1962. During that time, he was assigned fieldwork to minister to youth in various YMCAs in New York City. In 1962, he received a Rotary Fellowship to study at Oxford University in England. He returned to Harvard Divinity School in 1963.

After pursuing his education, he took a juvenile probation officer position in the Quincy District Court. He began a storefront church in Quincy called The Way, which over the years involved many youth from Cambridge, Quincy, Boston, Plymouth, Brockton and their surrounding areas. Along with ministering to church congregations at the First Church of Squantum and the South Boston Baptist Church, his life was devoted to helping youth develop into responsible and good human beings through his youth programs. He and his sister, Rev. Patti, continued this youth work until Christmas of 2014 when his illness progressed.

Both he and his sister are American Baptist Ministers and co-directors of the non-profit youth ministry called "The Way Up." This Youth



REV. DR. EUGENE A. LANGEVIN

Mission was begun more than 50 years ago. In 1970, he published a book about his experiences working with youth called "Way To Go Baby." He was working on a second book chronicling his experiences up until the present at the time when he passed. This book will be completed and published by his family in the very near future.

In October 2014 the Rev. Dr. Langevin was nominated for and awarded the Daniel Sharp Award by the American Baptist Ministers of Massachusetts. This was presented to him for being an "affectionate and honorable Christian and for overseeing a worthy and faithful ministry."

He is survived by his sister Patti Langevin, and two nieces with their spouses, Mindi and Jamison Shave, and Marci Langevin-Gaudette and Jeff Gaudette, and grandchildren Cameron Shave and Logan Langevin Gaudette, and the many youth around the state of Massachusetts to which he has filled the role as parent. His youth mission program is continued by the Rev. Patti Langevin.

Funeral arrangements were made by Keohane Funeral Home, 785 Hancock St., Quincy.

Interment at Fern Hill Cemetery, Hanson.

Memorial donations may be made to The Way Up, 25 Aldrich Rd., West Bridgewater, MA 02379.

Carl J. Hohmann, Jr., 71

A funeral Mass for Carl J. Hohmann Jr., 71, of Brockton was celebrated Monday in St. Edith Stein Church, Brockton.

Mr. Hohmann died Jan. 26.

He attended North Quincy High School and was a 1965 graduate of Stonehill College. Mr. Hohmann spent his entire career at John Hancock, retiring as a real estate asset manager. He was a former treasurer and longtime member of the Brockton Area Arc. An avid New England Patriots fan, he played men's softball, basketball and golfed at D.W. Field Golf Course. He enjoyed annual Hawaiian vacations.

Beloved husband of Linda A. (McGregor) Hohmann for 49 years; loving father of Tammy Hohmann of Brockton and David Hohmann and his wife Amy of Franklin; devoted "Bupa" of Kathryn, Meghan and Ryan Hohmann; brother of Martha Wordell and her husband Lyndon of NJ, Richard Hohmann and his wife Leslie of Westminster, and David Hohmann and his wife Karen of Weymouth; and an uncle of many.

Funeral arrangements were made by Waitt Funeral Home, Brockton.

Interment at Blue Hill Cemetery, Braintree.

Memorial donations may be made to the Brockton Area ARC, 1250 West Chestnut St., Brockton, MA 02301.

David H. Wallace, 76

A memorial service for David H. Wallace, 76, of Weymouth, formerly of Quincy, will be held Sunday, Feb. 8 at 1 p.m. at the Hamel, Wickens and Troupe Funeral Home, 26 Adams St., Quincy Center.

Mr. Wallace died Jan. 31.

He was the son of the late William Wallace and Ruth (Handley) Burke.

Born and raised in Quincy, Mr. Wallace worked for many years as a Spraypainter with both General Dynamics and the Ainslie Corp. He had lived in Weymouth since 1967.

He was the loving husband of more than 54 years to Janice L. (White) Wallace. Father of Kelli Ann Wallace of Middleboro and the late Scott Wallace. Grandfather of Jonathan Coska and his wife Caitlin of Hawaii, Jennifer Coska of Middleboro & Melissa Wallace of E. Bridgewater. He was the brother of the late William Wallace and Shirley Totten. Also survived by many nieces and nephews.

Visitation will be held one hour prior to the start of Sunday's memorial service beginning at noon.

Memorial donations may be made to the American Lung Association, 55 W. Wacker Dr., Ste. 1150, Chicago, IL 60601 or The Salvation Army, 23 Vernon St., Boston, MA 02119

Victoria H. Keeley, 90

A funeral service for Victoria H. (Tron) Keeley, 90, of Quincy was held Jan. 30 in Dennis Sweeney Funeral Home, 74 Elm St., Quincy.

Mrs. Keeley died Jan. 26.

Born in Cambridge where she was raised and educated, she lived in Quincy most of her life. She worked as a supervisor for the VA at the JFK Building in Boston before retiring and enjoyed playing bingo, cribbage and visiting Foxwoods.

The beloved wife of the late James T. Keeley, Mrs. Keeley was the loving mother of Gayle E. Davidson and her husband Victor and Thomas J. Keeley, both of Quincy; dear grandmother of Victor J. Davidson and his husband Joshua Berkowitz and Ryan T. Davidson; sister of the late Eleanor Carrigan and John Tron; and is also survived by her niece Diane Colebourn and her husband Kenneth, and her nephews, Richard Brown and his wife Barbara and Paul Carrigan and his wife Elaine.

Memorial donations may be made to the MA Commission for the Blind, 600 Washington St., Boston, MA 02111.

Brenda Harvey, 75

A funeral Mass for Brenda (Aspland) Harvey, 75, of Hanover and formerly Quincy was celebrated Jan. 31 in St. Francis Xavier Church, Weymouth.

Mrs. Harvey died Jan. 21.

She was the former owner of Hancock International Travel in Quincy for more than 25 years, retiring in 2000. She was most proud of this business and became close friends with many of her clients. Raised in Slough, England, Mrs. Harvey immigrated to Massachusetts in 1958, settling in Quincy until moving to Hanover 32 years ago. Mrs. Harvey worked for the former Pan-Am and Northeast Airlines.

Beloved wife of Maurice E. Harvey. Devoted mother of Geraldine Connelly and her husband Brian of Halifax and June Harvey-Tahaney of Quincy. Beloved sister of June Greene, Anne Gould, and William Aspland, all of England. Loving grandmother of Rachael, Emily, Nathaniel, Todd, William, Mary, and Heather. Great-grandmother of Emma-June.

Funeral arrangements were made by Clancy-Lucid Funeral Home, Weymouth.

Beatrice DeMaggio

A funeral Mass for Beatrice (Nigrelli) DeMaggio of Quincy was celebrated Monday in St. John the Baptist Church, Quincy.

Mrs. DeMaggio died Jan. 27.

Born in Quincy, she was the loving daughter of the late John and Maria (Giglia) Nigrelli. Mrs. DeMaggio was a devoted homemaker, worked as a tailor for Remick's in Quincy, worked for Goodhues in Quincy where she made liturgical clothing and was owner and operator of Heavenly Rounds, where they sold square-dance apparel and religious goods, formerly of Quincy. She enjoyed square dancing and cherished time with her family.

Beloved wife of the late Arthur V. DeMaggio for 62 years. Loving mother of Arthur J. DeMaggio and his wife Catherine of NH and Linda M. DeMaggio of Quincy. She is also survived by her grandchildren, great-grandchildren and many loving nieces and nephews.

Funeral arrangements were made by Bolea-Buonfiglio Funeral Home, 116 Franklin St., Quincy.

Interment at Pine Hill Cemetery, Quincy.

Memorial donations may be made to St. Jude's Children's Research Hospital, 501 St. Jude's Place, Memphis TN, 38105 or Interfaith Social Services, 105 Adams St., Quincy, MA 02169.

M. Kathlyn Ahern

Graveside services for M. Kathlyn "Kay" (Kelly) Ahern of St. Petersburg, Fla., and formerly Wollaston will be held at Massachusetts National Cemetery, Bourne.

Mrs. Ahern died Jan. 18 in St. Petersburg.

A longtime resident on Sachem Street in Wollaston, she later lived in Leisure Woods in Rockland, and in 2010 moved to assisted living at Bon Secours in St. Petersburg. She was a graduate of St. Gregory High School and St. Gregory Business School.

Mrs. Ahern was an active parishioner at Holy Family Catholic Church in Rockland; an active member of the Rockland Democratic Town Committee, and served as trustee of the Rockland Memorial Library.

Her husband Joseph died in 1989, shortly after being diagnosed with lung cancer. She is survived by her three children: Joseph (Kathleen) of FL; Paul (Jill) of FL and ME; and Kathlyn (John) Malcosky of FL. She had nine grandchildren and eight great-grandchildren. She is also survived by her sister Barbara Ohrenberger of Scituate and sister-in-law Nan Kelly of Weymouth.

Arrangements were made by Veterans Funeral Care, Clearwater, FL.

Leonora A. Coose, 87

A funeral service for Leonora A. "Lee" Coose, 87, was held yesterday (Wednesday) in Keohane Funeral Home, 785 Hancock St., Quincy.

Mrs. Coose died peacefully on the evening of Jan. 27 at John Adams Health Care Center in Quincy.

She was born in Quincy to Christopher and Julia Gleeson and graduated from Sacred Heart High School in Weymouth. After graduation she worked as a secretary, most notably as the secretary for the mayor of Warwick, R.I. She later worked as a sales clerk at Kennedy's Clothing for more than 20 years. She liked to cross-stitch, do crewel and play cards.

Predeceased by her husband, Harold W. Coose Jr., her son Harold W. Coose III and her sister Ellen Kelly. She is survived by her children: Debra Page and her husband Richard of NH; Richard Coose and his wife Stephanie of Easton; William Coose and his wife Nancy of Braintree; Ingrid Coose of NY; nine grandchildren: Christopher Coose and his wife Codi, Cory Coose, Dennis Page, Samantha Coose, Matthew Coose, Evan Coose, Rachel Coose and Sean Coose; and several nieces and nephews.

Mrs. Coose will be remembered as a strong, hard-working, determined woman who wanted the best for her family. The family would like to thank the staff at John Adams Healthcare Center for their care and friendship.

Interment at Blue Hill Cemetery, Braintree.

Memorial donations may be made to the American Lung Association.

William R. O'Malley, 71

A funeral Mass for William R. O'Malley, 71, of Quincy and formerly Dorchester was celebrated yesterday (Wednesday) in St. John the Baptist Church, Quincy.

Mr. O'Malley died peacefully Jan. 29 at Brigham & Women's Hospital in Boston.

He was born in Everett, raised and educated in Dorchester and graduated from Cathedral High School. Mr. O'Malley had lived in Quincy for 42 years, previously living in Dorchester. He was employed as yardmaster for the MBTA at the Cabot Yard in South Boston for 30 years and retired 10 years ago. Upon retirement, he assisted at his son's restaurant, Hancock Tavern, in Quincy for the past 10 years.

He was devoted to his family, friends and especially to his precious grandchildren. He treasured talking, socializing and being with people. Mr. O'Malley was an avid Boston Red Sox and New England Patriots fan. He enjoyed country music as well as movies and was well known for sharing his extensive movie collection with family and friends.

Beloved husband of the late Eileen L. (Lee) O'Malley. Devoted father of William R. "Rick" O'Malley, Jr. and his wife Katie of Scituate, Austin O'Malley and Colleen Rosemond of Quincy. Loving grandfather of Eileen M. O'Malley, Kara R. O'Malley and Mary K. O'Malley all of Scituate. Dear brother of Mary Carnes and her husband Jack of Norwell, Joseph O'Malley of Weymouth and his late wife Pauline and Margaret DiVenuti and her husband Warren of Weymouth. Also survived by many nieces and nephews.

Funeral arrangements were made by Sweeney Brothers Home for Funerals, 1 Independence Ave., Quincy.

Interment at Pine Hill Cemetery, Quincy.

Memorial donations may be made to the American Heart Association, 20 Speen St., Framingham, MA 01701-4688.

Quincy, North Quincy Compete In Patriot League Diving Championships

Three divers from Quincy and North Quincy competed at the Patriot League Diving Championships held Sunday at the Lincoln-Hancock Pool in Quincy.

Quincy sophomore Bailee Carey placed second overall with 398.50 points, 20 points behind the leader, Cece O'Reilly of Hingham; and one point ahead of Duxbury's Avery Pisani who defeated Carey in dual meet competition. Carey's classmate Madison Synan was eighth overall totaling 135.30 points and North Quincy's Stephanie MacFarland landed 10th (130.50).

Carey will participate in the South Sectionals Saturday, Feb. 7

North Quincy Downs Middleboro

Cont'd From Page 19

percentage shot. I thought we did a good job of that especially in the third period," said Barrett.

Drake had three three-pointers, and finished with quick, twisting moves to the hoop, but the story was his passing. He had four of his assists in the third-period spree. Middleboro couldn't contain his drives. He beat his man into the lane consistently, kept his head up looking for the open man, and dished for layups and easy jumpers from close range.

He was excellent at the head of North's fast break, featuring long bounce passes which covered more than half the floor. Not only did the bounce passes catch the open cutter in stride, they came up waist high at just the speed and height which made them easy to catch and turn into buckets.

"Dhaaky has come a long way. He has improved his recognition. He's is able to make the read and distribute the ball to the open man," said Barrett. "Tonight, he did more than find the open shooter. He got to the ball to a position where the shooter could do something with it."

Solomon Umoren had eight points and seven assists. He leads North in scoring. He is among the top five scorers in the division. Against Middleboro, he thought passing not points. He is virtually uncoverable one-on-one. When Middleboro helped with the double, Umoren spotted the open shooter and moved the ball for a better shot.

The highlight came early in the third when he caught a streaking Conor Pound (eight points, three blocks in the first period) for a full-speed dunk which was the highlight of the evening.

"Solomon made good decisions," said Barrett. "He is very tough to guard off the dribble and when the defense sends help, he finds the open man and delivers the ball.

"I told Conor that we now expect at least one dunk every game."

The Red Raiders have been looking to build depth all season, and Mike Soricelli and Will Ortiz gave them good efforts off the bench against Middleboro. Soricelli had nine points, drained a pair of three pointers, played non-stop defense and bounced off the floor battling for the basketball. Ortiz had eight, knocked home a three and used his speed to get to the basket and draw fouls.

"Mike's our energizer guy. He's given that to us all year. He worked on his three-point shot a lot over the summer, and he has confidence in it," said Barrett. "Will is quick. He used his quickness tonight for drives and to get to the line."

Jackie Chen added 14 and a strong floor game for North. Matt Gerakis (eight), Matt Eagles (six), Tom McLaughlin (three), Matt Alexander (three), and Cornelius Koch (one) also scored for North.

Like every team east of Stockbridge, North was affected by the blizzard. Friday was the first time Barrett had his team in the gym all week. Postponements of the Cathedral and Hingham games force North to cram six games into 13 days over the closing two weeks.

The Red Raiders host Hingham Thursday and Pembroke Friday. The Cathedral game will be played at home Feb. 11. North needs two wins in its final six games to qualify for the tournament.

"It's like an NBA schedule," smiled Barrett. "It's challenging to get your body to do what you want it to do and play on this level after being without a game or a practice for a week. I thought that showed in the first half, but we were much better in the third and fourth periods."

LEGAL NOTICE

INFORMAL PROBATE PUBLICATION NOTICE
Docket No. NO14P3314EA
Commonwealth of Massachusetts
The Trial Court
Probate and Family Court
Norfolk Division
35 Shawmut Road
Canton, MA 02021
(781) 830-1200
Estate of:
Anne Elizabeth Higgins
Date of Death:
November 18, 2014

To all persons interested in the above captioned estate, by Petition of:

Petitioner Karen T. Watson of Braintree, MA.

Karen T. Watson of Braintree, MA Susan H. Sylvester of West Roxbury, MA have been informally appointed as the Personal Representatives of the estate to serve without surety on the bond.

The estate is being administered under informal procedure by the Personal Representatives under the Massachusetts Uniform Probate Code without supervision by the Court. Inventory and accounts are not required to be filed with the Court, but interested parties are entitled to notice regarding the administration from the Personal Representatives and can petition the Court in any matter relating to the estate, including distribution of assets and expenses of administration. Interested parties are entitled to petition the Court to institute formal proceedings and to obtain orders terminating or restricting the powers of Personal Representatives appointed under informal procedure. A copy of the Petition and Will, if any, can be obtained from the Petitioner.

2/5/15

LEGAL NOTICE

CITATION GIVING NOTICE OF PETITION TO EXPAND THE POWERS OF A CONSERVATOR
Docket No. SU12P1113PM
Commonwealth of Massachusetts
The Trial Court
Probate and Family Court
Suffolk Probate
and Family Court
24 New Chardon Street
Boston, MA 02114
In the interests of:
Susan Sparks
Of: Quincy, MA
RESPONDENT
(Incapacitated Person/
Protected Person)

To the named Respondent and all other interested persons, a petition has been filed by Joanne L. Erickson of Braintree, MA in the above captioned matter requesting that the court:

Expand the powers of a Conservator.

The Petition asks the court to make a determination that the powers of the Guardian and/or Conservator should be expanded, modified, or limited since the time of the appointment. The original petition is on file with the court.

You have the right to object to this proceeding. If you wish to do so, you or your attorney must file a written appearance at this court on or before 10:00 A.M. on the return date of 02/19/2015. This day is NOT a hearing date, but a deadline date by which you have to file the written appearance if you object to the petition. If you fail to file the written appearance by the return date, action may be taken in this matter without further notice to you. In addition to filing the written appearance, you or your attorney must file a written affidavit stating the specific facts and grounds of your objection within 30 days after the return date.

IMPORTANT NOTICE

The outcome of this proceeding may limit or completely take away the above-named person's right to make decisions about personal affairs or financial affairs or both. The above-named person has the right to ask for a lawyer. Anyone may make this request on behalf of the above-named person. If the above-named person cannot afford a lawyer, one may be appointed at State expense.

WITNESS, Hon. Joan P. Armstrong, First Justice of this Court.

Date: January 15, 2015

Felix D. Arroyo
Register of Probate

2/5/15

LEGAL NOTICE

CITATION GIVING NOTICE OF PETITION TO EXPAND THE POWERS OF A GUARDIAN
Docket No. SU12P1112GD
Commonwealth of Massachusetts
The Trial Court
Probate and Family Court
Suffolk Probate
and Family Court
24 New Chardon Street
Boston, MA 02114
In the interests of:
Susan Sparks
Of: Quincy, MA
RESPONDENT
(Incapacitated Person/Protected Person)

To the named Respondent and all other interested persons, a petition has been filed by John Ulanowski of Scituate, MA Hannah Ulanowski of Scituate, MA in the above captioned matter requesting that the court:

Expand the powers of a Guardian.

The Petition asks the court to make a determination that the powers of the Guardian and/or Conservator should be expanded, modified, or limited since the time of the appointment. The original petition is on file with the court.

You have the right to object to this proceeding. If you wish to do so, you or your attorney must file a written appearance at this court on or before 10:00 A.M. on the return date of 02/19/2015. This day is NOT a hearing date, but a deadline date by which you have to file the written appearance if you object to the petition. If you fail to file the written appearance by the return date, action may be taken in this matter without further notice to you. In addition to filing the written appearance, you or your attorney must file a written affidavit stating the specific facts and grounds of your objection within 30 days after the return date.

IMPORTANT NOTICE

The outcome of this proceeding may limit or completely take away the above-named person's right to make decisions about personal affairs or financial affairs or both. The above-named person has the right to ask for a lawyer. Anyone may make this request on behalf of the above-named person. If the above-named person cannot afford a lawyer, one may be appointed at State expense.

WITNESS, Hon. Joan P. Armstrong, First Justice of this Court.

Date: January 21, 2015

Felix D. Arroyo
Register of Probate

2/5/15

CLASSIFIEDS

NOTICE OF PUBLIC HEARING

NOTICE OF PUBLIC HEARING
City of Quincy
ZONING BOARD OF APPEALS
CASE NO. 15-004

Pursuant to the provisions of TITLE 17 of the QUINCY MUNICIPAL CODE as amended, the Quincy Zoning Board of Appeals will hold an Open Public Hearing on Tuesday, February 24, 2015 at 7:15 pm on the Second Floor in the Council Chambers, Quincy City Hall, 1305 Hancock Street, Quincy, MA 02169. On the application of Hoan Le for a Finding to construct a second level on the existing footprint in violation of Title 17 as amended Chapter 3.4.3 (nonconforming) on the premises numbered 26 BARHAM AVENUE, QUINCY.

Plans and Specifications are on file at the Inspectional Service Department located at 55 Sea Street, Quincy, MA 02169 and may be reviewed during regular business hours.

Martin Aikens, Chairman

2/5/15, 2/12/15

NOTICE OF PUBLIC HEARING

NOTICE OF PUBLIC HEARING
City of Quincy
ZONING BOARD OF APPEALS
CASE NO. 15-005

Pursuant to the provisions of TITLE 17 of the QUINCY MUNICIPAL CODE as amended, the Quincy Zoning Board of Appeals will hold an Open Public Hearing on Tuesday, February 24, 2015 at 7:15 pm on the Second Floor in the Council Chambers, Quincy City Hall, 1305 Hancock Street, Quincy, MA 02169, on the application of Flagship Marina Bay LLC for a Flood Plain Special Permit, a dimensional Variance and Finding to construct a new one-story, 4,992 square foot boat service building in the Business C zoning district and Flood Plain overlay district in violation of Title 17, Section 4.1 (dimensional regulations) and 8.1 (flood plain).

The parcel of land is a portion of the boat storage lot located at 333 Victory Road and is shown as Lots 53 and 57 on Assessors' plan no. 6076 and also shown as Lot 53 on Land Court Plan 27744-T.

Plans and Specifications are on file at the Inspectional Service Department located at 55 Sea Street, Quincy, MA 02169 and may be reviewed during regular business hours.

Martin Aikens, Chairman

2/5/15, 2/12/15

NOTICE OF PUBLIC HEARING

NOTICE OF PUBLIC HEARING
City of Quincy
ZONING BOARD OF APPEALS
CASE NO. 15-006

Pursuant to the provisions of TITLE 17 of the QUINCY MUNICIPAL CODE as amended, the Quincy Zoning Board of Appeals will hold an Open Public Hearing on Tuesday, February 24, 2015 at 7:15 pm on the Second Floor in the Council Chambers, Quincy City Hall, 1305 Hancock Street, Quincy, MA 02169. On the application of Anthony Maggiore for a Special Permit/Flood Plain/Finding to remove the existing one story garage and replace it with a two story garage with a master bedroom and bathroom above in violation of Title 17 as amended Chapter 3.4.3 (nonconforming) and Chapter 8.1.9 (special permit flood plain) on the premises numbered 55 GEORGE ROAD, QUINCY.

Plans and Specifications are on file at the Inspectional Service Department located at 55 Sea Street, Quincy, MA 02169 and may be reviewed during regular business hours.

Martin Aikens, Chairman

2/5/15, 2/12/15

NOTICE OF PUBLIC HEARING

NOTICE OF PUBLIC HEARING
City of Quincy
ZONING BOARD OF APPEALS
CASE NO. 15-007

Pursuant to the provisions of TITLE 17 of the QUINCY MUNICIPAL CODE as amended, the Quincy Zoning Board of Appeals will hold an Open Public Hearing on Tuesday, February 24, 2015 at 7:15 pm on the Second Floor in the Council Chambers, Quincy City Hall, 1305 Hancock Street, Quincy, MA 02169. On the application of John J. Flatley, Trustee of Crown Colony Drive for a Variance to permit the construction of a 492 unit residential building within an Industrial B Zoning District in violation of Title 17 as amended Chapter 4.0 (dimensional requirements) and Chapter 3.0 (use regulations) on the premises numbered 600R CROWN COLONY DRIVE, QUINCY.

Plans and Specifications are on file at the Inspectional Service Department located at 55 Sea Street, Quincy, MA 02169 and may be reviewed during regular business hours.

Martin Aikens, Chairman

2/5/15, 2/12/15

TUTORS WANTED TUTORS WANTED

After School Tutors/Teachers (North Quincy) Immediate opening

Local program seeking a part-time person afternoons to help school-age children in a classroom setting with grammar, math and homework in our afternoon classes in Quincy.

- Must be high school graduate. Prefer someone to work 18-20 hours per week, 2:30-6 pm MWThF and 12-6 pm Tuesdays. Would consider fewer hours.
- Some experience with school age children required; experience with foreign language students is helpful. Pay from $10 to $12 per hour depending on schedule and background.
- Typical applicants might be college students, retired teachers, etc., but we are open to any responsible, caring adults who love children. Located near subway.
- All applicants must undergo a background check and meet other requirements.

Please email a resume with specifics about your background and local contact information to: ivyschoolquincy@gmail.com

2/12

BALLET ACADEMY

International Ballet Academy of Norwell, Inc.
34 Accord Park Drive
Norwell, MA 02061
339-788-9670 • 617-481-5673
www.ibanorwell.org
2/12

MISCELLANEOUS

LAND FOR SALE

UPSTATE NEW YORK LAND BARGAINS Acreage, ponds and streams 42 acres w/pond, borders stateland-$59,995. 86 acres w/ road and utilities, pond , borders stateland-$89,995. 6acres w/deer river, borders stateland -$19,995. 138 acres w/small lake-$89,900. Financing available. Call now. 800-229-7843 Or visit www.LandandCamps.com

MISCELLANEOUS

SAWMILLS from only $4397.00-MAKE & SAVE MONEY with your own band-mill-Cut lumber any dimension. In stock ready to ship. FREE Info/DVD: www.NorwoodSawmills.com 1-800-578-1363 Ext.300N

HALLS FOR RENT

MORRISETTE LEGION POST
81-83 Liberty St., Quincy
Function Hall Available
Call for Details* 617-770-4876
Internet Capable • Weddings • Showers • Christenings • Meetings After Funeral Gatherings TF

WANTED

OLD HAND TOOLS & BOOKS WANTED

Planes, chisels, adzes, shaves, machinist, and sheetmetal tools, calipers, clamps, anvils, vises.

USEFUL TOOLS, ALL TRADES.

New England history books
Collections: old postcards, toys, military, fishing & old auto items

LIBERTY TOOL CO.
888-405-2007
Davistownmuseum.org
www.jonesport-wood.com TF

CASH FOR DIABETES TEST STRIPS:
Up to $33/box!
I will pick up same day
Must be Factory Sealed and Unexpired
Call Jenni
(800)413-3479
www.CashForYourTestStrips.com
2/5

HELP WANTED

Operator/Dispatcher Position for Yellow Cab of Quincy

Part time positions available

Responsibilities include:
- Answering multiple phone lines in a courteous and professional manner
- Data entry, and dispatching calls over the radio.
- Knowledge of the streets and landmarks in Quincy a must.
- Good communication skills and computer skills.
- Works well under pressure and can respond to emergencies quickly and efficiently.

Please email resume to napostleycq@comcast.net or call Nichol at 617-479-9600.
2/5

The Quincy Sun CLASSIFIED AD FORM

MAIL TO: THE QUINCY SUN, 1372 HANCOCK STREET, QUINCY, MA 02169

PAYABLE IN ADVANCE. Payment must accompany order.

INDEX
- ❑ Services
- ❑ For Sale
- ❑ Autos
- ❑ Boats
- ❑ For Rent
- ❑ Wanted
- ❑ Help Wanted
- ❑ Work Wanted
- ❑ Pets
- ❑ Lost & Found
- ❑ Real Estate
- ❑ Antiques
- ❑ Flea Markets
- ❑ Yard Sales
- ❑ Instruction
- ❑ Day Care
- ❑ Personal
- ❑ Miscellaneous

RATES

1 WEEK ❑ $9.00 for one insertion, up to 20 words, 10¢ for each additional word.

2-4 WEEKS ❑ $8.00 per insertion up to 20 words for 2-4 insertions of the same ad, 10¢ each additional word.

5-10 WEEKS ❑ $7.50 per insertion, up to 20 words, for 5-10 insertions of the same ad 10¢ for each additional word.

11 WEEKS OR MORE ❑ $7.00 per insertion, up to 20 words, for 11 or more insertions of the same ad 10¢ for each additional word.

❑ Enclosed is $ _____ for the following ad to run _____ weeks in The Quincy Sun.

COPY: _____

NO REFUND WILL BE MADE AT THIS CONTRACT RATE IN THE EVENT OF CANCELLATION. DEADLINE: FRIDAY AT 4PM. PLEASE INCLUDE YOUR PHONE NUMBER IN AD.

NOTICE OF PUBLIC HEARING

NOTICE OF PUBLIC HEARING
City of Quincy
ZONING BOARD OF APPEALS
CASE NO. 15-008

Pursuant to the provisions of TITLE 17 of the QUINCY MUNICIPAL CODE as amended, the Quincy Zoning Board of Appeals will hold an Open Public Hearing on Tuesday, February 24, 2015 at 7:15 pm on the Second Floor in the Council Chambers, Quincy City Hall, 1305 Hancock Street, Quincy, MA 02169. On the application of Michelle & Joe Keegan for a Variance to enclose the front porch in violation of Title 17 as amended Chapter 4.0 (dimensional requirements) on the premises numbered 21 MORELAND ROAD, QUINCY.

Plans and Specifications are on file at the Inspectional Service Department located at 55 Sea Street, Quincy, MA 02169 and may be reviewed during regular business hours.

Martin Aikens, Chairman

2/5/15, 2/12/15

NOTICE OF PUBLIC HEARING

NOTICE OF PUBLIC HEARING
City of Quincy
ZONING BOARD OF APPEALS
CASE NO. 15-009

Pursuant to the provisions of TITLE 17 of the QUINCY MUNICIPAL CODE as amended, the Quincy Zoning Board of Appeals will hold an Open Public Hearing on Tuesday, February 24, 2015 at 7:15 pm on the Second Floor in the Council Chambers, Quincy City Hall, 1305 Hancock Street, Quincy, MA 02169. On the application of Chris Costello & Christine Duffy for a Finding to extend the existing front porch to the right side of the property in violation of Title 17 as amended Chapter 3.4.3 (nonconforming) on the premises numbered 48 ABERDEEN ROAD, QUINCY.

Plans and Specifications are on file at the Inspectional Service Department located at 55 Sea Street, Quincy, MA 02169 and may be reviewed during regular business hours.

Martin Aikens, Chairman

2/5/15, 2/12/15

We need you.

WE'RE FIGHTING FOR YOUR LIFE

American Heart Association

CLASSIFIEDS

REPORT POTHOLES

Potholes are a year-round problem and should be reported to the Department of Public Works.

617-376-1914

PLEASE RECYCLE THIS NEWSPAPER

Save Gas & Money, Shop Locally

Want to pick up a copy of The Quincy Sun?

Here are stores in Quincy that sell it on their newsstands:

QUINCY MARKET
Corner of Temple & Washington St.

GOODIE'S STORE
1250 Hancock St., Presidents Place

NEW STORE ON THE BLOCK
1183 Hancock St., Quincy Ctr. T Station

HANCOCK TOBACCO
1500 Hancock St.

MIGNOSA'S FRUIT BASKET
138 Granite St.

RITE-AID
132 Granite St.

COFFEE BREAK CAFÉ
77 Parkingway

HANCOCK PARK LOBBY SHOP
164 Parkingway

FRANKLIN ST. BP
60 Franklin St.

7-11
78 Franklin St.

CVS
178 Washington St.
Braintree

SHOP N SAVE LIQUORS
20 Independence Ave.

DONUT + DONUTS
33 Scammell St.

PRESIDENTIAL LIQUORS
Scammel St.

TEDESCHI'S
85 Quincy Ave.

DAILY MART
291 Quincy Ave.

ROCHE BROTHERS
The Falls

WALGREENS
418 Quincy Ave.

ARTERY GROCERY
1000 Southern Artery

DAIRY FARM
330 Washington St.

TEDESCHI'S
230 Washington St.

STOP & SHOP
Southern Artery

CVS
Southern Artery

BAXTER'S PHARMACY
385 Washington St.

WALGREENS
550 Adams St.

TEDESCHI'S
650 Adams St.

7-11
Adams St.

VILLAGE COMM. MARKET
100 Willard St.

COPELAND LIQUORS
273 Copeland St.

GRANITE MART
308 Willard St.

7-11
Copeland St.

JOE'S PLACE
260 Centre St.

ALBA DELI
1089 Hancock St.

CORNER FOOD MARKET
1060 Hancock St.

DAIRY MART
200 Sea St.

ADAMS SHORE SUPERMARKET
494 Sea St.

PALMER STREET MARKET
231 Palmer St.

BERNIE'S GENERAL STORE
1147 Sea St.

7-11
721 Hancock St.

BEALE ST. SMOKE SHOP
17 Beale St.

CVS
42 Beale St.

COFFEE BREAK CAFÉ
12 Old Colony Ave.

SUPREME LIQUORS
615 Hancock St.

S & A CONVENIENCE STORE
498 Hancock St.

HANNAFORD BROTHERS
475 Hancock St.

MULLANEY'S VARIETY
205 W. Squantum St.

STOP & SHOP
65 Newport Ave.

7-11
363 Hancock St.

RED APPLE FOOD SHOP
48 Billings Rd.

SAM'S VARIETY
125 Billings Rd.

DAVE'S GENERAL STORE
66 Newbury Ave.

ATLANTIC MARKET & LIQUORS
247 Atlantic Ave.

CARMINE'S CAFÉ
69 Huckins Ave.

TEDESCHI'S
751 E. Squantum St.

W. ELM VARIETY
139 West Elm Ave.

LUCKY SHAMROCK
265 Beale St.

ANDRE'S STORE
20 Brook St.

SERVICES

POWER PLUMBING
Plumbing, Heating, Gas Fitting
Repairs • New Installations
Dave 617-328-3007
Emergencies
617-792-4054
Master Lic # 13749 TF

FOR HIRE
Garages, Decks Taken Away, Rubbish Piles Removed, Moorings Moved
OR ME WITH DUMP & LIFTGATE
$60/HR.
(617)479-5410
"Your Trash is my Ca$h"
3/19

Reliable House Cleaning
KITCHEN, LIVING ROOM, DINING ROOM, BEDROOMS, BATHROOMS, HALLWAYS
Maisa 617-259-4841 4/2

ATRIA MARINA PLACE
Independent & Assisted Living
Memory Care
4 Seaport Drive
North Quincy, MA 02171
617-770-3264 2/5

SERVICES

SAVE
Budget Fuel
Fuel Assistance
Senior Discount
Full Service
617-328-4063 TF

100% FREE Removal
of Appliances & all types of metal
Commercial & Residential
Junk Removed
Garages · Basements · Attic
Call John anytime 617-653-6255
5/14

J.F. ROOFING CO.
QUINCY, MA
·Shingles
·Rubber
·Slate
·Copper
·Vinyl Replacement Windows
·Snow Removal
(617)471-8216
2/19

THOMAS C. SWEENEY
Smaller Jobs a Specialty
51 Years Experience
Carpentry, Siding, Painting, Porches
Viny/Windows, Doors
Roofing, Decking, Steps
License #1373 Free Estimates
Reliable 617-825-1210 References
4/16

SERVICES

HTA
Hancock T.V. & Appliance
Sales, Service, Parts & Installation
Since 1945
(617) 472-1710
115 Franklin Street, Quincy, MA
hancocktvandappliance.com

S.G. HAROLD
PLUMBING, HEATING & AC
Specializing in Viessman Boiler
Unico Air Conditioning
Home heating repairs & service
Radiant Floor heating
QUINCY
617-471-0914
Unprecedented Service Tailored to You
MA Lic. #10589 TF

PAINTING BY PROFESSIONAL
Interior & Exterior
Powerwashing & Carpentry
All Types of House Repairs
Reasonable Price
Small Jobs Welcome TF
Leave Message 617-773-4761

The Quincy Sun

CLASSIFIED AD FORM

MAIL TO: THE QUINCY SUN, 1372 HANCOCK STREET, QUINCY, MA 02169

PAYABLE IN ADVANCE. Payment must accompany order.

INDEX
- ❑ Services
- ❑ For Sale
- ❑ Autos
- ❑ Boats
- ❑ For Rent
- ❑ Wanted
- ❑ Help Wanted
- ❑ Work Wanted
- ❑ Pets
- ❑ Lost & Found
- ❑ Real Estate
- ❑ Antiques
- ❑ Flea Markets
- ❑ Yard Sales
- ❑ Instruction
- ❑ Day Care
- ❑ Personal
- ❑ Miscellaneous

NO REFUND WILL BE MADE AT THIS CONTRACT RATE IN THE EVENT OF CANCELLATION. DEADLINE: FRIDAY AT 4PM. PLEASE INCLUDE YOUR PHONE NUMBER IN AD.

RATES

1 WEEK ❑ $9.00 for one insertion, up to 20 words, 10¢ for each additional word.

2-4 WEEKS ❑ $8.00 per insertion up to 20 words for 2-4 insertions of the same ad, 10¢ each additional word.

5-10 WEEKS ❑ $7.50 per insertion, up to 20 words, for 5-10 insertions of the same ad 10¢ for each additional word.

11 WEEKS OR MORE ❑ $7.00 per insertion, up to 20 words, for 11 or more insertions of the same ad 10¢ for each additional word.

❑ Enclosed is $ _____ for the following ad to run _____ weeks in The Quincy Sun.

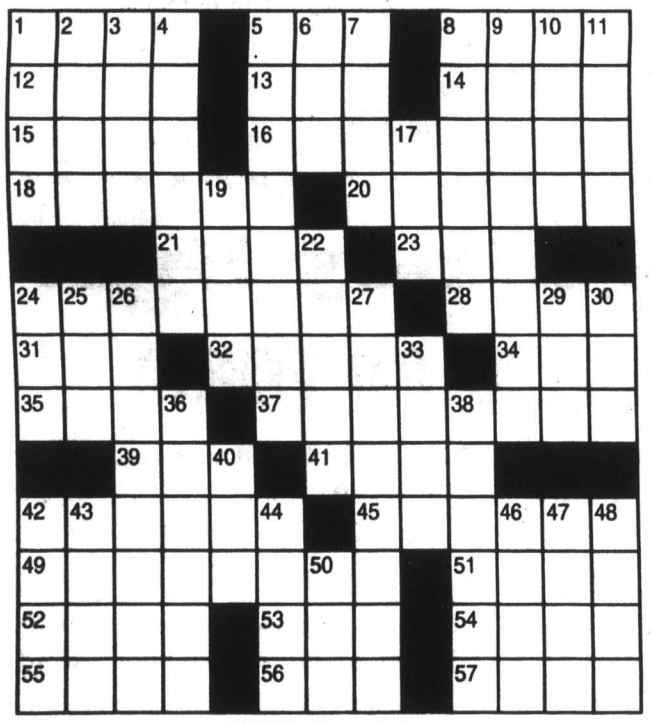
COPY: _____

SUN FUN PAGE

King Crossword

ACROSS
1 Cheek by — (adjoining)
5 Woman
8 Two-timers
12 Geometry find
13 Singer Sumac
14 Leave out
15 Dissolve
16 Contingency funds
18 One of Henry VIII's Annes
20 Strike from the text
21 The Red and the Black
23 "— the sea son to be jolly"
24 Post-tragedy joking, e.g.
28 Layer
31 Bullring bravo
32 Rock
34 Beer's cousin
35 Snapshots
37 Inept ones
39 Knock
41 Frog's kin
42 Church key, e.g.
45 Steering gadget
49 Dressy clothing
51 Tittle
52 Misplace
53 Compete
54 Applaud
55 Basin accessory
56 Conclusion
57 Examination

DOWN
1 Door-frame piece
2 Sandwich cookie
3 Water source
4 Most up-to-date
5 Acrobats
6 "I — Camera"
7 Actress Cheryl
8 "Stop!"
9 One with no memories
10 Regimen
11 Eyelid problem
17 Encountered
19 Favorable votes
22 Brown ermine
24 Jazzy style
25 Muhammad or Laila
26 Lessen
27 Backed
29 Wapiti
30 In medias —
33 Jacob's brother
36 Wood-smoothing machine
38 User
40 Apiece
42 Look lecherously
43 Turn the soil
44 Carry on
46 Ration (out)
47 Greek vowels
48 Engrossed
50 Martini ingredient



© 2015 King Features Synd., Inc.

HOCUS-FOCUS

BY HENRY BOLTINOFF

Find at least six differences in details between panels.

©2015 King Features Syndicate, Inc.

Differences: 1. Car is different. 2. Leg is moved. 3. Hair is different. 4. Pocketbook is missing. 5. Sign is different. 6. Basement window is missing.

Trivia test

by Fifi Rodriguez

1. MOVIES: What was Luna Lovegood's "patronus" in the "Harry Potter" movies?
2. FIRSTS: Who was the first surgeon to perform a heart transplant?
3. FOOD & DRINK: In what country did the drink sherry originate?
4. GEOGRAPHY: What is the basic currency of Botswana?
5. ASTRONOMY: Ganymede is a moon of which planet in our solar system?
6. CHEMISTRY: What is the common use for the drug diphenhydramine hydrochloride?
7. HISTORY: Who was the second wife of Henry VIII of England?
8. MYTHOLOGY: Who was the Roman god of fire?
9. TELEVISION: What was the last name of neighbors Ethel and Fred on the "I Love Lucy" show?
10. GENERAL KNOWLEDGE: In what century was tea introduced to Europe?

Answers
1. A hare
2. Dr. Christiaan Barnard, 1967
3. Spain
4. The pula
5. Jupiter
6. Antihistamine to treat allergies
7. Anne Boleyn
8. Vulcan
9. Mertz
10. Early 17th century

© 2015 King Features Synd., Inc.

Salome's Stars

ARIES (March 21 to April 19) All that flattery and fawning shouldn't affect any decision you have to make. Keep your focus on the facts and ignore all the hyperbole, especially if it gets uncomfortably personal.

TAURUS (April 20 to May 20) Your Bovine instincts are on the mark about that "favor" you're being asked to do. Agree to nothing unless you get a full explanation -- which you would check out first, of course.

GEMINI (May 21 to June 20) A somewhat unsettled recent period should give way to a smoother time going through the week. Use this quieter time to catch up on matters you might have had to let slide.

CANCER (June 21 to July 22) Feeling a little confused is understandable with all those mixed messages. Take time to list the questions you have. Then present them and insist on answers that make sense.

LEO (July 23 to August 22) Cupid can be very helpful for Lions seeking a love connection. The chubby cherub also brings warm and fuzzy feelings to paired Leos and Leonas who already share a special love line.

VIRGO (August 23 to September 22) Travel is favored this week, whether you'll be globe-trotting or taking a trip to a nearby getaway. You might be surprised (or maybe not) by who wants to be your traveling companion.

LIBRA (September 23 to October 22) Getting advice on your next business-related move is a good idea, but only if your advisers are trustworthy. Get references that you can check out before you make any decisions.

SCORPIO (October 23 to November 21) Getting a boost in your self-esteem is one benefit that comes with a job well done. There are other plusses as well, including being noticed by all the right people. Good luck.

SAGITTARIUS (November 22 to December 21) Make time to deal with family matters, especially where they concern your elderly kinfolk. Being there for them from the start can help resolve problems sooner rather than later.

CAPRICORN (December 22 to January 19) Getting a project started can often be difficult. But the good news is that you won't want for lack of assistance from colleagues who would like to work with you. So, let them!

AQUARIUS (January 20 to February 18) A lot of work-related issues might be raised this week, and you need to be prepared for whatever comes along. Things should be easier when it comes to matters in your private life.

PISCES (February 19 to March 20) What might appear to be a very much unwanted change in your life right now could turn out to be a very welcome event after all. Give yourself a chance to see where it might take you.

BORN THIS WEEK: You exercise your strong leadership qualities well, which is why people believe in you and feel reassured by you.

© 2015 King Features Synd., Inc.

CryptoQuip

This is a simple substitution cipher in which each letter used stands for another. If you think that X equals O, it will equal O throughout the puzzle. Solution is accomplished by trial and error.

Clue: I equals T

UNWB' IOZS FYZFSHZNZD L DNHK VJY VLB SLINZD L ILBIP RYKKOBU: "RLHP JLW L KNIIKS FKLR."

© 2015 King Features Synd., Inc.

MAGIC MAZE ● BAGGY WORDS

X E R O L I E B Y V S Q N K H
E B G Y W T R O L G N J G E B
Y W C A R P E T B A G U R P N
K I G D G B Z T M B X V S E Q
O M K I G G G G T Y G E L P C
A Y W U A A A S Q E L P U I N
L J H B B B B B F N U E F P E
C A A N D T D D E O Y G G G X
V E A E U I N S N M Q P A A N
S E E M K K A J H A A F B B B
B F E C B Z S D A D H G A B Y

Find the listed words in the diagram. They run in all directions forward, backward, up, down and diagonally.

Bagel, Bagful, Baggage, Baghdad, Bagman, Bagpipe, Baguette, Beanbag, Carpetbag, Feedbag, Gamebag, Handbag, Kitbag, Moneybag, Sandbag

©2015 King Features Syndicate, Inc. All rights reserved.

Wishing Well®

7	5	2	6	8	6	7	4	5	8	5	3	5
L	E	B	P	L	R	A	S	M	O	O	C	T
2	4	5	3	8	3	7	4	6	3	5	6	3
E	T	I	H	V	A	D	A	O	N	O	S	N
2	6	7	2	4	5	8	7	6	3	6	4	6
C	P	Y	H	Y	N	E	L	E	E	R	C	I
7	2	8	3	4	5	4	5	6	8	2	5	6
U	A	A	L	A	S	L	A	T	B	R	R	Y
5	8	7	5	8	6	3	7	3	6	2	5	6
E	O	C	H	U	A	D	K	E	S	I	I	S
4	2	5	3	6	7	8	7	3	7	6	8	6
M	T	G	S	U	S	N	M	I	I	R	D	E
3	7	2	8	5	7	3	2	3	6	2	7	2
R	L	A	S	H	E	E	B	S	D	L	S	E

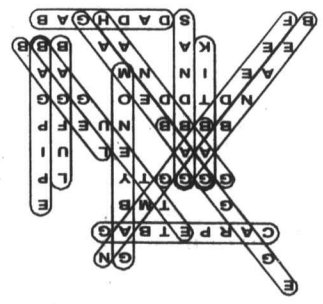
HERE IS A PLEASANT LITTLE GAME that will give you a message every day. It's a numerical puzzle designed to spell out your fortune. Count the letters in your first name. If the number of letters is 6 or more, subtract 4. If the number is less than 6, add 3. The result is your key number. Start at the upper left-hand corner and check one of your key numbers, left to right. Then read the message the letters under the checked figures give you.

©2015 King Features Syndicate, Inc. All rights reserved.

— King Crossword — Answers

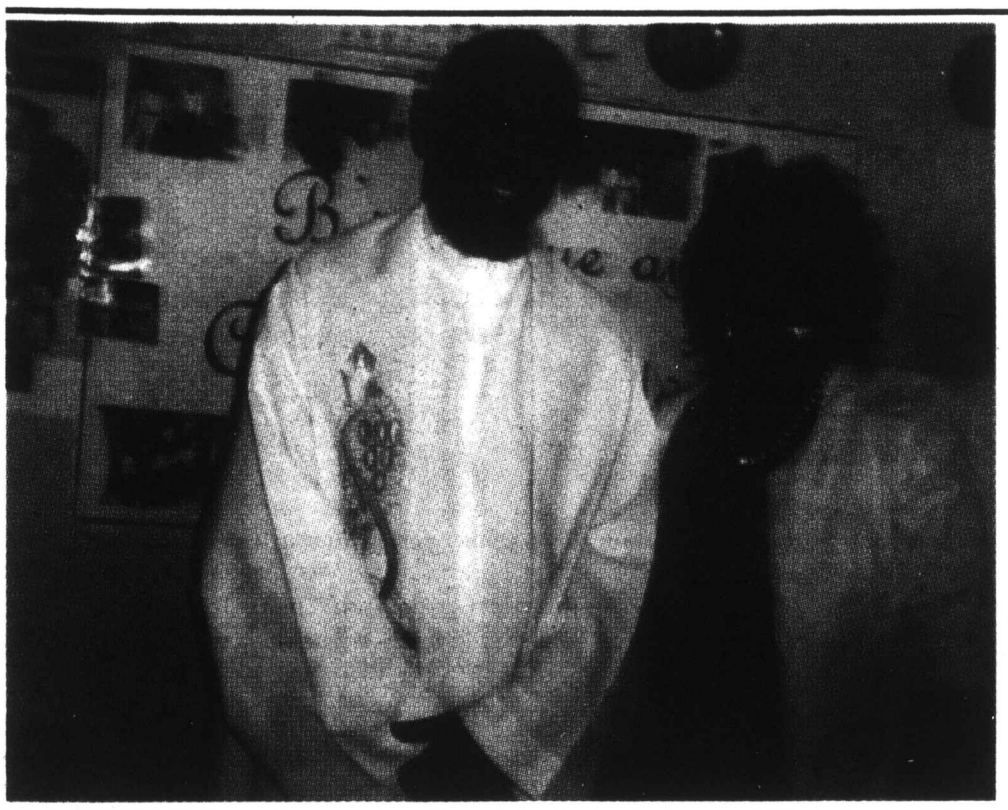
Solution time: 21 mins.

Magic Maze ANSWERS: BAGGY WORDS



Cyptoquip ANSWER:

Kids' tune concerning a girl who was eating a tasty mollusk: "Mary Had a Little Clam."



FATHER SIMONISE of Sacred Heart Church in Port-au-Prince, and Marie-Denise Fabien meet at Saint Yves School before Fr. Simonise blesses the children and the building.

Photo Courtesy Marie-Denise Fabien

Quincy Residents Help Achieve Wonderful 'Noel Extravaganza'

Cont'd From Page 17

donations. The teachers and staff also obtained an envelope with money sufficient to cover the expenses of a Christmas meal for each participant and their families.

Five years ago, on Jan. 12, 2010, St. Yves School was completely destroyed in the earthquake that devastated Haiti. Joseph Fabien, Marie-Denise's father, was a co-founder of the school 60 years ago. Prior to the earthquake the school was a thriving institution serving 350 students in grades K – 12. After the disaster, Marie-Denise and Gail Macdonald launched a fundraising campaign at the Cornerstone Campus Preschool where Macdonald was director. Marie-Denise's daughter Grace L'Or attended kindergarten at Cornerstone then.

The initial campaign led to the creation of the Committee to Rebuild St. Yves. The first funds raised made it possible to clear the rubles, recover and provide proper burial for the victims which included the janitor and the students who perished in the school. This painful task took nine months after the quake.

Today, Saint Yves school is operating under a temporary metal roof building. It serves 250 students in two sessions, half in the morning and half in the afternoon. The committee dreams to rebuild the school fully and in accordance with the latest anti-seismic building techniques. In May 2015, the committee will hold its third annual Gala which brings out the support of so many residents and businesses from the Quincy neighborhood.

"Thanks to all the people of Quincy who are pioneering this endeavor which will affect children of many generations to come" Fabien said, "and with God's blessing, we will surely rebuild Saint Yves School."

Saint Yves School Funds is a tax deductible organization. Donations can be made at Saint Yves School Haiti Fund at Citizen Bank Acct# 1320715580

Or visit www.saintyvesschool.com.

The committee would like to recognize all the Quincy businesses and individuals who contributed to make this event a success:

Businesses: Meineke on Southern Artery and manager Bob; Gennaro's Eatery and Gerry owner; Walmart Stores, manager Mike Aunkst; Law Offices of Attorney Burke, Law Offices of Attorney Dolbec, Attorney Jimmy Gavigan, Eagle Shipping Line, owners Remy Joseph and wife.

Individuals: Tita Jean Fabien and Professor Jacques Robert Jean Louis who coordinated the event in Haiti, Christopher and Lisa-Marie McGurty, Gail Mcdonald, Shamus McBride, Nancy Thomas, Colleen Stevenson, Julie Berbaran and Rose Myzeck, Susan Bill, Susan Lynn and Theresa Murphy.

Officials Warn Of Tax Scams

Secretary of the Commonwealth William F. Galvin has joined the Internal Revenue Service and the Federal Bureau of Investigation in warning Massachusetts taxpayers about the rise of telephone tax scams.

"With tax filing season upon us, my office has received a number of calls from people who have been contacted by someone claiming to be from the IRS, telling them they are in tax trouble and offering help in resolving it," Galvin said. "The object is usually bid for personal and financial information as well as money."

"No matter how intimidating the caller sounds, you should never give personal information, like social security numbers or bank account numbers, over the telephone to a cold caller," Galvin said.

IRS Commissioner John Koskinen has said the IRS has seen a surge in these phone scams in recent months.

"If someone calls unexpectedly claiming to be from the IRS with aggressive threats if you don't pay immediately, its a scam artist calling," Commissioner Koskinen said. "The first IRS contact with taxpayers is usually through the mail. Taxpayers have rights and this is not how we do business."

Galvin said the tax scammers are using the internet as well as the telephone.

Vincent P. Lisi, Special Agent in Charge of the FBI's Boston Division, said, "The government isn't going to call you, email you or threaten you, asking for money. We don't operate that way."

Lisi added, "The FBI and our law enforcement partners take our role in identifying and arresting those responsible for these tax fraud scams very seriously. We share information about criminal organizations engaged in tax fraud schemes and their links to other types of criminal activity such as illegal drugs, weapons and terrorism."

The Treasury Inspector General for Tax Administration has received reports of about 200,000 contacts from scammers nationally and is aware of as many as 3,000 victims who have paid out more than $14 million to them, the IRS said.

The IRS highlights five things scammers often do, but says the ITS will never:

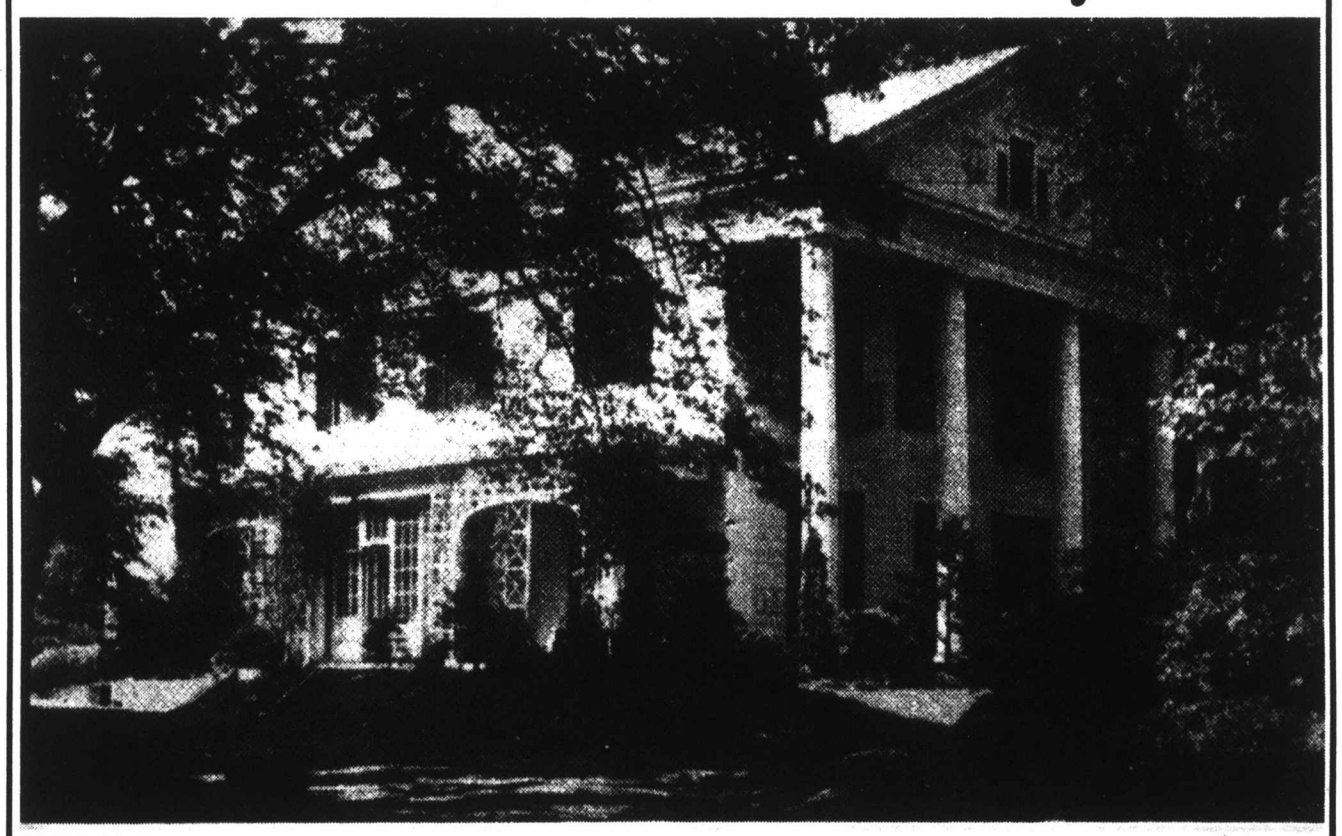
- Call to demand immediate payment, nor will the agency call about taxes owed without first having mailed you a bill.
- Demand that you pay taxes without giving you the opportunity to question or appeal the amount they say you owe.
- Require that you use a specific method of payment for your taxes, such as a prepaid debit card.
- Ask for credit or debit card numbers over the phone.
- Threaten to bring in local police or other law-enforcement groups to have you arrested for not paying.

For those who have received a call from someone claiming to be from the IRS and asking for money should call the IRS, the IRS recommends that you call 1-800-829-1040 if you owe or think you owe taxes. IRS workers can help with a payment issue.

But if you don't owe or don't believe you owe taxes, call the Treasury Inspector General for Tax Administration at 1-800-366-4484 or at www.tigta.gov. They also recommend contacting the federal Trade Commission at ftc.gov, using ftc complaint assistant and entering "irs telephone scam" to your comments if you've been the target of one of these scams.

The IRS does not use email, text messages or any social media to discuss personal tax issues involving bills or refunds.

Scenes From Yesterday



THIS IS A 1930's real photo postcard reproduction showing the estate of Quincy Mayor Perley E. Barbour at 176 Adams St. across from the Adams Mansion (Old House). The three-acre lot was part of John Quincy Adams's farm when purchased in 1837 by a wealthy Boston merchant who built this 15-room house as a summer residence. He later lived here year round. Barbour was the fifth owner and lived here with his wife for 40 years. He was perhaps Quincy's wealthiest mayor and wanted to serve only one term in 1925 during Quincy's tercentenary celebration. He was president of the Barbour Welting Company, a major manufacturer in Brockton's shoe industry and he was president of several other businesses including the Quincy Trust Company and the Quincy Evening News. He founded the newspaper because of his displeasure with Quincy's other daily newspaper. Barbour had a wide range of interests: he served on government boards during both World Wars; he was president of the Quincy Council of Boy Scouts; a 32nd degree Mason, a member of the New York Yale Club and golf clubs locally and on the Cape where he had a summer home. After his wife died he moved to his son's home and this house being empty was purchased by Quincy grocer Frank Foy who planned to convert it into a rest home for the aged. Meanwhile, Quincy's Mayor Della Chiesa was trying to get the Commonwealth to buy it to be used as the Governor's permanent mansion. Neither plan succeeded because the 122-year-old house was destroyed by a disastrous fire in October 1959 and then the lot was subdivided. Barbour died in 1964 at the age of 84. To contact Tom Galvin, e-mail tmgalvin@verizon.net.

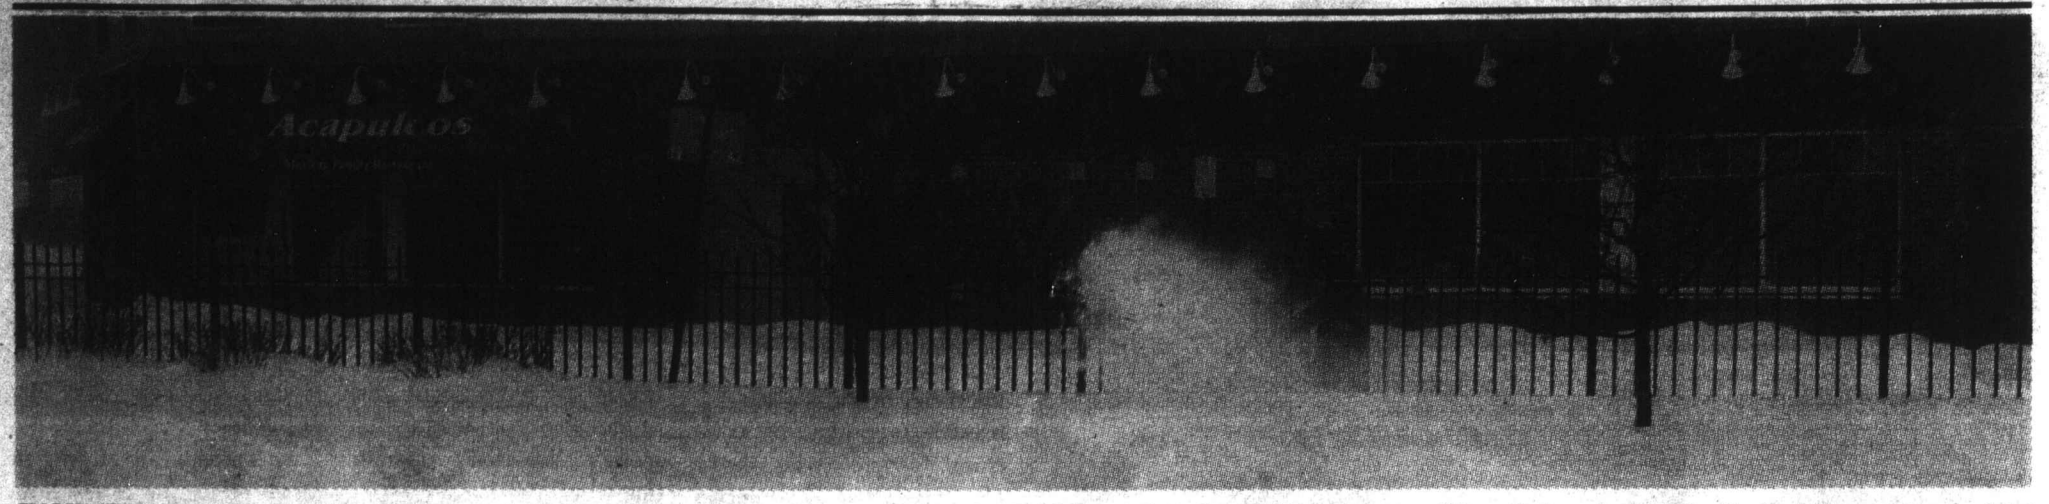
From the Collection of City Historian Tom Galvin

Daughters Of American Revolution Program Feb. 14

Daughters of the American Revolution, Deborah Sampson Chapter, will sponsor a program at the Brockton Historical Society Saturday, Feb. 14 at 1 p.m. at 216 N Pearl St., Brockton.

Guest speaker will be Jim Benson, author of "Brockton, Images of America" and " Brockton Revisited." His topic will be how Brockton provided shoes for the army soldiers during the Civil War.

The Deborah Sampson Chapter membership is drawn from many towns on the South Shore including Quincy. Information regarding joining DAR will be available at the program. The public is welcome.



SNOW FROM A sidewalk on Chestnut Street in Quincy Center is cleared by a worker early Monday morning. Sixteen inches of snow fell on Quincy during Monday's storm, making the total accumulation including last week's blizzard of 40 inches in one week.

Quincy Sun Photo/Robert Bosworth

White Wallop Leaves City Snow Budget In Red

Cont'd From Page 15

A City Council meeting scheduled for Monday was postponed to next Monday, Feb. 9.

Also delayed was the first annual City of Presidents Pond Hockey Tournament, which was scheduled to play out over this past weekend at Sailors Pond off Rice Road in Wollaston. The Park Department delayed the tournament because the pond was covered in snow and slush; it may be played this upcoming weekend (Feb. 7 and 8) depending on the condition of the pond. The tournament had been limited to 12 teams, but that was increased to 16 teams because of high demand. Another four teams were put on a waitlist to play.

The storm has had an impact on local businesses. Tom Anacone, owner of Craig's Café in Quincy Center, had to keep his restaurant closed two days because of the blizzard last week and again on Monday.

"I had to close for the blizzard for two days and we were closed Monday, so that's three days in less than a week," Anacone said. "It's pretty stressful; that's 40 percent of my business for the week."

When the restaurant has been open, Anacone said he had to figure out how his employees will be able to get to work, as parking has been limited. He has also had to keep the front and back of his restaurant clear.

Business at Craig's has been slower than usual the day after both storms, but bounced back the following days. Anacone said he had a strong weekend, after the city cleared Hancock Street and others nearby before the start of business on Jan. 30.

"Luckily for me I have a strong customer base," Anacone said. "Other businesses that close for three days might not be so lucky."

In addition to 24.5 inches of snow, last week's blizzard also brought with it high winds and some coastal flooding. Water came ashore around 4:30 a.m. Jan. 27 during high tide on Sea Street at the Willows in Houghs Neck, along Quincy Shore Drive, and the causeway in Squantum, according to Quincy Police Capt. John Dougan. Some basement and first floor flooding occurred in the Post Island Road neighborhood, according to Walker, but no major damage was reported.

"We have no reports of any severe structural damage," Walker said.

No coastal flooding was reported during Monday's nor'easter, the mayor stated.

Jake Navarro, a spokesman for National Grid, said 145 households in Quincy Point lost power during the early morning hours of Jan. 27 because of a combination of high winds and snowfall. Crews were able to quickly restore service. A water main break unrelated to the blizzard was reported in Houghs Neck Jan. 28 and fixed that same day, Walker said.

The MBTA was shutdown on Jan. 27 and reopened the following day on a regular schedule; the transit system was open Monday during the nor'easter and encountered widespread delays that night and again during the morning and evening commutes Tuesday. Gov. Charlie Baker declared a ban on all non-essential travel that lasted all of Jan. 27 in eastern and central Massachusetts. Walker said the travel ban was helpful, allowing plow drivers to better clear city streets.

"It certainly did help," he stated. "At the height of the storm there were few people on the road."

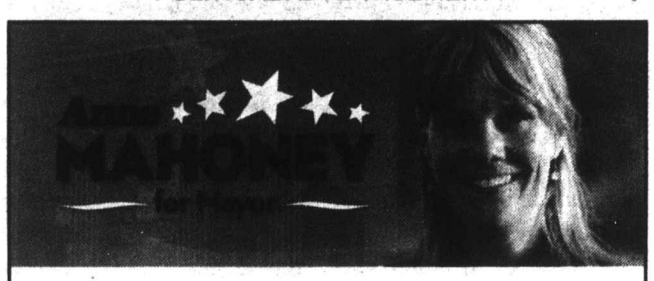
Dougan reported no traffic incidents related to last week's blizzard, and only a few accidents during Monday's storm. Quincy Fire Department Capt. Richard Bryan noted the department received about ten calls from residents complaining of a gas odor the night of Jan. 26. That was caused when an offshore tanker was over pressurized and had to vent out excess gas. Other than that, there were no incidents reported.

Last week's blizzard was one for the record books. The National Weather Service reported 24.6 inches of snow fell at Boston's Logan Airport, the most of any January snowstorm in the city's history. In Worcester, 34.5 inches of snow was reported making it the largest snowfall in that city's history.

The National Weather Service also confirmed the nor'easter was officially a blizzard, defined as a snowstorm with winds of at least 35 miles per hour and less than a quarter mile of visibility for at least three hours. Nine hours of blizzard conditions were reported in Boston; in Marshfield, blizzard conditions were confirmed for 14 hours. The storm became only the second blizzard to hit Greater Boston since Blizzard of 1978, after the one that struck in February 2013.

Snow weary residents might not be getting a reprieve any time soon. Snow is in the forecast for today (Thursday) and again next Sunday into Monday.

POLITICAL ADVERTISEMENT



A New Day for Quincy!

Please join me for our campaign's Official Kick-off Celebration

Thursday, February 12TH
6:00 - 9:00 p.m.

The Sons of Italy
120 Quarry Street

Suggested Contribution:
$25 $50 $100

votemahoney.com

facebook.com/VoteMahoney

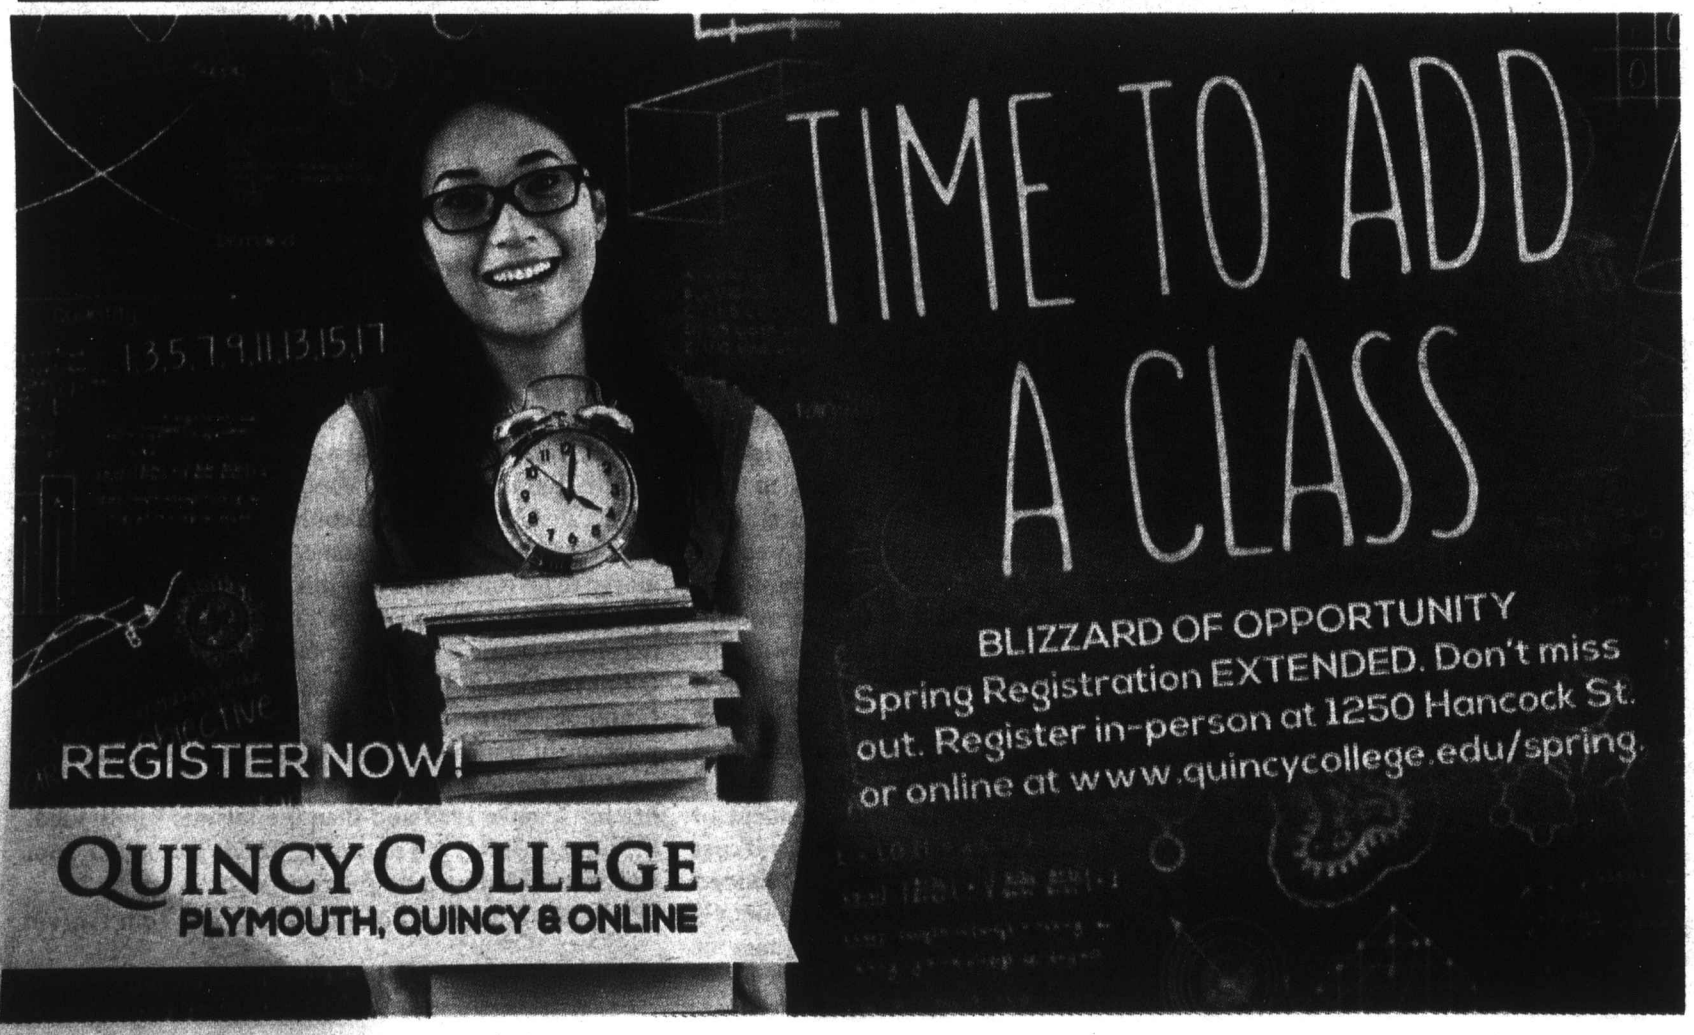
Committee-to-Elect Anne Mahoney • 617-719-7378

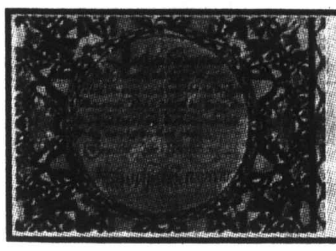
Voted Best of the Best 10 Times!

BALDUCCI'S HOUSE OF PIZZA

35 Billings Road., N. Quincy
617-328-0448 • 617-328-9842
www.Balduccis-Online.com

DOUBLE DEAL
2 Lg. Cheese Pizzas
$13.95 +tax
(toppings extra • Expires 2/28/15)
or
$3.00 OFF
Order of $20.00 or more
(Expires 2/28/15)
(coupons cannot be combined)
WE DELIVER (limited area)





261-Year-Old Valentine Found Here

- Page 2 -

Fire Department Ready For Ice Emergencies

- Page 27 -

2 *CAR-RT LOTC-004
THOMAS CRANE PUBLIC LIBRARY
40 WASHINGTON ST
QUINCY MA 02169-5304

The Quincy Sun

Historic Quincy's Hometown Weekly Newspaper Since 1968

VOL. 47 No. 21 | Thursday, February 12, 2015 | 75¢

'Big Dig Out' Goes On

• Third Major Storm Dumps 27.5 Inches Of Snow - Over 6 Feet In 17 Days
• Snow Removal Costs Near $4 Million • Clearing Roofs Among Priorities

SNOW THROW - William Cullen, facility supervisor at Quincy Mutual Group, operates a snowblower to clear a sidewalk on Chestnut Street Tuesday morning following a four-day storm that dumped 27.5 inches of snow on Quincy. The city has received nearly six feet of snow in 17 days. Quincy Sun Photos/Robert Bosworth

SHARING THE ROAD – With the volume of snow that has fallen in less than three weeks, many secondary streets have been narrowed by expanding snowbanks. Here a walker ascends Fort Street while a car pauses before descending the street early Tuesday morning.

By SCOTT JACKSON

Quincy and its residents are busy cleaning up the aftermath of a major snowstorm for the third time in as many weeks after a nor'easter dropped more than 27 inches of snow on the city, causing one snow-related death, a roof collapse, and widespread problems on the MBTA.

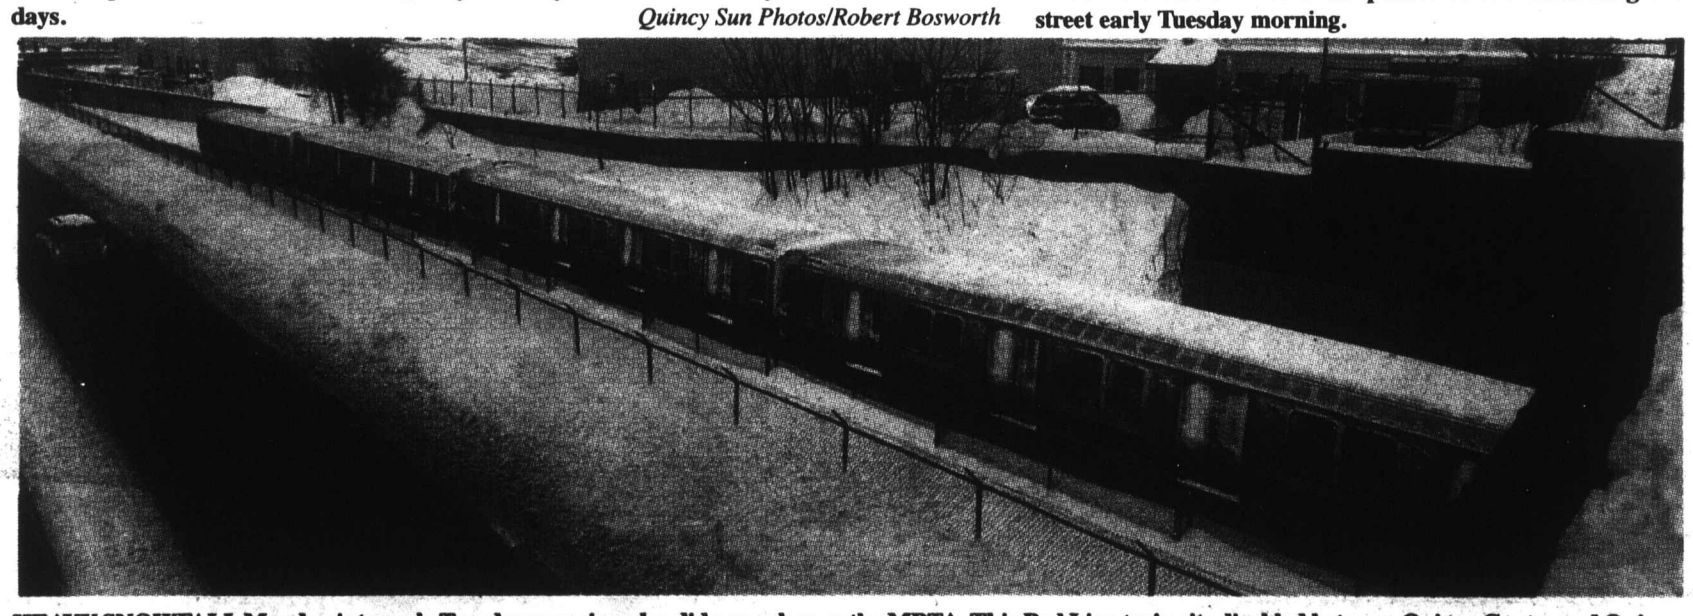
The most recent snowstorm, which began Saturday and continued into the early hours of Tuesday morning, left Quincy under 27.5 inches of snow, according to the National Weather Service. A blizzard on Jan. 26 and 27 left behind 24.5 inches of snow and a nor'easter Feb. 2 dropped another 16 inches on Quincy. The combined snowfall from those three major storms and two smaller storms within the same 17-day timeframe has topped 72 inches (six feet). The 72 inches is the most recorded in any 30-day period in the city's history, besting even the 30-day period that ended Feb. 7, 1978.

"The problem is there is nowhere to put it," Mayor Thomas Koch said Tuesday. "I know from shoveling out my house and my neighbors' houses these last few nights that you can only throw it so high before it starts falling down the embankments. The real challenge is to get as much removed as we possibly can."

The mayor also said residents should be patient about the city's snow removal efforts.

"People have got to take a deep breath. It's an unprecedented amount we're dealing with," Koch stated.

Cont'd On Page 9



HEAVY SNOWFALL Monday into early Tuesday morning also did a number on the MBTA. This Red Line train sits disabled between Quincy Center and Quincy Adams Train Stations after it stopped Monday morning, causing passengers to be evacuated and transported on T buses. The MBTA stopped running rail service Monday evening and suspended all rail service Tuesday to allow time to clean its tracks from snow for Wednesday's commute.

Quincy Fire Dept. Launches 'Adopt-A-Hydrant' - Page 2
Cub Scouts Marking 75th Anniversary - Page 7
Quincy Chamber Business Showcase - Pages 16, 17

For more Quincy news, visit:
The Quincy Sun.com

ONE OF AMERICA'S oldest known dated valentines (shown above) was recently discovered in the collection of Historic New England's Josiah Quincy House located in Quincy. The 1754 valentine is on view in the exhibition Drawn with Spirit: Pennsylvania German Fraktur from the Joan and Victor Johnson Collection at the Philadelphia Museum of Art through April 26.

Photo Courtesy Melinda Huff, Historic New England

261-Year-Old Valentine Discovered At Quincy House

By LISA MINARDI

Given the predominantly British Heritage of colonial New England, Historic New England's collection is one of the last places one might expect to find an important German-language document.

Yet that is exactly what happened when Senior Curator of Collections Nancy Carlisle asked me to help identify a valentine at Quincy House in Quincy. Dated 1752 and embellished with flowers and human figures, it is an example of fraktur – a German manuscript art was transplanted to the New World by German-speaking immigrants, most of whom settled in Pennsylvania. The most common type of fraktur is the birth and baptismal certificate; other types include house blessings, New Year's greetings, and Liebesbriefe or love letters (valentines).

The Quincy House valentine was made for Josiah Quincy III's mother-in-law, Maria Sophia Kemper (1739-1832). She was the daughter of Jacob and Maria Kemper, who emigrated from Germany in 1741 and by 1749 settled in New Brunswick, New Jersey. In 1759, the Kempers moved to New York, where Maria Sophia met and married John Morton. Their daughter Eliza Susan Morton married Josiah Quincy III in 1797. An 1879 note by Josiah's oldest daughter, Eliza Susan Quincy, reported "this Valentine, never seen by her children during her life, was found in the till of her chest. . . It is the oldest valentine in the U.S.A. and probably in the world." Although this claim is exaggerated, the piece is one of the oldest dated American valentines.

The fact that family members learned of its existence only after Maria Sophia's death raises the question of why she kept the valentine hidden. A possible clue is suggested by the other name inscribed on the valentine, John Tillman Dickenshaid, who may have been the artist, her admirer, or both.

The discovery of Maria Sophia Kemper's valentine enabled me to link a second valentine – dated May 22, 1754, but with no name or location – to the New Brunswick settlement. Comparison of the handwriting and cutwork technique (known in German as Scherenschnitte, or scissors cutting) reveals that the two pieces were made by the same artist.

The 1754 valentine is on view in the exhibition Drawn with Spirit: Pennsylvania German Fraktur from the Joan and Victor Johnson Collection at the Philadelphia Museum of Art through April 26.

(Lisa Minardi is a fraktur expert and assistant curator at Winterthur Museum.)

Quincy Fire Dept. Launches 'Adopt-A-Hydrant' Program

To Participate, Email Mslade@quincy.ma.gov

By MICHAEL SLADE
Fire Prevention Officer
Quincy Fire Department

The nor'easter that slammed Quincy last week has stamped its mark on the city. Ever since the storm, Quincy firefighters at each firehouse spend mornings and afternoons shoveling out 2,549 fire hydrants. Emergency calls take priority over shoveling hydrants. It is a challenge for firefighters to clear the snow from so many hydrants; however, the job must be done as quickly as possible.

Recognizing this need, the Quincy Fire Department has launched the Adopt-a-Hydrant program. Thru community spirit, Quincy Fire is encouraging families, friends and neighbors, to adopt a fire hydrant within their own community, and to keep their adopted hydrants clear of the snow this winter season. Volunteers provide the foundation for strong neighborhoods in Quincy, and the Adopt-A- Hydrant program is a great way in which Quincy citizens can help firefighters keep their neighborhoods protected from harm.

In recognition of the citizens who participate in the Adopt a Hydrant program, the JP Fuji Group has generously contributed $50 gift certificates to five of their restaurants here in Quincy. The five restaurants are Fuji 1546 at 1546 Hancock St, Bistro Chi/ Kama Lounge at 39 Cottage Ave, B Café at 405 Hancock St, Shabu Restaurant at 397 Hancock St, and YoCha at 406 Hancock St.

Citizens who participate in the Adopt a Hydrant program will be entered into a drawing at the end of the snow season. Five lucky winners will each receive a gift certificate to one of these establishments.

QUINCY FIREFIGHTER Bill Oniel and Lt. Mark Kennedy clear snow from a fire hydrant on Edgewater Drive. The department is appealing to local families, friends and neighbors to adopt a fire hydrant within their neighborhood to keep the hydrants clear of snow this winter.

Photo Courtesy Quincy Fire Department

Last year, the Quincy Fire Department responded to 721 fires. The speed in which a house fire grows is tremendous, and having an immediate water supply is vital to knocking down a house fire. The Quincy Fire Department will continue to lead the effort to shovel out Quincy's 2,549 public hydrants, and citizens, through the Adopt-a-Hydrant program, can help ensure that the hydrants in their neighborhoods are cleared even faster.

To adopt a fire hydrant, residents are asked to email mslade@quincyma.gov . Please include in your email, your name, contact number, address, and the hydrant(s) you would like to volunteer to shovel out. Citizens may also submit pictures of their shoveled hydrant(s) to be published in The Quincy Sun at the end of the snow season. The Quincy Fire Department asks citizens, when shoveling out their adopted hydrant, to shovel out a three foot clearance in each direction of the hydrant.

The Quincy Fire Department wishes to thank citizens who have already taken the initiative to shovel out their hydrants. If you should have any questions whatsoever, contact the Quincy Fire Prevention office at 617-376-1015.

QUINT'S
House of Flowers
Family Owned & Operated Since 1919
761 Southern Artery
QUINCY
617-773-7620

Detoxification Facility Opens In Wollaston

Program Director: 'A Very Safe Place . . . That Treats People With Dignity, Respect'

By KRIS KALABOKAS

Phoenix House, a non-profit detoxification facility, opened its doors in Wollaston this week to those seeking short-term drug rehabilitation and transitional care services.

The 64-bed facility, which is working in partnership with Boston's Gavin Foundation, was originally set to open in December, two months after hundreds packed the auditorium of Central Middle School for a public hearing hosted by Ward 5 Councillor Kirsten Hughes on the opening of the facility.

The community was invited to an open house and tour the facility Sunday.

In an interview last Friday, Neil Gaer, vice president and senior program director of Phoenix House, said he hoped the tour would ease fears expressed by some during the meeting regarding neighborhood safety and the proximity of the facility to the Central Middle School and a nearby liquor store.

Cont'd On Page 11

PHOENIX HOUSE Vice President and Senior Program Director Neil Gaer stands outside the detoxification center located at 43 Old Colony Ave., previously the site of Cerebral Palsy of Massachusetts. The short-term rehabilitation program opened its doors this week.
Quincy Sun Photo/Robert Bosworth

Keenan Chairman Bonding, Capital Expendures Committee

Sen. John Keenan (D-Quincy) has been named chairman of the Senate Committee on Bond and Capital Expenditures.

Sen. Keenan, who previously served as chairman of the Committee on Public Health, will will also serve as vice-chair for three additional standing committees, and help to lead a newly formed special committee on opioid abuse.

The Bonding Committee oversees the Commonwealth's bonds, notes and other debt obligations, and shapes long-term development strategy by reviewing any proposals for new loans or investment by the state.

Keenan, a lead sponsor on substance abuse treatment and prevention laws passed in 2012 and 2014, has also been appointed as vice-chair for the Senate Special Committee on Opioid Addiction.

"We know that with such a complex issue we can't just pass a law and move on to the next item," he said of the special committee assignment. "I'm committed to this, and pleased to know that it remains a priority."

Also selected as vice-chair for the Judiciary Committee, the Housing Committee, and the Transportation Committee, the Quincy senator now holds leadership positions on five different legislative committees, saying the broad scope of assignments is a challenge that he welcomes.

"Clearly there is much work to be done on short-term and long-term investment into our transportation resources, for example, so this combination of assignments presents an opportunity to take on some really important issues from multiple perspectives," Keenan said.

Committee leadership positions for House members are expected to be announced this month, after which approximately 5,300 newly filed bills will be referred to the various committees for review.

Ask the GEMOLOGIST
BY JEFFREY M. BERTMAN
GRADUATE GEMOLOGIST

GOING AU NATUREL

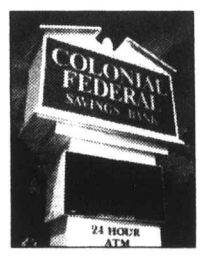
Although few things are more beautiful than the play of light in a precisely faceted diamond or colored gemstone, currently, there is an emerging appreciation of jewelry that features uncut gemstones in their natural state. These big, brightly colored, and uniquely designed pieces may include gemstones ranging from amethysts to aquamarines and diamonds to rubies. The raw, chunky gemstones not only draw more than their share of attention, but they also represent tremendous value. Desirability is largely intuitive, based on factors such as density of color and the evenness with which the color is dispersed. To a large degree, the better a rough, colored gemstone looks to the eye, the more superior it is.

People buy uncut gemstones for many reasons. Rough gemstones can be a viable investment, and collecting them can be a fun hobby. They can also be used to make jewelry. You will find a lovely selection of gemstones, wedding bands, engagement rings, pendants, watches, cameos, and earrings at our store at 1402 Hancock St. in Quincy Center. We are a full service jewelry store and even take accept custom orders. Our prices have always been more than competitive with no fake markups in order to offer huge discounts. For more information, please call 617-773-3636.

Don't Forget: We pay cash for Gold - Platinum - Diamonds... highest prices paid.

Rogers Diamonds...Watches...Jewelry www.rogersjewelry.com

A better way to get money from your house



A good idea ... from Colonial Federal Savings Bank
You have a house with lots of equity. Good cash flow. Investments you don't want to touch right now. And you have something you want money for. What's the best way to get it? How about a 15-Year refinance from Colonial Federal? With fixed monthly payments, it's more predictable than an adjustable-rate home equity line. Way less expensive than credit cards. And you'll have it all paid off in 15 short years ... quicker if you make extra payments along the way.
Would a 15-Year refinance be good for you? Call Angela Blanchard, VP/Retail Lending, at 617-471-0750 or apply online at colonialfed.com.

15-YEAR FIXED
NO POINTS!
3.39% APR

COLONIAL FEDERAL SAVINGS BANK
"Your neighborhood bank!"

QUINCY: 15 Beach Street 617-471-0750 • 1000 Southern Artery (Residents only) 617-479-1430
HOLBROOK: 802 South Franklin Street 781-767-1776
EAST WEYMOUTH: Middle & Washington Streets 781-331-1776
ONLINE: www.colonialfed.com

Some additional facts: Annual Percentage Rate (APR) effective as of 02/04/15 and may change. Applies to 1-2 family owner-occupied homes. Assumes a maximum 80% loan-to-value and first mortgage position. Subject to credit approval. A 15-Year Loan would be repaid in 180 equal monthly principal plus interest payments of $7.03 per $1000 borrowed, which do not include taxes or insurance premiums, if applicable. So your actual monthly payment will be greater.

EQUAL HOUSING LENDER
Insured FDIC

The Quincy Sun

(USPS 453-060)
Published Weekly on Thursday by
The Quincy Sun Publishing Co., Inc.
1372 Hancock St., Quincy, MA 02169

Robert H. Boeworth
Publisher and Editor

Henry W. Bosworth, Jr.
Founder
1968 - 2009

75¢ per copy newsstand • $27 per year by mail in Quincy
$32 per year by mail outside Quincy • $40 out-of-state

Telephone: 617-471-3100 Fax: 617-472-3963

online at: www.thequincysun.com

email address: thequincysun@verizon.net

rbosworth@thequincysun.com

Periodicals postage paid at Boston, MA
Postmaster Send address change to:
The Quincy Sun, 1372 Hancock St., Quincy, MA 02169

The Quincy Sun assumes no financial responsibility for typographical errors in advertisements but will reprint that part of an advertisement in which the typographical error occurs.

Moments in time

THE HISTORY CHANNEL.

• On Feb. 25, 1828, John Adams, son of President John Quincy Adams, marries his first cousin and inadvertently follows a pattern of keeping marriages within the family. John Adams' grandfather, President John Adams, had married his third cousin. John's daughter also married a family member -- her second cousin.

• On Feb. 24, 1938, Variety reports that the film studio Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer has bought the rights to adapt L. Frank Baum's children's novel "The Wonderful Wizard of Oz" for the screen, and that MGM has cast 16-year-old Judy Garland in the film's central role, Dorothy.

• On Feb. 27, 1942, the U.S. Navy's first aircraft carrier, the Langley, is sunk by Japanese warplanes, and all of its 32 aircraft are lost. The Langley had parted company from its convoy when nine Japanese twin-engine bombers attacked. Of the 300 crewmen, only 16 were lost.

• On Feb. 28, 1953, Cambridge University scientists James D. Watson and Frances H.C. Crick announce that they have determined the double-helix structure of DNA, the molecule containing human genes. Watson later claimed that Crick announced the discovery by walking into the nearby Eagle Pub and blurting out, "We have discovered the secret of life."

• On Feb. 26, 1968, allied troops who recaptured the city of Hue from the North Vietnamese during the Tet Offensive find the first mass graves in the former imperial capital. It was discovered that communist troops who had held the city for 25 days had massacred between 2,800 and 5,700 civilians.

• On March 1, 1971, musician James Taylor makes the cover of Time magazine. The article contrasted Taylor's gentle rock sound to the "walloping folk rock of Bob Dylan," the "thunderous eloquence of the Beatles" and the "leer of the Rolling Stones."

• On Feb. 23, 1980, speed skater Eric Heiden wins the 10,000-meter race at the Winter Olympics in Lake Placid, New York, setting a world record with his time. Before Heiden, no other athlete in Olympic history had ever won five individual gold medals.

(c) 2015 King Features Synd., Inc.

QCAP Study Program For High School Equivalency Exam

Quincy Community Action Programs, Inc. (QCAP) is offering a 12-week study program for the HiSET High School Equivalency Exam.

Come and study math or reading and Essay Writing (or both) and prepare for the HiSET. Classes will focus on the higher levels for students nearly ready to take the test and provide access to the computer practice exams.

Classes begin Feb. 23 and continue Monday through Thursday evenings.

For more information, call 617-657-5387.

Son Beams

By ROBERT BOSWORTH

A Special Honor For Bob Noble

The month of April has special significance for Quincy's Bob Noble.

But this year, the fourth month of the year will have even more meaning.

NOBLE

The proud U.S. Army veteran of World War II and ex-Prisoner of War will lay a wreath at the Tomb of the Unknowns at Arlington National Cemetery on April 9. This date happens to be National POW Recognition Day.

The fact that Bob is laying a wreath at one the nation's most solemn monuments on April 9th – POW Recognition Day – is no coincidence. This is the date that Bob selected. He remembers his fellow ex-POWS every year and has taken part in many ceremonies and programs to commemorate this day.

April 9th is also one week before Bob will mark another anniversary. This year April 16th is the 70th anniversary of his liberation from a German POW camp. Bob, who was serving with the 87th Infantry Division, was taken captive with other American soldiers on Dec. 16, 1944 in Alsace-Lorraine in France on the "Western Front." This was the same day that the Germans began an offensive attack that would become "The Battle of the Bulge," a key turning point in WWII.

After 122 days of captivity, Bob and other American POWs were freed on April 16, 1945.

"My kids always say this is the day that you could count on dad telling us this was the day he was liberated," Bob says.

And his kids: son Robert and daughters Alicia, Andrea and Nancy, their spouses and his grandchildren will be joining Bob for the wreath-laying ceremony in two months.

Bob, a past commander of the Massachusetts Ex-POWs, was invited to lay a wreath at the Tomb by Master General Jeffrey Buchanan, commanding general, U.S. Army Military District of Washington, D.C. The two met last September at the U.S. Army's Spirit of America event held at the TD Garden in Boston. The event honors American soldiers who have answered the call to duty and features performances by the U.S. Army Drill Team, the U.S Army Old Guard Fife as well as patriotic music. It was his daughter Alicia who got the tickets to attend the ceremony.

"Major General Buchanan said if I was ever in Washington to look me up and we'll make arrangements to have you place a wreath at the Tomb of the Unknown Soldier. When I was first informed that I was invited to lay a wreath, I thought, 'Did he really say that?'

"The more I think about it the more honored I am," Bob says. "It's something I never expected. I'm very honored to have this opportunity."

More than three million people visit Arlington National Cemetery a year. The grave of President John F. Kennedy and the Tomb of the Unknowns are solemn places within this very hallowed ground.

The tomb is the final resting place of an unidentified American soldier from World War I. The monument stands atop a hill overlooking Washington, D.C. Congress approved of the burial on May 4, 1921.

Bob Noble, when he lays the wreath, will be walking in the same footsteps of Presidents, heads of state and other dignitaries who have placed wreaths at this tomb.

There are two other unidentified war casualties that are also interred near the tomb. West of the World War I Unknown are the crypts of unknowns from World War II and the Korean War. There was an unknown soldier from Vietnam buried next to the World War II and Korean unknowns but those remains were exhumed in 1998 and were identified as Air Force 1st Lt. Michael Joseph Blassie. He was shot down near Ad Loc, Vietnam in 1972. The crypt of the Vietnam Unknown will remain vacant and crypt cover now has the inscription "Honoring and Keeping Faith with America's Missing Servicemen, 1958-1975."

Bob Noble muses he was invited to lay a wreath because "when you get to be my age, things happen to you because you're around."

But anyone familiar with Bob and his story of service to his country and fellow veterans can attest this honor belongs to him because of who he is and what he represents.

Bob was taken prisoner two days before he turned 19. During captivity, he was forced to dig trenches in frozen ground for anti-aircraft emplacements. He suffered frostbite in both feet. He lost 35 pounds. He survived 50-caliber machine gun fire.

Despite the ordeal, he took everything in stride.

"My attitude was that I took whatever came and did the best that I could and whatever happened, happened. There wasn't anything that I could do to change so I rolled with the punches," he said in a Sun interview in November, 2011.

But Bob Noble doesn't consider himself special. Just one of the thousands of veterans who served their country to keep us free. He considers himself fortunate because many service men and women don't make it home safe after serving in harm's way.

Over the past dozen years or so, Bob has been very active remembering fellow ex-POWs. He's served as master of ceremonies at a state Ex-POW Recognition brunch held at various locations including the Volpe Transportation Center, Federal Reserve Bank and the USS Constitution Museum. The event is attended by Ex-POWs and features a "Missing Man" ceremony, prominent keynote speaker and color guard from the Constitution. It recognizes all departed comrades.

But in recent years, the number of veterans has diminished. The last few years he's participated in a small ceremony at the Bedford VA Medical Center with other ex-POWs.

"Everybody remembers somebody who they knew or was friends with a POW. It's a pretty close-knit group. We have a lot in common and we all enjoy each other's company and we always think about veterans who are no longer with us."

Locally, Bob Noble is a member of the Morrisette American Legion Post, Bryan VFW Post and the Cavanagh Chapter of the Disabled American Veterans. You can find him at veterans' observances including Memorial Day, Veterans Day, William R. Caddy Day and Korean War Day. For the past several years, Bob has donated the wreath that has been placed at the World War II monument at Mount Wollaston Cemetery at the Pearl Harbor Day observance.

Bob Noble embodies the "Greatest Generation." But he doesn't consider himself special.

"That's something that I've never thought about myself but people tell me that and I've come to accept that with gratitude. I don't think I'm much different than a lot of other veterans. But I have made an effort to participate in veterans events in Quincy," he says modestly.

Bob will share this special experience at Arlington National Cemetery with his children, their spouses and grandchildren. He'll also be thinking about his wife and lifelong companion, Gloria, who passed away Oct. 1, 2013.

"Gloria was a past commander of the Ex-POW Southeast Massachusetts Chapter and she will certainly be on my mind. She would be beaming," Bob says.

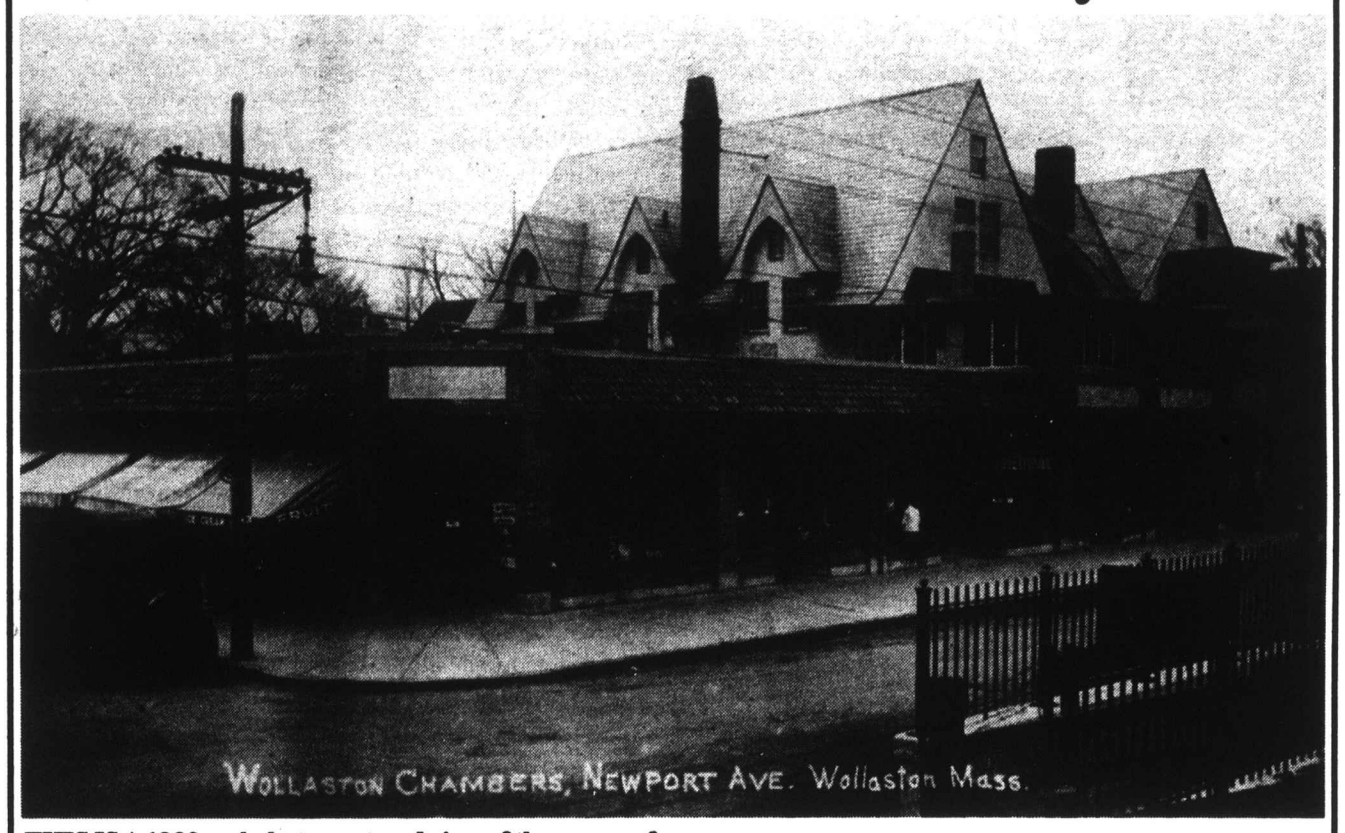
He's asked what will be the most memorable moment for him as the wreath is placed at the tomb.

"After we place the wreath, we'll step back and present arms and they'll play taps," he says, emotion in his voice.

A special moment of remembrance.

And another April 9th that he'll never forget.

Scenes From Yesterday



THIS IS A 1922 real photo postcard view of the corner of Brook Street and Newport Avenue in Wollaston. Angelo D'Andrea of South Quincy operated the fruit store on the corner. That corner store remained a fruit stand on and off through the Depression until after World War II when it became the Newport Delicatessen. In the 1970's it became home to Dick Morrissey's popular Dee Dee's Lounge which he moved here from Beale Street when his old store was demolished to make room for the T's Red Line parking lot. Today this corner store is the Ming Seafood Restaurant. The large gabled building on the right was the first Wollaston Chambers apartment building also the home of the Wollaston Lodge of the Knights of Honor. It was later replaced with the present twin four-story brick buildings. The iron fence in the foreground was for the old pedestrian tunnel under the railroad tracks which often filled with runoff during heavy rains. Today it is the entrance to the Wollaston Red Line Station. To contact Tom Galvin, e-mail tmgalvin@verizon.net.

From the Collection of City Historian Tom Galvin

Get Your Replacement SSA-1099 Online

By KRISTEN ALBERINO
Social Security
Public Affairs Specialist

Soon, you may be joining the millions of taxpayers who will be gathering the forms they need to file their federal, state, and local tax returns. If you receive Social Security benefits, one of the forms you may need is your Social Security Benefit Statement, SSA-1099/1042S.

Social Security mails these forms to all beneficiaries on or before Jan. 31. When Feb. 2 arrives, if you have not received yours—or if you cannot find the one that was mailed to you—there's a new way to get instant access to a printable SSA-1099/1042S to help you complete your tax return: with an online my Social Security account.

You will need to pay federal taxes on some of your benefits if your total income, including Social Security and all of your other taxable income, is $25,000 or more, and you file federal taxes as an individual. Married couples filing joint returns need to pay federal taxes on income of $32,000 or more.

If you didn't receive the SSA-1099/1042S for tax year 2014 by Jan. 31, 2015, or if you misplaced yours, don't fret. You can get an instant replacement

SSA-1099/1042S by going online to my Social Security at www.socialsecurity.gov/myaccount and selecting "Replacement Documents." You can view, print, and save the forms immediately.

If you don't already have a my Social Security account, opening one is quick, safe and easy. In addition to getting an instant replacement SSA-1099/1042S, you can get a benefit verification letter, change your address, telephone number, start or change direct deposit information, and get your Social Security earnings record from the convenience of your home. Simply go to www.socialsecurity.gov/myaccount.

READERS FORUM

Snowy Winter Will Yield To Warmth, Sunshine

Usually around this time, I recall the Blizzard of '78 and all the havoc this stormed caused the Boston area especially coastal areas. It was a horrible period.

The snow fell Feb. 6-7 but everyone was snowbound for over a week. I remember Governor Michael S. Dukakis dressed in his Fred Rogers' sweaters keeping the calm with his constant TV updates.

While the recent 1-2 punch we received with the promise of more to come is making people sick of constant snow, it all still doesn't measure up to 37 years ago.

I liked the snow back then, it seemed much lighter in weight but then again I am 37 years older today. That might be added to the how heavy today's storm feels.

Many of my friends are relaxing down at the beach in Florida watching our snow on their TVs and glad not to be here enjoying it all. They are snowbirds who fly the coop every winter southward.

Apparently, I must secretly love snow or I'd be gone down there myself. I use to joke about folks from Buffalo and wonder who would stay there but what am I doing up here right now?

I know in a couple of months it will again be sunny and warm. I will be back on Wollaston Beach getting a good tan and eating clams from Tony's Clam Shop but right now that seems so far away.

The only good thing about staying put for the winter, you get to appreciate summer that much more.

Meanwhile, I will keep my shovel close by my side, my boots and gloves too.

Hey, at least I have off-street parking.

Sal Giarratani
East Boston

SUBSCRIPTION FORM

FILL OUT THIS SUBSCRIPTION BLANK AND MAIL TO

The Quincy Sun

Historic Quincy's Hometown Weekly Newspaper Since 1968

1372 HANCOCK STREET, QUINCY, MA 02169

NAME _____

STREET _____

CITY _____ STATE _____ ZIP _____

CHECK ONE BOX IN EACH COLUMN

[ ] 1 YEAR IN QUINCY $27.00
[ ] 1 YEAR OUTSIDE QUINCY $32.00 [ ] CHECK ENCLOSED
[ ] 1 YEAR OUT OF STATE $40.00

Quincy's Yesterdays

This Week 1959 56 Years Ago

Nurses Reported To Plan March On City Hall

Reports were circulating that nurses at Quincy City Hospital would march on City Hall in support of two petitions through which they are seeking readjustment of both wages and vacation time.

Dr. Joseph P. Leone, director of the hospital, said that he heard reports that nurses would go to the City Council meeting. Dr. Leone and two of his nursing administrators, Miss Mary O'Gara and Miss Ann Morin, will confer with Mayor Amelio Della Chiesa and the City Council with regards to the nurses' requests.

PUBLIC HEARING SLATED ON BUDGET

On a resolve offered by Council President James R. McIntyre, the City Council set March 9th as the date for a public hearing on the 1959 city budget. The hearing will give citizens the opportunity to express their thoughts and opinions on the $18,000,000 budget.

QUINCY-ISMS

Five students from Eastern Nazarene College attended a three-day seminar on federal service in Washington D.C. The students included Cinda Gilchrist, John Weslow, Larry Singell, Charles Novy and Robert Seyfried. Accompanying the students was Dr. Frank Gery, faculty sponsor... Dr. Frank Bauer, pastor of Wollaston Lutheran Church, was the guest speaker at the combined women's club meeting at the Lutheran Church in Framingham... The Germantown Improvement Association voted to actively oppose passage of a bill by the legislature calling for the construction of a seawall off Prescott Terrace on the Fore River side of Germantown... Bruce Alexander of Explorer Post 19, sponsored by the Wollaston Baptist Church, received his Eagle Scout Award. Bruce is the son of Mr. and Mrs. George Alexander... The beautification of Manet Lake will be discussed at an upcoming meeting of the Houghs Neck Community Council. Henry E. Kilduff is the Council president and David L. Kneeland is civic affairs chairman. . . Reps. Joseph E. Brett, James R. McIntyre and Charles L. Shea, all spoke in favor of proposed legislation, which would require the payment of real estate and personal property taxes in four yearly installments... A committee planning the 10th anniversary reunion of the North Quincy High School classes of 1949, met at the home of Mrs. Esther Thimot Eranio... Arthur C. Hood, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur C. Hood, Sr., 191 West Squantum St., received the silver wings of an Air Force jet pilot and a commission as a second lieutenant at Greenville Air Force Base, Miss... The Art Theatre, Hancock St., Quincy Center, was featuring "Two Hitchcock Thrillers": Farley Granger in "Strangers On A Train" and Vera Miles in "The Wrong Man"...The Republican City Committee of Quincy elected former state representative and city Councilor William W. Jenness as its new chairman. Jenness's challenge to Committee Members was "Get across the message of Republicanism."... Raymond C. Warmington, Norfolk County treasurer and former Quincy School Committee member, received the "Brotherhood Citation" from the Quincy B'nai Brith Lodge. Making the presentation was Lester H. Glasser, community relations chairman of the Lodge... Mrs. Edmund Genereau was the chairperson of the committee on sponsors for the Quincy Symphony Orchestra, which will present a "Pops" concert at the Masonic Temple... Robert J. Campbell, 43 Island Ave., Houghs Neck, was certified by Civil Service for the position of City Hospital ambulance driver... Ten Quincy residents were nominated to fill five positions on the board of directors of the Quincy Historical Society. They included: Mrs. Murray Brittain, Russell DiMattio, William P. Farrar, William Ferrazzi, John P. Flavin, Mrs. Robert O. Gilmore, Mrs. I. Francis Murdock, Russell Scammell, Heslip Sutherland and Rev. Thomas J. Tierney... Sam Mele, former member of the Boston Red Sox, recounted his experiences as a major league baseball player to the Summer Men's Group of the First Church of Squantum... Norman Lundin, Bayview Ave., Houghs Neck, was named to the Dean's List at Newbury Junior College where he is a freshman.

Ward 2 Hosting Family Events

The Ward Two Civic Association will host two events for the families of Ward 2 during February Vacation week.

The first event is a Drug Awareness Forum set for Sunday, Feb. 15 at 1 p.m. at the Fore River Clubhouse. Arlene Goldstein from Baystate Community Services, Officer Glynn from the Quincy Police Department, and guest speakers with experience battling and beating addiction will present and be available for questions.

The second event is a Family Pajama and Movie Night Saturday, 21 at 5 p.m. Ward 2 families are invited to come in pajamas, bring something comfy to sit or lie on, and watch the movie "Finding Nemo." Pizza and soft drinks/water will be provided.

Volunteers are needed. Contact ward2civicassociation@gmail.com to volunteer or with any questions.

'Love Your Heart' Campaign

In observance of American Heart Month, the South Shore YMCA has launched a "Love Your Heart" campaign to help members of the community get started on their journey to living a healthier lifestyle.

Free benefits for new members joining the Y in February include a Personal Training session, a consultation with a registered dietician, and body composition testing. In addition to the Y's regular, year-round programs which support healthier lifestyles for youth, adults and families, the Y will collaborate with other community organizations to provide heart health educational materials and resources to members and the community during the month of February.

According to the Centers for Disease Control and Prevention (CDC), heart disease is the nation's number one killer, responsible for 1 in 4 deaths each year in the United States. And, according to the National Heart, Lung and Blood Institute, more than 75% of women ages 40 to 60 have one or more risk factors for coronary heart disease. Since most risk factors for Coronary Heart Disease can be controlled, the Y encourages everyone to start taking steps toward healthy living today.

The Y offers community-based healthy living and chronic disease prevention initiatives that support people in changing their lifestyles, encourage organizations and communities to adopt behaviors that promote healthy living and promote the public's health through advocacy.

The South Shore Y gets to the heart of heart health issues by offering structured exercise programs specially designed for individuals in cardiac and pulmonary transition and with diabetes concerns. Y members have full access to these structured exercise programs that bring together individuals with similar diagnoses to create workout regimens that target specific sets of needs. Financial assistance is available to ensure that these programs are accessible to all.

Visit the South Shore Y's Quincy or Emilson Branch to learn more about all the benefits of Y membership and reference the Love Your Heart campaign. Offer is valid only for new members 18 years or older. Heart Month free consultations must be scheduled within 90 days of joining.

'Amazing Nano Brothers' Perform Monday

The "Amazing Nano Brothers" will perform Monday, Feb. 16 at 11 a.m. at Christ Church Quincy, 12 Quincy Ave., Quincy.

The brothers will be featured at the eighth annual family fun event hosted by Christ Church Quincy and the Office of Congregregational Development of the Episcopal Diocese of Massachusetts.

The event is free.

The Dan and Joel Nano act features extraordinary visualizations created through juggling, lighting, and large-scale metaphors that explain the mysteries of matter — including atoms, molecules, and nanotechnology. The brothers juggle everything from potted plants to tennis rackets – and sometimes while atop seven-foot unicycles.

Limited off street parking available. Parking also available at the Quincy Center Hancock Parking Lot across the street from the Quincy District Courthouse.

Adams Historical Park Seeks Guides

The Adams National Historical Park is in need of seasonal park guides for the upcoming visitor season.

Applicants for the position will be accepted Feb. 9 through Feb. 18. Full-time, seasonal employment (40 hours per week, including weekends and holidays) at Adams National Historical Park will be available from May 2015 to Nov. 10, 2015. The announcement for seasonal park guide at Adams NHP will be posted online at usajobs.gov on Feb. 9 and will remain open until midnight Feb. 18. Applicants for the position may view the job description and application procedures at usajobs.gov.

Adams NHP includes the birthplaces of U.S. Presidents John and John Quincy Adams; the Old House a Peacefield, home to both presidents and their distinguished families and descendants; and a visitor center and orientation center. Park guides research and develop interpretative tours, conduct tours through the historic structures, participate in formal curriculum-based education programs, informal education programs, and presentations tailored to school age and adult audiences that may include first person dramatic historical interpretation, and assist with special events and family programs throughout the season.

All positions require excellent customer service skills, the ability to work with people of all ages and diverse backgrounds, and a positive attitude. To be eligible for seasonal employment, applicants must be U.S. citizens and apply online at usajobs.gov. Please do not mail or bring applications to Adams NHP; they will be returned to you unopened.

For more information about these positions, visit the official jobsite of the U.S. federal government, usajobs.gov. Adams National Historical Park, National Park Service is an equal opportunity employer.

Public Can Comment On Adams NHP Admission Increase

By KRIS KALABOKAS

Adams National Historical Park (Adams NHP) held a public forum last Wednesday at the Visitor Center at 1250 Hancock St. regarding proposed park fee increases for daily and annual passes.

"We are committed to keeping the park affordable but we also want to provide visitors with the best possible experience. The money from entrance fees returns to Adams NHP to be used to improve historic structures, and conservation of artifacts and visitor services," said Marianne Peak, Adams NHP superintendent.

"Additional revenue raised by a fee increase will ensure that we can maintain public and education programs for some 5,000 local students," she continued. "In addition, the park is a strong economic engine for the surrounding area."

Current fee rates have remained the same since 2006.

The current one day entrance fee will rise in price from $5 to $10.

A park annual pass will rise in price from $10 to $40.

"People have often said 'Gee, is that all' when they pay the fee," said Peak. "Other people encouraged us that we should charge more."

The National Park Service, a bureau of the U.S. Department of the Interior that is responsible for national park management, has requested that fee increases start in 2015 with all fees increased by 2017 in all of its parks across the country that charge admittance.

According to Peak, in 2013 tourists and visitors contributed $16 million to Quincy's economy.

Fees collected through visiting attractions totaled $80,000, she said.

In addition, 210 jobs in the tourism sector were supported through collected fees.

Adams NHP attractions include the John Adams and John Quincy Adams birthplaces as well as the Old House at Peacefield, once the home of both former presidents.

The community forum was mandated by the National Park Service as a way to gather opinions and input from the public and local representatives regarding the price hike.

In the meantime, the public is encouraged to submit comments and questions to parkplanning.nps.gov\adamfeeproposal.

The public's opinion will hold substantial sway when it comes to whether or not fees will increase in 2017, said Jason Halin of the Adams NHP.

A 30-day comment period began Jan. 22 and will close Feb. 23 at noon.

Peak estimated that a fee increase could result in future earnings of up to $160,000 annually.

"We would have more monies to do more projects," she said. "I can't tell you what those projects would be but we're constantly developing programs that serve the visitor."

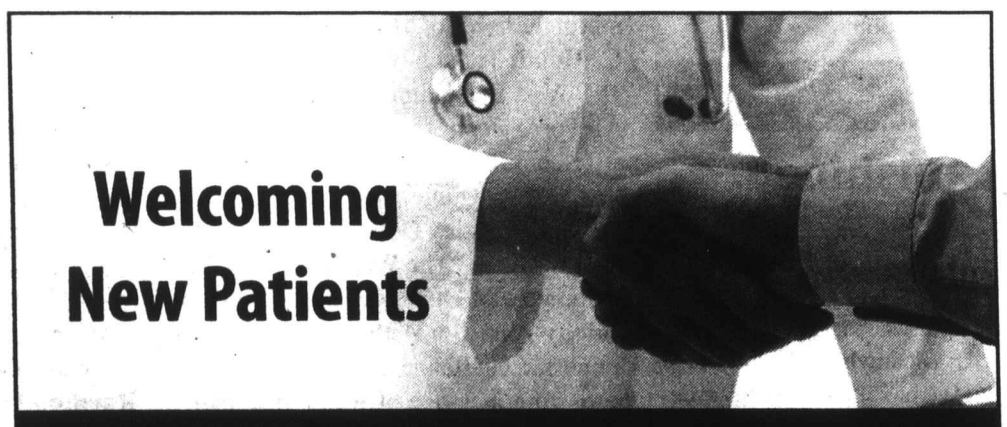
"We think about new ways of experiencing the same park," she said.

No clear cut plan has been laid out for the extra money, however Peak said she anticipated existing school and educational programs would benefit and be expanded.

Kumu Gupta, who attended the forum, praised the programs offered by the Adams NHP but said a four-time increase in the price of the annual pass was too drastic.

"I don't mind seeing a price hike but I think double or four times is a little bit much," she said.

"People take a lot for granted," said Gary Hynes, history and visitor program director at United First Parish Church. "They think that because you are the park service the money is there."



And we accept Tufts Health Plan Medicare Preferred HMO

You have a choice.

If your doctor's office no longer accepts Tufts Health Plan Medicare Preferred HMO you have a choice. Patients with Tufts Health Plan Medicare Preferred HMO are welcome at Granite Medical Group and Harvard Vanguard Medical Associates in Braintree and Quincy. These Atrius Health practices admit patients to Beth Israel Deaconess-Milton Hospital and South Shore Hospital.

TUFTS Health Plan Medicare Preferred

Tufts Health Plan Medicare Preferred HMO is the only Medicare Advantage plan we accept. Please call us with any questions.

Granite Medical Group
Atrius Health
500 Congress Street, Quincy
617-471-0033
www.granitemedical.com

Harvard Vanguard Medical Associates
Atrius Health
111 Grossman Drive, Braintree
781-849-1000
1250 Hancock Street, Quincy
617-774-0600
www.harvardvanguard.org

Prospect Hill Company
Boys' White Suit Sale
February 16th through February 21st
School Vacation Week

20% OFF
All Suits in Stock
Michael Kors • Lito • Andrew Marc
2 Piece White Suits
with discount
starting at $48.80
Sizes 5 to 20H in Stock
Shoes • Shirts • Ties • Belts • Socks

Over 600 Communion Dresses In Stock
featuring Joan Calabrese for Mon Cheri, US Angels, Designs by Pierson, Christie Helene
Great Selection of Large and Half Sizes
Headpieces • Shoes • Slips • Gloves • Purses
Boleros • Capes • Sweaters

STORE HOURS Monday: 9:00 a.m. to 6:00 p.m.
Tuesday–Saturday: 9:00 a.m. to 5:00 p.m.
Minutes off Route 24 • 1-800-586-1951
12 Field Street, Brockton • near Brockton/Avon Line
www.prospecthillco.com

Social

Knights Of Columbus Meat Raffle Friday

The Knights of Columbus monthly Meat Raffle will be held Friday, Feb. 13th at the Council Hall located at 5 Hollis Ave. in North Quincy.

The raffle is part of the Knight's scholarship fund drive for local students going off to first year of higher education.

Friday's raffle is sponsored by state Rep. Bruce Ayers with the Culinary Arts Program at Quincy High School cooking the dinner. The KofC is partnering with the Culinary Arts program to endow a scholarship to a student who is continuing on their education in the field.

Dinner is served at 6:30 p.m. and the raffle starts at 7 p.m.

15 Quincy Students UMass-Lowell On Dean's List

Fifteen students from Quincy are on the Dean's List at the University of Massachusetts, Lowell.

They are:

Jennifer Adduci, majoring in nursing.

Brian Burke, majoring in business administration.

Michael Burke, majoring in business administration.

Steven Gilbert, majoring in chemical engineering.

Paul Gould, majoring in history.

Faisal Ibrahim, majoring in chemistry.

Madeline Kamb, majoring in nursing.

Carol Nguyen, majoring in business administration.

Kevin Pillone, majoring in history.

Alina Ploaie, majoring in biology.

Kyle Ptak, majoring in plastics engineering.

Joanne Ruan, majoring in business administration.

Kevin Truong, majoring in mechanical engineering.

Pei Ting Wang, majoring in nursing.

Allan Wong majoring in mechanical engineering.

13 Quincy Students Receives Academic Honors At FSU

Thirteen Quincy students are on the Dean's List or President's List at Framingham State University for the fall semester.

They are:

Jillian Carchedi - Dean's List.

Angela Hyslip Dean's List.

Michael McDonagh, President's List.

Patrick Gould, Dean's List.

Megan Mahoney, Dean's List.

Jane Minton, Dean's List.

Jacqueline Cunniff, President's List.

Daniel Gould, President's List.

Emily England, Dean's List.

Jillian Flaherty, Dean's List.

Simone Matthews, Dean's List.

Jillian O'Leary, Dean's List.

Cynthia Nelson, President's List.

WPI Student Iok Wong Completes Research Project In China

Iok Wong of Quincy, a junior majoring in mechanical engineering at Worcester Polytechnic Institute (WPI), recently completed an intense, hands-on research project in China.

The project was titled Feasibility Study of E-Bike Sharing in Hangzhou, China.

John Morton On Dean's List

John Morton of Quincy, a fourth-year student at the College of the Holy Cross, has been named to the Dean's List for the first semester.

He is the son of Dennis and Joan Morton of Quincy.

Morton majors in English and political science.

PACK 6 QUINCY is celebrating its 75th anniversary this year, an achievement that very few Cub Scout Packs ever reach.
Photo Courtesy Brian Laroche

Pack 6 Quincy Cub Scouts Marking 75th Year

By Brian Laroche
CUBMASTER

This year Pack 6 Quincy is celebrating its 75th Anniversary, an achievement that very few Cub Scout Packs ever reach.

A research of Boston Area Council records show that we are the oldest continuously operating Pack, while others have claimed to have reached 75 years all of which have had breaks in their history where they stopped and started at times. We are unique in that the leadership is committed to the program and stay involved for fifteen years or more.

In the past 35 years we've had only four cubmasters, most packs have a Cubmaster on average for four years then it turns over to new leadership typically when their children age out of the program.

Mike Berry has been a den leader with the Pack for more than 20 years and Ralph Jacobs, a past Cubmaster and den leader, continues to be involved both of which have been involved when their sons were in the program and now with their grandchildren.

Marty Gordon, a past Cubmaster and current committee member, has been involved with the pack for more than thirty years he too has been involved in the Pack for his son and grandson.

The concept of Cub Scouts started in 1930 when The National Executive Board of the Boy Scouts of America (BSA) approved the Cub program as a "controlled experiment" on Feb. 10, 1930 Cub Scouts was born. The board authorized a limited number Cub packs to register with the BSA for those packs qualifying under a "special permit" requirements.

In 1933 "Experimental" restrictions were removed and Cubbing, as the program was known then, was to be "aggressively promoted as a part of the Boy Scout program." Pack 6 was chartered in 1940, just seven years after the Cubbing program was introduced Nationwide by the Boy Scouts of America.

The sponsoring institution of the Pack is The Houghs Neck Congregational Church. The church has roots in Houghs Neck dating back to the late 1800's, however the building that they use today and where Pack 6 holds its meetings, its cornerstone was laid in 1931. The new building was dedicated in 1932, although not yet complete, in the next few years through volunteer labor by men of the church it was completed by October 1940.

This important milestone in the history of the church coincides with the year that they sponsored the creation of the Cub Scout Pack that was to be known as Pack 6. Although Pack 6 is sponsored by the Congregational Church in Houghs Neck, Pack is welcomes boys to join regardless of personal faith and geography, we serve all boys who live in Quincy.

Pack 6 was originally registered with Quincy Council which served Quincy Cub Scout Packs and Boy Scout Troops from 1918 to 1965 when it was merged with Boston Council. Quincy Council used the Adams Academy Building as their headquarters, today this building is used by the Historical Society.

Today, Pack 6 is served by the Boston Minuteman Council which covers an area from Stoneham to Quincy and out to Brookline.

Cub Scouting is a year-round family program designed for boys who are in the first grade through fifth grade (or 7, 8, 9, and 10 years of age). Parents, leaders, and local organizations work together to achieve the purposes of Cub Scouting. The "Aims of Scouting" are character development, citizenship training, and personal fitness.

If you are interested in finding more about Pack 6 contact Brian Laroche, Cubmaster at blaroche@comcast.net.

Neighborhood Club of Quincy
Nestled in a quiet neighborhood in historic Quincy, the Neighborhood Club has been creating unforgettable memories since 1917.
We take pride in making each and every wedding or event unique and memorable.
Whether you are looking for a spacious ballroom for up to 200, or a setting for a smaller group of guests, the Neighborhood Club has the perfect place to hold your event.
Book Your Wedding and Enjoy a Complimentary Champagne Toast (Mention this ad)
617.773.9300
27 Glendale Road, Quincy, MA 02169 www.ncquincy.com

South Shore School of Theatre
FEBRUARY VACATION PROGRAM
4-7 YRS CREATIVE DRAMA
7-12 YRS YOUTH ACTING
FEBRUARY 16-20
617-653-2460 | info@southshoreschooloftheatre.com
Visit our site for more information: www.southshoreschooloftheatre.com

WHAT'S COOKING
with
Marie & Suzie
By MARIE D'OLIMPIO and SUZIE FALCO

Eggplant, Mezza Rigatoni

If you like eggplant the way my family does, you will enjoy making this easy, delicious dish.

I used mezza rigatoni, but any small pasta will do.

Eggplant, Pasta

1 medium sized eggplant (cut in small pieces

3 large fresh tomatoes (diced)

1/2 pound mezza (small rigatoni)

1 tablespoon basil

4 tablespoons olive oil (two for eggplant, two for tomatoes

2 cloves garlic

salt and pepper to taste

grated Romano or Parmesan cheese for topping

I left the skin on the eggplant, but you can peel it if you wish.

In the hot oil, sauté the eggplant adding salt and pepper until tender-and cooked thoroughly. Set aside.

Start cooking the pasta according to directions.

In another pan. sauté the garlic in the remaining hot oil, and add the diced tomatoes, the basil and salt and pepper to taste. Cook until the tomatoes and softened -about 15 minutes.

Place the drained pasta in the tomato sauce, add the eggplant. and sprinkle with the cheese. Delicious!

Chickpea Millet Coconut Soup

By SUZIE

Here is a simple soup made with a grain called" "millet." Millet is easy to digest, gluten free, high in fiber and protein, as well as calcium, magnesium, and other nutrients.

It is not expensive and makes a great change from the usual rice, pasta, or even quinoa. It is creamier than the quinoa, and the texture is more like a pasta or rice. You can substitute it for any grain that you would normally. It also makes a great polenta!

I hope you enjoy this recipe! Feel free to adjust the curry powder and garlic to your liking.

SIMPLE CURRIED CHICKPEA MILLET COCONUT SOUP

3 cans (I use Eden brand) Chick peas (rinsed and drained)

1 cup millet (rinsed and drained)

2 Tbsp coconut oil

1 medium Vidalia onion, chopped

3 large cloves garlic, minced

6 cups vegetable broth

1 14 or 15 oz can diced tomatoes

1 Tbsp curry powder

1 tsp sea salt

½ teaspoon crushed red pepper flakes

About 1 lb greens – kale, collards, mustard greens, or Swiss chard

1 (14 oz) can coconut milk

Put the millet in a pan and cover with 3 cups salted water. Cover, bring to a boil, and then simmer for 20-25 minutes or until water has evaporated. Set aside.

In the meantime, heat the oil in a medium stock pot over medium heat. Add the onion, bell pepper, red pepper flakes and cook, stirring, until softened, about 5 minutes. Add the garlic and cook, stirring constantly, 1 minute.

Add the broth, drained chickpeas, tomatoes, curry powder, and sea salt. Bring to a boil over high heat. Reduce the heat and simmer uncovered, stirring occasionally, about 15 minutes. Add the greens and stir until wilted. Add millet and coconut milk. Stir and cook until hot. Season to taste.

READERS FORUM

Deeds, Not Just Words

I was very sad to learn of the passing of the Rev. Eugene Langevin.

The Way Up which he and his sister Patti started has helped countless young people turn their lives around and is not a few situations saved their lives.

As the Bible says, "Well done good and faithful servant."

Rev. John C. Swanson
Wollaston

Applications Available For Joy Hanlon, Michael Therrien Awards

Quincy Youth Soccer announces applications are available for the Joy Hanlon and Michael Therrien Memorial Awards.

The emphasis of the awards are participation in soccer with QYS and Community Service, with an emphasis on giving back to the greater Quincy community.

Any QYS player or former player, who is a graduating senior and who has played a minimum of eight seasons is eligible. Fall and spring seasons are counted separately.

In addition, any season as a volunteer, coach or referee may be counted toward the 8 season total. Community service, not related to soccer, may also be considered.

Applications are available at local highs schools. Additionally, applications may be obtained by visiting the QYS website at www.quincyyouthsoccer.com.

Completed applications should be returned to Quincy Youth Soccer at the post office address above or attached and emailed to the above address with the Subject Line "Book Award" by March 20.

38 Residents On Bridgewater Dean's List

Thirty-eight students from Quincy have been named to the Dean's List for the fall semester at at Bridgewater State University:

They are:

Zoe L. Antonopoulos, Caglar Camlik, Molly E. Cunha, Rachel A. DeMelin, Delia T. Devane, Kristen M. Durette, Kendel E. Evju, Christine D. Fooks, Sarah D. Gardiner, Hannah E. Kirby, Bridget E. Kosilla, Robert F. Kozlowski, Antonio La Manna, Andrea Li, Jin Feng Li, Wei Lin, Meicen Liu, Wai Y. Lui, Melissa Y. Ma, Leann M. McColgan, Alexandra M. Meighan, Gary V. Morin, Jennifer N. Morin, James E. Mullaney, Olivia L. Noonan, Jillian L. O'Brien, Victoria E. Perez, Kristyn E. Pieper, Seamus M. Pound, Carly I. Scolaro, Kristen N. Scoville, Rachel M. Smith, Tayla A. Tervakoski, Colleen S. Tobin, Matthew R. Trimper, Malia F. Tupe, Julia E. White, and Melissa M. Zeng.

Helen Murphy On Ithaca Dean's List

Helen Murphy of Quincy, a environmental science major in the School of Humanities and Sciences at Ithaca College, is on the Dean's List for the fall 2014 semester.

Three Residents On Becker Dean's List

Three students from Quincy are on the Dean's List for the fall semester at Becker College in Worcester.

They are:

Jean-Luc Bellefleur, Ian Hunter and Martin Wong.

Krystina Stoker On Dean's List

Krystina Stoker of Quincy is on the Dean's List at Springfield College for the fall term.

Stoker is studying psychology.

Two Residents On Hofstra Dean's List

Quincy residents Antonio Agcaoili and Giulia Murphy have been named to the Dean's List for the fall semester at Hofstra University in Hempstead, N.Y.

Two Residents On UVM Dean's List

Two students from Quincy are on the Dean's List at the University of Vermont for the fall semester.

They are:

Madison Kirby, a first-year student political science major; and Abigail Ames, a first-year student environmental studies major.

Kelsey Tucker On Dean's List

Kelsey Tucker of Quincy is on the Dean's List for the fall semeter at Coastal Carolina University.

Tucker is a freshman majoring in elementary education.

Quincy Art Association Offering Scholarship

In order to better prepare the students for the competitive standards of the study and perusal of arts, the Quincy Art Association is offering a scholarship to a Quincy Public high school senior continuing the study of fine arts.

An application and portfolio be submitted to Quincy Art Association, c/o Kelly Cobble, 26 High School Ave., Quincy, MA 02169 by March 4 by mail.

A committee of artist will review the answers and the artwork to determine qualifications.

Breanne Norris On President's List

Breanne Norris of Quincy has made the President's List for the fall semester at Coastal Carolina University.

Norris is a freshman majoring in political science.

Montclair/Wollaston Meeting Moved To March 5

State Rep. Dan Hunt will speak at the Montclair/Wollaston Neighborhood meeting Thursday, March 5 at 7:30 p.m. at the Lutheran Church of the Good Shepherd, corner of West Squantum and Harvard Streets.

The meeting originally set for Feb. 5th was postponed due to weather.

Rep. Hunt will provide a legislative update and discuss current events on Beacon Hill.

There will also be discussion on the FEMA flood plan.

For many residents in Montclair who were added to the FEMA designated flood plain in 2014, relief is on the way as FEMA has accepted the city's appeal of the port flood map issued last year which subsequently required residents caught up in it to purchase flood insurance for the first time. The 2014 map change also increased the costs for insurance for those previously in the flood plain so the revisions should provide some good news to these residents as well as the changes should reduce the risk calculation. Within approximately 60 days residents will have the revised maps and know more precisely those who will see a have positive change.

An informational meeting will be scheduled in the spring to provide that information. After a 120-day comment period the City Council will be allowed to vote to approve the new maps.

Greater Quincy Child Care Center
859 Willard St., 1 Adams Place, Quincy (1/2 mi North from the So. Shore Plaza)
• Kindergarten - full day, year round:
Age req. 5 yrs. old by Oct. 31st.
Kindergarten cert. Teacher implements MA Curriculum Frameworks
• Preschool: 2.9 to 5 yrs.
• Toddlers: 15 mos. to 2.9 yrs.
• Infants: 8 wks. to 15 mos.
• Full or Part Week • Hot Lunch
• Hours: 7:30 am to 6:00 pm. • Developmental Curriculum
• Music & Large Motor Programs • Small Teacher/Student Ratios
• State-of-the-Art Center • High-Tech Security System
Full-Day - Year-Round Kindergarten
Now accepting registrations for FALL 2015
naeyc Accredited
We are celebrating 30 years of quality care & education
617-773-8386 • e-mail: gqccc@aol.com
www.greaterquincychildcare.com

Reliable Tax Service
RJS
518 Hancock Street, Quincy
(617)773-7360
www.reliabletaxservice.com
10% Discount (new clients only)
Individual Income Tax $65 up
Corporate Income Tax $350 up
Experienced IRS Enrolled Agent

JOAN'S OLYMPIC GYM
GYMNASTICS & DANCE SCHOOL
WAS VOTED #1 ON THE SOUTH SHORE
Ages 2 – Adult
NOW ACCEPTING REGISTRATIONS!
781-843-9624
"An Excellent Education Environment For Your Child"
197 Quincy Avenue, Braintree • www.joansolympicgym.com

City Digging Out From Third Major Storm

Cont'd From Page 1

"We've put out the word everywhere about getting extra equipment, but we're competing with every neighboring community for the same thing."

There is no break in the forecast for snow weary residents. A snowstorm is expected to hit Eastern Massachusetts today (Thursday) with another storm forecast for this weekend. A National Weather Service advisory issued Tuesday morning warned this could be a record-breaking winter in terms of snowfall as the active weather pattern continues. No warm-ups are seen in the near future either, meaning the heavy snowpack will not simply melt away.

Koch said the city has spent close to $4 million over the past three weeks to remove snow and ice from city streets and sidewalks. Quincy had $1.76 million for snow and ice removal in this year's budget; communities can deficit spend for snow and ice removal under state law.

"We are probably in around $4 million right now," Koch said. "We do expect to get some reimbursement from the federal government for costs during the blizzard, but that remains to be seen."

Lt. Gov. Karyn Polito, during a visit to Quincy City Hall Feb. 5, said the state's emergency management agency would begin to seek federal reimbursement for communities for expenses incurred during the January blizzard.

"We've already begun that process between MEMA and the federal counterpart, FEMA, and working with our federal delegation," Polito responded when asked about providing aid to communities whose snow and ice removal funds have been exhausted.

"We are asking all of the cities and towns to calculate their costs relative to the snow removal process as well as any damage that was incurred as a result of the blizzard. As those costs are calculated we will be able to back up our request of the federal government to provide federal assistance to Massachusetts for the storm. That will directly benefit our cities and towns because they would then be able to achieve a 75 percent reimbursement on the cost associated with that storm."

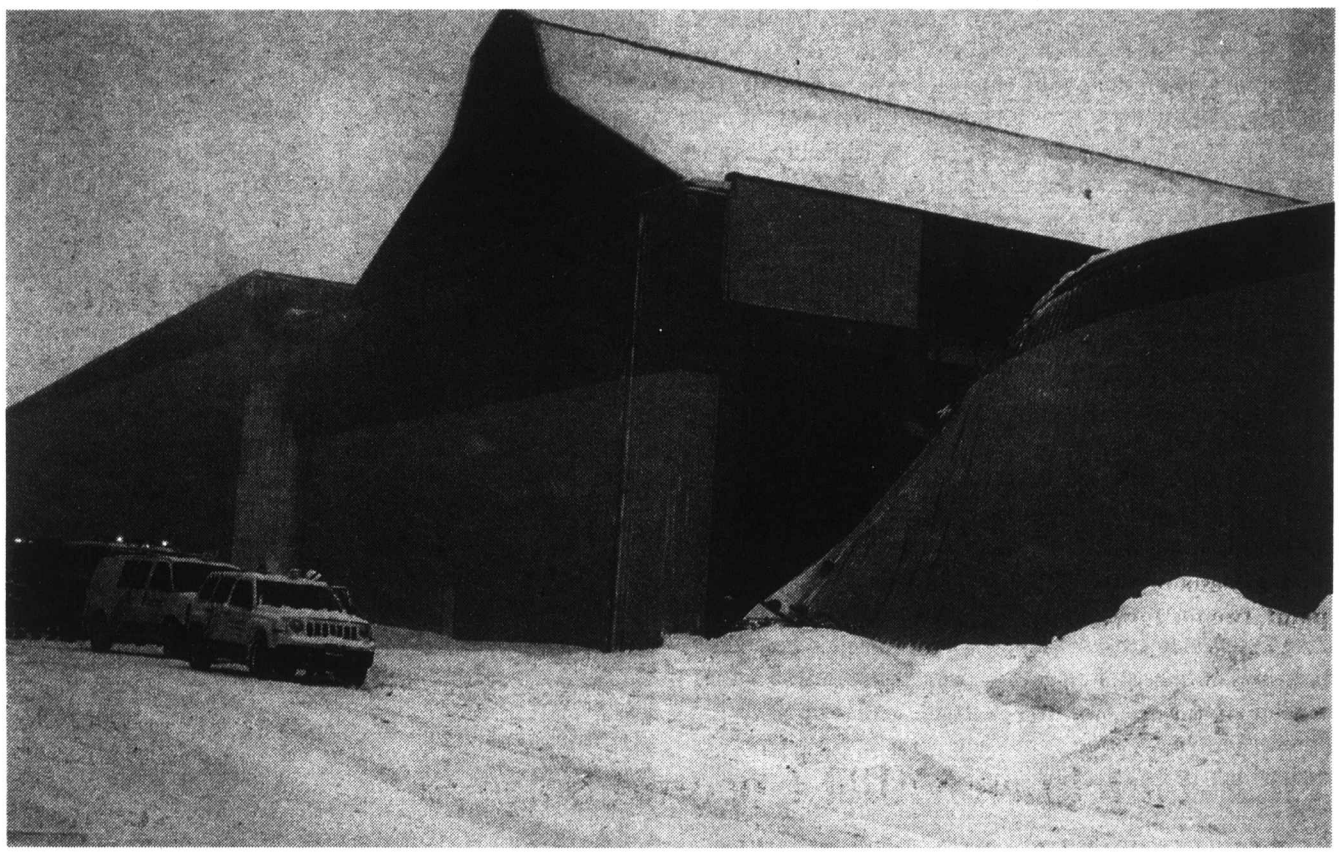
The snow-related death occurred Monday when a Wollaston resident suffered a fatal heart attack while shoveling, according to the mayor. He said residents should be cautious while trying to shovel out.

"Be very careful, especially those who aren't in good shape physically," Koch said, adding that residents should help out elderly neighbors, if possible.

The city has used between 150 and 180 pieces of snow removal equipment – including those owned by contractors – during the height of the storms and between 75 and 100 pieces during the following days as snow removal continues, according to the mayor. The city's main focus during the storms has been keeping main arteries – Washington and Hancock Streets, for example – clear. After the storm, the focus shifts to secondary roads – such Beale Street, Common Street, and Squantum Streets – as well as streets and sidewalks around schools and MBTA stations.

Quincy is using two snow farms – Squantum Point Park and the Fore River Shipyard – to store the snow removed from city streets. The city on Tuesday also received permission from the state's Department of Environmental Protection (DEP) to begin dumping snow into the ocean. Several other communities – including Law-

Cont'd On Page 10



QUINCY FIREFIGHTERS responded to a partial roof collapse at a building inside the Fore River Shipyard caused by heavy snow Monday morning. No injuries were reported, but a natural gas line was ruptured. National Grid responded to the scene to shut off the gas line to the building. Photo courtesy Quincy Fire Department

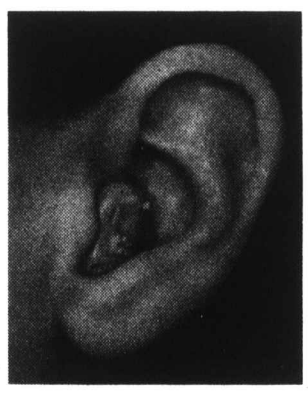
Reach Your Hearing Potential

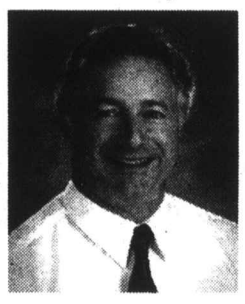
If your hearing aids are over four years old, you should know that new computer chips have allowed hearing aids to work faster and smarter in different environments. Nobody hears everything they want, but you could get the most out of your hearing with newer technology.

Let us help you reach your hearing potential and reconnect with your surroundings!

CALL to schedule your free hearing test and consultation, and ask about our current specials!

(617) 770-3395





Tobias Hearing Aids, Inc.
382 Quincy Ave, Quincy 02169

near Roche Bros and Walmart.
Where Eddie's Diner was!

Stephen P. Tobias B.C. HIS
MA Lic #59
B.S. Science UMass 1978

Financing available through Wells Fargo

13-month CD

1.25% APY*

19-month CD

1.45% APY*

* 1.25% Annual Percentage Yield (APY) available for a 13-month CD only. 1.45% Annual Percentage Yield (APY) available for a 19-month CD only. APY is effective as of February 1, 2015, and is subject to change without notice. Available to new accounts with minimum opening deposit of $5,000. All terms will automatically renew at the then-current NECB 13-month or 19-month CD term and prevailing rate. IRA CDs are also eligible. This is a limited time offer and may be withdrawn at any time. A penalty may be imposed for early withdrawal. Other rates available. Fees could reduce earnings on account. Please ask us for an account disclosure for more details and a schedule of fees on any of these accounts. To receive this offer, accounts must be opened at one of our Massachusetts branch locations. Visit www.necb.com for all branch locations and hours.

NORTHEAST COMMUNITY BANK

281 Quincy Avenue • Quincy, MA 02169 • (617) 689-8826 • www.necb.com

Member FDIC EQUAL OPPORTUNITY EMPLOYER EQUAL HOUSING LENDER

Great rates!

City Digging Out From Third Major Storm

Cont'd From Page 9

rence, Lowell, Marblehead, and Salem – have done the same because of the heavy snowfall.

In the past three weeks, the city has used 5,000 tons of salt to keep streets clear, according to the mayor. The city has a contract with Eastern Minerals to provide salt as needed over the course of the winter and has been able to replenish its supplies.

This week's snowstorm prompted Quincy Public Schools officials to cancel classes Monday, Tuesday, and Wednesday. Schools have now been closed for nine days in recent weeks, pushing the final day of school to Monday, June 29, barring any more cancellations. That leaves just one day in June in which classes could be held if schools close again this year.

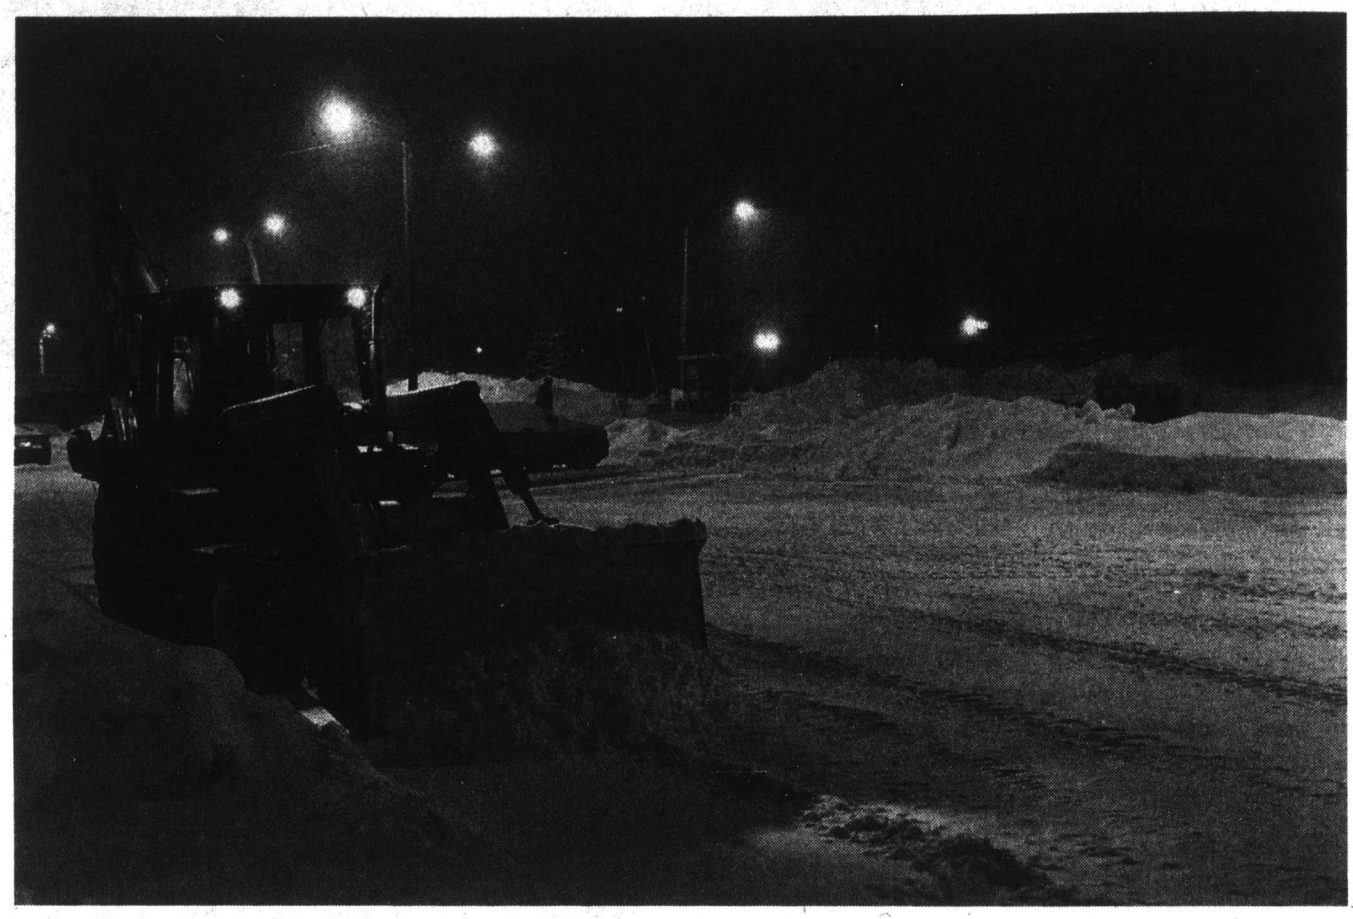
Koch said he has asked Superintendent Dr. Richard DeCristofaro about options for making up the missed days to ensure students have met state requirements for classroom time. Among the options are cancelling April vacation, holding Saturday classes, extending the school day 30 minutes, or cancelling early release days. The School Committee has final say over the issue.

"Everything is on the table," said Koch, who is the chairman of the School Committee in his capacity as mayor. "No matter what we do, there is going to be some disruption."

The committee, he added, may consider cancelling February and April vacations in future years and replacing them with a one-week break in March.

A building in the Fore River Shipyard partially collapsed Monday under the weight of the snow; a gas line was ruptured but no injuries were reported. The

Cont'd On Page 32



FRONT END LOADER operated by a Quincy DPW worker clears snow at the John Hancock Municipal Lot Sunday evening trying to keep ahead of the latest nor'easter to strike the city and region. More than 27 inches of snow fell during a four-day period from last Saturday to early Tuesday morning, bringing the total accumulation to more than 72 inches (six feet) in 17 days.
Quincy Sun Photo/Robert Bosworth

City Launches Unprecedented Snow Removal Operation

In the wake of record storms that dumped more than six feet of snow in Quincy in the last two weeks, Mayor Thomas Koch announced Tuesday the expansion of a snow removal program that will be "unlike anything in recent history," he said.

"This is a truly historic weather event, and we're going to match it with an unprecedented effort," he said. "Plowing snow at some point becomes moot. There's no place for it go, and it just needs to be removed. I've been around the snow operation in this City for a long time, and we have never tried anything this expansive."

The program, which began in earnest prior to the latest deluge of more than 27 inches of snow this week, will start again on Tuesday night. The operation will include upwards of 75 trucks to haul snow and the associated heavy equipment to remove it from main roads, main sidewalks, school areas, secondary roads and narrow neighborhood streets.

Impacted neighborhoods will be posted with any necessary parking restrictions, and traffic diversions will be conveyed via the City's website, www.quincyma.gov, social media, and traditional media.

Koch cautioned that the methodical nature of a large-scale hauling operation means the program will take a considerable amount of time. The program will begin with at least two to four crews working every night, with the expectation that it may be expanded with the availability of additional contractors. Daytime work is also a possibility for the removal effort, and the work schedule will be altered by additional storms.

The snow will be hauled to a pair of snow dumps at either end of the city, which are currently already holding thousands of tons of snow from earlier hauling efforts. Quincy also received a waiver from the Department of Environmental Protection to dump snow if necessary in waterways.

As the program moves forward, many secondary roads and neighborhood streets will continue to be narrow. Those areas are being reviewed by the city's Traffic Department for the potential of pattern changes that will assist in easing neighborhood congestion.

"We all need to understand the magnitude of the events of the last couple of weeks, and just take a little more time, be patient, and be extra careful when we are out driving or walking," said Koch. "We have a good a handle on it; we're working around the clock, and we'll get through it."

Koch has spoken multiple times with Governor Charlie Baker and Lt. Gov. Karyn Polito about the city's response to the storms, and the state is seeking to assist in providing additional contractors as the part of the removal program.

WALL OF SNOW – A resident on Furnace Brook Parkway snowblows a driveway Monday evening. More than six feet of snow has fallen in Quincy in a 17-day period beginning with the Blizzard of 2015 Jan. 26 and 27.
Quincy Sun Photo/Larry Carchedi

Furnace Brook Physical Therapy

Announces

NEW HAND THERAPY CLINIC

JAY BERNASCONI, D.P.T., OCS
is pleased to announce the addition of
KATHY KOWALSKI, OTR/L, CHT
to our staff.

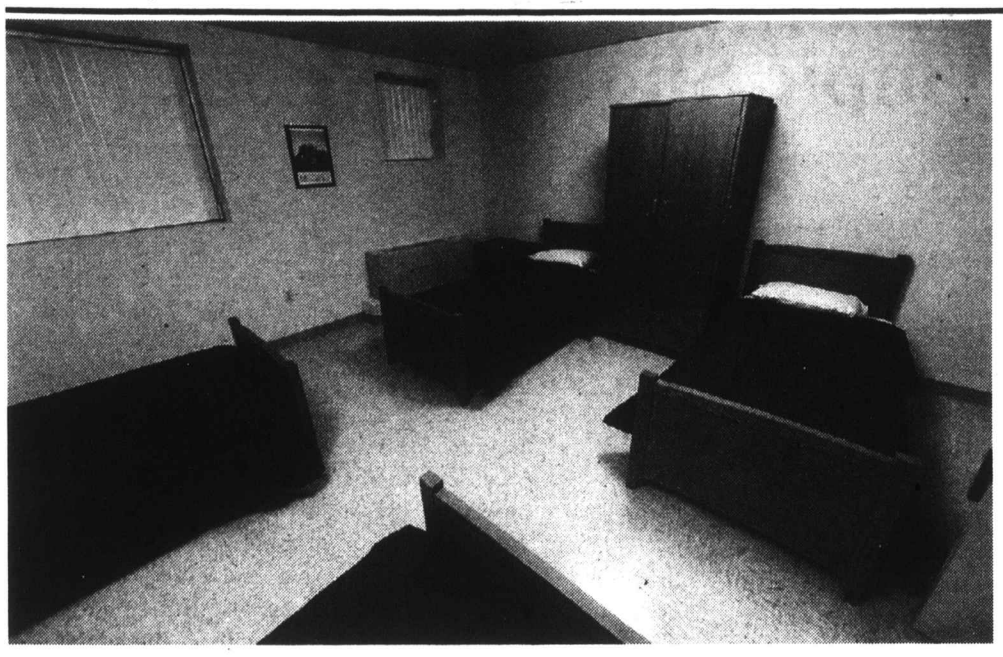
KATHY KOWALSKI, OTR/L, CHT

Kathy is a highly respected Certified Hand Therapist who has treated complex nerve and tendon injuries, fracture and dislocations, arthritis, and advanced hand/elbow injuries at Quincy Medical Center for the past 20 years.

Kathy will also be fabricating Static and Dynamic Splints onsite when needed and will be taking new patients beginning January 5, 2015.

To schedule an appointment with Kathy, simply call our office at 617.770.4167

104 Quarry Street, Quincy, MA 02169
617.770.4167
www.furnacebrookpt.com



A LOOK INSIDE one of the rooms at the Phoenix House short-term drug rehabilitation center and transitiional care services facility. Rooms house two to four beds in gender specific wings on two floors. There are also two, single-bed handicap accessible rooms.

PHOENIX HOUSE Vice President and Senior Program Director Neil Gaer stands in a communal gathering room that includes couches and a television that broadcasts only "wellness" programs. Quincy Sun Photos/Robert Bosworth

Detoxification Facility Opens In Wollaston

Cont'd From Page 3

The first floor of the former Cerebral Palsy of Massachusetts building at 43 Old Colony Ave. is home to a short-term rehabilitation program – also called the Clinical Stabilization Program – in which up to 16 patients can receive transitional care for a period of up to two weeks.

The top floor provides acute detoxification care monitored by doctors and nurse practitioners which lasts about five days.

In total, 62 staff members will be or have been hired, said Gaer; two physicians, two nurse practitioners, ten nurses, counselors and case workers.

Each floor is divided into two wings; one catering to adult female patients and one to adult male patients.

"Our programming is gender specific," he said. "Men program with men; women program with women."

"No co-mingling of the sexes," he added. "It's healthier. There's less distraction. People who are in early recovery can get distracted."

All rooms house two to four beds with the exception of two, single-bed handicap accessible rooms; one for men and one for women located in each wing of the building.

The community bathrooms for each wing are also equipped with shower stalls large enough to accommodate wheelchairs and are handicap accessible.

Gaer said the process of admitting patients for clinical stabilization was scheduled to begin this Monday.

Each wing also has a large gathering room where group therapy sessions and other group activities can take place. Televisions in the communal gathering rooms will only broadcast programs as part of what Gaer called "wellness tv."

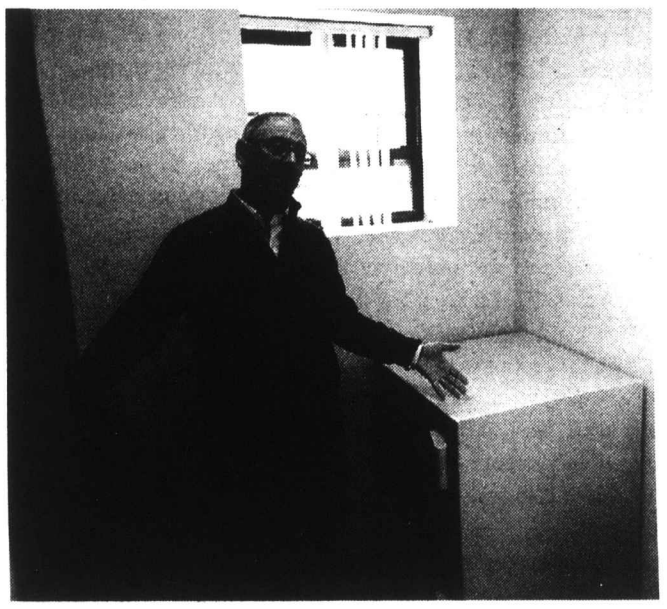
Programs relevant to substance abuse treatment, group treatment schedules, and announcements will be broadcast.

No outside entertainment will be permitted.

Each wing of the building is identical, said Gaer. The only difference is that offices are located at the center of the first floor while a fully staffed nurses' station is at the center of the top floor.

A computer screen in an office on the first floor projects the feed of every security camera inside and outside of the facility. The over twenty cameras leave no corner of the building and surrounding sidewalk and parking lot unmonitored.

"Every inch of this building, through the cameras is under surveillance," Gaer said. "It's staff secure. If somebody wants to leave the doors are unlocked. The alarm is going to go off and we'll know that they're leaving."



MEDICATION ROOM includes a safe (right) where narcotics, suboxone and methadone, along with antibotics and other commonly used medications are kept secure.

If a patient decides to leave the facility prior to the completing their treatment, transportation will escort them to their homes if they live in Quincy. Those who live outside of Quincy will be escorted to Wollaston T station which is just a few hundred feet away.

"We don't really expect people to dash out the door because mostly everybody in here is voluntary and they want to be here," said Gaer.

Visitors are welcomed on the first floor but those undergoing acute detox on the second floor are not permitted to have any visitors.

The dining room on the first floor feeds 32 people simultaneously however men and women will never eat their meals together.

Gaer said Phoenix House, which has facilities in nine states, sees more men seeking treatment than women.

The nurses' station which is monitored by a security camera, is staffed 24-hours a day by a minimum of two nurses.

The medication room which houses narcotics, suboxone and methadone, along with antibiotics and other commonly used medications is heavily secured. A camera records an alarmed safe at all times.

"This is instantly alarmed so that if the alarm goes off it goes straight to a monitoring company and they call," he said. "If it goes off in the evening the police come right away."

Nurses will also wear panic buttons attached to lanyards around their necks at all times.

A doctor's exam room will be fully equipped with all the necessities for carrying out a complete physical and other necessary tests and procedures.

Gaer said it was possible that the first patients seeking acute detoxification services would be admitted to Phoenix House by Thursday with those withdrawing from alcohol arriving first followed by those seeking help for opioid and heroin addictions.

More patients arriving at the facility will be seeking help for opioid addiction than any other drug, he said.

Patients will enter through a monitored door at the back of the building. After descending a set of stairs into the basement and taking a seat in a waiting room, a nurse will begin the admitting process which includes a search for drug paraphernalia performed by direct care staff, a warm shower, and a change of clothes.

"You can't just walk in and ask for a bed," he said.

Clients get to the first floor using an elevator, an act Gaer described as being symbolic of rising to meet the challenges presented by addiction.

"It's very dignifying," he said.

After completing their acute treatment program, some patients will be transferred to recovery homes while others will return home and continue treatment on an out-patient basis.

Gaer said the main message he wanted to convey to those in Quincy curious about Phoenix House and its goals was one of hope.

"I think it's going to be a very safe place and we're going to be a great neighbor," he said.

"The thing of it is we treat people with dignity and respect," said Gaer. "It's not a prison. People are here to get better. It's a healthcare environment. They're going to be treated as if they're going to a hospital; with dignity and respect."

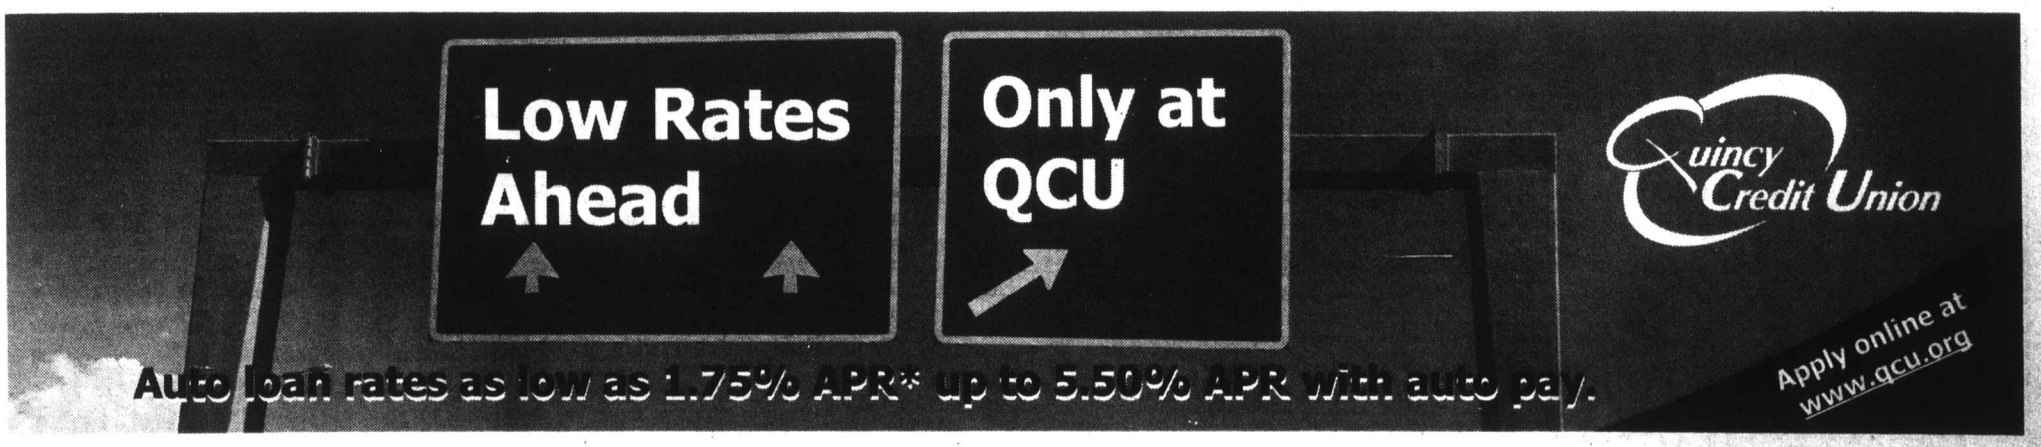
"All clients have rights and they're treated as such," he added.

"The goal of withdrawal management on the second floor with acute treatment services is to withdraw somebody safely from the drug that they are on whether it's alcohol or opioids," said Gaer. "That's the goal so we're not necessarily doing a lot of recovery work so the treatment plan goals is that they will successfully complete their protocol and move on to their next level of care."

"For us, that is success," he said.

When asked why a patient would opt to be treated at a stand-alone facility such as Phoenix House as opposed to a hospital, Gaer said it was a simple matter of cost.

"The cost of running a hospital is much greater than the cost of running a program like this," he said.



*APR=Annual Percentage Rate. Rates currently in effect and subject to change. Rate, term and approval amount based on credit worthiness. Speak with a loan representative to find out how your rate is determined. QCU finances 100% of the purchase price or book value, whichever is less. Minimum rate with Auto Pay is 1.75%. Payment per thousand on 1.75% for 72 months is $14.65. Minimum rate without Auto Pay is 2.00%. Payment per thousand on 2.00% for 72 months is $14.76. Maximum rate with Auto Pay is 5.50%. Payment per thousand on 5.50% for 72 months is $16.34. Maximum rate without Auto Pay is 5.75%. Payment per thousand on 5.75% for 72 months is $16.46. Other rates and terms available. Maximum term is 72 months for qualified applicants. Maximum loan amount is $50,000. Refinancing on existing QCU loans requires additional proceeds of $4,000 minimum. Membership eligibility requirements apply. Providing financial products and services to individuals who work or live in Norfolk, Plymouth Counties or Dorchester. $5.00 Primary Share Account required for Membership.

NCUA Federally insured by NCUA

Long Island Eyed For Olympic Shooting Venue

By SCOTT JACKSON

The organizers trying to bring the Summer Olympics to Boston in 2024 have set their sights on Long Island as the location for the games' shooting events.

Bid documents recently released by the Boston 2024 committee call for temporary venues for shooting events on the northern end of Long Island, where Camp Harbor View and the Long Island Head Lighthouse are currently located. The temporary venues would include shooting ranges; changing rooms, equipment rooms, and medical facilities for athletes; a media center and broadcast area; space for VIPs and officials; and spectator seating and services.

In addition to the temporary venues for shooting events, Boston 2024's plan calls for spectator seating along the northern tip of the island for sailing events in Boston Harbor. In total, the documents call for accommodations for up to 7,000 people on the island for Olympic events.

"The shooting events will be located on Long Island in the Boston Harbor," the bid documents state. "The site will be served by the Olympic Route Network via I-93 to Quincy Shore Drive to Moon Island Road. The bridge serving the island will be restricted for Olympic use only during the games.

"Ferry service from the South Boston waterfront and Downtown Boston will provide transportation for workforce, volunteer, and spectator access."

The usage of Long Island, which is owned by Boston and falls within that city's jurisdiction, has long been a point of contention between Quincy and Boston. The only access to the island from land is through the Squantum section of Quincy and Moon Island, which is part of Quincy but owned by Boston.

The existing bridge connecting Long Island to Moon Island was closed in October, forcing the evacuation of individuals in the island's homeless shelter and other non-profit facilities, such as rehab centers. Boston plans to demolish that bridge and build a new one at cost of $80 million or more.

Quincy officials have sought greater public input on the future use of Long Island. Rep. Bruce Ayers – whose district includes Squantum – said the idea of hosting Olympic events on Long Island raises a number of concerns for himself and Quincy residents in a letter to Boston 2024 CEO Richard Davey.

"Based on the early and limited information pertaining to the potential of the 2024 Olympics coming to Boston, the proposal for Long Island to be used for the purposes of all shooting events raises a myriad of concerns from both myself and my constituents," Ayers wrote in the letter dated Feb. 5.

"I realize that this will require many permits on both the local and state levels. The issues of transportation, environmental impacts, and neighborhood impacts are paramount. I'm writing this letter to open a dialogue on the importance of public input at this early planning stage.

"While the future of the Long Island Bridge is uncertain in terms of whether or not it will be replaced, your plans to utilize a ferry service to transport the workforce, volunteers and the public to this location (as stated in your proposal) would be the most practical and economical means to the island for all involved.

"I strongly believe that the implementation of a special commission, made up of Boston and Quincy officials, as well as residents of Boston, Quincy, and Squantum residents, should be established to review some of the aspects of this event and the logistics surrounding it. I have filed legislation that would create this special commission (House Docket #900), and as your plans clearly state a specific use for Long Island, I hope that you will join me in advocating for the passage of this legislation to ensure that public input is considered throughout this process.

"This legislation will help ensure increased public input, communication, and cooperation."

The United States Olympic Committee chose Boston in January as the American city to bid for the 2024 games, beating out Los Angeles, San Francisco, and Washington, D.C.

Rome, Paris, Berlin, Istanbul, and Johannesburg are among a number of international cities that may bid against Boston for the games. The International Olympic Committee will select a host in September 2017.

Mental Health Awareness Community Event Feb. 26

The Blue Hills Community Health Network Alliance (CHNA 20) will hold a community event Thursday, Feb. 26 to raise awareness of the growing mental health crisis in our communities.

"Mental Health Policies & Programs, Local and State Updates" will highlight current regional mental health programs, initiatives and/or policies. It will be held Feb. 26 from 9:30 to 11:30 a.m. at the Quincy Center for Innovation (3rd floor conference room), 180 Old Colony Ave., Quincy.

The event will encourage collaboration between multiple stakeholders and validate prevention strategies to improve mental and emotional well-being.

State Sen. John F. Keenan of Quincy, former chairman of the Massachusetts Mental Health and Substance Abuse Senate Committee, will begin with a review of the findings from the Report of the Mental Health Advisory Committee.

After the Keenan's remarks, a four-member panel will report on unique programs and policies currently underway in the state. The panel includes Melissa Bickler, Quincy Police Jail Diversion Clinician; Sherry Ellis, VP Crisis Intervention and Rehabilitative Services, South Shore Mental Health in collaboration with BID Hospital-Milton; Paul Gabriele, Plymouth County Suicide Prevention Coalition; and Betty MacIntyre, Regional President, National on Mental Illness (NAMI) MA.

After the presentations participants will have the opportunity to ask questions and discuss more alternative approaches to address mental health issues.

For more information or to RSVP email: chna20@baystatecs.org

CHNA 20's mission is to empower communities to achieve their best quality of health and wellness through education and information while improving access to care and services. Funded by South Shore Hospital, Dana-Farber Cancer Institute, and Steward Health Care, CHNA 20 is one of 27 Community Health Network Areas across Massachusetts.

The following communities comprise CHNA 20: Braintree, Canton, Cohasset, Hingham, Hull, Milton, Norwell, Norwood, Quincy, Randolph, Scituate, Sharon and Weymouth.

Workshop For Alzheimer's Family Caregivers

The Alzheimer's Association will present a workshop on Essential Skills for Family Caregivers Thursday, Feb. 12 from 10:30 a.m. to 12:30 p.m. at the Alzheimer's Disease Center, 54 Miller St., Quincy.

Two additional workshops will follow at the same time and place Feb. 19 and Feb. 26.

The Essential Skills for Family Caregivers series provides education and practical tools to those caring for someone with dementia. The goal of the series is to improve day-to-day living and overall quality of life for the person with dementia and the caregiver. The series covers communication techniques, strategies to manage difficult behaviors and safety in the home. Essential Skills is free and intended for family caregivers.

To register or for more information call 800-272-3900.

Wear Your Heart On Your Sleeve

By KRISTEN ALBERINO

Social Security Public Affairs Specialist

February is the month when we celebrate love and friendship. The Centers for Disease Control (CDC) has also declared February as American Heart Month to bring awareness to the leading cause of death for both women and men in the United States: heart disease.

Social Security Online Services ★ Convenient ★ Secure ★ www.socialsecurity.gov

We encourage you to wear red all month to promote cardiovascular disease prevention.

Just as the heart is vital to our emotional and physical well-being, Social Security disability benefits are often a vital lifeline for people who are unable to work due to severe disabilities-whether heart-related or not.

There are numerous ways to protect our hearts, including eating well, exercising, and not smoking. We get checkups, and make sure to keep our cholesterol down.

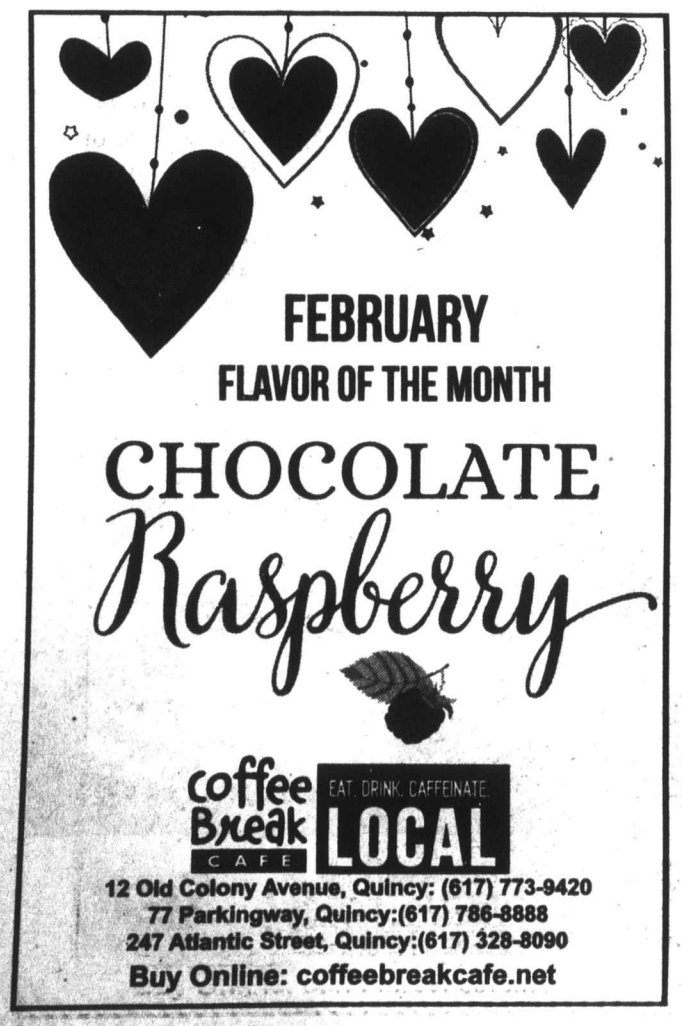
However, sometimes these measures aren't enough. In fact, disability will affect one in four of today's 20 year-olds before reaching retirement age. The Social Security disability program excels in providing financial help to people when they need it most-help they earned by paying Social Security taxes on their earnings or as dependents of someone who paid Social Security taxes.

Social Security pays benefits to covered people who can't work and whose medical condition meets the strict definition of disability under the Social Security Act. A person is considered disabled under this definition if he or she cannot work due to a severe medical condition that has lasted or is expected to last at least one year or result in death. The person's medical condition must prevent him or her from doing work that he or she did in the past, and it must prevent the person from adjusting to other work based on their age, education, and experience. You can find all the information you need about eligibility and benefits available to you by reading our publication, Disability Benefits, available at www.socialsecurity.gov/pubs.

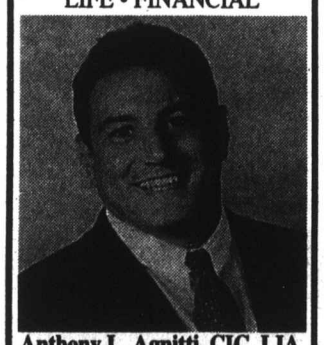
If you are disabled, and think you are eligible to receive disability benefits, you will need to complete an application for Social Security benefits. It's easy to apply online at www.socialsecurity.gov/disability.

We also invite you to visit our Faces and Facts of Disability website to watch and read stories about people who have truly benefited from Social Security's disability program and to get the facts about this very important program. Helping people is at the heart of what we do. You can learn more at www.socialsecurity.gov/disabilityfacts.

During American Heart Month, go ahead and wear your heart on your sleeve. Go red, and go to www.socialsecurity.gov/disabilityfacts.



AGNITTI INSURANCE
HOME • AUTO • BUSINESS
LIFE • FINANCIAL



Anthony L. Agnitti, CIC, LIA
Certified Insurance Counselor
Licensed Insurance Advisor
CALL FOR A QUOTE ON PROPER INSURANCE COVERAGE AT COMPETITIVE PRICES!
ASK ABOUT OUR AUTO AND HOMEOWNER INSURANCE DISCOUNT PROGRAMS
24-Hour Emergency Access
770-0123
21 FRANKLIN ST., QUINCY

LEARN-TO-SKATE CLASSES
RECREATIONAL • FIGURE HOCKEY SKATING SKILLS
BAY STATE SKATING SCHOOL Non-Profit
CHILDREN (4 1/2 up) & ADULTS As Featured on "Chronicle"
Gift Certificates Available
QUINCY SHEA RINK — Sundays 11:00AM — Start Feb. 15
WEYMOUTH CONNELL RINK — Sundays 5:00PM — Start Feb. 15
SOUTH BOSTON MURPHY RINK — Sundays 5:00PM — Start Feb. 15
Sign Up Now
781-890-8480
www.BayStateSkatingSchool.org
Over 45 Years!

Real Estate

Quincy Real Estate Transactions Feb. 2 - Feb. 6

Seller	Buyer	Amount	Address
Fuk W. Wong, Sao W. Mak, & Chung & Jean Lau	Fuk W. Wong & Sao W. Mak	$170,625.00	25 Pearl Street
Grey Graham	Robert T. Austin	$220,000.00	40 Macy Street
DJR Realty Trust	Shreejl Real Estate LLC	$300,000.00	139 West Elm Avenue
Marie B. Sheahan	Mark J. Lombardi	$302,000.00	66 Curlew Road
Ling Zhao & Kevin Zhang	Mark Pepjonovich	$206,000.00	86 Greenleaf Street Unit 304
Maximino T., & Ruijie Z. Sumera; Sergio A. Ordonez & Christiane F.P. Martinho	Tuyet Tran	$261,000.00	12 Homer Road
John F. Callanan	Paul & Kimberly A. McCratic	$240,000.00	78 Turner Street
WK Realty Trust	Ear, Nose & Throat Realty Trust	$210,000.00	500 Congress Street Unit 2H
HCL LLC	Ryan P. Bird	$325,000.00	78 Darrow Street
Mari & Brian Rosner	Thomas M., Brittany A. & Thomas W. Corliss	$419,000.00	10 Seaport Drive Unit 2501
George M. & Nancy Chan	Carl Adam Carte	$740,000.00	197 Gardiner Road
Thomas J. Buckley	Edward & Shelia K. Strickland	$980,000.00	1001 Marina Drive Unit 609E

THIS IS A HAMMER

By Samantha Mazzotta

Slow-Flowing Drain

Question: My bathroom sink drains pretty slowly, and fills up at least halfway when I'm brushing my teeth with the water running. I'm not sure if I should use a drain cleaner on it. What do you recommend? -- Sara in Melbourne, Florida

Answer: Before taking the drain-cleaner route, try a couple of other things first. A slow-flowing bathroom sink drain's problem may be sitting right in front of you, at the bottom of the sink, with the stopper.

Most of today's standard bathroom sinks use a pop-up sink stopper, controlled by a push-pull rod behind and below the sink. The bottom of the stopper is typically attached to a control rod; this ensures that the stopper pops up far enough to allow a good, steady drain of water, and that it seals tightly when you want to fill the sink.

A couple of things can happen to the stopper over time: Hair and soap can get stuck at the bottom of the stopper, where the pivot rod attaches to it, causing a clog or slowdown. Or, the attachment to the pivot rod can break. Even if the stopper still pops up or closes, it may not be doing either very well.

So check your stopper first: grab it from the top with your index finger and thumb and pull gently upward. If it comes out easily, its attachment is likely broken. There's a great step-by-step guide at instructables (http://www.instructables.com/id/Fix-a-Sink-Stopper/) on replacing a pop-up stopper.

If the stopper is attached to the pivot rod, you can go ahead and check for a clog at the base. Dive under the sink and locate the pivot rod. This is a round metal rod jutting horizontally into the back of the drain pipe. It's held in place by a nut; loosen this nut and ease out the pivot rod. You may want to have a helper hold onto the stopper from above so that it doesn't fall flush into place, making it hard to get out. Once the rod is pulled back, lift out the stopper.

Clean the gunk from the bottom of the stopper; if you see more gunk in the area around where the pivot rod sits, try fishing out the clog using a wire hanger bent into a hook, or an old bottle brush, or feed a pipe snake to the spot and swirl it a couple of times.

Using a helper to position the stopper, move the pivot rod back into place and hand-tighten the nut. Run the water to see if the slow drain problem is fixed, making sure water doesn't leak from the pivot nut.

HOME TIP: To de-gunk a slow-flowing drain without drain cleaner, pour a tablespoon of baking soda into the drain followed by two tablespoons of white vingar; let sit for a few minutes, then flush with hot water.

Send your home tips and questions to ask@thisisahammer.com.

(c) 2015 King Features Synd., Inc.

Precautions To Take To Avoid Potential Hazards From Snowfall

Tips For Homes, Businesses From National Grid

As snow accumulations continue to mount across New England and with more snowfall possible in the coming days and weeks, National Grid is urging everyone to take precautions to avoid the potential hazards these conditions present.

At many homes and businesses, the deep snowpack and additional snow left by snow removal equipment is clogging vents to furnaces and other appliances. In addition, many roofs are still laden with ice and snow overhanging natural gas equipment. Both conditions can lead to trouble.

CO Safety

Carbon monoxide (CO) is a by-product of fossil fuel combustion. Ice and snow blocking vents to natural gas appliances have the potential to cause CO to back up into a building, resulting in carbon monoxide poisoning to those inside.

National Grid advises natural gas customers to closely inspect areas around vents for snow and ice build-up and to remove anything that is blocking those vents. CO is odorless and can build up to dangerous levels without building occupants being aware that it's present. Customers are encouraged to install CO detectors in their homes and to test detectors that may already be installed to ensure that they are in working order.

Ice and Snow Build Up Poses Risk to Gas Equipment

The build-up of ice and snow around or over natural gas meters, regulators and pipes can pose a serious safety risk as well. Ice and snow falling from a roof can damage gas meters or service connections to customers' homes or businesses, resulting in potential gas leaks.

Anyone detecting the odor of natural gas should call National Grid. If the odor is present inside your building, leave the premises immediately and call from outside or a neighboring building.

Snow removal equipment operators should also be aware of the presence of natural gas equipment and avoid coming in contact with meters or piling snow around vents mounted on the outside of buildings.

If you do detect an odor of natural gas or suspect carbon monoxide is present in your home, go outside immediately and breathe deeply. If CO poisoning symptoms, such as headaches or drowsiness are severe, call 911 immediately.

After calling 911, call the following emergency National Grid contact number: 800-233-5325.

Century 21 Annex Realty, Inc.
49 Beale St., Quincy, MA 02170
617-472-4330
www.c21annex.com
Over 70 Seller and Buyer Agents specializing in Residential, Commercial Real Estate, Bank Owned Properties, Short Sales and Rentals
ANNEX REAL ESTATE SCHOOL
Offering Salesperson's, Broker's and Continuing Ed. classes
"STILL NUMBER ONE"

Home Decorating Tips

By BARBARA GRACEFFA

Question: With all the recent snow, boy, do I have cabin fever! What ideas can you offer for redecorating when I can't get out to the store to buy new items?

Answer: First, you can always buy items online and have them delivered in a few days. Second, think about using what you already own in different ways. Perhaps that means moving artwork, accessories, or window treatments from one room to another or switching out framed photos or posters for a new look. Finally, if you have any craft talents (and supplies on hand!), put them to good use. For example, recover a pillow or two. Or take a square or rectangular scarf and tie it around a solid color pillow for a new look. Stencil a border on a wall or create a new watercolor for your home. My final thought: order yourself a bouquet of flowers to brighten your day and your home.

Question: I am considering refacing my kitchen cabinets. What advice can you offer me?

Answer: Refacing kitchen cabinets is a great option if you are happy with the current layout and the frames are structurally sound and in good condition. Your contractor will install new doors and draw fronts and reface the existing frames. For the latter, you can choose from three options: Thermofoil hard plastic coating, laminate, or real wood veneers.

BARBARA GRACEFFA

There are many advantages to refacing, including cost-savings and convenience. You can save up to 50% of the price of custom cabinets and have your kitchen done in 3-5 days with minimal disruption.

As in any remodeling project, do your homework. This includes getting multiple quotes, checking references and reviews, and asking lots of questions. Be sure to inquire about the price of hardware, installation, delivery, and extra charges for plumbing or electrical, if needed. By all means, ask about the warranty and price of repairs should you need them in the future.

Do you have a question on interior decorating? Send it to barbara@sec-interior.com and it may get printed in a future issue of The Quincy Sun.

Barbara Graceffa is president and CEO of Secretary of the Interior, an interior decorating company in Quincy.

For more information, visit www.sec-interior.com.

SEE JAYNE TALK
WWW.C21ABIGAILADAMS.COM
Century 21
ABIGAIL ADAMS AGENCY
617-471-7575

A Job Well Done

By QUINCY POLICE LT. DAN MINTON

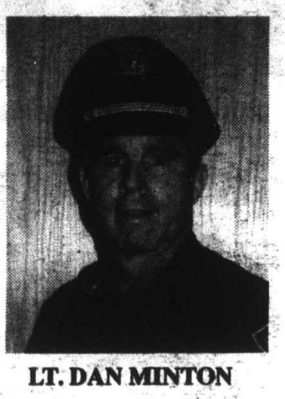
On Saturday, January 31, 2015, at approximately 10:00 p.m., Officer James Cassidy and his K-9 partner Khiya were parked across the street from the 7-Eleven convenient store located on Copeland Street. He was situated there because the surrounding area is known for drug activity and there have been numerous drug related arrests. At this time, the Officer observed a vehicle enter the lot and park in front of the store, to the left of the entrance. The male operator – the only occupant of the vehicle, shut the lights off and then briefly used his cell phone. The operator stayed in his vehicle for about ten minutes and then backed out of the spot and re-parked to the right side of the store, again shutting the lights off. He stayed there for about five minutes and then drove off, turning right onto Copeland Street. Officer Cassidy remained at his location parked across the street.

Less than five minutes later, the vehicle returned and again parked in front of the store. Another vehicle then pulled in next to the suspect vehicle. A check of the license plate and criminal record check revealed that the owner had a pending criminal case out of Weymouth for Distribution of Class D. At this time, both operators exited their vehicles and walked to the rear of their vehicles, where they faced each other and shook hands. After a few seconds, they walked back to their respective cars. Both cars backed out of their spots and exited onto Copeland Street.

Officer Cassidy knew from his training and experience that hand to hand drug deals are often made to look like a handshake. The Officer stopped the Honda on School Street and approached the driver, the sole occupant in the vehicle. He observed numerous loose dryer sheets on the rear seat floor however, there was no laundry, laundry detergent, laundry bags or laundry baskets. There were also air fresheners in both the rear seat area and the front seat area to include three on the dashboard located inside the air vents.

Officer Cassidy knew that dealers often use many air fresheners to mask the odor of illegal drugs. Inside a change compartment to the left of the steering wheel, the Officer observed two separate folds of money, which drug dealers often have in order to keep track of sales. He also detected an odor of unburnt marijuana after the operator lowered his window. The driver, avoiding eye contact, appeared nervous and his left hand trembled.

Officer Cassidy advised the driver of his observations at the 7-Eleven store and believed that he was involved in a drug transaction. The operator confirmed that he was there and gave "John" $50 and was heading home. He added that he had worked with "John" doing demolition and owed him money. When asked where "John" lived, the operator said Quincy Point but couldn't remember the street. He also couldn't recall "John's" last name. Officer Cassidy asked the operator if he had "John's" phone number and he said no and then couldn't explain how he made arrangements with "John" to meet at 7- Eleven. The operator was asked if he had any illegal drugs on his person or in his car and he stated that he had a couple of marijuana roach's in the ash tray. The operator was then advised that other Quincy Officers have "John" stopped and asked him what "John" might tell them.



LT. DAN MINTON

The operator's demeanor changed as his shoulders slouched and he placed his hands behind his head. He was again asked if he was sure he met with "John" and the operator said, "Well I am not sure of his name but he looks like a John to me." Officer Cassidy told the operator that he was going to bring his K-9 partner out to conduct a drug sweep of the vehicle and told him to step out of the vehicle. Due to the extreme cold, the operator was told that he could remove his jacket from the vehicle, but he said that he didn't want it. To get out of the cold, the operator agreed to sit in the rear of Officer O'Neil's cruiser during the scan. The operator then said, "You might find a little weed in the car."

While performing the scan, the operator asked Officer O'Neil if he could have his jacket, which was odd since he originally didn't want it while standing in the cold but now wanted it while sitting in the heated cruiser. Khiya showed a positive alert at the driver's side door and to the center console. Inside the center console was a sandwich bag of marijuana. While inside the vehicle, the operator's cell phone continued to ring and receive text messages. No other drugs were located in the vehicle. The weight of the marijuana was approximately .92 ounces.

Based on my observations of the operator at 7- Eleven, the observations of the numerous air fresheners and dryer sheets, his nervous demeanor and expressions, his suspicious answers, the separate folds of money, his phone constantly ringing along with the marijuana, the suspect, a 21 year old Quincy resident, was placed under arrest and charged with "Possession w/ Intent Class D Substance Marijuana."

While being booked at the station, the operator was searched and $1445.00 in assorted bills was found in his pants pocket. During the booking process, the operator said he couldn't recall his home address or where he worked. It is believed that he was intentionally holding back his address fearing a search his residence and discovery of additional contraband. A check of past calls by name showed that the operator had been involved in two separate incidents involving marijuana since 2012.

In one case, 52 pounds of marijuana, $63,000 and a motor vehicle were seized. A search of Facebook using the operator's name revealed an account with photographs of the operator. Three photos show the operator holding a large marijuana plant with the comment, "doing more work," which is believed to be in reference to growing and cultivating marijuana plants. Copies are attached to this report. Nice Work!

❑

QUINCY POLICE BLOOD DRIVE FEB. 14:

The Quincy Police Department and the Glennon Family will be hosting a blood Drive Saturday, February 14 from 8:00 a.m. to 2:00 p.m. at the Quincy Police Station Lot. Children's Hospital Boston will have their blood bus there.

Although reservations are not required, it is encouraged. Contact Lieutenant Dan Minton at 617-745-5719 for more information.

❑

QUINCY POLICE CAR SEAT PROGRAM:

The Quincy Police Department will be checking, inspecting and installing child car seats at the Quincy Police Station on Saturday, February 14, from 9:00 a.m. to 1:00 p.m. No reservations are required and it is open to anyone. Please bring the car seat manual and the child who will be using the seat in order to provide a secure fitting. This event is based on good weather.

Contact Officer Terry Downing at 617-745-5824 for more information.

QUINCY POLICE CRIME PREVENTION JOURNAL

Quincy Police Statistics
Jan. 30 – Feb. 6
ARRESTS: 17
TOTAL CALLS: 1,157
STOLEN MOTOR VEHICLES: 2

FRIDAY, JAN. 30

VANDALISM/PROPERTY, 6:17 a.m., Rosecliff, 788 Willard St. Caller came out to find his MV vandalized.

LARCENY, 10:44 a.m., 215 Burgin Pkwy. Party known to her took her wallet yesterday. Complaint for larceny from a person.

LARCENY, 6:13 p.m., 160 Granite St. iPad and $500 cash from a man he met last night.

SATURDAY, JAN. 31

BREAKING AND ENTERING, 9:24 a.m., Beach St.

VANDALISM/PROPERTY, 12:24 p.m., Tasos Pizza Euro Café, 1620 Hancock St. Front door appears to be pushed in. No one inside.

MOTOR VEHICLE LARCENY, 2:38 p.m., 1205 Hancock St. States vehicle parked one hour, now it's gone. Caller called back, found car further down street.

SUNDAY, FEB. 1

LARCENY, 11:58 a.m., Quincy Youth Arena, 60 Murphy Memorial Dr. iPhone.

MONDAY, FEB. 2

VANDALISM/PROPERTY, 5:45 a.m., Hollis Ave. Yellow Cab window broken overnight.

ASSAULT AND BATTERY, 11:17 a.m., Shea St. Two males. One male party left in black Chevy Tahoe, possibly heading towards Braintree. Female also in car. Request no ambulance. DOVE and 51A filed.

VANDALISM/PROPERTY, 1:13 p.m., Rodman St. Nothing taken. Malicious destruction report to be filed.

LARCENY, 4:10 p.m., Burger King, 62 Granite St. Money.

LARCENY, 11:38 p.m., E. Squantum St. Ex-boyfriend took her credit card. Reporting party does not wish to press charges and did not witness card being taken.

TUESDAY, FEB. 3

BREAKING AND ENTERING, 3:33 a.m., Taffrail Rd. Party came home and noticed his apartment was broken into.

VANDALISM/PROPERTY, 2:18 p.m., 1200 block Sea St. Property owner reporting vandalism. Tenant showed officer a storage door in the basement; believes door was kicked by an unknown party. Officer spoke with landlord via phone, he just wants it documented.

VANDALISM/PROPERTY, 5:31 p.m., Main St. Caller in police lobby reports his tenant ran into his car after being given an eviction notice. Advised; no proof.

BREAKING AND ENTERING, 8:20 p.m., River St. Entrance gained through rear door. Left house at 5 p.m. and just returned back home. Caller does not think anything was taken.

WEDNESDAY, FEB. 4

LARCENY, 8:53 a.m., Sea St. Gas Service, 346 Sea St.

MOTOR VEHICLE LARCENY, 6:29 p.m., Wollaston Manor, 91 Clay St. Caller reports nephew took car last week and will not return it.

THURSDAY, FEB. 5

LARCENY, 2:25 p.m., Stop & Shop, 495 Southern Art. Wallet. Caller called back to inform QPD she found her pocketbook and she states contents are intact. No need for an officer or police services at this time.

VANDALISM/PROPERTY, 3:03 p.m., Rogers St. Vehicle keyed on passenger side.

If anyone has more information about any of the aforementioned incidents or would like more information, contact Crime Prevention Lieutenant Dan Minton at 617 745 5719

STOLEN MOTOR VEHICLES: 91 Clay St., 1205 Hancock St.

❑

CAR BREAKS: Parkingway, Revere Rd., 550 Adams St.

❑

BREAKS AND ATTEMPTED BREAKS: Taffrail Rd., low numbers of Beach St.

If you have information on the above crimes, drug activity or any crime, please call the Quincy Police Detective Bureau at 617-745-5764 or log onto the following website: http://tinyurl.com/ytf6td.

To report suspicious drug activity, call the Drug Hot-Line at 617-745-5730. You will not be required to identify yourself, but it could help. To make an appointment to view the Registered Sex Offenders book, call Detective James Dentremont at 617-745-5755.

To contact the Crime Prevention Officer for tips or comments, my direct line is 617-745-5719. My e-mail address is dminton@ci.quincy.ma.us

– Lt. Dan Minton

Entries in the Quincy Police Hot Spots are compiled and submitted by the Quincy Police Department.

They are published by The Quincy Sun as a public service to make local residents more aware of any crime activity in their neighborhood. Questions concerning the Hot Spots list should be directed to Crime Prevention Officer Lt. Dan Minton, 617-745-5719.

QUINCY ANIMAL SHELTER

56 Broad Street, Quincy • 617-376-1349
quincyanimalshelter.org

IN-SHELTER ADOPTION HOURS
TUESDAY and THURSDAYS 6:00 to 8:00 pm
SATURDAYS 10 am - 4 pm

Adoption fees include initial vaccinations and Spay/Neuter as needed. 100% volunteer run, new volunteers always needed.

FOR LOST or FOUND ANIMALS call ANIMAL CONTROL at 617-376-1364

AVAILABLE CATS

TOBI: 5, female, black & white.
SARA: 7, female, tortie.
TRUMAN: 9, male, orange.
FIREBALL: adult, male, gray & white.
LANG: 1, female, black & white.
LUCKY: 4, female, black.
SOPHIA & TAI: 12, munchkin & Siamese mix.
ORION: 1, male, black & white.
PUMPKIN: 1, female, LH tortie.
SNOWFLAKE: 5, female, LH white.
ZDENO: 2, male, orange.
LUNA: 4, female, gray.
GIGI: 7, female, tortie.
DOTTIE: 3, female, black.

Quincy Chamber Of Commerce Business Showcase

Fifth Annual Meeting Draws 80 Businesses, 300 Attendees

The Quincy Chamber of Commerce recently held its fifth Annual Meeting and Business Showcase at the Boston Marriott Quincy.

The event featured over 80 local business, including the following platinum sponsors: Adams National Park, Bank of Canton, Boston Marriott Quincy, City of Boston Credit Union, Galvin Structures, Granite Telecommunications, Morisi & Oatway, P.C., Patriot Ledger, and Wessling Architects.

The event included networking followed by speeches from Dean Rizzo, Quincy Chamber President; Ed Fleming, of Fleming & Fleming, P.C. and Chairman of the Quincy Chamber Board of Directors; greetings from the City by Mayor Koch; and a keynote speech by Tracey and Scott Noonan of Wicked Good Cupcakes, as seen on Shark Tank.

The Quincy Chamber of Commerce was established in January 2010 as a partnership between two long-standing Quincy organizations: Quincy 2000 Collaborative and Discover Quincy.The mission of the Quincy Chamber of Commerce is to support economic growth through numerous business development and tourism initiatives.

QUINCY CHAMBER of Commerce fifth annual meeting and business showcase at the Boston Marriott Quincy. From left are guest speaker Tracey Noonan of "Wicked Good Cupcakes," her husband Scott, Mayor Thomas Koch, Chamber Chairman Ed Fleming and Chamber President Dean Rizzo. Quincy Sun Photos/Lisa Aimola

More Photos On Pages 16, 17

Six Local Students On WPI Dean's List

Six students from Quincy are on the Dean's List for the fall semester at Worcester Polytechnic Institute (WPI).

They are:

Dayna Madeiros, a junior majoring in actuarial mathematics.

Armagan Sezer, a senior majoring in biomedical engineering and mechanical engineering.

Kenrick Tsang, a senior majoring in interactive media and game development.

Andrea Chan, a junior majoring in mechanical engineering.

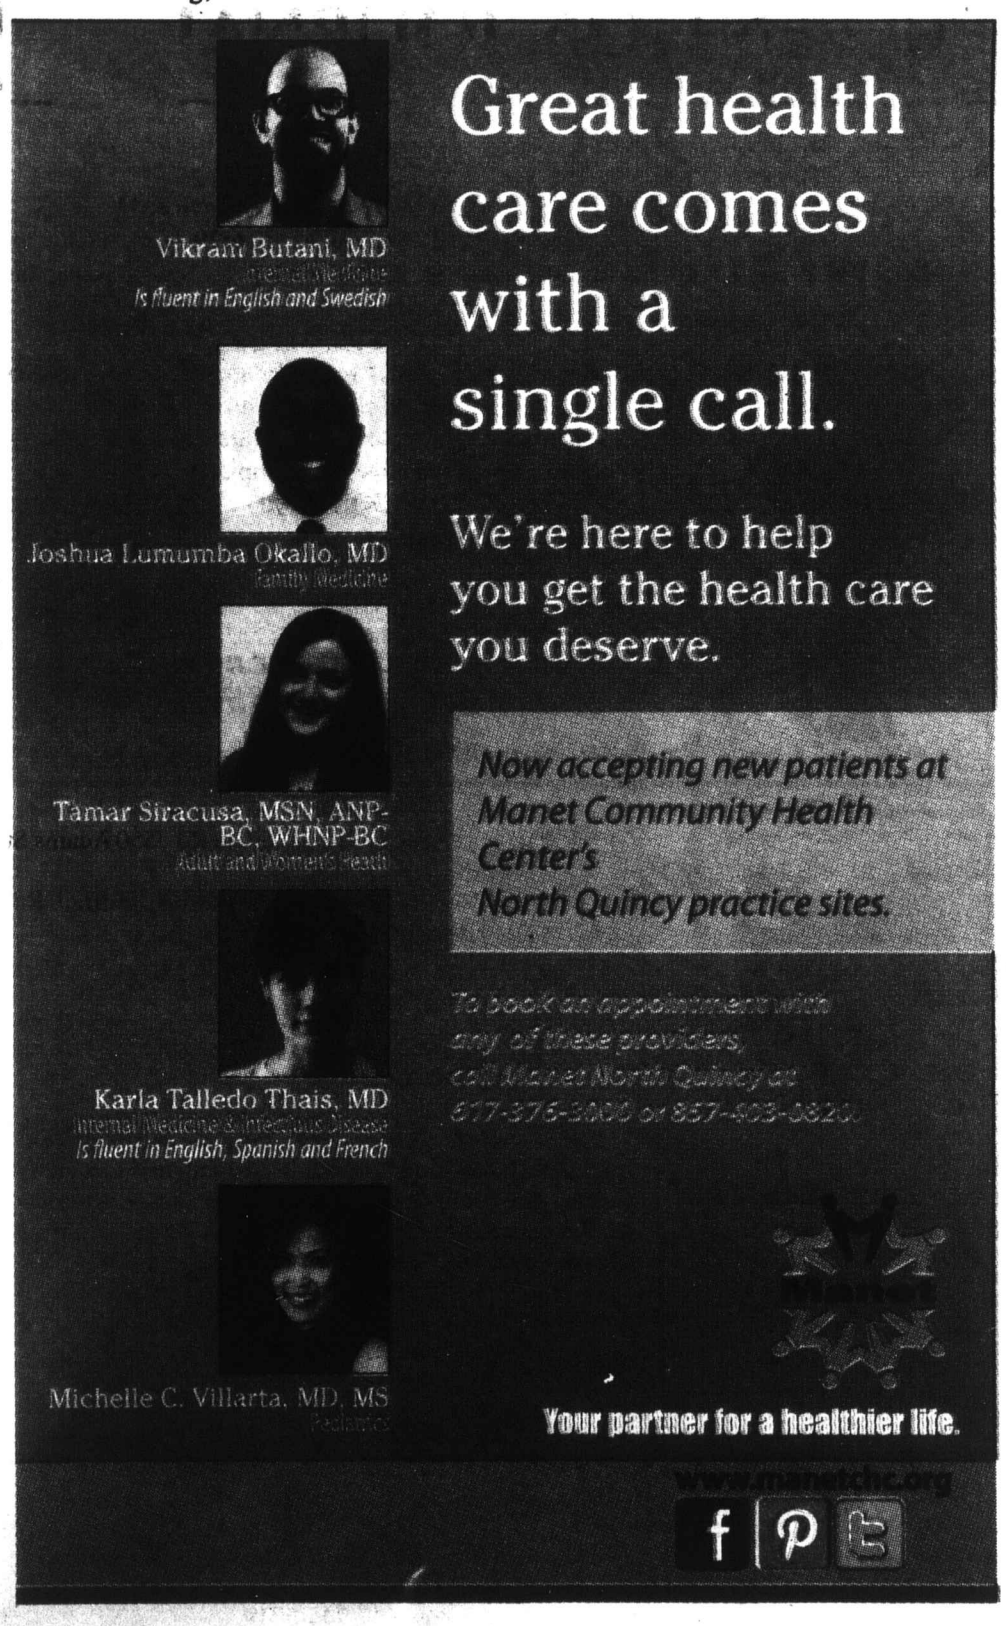
Iok Wong, a junior majoring in mechanical engineering.

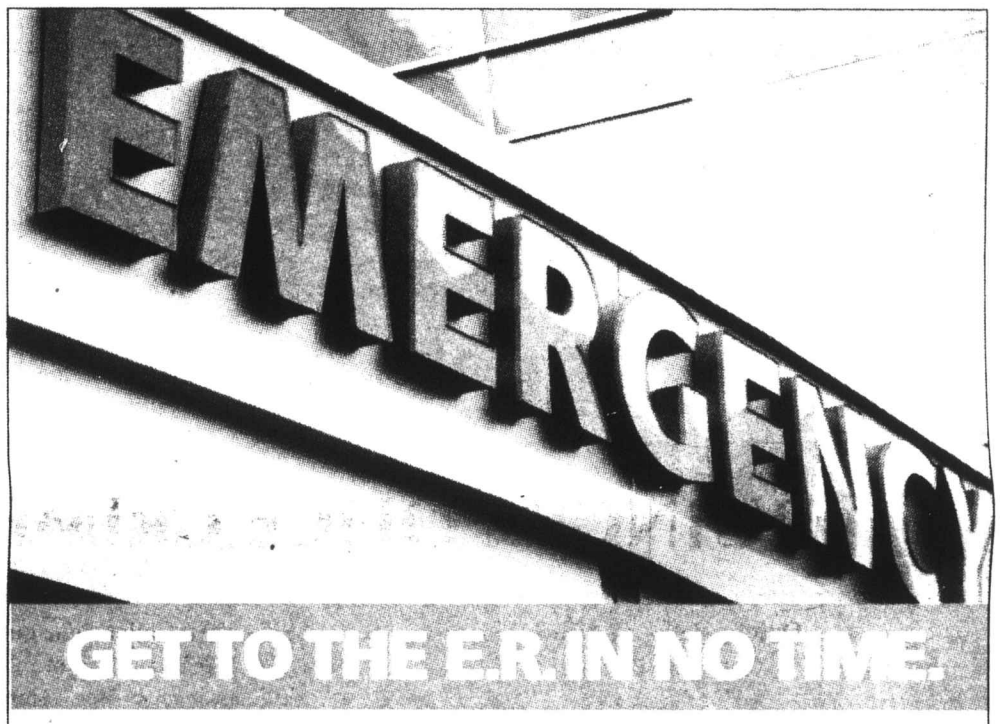
Tiffany Leung, a sophomore majoring in computer science.

Blood Drive Here Feb. 23

The American Red Cross will hold a blood drive Monday, Feb. 23 from 1 to 7 p.m. at the Quincy Sons of Italy, 120 Quarry St., Quincy.

For an appointment, call 1-800- RED CROSS 9733-2767) or visit redcrossblood.org.





AND SEE A BETH ISRAEL DEACONESS EMERGENCY MEDICINE PHYSICIAN EVERY TIME.

When you have an injury or an urgent healthcare need, you want to get medical attention, fast. You also want the highest qualified medical professionals available to treat you. And that's what you'll find at Beth Israel Deaconess Hospital–Milton. Our E.R. physicians are part of Beth Israel Deaconess Medical Center's emergency medicine network and members of Harvard Medical Faculty Practice at Beth Israel Deaconess Medical Center. Our E.R. nurses are specially trained in advanced cardiac and pediatric life support. In addition, we're a national leader in patient satisfaction. And knowing we're just minutes away — it's clear, we're close for comfort.

Beth Israel Deaconess Hospital
Milton
199 Reedsdale Road, Milton, MA bidmilton.org

Quincy Chamber Of Commerce Business Showcase

AMONG THOSE ATTENDING the Quincy Chamber of Commerce's fifth annual meeting and business showcase held recently at the Boston Marriott Quincy were (front row from left sitting) Kevin Kearns, Elaine DuJardin, both of H & R Block (and back from left) Amy Huber of Northeast Community Bank, Jen Elliott and Susan Hogan of H & R Block, and Art Hooper and Rick Doane of Interfaith Social Services. Quincy Sun Photos/Lisa Aimola

CURRY ACE HARDWARE was among the 80 businesses participating at the Quincy Chamber of Commerce fifth annual meeting and business showcase. From left are Sean Curry, Rick Manupelli, Alicia Walsh and Brigid Carroll.

We LOVE Chocolate!

$60 each treatment
or Pair 2 for $100

'Cocoa Truffle' Facial
'Essence of Chocolate' Massage
'Benefits of Chocolate' Body Scrub

Add Strawberry or Raspberry to your treatment for Valentine's Day!

spa

75 Beale Street, Quincy, MA 02170 (617) 471-0515 www.boncaldo.com

Something Special For Your Valentine

Ginger Betty's Bakery

215 Samoset Ave., Quincy
617.472.4729
www.gingerbettys.com

SHARE WITH THE ONES YOU LOVE!

Allure Spa
Med Spa and Salon

Valentine's Spa Package

Swedish Massage
French Foot Spa Treatment
Therapeutic Scalp Treatment
Hair Design Finish
$170

All Inclusive
Personalized Facial
Swedish Massage
Manicure and Pedicure
Design cut with Finish
$245

Gentlemans Retreat
Deep Tissue Massage
French Foot Spa Treatment
Hair Cut
$145

Ultimate Spa Day
Pharmer Facial
Seaweed Body Mask
French Foot Spa Treatment
Hair Design Finish
$290

Gift Certificates For Services, Packages & Dollar Amounts are available online at allurespa.com

Gift The Gift Of Beauty And Relaxation,
A Gift Sure To Please Everyone!

15 Quincy Avenue, Quincy MA 02169 | 617 471 4464
allurespa.com | f

CLIFFORD'S FLOWERS

$10.00 OFF
any $50.00 Purchase (mention this ad)
*SPECIAL OFFERS MAY NOT BE COMBINED
Call, click or visit our new location at 86 Liberty Street!
86 Liberty Street, Quincy • (617)479-8884 • www.cliffords.com

Rozafa Mediterranean Bistro
1089 Hancock Street, Quincy
(617)657-5111 ▪ Open 7 Days

Relax and Unwind
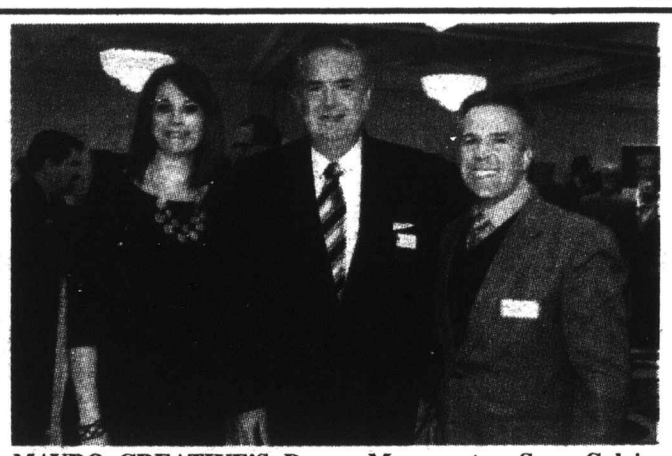
with Your Valentine
featuring our Special Menu for Valentine's Day

Saturday, February 14TH 5-10 PM
see our website for details
www.rozafabistro.com

QUINCY CHAMBER of Commerce Business Expo attendees included (from left) Sara Lowery of Heet, Barry Rabinovitz and Angela Ponte of Quincy Rotary Club.



MAVRO CREATIVE'S Donna Mavromates, Sean Galvin, Quincy Camber Immediate Past Chairman and the Common Market Restaurant's Greg McDonald share a moment at the Quincy Chamber of Commerce fifth annual meeting and business showcase at the Boston Marriott Quincy.

QUINCY DPW Director of Waste Management John Sullivan promotes recyling in the city with his sidekick robot, Mr. Recycle. Quincy Sun Photos/Lisa Aimola

FIFTH ANNUAL MEETING and Business Expo of the Quincy Chamber of Commerce was attended by 300 people and attracted 80 businesses, including Angela Blanchard and William Esselstyn of Colonial Federal Savings Bank.

OTHER ATTENDEES included (from left) Elissa Burton, Elizabeth Caruso, Theresa Barbadoro and Paul Barbadoro of Baker, Braverman & Barbadoro, P.C.

VILIA ROSA
Restaurant & Lounge

VALENTINES SPECIALS

BAKED STUFFED JUMBO SHRIMP
seafood stuffing served with grilled asparagus wrapped in capicolla
and grilled butternut squash
19.99

BROILED SWORDFISH
served with Mediterranean rice
and fresh mixed vegetables
17.99

PRIME RIB DINNER
served with salad and a baked potato
24.99

DESSERT SPECIAL:
BLUEBERRY SHORTCAKE
with local blueberries
topped with whipped cream
4.99

705 Adams Street, Quincy • (617)773-0095

Valentine's Weekend Fri. & Sat., Feb. 13 & 14, 2015

Sweetheart
Valentine's Specials

- Raspberry Swirl Pancakes
- Lobster Roll - One half-pound of our delicious lobster salad on a grilled, buttery brioche roll
- Prime Rib - Roasted to perfection
- Lobster Pie - Broiled claw & knuckle meat, buttery cream sauce & seafood stuffing
- Baked Stuffed Cod - Fresh North Atlantic Cod with seafood stuffing & lobster sauce
- "Hugs 'n Kisses Sundae"

Hearth 'n Kettle
RESTAURANTS • Est. 1973
25 Summer Street (John Carver Inn), PLYMOUTH • (508)747-7405
151 Main Street, WEYMOUTH • (781)331-7007
www.HearthnKettle.com

Valentine's Roses

FABIANO FLORIST
29 Independence Ave. • 617-770-4307
www.fabianoflorist.com

Valentine Special

Facial,
Mini-Massage,
Manicure
and Free Box of Chocolates
$99

CHRISTINE'S
DAY SPA & ELECTROLOGY
65 Willard Street • 617-786-1620
www.quincyspa.com
On-line Gift Certificates

Authentic Italian Food
GENNARO'S EATERY
Family Dining with Flair
"Traditional Italian Dining 21 Years & Growing"
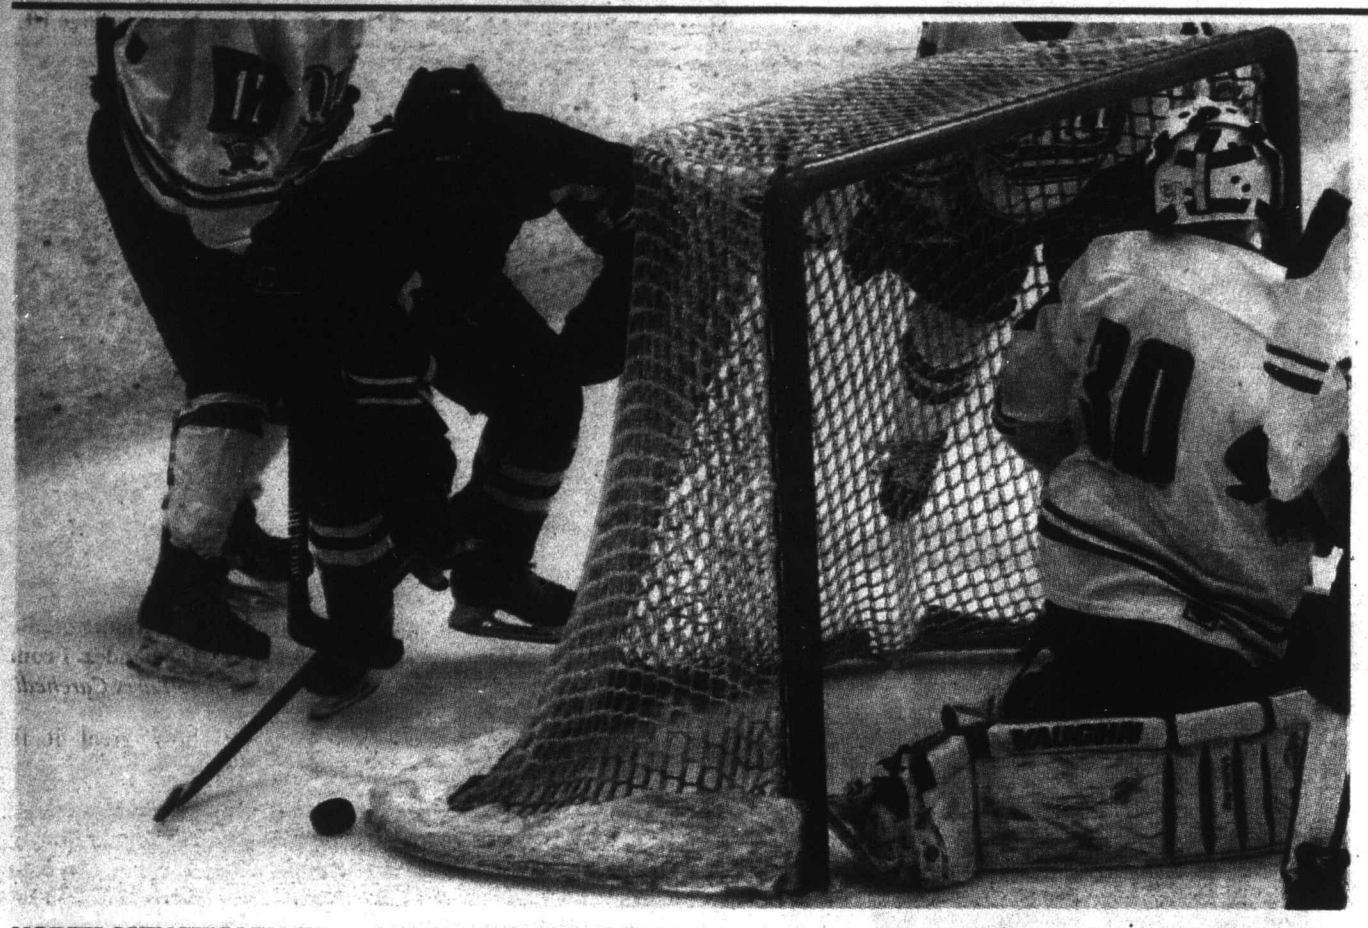
Stone Deck Pizzas
Pasta, Chicken, Veal
Italian Pastries
Bring your Valentine to dine where quality & value are king!
Take-out Available
617-773-1500
12 BLANCHARD ROAD, QUINCY
www.gennaroseatery.com

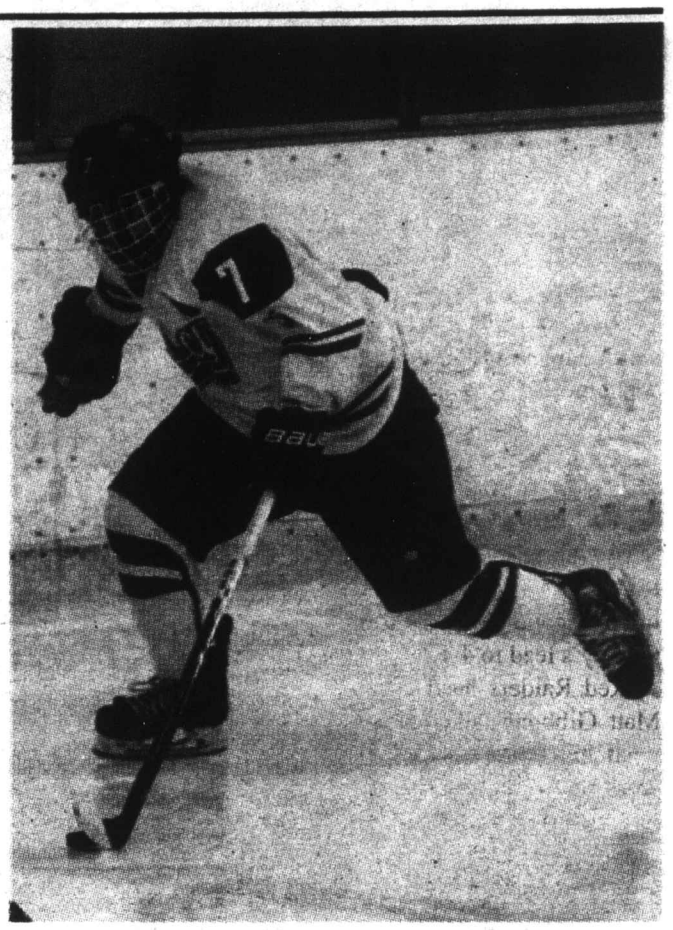
CAPTAIN FISHBONES
332 Victory Road,
Marina Bay, MA 02171
617 471-3511

Valentine's Day Weekend 2015
Saturday, February 14th
Available 5pm-Close
Four Course Dinner for Two and Bottle of Wine $79.99
Choice of Appetizer
Edamame Dumplings, Lobster and Corn Fritters,
Scallops wrapped in Bacon
Choice of Clam Chowder or Salad
Caesar - Mixed Greens - Clam Chowder
Choice of Entree
Prime Rib
Surf & Turf Filet Mignon and Baked Stuffed Shrimp
1 1/4 lb Baked Stuffed Lobster
Braised Short Ribs
Cedar Plank Salmon with Maple Glaze
Fruitti di Mare
Choice of Dessert and Coffee
Chocolate Mousse with Chocolate Chip Cream Topping
or Apple Crisp
Choose a Bottle of House Wine or House Champagne
*Live Maine Lobsters while they last *Single Dinner Without Wine $32.99
www.captainfishbones.com • Make Your Reservations Now

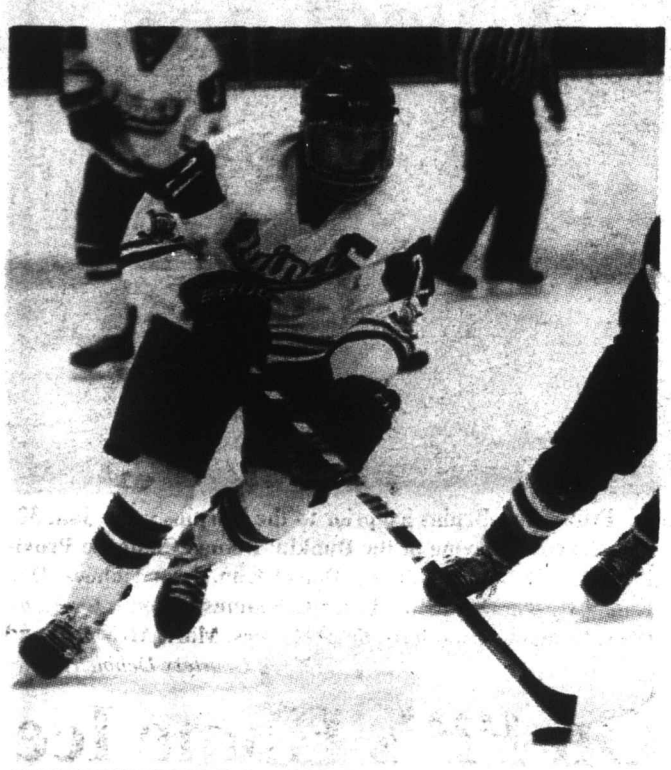


NORTH QUINCY'S Mike Finn scores on a wrap-around shot in the second period giving the Red Raiders their first goal of the game. Quincy defeated North Quincy 6-3 on Senior Night last Saturday at Quincy Youth Arena.

Quincy Sun Photos/Larry Carchedi



PRESIDENTS CAPTAIN Pat Freeman brings the puck up ice. Freeman scored two of QHS's three goals in the first period giving them a 3-0 lead in the opening period.



QUINCY SENIOR Brian O'Callaghan moves the puck up ice between two NQHS players in the first period. O'Callaghan scored once in a 6-3 victory over North Quincy last Saturday night at Quincy Youth Arena.

QUINCY HIGH'S Brandon Beal and Pat Freeman (right) battle North Quincy's Mike Finn and Matt Monahan for the puck in front of the Red Raider net.

Presidents Double Up Red Raiders, 6-3

By TREVOR WENNERS

The Quincy High School boy's hockey team scored three goals in the first six minutes in a 6-3 win against North Quincy on Senior Night at Quincy Youth Arena last Saturday.

"That's when we executed our best, we were flying out there," said Presidents head coach Ted Walsh Jr. "We had our skating legs early, we were cycling the puck and we finished."

The victory keeps the Presidents (5-9-2) alive for the tournament. They have four games remaining and have to win out in order to make the tournament.

"Hopefully this brings us together closer as a team and realize that we can beat any team we want, we tied a team (on February 4 in Duxbury) that went to the Super 8 last year," said senior captain and forward Pat Freeman. "We got four games (left) we got to go 4-0 and I have full confidence if we keep playing like that and we keep coming together like that we'll have no problem doing it."

The Red Raiders (5-8-3) are also still in the tournament hunt as they need seven points in their final four games to qualify. So, they need three wins and a tie.

The Presidents put a goal on the scoreboard 25 seconds into the game when Freeman (13 goals and 10 assists for 23 points on the season) found the back of the net assisted by senior Ryan Harty and senior captain Brandon Beal.

The Red Raiders went on the power play with 13:24 remaining in the opening period and the Presidents killed it off and then senior forward Aidan Pugsley scored with 10:19 remaining assisted by senior forward Steve Ross.

Freeman tallied his second goal of the game assisted by Harty with 9:09 remaining in the period to give the Presidents a 3-0 lead which they took into the second period.

"That was awesome," said Freeman. "We came out as a team and we knew there (were) about 15 of us (that it was going to be our) last game against North, atmosphere was just great in the locker room before the game."

Quincy extended their

Cont'd On Page 19

STUDENT ATHLETES OF THE MONTH

Madison Davis
Swimming - Quincy H.S.

"Madison is truly committed to the team first philosophy here at QHS. Madison demonstrates a true dedication to the sport. She possesses a positive attitude with all of our swim team members and is an inspiration to our future swimmers at the middle school level."

-Bob McGillicuddy

Madison has been a 4 year varsity swimmer and a member of the QHS softball team. She is also a Member of the National Honor Society.

GPA: 4.54
Class Rank: 7 out of 365

Michael Mullaney
Swimming- North Quincy H.S.

"I know Mike is better known as a runner. Mike is a rare 3 year captain for QNQ swimming who participated in the middle school swim program and one of the reasons why the swim program in Quincy is growing. Thank you Mike!"

-Mark Nutley

Senior Captain of the Cross Country and Swim Team, President of the Senior Class and is the Group Commander of our Air Force ROTC program where he is soon to reach the rank of Cadet Leut. Colonel. Mike has applied to Stanford University.

GPA: 4.521
Class Rank: 12 out of 292

Sponsored by

Quincy Credit Union
www.qcu.org

Quincy Defeats North Quincy

Cont'd From Page 18

lead to 4-0 2:24 into the second period when senior forward Sean Brennick scored assisted by sophomore forward James O'Leary and sophomore forward Pat Quirk.

Senior captain and forward Mike Finn (10 goals and 7 assists on the season for 17 points) scored for the Red Raiders with 7:54 left in the second period to trim Quincy's lead to 4-1.

Red Raiders head coach Matt Gibbons talked about what his team is going to work on in practice moving forward as he said, "I don't know if we can really work on it but our aggressiveness and I think the first two periods we just weren't aggressive. We weren't beating them to pucks, we would get our one (person) in (on the forecheck) and our second guy wasn't there. So, I think a lot of it is just focus and making sure we're doing the right things. We'll battle hard in practice and we'll work on what we need to work on and we'll move forward."

O'Leary tallied a power play goal for the Presidents with 2:42 remaining in the second period to extend the lead to 5-1. Senior goalie Ryan Higgins only gave up one goal in the first two periods as he made 20 saves on the night. Higgins has made 81 saves in his last three games including 36 in a 3-3 tie against Duxbury on Wednesday, Feb. 4.

"(It was) probably (Higgins') second best game of the year," said Walsh. "His best game of the year was (Feb. 4 against) Duxbury where he was off the charts. That was the best high school game I've even seen him play and it seems like anytime we play North Quincy he comes up with big saves."

The Red Raiders scored 2:02 into the third period when junior forward Kevin Mock found the back of the net assisted by junior forward Timmy Glynn to bring the Red Raiders to within three goals.

North Quincy scored a 6-on-4 goal with 4:43 left in the game which came from Glynn assisted by senior captain and defenseman Matt Monahan and junior defenseman Matt McDonald to make the score 5-3 in favor of the Presidents.

Senior captain and forward Brian O'Callaghan (13 goals and 8 assists for 21 points on the season) tallied an empty net goal at the end to make the score 6-3 in favor of Quincy.

"We got our skating legs going early and our message to them was basically skate, shoot and hit," said Walsh. "We're trying to keep it as simple as possible and (everyone) bought into it. It seems like we're playing a real confident game the last three or four games. Even though we relinquished a 4-0 lead to Whitman-Hanson, we just seem like we're playing with more confidence. It looks like the seniors have taken control of the locker room and at this point their just refusing to lose right now and their earning it, the players are doing it; we're providing the material and their executing it."

The Red Raiders were scheduled to play Scituate on Wednesday, Feb. 11. Their final two regular season games will be against Brockton on Saturday and St. Peter Marian on Wednesday, Feb. 18.

"Basically our backs are against the wall right now tournament-wise," said Gibbons. "We have to play that third period for the next twelve periods that we have left so if we can do that then we'll be in pretty good shape; it was definitely a positive taken out of it. To come out flat like that tonight needing points was a little disappointing for the first two (periods) but I couldn't be prouder of the way they responded in the third being down 5-1 they could've easily folded and walked home but they didn't. That's a huge positive moving forward."

Brennick tallied two goals for the Presidents in their recent 3-3 tie with the Green Dragons. O'Callaghan tallied a goal. Contributing with assists were Freeman, sophomore defenseman Owen Lynch, sophomore defenseman Josh Campbell, Quirk and O'Leary.

"We went up two (against Duxbury), they got the next three and then we answered with one late and almost won it late," said Walsh. "Duxbury's a great team and what we try to do is play really physical with them and everyone bought in. They're a good program, they're used to winning, they didn't go away, they gave us all we could handle, they outshot us; I don't necessarily think that they outplayed us but it was a really good tie because it kept us in the (tournament) hunt."

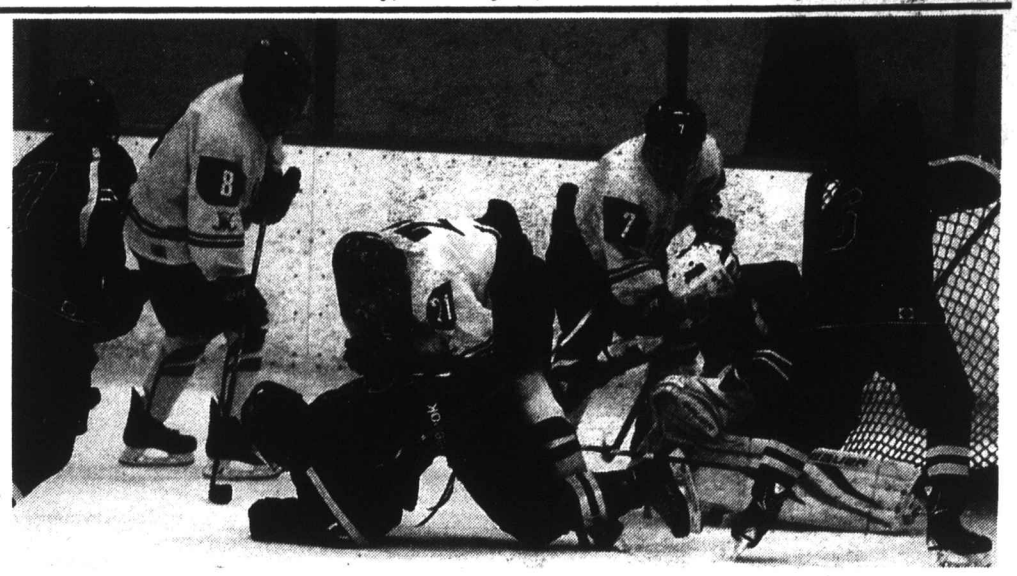
The Presidents played against Silver Lake at Hobomock Ice Arena (Pembroke) Wednesday and will travel to Armstrong Rink in Plymouth on Friday to play Plymouth North. They round out their regular season with a game Feb. 17 at Westwood and home against Abington Feb. 20 at Quincy Youth Arena.

Freeman talked about the keys in the last four games of the year.

"Definitely (score) first," he said. "We did that against Duxbury, we got two quick ones, we kept going, we didn't win but we were still able to push forward. We need to get quick goals and keep pushing with that momentum."

Freeman spoke of the excitement of beating North Quincy. The Presidents went 2-0 against the Red Raiders this season as they beat them 3-2 on Dec. 26.

"I was thinking before the game this is either going to be the best night of my life or the worst night of my life and right now it's the best," he said. "It still kind of stinks a little bit that were not going to get that experience again (of going up against North) but (we're enjoying) how great it is now."



QUINCY AND NORTH QUINCY players battle for a loose puck in front of Red Raider goalie Kevin Doherty. Players for NQ are Cam White, Matt McDonald and Corey Hernandez. From QHS are Pat Freeman, Ryan Harty and Brian O'Callaghan. Quincy Sun Photo/Larry Carchedi

QUINCY YOUTH HOCKEY Squirt B2 team played a game on the Providence Bruins ice prior to the PBruins game Jan. 30. Quincy defeated the SouthCoast Panthers, 4-1, and enjoyed the experience of playing at the Dunkin' Donuts Center in Providence, R.I. Front: Nate McMillen. First row (from left): Patrick McDonald, Sean Andrews, Daniel Kim, Tyler Holmes, Dan Andrews, Quinten Van Dam and Cameron Jacobs. Second row: Ronan Healy, Michael Pollastretti, Seamus Stirling, Joe Enos, Jack Pickering, Maddie Bailey, Aidan Fleming and Owen O'Handley. Coaches (from left): Sean Holmes, Mark McMillen and Scott Stirling. Photo Courtesy Debbie Holmes

Squirts Win Game On PB's Home Ice

The Quincy Squirt team posted an impressive 4-1 victory over the SouthCoast Panthers Squirts in an exciting game of youth hockey action at the Dunkin' Donuts Center Jan. 30.

Quincy scored first with an early goal from Joe Enos assisted by Aidan Fleming. The rest of the period remained scorless, with solid defense at both ends of the ice.

Heading into the second without a goal, the Panthers knew what they had to do to get back into the game. Just under three minutes into the period, the Panthers' Ryan Saunders put his team on the board with assists from Jake Gallagher and Shaun Pillsbury. That goal was quickly answered with another from Quincy, this time from Patrick McDonald and assisted by Quinten Van Dam and Joe Enos.

Quincy built on their lead late in the third period, adding two gaols from Seamus Sterling (assisted by Dan Andrews) and Ronan Healy (assisted by Patrick McDonald), bringing the final score to 4-1, Quincy.

NQHS Hockey Hall Of Fame Induction

Feb. 27 At Neighborhood Club

The North Quincy High School Hockey Hall of Fame will host its fourth induction ceremony at the Quincy Neighborhood Club, Friday, Feb. 27, at 6:30 p.m.

Sixteen former stars and two Friends of NQHS hockey will be honored that evening. The inductees will span 7 decades, starting in the 1940's, with the inception of the program, to the early 2000's.

The inductees are: Robert Richards (Class of 1948), Bert Nogler (1948), Bunky Chafe (1948), Dick Gallagher (1951), Dave Higgins (1961) George Jakub (1965), Mike Struzik (1970), Bobby Golden (1971), Keith Losordo (1972) posthumously; Dave Noonan (1974), Peter Furtado (1985), Jay Rodriguez (1988), John Gladu (1993), Brendan O'Brien (1995), Mike Sullivan (1999) and Paul Graham (2005).

The two Friends of North Quincy High School Hockey who will be honored for their loyal support are Janet Riley and Dave Sommers.

Each ceremony has brought a reunion-like atmosphere of renewing old acquaintances to trading old high school stories of days gone by.

The inductees will be presented by former coaches or Hall of Fame members.

Tickets can be purchased for $40 by emailing Fred Cobban at fcobban@comcast.net or Sandy Verhault at Verhaultsandy@gmail.com.

VOICE FOR HEALTH
by Dr. Gabrielle Freedman
Chiropractor

FIGHTING FIBROMYALGIA

"Fibromyalgia" is a chronic pain condition characterized by widespread pain of at least three months' duration, both above and below the waist, and including both sides of the body. The primary characteristic of the condition's deep aching, radiating, or burning pain is that it occurs at "tender points" (myofascial trigger points). Ninety percent of fibromyalgia patients are also afflicted with chronic fatigue, which brings additional symptoms of malaise, dizziness, numbness and tingling, swollen feeling in tissues, and stiffness. While treatments vary, at least one study involving 55 women with fibromyalgia ages 21-59 years old shows that regular chiropractic care helped patients to better adhere to strength-training programs that helped to ease the pain of fibromyalgia.

Is the pain of fibromyalgia getting you down? Are you having trouble dealing with persistent backaches, leg cramps, and foot pain? If so, then chiropractic care may be just the thing for you. At Family Practice of Chiropractic, our diagnostic capabilities enable us to pinpoint structural problems that are causing nerve interference. We're located at 112 McGrath Hwy., Quincy, where we will only accept you as a patient if we sincerely feel we can help you. We provide safe and gentle chiropractic care for the entire family. Please call 617.472.4220 to schedule an appointment. We offer computerized spinal scans.

P.S. The women who received chiropractic care in the study mentioned above experienced significant improvements in functionality, balance, flexibility, and endurance.

www.freedmanchiro.com

Quincy Boys Win Two, Improve To 13-3

By TREVOR WENNERS

The Quincy High School boys basketball team defeated Whitman-Hanson 68-49 on Feb. 5 and defeated Hingham 70-52 Feb. 6 to improve to 13-3 overall and 11-1 in the Patriot League.

"What that (win against Whitman-Hanson) did is it put us two games ahead of them in the loss column because now we have one loss in the league and now they have three so that was very big," said Presidents head coach Dave Parry. "And that was kind of our motivation (before) the game was we really want to contend for that (Patriot League Keenan Division) Title this year and we're pushing forward with that and that right now is what we're keeping our focus on is winning the title for the first time ever."

In the victory against the Panthers, the Presidents were led by senior captains J.T. Bain (17 points), Colin Evans (13 points), Drew Myers (8 points) and James Lam (who played well on the defensive end which including keeping Whitman-Hanson's leading scorer scoreless). Senior forward Tyler Beach registered 9 points and junior guard Scott Mele contributed with 6 points. The Presidents led 17-11 after the opening quarter and 38-23 at the half. The Presidents outscored the Panthers 23-5 in the third quarter to take a 61-28 advantage into the fourth quarter. The starters for Quincy did not play in the fourth quarter.

"They say it the best, 'they don't care who scores as long as it is someone from Quincy,' the thing that (has) been the most phenomenal thing is the number of assists per game we've been averaging," said Parry. "We're averaging somewhere around 17 assists a game because they just move the ball so well and they get it to each other, they get it to the open man, they make the extra pass all the time and it's really a unique group, a special group of kids on a special team, it's been an honor to work with these guys this year."

In the win against Hingham on Friday, Myers registered 17 points and Evans and Bain both tallied 15 points. Once again, the starters for Quincy did not play in the fourth quarter as the Presidents took a 63-38 advantage into the final quarter. They led 23-9 after the first and 42-27 at intermission.

Quincy only has one league loss all year and it was a 79-74 loss to host Whitman-Hanson on Jan. 14.

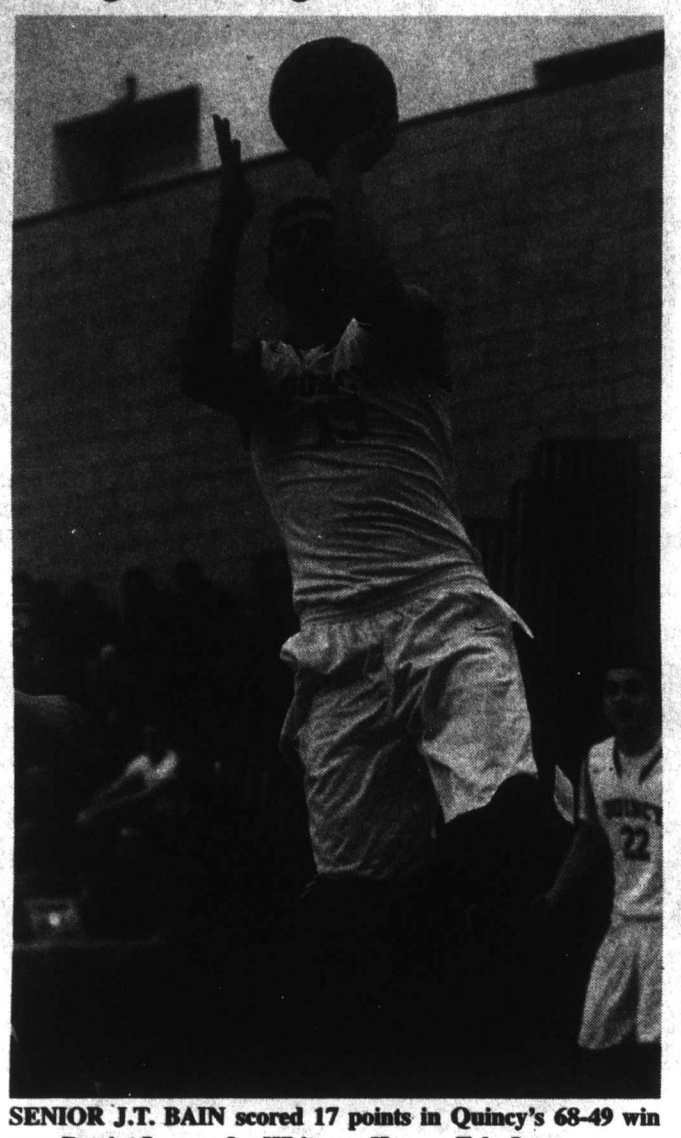
The Presidents will be hosting North Quincy on Friday, Feb. 13 at 7 p.m.

"It will be exciting, it's also going to be Senior Night for (the players) because that's our last scheduled home game other than the Moscardelli Tournament," said Parry. "It's exciting and North's qualified too for the tournament and you never know, there (is) a chance (we) could see them in the big tournament but it's a great night for the city of Quincy."

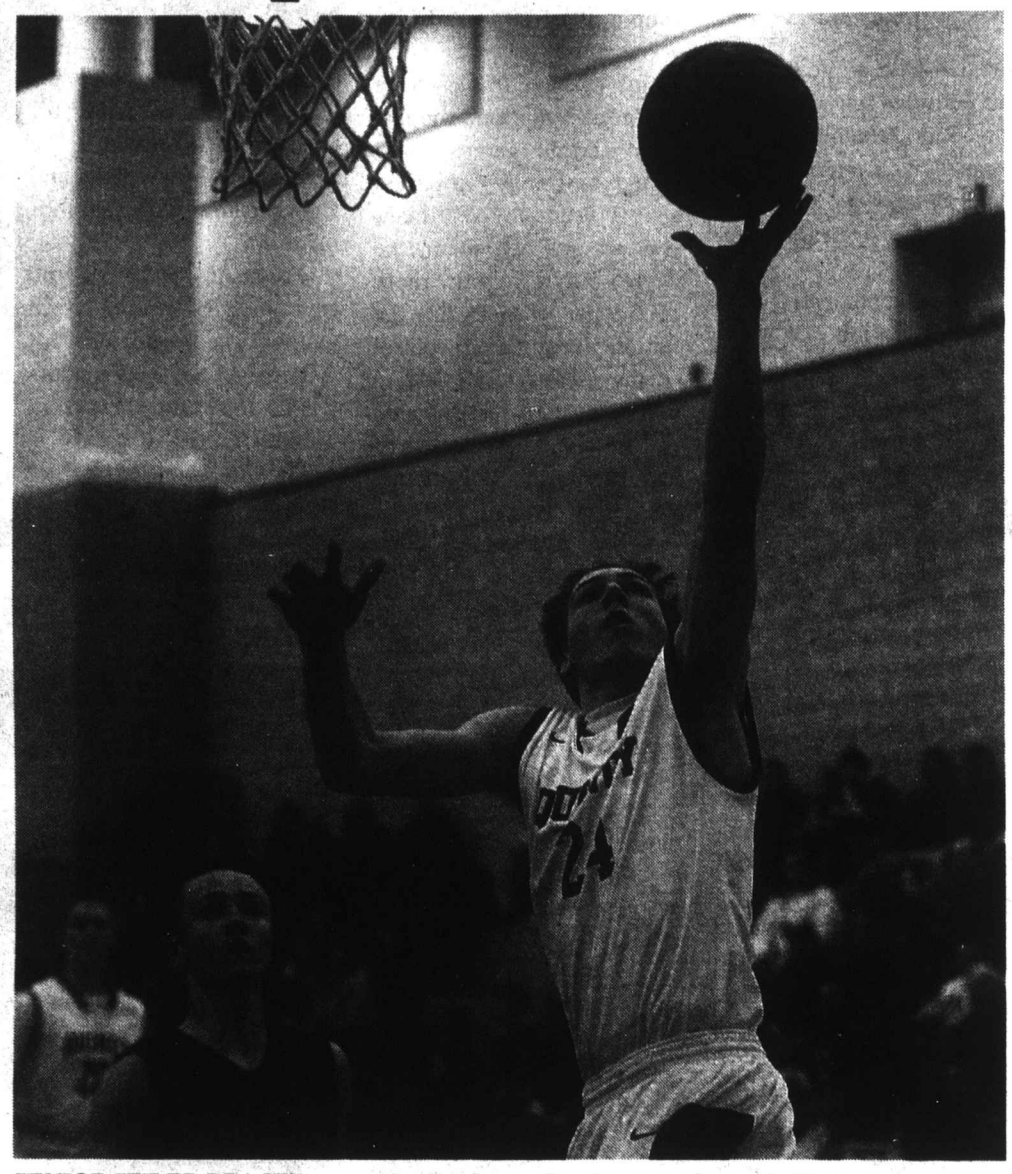
Quincy won the first meeting of the season 65-60 on January 3 at North Quincy.

"The kids are motivated, they really would like to win the city championship, they haven't done that in a while," said Parry. "That's one of the goals that they set this season and hopefully we can work hard enough to attain that."

The Presidents have six games remaining on their regular season schedule including four league games including a showdown with rival North Quincy Friday at 7 p.m. at QHS. Also scheduled is the Moscardelli Tournament at Quincy High on Monday and Tuesday next week. The Presidents also play at Duxbury next Thursday, Feb. 19. Sometime in there, the Presidents have a makeup game to play against Pembroke.

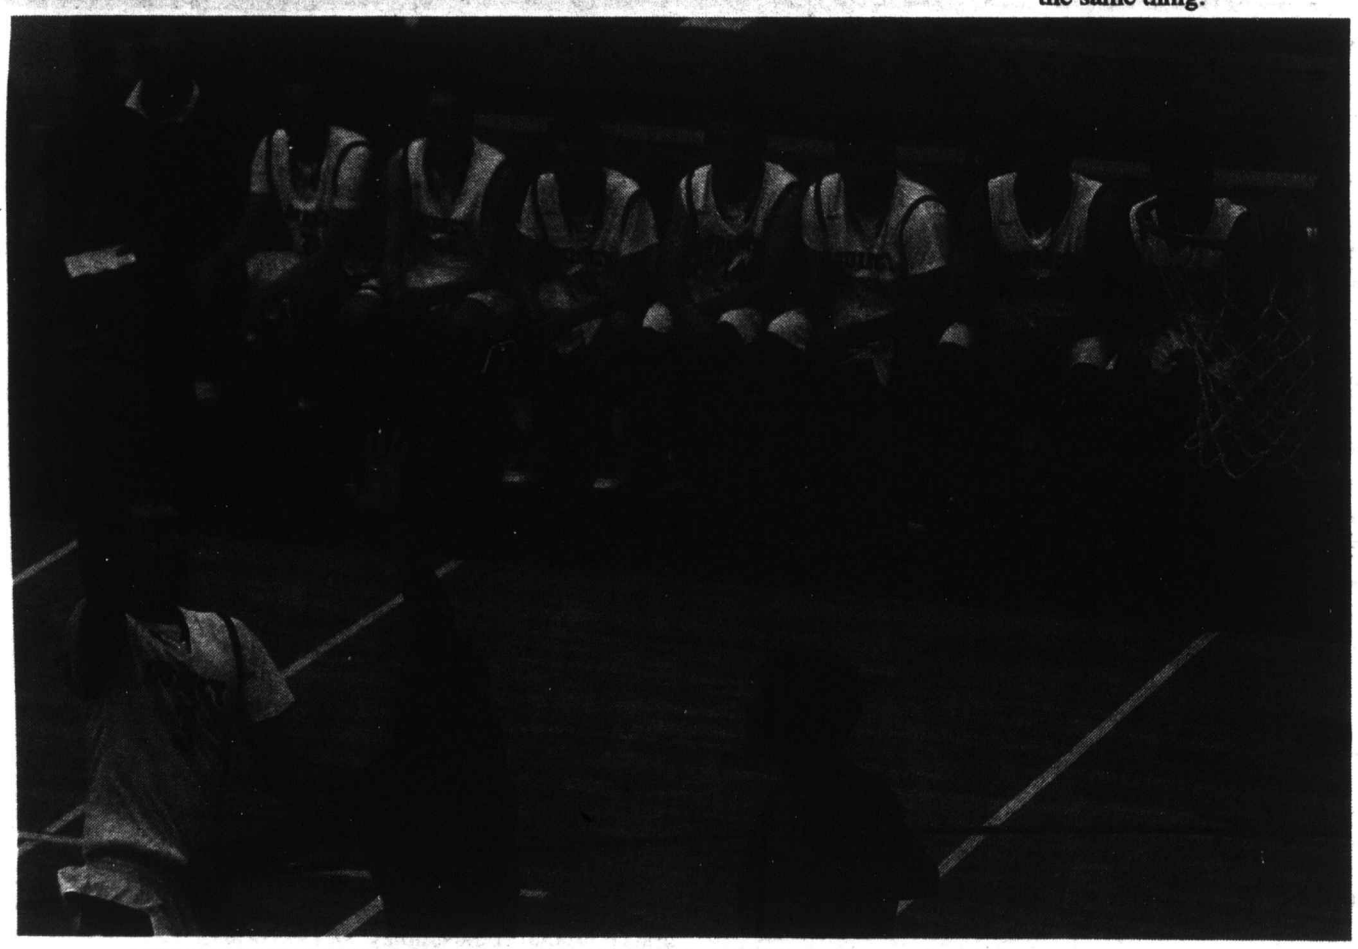


SENIOR J.T. BAIN scored 17 points in Quincy's 68-49 win over Patriot League foe Whitman-Hanson Feb. 5.



SENIOR TYLER BEACH scores a bucket for the Presidents in Quincy's 68-49 win over Whitman-Hanson.

"Our philosophy really all year has been one game at a time," said Parry. "We take each game and don't look past that and really in a stretch like this we got to do the same thing."



SENIOR COLIN EVANS scores two of his 13 points in a 68-49 win over against Whitman-Hanson Feb. 5.

Quincy Sun Photos/Robert Bosworth

QNQ Participates In South Sectionals

Quincy/North Quincy boys finished 38th overall at the South Sectionals Swimming and Diving Championships Feb. 7 at Boston University Pool. Five Quincy students participated in the girls South Sectionals Championship held Feb. 8 at Wellesley College.

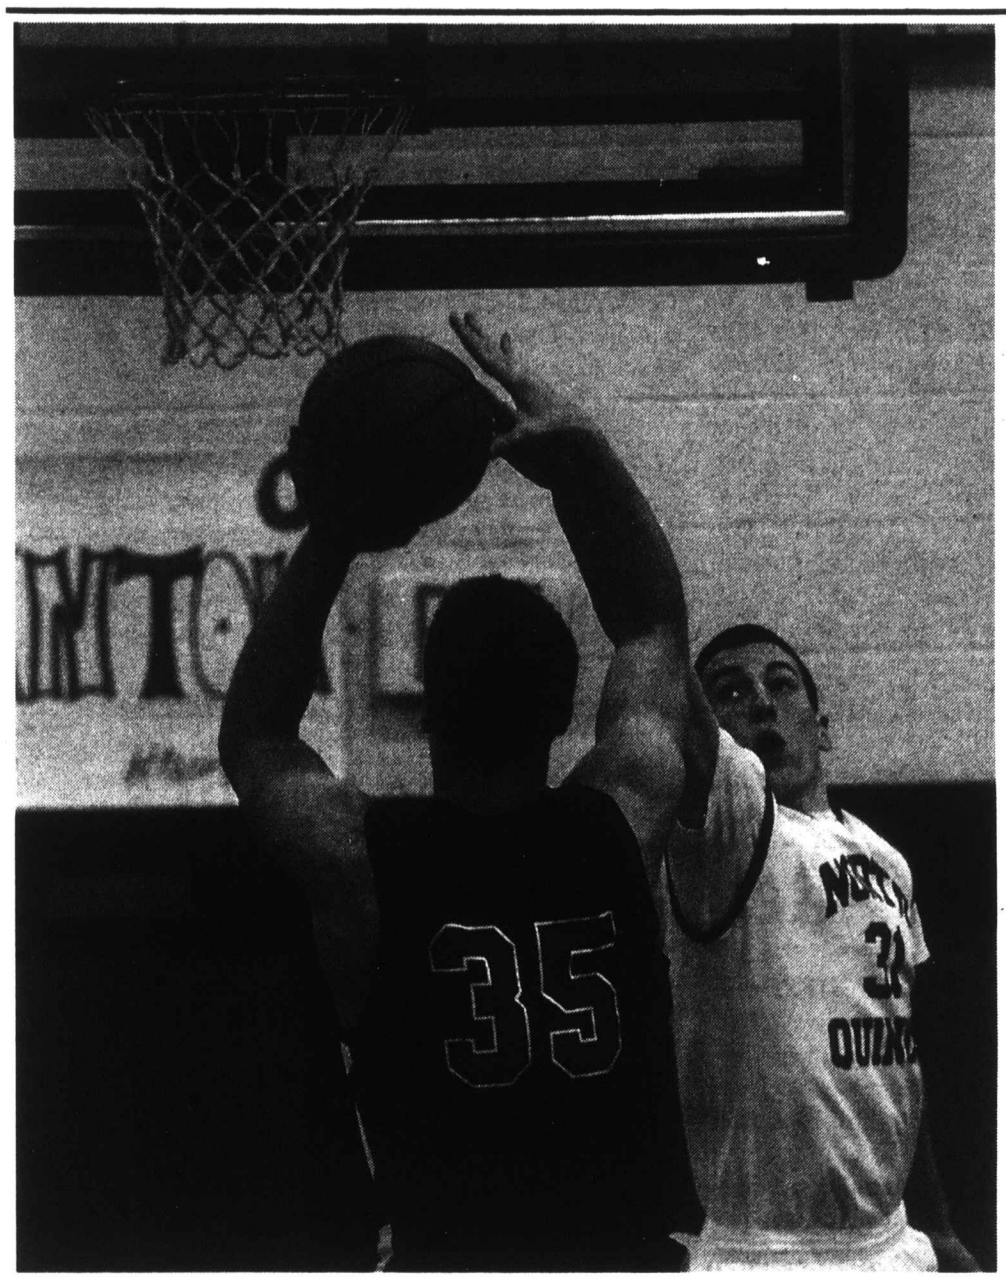
"I am so proud of all the guys for swimming fast with limited pool time due to all the snow days," said QNQ Head Coach Bob McGillicuddy. "This was the first time in decades that Quincy was able to bring multiple relays and multiple individual swimmers who scored points."

Sophomore Thomas Tran (Q) placed seventh in the 100-yard breaststroke clocking 1:04.78, a time that qualifies him for next week's states championships at MIT. He also finished 36th in the 100 butterfly with a time of 1:00.13. His classmate, Tommy Zhang (NQ), was 27th in the 100 backstroke (1:00.46), and senior captain Randall Kwong (NQ) earned 38th in the 50 freestyle swimming 24.28. The trio joined senior captain Mike Mullaney (NQ) for 19th in the 200 medley relay clocking a school-record 1:48.95 which earned them a spot in next week's states. Tran, Zhang, and Kwong then joined Mason Francoeur (Q) for 30th in the 200 freestyle relay with a new school standard of 1:38.84.

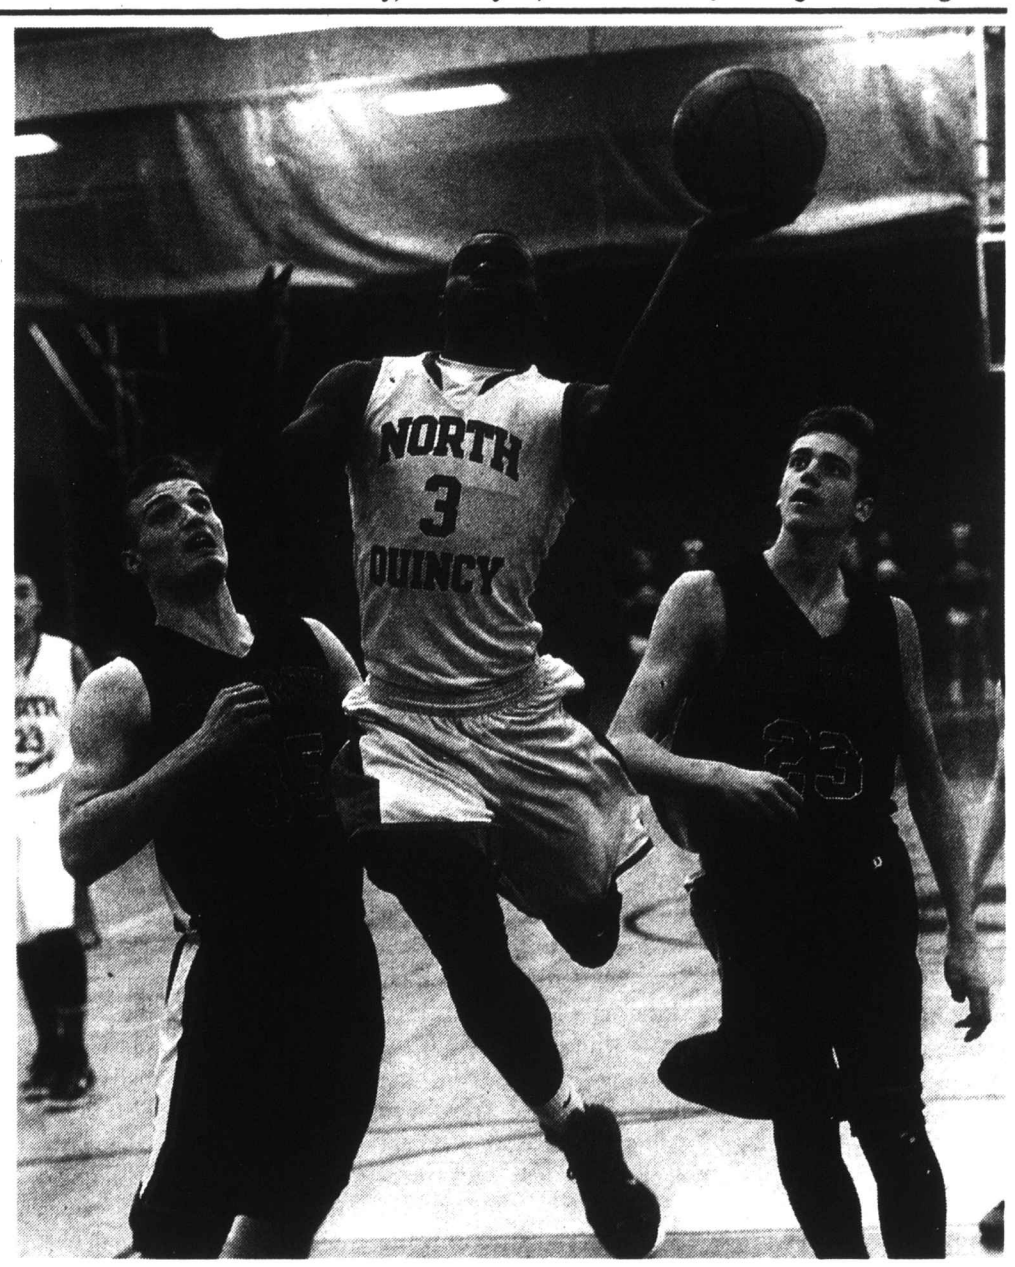
Quincy sophomore Bailee Carey placed seventh in the one-meter diving event. She accumulated 416.40 points, just 48 points shy of the leader. Senior Sabrina Rauch finished 40th in the 50 free (27.46) and 37th in the 100 butterfly (1:08.04). Rauch joined Grace Scuzzarella, Marina Chafa, and Meg Caggiano for 37th in the 200 freestyle relay.

The Quincy and North Quincy teams participate in the State Swimming and Diving Championships this weekend. The boys compete on Sunday and the girls are slated for Saturday.

QUINCY SUN PHOTOS
Reprints of Quincy Sun Photos
– Appearing in Print or on our Website –
can be purchased from our photographers:
Lisa Aimola - 617-981-1715
Larry Carchedi - 617-653-4775
Robert Bosworth - 617-471-3100



NORTH QUINCY'S Conor Pound (right) defends Pembroke's Kyle Horn in the paint.



SOLOMON UMOREN splits two Pembroke defenders for lay up against the Titans.
Quincy Sun Photos/Robert Bosworth

NQ Secures Tourney Spot, Pembroke Snaps Win Streak

By BILL GRIFFIN

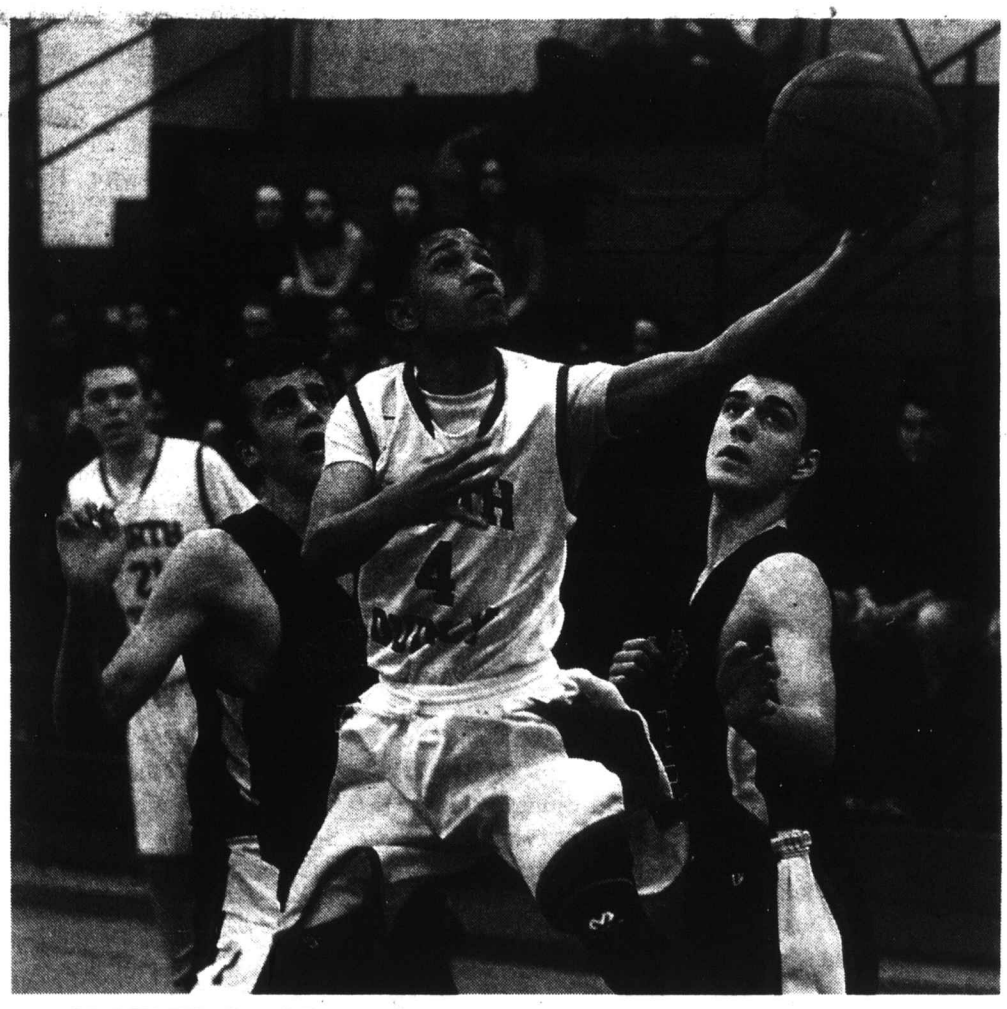
Some nights the game makes no sense. No sense at all.

North Quincy entered Friday night's match with Pembroke riding a three-game win streak, including two impressive victories last week. The Red Raiders played their most complete game of the season in a road win over Plymouth South. They played lockdown defense while drilling Hingham to lock up their fifth straight appearance in the tourney.

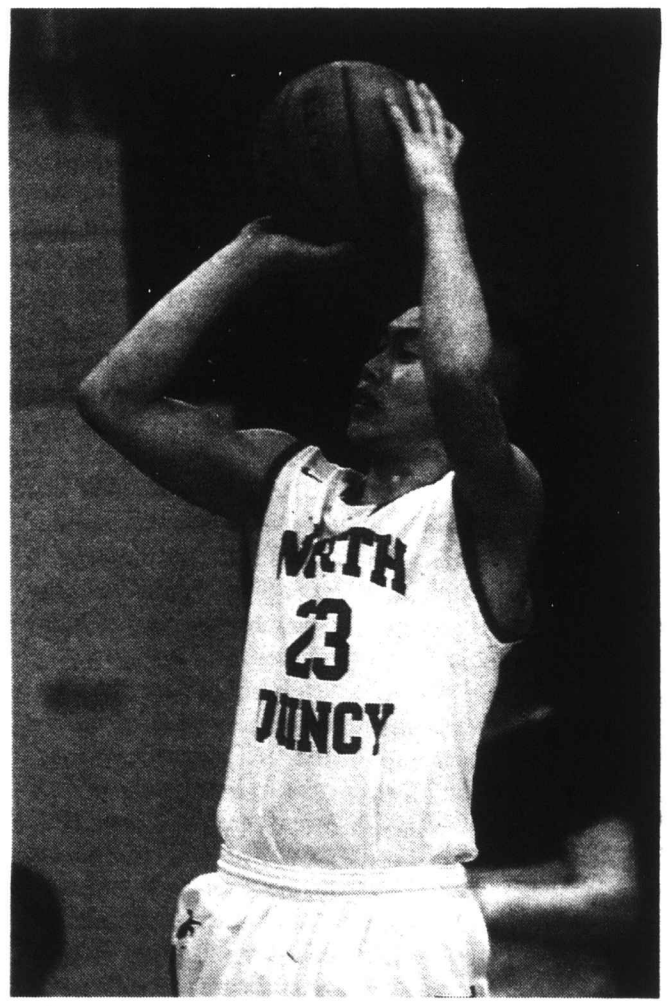
In the first game against Pembroke, the Titans won in overtime after hitting an unlikely three in the final seconds of regulation to force OT. Friday's rematch looked to be a gem of a basketball game with North having a fine chance to gain satisfaction from an early, difficult defeat and keep alive its hopes of a division title.

The Red Raiders were playing good defense. The scoring was balanced. They were on a good roll at the right time of the season when teams jockey for seedings and prepare for the tournament. Throw the ball up. Let the game begin. It will surely be a good one. Not so much.

Pembroke drained 10 three-point jumpers and controlled the game with a triangle-and-two defense which frustrated the Red Raiders, 69-49 in a Patriot League Fisher Division contest on Senior Night at the North Quincy gym.



JUNIOR DHAKKY DRAKE slips past two Pembroke defenders for two of his 11 points in the Red Raiders' 69-49 loss to the Titans last Friday night. North Quincy secured a spot in the state tournament with wins over Plymouth South and Hingham earlier in the week.



JACKIE CHEN scored a team-high 13 points in the Red Raiders' 69-49 home loss to Pembroke last Friday night. Chen also collected seven rebounds.

"I certainly did not see this coming," said North Quincy head coach Kevin Barrett. "We were were playing well coming into the game, especially on defense. It was one of those games that happens. We were playing our third game in three nights and that's out of our comfort zone. But that's not an excuse. They outplayed us in every facet of the game."

North finished the week 10-7 and 7-6 in the division, two games behind Pembroke and Hanover.

Playing three games in three nights is especially difficult for North who does not have great depth. However, Pembroke's outside shooting and defense were the main reasons for its victory. The Titans shot like the Golden State Warriors. Catch, look, and fire away. They made five threes in the second quarter to break open an 11-11 tie after one to a 32-14 halftime lead which North never seriously threatened.

The final three of the period came from center Kyle Horn seconds before halftime. It almost broke the backboard, thudding off the glass before banking into the basket. It was one of those nights.

"They had a number of players who shot them with confidence. It was not just one guy. The whole team shot it well," said Barrett.

Pembroke tried to take away Jackie Chen and Matt Gerakis with its triangle and two. The zone invited drives to the bucket, but Pembroke is long and athletic and was able to clog the middle and force contested shots. North had plenty of good looks close to the basket, but they could not coax them home against a challenging defense.

"We drove pretty well, but I would have liked to see us attack more. We needed to finish better at the rim when we had chances for layups," said Barrett.

Chen led North with 13, and if they gave points for effort, he would have scored a 100. Nobody plays harder. He played the entire game before coming out with 2:46 left. He played as hard down by 20 as he did when the score was tied. He was North's best rebounder (seven), best defender, and was patient and effective against a zone which was designed to shut him down.

Cont'd On Page 22

NQ Secures Tourney Spot, Pembroke Snaps Win Streak

Cont'd From Page 21

"That's just who he is. It's the way he plays if we're up 10 or down 10. It's the way he practices. His approach is the same. He never lets up," said Barrett.

He was bouncing off the floor fighting for the basketball in the fourth period when the game was long gone. With North down by 26 points, he dove face-first towards the wall trying to save a loose ball. On his final play of the night, he upfaked from behind the three-point line, drew contact, hit the jumper and finished the four-point play with a foul shot. These are the games that reveal character. It is easy to quit. Chen never, ever quit.

"When we sit around and talk about effort a few years from now, we'll talk about Jackie Chen and the Pembroke game," said assistant coach Chuck O'Brien.

Gerakis had 11 points and five rebounds. Dhaaky Drake added 11 points and four assists. Matt Eagles (six), Solomon Umoren (four), Johnny He (two) and Conor Pound (two) also cracked the scoring column.

"This is one of those games that you have to forget and move on. We'll take a day off, re-set and get ready for the final week of the season," said Barrett.

In other action last week, Gerakis had 21 in a 60-51 win over Plymouth South. Drake scored 17 while Chen added 13.

North limited Hingham to 22 points through three periods en route to a 71-52 victory. The Red Raiders placed five players in double figures. Gerakis led the way with 16. Umoren added 12 while Mike Sorcielli (11) Drake (11), and Chen (10) also had good offensive games.

"I thought Plymouth South was our most effective game of the season," said Barrett.

North Quincy visits Quincy Friday at 7 p.m.

Umoren, Gerakis, Chen, Matt Alexander and Cornelius Koch were introduced with their families and honored before the game in Senior Night ceremonies.

Minton (15 Points) Leads NQ Over Plymouth S.

By BILL GRIFFIN

Very quietly, almost without notice or attention, North Quincy's girls basketball team has written one of the finest stories of the winter season.

The Red Raiders lost three league all-stars from last year's club. They lost two starters to injuries suffered during soccer season. They started 1-7. They were developing a freshman and a sophomore at forward and center. The veterans who did return were playing new positions. It had the look of a lost season.

Instead, it has been a most rewarding one. Freshman Jen Butka and sophomore Remy Aucoin have grown into two of the top five scorers in the division, players who can go on the road and beat a good team. Junior Marissa McGue covers the floor with her speed, passing, defense and rebounding.

Sophomore Kerin Coleman has become a poised, confident guard who handles well, gets to the basket and finds the open shooter. Senior Molly Minton brings hustle, energy and defense every night against the top scorers in the league.

Saturday night against Plymouth South, the Red Raiders, perhaps a bit weary playing their third game in four nights, needed more than defense from Minton. They needed her offense. She delivered with a huge game, scoring a season-high 15 points, handing out seven assists and shutting off Plymouth's hot shooter to lead North to a 55-38 Patriot League Fisher Division win on Senior Night at the North Quincy gym.

North finished the week at 8-10 with a shot at a tourney bid and a second-place finish in the division. The Red Raiders have won seven of 10 since their slow start. They took two of three last week and were a desperation, three-point heave at the final buzzer away from a clean sweep.

Butka had 21 points and eight rebounds in a 51-42 road win over Pembroke who entered the game with an 11-2 record. Hingham, who is in second place in the Keenan Division, edged North, 36-34 on a long-range lob off a broken play from well beyond NBA three-point range. McGue and Minton had each made clutch free throws in the final minute to give North the lead.

"This has been a great season for us," said coach Jess Worden. "To see their skills and the confidence grow with each game is rewarding. I love coaching them because I know I'm going to get 150 per cent each game and each practice."

Part of the price of being good is that other teams find out quickly. Plymouth South packed in its defense around Aucoin and Butka. North needed offense from its guards, Minton and Coleman.

Minton delivered. She beat her defender off the dribble, drove through the inside traffic and got to the hoop. She passed especially well off the break and also found Butka and Aucoin with good entry passes. She swished a deep, straightaway three early in the fourth to open a 42-34 lead and start the run which finished off the game.

"Molly is a good offensive player. I keep telling to look for her offense more every game, but she is an unselfish player," said Worden.

Plymouth South's Maddie Norris scored her team's first 11 points. Worden went to a box-and-one with Minton chasing Norris. Norris scored only five points in the final 2 ½ quarters. Minton denied Norris the ball, never gave her a hint of open space, and took some real shots battling through picks to stay with her defense.

"It's hard to play that close to a shooter," said Worden. "It gets physical because you're going to get pushed and shoved. Molly really stepped up her defense."

Coleman added seven points and five assists. She handled the pressure with confidence and drove well to the basket. McGue had six rebounds and directed North's offense almost flawlessly.

Despite being surrounded, Butka and Aucoin had solid games. Butka worked her perimeter shot well for 15 points and six rebounds. Aucoin battled inside for for 13 points and 10 rebounds. In three games last week, Butka had 43 points and 24 rebounds. Aucoin had 39 points and 40 rebounds. Not bad from a freshman and sophomore. Not bad from any player in any class.

"Kerin has really improved. You can see it in her confidence with the dribble," said Worden. "Jen and Remy played good games despite Plymouth's defense. Marissa has been great all season."

North never trailed. The Red Raiders led, 24-16 at the half and 39-31 after three. Minton's three early in the fourth opened it up and fueled an 11-2 run which put away the game. The foundation of the win was North's defense which gave nothing inside. The Panthers hit eight threes, but got nothing out of the post.

"I don't think they went inside on a set play once against us," said Worden.

It worked out just right on Senior Night. Minton earned the No. 1 star of the evening. Kiera Clifford and Hannah Donovan started and played fine games. In a classy move, North presented flowers to Plymouth South's two seniors in the pre-game ceremonies.

"Kiera played good defense and passed the ball well. Hannah always plays good defense and she also gave us rebounding that we needed," said Worden.

Aucoin had 10 points and 17 rebounds in the win over Pembroke while McGue helped with 10 points and nine rebounds. Coleman added eight. Against Hingham, Aucoin led the way with 16 points and 13 rebounds. Butka had seven points and 10 rebounds while McGue chipped in with six points and five rebounds.

"It's been great seeing them grow as players. They impress me with every game they play," said Worden.

North Quincy is at Quincy Friday at 5:30 p.m. and finishes the regular season on the road against Rockland Tuesday, Feb. 17.

Red Raiders Vs. Presidents Friday Night

Quincy Defense Shines, Presidents Sweep Hingham

By BILL GRIFFIN

As it almost always does for any basketball team, everything begins with defense for Quincy's girls basketball club.

Against Hingham Friday night, the defense was just fine. Junior Gabby Jerahian and freshman Liana Cunningham played shutdown defense against two top scorers and junior center Nicole Jorgensen delivered 16 points and 12 rebounds as the Presidents swept its season series against Hingham with a 43-32 Patriot League Keenan Division decision at the Quincy High gym.

"When we play good defense, we're a very good team. I was very happy with our defense against Hingham," said coach Jeff Bretsch.

In other action last week, Quincy fell victim to one of the toughest road gyms in the league in a 56-42 defeat to Whitman-Hanson.

Quincy finished the week at 11-5 overall and 8-5 in the division, good for third place behind Duxbury and Hingham.

Cunningham and Jerahian worked to limit Haley and Sidney Blasetti to a combined total of four points to spearhead the win over Hingham. Cunningham and Jerahian chased the top shooters all over the court. They fought through picks, denied the ball and forced tough shots.

"It was an excellent effort. The two Hingham players are certain All Stars and Gabby and Liana did a great job on them," said Bretsch. "They received a lot of support from their teammates as well. It was a meaningful win because Hingham is a good team who is second in our division."

Not only did Jerahian and Cunningham play lockdown defense, they were key offensive contributors. Jerahian showed a nice outside touch for 15 points while Cunningham dished out six assists from her point-guard spot.

Jorgensen, who had 32 points and 23 rebounds in the two games last week, was dominant inside. She received a helping hand from junior forward Sarah Gibbons who had nine rebounds.

"We needed to be the better rebounding team. Nicole and Sarah gave us a great game off the boards," said Bretsch.

Quincy won every quarter against Hingham and led from wire-to-wire. The Presidents were up, 21-15 at the intermission and kept the defensive pressure on in the second half.

Playing Whitman-Hanson at home and on the road is like playing two completely different teams. Earlier this year, Quincy beat the Panthers by 19 and gave up one three-pointer in Quincy. Last week at Whitman, the Panthers drained seven three pointers and won by 14. That's a point differential of 33.

The boys team lost by five thanks to 12 three-pointers at Whitman. At home the Quincy boys won by 19 and could have won by 35. That's a point differential of 24. Against the same team. Explain it? A haunted gym in Whitman?

"For some reason, they always shoot well at home and we never shoot well down there. It's a tough, tough gym to play," said Bretsch.

Jorgensen had 16 points, 11 rebounds and seven blocks against W-H. Cunningham added 10 points.

One of the keys to Quincy's season has been the development of Gibbons. She has improved offensively and is a strong rebounder. She has been a good partner for Jorgensen underneath. For almost three years, Jorgensen has been the focus of the opposition in every game. Gibbons gives Quincy another inside presence, and it has helped greatly.

"Nicole can be more aggressive defensively because she doesn't have to worry about getting every rebound," said Bretsch. "Sarah is a good athlete, and she's very competitive. They work well together. When Nicole has been double-teamed, she's been able to find Sarah with a nice pass for a layup."

The play of Cunningham has also been important for Quincy. She took over as starting point guard midway through the season, and she has been terrific. Playing the point is a difficult challenge for any player. For a freshman, it is especially difficult.

Cunningham has all the necessary skills. She's quick, handles well, and throws a beautiful pass both to open shooters on the wing and to Jorgensen and Gibbons close to the bucket. She also has something that cannot be taught.

"She has a knack, an instinct, an understanding for the game. She has the ability to make the pass to the shooter just at the instant the easy shot appears," said Bretsch. "We've also asked her to be a pest on defense. She chases around the other team's best scorer every night, and she's done a good job of it."

Quincy hosts North Quincy Friday at 5:30 p.m. and has a makeup game against Pembroke at home Wednesday, Feb. 18.

Ying Yu On Dean's List

Ying Yu of Quincy has been named to the fall Dean's List at the University of the Sciences in Philadelphia, PA.

Yu is a doctor of pharmacy student.

RELIGION

Houghs Neck Congregational

The Sunday morning service at Houghs Neck Congregational Church, 310 Manet Ave. starts at 10 a.m.

Pastor Felix Carrion will lead the service and preach the sermon "Transfiguration: Now and Then." Gayle Mackay will call to worship and read the scripture lesson. Nancy Jacobs and Robert Gordon will serve for the Diaconate. Steve Reed, Minister of Music will direct the choir singing the anthem.

A fellowship coffee hour follows the service hosted by Nancy and Molly Jacobs.

Tuesday, the MOTHERS Club is hosting a Mardi Gras Party at 7:30 p.m. in M. Alicia Corea Fellowship Hall. The business meeting lead by Sue Rheault is at 7 p.m.

Thursday Hatha Yoga is at 7 p.m. in the hall.

All events are subject to weather and parking.

The Chili Bowl Cook-off on Saturday, Feb. 28 is accepting entries from restaurants and individuals. Call 617-688-4044 or e-mail chilicookoffhncc@gmail.com to enter or for more information.

Bethany Congregational

On Sunday, Feb. 15, Bethany Congregational Church, will have a Worship Service and Sunday School at 10 a.m. The Rev. William C. Harding will conduct the service and preach the sermon. Fellowship with light refreshments will follow the worship service.

All are welcome to attend Worship Services and its activities: a Youth Group, a Men's Group, an Outreach Mission Group doing various charity works and a Bible Study Class.

The church office is open 8:30 a.m. to noon, then 1 - 4 p.m. Please visit our website at bethanychurch.tk for updates and activities. Thanks to the Video Ministry, if you're unable to attend worship service, the Bethany Church Service is broadcast on QATV at 6:00 p.m. Thursdays and 10:00 a.m. Sundays on Channel 8.

Childcare will be available for infants and toddlers during worship service on Sundays. The church is wheelchair accessible.

OBITUARIES

Vasilios H. Lymberopoulos, 78

A funeral service for Vasilios H. Lymberopoulos, 78, of Quincy was held Feb. 7 in St. Catherine Greek Orthodox Church, Braintree.

Mr. Lymberopoulos died Feb. 3.

He was born in Filiatra, Messinias, Greece, and came to the United States in 1969. He was a machinist at Pneumatic Scale in Quincy for 25 years before retiring. Mr. Lymberopoulos was an avid fisherman who loved fishing the waters of Cape Cod. He was an enthusiastic sports fan and enjoyed spending time with his family who meant the world to him. He will be missed by all who had the pleasure to have known him.

Beloved husband of Ginnoula (Dionisopoulos) Lymberopoulos of Quincy. Loving father of Harilaos "Harry" and Peter Lymberopoulos of Quincy and the late Diana "Sula" Lymberopoulos. Brother of Gregoria Skopelitis of Norwood. Also lovingly survived by many nieces and nephews.

Funeral arrangements were made by Keohane Funeral Home, 785 Hancock St., Quincy.

Interment at Pine Hill Cemetery, Quincy.

Memorial donations may be made to St. Catherine Greek Orthodox Church, 119 Common St., Braintree, MA 02184.

Nora T. Sullivan, 93

A funeral Mass for Nora T. (Carney) Sullivan, 93, of Quincy and formerly Dorchester was celebrated yesterday (Wednesday) in Holy Trinity Parish, Our Lady of Good Counsel Church, Quincy.

Mrs. Sullivan died peacefully in the presence of her family Feb. 7 after a long illness.

She was a graduate of St. William Grammar School, Savin Hill, and Jeremiah E. Burke High School, Dorchester.

Beloved wife of the late Eugene F. Sullivan. Loving mother of Thomas E. and his wife Susan of Quincy, the late Kevin J. and his wife Nevia of VA, Eugene M. (Geno) and his wife Barbara of Halifax, Ellen M. and her husband David Joy of Billerica and Stephen D. and his wife Priscilla of Cohasset.

Also survived by her adoring grandchildren and great-grandchildren: Jennifer Jae and her husband Augustine (Gus) of Toronto and Gabriel and Joshua, Thomas and his companion Tamara Smith of Quincy, Erin and her companion David Gorgos of NJ, Heather of South ME, Jessica of North Attleboro and Jasmine, Matthew and his wife Mollee of VA and Julie, Kim Hill and her husband Phil of OR and Benjamin, Owen and Henry, Mike Joy and his wife Desiree of Holland, and David and Aiden, Alyssa Joy of Billerica, Adrienne DiFonzo and her husband Matthew of Natick and Charlie, Kerry of Natick and Andrew and his wife Sara of South Boston and many nieces and nephews. Loving sister of Agnes Wisnes of Quincy and the late Thomas, John, Mary, Joseph and James Carney. Loving sister-in-law of Joan Carney of Milton and the dear cousin of Mary Leonard of Abington.

Funeral arrangements were made by Keohane Funeral Home, 785 Hancock St., Quincy.

Interment at Pine Hill Cemetery, Quincy.

Memorial donations may be made to Catholic Charities, Archdiocese of Boston, 51 Sleeper St., Boston, MA 02110, the Alzheimer's Association at alz.org or to a charity of your choice.

St. Agatha Parish

Professor Wayne Westcott, PhD, author and professor of Exercise Science at Quincy College, will speak at St. Agatha Parish, 432 Adams St. Milton tonight (Thursday) from 6 to 8 pm in the Gathering Space.

Dr. Westcott will speak on the benefits of resistance exercise for people dealing with chronic illness. He will demonstrate exercises using exercise bands.

A brief opportunity for prayer will precede the presentation. All are invited.

For more information contact Mary Campion at mcampion@stagathaparish.org

Quincy Religion Directory

SERVICES & ACTIVITIES

Catholic

St. Mary's Church
95 Crescent St., Quincy • 617-773-0120
Masses
Saturday, 4pm, Sunday 8 & 10:30am
Tuesday/Thursday 9am
Handicapped Accessible
New Members Welcome!

ST. AGATHA CHURCH MILTON-QUINCY
432 Adams Street
Milton, MA 02186 • 617-698-2439
Schedule of Masses:
Saturday: 4:30PM
Sunday: 7:30AM, 9:00AM, 10:30AM, 12 NOON and 5:00PM
Weekday Masses: 7:00 & 9:00AM
Reconciliation 3:45PM-4:15pm on Saturdays, other times by appointment
Handicapped Accessible, handicapped parking, elevator to Upper/Lower Churches ~ Air-Conditioned

St. John The Baptist
ROMAN CATHOLIC CHURCH
44 School St., Quincy
617-773-1021
Weekend Mass Schedule
Saturday, 4:00 PM
Sunday 7:30, 9:00, 11:00 AM
Sunday night 5:30 PM
Weekday Masses
Monday - Saturday 8:00 AM
Latin Mass
1st & 3rd Wednesdays
(Lower Chapel) 7:00 AM
Confessions
Wed. 8:30 – 9:00 AM
Sat. 2:30 – 3:30 PM
Handicapped Accessible

Salvationist

THE SALVATION ARMY
6 Baxter St., Quincy • 617-472-2345
9:45 CHRISTIAN EDUCATION
11AM WORSHIP SERVICE
BRASS BAND MUSIC
7PM TUES WOMEN'S FELLOWSHIP
6:45PM WEDS. BIBLE STUDY

Catholic

Sacred Heart Church
"A Roman Catholic Community walking together in Faith, Worship, Education and Service"
386 Hancock St., North Quincy, MA 02171
(617) 328-8666
Sunday Masses
4pm (Saturday)
7:30 am and 10:00 am
Weekday Masses
Monday - Friday 7am
Handicapped Accessible
Confessions
Sat. 3-3:45pm in Saint Joseph Oratory

St. Joseph's Church
550 Washington Street
Quincy, MA 02169
617-472-6321
SUNDAY MASSES:
4 p.m. (On Saturday)
8:30 a.m. and 10:30 a.m.
Weekday Masses 9am
CONFESSIONS: Saturday, 3:00-3:30 pm
Handicapped accessible & Handicapped parking, side entrance air conditioned

Saint Ann's Church
757 Hancock St., Wollaston
617-479-5400
Mass Schedule:
Sat. 4:00 PM / Sun. 9, 11 AM
Daily Mass: Monday, Wednesday, Friday, Saturday 9 AM
Confessions: Saturday 3-3:30PM
Handicapped Accessible via Elevator

Methodist

QUINCY COMMUNITY UNITED METHODIST CHURCH
40 Beale St., Wollaston
617-773-3319
10:30 AM Sunday Worship
Rev. Dr. Susan Jarek-Glidden, Pastor

Congregational

HOUGH'S NECK CONGREGATIONAL CHURCH
310 Manet Avenue
617-479-8778
www.hncong.org
Sunday Morning Service at 10 a.m.
Pastor Felix Carrion will preach the sermon "Transformation: Now and Then"
All are welcome to attend
FELLOWSHIP COFFEE HOUR FOLLOWING SERVICE

BETHANY CONGREGATIONAL CHURCH
Spear & Coddington Streets
Quincy Center, 617-479-7300
www.bethanychurch.tk
Worship Service and Sunday School at 10AM
Rev. William C. Harding will conduct the service and preach the sermon.
Child Care Available For Infants And Toddlers
ALL ARE WELCOME!
Fellowship Time following Service
The church is wheelchair accessible

JOY

Congregational

Wollaston
Congregational Church
United Church of Christ
48 Winthrop Avenue
Quincy, Massachusetts
Worship and Sunday School at 10 a.m.
Fred Hayes InterimPastor
617-773-7432
www.wollastonucc.com

UNION CONGREGATIONAL
Beach St. & Rawson Rd., Wollaston
(617)479-6661
Rev. John Swanson, Pastor
Sunday Worship Service 10 AM

QUINCY POINT CONGREGATIONAL CHURCH
444 Washington St . • 617-773-6424
Worship and Church School 10 am
Rev. Ann Suzedell, Pastor
email: office@quincypointcong.org

Unitarian Universalist

United First Parish Church
A theologically liberal congregation, encouraging people to seek their own spiritual path. All are welcome.
Worship Service, Church School and Childcare Sundays at 10:30 AM
Followed by Fellowship & Refreshments
Rev. Rebecca Froom
1306 Hancock St., Quincy
www.ufpc.org

PEACE

Christian Science

First Church of Christ, Scientist
1460 Hancock Street, Quincy
617-472-0055
Sunday Services and Sunday School 10:30 a.m.
Wednesday Evening Meetings – where testimonies of healing are shared 7:30 p.m.

ALL ARE WELCOME!

Catholic Community

Dignity BOSTON
Gay, Lesbian, Bisexual, Transgender
CATHOLICS
Our families, friends And allies
Liturgy & social hour: Sundays, 5:30 PM
St. John the Evangelist Church
35 Bowdoin St., Beacon Hill, Boston
617-421-1915
www.dignityboston.org

Nazarene

Wollaston
Church of the Nazarene
Sunday Worship
8:30 AM Liturgical Worship
9:45 AM Sunday School
11:00 AM Celebration Worship
Kevin C. Dunlop, Lead Pastor
Phil Nase, Youth & Small Groups Pastor
Jake Chastain, Music & Campus Pastor
Bev Keuthan, Children's Pastor
Don Beal, Visitation Pastor
37 E. Elm Ave., Wollaston
617.472.5669
E-mail: office@wconaz.org
www.wollastonnazarene.org

HOPE

LOVE

To Advertise in this Directory, Call 617-471-3100

OBITUARIES

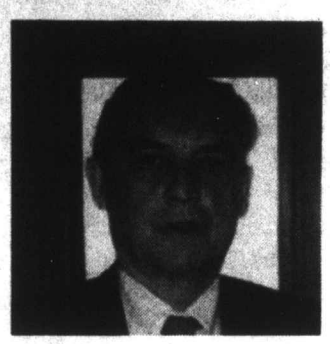
John J. Conlon

A funeral Mass for John J. "Jack" Conlon, retired Quincy Fire Department of Weymouth, was celebrated Feb. 4 in Sacred Heart Church, Weymouth.

Mr. Conlon died Jan. 26.

Born in Boston, he was a graduate of Quincy High School and Anna Maria College. Mr. Conlon was a firefighter for the Quincy Fire Department for 32 years before retiring. After retirement He worked as an analyst for the National Fire Protection Agency in Quincy.

Mr. Conlon was a huge history buff and enjoyed music, especially Frank Sinatra. He was a kind-hearted man who always took a special interest in each of his nieces and nephews who he loved immensely. Mr. Conlon will be truly missed by all who had the pleasure to have known and loved him.



JOHN J. CONLON

Beloved brother of James "Sonny" Conlon of South Boston, Bob Conlon and his wife Ellie of Weymouth, Carol Walling and her husband Roy of NH, and the late Mary Buckley, Eugene and Paul Conlon. Brother-in-law of Bill Buckley of Weymouth, Denise Conlon of Quincy and the late Linda Conlon. Dear longtime friend of John Baldi and Chuck Behenna. Also lovingly survived by many nieces and nephews.

Funeral arrangements were made by Keohane Funeral Home, 785 Hancock St., Quincy.

Interment at Blue Hill Cemetery, Braintree.

Memorial donations may be made to Wounded Warrior Project, P.O. Box 758517, Topeka, KS 66675.

Edward M. Leonard

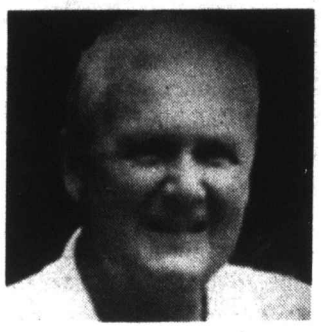
A funeral Mass for Edward M. Leonard, retired Metropolitan District Commission Police of North Quincy, was celebrated Tuesday in Sacred Heart Church, Quincy.

Mr. Leonard died Feb. 2.

A proud U.S. Marine Corp veteran, Mr. Leonard served in the Korean War. After many years as an MDC police officer, he retired and took a position as the assistant director of security for the MFA.

A lifetime member of Squantum Yacht Club, Mr. Leonard enjoyed reading, playing cribbage and spending time with his grandchildren. He also enjoyed traveling with his late wife, Patricia. He will be sadly missed by all those who knew him.

Beloved husband of the late Patricia (Holland) Leonard. Loving father of Patricia Leonard-Toomey and her husband John of Fall River, Paula Leonard and her husband William Townsend of NH and Edward Leonard and Mott McCampbell of NY.



EDWARD M. LEONARD

Brother of Martin Blake of Weymouth, Barbara Martin of Rockland, Michael Blake of Plymouth and the late James Leonard. Cherished grandad of Marisa and Devon Toomey and Lawrence Townsend. Also survived by many nieces and nephews.

Funeral arrangements were made by Keohane Funeral Home, 785 Hancock St., Quincy.

Interment at Blue Hill Cemetery, Braintree.

Memorial donations may be made to Community Autism Resources, 33 James Reynolds Rd., Unit C, Swansea, MA 02777.

George E. Kyller, 80

A funeral Mass for George E. Kyller, 80, of West Bridgewater and formerly Quincy was celebrated Feb. 7 in St. Mary's Church, Randolph.

Mr. Kyller died Feb. 3.

A Korean War veteran, USMC, he was an industrial engineer at Polaroid. In his spare time, Mr. Kyller was a writer and gardener, participated in the local Senior Olympics, was a past president of Voice of the Faithful, and a Eucharistic minister and CCD teacher at St. Mary's in Randolph.

The beloved husband of Mary (Cacciola) Marshall Kyller and the late Barbara A. (Thibautot) Kyller, he was the loving father of Michael Kyller and his wife Terry of Abington, George E. Kyller, Jr. and his wife Laura of Plympton and Michelle Suplee and her husband Kevin of Weymouth; dear grandfather of Erin, Joshua, Matthew, Sarah, Peter, Stephanie, Kayla and Hailey; great-grandfather of Shannon and Bridget; brother of June Bosse of Lakeville and Miriam Richardi of Braintree and is also survived by many nieces and nephews.

GEORGE E. KYLLER

Funeral arrangements were made by Dennis Sweeney Funeral Home, 74 Elm St., Quincy.

Interment with Military Honors at Mount Wollaston Cemetery, Quincy.

Memorial donations may be made to St. Mary's Parish, 211 N. Main St., Randolph, MA 02368 or to the Dana-Farber Cancer Research Institute, 44 Binney St., Boston, MA 02215.

Jeanne Hodgdon, 86

Funeral services for Jeanne (Perrow) Hodgdon, 86, of Quincy were privately held.

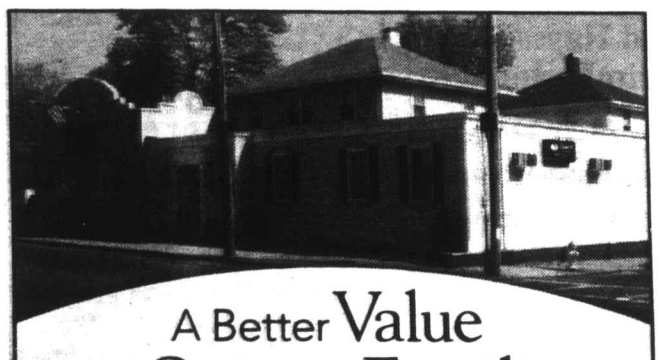
Mrs. Hodgdon died Jan. 30 at Hancock Park Nursing & Rehabilitation Center in Quincy.

Born in Weymouth on Oct. 2, 1928, she was the loving daughter of the late Allan and Arletta (Nickerson) Perrow. She was a graduate of Weymouth High School and Bridgewater State College and was a loving and devoted homemaker.

Beloved wife of the late Francis Hodgdon. Dear sister of Margie Papile of Quincy, Judie Cochrane of Stoughton, Dianne Faubert of Quincy, Robert Perrow of OH and SC and Stephen Perrow of Harwich. She is also survived by many nieces and nephews.

Funeral arrangements were made by Bolea-Buonfiglio Funeral Home, 116 Franklin St., Quincy.

Memorial donations may be made to the Hospice of the South Shore, 100 Bay State Dr., Braintree, MA 02184.



A Better Value For Quincy Families

At Deware Funeral Home, we are proud to offer more value and superior service to Quincy families. A full service traditional funeral is $5,995* with no hidden costs. The price includes:

Funeral Ceremony • Visitation • Casket

At Deware Funeral Home, we put the needs of our customer first. We also offer a Simple Burial Plan for $3,395.

With Deware Funeral Home, you can trust us to provide the compassionate care you expect at an exceptional value, backed by a 100% service guarantee.

Exclusive provider of Dignity Memorial® benefits.

Deware Funeral Home

576 Hancock Street | Quincy, MA 02170 | 617-472-1137

Dignity Memorial

For more information visit www.dewarefuneralhome.com

*$5,995 plan includes basic services of funeral director and staff, embalming and preparation, viewing, funeral ceremony, transportation to place of disposition, 20-gauge metal casket, website announcement, and memorial stationary package (a register book, 100 thank you cards, 100 prayer cards).

A Service Family Affiliate of ARFS and Service Corporation International, 206 Winter Street, Fall River, MA 02720. (508) 676-2454

Ida M. Sylvester, 90

A funeral Mass for Ida Marie (Campitelli) Sylvester, 90, of Braintree and formerly Quincy was celebrated Feb. 7 in St. Thomas More Church, Braintree.

Mrs. Sylvester died peacefully Feb. 3 at South Shore Hospital in Weymouth, surrounded by her loving family.

She was born in Quincy, raised and educated in Quincy schools and was a graduate of Quincy High School, Class of 1942. She had lived in Braintree for 51 years. Mrs. Sylvester was employed as a cost accountant for the former Raytheon Company in Quincy. She had 36 years of service and had been retired many years.

Mrs. Sylvester was a longtime active parishioner and daily communicant at St. Thomas More Parish in Braintree. She was a member of the Ladies Sodality and was a former member of the church choir. She enjoyed cooking, knitting and was an active member of the Braintree Garden Club for many years. Mrs. Sylvester was devoted to her family and especially to her grandchildren and great grandchildren.

Beloved wife of the late Ralph L. Sylvester. Devoted mother of Judith M. Solomon of Dracut, Constance A. Foley of Hanover, Glenn R. Sylvester of Plymouth and Gary S. Sylvester of Rockland. Loving grandmother of Robert Dalrymple, Scott Dalrymple, Allen Sylvester, Jeffrey Foley, Ryan Foley and Tory Sylvester. She was also the cherished great-grandmother of eleven great-grandchildren. Dear sister of Gilda Pelletier of Quincy and also survived by many nieces and nephews.

IDA M. SYLVESTER

Funeral arrangements were made by Sweeney Brothers Home for Funerals, 1 Independence Ave., Quincy.

Interment at Blue Hill Cemetery, Braintree.

Memorial donations may be made to Saint Jude Children's Research Hospital, 501 St. Jude Pl., Memphis, TN 38105.

Honor Your Loved One's Memory With Flowers

cliffords.com

1.800.441.8884

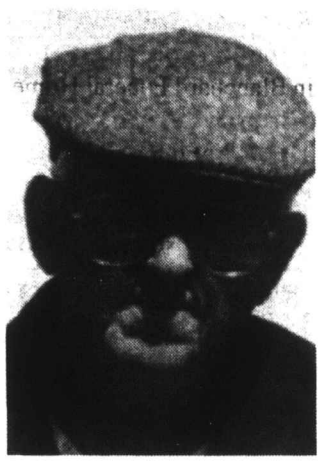
John E. Martin, 78

A funeral Mass for John E. Martin, 78, of Pembroke and formerly Plymouth was celebrated Feb. 5 in St. Joseph's Church, Quincy.

Mr. Martin died Feb. 1.

Born in Dorchester, he graduated from Quincy High School and Boston College with an associate's degree. A veteran of the U.S. Army and Navy Reserves, Mr. Martin worked as a mechanic for the MBTA until retiring.

The beloved husband of Ellen "Helen" (Wynne) Martin, he was the loving father of Mary Queenen of Whitman, Patti Holbrook and her husband Tom of Braintree, Sean Martin and his wife Anne of Braintree, Michael Martin of Pembroke and Sheila Jerosh and her husband Stephen of Marshfield; dear grandfather of Matthew, Seanna, Ryan, Dean, Liam, Jamie, Maura, Ana, Aidan, Maya and Kelly; great-grandfather of Andrew,



JOHN E. MARTIN

Riley and Keira; and is also survived by his brother, James F. Martin of Mashpee.

Funeral arrangements were made by Dennis Sweeney Funeral Home, 74 Elm St., Quincy.

Interment at Blue Hill Cemetery, Braintree.

Memorial donations may be made to St. Jude Children's Research Hospital, 501 St. Jude Pl., Memphis, TN 38105-1905.

Paul G. Galetti, 69

A funeral service and interment for Paul G. Galetti, 69, of Quincy were privately held.

Mr. Galetti died Jan. 31 at Carney Hospital in Boston.

Born in Boston on February 5, 1945, he was the loving son of the late Geno and Philomena (Nash) Galetti. Mr. Galetti served in the U.S. Army during the Vietnam War. He worked as a clerk for the U.S. Postal Service, where he retired after more than 25 years of service. He especially enjoyed his retirement, music, playing the guitar and piano.

Beloved husband of Sandra (Stuart) Galetti of Quincy for 42 years. Dear brother-in-law of Donna Parrish, Barbara Allen and the loving uncle of Mark and Scott Parrish and Heather Johnson. He is also survived by many cousins and extended family.

Funeral arrangements were made by Bolea-Buonfiglio Funeral Home, 116 Franklin St., Quincy.

Memorial donations may be made to the Mayo Clinic, Department of Development, 200 First St., SW, Rochester, MN 55905.

Mary L. Cyr

A funeral Mass for Mary L. (Harrington) Cyr of Quincy, formerly of Dorchester, was celebrated Feb. 7 in St. Ann's Church, Quincy.

Mrs. Cyr died Feb. 1.

She was a woman very devoted to her faith. She was a past active member of St. Mark's Parish in Dorchester, where she enjoyed an association with the Ladies Sodality, women's bowling, Girl Scouts and more. Mrs. Cyr also taught CCD at St. Ann's in Quincy.

Her main passion, besides chocolate, was her family and spending time with those she loved. Mrs. Cyr will be remembered for her great wit, sense of humor, and her caring manner, especially toward the handicapped.

The family would also like to express their sincere thanks to the staff at Colonial Nursing and Rehabilitation, Weymouth, for the care and devotion they provided for their mother.

MARY L. CYR

Beloved wife of the late Herman J. Cyr. Loving mother of Donald J. Cyr of Quincy, John C. Cyr and his wife Louise of Plymouth, Marilyn E. Skahan and her husband Ron of Quincy, Geraldine M. Cyr of Quincy, William F. Cyr and his wife Elizabeth Binari of Kingston and Laurence Cyr and his wife Mary of Quincy. Devoted Nana of John, Christopher, Gregory, Sean, Marybeth, Maryellen, Robert, Catherine and eight great-grandchildren. Cherished little sister of the late Anna, Frank, Bob and Vincent Harrington, Julia Mulvoy and Elinor Barron. Also survived by many nieces and nephews.

Funeral arrangements were made by Keohane Funeral Home, 785 Hancock St., Quincy.

Interment at St. Mary's Cemetery, Quincy.

Memorial donations may be made to the American Macular Degeneration Foundation at macular.org.

Kerry A. LaPlume, 42

A funeral service for Kerry Anne LaPlume, 42, of Plympton, was held Feb. 6 in Blanchard Funeral Home, Whitman.

Ms. LaPlume died unexpectedly at home Feb. 2.

She was born in Quincy, grew up in Weymouth and had resided in Plympton for the past eight years. Ms. LaPlume was a graduate of Quincy High School, Class of 1990, and had worked several years in retail. She was very talented at home decorating but her main passion in life was being a loving mother.

KERRY A. LaPLUME

She is survived by her loving parents Mary (Guest) and Daniel Olivere of Weymouth, her fiancée and beloved partner of the last fifteen years Kevin Rogers, Jr., her cherished children, Nichole Hartnett and Noah Rogers, and her stepson Matthew Rogers. She is also survived by her sister Renee LaPlume and her brother Daniel Olivere as well as many aunts, uncles and cousins. She will be sadly missed by Kevin and Sue Rogers and the entire Rogers family.

Interment at a later date.

James A. Dunn, 74

A funeral Mass for James A. Dunn, 74, of Quincy was celebrated Feb. 4 in St. Joseph Church, Quincy.

Mr. Dunn died Jan. 30.

Originally from Dorchester, he lived in Quincy most of his life and was a retired, longtime employee of HT Berry Paper Company in Canton.

The beloved husband of Teresa A. (Bowman) Dunn, to whom he was married for 50 years, Mr. Dunn was the loving father of Karen Leary and her husband Tom of Rockland, Kelly Mann of PA, Karel Collins and her husband Liam of Quincy, Keith Dunn of Quincy and the late Kevin Dunn; father-in-law of Christopher Mann of Quincy; dear grandfather of Joanna Dunn and Allyson Leary; brother of Rita Farner of France, George Dunn of Dedham and the late Robert and Paul Dunn; and is also survived by many nieces and nephews.

Funeral arrangements were made by Dennis Sweeney Funeral Home, 74 Elm St., Quincy.

Interment at Knollwood Memorial Park, Canton.

Memorial donations may be made to Father Bill's Place, 38 Broad St., Quincy, MA 02169 or to St. Joseph's St. Vincent dePaul Society, 550 Washington St., Quincy, MA 02169.

Dean C. Connors

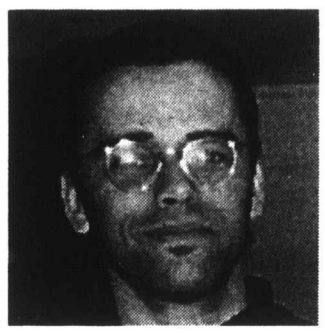
A funeral home service for Dean C. Connors of Quincy will be held Saturday at 10 a.m. in Keohane Funeral Home, 785 Hancock St., Quincy.

Mr. Connors died Feb. 7.

He graduated from Quincy High School and worked for 10 years at Shuster Laboratories Inc. Mr. Connors had a great sense of humor and loved to make people laugh. His family was important to him and he will be greatly missed by all who knew him.

Mr. Connors' family would like to give a special thank you to Fallon Ambulance and the Quincy Police and Fire Department for always being there when he needed assistance.

Son of the late Daniel S. and Loris (Thomson) Connors. Loving brother of Danielle Duncan, Daniel T. Connors, and Deloris Mitchell and her husband Stephen, all of Quincy. Cherished uncle of Dawn Petrillo, Daniel Duncan, Danielle Duncan, Alison Wellman, Jennifer Connors, and Ashley Connors. Also survived by great nephews and nieces.



DEAN C. CONNORS

Visiting hours are 4-8 p.m. tomorrow (Friday) in the funeral home.

Interment at Mount Wollaston Cemetery, Quincy.

Memorial donations may be made to JDRF, 26 Broadway, 14th Floor, New York, NY 10004.

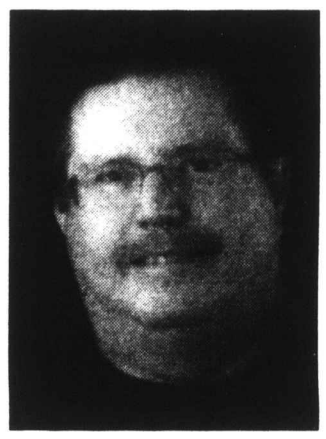
Walter J. Lynn, Jr., 58

A funeral service for Walter J. "Joe" Lynn, Jr., 58, of Quincy will be held at 11 a.m. today (Thursday) in Dennis Sweeney Funeral Home, 74 Elm St., Quincy.

Mr. Lynn died Feb. 5 after a long battle with leukemia.

A lifelong Quincy resident, he was a master electrician for 35 years, licensed in Massachusetts and New Hampshire and was the foreman at Rivers Electrical in Holbrook. An avid outdoorsman, he enjoyed snowmobiling, boating and hiking, was a member of several snowmobile clubs, including Baker River Valley, and was also a member of the Gull Point Yacht Club.

The beloved husband of Susan M. (Doyle) Lynn, to whom he was married for 35 years, Mr. Lynn was the loving father of Thomas J. Lynn of Quincy and his fiancée Angela C. Fernandes, Andrea J. Lynn of Quincy and the late Allison I. Lynn; devoted son of Jean V. (McDonald) Lynn and the late Walter J. Lynn, Sr.; dear brother of Roderick Lynn and his wife Cheryl, Geraldine Lynn, Cynthia Sacchetti and her husband Michael, all of Quincy, and Sharon Breen and her husband Peter of Bourne; brother-in-law of Marilyn Ruzzano of Quincy and Steven Doyle of Milton; and is also survived by many nieces, nephews, grandnieces and grandnephews.



WALTER J. LYNN, JR.

Visiting hours were 4-8 p.m. yesterday (Wednesday) in the funeral home.

Interment at Pine Hill Cemetery, Quincy.

Memorial donations may be made to Lymphoma & Leukemia Research Fund, Dr. Joyce, Beth Israel Deaconess Medical Center, Att: Development, 330 Brookline Ave. Boston, MA 02215.

Patricia A. D'Ambrosia, 83

A funeral Mass for Patricia A. (Lutz) D'Ambrosia, 83, of Weymouth and formerly Quincy was celebrated Feb. 7 in St. Francis Xavier Church, Weymouth.

Mrs. D'Ambrosia died Jan. 28.

Born in Boston, she was raised in Quincy, and was a longtime resident of South Weymouth. She was a naval nurse and subsequently a nursing instructor for many years.

Beloved wife of the late Richard F. D'Ambrosia for 51 years. She enjoyed supporting her husband in many of his interests from music to motorcycling. Beloved mother of Alyce McDonald of NH, Richard F. D'Ambrosia Jr. of Norwell and Kimberly A. D'Ambrosia-Royer of CA. Sister of the late Theodore J. Lutz Jr. Grandmother of Shirley, Justin, Timothy, Zack, Sean and Sarah. Great-grandmother to four great-grandchildren.

Funeral arrangements were made by McDonald-Keohane Funeral Home, South Weymouth.

Memorial donations may be made to the American Parkinson Disease Association Massachusetts Chapter, 72 East Concord St., C3, Boston, MA 02118.

Marie M. Marinelli, 96

Funeral services for Marie M. Marinelli, 96, a lifelong Quincy resident, were held Monday in Sweeney Brothers Home for Funerals, 1 Independence Ave., Quincy.

Ms. Marinelli died peacefully Feb. 3 at South Shore Hospital in Weymouth after a brief illness.

She was born, raised and educated in Quincy and was a graduate of Quincy High School, Class of 1936. Ms. Marinelli was employed as a typist in administrative services and retired many years ago. She most recently worked at the Office of the City Clerk of Quincy, previously working at the former American Mutual Insurance Company, and earlier at the former Sheridan's in Quincy. Also, during World War II she worked at the Hingham Naval Shipyard.

Beloved daughter of the late Gerald and Mary Ellen (Josephine) Marinelli. She was predeceased by her six siblings, Gerald P. Marinelli, Francis P. Marinelli, Philip F. Marinelli, Andrew A. Marinelli, Emily H. Marinelli and Carolyn A. Seamans. Dear aunt of John G. Seamans and his wife Claire of Hanson, Mark S. Seamans and his wife Tina of MS, Peter Marinelli and his wife Ardyce of North Falmouth and Carol Castle and her husband Jim of Braintree. Also survived by several grandnieces and grandnephews.

MARIE M. MARINELLI

Interment at Blue Hill Cemetery, Braintree.

Memorial donations may be made to Saint Jude Children's Research Hospital, 501 Saint Jude Pl., Memphis, TN 38105.

John F. Currie, 62

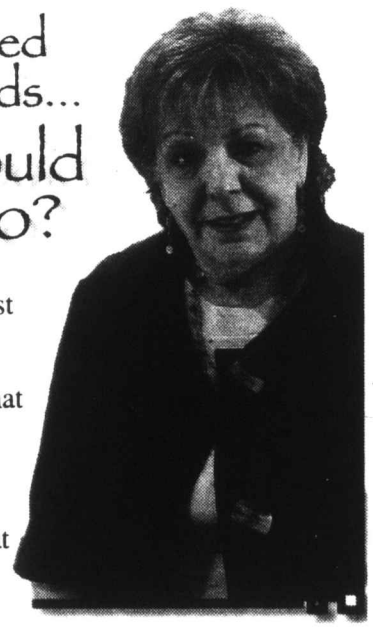
A funeral for John F. Currie, 62, of Quincy was held Tuesday in Hamel, Wickens & Troupe Funeral Home, 26 Adams St., Quincy.

Mr. Currie died Feb. 5 following a long illness.

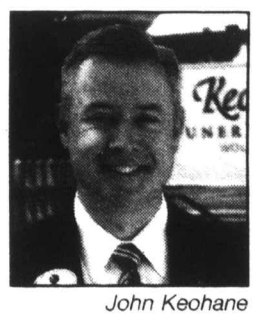
He was the devoted husband of Sandra Rose Currie. Loving father of John Little, Jeffrey Currie, Jason Currie and Jonathan Currie, all of Quincy. Cherished son of Doris Currie of Quincy and the late John E. Currie. Dear brother of Joline Currie of AZ. Beloved uncle to Laura, Clinton and Jennifer Currie and their children. Also survived by many grandchildren, close cousins including Susan Dixon-Traficante, and extended family.

Interment at Pine Hill Cemetery, Quincy.

She outlived all her friends... What should we do?



Maybe we should first ask these questions: What about you? What about your friends? We help lots of families balance what they'd like to do...



John Keohane

with the people who will be there, and the money that's available. What's the right thing to do? You decide... At Keohane Funeral and Cremation Service we can help you find it.

785 Hancock Street
Quincy

333 Hancock Street
North Quincy

21 Emerald Street
Hingham

Keohane
FUNERAL & CREMATION SERVICE

www.Keohane.com
1-800-KEOHANE

OBITUARIES

William P. Dockham, 55

A funeral service for William P. "Bill" Dockham, 55, of Quincy was held Monday in Keohane Funeral Home, 785 Hancock St., Quincy.

Mr. Dockham died suddenly Jan. 30.

Mr. Dockham was a registered nurse at the Causeway Street VA Clinic in Boston and was an active volunteer splitting time between the Boston Marathon, Naval Sea Cadets and 28 years with the Massachusetts Special Olympics. Most of all, his family was the most important part of his life; he enjoyed every minute spent with his children and his grandson Aiden.

WILLIAM P. DOCKHAM

Beloved father of Lauren Weaver and her husband Corey, Lindsay Dockham and her fiancé Kevyn Andrews and Sean Dockham, all of FL. Brother of Dennis Dockham of Quincy and Joseph Dockham of Randolph. Former husband of Kathy Dockham of FL. Cherished grandpa of Aiden Weaver. Mr. Dockham was excited about the upcoming birth of his second grandson in the spring. He is also survived by many nieces, nephews, aunts, uncles and cousins.

Memorial donations may be made to Muscular Dystrophy Assoc., 138 Conant St., 1st Floor, Beverly, MA 01915 or Special Olympics Massachusetts, 512 Forest Street, Marlborough, MA 01750.

Melino Stracco, 92

A funeral service for Melino "Mel" Stracco, 92, of Quincy will be held at 10 a.m. tomorrow (Friday) in Dennis Sweeney Funeral Home, 74 Elm St., Quincy.

Mr. Stracco died Feb. 6.

Born in Abruzzi, Italy, he served in the Italian Army during WWII, moved to Quincy 70 years ago and worked as a sandblaster at the Fore River Shipyard before retiring.

The beloved husband of Ida P. (Pace) Stracco, to whom he was married for 64 years, Mr. Stracco was the loving father of Rita C. Bower of Quincy, Robert M. Stracco of Weymouth, Rose Marie Falcetta of Brockton and the late Robert D. Stracco; dear grandfather of Paul, Kyle and Derek Falcetta, Cori and Lisamarie DeCristoforo and Gianpiero and Giuliano Stracco; great-grandfather of Mia, Gianna, Jayden and Mila; son of the late Dominic and Crisanta Stracco; brother of the late William Stracco, Maria Marinelli and Dora Lalama; and is also survived by many nieces and nephews.

Visiting hours are 4-8 p.m. today (Thursday) in the funeral home.

Interment at Mount Wollaston Cemetery, Quincy.

Memorial donations may be made to the National Parkinson Foundation, 200 SE 1st Street, Suite 800, Miami, FL 33131.

Ann M. Smith, 89

A funeral Mass for Anne M. (MacDonald) Smith, 89, a longtime Quincy resident, was celebrated Feb. 5 in Sacred Heart Church, Quincy.

Mrs. Smith died peacefully at home Jan. 28.

She was born in Boston and grew up in Forest Hills, Jamaica Plain. She graduated from Roxbury Memorial School for Girls and worked at the Shawmut Bank in Boston and later at the Hancock Bank in Quincy.

Mrs. Smith was a very talented seamstress. She also enjoyed crocheting, baking and bowling. She was always up for the challenge of word solving puzzles. Mrs. Smith enjoyed traveling and some of her fondest memories were of winters on Marco Island, Fla., and summers at Lake Ossippee, N.H. She was a member of the Ladies of St. James Society and the St. James Bowling League.

ANN M. SMITH

Mrs. Smith will always be remembered as a devoted and loving wife, mother, grandmother, sister, and friend. Her faith and her family were the cornerstones of all that was truly important to her. She will be sadly missed.

Beloved wife of the late Charles A. Smith, Sr. Loving mother of Anne M. Smith of Quincy and Charles A. Smith, Jr. and his wife Nancy of Rockland. Devoted grandmother of Daniel C. Smith of Brookline and Brian R. Smith of South Boston. Daughter of the late Allan MacDonald and Margaret (MacPherson) MacDonald. Sister of Allan RJ MacDonald of North Attleboro and his late wife Marilyn, the late Catherine 'Kay' MacDonald, the late Phyllis Downey and her late husband James. She is also survived by many loving nieces and nephews.

Funeral arrangements were made by Keohane Funeral Home, 785 Hancock St., Quincy.

Interment at Massachusetts National Cemetery, Bourne.

Memorial donations may be made to the Alzheimer's Association, Mass. Chapter, 480 Pleasant St., Watertown, MA 02472.

Italo J. Mannai, 84

A funeral Mass for Italo J. "Sid" Mannai, 84, of Pembroke for 45 years, formerly of Quincy, was celebrated Feb. 6 in St. John the Baptist Church, Quincy.

Mr. Mannai died Feb. 1 surrounded by his loving family.

He graduated from Quincy High School in 1949 and went to work with his father at Fred V. Mannai and Son Painting until 1969. Then he went to work for the Quincy Housing Authority as a supervisor before retiring after 34 years in 2002. After retiring he worked for more than 12 years as a funeral assistant for C.C. Shepherd Funeral Home. He was a member of the Painters and Allied Trades Union #939 for more than 50 years and was in the Naval Reserves. When younger he worked many years at Olindy's Bowling Alley in Quincy.

ITALO J. MANNAI

He enjoyed his local sports teams especially the Boston Red Sox, the New England Patriots, and the B.C. Eagles. Mr. Mannai was a true family man who loved his family. His grandchildren were the "stars in the sky" to him. He will be truly missed by all the people who knew him.

Loving husband for 54 years of Carolyn A. (Burgess) Mannai and the devoted father of David J. Mannai of NH, Laurie E. (Mannai) Slinger and her husband Frederick of Rockland and Steven A. Mannai and his wife Missy of Marshfield. Loving grandfather of Samuel and Hannah Mannai, Allison and Carlie Mannai, and Seamus Slinger. He was also the father-in-law of Jessica Mannai of NH. Son of the late Frederick V. and Eva (Pestilli) Mannai and brother of the late Anthony, Renato, and Nedo Mannai.

Funeral arrangements were made by C. C. Shepherd Funeral Home, Weymouth.

Private interment at a later date.

Memorial donations may be made to the Wounded Warrior Project, PO Box 758517, Topeka, KS 66675.

Pearl G. Hickey, 83

A funeral Mass for Pearl G. (DiTocco) Hickey, 83, of Quincy and Humarock will be celebrated today (Thursday) at 10 a.m. in St. John the Baptist Church, Quincy.

Mrs. Hickey died peacefully Feb. 5 at Beth Israel Deaconess Medical Center in Boston, surrounded by her loving family.

She was born, raised and educated in Quincy and graduated from Quincy High School. Mrs. Hickey was a lifelong Quincy resident. She was employed in marketing distribution at various local supermarkets for many years.

She was a longtime active parishioner at Saint John the Baptist Parish in Quincy. Mrs. Hickey was devoted to her family and especially cherished spending time together.

Beloved wife of the late Robert J. "Bob" Hickey, Quincy Police Department,

PEARL G. HICKEY

Retired. Devoted mother of Robert J. Hickey, Jr. of FL, Stephen M. Hickey of Quincy, Doreen M. Raftery and her husband Steven of Walpole and Brian J. Hickey and his wife Karen of Quincy. Loving grandmother of Courtney, Taylor, Brendan, Kyle, Grace, Robert and Nora.

Dear sister of Joan Flaherty of Randolph and her late husband Henry, Anthony DiTocco, Jr. and his wife Marion of FL, Betty Tempesta and her husband Al of Weymouth, Judy Bellissimo of FL and her late husband William, the late Eleanor Bylaska and her husband Robert of Cape Cod, the late John DiTocco and his wife Grace of Rockland, and predeceased by Lillian Cantrell and her husband Earl, William DiTocco and his wife Clara, Virginia Giachetti and her husband Joe, Robert DiTocco and his wife Anne. She is also survived by many nieces and nephews.

Visiting hours were 4-8 p.m. yesterday (Wednesday) in Sweeney Brothers Home for Funerals, 1 Independence Ave., Quincy. Funeral from the funeral home at 9 a.m. today, prior to the Mass.

Interment at Blue Hill Cemetery, Braintree.

Memorial donations may be made to the National Kidney Foundation, 85 Astor Ave., #2, Norwood, MA 02062.

LEGAL NOTICE

CITATION ON PETITION FOR ORDER OF COMPLETE SETTLEMENT OF ESTATE
Docket No. NO13P0870EA
Commonwealth of Massachusetts
The Trial Court
Probate and Family Court
Norfolk Probate and Family Court
35 Shawmut Road
Canton, MA 02021
(781) 830-1200
Estate of:
Antoinette Marie Paglierani
Date of Death:
January 16, 2013

To all interested persons:

A Petition has been filed by: Steven J. Paglierani of Marston Mills, MA requesting that an Order of Complete Settlement of the estate issue including to compel an accounting, approve an accounting, determine testacy, determine heirs, compel or approve a distribution and other such relief as may be requested in the Petition.

You have the right to obtain a copy of the Petition from the Petitioner or at the Court. You have a right to object to this proceeding. To do so, you or your attorney must file a written appearance and objection at this Court before: 10:00 A.M. on 03/04/2015. This is NOT a hearing date, but a deadline by which you must file a written appearance and objection if you object to this proceeding. If you fail to file a timely written appearance and objection followed by an Affidavit of Objections within thirty (30) days of the return date, action may be taken without further notice to you.

WITNESS, Hon. John D. Casey, First Justice of this Court.

Date: January 30, 2015
PATRICK W. McDERMOTT
Register of Probate

2/12/15

LEGAL NOTICE

INFORMAL PROBATE PUBLICATION NOTICE
Docket No. NO14P3314EA
Commonwealth of Massachusetts
The Trial Court
Probate and Family Court
Norfolk Division
35 Shawmut Road
Canton, MA 02021
(781) 830-1200
Estate of:
Ann Elizabeth Higgins
Date of Death:
November 18, 2014

To all persons interested in the above captioned estate, by Petition of:

Petitioner Karen T. Watson of Braintree, MA.

Karen T. Watson of Braintree, MA Susan H. Sylvester of West Roxbury, MA have been informally appointed as the Personal Representatives of the estate to serve without surety on the bond.

The estate is being administered under informal procedure by the Personal Representatives under the Massachusetts Uniform Probate Code without supervision by the Court. Inventory and accounts are not required to be filed with the Court, but interested parties are entitled to notice regarding the administration from the Personal Representatives and can petition the Court in any matter relating to the estate, including distribution of assets and expenses of administration. Interested parties are entitled to petition the Court to institute formal proceedings and to obtain orders terminating or restricting the powers of Personal Representatives appointed under informal procedure. A copy of the Petition and Will, if any, can be obtained from the Petitioner.

2/12/15

LEGAL NOTICE

DIVORCE SUMMONS BY PUBLICATION AND MAILING
Docket No. NO14D1796DR
Commonwealth of Massachusetts
The Trial Court
Probate and Family Court
Norfolk Probate and Family Court
35 Shawmut Road
Canton, MA 02021
(781) 830-1200
Victoria Rebeja vs. Corey A. Martin

To the Defendant:

The Plaintiff has filed a Complaint for Divorce requesting that the Court grant a divorce for irretrievable breakdown. The Complaint is on file at the Court.

An Automatic Restraining Order has been entered in this matter preventing you from taking any action which would negatively impact the current financial status of either party. SEE Supplemental Probate Court Rule 411.

You are hereby summoned and required to serve upon: Emmanuel V. Meimaris, Esq., Law Office of Emmanuel V. Meimaris, 355 Providence Hwy., Westwood, MA 02090 your answer, if any, on or before 04/30/2015. If you fail to do so, the court will proceed to the hearing and adjudication of this action. You are also required to file a copy of your answer, if any, in the office of the Register of this Court.

WITNESS, Hon. John D. Casey, First Justice of this Court.

Date: January 30, 2015
PATRICK W. McDERMOTT
Register of Probate

2/12/15

QUINCY FIREFIGHTERS recently participated in an ice training exercise at three city locations: St. Moritz Pond in West Quincy, Sailors Home Pond in Wollaston and the Public Landing in Houghs Neck.
Photos Courtesy Quincy Fire Department

Quincy Fire Dept. Ready For Ice Rescue Emergencies

Safety Tips: Stay Off The Ice, Keep Dog Leashed, Call 911 And Don't Attempt Rescue

By MIKE SLADE
Fire Prevention Officer
Quincy Fire Department

Two weeks ago, Hanover firefighters rescued a man who fell through the ice while playing hockey on a pond.

With the recent blast of cold weather, the Quincy Fire Department has begun its annual ice rescue training. Quincy Fire conducts ice rescue training every year in order to reacquaint responders with the ice rescue equipment, as well as potential ice rescue areas throughout the city of Quincy.

Ice rescue training was recently conducted strategically at three different areas of the city. These areas were St. Moritz Pond in West Quincy, Sailors Home Pond in Wollaston, and the Public Landing in Houghs Neck.

St. Moritz Pond

St Moritz Pond is located in the Quincy section of the Blue Hills Reservation. From the years of 1929 to 1937, this pond was the home to the St. Moritz Winter Carnival and would attract at its height over 50,000 people to the event that lasted over three days. To this day, it remains an attraction for skating and fishing.

However, although the ice may seem safe, there are factors that can cause this pond to be unsafe, including the heavy vegetation below the ice, which can cause inconsistencies in the thickness of the ice. Other factors that affect the ice include temperature and snow cover.

Last week, seven firefighters attached to Engine 5 and Ladder 1 executed a live ice rescue training exercise at St. Moritz Pond. The training was led by Lt. Keith Lentini and Senior Firefighter Chris Barry. The exercise included numerous ice rescue scenarios in which firefighters may encounter in actual ice rescue emergencies.

Sailor's Home Pond

Sailor's Home Pond is located on Rice Road in the Wollaston section of Quincy. Sailor's Home Pond is a popular spot to ice skate, therefore it poses a serious risk to people of falling thru the ice. Last week, six firefighters attached to Engine 4 and Ladder 2 executed an ice rescue exercise at Sailors Home Pond. The training exercise was led by Captain James Kennedy and Senior Firefighter Steven Sweet. Sailor's Home Pond also has factors which can cause it to be unsafe, including the vegetation below the ice. Heavy vegetation below the ice can cause inconsistencies in the thickness of the ice. Other factors that affect the ice include temperature and snow cover.

Houghs Neck Public Landing

Houghs Neck Public Landing is a very popular area for boaters, swimmers, and people who simply enjoy walking along the water. Sea ice has now formed along the Quincy coast.

Sea ice forms differently from that of fresh water ice. With fresh water, cold low-density water stays at the surface of lakes and ponds, forming an ice layer on the top. An example of this can be performed simply by dropping an ice cube into a glass of water, taking notice of how it floats to the top. Salt in ocean water causes the density of the water to increase as it nears the freezing point, and very cold ocean water tends to sink.

Sea ice forms slowly, compared to freshwater ice. This is because salt water sinks away from the cold surface before it cools enough to freeze. Saltwater ice rescues poses different challenges than freshwater ice rescues, including challenging wind conditions, water current conditions, and uneven ice conditions.

Last week, six firefighters attached to Engine 6 and Engine 8 executed a live ice rescue exercise at the Houghs Neck Public Landing. The training exercise was led by Captain Cosgrove of Engine 8, and Lt. Kocerha of Engine 6. The exercise included numerous ice rescue scenarios in which Firefighters may encounter in actual ice rescue emergencies.

What You Can Do To Not Fall Thru Ice

The Quincy Fire Department is well trained and prepared to rescue any victim that may fall thru the ice. However, we would like to avoid any potential ice rescue emergencies by providing the following tips:

1.) Stay off of the ice. Quincy Fire asks Quincy residents to keep in mind that ponds and ocean ice is unstable and unsafe.

If you wish to ice skate or play ice hockey, please utilize the safer Quincy resources like the Quincy Youth Hockey Arena or the Quincy Shea Rink.

If you still choose to go out onto frozen ponds, check the thickness once you get there. Ice needs to be a minimum of four inches thick to walk on. Ice rarely is the same thickness over the entire body of water. Make sure to check the ice every 100 feet to check for ice thickness consistency. A cordless drill and a tape measure is the easiest way to measure the thickness of the ice. Using a cordless drill and a long, five-eighths inch wood auger bit, drill a hole and measure the ice thickness with a tape measure. Again, Quincy Fire strongly advises to stay off the ice.

2.) Keep your dogs leashed. It is the law to keep dogs leashed in Quincy. If your dog happens to wonder on the ice, please do not attempt to retrieve the dog by going onto the ice. Call 911 immediately and utilize the skills of Quincy Firefighters to retrieve your dog for you.

3.) Call 911 and do not attempt a rescue. If you are with someone who falls thru the ice, do not attempt a rescue. By attempting a rescue, you may become a victim as well. Call 911 immediately. The Quincy Fire Department has a response time that is less than three minutes.

The Quincy Fire Department trains aggressively and responds daily to protect the citizens of Quincy 24 hours a day, 7 days a week, and 365 days of the year. If you should have any questions whatsoever, please do not hesitate to call the Fire Prevention Bureau at 617-376-1015.

CLASSIFIEDS

NOTICE OF PUBLIC HEARING

NOTICE OF PUBLIC HEARING
City of Quincy
ZONING BOARD OF APPEALS
CASE NO. 15-004

Pursuant to the provisions of TITLE 17 of the QUINCY MUNICIPAL CODE as amended, the Quincy Zoning Board of Appeals will hold an Open Public Hearing on Tuesday, February 24, 2015 at 7:15 pm on the Second Floor in the Council Chambers, Quincy City Hall, 1305 Hancock Street, Quincy, MA 02169. On the application of Hoan Le for a Finding to construct a second level on the existing footprint in violation of Title 17 as amended Chapter 3.4.3 (nonconforming) on the premises numbered 26 BARHAM AVENUE, QUINCY.

Plans and Specifications are on file at the Inspectional Service Department located at 55 Sea Street, Quincy, MA 02169 and may be reviewed during regular business hours.

Martin Aikens, Chairman

2/5/15, 2/12/15

NOTICE OF PUBLIC HEARING

NOTICE OF PUBLIC HEARING
City of Quincy
ZONING BOARD OF APPEALS
CASE NO. 15-005

Pursuant to the provisions of TITLE 17 of the QUINCY MUNICIPAL CODE as amended, the Quincy Zoning Board of Appeals will hold an Open Public Hearing on Tuesday, February 24, 2015 at 7:15 pm on the Second Floor in the Council Chambers, Quincy City Hall, 1305 Hancock Street, Quincy, MA 02169, on the application of Flagship Marina Bay LLC for a Flood Plain Special Permit, a dimensional Variance and Finding to construct a new one-story, 4,992 square foot boat service building in the Business C zoning district and Flood Plain overlay district in violation of Title 17, Section 4.1 (dimensional regulations) and 8.1 (flood plain).

The parcel of land is a portion of the boat storage lot located at 333 Victory Road and is shown as Lots 53 and 57 on Assessors' plan no. 6076 and also shown as Lot 53 on Land Court Plan 27744-T.

Plans and Specifications are on file at the Inspectional Service Department located at 55 Sea Street, Quincy, MA 02169 and may be reviewed during regular business hours.

Martin Aikens, Chairman

2/5/15, 2/12/15

NOTICE OF PUBLIC HEARING

NOTICE OF PUBLIC HEARING
City of Quincy
ZONING BOARD OF APPEALS
CASE NO. 15-006

Pursuant to the provisions of TITLE 17 of the QUINCY MUNICIPAL CODE as amended, the Quincy Zoning Board of Appeals will hold an Open Public Hearing on Tuesday, February 24, 2015 at 7:15 pm on the Second Floor in the Council Chambers, Quincy City Hall, 1305 Hancock Street, Quincy, MA 02169. On the application of Anthony Maggiore for a Special Permit/Flood Plain/Finding to remove the existing one story garage and replace it with a two story garage with a master bedroom and bathroom above in violation of Title 17 as amended Chapter 3.4.3 (nonconforming) and Chapter 8.1.9 (special permit flood plain) on the premises numbered 55 GEORGE ROAD, QUINCY.

Plans and Specifications are on file at the Inspectional Service Department located at 55 Sea Street, Quincy, MA 02169 and may be reviewed during regular business hours.

Martin Aikens, Chairman

2/5/15, 2/12/15

NOTICE OF PUBLIC HEARING

NOTICE OF PUBLIC HEARING
City of Quincy
ZONING BOARD OF APPEALS
CASE NO. 15-007

Pursuant to the provisions of TITLE 17 of the QUINCY MUNICIPAL CODE as amended, the Quincy Zoning Board of Appeals will hold an Open Public Hearing on Tuesday, February 24, 2015 at 7:15 pm on the Second Floor in the Council Chambers, Quincy City Hall, 1305 Hancock Street, Quincy, MA 02169. On the application of John J. Flatley, Trustee of Crown Colony Drive for a Variance to permit the construction of a 492 unit residential building within an Industrial B Zoning District in violation of Title 17 as amended Chapter 4.0 (dimensional requirements) and Chapter 3.0 (use regulations) on the premises numbered 600R CROWN COLONY DRIVE, QUINCY.

Plans and Specifications are on file at the Inspectional Service Department located at 55 Sea Street, Quincy, MA 02169 and may be reviewed during regular business hours.

Martin Aikens, Chairman

2/5/15, 2/12/15

TUTORS WANTED TUTORS WANTED

After School Tutors/Teachers (North Quincy) Immediate opening

Local program seeking a part-time person afternoons to help school-age children in a classroom setting with grammar, math and homework in our afternoon classes in Quincy.

- Must be high school graduate. Prefer someone to work 18-20 hours per week, 2:30-6 pm MWThF and 12-6 pm Tuesdays. Would consider fewer hours.
- Some experience with school age children required; experience with foreign language students is helpful. Pay from $10 to $12 per hour depending on schedule and background.
- Typical applicants might be college students, retired teachers, etc., but we are open to any responsible, caring adults who love children. Located near subway.
- All applicants must undergo a background check and meet other requirements.

Please email a resume with specifics about your background and local contact information to: ivyschoolquincy@gmail.com

2/12

PERSONAL

Joe in Texas
Happy Valentines Day
Your Friends in Quincy
2/12

Happy Valentines Day
I Love You
Mommy Fluffy
2/12

THANK YOU
ST. JUDE
FOR PRAYERS ANSWERED
K.M.
2/12

LEGAL NOTICE

INFORMAL PROBATE PUBLICATION NOTICE
Docket No: NO14P3316EA
Commonwealth of Massachusetts
The Trial Court
Probate and Family Court
Norfolk Division
35 Shawmut Road
Canton, MA 02021
(781) 830-1200
Estate of:
Jean M O'Hara
Date of Death:
July 22, 2014

To all persons interested in the above captioned estate, by Petition of

Petitioner Daniel E O'Hara of Weymouth, MA a Will has been admitted to informal probate. Daniel E O'Hara of Weymouth, MA has been informally appointed as the Personal Representative of the estate to serve Without Surety on the bond.

The estate is being administered under informal procedure by the Personal Representative under the Massachuetts Uniform Probate Code without supervision by the Court. Inventory and accounts are not required to be filed with the Court, but interested parties are entitled to notice regarding the administration from the Personal Representative and can petition the Court in any matter relating to the estate, including distribution of assets and expenses of administration. Interested parties are entitled to petition the Court to institute formal proceedings and to obtain orders terminating or restricting the powers of Personal Representatives appointed under informal procedure. A copy of the Petition and Will, if any, can be obtained from the Petitioner.

2/12/15

The Quincy Sun CLASSIFIED AD FORM

MAIL TO: THE QUINCY SUN, 1372 HANCOCK STREET, QUINCY, MA 02169

PAYABLE IN ADVANCE. Payment must accompany order.

RATES

1 WEEK ❑ $9.00 for one insertion, up to 20 words, 10¢ for each additional word.

2-4 WEEKS ❑ $8.00 per insertion up to 20 words for 2-4 insertions of the same ad, 10¢ each additional word.

5-10 WEEKS ❑ $7.50 per insertion, up to 20 words, for 5-10 insertions of the same ad 10¢ for each additional word.

11 WEEKS OR MORE ❑ $7.00 per insertion, up to 20 words, for 11 or more insertions of the same ad 10¢ for each additional word.

INDEX
- ❑ Services
- ❑ For Sale
- ❑ Autos
- ❑ Boats
- ❑ For Rent
- ❑ Wanted
- ❑ Help Wanted
- ❑ Work Wanted
- ❑ Pets
- ❑ Lost & Found
- ❑ Real Estate
- ❑ Antiques
- ❑ Flea Markets
- ❑ Yard Sales
- ❑ Instruction
- ❑ Day Care
- ❑ Personal
- ❑ Miscellaneous

❑ Enclosed is $ _____ for the following ad to run _____ weeks in The Quincy Sun.

COPY: _____

NO REFUND WILL BE MADE AT THIS CONTRACT RATE IN THE EVENT OF CANCELLATION. DEADLINE: FRIDAY AT 4PM. PLEASE INCLUDE YOUR PHONE NUMBER IN AD.

NOTICE OF PUBLIC HEARING

NOTICE OF PUBLIC HEARING
City of Quincy
ZONING BOARD OF APPEALS
CASE NO. 15-008

Pursuant to the provisions of TITLE 17 of the QUINCY MUNICIPAL CODE as amended, the Quincy Zoning Board of Appeals will hold an Open Public Hearing on Tuesday, February 24, 2015 at 7:15 pm on the Second Floor in the Council Chambers, Quincy City Hall, 1305 Hancock Street, Quincy, MA 02169. On the application of Michelle & Joe Keegan for a Variance to enclose the front porch in violation of Title 17 as amended Chapter 4.0 (dimensional requirements) on the premises numbered 21 MORELAND ROAD, QUINCY.

Plans and Specifications are on file at the Inspectional Service Department located at 55 Sea Street, Quincy, MA 02169 and may be reviewed during regular business hours.

Martin Aikens, Chairman

2/5/15, 2/12/15

NOTICE OF PUBLIC HEARING

NOTICE OF PUBLIC HEARING
City of Quincy
ZONING BOARD OF APPEALS
CASE NO. 15-009

Pursuant to the provisions of TITLE 17 of the QUINCY MUNICIPAL CODE as amended, the Quincy Zoning Board of Appeals will hold an Open Public Hearing on Tuesday, February 24, 2015 at 7:15 pm on the Second Floor in the Council Chambers, Quincy City Hall, 1305 Hancock Street, Quincy, MA 02169. On the application of Chris Costello & Christine Duffy for a Finding to extend the existing front porch to the right side of the property in violation of Title 17 as amended Chapter 3.4.3 (nonconforming) on the premises numbered 48 ABERDEEN ROAD, QUINCY.

Plans and Specifications are on file at the Inspectional Service Department located at 55 Sea Street, Quincy, MA 02169 and may be reviewed during regular business hours.

Martin Aikens, Chairman

2/5/15, 2/12/15

We need you.

WE'RE FIGHTING FOR YOUR LIFE

American Heart Association

MISCELLANEOUS

LAND FOR SALE
UPSTATE NEW YORK LAND BARGAINS Acreage, ponds and streams 42 acres w/pond, borders stateland-$59,995. 86 acres w/ road and utilities, pond , borders stateland-$89,995. 6acres w/deer river, borders stateland -$19,995. 138 acres w/small lake-$89,900. Financing available. Call now. 800-229-7843 Or visit www.LandandCamps.com

CLASSIFIEDS

LEGAL NOTICE

INFORMAL PROBATE PUBLICATION NOTICE
Docket No: NO14P2945EA
Commonwealth of Massachusetts
The Trial Court
Probate and Family Court
Norfolk Division
35 Shawmut Road
Canton, MA 02021
(781) 830-1200
Estate of:
Theresa C Philbrick
Date of Death:
August 8, 2014

To all persons interested in the above captioned estate, by Petition of

Petitioner Katherine Callahan of Braintree, MA a Will has been admitted to informal probate. Katherine Callahan of Braintree, MA has been informally appointed as the Personal Representative of the estate to serve Without Surety on the bond.

The estate is being administered under informal procedure by the Personal Representative under the Massachuetts Uniform Probate Code without supervision by the Court. Inventory and accounts are not required to be filed with the Court, but interested parties are entitled to notice regarding the administration from the Personal Representative and can petition the Court in any matter relating to the estate, including distribution of assets and expenses of administration. Interested parties are entitled to petition the Court to institute formal proceedings and to obtain orders terminating or restricting the powers of Personal Representatives appointed under informal procedure. A copy of the Petition and Will, if any, can be obtained from the Petitioner.
2/12/15

LEGAL NOTICE

DIVORCE SUMMONS BY PUBLICATION AND MAILING
Docket No. NO14D1689DR
Commonwealth of Massachusetts
The Trial Court
Probate and Family Court
Norfolk Probate and Family Court
35 Shawmut Road
Canton, MA 02021
Christine G Pham
vs.
Nghia T Le
To the Defendant:

The Plaintiff has filed a Complaint for Divorce requesting that the Court grant a divorce for desertion. The Complaint is on file at the Court.

An Automatic Restraining Order has been entered in this matter preventing you from taking any action which would negatively impact the current financial status of either party. SEE Supplemental Probate Court Rule 411.

You are hereby summoned and required to serve upon Nnena E.J. Odim, Esq. WilmerHale Legal Services Center 122 Boylston Street Jamaica Plain, MA 02130 your answer, if any, on or before 04/30/2015. If you fail to do so, the court will proceed to the hearing and adjudication of this action. You are also required to file a copy of your answer, if any, in the office of the Register of this Court.

WITNESS,
Hon. John D Casey,
First Justice of this Court
Date: February 5, 2015
PATRICK W MCDERMOTT
Register of Probate

2/12/15

FOR SALE

"LADIES" Snow Blower TORO Power Shovel, good in 6-10" of snow Electric, gently used Mary 617-770-0140
2/12

BALLET ACADEMY

INTERNATIONAL BALLET ACADEMY OF NORWELL, INC.
34 ACCORD PARK DRIVE
NORWELL, MA 02061
339-788-9670 • 617-481-5673
www.ibanorwell.org
2/12

HALLS FOR RENT

MORRISETTE LEGION POST
81-83 Liberty St., Quincy
Function Hall Available
Call for Details* 617-770-4876
Internet Capable • Weddings • Showers • Christenings • Meetings After Funeral Gatherings TF

WANTED

OLD HAND TOOLS & BOOKS WANTED
Planes, chisels, adzes, shaves, machinist, and sheetmetal tools, calipers, clamps, anvils, vises.
USEFUL TOOLS, ALL TRADES.
New England history books
Collections: old postcards, toys, military, fishing & old auto items
LIBERTY TOOL CO.
888-405-2007
Davistownmuseum.org
www.jonesport-wood.com TF

SERVICES

- Plumbing Repairs
- Gas Fitting
- Drain Cleaning
- Water Heaters
- Appliances Installed
- Great with Old Plumbing

"We charge by the job, not the hour. No surprises!"
Mon - Sat 7am - 4pm
Visa • MC • Debit Card
Call George at
Geo's Plumbing
617-224-8014
Master Plumber #12054 4/16

MISCELLANEOUS

MISCELLANEOUS
SAWMILLS from only $4397.00-MAKE & SAVE MONEY with your own band-mill-Cut lumber any dimension. In stock ready to ship. FREE Info/DVD: www.NorwoodSawmills.com 1-800-578-1363 Ext.300N

BUSINESS OPPORTUNITY
ATTN: COMPUTER WORK. Work from anywhere 24/7. Up to $1,500 Part Time to $7,500/mo. Full Time. Training provided. www.WorkServices9.com

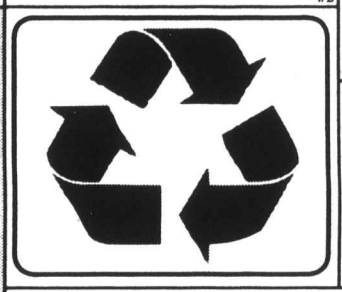
REPORT POTHOLES
Potholes are a year-round problem and should be reported to the Department of Public Works.
617-376-1914

SERVICES

POWER PLUMBING
Plumbing, Heating, Gas Fitting
Repairs • New Installations
Dave 617-328-3007
Emergencies
617-792-4054
Master Lic # 13749 TF

FOR HIRE
Garages, Decks Taken Away, Rubbish Piles Removed, Moorings Moved
OR ME WITH DUMP & LIFTGATE
$60/HR.
(617)479-5410
"Your Trash is my Ca$h"
3/19

Reliable House Cleaning
KITCHEN, LIVING ROOM, DINING ROOM, BEDROOMS, BATHROOMS, HALLWAYS
Maisa 617-259-4841 4/2



SERVICES

SAVE Budget Fuel
Fuel Assistance
Senior Discount
Full Service
617-328-4063 TF

100% FREE Removal
of Appliances & all types of metal
Commercial & Residential
Junk Removed
Garages · Basements · Attic
Call John anytime 617-653-6255 5/14

J.F. ROOFING CO.
QUINCY, MA
·Shingles
·Rubber
·Slate
·Copper
·Vinyl Replacement Windows
·Snow Removal
(617)471-8216 2/19

THOMAS C. SWEENEY
Smaller Jobs a Specialty
51 Years Experience
Carpentry, Siding, Painting, Porches
Viny/Windows, Doors
Roofing, Decking, Steps
License #1373 Free Estimates
Reliable 617-825-1210 References 4/16

SERVICES

HTA
Hancock T.V. & Appliance
Sales, Service, Parts & Installation
Since 1945
(617) 472-1710
115 Franklin Street, Quincy, MA
hancocktvandappliance.com

S.G. HAROLD
PLUMBING, HEATING & AC
Specializing in Viessman Boiler
Unico Air Conditioning
Home heating repairs & service
Radiant Floor heating
QUINCY
617-471-0914
Unprecedented Service Tailored to You
MA Lic. #10589 TF

PAINTING BY PROFESSIONAL
Interior & Exterior
Powerwashing & Carpentry
All Types of House Repairs
Reasonable Price
Small Jobs Welcome TF
Leave Message 617-773-4761

NORTHEAST COMMUNITY BANK
AMY J. HUBER
BRANCH MANAGER
281 QUINCY AVE
QUINCY, MA 02169
DIRECT: (617)689-8826
ahuber@necb.com 2/12

Want to pick up a copy of The Quincy Sun?
Here are stores in Quincy that sell it on their newsstands:

QUINCY MARKET
Corner of Temple & Washington St.

GOODIE'S STORE
1250 Hancock St., Presidents Place

NEW STORE ON THE BLOCK
1183 Hancock St., Quincy Ctr. T Station

HANCOCK TOBACCO
1500 Hancock St.

MIGNOSA'S FRUIT BASKET
138 Granite St.

RITE-AID
132 Granite St.

COFFEE BREAK CAFÉ
77 Parkingway

HANCOCK PARK LOBBY SHOP
164 Parkingway

FRANKLIN ST. BP
60 Franklin St.

7-11
78 Franklin St.

CVS
178 Washington St.
Braintree

SHOP N SAVE LIQUORS
20 Independence Ave.

DONUT + DONUTS
33 Scammell St.

PRESIDENTIAL LIQUORS
Scammel St.

TEDESCHI'S
85 Quincy Ave.

DAILY MART
291 Quincy Ave.

ROCHE BROTHERS
The Falls

WALGREENS
418 Quincy Ave.

ARTERY GROCERY
1000 Southern Artery

DAIRY FARM
330 Washington St.

TEDESCHI'S
230 Washington St.

STOP & SHOP
Southern Artery

CVS
Southern Artery

BAXTER'S PHARMACY
385 Washington St.

WALGREENS
550 Adams St.

TEDESCHI'S
650 Adams St.

7-11
Adams St.

VILLAGE COMM. MARKET
100 Willard St.

COPELAND LIQUORS
273 Copeland St.

GRANITE MART
308 Willard St.

7-11
Copeland St.

JOE'S PLACE
260 Centre St.

ALBA DELI
1089 Hancock St.

CORNER FOOD MARKET
1060 Hancock St.

DAIRY MART
200 Sea St.

ADAMS SHORE SUPERMARKET
494 Sea St.

PALMER STREET MARKET
231 Palmer St.

BERNIE'S GENERAL STORE
1147 Sea St.

7-11
721 Hancock St.

BEALE ST. SMOKE SHOP
17 Beale St.

CVS
42 Beale St.

COFFEE BREAK CAFÉ
12 Old Colony Ave.

SUPREME LIQUORS
615 Hancock St.

S & A CONVENIENCE STORE
498 Hancock St.

HANNAFORD BROTHERS
475 Hancock St.

MULLANEY'S VARIETY
205 W. Squantum St.

STOP & SHOP
65 Newport Ave.

7-11
363 Hancock St.

RED APPLE FOOD SHOP
48 Billings Rd.

SAM'S VARIETY
125 Billings Rd.

DAVE'S GENERAL STORE
66 Newbury Ave.

ATLANTIC MARKET & LIQUORS
247 Atlantic Ave.

CARMINE'S CAFÉ
69 Huckins Ave.

TEDESCHI'S
751 E. Squantum St.

W. ELM VARIETY
139 West Elm Ave.

LUCKY SHAMROCK
265 Beale St.

ANDRE'S STORE
20 Brook St.

The Quincy Sun

CLASSIFIED AD FORM

MAIL TO: THE QUINCY SUN, 1372 HANCOCK STREET, QUINCY, MA 02169
PAYABLE IN ADVANCE. Payment must accompany order.

RATES

1 WEEK ❑ $9.00 for one insertion, up to 20 words, 10¢ for each additional word.

2-4 WEEKS ❑ $8.00 per insertion up to 20 words for 2-4 insertions of the same ad, 10¢ each additional word.

5-10 WEEKS ❑ $7.50 per insertion, up to 20 words, for 5-10 insertions of the same ad 10¢ for each additional word.

11 WEEKS OR MORE ❑ $7.00 per insertion, up to 20 words, for 11 or more insertions of the same ad 10¢ for each additional word.

INDEX
- ❑ Services
- ❑ For Sale
- ❑ Autos
- ❑ Boats
- ❑ For Rent
- ❑ Wanted
- ❑ Help Wanted
- ❑ Work Wanted
- ❑ Pets
- ❑ Lost & Found
- ❑ Real Estate
- ❑ Antiques
- ❑ Flea Markets
- ❑ Yard Sales
- ❑ Instruction
- ❑ Day Care
- ❑ Personal
- ❑ Miscellaneous

NO REFUND WILL BE MADE AT THIS CONTRACT RATE IN THE EVENT OF CANCELLATION. DEADLINE: FRIDAY AT 4PM. PLEASE INCLUDE YOUR PHONE NUMBER IN AD.

❑ Enclosed is $ _____ for the following ad to run _____ weeks in The Quincy Sun.

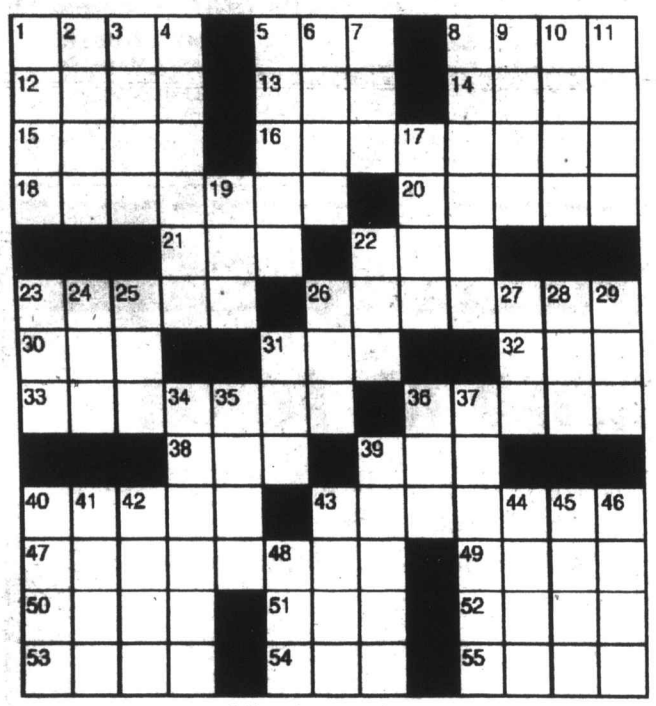
COPY: _____

SUN FUN PAGE

King Crossword

ACROSS
1 "Mona —"
5 Line
8 Denomination
12 List-ending abbr.
13 I love, to Caesar
14 Lotion additive
15 Beige
16 City in Japan
18 Bottle in a salon
20 Discussion group
21 Diarist Anais
22 Scull need
23 Edgar who painted ballerinas
26 Nassau's nation
30 Raw rock
31 Cudgel
32 Portion of N.A.
33 Pet rodent, often
36 Potentially will
38 Joker
39 Dine
40 First-stringers
43 "The Pelican Brief" author
47 Winner
49 Facility
50 Rainout cover
51 Sapporo sash
52 Legal claim
53 Transgressions
54 Work with
55 Herr's wife

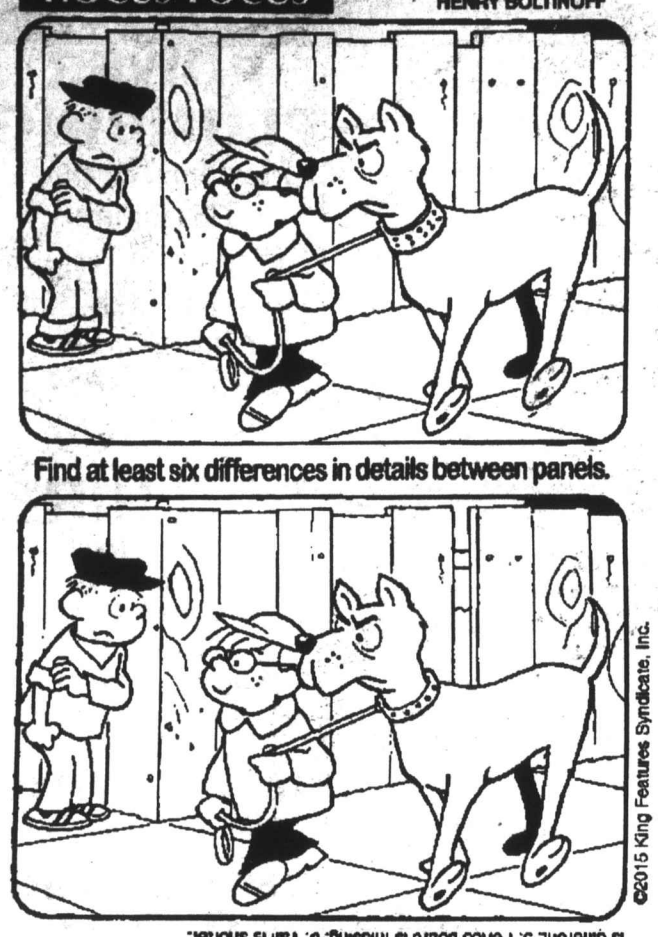
DOWN
1 Dregs
2 Need to scratch
3 Gilbert of "The Talk"
4 Wellesley grad
5 Silky material
6 Melville novel
7 Stir-fry pan
8 Vast sandy expanse
9 Verve
10 Show up
11 Blue shade
17 Colorful fish
19 Greek consonants
22 Feedbag morsel
23 Homer's interjection
24 Historic period
25 Jewel
26 Prohibit
27 Oktoberfest souvenir
28 Fire residue
29 Perched
31 Plead
34 Marshy tracts
35 Pack down
36 — tai (cocktail)
37 "... is fear —"
39 "Sesame Street" Muppet
40 Performances
41 Siamese
42 Deserve
43 Sailors
44 Locks
45 Cruising
46 Carte
48 Chit



© 2015 King Features Synd., Inc.

HOCUS-FOCUS

BY HENRY BOLTINOFF



Find at least six differences in details between panels.

©2015 King Features Syndicate, Inc.

Differences: 1. Cap is reversed. 2. Cuffs are missing. 3. Leash is shorter. 4. Collar is different. 5. Fence board is missing. 6. Tail is shorter.

New! 24 HOCUS FOCUS puzzles $3.50 • 24 Volumes • Order at: rbmamall.com

Trivia test

by Fifi Rodriguez

1. GEOGRAPHY: What city is the home of Marco Polo Airport?
2. MAGAZINES: Who was on the cover of the first Rolling Stone magazine?
3. FOOD & DRINK: What are the two ingredients in a Black Russian cocktail?
4. LANGUAGE: What does the Greek suffix "gamy" mean in English?
5. MUSIC: What are the first names of the Blues Brothers (Dan Aykroyd and John Belushi)?
6. HISTORY: In what year did test pilot Chuck Yeager break the sound barrier?
7. TELEVISION: What is the name of the dog on "Family Guy" animated series?
8. U.S. PRESIDENTS: Who was the first president to be born in a hospital?
9. SCIENCE: What would an entomologist study?
10. MOVIES: What are the names of the siblings who had acting roles in "Sixteen Candles"?

Answers
1. Venice
2. John Lennon
3. Vodka and coffee liqueur
4. Marriage
5. Jake and Elwood
6. 1947
7. Brian
8. Jimmy Carter
9. Insects
10. John and Joan Cusack

(c) 2015 King Features Synd., Inc.

Salome's Stars

ARIES (March 21 to April 19) There could be some negative reaction to your tough stance when making a recent decision. But overall, your efforts result in well-earned recognition and all that can follow from that.

TAURUS (April 20 to May 20) Your financial situation seems confusing, even for the fiscally savvy Bovine. Maybe it's the conflicting advice you're getting. Check it out before things get too tangled to unknot.

GEMINI (May 21 to June 20) A relaxed attitude goes a long way in helping you deal with any of life's irritants that might be popping up this week. You're also a reassuring role model for others in the same situation.

CANCER (June 21 to July 22) Your aspect favors creativity, which should persuade you to work on your artistic projects. If time is a problem, prioritize your commitments so that your work isn't compromised.

LEO (July 23 to August 22) Scrutinize all the job offers that interest you. Most are honest and worth considering. But a few might not be completely forthcoming about what the job is and what the salary and benefits are.

VIRGO (August 23 to September 22) An unexpected snafu could delay the completion of a project you're eager to finish. Find out what's causing it, fix it, and if you need help, don't be shy about asking for it. Good luck.

LIBRA (September 23 to October 22) An idea that could be helpful to you comes from an unlikely source. Listen to it. Discuss it. If necessary, adjust it. If it looks as if it might work out quite well, go ahead and use it.

SCORPIO (October 23 to November 21) Be careful about allowing someone to share a very personal secret with you. This could cause problems down the line with others who are involved in that person's private life.

SAGITTARIUS (November 22 to December 21) A cooling down of a relationship could be the result of neglect, unintended or not. To save it from icing over, you need to warm it up with a large dose of hot Sagittarius passion.

CAPRICORN (December 22 to January 19) This is a good time to get involved with a number of family matters that involve money and other issues that might jeopardize the closeness between and among family members.

AQUARIUS (January 20 to February 18) Cheer up. That difficult person who appears to be deliberately stalling your project might just need to be reassured of the value she or he brings to it.

PISCES (February 19 to March 20) Good news! Expect to feel re-energized now that you've gone through that stressful energy-depleting period involving a lot of changes. Now, go out there and show them what you can do.

BORN THIS WEEK: You have a warm, giving nature that inspires many to follow your example.

(c) 2015 King Features Synd., Inc.

CryptoQuip

This is a simple substitution cipher in which each letter used stands for another. If you think that X equals O, it will equal O throughout the puzzle. Solution is accomplished by trial and error.

Clue: R equals T

YVUUAYCPL C IA YAWFRGCPL RGSR JFSKKQ UFFTFY S KCRRKF HCI, QAV WCLGR YSQ CR'Y RAR-UJATAHCPL.

© 2015 King Features Synd., Inc.

MAGIC MAZE

Find the listed words in the diagram. They run in all directions forward, backward, up, down and diagonally.

Bark	Cheep	Honk	Squeal
Bleat	Cluck	Meow	Whinny
Bray	Crow	Moo	Whistle
Buzz	Gobble	Quack

K Y U Q N J F C Y V R O L H E
B Y X U R O L I E B Y V S Q N
K H N E W B Y W T R O L J G E
B Y W N H U R P N K I G D B Z
X V S Q I O M Z K I Y G E C A
Y W U S S H Q K Z P A N L J H
F E P C T C W A N U R Y X V U
S T A E L B B O G I B O Q P N
M K L A E U Q S E A O J H F E
C B K N O H C Z R M Y X V U T
R Q P W O R C K C A U Q O M L

©2015 King Features Syndicate, Inc. All rights reserved.

SOUNDS ON THE FARM

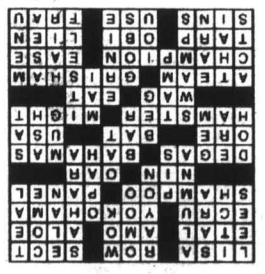
Wishing Well®

8	7	8	3	4	2	8	7	2	6	2	7	4
U	S	P	R	T	A	H	U	V	F	O	D	A
2	5	4	7	3	4	7	4	7	8	4	6	3
I	H	K	D	E	E	E	A	N	O	C	O	L
8	5	8	3	2	5	7	2	3	2	6	3	2
L	A	D	I	D	N	T	E	S	X	G	H	T
6	3	2	7	4	2	3	6	2	7	3	5	7
W	Y	R	R	T	E	O	I	M	A	U	G	N
3	6	4	7	4	5	4	2	7	2	8	6	3
R	L	I	S	O	I	N	E	F	S	T	L	S
7	3	8	3	5	3	8	5	8	5	7	5	3
E	U	H	C	N	C	E	T	T	H	R	E	E
5	6	8	3	5	8	3	6	8	6	8	6	6
R	C	R	S	E	U	S	L	T	E	H	A	R

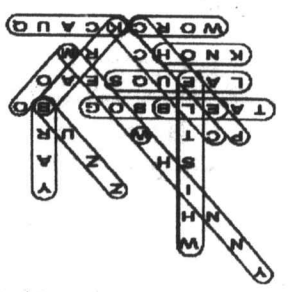
HERE IS A PLEASANT LITTLE GAME that will give you a message every day. It's a numerical puzzle designed to spell out your fortune. Count the letters in your first name. If the number of letters is 6 or more, subtract 4. If the number is less than 6, add 3. The result is your key number. Start at the upper left-hand corner and check one of your key numbers, left to right. Then read the message the letters under the checked figures give you.

©2015 King Features Syndicate, Inc. All rights reserved.

— King Crossword —
Answers
Solution time: 21 mins.

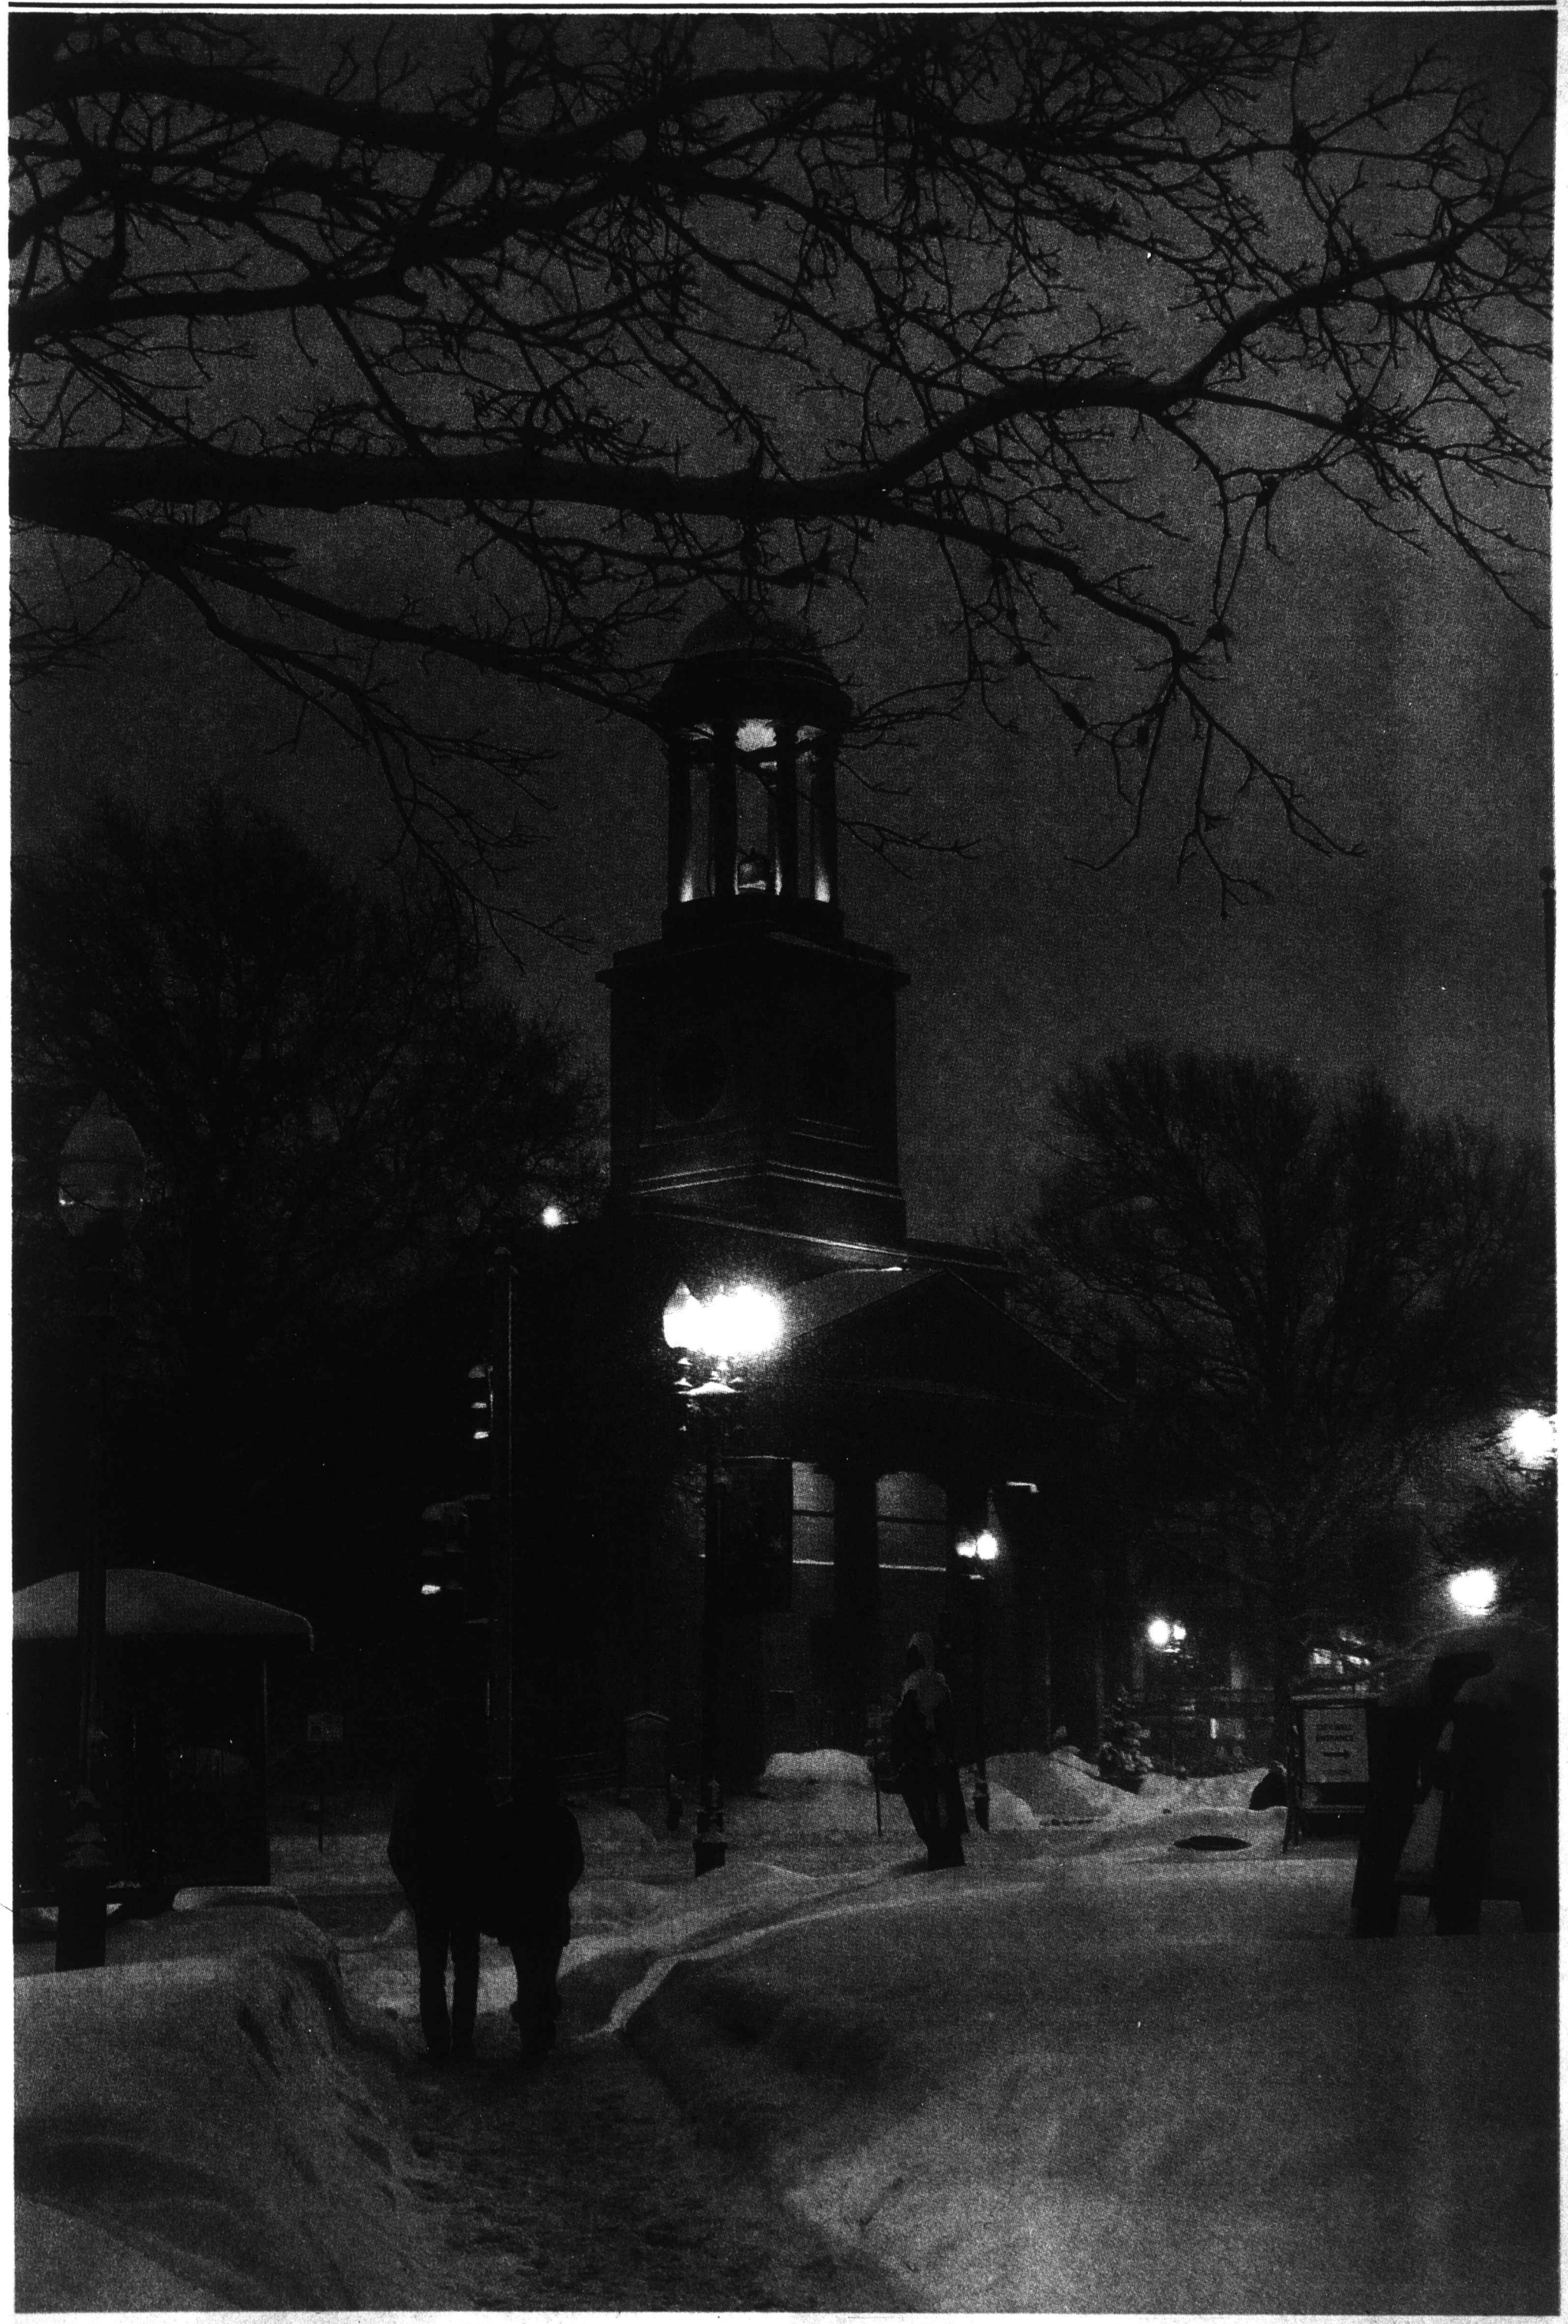


Magic Maze
ANSWERS:



Cyptoquip
ANSWER:

Supposing I do something that really peeves a little kid, you might say it's tot-provoking.



SNOWY SCENE - A couple holds hands walking through McIntyre Mall near dusk Sunday evening as light snow falls. In the center of the photo is the statue of John Adams. Illuminated United First Parish Church glows in the background against a backdrop of a purple sky.

Quincy Sun Photo/Robert Bosworth

City Digging Out From Third Major Storm

Cont'd From Page 10

building had been most recently used as a set for "The Finest Hours," an upcoming film about a Coast Guard rescue off Cape Cod during a 1952 blizzard.

The mayor said workers in the Public Buildings Department and school custodians will begin to clear snow off of school roofs, but no issues have been reported at city-owned buildings. He recommended residents use snow rakes to clear their roofs to avoid collapses. Many residents, he warned, will begin to see leaks in their roofs because of the heavy snow.

"People are going to see leaks like they've never seen before," Koch said. "It's going to get worse before it gets better."

A Red Line train with nearly 50 riders on board was stranded for nearly two hours Monday on the southbound tracks between Quincy Center and Quincy Adams stations after the third rail became covered in snow. The Quincy Fire Department cleared a path to the train and helped evacuate the passengers; no injuries were reported.

MBTA officials terminated all rail service at 7 p.m. Monday because of the storm; rail service remained closed all day Tuesday as well as crews tried to clear the tracks.

"It's very disappointing," Koch said of the MBTA's performance during the storm. "The Red Line has had a number of issues over the last few years."

A parking ban in the city will remain in place indefinitely, Koch said. Under the ban, no parking is allowed on emergency arteries (a list of emergency arteries is available online at quincyma.gov). On side streets, parking is only allowed on the even side; Residents on side streets posted permanently as one-side parking should park on the side always allowed. If parked cars obstruct snow removal, they may be removed regardless of what side of the street they are on. Chris Walker, a spokesman for the mayor, said 40 cars were towed during the latest storm; 50 were towed during the January blizzard and 15 during last week's storm.

500 National Guardsmen Deployed For Snow Cleanup

Gov. Charlie Baker on Tuesday announced the deployment of 500 members of the Massachusetts National Guard to assist with snow removal and cleanup efforts in areas of the Bay State most impacted by heavy snowfall in recent weeks.

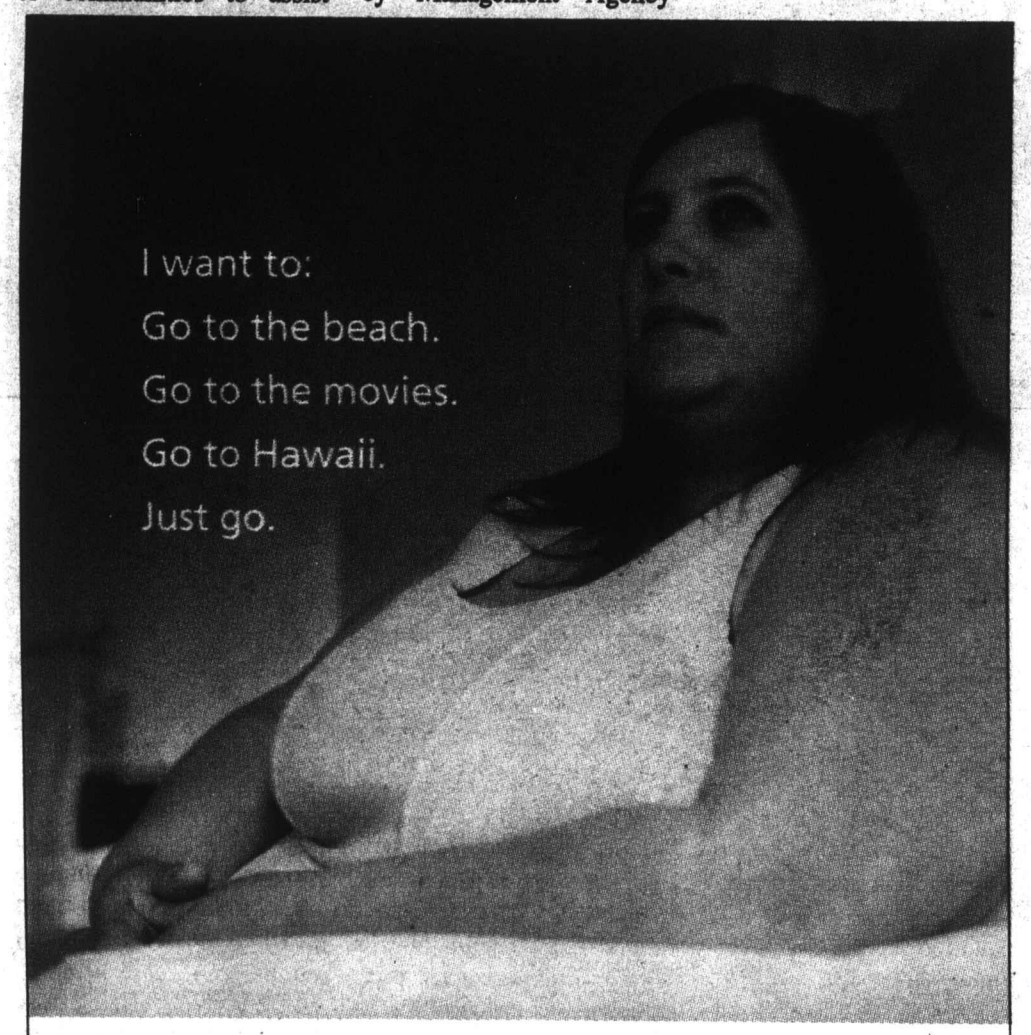
On Tuesday, the National Guard began mobilizing their heavy equipment, including front end loaders, bobcats, and dump trucks, to communities to assist with snow removal. Other National Guard teams will be deployed to shovel out fire hydrants, dig out passageways, and clear snow around public safety building or critical areas.

The Vermont National Guard will also be sending equipment and personnel to Massachusetts to assist with cleanup efforts.

Baker also announced Tuesday that through the Massachusetts Emergency Management Agency (MEMA), the Commonwealth has authorized the purchase of two additional snow-melting machines and more heavy equipment from surrounding states to clear roadways and sidewalks. The snow melters can process about 120 tons of snow per hour, or about 25 truckloads of snow every hour. MEMA will coordinate these resources to the communities with the greatest public safety need.

EVEN BEFORE the latest snowstorm, there were "signs" that residents were starting to surrender to the white stuff. Here gloves and boots protrude from a snowbank on Rock Island Road last week with the message "Raise Your Hands If You've Had Enough Snow." Homeowner Valerie Jackson reports many folks passing by acknowledged the sign with car horns and thumbs up.

Photo Courtesy Valerie Jackson



Learn how you can get your life back.

Losing significant weight comes with obvious health benefits. But what truly inspires our patients? A renewed quality of life. At Beth Israel Deaconess Hospital-Milton, we understand.

As part of the Beth Israel Deaconess Bariatric Network, our expertise, leading surgeons and team approach to your care make all the difference. And our commitment to education and support helps you achieve lifelong success.

How do you get your life back? First, by getting information. Join us for a free information session where you can hear about your weight loss surgery options, meet our team and ask questions.

JOIN US
Date: Thursday, February 19
Time: 6:00 p.m.
Place: Nangeroni Education Center at Beth Israel Deaconess Hospital - Milton
199 Reedsdale Road, Milton
To register for this FREE session, call 617-313-1440.

Beth Israel Deaconess Hospital Milton
bidmilton.org/weightloss

WEIGHT LOSS SURGERY

Short Stays – A Perfect Vacation this Season!

ASSISTED LIVING RESPITE STAYS AT ALLERTON HOUSE

Find out if assisted living is the answer for you or a loved one. It's perfect for the times family caregivers are away. Experience the Welch family's 65 year tradition of exceptional care, housing and hospitality!

ALLERTON HOUSE GUESTS ENJOY
- Three meals a day with friends
- Exciting activities, clubs, entrainment & outings
- Help with daily routines – from medications to transportation
- 24-hour support in a beautiful, modern fully furnished rental apartment

STAY 1 WEEK & ENJOY YOUR 2ND WEEK FREE*
*Limited time only. Based upon availability.

CALL TODAY TO JOIN US FOR LUNCH & A TOUR!

Allerton House
QUINCY
164 Parkingway • Quincy
339-788-2979

Over 65 Years of Quality Service
Welch
HEALTHCARE AND RETIREMENT GROUP
www.welchhrg.com

Fire, Nat'l Guard, Volunteers Clearing Hydrants

- Pages 2 & 32 -

City Hall Work On Pace For June Completion

- Page 16 -

2 *CAR-RT LOTC-004
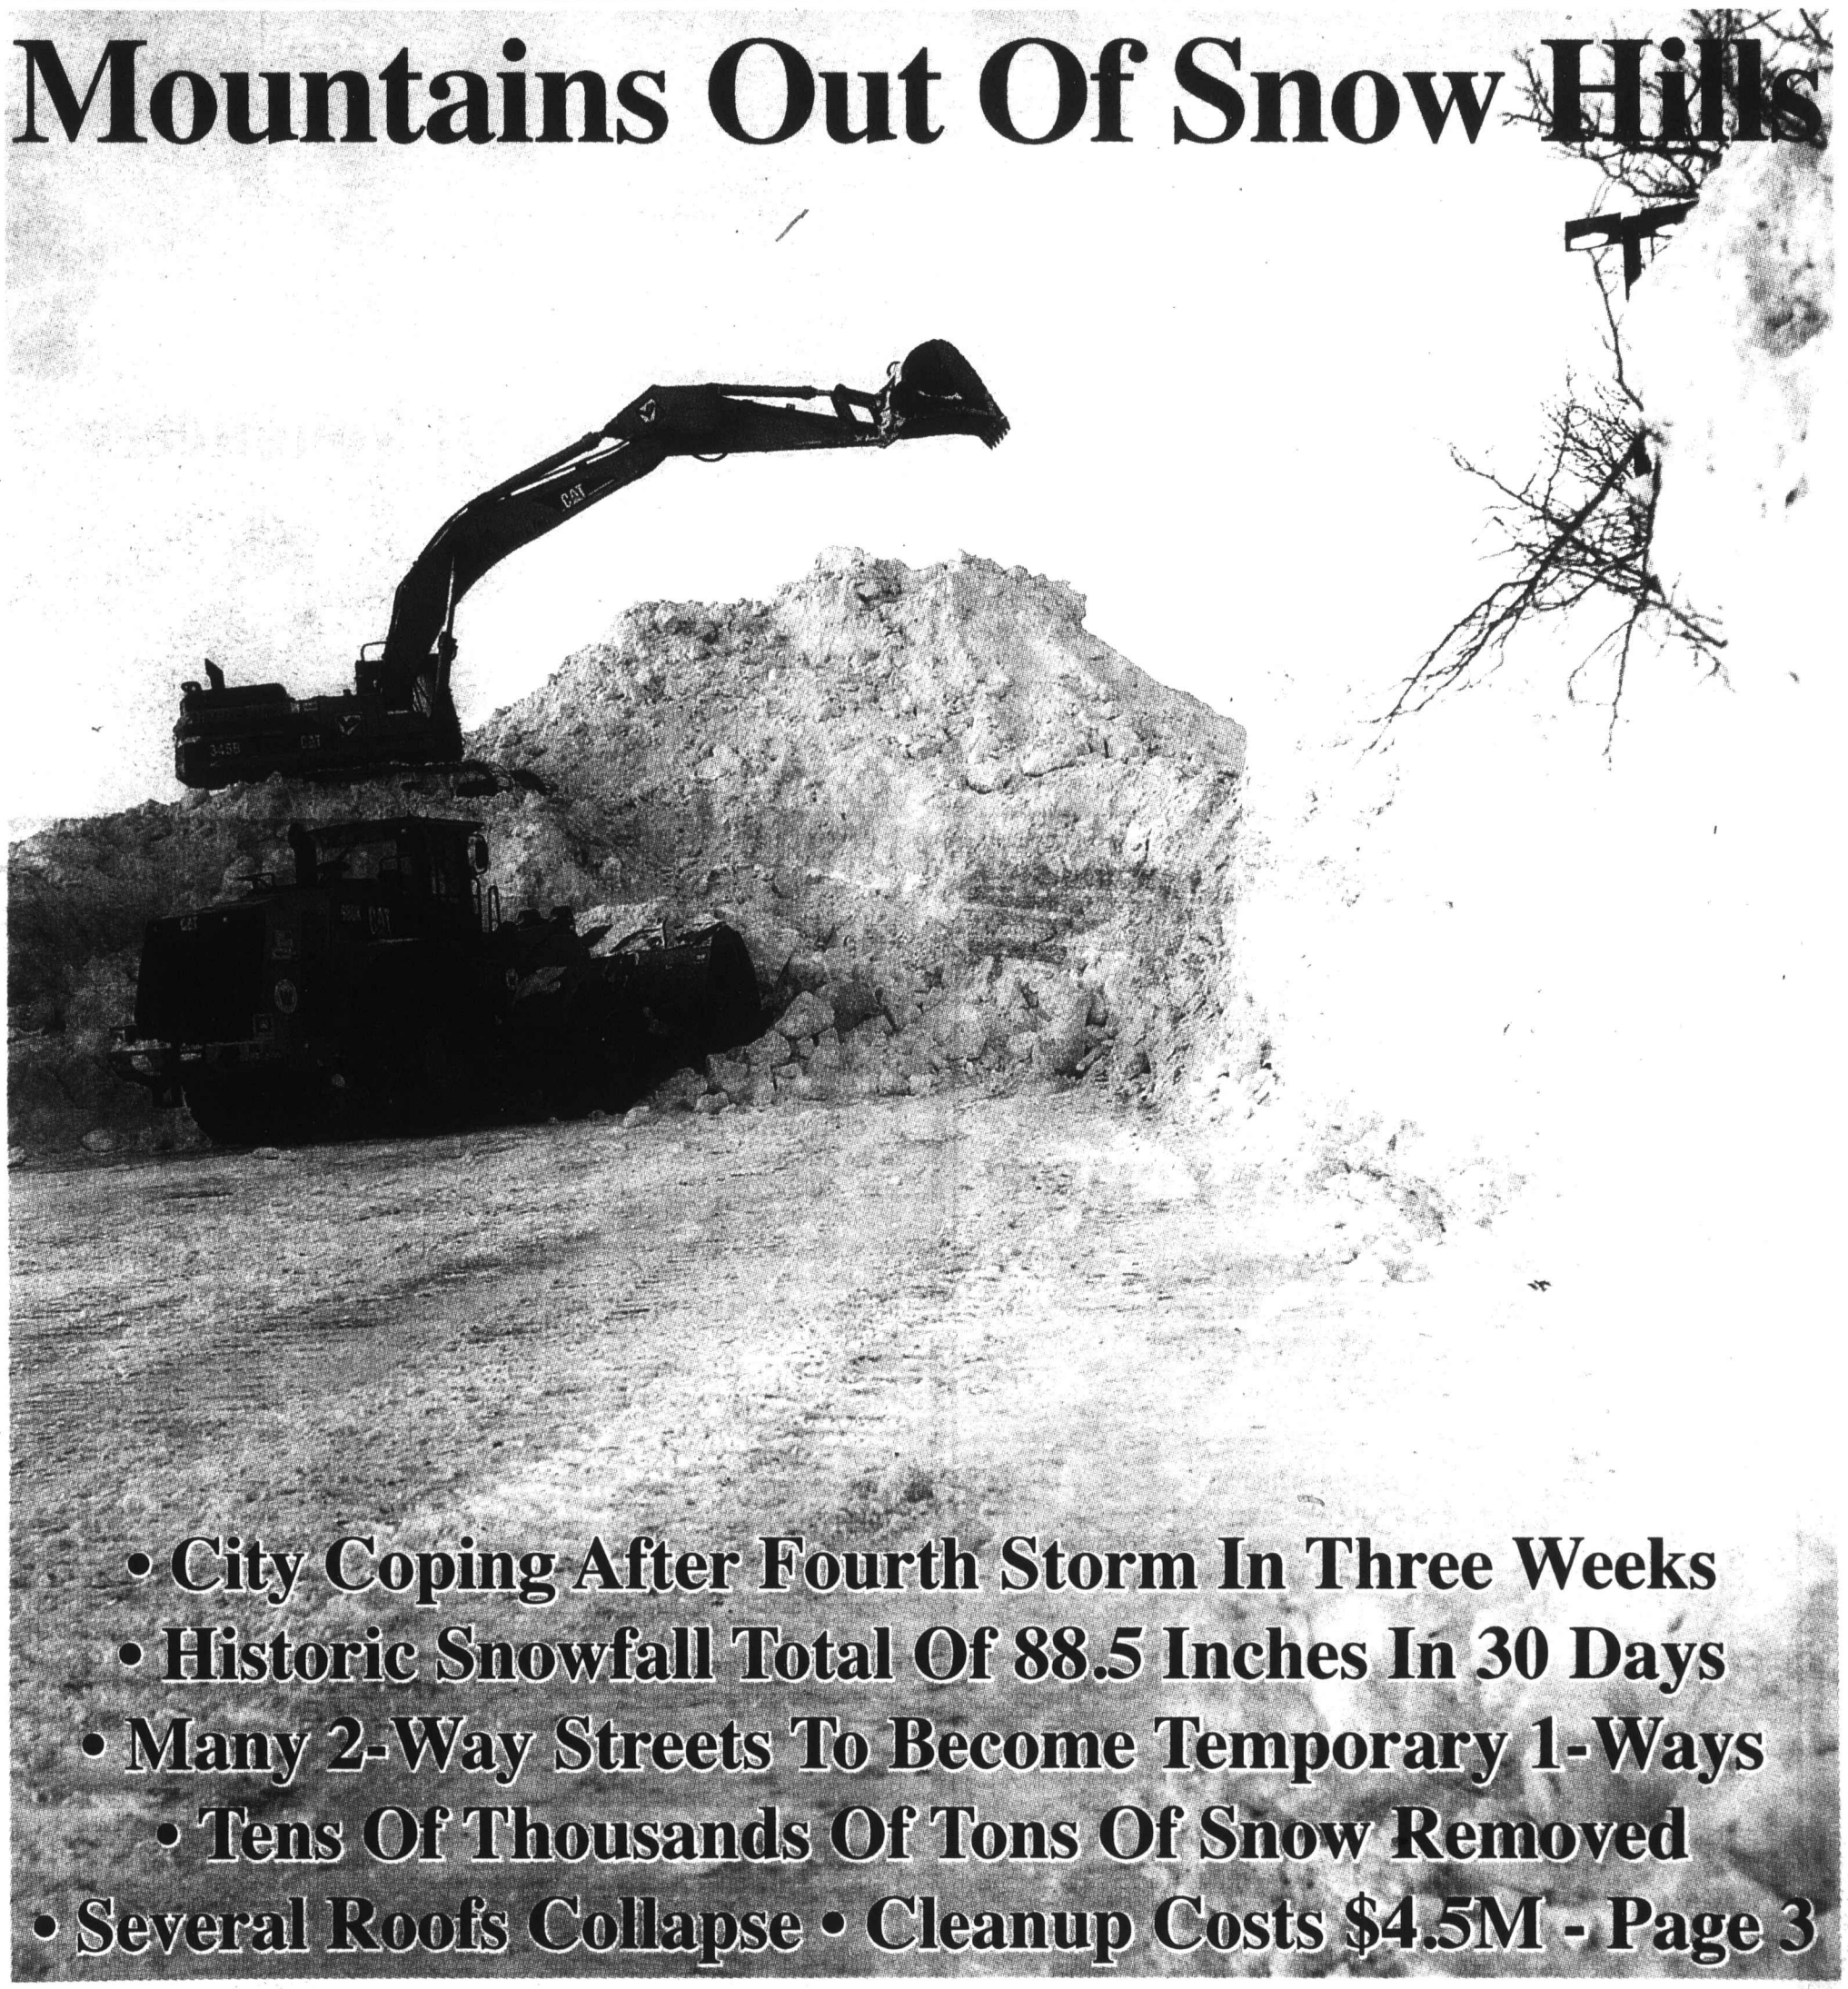
THOMAS CRANE PUBLIC LIBRARY
40 WASHINGTON ST
QUINCY MA 02169-5304

The Quincy Sun

Historic Quincy's Hometown Weekly Newspaper Since 1968

VOL. 47 No. 22 | Thursday, February 19, 2015 | 75¢

Mountains Out Of Snow Hills



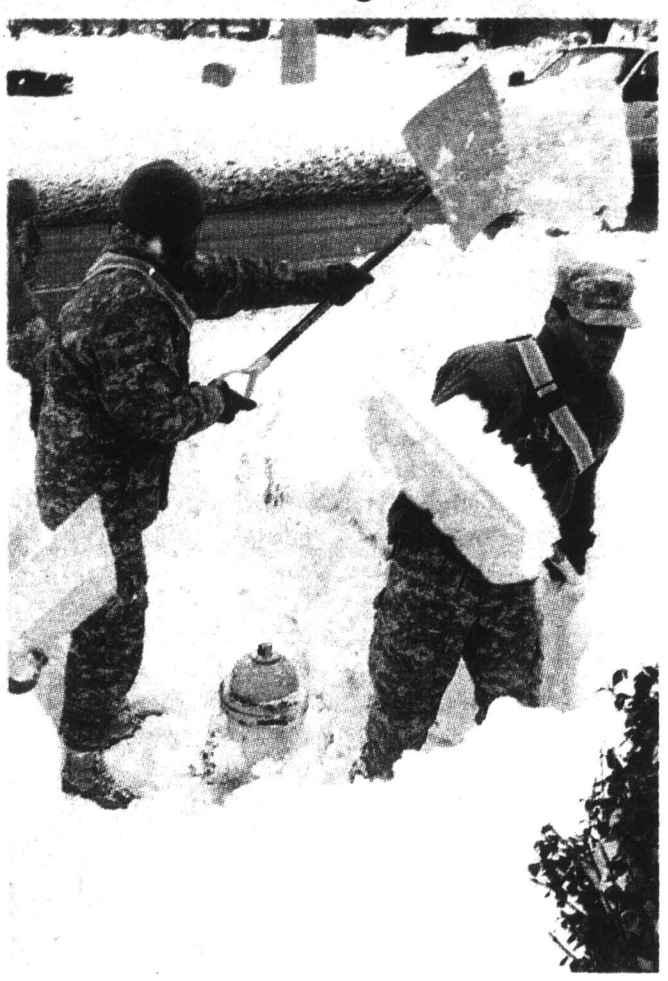
• City Coping After Fourth Storm In Three Weeks
• Historic Snowfall Total Of 88.5 Inches In 30 Days
• Many 2-Way Streets To Become Temporary 1-Ways
• Tens Of Thousands Of Tons Of Snow Removed
• Several Roofs Collapse • Cleanup Costs $4.5M - Page 3

'MOUNT SQUANTUM' - An excavator and front-end loader move snow into a large mountain-like pile at Squantum Point Park, one of two sites the city is using to truck the more than seven feet of snow that has fallen in Quincy over the last three weeks. The snow in the pile shown here is about 35 feet high - nearly as tall as one of the parking lot light poles (visible at right). The other "snow farm" is located at the former Fore River Shipyard. Photo on Page 10. Nearly 90 inches of snow has fallen in Quincy in the last 30 days - a record. Quincy Sun Photo/Robert Bosworth

Advice For Handling Snow Damage Repairs - Page 4
Quincy Community Action Free Tax Prep - Page 9
Emily Bryson Wins 2-Mile At State Championship - Page 21

For more Quincy news, visit:
The Quincy Sun.com

National Guard Helps Fire Department Clear Hydrants



NATIONAL GUARD, 1058th Transportation Company, Hingham helped clear out about 32 fire hydrants throughout the city last week. They joined a team that included Quincy firefighters and a DPW worker operating an excavator to remove snow from buried hydrants on main streets including Southern Artery (above) as well as a myriad of side streets in all sections of Quincy. From left: Private First Class (PFC) Allison Knoblich, Specialist (SPC) Deanna Walsh, SPC Brian Dettorre, SPC Victor Sarpong, SPC Jon Hamelberg, SPC Ivandro Semedo, PFC Tim Young and SPC Jian Barcelo. The National Guard may return to Quincy this week to further assist snow removal operations in the aftermath of this past week's nor'easter that dropped another 16 inches of snow on Quincy. As of Tuesday, a total of 88 inches had fallen on Quincy since Jan. 26. At right, National Guardsmen shovel out a hydrant on Southern Artery near Greenleaf Street. Quincy Sun Photos/Robert Bosworth

Adopt-A-Hydrant Effort Draws Dozens Of Volunteers

To Participate Email mslade@quincyma.gov

By MICHAEL SLADE

Dozens of Quincy citizens have taken the initiative to participate in the Adopt-A-Hydrant program since launching the program last week.

Clearing hydrants continues to be a top priority for the Quincy Fire Department. We appreciate the citizens who have already volunteered to adopt a hydrant, and we ask citizens to continue adopting hydrants in their neighborhoods.

Quincy firefighters continue to spend mornings and afternoons shoveling out the 2,549 fire hydrants. Through community spirit, Quincy Fire is encouraging families, friends and neighbors, to adopt a fire hydrant within their own community, and to keep their adopted hydrants clear of the snow this winter season.

Volunteers provide the foundation for strong neighborhoods in Quincy, and the Adopt-A- Hydrant program is a great way in which Quincy citizens can help firefighters keep their neighborhoods protected from harm.

In recognition of the citizens who participate in the Adopt a Hydrant program, the JP Fuji Group has contributed $50 gift certificates to five of their restaurants here in Quincy. The five restaurants are Fuji 1546 at 1546 Hancock St., Bistro Chi/ Kama Lounge at 39 Cottage Ave., B Café at 405 Hancock St., Shabu Restaurant at 397 Hancock St., and YoCha at 406 Hancock St. Citizens who participate in the Adopt a Hydrant program will be entered into a drawing at the end of the snow season. Five winners will each receive a gift certificate to one of the establishments.

Last year, the Quincy Fire Department responded to 721 fires. The speed in which a house fire grows is tremendous, and having an immediate water supply is vital to knocking down a house fire. The Quincy Fire Department will continue to lead the effort to shovel out Quincy's 2,549 public hydrants, and citizens, through the Adopt a Hydrant program, can help ensure that the hydrants in their neighborhoods are cleared even faster.

JAMES BROCKMAN with his "adopted" fire hydrant on Nilsen Ave. He is among dozens of local residents who are participating in the Fire Department's "Adopt-a-Hydrant" effort.

To adopt a fire hydrant, residents are asked to email mslade@quincyma.gov. Include in the email your name, contact number, address, and the hydrant(s) you would like to volunteer to shovel out. Citizens may also submit pictures of their shoveled hydrant(s) to be published in The Quincy Sun at the end of the snow season. The Quincy Fire Department asks citizens, when shoveling out their adopted hydrant, to shovel out a three foot clearance in each direction of the hydrant.

The Quincy Fire Department thanks citizens who have already taken the initiative to shovel out their hydrants. If you should have any questions whatsoever, do not hesitate to contact the Quincy Fire Prevention office at 617-376-1015.

Furnace Brook Physical Therapy

Announces

NEW HAND THERAPY CLINIC

JAY BERNASCONI, D.P.T., OCS

is pleased to announce the addition of

KATHY KOWALSKI, OTR/L, CHT

to our staff.

KATHY KOWALSKI, OTR/L, CHT

Kathy is a highly respected Certified Hand Therapist who has treated complex nerve and tendon injuries, fracture and dislocations, arthritis, and advanced hand/elbow injuries at Quincy Medical Center for the past 20 years.

Kathy will also be fabricating Static and Dynamic Splints onsite when needed and will be taking new patients beginning January 5, 2015.

To schedule an appointment with Kathy, simply call our office at 617.770.4167

104 Quarry Street, Quincy, MA 02169

617.770.4167

www.furnacebrookpt.com

SALES. SERVICE. INSTALLATION

LOCKSMITH SERVICES

GRANITE LOCK CO. INC.

www.granitelock.com
617-472-2177
617-479-3341(Fax)
MA Sys. Con. Lic. 7025-C

•COMMERCIAL•
- Access Control
- Wireless Locks
- Electric Strikes
- Exit Hardware
- Door Openers/Closers
- Commercial Mailboxes
- High Security Key Systems
- Master Key Systems
- Handicap Access Hardware

•AUTOMOTIVE•
- Fit Keys to Autos/Rekeying
- Lockouts/Repairs
- Cloned/Transponder Keys

•SAFES•
- Sales/Repairs/Installations
- Combinations Changed
- Fire & Burglary Resistant Safes

•RESIDENTIAL•
- Deadbolts Installed
- Baldwin/Emtek Hardware
- Rekeying/Lockouts

755 Southern Artery, Rte. 3A Quincy, MA 02169

"Rock Solid Security"

Another Week, Another 16 Inches Of Snow

By SCOTT JACKSON

Several hundred snow-choked Quincy streets will be temporarily turned into one-way roads as the city continues to clear the more than seven feet of snow that have fallen in the past three weeks.

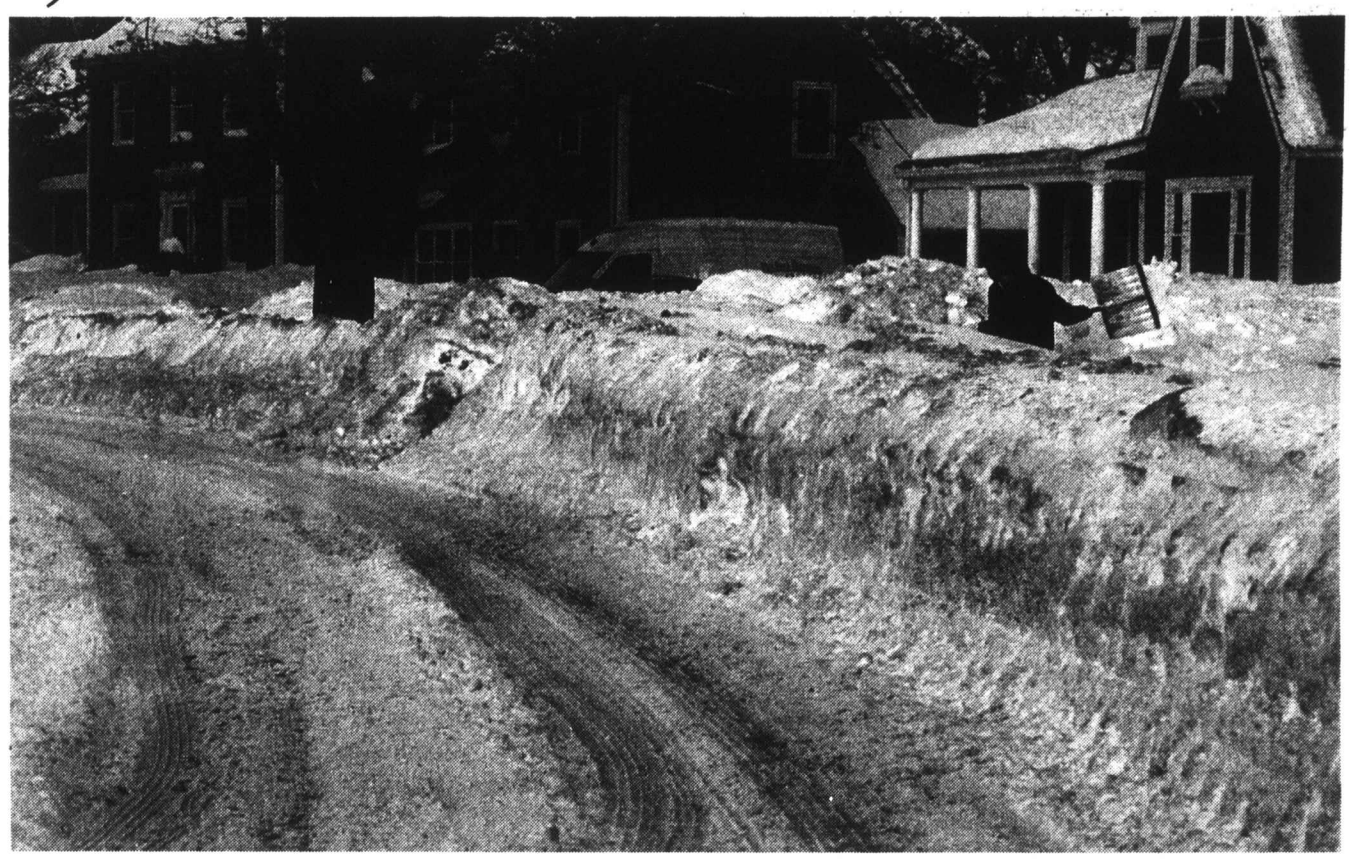
A nor'easter on Saturday and Sunday left 16.5 inches of snow behind in its wake, according to Mayor Thomas Koch. Three other major snowstorms and several smaller ones since a blizzard on Jan. 26 and 27 have dumped more than 88.5 inches of snow on Quincy.

Because of the unprecedented amount of snow that has fallen in recent weeks – the 88.5 inches is the most of any 30-day period in the city's recorded history – officials plan to make many two-way streets in the city into one-way roads to help make them more navigable for residents, plow drivers, and emergency responders. The mayor, the city's traffic engineer, school officials, the Department of Public Works, and the Police and Fire Departments are coordinating with ward councillors to identify which streets will be affected. Between 300 and 400 streets may be made one-way as a result, according to Koch.

"We've ordered several hundred one-way and do not enter signs and they should be here this week. The city's traffic engineer, Deborah Finnegan, has been working with my office and the ward councillors for input on which streets are to be made one-way," the mayor said.

The new traffic pattern will be implemented as soon as possible, according

Cont'd On Page 10



HERE WE GO AGAIN – A resident on Furnace Brook Parkway digs out on Sunday afternoon after 16 inches of new snow fell during a weekend nor'easter - the fourth major snowstorm to slam the area in three weeks. More than 7 feet of snow - 88 inches - has buried Quincy since Jan. 26. Quincy Sun Photo/Larry Carchedi

Councillors Palmucci, Laforest Want Answers From MBTA

By SCOTT JACKSON

Councillors Brian Palmucci and Margaret Laforest introduced a resolution Tuesday night asking the MBTA for an explanation of widespread service problems on the Red Line and elsewhere on the transit system in recent weeks.

Train service along the Braintree Branch of the Red Line, which includes four stations in Quincy, has been suspended since Feb. 9. Since then, shuttle buses have provided service between those stations and Boston. The entire transit system was shutdown Sunday during the nor'easter before reopening Monday and Tuesday with no service to many above ground portions of the Red, Orange, and Green Lines.

"I think it is important that the MBTA speak to the level of service they've been providing and their operational plans," Palmucci, who represents Ward 4, said prior to Tuesday's meeting.

"Public transportation is so important to the city of Quincy – it's important for the city's economic vitality and for the city's residents."

Four major snowstorms have left Quincy and surrounding communities under more than seven feet of snow since Jan. 26. MBTA General Manager Beverly Scott on Monday said it could take at least 30 days for the transit agency to fully restore all services, including commuter rail, subway, ferry, and bus service. Scott announced she would resign her position, effective April 11, on Feb. 11.

Palmucci said it would be unacceptable to take a month to bring service back to normal levels.

"It is unacceptable – absolutely unacceptable – that there would be major disruption for 30 days, which is what the MBTA's general manager came out and said," he stated.

The councillor also wants an explanation on the protocols used to determine which services are curtailed during and immediately after major storms. He is concerned about MBTA buses running on city streets clogged with snow.

"I was surprised they suspended ferry services and subway services but kept bus service on residential streets," Palmucci said. "There are streets that cars can barely get down and MBTA buses are running down the streets."

Ask the GEMOLOGIST

BY JEFFREY M. BERTMAN
GRADUATE GEMOLOGIST

BERYL BY ANY OTHER NAME

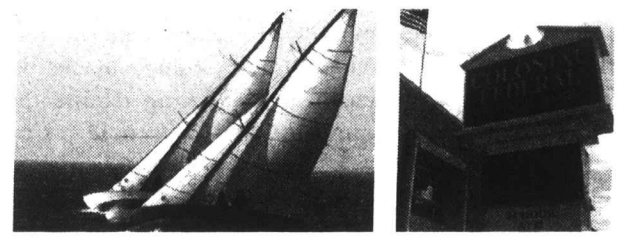
If you consider emerald to be among the most prized gemstones, you should take a look at another member of the family, aquamarine. This birthstone for the month of March shares a position with emerald in the beryl family and is identical both in chemical composition and hardness to its more rare green cousin. To many, it is also no less beautiful. Aquamarine's clear, large, transparent blue-green crystals have been likened to the Mediterranean Sea. When aquamarine is square cut to show off its intense clarity and striking color, there are a few gemstones that can compete with it for attention. Appropriately enough, aquamarine is most often cut into emerald cuts. Color is the most important consideration when choosing an aquamarine.

According to legend, aquamarine is the treasure of mermaids, who have the power to keep sailors safe at sea. Whether you believe the legend or not, you cannot deny the allure associated with aquamarine. If you have a loved one with a birthday in March, why not purchase a beautiful aquamarine keepsake? You will find a lovely selection of birthstone jewelry, diamond engagement rings, pendants, watches and earrings at our store at 1402 Hancock St. in Quincy Center. Contact us at 617-773-3636 and get ready to do some holiday shopping!

Don't Forget: We pay cash for Gold - Platinum - Diamonds... highest prices paid.

Rogers Diamonds...Watches...Jewelry www.rogersjewelry.com

Finally ... you get to do what you want to do



The question now – what's the best way to pay for it? Maybe you're simplifying your life. Maybe you're complicating it. Either way, you're at the point where some new doors are opening. You have resources. You have options. What you want is a lender you can talk to – someone you like, whose judgment you trust and respect – to help make the financing happen intelligently. At Colonial Federal, we specialize in working with people like you. Here you deal directly with lenders who actually like coming up with good ways to make things happen. Including sometimes being able to make customized loans. Sound interesting? Like to talk? Call Angela Blanchard, Vice-President/Retail Lending, at 617-471-0750 or apply online at colonialfed.com.

15-YEAR FIXED
NO POINTS!
3.39% APR

COLONIAL FEDERAL SAVINGS BANK
"Your neighborhood bank!"

QUINCY: 15 Beach Street 617-471-0750 • 1000 Southern Artery (Residents only) 617-479-1430
HOLBROOK: 802 South Franklin Street 781-767-1776
EAST WEYMOUTH: Middle & Washington Streets 781-331-1776
ONLINE: www.colonialfed.com

Some additional facts: Annual Percentage Rate (APR) effective as of 02/11/15 and may change. Applies to 1-2 family owner-occupied homes. Assumes a maximum 80% loan-to-value and first mortgage position. Subject to credit approval. A 15-Year Loan would be repaid in 180 equal monthly principal plus interest payments of $7.03 per $1000 borrowed, which do not include taxes or insurance premiums, if applicable. So your actual monthly payment will be greater.

EQUAL HOUSING LENDER
Insured FDIC

The Quincy Sun

(USPS 453-060)
Published Weekly on Thursday by
The Quincy Sun Publishing Co., Inc.
1372 Hancock St., Quincy, MA 02169

Robert H. Bosworth
Publisher and Editor

Henry W. Bosworth, Jr.
Founder
1968 - 2009

75¢ per copy newsstand • $27 per year by mail in Quincy
$32 per year by mail outside Quincy • $40 out-of-state

Telephone: 617-471-3100 Fax: 617-472-3963

online at: www.thequincysun.com

email address: thequincysun@verizon.net

rbosworth@thequincysun.com

Periodicals postage paid at Boston, MA
Postmaster Send address change to:
The Quincy Sun, 1372 Hancock St., Quincy, MA 02169

The Quincy Sun assumes no financial responsibility for typographical errors in advertisements but will reprint that part of an advertisement in which the typographical error occurs.

Use Registered, License Professionals For Snow Damage Repairs

Advice From The Office Of Consumer Affairs, Business Regulation

With over seven feet of snow fallen across Massachusetts including Quincy, the Office of Consumer Affairs and Business Regulation encourages homeowners to hire licensed and registered professionals to make repairs on storm-affected property.

Individuals offering snow, ice, and tree removal services do NOT need to be licensed or registered as a home improvement contractor. However, make sure that all professionals working on or in your home are properly insured. Ask for documentation of proof of coverage before agreeing to hire the individual or company. Check with the Better Business Bureau or other consumer-rating websites to see if the company or individual has any complaints.

The Office of Consumer Affairs and Business Regulation registers Home Improvement Contractors (HIC), and the Division of Professional Licensure licenses electricians, plumbers, and sheet metal workers. Both agencies offer online systems to check a licensee's status. Consumers are encouraged to check a registration or license before hiring a contractor or tradesman to do work.

Some types of work such as siding, insulation, and plastering require the contractor to hold a Construction Supervisor's License (CSL) through the Department of Public Safety. Other kinds of work, such as minor roof or gutter repairs and foundation fixes require the contractor to have Home Improvement Contract registration. The Department of Public Safety has produced a handy checklist for jobs requiring an HIC, CSL, or both. Check with your local building official to see whether the job requires a building permit or inspection.

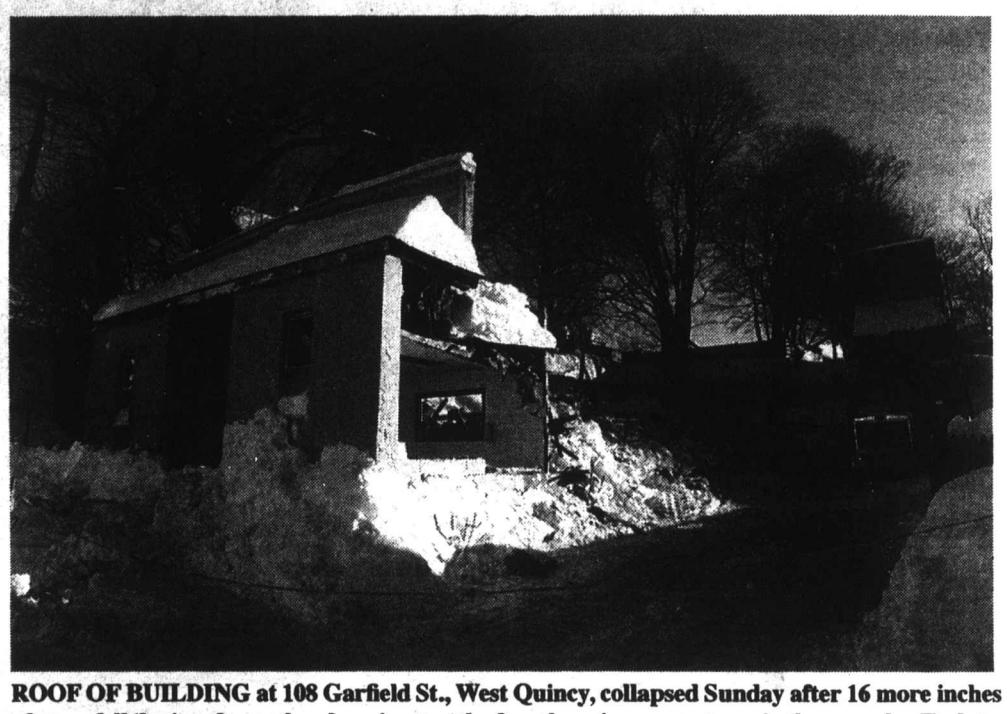
When having any work done it is a good idea to always get a proposal for any repairs in writing and to pay no more than one-third of the cost up-front. Make sure you know when the contractors will be at your home, and when the job is expected to be completed.

Contractor registrations and histories can be looked up online at http://services.oca.state.ma.us/hic/licenseelist.aspx. Electricians, plumbers and other professional licenses can be checked at http://license.reg.state.ma.us/public/licque.asp?color=blue.

If you would like to file a complaint against a Home Improvement Contractor, contact the Office of Consumer Affairs and Business Regulation at 617-973-8700 or fill out a complaint form.

The Division of Professional Licensure (DPL) is a regulatory agency within the Office of Consumer Affairs and Business Regulation. The agency is responsible for ensuring regulatory compliance and the integrity of the licensing process for approximately 370,000 licensees in trades and professions under the jurisdiction of 30 boards of registration. Follow DPL on Twitter @ MassDPL.

The Office of Consumer Affairs and Business Regulation is committed to protecting consumers through consumer advocacy and education, and also works to ensure that the businesses its agencies regulate treat all Massachusetts consumers fairly. Follow the Office at its blog, on Facebook and on Twitter @Mass_Consumer.



ROOF OF BUILDING at 108 Garfield St., West Quincy, collapsed Sunday after 16 more inches of snow fell during the weekend nor'easter, the fourth major snow storm in three weeks. To date, some 88 inches of snow has fallen in the city since Jan. 26. Quincy Sun Photo/Robert Bosworth

Moments in time

THE HISTORY CHANNEL.

• On March 5, 1839, Charlotte Bronte writes to the Rev. Henry Nussey, declining marriage. The 23-year-old Bronte told him that he would find her "romantic and eccentric," and not practical enough to be a clergyman's wife. Her novel "Jane Eyre" was published eight years later.

• On March 3, 1865, President Abraham Lincoln signs a bill creating the Bureau of Refugees, Freedmen and Abandoned Lands. Known as the Freedmen's Bureau, this federal agency oversaw the transition of blacks from slavery to freedom.

• On March 4, 1888, Knute Rockne is born in Voss, Norway. He would go on to become one of the most successful coaches in the history of college football, leading Notre Dame during its golden era in the 1920s. Rockne won three undisputed national championships with the Fighting Irish.

• On March 7, 1938, Janet Guthrie, the first woman to compete in the Indianapolis 500 and Daytona 500 races, is born in Iowa. In 1976, she was the first woman to compete in a NASCAR Winston Cup superspeedway race.

• On March 6, 1945, members of the Dutch resistance attempting to hijack a food truck unwittingly ambush German Lt. Gen. Hanns Rauter, head of the Nazi SS in Holland. In retaliation, the SS put to death 263 Dutch. Rauter later was executed for war crimes.

• On March 2, 1978, in a famous case of body-snatching, two men steal the corpse of film actor Sir Charles Chaplin from a cemetery in Switzerland. After a five-week investigation, police arrested two auto mechanics, who led them to Chaplin's body.

• On March 8, 1982, the United States issues a public statement accusing the Soviet Union of using poison gas and chemical weapons against rebel forces in Afghanistan. Evidence to support these charges was largely anecdotal. Some critics charged that the accusations were a smokescreen behind which the United States could go forward in upgrading its own chemical weapons arsenal.

(c) 2015 King Features Synd., Inc.

$13 Million In Federal Heating Assistance

Governor Charlie Baker and Department of Housing and Community Development Undersecretary Chrystal Kornegay announce the release of over $13 million in federal funding to the Low Income Home Energy Assistance Program (LIHEAP), bringing the total fuel assistance funding awarded to Massachusetts in FY15 up to $144 million.

The funding will be distributed to 22 local administering agencies that will allocate benefits to approximately 180,000 eligible families in need of assistance.

"In this especially cold and unprecedented winter for the Commonwealth of Massachusetts, these funds will be important to seeing our families have the assistance they need to stay warm," Baker said. "We will continue to work with the legislature to ensure Massachusetts' vulnerable families have the proper heating resources available."

"This funding comes at a critical time for Massachusetts residents who need a helping hand in heating their homes during these cold winter months," said Kornegay, Undersecretary of the Department of Housing and Community Development, which manages LIHEAP.

The $13 million is the final 10 percent of the total funding allocated to Massachusetts' LIHEAP from the United States Department of Health and Human Services (HHS). In October 2014, HHS awarded Massachusetts a total of $131 million in fuel assistance for qualifying residents, representing 90 percent of the FY15 LIHEAP funding.

The energy and fuel assistance program provides funding to help eligible households pay for a portion of their heating bills. Eligibility for LIHEAP is determined based on household size and the gross annual income of every household member 18 years or older. The maximum income eligibility for LIHEAP is 60 percent of the estimated state median income.

New applicants are encouraged to apply for the program. LIHEAP agencies will be accepting applications until April 30, 2015.

For more information, contact the Department of Housing and Community Development: (617) 573-1100

Senators Bringing Conversations Tour To The South Shore

Senator John Keenan (D-Quincy) announces the Massachusetts State Senate's Commonwealth Conversations Tour will be coming to the South Shore Feb. 25.

Keenan and Senate colleagues Brian Joyce (D-Milton), Mike Rush (D-West Roxbury), and Bob Hedlund (R-Weymouth) will be traveling together throughout their respective districts to listen to the concerns of the people of the South Shore.

Stops during the tour will focus on issues ranging from public safety and local aid, seniors, education and children with disabilities, community health care and economic development. The senators will be joined by Senate President Stan Rosenberg (D-Amherst) and Senate Minority Leader Bruce Tarr (R-Gloucester), and other senators from across the state.

After multiple stops throughout the day, the tour will culminate in a Public Forum at Braintree Town Hall beginning at 6:30 p.m. The public is encouraged to attend and participate.

To ensure that each attendee has the opportunity to speak, participants will be limited to two minutes each, but are encouraged to submit written testimony if they wish to do so.

"Each community across the Commonwealth has different needs, and this tour and public forum will give residents of the South Shore an opportunity to have their voices heard on a range of issues they feel passionate about," Keenan said. "I know residents from my district will be actively engaged, and I look forward to introducing the leaders of the Senate to the great communities I represent."

The Commonwealth Conversations Tour is a statewide tour of Senate districts led by the local senators to reach out to local residents, businesses, and interests groups to listen directly to their needs and concerns with the hope that it will foster more civic engagement while helping each senator learn more about issues outside of their own districts.

To read more about this effort go to the website at https://malegislature.gov/cc and follow on Twitter at @ Ma_Senate.

Scenes From Yesterday

THIS IS A real photo postcard view of the first Howard Johnson's restaurant. It was opened in June 1929 in the new Granite Trust Company building in Quincy Square. Howard Johnson, who opened his first store selling ice cream near the Wollaston railroad depot in 1925, had such tremendous success with three more beachfront ice cream shops that Granite Trust Bank President Theophilis King extended a $50,000 loan to him to open this full-service restaurant in the new bank building. It was at number one Chestnut Street just to the left of the bank's main entrance. In September, soon after it opened, the restaurant received an unexpected influx of diners who were attending Eugene O'Neil's controversial play Strange Interlude at the Quincy Theater on Hancock Street. The five-hour play had been banned in Boston but was allowed to run in Quincy by Mayor Tom McGrath; attracting large crowds from the Boston area. The theater goers found this nearby restaurant for the dinner intermission of the play, hence the new Howard Johnson's became well-known to Bostonians. Soon after the play ended its run in Quincy Johnson opened another store at the Uptown Theater Building in Boston. When Prohibition ended in 1934, this restaurant began serving liquor in its Presidential Room downstairs. It remained a popular Quincy destination for over 30 years until 1961 when the company transferred its liquor license to a new HoJo's on the Southeast Expressway in West Quincy. After 25 years the X-Way store closed in 1985 ending a 60-year span over which seven different Howard Johnsons's locations sold his ice cream in Quincy. To contact Tom Galvin, e-mail tmgalvin@verizon.net.

From the Collection of City Historian Tom Galvin

Quincy's Yesterdays

This Week
1964
51 Years Ago

Jamaican Compost Plan To Be Evaluated

The results of the Jamaican composting trip taken by Quincy city officials last week will be evaluated at a conference to be held next Monday night at his office, Mayor Amelio Della Chiesa said.

Della Chiesa said that he drew the following conclusions as a result of his trip to Kingston, Jamaica:

One, the operation at Kingston is successful in that it converts a waste material to a marketable product at less cost to the city than incineration.

Two, the evidence indicates that the end product is a valuable soil rebuilder and conditioner.

Three, the indications are that there will be an adequate market for the product as it is promoted and advertised and as it becomes better known.

DELLA CHIESA TO SEEK MORE SNOW REMOVAL FUNDS

Mayor Della Chiesa planned to ask the City Council at its next meeting for an additional $50,000 for snow removal operations. Since the first of the year the city has spent $212,000 for snow removal while only $180,000 was placed in the 1964 budget.

FINANCE COMMITTEE REVIEWS DPW BUDGET

One hundred jobs have been cut from the Public Works Department budget since 1958 through Mayor Della Chiesa's "No hire, no fire" policy, DPW Commissioner Charles R. Herbert told the Council's Finance Committee. The Finance Committee cut a total of $12,995 from the $2,314,000 Public Works budget requests.

QUINCY-ISMS

The Data-Tech School of Business, 1601 Hancock St., was advertising "Girls, Time to Think, Enroll Now-I.B.M. Key Pinch Courses."... Dennis A. Carini, 82 Sagamore Ave, North Quincy, who planned to attend Boston University, and Jeffrey C. LaPointe, 45 Bennington St., South Quincy, who planned to attend Boston College, were among 116 area students who were awarded scholarships by the Mass. Board of Educational Assistance... PFC Thomas P. Tarmey of 19 Sterling St., Quincy, was recently selected Soldier of the Month for U.S. Army Special Troops, Ryukyu Islands at Okinawa... First National Stores was advertising Porterhouse or N.Y. Sirloin Steak for $.79 a lb.... Richard J. Koch, Sr., founder of the Koch Club, presented awards to Mr. and Mrs. Paul Lambert and Mr. and Mrs. Anthony Delmonico in recognition of their charitable work for the club. The awards were presented at the 16th annual dinner dance held at the Fore River Clubhouse... John R. Herbert, editor of The Patriot Ledger, was selected to sit on a jury to select possible recipients for Pulitzer Prize awards in International Reporting... Old Colony Liquors, 515 Southern Artery, was advertising Thomas Morton Blended Whiskey for $3.99 a full quart... Wilbur B. Lewis, 33 Samoset Ave., Merrymount, has been appointed as a sales representative at the Braintree office of the Liberty Mutual Insurance Company... "Strait Jacket." A film that "sets a new high in harrowing shock and suspense" starring Joan Crawford, was playing at the Strand Theatre... Paul Jacobs, Jr., of 60 Rock Island Rd., Houghs Neck, has been named to the Dean's List at Boston University... Miss Linda Harding, of Florence St., Wollaston, has been named to the Dean's List at Bridgewater State College. She is a sophomore majoring in elementary education... The Board of Managers of the Quincy City Hospital voted to promote Herbert Cole, a statistician at the hospital, to the newly created post of Comptroller... The Quincy Knights of Columbus was planning its annual Communion breakfast for March 15th. Deputy Grand Knight Leo F. McLaughlin is the general chairman and Past Grand Knight Adolph J. Concheri, ticket chairman... The Quincy School Committee appointed Robert Dolan, 46 Macy St., and Eben "Buster" Robertson, 1154 Sea St., as junior building custodians at $77.63 per week.

Readers Forum

Polar Vortex: Unusual Or Will It Become Common?

The sight of politicians belaboring the Red Line's performance during these massive snowstorms reminds me of the futility of King Canute trying to turn back the tides.

The MBTA is encumbered by five billion dollars worth of debt. Somehow two billion of that debt was loaded on from the Big Dig. Costs are out-of-control. Rather than maintenance, expansion has been the mantra.

Now that the T has always been on the edge of functioning, the chickens have come to roost. Humanity has always been resilient. This may be a challenge too big to overcome without large funding.

A federal agency has predicted that a massive drought will hit the Southwest and extend to the Midwest by 2050. It is to last for centuries. While Quincy has had large snowstorms in the past, this time climate change may be the difference.

Global warming has been put on hold since the year 2000. The carbon dioxide level has gone from 400 to 398 parts per million. Still well above the 350 ppm level deemed to be safe.

The year 2014 is supposed to have been the warmest on record. Yet it has been stated that this level has a 38% chance of probability of indeed holding the record.

Boston seems to be the target of these snowfalls with Quincy being collateral damage. Given the global warming that has already happened, the ocean is around half-a-degree warmer than normal. Something is causing the influx of arctic air. When this air encounters the ocean, the heavy precipitation occurs.

The first week of February is regularly the coldest of the winter. The jet stream reaches the latitude of Boston around this time. Hopefully, as winter progresses, the frigid air will retreat northward beginning soon.

The ultimate question, is this polar vortex an unusual event? Or will it become common over time?

We have had a period of 10,000 years of stable, temperate climate. This stability has been interrupted at time by periods of warm and cold.

I have yet to see a prediction for the long term climate for our part of the country. Something is going on that isn't clear. More data is needed.

Peter Gleba
Hancock Street

Blood Drive At Sons Of Italy Monday

The American Red Cross will hold a blood drive Monday, Feb. 23 from 1 to 7 p.m. at the Quincy Sons of Italy, 120 Quarry St., Quincy.

For an appointment, call 1-800- RED CROSS 9733-2767) or visit redcrossblood.org.

SUBSCRIPTION FORM

FILL OUT THIS SUBSCRIPTION BLANK AND MAIL TO

The Quincy Sun

Historic Quincy's Hometown Weekly Newspaper Since 1968

1372 HANCOCK STREET, QUINCY, MA 02169

NAME _____

STREET _____

CITY _____ STATE _____ ZIP _____

CHECK ONE BOX IN EACH COLUMN

[ ] 1 YEAR IN QUINCY $27.00
[ ] 1 YEAR OUTSIDE QUINCY $32.00 [ ] CHECK ENCLOSED
[ ] 1 YEAR OUT OF STATE $40.00

Arts & Entertainment

'Frozen' Producer Peter Del Vecho Honored By City

Academy Award Winner 1976 QHS Graduate

By SCOTT JACKSON

Peter Del Vecho – the Academy Award winning producer of the animated film "Frozen" – added two more prizes to his collection during a recent visit to his hometown.

Del Vecho, a 1976 graduate of Quincy High School, received a commemorative brick from the now demolished building; students in the school's metal fabrication class made a special stand to hold the brick. Del Vecho also received a signed proclamation from the city, declaring Feb. 12 "Peter Del Vecho Day." John Fagerlund, coordinator of the Quincy School-Community Partnership program – presented the proclamation on behalf of Mayor Thomas Koch.

"Whereas Peter Del Vecho is a 1976 graduate of Quincy High School; and, whereas, Peter joined Walt Disney Animation Studios in 1995 and has gone on to have a successful career as one of the finest producers in Hollywood; and, whereas, Peter's work on Disney's Frozen has earned him an Academy Award," Fagerlund said, reading from the proclamation.

"Whereas, Peter has not forgotten about his roots and gives back to the community from which he came; and, whereas, Peter continues to be a source of inspiration to those who look towards a career in film production; and whereas, Peter has made all of us in the city of Quincy proud, now therefore Thomas P. Koch, mayor of the city of Quincy, does hereby extend my sincerest congratulations and wish you continued success in all your future endeavors and hereby declare Feb. 12, 2015, as Peter Del Vecho Day here in the city of Quincy."

Del Vecho gave a 45-minute presentation on the production of "Frozen," the 2013 film that won numerous awards including the Academy Award, Golden Globe, and BAFTA awards for best animated feature. The film also grossed $1.3 billion, the most for any animated film. Del Vecho began by discussing the exposure to the arts he received attending Quincy Public Schools. That exposure led him to pursue a career in the arts, beginning in theater.

"It's nice to know Quincy has a long memory and I haven't been forgotten, because with the success of 'Frozen' it wasn't lost on the town I grew up in," Del Vecho said.

"I did go to Cranch Elementary School, Central Junior High, and Quincy High School. I had great exposure to the arts at all three of those schools – even in elementary school – band, orchestra, theatre, debate clubs. All of that in my formative years, I think, really set the groundwork for me wanting to pursue a career in theater.

"The support of the arts is really important, particularly in schools. Otherwise, I probably wouldn't have had that exposure."

PETER DEL VECHO (right), the Academy Award winning producer of the 3D computer animated musical fantasy-comedy film "Frozen" and a 1976 Quincy High graduate, visited his hometown on Feb. 12. The day was proclaimed "Peter Del Vecho Day" by Mayor Thomas Koch in his honor. John Fagerlund (left), coordinator of the Quincy School-Community Partnership, presented the producer with a brick from the old Quincy High in a special stand made by QHS students. Quincy Sun Photo/Scott Jackson

Del Vecho spoke at Stop & Shop's New England headquarters in Quincy Center; the supermarket chain recently began offering "Frozen" merchandise in stores. He was supposed to meet with a group of 80 students at Quincy High, but classes were cancelled Feb. 12.

Del Vecho went on to attend Boston University after high school. While there, he changed his focus from acting to producing.

"I started off wanting to be an actor, but it was while I was at Boston University I decided to switch to more behind the scenes producing," Del Vecho explained. "I found my real gift was in helping others get their vision up onto the screen or onto the stage."

After BU, Del Vecho went on to work at various theaters across the northeast before winding up at the Guthrie Theater in Minneapolis, where he began working on musicals. That put Del Vecho on Walt Disney Animation Studios' radar as the company was looking to develop new musical animated features.

"It's not a career path that I had thought of when I was in high school. I've learned – as I'm sure most people in this room have – that you take advantage of the opportunities that present themselves, even if it's different than what you originally thought," Del Vecho said.

"I was ready for a new challenge. I knew nothing about animation, but they hired me anyway."

Del Vecho has worked on six films for Disney, three of which he produced. Aside from "Frozen," he also produced 2011's "Winnie the Pooh" and 2009's "The Princess and the Frog." The latter was also nominated for the Academy Award for best animated feature.

Del Vecho spent two-and-a-half years producing "Frozen," which was inspired by the Hans Christian Anderson fairy tale "The Snow Queen." Del Vecho and the film's writers and directors wanted to create a modern fairy tale their children could go grow up watching.

"We had watched the classic fairy tale fade. We were told the era was over and that audiences had become too cynical. It saddened us that our children might not be able to experience the movies we experienced as children," Del Vecho explained.

"While classics speak to many generations thanks to DVDs, there is something about experiencing the film in your formative years that makes you feel you're part of that magic. You take ownership of the film and feel closer to it. We wanted to give the next generation, our own children, that same experience."

During Del Vecho's discussion of the film's production, he spoke of the how it evolved over time. Anna and Elsa, the two sisters at the center of the film, weren't related to each other in the early stages of writing, for example. They weren't royalty at first either, but that was changed to increase what was at stake in the film, Del Vecho noted.

Del Vecho also played a demo of "Life's Too Short," one of a dozen songs written for the film that were ultimately left out of it. While the production crew liked the song, which includes a fight between Anna and Elsa, it was cut because they felt the audience wouldn't have a favorable view of the sisters after hearing the song.

Of the six film Del Vecho has worked on, "Frozen," he said, was the most difficult to put together.

"This movie was probably the most difficult movie I ever worked on, because while all the parts individually were working, it didn't really add up to be the movie it is today. As late as February of the year the movie come out (2013), we were still struggling with how to really solidify it," he explained.

"Between February and June we made a lot of changes to the movie and suddenly the sum of those parts added up to a greater whole. We previewed the audience in Arizona…it was there that we knew something really big."

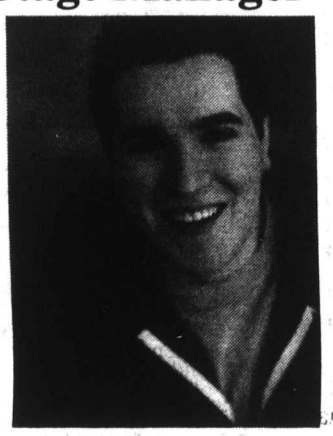
The film has since become a global phenomenon. "Frozen" was re-recorded in 42 different languages – Del Vecho played a video of the song "Let It Go" recorded in each of them – and went on to gross more internationally than in the U.S. The success of the film came as a surprise.

"No one can anticipate that," Del Vecho said.

Since the film's release, Del Vecho and the production crew put together a new seven-minute short based on "Frozen" that will premier in March. The same team is also working on another feature film that will debut in a couple years.

Quincy Native Stage Manager

Quincy native Stephen Markarian has a key behind-the-scenes role as stage manager of Riverside Theatre Works' "Freckleface Strawberry," a charming, kid-friendly musical about the joys of being yourself.



STEPHEN MARKARIAN

Based on the children's book by actress Julianne Moore, the show tells the story of a redheaded girl who will do anything to get rid of her freckles. With the help of a ballerina, an athlete, a ditzy pal, a kooky teacher, and a loving mom, she discovers that everyone is sometimes insecure – and that our differences make us special.

Performances are Feb. 28 and March 7 at 7 p.m., March 1 and 8 at 2 p.m., and special school day shows March 3 and 5 at 10:30 a.m. Tickets for weekend performances cost $10 for kids and $15 for adults, and are available at www.rtwboston.org or by calling 1-866-811-4111.

School-day matinee tickets are $5 apiece; to schedule a group visit, contact Riverside Theatre Works at 617-361-7024.

Markarian is a graduate of the Boston Conservatory. He lives in New York City where he is pursuing a career in theater.

Find us on Facebook
Highlights of Local Programming found on . . . QATV
Quincy Access Television
88 Washington Street
Quincy, MA 02169
617-376-1440

Public Access Channel 8

Thursday, February 19th
6:00pm: Bethany Congregational Church
7:00pm: Q vs. NQ Boys Hockey 2/5

Friday, February 20th
6:00am: LIVE: AM Quincy (audio only)
11:30am: LIVE: Currently in Quincy

Saturday, February 21st
12:00pm: All Friends Cabaret
11:00pm: Penny Dreadful's Shilling Shockers

Sunday, February 22nd
12:00pm: Faces of South Asia
3:30pm: Sound Advice with Tom Williams

Monday, February 23rd
11:30am: LIVE: Currently in Quincy
7:00pm: Q vs. NQ Girls Basketball 2/13

Tuesday, February 24th
6:00pm: Eye on Quincy (replay)
8:00pm: Quincy in Focus

Wednesday, February 25th
6:00pm: Good News
10:00pm: The Constitution: Then & Now

Government Access Channel 11

Thursday, February 19th
12:00pm: City Council 2/17
7:30pm: In Your Neighborhood: Ward 3
8:30pm: At the Library: February Happenings

Friday, February 20th:
6:00pm: City View with Mayor Koch
7:00pm: In the Know: City Census

Saturday/Sunday, February 21st/22nd
9:00am: City View with Mayor Koch
11:00am: At the Library: February Happenings
12:00pm: City Council 2/17
2:00pm: Quincy Honors. Hospital Hill Assoc.
7:00pm: City Council 2/17

Monday, February 23rd
6:00pm: Crime Watch: 911/Pedestrian Safety
6:30pm: FYI: QHD Thrush

Tuesday, February 24h
4:00pm: LIVE: License Board
7:00pm: License Board Replay

Wednesday, February 25th
12:00pm: License Board 2/24
8:00pm: A Conversation with Joe Finn

Programming is subject to change. For a complete list of programs, please consult our website at www.qatv.org

Social

Adams Park Seeks Visitor Use Assistants

Adams National Historical Park announces that applications for employment as a Seasonal Visitor Use Assistant are being accepted through Feb. 24.

Full-time seasonal employment (40 hours per week including weekends and holidays) at Adams National Historical Park will be available from May 2015 to Nov. 10, 2015. The announcement for Seasonal Visitor Use Assistant positions at Adams National Historical Park are posted on the internet at www.usajobs.gov until midnight on Feb. 24. Applicants for Seasonal Visitor Use Assistant positions may view job descriptions and application procedures at the official job site at www.usajobs.gov.

Adams National Historical Park includes the birthplaces of United States Presidents John Adams and John Quincy Adams; the "Old House" at "Peace field," home to both Presidents and their distinguished families and descendants; a Visitor Center, and an Orientation Center. Park Visitor Use Assistants (VUA) serve as frontline representatives of the National Park Service and provide current, accurate information to visitors about the NPS and Adams NHP.

VUAs schedule historic house tours and other Park programs and events, tickets visitors for same, process payments for tickets and NPS passes, recommend and sell books and other thematically-related merchandise, reconcile receipts, resolve discrepancies, close out registers at end of shift, and record Park visitation statistics. VUAs provide the highest level of customer service to a diverse audience at all times, in busy, and sometimes stressful situations, and in a variety of physical environments, both inside and outside historic buildings.

All positions require excellent customer service skills, the ability to work with people of all ages and diverse backgrounds, and a positive attitude.

To be eligible for seasonal employment, applicants must be United States citizens and must apply online at www.usajobs.gov.

Do not mail or bring applications directly to Adams National Historical Park; they will be returned unopened.

For more information about these positions, visit the Official Job Site of the United States Federal Government at www.usajobs.gov.

Adams National Historical Park, National Park Service is an equal opportunity employer.

QUINCY COMMUNITY ACTION Programs, Inc. is offering free tax preparation for qualifying residents from now and April 11. Tax preparation is done on Thursday evenings and Saturdays and is by appointment only. Pictured are QCAP Executive Director Beth Ann Strollo, QCAP tax volunteer Peter Donohoe, and MASSCAP Executive Director Joe Diamond. Story, other photo on Page 9. Quincy Sun Photo/Scott Jackson

Boston Soul Revue Performance At Common Market March 7

John McDonald of JM Productions announces that Boston Soul Revue will perform Saturday, March 7 at 7:30 p.m. at the Common Market, 97 Willard St., Quincy.

The Boston Soul Revue features songs by girl groups like The Shirelles, The Marvelettes, The Supremes, LaBelle, and soul and disco with classics by Aretha Franklin, Tina Turner, Gloria Gaynor, Donna Summer and more.

The evening will feature three of Boston's "Ladies of Soul:" Judy Teo, Miz Shannell and Thea G.

Teo is one of the original members of The Boston Soul Revue. She has fronted many legendary Boston bands over her career and has performed with Shirley Reeves, The Marvellettes, Hank Ballard, The Belmonts, The Flamingos and The Drifters.

Shannell attended the Longy School of Music. She has performed with the Boston Soul Revue as well as several of Boston's top wedding bands. She was recently featured in a Diana Ross tribute show.

Thea G is a classically trained singer with a degree from the New England Conservatory. She harmonized with Teo for eight years in their residency at The Original House of Blues as part of Rev. Lee Mitchell's gospel brunch.

All seats for the March 7th show are $20 in advance and $30 at the door the eveng of the show. Seating is general admission, first come, first served.

Reserved seating is available for groups of 10 or more. Doors open one half hour for the show.

For more information, call 617-773-9532.

21 Local Students On Curry Dean's List

Twenty-one students from Quincy are on the Dean's List for the fall semester at Curry College.

They are:

Alicia Amato, Jessica Bither, Vasily Filatenkov, Emily Gaffney, Erin Healy, Michael Hong, Christine Kelliher, Nicole Lamie, Melissa Linskey, Michael Madigan McNeil, Taylor McKenna,Adelajda Mullahi, Jason Pekkinen, Uyen Vu of Quincy, Ashley Cataloni, Nicole Regal, John Travers, Elizabeth-Anne Amerault, Christine Pedro, Brendan Therrien, and Caleb Tong.

Lawrence Chung Albany Graduate

Lawrence Chung of Quincy recently graduated from the University of Albany in New York.

Chung earned a Bachelor of Arts degree in computer science.

Two Residents On UNE Dean's List

Two students from Quincy are on the Dean's List for the fall semester at the University of New England in Biddeford/Portland, ME.

They are: Britney M. Broderick and Maggie E. Lynch

Emma Ainsley On Dean's List

Emma Ainsley of Quincy is on the Dean's List for the fall semester at Carroll University in Waukesha, Wis.

Two On Saint Joseph's Dean's List

Two students from Quincy are on the Dean's List for the fall semester at Saint Joseph's University in Philadelphia, PA.

They are:

Matthew Poles majoring in family business and entrepreneurship; and Thomas Hobin majoring in undecided business.

Michael Lethin On Dean's List

Michael Lethin of Quincy is on the Dean's List for the fall semester at Wheaton College in Norton.

A member of Wheaton's Class of 2017, he is the son of Gerard Lethin and Maureen Lethin.

QCAP Study Program For High School Equivalency Exam

Quincy Community Action Programs, Inc. (QCAP) is offering a 12-week study program for the HiSET High School Equivalency Exam.

Come and study math or reading and Essay Writing (or both) and prepare for the HiSET. Classes will focus on the higher levels for students nearly ready to take the test and provide access to the computer practice exams.

Classes begin Feb. 23 and continue Monday through Thursday evenings.

For more information, call 617-657-5387.

Ward 2 Association Hosting Family Pajama, Movie Night

The Ward 2 Civic Association will host a Family Pajama and Movie Night Saturday, Feb. 21 at 5 p.m. at the Fore River Clubhouse, Nevada Road, Quincy.

Ward 2 families are invited to come in pajamas, bring something comfy to sit or lie on, and watch the movie "Finding Nemo." Pizza and soft drinks/water will be provided.

Volunteers are needed. Contact ward2civicassociation@gmail.com to volunteer or with any questions.

Joanna Pride On Dean's List

Joanna Pride of Quincy is on the Dean's List for the fall semester at Wake Forest University in Winston Salem, N.C.

Neighborhood Club of Quincy

Nestled in a quiet neighborhood in historic Quincy, the Neighborhood Club has been creating unforgettable memories since 1917.

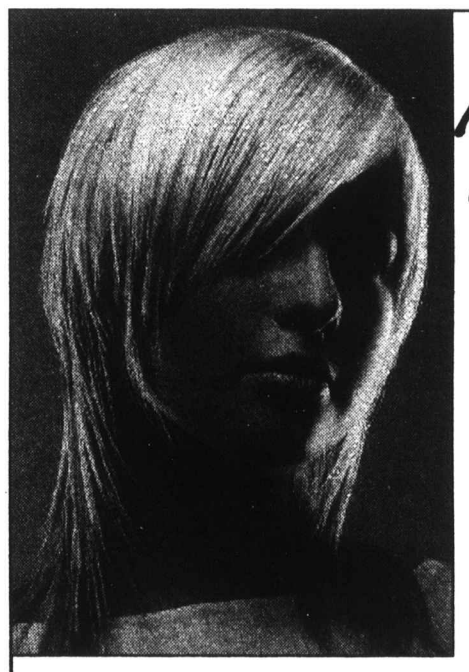
We take pride in making each and every wedding or event unique and memorable.

Whether you are looking for a spacious ballroom for up to 200, or a setting for a smaller group of guests, the Neighborhood Club has the perfect place to hold your event.

Book Your Wedding and Enjoy a Complimentary Champagne Toast (Mention this ad)

617.773.9300

27 Glendale Road, Quincy, MA 02169 www.ncquincy.com



New Year!!!

NEW COLOR!!!

NEW STYLE!!!

HAIRPLACE ONE

85 QUINCY AVENUE

Call for Appt. 617-472-1060

www.hairplaceone.com

WHAT'S COOKING
with
Marie & Suzie
By MARIE D'OLIMPIO and SUZIE FALCO

Mac N' Cheese From A 13-Year-Old

By MARIE

Today's recipe is from my 13-year-old granddaughter who was making lunch for two of her girlfriends. They had just finished making a fort out of the large amounts of snow, and were cold and hungry.

Ellie decided to make her version of mac n' cheese. Forget the package kind: she made it from scratch. And I was watching in amazement.

Ellie's Mac n' Cheese

For the cream sauce
2 tablespoons butter
2 tablespoons flour
1 cup whole milk
1/2 cup mozzarella cheese
1/2 pound mini bow ties

Cook the pasta according to directions.

Melt the butter and add the flour making a roux. Add the milk and the cheese.

Pour the pasta in the mixture and stir until blended. Place in a buttered 9-inch pie plate.

For the topping:
2 tablespoons plain breadcrumbs
2 tablespoons Parmesan cheese
1 teaspoon pizza seasoning

Mix altogether and sprinkle on top.

Bake in a preheated 350-degree oven for 25 minutes until top is brown. Needless to say, I did have a taste – delicious!

Apple Parsnip Soup

By SUZIE

Any apples do well in this soup. I love using Fuji or Gala but use whatever that you have handy. Please make sure you use organic apples since they are one of the "dirty dozen" in regards to excessive use of pesticides.

Parsnips are a root vegetable closely related to the carrot family and are loaded with vitamin C and fiber as well as "polyacetylene" which is a compound that has been found in research to have anti-inflammatory, anti-fungal, and anti-cancer function and may even offer protection from colon cancer.

This is a lovely tasting pureed soup that is slightly sweet and very filling. Eating soups daily helps with weight management and allows you to get your important veggies in as well.

This soup has ginger as well so it has a nice bite to it. It is worth your while to purchase an immersion blender which is a hand held blender that you can easily puree' soups with without having to let cool and place in blender. They are inexpensive and come in very handy.

2 tablespoons olive oil
1 cup chopped onion
2 ½ cups of chopped peeled apples
1 ½ teaspoons grated peeled fresh ginger
1 teaspoon ground cardomom
1 garlic clove, minced
3 ½ cups of chopped peeled parsnips
4 ½ cups chicken broth
½ cup apple cider
1 teaspoon sea salt
Grating of black pepper
Dollop of Greek yogurt

Heat oil in a Dutch oven/stock pan over medium heat and add onion. Cook about 5 minutes, stirring frequently.

Add apples and next 3 ingredients (up to the garlic) and cook a bit more, stirring constantly.

Add parsnips, broth and cider and bring to a boil. Cover and simmer for about 30 minutes until parsnips are tender.

Add salt and pepper.

Now is the time to pull out your immersion blender and puree' until smooth. Adjust seasonings, and serve with a dollop of Greek yogurt. Enjoy!

SUPER SALMON – MassGOP Chairman Kirsten Hughes (second from left) donates a box of fresh king salmon that she won in a Super Bowl bet to The Women's Lunch Place in Boston. Accepting the donation is Linda Burston, Support Coordinator as staff members and women who benefit from the Lunch Place look on. Hughes and Washington State GOP Chairman Sarah Hutchinson agreed to a friendly wager before Super Bowl XLIX between the New England Patriots and Seattle Seahawks Feb. 1. Had the Patiots lost the game, Hughes would have sent a lobster dinner to Seattle. The Patriots defeated the Seahawks 28-24.

Photo Courtesy Emmalee Kalmbach

O'Donnell Appears On QATV Show

Norfolk County Register of Deeds William P. O'Donnell recently appeared as a guest on Tom Williams cable TV show Sound Advice, seen locally on Quincy Cable Access channel QATV.

O'Donnell spoke with the host about the technology and customer services advances at the Registry, along with the overall outlook for the Norfolk County real estate market. He spoke in detail about the many technology improvements that have been achieved at the Registry. They include a state-of- the-art computer system and internet accessible land document research availability going back to 1793. The Norfolk County Registry of Deeds holds more than 5 million real estate documents.

O'Donnell noted that anyone with internet access can look up information about their home through on-line research at www.norfolkdeeds.org or contact the Registry's Customer Service Department at 781-461-6101 for further assistance.

Also mentioned was the Registry's electronic recording program which allows real estate professionals, lending institutions and lawyers, the ability to submit their land documents electronically to the Registry for recording. Many professionals have commented on the convenience and time savings the electronic recording program has provided.

O'Donnell emphasized that the common thread for all these advancements and improvements at the Registry is a commitment to providing first- class customer service to the Registry's customers; Norfolk County residents and professionals with businesses in Norfolk County.

The register also discussed the current trends in the Norfolk County real estate market, including residential and commercial property sales, improvements in the mortgage market and foreclosure activity. In addition, O'Donnell spoke on the many benefits of the Homestead Act, which provides homeowners with limited protection on the value of their primary home against unsecured creditors up to $500,000.

To learn more about these and other Registry of Deeds events and initiatives, like us at facebook.com/NorfolkDeeds or follow us on twitter.com @ NorfolkDeeds.

The Norfolk County Registry of Deeds, located at 649 High Street, Dedham is the principal office for real property in Norfolk County. The Registry is a resource for homeowners, title examiners, mortgage lenders, municipalities and others with a need for secure, accurate, accessible land record information. Residents in need of assistance can contact the Registry of Deeds Customer Service Department via telephone at (781) 461-6101, or on the web at www.norfolkdeeds.org.

Eight Receive Academic Honors At SNHU

Eight students from Quincy have received academic honors for the first semester at Southern New Hampshire University in Manchester, N.H.

Quincy students named to the President's List are:

Sarah Spargo, BA Elementary Ed with Certificate in General Special Ed; and Robert Tiongson, BA Communication.

Local students on the Dean's List are:

Tyler Braun, BA Elementary Education; Alexandra Coscia, BS Business Administration; Christine Gambon, BA English Language & Literature; Joseph Scafidi, BA Psychology with concentration in Child and Adolescent Development; Alyssa Sharpe, BA Communication and Michael Travers, BS Marketing with concentration in Social Medial Marketing.

Three On Regis Dean's List

Three students from Quincy are on the Dean's List for the fall semester at Regis College in Weston.

They are:

Kawtar Laftih, a sophomore; Allison Bui, a sophomore and Brenda Nguyen, a freshman.

Two On Assumption Dean's List

Two students from Quincy are on the Dean's List for the fall semester at Assumption College in Worcester.

They are:

Tamra Adams and Anna Canavan.

Quincy Art Association Scholarship

In order to better prepare the students for the competitive standards of the study and perusal of arts, the Quincy Art Association is offering a scholarship to a Quincy Public high school senior continuing the study of fine arts.

An application and portfolio can be submitted to Quincy Art Association, c/o Kelly Cobble, 26 High School Ave., Quincy, MA 02169 by March 4 by mail.

A committee of artists will review the answers and the artwork to determine qualifications.

CPR Certification Course March 3

Health Ed of New England will hold a CPR certification course for healthcare providers Tuesday, March 3 from 6 to 10 p.m. at Christ Church, 12 Quincy Ave., Quincy.

The cost is $45 per person. The course requires pre-registration by Monday, March 2.

For more information, call 781-582-1440 or 800-434-6000, or visit www.healthednewengland.com.

PAUL'S AUTO BODY
384 Centre St., Quincy 617-471-6280
Open Mon-Fri 8AM - 5PM
(Walking distance from Quincy Adams T Station)
Expert Repairs on All Makes & Models
Insurance Estimates
Auto Glass Installed
Complete Auto Detailing & Reconditioning
$25.00 OFF
ANY DETAILING SERVICE OVER $100.00
Cannot be combined with other offers
One coupon per visit
Expert Color Matching
Licensed Dealer
Pre-Owned Vehicles
Insurance Rentals Available

RJS Reliable Tax Service
518 Hancock Street, Quincy
(617)773-7360
www.reliabletaxservice.com
10% Discount new clients only
Individual Income Tax $65 up
Corporate Income Tax $350 up
Experienced IRS Enrolled Agent

QCAP Offering Free Tax Prep

QUINCY COMMUNITY ACTION Programs recently launched its annual program providing free tax preparation to qualifying residents. The program began in 2004; since then QCAP volunteers have helped file 5,000 returns with refunds totaling more than $7 million. From left: MASSCAP Executive Director Joe Diamond; Mary Ann Higgins, regional administrator for the federal Administration for Children and Families; QCAP Executive Director Beth Ann Strollo; QCAP tax volunteer Peter Donohoe; Luc Shuster, deputy director of the Mass. Budget and Policy Center; Leanne Martin, executive director of the state's Financial Literacy Trust Fund; and Julia Frederick, a staffer for U.S. Sen. Elizabeth Warren. Quincy Sun Photo/Scott Jackson

By SCOTT JACKSON

This tax season, QCAP is once again offering free tax preparation services for low-to-moderate income individuals and families.

QCAP (Quincy Community Action Programs) is offering the free tax preparation as part of its Volunteer Income Tax Assistance (VITA) program. Individuals and families whose household income for 2014 was less than $53,000 and who were Massachusetts residents for the entire year are eligible for the program, as is anyone who qualified for fuel assistance this season from QCAP. There are several situations – tax returns for other states, active military duty pay, landlords, business owners, international students, short sales, foreclosures, loan modifications, and Schedule K-1 income – QCAP cannot assist with.

Residents looking to receive free tax preparation from QCAP need to first fill out an IRS intake form, available online at QCAP.org or by calling 617-657-5345. After the form is completed and received by QCAP, someone from the non-profit will call to schedule an appointment. Appointments are offered from 5:30 p.m. to 9:30 p.m. on Thursdays and 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. on Saturdays through April 11.

Last year, QCAP assisted 640 individuals and households with their tax returns. Since it began the VITA program in 2004, QCAP volunteers filed 5,000 returns. Residents have received more than $7 million in refunds over that period in addition to saving money by not paying someone for tax preparation.

"This is just a great service we provide for the community," QCAP Executive Director Beth Ann Strollo explained at a recent event announcing the start of this year's VITA program.

"We call it a great anti-poverty program but really what it is about is making sure working families get more money back into their pockets to be able to use it for their living expenses or to help, ultimately, save to maybe buy a home or another asset to further their education.

"We help taxpayers by avoiding them having to pay a tax preparation fee, which is maybe $300 or so. We do it for free. Secondly, we make sure people are able to take advantage – full advantage – of the tax code."

QCAP uses a team of volunteers to prepare residents' tax returns; nearly 30 people volunteered last year. The volunteers are certified and tested each year to ensure they are up to date on the tax code.

"Doing free tax returns for QCAP on Thursdays and Saturdays is fun and rewarding," said Peter Donohoe, who works in the banking industry and has volunteered for QCAP since 2006.

"I did a tax return Thursday night for an elderly woman. She got the circuit breaker credit; so many people don't even know it's available. This is a woman who makes $1,500 in Social Security a month and that's her income. We got her over $1,000 refund.

"She wouldn't even have done her tax return, and we got her over $1,000."

QCAP is one of nearly two dozen community action agencies statewide that make up the Massachusetts Association for Community Action (MASSCAP); almost all of them offer tax preparation services.

In 2013, 18,000 Massachusetts residents received tax preparation for free from MASSCAP programs. Those residents received $30 million in refunds.

"That's a huge return," MASSCAP Executive Director Joe Diamond stated. "It helps people stabilize their lives. It helps people deal with debt. It helps people to be able to begin to think about savings."

Sheriff's 'Are You OK'? Rescues Quincy Woman

An 86-year-old woman fell in her home and lay helpless in her apartment for about 16 hours until the Norfolk Sheriff's Office "Are You OK?" program summoned police to check on her because she failed to answer her daily well-being check phone call.

The woman hit her head when she fell and was treated for a laceration at South Shore Hospital, where she was kept for several days for observation. She was expected to return home this week.

"I'm just grateful this woman was enrolled in our 'Are You OK?' program," Sheriff Michael G. Bellotti said. "If she hadn't been signed up with us, the outcome may have been a lot worse. She received excellent care from the Quincy Police who went to her after we called, and the medical personnel who attended to her after that."

The rescue was made on Jan. 16 when "Are You OK?" officer Cheryl Bambery placed her daily calls to program enrollees. Bambery called the 86-year-old Quincy woman at the agreed upon time of 8:20 a.m. The woman did not answer. Bambery called twice after that, but still no answer. That's when Bambery notified the Quincy Police, who went to the woman's address and found her lying on the floor.

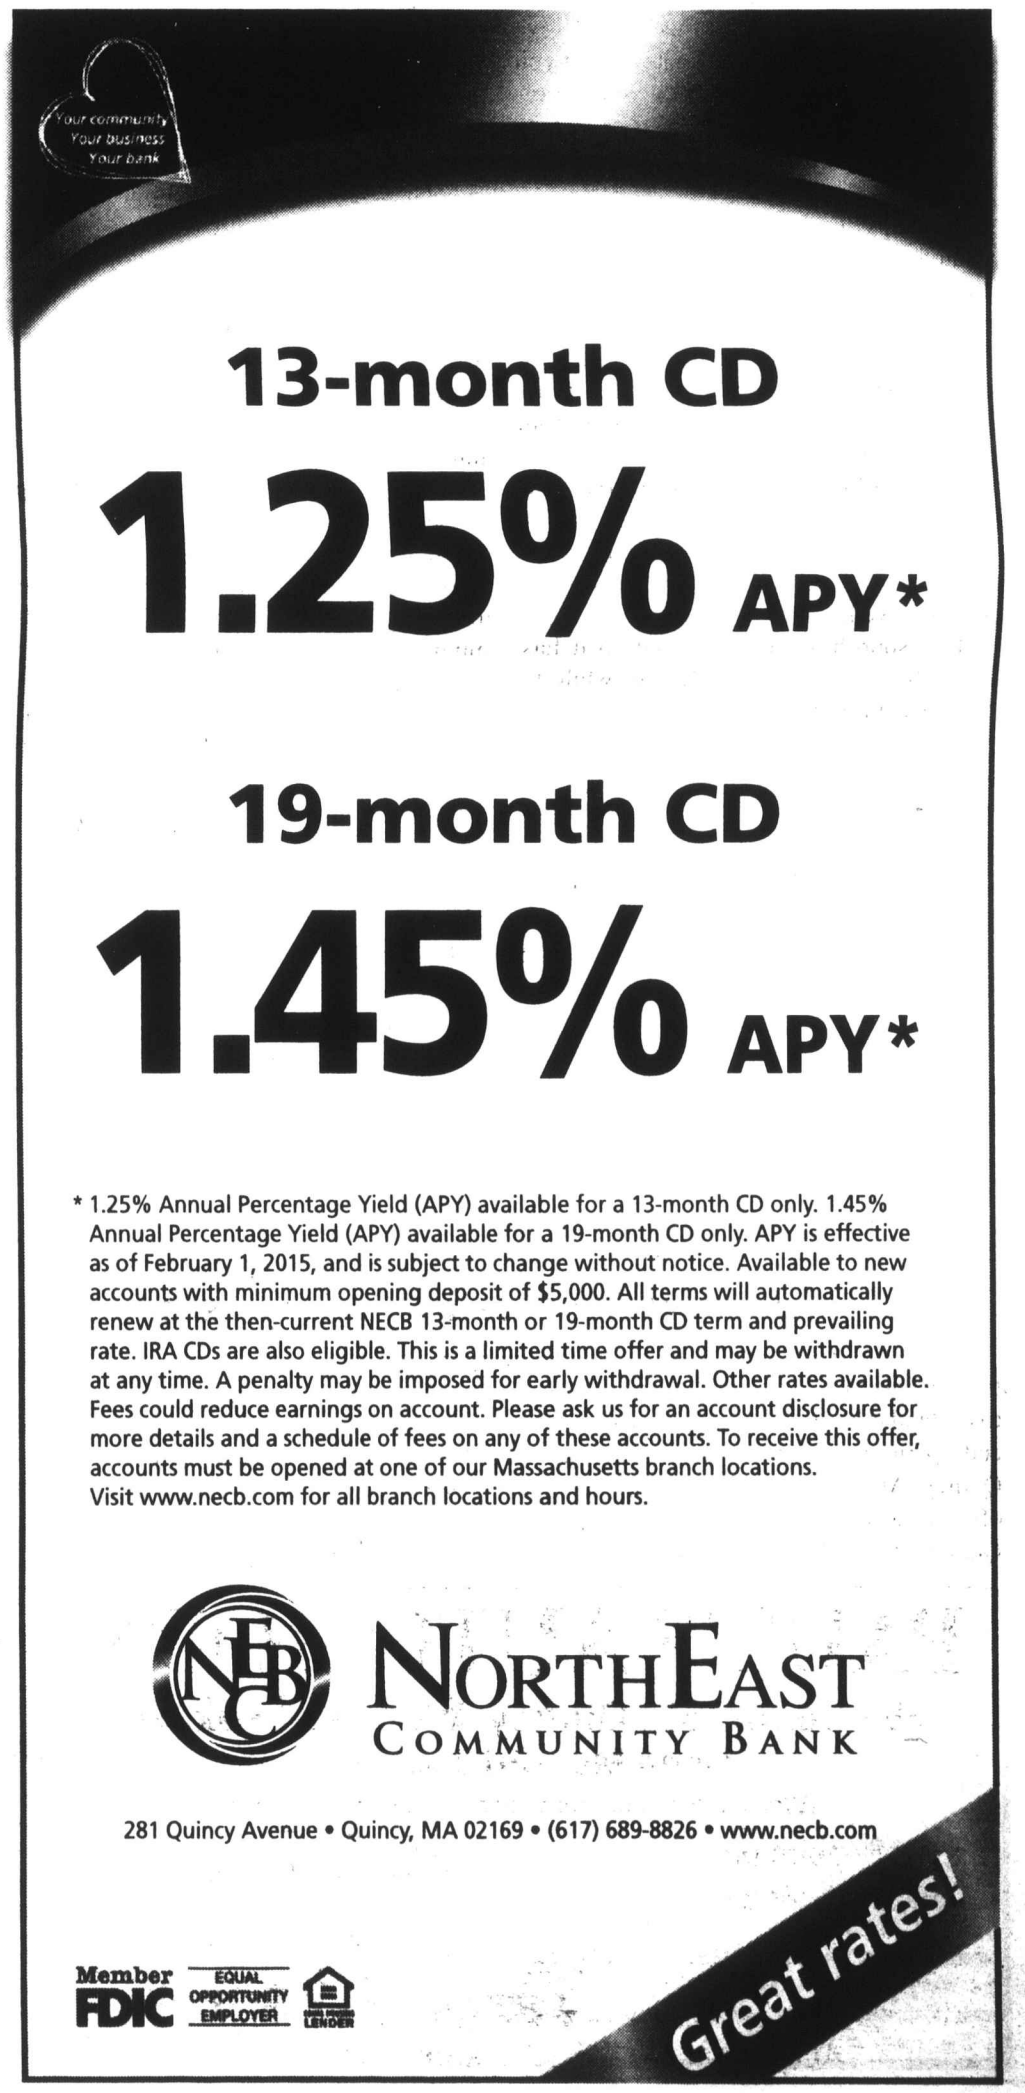
It was the 120th time Sheriff Bellotti's program has been able to get emergency help for an enrollee since he initiated the program in Norfolk County in 2001.

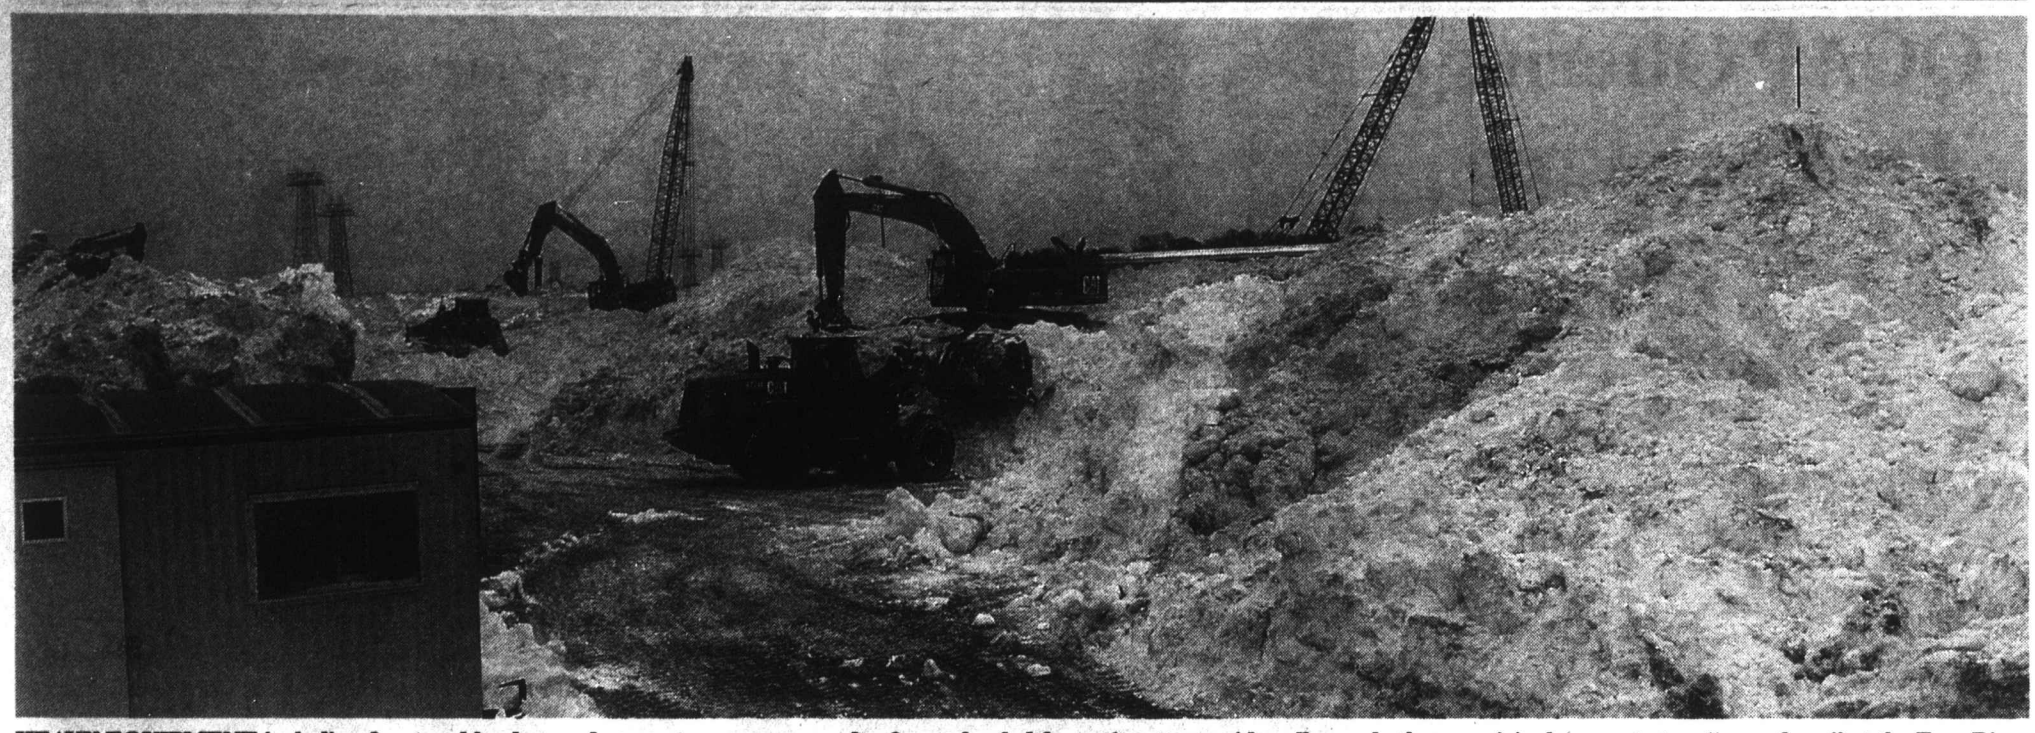
The free-of-charge "Are You OK?" program, collaboratively run by Sheriff Bellotti and Fallon Ambulance Service, has provided protection for more than 1,700 elderly citizens with a simple phone call each day to check on their well-being. Participants of the program receive a phone call every day, 365 days a year. "Are You OK?" officers can summon emergency help if a participant fails to answer the phone or otherwise indicates they are not OK. The program is available to all Norfolk County residents.

"Once again, this lifesaving program proves itself to be effective in protecting and aiding senior citizens living alone," Sheriff Bellotti said about the rescue of the 86-year-old woman.

Anyone wishing to sign up for "Are You OK?" or learn more about the program may call 866-900-RUOK (7865).

Informational videos about the program can be found on Facebook by searching Norfolk County Sheriff's Office "Are You OK?" Program for Senior Citizens.





HEAVY EQUIPMENT including front-end loaders and excavators move mounds of snow hauled from city streets, sidewalks, and other municipal property to a "snow farm" at the Fore River shipyard. This photo was taken Feb. 12 - a few days before a weekend nor'easter dropped another 16 inches of snow on Quincy. Quincy Sun Photo/Robert Bosworth

Many Temporary 1-Ways In Wake Of Record Snow

Cont'd From Page 3

to Chris Walker, the city's communications director. A full list of streets was not available before The Sun went to press Tuesday afternoon. It will be posted online at thequincysun.com once it is released.

Koch stated the streets would be made one-way indefinitely. The decision to temporarily convert the streets into one-way roads will not require a vote from the City Council, he said.

The city's cleanup efforts from this weekend's storm, and a smaller one Tuesday, are likely to continue all week. The mayor on Monday said crews would first focus on main streets before hitting secondary roads and then smaller neighborhood ones.

"We'll be going back to the main roads tonight (Monday), then to the secondaries, and then you get into streets that connect streets in the neighborhoods," Koch said. "We'll be out all week."

In total, Quincy is responsible for plowing 247 miles of roads in the city. Quincy Shore Drive, Furnace Brook Parkway, Wampatuck Road, Chickatawbut Road and a spur of Hayden Street fall under the state's purview.

Walker on Tuesday said tens of thousands of tons of snow have been removed from Quincy streets in recent weeks. The snow is brought to two snow farms – the Fore River Shipyard and Squantum Point Park – for storage. The city last week received permission from the Massachusetts Department of Environmental Protection to begin dumping snow directly into the ocean; crews have been dumping small loads of snow in coastal neighborhoods into the water.

"We've been spot dumping small scoops where it makes sense. If a crew is in a neighborhood they will go over the seawall with small amounts," Walker explained. "Anything we're hauling is still being taken to the shipyard and Squantum Point Park. We have no intention to dump large amounts."

The weight of the snow caused three buildings to collapse Sunday; no injuries were reported in any of them.

The roof of a four-family home at 85 Gilbert Street partially collapsed Sunday afternoon; Koch said the residents living there were able to find temporary accommodations. The city's Inspectional Services Department said Tuesday the building was structurally sound.

Around 4:30 p.m. Sunday a shopping plaza at 550 Adams Street was evacuated when the roof above a UPS store started to buckle; the plaza is also home to Unchained Pizza, a Dunkin' Donuts, Walgreens, and In Sync Center for the Arts. Inspectional Services was still in the process of evaluating the building as of Tuesday morning.

The third collapse was at an unoccupied building on Garfield Street. That structure was a total loss.

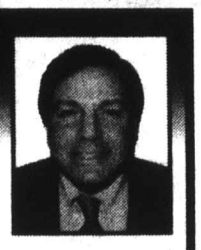
The mayor noted workers with Quincy's Public Buildings Department have

Cont'd On Page 11

SNOW-PLOWING CREWS on Hancock Street were out in full force Sunday morning during the fourth nor'easter to strike the city and region in three weeks. This photo was taken looking south on Hancock Street in the 1200 block. Presidents Place is barely visible on the left.

Photo Courtesy Kumu Gupta

DENTISTRY for the 21st Century



by Steven A. Brustin, D.M.D.

WHAT YOUR MOUTH SAYS ABOUT YOUR HEALTH

Older adults' oral health speaks volumes about their overall wellness. Consider the fact that about 40% of those ages 65 years and older suffer from periodontal (gum) disease. If left unchecked, the more severe form of gum disease, periodontitis, can not only lead to tooth and bone loss, but it can also become more severe and worsen serious health conditions such as diabetes and heart disease. For these reasons, seniors should do all they can to prevent and/or treat infections of their gums and surrounding tissues, which develop when plaque (sticky bacteria-laden film that coats teeth) accumulates along and under the gum line. Persistent dry mouth, bleeding gums, and bad breath are warning signs of gum disease that warrant examination.

The quality of your oral care routine and overall dental health, not age, will determine if you are at risk for receding gums. Fortunately, there are a few simple guidelines to follow that will help you maintain a young, healthy smile for a lifetime. We can examine your teeth and gums for early signs of disease and provide you with state-of-the-art plaque removal instruction. We're currently accepting new patients. Please call 617 479-6220 to schedule an appointment. We're located at 44 Greenleaf Street. Visit us on the web at www.quincydentist.com.

P.S. Caused by smoking, drinking high amounts of alcohol or caffeine, and taking certain medications, dry mouth occurs when the salivary glands do not produce enough saliva to keep teeth and gums healthy.

Greater Quincy Child Care Center

859 Willard St., 1 Adams Place, Quincy (1/2 mi North from the So. Shore Plaza)

- Kindergarten - full day, year round:
- Age req. 5 yrs. old by Oct. 31st.
- Kindergarten cert. Teacher implements MA Curriculum Frameworks
- Preschool: 2.9 to 5 yrs.
- Toddlers: 15 mos. to 2.9 yrs.
- Infants: 8 wks. to 15 mos.
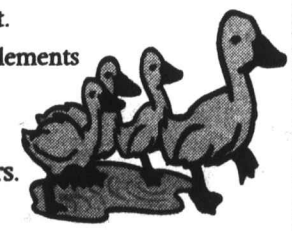
- Full or Part Week • Hot Lunch
- Hours: 7:30 am to 6:00 pm. • Developmental Curriculum
- Music & Large Motor Programs • Small Teacher/Student Ratios
- State-of-the-Art Center • High-Tech Security System



Full-Day - Year-Round Kindergarten
Now accepting registrations for FALL 2015

naeyc Accredited

We are celebrating 30 years of quality care & education
617-773-8386 • e-mail: gqccc@aol.com
www.greaterquincychildcare.com

CONG. BETH SHALOM of the BLUE HILLS
Invites You to our Festive

PURIM CARNIVAL

March 1st, 11:30 a.m. - 1 p.m.
Games, Booths, Prizes, Raffles, Food & Fun!
Prizes for costumes! Tickets for games & food on sale.

Cunningham Hall, 75 Edge Hill Rd.
Milton (parking available)
Entire community is welcome!
For info. call 617-698-3394, visit BethShalomBlueHills.org, or email office@BethShalomBlueHills.org

Heavy Snowfall Taking Toll On Building Roofs

Cont'd From Page 10

inspected municipal buildings, including schools. Snow has been removed from those roofs and no problems detected.

This weekend's storm brought with it high winds, causing reduced visibility. East Squantum Street between Quincy Shore Drive and Squantum was closed for more than 12 hours Sunday because conditions were too dangerous to drive in. The city did try to re-route traffic through Victory Road and Commander Shea Boulevard, but that was stopped after a vehicle crashed. The Police Department and DPW then stationed themselves at either side of the causeway and provided escorts to drivers who needed to get in or out of Squantum.

"Even the plow drivers couldn't see the end of their hoods," Koch said. "The wind was incredible."

Coastal flooding had been a concern with this weekend's storm, particularly around the time of Sunday morning's high tide, but Koch said damage was reported.

The mayor estimated the cost of cleaning up the weekend nor'easter was at $500,000 Monday and the cost of all snow and ice removal over the past four weeks is at $4.5 million. The city had budgeted $1.76 million this winter for snow and ice removal; state law allows communities to deficit spend for those costs.

The city has already submitted paperwork to the Massachusetts Emergency Management Agency (MEMA) to seek federal reimbursement for expenses incurred during the January blizzard. Gov. Charlie Baker had declared a state of emergency during that storm, clearing the way for communities to receive up to 75 percent reimbursement from the federal government.

Koch has reached out to Quincy's representatives on Capitol Hill and Beacon Hill to see if any federal or state reimbursement would be possible for expenses for the three nor'easters that followed the January blizzard. Baker has indicated he plans seek a federal disaster declaration, which would free up additional federal funds. Massachusetts' congressional delegation also requested a federal disaster designation in a letter to the Federal Emergency Management Agency (FEMA).

Baker deployed 500 National Guard members statewide to assist with snow removal last week. National Guardsmen were in Quincy last week, helping to remove snow from city streets and clear fire hydrants. Walker said it had not been determined if the National Guard would return this week to help once again.

So far this year Quincy has used more than 6,000 tons of salt to keep city streets passable. MEMA has been working with communities to make sure they have enough salt on hand to deal with future storms, according to Koch.

Quincy Public Schools are closed this week for February vacation, so this SHOPPING PLAZA at 550 Adams St. was evacuated Sunday afternoon when the roof began to buckle, forcing the exterior walls to bulge out. No one inside the building was injured. The Inspectional Services Department was in the process of evaluating the structure Tuesday to determine if it can be replaced or needs to be condemned.

Cont'd On Page 31

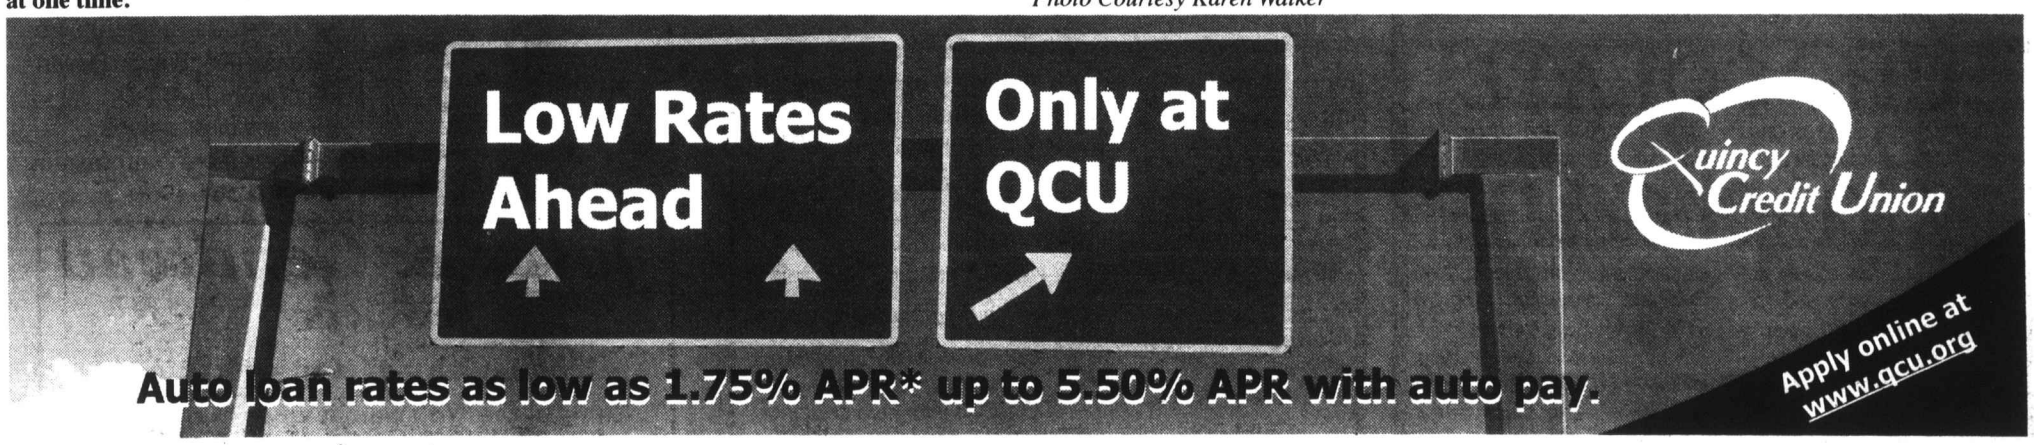
Photo Courtesy Michael Worley

FRONT-END LOADER heads towards Nut Island on Sea Avenue from Great Hill in Houghs Neck during Sunday's nor'easter that dumped another 16 inches of snow on Quincy. The city is planning to convert many two-way streets to temporary one-ways because of the record 88.5 inches of snow in the last 30 days have narrowed the lanes so much only one direction of traffic can flow at one time.

Photo Courtesy Karen Walker

JOAN'S OLYMPIC GYM
GYMNASTICS & DANCE SCHOOL
WAS VOTED #1 ON THE SOUTH SHORE
Ages 2 – Adult
NOW ACCEPTING REGISTRATIONS!
781-843-9624
"An Excellent Education Environment For Your Child"
197 Quincy Avenue, Braintree • www.joansolympicgym.com



*APR=Annual Percentage Rate. Rates currently in effect and subject to change. Rate, term and approval amount based on credit worthiness. Speak with a loan representative to find out how your rate is determined. QCU finances 100% of the purchase price or book value, whichever is less. Minimum rate with Auto Pay is 1.75%. Payment per thousand on 1.75% for 72 months is $14.65. Minimum rate without Auto Pay is 2.00%. Payment per thousand on 2.00% for 72 months is $14.76. Maximum rate with Auto Pay is 5.50%. Payment per thousand on 5.50% for 72 months is $16.34. Maximum rate without Auto Pay is 5.75%. Payment per thousand on 5.75% for 72 months is $16.46. Other rates and terms available. Maximum term is 72 months for qualified applicants. Maximum loan amount is $50,000. Refinancing on existing QCU loans requires additional proceeds of $4,000 minimum. Membership eligibility requirements apply. Providing financial products and services to individuals who work or live in Norfolk, Plymouth Counties or Dorchester. $5.00 Primary Share Account required for Membership.

NCUA
Federally insured by NCUA
EQUAL HOUSING LENDER
MEMBER MASSACHUSETTS CREDIT UNION SHARE INSURANCE CORPORATION MSIC

Abigail Adams Society To Present Women's History Month Panel

Abigail Adams Historical Society (AAHS), stewards of the Abigail Adams Birthplace, commemorates Women's History Month by presenting an expert discussion panel on Trail-Blazing Women: Anne Hutchinson, Margaret Fuller, and Amelia Earhart, featuring acclaimed authors Eve LaPlante, Megan Marshall, and Susan Ware.

The event will take place Saturday, March 7 from 3 to 4:30 p.m. in Weymouth at a venue to be determined.

Three distinguished authors will share insights into the lives and legacies of these important figures in American history, who defied the conventions of their day. Time will be allowed for questions, and a book-signing and opportunity to meet the speakers will immediately follow the presentation.

Eve LaPlante, who holds degrees from Princeton and Harvard, will speak about founding mother and religious nonconformist Anne Hutchinson, whose life she detailed in her highly praised book American Jezebel.

LaPlante is also the author of Salem Witch Judge, a biography of Samuel Sewall that won the 2008 Massachusetts Book Award for Nonfiction; Seized: Temporal Lobe Epilepsy in Medicine, History, and Art; and, most recently, Marmee & Louisa, a narrative portrait of Louisa May Alcott's relationship with her mother, Abigail, which was named an NPR top ten book of 2012.

LaPlante is also the editor of the first collection of Abigail May Alcott's writings, My Heart Is Boundless.

Marshall will discuss her 2014 Pulitzer Prize- and Massachusetts Book Award-winning biography of Margaret Fuller, a leading Transcendentalist, America's first female war correspondent, and a passionate advocate of personal liberation and political freedom.

Marshall, who teaches nonfiction writing and archival research in the MFA program at Emerson College, is also the author of The Peabody Sisters: Three Women Who Ignited American Romanticism, which won the Francis Parkman Prize, the Mark Lynton History Prize, and the Massachusetts Book Award, as well as being a finalist for the Pulitzer Prize in Biography.

Ware, a pioneer in the field of women's history and a leading feminist biographer, will speak about her biography of Amelia Earhart, Still Missing: Amelia Earhart and the Search for Modern Feminism. An author and editor of numerous books on twentieth-century U.S. history, Ware has taught at New York University and Harvard, and has has long been associated with Radcliffe's Schlesinger Library, where she currently serves as senior advisor. Her most recent book is Game, Set, Match: Billie Jean King and the Revolution in Women's Sports.

Serving as moderator will be Michelle Marchetti Coughlin, author of One Colonial Woman's World: The Life and Writings of Mehetabel Chandler Coit and an AAHS board member.

Admission is $15 per person, $10 for AAHS members. Reservations are not necessary.

First Step Take To Replace Squantum School, Repair Three Others

By KRIS KALABOKAS

The city has taken the first step to secure state funding to replace the Squantum Elementary School and undertake repair projects at three other Quincy schools.

The City Council on Feb. 10 unanimously authorized the submission of statements of interest to the Massachusetts School Building Authority to replace or renovate Squantum Elementary School; repair windows, doors, and roofs at Beechwood Knoll Elementary; repair a portion of the roof at Merrymount Elementary; and install new windows at the Amelio Della Chiesa Early Childhood Center.

"I love the fact that you continue to support our schools as you always have; you're always there for items like this," School Superintendent Dr. Richard DeCristofaro told councillors before the vote.

"We're making incredible progress and we're making it with your support."

The School Committee approved the statements of interest during a special meeting Feb. 3 in a 5-0 vote; committee members Noel DiBona and Anne Mahoney were unable to attend the meeting.

The repair projects at Beechwood Knoll, Merrymount, and the Della Chiesa Center, would be done through MSBA's accelerated repair program. The program partially reimburses the cost of roof, boiler, and window repairs to school districts based on need and urgency for repairs or school construction. Laura Owens, assistant to the superintendent, said she expects a reimbursement rate of 69 or 70 percent from the MSBA; other districts have seen reimbursement rates as low as 30 percent.

"We're much better off than other cities," Owens stated.

The reimbursement rates are based on a district's per capita income, property valuations, and the proportion of low-income students. The rates are recalculated yearly. The MSBA's threshold for accelerated repair projects is $250,000.

The aging Squantum Elementary School, which opened in 1919, does not qualify for the accelerated repair program because of the extent of repairs needed. Instead, the school qualifies for the MSBA's core program, which reimburses school districts for major renovations or even complete building reconstruction. Mayor Thomas Koch has been vocal in his desire to either heavily renovate the building or construct an entirely new school.

The process of gaining approval for the Squantum project from the MSBA "will take years," Owens said.

The Amelio Della Chiesa Early Childhood Center situation is unique, because the MSBA does not reimburse districts for the cost of repairs at strictly pre-K schools. Owens said that she has been in communication with two MSBA officials but so far it seems unlikely that the price of window replacements at the school would be reimbursed. The cost, which is undetermined at this point, would have to be covered in full by the city in that case.

The statements of interest call for partial roof repair at Merrymount Elementary School and window, door, and roof repairs at the Beechwood Knoll Elementary School. If they are accepted, Quincy will be invited into the eligibility period that provides a definitive schedule for construction and improvements and determines how problems identified by the statements will be addressed.

The city needed to submit the statements of interest for the repair program by Feb. 13. The statement of interest for replacing Squantum Elementary was due by April 10.

The MSBA may take several months to make a determination on the statements of interest. As such, Owens said it was too early to determine a dollar figure for any of the projects. It is possible the window and door replacement projects could be completed over the summer.

Window and door projects at North Quincy High School, Wollaston Elementary School, and the Merrymount Elementary School are underway and will also most likely be completed over the summer, Owens added. Measurements of window and doorframes have been taken and walk-throughs of the buildings have been conducted.

Koch Seeks More Funds For Hospital Counsel

By SCOTT JACKSON

Mayor Thomas Koch sought an appropriation of $125,000 to continue to pay the team of attorneys retained to represent the city in its dispute over the closure of Quincy Medical Center during Tuesday night's City Council meeting.

Koch retained the services of the Boston-based law firm Eckert Seamans in December to represent the city after for-profit Steward Health Care announced it would shutter the hospital at the end of 2014, replacing it with a standalone emergency department in the same building. The firm was initially paid out of the Legal Department's line item for outside counsel, which was $95,000 for the current fiscal year.

The mayor on Monday said the city's legal team has continued discussions with Steward over the past several weeks. The appropriation of $125,000, charged to the city's free cash, will allow Eckert Seamans to continue to represent Quincy.

"Going forward this situation won't be solved overnight," Koch said in a phone interview. "This is to keep the budget so we can keep moving forward with out legal team."

Tuesday's council meeting took place after The Sun went to press for the week.

Peter Carr, the attorney in charge of Eckert Seaman's Boston office, told the council in January that a reverter clause in the title for the Whitwell Street property where the hospital is located would allow the city to take back the site if it were no longer used for an acute care hospital. The reverter clause was initially included in a deed for the site granted to a non-profit in 1999 when the city gave up ownership of the hospital. Carr said the clause remained in effect after for-profit Steward Health Care bought Quincy Medical Center out of bankruptcy in 2011.

Carr said he informed Steward's lawyers of the intent to use the reverter clause in January after talks broke down. That prompted the two sides to reach a tolling agreement on Jan. 9, which essentially froze Quincy's and Steward's legal rights and gave them 45 days to continue negotiations.

Free Basic Boating Safety Courses At Maritime Center

The Quincy Police Marine Unit, in partnership with the Massachusetts Environmental Police, will present three Basic Boating Safety Courses at no cost to the public.

The courses are designed for persons 12 years old and up, regardless of boating skill.

Courses are nationally approved, and course completion will allow persons to legally operate a boat in states requiring Basic Boating Safety Courses.

Completion of the course by persons between 12 to 16 years of age will allow them to operate a motor boat without adult supervision. In addition, some insurance companies offer policy discounts for customers that complete a Basic Boating Safety Course.

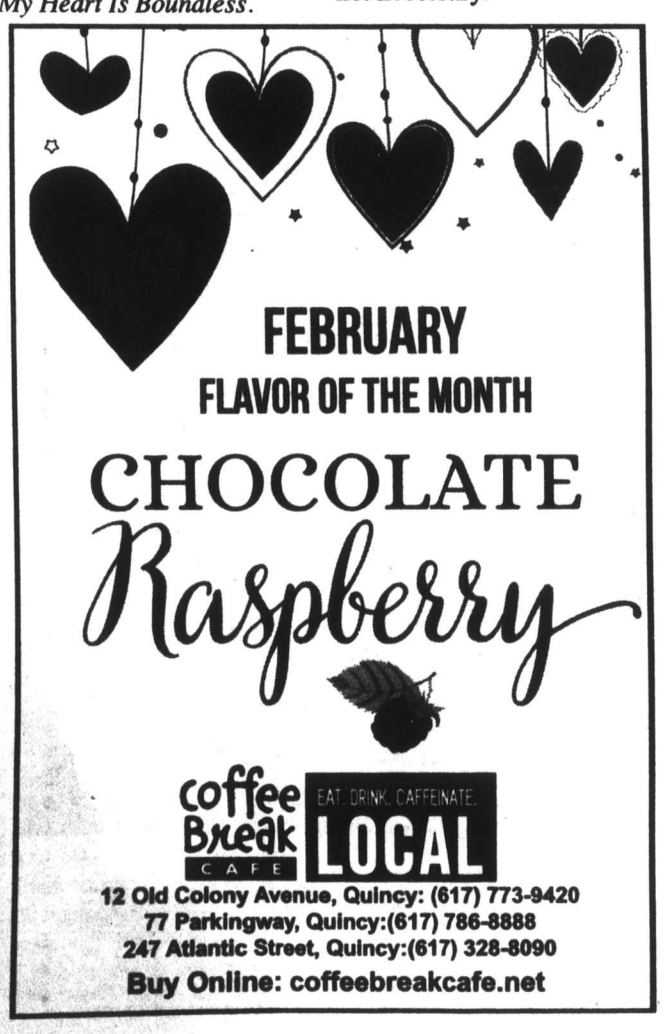
Courses will be taught at the Hough's Neck Maritime Center, located at 137 Bay View Ave. (next to the Quincy Yacht Club on Sea Street) on:

- Saturday, March 7, 14 and 21 from 1 to 5 p.m.
- Saturday, March 28 and April 4 and 11 from 1 to 5 p.m.
- Tuesday, April 28, May 5 and May 12 from 6 to 10 p.m.

To register for a course go to the Massachusetts Environmental Police Department website at:

www.mass.gov/ole

For more information call 508-564-4961.



REGGIE'S OIL CO., INC.
Heating & Air Conditioning Service
Joseph P. Reggiannini
92-94 (Rear) Franklin St.
Quincy, MA 02169
Office Hours:
M-F 7:30 am - 5:00 pm
(617) 471-2095
(24 Hour Emergency Service)
www.reggiesoil.com
We are a local, family-owned & operated oil company located right here in Quincy. We've been providing a quality product & superior service to our customers here in Quincy & throughout Southeastern MA for more than 50 years....and we always will!

Joyce & Gendreau
Jewelers
Fine Jewelry at Honest Values
Home of the "You want it when? No problem and done right!" service!
52 Billings Road No. Quincy
617.328.0084
www.joycejlrs.com

Raymondi Concerned Over EPA Stormwater Mandate

By SCOTT JACKSON

Public Works Commissioner Daniel Raymondi told city councillors he is concerned the U.S. Environmental Protection Agency may force Quincy to begin treating stormwater, which could cost $100 million to implement.

The EPA is in the midst of issuing new Municipal Separate Storm Sewer System (MS4) permits to Massachusetts municipalities who, like Quincy, discharge untreated stormwater into bodies of water, Raymondi told councillors Feb. 10. The federal Clean Water Act allows the EPA, he added, to mandate treatment of stormwater that is discharged into waterways deemed impaired; Quincy Bay, Town River, and the Neponset River – the three locations where Quincy discharges its water – are considered impaired by the agency.

"Since it is extremely unlikely the receiving waters will come off the impaired waters list, the logical extension of the permit and the Clean Water Act is that stormwater treatment will be required," Raymondi said. "It's just a matter of when."

If the treatment of stormwater were required, he continued, it cost upwards $100 million to implement.

"The cost of providing any significant treatment will be very high," Raymondi said. "A fairly conservative estimate of several million dollars per outfall drainage basin, including permitting and land acquisition, implies that end of pipe stormwater treatment in Quincy could easily be in the realm of $100 million in capital spending, not including the ongoing operational expenses of the treatment units."

Ward 1 Councillor Margaret Laforest, chairwoman of the council's public works committee, said implementing such a stormwater treatment system would be impossible.

"Let's talk about this snow that is sitting out there right now. The EPA wants us to, when the snow comes into the catch basins, we then need to treat internally in our infrastructure before it then discharges into the ocean. Imagine that," Laforest said.

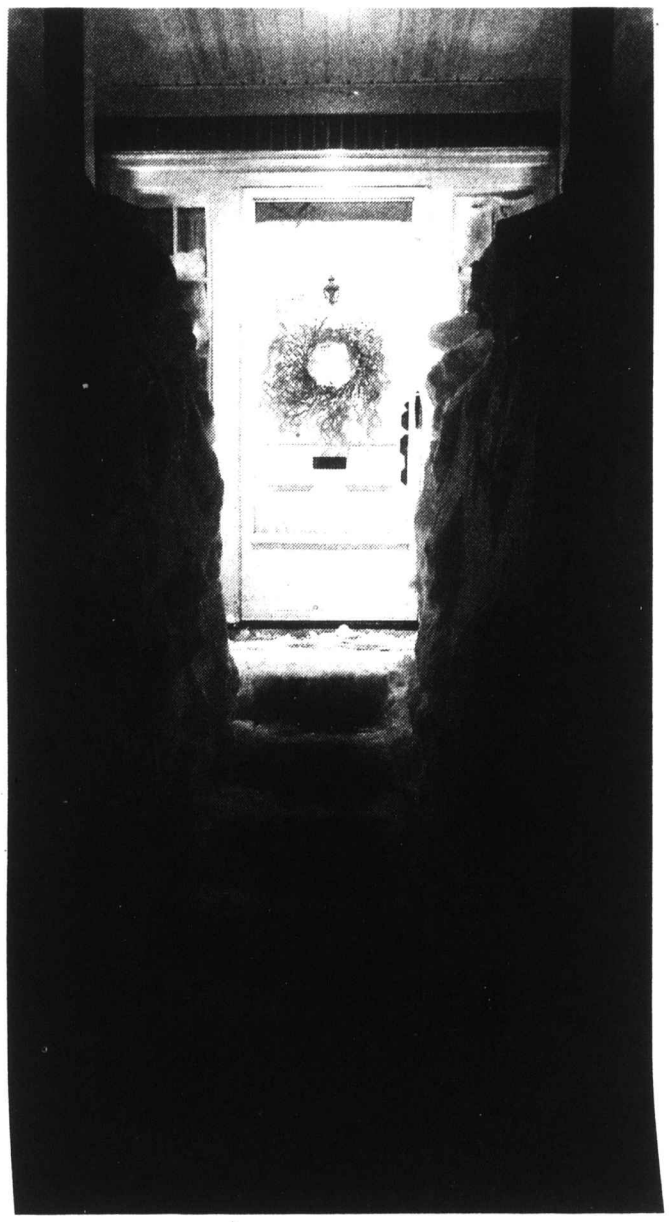
"With all of this runoff, we're supposed to be prepared to treat all of that. I'm all about cleaning up Quincy Bay...and we've seen substantial improvement, but we're talking a hundred million dollar investment that's going to be an unfunded mandate by the federal government. This is impossible."

Raymondi said the city's response to the draft MS4 permit is due by the end of this month. He appeared before the council to seek an appropriation of $250,000 from the city's sewer rehabilitation fund to the Engineering Department that will be used for stormwater planning.

"These are dramatic changes in what we're doing now. We need professional consultation with an engineering firm to get us up to speed because some of these mandates are time sensitive. We have to do so many things within one year and within two years," Raymondi explained.

"We have approximately 200 outfalls within the city. They all have to be identified, labeled, and put into a system. There are documents and documents of data we have to prepare. This will enable us to position ourselves as a city in case this permit becomes the reality and to put ourselves into compliance."

The council approved the appropriation in a 7-1 vote, with Ward 4 Councillor Brian Palmucci opposed. Councillor Doug Gutro, an EPA employee, recused himself from the matter.



TALL SNOW WALLS book-end a set of stairs leading to the front door of a house on Shore Avenue.

New Bernazzani Heating System Sought

By SCOTT JACKSON

The city will spend nearly $100,000 to design a new heating system for the Charles A. Bernazzani Elementary School to replace the 60-year-old one currently in use.

The City Council on Feb. 10 approved an appropriation of $96,000 from free cash to the Public Building Department that will go towards engineering the new heating system, including boilers and the in-classroom heating units at Bernazzani. The city hopes to install the new heating system over the summer; the cost of the new heating system is not yet known.

"The original [heating system] dates from 1955 and then in 1996 there was an addition put on in the gym and four other classrooms. The system has run its course," said Gary Cunniff, director of the Public Building Department.

"It's a little risky and problematic to maintain the environment in that school."

Shelly Dein, energy manager for the city, said the current system uses oil and a more efficient natural gas system installed. She noted Quincy received grant money that went towards preliminary design work for the project. The $96,000 will go towards additional engineer and help the city prepare a bid for installation of the new heating system; the city intends to go to bid on the project by April at the latest.

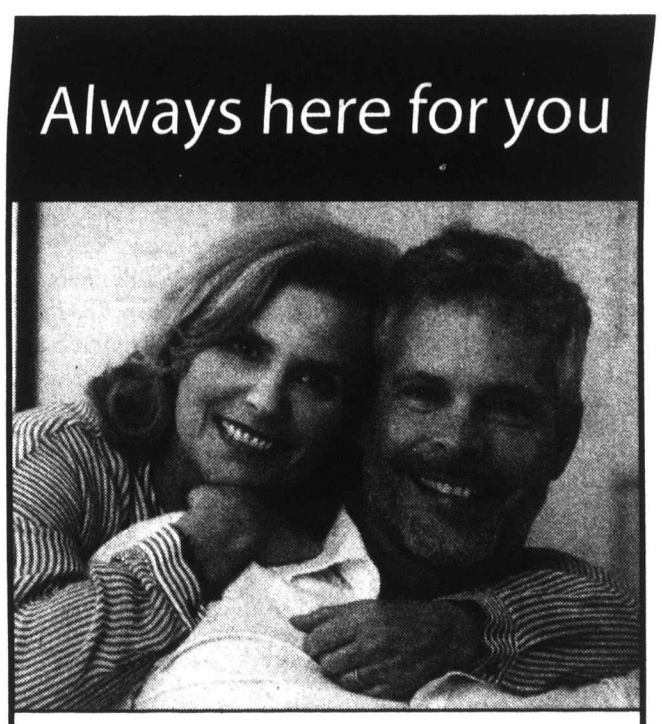
The city does not plan to go through the Massachusetts School Building Authority for the replacement of Bernazzani's heating system, meaning the city will be responsible for funding the entire project without state reimbursement. Doing so will allow the city to install the heating system this summer.

"We could always apply to MSBA but under the best of circumstances the funds wouldn't be available for this summer; they would be available for the following summer and it is our hope to be able to do the work this summer. And with MSBA funding, it is competitive and we might not get that," Dein explained.

"In addition to that, MSBA funding would be limited to funding the boiler replacement but not the unit heaters in the classrooms and throughout the building. Since we're talking about doing a comprehensive replacement, it would only really cover a portion of our costs."

DIGGIN' IT - Chace, a two-year-old yellow Labrador Retriever, appears perfectly content in this make-shift igloo created from a large snowbank outside his home. He is owned by Jim and Karen Walker of Houghs Neck.

Photo Courtesy Karen Walker



Real Estate

Quincy Real Estate Transactions Feb. 9 - Feb. 13

Seller	Buyer	Amount	Address
44 Town Hill Realty Trust	Eda W. Lam	$460,000.00	44 Town Hill Street Unit 1
Susan M. & Robert M. Chroniak	Kira Williams	$233,000.00	216A Quincy Shore Drive
Daniel W. Mullin	Dawn Kelly	$400,000.00	10 Seaport Drive Unit 2213
Susan Delconte & Kenneth Fraser	Xue H. Gong & Qiming Bing	$330,000.00	164 West Street
Dennis Pan & Ting-Wen Wang	Yi G. Chen & Lin Zheng	$321,250.00	53 South Walnut Street Unit 4
Francis A. & Phyllis J. Myett	Stoneridge Mutual Properties LLC	$146,000.00	31 Riverbank Road
Brian G. & Delia Colleran	Mark L. Vella & Danielle M. Campbell	$410,000.00	70 Clement Terrace
City Of Quincy	24 Furnace Avenue LLC	$63,750.00	20 Furnace Avenue
Thomas G. & Janelle R. Furcillo	Tamia R. Jordan	$237,000.00	154 Sumner Street
Jan W. Whiting	Christopher J. Chenette	$231,000.00	60 Macy Street
Shoreline Developers LLC	Thomas G. & Janelle R. Furcillo	$517,000.00	17 Waban Road
Nga T. Luu & Thanh N. Nguyen	Huynh-Kieu Family Trust	$260,000.00	27 Arnold Road
Edward P. & Jane M. Laura	Yongqun Mai	$348,000.00	66 Nightingale Avenue
Amy B. & Ryan T. Herlihy	Christina Ford	$275,000.00	84 Huntress Street
Grainte South Street Realty Trust	SS Realty LLC	$318,000.00	276-278 South Street
Dependable Home Solutions LLC	Mark & Sarah Lewis	$415,000.00	10 Hillsboro Street
P&D Realty Trust	Chun Sheehan	$295,000.00	58 Federal Avenue
Barbara M. Marotto	Duarte Moura & Ellen Richman	$310,000.00	40 Brook Road
Claire E. Holbrook	Carol Austin	$292,000.00	2001 Marina Drive Unit 906W
DS Ventures Inc.	Andrew Howell & Taylor MacKinnon	$495,000.00	24 Bloomfield Street

January Real Estate Activity 'Mixed Bag'

Recordings: Mortgages Up 19%, Land Documents 'Flat'

Norfolk County Register of Deeds William P. O'Donnell reported a mixed bag when it came to real estate activity in Norfolk County for the opening month of January 2015.

"On one hand, the lending market had some very respectable numbers." Register O'Donnell noted, "January 2015 saw a 19% increase in the number of mortgages recorded. These positive numbers were spurred by continuing low interest rates and an improved economy in eastern Massachusetts," noted Register O'Donnell.

However, the number of land documents recorded in Norfolk County this January remained basically flat, totaling 10,040, a 1% decrease from January 2014 numbers.

Additionally, the total volume of commercial and residential real estate prices fell 13% in January 2015 compared to the same time last year. Compounding this slide was that average sale price of commercial and residential property fell by 15% to $656,328 based on real estate sold in January of 2015 compared to the same time last year. These numbers were somewhat skewed due to two big commercial real estate transactions that took place in Braintree and Brookline in January of 2014.

Register O'Donnell also reported that the total number of deeds recorded declined by a modest 5% in January 2015 compared to January of last year. A total of 1,006 deeds were recorded in Norfolk County during January, 2015.

Homestead recordings in January 2015 decreased by 8% year over year. A total of 659 Homesteads were recorded this January, compared to 717 in January 2014. Information regarding the Homestead Act, which provides limited protection against the forced sale of an individual's primary residence to satisfy unsecured debt up to $500,000, can be found on the Registry's website at www.norfolkdeeds.org.

"The total number of foreclosure deeds recorded remained flat in January 2015. A total of 20 foreclosure deeds were recorded in January 2015, the same number as the previous January. The Registry continues to work with its partners South Shore Consortium and Neighbor Works Southern Mass to help Norfolk County homeowners who have received a Notice of Foreclosure from a lender," noted O'Donnell.

The Register concluded, "I remain cautiously optimistic about the real estate market in Norfolk County. The inclement weather experienced at the end of January did not help our transaction numbers.

"Despite the challenges faced in January, the mortgage market continues to show small signs of improvements. Barring a downturn in the economy or action taken by the Federal Reserve related to interest rates increases, I hope the improvements in the mortgage market continue," O'Donnell said.

To learn more about these and other Registry of Deeds events and initiatives, visit facebook.com/NorfolkDeeds or follow twitter.com/NorfolkDeeds.

The Norfolk County Registry of Deeds, located at 649 High Street, Dedham is the principal office for real property in Norfolk County. The Registry is a resource for homeowners, title examiners, mortgage lenders, municipalities and others with a need for secure, accurate, accessible land record information.

Residents in need of assistance can contact the Registry of Deeds Customer Service Department via telephone at (781) 461-6101, or on the web at www.norfolkdeeds.org.

Home Decorating Tips

By BARBARA GRACEFFA

BARBARA GRACEFFA

My living room décor needs a facelift. What are the current trends that I might incorporate in accessories?

Bravo for asking about accessories! When it comes to incorporating trends, paint colors and accessories are the best places to spend your interior decorating dollars.

In a recent column, I offered advice on 2015 colors. Use those greys, deep blues, olive greens, or pastels in fabrics, accessories, or wall color. Also popular are bold wallpapers on accent walls; this year, we'll see big impact botanicals, whimsical patterns, and textured papers.

What's in vogue when it comes to style? This year you'll see transitional or the marriage of traditional and modern styles. For example, pairing mid-century modern dining chairs with a rustic table or retro easy chairs with a contemporary sofa are in style this year. Also, modernizing your window sashes with black paint is trendy now. When it comes to pattern, you'll see less chevron and more hexagon shapes, wider stripes, extra-large hounds tooth, and lacey patterns.

For accessories, interesting mirrors and artistic chandeliers are popular as are industrial chic and driftwood items. As we move away from chrome, trends include more brass, gold, copper, and bronze metallics. Also, hand-crafted items and cowhide rugs make an appearance in home décor in 2015.

How can I decorate a long narrow room?

If you are replacing the flooring, consider laying hardwood or long tiles on the diagonal or horizontal to trick the eye to make the room seem wider. Or a striped area rug will achieve the same look. You can do the same with your furniture arrangement. Start by putting your couch on a diagonal and building your conversation area around it. Finally, divide the room into different functions – maybe a living area, home office, children's play room, craft room, or reading nook. Or physically divide the space with a sheer curtain hung from the ceiling, see-through bookcase, folding screen(s), or large piece art on an easel or two to separate the long room into two spaces.

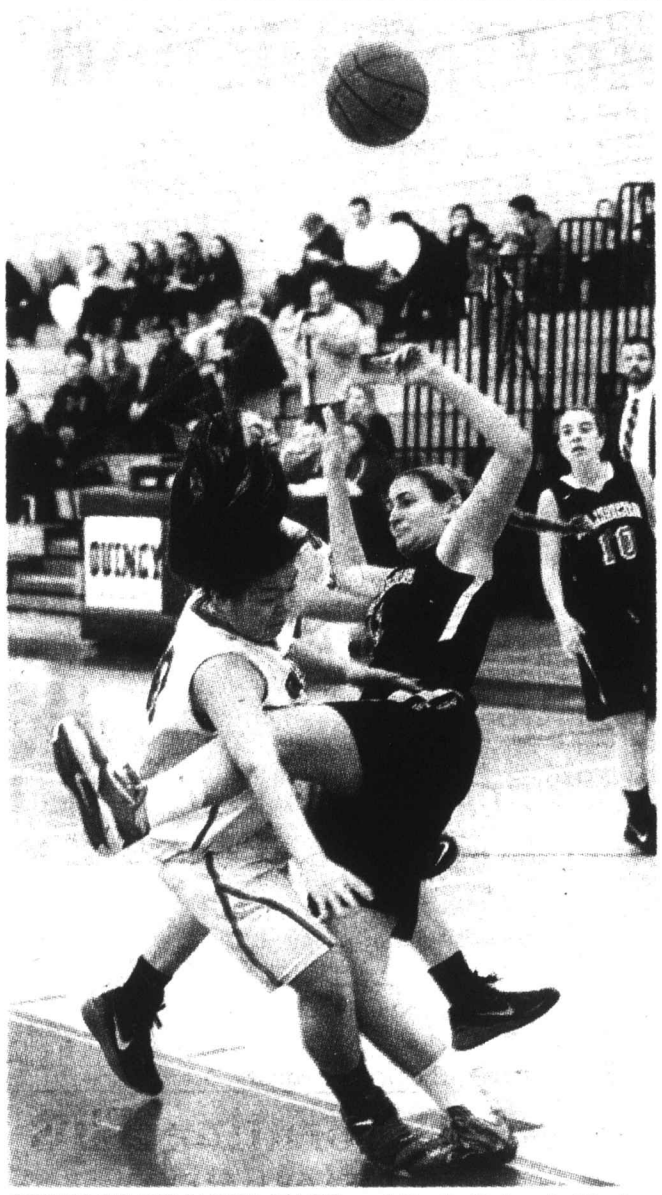
Send your questions to barbara@sec-interior.com.

QUINCY
www.
stamosandstamosrealtors
.com
Stamos & Stamos Realtors
747 East Quantum St.
Squantum, MA 02171
617.328.9400

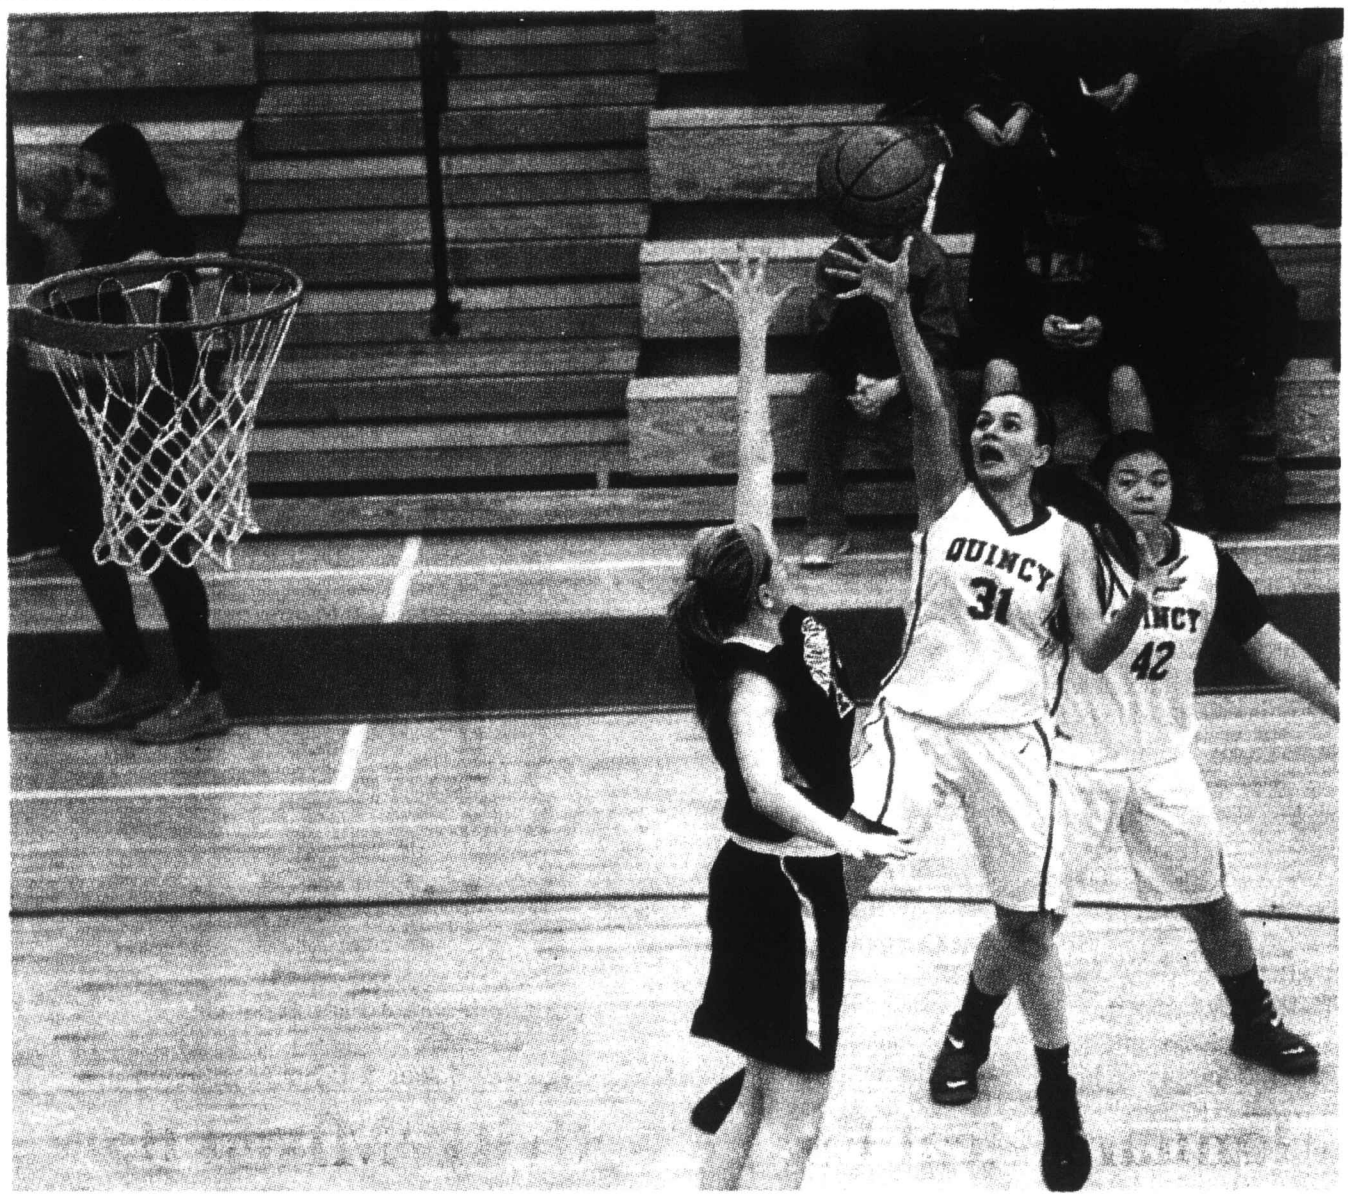
If you want your home
SOLD
Call Red Door
Red Door Real Estate
222 Sea Street, Quincy, MA
617-553-1880 • RedDoor-RE.com

RE/MAX Realty Pros
Buying, Selling or Investing?
Call Tom McFarland
For All Your Real Estate Answers
QUINCY - (617) 328-3200
On the Web visit McFarlandproperties.com

Century 21 Annex Realty, Inc.
49 Beale St., Quincy, MA 02170
617-472-4330
www.c21annex.com
Over 70 Seller and Buyer Agents specializing in Residential, Commercial Real Estate, Bank Owned Properties, Short Sales and Rentals
Annex Real Estate School
Offering Salesperson's, Broker's and Continuing Ed. classes
"Still Number One"



QUINCY'S JULIANNA KANE and North Quincy's Marissa McGue collide under the North Quincy basket. The Presidents defeated the Red Raiders 46-29 at QHS Feb. 13.



GABRIELA JERAHIAN (#31) scored 10 points for the Presidents in Quincy's 46-29 win over North Quincy Feb. 13. Defending for North Quincy is Remy Aucoin. In the background is Quincy's Julianna Kane. Quincy Sun Photos/Robert Bosworth

Quincy Girls Bounce North Quincy, 46-29

Jorgensen (13 Points, 15 Rebounds) Pumps Up Presidents' Offense

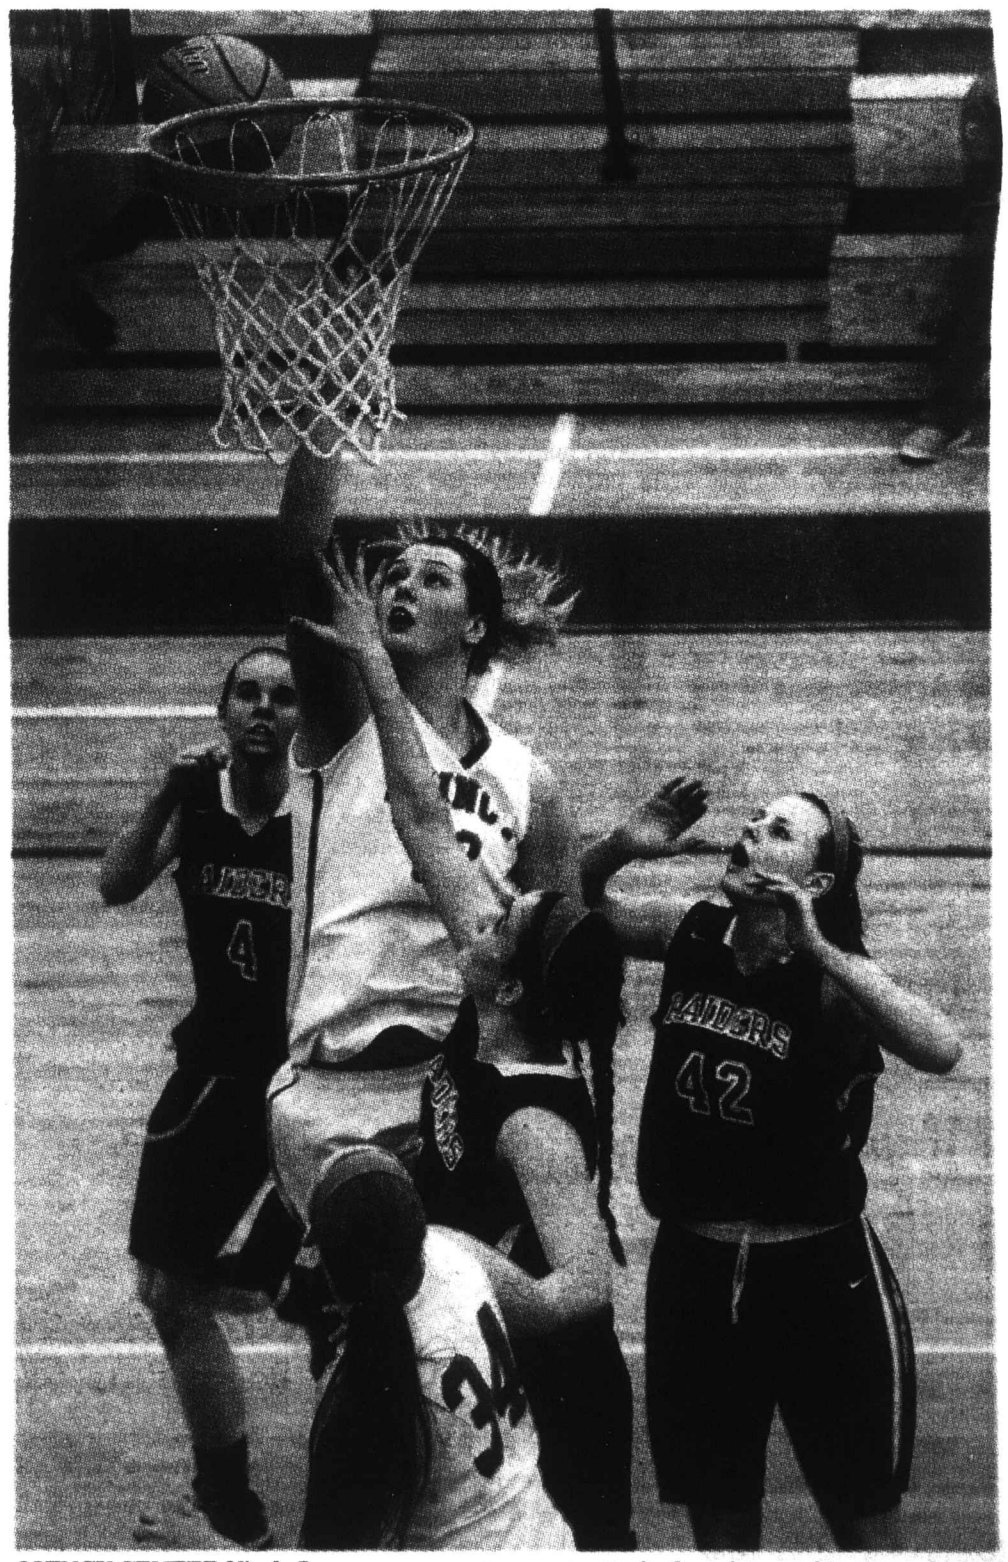
By BILL GRIFFIN

She has played, started and been the main focus of six Quincy vs. North Quincy rivalry games. For a select and rare few, this would be a career well played. Nicole Jorgensen has done this. And she is only a junior.

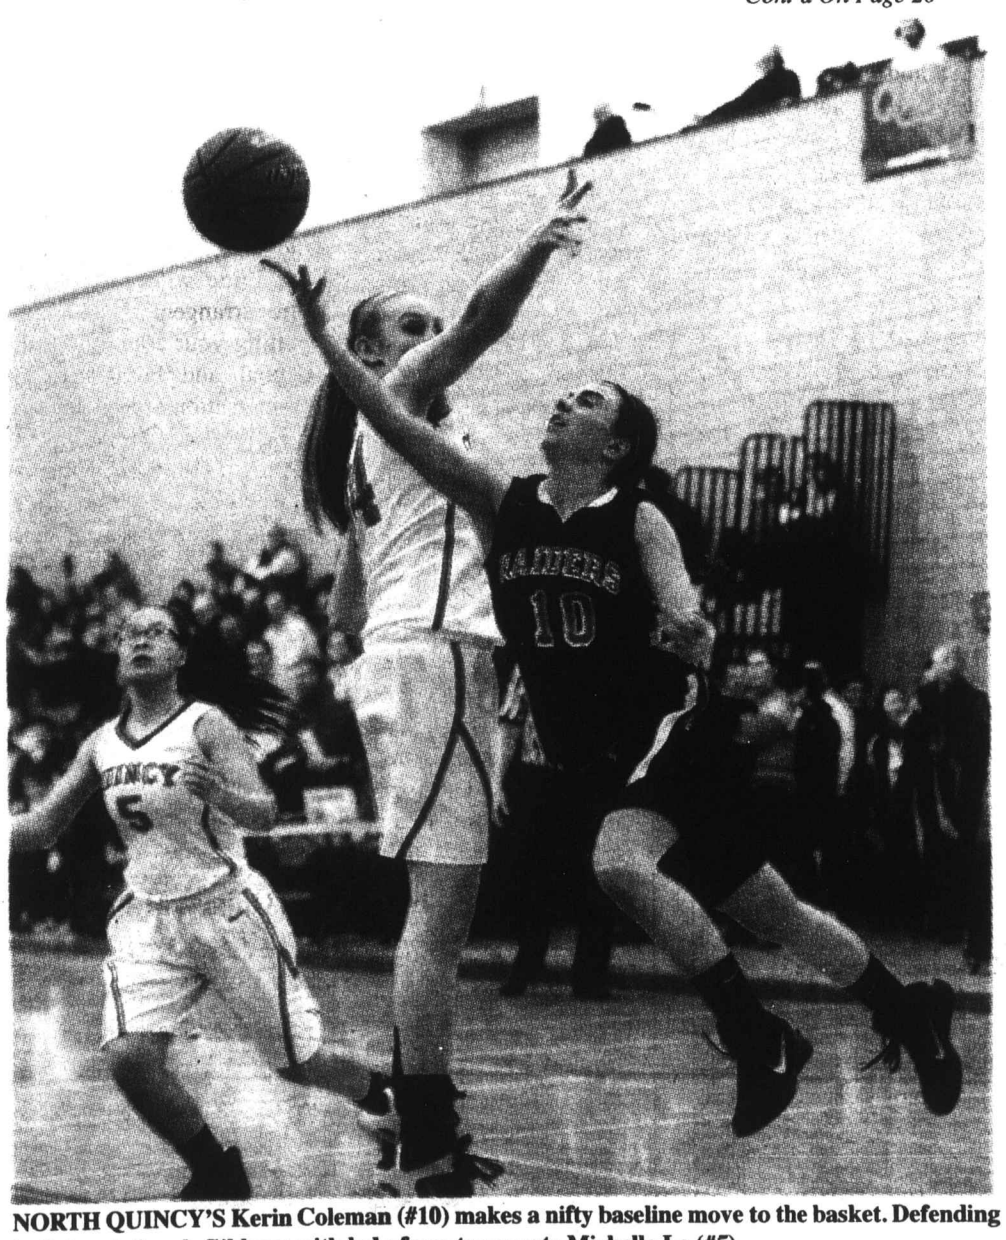
She remembers well the nerves and thrills of her first one as a freshman. A fine excitement is still there and that is a good thing, but she has grown and handled the great expectations. The potential of three years past has morphed into a polished, confident and complete basketball player.

It was that completeness of her game that was most striking last Friday night

Cont'd On Page 20



QUINCY CENTER Nicole Jorgensen was a strong presence in the paint, scoring a team-high 13 points and grabbing 15 rebounds in the Presidents' 46-29 win over North Quincy. Also shown in this photo (clockwise from left) NQ's Molly Minton, Jen Butka, Remy Aucoin and Quincy's Sarah Gibbons.



NORTH QUINCY'S Kerin Coleman (#10) makes a nifty baseline move to the basket. Defending is Quincy's Sarah Gibbons with help from teammate Michelle Le (#5).

City Hall Work On Pace For June Completion

By SCOTT JACKSON

The ongoing renovation project at Old City Hall is on pace for completion by the end of June.

Old City Hall – officially the James R. McIntyre Government Center – is in the middle of renovations that were originally set for completion this month, but a September fire inside the historic building delayed work on the project. In November, the contractor undertaking the project said it would be completed by June. James Edwards, the architect overseeing the renovations, recently said the project should be substantially finished by then.

"There will be some finishing touches, some landscaping issues that will need to be addressed, but we are aiming right now to have the building substantially complete by the end of June," Edwards explained. "We're just about back to the point – maybe a little in advance – of when the fire occurred."

"It's going along well," he added later. "There is real good collaboration amongst the city, the contractor, and our office. We're certainly enjoying the relationship and are working hard to bring this project home to the finish line."

Inside the 171-year-old building, workers have begun installing dry wall and sheetrock. Finish work – including millwork and wood paneling – is only a couple weeks away.

"We're dry walling the building, installing sheetrock. We're starting to apply paint on the first floor. The dry walling is a sequential operation and dry walling continues on the second floor in the Great Hall," Edwards said, referring to the new City Council chamber that will occupy the entire second floor of the renovated building with a balcony overlooking the space from the third floor.

"Millwork is going to start to arrive in the building in a week or two and the wood paneling and those kinds of finishing issues will start to happen and then we'll start to install doors and that sort of thing."

While the installation of dry wall and sheetrock continues, the building's mechanical systems – heating, air conditioning, plumbing, electrical and fire control – are being worked on as well.

"There is temporary heat in the building. None of the mechanical systems are operational yet; we don't even want to run them yet," Edwards said. "They are in various stages of completion – plumbing, electrical, fire protection and HVAC – those are all ongoing components of the construction process."

The new fire suppression system will alert the Quincy Fire Department nearly instantaneously once a sprinkler starts running.

"The fire suppression lines have heads on them, which discharge water. Each head has a fusible link on it; under certain temperatures the link melts. As soon as the fire melts the link, water comes out of the head," Edwards explained.

"When water starts to flow through the building, there is a check valve at the entrance water service for the fire suppression. As soon as there is any flow in the system it triggers an alarm, which is sent to fire headquarters immediately."

Outside the building, work is underway on a new sewer line for both Old City Hall and the all-glass annex behind it. Crews have had to dig a dozen-and-a-half feet into the ground to install the new piping, using heating systems to keep the soil thawed.

"There has been a little bit of site work," Edwards said. "We are installing a new sewer line that extends from the annex building, picks up the sanitary line coming out of Old City Hall, and comes into Hancock Street. That line is almost 18 feet down. It was a big excavation process and that is being completed right now."

Exterior work – such as putting in new windows and a slate roof to replace the building's original roof – was largely completed in 2014. Rockwood green shutters have been added recently as well. The only exterior work remaining is a fresh coat of paint and some work around the front entrance on Hancock Street.

"The windows are installed; there will be another coat of paint put on them once the better weather returns. The main entrance door and the window at the landing going up to the Great Hall, those remain to be completed," Edwards said.

Metal framing is in place for the new addition located behind Old City Hall that will house an elevator and a Quincy Access TV production room; once complete the two-story addition will be enclosed in glass and Quincy granite preserved from the front steps of the now demolished Quincy High School. The addition will also feed into a new, single-story connector between the historic building and the annex.

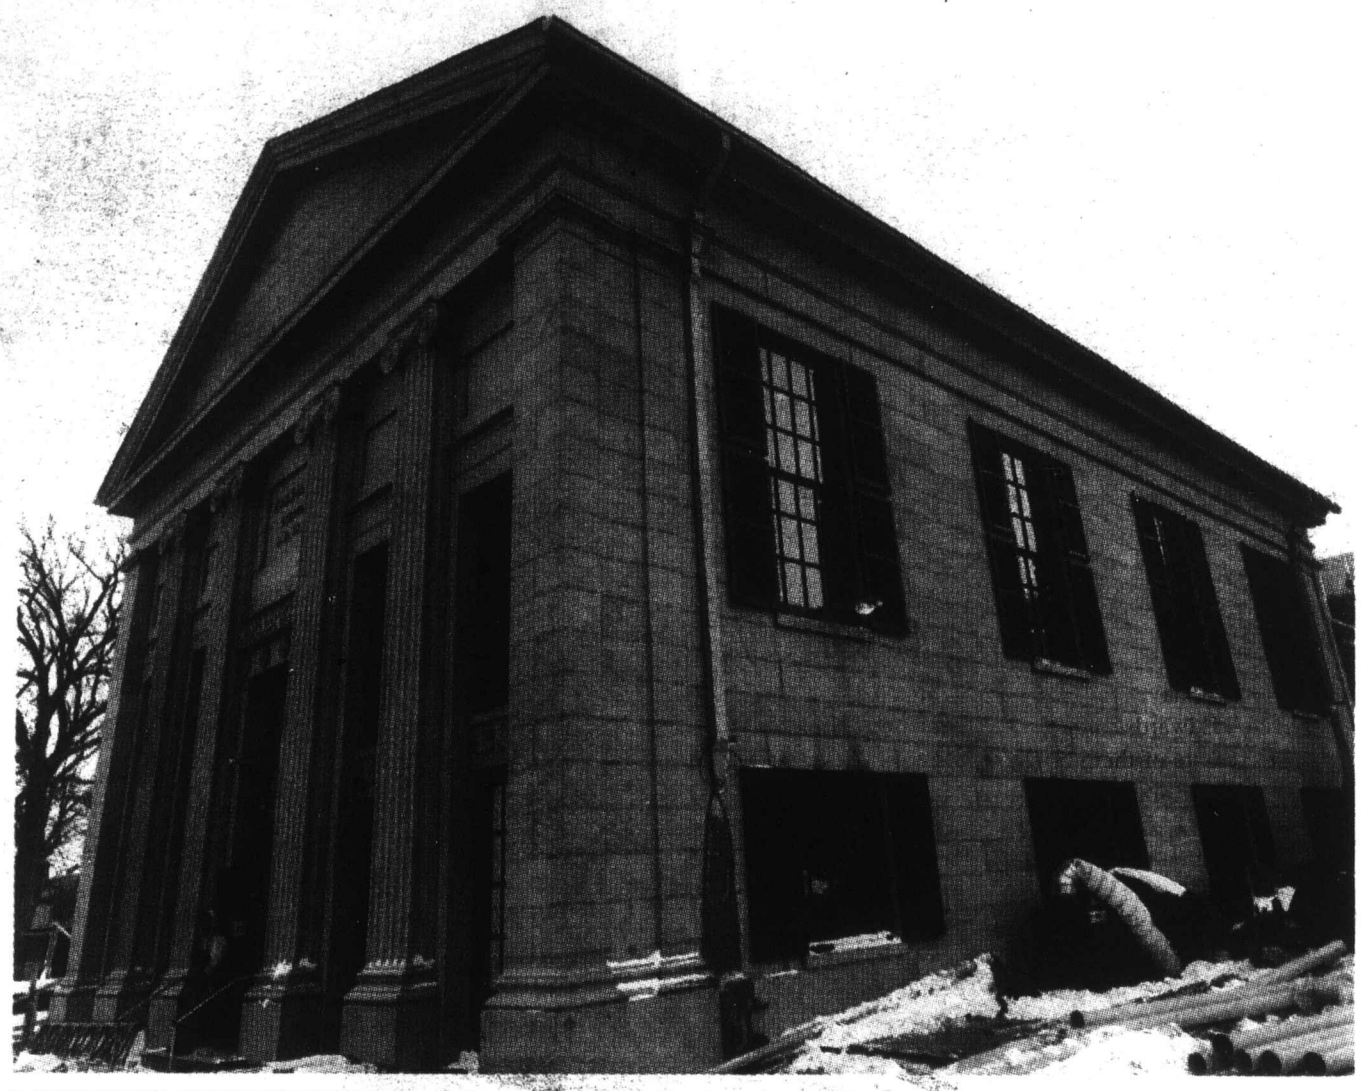
Progress on the new addition has been hampered in recent weeks because of inclement weather. If the severe winter weather continues, it could push back the completion of the overall project.

"We still have the addition; that is coming along. Progress has been tempered by virtue of the weather. It is dealing us some setbacks and depending how the remainder of the weather treats us that may have an impact on the end of June [finish date]. Right now, we've lost a week or so of time because of the weather. That's still a wild card," Edwards said.

"We're still completing some mechanical systems in the basement. Hopefully they'll get their temporary blankets on that. It's really a weather driven item. You just can't work in this cold. This glass system that's going to enclose the addition, they have to be very careful of that."

The three-alarm fire in September damaged sev-

Cont'd On Page 17



ROCKWOOD GREEN SHUTTERS have been installed in recent months on the north (seen at right) and south sides of Old City Hall; there will be no shutters placed on the Hancock Street side of the building as they weren't originally there. The building is in the middle of a renovation project the city hopes to complete this summer.

ARCHITECT JAMES EDWARDS points to the window and granite wall damaged by a September fire inside Old City Hall. The three-alarm fire damaged the Quincy granite blocks around the window frame. The city is testing two pieces of Quincy granite to determine if one of them could be used to replace the damaged blocks. Quincy Sun Photos/Robert Bosworth

Great Hall, Museum Space Among City Hall Renovations

Cont'd From Page 16

eral pieces of Quincy granite on the building's exterior. Those stones will be replaced with other blocks of granite quarried in the city. In the aftermath of the fire, Edwards and his team looked at several sources of granite and identified two pieces that might be used in Old City Hall. Those pieces were sent to Rhode Island for testing.

"There were some large pieces of stone that were damaged by the fire and absolutely had to be replaced. The exterior face of the stone was spalled off with the heat. They lost their structural integrity. They absolutely have to be replaced," Edwards said.

"A couple of them are of quite a large size – eight or nine or ten feet wide – and you just don't find those stones anyplace. Not only is the size of the stone important, but the color of it is too. We're looking all around the city in the city's DPW yard, up at the Park Department, and various locations throughout the city to make sure we can find a stone that's the right size. Then we experiment with it to make sure it's the right color, the right texture, the right match for the building. Even when you get something as close as you possibly can, that south side of the building has been sitting in the sun for 170 years. It's weathered differently.

"We think we're on the trail for a real close match and we're crossing our fingers. We're waiting for some samples for some stones that were picked up in the city and taken to the cutting yard. They'll take them back to us and we'll make a vote on which ones we're going to use."

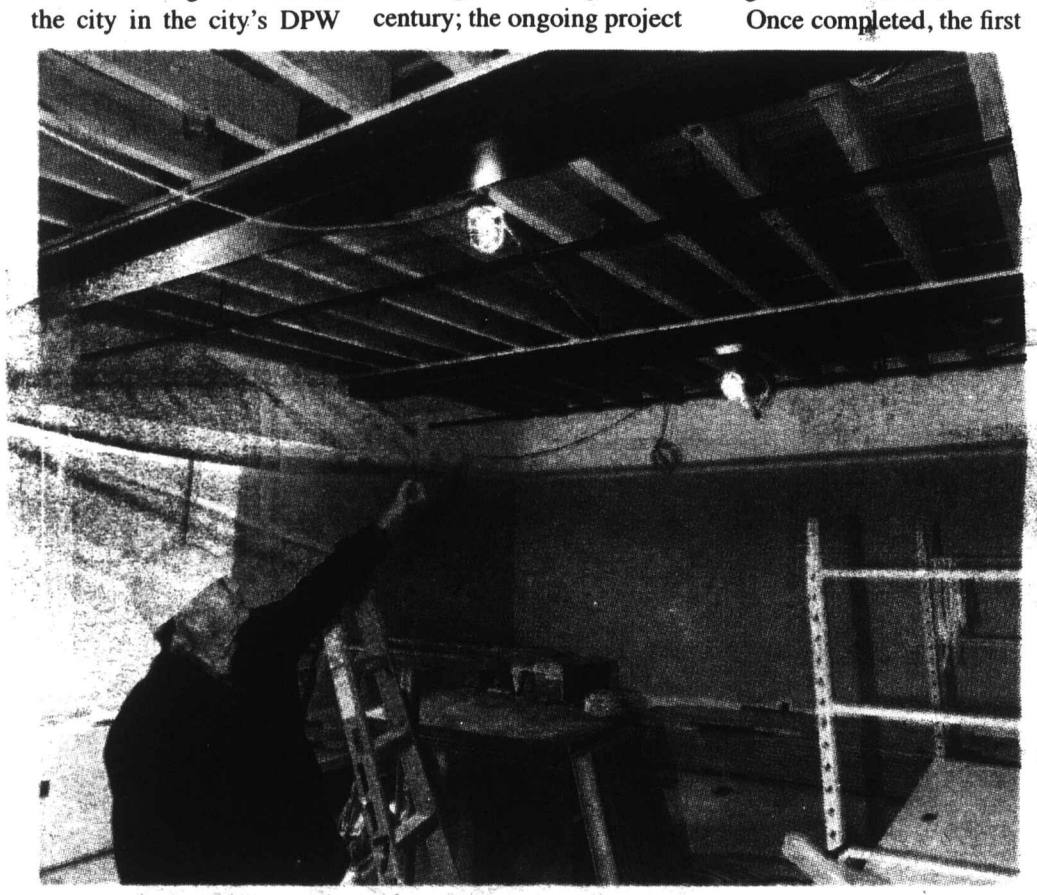
Old City Hall opened in 1844 and is one of the oldest municipal buildings still in use today in the United States. It was renovated at several points during the 20th century; the ongoing project will return the building to its original look and feel.

Once completed, the first floor of the building will hold exhibit space – with galleries on Quincy's political history – as well as a new meeting room that will be used for the Board of License Commissioners, Zoning Board, and Planning Board, among others. The Great Hall above on the second floor will be reserved for the City Council and other important events, including mayoral inaugurations.

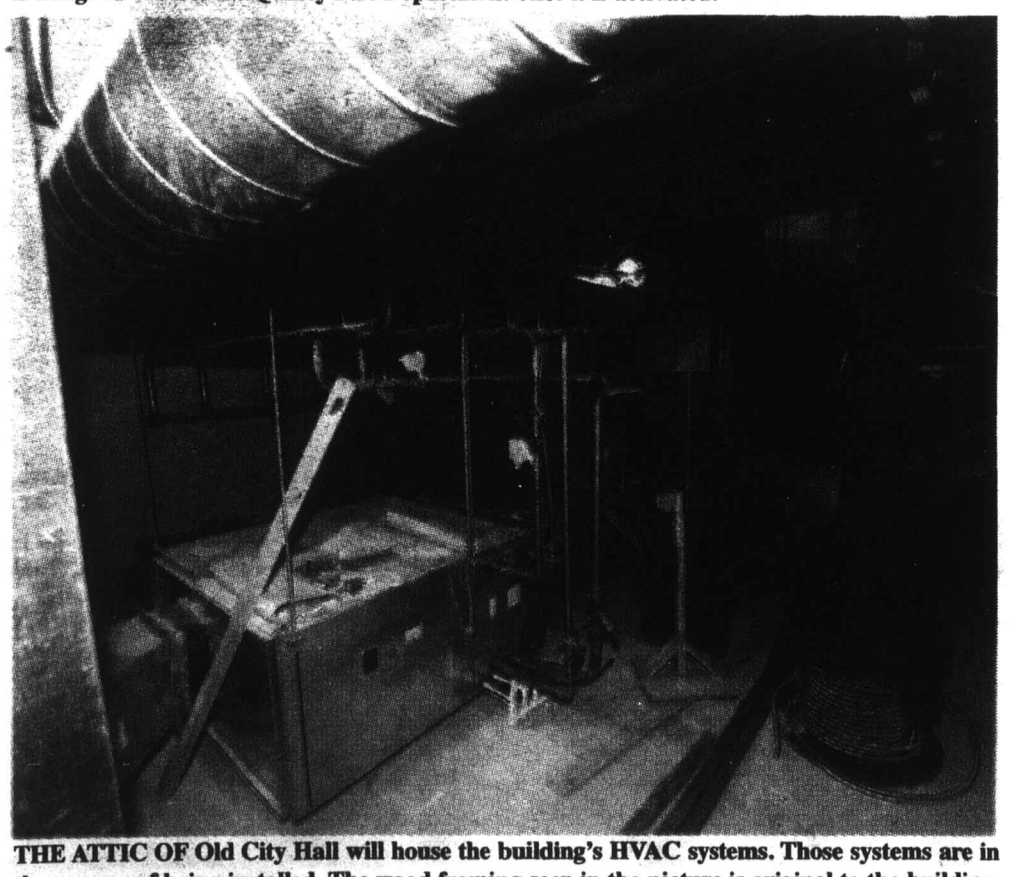
After renovation work at Old City Hall is complete, the City Clerk's Office will move from leased space at the neighboring Munroe Building into the second floor of the annex. That move could take several months.

The Old City Hall project was undertaken in concert with renovations at the nearby Coddington Building, which were completed last year. That building is now home to Quincy Public Schools' administrative offices, the city's Planning and IT Departments and printing facilities. It also includes a permanent meeting space for the School Committee.

VIEW FROM THE 40-seat balcony overlooking the new City Council chamber, known as the Great Hall, At the center of the floor below are the new crown moldings that will connect the walls of the chamber to the ceiling.



ARCHITECT JAMES EDWARDS points to one of the new sprinklers installed on the first floor of Old City Hall in a room that will be used as a meeting space for Quincy's boards and commissions, such as the Planning Board and Board of License Commissioners. The sprinkler system is designed to alert the Quincy Fire Department once it is activated.



THE ATTIC OF Old City Hall will house the building's HVAC systems. Those systems are in the process of being installed. The wood framing seen in the picture is original to the building, which first opened in 1844. Quincy Sun Photos/Robert Bosworth

Allerton House
Assisted Living Community
At Hancock Park
164 Parkingway • Quincy
339.788.2979

Welch
HEALTHCARE AND RETIREMENT GROUP

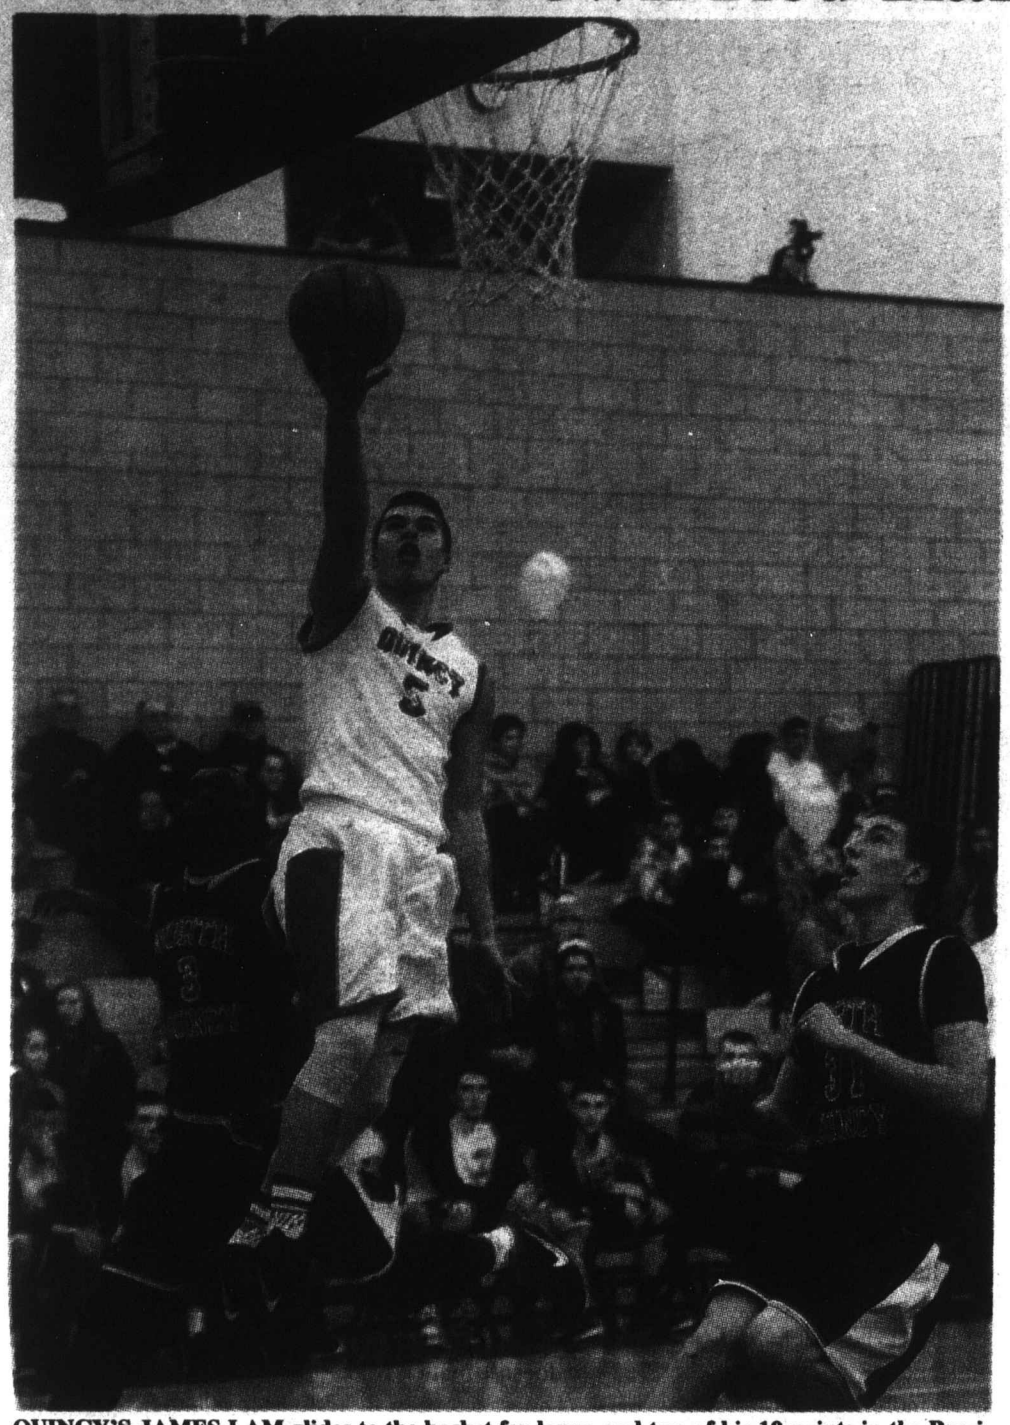
ENJOY A MAGICAL WINTER AT ALLERTON HOUSE ASSISTED LIVING!

- Say goodbye to slippery driveways & sidewalks
- Enjoy spacious studios or 1-bedroom rental apartments
- Receive assistance and medication reminders
- Dine on chef-prepared meals
- Join clubs & attend exciting activities
- 24-hour staff & emergency response system, and much more!

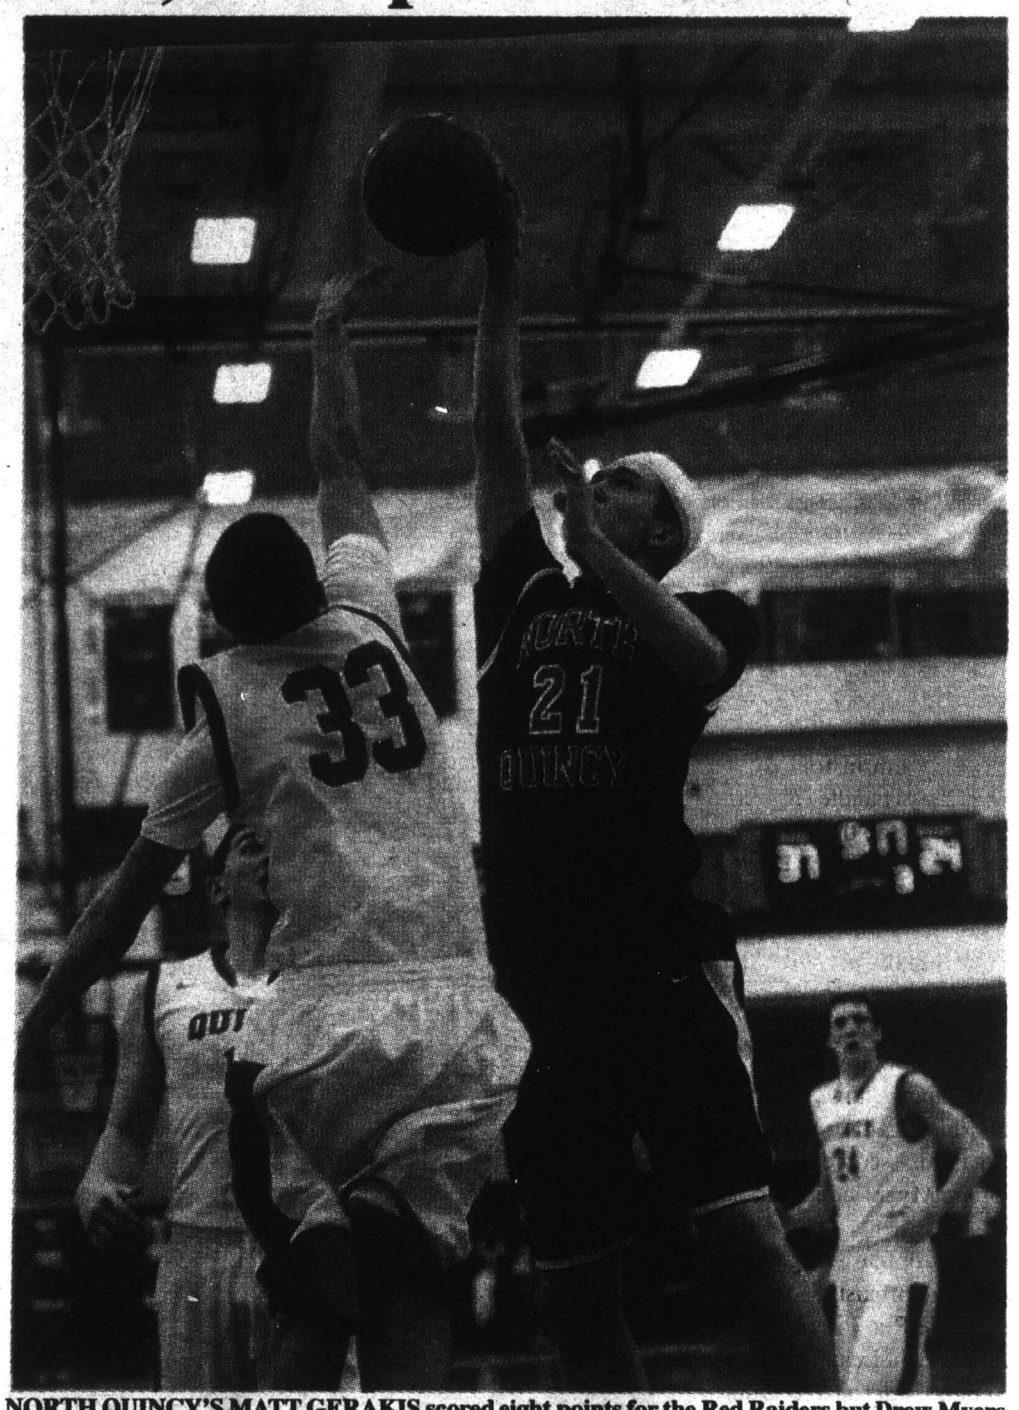
CALL TODAY FOR A TOUR!

www.welchhrg.com

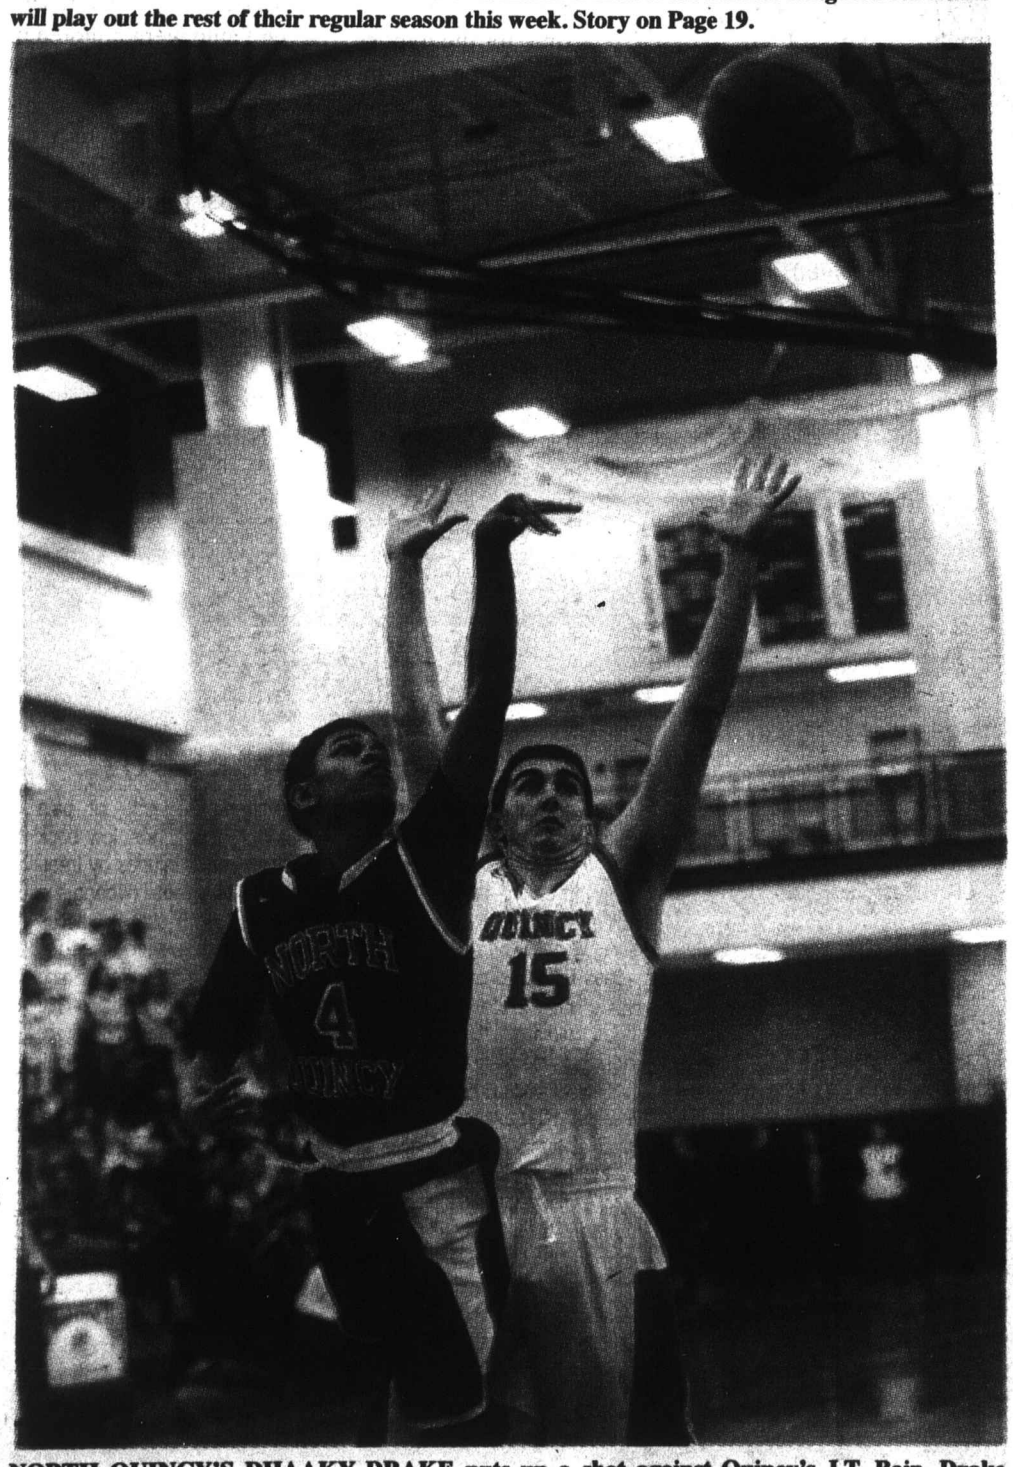
Presidents Down Red Raiders, Sweep Season Series



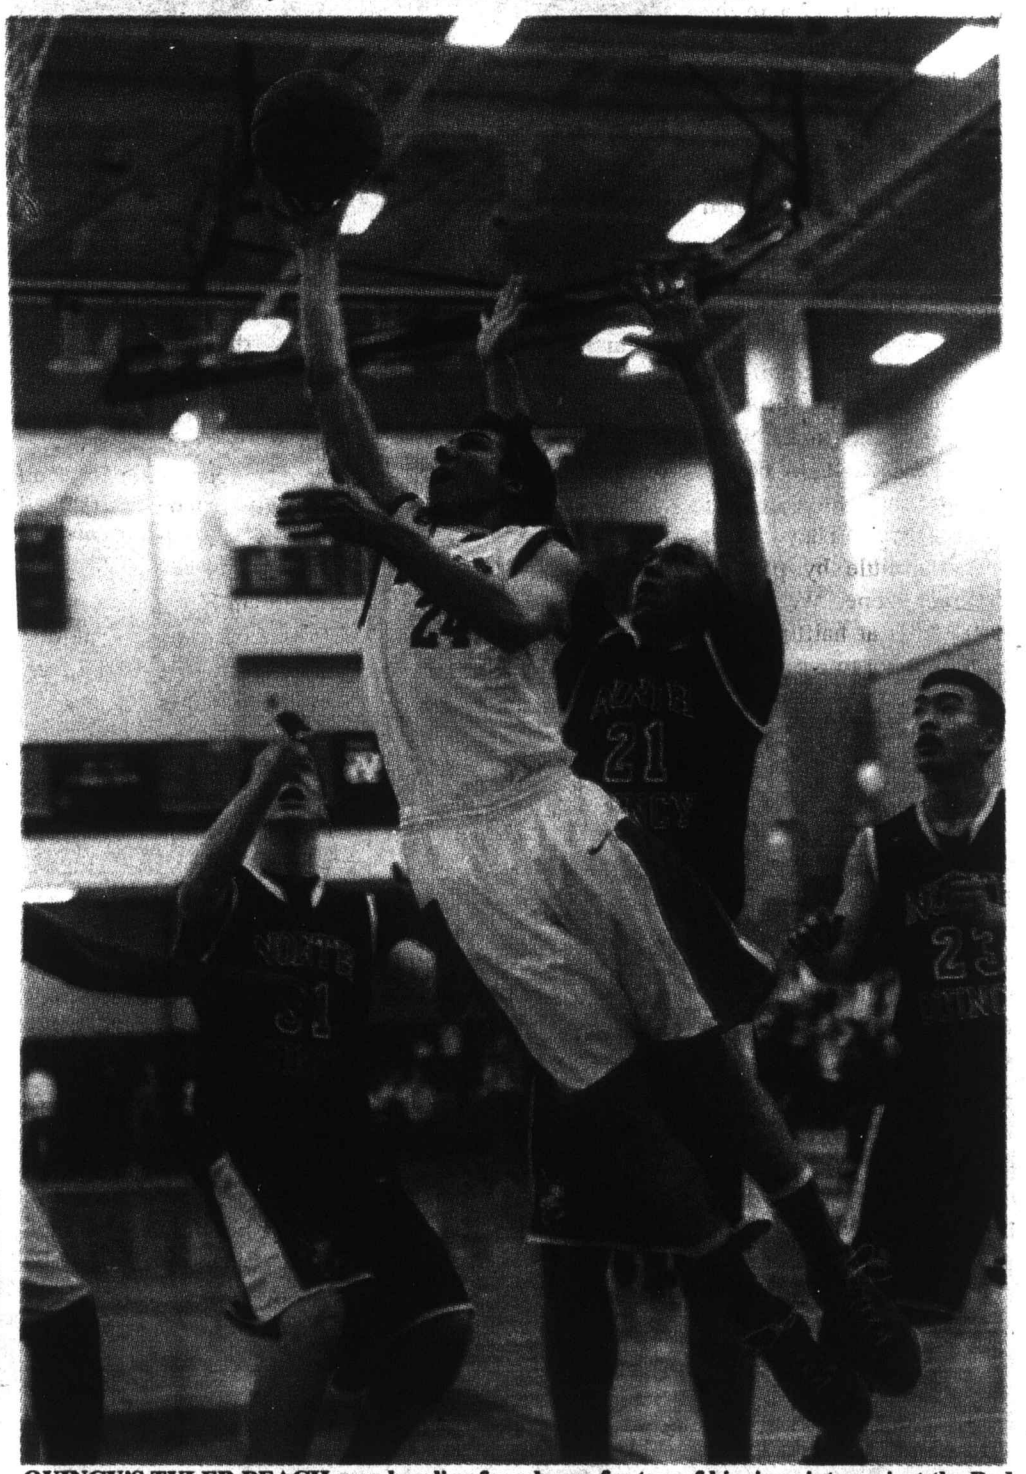
QUINCY'S JAMES LAM glides to the basket for layup and two of his 10 points in the Presidents' 63-41 win over rival North Quincy High School Feb. 13. The win improved Quincy's season record to 14-3 overall and 12-1 in the Keenan Division of the Patriot League. Both teams will play out the rest of their regular season this week. Story on Page 19.



NORTH QUINCY'S MATT GERAKIS scored eight points for the Red Raiders but Drew Myers (#33) and the Quincy Presidents came away with a 63-41 win Feb. 13. Quincy swept the season series from North Quincy for the first time since the 2007-2008 season.



NORTH QUINCY'S DHAAKY DRAKE puts up a shot against Quincy's J.T. Bain. Drake scored seven points in Quincy's 63-41 win over the Red Raiders.



QUINCY'S TYLER BEACH goes baseline for a layup for two of his six points against the Red Raiders.

Quincy Sun Photos/Robert Bosworth

'Quincy Best Team We've Played All Season'

Evans, Myers Lead Presidents Past Red Raiders

By BILL GRIFFIN

Most Quincy vs. North Quincy basketball meetings end with talk about the excellence of the game. Last Friday night's match ended with talk about the excellence of one team.

Quincy is that good. Good teams adapt and the Presidents adapt to everything. Play a man-to-man and they pass, cut, and share the ball for layups. Play a zone and they have the marksmen who can shoot it down. Double one player and four others step up to score.

Get them in foul trouble and they handle it. Drive and they stop the ball. Go to the boards and they box out. Foul them and they make their free throws. Press and they break it. Fire jump shots and they close on the shooter. Make a mistake and they turn it into points.

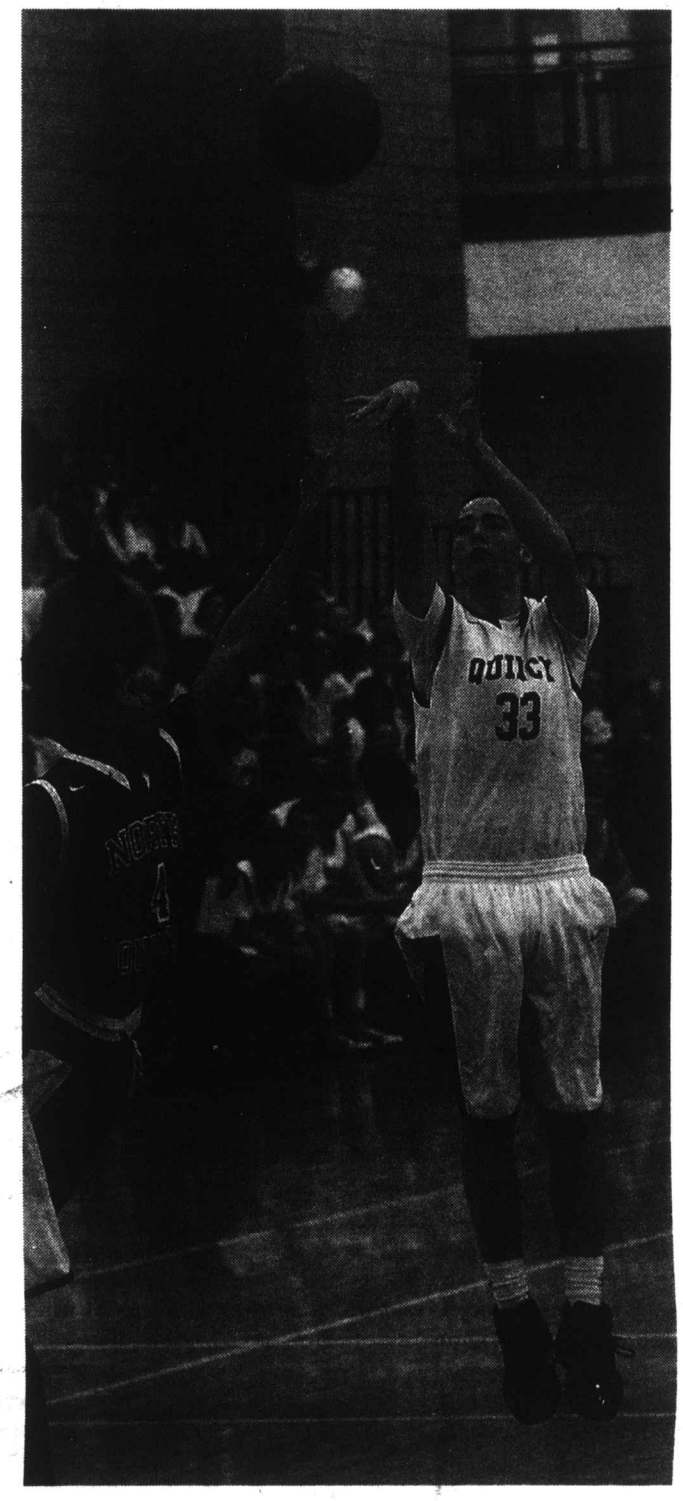
Quincy showed a bit of all this against North. Colin Evans scored 19 points, Drew Myers added 15 and the Presidents played lockdown defense against a quality offensive team to drop the Red Raiders, 63-41 in a Patriot League game on Senior Night at the Quincy High gym.

The win lifted Quincy to 14-3 overall, 12-1 in the Keenan Division of the league and gave the Presidents their first series sweep against North since the 2007-2008 season. At the end of last week, Quincy led Whitman-Hanson by two games in the division with three league games remaining.

"Good teams are able to find an answer for different situations, and that's what we've been able to do all season," said Quincy coach Dave Parry. "They threw us off a little by playing so much zone. We talked to the kids at halftime and told them not to get worked up about it. We told them to adapt to what they were doing and we responded well."

"Quincy is the best team we've played all season," said North coach Kevin Barrett whose team went to 11-8 with the loss. "I thought we threw them off a little early with the zone, but they adjusted. If you make a misstep against them, they capitalize, and that's the mark of a good basketball team."

North loves to play man-to-man. Instead, Barrett came out in an aggressive 1-3-1 zone and it took the Presidents out of their rhythm. Dhaaky Drake did a good job chasing the ball at the point, and the zone made Quincy's beloved wing jumpers a bit harder to find. Quincy was up, 18-13 after one and 31-22 at the half. The Red Raiders were within range.



QUINCY'S DREW MYERS scored 15 points for the Presidents in a 63-41 win over North Quincy Feb. 13.

"They stayed with the zone longer than we've seen before. We stayed patient. We kept our composure and we moved the ball," said Parry.

Mostly, they moved the ball. With Quincy, it always begins with the passing. They whipped it around the perimeter and threw it crosscourt over the top of the zone. They passed up good shots for better shots. Gradually, the court began to open up. Mostly it was Myers and Evans who combined for 13 in the first and 21 by halftime.

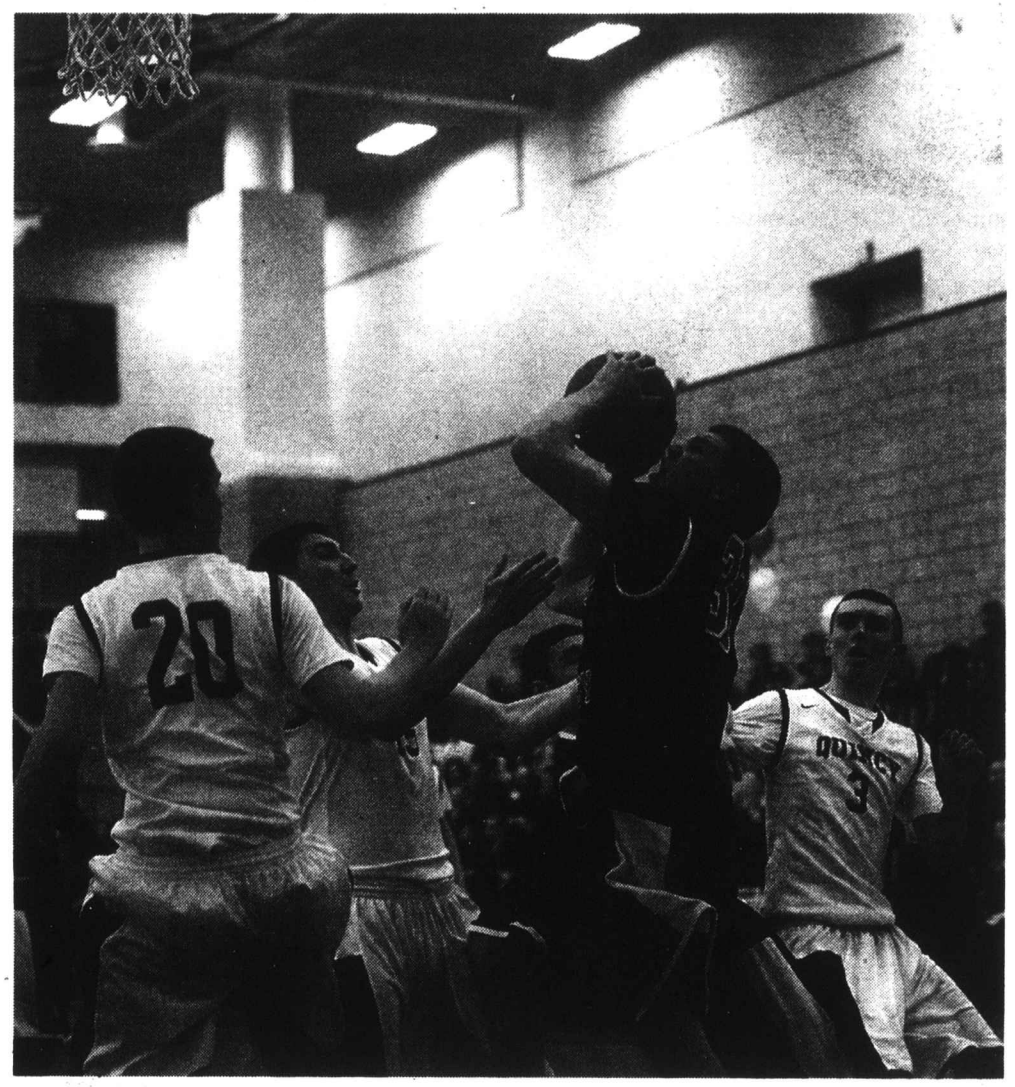
Myers and Evans simply shoot too well for a zone. Evans had three threes, Myers had two. Myers nailed the mid-range jumper all night and Evans had three pretty lefty finishes off drives. And they passed. Each had four assists. They particularly passed well to each other with an almost unseen sense of where the other would be on the court born from playing hoop together since they could walk.

"It was good to get them going together. We needed it against the zone," said Parry. "They are both so much more than shooters. They work together every day in the off-season and they know each other."

The foundation to it all was the defense. Quincy learned well from its only league loss of the season to Whitman-Hanson when the Presidents gave up 79 points. After that, they won seven of eight, held opponents under 50 points four times and surrendered an average of 46 points per game.

They gave 41 to North who had scored 51 in the second half the previous night in an 80-71 win over Cathedral. Their man-to-man contested every outside shot, closed down the middle, limited North to one shot and turned turnovers into points. Tyler Beach (six points, five steals) played terrific defense at the point, and Myers and Evans earned high grades on this end of the floor as well. It is tournament time. Defense wins. Quincy is playing excellent defense.

"I thought we closed well on the shooter," said Parry. "We also communicated well. Jackie Chen and Matt Gerakis are great shooters. You have to talk and know where they are. We did that tonight. Tyler's defense was outstanding. I think he'd score more if he didn't wear himself out playing defense, but we need it."



NORTH QUINCY'S CORNELIUS KOCH goes up for a shot against Quincy's (from left) Scott Mele, J.T. Bain and Colin Evans. Quincy Sun Photos/Robert Bosworth

They lived with foul trouble. James Lam (10 points) and J.T. Bain (nine) sat a good portion of the first half with three fouls. Lam picked up his fourth midway through the third. Good teams adapt. Scott Mele (four points) and Carl Zapata delivered quality minutes off the bench. They lived without Lam and Bain underneath by rebounding as a team. They had an answer.

"Scott has played very well for us over the second half of the season. He rebounded well and gave us good minutes underneath the basket," said Parry.

Once again Chen was the best player on the floor for North Quincy. He had 15 points and seven rebounds. He kept the Red Raiders within range with his outside touch, was a terror on defense and played hard from the opening tap until he left the game. Gerakis added eight. Drake (seven), Solomon Umoren (six), Conor Pound (three) and Cornelius Koch (two) also cracked the scoring column.

"Jackie played great again. I love his effort. He'll always be among my favorite players that I've coached because he plays so hard," said Barrett.

"He is a very good basketball player," said Parry.

Quincy opened up the game with an 18-point third period which produced a 49-34 lead. Five different players scored. There were five assists in eight field goals. Share the ball. Find the best shot. It doesn't matter who scores. They have been the themes of the season and they were the themes of the win over North.

It is time for the tourney. Seedings will be out this weekend and play begins next week. Quincy is looking at one and maybe two home games. The Presidents are ready. They have grown greatly this season. Witness the two North games. In the first one, they gave away an 18-point lead before winning by five. In the second one, they were in control and when they had the chance, they knew how to close out the game.

"I think we learned in the first game against North Quincy that no lead is safe. If we're up by 20, we have to keep playing," said Parry.

Evans, Lam, Bain, Beach, Myers, Zapata, Mike Rowland, Nya Domkam and Greg Paulo were honored in the pre-game Senior Night ceremonies.

On Monday, Quincy defeated Southeastern 69-52 in the first round of the Vin Moscardelli Tournament. The Presidents were set to play Milton for the title Tuesday.

In other action this week, Quincy is at Duxbury today (Thursday) at 5 p.m. hosts Plymouth North Friday at 4 p.m.

VOICE FOR HEALTH

by Dr. Gabrielle Freedman
Chiropractor

NOTHING TO LOL! ABOUT

Texting or browsing with your head bent forward over your cell phone results in a hunched posture that can lead to neck pain. With your head tilted forward and your shoulders drooped, extra stress is placed on the cervical spine. In a neutral position, the head weighs 10-12 pounds. Bending the head forward 15 degrees increases the force that the head exerts on the neck to 27 pounds, a 30-degree tilt of the head places 40 pounds, and a 60-degree tilt exerts 60 pounds. Thus, it is easy to see how a hunched texting posture could result in early wear and degeneration of the cervical (neck) portion of the spine. Chiropractors are posture experts who can help alleviate the neck strain.

Chiropractic alleviates neck pain - Chiropractors address the underlying cause of pain disorders, headaches, low back pain and sports injuries by treating the cause, not covering the symptoms. At Family Practice of Chiropractic, we are trained to restore the health of your spine and joints. We're located at 112 McGrath Hwy., Quincy, where we work to restore your health and guide you in a personalized approach to overall wellness. Please call 617.472.4220 to schedule an appointment, and let us help you live life without pain. With chiropractic care you have nothing to lose and everything to gain, especially your health!

P.S. To avoid neck pain, try lifting your cell phone closer to your eye level and casting your eyes downward to see the screen.

www.freedmanchiro.com

Quincy Girls Defeat North Quincy, 46-29

Cont'd From Page 15

against North. Jorgensen had 13 points, 15 rebounds, four blocks and four steals in a wonderful display of all-around basketball to lift Quincy to a 46-29 decision over the Red Raiders on Senior Night at the Quincy High gym.

The win gave Quincy a sweep of the season's series against North and lifted the Presidents to 12-5 overall and 9-5 in the Keenan Division. North went to 8-11 overall and 8-7 in league play.

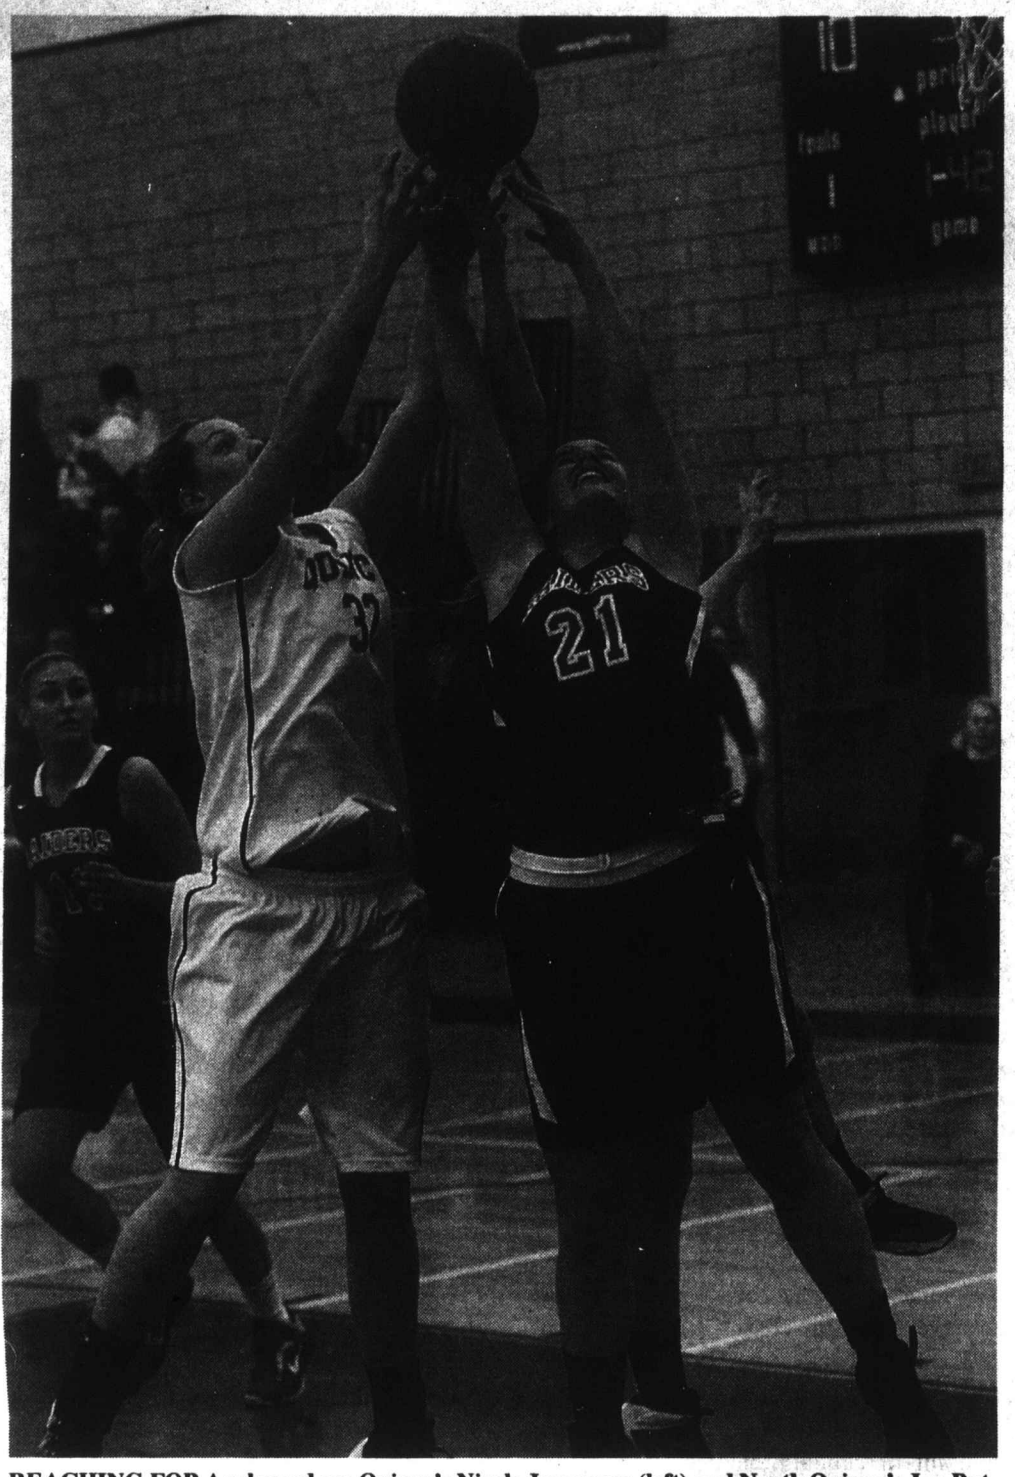
"What I remember about North my freshman year was how emotional I was before the first game. Everybody in the city was there watching. It wasn't an easy thing to handle," said Jorgensen. "I'm still a little nervous. But now I can use my experience to encourage my teammates and talk to them about what it's like to play in this game."

Her numbers tell only part of the story. She is the total player. She scored on layups, offensive rebounds, a hook shot, and a jumper from the top of the key. She deflected and picked off passes meant for the post, She intercepted a pass at midcourt in the middle of Quincy's fullcourt trap.

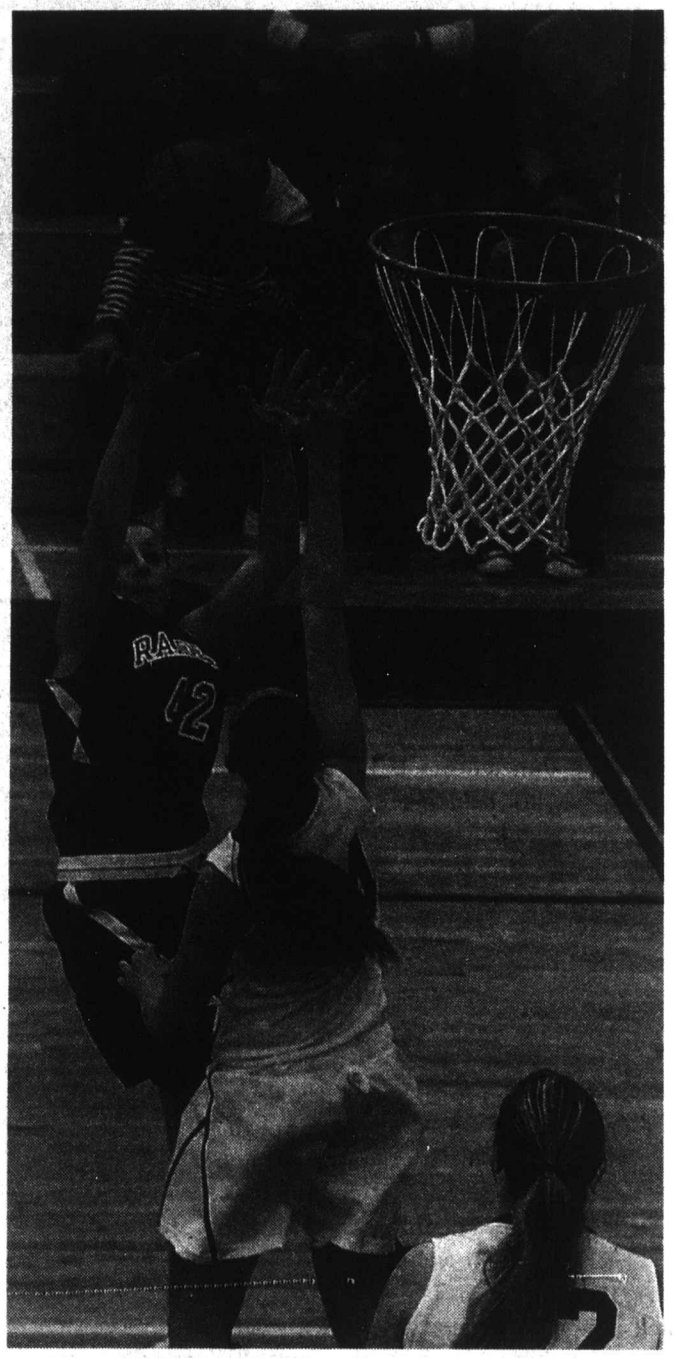
She threw strong and accurate outlet passes to fire Quincy's fast break. She altered countless shots and passes with her presence close to the bucket. She went to the floor to fight for possession and she made clean steals. She drew a charge with good position. She did all this with a calm assurance in her game which has been hard earned from three years of being the main target of every opponent on every night in every gym.

"I'm so proud of the progress Nicole has made this year. She's taken her game to whole new level" said Quincy coach Jeff Bretsch. "Her offense has always been reliable. This year she's been able to clog the middle and contest every shot without getting in foul trouble. We can't have her in foul trouble. That's been the big difference this year."

One play was most revealing. Early in the second period, Jorgensen not only blocked a shot, but controlled the deflection. She turned and fired a two-hand, overhead outlet pass which covered more than half the court and caught Gabby Jerahian in perfect stride for a fast-break layup. A block, a pass, a bucket.



REACHING FOR A rebound are Quincy's Nicole Jorgensen (left) and North Quincy's Jen Butka. The Presidents defeated the Red Raiders 46-29 Feb. 13 to sweep the season series.



NORTH QUINCY'S REMY AUCOIN hit a fall-away jumper for two of her game-high 16 points against Quincy.

Quincy Sun Photos/Robert Bosworth

"I owe a lot of the improvement in my game to my brother Ian," said Jorgensen. "I just put my basketball game in his hands. We worked on it every day in the off-season. He taught me that height wasn't enough. I had to learn a more well-rounded game in the post."

Jorgensen had plenty of help from her friends. Michelle Le, Quincy's only senior, fittingly began Senior Night by scoring her team's first five points on a three and a mid-range jumper.

"I was happy for Michelle," said Bretsch. "She is the kind of player every coach wants. Her attitude and energy are excellent. She's always positive, always encouraging and we found out that she can shoot."

Junior Alyssa Camara scored 11 and played her second strong game against North this season. In the first meeting, she hit three threes and also scored 11. Friday night, she drained a three, hit the mid-range jumper and drove to the bucket for her points. Jerahian added 10 despite dealing with Molly Minton chasing her around in North's box-and-one.

"Alyssa has a super-aggressive game on the floor. She's not afraid to drive in against the trees," smiled Bretsch.

For North, sophomore center Remy Aucoin had a game-high 16 points and 14 rebounds. At 5'9", she gave away inches to Jorgensen and Sarah Gibbons, but she boxed out and fought for every inch inside. She also used that soft, high shot of hers, especially off glass, to finish scoring chances close to the hoop.

Minton played good defense and scored five points. Marissa McGue had six points and five rebounds.

"Remy had an excellent game especially against a player like Jorgensen," said North coach Jess Worden. "She's not a big center, but she has great hands. She's able to get anything that comes close to her. Molly's defense was excellent. Quincy made its outside shots against our zone. I thought our offense was a little flat, maybe because of the lack of practice time because of the weather."

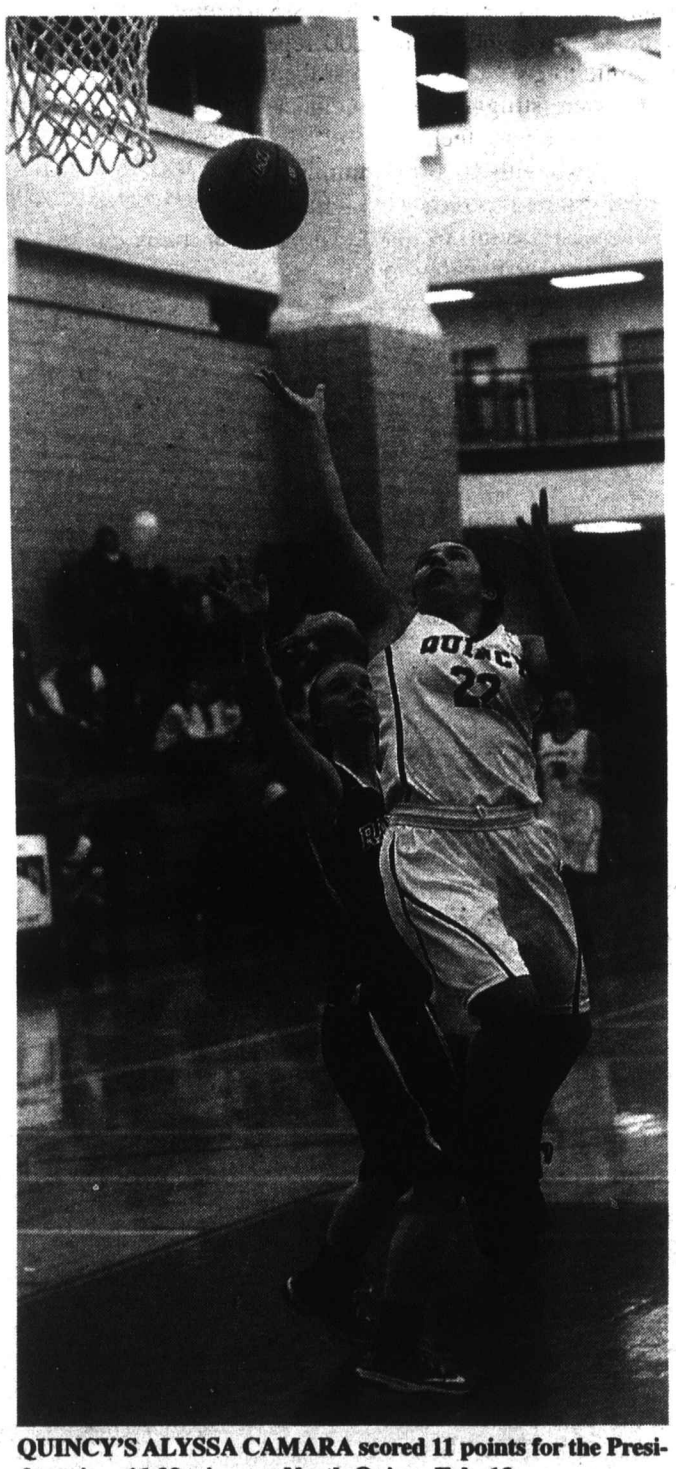
It was 10-10 after one. Quincy led 24-16 at the half and the Presidents defense, which gave only 19 points in the final three periods, opened it up to 38-23 after three. Gibbons and Julianna Kane played strong man-to-man defense at the forward spot. Quincy's fullcourt trap produced turnovers in the third, and the Presidents turned them into points to take firm control of the game.

"I was happy with the press in the third period," said Bretsch. "We were just missing steals in the first half, but we stayed with it. I think it helped slow them down."

Seedings for the tournament will be announced this weekend. North still had an outside shot after the loss to Quincy. The Presidents played Pembroke Wednesday and are at Plymouth North Thursday. Two wins would put them at 14-5 and a likely home game in the first round of the tourney.

"It's a goal of ours. It's something we'd like to have," said Bretsch.

Le was honored in pregame ceremonies for Senior Night. In a gracious gesture, the Presidents presented flowers to North's three seniors: Minton, Kiera Clifford, and Hannah Donovan.



QUINCY'S ALYSSA CAMARA scored 11 points for the Presidents in a 46-29 win over North Quincy Feb. 13.

Quincy Sun Photos/Robert Bosworth

QUINCY SUN PHOTOS

Reprints of Quincy Sun Photos
– Appearing in Print or on our Website –
can be purchased from our photographers:
Lisa Aimola - 617-981-1715
Larry Carchedi - 617-653-4775
Robert Bosworth - 617-471-3100

Bryson Twins Turn It On At Div. 1 Track Championships

Emily Wins 2-Mile, Julia Finishes Fourth

By JOE REARDON

You just know when a training session is called the "Monster Workout" you're not going to be taking a tranquil run through the woods and to smell the flowers.

But give that workout to Emily and Julia Bryson and they thrive on what it does for them on race day. The twins both ran in the 2 mile in the Div. 1 championships Feb. 11 at the Reggie Lewis Center and stamped their tickets to the state meet with stellar runs.

Emily was content to jog through the opening mile in 5:39 before surging hard with three consecutive 40-second 200-meter laps. She went on to negative split her second mile in 5:21 and win easily in 11:00.75. That put her more than 13 seconds in front of two-time Div. 1 state cross country champion Kaley Richards of Lowell, who won the mile and was trying to pull off the always-tough mile/2 mile double.

"The pace felt slower than I am used to through the first mile, and once I realized what the mile split was (5:39) I knew I had to pick it up if I wanted a chance at breaking 11 minutes," Emily said. "I also didn't want it to come down to a sprint the last few laps, so I decided to pick it up with a mile to go. I realized that they were struggling to hold on and I was feeling really good so with 1000 to go I really started to pick it up and separate myself from the field.

"I was really excited with my time and the win and it was even more exciting to know that Julia did so great as well. It's great to know that we will get to train together for another week and go to all-states together. Having Julia in the same heat as me really helped motivate me throughout the race. When I was coming down the home stretch on my last lap I ended up running right beside her through the finish line, and she definitely helped push me that last 100 meters to finish strong even though she still had another lap to go."

Julia used her exceptional speed on the final lap to break herself loose from a pack of four and take fourth overall in 11:34.65. She went to work her second mile to close in 5:41 after running the first mile in 5:53.

What the Brysons took away from the meet was their ability to not only run hard through the fatigue, but to be able to get up on their toes and sprint in the closing stages of the race. And that is attributed to the Monster Workout.

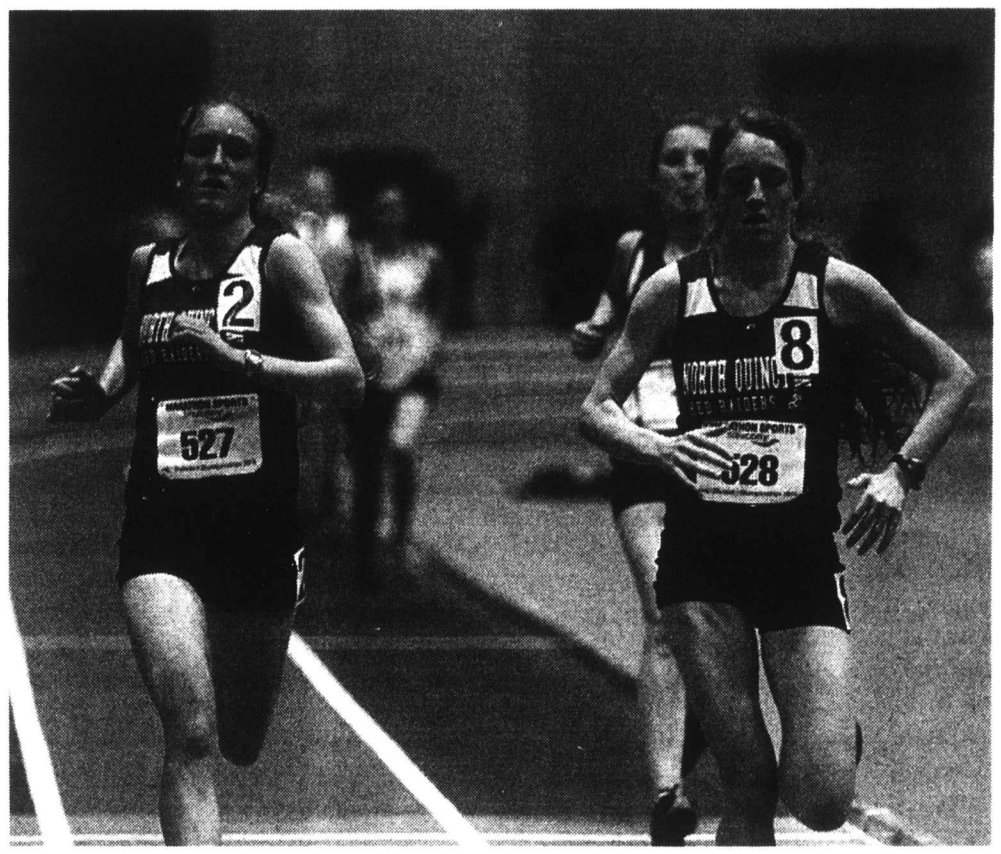
The workout isn't for the faint of heart, male or female. Running at a pace equivalent to a 4:48 mile, the session begins with three 200 repeats with very little rest then goes into a set that includes a 500, two 300s and 400 followed by four minutes of rest. The next set includes a 400, 300, and two 200s with four minutes rest. The workout concludes with three all-out 60 sprints.

"We've done that workout maybe three times," said North Quincy coach Geoff Hennessy. "Everything Emily did was based on a 72, 73-second pace. The more important thing is Julia kept up with her and didn't fall off the pace a lot. Julia is the better sprinter of the two."

When Julia began her sprint over the final 200, Hennessy knew she would clinch the fourth spot and a trip to the state meet. "It was no surprise to me at the end when it came down to a kick that Julia was going to outkick the other four kids she was running with," he said. "She is the fastest kid at the end. Julia did great. Before the race her father said wouldn't it be great if she could get fourth (and qualify for all-states). I told him she could beat that pack. They've been sick every winter. This year they got sick early and got it out of their system.

"Look what she did in the state meet in cross country (10th). Who the hell expected that?"

The huge amounts of snow have been a challenge for Emily and Julia getting out on the roads, but they never entertained the thought of running on a treadmill. "The snow has definitely made runs more difficult," said Emily. "I have to worry about ice, snow, cars, and plows on really narrow roads. I haven't let the snow stop me from getting out there any day or doing my workouts, and I got into the Reggie last week to do my speed workout. It's annoying that I am limited to running loops around my neighborhood, but it's definitely more fun when I have Julia running out there with me"



NORTH QUINCY HIGH School's Bryson Sisters - Emily (left) and Julia (right) – finished first and fourth in the 2-mile at the Div. 1 Indoor Track Championships Feb. 11 at the Reggie Lewis Center. Photo Courtesy Chuck Martin

What Emily is really looking forward to, besides a top-three finish and a sub 11-minute 2 mile, is another crack against Richards, this time, when she's fresh. "I know she (Richards) was frustrated but those are the cards you are dealt," said Hennessy. "I think Emily wants to beat her with no asterisk next to it. You know that. Whatever happens, happens."

The last time the two met, at the Coaches Elite Invitational in January, Emily hesitated and didn't start her kick until there was 500 left. By that point Lincoln-Sudbury's Andrea Keklak and Richards had a gap on Emily that she couldn't overcome. Hennessy doesn't believe she'll make the same mistake at the state meet. "She know you have to kind of anticipate when they make a move," he said. "If you're there, anyone can run on death's door with 200 left. You're a distance runner. You're going to make that last lap."

And no, Hennessy hasn't ruled out one more Monster Workout before the state meet. "I don't know what we're going to do this week," he said. "If we do a speed workout on Tuesday for a Saturday meet we may amend what we do. We might cut something out. We might not. They're in that good of shape right now. The weather hasn't done a thing. They'd be running these times if it was 70 degrees out."

The Brysons aren't the only two Raiders headed for the state meet. Sophomore Demoy Holding ran a pair of personal bests, ultimately taking fourth overall in the 55 dash in 6.85.

Holding has quite an upside after a sensational indoor campaign that still isn't over. "He didn't expect to do as well as he did," said Hennessy. "He's only a sophomore and was very nervous - super talented kid. He ran a PR twice. What else can you ask him to do? We haven't done a lot of practicing. We haven't been able to get in the building."

Quincy Wrestler Peter Orseno South Sectional Champion

Tariq Simmons (4th Place) Also Qualifies For State Tournament

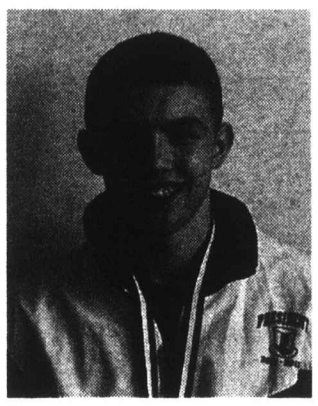
By TREVOR WENNERS

Here are some of junior wrestler Peter Orseno's accomplishments this year for Quincy High School. He recorded a first-place finish in the Division 1 South Sectional tournament last Saturday at Weymouth High School. His record is 39-3 so far and he went 4-0 in the D1 South Sectional tournament.

Wait – let's add one more: he has only one loss when he has competed in his weight class.

"He's the first Sectional champion from Quincy (since 2009-2010)," said Presidents head coach Matt Pavlisko. "So, it's a big accomplishment for him and Quincy to be recognized again."

Last Saturday, Orseno (120 pounds) was not the only Quincy wrestler getting recognition. Junior Tariq Simmons (126 pounds) placed fourth in his weight class and will move on to the Division 1 State tournament along with Orseno. Senior captain Kenny Garcia (132 pounds) placed fifth in his weight class and will be an alternate for the D1 State tournament if someone cannot perform.



PETER ORSENO

"Peter has always been a competitor, ever since I saw him wrestle a couple years ago," said Pavlisko. "He is the first one in the (wrestling) room, last one leaving. Peter, Kenny and Tariq are all workout partners."

The D1 State tournament will be played Friday and Saturday with wrestling starting at noon each day and weigh-ins will begin at 10 a.m. Pavlisko talked about what he expects from Simmons and Orseno who have combined for a 67-13 record this season.

"I expect them to perform well," said Pavlisko. "I haven't looked at any of the brackets or who (is) wrestling who in the matchups yet but as of now I expect them to win a few matches and everything is a learning experience since they're both juniors but if they place I will be very happy."

Garcia went 2-2 in the Sectional tournament and he has compiled a record of 36-6 this season.

"I was very happy with his performance," said Pavlisko. "He had a tough draw, a bunch of really (good) wrestlers at his weight class, he did the best he could and I was very proud of him. There was a couple situations (on Saturday) where the match could have gone either way, there is nothing you can do about it but overall as a senior captain in my first year with Kenny he has been a tremendous wrestler and a person. If I had 14 more of him I would be very happy."

For wrestlers to move on from the D1 State tournament to All-States, they will have to finish in the top 6 in their weight class. Seventh place finishers will be alternates for All-States. Top 6 in each weight class at All-States then move on to the New England tournament.

Cont'd On Page 31

NQHS Hockey Hall Of Fame Induction

Feb. 27 At Neighborhood Club

The North Quincy High School Hockey Hall of Fame will host its fourth induction ceremony at the Quincy Neighborhood Club, Friday, Feb. 27, at 6:30 p.m.

Sixteen former stars and two Friends of NQHS hockey will be honored that evening. The inductees will span 7 decades, starting in the 1940's, with the inception of the program, to the early 2000's.

The inductees are: Robert Richards (Class of 1948), Bert Nogler (1948), Bunky Chafe (1948), Dick Gallagher (1951), Dave Higgins (1961) George Jakub (1965), Mike Struzik (1970), Bobby Golden (1971), Keith Losordo (1972) posthumously; Dave Noonan (1974), Peter Furtado (1985), Jay Rodriguez (1988), John Gladu (1993), Brendan O'Brien (1995), Mike Sullivan (1999) and Paul Graham (2005).

The two Friends of North Quincy High School Hockey who will be honored for their loyal support are Janet Riley and Dave Sommers.

Each ceremony has brought a reunion-like atmosphere of renewing old acquaintances to trading old high school stories of days gone by.

The inductees will be presented by former coaches or Hall of Fame members.

Tickets can be purchased for $40 by emailing Fred Cobban at fcobban@comcast.net or Sandy Verhault at Verhaultsandy@gmail.com.

A Job Well Done

By QUINCY POLICE LT. DAN MINTON

On Sunday, February 8, 2015, at approximately 11:50 p.m., Officer Colleen Paccioretti was dispatched to a medical call in the area of 236 Washington Street for a female sitting in a snow bank. Upon the Officer's arrival, a snow plow driver pointed out the location of the female.

The Officer approached the female, who was coherent, but intoxicated, shaking in the snow and turning purple. Officer Paccioretti asked the female to stand up but she said she couldn't because she was too cold to stand. As the Officer awaited the ambulance, she kept the female warm in her cruiser.

The plow driver told the Officer that he saw the female on the ground and a group of males just walked away from her. The plow driver said that one of the males in the group quipped that she was his girlfriend and be careful "not to scoop her up." The group was standing nearby at the Wash and Dry business on Washington Street so Officer Paccioretti asked the plow driver to point out the male who made the remark.

The Officer then approached the group and asked the male in question if he was the boyfriend and why she was abandoned in the snow bank. He nonchalantly stated that he was the boyfriend and didn't care because "She is a @#$%^." When asked if she had been drinking or taking any drugs, the boyfriend angrily said that he didn't have to tell the Officer. She told him that she needed to know in able to tell the Paramedics. He then began yelling, "I don't have to tell you anything." When asked why he left his girlfriend in the snow and didn't help her, he ranted that "She is a @#$% and she deserves it."

He then stepped towards the Officer, screaming at her. When told to step back, he refused and started yelling louder and repeatedly asked, "Are you a tough girl?" At this time, employees and customers of the stores were looking out the windows. Officer Paccioretti called for a second Officer to respond due to the escalating violent behavior exhibited by the boyfriend. After numerous warnings to calm down, the Officer placed the boyfriend, a 46 year old Quincy resident, under arrest for "Disorderly Conduct" as Officer Bruce Tait arrived to assist.

LT. DAN MINTON

The victim was taken by ambulance to Quincy Medical Center for treatment. Officer Jay Grazioso went to QMC to interview the victim and learned that she was in the snow bank because she had been punched unconscious. She told the Officer that one of her boyfriend's buddies punched her. The victim was treated for cold weather exposure.

Officer Paccioretti filed for an arrest warrant for the 40 year old Quincy man who assaulted the victim. Nice Work!

❑

ANOTHER JOB WELL DONE: On Sunday, February 8, 2015 at approximately 2:13 a.m., Officers Stephen Dabilis and David Zupkofska were dispatched to Curtis Street after a caller reported that a male party came to his door and identified himself as a Quincy Police Officer while attempting to get into the home. While en route to the scene, the Officers were advised that the male suspect was sitting in a vehicle across the street.

Upon arrival, the Officers located the vehicle, which was partly in a snow bank obstructing resident parking spaces in the apartment complex. The vehicle was occupied by a male who was ordered out and then searched due to the nature of the call. The male, who was not wearing shoes, was intoxicated and unsteady on his feet.

After determining that the male was not a Police Officer, Officer Zupkofska interviewed the caller who stated that the male came to his door and identified himself as a Quincy Police Officer, offering him $150.00 to let him stay for the night. When the caller asked the male to show a badge, the male said he would once he was inside. The caller told him to get out and then called the Police.

Officer Dabilis spoke with the male suspect, who was trying to call his cousin who lived in a nearby residence. The suspect finally said that his cousin did not want him at his house and his girlfriend had no way of getting to their location. Since the 25 year old male suspect, a Norwell resident, could not get someone to take care of him, the only option was to place him into Protective Custody and after a few hours in a cell, his mother came to the station to take care and custody of him. Nice Work!

QUINCY POLICE CRIME PREVENTION JOURNAL

Quincy Police Statistics
Feb. 6 - 13
ARRESTS: 19
TOTAL CALLS: 1,342
STOLEN MOTOR VEHICLES: 1

FRIDAY, FEB. 6

VANDALISM/PROPERTY, 11:06 a.m., Belmont St. Slashed tires. Has suspect info.

SATURDAY, FEB. 7

BREAKING AND ENTERING IN PROGRESS, 2:11 a.m., Parkhurst St. Caller said someone was touching the doorknob and trying to get in. Confused party. Unfounded.

VANDALISM/PROPERTY, 3:38 p.m., BJ's, 200 Crown Colony Dr. Shopping carriage. Male party refuses to speak to female caller. Civil matter.

TUESDAY, FEB. 10

ATTEMPTED BREAKING AND ENTERING, 4:30 a.m., Quincy St. White or Hispanic male wearing all black fled towards Liberty Street. Tracked footprints to rear entrance of Quincy Street. Resident in area that was shoveling said he saw a male wearing all black with a black hat entered the rear of Quincy Street. Male party was about 5'9".

VANDALISM/PROPERTY, 10:57 a.m., Copeland St. To cameras. Has suspect info.

LARCENY, 2:36 p.m., 400 E. Squantum St. Papers/documents regarding deceased wife's life insurance and other identity information missing from apartment.

LARCENY, 5:43 p.m., 1245 Hancock St. See caller at home. Wallet taken and credit cards have been used.

MOTOR VEHICLE LARCENY, 8:23 p.m., 1245 Hancock St. See caller in QPD lobby; knows person who stole her motor vehicle.

WEDNESDAY, FEB. 11

ASSAULT AND BATTERY, 7:57 p.m., Botolph St. Woman with red hair in her late 30s to early 40s was running around in street flailing arms causing a disturbance because her car was stuck in the snow. She may have been the one punched by the unknown man. No EMS, patient refusal.

VANDALISM/PROPERTY, 2:47 p.m., Standish Ave. Thinks someone is ripping off her vehicle's mirror every six months.

LARCENY, 3:00 p.m., Home Depot, 177 Willard St. Arrest for larceny over $250. This was not a shoplifting. Employee stealing on different occasions; had unknown accomplice.

LARCENY, 3:37 p.m., Alarm Central, 680 Hancock St. Female just stole money from caller's pocketbook. Has suspect info.

THURSDAY, FEB. 12

VANDALISM/PROPERTY, 10:23 a.m., Baxter Pharmacy, 464 Washington St. To building.

ARMED ROBBERY, 4:32 p.m., 751 E. Squantum St. White male, 26 to 28 years old, 5'8", 160 pounds with beard and black, baggy clothes took the whole cash register. Knife. Walked up Huckins.

LARCENY, 5:32 p.m., Assembly, 425 Hancock St. Reporting party states she was missing money and checked the video tape and saw that the cleaning company took cases of beer and money last night. Has surveillance tape.

If anyone has more information about any of the aforementioned incidents or would like more information, contact Crime Prevention Lieutenant Dan Minton at 617 745 5719

STOLEN MOTOR VEHICLES: 1245 Hancock Street.

❑

CAR BREAKS: Broadway, Germain Avenue, Chase Street, Ruggles Street, Pleasant Street, Penn Street, Mill Street.

❑

BREAKS AND ATTEMPTED BREAKS: none.

If you have information on the above crimes, drug activity or any crime, please call the Quincy Police Detective Bureau at 617-745-5764 or log onto the following website: http://tinyurl.com/ytf6td.

To report suspicious drug activity, call the Drug Hot-Line at 617-745-5730. You will not be required to identify yourself, but it could help. To make an appointment to view the Registered Sex Offenders book, call Detective James Dentremont at 617-745-5755.

To contact the Crime Prevention Officer for tips or comments, my direct line is 617-745-5719. My e-mail address is dminton@ci.quincy.ma.us

-- Lt. Dan Minton

Entries in the Quincy Police Hot Spots are compiled and submitted by the Quincy Police Department.

They are published by The Quincy Sun as a public service to make local residents more aware of any crime activity in their neighborhood. Questions concerning the Hot Spots list should be directed to Crime Prevention Officer Lt. Dan Minton, 617-745-5719.

QUINCY ANIMAL SHELTER

56 Broad Street, Quincy • 617-376-1349
quincyanimalshelter.org

IN-SHELTER ADOPTION HOURS
TUESDAY and THURSDAYS 6:00 to 8:00 pm
SATURDAYS 10 am - 4 pm

Adoption fees include initial vaccinations and Spay/Neuter as needed. 100% volunteer run, new volunteers always needed.

FOR LOST or FOUND ANIMALS call
ANIMAL CONTROL at 617-376-1364

AVAILABLE CATS

TOBI: 5, female, black & white.
SARA: 7, female, tortie.
TRUMAN: 9, male, orange.
FIREBALL: adult, male, gray & white.
LANG: 1, female, black & white.
LUCKY: 4, female, black.
SOPHIA & TAI: 12, munchkin & Siamese mix.
ORION: 1, male, black & white.
PUMPKIN: 1, female, LH tortie.
SNOWFLAKE: 5, female, LH white.
ZDENO: 2, male, orange.
LUNA: 4, female, gray.
GIGI: 7, female, tortie.
DOTTIE: 3, female, black.

RELIGION

Houghs Neck Congregational

The Sunday morning service at Houghs Neck Congregational Church, 310 Manet Ave. starts at 10 a.m.

Pastor Felix Carrion will lead the service and preach the sermon "Transfiguration: Now and Then." Gayle Mackay will call to wGayle Mackay will call to worship and read the scripture lesson.

Chris Jacobs will serve for the Diaconate.

Steve Reed, Minister of Music will direct the choir singing the anthem.

The Sunday, Feb. 15th church service was cancelled due to blizzard conditions.

A fellowship coffee hour follows the service hosted by Nancy and Molly Jacobs.

Thursday Hatha Yoga is at 7 pm in the hall.

All events are subject to weather and parking.

The Chili Bowl Cook-off on Saturday, Feb. 28 is accepting entries from restaurants and individuals.

Call 617-688-4044 or e-mail chilicookoffhncc@gmail.com to enter or for more information.

Bethany Congregational

On Sunday, Feb. 22, Bethany Congregational Church, will have a Worship Service and Sunday School at 10 a.m. The Rev. William C. Harding will conduct the service and preach the sermon. Fellowship with light refreshments will follow the worship service.

All are welcome to attend Worship Services and its activities: a Youth Group, a Men's Group, an Outreach Mission Group doing various charity works and a Bible Study Class.

The church office is open 8:30 a.m. to noon, then 1 - 4 p.m. For updates and activities, visit the church website at bethanychurch.tk.

Thanks to the Video Ministry, those unable to attend worship service, the Bethany Church Service is broadcast on QATV at 6 p.m. Thursdays and 10 a.m. Sundays on Channel 8.

Childcare is available for infants and toddlers during worship service on Sundays. The church is wheelchair accessible.

Holy Trinity Parish Pancake Breakfast Sunday

Holy Trinity Parish Pancake Breakfast will be held Sunday, Feb. 22, from 8:30 to 11 a.m. in the St Thomas Aquinas Hall on Darrow Street.

The public is invited. Price is $5 per person.

The breakfast is sponsored by the Holy Name Society of Holy Trinity Parish.

Quincy Point Congregational

This Sunday, Feb. 22nd worship will held at 10 a.m. at Quincy Point Congregational Church, 444 Washington St.

The Rev. Ann Suzedell will be preaching a sermon for the beginning of Lent highlighting the ancient, "Farewell to Alleluia" ritual.

The lay reader will be Jane Raymond. After worship all are invited to the Social Hall for coffee and light refreshments. While you are there sign the Birthday and Thinking of You cards.

Entries Sought For Chili Bowl Cook-Off

Entries are being sought for the sixth annual "Chili Bowl" Chili Cook-Off, to be held Saturday, Feb. 28 from 2 to 5 p.m. at Houghs Neck Congregational Church, 310 Manet Ave., Quincy.

With categories for both home cooks and restaurants, the event will offer attendees the chance to sample and savor up to 20 different varieties of chili, with trophies and medals awarded to the champion chili winners as voted on by attendees.

Admission to the cook-off is $5 and includes all the chili attendees can eat. Hot dogs, beer, soda and snacks and bake sale will also be available for an additional charge.

There is no fee to enter chili in the cook-off. To enter or for more information, call 617-688-4044 or e-mail chilicookoffhncc@gmail.com.

Garden Club Of MA Offering 11 Scholarships

Are you in college or headed for college this fall?

Are you majoring in one of the 'green' sciences such as horticulture, environmental studies, botany or biology?

Are you looking for scholarship aid?

If so, you ought to know that the Garden Club Federation of Massachusetts (GCFM) offers eleven different scholarships each year to qualifying students.

The deadline for applying for these scholarships is March 1. One application, available at http://www.gcfm.org/Education/Scholarships/GCFMScholarships.aspx, allows you to apply for all of those stipends for which you are eligible.

The basic requirements are that you have been a legal resident of Massachusetts for at least one year, have maintained a minimum 'B' average in school, have good character, and have a financial need. Each scholarship has a specific set of additional requirements, which are described in detail on the GCFM website.

For example, one scholarship requires that the student be a "graduate or undergraduate pursuing a degree in horticulture, landscape design, environmental science or related fields of interest."

Another is open to "juniors, seniors or graduate students majoring in landscape architecture, city planning, or related fields of interest." Three are restricted to students enrolled at one of the University of Massachusetts campuses in areas such as floriculture, horticulture or landscape design.

Eligibility for the scholarships is determined by the GCFM Scholarship Committee and is determined based on the completed application package.

All necessary forms, including those to determine financial need, are available at the GCFM website.

"No one from the Quincy area has received one of these scholarships in many, many years," said Wollaston Garden Club President Anita Fasano.

For additional information, contact:
gcfmscholarship@aol.com

Quincy Religion Directory

SERVICES & ACTIVITIES

Catholic

St. Mary's Church
95 Crescent St., Quincy • 617-773-0120
Masses
Saturday, 4pm, Sunday 8 & 10:30am
Tuesday/Thursday 9am
Handicapped Accessible
New Members Welcome!

ST. AGATHA CHURCH MILTON-QUINCY
432 Adams Street
Milton, MA 02186 • 617-698-2439
Schedule of Masses:
Saturday: 4:30PM
Sunday: 7:30AM, 9:00AM, 10:30AM, 12 NOON and 5:00PM
Weekday Masses: 7:00 & 9:00AM
Reconciliation 3:45PM-4:15pm on Saturdays, other times by appointment
Handicapped Accessible, handicapped parking, elevator to Upper/Lower Churches ~ Air-Conditioned

St. John The Baptist
ROMAN CATHOLIC CHURCH
44 School St., Quincy
617-773-1021
Weekend Mass Schedule
Saturday, 4:00 PM
Sunday 7:30, 9:00, 11:00 AM
Sunday night 5:30 PM
Weekday Masses
Monday - Saturday 8:00 AM
Latin Mass
1st & 3rd Wednesdays
(Lower Chapel) 7:00 AM
Confessions
Wed. 8:30 – 9:00 AM
Sat. 2:30 – 3:30 PM
Handicapped Accessible

Salvationist

THE SALVATION ARMY
6 Baxter St., Quincy • 617-472-2345
9:45 CHRISTIAN EDUCATION
11AM WORSHIP SERVICE
BRASS BAND MUSIC
7PM TUES WOMEN'S FELLOWSHIP
6:45PM WEDS. BIBLE STUDY

Catholic

Sacred Heart Church
"A Roman Catholic Community walking together in Faith, Worship, Education and Service"
386 Hancock St., North Quincy, MA 02171
(617) 328-8666
Sunday Masses
4pm (Saturday)
7:30 am and 10:00 am
Weekday Masses
Monday - Friday 7am
Handicapped Accessible
Confessions
Sat. 3-3:45pm in Saint Joseph Oratory

St. Joseph's Church
550 Washington Street
Quincy, MA 02169
617-472-6321
SUNDAY MASSES:
4 p.m. (On Saturday)
8:30 a.m. and 10:30 a.m.
Weekday Masses 9am
CONFESSIONS: Saturday, 3:00-3:30 pm
Handicapped accessible & Handicapped parking, side entrance air conditioned

Saint Ann's Church
757 Hancock St., Wollaston
617-479-5400
Mass Schedule:
Sat. 4:00 PM / Sun. 9, 11 AM
Daily Mass: Monday, Wednesday, Friday, Saturday 9 AM
Confessions: Saturday 3-3:30PM
Handicapped Accessible via Elevator

Methodist

QUINCY COMMUNITY UNITED METHODIST CHURCH
40 Beale St., Wollaston
617-773-3319
10:30 AM Sunday Worship
Rev. Dr. Susan Jarek-Glidden, Pastor

Congregational

HOUGH'S NECK CONGREGATIONAL CHURCH
310 Manet Avenue
617-479-8778
www.hncong.org
Sunday Morning Service at 10 a.m.
Pastor Felix Carrion will preach the sermon "Transformation: Now and Then"
All are welcome to attend
FELLOWSHIP COFFEE HOUR FOLLOWING SERVICE

BETHANY CONGREGATIONAL CHURCH
Spear & Coddington Streets
Quincy Center, 617-479-7300
www.bethanychurch.tk
Worship Service and Sunday School at 10AM
Rev. William C. Harding will conduct the service and preach the sermon.
Child Care Available
For Infants And Toddlers
ALL ARE WELCOME!
Fellowship Time following Service
The church is wheelchair accessible

JOY

Congregational

Wollaston
Congregational Church
United Church of Christ
48 Winthrop Avenue
Quincy, Massachusetts
Worship and Sunday School at 10 a.m.
Fred Hayes InterimPastor
617-773-7432
www.wollastonucc.com

UNION CONGREGATIONAL
Beach St. & Rawson Rd., Wollaston
(617)479-6661
Rev. John Swanson, Pastor
Sunday Worship Service 10 AM

QUINCY POINT CONGREGATIONAL CHURCH
444 Washington St . • 617-773-6424
Worship and Church School 10 am
Rev. Ann Suzedell, Pastor
email: office@quincypointcong.org

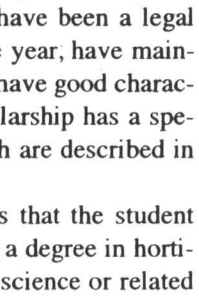
Unitarian Universalist

United First Parish Church
A theologically liberal congregation, encouraging people to seek their own spiritual path. All are welcome.
Worship Service, Church School and Childcare Sundays at 10:30 AM
Followed by Fellowship & Refreshments
Rev. Rebecca Froom
1306 Hancock St., Quincy
www.ufpc.org

PEACE

Christian Science

First Church of Christ, Scientist
1460 Hancock Street, Quincy
617-472-0055
Sunday Services and Sunday School 10:30 a.m.
Wednesday Evening Meetings – where testimonies of healing are shared 7:30 p.m.



ALL ARE WELCOME!

Catholic Community

Dignity BOSTON
Gay, Lesbian, Bisexual, Transgender
CATHOLICS
Our families, friends And allies
Liturgy & social hour: Sundays, 5:30 PM
St. John the Evangelist Church
35 Bowdoin St., Beacon Hill, Boston
617-421-1915
www.dignityboston.org

Nazarene

Wollaston
Church of the Nazarene
Sunday Worship
8:30 AM Liturgical Worship
9:45 AM Sunday School
11:00 AM Celebration Worship
Kevin E. Dunlop, Lead Pastor
Phil Nase, Youth & Small Groups Pastor
Jake Chastain, Music & Campus Pastor
Bev Kingdale, Children's Pastor
Don Reed, Visitation Pastor
37 E. Elm Ave., Wollaston
617.472.9669
E-mail: office@wconaz.org
www.wollastonnazarene.org

HOPE

LOVE

To Advertise in this Directory, Call 617-471-3100

OBITUARIES

Patricia L. Werra

A celebration of life for Patricia L. (Bassett) Werra of Weymouth and formerly Quincy was privately held.

Mrs. Werra died Feb. 7 after her 15-month long battle with lung cancer.

Beloved daughter of the late Francis L. Bassett and Patricia M. Nord "Bassett." Partner of John R. Williams of Weymouth, devoted mother of Christine Kellam and her husband Durain Kellam of Needham, Patricia L. Bassett and her partner Eric M. Pierce of Quincy. Treasured Grandmother of Breanna L. Fitzgerald-Bassett and Ebony S. Bowman-Bassett. Adored Gigi of Olivia G. Mahoney. Also survived by many aunts, uncles, cousins, and several brothers and sisters, nieces and nephews.

PATRICIA L. WERRA

Arrangements were made by Hamel, Wickens & Troupe Funeral Home, 26 Adams St., Quincy.

Arthur C. Rowe, 69

Funeral services for Arthur Charles Rowe, 69, of Gardner, originally from Hull, were privately held.

Mr. Rowe died unexpectedly Feb. 3.

He was born at Quincy City Hospital. He was predeceased by his parents, Dorothy Baker and Sol Rowe, and also by two of his siblings, Jonathon Rivers and Susan Rowe.

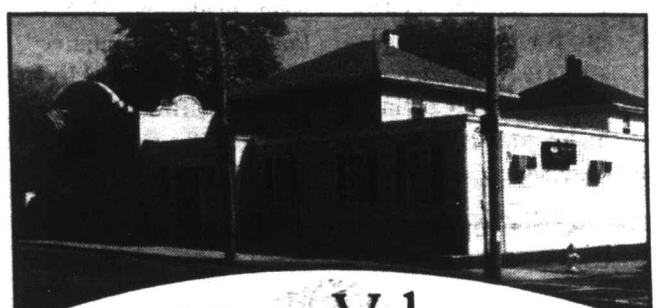
Mr. Rowe worked at First National Bank (later turning into Bank Boston) in Dorchester for 40 years. He also held a brokers license and worked in real estate for a brief time. Mr. Rowe was previously married and divorced from Judith M. Rowe of Salisbury, N.H.

He was an avid animal lover and activist. He enjoyed keeping active by doing yoga, walking, and riding his indoor bike. Mr. Rowe was genuine, kind hearted and had a witty sense of humor.

He is survived by his daughter, Jenine Vindice and son-in-law Vincent Vindice of Wilmington, son Leonard Rowe and daughter-in-law Carol Rowe of Marshfield, brother Eric Rowe of Worcester, grandchildren Lenny Rowe Jr., Molly Rowe, Donna Rowe, Celia Vindice, Vincent Vindice, and Jacob Vindice. Also by his Marsha Stone and her husband Norm Hirschfeld of Greenfield.

Arrangements were made by Hamel, Wickens & Troupe Funeral Home, 26 Adams St., Quincy.

Memorial donations may be made to rainforest-alliance.org; earthjustice.org; redcross.org; worldwildlife.org; or mspca.org.



A Better Value
For Quincy Families

At Deware Funeral Home, we are proud to offer more value and superior service to Quincy families. A full service traditional funeral is $5,995* with no hidden costs. The price includes:

Funeral Ceremony • Visitation • Casket

At Deware Funeral Home, we put the needs of our customer first. We also offer a Simple Burial Plan for $3,395.

With Deware Funeral Home, you can trust us to provide the compassionate care you expect at an exceptional value, backed by a 100% service guarantee.

Exclusive provider of Dignity Memorial® benefits.

Deware Funeral Home

576 Hancock Street | Quincy, MA 02170 | 617-472-1137

Dignity Memorial

For more information visit
www.dewarefuneralhome.com

*$5,395 plan includes basic services of funeral director and staff, embalming and preparation, viewing, funeral ceremony, transportation to place of disposition, 20 guest register, memorial video, acknowledgements, and memorial stationery package in register book; 100 thank you cards, 100 prayer cards.

A Service Family Affiliate of AFS and Service Corporation International, 206 Wenzel Street, Fall River, MA 02720. (508) 672-2804.

Sandra Stohlberg, 79

A funeral for Sandra (Richie) Stohlberg, 79, a longtime Squantum resident, was held Feb. 14 in First Church of Squantum.

Mrs. Stohlberg died Feb. 11 at her home following a long illness.

She graduated North Quincy High School and attended nursing school at Faulkner Hospital. She worked at the former Quincy City Hospital, where she was a secretary. Mrs. Stohlberg worked many years at North Quincy High School and Central Middle School as a cafeteria worker and was president of the Cafeteria Workers Union. She was a very active member of the First Church of Squantum, where she was served as a deacon.

Mrs. Stohlberg was an animal lover, enjoyed reading, crossword puzzles, scrabble and especially spending time with her loving family.

Loving wife of 59 years

SANDRA STOHLBERG

to Richard C. Stohlberg. Devoted mother of Richard C. Stohlberg, Jr. of Canton and David B. Stohlberg of Weymouth, the late Dorothy Lee Stohlberg, Paula J. Glynn of FL, and Deborah L. Knight of Quincy. Also survived by nine grandchildren and two great-grandchildren.

Funeral arrangements were made by Hamel, Wickens & Troupe Funeral Home, 26 Adams St., Quincy.

Interment at Blue Hill Cemetery, Braintree.

Memorial donations may be made to the Quincy Animal Shelter 56 Broad St, Quincy, MA 02169.

Virginia E. MacDonald, 92

A celebration of life for Virginia E. (Johnston) MacDonald, 92, of Weymouth and formerly Quincy will be held Feb. 28 at 1 p.m. in First Presbyterian Church, Quincy.

The Rev. Dr. Stan Johnson and the Rev. Michael O'Brien will officiate the service.

Mrs. MacDonald died peacefully Jan. 27 after a period of failing health.

She was born and educated in Quincy and had been resident of Weymouth for 57 years. She was the head social director for the USO during the war; there she taught soldiers to dance and help to develop programs for those returning from battle. She was also a bookkeeper at Gallagher News Agency in Quincy. Mrs. MacDonald was a member and deacon at First Baptist Church in Weymouth and Community Baptist of Weymouth for many years.

She was a wonderful baker and generously shared delicious date and nut breads with the sick and the elderly, along with her listening ear. She and her late husband George opened their home to many missionaries returning from the field and supported several young men during their academic studies. Blessed with great faith, tenacity and a hearty laugh, Mrs. Mahoney made many wonderful friends through the years.

Wife of the late George H. MacDonald, to whom she was married for 65 years, she is survived by her daughter, Hazel MacDonald; a son-in-law, George Murphy; and a nephew, David Johnston of AZ.

The family thanks the caring staff at Weymouth Health Care and Beacon Hospice for their kindness and constant care.

Arrangements by the Hamel, Wickens & Troupe Funeral Home, 26 Adams St., Quincy.

Memorial donations may be made to Beacon Hospice, 32 Resnik Rd., Suite 3, Plymouth, MA 02360.

HAMEL FUNERAL CARE & CREMATION SERVICES OF MASSACHUSETTS

Honored Providers of:

Veterans Funeral Care™

BBB

PHONE TOLL FREE
(800) 696-5887

26 Adams Street, Quincy, Ma 02169
www.HamelFuneralCare.com

Leo J. Bongiorno, 94

A funeral Mass for Leo J. Bongiorno, 94, retired Quincy Fire Department of Quincy, was celebrated Tuesday in St. John the Baptist Church, Quincy.

Mr. Bongiorno died peacefully Feb. 8.

He was born in Boston, raised and educated in Boston schools, and was a graduate of Roxbury Memorial High School. He had lived in Quincy for 65 years.

Mr. Bongiorno was proud of being the oldest Quincy Fire Department retiree. He was appointed to the department on Feb. 18, 1956, and served for 29 years, retiring on Nov. 30, 1985. During his career he was assigned to various stations and was serving on Engine 5 in West Quincy at the time of his retirement. He had a very distinguished career receiving citations for bravery and heroism. In 1975, he received the Cyril P. Morrisette American Legion Post 294, Legion of Merit Award for heroism following his rescue of a 15-year-old from Swingles Quarry.

Mr. Bongiorno was also a World War II veteran. He served in the U.S. Navy as a boatswain's mate 2/c. He received the Asiatic Pacific Theater Medal with one star and the American Theater Medal with one star as well as the Victory Medal and Good Conduct Medal. These medals were recently presented to Mr. Bongiorno at a ceremony at Quincy City Hall by Thomas P. Koch, Mayor of Quincy.

An avid Boston sports fan, he never missed a chance to cheer on his favorite teams, especially the Boston Red Sox. As a young man, Mr. Bongiorno was an outstanding catcher and played for the Boston Park League and also for minor league baseball for the Roanoke Red Sox in the Southern League.

LEO J. BONGIORNO

Mr. Bongiorno was a people person and made great friendships and connections within the Quincy community. He will be missed by his friends at Pollard Place, the Quincy Credit Union and Roche Bros.

Beloved husband of the late Esther A. (Cardarelli) Bongiorno. Devoted father of Nancy A. Police and her late husband James of Dedham and Sandra Ezekiel of Kingston. Loving grandfather of Rachel Gibbon and her husband Warren, Joshua Police and his wife Betsy, Carrie Lott and her husband Eric, and Lindsey Burke. Cherished great-grandfather of Jacob, Chase and Jensen. He was the last of five siblings and is survived by several nieces and nephews.

Funeral arrangements were made by Sweeney Brothers Home for Funerals, 1 Independence Ave., Quincy.

Interment with Military Honors at Massachusetts National Cemetery, Bourne.

Memorial donations may be made to the Quincy Firemen's Relief Association, c/o 40 Quincy Avenue, Quincy, MA 02169.

Marie C. Savalio, 81

Funeral services and interment for Marie C. (Pagliarani) Savalio, 81, of Quincy and formerly Dorchester were privately held.

Mrs. Savalio died unexpectedly at home Feb. 6.

She was born in Boston, raised and educated in Dorchester schools and had lived in Quincy for more than 50 years. She loved animals. Mrs. Savalio was a homemaker, devoted wife and mother.

Beloved wife of the late Dante A. Savalio. Devoted mother of Karen M. Savalio of Quincy and the late David E. Savalio. She was the last of four siblings and is survived by several nieces and nephews.

Funeral arrangements were made by Sweeney Brothers Home for Funerals, Quincy.

Memorial donations may be made to Hilltop Humane Society, P.O. Box 553, Randolph, MA 02368 or to Ce-Ce and Friends Humane Society, P.O. Box 690005, Quincy, MA 02269.

Honor Your Loved One's Memory With Flowers

cliffords.com
1.800.441.8884

Alma M. Mahoney, 80

A funeral Mass for Alma M. (Coletti) Mahoney, 80, of Braintree and formerly Quincy was celebrated Feb. 14 in St. Thomas More Church, Braintree.

Mrs. Mahoney died peacefully Jan. 31 at South Shore Hospital in Weymouth, surrounded by her loving family.

She was born to Nora and Sabatino Coletti in Quincy on June 14, 1934. Mrs. Mahoney was raised and educated in Quincy and was a graduate of Quincy High School, Class of 1953. She had lived in Braintree for 50 years.

Mrs. Mahoney was the consummate homemaker. A gracious hostess, she enjoyed cooking and decorating, and took tremendous pleasure in entertaining her family and friends on holidays and special occasions. She dedicated her life to her late husband, Dan, and to their children. She treasured every minute spent with her cherished grandchildren and-great grandson. Whether at home, on the beach or at a ball game, Mrs. Mahoney loved nothing more in life than having her family around her. She will be lovingly remembered and deeply missed by all who knew her.

Mrs. Mahoney was a woman of profound faith and was an active parishioner of St. Thomas More Parish in Braintree.

Beloved wife of the late Daniel J. Mahoney,

ALMA M. MAHONEY

Sr., whom she married on June 24, 1956. Devoted and loving mother of Gail M. Merlin and her husband Dean of Plymouth, Karen T. Mahoney and her husband Christopher of OH, Daniel J. Mahoney, Jr. and his wife Maureen of Braintree, and the late Tara K. Bires and her husband John of Canton. Loving grandmother of fourteen grandchildren and one great-grandson. Dear sister of Angelo Coletti of FL and Linda Galvin of Braintree. She was preceded in death by her sisters, Grace DaRu, Lee Moneypenny and Gloria Casler, and her brother Robert Coletti. Also survived by many nieces, nephews and dear friends.

Funeral arrangements were made by Sweeney Brothers Home for Funerals, 1 Independence Ave., Quincy.

Interment at Mount Wollaston Cemetery, Quincy.

Memorial donations may be made to Disabled American Veterans, Chapter 29, 788 Liberty St., Braintree, MA 02184.

Gloria E. Rose, 91

A funeral service for Gloria E. (Howe) Rose, 91, formerly of Quincy, Hingham, Dennisport, Braintree and Hanover, was held Tuesday at the Dennis Sweeney Funeral Home, 74 Elm St., Quincy.

Mrs. Rose died Feb. 12.

She and her husband, Russell operated Twin City Laundry and Dry Cleaning for many years.

Mrs. Rose was the beloved wife of the late H. Russell Rose; loving mother of Douglas R. Rose and his wife, Janet of Framingham; step-mother of Jacqueline Wright Gallivan of Weymouth and the late Barbara Walters; dear grandmother of Jessica, Ryan and his wife Jessica, and Laurie; great-grandmother of Makenna, Blake and Casey. She was also the sister of the late John Howe and wife, Mildred, Richard Howe and wife Nellie and Geraldine and husband Phillip Wall.

GLORIA E. ROSE

She is also survived by her loving nieces, Sandy and her husband Mike Delahunt, Merry and Valerie and her loving nephew, Phillip and many grand nieces and nephews.

More Obituaries Online at thequincysun.com

Irene M. Quinn, 70

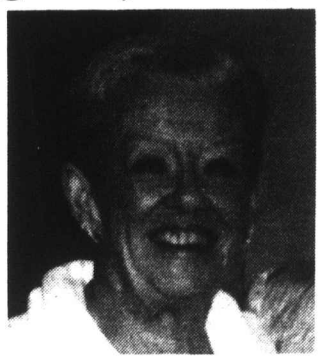
Funeral services for Irene M. (Carley) Quinn, 70, of Weymouth, formerly of Quincy and Dorchester, were conducted Wednesday at the Sweeney Brothers Home for Funerals, 1 Independence Ave., Quincy.

Mrs. Quinn died Feb. 11 at home.

Born in Dorchester, she was raised and educated in Dorchester schools and was a graduate of Dorchester High School. She had lived in Weymouth for 27 years and previously in Quincy for 20 years.

Mrs. Quinn was employed as a sales associate for Brooks Pharmacy; the former Osco's Drug, in North Quincy, for 25 years and had been retired for six years.

Beloved wife of the late John M. Quinn.



IRENE QUINN

Devoted mother of Lisa M. Murphy of Scituate and the late Joseph J. Mauriello.

Loving grandmother of Tyler J. Murphy and Stephanie J. Murphy both of Scituate.

Sister of James Carley of Hopedale.

She is also survived by several nieces and nephews and many cousins.

Interment was in Pine Hill Cemetery, West Quincy.

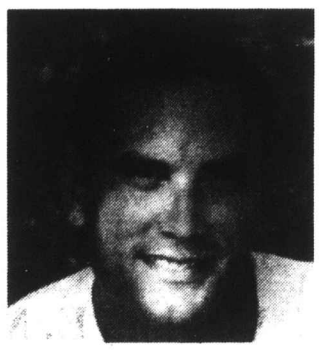
Michael R. Neumann

A funeral Mass for Michael R. Neumann of Holliston and formerly Quincy was celebrated Tuesday in St. Ann's Church, Quincy.

Mr. Neumann died Feb. 8.

He was a beloved son, father, brother, stepson, uncle, nephew, cousin, and friend. Mr. Neumann was the greatest fisherman and loved catching striped bass. He was a pitcher for little league and a master of all that he did. He was very ambitious and would teach himself many different trades and excelled at them all. Mr. Neumann loved dogs, but most of all he loved his family. He was very caring, kind, and had a great sense of humor. He will be greatly missed by all who knew him.

Beloved son of Richard Neumann and his wife Liz of Milton and Carol Hurd and her husband Charles of Quincy. Devoted father of



MICHAEL R. NEUMANN

Gwenyth Neumann. Loving husband of Gia Navarro. Cherished brother of Elizabeth Chisholm and her husband Christian of Quincy. Loving uncle of Nathan Kilian and Conor Chisholm. Also survived by many special relatives and friends.

Funeral arrangements were made by Keohane Funeral Home, 785 Hancock St., Quincy.

Memorial donations may be made to St. Jude Children's Research Hospital, 501 St. Jude Place, Memphis, TN 38105.

Alfred Keshishian

A memorial service for Alfred Keshishian of Quincy was held Sunday in the Aram Bedrosian Funeral Home, Watertown.

Mr. Keshishian died Feb. 11.

Devoted son of the late Dajad and Anahid Keshishian. Beloved father of William Bernier and his wife Deena and Barsha MacDonald and her husband Billy. Loving grandfather of Heidi, Billy, Brittany and William Alfred. Brother of Harry Keshishian and the late Armand Keshishian. Uncle of Sandra Keshishian, Christopher Keshishian and the late Susan Hoffman.

Memorial donations may be made to St. James Armenian Church, 465 Mount Auburn St., Watertown, MA 02472.

Barbara McDaniel

A Mass of Christian Burial for Barbara McDaniel of Quincy was celebrated yesterday (Wednesday) in St. Ann's Church, Quincy.

Ms. McDaniel died suddenly Feb. 7.

She was born in Philadelphia and came to Massachusetts for her MSW and was a graduate of Boston University. She recently retired from The Town Brook House in Quincy as the administrative site manager.

Loving sister of Vincent and his wife Mary Jean McDaniel of PA. She was the cherished aunt of Vincent and his wife Heather McDaniel, Victoria McDaniel, Shana and her husband Jeff Scheerer and their son Finn. Ms. McDaniel had many beautiful friends, Sharon and

BARBARA McDANIEL

Paul Jarvie and their family, plus Sally Harrington and many others.

Funeral arrangements were made by Lydon Chapel for Funerals, 644 Hancock St., Quincy.

Private interment.

Memorial donations may be made to St. Ann's Church, 757 Hancock St., Quincy, MA 02170.

Paul N. Eldredge Jr., 79

A Mass of Christian Burial for Paul N. Eldredge Jr., 79, of Quincy and formerly Braintree was celebrated Feb. 14 in St. Francis of Assisi Church, Braintree.

Mr. Eldredge died Feb. 3 at Boston Medical Center.

Born in Charlestown on Dec. 11, 1935, he was a son of the late Paul N. and Lillian G. (Crogan) Eldredge Sr. He was raised in Charlestown and graduated from Boston Latin High School in 1953. He was a longtime resident of the Quincy-Braintree area.

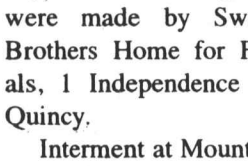
Mr. Eldredge served in the U.S. Marine Corps during the Korean War. He was involved in the early years of implementing computer technology into the areas of business and government. His work in automating information systems included Liberty Mutual Insurance Company and the Federal Credit Bureau in Copley Square. He was later employed by the Commonwealth of Massachusetts at the State House in the information technology department for more than 25 years before retiring.

Mr. Eldredge enjoyed gardening, reading up on a variety of subjects and had an extensive coin collection. He also especially loved family events and gatherings.

He is survived by his children Paul C. Eldredge of Charlestown, Aj Silva of Hanover and Linda Simonds of FL and three grandchildren Gregory, Scott and Lisa Wood. He was the brother of Frank Eldredge of CO and the late Lillian G. Eldredge and Rosemary Buckley. He is also survived by his former wife and lifelong friend Carol Ann (Branco) Eldredge of Hanover, his other former wife Maureen Brolin, and several nieces and nephews.

Funeral arrangements were made by McMaster Funeral Home, Braintree.

Interment with Military Honors at Brookdale Cemetery, Dedham, will be in the spring.



Over 60 Years
Of Personalized Service

SWEENEY BROTHERS
Home for Funerals, Inc.
RICHARD T. SWEENEY, JR.
FRANCIS M. SWEENEY · RICHARD T. SWEENEY III
1 INDEPENDENCE AVENUE
QUINCY, MASSACHUSETTS 02169
(617) 472-6344 · www.thesweeneybrothers.com

DOLAN
FUNERAL SERVICES
"Caring for your life's journey"
- Funerals
- Cremations
- Pre-Arrangements

Service times and directions at:
www.dolanfuneral.com

THE DOLAN FAMILY
W. Craig
Paul F.
Frederick J.
Courtney

1140 WASHINGTON STREET
DORCHESTER, MA 02124
(617) 298-8011

460 GRANITE AVENUE
MILTON, MA 02186
(617) 698-6264

John Fennessy, 88

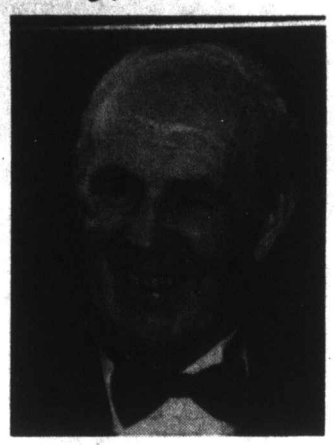
A funeral Mass for John Fennessy, 88, of Quincy and formerly Dorchester was celebrated Monday in St. John the Baptist Church, Quincy.

Mr. Fennessy died peacefully Feb. 10 at the John Scott House in Braintree, surrounded by his loving family.

He was born in Lismore, County Waterford, Ireland, and was raised and educated there. Mr. Fennessy immigrated to the United States in 1953 and lived in Dorchester for 31 years before moving to Quincy in 1984. He was employed in the construction industry as a laborer for Local 223 and had been retired many years.

Mr. Fennessy was a devoted family man.

Beloved husband of the late Ellen "Eileen" (Sullivan) Fennessy. Devoted father of Francis M. Fennessy of Quincy, Kevin J. Fennessy and his wife Patricia of Rockland, Maurice A. Fennessy and his wife Susan of Weymouth, John V. Fennessy and his wife Mary of Braintree, Michael F. Fennessy and his wife Joanne of Braintree and Steven P. Fennessy, Lieutenant, MA State Police of Dorchester. Loving grandfather of John P. Fennessy, Thomas J. Fennessy, Christopher M. Fennessy, Michael A. Fennessy, Erin E. Turner, Colleen M. Fennessy, Brendan M. Fennessy, Colin S. Fennessy, Owen W. Fennessy, and Elizabeth M. Fennessy. Cherished great-grandfather of Lincoln J. Fennessy, Colton C. Fennessy, Cameron C. Fennessy and Fiona B. Turner.



JOHN FENNESSY

Dear brother of Ellen "Ciss" Fennessy of West Roxbury, Margaret "Peg" Dempsey of England, Monica Darcy and James Noel Fennessy, both of West Roxbury. He was predeceased by Patrick Fennessy, Mary Kearny and Kathleen Ennis. Also survived by many nieces, nephews and extended family members.

Funeral arrangements were made by Sweeney Brothers Home for Funerals, 1 Independence Ave., Quincy.

Interment at St. Mary's Cemetery, Randolph.

Memorial donations may be made to the Alzheimer's Association, 480 Pleasant St., Watertown, MA 02472.

John F. Roman

A funeral Mass for John F. Roman, 100, of Quincy, will be celebrated Friday at 10 a.m. in Holy Trinity Parish at Most Blessed Sacrament Church, Quincy.

Mr. Roman died Feb. 13.

He ws born in South Boston, graduated from South Boston High School and served in the Merchant Marine during World War II. He sailed for the Merchant Marine for 38 years achieving the title of Chief Engineer.

He was a member of the Masonic Lodge since 1957 and a member of the Quincy Yacht Club. He enjoyed working around his home and taking care of his family.

The beloved husband of the late Joanna (Gerrin) Roman. Father of Frances Roman Prestwich of Barbados, John F. Roman, Jr. and his wife Selma of Somerst, Johanna P. Roman of Malden and the late Michael Roman. John is predeceased by eight brothers and sisters.Grandfather of Edward, Kirk, Amanda, Joanna, John, Justin, Natasha, Daniela and Bojana. Great grandfather of Daniel, John, Zoe, Madison, Owen, Cora and Lily.

Visiting hours are today (Thursday) from 4 to 8 p.m. in the Keohane Funeral Home, 785 Hancock St., Quincy.

Burial will be in Cedar Grove Cemetery, Boston.

Deborah J. Williamson, 62

A funeral Mass for Deborah J. "Debbie" (Rudolph) Williamson, 62, of Quincy, was celebrated Wednesday in St. Ann's Church, Quincy.

Mrs. Williamson died Feb. 12.

She worked for the Quincy Housing Authority as the Director of Modernization. She was active in Quincy Youth Soccer and was a Coach of the Travel Girls Team.

Her passion in life was her family, she cherished the time spent playing cards and board games with them. They were truly what was most important to her. They are grateful for all the blessings she brought into thier lives. She will be sadly missed. Relatives and friends are respectfully invited to attend the

The beloved wife of 42 years to Richard J. Williamson of Quincy. Loving mother of Sean Williamson and his wife Eileen, Shannon Williamson McDonough and her husband Michael all of Quincy, Kathleen Daver and her husband Mohammed of New Jersey. Cherished daughter of Wylie C. Rudolph and his wife Marilyn of Raynham. Daughter of the late Elaine Russo. Devoted Grammy of Dylan McDonough, Zainab, Zayd, Ayesha, Abdullah and Khadejah Daver. Sister of Blair A. Rudolph of Weymouth and Gary M. Rudolph and his wife Diane of Brockton.

DEBORAH WILLIAMSON

She is also survived by several nieces and nephews.

Burial was private.

Funeral arrangements were made by the Keohane Funeral Home, 785 Hancock SAt., Quincy.

Memorial donations may be made to American Cancer Society, 5 Manley St., W. Bridgewater, MA 02379 or to VNA Hospice, 100 Sylvan Rd., Woburn, MA 01801.

Anna J. McCarthy

A funeral service for Anna J. (Kosack) McCarthy of Bellingham and formerly Quincy was held yesterday (Wednesday) in Nickerson-Bourne Funeral Home, Bourne.

Mrs. McCarthy died unexpectedly Jan. 27 while visiting her son in Austin, Texas.

She was enjoying one of her favorite things, enjoying the outdoors. You could always spot Mrs. McCarthy fishing out on Silver Lake looking for "the big one," painting, gardening or playing bingo. She even tried skydiving at the age of 84. The loves of her life were her husband of 63 years, Charlie, and her beloved grandchildren, Kelly and Kerri.

Mrs. McCarthy was a resident of Bellingham for 30 years, formerly of Quincy and South Boston. She retired from New England Telephone Co. in Quincy to spend the rest of her time on Silver Lake in Bellingham.

ANNA J. McCARTHY

She was a communicant of St. Blaise Church and will be greatly missed.

Beloved wife of the recently late Charles J McCarthy. Born in Boston on Jan. 29, 1927, she was the daughter of the late Michael P. Kosack and Mary (Kapavachious) Kosack. Loving mother of Charlene Poliseno and her husband Chip of Hanover and Charles McCarthy II and his wife Rita of TX. She leaves her cherished grandchildren Kelly Curran and Kerri Curran-Bordeau and her husband Jesse, all of Quincy, and her niece, Helen A. Trecca and her husband Filippo of FL. She joins her late brothers and sisters, John and Joseph Zakowsky, Harry, Alfred and William Kosack, and her sisters Helen Bernatonis, Mary Zakowsky and Katherine Sarchione. Also leaves many nieces and nephews and her cherished best friend Lynn Scornavacca and her husband Jeff.

Interment at Massachusetts National Cemetery, Bourne.

Memorial donations may be made to Bellingham Senior Center, 40 Blackstone St., Bellingham, MA 02019.

David M. Blowers

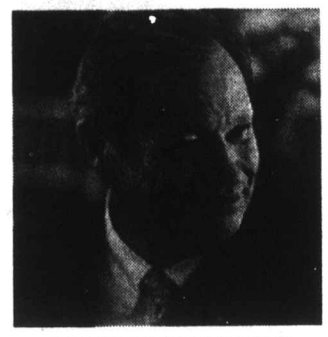
A funeral service for David M. Blowers of Hingham and formerly Quincy was held Tuesday in Houghs Neck Congregational Church.

Mr. Blowers died Feb. 11.

Mr. Blowers was born and raised in Quincy in the Houghs Neck neighborhood. He later moved to Hingham, where he raised his family and remained for 36 years. A graduate of Quincy High School and Bridgewater State College, Mr. Blowers began his career as a history teacher in Abington.

His love of history led him to discover fine art and antiques, which became his life's work. His hobby of going to yard sales soon revealed that he had quite an eye for paintings, antique furniture, pottery and beyond. His business grew and in 1975 he left teaching to pursue fine art dealing full time. He spent years exhibiting at antique shows in Boston, New York and Florida. Each May, July and September he could be found at the famous shows at Brimfield, Mass. For a time he opened his own shop in downtown Hingham, and in later years he partnered with a friend to open Downer Auction Gallery in Wellesley. His auctions were highly regarded and drew an international following.

Mr. Blower's love of the arts extended well beyond antiques. He loved to treat his family to trips to New York to see the latest Broadway shows, and he was passionate about all music, especially opera. A close second to the arts was his love of sports and games. He was an avid golfer, Boston sports fan and an unrivaled trivia player.



DAVID M. BLOWERS

But Mr. Blower's proudest moments were those spent with his family. His hallmark was to always wear a hat or sweatshirt with the logo of one of his daughter's colleges, which usually led to long conversations about "his girls." Wherever he traveled in life, he remained at heart a Quincy "Necker," always drawn to the ocean. His family perhaps most fondly remembers him in quiet moments by the sea, whether on vacations down the Cape, watching the surf during a storm at Nantasket Beach, or skipping rocks at sunset at Hull Gut.

Loving husband of Lois (Hannon) Blowers. Devoted father of Sarah Melia and her husband Steve, Alyssa Scordo and her husband George, and Hilary Jenison and her husband Lee, all of Hingham. Son of the late Robert and Edythe (Williams) Blowers. Brother of Robert Blowers and his wife Carol of Harwich, and Janis Potter and the late Dan Potter of OR. Cherished grandfather of Jane, Charlie and Annie Melia, Georgie and Drew Scordo and Eloise Jenison.

Funeral arrangements were made by Pyne Keohane Funeral Home, Hingham.

Memorial donations may be made to Harbor House Nursing and Rehab, 11 Condito Rd., Hingham, MA 02043.

Gerard E. Doyle

A family memorial celebration of life for Gerard E. Doyle, a longtime Quincy resident, will be held at a future date.

Mr. Doyle died peacefully with his brother and sister in attendance on Feb. 11 after a courageous battle with cancer.

He will be remembered as a quiet, steadfast friend, brother, and uncle and for his skills at water skiing while summering at the family home in Dennis throughout his youth.

He was the son of Mary C. (Dowd) and John J. Doyle, Sr. of Milton and was predeceased by his older brother John J. Doyle, Jr. He leaves his sister Katherine (Doyle) Phillips and her husband Stephen of Norwood, his sister-in-law Janet Doyle of Milton, and his brother Mark Doyle and his wife Mary of East Orleans. He is also survived by his nieces and nephews: Michael Phillips, Laurie Phillips, Matthew Doyle and his wife Taryn, Michael Doyle, Brian Doyle, Katie Doyle, Kevin Doyle, Mike Doyle and one grand-niece, Ginger Doyle. Mr. Doyle also leaves his longtime employers, friends, and second family Tony and Janet Modano and his co-workers at Custom Auto Repair in Braintree.

The family would like to thank the Visiting Nurse Association and the staff at Norwood Hospital from whom he received exceptional and loving care in his final days.

Arrangements were made by Nickerson Funeral Homes.

More Obituaries Online at www.thequincysun.com

LEGAL NOTICE

CITY OF QUINCY
IN COUNCIL

ORDER NO. 2015 – 017
ORDERED: February 10, 2015

Be it ordained by the City Council, that the Quincy Municipal Code is hereby amended as follows:

In Title 10. Vehicles and Traffic. Chapter 10.20 Stopping, Standing and Parking.
Section 10.20.040 Parking - Prohibited and Restricted where

Add the following:

Street	From	To	Type of Regulation
Staunton Street-North Side	Davis Stret	Elm Avenue	No Parking

A TRUE COPY
ATTEST:
Joseph P. Shea
Clerk of Council

02/19/15

OBITUARIES

William H. O'Donnell, 96

WILLIAM H. O'DONNELL

A funeral Mass for William H. O'Donnell, 96, of Quincy, Quincy Police Department's oldest retiree, will be celebrated Saturday at 10 a.m. in Saint John the Baptist Church, 44 School St., Quincy.

Mr. O'Donnell died peacefully Sunday at the Beth Israel Deaconess Hospital-Plymouth.

Born in Boston, he had lived in Quincy for 72 years and had also enjoyed winters in the Clearwater, Florida area for 16 years.

A veteran of World War II, he served as a Sergeant in the U.S. Army. He participated in the Northern France, Rhineland and Central Europe campaigns. He received the European African Middle Eastern Theater Campaign Ribbon and the Good Conduct Medal.

Mr. O'Donnell, a proud member of the Quincy Police Department, was appointed on March 24, 1954 and retired as a Detective on Aug. 31, 1983 after 29 years of distinguished service.

He also managed, owned and operated the former Montclair Service Station for 22 years.

Beloved husband for 69 years of the late Edith K. (Johnson) O'Donnell.

Devoted father of Kathleen T. Mitchell of Braintree, William H. O'Donnell, Jr. of the Czech Republic, Michael P. O'Donnell of Braintree, and Paul J. O'Donnell, Chicago F.D., of Chicago, Illinois.

Loving grandfather of Rob Mitchell of Austin, TX, Kerry Mills of Easton, MA, William O'Donnell III of N.Y. NY, Joshua O'Donnell of Woodsville, NH, Liz Nemeth, Winston-Salem, NC, and Courtney and Sean O'Donnell of Chicago, IL.

Cherished great-grandfather of six.

He was one of seven siblings and is survived by Helen M. Bradley of Weymouth and Lawrence J. O'Donnell of Newark, Delaware. He was pre-deceased by Margaret E. Fallon, Joseph V, Jr., Philip M., and John M. O'Donnell. He is also survived by many nieces and nephews.

Visiting hours are Friday from 4 to 7 p.m. at the Sweeney Brothers Home for Funerals, 1 Independence Ave., Quincy.

Interment with Military Honors at Blue Hill Cemetery in Braintree.

Memorial donations may be made to the charity of choice.

Joan E. Church

A funeral Mass for Joan Elizabeth (McNeice) Church of Plymouth and formerly South Weymouth will be celebrated tomorrow (Friday) at 11 a.m. in St. Albert the Great Church, Weymouth.

Mrs. Church died Feb. 13 surrounded by her loving family at the Newfield House after a long illness.

She graduated from North Quincy High School, Class of 1957. After raising her four children, she worked for a number of years with her husband at Church's Launders and Cleaners in North Quincy and at Welch Home Care in Norwell. She lived in South Weymouth for 48 years prior to moving to Newfield House in Plymouth.

Mrs. Church was an avid Boston sports fan and enjoyed cheering for all the teams, especially the Patriots. She found her most pleasure spending time with her family.

Devoted wife of the late Robert W. Church. Daughter of the late Gladys (Starratt) and John A. McNeice of Quincy and sister of the late Donald McNeice. Beloved mother of James Church and his wife Jacqueline of North Easton, Robert Church of South Weymouth, Debra Lynch and her husband Timothy of Mashpee and Donna Coughlin and her husband Philip of Kingston. Cherished grandmother of Todd, Jared, Amanda, Bryan and Robert Church, Jeffrey and Jackie Lynch, Patrick and Melanie Coughlin. Loving great-grandmother of Rory, Maeve, Patrick and Declan Church. She is also survived by her brother John McNeice of Canton and Clare McNally of Watertown and many loving nieces and nephews.

The Church family would especially like to thank Mr. Geoffrey Stewart and the staff of Newfield House for their loving care of Mrs. Church over the past few years.

Visiting hours are 3-7 p.m. today (Thursday) in Keohane Funeral Home, 785 Hancock St., Quincy. A celebration of life service will be held there at 9:30 a.m. tomorrow, prior to the Mass.

Interment at Massachusetts National Cemetery, Bourne.

Memorial donations may be made to Special Olympics Massachusetts, 512 Forest St., Marlborough, MA 01752.

Joan M. Pieroni, 81

A funeral Mass for Joan M. (DiBona) Pieroni, 81, of Braintree, formerly of Quincy and Weymouth, will be celebrated today (Thursday) at 10:30 a.m. in St. Francis of Assisi Church, Braintree.

Mrs. Pieroni died unexpectedly at home Feb. 12.

She was born and raised in Weymouth and had lived in Braintree since 1977. Mrs. Pieroni was a graduate of Weymouth High School, Class of 1951, and attended Katherine Gibbs Business School, Boston. From 1954-59 she worked as a secretary for the Federal Bureau of Investigation where she met her husband. She was a faithful communicant of St. Francis of Assisi Church, Braintree. She will be fondly remembered as a loving and caring mother.

Beloved wife of the late Francis J. "Frank" Pieroni. Loving mother of Joanne F. Pieroni of Braintree, Michael J. Pieroni and his wife Susan of Holliston, David A. Pieroni of Boston and Stephen R. Pieroni of Weymouth. Devoted sister of Alan DiBona and his wife Faith of Duxbury and the late Joel DiBona. Also survived by four nephews: Danny, Christopher, Shane and Kevin.

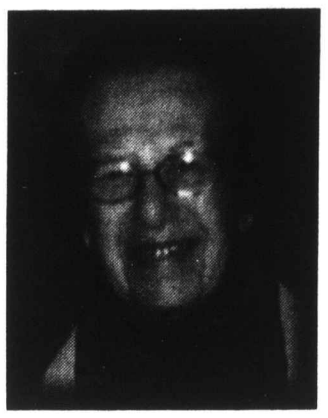
Visiting hours were 4-8 p.m. yesterday (Wednesday) in Cartwright-Venuti Funeral Home, Braintree. Reposing at the funeral home until 9:30 a.m. today, prior to the Mass.

Interment at Calvary Cemetery, Brockton.

Memorial donations may be made to St. Francis of Assisi Church, 856 Washington St., Braintree MA 02184 or St. Jude's Children's Hospital, 313 Washington St., Newton, MA 02458.

More Obituaries Online at www.thequincysun.com

Eunice A. DiSalvio



EUNICE A. DiSALVIO

A funeral Mass for Eunice A. DiSalvio, a lifelong resident of Quincy, was celebrated Tuesday in St. John the Baptist Church, Quincy.

Ms. DiSalvio died Feb. 8 at South Shore Hospital in Weymouth.

Born in Quincy, she was the loving daughter of the late Panfilo and Lena (Chella) DiSalvio. Ms. DiSalvio was a graduate of Quincy High School, worked for Bethlehem Steel Company at the Fore River Shipyard in Quincy and worked for the city of Quincy's Auditor's Department for many years until her retirement. She was a communicant of St. John's Parish in Quincy, St. Anthony's Shrine in Boston and former member of St. Joseph's Church in Quincy. She enjoyed long walks, gardening, cooking, reading and visiting different states during her vacations.

Dear sister of Edward DiSalvio and his wife Rita of Weymouth, Louis DiSalvio of Weymouth, Paul and Gerald DiSalvio, both of Quincy, Olga Golden of NH, Virginia Roccuzo of Quincy, Angelina Bastarache and her husband Ernest of CA. and the late Samuel, William, Robert and Eva DiSalvio and Anna Durante. She is also survived by many nieces and nephews.

Funeral arrangements were made by Bolea-Buonfiglio Funeral Home, 116 Franklin St., Quincy.

Private interment.

Memorial donations may be made to St. Anthony Shrine, 100 Arch St., Boston, MA 02110 or to the Wrentham Development Center, 131 Emerald St., Wrentham, MA 02093.

LEGAL NOTICE

PASSAMAQUODDY TRIBAL COURT

PASSAMAQUODDY TRIBE PLEASANT POINT
SIPAYIK, SS. DOCKET NO.: 2007-CW-31

IN RE: ADDISON STANLEY ORDER FOR SERVICE
(d.o.b. 11/16/2004) BY PUBLICATION

This Court has reviewed the motion of the Passamaquoddy Tribe, Sipayik Human Services (the "Tribe") for service by publication.

The type of action is: PETITION FOR TERMINATION OF PARENTAL RIGHTS.

Parental rights of the respondent may be affected, including termination of parental rights.

The name and addresses of the petitioner's attorney is:

Arnold S. Clark, Esq.
Fletcher, Mahar & Clark
110 North St.
Calais, ME 04619

The name and address of the respondent is:

Mother, Bertha Stanley, address unknown

The Tribe has demonstrated:

1. Due diligence in attempting to obtain personal service of process prescribed by M.R. Civ. P.4.

2. The address of the party to be served is unknown and cannot be ascertained by reasonable diligence, or is known, but it appears the person is evading process.

3. The requested method of service is reasonably calculated to provide actual notice of the pendency of the action to the party to be served and is the most practical manner of effecting notice of the suit.

It is ORDERED that Service be made upon the respondent by publishing a copy of this Order once a week for three (3) consecutive weeks, in the Quincy Sun, 1372 Hancock St., Quincy, MA a newspaper of general circulation in the county or municipality most reasonably calculated to provide actual notice of the pendency of the action AND, if the respondent's address is known, mailing a copy of this Order as published to that address.

It is FURTHER ORDERED that the party being served appear and serve an answer to the complaint or post-judgment motion to the serving party at the address listed above. The answer must be filed with the court within twenty-one (21) days of service. If service is made by publication in a newspaper, the answer must be filed with the court within forty-one (41) days after the first publication in the newspaper. Failure to serve an answer will cause judgment by default to be entered, granting relief sought in the petition.

Date: February 2, 2015

REBECCA IRVING
Judge, Passamaquoddy Tribal Court

2/19/15, 2/26/15, 3/5/15

LEGAL NOTICE

PASSAMAQUODDY TRIBAL COURT

PASSAMAQUODDY TRIBE PLEASANT POINT
SIPAYIK, SS. DOCKET NO.: 2009-CW-01

IN RE: KAMUMIN MEJIA ORDER FOR SERVICE
(d.o.b. 07/02/2007) BY PUBLICATION

This Court has reviewed the motion of the Passamaquoddy Tribe, Sipayik Human Services (the "Tribe") for service by publication.

The type of action is: PETITION FOR TERMINATION OF PARENTAL RIGHTS.

Parental rights of the respondent may be affected, including termination of parental rights.

The name and addresses of the petitioner's attorney is:

Arnold S. Clark, Esq.
Fletcher, Mahar & Clark
110 North St.
Calais, ME 04619

The name and address of the respondent is:

Mother, Bertha Stanley, address unknown

The Tribe has demonstrated:

1. Due diligence in attempting to obtain personal service of process prescribed by M.R. Civ. P.4.

2. The address of the party to be served is unknown and cannot be ascertained by reasonable diligence, or is known, but it appears the person is evading process.

3. The requested method of service is reasonably calculated to provide actual notice of the pendency of the action to the party to be served and is the most practical manner of effecting notice of the suit.

It is ORDERED that Service be made upon the respondent by publishing a copy of this Order once a week for three (3) consecutive weeks, in the Quincy Sun, 1372 Hancock St., Quincy, MA a newspaper of general circulation in the county or municipality most reasonably calculated to provide actual notice of the pendency of the action AND, if the respondent's address is known, mailing a copy of this Order as published to that address.

It is FURTHER ORDERED that the party being served appear and serve an answer to the complaint or post-judgment motion to the serving party at the address listed above. The answer must be filed with the court within twenty-one (21) days of service. If service is made by publication in a newspaper, the answer must be filed with the court within forty-one (41) days after the first publication in the newspaper. Failure to serve an answer will cause judgment by default to be entered, granting relief sought in the petition.

Date: February 2, 2015

REBECCA IRVING
Judge, Passamaquoddy Tribal Court

2/19/15, 2/26/15, 3/5/15

CLASSIFIEDS

LEGAL NOTICE

COMMONWEALTH OF MASSACHUSETTS
THE TRIAL COURT
PROBATE AND FAMILY COURT
NORFOLK DIVISION
DOCKET NO NO15P0209EA
GENERAL PETITION

To all persons interested in the estate of Ida Cangemi, a person deceased

A Public Administration has been presented to said Court by Daniel F Affsa Esq, asking to be appointed Public Administrator. If you desire to object thereto you or your attorney should file a written appearance in said Court at Canton before ten o'clock in the forenoon on the 4th day of March 2015, the return day of this citation.

WITNESS, Hon. John D Casey, Esquire, First Judge of said Court, this 30th day of January, 2015.

PATRICK W. McDERMOTT
Register of Probate

2/19/15

WANTED

OLD HAND TOOLS & BOOKS WANTED

Planes, chisels, adzes, shaves, machinist, and sheetmetal tools, calipers, clamps, anvils, vises.

USEFUL TOOLS, ALL TRADES.

New England history books
Collections: old postcards, toys, military, fishing & old auto items

LIBERTY TOOL CO.
888-405-2007
Davistownmuseum.org
www.jonesport-wood.com TF

NOTICE OF PUBLIC HEARING

NOTICE OF PUBLIC HEARING
City of Quincy
ZONING BOARD OF APPEALS
CASE NO. 15-010

Pursuant to the provisions of TITLE 17 of the QUINCY MUNICIPAL CODE as amended, the Quincy Zoning Board of Appeals will hold an Open Public Hearing on Tuesday, March 10, 2015 at 7:15 pm on the Second Floor in the Council Chambers, Quincy City Hall, 1305 Hancock Street, Quincy, MA 02169. On the application of William J. McCallum for a Variance to construct a second story addition in violation of Title 17 as amended Chapter 4.1 (dimensional requirements) on the premises numbered 31 GLADSTONE STREET, QUINCY.

Plans and Specifications are on file at the Inspectional Service Department located at 55 Sea Street, Quincy, MA 02169 and may be reviewed during regular business hours.

Martin Aikens, Chairman

2/19/15, 2/26/15

NOTICE OF PUBLIC HEARING

NOTICE OF PUBLIC HEARING
City of Quincy
ZONING BOARD OF APPEALS
CASE NO. 15-011

Pursuant to the provisions of TITLE 17 of the QUINCY MUNICIPAL CODE as amended, the Quincy Zoning Board of Appeals will hold an Open Public Hearing on Tuesday, March 10, 2015 at 7:15 pm on the Second Floor in the Council Chambers, Quincy City Hall, 1305 Hancock Street, Quincy, MA 02169. On the application of Steven Austin for a Finding to change the use of an existing nonconforming structure from business use to residential use and Variances to remove unauthorized residential units and allow 5 units in the Residence B zoning district in violation of Title 17, section 3.4 (nonconforming uses and structures), 4.0 (dimensional regulations) and 5.1 (off-street parking)

The parcel of land is located at 17-19 Branch Street, and is shown as Lot 9 on Assessors' plan no. 3100.

Plans and Specifications are on file at the Inspectional Service Department located at 55 Sea Street, Quincy, MA 02169 and may be reviewed during regular business hours.

Martin Aikens, Chairman

2/19/15, 2/26/15

LEGAL NOTICE

INFORMAL PROBATE PUBLICATION NOTICE
Docket No: NO150194EA
Commonwealth of Massachusetts
The Trial Court
Probate and Family Court
Norfolk Division
35 Shawmut Road
Canton, MA 02021
(781) 830-1200
Estate of:
Mabel L. Shortall
Also Known As:
Mabel Shortall
Date of Death:
December 20, 2014

To all persons interested in the above captioned estate, by Petition of Petitioner Janaire M. Skidmore of Oceanside, CA a Will has been admitted to informal probate. Janaire M. Skidmore of Oceanside, CA has been informally appointed as the Personal Representative of the estate to serve Without Surety on the bond.

The estate is being administered under informal procedure by the Personal Representative under the Massachuetts Uniform Probate Code without supervision by the Court. Inventory and accounts are not required to be filed with the Court, but interested parties are entitled to notice regarding the administration from the Personal Representative and can petition the Court in any matter relating to the estate, including distribution of assets and expenses of administration. Interested parties are entitled to petition the Court to institute formal proceedings and to obtain orders terminating or restricting the powers of Personal Representatives appointed under informal procedure. A copy of the Petition and Will, if any, can be obtained from the Petitioner.

2/19/15

MISCELLANEOUS

BUSINESS OPPORTUNITY

ATTN: COMPUTER WORK. Work from anywhere 24/7. Up to $1,500 Part Time to $7,500/mo. Full Time. Training provided. www.WorkServices9.com

HELP WANTED

EARN $500 DAY: Insurance Agents Needed; Leads, No Cold Calls; Commissions Paid Daily; Lifetime Renewals; Complete Training; Health & Dental Insurance; Life License Required. Call 1-888-713-6020.

MISCELLANEOUS

SAWMILLS from only $4397.00-MAKE & SAVE MONEY with your own bandmill-Cut lumber any dimension. In stock ready to ship. FREE Info/DVD: www.NorwoodSawmills.com 1-800-578-1363 Ext.300N

LEGAL NOTICE

CITATION ON PETITION FOR FORMAL ADJUDICATION
Docket No. NO14P3486EA
Commonwealth of Massachusetts
The Trial Court
Probate and Family Court
Norfolk Probate and Family Court
35 Shawmut Road
Canton, MA 02021
(781) 830-1200
Estate of:
Eugene Dixon
Date of Death:
November 9, 2014

To all interested persons:

A Petition has been filed by: Angela Kaloventzos of Quincy, MA requesting that the Court enter a formal Decree and Order of testacy and for such other relief as requested in the Petition.

And also requesting that Angela Kaloventzos of Quincy, MA be appointed as Personal Representative(s) of said estate to serve Without Surety on the bond.

You have the right to obtain a copy of the Petition from the Petitioner or at the Court. You have a right to object to this proceeding. To do so, you or your attorney must file a written appearance and objection at this Court before: 10:00 A.M. on 03/04/2015. This is NOT a hearing date, but a deadline by which you must file a written appearance and objection if you object to this proceeding. If you fail to file a timely written appearance and objection followed by an Affidavit of Objections within thirty (30) days of the return date, action may be taken without further notice to you.

The estate is being administered under formal procedure by the Personal Representative under the Massachuetts Uniform Probate Code without supervision by the Court. Inventory and accounts are not required to be filed with the Court, but recipients are entitled to notice regarding the administration from the Personal Representative and can petition the Court in any matter relating to the estate, including distribution of assets and expenses of administration .

WITNESS, Hon. John D Casey, First Justice of this Court.

Date: January 15, 2015
PATRICK W. McDERMOTT
Register of Probate
2/19/15

FOR LEASE

OFFICE SPACE FOR LEASE
29 Elm Street, Braintree
2 Newly Renovated Offices
2nd Floor Approx. 200 sq. ft.
Available in Historic Building in Braintree Square.
$400/month Includes Utilities
(781)956-6903 3/5

PERSONAL

Tighe & Bond congratulates the Mayor of Quincy and W&C for the successful Flood Plain adjustments!

2/19

We need you.

WE'RE FIGHTING FOR YOUR LIFE

American Heart Association

Learn and Live

LEGAL NOTICE

COMMONWEALTH OF MASSACHUSETTS
THE TRIAL COURT
PROBATE AND FAMILY COURT
DEPARTMENT
PLYMOUTH DIVISION
Docket No: PL14W0509WD
SUMMONS BY PUBLICATION AND MAILING
Daniel M. Gillard,
Plaintiff
V.
Courtney Banks, Defendant

To the above named Defendant:

A Complaint has been presented to this Court by the Plaintiff, Daniel M. Gillard, seeking custody of the parties minor child.

You are required to serve upon James D. Baldassini, Esq. - attorney for plaintiff - whose address is Baldassini & Baldassini 59 Winter Street, Weymouth, MA 02188 your answer on or before April 7, 2015. If you fail to do so, the court will proceed to the hearing and adjudication of this action. You are also required to file a copy of your answer in the office of the Register of this Court at Plymouth.

Witness, EDWARD G. BOYLE, III, Esquire, First Justice of said Court at PLYMOUTH, this 3rd day of February 2015.

Matthew J. McDonough
Register of Probate Court

2/19/15

HALLS FOR RENT

MORRISETTE LEGION POST
81-83 Liberty St., Quincy
Function Hall Available
Call for Details 617-770-4876
Internet Capable • Weddings • Showers • Christenings • Meetings After Funeral Gatherings TF

The Quincy Sun CLASSIFIED AD FORM

MAIL TO: THE QUINCY SUN, 1372 HANCOCK STREET, QUINCY, MA 02169

PAYABLE IN ADVANCE. Payment must accompany order.

RATES

1 WEEK ❑ $9.00 for one insertion, up to 20 words, 10¢ for each additional word.

2-4 WEEKS ❑ $8.00 per insertion up to 20 words for 2-4 insertions of the same ad, 10¢ each additional word.

5-10 WEEKS ❑ $7.50 per insertion, up to 20 words, for 5-10 insertions of the same ad 10¢ for each additional word.

11 WEEKS OR MORE ❑ $7.00 per insertion, up to 20 words, for 11 or more insertions of the same ad 10¢ for each additional word.

INDEX
- ❑ Services
- ❑ For Sale
- ❑ Autos
- ❑ Boats
- ❑ For Rent
- ❑ Wanted
- ❑ Help Wanted
- ❑ Work Wanted
- ❑ Pets
- ❑ Lost & Found
- ❑ Real Estate
- ❑ Antiques
- ❑ Flea Markets
- ❑ Yard Sales
- ❑ Instruction
- ❑ Day Care
- ❑ Personal
- ❑ Miscellaneous

❑ Enclosed is $ _____ for the following ad to run _____ weeks in The Quincy Sun.

COPY: _____

NO REFUND WILL BE MADE AT THIS CONTRACT RATE IN THE EVENT OF CANCELLATION. DEADLINE: FRIDAY AT 4PM. PLEASE INCLUDE YOUR PHONE NUMBER IN AD.

CLASSIFIEDS

REPORT POTHOLES

Potholes are a year-round problem and should be reported to the Department of Public Works.

617-376-1914

Want to pick up a copy of The Quincy Sun?

Here are stores in Quincy that sell it on their newsstands:

Quincy Market
Corner of Temple & Washington St.

Goodie's Store
1250 Hancock St., Presidents Place

New Store on the Block
1183 Hancock St., Quincy Ctr. T Station

Hancock Tobacco
1500 Hancock St.

Mignosa's Fruit Basket
138 Granite St.

Rite-Aid
132 Granite St.

Coffee Break Café
77 Parkingway

Hancock Park Lobby Shop
164 Parkingway

Franklin St. BP
60 Franklin St.

7-11
78 Franklin St.

CVS
178 Washington St.
Braintree

Shop N Save Liquors
20 Independence Ave.

Donut + Donuts
33 Scammell St.

Presidential Liquors
Scammel St.

Tedeschi's
85 Quincy Ave.

Daily Mart
291 Quincy Ave.

Roche Brothers
The Falls

Walgreens
418 Quincy Ave.

Artery Grocery
1000 Southern Artery

Dairy Farm
330 Washington St.

Tedeschi's
230 Washington St.

Stop & Shop
Southern Artery

CVS
Southern Artery

Baxter's Pharmacy
385 Washington St.

Walgreens
550 Adams St.

Tedeschi's
650 Adams St.

7-11
Adams St.

Village Comm. Market
100 Willard St.

Copeland Liquors
273 Copeland St.

Granite Mart
308 Willard St.

7-11
Copeland St.

Joe's Place
260 Centre St.

Alba Deli
1089 Hancock St.

Corner Food Market
1060 Hancock St.

Dairy Mart
200 Sea St.

Adams Shore Supermarket
494 Sea St.

Palmer Street Market
231 Palmer St.

Bernie's General Store
1147 Sea St.

7-11
721 Hancock St.

Beale St. Smoke Shop
17 Beale St.

CVS
42 Beale St.

Coffee Break Café
12 Old Colony Ave.

Supreme Liquors
615 Hancock St.

S & A Convenience Store
498 Hancock St.

Hannaford Brothers
475 Hancock St.

Mullaney's Variety
205 W. Squantum St.

Stop & Shop
65 Newport Ave.

7-11
363 Hancock St.

Red Apple Food Shop
48 Billings Rd.

Sam's Variety
125 Billings Rd.

Dave's General Store
66 Newbury Ave.

Atlantic Market & Liquors
247 Atlantic Ave.

Carmine's Café
69 Huckins Ave.

Tedeschi's
751 E. Squantum St.

W. Elm Variety
139 West Elm Ave.

Lucky Shamrock
265 Beale St.

Andre's Store
20 Brook St.

SERVICES

POWER PLUMBING
Plumbing, Heating, Gas Fitting
Repairs • New Installations
Dave 617-328-3007
Emergencies
617-792-4054
Master Lic # 13749 TF

FOR HIRE
Garages, Decks Taken Away, Rubbish Piles Removed, Moorings Moved
OR ME WITH DUMP & LIFTGATE
$60/HR.
(617)479-5410
"Your Trash is my Ca$h"
3/19

- Plumbing Repairs
- Gas Fitting
- Drain Cleaning
- Water Heaters
- Appliances Installed
- Great with Old Plumbing

"We charge by the job, not the hour. No surprises!"
Mon - Sat 7am - 4pm
Visa • MC • Debit Card
Call George at
Geo's Plumbing
617-224-8014
Master Plumber #12054 4/16

SERVICES

SAVE
Budget Fuel
Fuel Assistance
Senior Discount
Full Service
617-328-4063 TF

100% FREE Removal
of Appliances & all types of metal
Commercial & Residential
Junk Removed
Garages · Basements · Attic
Call John anytime 617-653-6255
5/14

J.F. ROOFING Co.
QUINCY, MA
·Shingles
·Rubber
·Slate
·Copper
·Vinyl Replacement Windows
·Snow Removal
(617)471-8216
2/19

THOMAS C. SWEENEY
Smaller Jobs a Specialty
51 Years Experience
Carpentry, Siding, Painting, Porches
Viny/Windows, Doors
Roofing, Decking, Steps
License #1373 Free Estimates
Reliable 617-825-1210 References
4/16

SERVICES

HTA
Hancock T.V. & Appliance
Sales, Service, Parts & Installation
Since 1945
(617) 472-1710
115 Franklin Street, Quincy, MA
hancocktvandappliance.com

S.G. HAROLD
PLUMBING, HEATING & AC
Specializing in Viessman Boiler
Unico Air Conditioning
Home heating repairs & service
Radiant Floor heating
QUINCY
617-471-0914
Unprecedented Service Tailored to You
MA Lic. #10589 TF

PAINTING BY PROFESSIONAL
Interior & Exterior
Powerwashing & Carpentry
All Types of House Repairs
Reasonable Price
Small Jobs Welcome TF
Leave Message 617-773-4761

Reliable House Cleaning
KITCHEN, LIVING ROOM, DINING ROOM, BEDROOMS, BATHROOMS, HALLWAYS
Maisa 617-259-4841
4/2

The Quincy Sun CLASSIFIED AD FORM

MAIL TO: THE QUINCY SUN, 1372 HANCOCK STREET, QUINCY, MA 02169

PAYABLE IN ADVANCE. Payment must accompany order.

INDEX
- ❑ Services
- ❑ For Sale
- ❑ Autos
- ❑ Boats
- ❑ For Rent
- ❑ Wanted
- ❑ Help Wanted
- ❑ Work Wanted
- ❑ Pets
- ❑ Lost & Found
- ❑ Real Estate
- ❑ Antiques
- ❑ Flea Markets
- ❑ Yard Sales
- ❑ Instruction
- ❑ Day Care
- ❑ Personal
- ❑ Miscellaneous

NO REFUND WILL BE MADE AT THIS CONTRACT RATE IN THE EVENT OF CANCELLATION. DEADLINE: FRIDAY AT 4PM. PLEASE INCLUDE YOUR PHONE NUMBER IN AD.

RATES

1 WEEK ❑ $9.00 for one insertion, up to 20 words, 10¢ for each additional word.

2-4 WEEKS ❑ $8.00 per insertion up to 20 words for 2-4 insertions of the same ad, 10¢ each additional word.

5-10 WEEKS ❑ $7.50 per insertion, up to 20 words, for 5-10 insertions of the same ad 10¢ for each additional word.

11 WEEKS OR MORE ❑ $7.00 per insertion, up to 20 words, for 11 or more insertions of the same ad 10¢ for each additional word.

❑ Enclosed is $ _____ for the following ad to run _____ weeks in The Quincy Sun.

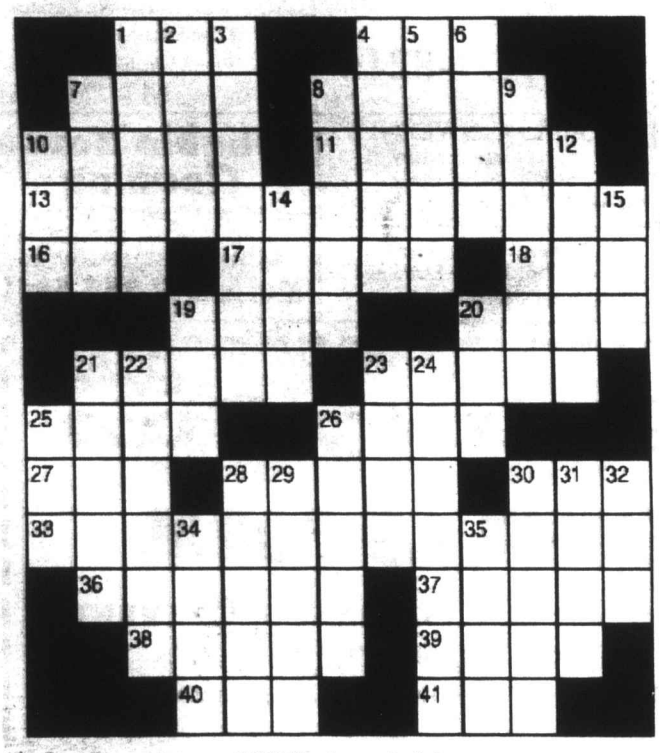
COPY: _____

SUN FUN PAGE

King Crossword

ACROSS
1 — de deux
4 Rotating part
7 St. Louis landmark
8 Sorcerer
10 Durable wood
11 Obliterated
13 Jake and Elwood
16 Foundation
17 Kin of linen
18 Also
19 Accomplishment
20 Fragment
21 Scrub, as a space mission
23 Old-hat
25 Pitcher type
26 Taverns
27 Petrol
28 Wails like a banshee
30 School org.
33 Golf course maintenance crew
36 Concoct
37 Canonical hour
38 Small plateaus
39 Rooster
40 Bashful
41 Before

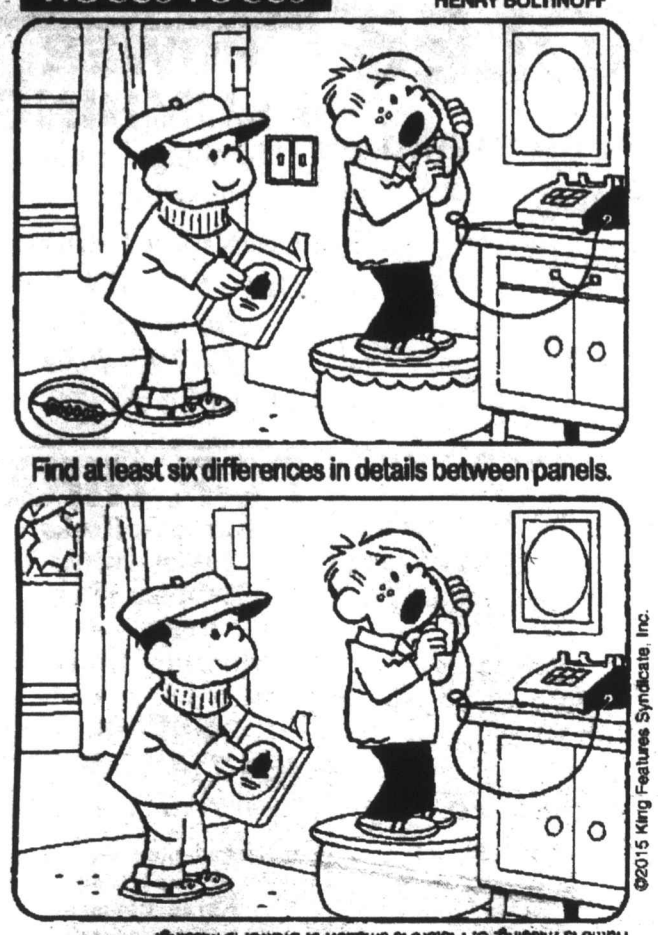
DOWN
1 Exultant
2 Teen's complexion woe
3 Unscrupulous lawyer
4 Yuletide rendition
5 Playing marble
6 Dog-sledding "giddyap"
7 Competent
8 Deserve
9 Boil
10 Recede
12 R2-D2, e.g.
14 Lake vessel
15 Bribe
19 Supporting
20 Dol. fractions
21 Prize
22 Suit, old-style
23 Sand formation
24 Lack
25 Ovum
26 Chinese dogs, for short
28 Deli turnover
29 English homework, often
30 Pound pieces
31 "Star —"
32 Fool
34 Prior nights
35 Indigent



© 2015 King Features Synd., Inc.

HOCUS-FOCUS

BY HENRY BOLTINOFF



Find at least six differences in details between panels.

©2015 King Features Syndicate, Inc.

Differences: 1. Window is broken. 2. Football is missing. 3. Switch is missing. 4. Rattle is missing. 5. Picture is smaller. 6. Drawer is missing.

New! 24 HOCUS FOCUS puzzles $3.50 • 24 Volumes • Order at: rbmamall.com

Salome's Stars

ARIES (March 21 to April 19) Having second thoughts could be a good thing, even if you're determined to go through with your plans. You might find it worthwhile to take a fresh look at how things have been set up.

TAURUS (April 20 to May 20) Financial matters could continue to be a problem until you're able to straighten out some of the more pesky situations. Once that happens, the rest should be easier to unsnarl.

GEMINI (May 21 to June 20) Family matters once again take center stage, and should be dealt with competently and quickly. And, again, insist on others taking on their fair share of the responsibilities.

CANCER (June 21 to July 22) Your creative pursuits seem to be running into a roadblock. But rather than blame outside factors, look within to see if you might be holding back your efforts for some reason.

LEO (July 23 to August 22) Keep that keen Cat's Eye focused on relevant aspects of this new situation in your life. Don't be distracted by trivial matters. You need the pertinent facts before making a decision.

VIRGO (August 23 to September 22) As much as you prefer doing things on your own, continue to accept help if you still need to resolve the problem affecting your project. Some cheerful news is about to come your way.

LIBRA (September 23 to October 22) While you might begrudge the added time it will take to get your project from point A to B to C, etc., you could benefit from the facts that will emerge over this expanded time span.

SCORPIO (October 23 to November 21) Regarding your workplace suggestions, be prepared to produce the facts to counter reactions from skeptics who feel your approach is unreasonable or even impossible.

SAGITTARIUS (November 22 to December 21) Savvy Sagittarians will look for work-related answers on their own rather than rely on unproved assumptions. It might take more time to do so, but the payoff is worth it.

CAPRICORN (December 22 to January 19) Your aspects continue to favor family issues, with special emphasis this week on changes in and around your home. Get everyone to suggest what he or she would like to see done.

AQUARIUS (January 20 to February 18) A matter you thought had been settled might still produce surprises. Best advice: Continue to gather facts to bolster your position just in case you need to produce them quickly.

PISCES (February 19 to March 20) While your instincts are usually right when discerning 'twixt truth and deception, you could benefit from doing more research on the new "prospect" that you've been pitched.

BORN THIS WEEK: Your wisdom is only matched by your generosity, making you the sort of friend everyone hopes to have.

(c) 2015 King Features Synd., Inc.

Trivia test by Fifi Rodriguez

1. GEOGRAPHY: What South American country lies between Colombia and Peru?
2. ANATOMY: What is the common name for the maxilla?
3. U.S. STATES: What is the state capital of Michigan?
4. LITERATURE: What was the name of the alchemist who invented the Philosopher's Stone in the "Harry Potter" book series?
5. MUSIC: What is a quadrille?
6. TELEVISION: What was the name of the competing bar in the comedy show "Cheers"?
7. GENERAL KNOWLEDGE: By what other name do most people know Esther Pauline Friedman?
8. AD SLOGANS: "The dogs kids love to bite" were made by which company?
9. SYMBOLS: Which month of the year is named after the Roman god of war?
10. SCIENCE: What is the chemical element symbol for tungsten?

Answers
1. Ecuador
2. Jawbone
3. Lansing
4. Nicolas Flamel
5. Dance with four couples in a square formation
6. Gary's Olde Towne Tavern
7. Ann Landers
8. Armour
9. March (Mars)
10. W

(c) 2015 King Features Synd., Inc.

CryptoQuip

This is a simple substitution cipher in which each letter used stands for another. If you think that X equals O, it will equal O throughout the puzzle. Solution is accomplished by trial and error.

Clue: D equals E

RO P OVWDRSGDW BVXDK RGCV P BRCT PGM RK PYY QT URXKDYO, XRSUC UD QD BPYYDM CUD YVGD KCWPGSDW?

© 2015 King Features Synd., Inc.

MAGIC MAZE ● — ROSE

I Y V S S Q N K H E B Y W T R
O L J G G A E B T Y W U R P N
K I G D R B M Z R X V E S Q O
M E E F F O C T E K I I T G E
C A E S Y W U U S S Q L P E N
L J H K E F E N E I C R G R P
A Y X C O N F E D E R A T E V
U S Q P Y R A N M K B H J T H
F E C B K B E P Z B Y C C N X
V U A T O R T H A N I H C I Q
P B N O T T O C C J O M L W K

Find the listed words in the diagram. They run in all directions forward, backward, up, down and diagonally.

Baby, Cabbage, Charlie, Cherokee, China, Christmas, Coffee, Confederate, Cotton, Desert, Ground, Japanese, Tea, Tokyo, Winter

©2015 King Features Syndicate, Inc. All rights reserved.

Wishing Well®

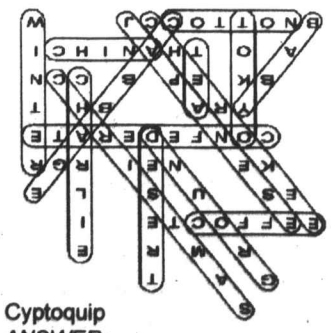
7	2	6	4	6	4	7	3	8	5	2	6	3
R	C	L	Y	I	O	E	U	S	M	H	F	N
2	4	7	2	4	7	6	3	5	7	3	2	6
A	U	A	N	S	C	E	C	A	H	A	G	I
2	6	8	5	4	8	4	2	3	2	6	3	7
E	S	E	K	P	R	A	I	N	N	G	N	F
2	8	4	3	2	4	6	4	2	4	8	7	6
H	V	N	Y	O	B	O	A	M	R	E	O	O
8	3	4	5	4	6	2	3	4	3	5	4	8
O	T	R	E	I	D	E	I	E	M	B	R	T
3	4	2	5	3	2	7	5	2	5	3	5	2
I	S	L	O	N	I	R	L	F	D	G	M	E
7	5	7	8	7	8	7	8	7	8	7	5	5
T	O	H	H	E	E	T	R	O	S	P	V	E

HERE IS A PLEASANT LITTLE GAME that will give you a message every day. It's a numerical puzzle designed to spell out your fortune. Count the letters in your first name. If the number of letters is 6 or more, subtract 4. If the number is less than 6, add 3. The result is your key number. Start at the upper left-hand corner and check one of your key numbers, left to right. Then read the message the letters under the checked figures give you.

©2015 King Features Syndicate, Inc. All rights reserved.

— King Crossword —
Answers
Solution time: 25 mins.

Magic Maze
ANSWERS:



Cyptoquip
ANSWER:

If a foreigner comes into a city and is all by himself, might he be called the Lone Stranger?

Cont'd From Page 11

Koch: 'We Plan On School Opening Monday'

weekend's storm didn't force the cancellation of any classes. Over the previous three weeks, however, schools were closed 11 days, including all of last week. Crews will clear areas around school buildings this week and Koch anticipates schools reopening next Monday, Feb. 23, though another storm is forecast for the upcoming weekend.

"After we get through the main roads we go to school routes and school yards," Koch said. "We plan on opening Monday."

With 11 days of classes cancelled so far this year, the last day for most students would be pushed to July 1, but because the school year cannot extend past June 30, officials will have to find a way to make up at least one day. (The final day for graduating seniors is unchanged by the snow days and will remain May 29.)

Superintendent Dr. Richard DeCristofaro will make the recommendation on how that day will be made up; the School Committee will need to approve his plan. Koch, who chairs the School Committee in his capacity as mayor, said the most likely solution is to extend the school day.

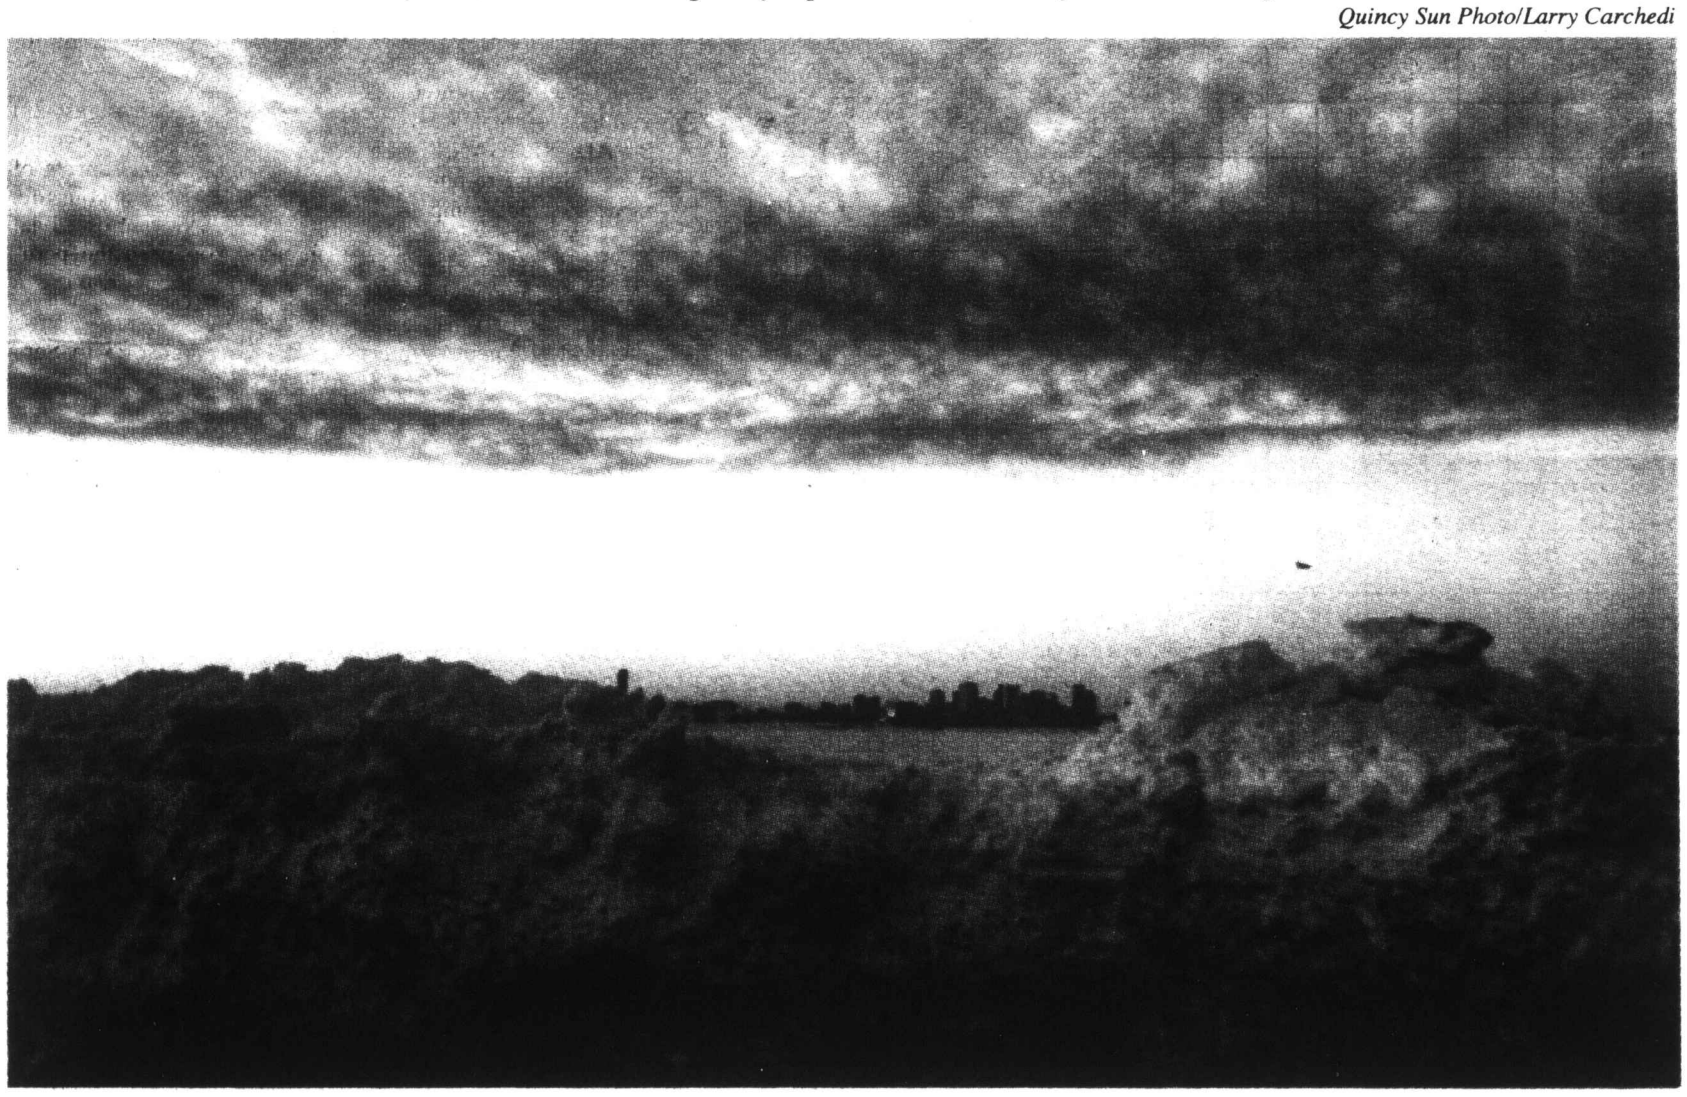
"The superintendent will make his recommendation to the School Committee; extending the school day may be the best option," Koch said.

Other solutions have been considered. Among them are cancelling April vacation, but Koch said that would be unfair to parents or teacher who've scheduled vacations that week. Opening on a Saturday was also considered, but Koch said doing so would cost $100,000 in pay to custodians and other support staff.

Another possibility is a waiver from the Massachusetts Department of Education, exempting Quincy schools from the state's 180-day requirement.

"I would hope the state would see the wisdom in giving us a waiver this year. That's something we have not done in many years – these are extraordinary circumstances," Koch said.

HIGH WINDS on Sea Street made driving nearly impossible at sunset Sunday with snow blowing over the road.
Quincy Sun Photo/Larry Carchedi



THE ROUGH WINTER has a gentler side offering some beautiful sunsets. Here the Boston skyline is visible through a dip in a snow wall. The photo was taken at the seawall along East Squantum Street heading into Squantum.
Photo Courtesy MaryLou England

Quincy Wrestlers Peter Orseno, Tariq Simmons State Tourney Bound

Cont'd From Page 21

Orseno has made it to the D1 State Tournament before but for Simmons (28-10) it will be his first time. His excitement level must be high.

"For (Tariq) it is very exciting," said Pavlisko. "Even for me to have two kids there with winning records and having accomplishments, (which includes Peter) as a sectional (champion), it's a fun experience, everything is a learning experience from here on out."

Other notable accomplishments this season for the Presidents (10-14 overall, 2-2 in the Patriot League) have been junior Kreshnick Mullahi (138 pounds) who had compiled a record of 21-10 when the regular season ended, senior Andrew Cook (160 pounds) had compiled a record of 18-15 and senior captain and heavyweight Miles Hadley had 14 wins. Other wrestlers registering multiple wins for the Presidents this year were freshman Kenny Dong (113 pounds), freshman Connor Ainsley (152 pounds), junior Kevin Rivera (182 pounds) and junior Richard Rose (220 pounds).

There has been a large amount of support for this team that has put up double digit wins after only winning two games last year.

"Everyone's been giving our team a bunch of compliments with the number of people that are (at the events) and the amount of wins we have," said Pavlisko.

First-Time Homebuyer Workshops

NeighborWorks Southern Mass. will offer two upcoming workshops for first-time homebuyers at the Winter Gardens apartment complex (lower level community room), 45 Winter St. in Quincy.

The first workshop will be held from 5 to 9 p.m. on Tuesday, March 10 and Thursday, March 12. The second workshop will be held Tuesday, March 31 and Thursday, April 2.

Participants will meet and hear from real estate brokers, insurance agents, attorneys and loan originators as well as learn about NeighborWorks' down payment assistance programs and speak to a lender about different mortgage options.

The registration fee for the workshops is $20 per person. For more information, call Antoinette Toney at 617-770-2227 x29.

Quincy Fire Agressively Cleaning Hydrants Of Snow

Asking Citizens To Help

By MICHAEL SLADE
Fire Prevention Officer
Quincy Fire Department

There is one vital reason why all fire hydrants in Quincy must be kept clear and easily assessable by the Quincy Fire Dept. This reason is:

To protect the lives and property of the citizens of Quincy.

The Quincy Fire Department is a dedicated and aggressive department that serves the citizens of Quincy. The department continues to maintain an emergency response time to the citizens of less than three minutes. Firefighters here in Quincy are well trained, and execute responses rapidly and with precision. To do this requires firefighters to rely on a firefighting water source throughout the city of Quincy. The recent snow fall in Quincy has created a challenge for firefighters to make sure that all hydrants in Quincy are clear and assessable.

When a home falls victim to a structure fire, firefighters swiftly enter the home with a powerful fire hose that can put 175 gallons per minute on an aggressive fire. The fire hose is a leading tool used to attack a fast moving fire. It saves lives and property. When the fire truck pulls up to the house fire, it uses its 500 gallon tank of water to attack the fire. The initial firefighters rely on the water in the tank to attack the fire. It is the job of the second due engine crew to quickly supply the initial crew a constant supply of water.

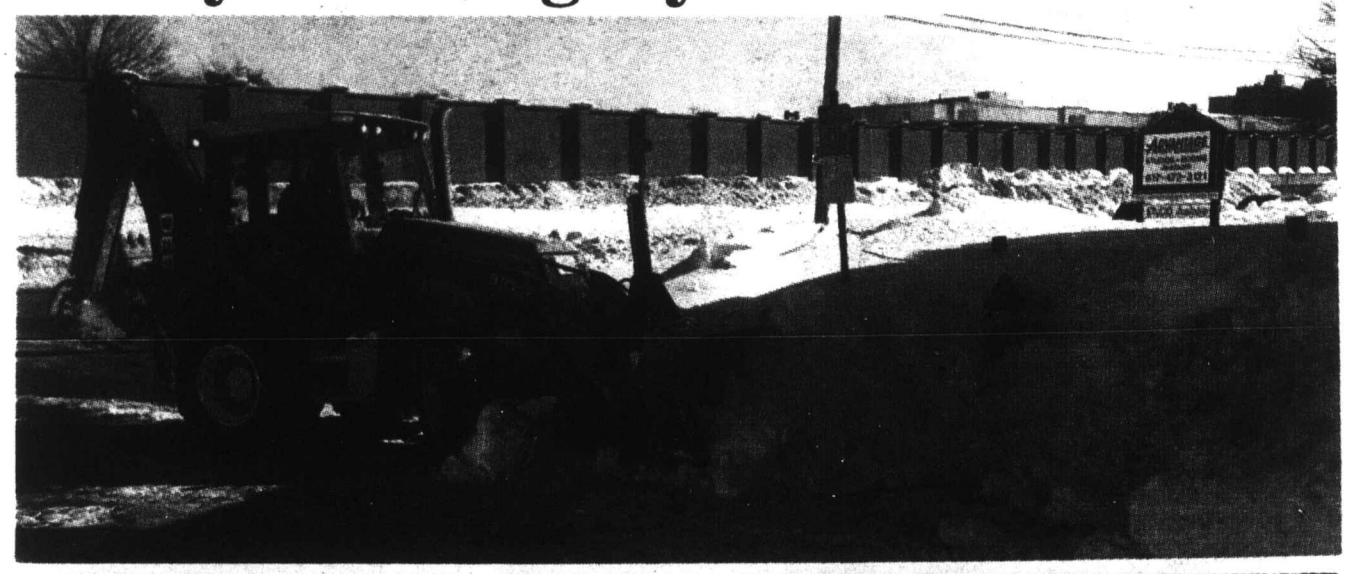
Fire hydrants in all areas of the city must be kept clear and accessible in order for firefighters to have a constant water supply when battling a fire.

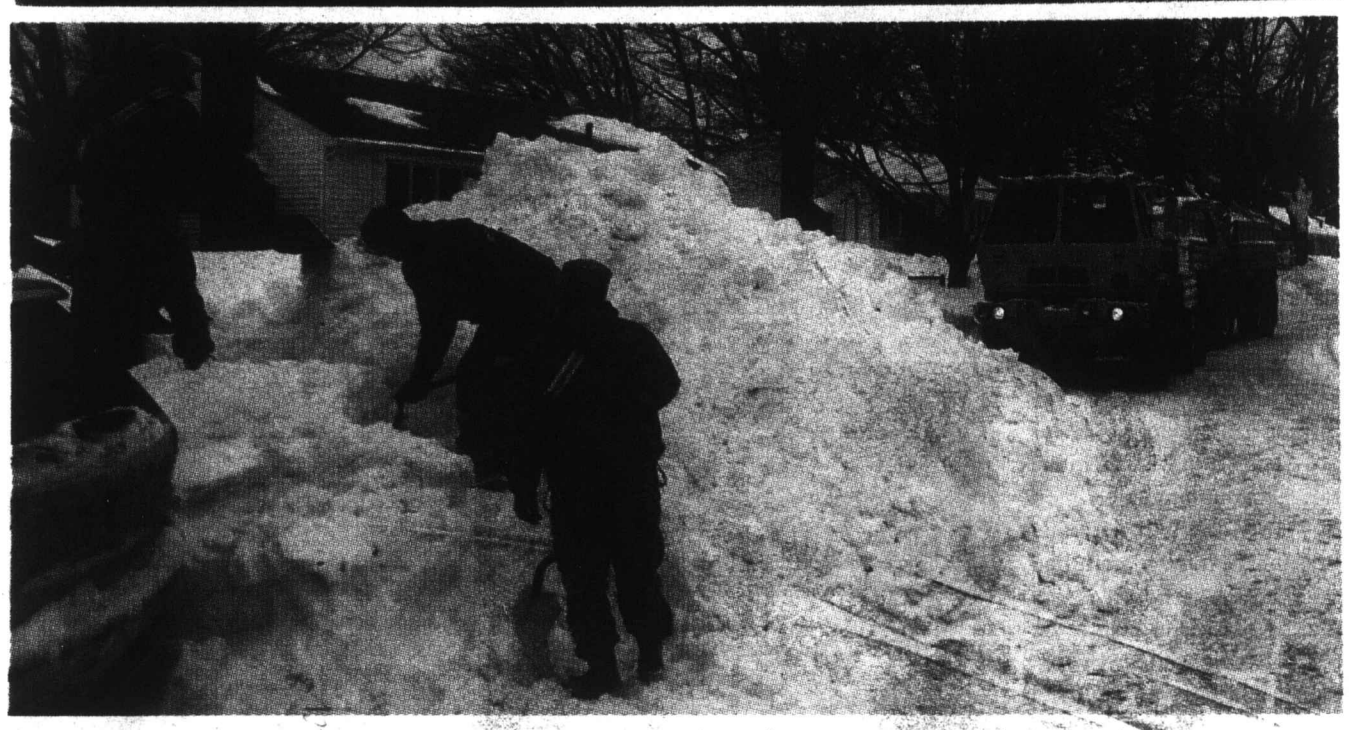
For weeks now, Quincy firefighters in each and every district of the city, continue their mornings and afternoons shoveling out fire hydrants. Front end loaders continue to assist firefighters daily in clearing hydrants that have been plowed in by snow. The National Guard has been called in to assist Quincy firefighters with clearing fire hydrants as well. Quincy Fire Department has been doing everything possible to clear the hydrants in each district and keep them clear.

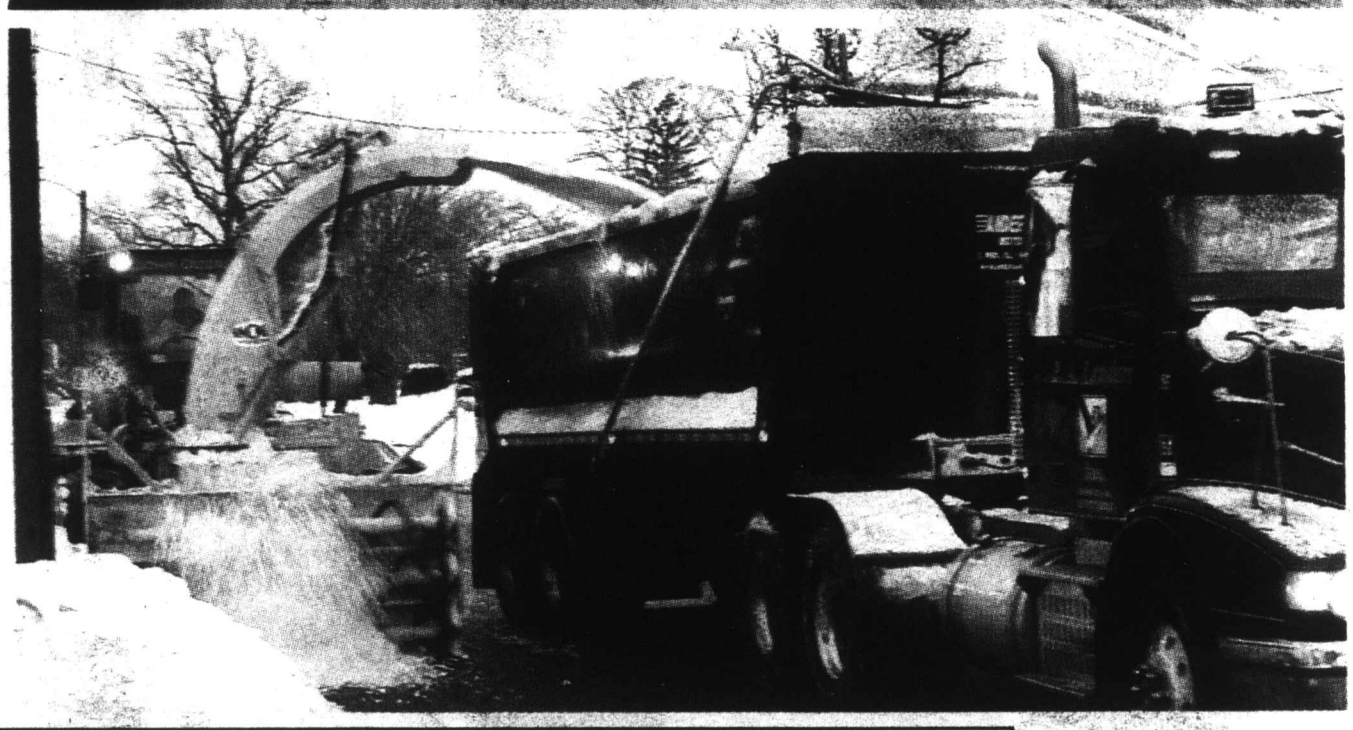
Quincy Fire recently launched the Adopt-A-Hydrant program in which Quincy citizens may adopt a hydrant of their choice, thereby making sure that the hydrant stays clear and assessable for the safety of their community. Since launching the program, dozens of citizens have adopted a hydrant.

We are asking citizens to continue to sign up and adopt a hydrant thru the Adopt-A-Hydrant program. Gift certificates to local Quincy restaurants will be raffled off and given to participants of the Adopt-A-Hydrant program at the end of the snow season. If you wish to adopt a hydrant, please email your name, address, phone number, and which hydrant you wish to adopt, to mslade@quincyma.gov.

The Quincy Fire Department is dedicated to keeping the citizens of Quincy Safe. If you have any concerns whatsoever, please do not hesitate to call the Quincy Fire Prevention office at 617-376-1015.







PHOTOS (from top): front-end loader clears a snow-buried fire hydrant on Newport Avenue. National Guard was called in last week to assist firefighters clearing hydrants throughout the city. Special equipment is used to widen roads that have been narrowed by snowbanks brought on by more than seven feet of snow in the last three weeks.

Photos Courtesy Quincy Fire Department

QUINT'S
House of Flowers
Family Owned & Operated Since 1919
761 Southern Artery
QUINCY
617-773-7620

Hail The Presidents: Keenan Division Champs

- Page 17 -

Grant To Restore Quincy House Gardens

- Page 8 -

2 *CAR-RT LOTC-004
THOMAS CRANE PUBLIC LIBRARY
40 WASHINGTON ST
QUINCY MA 02169-5304

The Quincy Sun

Historic Quincy's Hometown Weekly Newspaper Since 1968

VOL. 47 No. 23 | Thursday, February 26, 2015 | 75¢

HERE'S TO WARMER DAYS – The staff at Craig's Cafe located 1354 Hancock St. in Quincy Square "toast" what many hope is the end of this winter's harsh weather and the beginning of more moderate temperatures. Staff wore Hawaiian leis, grass skirts and tie-dye shirts over the weekend as the popular downtown eatery was decorated with a Caribbean motif including beach murals and hanging paper flowers to get customers' minds off the snowy, frigid winter. From left are: John Osterman, Jenna Wilson, Dan Stamnos, Laura Farias, owner Tom Anacone, Anthony Malchiodi and Dave Keenan. More on this winter's wicked weather in Son Beams - Page 4.

Quincy Sun Photo/Robert Bosworth

City Snow Removal Costs $7M

• Koch: 'I Hope We'll See Additional Reimbursements'
• City May Seek More 'Snow Fighter' Equipment

By SCOTT JACKSON

Quincy has spent $7 million over the past month to remove an unprecedented amount of snow from city streets; this winter's storms will bring a number of other hidden costs as well.

Four major snowstorms have hit Greater Boston since Jan. 26, combining with several smaller storms to leave Quincy under nearly 100 inches of snow. The city may not be out of the woods yet either, with more snow forecast for early next week.

Since the second major storm on Feb. 2, snow removal crews – including

Cont'd On Page 12

Gutro, Koch Clash On MBTA

By SCOTT JACKSON

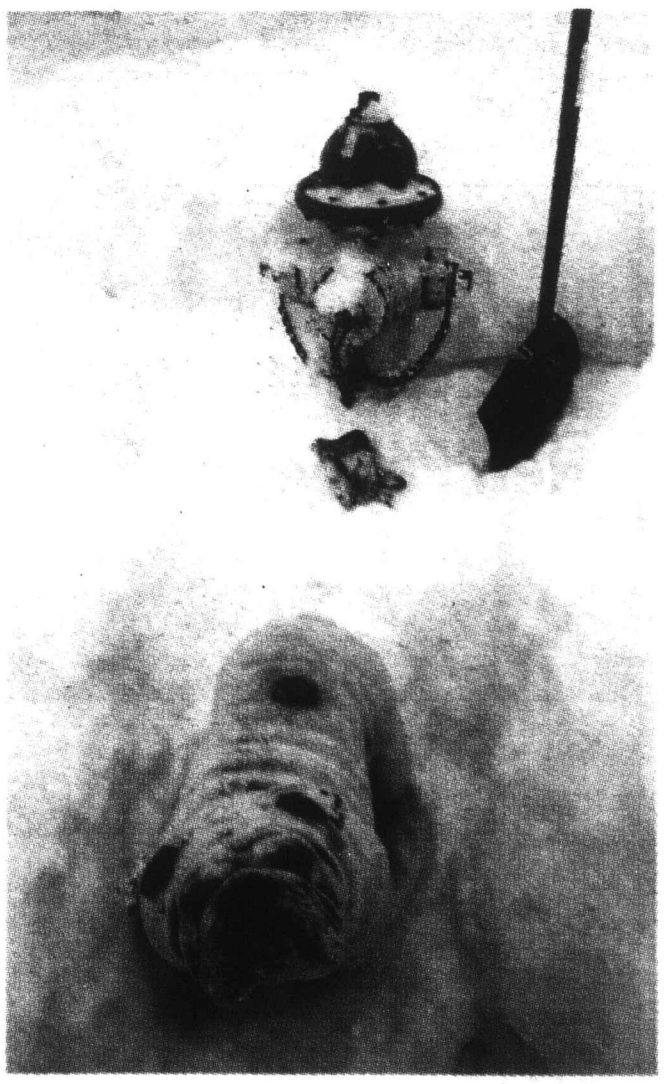
Councillor Doug Gutro faulted Mayor Thomas Koch for the loss of MBTA services in Quincy over the past several years at a recent City Council meeting – criticism the mayor dismissed Monday as 'silly.'

Gutro's remarks came during a council discussion on Feb. 17 of problems arising on the MBTA over the past month, which MBTA General Manager Beverly Scott said could take up to 30 days to fully remedy. Gutro – who is running for mayor in this year's municipal election – criticized Koch for the closure of the Quincy Center MBTA station's garage and the loss of commuter ferry services at the Fore River Shipyard, both of which happened after Koch was named chairman of the MBTA Advisory Board in January 2012, as well as the lack of handicapped accessibility at the Wollaston station.

"The Red Line and the commuter rail line failures – frankly they are an embarrassment that has had a disproportionate impact to the city and the people of Quincy. We know these problems didn't happen overnight nor will they be corrected right away. We've read about the debt and the deficit of the MBTA," Gutro said, reading from a prepared statement.

"I'll tell you this: In 2012 I was encouraged that our mayor, Tom Koch, was appointed to be the chairman of the MBTA Advisory Board. In that capacity he represents the interest of the 175 cities and towns where the MBTA has service. At that time, it's important to note, he issued a press release boasting that he would be 'a strong voice for Quincy and the South Shore.' That press release also pointed out that 'Quincy is one of the few cities to host every mode of transportation offered by the

Cont'd On Page 14



BENNY THE BULLDOG takes care of a hydrant on Alton Road. The Quincy Fire Department is working to keep citizens safe during this harsh winter. Story on Page 2.

Photo Courtesy Kerry Troup

EAGLE EYES – This Bald Eagle was seen soaring over Squantum one day last week. The national bird was photographed by June Kaps.

Hearing Monday On School Makeup Days

By SCOTT JACKSON

The School Committee will hold a public hearing next Monday, March 2, at 6 p.m. in the Coddington Building to discuss how city schools should make up for days lost because of this winter's snowfall.

An online survey on the issue for parents, teachers,

Cont'd On Page 13

Deal Reached On 8th North Quincy Home - Page 3
State Official New QHA Facilities Director - Page 9
Solarize Quincy Kick Off Event Tuesday - Page 32

For more Quincy news, visit:
The Quincy Sun.com

Quincy Fire Working To Keep Citizens Safe

Clearing Hydrants, Responding To Emergencies; Advises Citizens To Have Furnaces, Water Heaters, Wood Stoves Checked And Serviced

SHANE STANISH helps Quincy Fire Ladder 2 Crew Lt. Mike Palaza, Matt Kidiel and Derek Monroe clear a hydrant on Elmwood Avenue. Photo Courtesy Quincy Fire Department

By MICHAEL SLADE
Fire Prevention Officer
Quincy Fire Department

The last few weeks have been a challenge for the Quincy Fire Department, and we have tackled the challenge straight on. Not seeing an accumulation of snow for the past few days has brought some relief to all of us.

Each morning and afternoon, the Quincy Fire department has continued to execute an "all hands on deck" effort to tackle the challenge of removing the snow from hydrants, making sure they are accessible to the fire department.

Each fire truck balances the duty of clearing hydrants with responding to emergency calls. There were over 750 emergency responses from the fire department between Feb. 1st and Feb. 22 of this year.

Fire crews have been working with front end loaders to clear hydrants. In addition, the National Guard has helped to clear hydrants in Quincy as well.

It has been extremely encouraging to have dozens of citizens adopt a hydrant thru the Adopt-A-Hydrant program. The Quincy Fire Department wishes to thank those citizens who have taken the initiative to keep their hydrants clear and accessible.

We ask citizens to continue to sign up to adopt a hydrant by emailing mslade@quincyma.gov. Please include in your email your name, address, phone number, and which hydrant you wish to adopt. At the end of the snow season, Quincy Fire will raffle off gift certificates to five Quincy restaurants for those who have participated in the Adopt-A-Hydrant program.

The Quincy Fire Department wishes to remind Quincy citizens of safety hazards that can arise due to inclement weather, while offering tips to avoid these potential safety hazards.

Quincy Fire advises Quincy citizens to have their furnaces, water heaters and wood stoves, checked and serviced annually by a professional. Please keep the areas around your boiler and hot water heater, clear of combustibles. This includes the accumulation of dust, paper, and flammable liquids. Quincy Fire recently responded to a fire in which the boiler set fire to combustibles that were too close to the furnace.

If you have gas fired appliances in your home, it is imperative to have carbon monoxide detectors as well as smoke detectors, throughout your home. This includes every habitable level of your home and within ten feet of each bedroom. Exterior vents to your home heating system and your dryer can become clogged due to snow and other factors, so please be sure that your vents are clear as well. Carbon Monoxide is a colorless and odorless gas that can kill you very quickly, so please keep your vents clear and utilize carbon monoxide detectors throughout your home.

Keep your roof clear from snow. The Massachusetts Emergency Management Agency said it has received 147 reports of roof collapses or damages since February 9th. Quincy Fire has responded to several building collapses over the last couple of weeks. Quincy Fire advises to take extreme caution when removing snow from the roofs. Two people in Canton have been killed while making efforts to clear snow from roofs. If you are hiring someone to clear your roof from snow, we advise to make sure that they are licensed and insured.

Keep your gas meters clear of snow and falling ice. Quincy Fire advises Quincy citizens to be aware of the location of your gas meter and protect it from being covered by snow. Heavy snow loads could damage your gas and electrical connections. Plow trucks have ruptured gas meters and ice has ruptured gas meters as well. Recently, Quincy Fire responded to a ruptured gas line at Quincy Medical Center, forcing an evacuation of the building. This rupture was caused by a large falling icicle.

The Quincy Fire Department is dedicated to keeping the citizens of Quincy safe. If you should have any questions whatsoever, please do not hesitate to call the Fire Prevention Bureau.

Mike Slade
Fire Prevention Officer
Quincy Fire Department
617-376-1015

Quincy Fire Department Statistics
February 1, 2015 - February 22, 2015

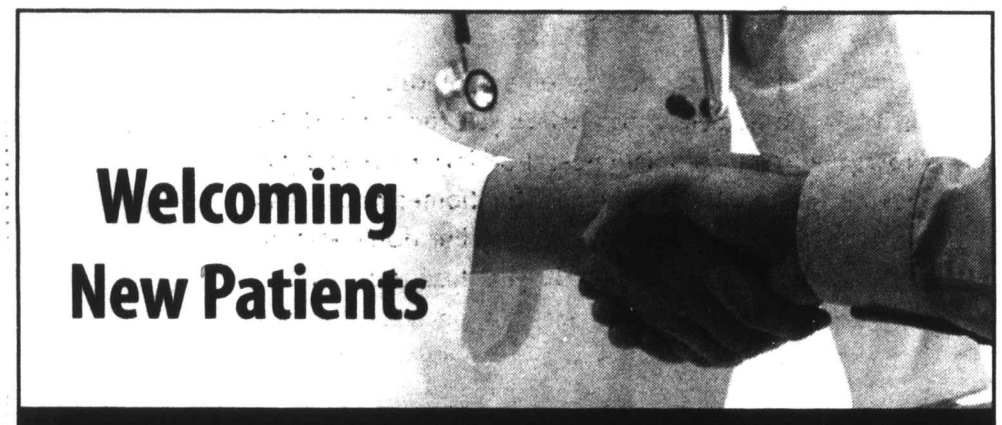
Fires: 33
Rescues and Emergency Medical Services: 332
Hazardous Condition Responses: 101
Service Call Responses: 112
False Alarms: 119
Good Intent Calls: 44
Other Type Calls: 11

Quincy Violanist Featured At Music Recital Sunday

Violinist Anne Hooper Webb of Quincy will perform a recital Sunday, March 1st, at 2:30 p.m. at the Central Baptist Church, 67 Washington St., Quincy.

She will be accompanied by pianist George Kern.'

They will perform music of Beethoven, Ysaÿe, and Saint-Saëns.



And we accept Tufts Health Plan Medicare Preferred HMO

You have a choice.

If your doctor's office no longer accepts Tufts Health Plan Medicare Preferred HMO you have a choice. Patients with Tufts Health Plan Medicare Preferred HMO are welcome at Granite Medical Group and Harvard Vanguard Medical Associates in Braintree and Quincy. These Atrius Health practices admit patients to Beth Israel Deaconess-Milton Hospital and South Shore Hospital.

TUFTS Health Plan Medicare Preferred

Tufts Health Plan Medicare Preferred HMO is the only Medicare Advantage plan we accept. Please call us with any questions.

Granite Medical Group
Atrius Health
500 Congress Street, Quincy
617-471-0033
www.granitemedical.com

Harvard Vanguard Medical Associates
Atrius Health
111 Grossman Drive, Braintree
781-849-1000
1250 Hancock Street, Quincy
617-774-0600
www.harvardvanguard.org

The Adams Pub

Three-Course Dinner for Two
With a Bottle of Wine $39.99!*

First Course:
Caesar Salad, Pub Garden Salad or Cup of Award Winning Clam Chowder

Second Course:
(One Entrée Per Guest)
Parmesan Crusted Haddock
Served with Choice of Potato and Broccoli

Bourbon Marinated Steak Tips
Served with Choice of Potato and Green Beans

Chicken Broccoli Alfredo
Served over Penne Pasta

Third Course:
(Choose One Dessert to Share)
Warm Chocolate Decadence or New York Cheesecake

*Tax and Gratuity Not Included
Located Inside the Adams Inn - 29 Hancock Street, Quincy, MA 02171
TAKE OUT AVAILABLE 617-328-1500

Deal Reached On 8th NQ Home

By SCOTT JACKSON

The city has reached an agreement to buy 42 Hunt Street, the eighth of nine North Quincy homes the city planned to purchase as part of a $12 million renovation project at Teel Field.

Quincy will pay the owners of 42 Hunt Street $520,000 for the two-family house, according to City Solicitor James Timmins. The homeowners and their tenants will also receive a relocation fee from the city; a state relocation consultant is working on the relocation fee.

The tentative closing date for the property is March 30.

The two-family home at 42 Hunt Street is one of nine neighborhood homes – eight on Hunt Street and one on Newbury Avenue – the city planned to purchase and demolish to accommodate renovations to Teel Field and a parking lot for North Quincy High School. The city closed on the first seven houses last fall.

The only home the city has yet to reach an agreement on is 30 Hunt Street, owned by Lawrence and Vicki Tasney. William Phelan, the attorney representing the Tasneys, previously told The Sun his clients do not intend to sell the site.

Mayor Thomas Koch and Timmins both said this week there was no update on negotiations for the purchase of 30 Hunt Street.

Demolition of at least one of the houses will begin in the coming weeks, according to Koch. The city will build around the Tasneys' house, if needed, and will not use eminent domain to force the homeowners out.

"I expect within a couple weeks to start demolition of at least one of the homes to create a roadway into the site to get working on it. That's going to proceed," Koch said.

"We'll get to a point during construction that it's either in or out of the project because you've got to do your final grades and set everything up and bid everything accordingly. The project is going to go forward. Whether that property will be part of it or not is the question. We can build around it and we will build around it if we have to. I don't expect to use eminent domain there. I don't think there is the appetite by the City Council."

Koch also defended his plan to purchase and raze the nine homes.

"The public in many ways has no understanding of how this has worked. I've been under a lot of criticism because I've taken homes against people's wills; that's not the case. We've been negotiating with people. People have been treated very fairly with the market. We have not used eminent domain, nobody has been forced out, and that's why we would possibly build around Tasney," Koch said.

"I don't there is the appetite by the members of the City Council to use it, so I'm not going to go to that body if they're not going to be supportive of it."

Under the original plans for the project, the Tasneys' property and the others on Hunt Street would have been demolished to make way for a 157-vehicle parking lot. If the family stays, the lot would be able accommodate fewer vehicles. Renovations to Teel Field itself would not be affected.

Teel Field will be given a new artificial playing surface, grandstands with room for 600 people, a scoreboard, concessions, and lighting and sound systems. In addition to the field renovations and parking lot, retaining ponds will be added to alleviate flooding concerns in the neighborhood.

The city intends to complete the project this fall.

SNOW BOOST – The deep pile of snow makes climbing this tree on Chickatabot Road a lot easier for Abigail Coughlin, age 10. That branch she's sitting on is about five feet from the bare bround.

Middle School Student Struck By Taxi Cab

By SCOTT JACKSON

A 13-year-old Central Middle School student was struck by a cab Monday afternoon on his way from school and taken to a Boston hospital with facial injuries.

The student was struck on Berlin Street in Wollaston around 2:54 p.m. Monday, according to Lt. Jack Sullivan of the Quincy Police Department. The boy was rushed to Boston Medical Center with facial injuries, where he remained in serious but stable condition as of noon Tuesday.

The Police Department's accident reconstruction team was still investigating the accident Tuesday. The driver of the Quincy Checker Cab involved in the crash had not been cited at the time.

School Superintendent Dr. Richard DeCristofaro notified Central parents about the incident in a letter. Students who witnessed the accident will be given the chance to speak with guidance counselors or other staff members.

"One of our students was accidentally struck by a taxi cab on Berlin [Street]. There was an immediate response by school and emergency personnel. The student was transported to the hospital, where he was met by his parents. All members of the Central and Quincy Public Schools community will keep this student and his family in our thoughts and hope for a speedy recovery," the superintendent wrote.

"Central Middle School students who witnessed this accident will be given the opportunity to speak with a guidance counselor or trusted staff member. All Central students will be informed

Cont'd On Page 11

Ask the GEMOLOGIST
BY JEFFREY M. BERTMAN
GRADUATE GEMOLOGIST

PINK EMERALD

Since emerald and morganite belong to the same mineral group (beryl), the lesser known pink variety of beryl is often referred to as "pink emerald." This lovely gemstone, which was named after banker and gem enthusiast J. Pierpoint (J.P.) Morgan, ranges in color from pale pink to violet, salmon, or peach. There is also a rare magenta Madagascar morganite that is highly collectable. As with aquamarine (another form of beryl), morganite is dichroic, meaning that it either shows two shades of the body color or one shade and colorless. Another characteristic, which it shares with its beryl siblings, is its considerable hardness - 7.5 on the Mohs scale. Unlike the more famous emerald and aquamarine, moganite's beauty is quite affordable.

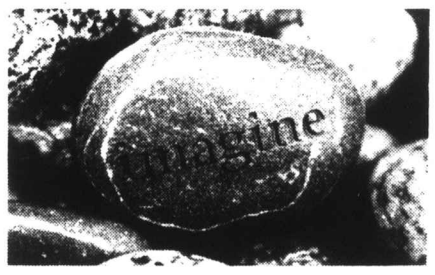
Select perfect jewelry to suit your taste at our store at 1402 Hancock St. in Quincy Center. We are a full service jewelry store and are happy to handle custom orders. Our prices have always been more than competitive with no fake markups in order to offer huge discounts. Here you will find a wonderful selection of bracelets, brooches, rings, necklaces, pendants, and watches. For more information, please call 617-773-3636.

Don't Forget: We pay cash for Gold - Platinum - Diamonds... highest prices paid.

Rogers Diamonds...Watches...Jewelry www.rogersjewelry.com

Your mortgage and debts paid in full in the next 15 years...

It can happen!



If it's part of your plan to pay off your mortgage, credit cards and home equity loan before you retire, the 15-Year Mortgage from Colonial Federal Savings Bank lets you make it happen. It's also perfect for homeowners who want to borrow against their equity but don't want an adjustable credit line or new 30-year loan. And it may be for you if you have 15+ years left on a mortgage that you'd like to pay off more quickly at a much lower rate. It's a smart time to make your move. And we'll make the process quick, easy and hassle-free. Come see us or call Angela Blanchard, VP/Retail Lending, at 617-471-0750. Or apply online at colonialfed.com. (Have another loan or term in mind? Call us. We may be able to help.)

15-YEAR FIXED
NO POINTS!
3.39% APR

COLONIAL FEDERAL SAVINGS BANK
"Your neighborhood bank!"

QUINCY: 15 Beach Street 617-471-0750 • 1000 Southern Artery (Residents only) 617-479-1430
HOLBROOK: 802 South Franklin Street 781-767-1776
EAST WEYMOUTH: Middle & Washington Streets 781-331-1776
ONLINE: www.colonialfed.com

Some additional facts: Annual Percentage Rate (APR) effective as of 02/18/15 and may change. Applies to 1-2 family owner-occupied homes. Assumes a maximum 80% loan-to-value and first mortgage position. Subject to credit approval. A 15-Year Loan would be repaid in 180 equal monthly principal plus interest payments of $7.03 per $1000 borrowed, which do not include taxes or insurance premiums, if applicable. So your actual monthly payment will be greater.

EQUAL HOUSING LENDER
Insured FDIC

The Quincy Sun

(USPS 453-060)
Published Weekly on Thursday by
The Quincy Sun Publishing Co., Inc.
1372 Hancock St., Quincy, MA 02169

Robert H. Bosworth
Publisher and Editor

Henry W. Bosworth, Jr.
Founder
1968 - 2009

75¢ per copy newsstand • $27 per year by mail in Quincy
$32 per year by mail outside Quincy • $40 out-of-state

Telephone: 617-471-3100 Fax: 617-472-3963

online at: www.thequincysun.com

email address: thequincysun@verizon.net

rbosworth@thequincysun.com

Periodicals postage paid at Boston, MA
Postmaster Send address change to:
The Quincy Sun, 1372 Hancock St., Quincy, MA 02169

The Quincy Sun assumes no financial responsibility for typographical errors in advertisements but will reprint that part of an advertisement in which the typographical error occurs.

Moments in time

THE HISTORY CHANNEL.

• On March 15, 44 B.C., Gaius Julius Caesar, dictator of Rome, is stabbed to death in the Roman Senate house by 60 conspirators, who believed that his death would lead to the restoration of the Roman Republic. However, the result was to plunge Rome into a fresh round of civil wars, destroying the republic forever.

• On March 11, 1888, one of the worst blizzards in U.S. history strikes the Northeast, dumping up to 55 inches of snow in some areas. In New York City, drifts reached the second story of some buildings and stranded passengers on elevated trains. Enterprising residents with ladders offered to rescue passengers for a fee.

• On March 14, 1919, Max Brand, perhaps the most prolific writer of Western stories, publishes his first novel, "The Untamed." Max Brand was one of 21 pen names used by Seattle-born author Frederick Faust. Unlike many Western authors, Faust made no pretense to historical accuracy in his works.

• On March 10, 1926, "Lolly Willowes," the first Book-of-the-Month Club selection, is published by Viking Press. The Book-of-the-Month Club's 4,000-plus members were not pleased with the tale of a spinster who takes up witchcraft, as the author was an openly gay woman.

• On March 12, 1930, Indian independence leader Mohandas Gandhi begins a defiant march to the sea in protest of the British monopoly on salt. Britain's Salt Acts prohibited Indians from collecting or selling salt, a staple in the Indian diet. By picking one salt crystal off the shore, Gandhi had committed nonviolent civil disobedience.

• On March 13, 1969, "The Love Bug," a Walt Disney movie about the adventures of a Volkswagen Beetle named Herbie, opens in theaters. The film centered on a down-on-his-luck auto racer who goes on a winning streak after teaming up with Herbie.

• On March 9, 1985, the first-ever Adopt-a-Highway sign is erected on Texas's Highway 69. The highway was adopted by the Tyler Civitan Club, which committed to picking up trash along a designated 2-mile stretch of the road.

(c) 2015 King Feaures Synd., Inc.

Democratic City Committee Registering Voters At Lunar New Year Festival

Members of the Quincy Democratic City Committee will be hosting a table at the Lunar New Year Festival Sunday, March 1st from 10:30 a.m. to 4:30 p.m. at North Quincy High School.

Committee members will be available to assist anyone interested in registering to vote and who are interested in learning more about the Committee. Those planning to stop by the table are asked to donate food or leave a cash donation on behalf of the Quincy Community Action Program, Emergency Food Center.

For more information, contact Alicia Gardner @ alicia.gardner6@gmail.com.

Son Beams

By ROBERT BOSWORTH

A Wicked Winter

This winter has been one that we'll all remember.

And one that we'd like to forget.

Adjectives like "historical" and "unprecedented" have described the conveyor-like belt regularity of snow storm after snow storm that's dumped about eight feet of snow over the last month. And when the white stuff hasn't been falling, it's the temperatures that have. Below-freezing temps and double-digit wind chills that take your breath away and make you feel like you're in Siberia instead of the South Shore.

How bad a winter has it been?

Even the snowmen are packing up and leaving town.

That's a joke, of course.

But you get the idea.

It's been so rough that the growing consensus is that this may be the worst winter ever. Sure, the Blizzard of 1978 still reigns as the most significant winter storm for those who have lived through it. But collectively the four major nor'easters in three weeks plus the day after day of frigid weather makes this winter the new champ of weather wickedness.

The days following the Blizzard of 1978 were a lot different than those following our recent storms.

According to weather records, only three days during the month of February following the Blizzard of 1978 had high temperatures below freezing. The rest of the days that month had high temperatures above freezing and a few of those days hit the mid-40s. Those temperatures certainly helped melt the nearly four feet of snow that was on the ground following the Blizzard and a January storm that dumped another 20 inches.

That's quite a disparity from this winter.

We've had weeks of sub-freezing weather. And it hasn't been just cold. It's been some of the coldest on record. Coupled with historic snow fall.

I bet the people who manufacture snow globes aren't doing a brisk business in the Northeast this quarter. Seems like we've been living in one.

This winter will be remembered for many things more than just the snow pack and cold weather.

Those who rely on public transportation – the MBTA to be specific – have to be the folks hardest hit this winter. Standing on platforms waiting hours for a train or bus. Wondering if the train that dropped you off in the morning would still be running on the return trip home. Monday, all trolley and car service returned to full service. Let's hope our state leaders can work together to get the infrastructure problems fixed before next winter.

If you commute by car – even across the city – images of streets narrowed by glacier-like snowbanks as high as street signs will be fresh for some time. Sharing the road at this time of year doesn't mean being courteous to bicyclists. It's about giving pedestrians space to walk because of sidewalks that remain buried with snow. Now is the time to be extra careful and pack your patience when you get behind the wheel.

Speaking of streets, can anyone remember a time when the city implemented emergency one-way streets to help motorists navigate from all neighborhoods in the city? Crews have worked 24-7 removing snow from tight streets but some roads are just too narrow. Mother Nature needs to cooperate to help these streets open again to two-way traffic.

I've visited two of the city's "snow farms" several times this winter – one at the Fore River Shipyard, the other at Squantum Point Park. And each time I went, the piles were larger, deeper and higher. Some "peaks" in this winter snowscape reach 60 feet into the sky.

I think there are two images that can be seen on earth from space right now: the Great Wall of China and the Quincy Snow Mountain Range in Squantum. Seriously, I think if you trucked all the snow from these two areas and dropped it all on Hancock Street the pile would be about 10 feet tall and extend from Granite Street to Veterans Memorial Stadium. And that guess may be a little on the stingy side. Perhaps the engineers can do a more precise scientific estimate.

Someone should come up with a contest to guess when will be the day that the snow will finally be gone from these sites. I'll take June 22 – the day after summer officially begins.

But on a serious note, this harsh winter has taken its toll on people and property. At least one resident passed away after being stricken shoveling snow. Two local youngsters were struck by vehicles while walking in the street. And there have been numerous building roof collapses.

Let's hope the worst is behind us and spring-like weather will soon be here.

And speaking of warm days, if you happened to frequent Craig's Café over the weekend in Quincy Square, you were transported - even if it was only psychologically – to a warmer climate.

Owner Tom Anacone and staff created a Jimmy Buffet luau theme in the restaurant Saturday and Sunday. They wore Hawaiian leis, grass skirts and tie-dye shirts while serving their customers. Rounding out the Caribbean motif were colorful paper flowers hung from the ceiling, an inflatable palm tree and a 40-foot beach mural that blanketed the wall from one end of the restaurant to the other.

Tropical music played on the sound system like James Taylor's "Mexico." Even the food had an island flare. Specials included a "Cheeseburger in Paradise Benedict" (toasted English topped with bacon cheddar sliders, tomato, red onion, 1000 Island dressing and hollandaise) and the "Hurricane" (home fries all swirled up on the grill with peppers and onions topped with sausage links, two poached eggs, salsa, sour cream and buffalo aioli served with toast.)

Tom says the Caribbean theme evolved from the specials he served this weekend. And the "let's party" island style was a welcomed sight for his customers.

"This was a chance for people to get away from the harsh winter weather we've been having. People have been coming in saying 'this is great' even though it's fake. Any distraction is putting people in a good mood. We wanted to give people some relief. Get out from the cold and have a little piece of paradise," he says.

Like many small businesses, this winter has been challenging for Tom.

"We've had to close some days because of the snow storms," he says. "It takes a day or two after the storms from business to pick back up. You just have to tighten up the budget, don't buy anything extra, and just try to pay the bills and make ends meet."

Craig's Café is a "flurry" of activity on this cold February Saturday morning. But inside, it's the tropics. There are smiles everywhere. On the faces of the staff serving food. And on the customers ordering food and sitting down for a bite to eat. The island motif obviously had folks in a good mood.

Winter – even this winter - won't last forever. Spring and then summer will eventually take over the calendar and the appropriate weather will follow suit.

We ask Tom if he'll consider an arctic theme with pretend penguins and Eskimo pies during a heat wave this summer?

"After this winter, probably not," he says with a laugh.

"I think everyone's going to be happy with the heat."

Amen to that.

Frankly, I hope the next shovel I see is at the beach.

Scenes From Yesterday

THIS IS A 100-year-old postcard view of Billings Road in Norfolk Downs looking east from opposite the end of Lunt Street. Flynt Street is just beyond the third house on the right. This area was all farmland when the Park Land Company laid out the residential subdivision here in 1890. They made Billings Road the main thoroughfare with large house lots on each side. They encouraged doctors and dentists to build houses with their offices in them. They also arranged for the new Quincy Street Railway Company to run trolley tracks down the middle of the street through the grassy strip seen on the right.

House lot buyers throughout the Downs got discounted trolley tickets. The trolleys were discontinued in 1920 and replaced with buses in 1924. The name Norfolk Downs came from the land company's naming contest, first prize being a house lot. The young lady who won said the way the land sloped down to Quincy Bay reminded her of the Downs section of England where she grew up. Norfolk is of course the County name. To contact Tom Galvin, e-mail tmgalvin@verizon.net.

From the Collection of City Historian Tom Galvin

Quincy's Yesterdays

This Week
1980
35 Years Ago

Garage Bond Issue Faces Struggle

The $1 million bond issue sought by Mayor Arthur Tobin to add two floors to a downtown-parking garage faced tough sledding at a special meeting of the City Council.

The proposal required a two-thirds vote of the council or six votes to pass, and a Quincy Sun survey prior to the meeting showed two councillors against it, one not voting, one undecided and one available for comment.

"I can't see bonding city money for construction of the garage," said Council President Leo J. Kelly, who said he planned to vote against the bond. "It just opens us up to other problems." Councillor Stephen McGrath also said he planned to vote "no" on the bond proposal.

Councillors Francis X. McCauley, who is president of the Presidential Cooperative Bank, said that he would not vote on the issue for fear of conflict of interest since his bank is on land that figures in another phase of the project.

PRESIDENTIAL PRIMIARIES NEXT TUESDAY, 35% TO 40% TURNOUT PREDICTED

A high vote turnout of 35% is expected for Tuesday's presidential primary that features contests on every ballot including rival slates for the Democratic Committee in Ward 2.

City Clerk John Gillis predicted a 35% turnout and he added it could go much higher if Sen. Edward M. Kennedy were to make a good showing against President Carter in New Hampshire.

Major candidates for the Republican nomination for president included Cong. John Anderson, Sen. Howard Baker, George H.W. Bush, former Gov. John Connally, former Gov. Ronald Reagan and Sen. Bob Dole.

The Democratic ballot contains the names of President Jimmy Carter, Edmund Brown, Jr., and Sen. Kennedy.

QUINCYSIMS

Ruth Johnson, Girl Scout service cookie manager for Quincy, is coordinating the cookie distribution for troop cookie managers of the city's 38 Girl Scout troops... Brenda Morrison, daughter of Mrs. Meredith Morrison, 16 Doyle Terrace, Germantown, was named to Dean's List for the first semester at Nasson College, Maine... Marshfield Stove, 138 Washington St., Quincy Point, was advertising "Wood Stoves 50% Off on Selected Models." The ad warned that the per gallon cost for oil could reach $2 by September 1980... The Quincy Sun Sunbeams Column noted that Ward 5 Councillor Stephen McGrath had his eye on the Second Norfolk Representative District seat presently held by Rep. Thomas F. Brownell... Little opposition was expressed at a public hearing on the proposed Burgin Parkway Extension held by the Massachusetts DPW at the Lincoln-Hancock School. Target date for the completion of the project was the spring of 1983. (Editor's note: The groundbreaking for the project was held until July 1984 and the road opened for traffic the day before Thanksgiving 1985.)... Rev. James L. Kimmell, pastor of Faith Lutheran Church, attended a two-week orientation clinic of the Bethel Series, an international Bible study program in Madison, Wisconsin... Old Colony Bank and Trust Company, 1449 Hancock St., Quincy Center, was advertising "Six Month Certificates of Deposits, $10,000 Minimum With An Interest Rate of 13.629%"... Mayor Tobin received an eight month-old German shepherd named "Snoopy," a gift of the Sons of Italy Quincy Lodge. The dog is trained to sniff for hidden drugs and was assigned to the Quincy Police Department... Melissa McCauley, daughter of Councillor and Mrs. Francis X. McCauley, 210 Manet Ave, Houghs Neck, was named to the Dean's List, with high honors, at Northeastern University. Miss McCauley, a 1979 graduate of Quincy High School, was majoring in physical therapy... Two Quincy women were seeking re-election to their respective State Committee posts. Miss Kathleen O'Donnell was running for re-election as the Democratic State Committeewoman in the Norfolk Senate District. Mrs. Kathryn Roberts was seeking re-election as the Republican State Committeewoman in the same Senate district... Uses for three Quincy elementary schools scheduled to close this year (1980) included: A marine center for the Great Hill School in Houghs Neck; a warehouse for the Myles Standish School in North Quincy and the C.E.T.A. Headquarters for the Cranch School on Hospital Hill. (Editor's note: The Great Hill School was torn down after a fire and the land converted to parkland; the Myles Standish School was utilized over the years by the Quincy Lodge of Elks and the Beechwood Community Life Center and is now the Kennedy Center, home of the Quincy Council on Aging.The Cranch School was converted to condominiums.)

Wisconsin Gov. Scott Walker Not A Good Fit For GOP

As McCauley Sees It

By FRANK McCAULEY

Scott Walker, the embattled governor of Wisconsin whose successful battles with the state's governmental labor unions was the subject of widespread news and TV coverage, has entered the race for the Republican presidential nomination and is showing well in the early polls.

His best selling book, "Unintimidated: A Governor's Story and a Nation's Challenge," is must reading for those of us political junkies.

I strongly feel that Governor Walker as the Republican nominee in 2016 would not be in the best interest of the Republican Party.

Talk about "waving a red flag in front of a bull!" A Walker candidacy would engage Democrats across the country as no other Republican candidate would.

Governor Walker would be subject to an avalanche of objections to his candidacy; some of these charges true, many of them false. The main charge would be that based on his record in Wisconsin, a President Walker would lead real ugly to a loss of union benefits but also the loss of their jobs.

On the plus side, the Republican Party has a number of governors as well as former governors who have compiled excellent records in managing the affairs of their respective states. They include the present governors of Louisiana, Ohio, New Jersey, and Indiana as well as former governors of Florida, Texas, and Indiana.

In conclusion, Governor Scott Walker of Wisconsin is a "victim of his own success." However, he would make a great secretary of labor in the cabinet of a Republican president come Jan. 20, 2017.

Frank McCauley is a former mayor of Quincy and Republican activist.

Readers Forum

Thanks DPW Commissioner For Clearing West Street

Again, I thank Commissioner Dan Raymondi for doing a great job of plowing a street I asked for to be cleared. I have had to walk from my home on Willard Street to 7/11 on Copeland via West Street for the past few days. West Street had a lousy job of plowing.

West Street has been a bad street regarding plowing and speeding for years. Commissioner Raymondi plowed West Street curb to curb, on my request. I am over 65 (that is all I tell of age), and drivers don't care.

My neighbors on West Street are probably mad at me for the plowing but, I am on foot, and no police in sight, to cut down the speed on this street.

Thank you again Commissioner Raymondi for another job well done.

Charles Dennehey Jr.
Willard Street
West Quincy

Transformation 'Amazing'

Last night, the plow trucks worked throughout the night clearing the accumulated snow from the vicinity of Sterling Middle School.

Too often we hear people complaining about the mayor in connection with the mounds of snow. We all know who these people are, but remember, Mr. Koch is mayor, not a magician.

The transformation after the cleanup was amazing. Thank you, heavy equipment crews, and you Mayor Koch. Keep up your marvelous work.

John H. Boyle
Granite Street
Quincy

SUBSCRIPTION FORM

FILL OUT THIS SUBSCRIPTION BLANK AND MAIL TO

The Quincy Sun

Historic Quincy's Hometown Weekly Newspaper Since 1968

1372 HANCOCK STREET, QUINCY, MA 02169

NAME _____

STREET _____

CITY _____ STATE _____ ZIP _____

CHECK ONE BOX IN EACH COLUMN

[ ] 1 YEAR IN QUINCY $27.00
[ ] 1 YEAR OUTSIDE QUINCY $32.00 [ ] CHECK ENCLOSED
[ ] 1 YEAR OUT OF STATE $40.00

Arts & Entertainment

MERCEDES COLLINS and other residents at Marina Bay Skilled Nursing and Rehabilitation Center showed their festive spirit wearing colorful face masks and hats at the facility's annual Mardi Gras Parade. Photo Courtesy Sarah Moran

ENC Valentine's Day Concert Tonight

Eastern Nazarene College's A Cappella Choir and Chamber Singers will present their annual Valentine's Day concert tonight (Thursday) at 7:30 p.m. at Union Congregational Church, 136 Rawson Rd. in Quincy.

The concert was rescheduled due to the recent snowstorms.

The performance will feature a wide variety of love songs – including classical, folk, and contemporary arrangements – under the direction of Dr. Timothy Shetler.

ENC's A Cappella Choir and Chamber Singers tour regularly in the New England and Mid-Atlantic states. In addition to performing internationally, the choirs have performed at New York City's Carnegie Hall and Lincoln Center, and at Boston's historic Jordan Hall at New England Conservatory.

A suggested donation of $15 to $20 will be taken at the door. Seniors and students with a valid school ID are invited to make a donation of their choice.

For more information, contact the ENC Box Office at 617-745-3715.

Find us on Facebook

Highlights of Local Programming found on . . . QATV

Quincy Access Television
88 Washington Street
Quincy, MA 02169
617-376-1440

Public Access Channel 8

Thursday, February 26
7:00pm: NQHS Honors Coach Ted Stevenson Sr.
8:30pm: Q vs. NQ Boys Basketball 2/13

Friday, February 27
6:00am: LIVE: AM Quincy (audio only)
11:30am: LIVE: Currently in Quincy

Saturday, February 28
12:00pm: Mind & Money Matters
7:00pm: Into the Frying Pan

Sunday, March 1
12:00pm: Cycling Segments
3:30pm: Sound Advice with Tom Williams

Monday, March 2
11:30am: LIVE: Currently in Quincy
7:00pm: LIVE: Eye on Quincy

Tuesday, March 3
6:00pm: Eye on Quincy (replay)
8:00pm: Quincy in Focus

Wednesday, March 4
6:00pm: Good News
10:00pm: The Constitution: Then & Now

Government Access Channel 11

Thursday, February 26
7:00pm: Quincy Honors.. Hospital Hill Neighborhood Assoc.
8:00pm: Crime Watch: Winter Safety

Friday, February 27
6:00pm: City View with Mayor Koch
6:30pm: FYI:QHD Cold Sores
7:00pm: License Board 2/24

Saturday/Sunday, February 28, March 1
9:00am: City View with Mayor Koch
11:00am: At Your Library: March Happenings
4:00pm: License Board 2/24
5:30pm: Quincy in Focus
11:00pm: License Board 2/24

Monday, March 2
6:00pm: Crime Watch: Winter Safety
7:30pm: LIVE: City Council

Tuesday, March 3
12:00pm: City Council 3/2
7:00pm: Coming Home for Good

Wednesday, March 4
7:00pm: City Council 3/2

Programming is subject to change. For a complete list of programs, please consult our website at www.qatv.org

Children's Events, Programs At Library

By JULIE RINES

The following events and programs for children are scheduled during March at the Thomas Crane Public Libary.

Winter Storytimes

Weekday storytimes for children ages 4 months through 5 years old continue through March 12th. The library offers several programs by age. Stop by the library or check our website thomascranelibrary.org for details.

Dr. Seuss Birthday Party

It is Dr. Seuss' birthday and we are having a Cat in the Hat birthday bonanza on Saturday March 7th Stop by the Main Library children's room from 10 a.m. to noon to make some Seuss crafts, hear some music from Seussical the Musical and participate in more zany Seuss fun.

Please note this special celebration is happening in place of our regularly scheduled Saturday Fun for Little Ones event.

Book Clubs for Kids

Do you like to read? Would you like to talk to others about books? Then you will like our book discussion groups. Join us each month to discuss all kinds of books.

The Night Owls Book Club for children in grades 3 and 4 meets on the 2nd Monday of each month. This month we will be meeting on Monday, March 9th at 6:30pm

This month we will be reading Because of Winn Dixie by Kate DiCamillo. Please stop by the children's room to pick up a copy of the book to read before our meeting.

The Phoenix Book Club for children in grades 5-8 usually meets on the second Tuesday of each month to discuss a variety of books. In March The Club will meet on the third Tuesday, March 17th at 7:00 p.m. at the Main Library.

Our theme will be Historical Fiction - World War II

We've got a serious theme this month: Go back in time to the 1930s and 1940s with books about World War II. It's called a world war for a reason; not all of our books take place in Europe. Try a book set in Asia or the United States and learn about what was going on during the war all over the world.

Saturday Storytime

Join Diana Kane for a family storytime full of stories, songs, rhymes and more for children ages 2-5 accompanied by an adult on Saturday, March 14th at 10 a.m. at the Main Library.

No registration required. Sponsored by the Friends of the Thomas Crane Public Library.

Celebrate Circles on Pi Day

Drop in and explore circles for Pi Day! Play with our big circle puzzles on the tables in the Children's Room and make your own paper plate Pi pie to take home!

Do you mean Pie? No we mean the mathematical concept of Pi! Pi is a constant that shows the ratio of the circumference of a circle to its diameter. Pi is a non repeating decimal number whose first few digits are 3.1415 so we have decided to celebrate circles on March 14th.

Think the math is too complicated for you – don't worry about it and just stop by to play with circles.

Teddy Bear Storytime @North Quincy

Join Children's librarian Cathy deVeer and Quinn Z. Bear at the North Quincy Branch for stories and songs for children ages 2-5 on Tuesday, March 17th from 6:30 - 7:30 p.m. for a storytime full of dragons.

Feel free to wear your comfy jammies and bring along your favorite stuffed friend, as we read stories about tricky leprechauns.

Preschool Discovery @ Wollaston

Drop by the Wollaston Branch Library on a Wednesday evening with your preschooler any time between 6:30 and 7:30 p.m. to do some fun simple science together. Activities, experiments and instructions will be provided for science you can do with your child.

This month come in on March 18th when we will be learning about animals. Come and eat like a whale, look at animal tracks and find out how animals stay warm in the cold.

This program does not require registration

Mad Science Preschool for ages 3-5: Mineral Mania

Discover Planet Earth! Peek beneath its crust and uncover what it's made of.

This Mad Science of Greater Boston workshop introduces children ages 3-5 to the world of geology, including geological formation, classification systems and the fundamental characteristics of rocks and minerals, through hands-on fun, discussions and demonstrations.

They'll experience the thrill of panning for gems; and the gems they find, they'll get to take home and keep for further study and identification!

This 45-minute workshop for ages 3-5 will be held on Saturday, March 21st at 9:30 a.m. at the Main Library.

Tickets are required and must be picked up in the Children's Room on the morning of the program. Due to space limitations, this program is limited to Quincy residents.

Parents if you have both preschool and school age Mad Scientists we suggest that you attend the school age Mad Science program at 10:30 a.m. as a family.

Sponsored by the Friends of the Thomas Crane Public Library.

Mad Science Workshops for ages 6-10: Mad Machines

Find out how simple machines make our lives easier.

In this Mad Science of Greater Boston workshop, children ages 6-10 will get the opportunity to try out different types of simple machines: levers, screws, incline planes, wheels and axles, and pulleys through various hands-on activities in this excellent introduction to basic physical science.

They will learn about the role that simple machines play in everyday life, and will apply this knowledge by building their own mini-machine to take home.

This one-hour workshop for ages 6-10 will be held on Saturday, March 21st at 10:30 a.m. at the Main Library.

Tickets are required and must be picked up in the Children's Room beginning at 10 a.m. on the morning of the program.

Due to space limitations, this program is limited to Quincy residents.

Parents if you have both preschool and school age Mad Scientists we suggest that you attend the school age Mad Science program at 10:30 a.m. as a family.

Sponsored by the Friends of the Thomas Crane Public Library.

Saturday Storytime @ North Quincy

Join us for a family storytime full of silly stories for April Fool's Day. This program is for children ages 2-5 accompanied by an adult on Saturday, March 28th at 10 a.m. at the North Quincy Branch Library.

No registration required.

Spring Storytimes

Weekday storytimes for children ages 4 months through 5 years old begin on Monday, March 30th.

The library offers several programs by age. Stop by the library or check our website thomascranelibrary.org for details. Due to overcrowding advance registration is required for Mother Goose on the Loose and Just for Twos storytimes.

Registration will begin at 9 am Tuesday, March 17th. Register online, by phone at 617-376-2411 or in person in the Main Library Children's Room.

Registration is limited to Quincy residents.

Registration for Spring Explorers

Beginning Tuesday, March 17th register for the Afternoon Explorers online, by phone at 617-376-1330 or in person at the Wollaston Branch. Registration is required and limited to Quincy residents.

Junior Explorers for ages 3- 5

Mondays, March 30, April 6, 13, 27 and May 4 from 3 to 4 p.m.

Explorers for ages 6 to 8

Wednesdays, April 1, 8, 15, 29 and May 6 from 3 to 4 p.m.

Art – We will be exploring art in both groups this spring. Please dress to get messy with art. Take a look at your favorite picture book.

Artists use all sorts of things to make their pictures. We'll try out collages, clay and other fun stuff, then make our own pictures for a book we've read.

The stories and art projects for the older children will be more involved and may get a bit messy.

Social

Paul, Francine Govostes Donate $4,000 To Quincy Community Action Programs

Paul and Francine Govostes, owners of nine Dunkin' Donuts franchises in Quincy and the Greater Boston area, today announced a $4,000 donation to Quincy Community Action Programs.

The award will benefit QCAP's Emergency Food Center, the organization's food pantry, located at 1 Copeland Street in Quincy. The Food Center provides nutritious food and non-perishable food items to thousands of families every year. Mr. Govostes and Ms. Govostes' locations in Quincy include the Adams Plaza Dunkin'Donuts at 550 Adams St., and the Squantum store at 751 East Squantum St.

KRISANTHI JANKULLA (left), Dunkin' Donuts General Manager, presents a $4,000 donation on behalf of Dunkin' Donuts franchisee owners Paul and Francine Govostes, to Beth Ann Strollo, Executive Director, Quincy Community Action Programs. Photo Courtesy Quincy Community Action Programs

A GROUP OF residents from The Moorings at Squantum Gardens, a senior living community located in Marina Bay, recently celebrated Valentine's Day with sweet treats, hot chocolate and a festive arts and crafts project. In response to a call for submissions from the Ruckersville Elementary School in Virginia, the residents crafted special Valentine's Day cards as part of a unique project designed to help students improve their mapping skills by tracking the locations where the cards were sent from. The Moorings residents included historical information about Quincy, a map of the city and a description of the property in their cards. From left to right are residents Barbara Coleman, Marilyn Haletky, Elaine Poplawski, Janet Powers, Gerry Fergeron and Angie Tresca. Photo Courtesy The Moorings At Squantum Gardens

42 Quincy Students On Fontbonne Honor Roll

Forty-two students from Quincy are on the Honor Roll at Fontbonne Academy, Milton.

They are:

Head of School: Claire Lyons, Fan Liu and Rachel Bargoot.

First Honors: Emily Song, Jacqueline Montminy, Julianna Montminy, Ariana Matos, Colleen Furey, Eileen Devane, Elizabeth McNulty, Kate Lydon, Kimberly Nguyen, Alana Adams, Maeve McDonald, Natalie Lunny, Xinyi Zou, Ziqin Xu, Lauren White, Madeleine McBride, Madeline Hutchinson, Mary Fitzgerald.

Second Honors: Caoimhe Lavin, Lauren Donovan, Marykate Kilcommons, Rongjia Zhang, Shayley Monahan, Colleen Stravin, Serena Nguyen, Amanda Cristiani, Grace Mazza, Meghan Foley.

Honorable Mention: Ashley Leung, Ciara Flaherty , Jacqueline Choi, Abigail Walsh, Aileen Farrell, Xiaolan Ke, Alison Keener, Wanting Wang, Alana Sullivan, Bridget Flynn, and Sarah McGowan.

Alzheimer's Discussion At Kennedy Center

Dr. Robert Stern, Professor of Neurology and Neurosurgery at Boston University School of Medicine and Director of the Clinical Core of Boston University Alzheimer Disease Center, will be at the Kennedy Center, 440 East Squantum St., Quincy, on Tuesday, March 10th at 10 a.m. for an informative discussion on Alzheimer's disease.

Dr. Stern has appeared on national and international media, including CNN, Frontline, and Good Morning America for his work on Alzheimer's disease. He also appears in the full-length documentaries "Head Games" and "I Remember When I Paint."

Dr. Stern will share his vast knowledge on this disease.

Registration is required for this presentation as space is limited. To register, call The Kennedy Center at (617) 376-1506.

St. Patrick's Day Celebration March 17

The Quincy Council on Aging will celebrate St. Patrick's Day on Tuesday, March 17th at 12:30 p.m. at the Kennedy Center, 440 East Squantum St., Quincy.

The fun filled afternoon will include a catered corned beef and cabbage dinner, as well as an Irish sing-a-long with Tom Clasby, Don Timmins and Mark Carey.

Tickets are required for the event and are available at the Kennedy Center. For more information, call the Kennedy Center at (617) 376-1506.

Spring Fling At Kennedy Center

The Quincy Council on Aging will celebrate Spring at the Kennedy Center, 440 East Squantum St., Quincy, on Friday, March 20th at 12:30 pm.

The event will include a light lunch, door prizes and a Dixieland Band.

Tickets are $5 and are available at the Kennedy Center.

For more information on this event call (617) 376-1506.

Quincy Lunar New Year Festival Sunday

The 27th Quincy Lunar New Year Festival will be held Sunday, March 1 at North Quincy High School.

Hosted by Quincy Asian Resources, more than 8,000 people are expected to attend the festival. It is considered one of the largest Lunar New Year Festivals in the region.

The festival will open with a traditional Lion Dance at 10:45 a.m., followed by hours of live entertainment, exhibits, activities and information for people of all backgrounds and cultures to enjoy.

The festival is part of the global celebration of the Lunar Year of the Goat. Occupying the 8th position in the Chinese Zodiac, the spirit of the goat symbolizes such character traits as creativity, intelligence, dependability, and calmness.

This year's festival celebrates 2,000 years of Chinese Literature with a New Culture Area featuring paper-making, Chinese calligraphy and painting, and activities provided by the Thomas Crane Public Library. There will also be a Frozen-themed Children's Area provided by the South Shore YMCA, over 300 Performers, and several exhibits from local businesses and organizations in the area.

There will also be a food court featuring traditional foods.

The entire festival is free to the public thanks to Presenting Sponsor South Cove Community Health Center, along with dozens of other businesses, community organizations, and government and social service agencies, many of which will be available with information tables within the exhibit area.

In the event of bad weather, the event may be rescheduled for Sunday, March 8. Announcements on QARI's Facebook page and local media channels. Information is available at www.quincyasianresources.org.

Essential Skills For Family Caregivers Workshop

The Alzheimer's Association is presenting a series of workshops on Essential Skills for Family Caregivers.

The first workshop in this series will be held Wednesday, March 11 from 6:00 - 8:00 p.m., at the Granite Medical Group, 300 Crown Colony Dr., Quincy. Two additional workshops will follow at the same time and place March 18 and 25.

The Essential Skills for Family Caregivers series provides education and practical tools to those caring for someone with dementia.

The goal of the series is to Improve day-to-day living and overall quality of life for the person with dementia and the caregiver. The series covers communication techniques, strategies to manage difficult behaviors and safety in the home. Essential Skills is free and intended for family caregivers.

To register or for more information call 800-272-3900.

QUINT'S
House of Flowers
Family Owned & Operated Since 1919
761 Southern Artery
QUINCY
617-773-7620

Neighborhood Club of Quincy
Nestled in a quiet neighborhood in historic Quincy, the Neighborhood Club has been creating unforgettable memories since 1917.
We take pride in making each and every wedding or event unique and memorable.
Whether you are looking for a spacious ballroom for up to 200, or a setting for a smaller group of guests, the Neighborhood Club has the perfect place to hold your event.
Book Your Wedding and Enjoy a Complimentary Champagne Toast
(Mention this ad)
617.773.9300
27 Glendale Road, Quincy, MA 02169 www.ncquincy.com

Morrisette Post #294 and Quincy Veterans
BINGO!
CASH Prizes & Raffles!
First Friday of every month
7–10 PM
Bring your LUCKY Daubers or buy on-site
Single pack of 10 sheets (12 games per sheet) $10.00
Bonus game sheets $5.00 each
Food, beverages and desserts for sale
(coffee is always FREE)
Bar service available
ALL ARE WELCOME!
The American Legion Morrisette Post #294
81 Liberty Street Quincy MA 02169 (617) 770-4876
Find us on Facebook www.facebook.com/morrisettepost

WHAT'S COOKING

with

Marie & Suzie

By MARIE D'OLIMPIO and SUZIE FALCO

Seafood Combo

By MARIE

During the snow marathon many of us had cabin fever and cooked more than usual. My niece Jen was no exception when she made a seafood entree with peppers and sweet potatoes. She used scallops and scrod.

SEAFOOD COMBO

1/2 pound scallops (she used Bay scallops)
1/2 pound scrod
1 medium sweet potato (diced)
1 green bell pepper (diced)
1 red bell pepper (diced)
1 medium onion (sliced)
2-3 tablespoons olive oil for the pepper mix
2 tablespoons vegetable oil for the fish flour for the coating.
1 egg with 1/4 cup of milk for coating
salt and pepper

First coat the fish by placing it in the egg and milk mixture, and then the flour. Set aside.

In the hot oil, saute the onion, peppers, sweet potato until tender and done. While this is cooking, cook the scallops and scrod. When done, place the fish over the pepper mixture. The colors make this dish nice to look at and wonderful to eat.

Lima Bean Soup

By SUZIE

Lima beans are named after the city of Lima, Peru. They were introduced to the United States in the 19th century and many people are not great "fans" of this remarkable food.

They are high in soluble fiber and protein content make it a great choice for diabetics due to way the carbohydrates in the bean do not rapidly spike after a meal. They are rich in a mineral called molybdenum which helps people to detoxify sulfites. Studies show that the insoluble fiber in lima beans help with digestion and IBS, as well as they are a great source of calcium and manganese and other trace minerals for strong bones that is lacking in milk products.

Here is a dip that may just make you enjoy lima beans more often. Creamy and delicious, as well as pretty simple to boot! Serve with toasted bread, crackers, or sliced vegetables. Even great topped on a salad or as a side dish.

LIMA BEAN DIP

1 10 ounce package frozen lima beans
4 cloves garlic, crushed and peeled
1/4 teaspoon crushed red pepper
2-3 tablespoons extra-virgin olive oil
1 tablespoon of lemon juice
1 teaspoon ground cumin
½-1 teaspoon salt, or to taste
Freshly ground pepper, to taste
1 tablespoon chopped fresh mint
1 tablespoon chopped fresh cilantro
1 tablespoon chopped fresh dill

Cook beans in salted water for about ten minutes or so until done. (Follow package directions) Drain and let cool down. Add the beans to your food processor along with everything else. Pulse until smooth and not too chunky, depending on how you like it. Adjust seasonings. Enjoy!

WOLLASTON GARDEN CLUB (WGC) has been awarded a Historic Preservation Grant. The grant is for future work restoring the garden walkway in the garden the WGC installed and maintains at the Josiah Quincy House on Muirhead Street in Wollaston (above).

Quincy Sun File Photo/Robert Bosworth

Wollaston Garden Club Receives Grant For Quincy House Garden Improvements

Preservation Money To Restore Walkway In Garden

At the 2014 Fall Conference of the Garden Club Federation of MA (GCFM) in Framingham, the Wollaston Garden Club (WGC) was awarded an Historic Preservation Grant.

The competitive grant is for future work restoring the garden walkway in the garden the WGC installed and maintains at the Josiah Quincy House on Muirhead Street in Wollaston.

Each year, the GCFM awards grants to encourage garden clubs to pursue historic preservation projects by providing "seed" money for new or a new phase of an on-going permanent planting project.

Since 2008 the Wollaston Garden Club has worked cooperatively with Historic New England in restoring a circa 1920's garden at the side of the property. Under the leadership of Cynthia Lewis, WGC Horticulture Chair and Master Gardener, the garden has evolved into a charming four-season garden. However the walkways through the small garden are in need of restoration and with site materials advice from Historic New England, and grant money from the GCFM this will become a reality later this year.

WGC Awards Chairperson Colleen Lawler said "This project has helped us learn so much about the ongoing history of the Josiah Quincy House and its landscape – nestled in a quiet Wollaston neighborhood where urban development has taken its toll on a once massive Quincy Family estate."

32 Quincy Students On Woodward School Honor Roll

Thirty-two students from Quincy made honor roll for the second quarter at the Woodward School, Quincy.

HIGH HONORS

Grade 6: Samaya Jabbar, Jacqueline O'Dwyer, Swetha Vissapragada.

Grade 8: Xinyi Chen, Ajijolaoluwa Laguda, Yasmin Wagner.

Grade 11: Rachael McIver, Rahel Sirack, Yuk Ha Tsui, Wanqing Wu, Shuman Zhang.

Grade 12: Joanna O'Brien.

HONORS

Grade 6: Reina Bouma, Daria Ramiz, Kiera Wilkinson.

Grade 7: Floridalia Bouma, Jody Serani.

Grade 9: Siobhan Ashman, Jane Guay, Maura Hegarty, Danielle Rivera, Huiyuan Zhang.

Grade 10: Lindsey Downey, Teah Serani.

Grade 11: Ally Graf, Maeve Hegarty, Victoria Hubley, Danielle Maloney, Abby Rose Plourde.

Grade 12: Rachel Hoban, Uchechukwu Onwunaka, Emma Will.

Quincy College Hosting Financial Aid Days

Quincy College will host Financial Aid Days at each of its campuses offering free help applying for financial aid for college.

The first event will take place on the Quincy campus, 1250 Hancock St. on Saturday, Feb. 28th from 10 a.m. to 1 p.m. The second will be held Saturday, March 7th from 10 a.m. to 1 p.m. at college's Plymouth Campus, 36 Cordage Park Circle.

College applicants will have free access to experienced financial aid advisors for assistance with completing the Free Application for Federal Student Aid (FAFSA) and the opportunity to submit a completed form to up to ten colleges.

The events are free and open to the public.

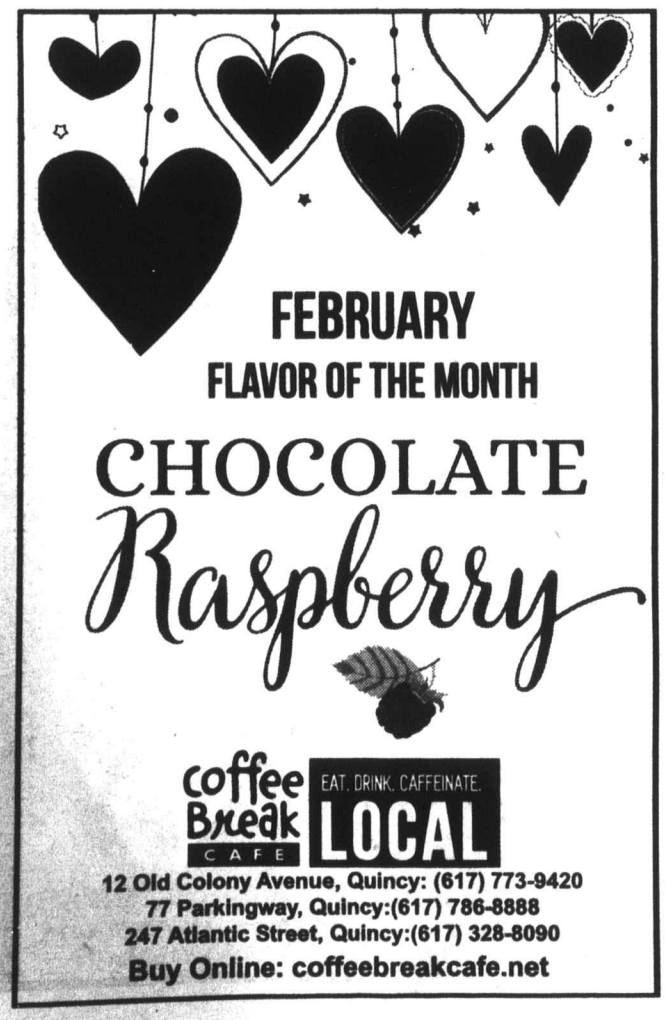
The Free Application for Federal Student Aid, also known as the FAFSA, is a free form that is prepared annually by current and prospective college students (undergraduate and graduate) in the United States to determine eligibility for student financial aid. In order to apply for federal student aid, completing the FAFSA is a mandatory first step.

Although the form can be quick and easy for some, most need guidance on where and how to start. At the Quincy College Financial Aid Day, counselors will be on hand to guide applicants on the financial aid process and the next steps after filing the FAFSA. Applicants must be a U.S. citizen or permanent resident to participate.

Students and parents should each bring their: Social security number, driver's license number, FAFSA pin (can be obtained from www.pin.ed.gov), 2014 federal tax return, 2014 W-2 or year-end pay stub, untaxed income records (if applicable), bank statements (if applicable), business and investment records (if applicable), and alien registration card (if not a U.S. citizen).

Quincy College is conveniently located off the MBTA red line and commuter rail line at Quincy Center, the commuter rail line at Plymouth, and GATRA bus line. Campus tours will also be held during this event.

To RSVP, contact Pat Hansbury at 1-617-984-1623 or phansbury@quincycollege.edu. Registration and more information can be found online at www.fafsaday.org.



State Housing Official New QHA Facilities Director

By SCOTT JACKSON

The Quincy Housing Authority's new director of facilities is no stranger to the city, having helped the housing agency address widespread maintenance problems at its properties over the course of last year.

The Housing Authority's commissioner voted in favor of hiring James Marathas to the newly created director of facilities position on Feb. 18. Marathas accepted the five-year contract Monday, according to QHA Executive Director James Lydon. Marathas will earn $105,000 in the first year of the new contract.

Two changes to the new deal – one allowing Marathas to take vacation time within his first six months on the job at the discretion of executive director and the second calling for annual performance reviews to determine compensation – will need to be approved by the board of commissioners. Lydon said he reached out to all five of them about the changes and they were onboard; the commissioners will meet today (Thursday) at 5 p.m. to sign off on the revisions.

Marathas most recently served as the director of facilities management for the state's Department of Housing and Community Development (DHCD). In that capacity last year, Marathas helped the Quincy Housing Authority fix widespread maintenance issues identified during inspections during the spring of 2014.

Marathas was one of 28 applicants to apply for the new position, which will oversee maintenance and modernization programs at the Quincy Housing Authority. Lydon credited Marathas for the work he did last year after the DHCD report was issued. Marathas and DHCD worked to fix problems in state-funded units as well as preparing federally funded units for U.S. Department of Housing and Urban Development (HUD) Real Estate Assessment Center (REAC) inspections last summer.

"DHCD stepped in and they, quite frankly, became like our partner," Lydon said. "James Marathas stepped in and worked with them hand-and-hand through all of the inspections and the remediation that had to go in after that. We're still in remediation with all the results we found in the inspections.

"Our first job was to repair all the life safety issues. We had a lot of smoke and CO detectors, which were not operational so we hired some extra electricians and just went in and blitzed all the Housing Authority properties.

"In the context of last summer, we were also being subject to REAC inspections. A REAC inspection is a normal, typical inspection HUD gets involved in, typically on a one-, two-, or three-year basis. DHCD actually stepped in and helped us get our federal buildings up to standards so that all our buildings passed. We then focused back on the state stuff.

"At the time I'm working almost on a daily basis with this James Marathas. I liked the guy. He had been with DHCD for about 10 years. He was really well versed in all of the stuff we were looking at as well as the remediation. He had, prior to his experience with DHCD, a background in real estate development and real estate property ownership – principally residential stuff but he did have some commercial stuff as well."

Prior to the recent reorganization, the Housing Authority had separate directors for maintenance and modernization as well as an outside company that provided inspections.

"We decided we needed to do things differently," Lydon explained. "I had a maintenance director and a modernization director, which were essentially on the same level within the organization and they constantly bounced themselves back and forth. I also had an outside consulting company doing inspections and they were answerable to the maintence department.

"We, through the DHCD inspections, found that we had tremendous inconsistencies in the inspection reports we had gotten from this outside, independent inspection agency. Gradually, we came to the conclusion that the maintence department didn't

Cont'd On Page 29

Bed Bug Extermination Begins At O'Brien Towers

By SCOTT JACKSON

The extermination of bed bugs at O'Brien Towers will begin as early as tomorrow (Friday) and could continue for up to 30 days.

The Quincy Housing Authority on Feb. 20 hired A-1 Exterminators of Lynn for removing bed bugs from the Bicknell Street building in Germantown. The company will kill the pests using a combination of high heat and chemicals. Residents in infested units – and in units above, below, and adjacent to them – received notices this week with details on the extermination, according to QHA Executive Director James Lydon. A firm has been brought on to assist residents with prep work needed before the extermination can begin; that prep work was for set to begin yesterday (Wednesday) with extermination starting tomorrow (Friday).

The brown, oval-shaped bugs grow to about the size of an apple seed and live in furniture. While they are not known to transmit diseases, bed bugs do bite. The bite marks appear as small, itchy red spots. The cause of the bed bug problem at O'Brien Towers is unknown.

"Bed bugs, they can be in hotel rooms. You can bring bed bugs from your hotel room to your home. It's a bug that spreads because of people's activities or the movement of furniture," Lydon explained.

"In the building we had a furniture swap room in which people would drop off the old furniture they didn't want any longer and then it would be available to anyone who needed it, wanted it, or liked it. We did away with that about a year ago because we figured that was probably one of the principle sources of it.

"We have never really been able to identify the source, but at this point you rectify the problem."

Another area of concern, Lydon later added, is the building's first floor library. The library's furniture had been treated in the past, he explained, but the bed bugs were able to take refuge in books.

To help with the bed bug problem, Lydon replaced the Housing Authority's previous pest control company with A-1 Exterminators. A-1 brought in specially trained beagles to sniff out the bed bugs; 33 of O'Brien Towers' 274 units were found to have bed bugs.

"Their first suggestion was they bring the dogs in," Lydon said. "They brought three beagles into the building and they inspected every single unit in the building. They issued a report to me about two weeks ago with their findings. They found 33 units in the building had active bed bug infestations."

The units next to, above and below the 33 infested units will need to be treated as well to prevent the bed bugs from spreading. In total, it will cost more than $100,000 to exterminate the units inside the building, which will be paid for using U.S. Department of Housing and Urban Development (HUD) funds. Lydon said the Housing Authority was able to bypass the normal HUD bidding procedures because Quincy's Health Department notified the federal agency that the infestation represented an emergency situation.

A-1 was one of several companies to bid on the project; Lydon said the company was chosen because their protocol is more comprehensive than other firm's. It could take 30 days for all units – the 33 with infestations and the four neighboring units – to be treated.

"When they get into the building they will do on average nine units a day, which leads them to believe it will take 30 days to complete the entire building," Lydon said. "At that point they bring the dogs back in and they do a re-inspection."

Residents will be out of their apartments for up to 12 hours while their room is being treated.

"They have to be out for a period of about 10 to 12 hours while the unit is being treated," Lydon explained. "This outfit, A-1, are really capable people. They will be using heat and chemicals. Bed bugs will die if exposed to temperatures over 130 degrees Fahrenheit.

"What they do is actually superheat the units and then use chemicals in areas like switch plates and places like that that might not be heated to the extent the remainder the unit is heated."

The sprinkler system inside the building may need to be shut down because of the high temperatures, but Lydon said that would be unlikely.

"We will have to bring in our sprinkler company because those temperatures may set off sprinklers in the building. So we'll have the sprinkler company in the building," he said.

"If for some reason we have to shut the sprinkler system down we'll certainly put a fire watch in the building, but as of right now we don't think we'll have to shut the sprinklers down."

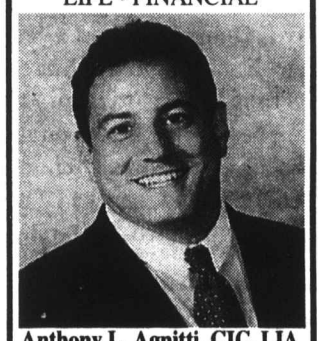
The Quincy Housing Authority does receive occasional complaints about bed bugs in properties besides O'Brien Towers, Lydon noted. But only O'Brien Towers has had such a persistent problem.

"We will have occasional calls from other properties. We have A-1 on staff. They come out here once a week and inspect the units we have some suspicion of," Lydon said.

"We may get a call from Pagnano, we may get a call from Tobin. We go out and inspect it and treat it if we find it. But in other buildings, the bed bug problem would go away and it wouldn't re-emerge for another year.

"At O'Brien, it was just consistent. Not huge – not a great number at any one point in time – but it was just consistent. That's what raised our suspicion level."

AGNITTI INSURANCE
HOME • AUTO • BUSINESS
LIFE • FINANCIAL



Anthony L. Agnitti, CIC, LIA
Certified Insurance Counselor
Licensed Insurance Advisor
CALL FOR A QUOTE ON PROPER INSURANCE COVERAGE AT COMPETITIVE PRICES!
ASK ABOUT OUR AUTO AND HOMEOWNER INSURANCE DISCOUNT PROGRAMS
24-Hour Emergency Access
770-0123
21 FRANKLIN ST., QUINCY

Furnace Brook Physical Therapy

Announces

NEW HAND THERAPY CLINIC

JAY BERNASCONI, D.P.T., OCS
is pleased to announce the addition of
KATHY KOWALSKI, OTR/L, CHT
to our staff.

KATHY KOWALSKI, OTR/L, CHT

Kathy is a highly respected Certified Hand Therapist who has treated complex nerve and tendon injuries, fracture and dislocations, arthritis, and advanced hand/elbow injuries at Quincy Medical Center for the past 20 years.

Kathy will also be fabricating Static and Dynamic Splints onsite when needed and will be taking new patients beginning January 5, 2015.

To schedule an appointment with Kathy, simply call our office at 617.770.4167

104 Quarry Street, Quincy, MA 02169
617.770.4167
www.furnacebrookpt.com

WHAT'S COOKING

with

Marie & Suzie

By MARIE D'OLIMPIO and SUZIE FALCO

Seafood Combo

By MARIE

During the snow marathon many of us had cabin fever and cooked more than usual. My niece Jen was no exception when she made a seafood entree with peppers and sweet potatoes. She used scallops and scrod.

SEAFOOD COMBO

1/2 pound scallops (she used Bay scallops)
1/2 pound scrod
1 medium sweet potato (diced)
1 green bell pepper (diced)
1 red bell pepper (diced)
1 medium onion (sliced)
2-3 tablespoons olive oil for the pepper mix
2 tablespoons vegetable oil for the fish flour for the coating.
1 egg with 1/4 cup of milk for coating
salt and pepper

First coat the fish by placing it in the egg and milk mixture, and then the flour. Set aside.

In the hot oil, saute the onion, peppers, sweet potato until tender and done. While this is cooking, cook the scallops and scrod. When done, place the fish over the pepper mixture. The colors make this dish nice to look at and wonderful to eat.

Lima Bean Soup

By SUZIE

Lima beans are named after the city of Lima, Peru. They were introduced to the United States in the 19th century and many people are not great "fans" of this remarkable food.

They are high in soluble fiber and protein content make it a great choice for diabetics due to way the carbohydrates in the bean do not rapidly spike after a meal. They are rich in a mineral called molybdenum which helps people to detoxify sulfites. Studies show that the insoluble fiber in lima beans help with digestion and IBS, as well as they are a great source of calcium and manganese and other trace minerals for strong bones that is lacking in milk products.

Here is a dip that may just make you enjoy lima beans more often. Creamy and delicious, as well as pretty simple to boot! Serve with toasted bread, crackers, or sliced vegetables. Even great topped on a salad or as a side dish.

LIMA BEAN DIP

1 10 ounce package frozen lima beans
4 cloves garlic, crushed and peeled
1/4 teaspoon crushed red pepper
2-3 tablespoons extra-virgin olive oil
1 tablespoon of lemon juice
1 teaspoon ground cumin
½-1 teaspoon salt, or to taste
Freshly ground pepper, to taste
1 tablespoon chopped fresh mint
1 tablespoon chopped fresh cilantro
1 tablespoon chopped fresh dill

Cook beans in salted water for about ten minutes or so until done. (Follow package directions) Drain and let cool down. Add the beans to your food processor along with everything else. Pulse until smooth and not too chunky, depending on how you like it. Adjust seasonings. Enjoy!

32 Quincy Students On Woodward School Honor Roll

Thirty-two students from Quincy made honor roll for the second quarter at the Woodward School, Quincy.

HIGH HONORS

Grade 6: Samaya Jabbar, Jacqueline O'Dwyer, Swetha Vissapragada.

Grade 8: Xinyi Chen, Ajijolaoluwa Laguda, Yasmin Wagner.

Grade 11: Rachael McIver, Rahel Sirack, Yuk Ha Tsui, Wanqing Wu, Shuman Zhang.

Grade 12: Joanna O'Brien.

HONORS

Grade 6: Reina Bouma, Daria Ramiz, Kiera Wilkinson.

Grade 7: Floridalia Bouma, Jody Serani.

Grade 9: Siobhan Ashman, Jane Guay, Maura Hegarty, Danielle Rivera, Huiyuan Zhang.

Grade 10: Lindsey Downey, Teah Serani.

Grade 11: Ally Graf, Maeve Hegarty, Victoria Hubley, Danielle Maloney, Abby Rose Plourde.

Grade 12: Rachel Hoban, Uchechukwu Onwunaka, Emma Will.

WOLLASTON GARDEN CLUB (WGC) has been awarded a Historic Preservation Grant. The grant is for future work restoring the garden walkway in the garden the WGC installed and maintains at the Josiah Quincy House on Muirhead Street in Wollaston (above).

Quincy Sun File Photo/Robert Bosworth

Wollaston Garden Club Receives Grant For Quincy House Garden Improvements

Preservation Money To Restore Walkway In Garden

At the 2014 Fall Conference of the Garden Club Federation of MA (GCFM) in Framingham, the Wollaston Garden Club (WGC) was awarded an Historic Preservation Grant.

The competitive grant is for future work restoring the garden walkway in the garden the WGC installed and maintains at the Josiah Quincy House on Muirhead Street in Wollaston.

Each year, the GCFM awards grants to encourage garden clubs to pursue historic preservation projects by providing "seed" money for new or a new phase of an on-going permanent planting project.

Since 2008 the Wollaston Garden Club has worked cooperatively with Historic New England in restoring a circa 1920's garden at the side of the property. Under the leadership of Cynthia Lewis, WGC Horticulture Chair and Master Gardener, the garden has evolved into a charming four-season garden. However the walkways through the small garden are in need of restoration and with site materials advice from Historic New England, and grant money from the GCFM this will become a reality later this year.

WGC Awards Chairperson Colleen Lawler said "This project has helped us learn so much about the on-going history of the Josiah Quincy House and its landscape – nestled in a quiet Wollaston neighborhood where urban development has taken its toll on a once massive Quincy Family estate."

Quincy College Hosting Financial Aid Days

Quincy College will host Financial Aid Days at each of its campuses offering free help applying for financial aid for college.

The first event will take place on the Quincy campus, 1250 Hancock St. on Saturday, Feb. 28th from 10 a.m. to 1 p.m. The second will be held Saturday, March 7th from 10 a.m. to 1 p.m. at college's Plymouth Campus, 36 Cordage Park Circle.

College applicants will have free access to experienced financial aid advisors for assistance with completing the Free Application for Federal Student Aid (FAFSA) and the opportunity to submit a completed form to up to ten colleges.

The events are free and open to the public.

The Free Application for Federal Student Aid, also known as the FAFSA, is a free form that is prepared annually by current and prospective college students (undergraduate and graduate) in the United States to determine eligibility for student financial aid. In order to apply for federal student aid, completing the FAFSA is a mandatory first step.

Although the form can be quick and easy for some, most need guidance on where and how to start. At the Quincy College Financial Aid Day, counselors will be on hand to guide applicants on the financial aid process and the next steps after filing the FAFSA. Applicants must be a U.S. citizen or permanent resident to participate.

Students and parents should each bring their: Social security number, driver's license number, FAFSA pin (can be obtained from www.pin.ed.gov), 2014 federal tax return, 2014 W-2 or year-end pay stub, untaxed income records (if applicable), bank statements (if applicable), business and investment records (if applicable), and alien registration card (if not a U.S. citizen).

Quincy College is conveniently located off the MBTA red line and commuter rail line at Quincy Center, the commuter rail line at Plymouth, and GATRA bus line. Campus tours will also be held during this event.

To RSVP, contact Pat Hansbury at 1-617-984-1623 or phansbury@quincycollege.edu. Registration and more information can be found online at www.fafsaday.org.

State Housing Official New QHA Facilities Director

By SCOTT JACKSON

The Quincy Housing Authority's new director of facilities is no stranger to the city, having helped the housing agency address widespread maintenance problems at its properties over the course of last year.

The Housing Authority's commissioner voted in favor of hiring James Marathas to the newly created director of facilities position on Feb. 18. Marathas accepted the five-year contract Monday, according to QHA Executive Director James Lydon. Marathas will earn $105,000 in the first year of the new contract.

Two changes to the new deal – one allowing Marathas to take vacation time within his first six months on the job at the discretion of executive director and the second calling for annual performance reviews to determine compensation – will need to be approved by the board of commissioners. Lydon said he reached out to all five of them about the changes and they were onboard; the commissioners will meet today (Thursday) at 5 p.m. to sign off on the revisions.

Marathas most recently served as the director of facilities management for the state's Department of Housing and Community Development (DHCD). In that capacity last year, Marathas helped the Quincy Housing Authority fix widespread maintenance issues identified during inspections during the spring of 2014.

Marathas was one of 28 applicants to apply for the new position, which will oversee maintenance and modernization programs at the Quincy Housing Authority. Lydon credited Marathas for the work he did last year after the DHCD report was issued. Marathas and DHCD worked to fix problems in state-funded units as well as preparing federally funded units for U.S. Department of Housing and Urban Development (HUD) Real Estate Assessment Center (REAC) inspections last summer.

"DHCD stepped in and they, quite frankly, became like our partner," Lydon said. "James Marathas stepped in and worked with them hand-and-hand through all of the inspections and the remediation that had to go in after that. We're still in remediation with all the results we found in the inspections.

"Our first job was to repair all the life safety issues. We had a lot of smoke and CO detectors, which were not operational so we hired some extra electricians and just went in and blitzed all the Housing Authority properties.

"In the context of last summer, we were also being subject to REAC inspections. A REAC inspection is a normal, typical inspection HUD gets involved in, typically on a one-, two-, or three-year basis. DHCD actually stepped in and helped us get our federal buildings up to standards so that all our buildings passed. We then focused back on the state stuff.

"At the time I'm working almost on a daily basis with this James Marathas. I liked the guy. He had been with DHCD for about 10 years. He was really well versed in all of the stuff we were looking at as well as the remediation. He had, prior to his experience with DHCD, a background in real estate development and real estate property ownership – principally residential stuff but he did have some commercial stuff as well."

Prior to the recent reorganization, the Housing Authority had separate directors for maintenance and modernization as well as an outside company that provided inspections.

"We decided we needed to do things differently," Lydon explained. "I had a maintenance director and a modernization director, which were essentially on the same level within the organization and they constantly bounced themselves back and forth. I also had an outside consulting company doing inspections and they were answerable to the maintence department.

"We, through the DHCD inspections, found that we had tremendous inconsistencies in the inspection reports we had gotten from this outside, independent inspection agency. Gradually, we came to the conclusion that the maintence department didn't

Cont'd On Page 29

Bed Bug Extermination Begins At O'Brien Towers

By SCOTT JACKSON

The extermination of bed bugs at O'Brien Towers will begin as early as tomorrow (Friday) and could continue for up to 30 days.

The Quincy Housing Authority on Feb. 20 hired A-1 Exterminators of Lynn for removing bed bugs from the Bicknell Street building in Germantown. The company will kill the pests using a combination of high heat and chemicals. Residents in infested units – and in units above, below, and adjacent to them – received notices this week with details on the extermination, according to QHA Executive Director James Lydon. A firm has been brought on to assist residents with prep work needed before the extermination can begin; that prep work was for set to begin yesterday (Wednesday) with extermination starting tomorrow (Friday).

The brown, oval-shaped bugs grow to about the size of an apple seed and live in furniture. While they are not known to transmit diseases, bed bugs do bite. The bite marks appear as small, itchy red spots. The cause of the bed bug problem at O'Brien Towers is unknown.

"Bed bugs, they can be in hotel rooms. You can bring bed bugs from your hotel room to your home. It's a bug that spreads because of people's activities or the movement of furniture," Lydon explained.

"In the building we had a furniture swap room in which people would drop off the old furniture they didn't want any longer and then it would be available to anyone who needed it, wanted it, or liked it. We did away with that about a year ago because we figured that was probably one of the principle sources of it.

"We have never really been able to identify the source, but at this point you rectify the problem."

Another area of concern, Lydon later added, is the building's first floor library. The library's furniture had been treated in the past, he explained, but the bed bugs were able to take refuge in books.

To help with the bed bug problem, Lydon replaced the Housing Authority's previous pest control company with A-1 Exterminators. A-1 brought in specially trained beagles to sniff out the bed bugs; 33 of O'Brien Towers' 274 units were found to have bed bugs.

"Their first suggestion was they bring the dogs in," Lydon said. "They brought three beagles into the building and they inspected every single unit in the building. They issued a report to me about two weeks ago with their findings. They found 33 units in the building had active bed bug infestations."

The units next to, above and below the 33 infested units will need to be treated as well to prevent the bed bugs from spreading. In total, it will cost more than $100,000 to exterminate the units inside the building, which will be paid for using U.S. Department of Housing and Urban Development (HUD) funds. Lydon said the Housing Authority was able to bypass the normal HUD bidding procedures because Quincy's Health Department notified the federal agency that the infestation represented an emergency situation.

A-1 was one of several companies to bid on the project; Lydon said the company was chosen because their protocol is more comprehensive than other firm's. It could take 30 days for all units – the 33 with infestations and the four neighboring units – to be treated.

"When they get into the building they will do on average nine units a day, which leads them to believe it will take 30 days to complete the entire building," Lydon said. "At that point they bring the dogs back in and they do a re-inspection."

Residents will be out of their apartments for up to 12 hours while their room is being treated.

"They have to be out for a period of about 10 to 12 hours while the unit is being treated," Lydon explained. "This outfit, A-1, are really capable people. They will be using heat and chemicals. Bed bugs will die if exposed to temperatures over 130 degrees Fahrenheit.

"What they do is actually superheat the units and then use chemicals in areas like switch plates and places like that that might not be heated to the extent the remainder the unit is heated."

The sprinkler system inside the building may need to be shut down because of the high temperatures, but Lydon said that would be unlikely.

"We will have to bring in our sprinkler company because those temperatures may set off sprinklers in the building. So we'll have the sprinkler company in the building," he said.

"If for some reason we have to shut the sprinkler system down we'll certainly put a fire watch in the building, but as of right now we don't think we'll have to shut the sprinklers down."

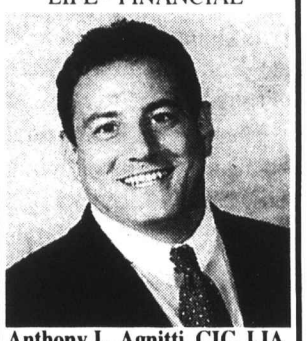
The Quincy Housing Authority does receive occasional complaints about bed bugs in properties besides O'Brien Towers, Lydon noted. But only O'Brien Towers has had such a persistent problem.

"We will have occasional calls from other properties. We have A-1 on staff. They come out here once a week and inspect the units we have some suspicion of," Lydon said.

"We may get a call from Pagnano, we may get a call from Tobin. We go out and inspect it and treat it if we find it. But in other buildings, the bed bug problem would go away and it wouldn't re-emerge for another year.

"At O'Brien, it was just consistent. Not huge – not a great number at any one point in time – but it was just consistent. That's what raised our suspicion level."

AGNITTI INSURANCE
HOME • AUTO • BUSINESS
LIFE • FINANCIAL



Anthony L. Agnitti, CIC, LIA
Certified Insurance Counselor
Licensed Insurance Advisor
CALL FOR A QUOTE ON PROPER INSURANCE COVERAGE AT COMPETITIVE PRICES!
ASK ABOUT OUR AUTO AND HOMEOWNER INSURANCE DISCOUNT PROGRAMS
24-Hour Emergency Access
770-0123
21 FRANKLIN ST., QUINCY

Furnace Brook Physical Therapy

Announces

NEW HAND THERAPY CLINIC

JAY BERNASCONI, D.P.T., OCS
is pleased to announce the addition of
KATHY KOWALSKI, OTR/L, CHT
to our staff.

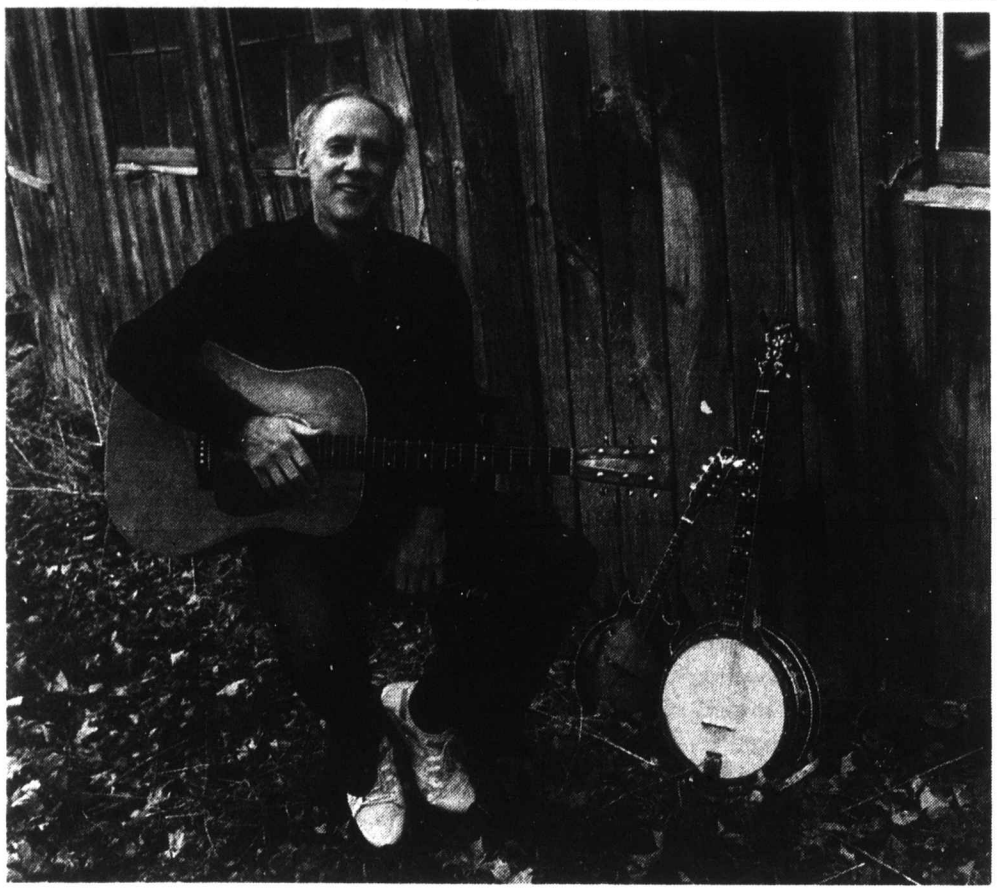
KATHY KOWALSKI, OTR/L, CHT

Kathy is a highly respected Certified Hand Therapist who has treated complex nerve and tendon injuries, fracture and dislocations, arthritis, and advanced hand/elbow injuries at Quincy Medical Center for the past 20 years.

Kathy will also be fabricating Static and Dynamic Splints onsite when needed and will be taking new patients beginning January 5, 2015.

To schedule an appointment with Kathy, simply call our office at 617.770.4167

104 Quarry Street, Quincy, MA 02169
617.770.4167
www.furnacebrookpt.com



FORMER CONNECTICUT State Troubadour Phil Rosenthal will perform music by Pete Seeger Sunday, March 1 at 3 p.m. at the Thomas Crane Public Library, 40 Washington St., Quincy. Photo Courtesy Thomas Crane Public Library

Tribute to Pete Seeger Concert Sunday At Library

Former Connecticut State Troubadour Phil Rosenthal will perform music by Pete Seeger Sunday, March 1 at 3 p.m. at the Thomas Crane Public Library, 40 Washington St., Quincy.

Seeger (1919-2014) was a major figure in America's folk music revival and changed the landscape of American music. A prolific songwriter, song collector, and multi-instrumentalist, Seeger helped bring the five-string banjo into the mainstream of the folk movement. Known primarily as a solo performer, he was also a founding member of several influential groups, including the Almanac Singers and the Weavers.

Rosenthal is a nationally renowned singer, songwriter, recording artist and record producer. For many years the lead singer and guitarist in the popular bluegrass group The Seldom Scene, he is also highly respected for his instrumental skills on banjo and mandolin.

A native of Guilford, CT, Rosenthal began his professional career in the 1970's as mandolin player and singer in the New England-based bluegrass bands Apple Country and Old Dog. In 1977, he joined The Seldom Scene, travelling widely with the group throughout the U.S., Europe, and Japan, including appearances at the Grand Old Opry and the White House. He recorded seven albums with the band, receiving a Grammy nomination for his work on Scene 20.

In 1986, Rosenthal left the group in order to run American Melody, a recording company founded with wife Beth Sommers, devoted to producing bluegrass and folk music for children and families. The label's 22 releases thus far feature Phil and a variety of other noted performers, and have won many awards from the Parents' Choice Foundation, the American Library Association, and other organizations.

Rosenthal is also a successful songwriter whose original compositions have been recorded by many leading bluegrass and country music performers, including Johnny Cash and Bill Monroe. In 1994, the Connecticut Commission on the Arts appointed him the official Connecticut State Troubadour.

The concert is sponsored by the Friends of the Thomas Crane Public Library.

For more information, visit thomascranelibrary.org or call 617-376-1316.

CPR Certification Course March 3

Health Ed of New England will hold a CPR certification course for healthcare providers Tuesday, March 3 from 6 to 10 p.m. at Christ Church, 12 Quincy Ave., Quincy.

Cost is $45 per person. The course requires pre-registration by Monday, March 2.

For more information, call 781-582-1440 or 800-434-6000, or visit www.healthednewengland.com.

Congressional Art Competition Open To High School Students

Congressman Stephen F. Lynch announces the opening of "An Artistic Discovery," the 2015 Annual Congressional Art Competition.

This competition is open to all high school students who reside in the 8th Congressional District. The 8th District includes Quincy.

The art competition winner will have his or her work displayed in the U.S. Capitol for a full year. Additionally, there will be a reception in Washington, D.C., for all art competition winners and their families to celebrate the opening of the exhibit.

The Annual Congressional Art Competition is open for submissions and all entries must be received by Thursday, April 23. Entries can be sent to Congressman Lynch's Boston, Quincy, or Brockton District Offices and put to the attention of Araba Adjei-Koranteng.

Contact Cong. Lynch's office at (617) 428-2000 or refer to his website, http://lynch.house.gov/serving-you/art-competition, for more information on the competition.

"I know from past art competitions that we have some wonderfully gifted and talented artists among the high school students in our Congressional District. I hope that every high school student with a passion for art takes part in this exciting competition," said Cong. Lynch.

"Last year, we had dozens of outstanding entries, and I am so proud to have the artwork of last year's winner, Isabelle Xu of Westwood, representing our District in Washington. The judges praised her piece for its well-done, imaginative composition and excellent draftsmanship. I look forward to viewing all of this year's submissions and displaying one of them in the U.S. Capitol this summer," he added.

Houghs Neck Garden Club Offering Student Award

The Houghs Neck Garden Club (HNGC) is granting Awards to graduating high school seniors from Houghs Neck who have been accepted to a school of higher learning and are concentrating in the field of horticulture, botany, oceanography, environmental studies or an allied field.

Applicants must currently be Houghs Neck residents and have been for at least two years.

Applications are available from local high school counselors or by contacting a member of the HNGC.

Completed, signed applications must be delivered to Carol Johnston, 46 Bay View Ave., Quincy, MA, 02169. The deadline for submitting applications is May 1.

Upon timely receipt of completed applications, accompanied by a written statement of each student's educational goals, the HNGC Student Awards Committee will review and consider materials. Student(s) granted an award will be notified by phone or mail by May 15.

Quincy Art Association Scholarship

In order to better prepare the students for the competitive standards of the study and perusal of arts, the Quincy Art Association is offering a scholarship to a Quincy Public high school senior continuing the study of fine arts.

An application and portfolio can be submitted to Quincy Art Association, c/o Kelly Cobble, 26 High School Ave., Quincy, MA 02169 by March 4 by mail.

A committee of artists will review the answers and the artwork to determine qualifications.

BayState Charitable Foundation Fundraiser

BayState Charitable Foundation will hold a fundraiser Friday, Feb. 27 at the Commonwealth Restaurant & Lounge, located at 79 Parkingway, Quincy.

The cost of the tickets is $10 and sold at the door. Tickets will also be good for the charity game between the Bruins Alumni vs. The BayState All Stars. Those who cannot attend can log onto the Baystate Charitable Foundation site www.baystatefoundation.org and donate online.

Or, if you cannot make the fundraiser and would like to send in a check, make it payable to Baystate Charitable Foundation and mail it to the attention of Richard Mahoney at Baystate Charitable Foundation; 200 Clarendon St., Boston, MA 02116.

The foundation is run by a Quincy native Richard Mahoney. One hundred percent of all revenue raised by the Baystate Charitable Foundation goes right back out to selected charities focused on the needs of Children.

Connor Flynn Receives Trinity Faculty Honors

Connor Flynn of North has been recognized with Faculty Honors for academic excellence at Trinity College in Hartford, CT, for the fall 2014 semester.

'Pirate Fest' March 28 At Houghs Neck Church

Houghs Neck Congregational Church, 310 Manet Ave., Quincy will host a "Pirate Fest" Saturday, March 28 from 10 a.m. to noon.

There will be a pirate school, treasures, crafts, activities and snacks. The event is planned for pirates from preschool thru about grade 3. Cost is $10 per child and $5 per adult.

Pirate costumes are optional (no pistols, swords, daggers or other weapons, please).

Reservations will open on March 1st and are required as space is limited. E-mail Sue at hncc@comcast.net or call at 617-479-2311. E-mail reservations are preferred and all reservations will be confirmed.

Children must be accompanied by and adult.

Greater Quincy Child Care Center

859 Willard St., 1 Adams Place, Quincy (1/2 mi North from the So. Shore Plaza)

- Kindergarten - full day, year round:
  Age req. 5 yrs. old by Oct. 31st.
  Kindergarten cert. Teacher implements MA Curriculum Frameworks
- Preschool: 2.9 to 5 yrs.
- Toddlers: 15 mos. to 2.9 yrs.
- Infants: 8 wks. to 15 mos.
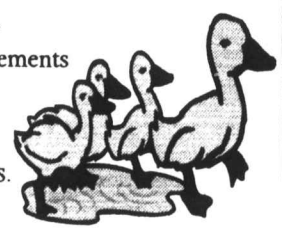
- Full or Part Week • Hot Lunch
- Hours: 7:30 am to 6:00 pm. • Developmental Curriculum
- Music & Large Motor Programs • Small Teacher/Student Ratios
- State-of-the-Art Center • High-Tech Security System



Full-Day - Year-Round Kindergarten
Now accepting registrations for FALL 2015

naeyc Accredited

We are celebrating 30 years of quality care & education
617-773-8386 • e-mail: gqccc@aol.com
www.greaterquincychildcare.com

JOAN'S OLYMPIC GYM
GYMNASTICS & DANCE SCHOOL
WAS VOTED #1 ON THE SOUTH SHORE

Ages 2 – Adult
NOW ACCEPTING REGISTRATIONS!
781-843-9624
"An Excellent Education Environment For Your Child"

197 Quincy Avenue, Braintree • www.joansolympicgym.com

Reliable Tax Service
518 Hancock Street, Quincy
(617)773-7360
www.reliabletaxservice.com
10% Discount (new clients only)
Individual Income Tax $65 up
Corporate Income Tax $350 up
Experienced IRS Enrolled Agent

City Hall Fire Caused $2.5 Million In Damage

By SCOTT JACKSON

The three-alarm fire inside Old City Hall last September caused $2.5 million in damage, which will be covered by the contractor's insurance policy.

The City Council received an update on the ongoing renovation project inside the historic building on Feb. 17. Walter MacDonald of the city's Public Buildings Department, James Edwards, the president of architectural firm Holmes and Edwards, and Diom O'Connell, the firm's architect who is overseeing the project, provided the update to the council.

The three-alarm fire on Sept. 30 was sparked when someone broke into the building, which was not secured at the time, and attempted to open a locked tool storage shed using a cutting torch. MacDonald said the fire caused $2.5 million and delayed the project, which had been scheduled for completion by this month, four months. Nauset Construction, the general contractor for the project, had an insurance policy in place that will cover those costs.

"The damage from this fire was in the range of $2.5 million. It has had a serious impact on the progress of the project, setting us back four months," MacDonald said. "Fortunately Nauset Construction's building risk insurance that was required by the city is paying all fire related damage costs."

Edwards told the council he feared a prolonged conflict with Nauset over which items inside the building would need to be replaced in the days after the fire. That was not the case, however, as the contractor quickly removed almost everything that had been inside the building.

"They took right over. All the flooring came out. Every piece of machinery. Every stick of wood that was anywhere near the fire. All the electrical wiring. All the copper piping that was still in there. They took it all out," Edwards said.

"It wasn't like we had to tell them 'we think this is faulty, remove it please.' They just took it out. It was all taken away. It was a very impressive response, I thought, from the general contractor and their insurers."

Diom told the council the work inside Old City Hall remains on pace for completion in June or July, depending on weather conditions.

"We're two-thirds done. We're in our final trimester here, so we've got a little bit to go," Diom said. "I would say it's a four to five month window depending on how we do on the winter conditions. I have in my notes here we'll be done in June or July. The contractor is telling me June."

The update on the ongoing work was in response to a resolution Councillor Doug Gutro introduced in October. During the Feb. 17 meeting, Gutro said it was "terrific" that was project was back on track and asked MacDonald if any breakins or similar incidents had been reported at Old City Hall since the fire.

MacDonald said no such incidents had taken place. Security on site was greatly increased after the fire; surveillance cameras, for example, were installed and now feed directly to Quincy Police Department headquarters.

"It's the contractor's responsibility to maintain the security, but we're obviously all over that and all over him," MacDonald explained.

"We're comfortable with the security in the building. We feel it's well lit, which is very important. We also have cameras at the Police Department and it's being monitored. We're pleased with that."

After the Old City Hall work is complete, the City Clerk's Office will be able to move from rented space in the Munroe Building into the city hall annex. Ward 4 Councillor Brian Palmucci asked if the city would seek reimbursement for the extra rent payments needed because the fire delayed the renovation project.

"Obviously it was Nauset who did not properly maintain their work site, which is why their insurance is covering it," Palmucci said. "They're liable for what happened and they're covering that cost to make the repairs, but we're also out a building for an additional four months. We're paying rent over here to have a city department for an extra four months. Where is that reimbursement?"

Edwards replied that he had spoken to Assistant City Solicitor Paul Hines about that exact matter and it is one the city may pursue.

While the city won't be responsible for paying expenses related to the fire damage, a new appropriation will be needed to pay for unexpected issues with the building's foundation. Diom said the building's foundation was comprised of loose pieces of granite, which needed to be addressed as part of the renovation project.

"One might think [the foundation] would be built of solid blocks of granite," he explained. "They built or dug up a big ditch and they piled a bunch of random, loose granite blocks into the trench on which [went] the upper stories and levels of the building. So when we got to the foundation level of the building we found it was more a random, ruble foundation with a lot of holes and whatnot in it. We've effectively taken care of those."

James Fatseas, the executive secretary to Mayor Thomas Koch, said the city is still determining exactly how much the foundation cost to repair. Once that is determined, the council will need to approve the new appropriation.

Old City Hall opened in 1844 and is one of the oldest municipal buildings in use in the country. It is officially known as the James R. McIntyre Government Center in honor of the late mayor and state senator.

MacDonald said the councillors would be invited to tour the building in the coming weeks.

Hospital Negotiations Could Extend Through Mid-April

By SCOTT JACKSON

Talks between the city and the owner of the now-closed Quincy Medical Center could continue through mid-April after both sides agreed to a new 45-day tolling agreement.

Boston-based law firm Eckert Seamans and Quincy's legal department have been in negotiations with Steward Health Care since the company announced plans to close the Whitwell Street hospital late last year. Steward, a for-profit subsidiary of Cerberus Capital Management, kept the building open as a satellite emergency department licensed to the chain's Carney Hospital in Dorchester.

Peter Carr, the attorney in charge of Eckert Seamans' Boston office, told the City Council in January that a reverter clause in the title for the Whitwell Street property where the hospital is located would allow the city to take back the site if it were no longer used for an acute care hospital. The reverter clause was initially included in a deed for the site granted to a non-profit in 1999 when the city gave up ownership of the hospital. Carr said the clause remained in effect after Steward bought Quincy Medical Center out of bankruptcy in 2011.

A tolling agreement, effective for 45 days, was agreed to after the city said it was prepared to invoke the right of reverter in early January. The tolling agreement essentially froze each side's legal rights for the duration of the agreement. That first agreement was set to expire this week. Both sides agreed to a second 45-day agreement, which will expire in mid-April, according to City Solicitor James Timmins.

During the Feb. 17 City Council meeting, Timmins said the said the city will not let its right of reverter lapse. Using the reverter, however, is not a preferred outcome, especially if the city does not have a plan to run the hospital in place.

"It's a very difficult situation and a very difficult industry so we have to respect the fact that they weren't able to succeed there – the prior entity that was a nonprofit didn't and the city didn't," Timmins said.

"We can't just go up there and manage it. We have to figure out how to put a management scenario in play before we exercise the right of reverter. We won't let the reverter option lapse. If we have to exercise our rights we will, but thus far fortuitously Steward has equal or greater motivation to negotiate and has continued to do so."

Both sides, Timmins later added, would like to avoid litigation if possible.

"I hope not," the solicitor replied when asked if litigation was inevitable.

"We were involved in a very protracted similar situation with Honeywell, which was a national corporation that had certain objectives. [Steward] is a business entity and they find litigation as distasteful as would a municipality. They want to move forward and we want to move forward."

Mayor Thomas Koch has met with other healthcare providers to discuss the future of the site since Steward announced it would close Quincy Medical Center, according to Timmins.

"The mayor has talked about a multi-use facility," Timmins said. "We don't see that particular site being a standalone hospital going forward."

Timmins also noted JPMorgan Chase has two mortgages on the hospital property; he estimated those mortgages totaled approximately $70 million. Ward 4 Councillor Brian Palmucci asked if that would have an impact on Quincy's ability to take back the site using the reverter clause. According to Timmins, the mortgages won't impact the reverter because that clause predates the mortgages.

"Our right is superior to their right. This right of reverter is a matter of record and it's recorded at the registry well before the JPMorgan Chase mortgages went on. So the mortgage is subordinate," Timmins said.

"The way the law works relative to real estate title, [the hospital property] was conveyed to a particular entity with a particular use with a condition. Once that stops, anyone who comes on the title behind that deed knows it is subject to that provision. Our argument would be, that as a matter of record, JPMorgan knew when it issued the credit."

Timmins appeared before the council to seek an appropriation of $125,000 from the city's free cash account to pay for Eckert Seamans' services. The solicitor said that money is for all fees charged by the firm. The appropriation was referred to the council's finance committee.

Middle School Student Struck By Taxi Cab

Cont'd From Page 3

of the accident and staff are available to offer a safe place for students to express their thoughts and feelings in response to this event."

This is the second time this month a middle school student has been struck by a vehicle while traveling to or from school.

A Sterling Middle School student was hit by an MBTA bus on Water Street near Gordon Terrace while on the way to school Feb. 4. That student was taken to Boston Medical Center with facial abrasions. An MBTA spokesman said the student involved in that accident ran between stopped cars and was not in a crosswalk when he was struck by the bus.

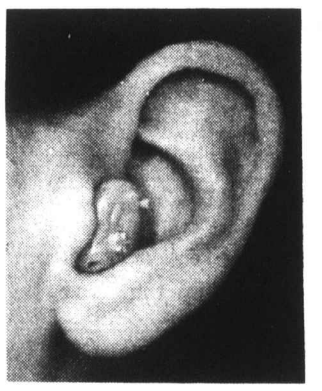
Reach Your Hearing Potential

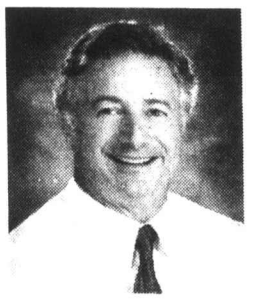
If your hearing aids are over four years old, you should know that new computer chips have allowed hearing aids to work faster and smarter in different environments. Nobody hears everything they want, but you could get the most out of your hearing with newer technology.

Let us help you reach your hearing potential and reconnect with your surroundings!

CALL to schedule your free hearing test and consultation, and ask about our current specials!

(617) 770-3395





Tobias Hearing Aids, Inc.
382 Quincy Ave, Quincy 02169

near Roche Bros and Walmart.
Where Eddie's Diner was!

Stephen P. Tobias B.C. HIS
MA Lic #59
B.S. Science UMass 1978

Financing available through Wells Fargo

City Snow Removal Costs At $7 Million

Cont'd From Page 1

private contractors and city employees – have worked around the clock to keep roads passable. The city has hauled the snow to two snow farms, or snow dumps, at the Fore River Shipyard and Squantum Point Park. Piles of snow in those lots tower 60 feet high.

"I think we're probably in the $7 million range now. It has been 24/7 for the past couple weeks," Mayor Thomas Koch said Monday when asked about the cost for removing snow.

"Each of the dumps has four pieces of equipment just pushing and stacking – those go 24/7, different operators, but the equipment is going 24/7. That's costly. Those pieces of equipment are very expensive per hour.

"Then we have certain companies that work at night, some that work during the day, and others work both day and night because they have the manpower to shift in and out. It has been pretty consistently 24/7 for at least a couple weeks now,"

The storms – and a prolonged cold snap that has lasted for much of the past month – have other costs associated with them as well aside from the $7 million for snow removal. Workers from the Public Building Department must clear snow from the roofs of municipal and school buildings, city streets are subject to immense wear and tear, and plows strike objects by the side of the road such as fire hydrants and fences.

"It obviously has other implications to everybody, not just the city. We're staying on top of the roofs in our public buildings and the schools, maintaining that, maintaining the drains on the roofs of the buildings, making sure those are going well," Koch said.

"All the cold we've had, if you get that it creates heating system implications and problems. So you deal with those issues. You deal with water breaks in the meantime, sewer backups. Then I anticipate – we're already seeing it – the potholes are going to be ridiculously bad this year. We've already seen signs of that so we're going to have to gear up and get ready for that.

"Through the storms, I'm sure we've done some damage to public property with machines. I know we've popped a couple hydrants. I'm sure we've banged some fences and guardrails. That's just the causalities of dealing with this stuff when you have big equipment.

"All those things will have a cost to it as well."

This winter, the city budgeted $1.76 million for snow and ice removal costs, meaning Quincy will need to find a way to pay the additional $5 million incurred. The federal government will reimburse communities across Massachusetts for 75 percent of the cost of snow and ice removal associated with the blizzard on Jan. 26 and 27; the mayor anticipates the city receiving between $1 million and $1.5 million in reimbursements.

Gov. Charlie Baker has indicated he will seek a federal disaster designation to free up additional funds for cities and towns across the Bay State. Koch has reached out to Quincy's federal delegation in an attempt to secure reimbursement for subsequent snow removal costs and they have been working with him on that.

"I hope we'll see additional reimbursements. I can't count on it right now, but I'm certainly hopeful," Koch said. "And perhaps the state will do something independent of that for cities and towns. So we'll see what happens but we're certainly going to be shaking the tree for sure."

Under state law, the city can deficit spend for snow and ice removal costs. The deficit could be closed out using either free cash at the end of this fiscal year or by applying it to next year's tax rate. Koch said it is too early to know which avenue the city would take to cover the deficit.

The snow may once again prove problematic as it begins to melt. Street and basement flooding could occur if temperatures get too warm too soon or if heavy rains fall. To prevent flooding, the city has dispatched crews to clear out storm drains.

"We've had several crews that were working on digging out hydrants that have shifted gears now to storm drains," Koch said. "We've got roughly 9,500 catch basins in the city. We won't be able to get to all of them but the problem areas, where we have low lying areas prone to flooding, those are the ones we'll tackle first and just keep chipping away."

WORKERS USE SHOVELS and a crane lift to clear snow from the Coddington Building last Friday morning.
Quincy Sun Photo/Robert Bosworth

Melting snow will also be problematic for spring sports at the city's high schools. Under MIAA rules, baseball, softball, lacrosse, and outdoor track programs can begin organized practices March 16 and start playing games March 26. Golf teams may commence practices March 16 and play March 22.

With the city's parks covered under several feet of snow, it could take weeks for it to melt. The grass fields used by baseball and softball teams would then have to dry out before being made ready for play. Veterans' Memorial Stadium, used by lacrosse programs at the high schools, has a synthetic playing surface, which means it would dry out faster.

"It's not only getting the snow off the field, it also has to dry out some because it's all muck and mud, so before you go in and prep the field it has to dry out a bit," said Koch, who previously ran the city's Park Department.

"I wouldn't say [spring sports] are in jeopardy but there are certainly going to be delays. The stadium will be a little different because once the snow is off of that there is no mud issue, so that should help the lacrosse programs, but baseball and softball are going to feel the [impact]."

At the end of the winter, Koch promised the city would review its snow removal equipment to determine if more is needed. Quincy owns four snow fighters – large, red vehicles with a plow in front, a second plow underneath, and a hopper for salt. A number of other city-owned vehicles are also outfitted to plow snow and spread salt during storms.

"We're going to take a good review at the end of the year. First of all, the snow fighters we have are mid- '80s, so they're reaching the end of their lives and we have to talk about replacing those. Then we've already had some informal discussions about what other pieces could we get. I thought the massive snowblower attached to a front-end loader was very helpful and I could see us investing in a piece of equipment like that," Koch explained.

"Then, of course, the regular large dump trucks we put sanders on, plows on, some of those are reaching that tough age as well. We're going to review all of that and probably include it as part of the capital improvement plan this spring."

One item the city may look to purchase is more sidewalk plows, though the ones Quincy currently owns have been unable to clear snow this month because it is too high.

"We'll be looking at additional sidewalk plows," the mayor said. "I hope this was unique and we're not going to see this each winter, but the snow banks were so big they were too big for the sidewalk plows and they were just caving in on the sidewalk plows."

Over the past month, the city of Boston has used snow melters – borrowed from Massport and New York City – to dispose of the snow at the city's snow farms. Koch said he is unsure if Quincy would add snow melters to its fleet; each one costs at least $300,000.

"Snow melters, that's a little trickier," Koch said. "They're not easy to move around, even though they are on a trailer. They take set up time. You have to have a fuel truck right there feeding it the whole time. Technically under DEP you're not supposed to put it directly over a storm drain without filtering it and all that, so you get into all kinds of issues.

"You've got to weigh the cost of that per hour versus trucking it. I'm not sure yet whether it makes sense to buy one or not, but that's going to be looked at."

So far this winter, Quincy has used some 6,000 tons of salt to keep city streets clear, Koch said. Eastern Minerals, the city's supplier, has enough on hand for the rest of winter.

"It's in Boston but it comes through a tricky neighborhood so you can only have so many trucks going in and out at the same time. They haven't been able to keep up with deliveries so we have hired two dump trailers, just running each day back and forth. They each carry about 32 tons, 34 tons a piece," Koch said.

"They've got plenty on site. There is no shortage of salt. It's just getting it to us."

The accumulated snow has caused five roof collapses this month. Two roofs at the shipyard have collapsed, the first on Feb. 9 and the second on Sunday. No injuries were reported in either incident, according to Koch. Both buildings were recently used for the production of "The Finest Hours," an upcoming film about a Coast Guard rescue off Cape Cod during a 1952 blizzard.

A commercial building at 550 Adams Street collapsed Feb. 15. The strip mall is home to five stores – a UPS Store, Unchained Pizza, a Dunkin' Donuts, Walgreens, and In Sync Center for the Arts. The roof above the UPS store buckled under the weight of the snow and demolition permits for that

Cont'd On Page 13

LEARN-TO-SKATE CLASSES
RECREATIONAL · FIGURE
HOCKEY SKATING SKILLS
BAY STATE SKATING SCHOOL
Non-Profit
CHILDREN (4 1/2 up) & ADULTS As Featured on "Chronicle"
Gift Certificates Available
QUINCY SHEA RINK
Sundays 11:00AM
Start March 1
WEYMOUTH CONNELL RINK
Sundays 5:00PM
Start March 1
JOIN THE FUN!
Sign Up Now
781-890-8480
www.BayStateSkatingSchool.org
Over 45 Years!

Temporary One-Way Roads Throughout City

By SCOTT JACKSON

More than 130 two-way streets in Quincy have been temporarily converted into one-way roads this week as the city continues to deal with the aftermath of four major snowstorms.

City officials – including Traffic Engineer Deborah Finnegan, Fire Chief Joseph Barron, Police Chief Paul Keenan, and Michael Draicchio, the director of transportation and security for the city's schools – spent last week reviewing the list of streets that will be temporarily turned into one-way roads. Workers will begin installing the one-way and do not enter signs later this week; the new traffic pattern on each street is effective once the signage is in place.

"They're going into effect as soon as the signs go up," Mayor Thomas Koch said Monday. "They'll be on stakes so we can put them right in the snow banks."

A preliminary list of streets was published online this weekend on TheQuincySun.com. Chris Walker, a spokesman for the mayor, said that list would change this week. As streets are widened, they will be removed. Many of the streets on the list are neighborhood roads that link main arteries to secondary ones.

The change in traffic patterns is being made to ensure vehicles – especially first responders – will be able to go use the roads without being blocked. The city is using traditional media, Quincy Access Television, social media, and word of mouth to inform residents about the plan.

"Word gets out pretty quickly on that stuff," Koch said. "Plus, when people are driving they're going to see the signs visibly."

Quincy isn't the only community where two-way streets are being turned into one-way roads because of heavy snowfall over the past month; Boston Mayor Marty Walsh ordered a number of streets in South Boston be turned into one-way roads through April 1. In Quincy, however, there is no set end date. Instead, the roads will be reopened to two-way traffic over the next few weeks once it's safe to do so. More roads may also be added, if requested by residents or officials.

"Out of it, you'll probably get requests for more, perhaps. As we continue to widen, we'll be removing some," Koch said. "It will be evolving."

The city will continue with snow removal this week. Crews will be hauling snow away to snow farms at the Fore River Shipyard and Squantum Point Park instead of simply pushing it further back into sidewalks.

"We're going to be doing removing all week," Koch said. "The weather is not letting up at all as far as temperatures go. We still have a lot of pinch points in parts of some of the main arterials, secondaries that need to be widened out, and some of real narrow, worst side streets. We're trying to get to some of those so at least every neighborhood has a network of wider streets to get onto.

"Who knows what March will bring; March can be very snowy. We're spending a lot of money but I don't see an alternative right now. If it were the middle of March, I would be probably backing off and hoping for warmer weather."

TWO ADMIRERS of John Adams take photos of the Second President's statue with snow past his knees last week at McIntyre Mall.
Quincy Sun Photo/Robert Bosworth

Hearing Monday On School Makeup Days

Cont'd From Page 1

and community members will go live this week at quincypublicschools.com.

The school board's policy subcommittee met Monday night to determine how the calendar for the current school year should be revised. Classes have been canceled for 11 days this year, pushing the final day of school to July 1. Under the city's agreement with teachers, however, the school year must end by June 30, so at least one day needs to be made up. (The final day for graduating high school seniors will remain May 29.)

School Committee member Paul Bregoli, chairman of the policy subcommittee, said he and his colleagues wanted feedback from parents and teachers before adopting a new calendar for this school year.

"We decided to leave it on the table," Bregoli explained Tuesday. "We want to get input from parents and the QEA before we decide."

Several options were discussed Monday night. The most viable, according to Bregoli, would be to tack an extra half hour onto the end of the school day for 36 days. Doing so would make up for three snow days. A half-day may also be scheduled on Good Friday, April 3; that would count as a full day towards the state's 180-day requirement.

Bregoli said the final plan would be voted on during the full committee meeting on March 18. The plan presented Monday night would feature extended school days beginning March 23.

While the school system does have early release days on Tuesdays, Bregoli noted, it could not schedule full days for those days to make up for lost time.

School Superintendent Dr. Richard DeCristofaro will also draft a letter to state officials seeking a waiver from the 180-day requirement, according to Bregoli.

The school calendar for the 2015-2016 school year was also discussed at Monday's meeting. The School Committee previously gave tentative approval to a schedule for next year that would follow the same template as this year: Opening after Labor Day and scheduling week long breaks in February and April.

With Labor Day falling on Sept. 7 in 2015, as opposed to Sept. 1 in 2014, that could prove problematic. Bregoli said he introduced an alternative calendar that would open schools before Labor Day next September. Another alternative would have a weeklong break in March instead of ones in February and April. Mitchell D. Chester, the state's commissioner of elementary and secondary education, has recommended school districts take both those steps to avoid having problems rescheduling snow days. The School Committee will vote on the 2015-2016 calendar at an upcoming meeting.

City Snow Removal Costs At $7 Million

Cont'd From Page 12

section of the building have been secured, according to the city's Inspectional Services Department. While the remaining sections of the building are still being evaluated, plans are being made to use temporary walls to prop up the roof on either side of the UPS Store. Under that plan, the four other businesses could then reopen.

The other collapses were also reported Feb. 15 at a four-family home on Gilbert Street and an abandoned building on Garfield Street. The former was deemed structurally sound while the latter was a total loss.

Overall, Koch said the city has fared well in the face of historic snowfall amounts.

"This has just been extraordinary, the amount of snow in such a short period of time. I always look at the positive," Koch stated.

"I think it's pretty remarkable that things are still running. The roads are open almost immediately after each of these. Not perfect conditions, I'm not suggesting that, but I think we've fared better than most. I get those calls 'I've been in other places, it's better.' Then I get calls saying 'I've been in other places and ours is better.'"

"We can't remove snow everywhere," the mayor later added. "We're making a lot of progress, spending a lot of money, but we can't be everywhere for snow removal...People have just got to be patient. We're an instant society today, and I think that's part of the problem."

The mayor also noted that while the city strongly encourages homeowners to clean sidewalks adjacent to their properties, it would be impractical to fine non-compliant residents. That's particularly true this winter, when the city has been pushing snow back onto sidewalks.

"We're pushing a mountain in front of your house that could be five feet high then we're going to go down and fine you for not removing it? I can't subscribe to that," Koch said. "In these extraordinary circumstances, I think that's just a lot of feel good talk. In this kind of winter it's not practical at all in a city of our size."

QUINCY YOUTH SOCCER
Est. 1988

Quincy Youth Soccer FINAL Spring 2015 Walk in registration

Saturday, February 28th, 2015

10am-2pm

Richard J. Koch Park and Recreation complex

One Merrymount parkway, Quincy MA

Cost to register on or before February 28th, 2015 is $75. Players who register after 2/28 are not guaranteed a roster spot. A $15 late fee will apply.

New players MUST register in person. Proof of age is required for all new players. Birth certificates and passports will be accepted.

For more information go to www.Quincyyouthsoccer.com or call 617-472-9033

Mahoney Endorsed By Pipefitters, Plumbers

Mayoral candidate Anne Mahoney became the first candidate to be endorsed by local unions last Friday, winning the support of Pipefitters Association Local 537 as well as Plumbers and Gasfitters Local 12.

Pipefitters 537 represents over 3,200 members around Greater Boston, and Local 12 adds another 1,691 supporters to Mahoney's campaign.

"As the product of a union household, it means so much to me to have the support of two unions whose roots in Quincy go deep," Mahoney said. "These hard-working men and women are exactly who we need to build a new day for Quincy."

If elected, Mahoney said she would utilize her business experience to "solve issues troubling the downtown redevelopment project."

ANNE MAHONEY

She is also committed to the construction of a new Sterling Middle School, a major issue with local unions that she said "felt abandoned by current city officials who reneged on commitments promised in the Streetworks deal."

For more information about Mahoney and her campaign visit www.VoteMahoney.com or call 617-479-2046.

Squantum School PTO Offering Four Scholarships

Squantum School Parent Teacher Organization is offering four scholarships this year to be awarded to graduating seniors who attended the Squantum School.

The scholarships include:

Two $250 Squantum School PTO scholarships available: one male and one female recipient.

Two $100 Virginia Marie Whalen Memorial Scholarships, in memory of Virginia Whalen who worked as a lunch matron at the school for 30 years.

Application forms are available in the guidance offices at North Quincy High School and Quincy High School. Applicants can also pick up applications in the main office at Squantum School.

Applications must be completed and returned to the Squantum School on or before Friday, April 17th. Scholarship winners will be chosen by lottery drawing under the direction of the Squantum School PTO.

Quincy Youth Soccer, New England Revolution In Training Agreement

Quincy Youth Soccer and the New England Revolution Academy have agreed on a new three-year training agreement to bring the Revolution Academy soccer development program to Quincy. The New Academy programs will include individual skills training sessions, team training sessions, goalkeeper training, specialty clinics and more. These new programs will be conducted by the New England Revolution Academy coaching staff. Also, as a part of this new agreement the New England Revolution Academy will provide QYS with year round training plans for all coaches and players.

The New England Revolution Academy will also provide the league with preferred Academy training sessions and coach education sessions throughout the year. This new partnership will focus on the development of every player and coach and will bring the proven, successful New England Revolution first team training program to Quincy youth soccer. For more information go to www.Quincyyouthsoccer.com

Red Cross Community Blood Drive March 30

The American Red Cross will hold a community blood drive Monday, March 30 from 1 to 7 p.m. at the Quincy Sons of Italy, 120 Quarry St., Quincy.

For an appointment, call 1-800 RED CROSS (733-2767) or visit redcrossblood.or.

Gutro, Koch Clash On MBTA

Cont'd From Page 1

MBTA – bus, subway, commuter rail, and ferry – putting it in a unique position to help shape its future.'

"That quote of course is no longer accurate. Since 2012, we continue to have the only subway station on the entire subway system in Wollaston that is not handicapped accessible, a Quincy Center MBTA parking garage that's been closed going on four years. We lost our commuter ferry service while the city of Lynn gained ferry service and Hingham and Hull got our boats. This week, the Red Line was shutdown and commuter rail service was impacted. And the impact to Quincy and South Shore residents will stretch into March.

"I don't know what the recommendations are that Tom Koch has made as chairman of the Advisory Board, but it seems to me that Quincy has endured more service cuts and disruptions than almost any of the other 175 communities represented on that board. It's time we expect more from the MBTA and its Advisory Board chairman."

On Monday, Koch responded to Gutro's criticism, dismissing it as silly and noting the Advisory Board has no statutory power.

"That was silly; he knows better," Koch replied when asked about Gutro's comments.

"The Advisory Board is made up of representatives from 175 communities that the MBTA touches and we meet at least twice a year, sometimes four times a year. We have no statutory power; it's purely advisory. I was elected chair to facilitate the meetings. We have the general manager in, the chief financial officer in. We do studies and make recommendations to the T.

"Years ago, the Advisory Board had budget power. Probably 15 or 18 years ago, when they re-organized at that time, the legislature as part of it stripped the Advisory Board of any oversight financially. It's purely advisory. The councillor should know better...he's trying anything to get traction. I get that; I'm a big boy. But it is silly."

Koch has not formally announced plans to seek re-election to a fifth term as mayor, but he is sending a letter out to his supporters this week, informing them that he will run again. Koch will hold a dinner for campaign volunteers in March and a kick-off event in May.

DOUG GUTRO

TOM KOCH

School Committee member Anne Mahoney, who ran against Koch in 2011, is also running for mayor this year.

At the Feb. 17 meeting, Ward 4 Councillor Brian Palmucci and Ward 1 Councillor Margaret Laforest introduced a resolution seeking an update on MBTA service issues incurred over the past month from officials with the transit agency. Of particular concern was shutdown of the Braintree Branch of the Red Line for nearly two weeks before reopening in full Sunday, which forced Quincy and South Shore residents to wait in long lines for shuttle service into Boston. Palmucci called those disruptions unacceptable.

"It goes without saying that the disruption to MBTA service these past couple weeks is unacceptable. It's something that has really devastated a lot of folks, whether you're commuters or anybody for that matter – businesses, anyone trying to drive through the city on any given day. The MBTA functioning properly is crucial to our city's economic vitality. It's a public resource and it's integral to Quincy," Palmucci said.

"When the T doesn't work, Quincy doesn't work. Unfortunately that's the case. It's plain and simple. This resolution just asks for some representative from the MBTA to come out here when they right this ship... and have a conversation with this body, allow us to ask questions on behalf of our constituents that we represent that use the services of the MBTA every day and ask them what their future plans are as well as some of the things that led to this unprecedented disruption in service."

Laforest said the recent service delays crippled transit in Quincy.

"What's been really difficult is as we're having issues with the T – they blindsided us with the closure of the Harbor Express ferry, they blindsided us on the closure of the Quincy Center T garage. Here we are again and it absolutely crippled transit through our community – gridlock and people waiting," she said.

"We're really looking for an opportunity to get an understanding of what to expect from the MBTA services and the infrastructure in our community. It's been a real difficulty for many members of my constituency who relied on it."

Ward 3 Councillor Kevin Coughlin said the issues with the MBTA cannot be blamed on any one person – including Koch as the chairman of the MBTA Advisory Board or Scott, who announced she will resign effective April 11.

"Today, on the Red Line, there are only 63 percent of the cars that are allocated to that line that are available for service. On the Orange Line it's 47 percent. There is obsolete equipment. There is equipment that needs to be maintained that hasn't been. They're trying to expand north, south, east and west and they can't even maintain the infrastructure they have," Coughlin said.

"Quite frankly I'm not going to blame it on any individual, whether it be the chairman of the Advisory Board or Ms. Scott, who just resigned. This is a culmination of years and years of benign neglect.

"It's unfortunate everyone sitting in this well tonight, their constituents are affected by it. I drive down Newport Avenue and I see my constituents standing on Newport Ave. by the Wollaston T station or down by the North Quincy station. It's like a third world country. It's crazy."

Council President Joseph Finn, who, along with Gutro and Ward 2 Councillor Brad Croall takes the MBTA each day, said problems with the transit agency began long before this winter's storms.

